EMMA TRENTINI, IN THE 'FIREFLY' AT THE ROYAL ALEXANDRA

SOME of the best plays seen in Toronto for a long time are on the boards this week, with Cyril Maude making his first appearance outside of England, Emma Trentini appearing in a New York success, Elsie Gresham in a gripping play, good burlesque bills, and Sam and Kitty Morton back with a new vaudeville sketch.

HUMOR SPONTANEOUS

Supporting Company Strong and Play a Decided Success.

In the forty millions or so of Britons there is a vastly greater number of eccentric types than among the eight millions of Canada. Society here is also much more homogeneous than the split up, stratified, rank and class, orders and degrees that divide up the British into almost as many distinct groups as there are parishes in the kingdom. Consequently it seems almost, or perhaps quite incredible to some in a Canadian audience, that such types should exist as Cyril Maude and his London company presented the Princess last night. Dickens is constantly accused of exaggeration altho he wrote with photographic fidelity. Sothen, it is said, could scarcely get away with Lord Dunderdy today. The Toole and Ferry tradition is passing. Sir Charles Wyndham has no successors with phenomena of a new order. "Buts," "Friths," or "Bristons" are types are still as numerous, as funny and as susceptible as ever, and Lord Meadows, familiarly known as "Toddles," is quite as good as any of its predecessors. Mr. Maude, in the part, reminds one of Lawrence O'Driscoll, with brilliant action. He is really excellently funny as "Toddles," he undecided, who never can make up his mind, and cannot even bring himself to say "I do" at a marriage ceremony. He is an impetuous young nobleman with several matrimonial entanglements, including a young widow, a chaperone, and Miss Joblyn, daughter of a wealthy commoner, and victim of a match-making aunt of "Toddles." The play, which is well staged in three acts of five scenes, consists of the story of "Toddles' efforts to escape the designs of his matchmaking friends, his sagaciously ridiculous reluctance to keep his engagement at the marriage ceremony, which he describes as a silly nonsense, this civil marriage in France, and tomorrow to have to go to the altar in the church; and with the same woman, too"—his escape from the Marquis in Paris, and his subsequent encounter with his quondam fiancée at Nice. The piece is adapted from the French by Clyde Fitch, and here is considerable sparkle in the dialogue.

NOTHING LACKING TO 'THE FIREFLY'

SPARKLING COMEDY

Emma Trentini in Well Balanced Play at Alexandra Theatre.

A truly remarkable comedy opera is "The Firefly," which last evening celebrated its premiere at the Royal Alexandra with Emma Trentini in the stellar role. There are comic operas and comic operas, but this one must be acknowledged exceptional. Of the majority of good things one may expect from such a vehicle, biblical measure is received, filled, pressed down and running over. The music transcends the trinket characterizing so many modern compositions. It has the "body" sufficient to support the grand opera interpretation required at different periods, and the first was quickened with verve and spontaneity, which also serves another demand of this type of composition. As for the comedy of "The Firefly," it would be fairly well agreed by the audience which filled all the house that such a master of merriment as Roy Atwell in the role of the eccentric Jenkins has not happened along this way for some time past. The style of his certain stages the lifting of his finger brought enough appreciation to suit the whole two acts of the production. Emma Trentini, the Firefly, has captured for herself an undoubted Her dainty personality and winsomeness of deportment might well do that which has not happened along this way for some time past. The style of his certain stages the lifting of his finger brought enough appreciation to suit the whole two acts of the production. THE SPENDTHRIFT A TELLING PLAY

Modern Domestic Drama Meets Approval at the Grand.

COMPANY OF ABILITY

Various Roles Interpreted in an Interesting Manner and Everyone Pleas'd.

"The Spendthrift," Porter Emerson Browne's dramatization of a popular story, is the offering of the Grand Opera House this week, and is presented by a company of exceptional ability. The Grand audience, which is composed of experienced and habitual theatregoers, who have well-defined ideas as to their requirements, may be not with the purpose and expectation of the mass. When it pronounces favorably on a play, that particular play is certain to go forth with good report. All the surface indications seem to indicate "The Spendthrift" is that fortunate class. The story tells of a hard-working business man who earns a large income, but whose wife, in heedless extravagance, spends it all and runs him into debt besides. Finding that the domestic exchequer is worse than empty, the wife impudently borrows a large sum from a male friend of the family, not with the purpose of deceiving her husband, but in the expectation of aiding him over immediate difficulties. Questioned concerning the source of the windfall, she invents an accommodation loan by an aunt, but the latter's denial punctures the wife's false and domestic quarrels ensue. A scene of crimination and recrimination is one of the interest bits of drama with modern embellishments. Out of it eventually emerges a new love and a new confidence which prepares the audience for a logically and doubly welcome happy ending with everybody delighted and every wrong thing righted. The play does not require a big cast, but the work of Elsie Gresham, Frank La Rue, Harry Hollingsworth, Laurette Allen, Babbie Gale and Louise Owens was away above the ordinary and added materially in the success of the play. During the week the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees will be given.

ARTHUR FRIEDHEIM, one of the world's greatest pianists, who gives a concert at Massey Hall, on Thursday evening.

IN FINE VOICE FOR HER CONCERT

Mme. Melba Will Sing Tonight at Massey Hall After Week's Rest.

