PROMISES MADE BY MEREDITH TO USE INFLUENCE

Witnesses Swear That Alderman Made Pledges at Different Times.
CIVIC PROBE NEAR END
Tonight's Session Probably Will Conclude the Taking of Evidence.

Tonight will, in all probability, see the evidence in the Hodgson-Meredith-Roden enquiry concluded, and the investigation completed. Most of the final evidence was put in last night, but there are still several matters to settle before the case is argued. The fact that Manager Cymmer of the Toronto ball team was put out of the game on a certain day again loomed large in connection with the effort to fix the date of the ball game at which the alleged statement referred to in the affidavit was made.

In this connection, Miss Chamberlain, when in the witness box stated that she had seen Geo. A. Hodgson and Ald. Meredith at the same time the day Cymmer was put out of the field. She also remembered having seen Meredith introduced to Mr. Hunter and a Miss Irvine on that same day while going to the island on the boat.

Geo. A. Wilkie, K.C., objected to newspapers being put in as evidence of what transpired in the city council meeting the day the affidavit was made public, but the judge ruled that if the reports agreed as to what took place they should be considered for what they were worth.

"Influence" Promised.
The evidence of Isaac Brody, who had purchased a property on Bathurst street, thru Ald. Meredith as agent, was to the effect that Meredith had told him at the time of the sale that he would use his influence in reselling the property to the city as a library site. This the alderman denied.

Thomas Self, who was one of the tenderers for the civic incinerator plant now being built on Wilton avenue, near the Don, swore that Meredith had stated to him that he would use his influence in helping Self to get the contract if the latter would assist him in getting a government position. Most of the evidence taken was of a corroborative nature. The first witness called was Col. J. P. Langton, who confirmed his previous evidence regarding the date on which Hodgson had spoken to him about the conversation he had with Meredith at the ball game regarding the Langton appointment to the fire commission. Mr. Lennox asked witness if anyone had induced him to change the date, the reply being that he had not. He had, however, talked the matter over with Messrs. Hodgson and Wilkie and Ald. Roden and Wickert.

The Supreme Factor

The greatest fighting machine in the world today is the British navy; and it is stronger now than when the war began. It is being strengthened in every direction: it can draw its material, supplies, men and munitions from every quarter of the world; and as we said above, it can keep on growing and expanding and developing more and more into a menace to all enemies of the empire.

HEAVY GUN FIRE STILL PERSISTS

DUEL IN CHAMPAGNE
Systematic Fire Against German Trenches—Foe Repulsed in Voges.

PARIS, Oct. 28.—(10.25 p.m.)—The official communication issued by the war office tonight is as follows: "Artillery actions, particularly intense and prolonged, are reported in Belgium on the Het Sas-Steenstraete front, as well as to the north of Arras, in the Bois En Hache, and in the region of Rocquencourt.

"The enemy directed in Champagne a violent bombardment against our positions at Tahure and Maisons de Champagne. Our batteries replied by systematic fire on the enemy trenches.

"In the Voges, one of our reconnaissance parties having accomplished at Reich Ackerkopf the destruction of an enemy trench, which had been shattered by our cannonading, the Germans directed a counter-attack which was easily repulsed.

PARIS, Oct. 28.—(Via wireless to Tuckerton.) Detail of a report printed in Holland that thirty or more death sentences imposed upon persons charged with espionage and treason had been pronounced by court-martial at Liege is made by the Overseas News Agency today.

"As a matter of fact," it says, "there have been in Liege recently no death sentences imposed upon persons for assisting Belgians to escape and join enemy armies, nor are proceedings in cases of that nature now pending. The report is a pure invention."

"I think," he said, "we all desire to express our warm thanks to the government of this great dominion for this additional proof of a desire to share in the common burden." This statement was greeted with loud cheers.

The colonial secretary was asked a question regarding the rate of pay of dominion troops.

"The payment of the men of these forces," replied Bonar Law, "is made entirely out of the funds provided by these governments. I understand that the rate of pay is: Canada, $1; Australia, six shillings; New Zealand, five shillings.

BERLIN, Oct. 28.—(Via wireless to Tuckerton.) Detail of a report printed in Holland that thirty or more death sentences imposed upon persons charged with espionage and treason had been pronounced by court-martial at Liege is made by the Overseas News Agency today.

"As a matter of fact," it says, "there have been in Liege recently no death sentences imposed upon persons for assisting Belgians to escape and join enemy armies, nor are proceedings in cases of that nature now pending. The report is a pure invention."

The home secretary was asked if he intended to take any steps to prevent immigration so as to keep the men required for agriculture, munition work, or military service.

He replied that as the number of emigrants is much below normal, no question of restricting immigration has yet arisen.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 28, via London, Oct. 29, 1.35 a.m.—The following official statement was given out by the Russian war office tonight: "In the region of Riga the situation is unchanged. South of Lake Babite there have been several engagements in the wooded region which, however, have not affected the general situation. Both at Ikskul there has been artillery fighting.

ITALIANS SLEW GREAT NUMBER OF AUSTRIANS

SET FIRE TO COUNTRY
Foes Covered Retreat Near Gorizia by Wall of Flames.

UDINE, Italy, Oct. 28.—News of the great Italian offensive all along the Isonzo front is being brought down by the wounded and the men of the convoys which are escorting Austrian prisoners who have passed thru Udine. Their stories give some idea of the magnitude of the operations.

All the soldiers agree that the offensive lasting three days, was appalling. "If it was an inferno for us," said a wounded engineer, "how much worse was it for those yonder, where the shells burst!"

The Italian soldiers assert with pride that they are now reaping the benefit of a systematic destruction of the Austrian mountain peaks mastered after fierce struggles during the past months, and the lack of which, they say, has greatly decreased the accuracy of the aim of the Austrians. The men say that six months of warfare has enabled them to understand the tricks of their opponents.

"I think," he said, "we all desire to express our warm thanks to the government of this great dominion for this additional proof of a desire to share in the common burden." This statement was greeted with loud cheers.

