The images appearing here are the best quality possible considering the condition and legibility of the original copy and in keeping with the filming contract specifications.

Original copies in printed paper covers are filmed beginning with the front cover and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression, or the back cover when appropriate. All other original copies are filmed beginning on the first page with a printed or illustrated impression, and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression.

The last recorded frame on each microfiche shall contain the symbol \rightarrow (meaning "CONTINUED"), or the symbol ∇ (meaning "END"), whichever applies.

Maps, plates, charts, etc., may be filmed at different reduction ratios. Those too large to be entirely included in one exposure are filmed beginning in the upper left hand corner, left to right and top to bottom, as many frames as required. The following diagrams illustrate the method:

Les images suivantes ont été reproduites avec le plus grand soin, compte tenu de la condition et de la netteté de l'exemplaire filmé, et en conformité avec les conditions du contrat de filmage.

Les exemplaires originaux dont la couverture en papier est imprimée sont filmés en commençant par le premier plat et en terminant soit par la dernière page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration, soit par le second plat, selon le cas. Tous les autres exemplaires originaux sont filmés en commençant par la première page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration et en terminant par la dernière page qui comporte une telle empreinte.

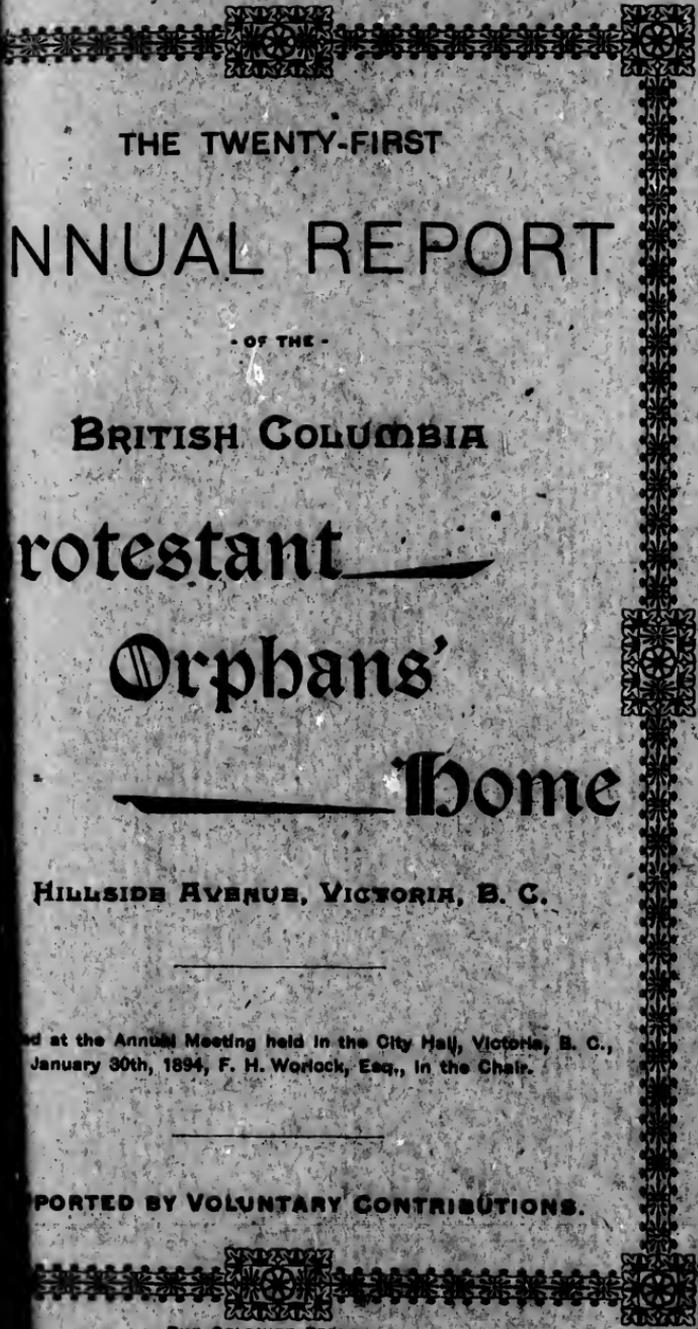

Un des symboles suivants apparaîtra sur la dernière image de chaque microfiche, selon le cas: le symbole \rightarrow signifie "A SUIVRE", le symbole ∇ signifie "FIN".

