CLARENCE

The perfume of orange blossoms is in the air.
Mr. H. G. Wilson had the misfortune to lose a valuable horse recently. Mr. S. N. Jackson, who has been suffering severely with la-grippe, we are glad to say is improving again. Hope soon to see him fill his place in church and Sabbath school again.
Mr. and Mrs. Chester Bartheaux have been spending a few days last week, visiting friends in Nietaux.
Messrs. Anon Ramsey and Hallie Fitch have returned home from the Military school at St. John's Quebec. We began to hope spring had really come, when we saw the jolins and spring birds and wild geese, when huck came winter with his icy breath and blasting snow, and sleds and sleighs came out again.
Mr. Bernard King, who has been visiting his sister at "Belle Aire," left on Monday for Yarmouth.
Clarence Division has kept up a good interest throughout the winter and has installed the following officers for the ensuing quarter:

The ladies of Upper Granville through persistent and commendable effort in socials, teas, etc., have raised the funds to have their Hall shined and oil-finished inside. They are busy now painting the finish, etc., it looks "just beautiful," and they deserve most especial praise.
On Thursday evening of last week, Miss Carrie Dodge entertained a large party of her young friends at a Birthday Party. The charming young hostess was very efficiently assisted in receiving and entertaining her guests by her mother. It being the Lenten season, "tripping the light fantastic" was not indulged in, but music, plays and games of most kinds were furnished and no effort was spared to make it a most enjoyable evening which it indeed was. In the waning hours of evening a most dainty collation was served, comprising in the centre of the table being a beautiful birthday cake, decorated with a row of small lighted tapers, one for each year of her age (of course no one counted them). On taking leave of their fair young friend, none but most heartily thanked her for the evening's enjoyment, she had given them, and wished her many happy returns—so do we.

A SUCCESSFUL VALLEY FARMER

Teacher and Farmer for Twelve Years, Mr. Woodworth gave up the School-room for the Orchard.

(The Maritime Farmer.)
On the undulating slopes two miles south of the town of Berwick, Kings Co., N. S., is situated the farm of Mr. W. H. Woodworth, a man who needs no introduction to our Nova Scotia readers, for reasons which the reader may glean from other sections of this article, but whom we desire to introduce to our New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island patrons and to such of our Nova Scotia friends who have not had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Woodworth.
Mr. Woodworth was born on June 19th, 1858. His boyhood days were given to study, and on leaving school he began the active duties of life as a school teacher in 1876 at New Minas, N. S., where by precept and example he spared the laggards on the flowery path of knowledge to surmount the tangled difficulties that crossed their path. Wishing to further cultivate his knowledge on some subjects he attended the Lawrenceton High School in 1879, then under the efficient tutelage of Dr. J. B. Hall, now and for many years past literary instructor at the Provincial Normal School, Truro. Who has not been benefited by coming in contact with the tutelage of Dr. Hall? Mr. Woodworth attended the Normal School and graduated therefrom in 1880, after which he held a way as principal of the Somerset school for five years. In 1888 he bought for $900.00 a 25 acre farm consisting mostly of pasture and a small orchard, about two miles south of Berwick, where he now resides, and on June 28th of that year he married Miss Carrie Goddard, of New York City. By rising early and working late, he followed teaching and farming for 12 years, when his health would no longer permit of the dual strain, and he turned his whole attention to the farm. In 1889 and 1890 he planted large orchards and has been making improvements in such a way that the twenty-five acre farm brought in 1888 over $2000.00 in total, mostly north of 8000 and annually produces 450 barrels of marketable fruit.
In 1901 J. S. Woodworth, the father of W. H. Woodworth died, leaving him a farm of 250 acres, 40 acres of which consisted of worn out hay fields that had been cropped with hay for 2 years without being plowed. On these worn out fields Mr. Woodworth planted 900 young apple trees and at the time of our visit a more thrifty, well-kept orchard could not be found in the Maritime Provinces. This farm has been brought into a very productive condition by a good three year

To Restrict Undesirable Immigration

An order-in-Council has been passed which prohibits from and after April 15th next, the landing in Canada of any person whose passage has been paid wholly or in part by any charitable organization out of public moneys unless it is shown that the authority in writing of the Assistant Superintendent of Emigration for Canada, in London has been obtained for the emigration of such person, and that such authority has been acted upon within a period of sixty days. Mr. Oliver in his report, upon which the minute of the Council is based, pointed out that a considerable number of undesirable immigrants arrived in Canada last year from the British Isles, of whom 141 were rejected and 441 deported.