Mme. Nellie Melba, Edmund Burke and party arrived in Toronto late yesterday afternoon, conveyed by Mr. Powell, the English impresario, who is acting as personal conductor of the tour. They are at the Queen's Hotel. Pressed her delight at the prospect of again singing in Toronto. The week spent in Montreal since her concert there last Monday night, has allowed the prima donna to have a complete rest after the ocean voyage, and to thoroughly accustom herself to the Canadian climate. Consequently she should find herself in admirable voice for tonight's Massey Hall concert. By the European critics, Mme. Melba is now declared to be in full fruition of her art. There happens to be the world of music's most position in the world of music for years. Mme. Melba evinced much interest in the circumstance that Toronto happens to be the birthplace of David Burke, now a successful financial agent in Montreal, lived in this city for some time. One year after the future baritone was born, the family moved to Hamilton, from which city they later moved to Montreal. Edmund Burke's mother was the daughter of the late Thomas Maclean, publisher, who was a resident of Toronto for 40 years. Altho the demand for seats has been very good, there are still good locations among the higher priced sections of the Massey Hall seating plan. There will be 400 rush seats at a dollar on sale at 7.15.

CHORUS OF MEN AT GAYETY SHOW

"Something new" has been the request of burlesque patrons for the past few years. The management of the Gayety Theatre has found it. Yesterday the "Girls From Starland" opened to a crowded house. And the improvement on the ordinary show found by the patrons was a male chorus. In addition to the usual chorus of comely girls, eight men blended their voices in harmony. The artists included Harry Jones, Celeste McConnell, Joe Neymeyer, Charles Henderson, Otto Koerner, Harry Stanley, Charles Horn, Katherine McConnell, and last, but not least of all Miss Ethel Hoy. The musical numbers were well rendered, and the play splendidly mounted.

PARAGON AND PRETTY CHORUS

The Progressive Girls at the Star provide an evening of amusement. The performance commences with a two-act musical comedy entitled "A Night in Bohemia," in which Jack Reid, in the comedian lead, and Ella Reid Gilbert, the leading lady, receive their full meed of praise. They are backed up by a fine chorus, which for its well-combined singing was frequently called back before the footlights.

WOMEN TO PRISON GIRLS ARE FINED

Mothers and Daughters From Stratford Found Guilty of Shoplifting.

JUDGE BROKE DOWN

Would Willingly Have Served Sentence for Women Were It Possible.

Despite a strenuous plea by T. C. Robbette, K.C., and his own deep emotion, Judge Morgan, yesterday afternoon, sentenced two mothers to the Mercer for two months, and fined their daughters $50 for shoplifting.

The two women were Mrs. Nell and Mrs. Hillman of Stratford. In the dock with them, stood their daughters and the evidence adduced showed that the four had come to the city and stolen valuable articles from one of the department stores.

Letters stating that the women were of good character were received from members of parliament, police magistrates and prominent citizens of Stratford. They were exhibited by F. R. Biewett, a barrister from Stratford.

At first his honor sentenced the four to two months in the Mercer. "Please don't send them to the Mercer," begged T. C. Robbette, pleading toward the bench with both hands outstretched.

"If there is any sentence to be served, the daughters are willing to serve it. I would rather serve the term in jail. What these people have suffered cannot be told," said the Chicago Cubs in 1910, and the Giants in 1911, while Boston Red Sox won from McGraw's team in 1912.

The Athletics, although they have not shown such brilliancy, lead the American League in nearly every department of the game.

OPENING UP THE NEW EAST

The above map shows two new diagonals and the extension of another in connection with the east end of the city.

The one to the left gives a short cut from the city to the north end, the second a short cut from the Don Mills road to Danforth, and the third carries the Malvern diagonal down to Coxwell and Danforth avenues.

A still more important road in connection with the east end is shown in this map, but which is in the plan of Mr. Le May, the city surveyor, is to extend Woodbine avenue north down into the Don valley and then along the valley by the west Don to Yonge street at York Mills.

These and the other recent proposals of the surveyor will come before the council this week and later on the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board will be asked to ratify them.

Once they are ratified the land will have to be handed over for the purpose of the roads whenever the properties involved are subdivided.

The year 1906 marked the first and only time that two teams of the same city met in the world's series—the Cubs and the White Sox, both of Chicago.

The old post series extended from 1884 to 1890.

In 1884 the Providence National League and the Metropolitan League of New York met in the world's series.

The American Association played three games with the Cubs and the White Sox, both of Chicago.

EIGHTEEN MILLION MORE TO OPERATE

Eastern Railroads Say That is What Proposed Schedule Means.

ARBITRATION PENDING

Trammen Want to Penalize Lines for Taking Greater Risks.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—(Can. Press.)—It will cost the eastern railroads nearly $18,000,000 more a year to operate if they are compelled to grant the wage demands of 9,000 trainmen and conductors, according to testimony on behalf of the roads today before the federal board that is arbitrating the men's strike.

"Taking into consideration all the agencies working in favor of the trainmen in these cases, should they be granted, the increase would approximately cost the railroads $11,975,588 more a year than at present," said the witness.

Doubleheading increases hazard, a practice which the men, in presenting their case, have urged as an important factor in increasing the hazard of railroading, was brought up by counsel for the roads today.

"The trainmen want to penalize the railroads for road risks and speed," commented A. H. Smith, senior vice-president of the New York Central lines.

