Introduction

Canadians love to travel. Each year we make more than 100 million trips abroad for both business and pleasure. The vast majority of these excursions go off without a hitch.

But unfortunately all trips do not come with a hassle-free guarantee. Accidents, illnesses, legal problems and linguistic and cultural difficulties do occur.

Most problems are minor and you can usually solve them yourself. But if you run into more serious obstacles, our Canadian missions are there to assist you.

Before You Go

Preparation is the key to a successful trip. By doing your homework before you leave, you minimize the chances of something going wrong.

Be Prepared

Before you board that airplane or train, take time to learn about the political, cultural and economic environment of your destination. Learn at least a few key phrases in the country's language. Even a modest command of the local language will go a long way.

If you are sick, in trouble or have lost your passport, our missions will do all they can to smooth your way.

Bon Voyage, But... will help you plan ahead. Read it before you book your next business trip or vacation abroad. And pack it in your luggage – it is a handy reference book of travel tips, important telephone numbers and addresses of Canadian missions around the world.

When you are travelling, the laws of the country you are visiting apply to you too. Never assume that, because you are a Canadian citizen, you are immune to foreign laws.

Some countries experience ongoing wars, insurgencies or sporadic unrest. Find out if your destination is known to be dangerous. Check with the Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade (DFAIT) before you leave.

Travel Reports providing information on safety and security conditions, health issues and entry and visa requirements for over 215 travel destinations can be accessed from the Travel section of the DFAIT Web site (<http://www.dfait-maeci.gc.ca>), by phone at 1-800-267-6788 (in Canada) or (613) 944-6788, or by fax at 1-800-575-2500 (in Canada) or (613) 944-2500. This information is available 24 hours a day, 365 days a year.

If you require assistance abroad, contact the nearest Canadian mission. Addresses and telephone numbers are listed at the end of this booklet.

When travelling abroad, you may wish to use Canada Direct, an automated long-distance access service that allows you to call home to Canada or to other countries using the Canadian telecommunications network. Simply dial the access number for the country you are in and follow the voice prompts. If required, a bilingual Canadian operator is always available to assist you. For a list of Canada Direct access numbers, call 1-800-561-8868 (in Canada). The list of numbers is also available at the end of this booklet.

While you are abroad, tune in to Radio Canada International (RCI) for the latest news. You can also receive RCI broadcasts via the Internet (<http://www.rcinet.ca>). RCI also broadcasts messages from the Canadian government during emergency situations. You can obtain a schedule of the times and frequency of broadcasts to different parts of the world from the RCI Web site or by calling the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation at (514) 597-7555.

Is Your Passport in Order?

Your passport is the best proof of your Canadian citizenship. You and all family members should have a valid passport if you plan to travel outside Canada. If you have any questions about passports, check the Passport Office Web site (<http://www.ppt.gc.ca>) or call 1-800-567-6868. Locally you can

A Canadian passport remains at all times the property of the Government of Canada and may be used only by the person to whom it has been issued. Selling a passport or permitting any other individual or agency to use the passport may lead to criminal prosecution and is cause for revocation of the passport and refusal of future passport services.

call (514) 283-2152 in Montreal; (819) 994-3500 in Ottawa-Hull; (416) 973-3251 in Toronto; or (604) 586-2500 in Vancouver.

Passport applications are available at passport offices, post office outlets and Canadian diplomatic and consular missions abroad. Allow at least three weeks for delivery of your new passport.

If your passport is due to expire within six months of your arrival in another country, check with that country's embassy or consulate in Canada for its rules and restrictions regarding passport validity and expiration. Some countries will not let you enter if your passport is due to expire within six months.

Before you leave on your trip, be sure to complete the "In case of accident or death notify" section in your passport. This will help us quickly notify your family or friends if an emergency arises.

Make a photocopy of your passport's identification page and keep it separate from the original when you travel. For added security, leave a photocopy with a friend or relative at home. These simple steps may speed the replacement process if you lose your passport.

If your passport is lost or stolen while you are travelling, contact the nearest Canadian mission immediately for a replacement after reporting the loss or theft to the local police. Make sure you get a copy of the police report or the report number. Before a new passport can be issued, you must complete an application form, produce documentary evidence of your Canadian citizenship (e.g., a birth or citizenship certificate), provide a copy of the police report or report number, present new photographs and pay the required fee.

We also recommend that you carry a birth or citizenship certificate confirming your identity in addition to your Canadian passport.