A Unique Wedding in Which Nova Scotians Participate

(Lynn Evening News.)
The members of Venushua division, Sons of Temperance, witnessed the most unique wedding that has ever taken place in Lynn, at their lodge room in Golden Cross Hall, on Monday evening, when two of their fellow members, William H. Smith and Miss Gessona M. Fisher, of Hyde Park, were united in matrimony.
Added interest was given to the service from the fact that Rev. Walter Noon, of Boston, grand worthy patriarch of the order, performed the ceremony.
The wedding is the culmination of one of the prettiest romances in the history of the order and its progress has been watched with a great deal of interest by the other members of the order. Less than a year ago Miss Fisher came on a visit to friends in Lynn, and while here she attended a social of the division. In the audience was Mr. Smith and his attention was attracted by the maiden with fluffy brown hair and smiling face. All through the entertainment he could hardly keep his eyes from wandering in her direction and during intermission he requested an introduction to her with the result that at the close of the entertainment, he accompanied her to her friend's house.
He requested permission to call upon her at her home in Hyde Park, and so pleasant was the call that his visits became a regular one, and at last he felt that he would decide his fate, and was accepted. The members of the division felt that as they had met at one of their meetings, that it was only right and proper that the wedding should take place there also, and last night, both of them agreeing, the ceremony was performed at Golden Cross Hall.
About 150 members of the order and friends of the couple witnessed the ceremony. Strangers of red, white and blue lent a festive appearance to the hall.
At 9.15, to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Mrs. John S. Hackett, the couple took their places and with the colored lights upon them they were wedded. In the wedding party were represented all the three emblems of the order. First dressed in white and representing purity was Miss Mae Foster. The ribbon banners were Mrs. Maud Foster, Mrs. Lizzie Hill, Miss Goldie Brent, Miss Jessie McWhorter, Miss Elsie Bent, Miss Ellen N. Patterson, Miss Elizabeth R. Sinclair and Miss Shirlee Furbush in blue. Mrs. Emma J. Gibson in blue was fidelity, and Mrs. Carrie Hill in red was love.
The bride, charmingly gowned in white silk and carrying a bouquet of white pinks entered leaning upon the arm of her father, William H. Fisher. Henrietta R. Fisher, a sister of the bride, who looked sweet in white silk. They were met in the centre of the hall by the groom and his best man, Leroy L. Dixon and the ceremony performed.

On the conclusion of the service the guests, were presented to the happy couple by the ushers, John A. Chisholm, Walter Wentworth, H. P. Foster and Daniel Hall.
During the reception an orchestra rendered a concert program. After all the guests had been presented, a wedding supper was served in the banquet hall.
In the guest book, that was in charge of Leroy L. Dixon, the recording scribe of the division, were the names of friends from Lynn, Boston, Redville, Hyde Park and Nova Scotia.
In connection with the ceremony the following entertainment was given: Selection by Hackett's orchestra of Peabody vocal duets; Mrs. Lizzie Hill and Miss Mae Foster; piano duets, Miss Cora B. Healy and Miss Bertha Waterhouse; address, Rev. Alfred Noon; readings, Miss Elizabeth Sinclair.
The committee that made arrangements for the affair were: James M. Noyes, Leroy Dixon, H. P. Foster, Mrs. Lizzie Hill, Miss Lizzie Sinclair and Mrs. Emma Gibson.
The groom is a son of Mr. W. K. Smith of Plympton, Digby County, and a number of those participating are well-known in Bridgetown and vicinity.
A great deal of attention has been directed to a report presented to parliament by a Royal Commission and in which severe criticisms are passed upon certain departments. Doubtless these criticisms will be duly considered.

Stosel, famous warrior and hero

Stosel, famous warrior and hero who was decorated with high titles by Emperor William and adorned by crowds in Paris, has been sent to the prison where he lies in disgrace for ten years. His own Emperor, in 1870, deposed him as a traitor to the Russian government. The Russian government planned and proposed a loan of ten hundred millions of dollars to be set aside to be devoted to the new navy during the next ten years. But many failed from the vision of the Doina and the Zar. Poor Finland is again threatened and oppressed. The territory is likely to be divided. The whole country is still in a miserably unsettled state. Over 160,000 Russians in prison and the number is still increasing.