When the Italian artillery prepared the way for an infantry attack on the entrenchments, the soldiers declare, the Austrians would retire. When the artillery ceased firing with the purpose of allowing infantry to cover the ground between the opposing positions the Austrians would reoccupy their entrenchments with double forces.

MR. WESTMAN AT ISSUE WITH SIR SAM HUGHES

Conservative Candidate at Regina Adheres to Statement Despite Knight's Denial.

REGINA, Sask., Oct. 28.—J. A. Westman, federal Conservative candidate here, issued a statement today with regard to the interview given out by Major-General Sir Sam Hughes at Ottawa yesterday. In the interview the minister of militia branded as false Mr. Westman's statement that he was the first to call the attention of the militia department to the condition of affairs with regard to the purchase of military supplies here, and no action was taken on his coming. Mr. Westman still sticks to his guns, notwithstanding Sir Sam's denial.

LOSS OF PIROT NOT ADMITTED

Serbian Statement Tells of Resistance Against Strong Pressure.
CEDE SOME GROUND
Enemy Has Been Repulsed, However, at Number of Points.

PARIS, Oct. 28, 11.20 p.m.—The Serbian legation here tonight issued the following statement concerning the situation in Serbia: "On the 26th on the northeastern front: The Serbian troops on the right bank of the Morava River were obliged to fall back to the south after heavy fighting and have occupied the line of Vlasak-Kladovar-Chetovag. On the left bank of the Morava and the left bank of the Lepentza there has been a violent artillery duel all along the front. Fighting is also going on along the line Vlasak-Kladovar.

On the southern Morava front the Serbian troops have repulsed the enemy on the left bank of the Korbio-vatohka Reka. There is nothing to report on the Nishava front.

LARGE FRENCH FORCE LANDED TO AID SERBS

One Hundred and Fifty Thousand Men Debark at Saloniki.
SERBS RETAKE USKUP?
Report, While Unconfirmed, is Given Some Credence in London.

LONDON, Oct. 28, 9.45 p.m.—Outside of the German official statement, which records the advance of the Austro-German forces and the capture by the Bulgarians of Zecar and Knaievata, both on the Timok River northeast of Nish, and the heights of Pirot, almost directly east of Nish, there is little or no authentic news on the invasion of Serbia.

There are reports, however, that the Serbians have recaptured Uskup, which is not improbable if, as Saloniki dispatches report, the French now hold the line of Kriovlak, Radovista and Strumitza, for, with an army there and the Serbians at Vales, Uskup would form a dangerous salient from three sides and must eventually fall back toward the southwest. Thus far they have been retreating in good order, and, despite the seriousness of the situation, optimism prevails in Saloniki.

The French, according to German dispatches, have already landed 150,000 troops, with one hundred guns, at Saloniki. However, a despatch to the Messenger, Rome, states that the ally landed at Saloniki are insufficient and that 30 or 40 days will be required to land the remainder.

Britain Under No Obligation to Observe Previous Pacts With Germany.
TO REGARD HUMANITY No Enlargement of Immunity to Enemy Goods Contemplated.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Sir Edward Grey, the secretary of state for foreign affairs, in the house of commons today agreed with the proposition advanced by Lord Charles Beresford in the shape of a question, that in view of Germany's "many breaches of international law," Great Britain was under no obligation to observe previous declarations and conventions between the two countries.

Sporting Events Will Be Staged to Raise Funds for Task.

By a Staff Reporter. HAMILTON, Friday, Oct. 23.—At a meeting last night a Hamilton branch of the Sportsmen's Patriotic Association was formed.

The club will be equipped with up-to-date training appliances, so that the men will be better enabled to further their physical training.

The following officers were elected: Hon. president, Sir J. M. Gibson; vice-presidents, Mayor Walters, John Allan, M. J. M. ...

Shortly after 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon the 8th Battalion arrived in the iron transport camp at Niagara Camp to Toronto.

The enthusiasm displayed was greater than when they first landed here on Wednesday, owing to the fact that the men had seen their friends and relatives who were in the city.

The men arrived in good shape, only one man having been injured during the entire march from Grimsby.

On behalf of Mayor Walters and the citizens of Hamilton, Rev. Dr. Banks Nelson, welcomed the 8th Battalion.

It has been reported that Gunner Geo. Boardman of this city has been killed in action.

Mr. Justice Middleton yesterday dismissed the action of George Henderson against the Hamilton railway for being thrown from a car.

GERMANY REALIZES DEFEAT IS CERTAIN

Tentative Peace Proposals Are Significant of the True Situation.

BLEEDING TO DEATH

Process of Attrition Sure to Bring Ultimate Victory to Allies.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Under the caption, "Germany is Beaten," The Tribune, in a leading editorial, says:

"If there were needed any evidence of the actual as contrasted with the apparent condition of the European struggle, it could be found without difficulty in the statement of German public men, German newspapers and German papers.

"The public statements of German statesmen, take the comments of the press, is there any mistaking the facts that in all, at some point, the words 'peace' crop up? Victorious peace, or some other adjective peace, it is to be sure, but peace.

"The general principles of international law no exception can be taken to neutral states letting war material go to Germany's enemies for or thru their territory.

"When the Germans have opened the road to Constantinople, destroyed Serbian resistance, temporarily asserted their supremacy in the Balkans, nothing is more certain than that from one end of this earth to the other, every German who breathes the atmosphere, will talk peace.

"But no American should mistake this. It compares admirably with those of 1864, when the south was already beaten, but southern influences in the north combined with the patriotic sentiment of the north to prevent the final scene at Appomattox.

"The correspondence shows that the state department received also a complaint from the British ambassador, stating that the 'systematic way in which neutral ships have left American ports in order to supply German cruisers, and have been allowed to operate freely in the ports of the United States, in spite of the warnings which have been given in the matter, causes grave anxiety to His Majesty's government.'

It has been commonly rumored about the city that the best dining facilities obtainable are presented at the Hotel Teck.