Travel to the United States and Mexico

Always carry your Canadian passport, citizenship certificate or birth certificate when you are travelling to the United States or Mexico. A driver's licence is not valid proof of citizenship.

For detailed information about travel to the United States or Mexico, refer to the DPAIT booklets Crossing the 49th and México: ¿Qué pasa? (for details on how to order these publications, see "For More Information").

ARE YOU AT RISK?

Planning a trip?

Don't forget about your health! Hepatitis, Cholera, Typhoid and other diseases are out there. You can't prepare for contaminated food or water, or unexpected medical or dental procedures. What you can prepare for are vaccine preventable diseases that are spread by these conditions. Visit either a travel clinic or your doctor and get immunized before you leave for paradise. To find your nearest travel clinic, visit www.immunizecanada.com

Avoid The Risk. Get Protected.

Vaccine Preventable Hepatitis

Among immunizable diseases, Hepatitis is responsible for the greatest level of illness and death among travellers. Every year, more than 1.3 million Canadians visit developing countries, where they may be at risk of contracting Hepatitis.

If you are travelling to high-risk areas, either for business or pleasure, you need to be aware of the simple steps you should take to prevent being infected.

You are at risk if you:

- travel to countries outside Australia, Canada, Western Europe, Japan, New Zealand and the United States where water purification and sewage treatment is not as good as at home (see maps);
- visit popular vacation destinations, such as Mexico and the Caribbean, even if you stay in first-class resorts;
- engage in sexual activities when abroad;
- undergo medical or dental procedures as a result of an accident in countries where Hepatitis B is common (this includes tattooing and acupuncture).

Hepatitis is preventable

A vaccine called Twinrix® can prevent both Hepatitis A and Hepatitis B. Three doses protect against both viruses, and that means fewer injections, added convenience and cost-savings.

Don't let Viral Hepatitis ruin your trip. Talk to your doctor or a travel clinic to find out more information about protecting yourself from Hepatitis while travelling.

Relative Endemicity Rates

Hepatitis A

Relative Endemicity Rates

Hepatitis B

Travel in Europe

Austria, Belgium, France, Germany, Greece, Italy, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, Portugal and Spain participate in the Schengen Convention, which abolishes internal border controls between these countries (except in special cases). However, customs and immigration controls remain in force when you are travelling to one of the above countries from Canada or any other country that does not participate in the Schengen Convention.

You should ensure that authorities stamp your passport when you enter the Schengen area and that you fulfill all registration formalities in every country visited. When travelling from one Schengen country to another, always carry your passport with you. When travelling within a Schengen country, always carry a photocopy of your passport with you. Visitors should also make sure they do not extend their stay beyond the period of time allowed by each country.

If you would like information about the entry and registration requirements of Schengen countries, please contact their embassies or consulates in Canada before your departure.

Do You Need a Visa?

You need a visa to travel to certain countries. Your travel agent or the country's embassy or consulate in Canada can advise you of the requirements. You can also check the Travel Reports for the countries you intend to visit in the Travel section of the DFAIT Web site (http://www.dfait-maeci.gc.ca/travelreport/menu_e.htm) or call DFAIT's Consular Affairs Bureau at 1-800-267-6788 (in Canada) or (613) 944-6788. Apply for visas well in advance of your trip.

When you arrive at your destination, be prepared to prove that you have enough money to support yourself during your stay.

Be aware of the rules and restrictions governing visas and your length of stay. This knowledge can save you both time and money.

Some countries will allow you to enter only if you can prove you will be leaving. Be prepared to show your return or onward ticket or any visas that demonstrate you plan to visit another country.

Charter Flights

Before you book a charter flight, check the credentials of both the travel agency and the charter company with either the Better Business Bureau or a local consumer advisory organization.

Dual Nationality

To avoid unpleasant surprises, find out whether you, your spouse or any other family member is a citizen of another country. If you are considered a national, you may be compelled to do military service or pay special taxes.

If you do run into problems because of your dual nationality, contact the nearest Canadian mission immediately.

People with Special Needs

Many countries do not provide access for people in wheelchairs or make allowances for those with special hearing, sight or other physical requirements. Contact your local access organization or talk to others who have travelled to your destination in the past. There are also several guides published about international travel and people with special needs. Check your local library or bookstore or the Canadian Transportation Agency Web site (<http://www.cta-otc.gc.ca>).