Both Low, chairman of the board, and A. B. Garretson, representing the trainmen, whether the men would rather have doubleheading abolished or have salary increases, the men would prefer having doubleheading abolished.

All disputes between the trainmen and the railroads heretofore have been settled by arbitration.

The railroads let it be known that the trainmen's objection to doubleheading was in a measure dictating the operating methods of the railroads.

For this reason, this time, the trainmen are making their case for more money, giving the continuance of the practice of doubleheading as a reason for demanding more money.

OTTAWA, Oct. 6.—(Special.)—It is authoritatively denied here that any special conference between the Imperial and Canadian Governments had ever been called or abandoned, as has been asserted by some London newspapers.

Ship owners' share has been $584,820.

Three victories is the best any pitcher has won in a series.

The national commission sets 10 per cent of each game. It amounts to nearly $115,000 for the 4 series.

This will be the rubber series between the Athletics and the Giants.

The Athletics have played the Highlanders on the Polo Grounds this season, while Shibe Park will be new stands in the Polo Grounds.

Frank Chance, whose experience counts, is the most important factor in a world's series.

The team that wins the first game gains much confidence, but it must possess courage and stamina to win the series.

The above map shows two new diagonals and the extension of another in connection with the east end of the city.

The one to the left gives a short cut from the city to the north end, the second a short cut from the Don Mills road to Danforth, and the third carries the Malvern diagonal down to Coxwell and Danforth avenues.

A still more important road in connection with the east end is shown in this map, but which is in the plan of Mr. Le May, the city surveyor, is to extend Woodbine avenue north down into the Don valley and then along the valley by the west Don to Yonge street at York Mills.

These and the other recent proposals of the surveyor will come before the council this week and later on the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board will be asked to ratify them.

Once they are ratified the land will have to be handed over for the purpose of the roads whenever the properties involved are subdivided.

HOLLAND MARSH SWEEP BY FIRE

Six Thousand Tons of Hay Destroyed—May Increase Price of Mattresses.

A disastrous marsh fire, which is reported to have been started by incendiaries in the Holland marsh, has swept about twelve square miles of territory in the neighborhood of Bradford.

Besides destroying 6000 tons of hay used for stuffing mattresses the fire has destroyed numerous stables, barns and other buildings.

The fact that the hay crop was unusually good this year makes the matter worse and the owners of the marsh lands are demanding a government enquiry. They say it is not unusual for fires to have frequently been started which have wiped out a season's work.

As Toronto mattress makers get the bulk of their hay from the marshes in this neighborhood, a rise in the price of mattresses may occur.

POLICEMEN MAKE A PRESENTATION

On the occasion of his retiring on pension from the police force, Constable John Denning of 100 Denning street was presented last night with a solid mahogany china cabinet by his comrades at police headquarters.

Constable Denning is 55 years of age and has served 33 years on the Toronto police force.

MARKETS IN OPEN AIR

Will Be Established on Spadina Avenue and Indian Road.

North Toronto Ratepayers' Association and the Boy Scouts asked the property committee yesterday for the free use of the old town hall there for their meetings.

"At the beginning of this year we decided that to give the use of civic hall without charge is too costly to the city," said Ald. Wanless.

A majority of the committee contended that an exception should be made in this case, and the association and scouts may meet in the old town hall in North Toronto free of charge.

Ald. Burgess put through a motion urging the board of control to nominate a city architect at once.

Ald. Wanless moved that truck farmers be given permission to occupy each morning for market purposes, the east side of Spadina avenue, north of Baldwin street, and the east side of Indian road south of Dundas street.

Ald. Wanless offered another motion that an open-air market be established in North Toronto, and that the assessment and property commissioners report upon the property required.

Commissioner Chisholm recommended that if the basement of the old town hall should be abandoned and each department provide garage accommodation for its cars, the market establishment was not approved.

Because the parks and exhibitions committee meets the same afternoon as the property committee, it was decided that the property committee will meet hereafter at 2 p.m. instead of 2.30.

CHARGES AGAINST CHIEF FALC. PORT HOPE, Oct. 6.—(Special).—Charges of trespass and assault, preferred by one Falc against Chief of Police Gummerson, were dismissed by the police magistrate here today.

It appears that the chief received a message from the Bernardo Home at Peterboro to take charge of a 15-year-old girl who had run away from a farmer's home in South Monaghan and come to Port Hope.

The chief located the girl and placed her for the time being in the home of Con. H. Holdaway. Hearing that the little girl was at Falc's without his authority he went there to investigate.

Falc, under pretence of obstructing him, and the chief brushed him aside and entered the house.

PORT WELLS TOWNSITE SALE. On Saturday night, in the Masonic Hall, St. Catharines, Chas. M. Henderson of this city, submitted various lots in the original townsite of Port Wells to public competition.

Between 500 and 600 people attended and great public interest was displayed, the bidding being very spirited. A large number of lots were sold realizing several thousand dollars.

Port Wells, on the new Welland ship canal, is undoubtedly destined to become an important industrial centre. The amount of money now being expended in the canal by the government is a sufficient guarantee of the future of the town, which offers an unusual opportunity to the small investor.

One special feature of Port Wells is that the interest taken in the town is almost entirely local instead of, as commonly, coming from outside districts. The utmost confidence is felt that the entire subdivision will find a ready market.