GERMAN INDUSTRY

The progress with which Germany promotes her industries is most exemplary. She produces more iron than Great Britain, and has four times as many are employed in agriculture as Great Britain has. The Krupp firm with its manufacture of ships and guns and of arms employ 40,000 men. A few years ago 200,000 Germans sought homes in foreign lands. The number is now reduced to 20,000 a year. The Socialists continue to alarm the German Government. Much wrath is provoked at the German policy of expropriating the Poles.

A DISCOVERY

Four thousand five hundred years before the coming of Christ is claimed to be the date of a city Bysia in Central Babylonia. Among its ruins are exposed temples that go back to this time. Step by step the explorers' claims to have reached brick of B. C. 750, a piece of gold belonging to 3750 B. C.; then a brick of 3800 B. C. and finally a brick of 4500 B. C. These discoveries will be stored away in one and another of the great Museums, and will furnish many a text for the lectures of the wise and rash speculators of the future.

THE BEST WAY

This world is a difficult world, indeed. And people are hard to suit. And the man who plays on the violin. Is a bore to the man with a flute. And I myself have often thought. How very much better 'twould be. If every one of the folks I know. Would only agree with me. But since they will not, then the very best way. To make this world look bright. Is never to mind what people say. But do what you think is right.

RESERVATION OF

THE CROWN LANDS.

In the N. S. Legislature, March 24th

Mr. Wilcox moved the resolution of which he had given previous notice on a previous day, respecting reservation of the Crown Lands of the Province.

He regarded this as a matter of the utmost importance, and claimed that the resolution contained a sound business proposition which he trusted hon.

members of the Government and of the Legislature would consider on its merits, and discuss with a due sense of the interests involved.

Mr. Wilcox made a strong speech in support of his resolution, showing the state of the forests from the days of the early settlers, down to the present time. In the course of his speech our local member made the following, timely statement re the great need of preserving our forests:

"In our own country he was pleased to read a few days ago in the report from Ottawa the following statement:

"The important announcement was made by Hon. Sydney Fisher at the Dominion Forestry Convention here to-day that the Dominion Government had decided to set aside the Province eastern slope of the Rocky Mountains forever as a forest reserve, extending clear from the boundary to the extreme northern limits of the country.

This vast region, he stated, would be kept free from settlers, and held for forest growth, which would be cut from time to time under such strict regulations as would preserve it for all time as a forest resource for the west."

This statement was received with enthusiastic applause by the delegates.

Now what did this mean? This was a provision intended to provide for the Province of Alberta, something that would insure its continuance as a fruitful province. In that province they feared the summer drought more than the winter frosts, and the intention of this was to continue the "conditions that nature had placed there and to prevent the province from drifting into sterility.

But we had no need to go to the United States or even to Western Canada for an illustration. He invited the attention of the hon. members to consider the conditions prevailing in what was fittingly regarded as the garden of Nova Scotia, the Cornwallis and Annapolis Valleys. There on the north of the valley was a natural barrier, the north mountain, beginning at Blomidon and extending to Port

Wade. Opposite to this the South

Mountain and hence of these ranges of mountains amply provided with

A WRINKLE FOR CAKE-MAKERS.

If you are your own cake baker—and surely you are—you perhaps have noticed the difference there is in flour.

There are two principal constituents in flour—starch and gluten. All wheats contain both, but in varying quantities.

Ontario fall wheat is rich in starch, while Manitoba spring wheat contains a large percentage of gluten. By com-binning two kinds of wheat scientifically a flour is made that gives delightful results, whether for cake, pastry or bread.

Millers are now blending these two kinds of wheat in such a way that the rich delivery of the first is combined with the strength of the second—making an ideal flour.

Expert cooks have given Blended

Flour exhaustive tests, and they are one in the opinion that no other flour can make such white, light, wholesome cake, pastry and bread.

Housekeepers will find Blended

Flour without equal, both for making delicious food and substantial baking and they will find Blended Flour most economical, too.

THE BOY ON THE FARM

(Times, N. B., Record Editorial.)

The young man of the farm too often looks with envy on what he is pleased to consider "his more fortunate city acquaintance." One of the great problems of the present age is to keep the boy on the farm. The rush for the city is increasing year after year, and looking about, one is struck with the excess of middle aged men who are working farms. The boy, as a rule, will have none of it.