ISSUE "WHITE PAPER"

Washington Throws Light on Its Negotiations With Belligerents.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—A second instalment of what has come to be popularly known as the United States Government's "white paper," issued tonight by the state department, it gives the text of important diplomatic correspondence with the belligerent governments of Europe since the publication of the first instalment last May.

One of the most interesting features of the new edition is the publication for the first time of a memorandum of the German Foreign Office, referred to in a colloquy between Chairman Flood of the house foreign affairs committee and Representative Barthold of Missouri on the hearing on the bill proposing an embargo on arms, Mr. Flood quoted the memorandum as a justification of his argument that the German Government did not hold shipments of munitions to the allies as illegal.

The memorandum says: "Under the general principles of international law no exception can be taken to neutral states letting war material go to Germany's enemies for or thru their territory."

The secretary of state, in his reply, held that "the essential idea of neutral territory becoming the base for naval operations by a belligerent is, in the opinion of this government, repugnant to the principle of neutrality."

BIG FRENCH FORCE NOW AT SALONIKI

Substantial Aid to Hard Pressed Serbs is on the Way.

SITUATION OBSCURE

London Has Little New Light on Campaign in Serbia.

It is probable that M. Briand will become foreign minister as well as premier, with Jules Cambon, who was ambassador to Germany at the outbreak of the war, as his principal secretary, in which capacity it is understood he will be responsible for the direction of foreign affairs.

While the whereabouts of the British reinforcements remains a secret, it is said, will become minister of justice, probable designations are: Minister of War, Gen. J. S. Gallieni; minister of interior, M. Millerand; minister of marine, Rear-Admiral Lacaze; minister of agriculture, Etienne Clementel; minister of finance and of colonies, L. Klotz, former minister of the interior and of finance, or Joseph Thierry, under-secretary in the ministry of war; minister of instruction, Emile Combes, former premier.

The other members of the present cabinet, according to the program, will continue in their present positions. It is expected that M. Ribot, minister of finance, and M. Millerand, minister of war, will be associated with the new cabinet.

The Viviani coalition ministry was formed on Aug. 26, 1914, shortly after the outbreak of the war. Previous to the formation of that government, M. Viviani had headed a previous cabinet.

M. Briand's ministry was formed on March 13, 1915. Briand, while a socialist, is not of the antimilitary type.

Cambron's Ability Recognized. Jules Cambon as French ambassador to Berlin, strove hard to avert war. He was for years ambassador in Washington, where he was regarded as the most brilliant and witty of the diplomatic corps. He is a direct descendant of Joseph Cambon, who was minister of finance during the great French revolution, while his brother was trained for the law, but in 1891 became governor-general of Algeria.

Gen. Gallieni, a veteran of the war of 1870, achieved fresh fame as military governor of Paris; his genius contributing not a little to the defeat of the Germans at the Marne, when Paris was so seriously menaced.

Report of Col. Cantley's Resignation Has Not Been Confirmed. Contracts Not Let. Statement of Awards of Shell Orders May Come Today.

OTTAWA, Oct. 28.—An official announcement regarding the reorganization of the shell committee is expected very shortly. There is no official confirmation of the reported resignation of Col. Cantley from the committee, and just how great the change in the personnel of the committee will be is not known.

Personnel of Committee. The present members of the shell committee include Gen. Bertram of Dundas, Ont.; Col. Carnegie, from the British war office; Thomas Cantley of the Nova Scotia Steel Co.; Mr. Watts of the Canada Foundry Co. of Toronto; Gen. Benson, from the general staff of the Dominion Arsenal at Quebec.

Sir Frederick Donaldson, who came over with Mr. Hichen from England, is still in the Maritime Provinces looking into the capacity of the country for manufacturing ordnance.

The Canada will depend on his report after visiting all the industrial centres of the Dominion.

In short conference in the mayor's office this morning the winter fair directors made it very clear that they wanted the entire building or no thing, and absolutely declined to split up the show by holding parts of it in other buildings in the city. The militia people are also strongly averse to doing anything of this kind.

Clara Morris Says

THAT WE SHOULD FIND A GOLDEN MEAN BETWEEN THE TWO SUNDAY EXTREMES.

CLARA MORRIS

IN all the changes made in three or four decades past there is no such "about face" as in our manner of keeping the Sabbath.

Many must recall, with shudders, those three grim sermons, with their "thirdly, fifthly, finally and to end."

But worst of all was the turning of that precious day which He had "blessed and hallowed" into an occasion of weariness and sullen dread to those "little ones" of His tenderest love.

There is awe in the thought that the mighty Creator knew the value of a day of rest, and so "blessed and hallowed" it, and demanded that His people honor and keep it holy ever after.

We put aside all work. Adorned and bearing flowers, we gather joyfully together. We offer thanks, we praise Him or her in words, in song, in music, and are happy in the doing. It is very easy.

Yet when Power Supreme demands that every seventh day shall, for our own sake, be free from labor, and for His sake shall be kept holy with praise and prayer and love, we either can't or won't understand, and so make it a day of gloom or a day of license.

Our "about face" has brought about a Sunday of ball games, racing, athletic contests, partly expurgated theatrical performances, vaudeville turns in street clothes, and various merry ways of whipping the devil about the bush.

"Lord's day? What day's that?" snapped the boy. "Why, the Sabbath, of course."

"Sabbath! Well, what's that?" Oh, Sabbath school! Oh, yes, Sunday school says: "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy." I know now.

Blessed be the Sunday school, then, if it helps the little ones to differentiate the Sabbath from a Sunday of amusement pure and simple.

Having tried the two extremes, can we not change again to a golden mean, where at the very least we may share the day with the God who created it, us and the world we so enjoy, and from whom we withhold the praise and thanks we cheerfully give to mortal beings?

The thinkers of Mt. Sinai are silenced, so gather the family together, read a few lines from the Book, repeat "Our Father" in dear unison, and sing a bright, triumphant hymn, before starting on pleasure bent.

And, while abandoning our own work, avoid amusements that entail labor on others.

Thus shall we remember and do something toward keeping that great fourth commandment.