Les cartes, planches, tableaux, etc., peuvent être filmés à des taux de réduction différents. Lorsque le document est trop grand pour être reproduit en un seul cliché, il est filmé à partir de l'angle supérieur gauche, de gauche à droite, et de haut en bas, en prenant le nombre d'images nécessaire. THE TWENTY-FIRST

- OF THE -

BRITISH COLUMBIA
Protestant Orphans' Home

HILLSIDE AVENUE, VICTORIA, B. C.

Read at the Annual Meeting held in the City Hall, Victoria, B. C., January 30th, 1894, F. H. Worlock, Esq., in the Chair.

REPORTED BY VOLUNTARY CONTRIBUTIONS.

THE COLONIST PRESS.

ANNUAL REPORT

FOR 1893.

PRESENTED AT THE ANNUAL MEETING, JAN. 30th, 1894.

IN submitting the Twenty-first Annual Report of the British Columbia Protestant Orphans' Home to our subscribers, we have again to acknowledge the continued liberal support of our many friends to our institution.

The past year has been a memorable one to all connected with our Home, seeing that it has witnessed the erection and completion of our new building at Hillside, a handsome and substantial structure, which we hope will prove a true, real and happy home for the orphan and destitute children of our Province, for very many years to come.

Our friends will remember that we were enabled to carry out this desirable object through the benevolence of the late John George Taylor, who bequeathed his estate, amounting to $30,358.00, to our institution, and by the will of God, it came to us just at a time when our accommodation was so limited that we were unable to see our way to provide for the increased number of children requiring our care. The late J. G. Taylor will always be regarded as the greatest benefactor to our institution, and his memory will be revered for all time by those connected with our Home.

The corner stone of our new building was laid by the Grand Lodge of A. F. & A. Masons of the Province, on the 24th of June, and the Home was formally dedicated by the Right Rev. Bishop Cridge, opened and occupied on the 18th November last ; the great interest of the public was shewn by the very large attendance on both these occasions.

Your Committee confidently expect that the increasing interest of the public, will lead to a constantly increasing number of subscribers, to meet the expenses necessary for the carrying out of our work ; your Committee feel that the time will never come when they will ask in vain for funds necessary to carry on a home for those little ones whom it has pleased the Almighty to deprive of their natural protectors.

The Committee are still fortunate in having the services of Mrs. Walker, as Matron, the management of the Home by this lady being excellent.

The Ladies' Committee have had a great deal of extra work during the past year, and our hearty thanks are due to them for their unwearied exertions.

The thanks of your Committee are due to Dr. G. L. Milne, for his professional services when required, which are always given most readily, and as heretofore, gratuitously ; we are glad to report that the children are all enjoying good health. Our thanks are also due to Dr. T. J. Jones, for his kind and gratuitous services.

Many kind friends have contributed clothing, provisions, fruit, vegetables, etc., for which, in addition to the cash subscriptions acknowledged elsewhere, your committee return their grateful thanks.

Full particulars of Receipts and Expenditures will be found in the Treasurer's Report appended; our Secretary's Report is also full of interesting matter. In conclusion, the Committee desire to render thanks to God for the great prosperity He has been pleased to grant to the institution, and hope that every effort made for the care of the orphan and destitute children under our charge may receive His blessing.

FRED'K H. WORLOCK,
President.

The closing year has been an eventful one, but without doubt, the most encouraging during the whole period of the institution's existence. It has seen the commencement, completion, and occupancy of our New Home, built on a magnificent site, designed primarily for a hundred children, but capable of accommodating nearly double that number, and involving the expenditure of over $38,000; and this has been done without incurring any serious liability, or impairing in any way the usefulness of the Home. Happily the additional labors and responsibilities of all the officers during the past year, have been made as light as possible, by the consideration shown to them, and by the harmony prevailing amongst various committees.

Five applications for admission have been recently approved by the Reception Committee, and these children will doubtless take their places in the Home in a few days. A large and increasing number of applications are being received, many of whom are recent residents of the adjoining state, and not a few of the children have both parents living. These last are admitted only in rare cases) as pay inmates, but the difficulties heretofore existing in collecting the amounts due, have necessitated the greatest caution in considering the cases of applicants. In some instances outside relief has been granted in preference to taking the chance of permanently burdening the subscribers, with what property belongs elsewhere.