Getting Medical Advice

Health Canada strongly recommends an individual risk assessment by your own family doctor or a travel medicine provider prior to travelling. Based on your health risks, the need for vaccinations or any special precautions can be determined. Health Canada's Laboratory Centre for Disease Control provides travel health information through the Internet (http://www.hc-sc.gc.ca/hpb/lcdc/osh/tmp_e.html) and through a fax retrieval system, FAXlink. To access FAXlink, call (613) 941-3900 using the handset of your fax machine and follow the instructions.

It is recommended that you visit a travel clinic well before your departure. The travel clinic will ensure that you receive the most current advice, as well as any vaccinations and medications that are necessary to avoid health problems while abroad. A list of travel clinics in your area can be obtained through Health Canada's Travel Medicine Program at (613) 957-8739 or through the Internet (<http://www.hc-sc.gc.ca>) or from the Canadian Society for International Health at (613) 241-5785.

Vaccinations

Before travelling to any destination, find out well in advance of your trip if you need any special vaccinations or preventive medications for such illnesses as yellow fever, typhoid, meningitis, Japanese encephalitis, hepatitis or malaria. For instance, a meningococcal vaccination is required for pilgrims travelling to Mecca, Saudi Arabia, for the annual hajj; and an International Certificate of Vaccination for yellow fever is a legal requirement to enter certain countries.

You may need to start receiving your vaccination shots or taking medication six to eight weeks before you leave. Also ensure that your routine immunizations – diphtheria, whooping cough (pertussis), tetanus, polio, measles, mumps and rubella – are up-to-date. Other immunization requirements for travel will vary according to your age, existing medical conditions and the nature and duration of your travel.

If you are travelling with infants or small children, you may need to arrange an alternative or accelerated childhood immunization schedule for them. Talk to your pediatrician, family doctor or travel medicine clinic.

AIDS

AIDS/HIV is a global disease. Some countries require proof of AIDS testing. Have the test conducted and obtain the results before you travel. Call Health Canada at (613) 957-8739 to find out if the country you plan to visit requires this documentation. When travelling, take the same precautions you do at home. Do not assume that condoms will be readily available. Even if they are, they may not meet the safety standards set by the World Health Organization.

Remember: Using intravenous drugs is not only illegal but also extremely risky – especially if you share needles.

Medication

If you take medication, be sure to pack an extra supply in case you are away for longer than expected. Carrying a duplicate of your original prescription is highly recommended – especially when travelling to a country that is particularly sensitive about drugs. Also carry an extra prescription that lists both the generic and trade names of the drug, in case your medication is lost or stolen. This is also a good idea if you wear glasses or contact lenses – having the prescription makes it easier to replace them.

Do not try to save luggage space by combining medications into a single container. Keep all medications in the original, labelled container to avoid problems.

Find out whether your medication is sold in the country you are visiting. Also check to see that it is legal. Some over-the-counter medications in Canada are illegal in other countries or require a prescription. Obtaining a note from your doctor that states the medical reasons for your prescription and the recommended dosage is also encouraged. Note that doctors recommend carrying an effective antidiarrheal agent (such as Imodium®) because such treatments may not be available at your destination.

If you need syringes for a medical condition such as diabetes, it is very important that you take along an appropriate supply. As well, you should carry a medical certificate that shows they are for medical use.

If you have a pre-existing medical condition that could present a problem while you are travelling, it is wise to wear a MedicAlert® bracelet. Through the MedicAlert® Foundation, your vital medical facts become part of a database that can be accessed 24 hours a day from anywhere in the world. Call 1-800-825-3785 for membership information or visit the MedicAlert® Web site (<http://www.medicalert.ca>).

Pregnancy

If you are pregnant and plan to travel abroad, talk to your doctor. Some vaccinations may not be recommended. Also, check your travel and health insurance plans carefully to ensure they cover health complications arising from pregnancy.

On Your Return

If you should become sick or feel unwell when you return to Canada, see your doctor. Inform the doctor, without being asked, that you have been travelling or living outside Canada, and where. Likewise, if you were ill while travelling, see your doctor on your return and explain your travel history and any treatment you received.

ATTENTION

Working anywhere outside Canada without the right insurance is risky.

Telfer International, with over 30 years' experience insures Canadians working anywhere outside of Canada, including the U.S. We provide complete, medical coverage including occupational and war risk.

Contact us and we will be pleased to outline our protection's strength and versatility.