Little Things That Mean Much to Beauty

By LUCREZIA BORI

Prima Donna of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York.

LUCREZIA BORI

YOU have often heard the time-worn saying, "It is the little things that count in life."

This is an invariable truth, whose beauty is concerned, if we neglect to care for the minor attributes of beauty in time our neglect will rob the face of its chief charm.

Few women pay ever to their eyebrows, and yet they are one of the most important features of the face. Upon them depends your expression, if you stand before a mirror and "ruffle" your eyebrows you will notice that however smiling your countenance may be the expression is one of bewilderment.

At first they gave his statements no credit, but they were something about the boy which compelled respect and confidence.

The hiding place of the "great seal" was made the final test to substantiate his claims, and assisted by the still faithful Tom, he revealed it.

Clad in the rags of the pauper, Prince Edward was then crowned King of England amid the cheers of his "brilliant" subjects. Then he richly rewarded Tom for his loyalty, and Sir Miles for his affection and faithful services.

He never forgot the privations and misfortunes he had endured while a pauper, and during his "brilliant" reign treated the unfortunate with mercy and pity so often denied him when he was as a homeless wanderer.

If, however, you brush the brows to form a narrow, arched line above each eye your appearance will be trigg and well groomed, and your expression vivacious, intellectual and pleasing.

To beautify the brows brush them every night, always drawing the brush in the direction in which the hair grows. The perfectly shaped brow resembles a swallow's wing.

The eyebrows should be short and thick without being coarse, and if you find that a tonic is required to improve your scraggy brows, massage them, rubbing in a few drops of oil of cajeput every day.

"Brushy" brows can be improved by applying the smallest quantity of grease and pressing the hairs down with the tips of the fingers.

The proper brush to use for the eyebrows is shaped somewhat like a toothbrush, but the bristles must be fine and soft.

Now brush the brows smoothly to sweep down in a broad line, and you will look as solemn as a country deacon on Sunday morning.

If, however, you brush the brows to lengthwise movement will make lines while the rotary eradicates them.

Remove the cold cream with a soft towel and apply a fresh coating. Remove this also and give the skin a bath consisting of a wineglassful of rosewater to which 15 drops of peroxide have been added. Leave this on the face not longer than 15 minutes. I always remove this lotion with a second bath of plain rose-water or cold cream to alkyl the "sting" of the peroxide.

My skin is easily affected by sunburn and windburn, so I use this preventive when going outdoors. I first anoint my face with a lotion which contains:

Rosewater..... 8 ounces
Glycerine..... 1 ounce
Lemon Juice..... 2 table-spoonfuls

Then I remove the superfluous liquid with a piece of soft linen and dust the skin with rice powder. The powder protects the complexion from the sun and wind while the lotion keeps the skin soft and white.

When you return to your home after a long exposure to the elements thoroughly cleanse your face and apply a coating of cold cream, allowing it to remain on as long as you are in the privacy of your own room.

Then dip your finger nails, the eye-lids and teeth all require minor attentions to keep them in a perfect condition, and the woman who bears this in mind will make great strides along the road to beauty.

Lie down for 10 or 15 minutes, for, as a rule, you will feel dizzy after the deep breathing exercise. Relax every muscle and close your eyes and banish every thought from your brain. Absolute rest will make you in prime condition for the day's activities.

Now you are ready to dress for going out, and the complexion must be prepared to withstand the ravages of spring wind and sun. If upon rising you have not massaged the skin, do not neglect to do so at this time.

Use the second and third fingers, dipping them into a good cold cream and apply it with rotary motions. The

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: I am 17 years old, and have a stepmother. She is good to me, and does everything a mother can do for a daughter, but I cannot make myself call her mother, although I think it would please her if I did.

When in company and I speak of her I call her mother, but that is all. What would you do? Would you call her mother to her face or not?

TROUBLED ONE. I think that you should call her mother, as she seems to be kind to you and does everything that a mother could do for a daughter. As you call her mother in company, if you started to call her mother in private it would soon grow easy and would please her.

Secrets of Health and Happiness

Rest and Slow Thinking the Cures for Stuttering

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG,

A. B. M. A. M. D. (Johns Hopkins)

DR. HIRSHBERG

WITH few exceptions, perhaps, no man or woman should be a stutterer. Even if one is so unfortunate as to have inherited some structural defect not remediable by a surgeon, much of the trouble may be eliminated. Unfortunately, most stutterers visit doctors for a cure. Once the painstaking physician has made a thorough diagnosis, however, the victim should hire himself to a patient elocutionist or vocal department studio for appropriate syllable exercises and oral gymnastics.

You may recall the artificial distinctions between the two conditions—stammering and stuttering. The stammerer is one who pronounces all consonants and combinations of consonants correctly. He speaks even as you and I, except when interrupted by irregular spasms of the muscles of the windpipe, throat, mouth, tongue, palate or lips.

Rapid thoughts often block the complete action of the vocal apparatus and thus instigate the trouble. The initial letters and initial syllables do not come freely, because thoughts fly ahead of muscle action and an unconscious air-brake or cramp holds vocal movements until a right-of-way is declared open.

The prime essential in the cure depends upon rest. A stutterer must be forbidden to speak—may even think for a time. Rhythmical exercises must be once begun. If a vocal teacher or an elocutionist is available, patience and persistence upon the part of teacher and pupil will accomplish a cure. Children train their fingers in two or three years to play a small piano repertoire. Yet the stutterer learns more quickly than the tongue and the lips.

It behooves the stutterer and stammerer who would be cured to begin at once and continue such articulate gymnastics several years. Several hours' practice daily are even more necessary than to master a musical instrument.

The exercises are selected for perfect quiet, regular movements. Syllables, words and sentences are chosen by the teacher, and the victim must "go into silence" at home and with every one other than his teacher. Rest at all times, except during practice and lesson periods is part of the treatment.

Diary of a Well-Dressed Girl

By SYLVIA GERARD

Solving the Problem of a Demi-Evening Gown.