HOLD-UP MAN AT KINGSTON. KINGSTON, Oct. 6.—(Special).—While sitting on a bench in the city park last night with a lady, Harry Blackman, a member of "A" Battery, was held up at the point of a revolver by a stranger who demanded money.

When Blackman said he had no money, the stranger questioned the lady, but getting nothing for his trouble passed over to another bench where a couple was sitting, and again flourished the revolver and demanded money. The girl screamed. The hold-up man ran away. Three men who noticed him run gave chase, but he eluded his pursuers. About half an hour before the hold-up occurred, the home of Cornelius Birmingham, near the park, was entered and robbed of a gold watch and two chains. Members of the family were held up but did not hear anyone enter the house.

ATTEMPTED TRAIN WRECKING. KINGSTON, Oct. 6.—(Special).—An open switch evidently turned by some person to wreck a train on the Grand Trunk Railway, caused two coaches on the early morning suburban train, backing into the station, to passengers to go off the track. Trainmen hastened to jump to save their lives. An investigation into the matter is being held. There were no passengers on the train.

What Thin Folks Should Do To Gain Weight

Thousands of people suffer from excessive thinness, weak nerves and feeble stomachs who, having tried advertised flesh-makers, food-fads, physical culture stunts and rub-on creams, think nothing will make them fat. Yet their case is not hopeless.

A recently discovered regenerative force makes fat grow after years of thinness, and is also unequalled for repairing the waste of sickness or faulty digestion and for strengthening the nerves. This remarkable discovery is called Sargol.

A month's systematic use of Sargol should produce flesh and strength by correcting faults of digestion and by supplying highly concentrated fats to the blood. Increased nourishment is obtained from the food eaten, and the additional fats that thin people need are provided. Leading druggists supply Sargol and say there is a large demand for it.

While this new preparation has given splendid results as a nerve-tonic and vitalizer, it should not be used by nervous people unless they wish to gain at least ten pounds of flesh.

LIVED UNDER SIX SOVEREIGNS. KINGSTON, Oct. 6.—(Special).—Mrs. Laing, mother of Rev. Douglas Laing, pastor of the First Baptist Church, died today, aged 96 years.

She was the widow of the late Robert Laing, born in Roxburghshire, Scotland, she lived under six British sovereigns.

During the course of Mr. Ruddle's testimony he gave out a great deal of interesting information concerning the tendency of the royal navy. This has now been printed in a pamphlet of fourteen pages for free distribution to all who apply for it to the publication branch of the department of agriculture at Ottawa.

DAIRY PRODUCTS STAY IN CANADA

Canadians Are Consuming More Butter and Cheese Than Formerly.

PAMPHLET PREPARED For Distribution by Department at Ottawa, Sums Up Situation.

Conditions affecting the marketing of the dairy industry in Canada have undergone rapid changes during recent years. In the past it has been the custom to estimate the growth of the industry on the basis of export trade.

These facts were brought to the attention of the select standing committee on agriculture and colonization during the past session of parliament by Mr. J. A. Ruddle, dairy and cold storage commissioner, who showed very clearly that the industry is not losing ground, but is making steady progress. It was brought out that Canadian people are consuming relatively more milk and milk products than heretofore and that an increasing quantity of milk is being manufactured into condensed milk, casein and other products.

The late Mr. Strong was a native of Dorset, England, and the son of Capt. Tibbot Strong of the royal navy. He had lived in Galt 60 years. His earlier business life was spent as chemist and druggist. A gifted musician, he for years conducted the choir of Trinity Church, of which he was a devoted member. He is survived by one son, Arthur, of Galt; and two daughters, Mrs. MacWhimney, London, and Mrs. Lewis, Ottawa.

USE STAG ISLAND AS PEACE PARK. SARNIA, Oct. 6.—(Special).—G. H. Williamson, Dominion Government engineer, was at Stag Island yesterday and today, on orders from Dr. Roche, minister of the interior, looking over the island, as the government may take steps in the near future to use it as a peace park commemorating the 100 years of peace between this country and the States.

Many of the pictures in this book represent scenes far removed from the trodden path of the tourist—views of the jungle, of strange natives residing within the borders of the Zone, quite unknown outside of their own narrow world because of the difficulty in reaching them. These pictures are rare and are found only in this volume. The beautiful large colored plates in the book are reproduced in splendid full pages from water-color studies made by E. J. Read, the well-known artist, who spent many months in the study of Canal scenes. No book of similar character contains such a wealth of magnificent color.

All that we can say of this book—all the words of praise from pleased readers who get their copies—all the exclamations of delight from callers who see this book for the first time—none can describe its rare beauty. Artists have paid tribute to it; poets have gone into raptures over it; critics are delighted with its charms. Yet none can do it justice. Words are indeed weak when called upon to set forth the magnificence of this artistic creation.

The Story Full of Heart Interest

It has been said that Willis J. Abbot, the author of this book, "writes for the people." In this instance he went into the Canal Zone to learn all there is to know about it, and did not return until his task was fully completed. From the time when Columbus searched for a natural waterway to the Pacific Ocean, he brings his readers up through the centuries of revolution and warfare, and on through to the realization of the greatest achievement of this day and age. It is a most inspiring story, filled to the full with local color and human interest—a story that will live as long as the great Canal itself.

The Above is a Greatly Reduced Illustration of the Big Volume

TUESDAY MORNING, OCT. 7

WHERE THE SHOE PINCHES.