Telephone: (514) 284-2002 • Fax: (514) 284-3203
email: info@telferinsurance.com
www.telferinc.com

Our protection goes a long way

If you have been in a malarial area and develop fever during the first year after your return (especially in the first two months), see your doctor immediately and remind him or her that:

- antimalarial pills do not guarantee protection against malaria; and
- malaria must be ruled out by one or more thick and thin blood film examinations.

Supplemental Health Insurance

Do not rely on your provincial health plan to cover the total cost if you get sick or are injured while you are abroad. At best, your health plan will cover only a portion of the bill. It is your responsibility to obtain and understand the terms of your supplementary insurance policies. Some credit cards offer their holders health and travel insurance. Do not assume the card alone provides adequate coverage.

Be sure to ask whether your policy:

- Has an in-house worldwide emergency hotline you can call if you are in trouble. Find out whether it is open 24 hours a day, seven days a week; whether the operators are multi-lingual; and whether nurses or physicians are on staff.

- Pays foreign hospital and related medical costs and, if so, whether it pays up front or expects you to pay and be reimbursed later.
- Provides for your medical evacuation to Canada.
- Pays for any required medical escort (doctor/nurse) to accompany you back to Canada.
- Excludes pre-existing medical conditions. If such conditions exist, notify your insurance company and get an agreement in writing that you are covered for these conditions. Otherwise, you could find your claim "null and void" under a pre-existing condition clause.
- Covers premature births and related neonatal care.
- Allows for cash advances if a hospital accepts only such payment.
- Pays for the preparation and return to Canada of your remains should you die while travelling.

Carry details of your insurance with you. Also, tell your travel agent, a friend or relative at home and your travelling companion how to contact your insurer.

Get a detailed invoice from the doctor or hospital before you leave the country. There is nothing more frustrating than trying to get the proper paperwork from thousands of kilometres away. Remember always to submit original receipts for any medical services or prescriptions you received while travelling abroad. Most insurance companies will not accept copies or faxes.

Other Insurance

Individual personal medical insurance for those working outside Canada, with both occupational and non-occupational coverage, is available. These plans consist of full accident and sickness coverage, including emergency medical evacuation and war risk. There is no requirement to maintain a government health insurance plan. Coverage is available to both the contracted person and his or her dependants. You may wish to refer to the advertisement from Telfer International Inc. for further information on this type of insurance coverage (e-mail address: info@telferinsurance.com).

Lost luggage, theft of your purse or wallet, or flight cancellations can happen to you. These annoyances may cause major disruptions when they take place in a foreign country. Consider purchasing a travel insurance package that will compensate you for such inconveniences.

Travelling by Car?

Keep in mind that each country has its own driving regulations. You may be required to obtain an international driver's licence or additional insurance. Be sure to learn the local rules of the road before you get behind the wheel. In some countries, the driver may be detained and questioned by police even though only a minor collision (such as a "fender bender") has occurred. Country-specific insurance must be purchased for travel by car to Mexico and Central America. This is usually available at border crossings. For specific information on driving in the United States or Mexico, consult DFAIT's booklets Crossing the 49th or México: ¿Qué pasa? (for details on how to order these publications, see "For More Information").

Money Matters

Canadian currency and traveller's cheques in Canadian dollars are not always widely accepted. Before you leave Canada, consult a bank or a foreign currency agent to find out the most appropriate currency to carry. Traveller's cheques in the appropriate currency or in U.S. dollars are often the safest and most convenient option. It is a good idea to have a small amount of the local money on hand when you first arrive, unless the importation of local currency is a crime. There may be restrictions on taking money in and out of the country. Check with the foreign embassy or consulate in Canada or with your travel agent about currency regulations in the country you plan to visit.

Do not rely exclusively on bank machine cards or credit cards. They are not necessarily honoured internationally.

Canadian Taxation Status

If you are living or travelling abroad but maintain residential ties in Canada, you are usually considered a factual resident of Canada for taxation purposes. However, there may be other factors involved, so you should review your situation with the Canada Customs and Revenue Agency (CCRA) before you leave in order to avoid surprises. The CCRA publication Canadian Residents Abroad provides excellent information for individuals (for details on how to order this publication, see "For More Information").

