TWENTY-FIRST YEAR

IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT OPENS ITS SESSION

Government is Confident of Victory in South Africa—Many Tributes to the Loyalty of the Colonies.

There Was No Excitement in London—Will Be No Opposition to Voting All the Supplies Needed—Speeches by Premier Salisbury and Lord Rosebery in the Lords.

London, Jan. 30.—The preparations for the reassembling of Parliament commenced in chilly, cheerless weather. The members began to arrive at an unusually early hour.

No Public Excitement. There was a conspicuous absence of public excitement in connection with the reassembling of Parliament. A small knot of people witnessed the arrival and departure of the Yeomen of the Guard.

Beefeaters on Deck. About 100 acacia hedges were by 10 o'clock, when the Yeomen of the Guard arrived from the Tower, and with lighted lanterns carried out the usual search of the subterranean chambers and passages.

To Meet a Grave Crisis. There was nothing in the conversation of the early arrivals to suggest anything in the nature of a panic and there was little to indicate any keen desire to embrace the Government.

A Curious Feature. Among the curious features of the situation, the House of Commons was to be treated to the singular spectacle of Lord Edmund Fitzmaurice (Liberal member for the Crickland, or Northern Division of Wiltshire) moving a vote in connection with his brother, the Marquis of Lansdowne, Secretary of State for War.

The seventh session of the fourteenth Parliament of Queen Victoria opened at 2 p.m. after the attendance of members.

Queen's Speech Read. The Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod, General Sir M. S. Biddulph, summoned the Commons to the House of Lords at 2:05 p.m., where the Lord High Chancellor, Earl Halsbury, read the Queen's speech, as follows:

My Lords and Gentlemen: The peace which has recently been broken in South Africa when last I addressed you has, with my sincere regret, not otherwise my relations with our colonies are friendly.

Peers at Elections. Mr. James Lovell made his annual motion relative to the interference of Peers at elections. It was rejected by a vote of 20 to 10.

The Address in Reply. Subsequently, Ernest A. Fryman, Conservative member for the Woodbridge division of Suffolk, moved the address in reply to the speech.

Samoa Treaty. A treaty has been concluded with the German Emperor for the adjustment of the rights claimed by the two countries in Samoa, Tonga and other islands in the Pacific.

Australian Federation. A bill will be introduced at an early date to give effect to the scheme of federation which has been adopted after most careful consideration by five of our Australian colonies.

Liberal Leader's Reply. The Liberal leader in the House of Commons, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, then rose to reply, and after a long and able position he concluded, Sir Henry commenting on the Queen's speech, said he had seldom known so little to be said in such a large measure.

PINK PILLS FOR PALE POLITICIANS. This wonderful remedy is offered the public with a full confidence that there is no disease arising from a Watery or Impoverished Condition of the Blood or Shattered Nervous Forces, which it will not cure if the directions are carefully followed, and the treatment persisted in. It cures all diseases arising from cold feet, etc. Locomotor Ataxia is cured by these pills.

So reads Fulford's paper round his wooden bottle of pink pills. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Honorable Clifford Sifton, Sir Louis Davies, The Globe newspaper, are all evidently very pale, have watery or impoverished condition of the blood, and shattered nervous forces; hence the big dose taken by the Government in making a Senator out of Mr. Fulford, the millionaire maker of the aforesaid pink pills for pale people. And speaking of Fulford, why were a dozen odd and staunch servants of the Liberal party passed over to reward the Brockville Quack?

RADAM'S MICROBE KILLER is the latest remedy, for all diseases. It destroys the Microbe in the system, kills spores, Eczema, FEVERS, Indigestion, High Blood Pressure, Consumption, Liver and Kidney Trouble, etc. Agent for Toronto, 55 Adelaide Street East. The Radam Microbe Killer Co., London, Ont.

GEN. BULLER'S TROOPS Told His Troops That Their Work Has Been of Avail—He Hoped to Be Within a Week!

London, Jan. 31.—(4 a.m.)—It is now known that the Cabinet devoted much of the discussion Saturday to the mobilization of the fleet. Nothing was settled except that, until further security to the home coasts has been obtained by naval preparations, the eighth division shall not be sent to South Africa.

On Monday the Admiralty issued orders that the channel Squadron, instead of leaving Portland this week for Gibraltar, as previously directed, shall assemble on Feb. 5 at Edmondsay and proceed to Bantley for a fortnight's exercises off the Irish coast, thus keeping in home waters for a time.