The total number of children provided with a home during the year was 59.

Consisting of 24 girls and 22 boys.

An analysis of the Treasurer's statement shows gratifying state of things. The subscriptions, etc., the year (without reference to the Taylor legacy or interest from its temporary investment) is the largest in our history, amounting in round figures to $37,000. The expenditure for maintenance during the same period amounted to about $3,500. This makes the cost for each child for the year a trifle under $77 each. An economical result has been attained mainly by the exertions of the Ladies' Committee, who, assisted by a host of friends with needlework, clothing, provisions, etc., have thus been enabled to keep down the working expenses to so satisfactory a point. The total cost of the new site, buildings, etc., to the end of the financial year, amounts to $38,225.05. Some necessary repairs to buildings and fences, now in course of construction, the improvement of the grounds, and some additions of furniture, will cost probably about $800 or $900 more. To meet this expenditure it was found necessary to obtain a loan of $7,000, bearing interest at 7 per cent., but as against this we have the old property on Rae street, consisting of three full lots and a substantial building now rented at $40 per month. erty is deemed by competent judges to be more sufficient to pay off all our indebtedness, as soon as opportune time arrives for its sale. It may there-be fairly stated, that the new building is completed, fully equipped for its noble work, without any inbrance whatever, and it is not too much to me, that the generous public of the Province may, heretofore, be safely relied upon, to provide the comparatively small amount necessary for its yearly maintenance.

Appended hereto will be found the names of the subscribers (e. & o. e.) as appears in the Treasurer's book for the years 1892 and 1893, a list of the donors of various contributions to the Home as noted by the Treasurer in her monthly reports for 1893, the names of the Children now in the Home and some other items of interest.

In conclusion permit me to congratulate the members on the splendid condition of affairs as shown by the reports, and also on the judicious realization of the Taylor estate, thereby enabling your Committee to perpetuate his memory by providing a Home, which day by day, is now contributing something to the sum total of human happiness. I have also to express the hope, that the Committee of Management to be elected to-night will have as prosperous and as happy a year's work, as has been our privilege to enjoy.

CHAS. HAYWARD,
 Honorary Secretary.

HISTORY OF THE HOME.

At the laying of the foundation stone in June last, the Right Rev. Bishop Cridge, at the request of your committee, prepared a brief history of the rise and progress of this institution, which, with other things, were placed in the cavity of the corner stone. Now, as none of us desire or expect to see the original document again, it may be interesting to preserve a copy in this place. The Bishop wrote :

"By the fraternal hands of the Masonic body, ever renowned for kind and charitable deeds, we, the managers and members of the 'Protestant Orphan's Home,' giving all glory to God, lay to-day the foundation stone of a noble edifice for a noble cause. Should this history, which, with other memorials, is deposited therein, come to light in a future time, we reach forth to our brethren of that time, testifying to the divine goodness which has helped us thus far.

"It was a day of small things when the need of such an institution pressed itself on the Protestants of Victoria; yet this very straitness, by urging them to unite, has proved a blessing in disguise rather than a disadvantage.

“Although our Catholic brethren were first in the field in a public way, with ever open doors for destitute children, it was none the less our duty to relieve them of a charge which justly devolved upon ourselves.

“It was in the summer of 1873, just twenty years ago, that the then senior ministers of the Protestant body in Victoria—the Rev. Wm. Pollard, Methodist; the Rev. S. Macgregor, Presbyterian; and the Rev. Dean Cridge, Episcopal—had their attention drawn to this need, a need which they were the better prepared to deal with through their having been accustomed to hold weakly conferences on subjects of common interest. Standing together one day at the parsonage gate in Humboldt street, the question arose in this form :

“Seeing that neither of our bodies is strong enough in itself to found the Home, could it be done if we were to unite? A pause ensued, and then Mr. Macgregor said in his quiet way, ‘I think it might be done.’ All agreeing, they called together three lay members of each church with the result that a provisional committee of twelve was formed, who forthwith proceeded to frame a constitution. If any difficulties had been apprehended on the religious element, none such appeared. A ladies’ committee of twelve, four from each church, was also formed, and the scheme, given to the public, met with immediate approval and support. Victoria, God bless her, ever famous for her prompt and ready help to the needy and distressed, did not fail in this. Annual subscriptions, collections by maidens, gifts in kind, larger donations from divers public bodies, ever kept the treasury supplied. Help came from other parts of the Province. It were too long to tell of kind physicians and others who have rendered their services freely, or of those who have made the orphans partakers in many a scene of innocent pleasure.