The CCRA's International Tax Services Office processes income tax returns for non-residents and deemed residents of Canada, including Canadians posted overseas. It also provides general assistance by telephone, correspondence and counter service, and looks after all non-resident tax withholding accounts. You can contact the Office at 2204 Walkley Road, Ottawa, ON K1A 1A8, or by fax at (613) 941-2505. You can also telephone the Office (collect calls are accepted) at the following numbers:

Non-Resident Withholding Accounts – (613) 952-2344
 Problem Resolution Program – (613) 952-3502
 General Enquiries – (613) 952-3741

Also, if you have access to the Internet, you can get general information about the CCRA, as well as many of its publications and forms (<http://www.ccra-adrc.gc.ca>).

Avoiding Difficulties at Canada Customs

Before travelling abroad with valuable items, you can take advantage of a free identification procedure at any Canada Customs office. This service is available for items that have serial numbers or other unique markings. Alternatively, if you request it, Canada Customs can apply a sticker to any item to give it a serial number.

Jewellery often has significant value and can be difficult to identify. To make it easier to re-enter the country with jewellery, you should contact your nearest Canada Customs office to find out the steps to take before your departure.

Women Travelling Solo

Her Own Way: Advice for the Woman Traveller provides information specifically for women travellers (for details on how to order this DFAIT publication, see "For More Information"). There are also books that cover the concerns of women travellers and offer helpful travel tips. Check with your local bookstore or library before you go; click onto Journeywoman Online, a travel resource published on the Internet for women who love to travel (<http://www.journeywoman.com>); or visit HERmail, a directory of women around the world willing to help other women with their travel questions (<http://www.HERmail.net>).

Travelling with Children

If you are travelling to another country with your child and there is a possibility of a custody dispute developing while you are away, you should talk to a lawyer before leaving home. A special publication, International Child Abductions: A Manual for Parents, is available from DFAIT (for details on how to order, see "For More Information").

Your child custody arrangements in Canada may not be recognized in another country. In extreme cases, you or your child may not be allowed to leave. Check your status with the country's embassy or consulate in Canada before you travel. In regard to custody questions, contact DFAIT's Consular Case Management division at 1-800-387-3124 (in Canada) or (613) 943-1055.

If a person younger than 18 is travelling alone or with only one parent or another adult, notarized documentation certifying that the trip is permitted by both parents should be carried.

Remember, customs officials are looking for missing children and may ask questions about the children travelling with you. Make sure you carry the proper identification for yourself and any children travelling with you, including any documents required by the country you intend to visit. Proper identification includes birth certificates, baptismal certificates, passports, citizenship cards, records of landing and certificates of Indian status. These will help prove your citizenship and residency when you return to Canada.

International Adoptions

If you are thinking of adopting a child from another country, you must first contact the authorities of the province or territory in which the child will reside. While adoption is a provincial/territorial responsibility, Citizenship and Immigration Canada (CIC) is responsible for allowing an adopted child into Canada. Entry can be refused if the child does not hold an immigrant visa, and an immigrant visa will not be issued without the prior approval of the province or territory. Obtaining this approval from outside the country can be a difficult and lengthy process; agreement may be denied even if the adoption has already been completed.

For more information, contact your provincial/territorial authorities or a CIC call centre at:
 Montreal – (514) 496-1010
 Toronto – (416) 973-4444
 Vancouver – (604) 666-2171
 For toll-free access anywhere else in Canada, call 1-888-242-2100 or check the CIC Web site (<http://www.cic.gc.ca>).

Before You Go... A Traveller's Checklist

- Do your research. Learn about the country you plan to visit. Learn a few phrases in the local language.
 - Arrange supplementary health insurance and travel insurance.
 - Carry proof of insurance coverage, and give a copy to someone at home.
 - Draw up a flexible itinerary and budget. Leave a copy at home.
 - Make sure your passport has not expired and is valid for six months beyond the time of your trip. Photocopy the identification page and keep it separate from your passport.
 - Leave another copy with someone at home. Fill out the "In case of accident or death notify" section in your passport.
 - Make sure you have any visas you need.
 - Find out whether you or any members of your family are considered nationals of the country you plan to visit.
 - Have any vaccinations required. If you are taking medication with you, make sure you keep it in its original container.
 - Carry a doctor's prescription for any controlled drugs, and if you use syringes, carry a medical certificate. Leave copies at home as well.
 - Keep the original receipts for any purchases you make, as well as your hotel bill, rental car agreement and medical service bills.
 - If you are female and travelling alone, take extra precautions to ensure your safety.
 - Review all child custody arrangements if you are travelling with a child. If your child is travelling alone, have him/her carry documentation stating that the trip is permitted by both parents.
 - Ensure that any plant or animal products you plan to bring back are acceptable to Canada. Travelling pets may require shots and special permits (at a fee). See page 25 for more information and check with a local office of the Canadian Food Inspection Agency.
- Do not forget to pack this booklet. It could help you more than you can imagine.