The Montreal Gazette has demonstrated that grain is handled more cheaply at the port of Montreal than it is at New York, or indeed at any port in the United States.

It is not true and it is one point in favor of the Canadian farmer.

But he has many other advantages. Nature has been kind to the husbandman in Canada; his soil has yielded abundantly and his grain as a rule is of superior quality.

He pays less for his land than the American farmer. Why then is he not better off?

The western grain grower, with abundant crops of high quality, with an unbroken waterway from the head of the lakes to the sea, and with cheap and efficient facilities at Montreal for handling, storing and trans-shipping his wheat, finds a spread growing greater yearly between the track price in his locality and the ultimate price over-sea.

He may grow more grain and better grain; his government may spend a billion dollars in subsidizing railways, improving waterways and nationalizing magnificent harbors like Montreal, but he grows poorer instead of richer.

Why?

Every grain grower in the west, every child in Canada, knows the reason why. The farmer cannot consume his grain or sell it to his neighbors; the greater part of it must seek a market across the seas.

It is the terrible toll taken by the carrier, which leaves so little to the producer, that carrier is a combination which controls freight charges by land and water, alike, between Port Arthur and Montreal, and between Montreal and the ports in Britain.

For every foot of the way from the wheat field in Saskatchewan to the dock at Liverpool, London or Glasgow, the freight rate is absolutely fixed and there is no competition. Half inland navigation is controlled by one company, which is hand in glove with the railways, and is itself part of a combine operating on the North Atlantic.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Company has trains on the land, boats on the lakes, ships on the sea, and is at every point the dominating factor in this oppressive trust.

We agree with The Gazette that Montreal deserves the business, because that port is able and eager to handle the business with speed and efficiency, but if grain is delivered to New York, Providence, Boston and Portland, The Gazette should hold responsible the great transportation trust, today oppressing Canada, under the selfish and domineering policy of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company.

Give the Canadian grain grower fair play in transportation rates, and Montreal will become the premier port of the continent.

TAXATION AND ASSESSMENT.

The Globe stated yesterday that "Sir James has no defence for his insistence on the taxation of buildings except arguments exploded a generation ago."

In a sense this may be true, if taken on an academic or theoretical basis. Henry Georgian lines, not to mention policy ones. But it is not true as a practical matter, as an immediate issue to be faced, or as a statement of the taxation situation as it exists.

The fact is Sir James is entrenched behind the Assessment Act, and The Globe shows no great disposition to assault that entrenchment, nor do very many other newspapers in the province. The Ottawa Citizen is the most outspoken and independent, but even there, until recently, the attack has not been concentrated upon the redoubt which must be taken by storm before any real progress in taxation reform is secured.

The World makes this assertion after careful study of the field, the carelessness of the people as a whole, to their own interests in the matter, is one of the discouraging aspects of the case. A great deal of education is still required. Not long ago The Kingston Whig asked how Sir James was to be impressed, and The Whig did not seem to think much of our suggestion that the way to impress him was to elect a candidate who had taxation reform as the only plank on his platform. Until the people feel as strongly as that on the matter, Sir James does not need to make any such defence as The Globe thinks necessary.

At the present time the whole City of Toronto, and probably all the other cities and towns in Ontario are involved in a gigantic conspiracy to break the law, and keep the assessment commissioners out of jail for their glibly participation in the violation of the act. We need not elaborate the point which we have frequently stated, but in Toronto the assessment commissioner boasts that he breaks the law, which he has taken an oath to carry out, to the amount of thirty per cent. of what the law requires of him.

And this is Sir James' defence which The Globe has been asking for. He says that when the municipalities carry out the law as it exists, and it is found to be unsatisfactory, it will be time to consider new legislation. The unsatisfactory conditions at present, he considers as largely due to the violation of the law. Vacant land is never assessed at its full value, as the law requires it to be.

There is a great deal of truth in Sir James' contention. Will The Globe join in a campaign to inaugurate a strict observance of the Assessment Act?

NAME AND REALITY.

What is misnamed "Nationalism" in countries like India and Egypt, is neither more nor less than an attempt to bring the tillers of the soil under exploitation by the present representatives of the class who, in earlier days, held them in bondage. Individuals and the peoples they compose have notoriously short memories. Even the first generation of the emancipated from virtual serfdom forget to what power they owe the measure of rights they possess. To them come the restless and discontented inheritors of the old regime ideals, who find their occupation gone and their opportunities to live on the peasant workers prevented by a controlling hand guided by a policy that seeks general, not individual benefit. It is not in the least surprising that the agencies seeking to recover their lost control should conceal themselves under the guise of the defenders and upholders of "nationalism."

Names are wonderful to conjure with, at least among the fanatical and unthinking. For, notwithstanding all the disillusion coming from experience, there are still many people who imagine that the appropriation of a name means the establishment of the reality that the name is supposed to define. To these sincere but eminently foolish people a government that calls itself republican, the nothing better than a tyranny or a bureaucracy, is infinitely superior to a government in name a limited monarchy, but in substance embodying the most advanced democratic principles. Thus we have idealists who believe they are serving the cause of "liberty" when they support the endeavor of the dispossessed classes to become again exploiters of the labor of the masses of India and Egypt.

A NEW PACIFIC COAST.