“As to the operations of the society, its beginnings were unpretentious. The children, including those who had been previously maintained by private subscriptions, were lodged in private houses. We then rented, and soon purchased, the property in Rae street, the mortgage on which being speedily cleared off, the old building was taken down, and the present Home erected in its stead. Each succeeding year found us more prosperous, until the bequest of the late John G. Taylor, ever a tender friend of the orphans, enabled us to aspire to a building and grounds more suited to our advanced condition.

“The religious constitution of the Home requires more than a passing notice.

“As to its government, the representation is by churches and not by congregations; and its fundamental principle is ministerial equality, the founders following in this, as we believe, the law of our Lord, who said: ‘One is your Master, even Christ, and all ye are brethren.’

“By this means a close and tender relation obtains between the Home and the Household of Faith, whose ministers, in turn, are the pastors and teachers of the little flock. The Christian women of the churches, imbued with one spirit of love to the little ones, wisely and patiently minister to their needs, and the matrons, especially the beloved sister now in charge, are their true mothers.

“There is one event, of quite recent occurrence, which, as it is altogether unprecedented in our history, ought not to be omitted.

“The presence of the Right Reverend Bishop Perin, the latest bishop in the Anglican Communion in this Province, appearing on the same platform and for the same cause, with the pioneer of Methodism at a time when our country was not yet called British Columbia, namely, the Reverend E. Robson, is a sign of a liberal spirit on his part, which, from his previous reputation, we were not unprepared to witness; but his uniting also with the Masonic body, of which he is so distinguished a member, and in which he is exercising so impressive a function—in bestowing a benediction on this Protestant Home—may we hope be regarded as a step to that unity which its founders sought, and not unsuccessfully, to attain in adopting as their guide the Sixth Article of the Church of England.

“We conclude with the earnest hope and prayer that within the walls which are now rising, hymns of praise from children’s tongues may resound through all remaining time to the glory of their kind and gentle Shepherd, Jesus Christ, our Lord.”

FORMAL OPENING OF THE NEW HOME.

The following extract from a local newspaper giving a brief report of the formal opening of the New Home on November 18th, 1893, may be interesting reading to our friends:

“Kind wishes and good deeds, they make not poor,
They'll home again full laden to thy door.”

A more perfect day than yesterday could not well have marked the occasion of the formal opening of the new and handsome Protestant Orphans' Home, and consequently the event was largely attended, both by those in active sympathy with the objects of the institution and the general public. The members of the executive, ladies and gentlemen, had made every preparation for the reception and entertainment of the visitors, with the result that friends of the Home went away thoroughly pleased, and the lady or gentleman who had come to see what the place is like, was pleasantly surprised with what there is to see.

The formal proceedings of dedication commenced about 2:30 o'clock, there being present on the platform of the large hall or convocation room, the President, Mr. F. H. Worlock, Rt. Rev. Bishop Cridge, Hon. Robert Beaven, M.P.P., Mayor of Victoria; Mr. Thos. Earle, M.P.; Mr. Chas. Hayward, Mr. James Hutcheson, Rev. Dr. Campbell, Revs. W. D. Barber, E. Robson and G. W. Taylor.

In a few happy phrases Mr. Worlock welcomed the large gathering, and referred to the success which had crowned the efforts of the committee of the Home, whose work, however, on entering the handsome structure was not yet ended. There remained still a great deal to be done, a number of wants to be supplied, but in this as in other things, he felt that those who had helped the Home in the past would continue to aid it.

Right Rev. Bishop Cridge also spoke briefly, referring to the fact that he was probably the oldest of the first movers in the organization of the Home; and of the pleasure it gave him to see it reach such proportions. He was always glad to see the children, and always took a deep interest in them, but was doubly pleased to welcome them and their friends into this new Home.

The Venerable Bishop then invoked the blessing of God upon the Home and its inmates:

"O God, the Father of lights," the prayer ascended, "we bless Thee that Thou hast been graciously pleased to fulfill the desires of Thy humble servants in bringing these orphan and destitute children to the House which through Thy mercy has been built for their reception, that they may be trained for usefulness in the present life and for immortal glory in that which is to come.