I WONDER if any girl ever has a better time than I? Fate is always unusually kind to me. She seldom allows a dull dinner companion, a bad

I always go to an affair blissfully conscious that I am well dressed, for I wear the frock which I had decided to discard on the occasion and to the mood I happen to be in, and almost invariably a good time is sure to follow.

No woman can be happy if she has to feel apologetic for her clothes. What is more, she cannot "put her best foot forward." There is an assurance which comes with smart clothes that will make even the shy, mouse girl interesting and entertaining.

Last night when I dressed for Eleanor's dinner dance I felt that I had "north and conquer" the entire social world. An evening gown always transforms me into a different being. I'm times better looking, and often I gaze into the mirror and voice the sentiments of the old woman who went to market and fell asleep on the King highway: "Lack-a-mercay on me! It is none of I." I knew that it would be impossible to enjoy myself whenever I wore that frock, and Eleanor's affair was not the beginning.

The frock which I had decided to discard on the occasion and to the mood I happen to be in, and almost invariably a good time is sure to follow.

My frock is a lovely blending of the pastel colors. It has a soft and shimmering. When I bought the material I wavered between an old-fashioned "bridesmaid" and one with small roses scattered over the surface, finally choosing the latter. I've never regretted the choice. It has a creamy-white background, and the roses are pink and yellow and the foliage pale green.

When Mrs. Mathon and I designed the frock I said that I wanted a demi-evening frock that might be worn to a tea-fauntail. The result of our collaboration was a worthy example of what "two heads" can do.

"To make the frock with sleeves—I'm so tired of bare shoulders and long arms—and an Empire waistline." Then we debated whether the skirt should be cut circular or goaded, and I triumphed over the former with the better.

To define the high waisting Mrs. Mathon used a band of silver embroidery, and trimmed the skirt with narrow ruffles of pale pink chiffon with a pliot edge.

The top of the skirt seemed so plain that I suggested a peplum tunic of the chiffon edged with a ruffle of the same material.

To confine the fulness about the waist I decided to do a tuck in the chiffon and run a cord through, drawing it close to the figure below the normal waistline.

Demi-Evening Gown of Flowered Taffets and Chiffon.

The bolero jackets of chiffon are being used on evening gowns, so I made one of pink chiffon for this frock, stitching it by hand, and edging the décolletage with a single line of brilliant tulle.

The lower edge of the bolero we turned under and joined it to the girldie, giving an unusual touch to the frock.

We ornamented the skirt with detached clusters of pink, yellow and mauve roses.

I shall rather be without a frock of flowered silk.

Novels in a Nutshell

Mark Twain's "THE PRINCE AND THE PAUPER"

Condensed by AUGUSTA SHELBY

TOM CANTY, a little street gamln, was one day wandering about the streets of London and stopped before the gates of the royal palace to gaze into the courtyard.

The gruff guard ordered him away, and handled him so roughly that he bruised the boy's hand.

Just at this moment the impulsive, kind-hearted young prince—afterward Edward VI.—happened to be passing, and overhearing the rude command of the guard, invited the boy to come with him.

The boys were as nearly alike as two peas, even to a remarkable physical resemblance, and immediately became friends.

The young prince, in a spirit of fun, suggested that they exchange clothes. Tom readily agreed, and changed his rags for the silks and velvets of his royal friend.

As Prince Edward watched Tom dressing he noticed the bruised hand, and became indignant that one of his guards should thus mistreat a harmless stranger, no matter how poor he appeared to be.

Clad in the rags of the pauper, Prince Edward was then crowned King of England amid the cheers of his "brilliant" subjects. Then he richly rewarded Tom for his loyalty, and Sir Miles for his affection and faithful services.

He never forgot the privations and misfortunes he had endured while a pauper, and during his "brilliant" reign treated the unfortunate with mercy and pity so often denied him when he was as a homeless wanderer.

Clad in the rags of the pauper he rushed alone from the palace to reprimand the guard, who laughed at him and mistaking him for Tom drove him away.

Unaccustomed to walking through the streets of the city the prince had strange experiences, and finally fell in with Tom's family. He received such beautiful treatment that he decided to run away with Sir Miles Hendon, a disinherited knight, whose pity he had aroused.

The knight believed that the boy was a madman, because of his frequent assertions that he was of royal birth, but he grew to be sincerely attached to the lad and welcomed him as a traveling companion.

They wandered about the country, having one strange adventure after another.

Tom, in the mean time, found his changed condition unpleasant in many respects. Life at court did not altogether appeal to him. His unobsequious manner and ignorance of court etiquette subjected him to many trials.

When he was asked for the "great seal" and could not tell its whereabouts the courtiers pronounced him to be a deceiver.

His natural aptness and ability to cope with any circumstance, however, made it possible for him to become accustomed to his new environment, and he was soon able to meet the demands of his high position without any room for criticism.

This convinced the nobles that he was mentally sound, and they began preparations for the coronation.

Tom was at first grieved and worried over the disappearance of the real prince, but now that royal life no longer palled upon him he was less anxious about what had become of the boy who had exchanged places with him.

Sir Miles and Prince Edward finally reached London a few days before the coronation, and found the city making great preparations for the ceremony.

On the morning of the ceremony the prince slipped away from his protector and went to Westminster Abbey. Here he confronted the nobles and the clergy, protesting against the coronation of Tom, insisting that he was the royal Edward.

At first they gave his statements no credit, but they were something about the boy which compelled respect and confidence.

The hiding place of the "great seal" was made the final test to substantiate his claims, and assisted by the still faithful Tom, he revealed it.

Clad in the rags of the pauper, Prince Edward was then crowned King of England amid the cheers of his "brilliant" subjects. Then he richly rewarded Tom for his loyalty, and Sir Miles for his affection and faithful services.

He never forgot the privations and misfortunes he had endured while a pauper, and during his "brilliant" reign treated the unfortunate with mercy and pity so often denied him when he was as a homeless wanderer.

If, however, you brush the brows to form a narrow, arched line above each eye your appearance will be trigg and well groomed, and your expression vivacious, intellectual and pleasing.