Seeking Assistance

Registering at a Canadian Mission

If your stay is longer than three months in one country, it is recommended that you formally register at the nearest Canadian mission. This will help us contact you in case of an emergency. Registration is voluntary and the information you provide is not shared with any other Canadian government department. Registration is not usually available in the countries of Western Europe, Australia, New Zealand or the United States.

In countries where Canada has no direct representation, there may be arrangements in place for you to register with another country's embassy or consulate. For instance, Canada has a formal reciprocal agreement with Australia.

Consular Assistance

Canada's 270 service points worldwide are ready to help you if needed. In some instances, there may be a fee for services.

What we can do for you:

- We can contact, at your request, your relatives or friends and ask them to send you emergency funds.

- We can help you during emergencies such as natural disasters or civil and military uprisings.
- We can direct you to sources of information about local laws, regulations, cultural customs and how to obtain visas.
- We can assist with medical emergencies.
- We can replace passports.
- If you are arrested, we can try to ensure equitable treatment under local laws. At your request, we can inform relatives and friends about your arrest and try to ensure that legal rights and processes are extended to you consistent with the standards of the host country.
- If you wish, we can notify your next of kin regarding accidents or deaths and let them know whether, and how, they can help.

Although Canadian offices provide a wide variety of services to travelling Canadians, demand is such that we restrict some services, especially those for which there are adequate alternatives available locally. Such services include making travel arrangements, transferring funds or paying local bills, storing or safekeeping personal effects or searching for lost items, doing translations, assisting with job hunts, obtaining visas for other countries and acquiring local permits or licences.

Check the "Canadian Diplomatic and Consular Missions Abroad" section for information on how to contact the Canadian mission(s) in the country you plan to visit.

Emergency Consular Services

Canadian missions offer 24-hour assistance. During non-office hours, a telephone call you make to a mission will automatically be transferred to a consular officer in Ottawa, or you will be asked to leave a message on an answering machine. In either case, there will be a prompt response. If you leave a recorded message, make sure that it is clear and that you leave a telephone number or a full contact address. In addition, you can make a collect call to DFAIT in Ottawa, 24 hours a day, seven days a week, at (613) 996-8885. You may wish to use the Canada Direct service if it is available.

In some locations, where Canada does not have a resident mission, the Australian and British missions will provide emergency services or contact the nearest Canadian mission on your behalf.

On the Road

Foreign Laws and Customs

When you are travelling in a foreign country, familiarize yourself with the way of life there. Respect that country's laws, religions, culture, class structure and economic conditions. Although you may not personally agree with some of the country's beliefs, remember that you are a visitor.

In many countries, appropriate attire – for both sexes – is very important. In some countries, laws govern what men and women can and cannot wear in public. Penalties for disobeying local laws can be quite severe.

Be especially respectful of temples, mosques, churches, synagogues and other religious sites. Many of these areas are off limits to foreigners or people who are not members of that faith. Ask permission before taking photographs of religious artifacts or buildings.

Not everybody likes to have his or her picture taken. Local people may resent you for taking their photograph or they may demand money for the picture after it has been taken. Always ask first.

Never take photographs of military facilities, a harbour where naval vessels are docked or industrial installations such as oil refineries. You may lose your film and your camera, and could even come under suspicion of espionage.

Taking Precautions

The same rules apply abroad as at home, only more so. Foreigners are usually at greater risk than locals. In many countries, foreigners are specifically targeted. Do not wander into unknown areas; find out how safe they are first. Do not pick up hitchhikers or cross borders with people you have just met. Watch your luggage and make sure it is locked. Never take anything, even an envelope, across a border for someone else.

Do not display large amounts of money or expensive jewellery in public. Use a money belt or a case with concealed sections for valuables. Dress appropriately.

Leave a copy of your itinerary with someone at home so they can contact you in case of an emergency. Telephone home, particularly if you have promised family members or friends that you would do so. We receive thousands of calls every year from worried family members or friends who have not received a promised call.