But there is an awful lot of veneer to city life. Too many young men are blinded by the natty appearance of the well groomed urbanite. All they see is the veneer. There is nothing about the appearance of the casual summer visitor, who spends a couple of weeks in the country, to indicate the wretchedness and squalor he has been looking to-day in the large cities of Canada, thousands of men, women and children are in actual want. In Toronto, that metropolis of plenty, hundreds of families are camping at night in the parks. There are whole shacks that can hardly be regarded, with truth, as shelters. The Toronto

Globe tells a pitious tale of the sufferings of these unfortunate. "With winter weather, many of them are without food or fuel and their clothing is often most scant. To their appeal for assistance there has been a hearty response but grim want still holds undisputed sway in many of the wretched homes. One family mentioned by the Globe, and it is only one of many was discovered almost frozen. The father and mother were walking about trying to maintain warmth sufficient to keep body and soul together. Inside of a new hotel three children were found in a box covered with straw, shavings and a ragged coat where the parents had placed them in order to save their lives. There was nothing to eat in the shack and not a vestige of fuel. Can the comfortably housed country resident realize such conditions?"

Then if we turn to New York, we find conditions equally bad. The very school children are in want. Hundred of them go to school each day in only a morsel of food. In one of the schools a lady philanthropist found three hundred children who had not visited hundreds of sandwiches distributed by her bounty were ravensously devoured. The lady teacher, in charge of the school broke into tears as she related the sufferings of the helpless tots. These are some of the common sights of the city which are to be seen day in and day out by those who are brought in touch with them. Where in the splendid colony of Kings could such scenes be included? And get the country boy with a good farm and a good home provided for him gladly leaves them behind to be a participant in too many cases, of city misery. For one man who succeeds in the town, hundreds are compelled to be satisfied with paltry salaries earned under trying circumstances and which serve to keep them in positions where their entire life they discharge the duties of any well made cog in a piece of machinery. It has been said, and with justice, that while the average

RESTORING A LAWN.

The lawn demands attention as early as possible in spring, because the young grass plants start into growth almost as soon as the frost is out of the ground, and often suffer from heaving of the soil, as their roots are near the surface.

If the lawn is small, and you have no roller, go over it with the back of a spade, first filling the hollows and depressions in the surface. For the effect of the winter severity is too often seen in patches of bare earth, from which the grass has died out.

Go over the surface scattering a little finely sifted garden soil, and a pinch of seed here and there. If possible, have a light draught roller made ready that can be pulled without effort over the ground.

The principal trouble with our lawns is careless preparation, and the weeds often get a start as quickly as the grass, but the best way to keep the weeds out is to keep the grass in.

In my own experience the two worst weeds are dandelions and plantain, and although I like much the golden disk of the former, and know well the healing virtues of the latter, it is hardly suitable to allow them to choke out the clover and June grasses. So the knife is inserted well below the crown severing the root, and the lawn mower kept busy.

But it is not well to crop the grass too short, or it will soon have a dried out effect as the season advances. Leave the clippings where they fall to mulch the roots.

If the lawn requires topdressing, that most satisfactory for the amateur is a mixture of finely ground bone-meal and wood ashes, scattered evenly over the grass at the rate of 500 lbs to the acre. This gives a rich green color as a result.

Consumption is less deadly than it used to be. Certain relief and usually complete recovery will result from the following treatment:
Hope, rest, fresh air, and—Scott's Emulsion.

THE HOME
THE MUCK-RAKER OF THE GROCERY STORE

The muck-raker of the grocery store—the novelist who will tell the hungry public the horrors of the open box—has not arrived," writes the Editor in the Woman's Home Companion.

"So far we have only heard of corporate plunder. What we need is a humbler genius who will stoop to small things, who will show us that in the illeget grocery stores are the breeding places of those germs of the air that are more deadly than the beasts of the jungle."

"Our Own Page" cannot do justice to an expose of the uncleanly grocer—the "germ trust" we get well from. There are a few things, however, that every woman who reads these words can do to make conditions radically better.

"Don't buy out of the open box or the half-filled barrel."

"Refuse to accept without thorough investigation any goods of brands that are unknown to you."

"Always give the preference to goods that are in the original package—these, in almost every case, have been prepared and packed under thorough inspection."

"Where there are two grocers in your neighborhood or town, patronize the man that keeps the cleanest store and gives you the goods you know a-bout and want."

"From time to time I shall have more to say about these courses of action as the wise ones, why they must inevitably produce the same salutary effect on this vital everyday business, as we have seen the result of the more spectacular crusades of men like President Roosevelt and Governor Folk and Hughes. For the time being I simply give you these maxims. Think about them; talk them over with your friends; see if they do not, after all, simply apply the standards of your own housekeeping common sense to the treatment of the things you eat before they enter your own house."