Probably the first effect of the Panama Canal will be the enormous influx of emigrants from continental Europe to the Pacific coast. It has been stated that three hundred thousand people will find their way thru the canal to the Pacific states and British Columbia, by December 31, 1915. Even this estimate is extravagant, there is no reason to doubt but that the tide of immigration will be largely diverted from the eastern to the western shore of this continent.

At the same time we should think it likely that a considerable number of Oriental immigrants, after the canal is completed, will seek admission to the United States and Canada thru eastern ports. This might to some extent relieve the always serious problem of Asiatic immigration. The total number of Japanese in Canada is quite small, although concentrated in the one Province of British Columbia, which has a comparatively small white population. In like manner the number of Asiatics in California is comparatively large for that state, but they would be scarcely noticeable if distributed thru-out the country.

With a greatly increased white population on the coast, and with Chinese and Japanese scattered thru-out one section of it, the Pacific coast would be and would feel less isolated. Manufacturing should develop and trade with the Orient become important.

Finally the "Yellow Peril" will be less menacing with a largely increased white population on the shores of the Pacific. With ten million people west of the Rockies, there should be a force sufficient to repel any army of invasion and there is no reason why British Columbia alone should not ultimately have a population of five million people. Vancouver Island, with less than a third of the area of England, is perhaps as richly dowered with natural resources.

The world's great theatre of action, which has shifted from the Mediterranean to the Atlantic, may ultimately be found the Pacific.

MONEY CONTROL.

Financial authorities in the United States are always offering as an inconvertible argument against government control of the currency, as contemplated in the bill now before congress, the practice in the United Kingdom and European continental centres of leaving it in the hands of the controlling banks. The Bank of England, it is contended, for example, keeps a watchful eye on the money market and is at all times ready to check undue speculation or dangerous loan commitments. As the leading international money exchange, it can do this by raising the discount rate, or in greater emergency, by itself becoming a borrower. In these ways it maintains the credit of the country and prevents the development of a situation that might result in a monetary collapse. As against government control of money in the United States, the argument is not convincing. For, rightly or wrongly, the public there has become sceptical regarding the distinctness of the banking syndicate that has pretended to do in North America what the banks of England, France and Germany have succeeded in doing for Europe. Indeed, it has been openly accused of engineering the panic of 1907 for its own purposes, and whether the charge is or is not justified, it discloses a lack of that public confidence without which there can be no stability. The action of the governor and directors of the Bank of England may not always be universally approved, but their motive is never gained. Until these conditions are reproduced in the United States the call for government control will continue.

The Telegram excelled itself last night. It is really very funny. And the best of the joke is that it seems to be the situation it describes really exists.

TWO BAD FIRES NEAR ST. MARY'S

One Man Lost His Entire Crop, Buildings and Machinery.

ST. MARY'S, Oct. 6.—(Special).—A date was given by the Durbar Club of St. Mary's in the town hall on Thursday evening. About thirty-five couples were in attendance from Stratford, St. Mary's and district.

The St. Mary's Kitties on their arrival home from Theodos on Wednesday were given a banquet by Leon Constable, proprietor of the Windsor Hotel. A young men's club is being organized in town. They will have their headquarters over Patterson's boot and shoe store on Queen street. The officers are: Honorary president, Dr. Knox; president, W. J. Hayden; vice-president, Ralph W. H. Hayden; treasurer, A. Marshall. The object of the club is to form a young men's circle for mutual improvement. The club will have a room at the Windsor Hotel.

Dr. M. Steele, M.P. for South Perth, as well as Mr. H. B. Morphy, K.C., M.P. for North Perth, were in town on Friday last, at 10.45 a.m., and did considerable damage before it could be extinguished. The cause was a defective chimney.

Miss M. V. Bradshaw of St. Mary's took five hats and one second on her last and was on her way to the fair here, and also on her way to the second on three pictures shown at the London Exhibition.

Nineteen crates of cattle, consisting of 250 head, were recently shipped from Ailsa Craig for the Toronto market. The shipment was valued at $25,000.

The British Church bazaar, held in the town hall on Saturday, was a very successful affair. Music was provided for the occasion, and the most appealing means seen.

A special meeting of the town council was called on Saturday to consider the question of supplying more fuel to the water, light and heat board. It was proposed to have a bylaw drawn up to cover the deficit to be submitted to the authorities, and the regular meeting of the council will be held on Monday evening.

Y. C. Patterson, one mile east of St. Mary's, is disposing of his farm stock and implements on Wednesday, Oct. 15.

Fire of an unknown origin completely destroyed the barn of one of the concession 14 of Bosanquet Township, containing a heavy loss. Mr. Dew was to have three days' work, and all his season's crops, together with a fine horse and separator, the property of Harry Ford, were burned. Mr. Dew also lost many of his own implements.

FREE TRADE IN WHEAT

Hamilton Herald: The new United States tariff provides for the admission of Canadian wheat into the United States free of duty, and the Canadian duty on United States wheat is removed. As there is a much greater demand for Canadian wheat in the United States than there is for United States wheat in Canada, free exchange of wheat between the two countries would obviously be to the advantage of Canadian wheat growers, particularly where prices are higher in the United States than they are in Canada, as they generally are.

It is not surprising that our western farmers are in favor of the removal of the duty on wheat. The duty on wheat would also tend to attract Canadian wheat to the other side of the continent, and thru transportation, freight rates on the American railways being lower than on this continent, the removal of duties would double the return on the duties of Canadian freight rates. They would get better average prices for their grain, and they would get the benefit of lower carriage tolls.