This decision to delay the eighth division at a time when reinforcements are so urgently required may only mean that transports are not yet available, and that the division will embark when the shipping is ready.

A Show of Power to Europe. The mobilization of reserve warships, if such a course shall be determined upon, would be of the utmost importance. There is nothing in the intelligence possessed by the public to cause the Cabinet's prolonged discussion of this matter, and the inference is that the fleet may be mobilized as a general warning to other countries.

The War Estimates. Gentlemen of the House of Commons: The estimates for the public service of the year will be laid before you. The provision for military expenditure must be largely increased on account of the change in military operations in South Africa. The experience of a great war has afforded lessons of the utmost importance to the military administration of the country.

47 Militia Battalions. There is talk of 47 militia battalions being embodied. A sharp lookout is being kept for volunteers for the various South African regiments.

GREENWAY PROPOSES TO STAY ACTIVE POLITICS

Was Offered a Seat in the Senate, But He Sees a Chance Ahead of Getting Even.

Winnipeg, Jan. 30.—(Special.)—Premier Macdonald and Hon. D. H. McFadden, Ministers of the new Government, were elected to-day by acclamation.

Robert Watson, ex-Minister of Public Works, has accepted a senatorship. Greenway Declines to Be Selected.

Ex-Premier Greenway was interviewed by a Free Press reporter regarding the report that he had been offered an appointment as one of Manitoba's Senators.

"No, after so many years of active politics I think there is a better field for me than ever in Manitoba politics, and I do not propose that the system of falsehood and slander that has been adopted by the Conservatives since the defeat of my Government shall go unchallenged at the proper time and in the proper place.

Southwestern R. R. Bonds. "Instance the new Premier giving an interview to his paper, saying that he is unable to find bonds covering that portion of the Southwestern Railway to be built through Minnesota."

Labour Candidate Gains on Re-count. The account in Winnipeg by-election is proceeding; 50 out of 85 boxes were opened to-day, and all rejected ballots were placed to one side for argument at the close to-morrow.

Mr. Sifton's Offer. The Free Press, has been showing a great deal of editorial space to devote that ballots marked outside the die should be counted.

James Brown, a Section Hand, Crushed to Death Last Night by a Shunting Engine.

Sectionhand James Brown of the Grand Trunk Railway lost his life last evening while working in the yard at the foot of Bathurst-street.

James Brown, the was man a few feet from the engine and four cars passed over his body, making it in a terrible manner, and making it almost unrecognizable, even by his fellow employees who were most intimate with him.

Michael Scallion, who lives at 271 Parley-avenue, the engineer in charge of the shunting engine, noticed Brown when the front of the engine was within a few feet of him.

He applied the air brakes and did everything possible to stop the engine, but Brown was struck and dragged under the wheels of the engine before he could bring it to a standstill.

KNIPPING THE PACIFIC CABLE. We reproduce this morning an article from The London Mail, which is a reprint from The Mail that the Government of New South Wales has made certain concessions to the Eastern Telegraph Company, in violation of which the latter will better its position as a competitor of the Imperial Pacific Cable. We are informed by the Mail that the Government of New South Wales has made certain concessions to the Eastern Telegraph Company, in violation of which the latter will better its position as a competitor of the Imperial Pacific Cable.

THE CITY CLERKSHIP. The appointment of ex-Mayor Shaw to the City Clerkship must not for a moment be entertained. The ex-Mayor did not shine when serving the city as its Chief Magistrate. It is generally conceded that Toronto never had a more indolent and worthless administration than that of John Shaw. He got into the office by a nefarious deal, and his reign was signalized by insouciance and inefficiency.

MARKSMANSHIP ALL-ESSENTIAL. The Government spends $10,000 a year in training volunteers for the Ottawa and Bismley rifle competitions. During the past twenty years $200,000 has been expended in this way. A correspondent writing to The World wishes to know how many of those who have gone to Bismley or taken prizes at Ottawa have volunteered or are ready to volunteer for service in South Africa.

THE TORONTO RAILWAY COMPANY. The Toronto Railway Company does not take kindly to the idea of the city's establishing parallel routes to relieve the congestion of traffic. The power possessed by the city to construct such routes is its most powerful weapon to compel the company to live up to its agreement.

THE CABLE MUST BE PAID

British Empire League Will Stand no Nonsense From the Colonial Office Over This Matter.

PROMPT ACTION MUST BE TAKEN

To Hold Off the Concessions to the Eastern Extension Company in Australia.