"And remember one thing—an unimpeachable kitchen floor and a sweet-smelling fire chest do not protect you a good housekeeper, if your grocery store isn't what it should be."

CLEANING GLOVES.

After thoroughly cleaning in the usual way with gasoline, rinse the gloves in a dish of perfectly clean gasoline. While they are still wet sprinkle thickly with talcum powder and rub all over the gloves. Rub them until perfectly dry and the powder has fallen from them, then pull into shape and hang in the air. In cleaning any kind of cloth or lace with gasoline, a soiled ring will not be left if talcum powder is sprinkled over the spot while wet and allowed to remain until the article is dry, when it washes off very easily.—Good Housekeeping.

TO BRIGHTEN A DARK ROOM.

No one wants a gloomy room, but what to do with such a room is a problem that has bothered more than one of us.

Many a woman has foregone inside curtains and even wash curtains to allow all the light possible to come into the room, but still it looks dreary. It is not as much the light that we need as the sunshine, and when this cannot be had we must make it, or rather, get the effect of it.

A room with a northern aspect should not, of course, be papered in blue or some such cold color, but rather in rich, warm tones of olive green, brown, red or yellow. If the room gets but little light and sunshine, yellow should be our choice. Not only should we have yellow on the walls, but also on the ceilings, for yellow silk such curtains, pulled back, tend to make the room look sunny.

Brass can make a wonderful difference to a dreary room. A large jardiniere with a plant in it, placed in a dark corner will light up most marvelously. The andirons, too, will give a cheerful reflection. Even candlesticks help and little trays and bowls, be they ever so small, the importance of brass in a sunless room cannot be too strongly emphasized. Mirrors brighten up, and so do some pictures, with well polished gilded and gilted frames, but these little points are too seldom taken into consideration.

CARE OF COOKING-DISHES.

The really good cook takes scrupulous care of her cooking utensils, and comes to feel a genuine fondness for certain dishes and spoons. The heavy ironware and the more expensive copper utensils which require continual polishing, have been improved upon and are now obsolete, the newer articles being the agateware, also a light blue and white ware and agate ware enamelware and a light steel ware. An ample variety of choice is afforded by these, and with careful usage the vessels may be kept in good condition for a long time. All of this ware has a smooth finish that is easily cleaned with soapy water, and rinsed in hot water and dried with a towel. If further drying is needed, stand the utensils on the shelf of the range. The blue and white ware and agate ware chip when subjected to strong, dry heat. All cooking dishes should be filled with warm water immediately after use. Sapid, lumpy soap or soda will remove stains that do not come off readily, except for aluminum ware. The alkalies tarnish the aluminum.

Most of the calls for the plumber are occasioned by lumpy dishcloths and coffee grounds so far as the kitchen sink is concerned. A fine sieve should first receive all waste water in its passage through the sink. Dish rags should be made of new cloth, and as soon as they show signs of wear they may be used for wiping greasy pans and then thrown away. Every two or three days pour a boiling soda solution down the drain, using half a cupful of sal-soda to three quarts of water.

There is an idea among housekeepers that if the tableware is carefully washed, the other dishes will do without much attention. This is a false idea; every dish in which food is placed should receive the most careful attention. Smooth, clean dishes are always prerequisites to good cooking, and in sauce making they are absolutely essential. As a sauce is used to give richness and flavor to a dish, without the element, if the dish is rough and the sauce burns or sticks, the burnt flavor is carried by the sauce and is imparted to the food it is to season, spoiling the taste completely, and so amounting to outside matter which may be added will cover up the taste which was burned into the foundation of the sauce.

NO MORE RHEUMATISM
"FRUIT-A-TIVES" CURED HIM

Christopher D. Graham is a well known citizen of Ottawa—formerly in the City Hall and largely instrumental in forming the Ottawa Hunt Club. Mr. Graham's voluntary testimonial as to the great benefit he received from taking "Fruit-a-tives" will carry conviction.

Ottawa, Ont. Nov. 26th, 1907.

Dear Sirs:— I have been a sufferer from Rheumatism for a long time—pains in my shoulder and joints practically all the time. I tried various treatments without benefit and then I was recommended by a friend to try "Fruit-a-tives." I took several boxes of the tablets and now, for a long time, I have been entirely free from all rheumatism and rheumatic pains.