With more money in their pockets, Canadian farmers would spend more, which would be to the benefit of all interests.

Evidently the removal of the Canadian duty on wheat would be a good thing for this country.

Why Not for Toronto's Local and Main Terminals?

The Canadian General Electric Gets a Half Million Contract.

Montreal Gazette, Oct. 5.

With the letting of a contract for electrical equipment in the Canadian Northern tunnel and terminal now rapidly nearing completion, the Canadian General Electric Co., the Canadian Northern Co. yesterday established another record in railway work, this being the earliest time in the annals of engineering that a terminal has been built with electric equipment for the operation of trains.

The contract, which involves a sum of half a million dollars, calls for the complete electrification of the tunnel and terminal, seven electric locomotives and about eight cars for local service being provided, while the extension of the system of the Back River, but not adopted this system only after a particularly use steam. The Canadian Northern terminal in Montreal, therefore, will be the first to be operated entirely by electricity from the commencement.

No steam locomotive-drawn trains enter the tunnel. Specially constructed electric locomotives will be used for the operation of the Back River yards. For the local Model City there will be some eight multiple unit cars of very heavy construction similar to those in use in some of the New York suburbs.

The contract has been let to the Canadian General Electric Co. provides for the installation of the tunnel at a cost of about half a million dollars, and the operation of 2,400 volts will operate the system, and a seven-minute service thru the tunnel. The Canadian Northern terminal in Montreal, therefore, will be the first to be operated entirely by electricity from the commencement.

THE SENILE SHE DOES NOT DECAY

Rumors of the British Decadence Silenced by Lord Northcliffe.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—(C.A.P.)—The Daily Graphic has published an account by a traveler in Canada of the progress made by the Dominion during the past twelve months. Such rapidity of growth, remarks The Daily Graphic editorially, recalls the astounding development of the southern side of America a generation or more ago, and doubtless a large part of the present growth of Canada is due to the over-riding of the southern side of the continent. At the same time there can be no question that not Canada only, but the whole empire is moving forward very rapidly at the present time. On this point it is satisfactory to note the optimism of a speech delivered by Lord Northcliffe to the Canadian Club in Montreal. Lord Northcliffe was specially deprecating the amount of talk about the decadence of Great Britain, which appears to be one of the favorite topics of conversation on the other side of the Atlantic. "Nor does such a story always fall upon unwilling ears. The colonies are young, and in the confidence of youth they are often apt to assume that every old country must necessarily effete."

A Deceptive Analogy.
 "The analogy is a natural one," he said, "but it is largely deceptive. The vitality of a nation depends, not on the length of its past history, but on the character of its present citizens. If they are strenuous and full of enterprise, the nation remains as young as if her history were measured by years instead of centuries."

COMMISSION WILL RESUME NEXT WEEK
 KINGSTON, Oct. 6.—(Special.)—The prison reform commission will resume its session on Oct. 14. Major W. H. Hughes, inspector of prisons, has written Chairman George MacDonnell, saying he will be here to give evidence on this date.

It is stated that Dr. Edwards, M.P., stated that charges would be made against a third official, whose name has not been mentioned by officials at the big prison in a great state of anxiety. Dr. Edwards says that if necessary, the entire staff of officials should be relieved.

TUBERCULOSIS SUNDAY
 The Joint Ministerial Association and the Anglican Association at their regular meetings last passed resolutions approving of the work of the National Sanitarium Association, and endorsing the holding of tuberculosis Sunday in the churches throughout the province on Nov. 23. The Methodist Ministerial Association has already approved, and the matter will come before the Presbyterian and Baptist meetings next Monday.

PRESIDENT WILL CONFER ON BILL

To Take Up the Currency Measure With Democratic Senators.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6. (Can. Press)—President Wilson will begin conferences tomorrow with Democratic senators looking to the acceleration of the administration currency bill's passage thru the senate. The president has been informed that some members of the senate banking and currency committee plan to continue the hearings two weeks longer, and consume a month thereafter in working over the bill. He looks upon this program as likely to throw the currency discussion into the December session of congress and postpone a vote indefinitely, and he will endeavor to ascertain from members of the committee and Democratic senators generally, what are the causes for the delay.

Bankers Fear Bill.
Significant in the day's developments on the situation were remarks which the president made to callers, that objections to the administration bill proceeded chiefly from big bankers, because they feared that the control of the country's financial system would be taken from their hands by the new measure. Referring to a large number of telegrams and letters from bankers throughout the country, approving the bill, the president called particular attention to the fact that some of these bankers had requested that their names be not made public. He told some of those with whom he discussed the subject, that if the people of the country knew the real state of affairs with reference to the opposition to the currency bill, they would regard it as ridiculous.

The Philosopher of Folly

THE OYSTER SEASON.

"Oh, hasten, bivalve-hoister—October's here once more; get after Mr. Oyster!" we earnestly implore. "Go, bring him in by dozens, his brothers, sisters, cousins, his uncles and his aunts. Go forth," we shout in chorus, "and get some oysters for us—this month we'll take a chance! Speed forth and cast thy anchor right feathery in his midst and ply the trusty yanker as formerly thou didst; load up thy saucy schooner, and then oftentimes, or sooner, unto the shore return. Oh, hasten, prithee hasten, thy cargo we'd be tastin'—our other food we spurn. Thru all the torrid summer we've longed to see this day; we went from gum to glummer right from the first of May; and on till thru September, we very well remember our hearts were bowed with woe. Go, haul the tender oyster up from his ocean cozier—we want two tons or so."