To beautify the brows brush them every night, always drawing the brush in the direction in which the hair grows. The perfectly shaped brow resembles a swallow's wing.

The eyebrows should be short and thick without being coarse, and if you find that a tonic is required to improve your scraggy brows, massage them, rubbing in a few drops of oil of cajeput every day.

"Brushy" brows can be improved by applying the smallest quantity of grease and pressing the hairs down with the tips of the fingers.

The proper brush to use for the eyebrows is shaped somewhat like a toothbrush, but the bristles must be fine and soft.

Now brush the brows smoothly to sweep down in a broad line, and you will look as solemn as a country deacon on Sunday morning.

If, however, you brush the brows to lengthwise movement will make lines while the rotary eradicates them.

Remove the cold cream with a soft towel and apply a fresh coating. Remove this also and give the skin a bath consisting of a wineglassful of rosewater to which 15 drops of peroxide have been added. Leave this on the face not longer than 15 minutes. I always remove this lotion with a second bath of plain rose-water or cold cream to alkyl the "sting" of the peroxide.

My skin is easily affected by sunburn and windburn, so I use this preventive when going outdoors. I first anoint my face with a lotion which contains:

Rosewater..... 8 ounces
Glycerine..... 1 ounce
Lemon Juice..... 2 table-spoonfuls

The Good-Night Story

THE THISTLEDOWN :: :: By Vernon Merry

N a far, far country there lived a King who had three sons, and as only one could inherit the throne he did not know which to choose, for they were all splendid men.

One day he took them into the garden and picking three pieces of thistle-down he commanded the boys to blow them into the air. "I want each of you to follow whither his piece of down leads and at the end of a year return and relate the adventures which have befallen you."

One piece of down went sailing to the north, another to the south, but the piece which the youngest son was to follow floated a short distance and then fell to the earth.

Laughing at the supposed misfortune of their brother the two elder sons went away.

Prince Carlus—for that was his name—sat down where the down had dropped, feeling very sad, when suddenly he saw a trapdoor which he lifted and found a flight of stairs leading down into the earth. He descended and came to a door. He knocked and a voice said "Enter." He did and saw sitting in the middle of the room a large white rabbit.

"You are very welcome, Prince Carlus," she said. "I have waited a long, long time for you. I know you are here. Do exactly as I say and at the end of the year you can return and receive the kingdom, for it will be yours."

First of all, take that sword hanging on the wall and cut off my head."

This the prince did not want to do, for he liked the rabbit, but she insisted, and he finally did as he was told.

No sooner had the head been severed than he saw before him a beautiful princess, whom he immediately loved.

Then she told him that she had been enchanted and showed him the wonders of her underground kingdom, and before many days they were married.

In these happy surroundings the year passed all too quickly.

When the day arrived for him to go home he went to the foot of the stairway and there found the princess and a large retinue of attendants, each bearing a casket of jewels or some other costly gift, awaiting to accompany him.

The old King saw the glittering procession and could hardly believe his eyes when he saw Carlus.

He thought his youngest son's adventure quite out of the ordinary and immediately named him as his successor, but the princess said: "He doesn't need your kingdom. Divide it between your other sons, for he has a larger kingdom underground."

Then they bade farewell to the King and the brothers and returned to their palace.

How Long Till the End of Efficiency?

Even virtue may become a vice, and it is well to remember that every virtue carried to excess becomes a corresponding vice. Strength in excess has its defects, and the strong man has to balance his defects with negative qualities.

It would not have been believed that the Germans, who had boasted for half a century of their Kultur, would have shown such savagery as the world stands against over in Belgium.

There is another phase of their system which may develop a peculiar result one of these days. It is their efficiency. We have heard about it till we are nearly sick of it.

The German army is like Oliver Wendell Holmes' "One Hoss Shay." It is equally efficient in every part. The officers have been trained to the last point in everything that makes for the transcendent military virtue.

We hear constantly the reports of the results of efficiency in every department of German government. All the food in the country is classified and cataloged and sold in the proper quantities at the proper prices.

Automatically efficiency runs its course and supplies whatever is lacking with whatever can be transferred. The process will go on as long as it is possible to continue it.

Canada's Main Transcontinental Depot is in Toronto

Some weeks ago The World drew public attention to the transcontinental service inaugurated by the Canadian Government in connection with the Grand Trunk, the Timiskaming & Northern Ontario (owned by the province) and the Transcontinental (owned by the Dominion), and all, more or less, a public ownership arrangement.

The people of Canada own 40 per cent. of the Canadian Northern and therefore this new service will be a second instance of transcontinental railroading, more or less, on behalf of the nation.

But the significant thing for the people of Toronto is that two great new transcontinental services are starting from this city and that one of them, the Canadian Northern, is very much of a Toronto enterprise.

A Big Problem.

The Wilson administration will find itself at the next session of congress up against a general demand for more effective military preparedness on the part of the United States.

There is a surplus of $4000 also, which is sufficient to testify to the success of the plan, for public ownership does not look for profits, but for paying all necessary charges, is meant to give service at cost.

It must be remembered that also the United States is utterly unable to wage an offensive war, and probably cannot defend herself against an invasion by a first-class power.

Those who opposed battleships in the past are to some extent vindicated because the navy as it stands today is helpless without submarines, torpedo destroyers, colliers and other auxiliary craft.

It is simple humbug to declare, as one of the paxist papers recently declared, that no nation will be attacked which has no standing army.

But for the army and navy of Britain, with which Canada is co-operating, of her own free will and choice, Miss Macmillan would now be a German Frau, or perhaps a Frau, and she had offered to oppose the German war lord in the middle of his war.

The present war may help the United States to some extent by teaching her to manufacture munitions of war in large quantities, and by the number of men who will ultimately return to that country after having served in the armies of the allies.

Electrification a Success at London

All the dismal prophecies made by The London Advertiser and other opponents of public ownership, when Sir Adam Beck was advocating the operation of the London and Port Stanley Railway by the municipality have been falsified by the results.