The British Empire League held a well-attended meeting last night in St. George's Hall. Sir Sandford Fleming read a paper upon the Pacific Cable. This was prefaced by a few remarks from Dr. Parkin, who said that at present world-wide telegraphic connection was made from Britain only by lines passing thru foreign countries. What was wanted was an absolutely independent service connecting all the colonies of the Empire with Great Britain. The great obstacle to this was the Eastern Extension Company, that held a monopoly of the present lines. But if this monopoly was broken, the cost of a message would drop at least one-half.

Resolution.

Sir Sandford Fleming, on rising, was greeted with applause; as an introduction to his remarks, he read this resolution: Whereas the Pacific cable has been recognized by Parliament to be an undertaking of peculiar importance to Canada, to the American colonies, and to the Empire, serious urgency in its establishment have heretofore been caused by the Eastern Extension Company, which has now engaged in a supreme effort to get the project the most important public interests to private gain. In consequence of these efforts and in order to prevent the sanction of the interests of the colonies and the Empire once be made to the Eastern Extension Company, and the government concerned, in the strongest terms:

First, that it is of vital importance to take prompt action in causing the Pacific cable to be proceeded with as a state undertaking and completed with the least possible delay.

Second, that the home government, the government of New South Wales and other governments be earnestly asked not to assent to any concession creating concessions to the Eastern Extension Company, which does not contain a clause reserving power to cancel such agreement in the event of the exigencies of the public services demanding it.

Third, that the time has come when ultimate state proprietorship of all cables between British possessions should be kept prominently in view, and that therefore, in all agreements giving permission to lay new cables of private capital, a condition be attached, empowering the Imperial Government to assume ownership in explicit terms.

Delays Since 1889.
The speaker enumerated the difficulties under which the Pacific cable scheme had labored, and gave an outline of the delays since 1889. Not a year ago, in July last, the colonies had appointed their representatives to a commission to look into the scheme, and everything was progressing favorably. But within the past few weeks despatch had said that New South Wales was about to grant certain concessions to the Eastern Extension Company. This looked as if the hands of the monopoly were about to throttle the Pacific cable scheme.

The monopoly has offered to win New South Wales by making a cable from Australia to Durban, to reduce the charges, to ask no guarantee, but merely to be given the sole right to distribute telegrams in Australia.

State Ownership.
Sir Sandford referred to a letter written by Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, in which he showed the benefits that would accrue from the Pacific cable under state ownership. The cable would cross the Pacific, the Indian and the Atlantic Oceans, touching only British soil.

In this letter Sir Sandford had replied, and maintained that the Pacific cable should be under state control, and was of vital importance, inasmuch as it would foster trade with the colonies, and take the initiative in a larger scheme, viz., the collection of the colonies. Both the schemes would be killed by the Eastern extension scheme.

The Difficulty Presented.
The latest difficulty presented was somewhat mysterious. The request of the Eastern Extension Company to New South Wales was referred to the Colonial Office. At once, the Colonial Office assumed the proposal without consulting Canada and the other colonies. This, in the opinion of Sir Sandford, was wrong, and wrong, for the matter should have been referred to the Cable Board.

Following this idea up, the speaker read an article from The London Outlook of Jan. 8, in which it was stated that one of the heads of the Colonial Office was a director of the Eastern Extension Company, and insinuated that he had been prompted by ulterior motives.

Sir Sandford's comment was that someone in a high position had caused the matter to be dealt with hastily, and that now, as the life of the Pacific cable scheme was in danger, something should be done.

Who is at the Bottom?
Col. Denison, in moving the resolution read by Sir Sandford, said that some mysterious influence had always been working against the Pacific cable, and that the necessity of a deep-sea cable, absolutely independent of foreign nations, and insinuated that he had been prompted by ulterior motives.

Who is at the Bottom?
Col. Denison, in moving the resolution read by Sir Sandford, said that some mysterious influence had always been working against the Pacific cable, and that the necessity of a deep-sea cable, absolutely independent of foreign nations, and insinuated that he had been prompted by ulterior motives.

A Costly Message.
In reply to a question from J. E. Ellis, Sir Sandford told the meeting that he had cabled to Ottawa from Australia, two words, at a cost of £2 5s 7d. It didn't "send any more," was a comment that caused laughter.

Continuing. he said if the Pacific cable was laid the cost of a message would at first be 3s 6d, but it would not be long before it would be but a word.