Keep a separate record of your traveller's cheques and credit cards. Never carry your passport, travel tickets, identification documents, cash, credit cards and insurance papers together. If you do so, you risk being left with no identification or funds.

Use the safety deposit box at your hotel. Never leave valuables in your room.

Illegal Drugs

Drug use and trafficking are prohibited in all countries, even though drugs are readily available and openly used in some places. Most countries impose heavy fines and long prison sentences for possession and trafficking. For more information, visit DFAIT's Anti-Drug Information Program Web site (<http://www.dfait-maeci.gc.ca/english/travel/adip-pia>).

In some countries, possession of even small amounts of drugs carries the death penalty.

Never take any parcel that is not yours across a border.

Choose your travelling companions wisely. Never cross a border with a hitchhiker or as a hitchhiker.

Although you may not be carrying anything illegal, your companions may be.

Crime and Punishment

More than 2,300 Canadians are currently imprisoned outside Canada for various offences; 68 percent of them are in the United States.

The laws and customs of countries around the world can be very different from those in Canada. Ignorance of those laws is no defence.

While in a foreign country, you are subject to its laws and regulations. Your Canadian citizenship offers no immunity.

Sexual Exploitation of Children

The Government of Canada has enacted legislation that permits the arrest and prosecution of Canadians in Canada for the sexual exploitation of children in other countries. Most countries are now enacting legislation, or more vigorously enforcing existing laws, concerning the sexual exploitation of children. Those convicted face a penalty of up to 14 years' imprisonment. See the DFAIT Web site for more information.

Canadian consular staff abroad must also follow the rules of the host country. If you do find yourself in trouble, they can help you locate a lawyer, contact your family and friends, and ensure that you receive fair treatment according to the standards of that country. However, they cannot wield any influence to reduce your sentence or fine.

Judicial Process

Never assume that the legal system of the country you are visiting is the same as at home. "Innocent until proven guilty" is not a universally recognized concept. In some countries, you may not even have the right to legal representation or a trial in your mother tongue.

Some countries do not recognize or respect religious freedom; freedom of association, speech or the press; or equality of the sexes. For instance, guilt by association is presumed in some countries. This means that you may be charged simply for being in the company of a person suspected or found guilty of a crime.

Even if you are an innocent bystander at a demonstration or riot, you may be considered a participant and rounded up with those involved. Your Canadian citizenship does not grant you immunity.

When You Return

Departure Tax

Some countries impose a departure tax or service fee at the airport or point of departure. Before leaving such a country, make sure you set aside enough money, in local funds, to pay this tax.

If you do find yourself in legal trouble, contact the nearest Canadian mission immediately. If you cannot do so yourself, have someone else do it for you.

If you are travelling for an extended period of time, you can arrange to have your mail sent to a post office box or, where possible, to the nearest Canadian mission. In the latter case, the mission will hold on to letter-size mail (not parcels) for you to pick up in person. This mail cannot be forwarded to another address.

cattle and costing Canadians more than $1 billion. Every year, thousands of travellers fail to declare things like cheese, meat, animal hides, live birds, plants, fruits and their products. These items may carry pests or diseases that pose a risk to human, plant or animal health.

Foreign pests and diseases could destroy Canada's crops and forests and endanger our livestock, thus threatening our ability to produce and supply safe food.

We need to protect our country. Canadian law says you must declare all the plants and animals you bring back, as well as their products. It restricts and prohibits the entry of products that could harm Canada's agriculture and forestry or that pose a danger to human health and safety.

Canada Customs and Import Controls

You must declare everything acquired abroad, whether purchases for yourself or gifts, as well as goods bought at a Canadian or foreign duty-free store. Keep your original receipts for possible inspection.

If you have been away from Canada for 24 hours or more, you may bring back goods worth up to C$50 without paying duties or taxes. This does not include alcohol and tobacco.

If you have been away from Canada for 48 hours or more, you may bring back goods worth up to C$200 without paying duties or taxes. These goods can include tobacco products and alcoholic beverages, as described below.

If you have been away from Canada for seven days or more, you may bring back goods worth up to C$750 without paying duties or taxes. These goods can include tobacco products and alcoholic beverages, as described below. In calculating the number of days you are absent, do not include the date you leave Canada, but include the date you return.

If you have been away from Canada for 48 hours or more, you may bring back up to 1.14 litres of liquor or 1.5 litres of wine, or a case of 24 bottles/cans of beer or ale, each containing 355 ml (12 ounces). You may also bring back up to 200 cigarettes, 50 cigars or cigarillos, 200 tobacco sticks and 200 grams of manufactured tobacco. Provincial age restrictions apply to liquor and tobacco products.