HAS HE ANY BIRTHDAY CONGRATULATIONS FOR WILHELM THIS YEAR?

$12,000 has been handed over to the city by the road as the first fruits of the electrification and municipalization, the amount covering the quarterly rent, interest and sinking fund.

There is a surplus of $4000 also, which is sufficient to testify to the success of the plan, for public ownership does not look for profits, but for paying all necessary charges, is meant to give service at cost.

Claims Wanderer President Should Lose His Franchise—Hockey News.

A Montreal despatch says: Kennedy of the Canadian Club has given his reply to the threat of President Lichtenhein of the Wanderers to move at the next National Hockey Association meeting to another club of the Canadian Pacific Coast League for Landon and a war between the two leagues being thereby avoided.

Kennedy claims that a despatch from Vancouver this morning announcing that Wanderer players will not be approached by the Pacific coast clubs indicates that Lichtenhein has "double-crossed" the N.H.A. and promises to move for the removal of the Wanderer franchise from Lichtenhein.

The National Hockey Association franchise if Kennedy is put out. If the Ottawa St. Patrick's Athletic Association organizes a team this year, they will not be short of players. Hubert Tschy will be the principal manager, will likely manage the team, which will be a former New York Wanderer player, and several other good ones are also available.

Claims Wanderer President Should Lose His Franchise—Hockey News.

A Montreal despatch says: Kennedy of the Canadian Club has given his reply to the threat of President Lichtenhein of the Wanderers to move at the next National Hockey Association meeting to another club of the Canadian Pacific Coast League for Landon and a war between the two leagues being thereby avoided.

Kennedy claims that a despatch from Vancouver this morning announcing that Wanderer players will not be approached by the Pacific coast clubs indicates that Lichtenhein has "double-crossed" the N.H.A. and promises to move for the removal of the Wanderer franchise from Lichtenhein.

The National Hockey Association franchise if Kennedy is put out. If the Ottawa St. Patrick's Athletic Association organizes a team this year, they will not be short of players. Hubert Tschy will be the principal manager, will likely manage the team, which will be a former New York Wanderer player, and several other good ones are also available.

Should Eddie Nagie decide not to play for the Wanderers this year, it is likely he will be sought after by several clubs. Eddie Nagie and Lally will be found with the Wanderers for the last few years.

It is now practically certain there will be no hockey at the Ottawa University this year. The Ottawa University "Red" Quinns are the only members of last year's team who are still at the college.

The rink on the campus, however, will be closed for the season, and it is likely that an inter-university league will be organized for the next year.

OTTAWA TO DECIDE IN FARMERS' FAVOR Evidence for Both Sides Submitted in Free Wheat Case. The western farmers have been heard and the millers have been heard. It is not an issue of national policy but an issue of the rights of classes. The farmers want to sell in the States because there is a wider and readier market there and the prices are higher. No one can deny these claims. The figures and the facts establish them. The railways say "We want to carry your wheat, and we pay you less for the grain." That's the issue between the two parties. The members of the west, many of them Conservatives, and the western millers, say that the government is not justified in handicapping the farmers who grow the grain to aid those who seek extra profit in handling it. And they say further that if Canada is to be built up by trade between provinces, if the east is to sell to the west, there must be freedom of exportation in primary products; and that in our desire to settle the west and attract thousands more of settlers from the States we must restrict the farmer in marketing his products. On a teeming and happy west rests the future of the nation. The farmers, her merchants, her financial institutions, and for that matter, our railways, our millers, our citizens generally. And in this year of wide war, where our abounding wheat crop of the new wheat, white dust up from it are not ships sufficient to carry it across, and in a few weeks it may be up against a world market suddenly glutted by other countries that are unable to get out their crop. When it comes down to this supreme issue the government must decide with the farmers who are the primary factor in wheat production. The other interests are secondary.

FIRST CASH DEMAND FROM ALLIED LOAN

Fifteen Per Cent. of Proceeds to Be Collected in Fortnight. MONEY WILL BE USED Funds Will Be Deposited in New York Bank for Disbursements.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The first call for funds from the Anglo-French $500,000,000 credit loan was made today by Basil E. Blackett, secretary of the Anglo-French Commission and Octave Homberg, one of the French members who remained in this country to adjust matters in connection with the loan. Lord Reading, chairman of the commission, and the two other British members, sailed Oct. 16 and have reached Great Britain. The call requests banks throughout the country where the funds have been deposited to remit by Nov. 15, fifteen per cent. of the proceeds to the National City Bank here, the institution designated as the depository of the proceeds as called for. Letters to this effect went out today, bearing the signatures of Messrs. Blackett and Homberg, and others will go forward to other banks tomorrow and Saturday. It is expected that the call will place at the disposal of the British and French Governments between $60,000,000 and $70,000,000—fifteen per cent. of the amount paid in—by Nov. 15. This will be placed in the National City Bank to the credit of "The British and French Government Central Joint Account." The sum will be checked out by Blackett and Homberg as needed and when exhausted another call will be resubmitted by Nov. 15. About $300,000,000 of the $500,000,000 bond issue, it was authoritatively stated, has been withdrawn from public subscription by the banks and financial houses, who are members of the underwriting syndicate. This amount will be resubmitted by the government, leaving available for public purchase $200,000,000 of the issue. It was said today that this was fast being taken.

RUSSIA SEEKS LOAN IN UNITED STATES Agents of Czar Want to Borrow Sixty Million Dollars.

DEFINITE ANNOUNCEMENT OF RESULTS OF NEGOTIATIONS EXPECTED SOON.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Agents of the Russian Government, it was reliably reported here today, are seeking to establish a credit loan in this country, somewhat similar to the recent $500,000,000 Anglo-French credit loan—the no-bond issue is contemplated—of from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000 and more, if it can be obtained. Details of the proposed loan were lacking, but in one quarter it was reported that the Russian Government was willing to pay as high as 9 per cent. interest for a loan of this size. This report added that the loan probably would be for eighteen months and would be in the neighborhood of $60,000,000. It is said that negotiations looking toward the establishment of the loan have been under way for some little time past and that a definite announcement might be forthcoming soon. This, however, could not be confirmed.