NOME DEVASTATED BY FIERCE STORM

Men Work All Night in Icey Water, to Save Their Effects.

NOME, Alaska, Oct. 6. (Can. Press).—Nome has been almost destroyed by a storm. The south side of Front street is gone. The Sandspit is gone. Two miles of territory next to the sea was devastated. No lives were lost.

The storm that last night began beating in from Bering Sea was the worst ever known here. Men and women worked all night in the icy water to save their household effects. The electric light plant was wrecked and telephone service cut off. The loss is estimated at a million and a half dollars.

There will be much suffering and outside help will be required. Winter is at hand and it will be impossible to get in supplies needed.

The steamships Victoria and Corwin, which were lying in the roadstead, ran to the open sea and escaped damage. All the small boats on the beach were destroyed. Five hundred houses have been demolished, and more are falling.

Nome, the famous gold camp on Bering Sea, the most northerly city in the world, was built on a sandy sea beach. In front of the town there is an anchorage for ships, but steamers do not make a landing. Cargoes and passengers are landed at an aerial tramway station in deep water. The principal part of the town, which a dozen years ago had a population of 20,000, is on the east side of Snake River, with a finger extending to the west along a narrow sandspit. The sandspit was rich in gold dust and the earlier settlers built their cabins there.

Of late years the sands have been worked out, and little except dredging operations, which require large capital, is being done. It has been estimated that the dredges have enough ground in sight to operate fifty years more. Nome has produced more than $25,000,000 in gold dust. Some years the yield has been as high as $3,000,000. This year the production will not be more than $4,000,000 owing to lack of water.

The summer population of Nome is about 4,000, and in winter 2,000 remain, the others coming out on steamships that leave late in October. One steamship is yet to leave Seattle for Nome.

It will be possible to send revenue cutters to Nome to deliver supplies and take away needy persons who wish to leave.

FOREIGN MARKETS DEPRESSES LOCAL

C. P. R. and Brazilians Are Leaders in Influence—Balance of Listed Issues.

BARCELONA FADING

Public Operations, Except for Actual Investment, Are Quite Limited.

Weak markets on the foreign exchanges were primarily responsible for lower prices in the Canadian markets yesterday.

In the local market any speculative interest seems to be confined almost exclusively to the stock market.

Bank and trust company shares and the higher class industrial find the buying power equal to any necessary liquidation.

Barcelona has lost all the activity which was imparted to the shares yesterday.

DULL AND DEPRESSED

Anticipated Balkan Financing Promotes Flood of Selling Orders

LONDON, Oct. 6.—Money and discount rates were a shade easier today. Apart from a rally in German bonds the stock market was again dull and depressed.

Henry Clews and Co. of New York in their weekly financial review have the following to say about stock market conditions:

"There has been no change, however, in the outlook for the American market, which remains in a state of depression."

SPANISH RIVER AND CEMENT

McCaig Bros. and Co. of Montreal in referring to the Spanish River in their market review say:

"In spite of the reactionary markets of the last few days, Canada Cement common has reacted very little from the high point reached after the recent important advance."

"The stock has been a little inactive of late, but should be given attention, owing to the excellent possibilities of enhancement in value which it affords."

CARSON'S WORD TO CITIZENS OVERSEAS

Reference to Winnipeg's Offer—"Do Your Part," Says Unionist Leader.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—(C. A. P.)—The offer of assistance from Winnipeg Orangemen to Ulster, which was prominently advertised here, was referred to by Sir Edward Carson in his final speech before leaving Ireland for London.

"The government," he said, "will soon find that a quarrel which looks to them in the distance to be a local one is a comparatively small part of his majesty's dominions."

"In your name I send to our fellow-citizens across the sea and in other parts of the United Kingdom this simple message: We are preparing and are prepared to do our part. We call upon you to do yours. We are prepared, and we were always prepared, never to betray you. We call upon you to see that we are not betrayed."

NO INFRINGEMENT OF TREATY RIGHTS

WASHINGTON, D.C., Oct. 6.—(Can. Press.)—None of Harry K. Thaw's treaty rights as an American citizen were violated when Canadian immigration authorities forcibly deported him a few weeks ago.

"That was the ruling today of Solicitor Joseph W. Folk of the state department, who says that the representation would not be warranted in making any representation to the British Government, as requested by Thaw."

Most of the other smelters are tied up by contracts. The Ontario plant, which was burned down some time ago, is being rebuilt and will relieve the situation considerably.

Yuan Shinkai Receives Large Majority of the Votes

PEKING, China, Oct. 6.—(Can. Press.)—One of the most important events in the history of China—the election of a president of the new republic—took place here today.

When the united houses of parliament came together this morning, the registers recorded that 759 representatives of the people were present to take part in the historic proceedings.

The first ballot took a considerable time, owing to the fact that the candidates and senators were not familiar with the proceedings.

Provisional President Yuan Shik'ai had been given 471 votes, and Tsai Yuan Heng 153 while twenty other candidates, including Dr. Wu Ting-fang, former Chinese minister at Washington, and Dr. Sun Yat Sen, the leader of the republican movement, had each received a few votes.