"We now therefore, O our God, dedicate this Protestant Orphans' Home to Thee for Thy honor and glory, depending only on Thy watchful care for the fulfilment of our avowed purpose that in their religious education the children may be taught Thy pure word alone, and so through Thy grace be enabled to enter through the door of faith into the spiritual Kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

"Which things if Thou wilt be graciously pleased to grant, to Thee, O God, Father, Son and Holy Ghost, be all the praise both now and for evermore. Amen."

The children, who had opened the proceedings with a sweetly sung hymn, then sang the Doxology, and the formal part of the dedication was brought to a close, the visitors next proceeding through and inspecting the building. There was nothing but praise to bestow on the various details of the Home, everything being perfection itself in the matter of cleanliness, neatness and light. In the various class rooms a neat and expert hand had inscribed welcoming words and appropriate quotations, arranged by Miss Agnes Dean Cameron, and in the largest of these rooms the ladies' committee had tables laid temptingly, laden with numerous delicacies, which were generally discussed by the visitors and pronounced, with everything else in the structure, simply perfect.

In and about the building much remains to be done in the way of new furniture, fencing, laying out the grounds and other matters, for which the management confidently relies on the support of the friends who have in the past never failed to respond to an appeal for assistance. The home at present sustains about fifty orphans who are destitute, and there are additions constantly being made to the number. These children are not merely housed and fed, but are given a good practical education to fit them for competition with the world in earning their living after they leave the sheltering care of the Home.

7. The Committee shall also, at their first meeting after election, appoint a committee of ladies composed of an equal number from each denomination to superintend the internal management of the Institution. Such committee of ladies shall appoint their officers and make regulations equitably according to the spirit of this Constitution and the basis on which the Association is formed.

8. The religious training of these orphans shall be conducted according to the doctrines and tenets held by the orthodox Protestant Churches. In this Constitution those Churches are esteemed orthodox which held as the foundation of their faith the sufficiency and authority of the Holy Scriptures for salvation—Holy Scriptures being the commonly received books of the Old and New Testaments,—so that, whatsoever is not read therein or may not be proved thereby, is not to be required of any that it should be believed as an article of the Christian faith or be thought requisite or necessary to salvation (Art. 6, Ch. of Eng.); and which also hold the Articles of the Apostles' Creed as truths of our common redemption, on the ground that they may be proved by most certain warrants of Holy Scripture. All therefore, who hold any office or authority as over the orphans shall be and continue to be Protestants of good character and sound in the faith. A form of prayers prepared for the purpose, together with portions of the Old and New Testament Scriptures, shall be read morning and evening daily.

In the case of any such denomination having regular services in more than one church in Victoria, the quarter's attendance pertaining to that denomination may be equally divided among its several churches. Attendances at these services and at any other times shall be in the discretion of the General Committee, as shall also other questions or exceptional cases that may from time to time arise.

10. One Minister of each Protestant denomination as aforesaid, in quarterly rotation, shall be the Minister or Chaplain of the orphans, with pastoral authority over them for that time as over a portion of his own flock, providing he does not in the exercise of such authority violate any Rule of this Constitution.

11. No alteration shall be made in this Constitution except by a vote of a majority of the whole Committee confirmed by a majority of the subscribers present at a general meeting, of which thirty days' notice shall be given. Such notice to intimate the changes recommended for the consideration of the meeting.

12. It shall be lawful for the Committee from time to time to make, vary and alter by-laws for the government of the Institution, and for all matters and things relating to the conduct and management of its affairs, provided that the same be not inconsistent with the foregoing Constitution, and that notice of any proposed alteration be given at a meeting of the Committee at least five days previously to such alteration being made.

5. It shall be the duty of the Treasurer to receive all money collected by the Secretary, giving a receipt for same, keeping a just and true account of all financial transactions of the Society, and deposit the funds in some bank that the Committee may select, and pay the same out by order of the Committee, on drafts made by necessary) to children who have lost both parents, and have resided longest in British Columbia. In very urgent cases the Officers may admit to the Home subject to the approval of the General Committee at the first meeting thereafter ; but no child shall under any circumstances be admitted to the privileges of the Home until examined by a regular medical practitioner and an order obtained from the Secretary or one of the Officers.

9. These By-Laws may be altered or amended by a majority vote of those present at any meeting of the Committee, provided that written notice of such amendment or alteration has been given at a meeting held not less than five days previously.