The sum to be sought by Russia would be spent entirely in this country in the payment of supplies sent to Russia by American exporters.

BRITISH PRIZE COURTS' DECISIONS NOT FINAL Sir Edward Grey Says United States Can Appeal to International Tribunal.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The foreign secretary, Sir Edward Grey, said in the house of commons today that the American Government had the right to demand the submission to an international tribunal of verdicts of the British prize courts.

Sir Edward made this admission on being pressed as to the power given to the American Government in this regard in the British note of July 31 last.

"If a dispute arose with the United States," he said, "after all legal remedies had been exhausted, I think undoubtedly we would refer it to arbitration."

The secretary added that this was the usual procedure adopted by the British Government "when ordinary negotiations have failed, and it is preferred to settlement by war."

Bethlehem Steel Figured Among Losses, But Regained Old Position.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Foreign affairs asserted some of the former prominence today, that of the French Embassy being attended by French peace rumors and consequent sales declines in many of the so-called war stocks.

Refusal of the British Government to extend the time for submitting proofs of American purchases of German goods offered another phase of the complicated conditions across the water.

There was a succession of "dips" or declines after the irregular opening, each being succeeded by feeble rallies.

In the final hour there came a broad and sweeping demand for various railroad shares and coppers, which helped materially to lift specialties from their minimums.

Prices led the late rise, the common advancing almost four points to 43 1/4, its highest price of recent years.

Among the extremes losses of the day were Studebaker 21 1/2 to 15 1/2, Bethlehem Steel preferred 12 to 16 1/2, Baldwin Locomotive 8 1/4 to 12 1/2.

TRADERS NERVOUS OVER WALL STREET OUTLOOK

Toronto Stock Exchange Dealings Are Prejudiced by the Action of New York Market.

The Toronto market was under the spell of Wall Street yesterday. Traders were nervous as to the extent the break in the New York market might assume and took the short side of local speculative issues in the meantime.

OTTAWA CLEARINGS.

OTTAWA, Oct. 28.—Bank clearings for the week ended today, $3,796,609, as compared with $3,787,538 for the like week last year.

LONDON SILVER MARKET.

Foley and Abell, London, in their circular of Oct. 13 say that little silver continues to improve, the present level of 24 being 1/4 higher on the week.

Purchases for coinage are still largely in evidence, and, although freer supplies from America are coming to hand, these additions have been quite easily disposed of.

India, with its large stock of silver, amounting in Bombay to some 7200 bars, largely supplied by China, still reflects this market. China also is very quiet, but her exchanges follow any improvement in our market.

The near future remains dependent on further outside orders, but the undertone is good. We believe that more confidence is being built up, and that, in consequence, the market is likely to improve, as reports are pending the minting of fresh silver coin.

WHEAT HAS RALLY ON EXPORT CALL

Close Firm at Advance of Three-Eighths to Three-Quarters Cent.

CANADIAN PREFERRED

Buying for European Account Almost Exclusively Confined to Dominion's Crop.

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Something of a revival of export business in domestic winter grades carried the wheat market upward today after an early decline.

The close was firm, 3-8c to 3-4c net higher, with December at $1.00 1/4 and May at $1.02 1/4. Corn finished 1-4c to 3/4c up, but only on a change to 1-4c higher and provisions up 7 1/2 to 15c.

Buying of winter wheat today on account had a decided bullish effect, as the European demand of late has been exclusively for the spring crop and almost altogether confined to shipments from Canada.

It was specifically admitted that 100,000 bushels of No. 2 hard was taken at Omaha today for ocean transfer by way of the Gulf of Mexico. During the first half of the session the market here was for the most part under bearish control.

QUICK RECOVERY MADE BY MINING STOCKS

Advance in Silver Price Stimulates Purchase of Some of the Cobalt Stocks.

An advance in the price of silver yesterday was helpful to some extent in the recovery of the price of mining shares. Crown Reserve, in the Cobalts, made the readiest response to the silver quotation in a rise to 45.

Orders for the group on Wednesday's decline came in quite freely and Vipond made a four point rally in quick order. Big Dome was under the effect of a weak New York market for a time, but the pressure, due to short selling, failed to break the support and the price held steady after an early dip.

Timiskaming made a sharp recovery and closed at 4 1/2. Further news leaked down from Cobalt yesterday in regard to recent finds of ore bodies at the mine, and this encouraged some new purchases. McIntyre was strong throughout the day, as was McIntyre Extension, for which a firm bid stands at 28.

Molson's meeting today to confirm the purchase of the Jupiter property. Foley O'Brien sold as high as 48 and the statement is made that 80 has been offered for the control of this company. Yesterday's market recovery was a clear demonstration that declines in ready purchasers and brokers' books are still full of unexecuted orders because buying limits were placed too low. The market at the close had a good undertone.

PURCHASING HEAVY IN DOMINION BRIDGE

Prices Rose Rapidly at Montreal With Net Gain of Nine Points.

MONTREAL, Oct. 28.—Buying of Dominion Bridge in the afternoon was the feature of today's market. The price movement during the morning was narrow, 207 to 207 1/4. Buying orders in the afternoon came on a market bare of stock and the price rose rapidly to 216, closing at the best with a net gain of nine points and an advance of 6 1/4 over the previous high record level.

The advance was accompanied by a report that the company had secured additional financing in London. The fact that the stock goes ex-dividend and ex-bonus 1 per cent. tomorrow was also of influence.

The market opened heavy as a result of reaction in New York. Canadian Car was the weakest feature, closing at one time at 105 1/4 and closing at 106 against last sale at 109 the previous day. General Electric fell abruptly to 117 3/4, but rallied at 121 1/4 and closed with a loss of but 1 1/4.

Steel of Canada at 85 1/8 was fractionally down at the close, but movement was up 1/2 to 3/4 and Locomotive held firm at 54.