I wish to state, also, that I suffered from hemorrhoids, or piles, for years. I used all kinds of ointments and treatment and nothing did me any good, but after taking "Fruit-a-tives" for my rheumatism I am entirely cured of these dreadful piles. (Sgd.) C. D. GRAHAM. "Fruit-a-tives"—or "Fruit Liver Tablets" are sold by dealers at 50c a box—6 for $2.50—or will be sent on receipt of price. Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

forcing the lips to smile at being or other work relieves the feeling of fatigue and prevents tired muscles and an aching head? I certainly do, and her prescription should be followed by every woman. The compulsion to laughter need not be a heavy trial. If one feels depressed, it is usually possible to take up a really funny book, and read, aloud if possible, or get some one to read for you, until the "blues" vanish in the hearty laughter that accompanies the reading. Often, too, simply thinking over and dwelling upon funny happenings and clever speeches of the past will put one in good humor with one's self and the world at large.

Worry is an insidious disease. It makes its way so gradually that we are in its clutches before we realize the fact, and then only our determination to escape, not to allow life to be darkened can help us.

GOUT THE FOE OF CONSUMPTION.

(Paris Despatch to London Post.) Sir Dyer Duckworth in his address to the Faculty of Medicine said that many persons were constitutionally predisposed to rheumatism and gout, but an important characteristic in such cases was the antagonism of the disease to the bacilli of tuberculosis. The more rheumatic or gouty a person was the less pronounced was his tendency to consumption.

A Prized Cough Cure

I have not been without a bottle of Coltsfoot's Expectorant in the house for over nine years. At that time I procured it for a bad cold of the throat. It worked such wonders then that it has been a household remedy ever since, and we will have no other for coughs and colds—it is so pleasant to take, and all of my children look for it as soon as they get a cold at all. Nearly all of them have been subject to cough, and that's when I find Coltsfoot's Expectorant useful. You are welcome to use this testimonial as you wish. W. LEWIS NIGH.

Free Sample of Coltsfoot's Expectorant will be sent to any person sending their name and address and naming this paper. It has established a wonderful record as a cough cure for coughs, colds, sore throat, croup, whooping cough, bronchitis and all irritated conditions of the throat and chest. It is the prescription of a great specialist in medicine. At all good druggists, 25c. Dr. T. A. Stearns, Limited, Toronto. Send for Free Sample To-day.

Obituary

MRS. WELLINGTON DANIELS. The death occurred at her home at Lawrenceville on Thursday last of Mrs. Wellington Daniels, after a brief illness from pneumonia. Her health had been precarious for some time past and her age and weakness of the heart caused the disease to terminate fatally within a few hours.

Mrs. Daniels was eighty-two years of age, but sustained her weight of years remarkably well. She was a woman of fine presence and many sterling qualities by which she was endeared to a large circle of friends. Her husband predeceased her some years ago and she is survived only by one son, the Hon. O. T. Daniels, M. L. C., member for this county in the Nova Scotia Legislature. Although Mrs. Daniels continued from choice to live upon the old homestead, the care and affectionate devotion of her only son have been the solace of her declining years.

ROBIE HASTINGS YOUNG. Mr. and Mrs. Abram Young have the deep sympathy of a large circle of friends and of the community in general in the loss of their son, Robie, which occurred on Monday afternoon after a brief illness. This is the second son Mr. and Mrs. Young have lost by death just as each boy was entering upon his early manhood, the eldest son, Harold, having died quite suddenly in the spring of 1902. Both were boys of excellent character and gave considerable promise as to future attainment and the double loss is a severe blow to their parents and to the sister and younger brother. Robie was attending school until a fortnight ago when he became ill and the attending physician said that he was suffering from Bright's disease in its advanced stages, consequently the fatal termination was inevitable. The funeral will take place from the house this afternoon at half past two o'clock. The public schools will be closed and the pupils will unite in the procession and pay their last sad tribute of esteem to their friend and companion.

Tenders for Tidal Motor. The state of health of the inventor is such as to prevent his attending to the business of constructing and operating plant and machinery to use the tidal water as a motor power—which is very much regretted, as it will be found a most useful and profitable investment for those taking stock in the enterprise.

Tenders addressed to the undersigned will be received until the First day of May, A. D. 1908, for the transfer of his patent right for the Dominion of Canada, to use the tidal waters in the Dominion of Canada, as a continued motor power, from which power may be obtained that is practically unlimited. Tenders to state the amount that will be paid for the whole or any part of the patent right. To the person whose tender is accepted the transfer of title to the patent right will be given on receipt of the money for the same.