Certain goods are restricted from entering Canada. If you are considering importing meat or dairy products, plants, weapons, vehicles, or exotic animals or products made from their skins or feathers, contact Canada Customs beforehand for guidance.

Obscene materials, hate propaganda, most weapons, including firearms, and goods harmful to the environment are prohibited from entering Canada.

If you have any questions about what you can bring home, visit the Canada Customs and Revenue Agency Web site (<http://www.ccr-aadrc.gc.ca>) or call your local Customs border services. To reach the Automated Customs Information Service, call 1-800-461-9999 (in Canada).

The booklet I Declare describes what you can and cannot bring back to Canada if you have been away for less than a year (for details on how to order this publication, see "For More Information").

Illegal Souvenirs

While travelling outside Canada, you may decide to purchase souvenirs. Unfortunately, many attractive items sold in foreign countries are made from endangered plants or animals. Live cactus and orchid plants, ivory bracelets and carvings, marine turtle shells and products, whalebone carvings, and cat skins, teeth and claws are some of the more common items illegally brought back to Canada. These items are included in the more than 30,000 species of wild animals and plants regulated under the Convention on International Trade in Endangered Species of Wild Fauna and Flora (CITES). CITES operates through an import/export permit system. Under Canada's Wild Animal and Plant Protection and Regulation of International and Interprovincial Trade Act (WAPPRITA), a violation of CITES could lead to seizure of your purchase, as well as monetary penalties and/or prison terms. Before you purchase an animal or plant or a product made from them, be sure you know what rules and regulations apply.

When in doubt, don't buy it! Since many other countries also have strict laws protecting wildlife, it is often wise to leave any items you already own at home.

To determine what you can and cannot legally bring back to Canada and whether a CITES permit is required, contact Environment Canada by telephone at (819) 997-1840 or by fax at (819) 953-6283. More information is available on Environment Canada's Web site, the Green Lane

Know the rules — sometimes carrying a purse is illegal

In co-operation with over 140 countries, Canada is committed to protecting some 30,000 plant and animal species. Before bringing any item made from them into Canada know the rules.

You risk losing the item, prosecution and fines up to $150,000.

The telephone and fax numbers include country and city/area codes (in parentheses). The city/area codes provided are those you use when calling from within the country where the mission is located. If you are calling from another country, you may have to use a different city/area code. When calling from one country to another, you must use the local code for international calls before the country and city/area codes of the number you wish to reach. For example, if you are calling overseas from Canada, you must press 011 before the country code. (Calls to Bermuda, the Caribbean and the United States do not require a country code, but you must press 1 before the area code.) If you are unable to contact the mission, you should verify the codes with your telephone operator.

Canada Direct service is offered by Canada's major telecommunications companies in association with Teleglobe Canada. On its international network, Teleglobe carries calls from more than 130 countries where Canada Direct service is available. The ☉ symbol indicates that Canada Direct service is available from that country.

Mission addresses and telephone numbers and city/area and country codes are subject to change. When changes occur, the Internet version of this list, which can be found in the Travel section of the DFAIT Web site (<http://www.dfait-maeci.gc.ca>), is updated immediately.

International calling a breeze with Canada Direct service

To call Canada (or other countries) from abroad using the Canadian telecommunications network, dial the Canada Direct access number (listed below) for the country you are in and follow the prompts. A bilingual Canadian operator is always available to assist. For information on usage, rates, etc., call 1-800-561-8868 before you leave home.

* Canada Direct is a trademark of Teleglobe Canada Inc. used under licence.

- ◆ Wait for a second dial tone.
- Service available on dedicated phones that display the Canada Direct symbol.
- Service not available from pay phones.
- ▶ Service available only on International Direct Dial phones.
- Service available only on public pay phones.

- ▲ Public phones may require coins or phone card.
- △ Service available from dedicated phones at airports, post offices, seaports or selected hotels.
- * When calling from a public pay phone, use phone marked LADATEL or TELMEX.

Canada Direct customers can also call from one locale to another within a country, or from that country to most other countries in the world. Some restrictions may apply. Country-to-country calling is a service designed for convenience, and as such, its rates are higher than those of regular Canada Direct calls. Please check rates with the Canada Direct operator in advance.