J. E. Ellis presented the commercial side of the question in an eloquent speech. Capt. Wickham spoke on the national aspect. David Creighton emphasized the point that the cable should be owned by the government. The national ownership of telegraph lines would result in the lowering of rates; he prophesied that this was a coming event.

The Transvaal War.
The Pacific cable proposed by Dr. Parkin drew the attention of the meeting to the Transvaal war. In the present difficulties it was the duty of all to pull themselves together. It was the duty of all loyal men to lend their courage to the stern facing of the present crisis.

Col. Denison's Proposition.
Col. Denison thought it was an opportune time for the government of the Cape to say to the Home Government, "If you want more men, than I'll send you more." His view of the British reverses was that the great danger to be apprehended was from the intervention of foreign nations. This could be checked by the liberal offers of men and money from the colonies.

A Resolution Passed.
A. E. Kemp moved, and J. T. Small seconded, this resolution: That this meeting urges that the Canadian Government express to the Home Government the desire that the Canadian people to aid to the fullest of their power and resources to the extent in which the Empire is now engaged.

J. E. Ellis, David Creighton and others endorsed the resolution, which was carried with enthusiasm. The meeting closed with the singing of the "God Save the Queen" and three cheers for the Imperial Army.

Government Bill Asks for 476,000,000 Francs to Build and Equip New Warships.

MONEY FOR THE COAST DEFENCES.
An Independent Cable Also Wanted to Connect the Country With Colonies.

Paris, Jan. 30.—The Cabinet has come to a decision respecting various bills to carry out the naval schemes, and these M. Waldeck-Rousseau introduced at the opening of the Chamber of Deputies this afternoon. They were referred, at his request, to the Budget Committee.

The Government naval bill asks for 476,000,000 francs for the fleet, and provides six first-class battleships, five armored cruisers, 20 torpedo-boat destroyers, 112 torpedo boats, and 28 sub-marine boats. It also asks for 140,000,000 francs to defend the coasts, including 38,000,000 francs for the defence of Bizert, the French naval stronghold on the coast of Tunis.

CABLE SCHEME IN DANGER

If the Colonial Office Backs up the Eastern Telegraph Co. the Scheme is Dead.

A QUEER STORY TOLD IN LONDON.

Colonial Office Will Be Asked Some Questions When the Imperial Parliament Opens.
London Daily Mail, Jan. 20: The All-British Cable Scheme, set on foot last summer by a happy agreement between the Mother Country and some of her leading colonies, has been lost to the public eye for half a year or more.

Now it appears that during that long silence certain things have happened which make it necessary to drag the All-British cable scheme again into the light of day. In a word, the Government of New South Wales has written to the Colonial Office asking permission to grant to the Eastern Telegraph Company a concession which would assist intercolonial, or in other words, in the opinion of some of the distinguished promoters, there is something very like extinction!

All Were Partners.
England, Canada, New South Wales and the other Australian colonies concerned were so many partners in the All-British Cable Scheme, and one of the cardinal and elementary conditions of partnership must be that all important transactions shall be carried out before the eyes and with the concurrence of all the partners. The action of New South Wales, therefore, is sufficiently surprising, but there is something else to tell that is more surprising still. It is that the Colonial Office has granted the request.

The Opposition Raised.
Readers will call to mind the opposition which was raised by the Eastern Telegraph Company when there was brought forward the idea of taking together the great sea-cabled portions of the Empire by an All-British cable—a telegraphic system which would assist intercolonial, or in other words, in the opinion of some of the distinguished promoters, there is something very like extinction!

Government Lines.
Now, the land telegraph lines in Australia are Government lines belonging to the Colonial Governments, and there are no private companies' lines inland. So when a merchant or banker or private citizen in Australia wishes to telegraph to England or elsewhere he has to use the lines of the Government telegraphists, who send it over the state wires to the coast station of the Eastern Telegraph Company, where it is passed on to them. The concession which the New South Wales Government is offering would have the effect of giving the right to have land line, so as to be in a position to transmit his message the way thru themselves. This looks very important in itself. But the serious part of it is that the Eastern Telegraph Company would then be able to go to the bankers, the institutions, the merchants, and so on, and say, "Now we can take your cables direct, and will do it at a cheap rate—say half-a-crown a word for the next ten years, and are willing to make a contract with you on that basis."

Canada to Protest.
This would, of course, be perfectly honest procedure on the part of the Eastern Telegraph Company, and would be "very nice business," too, no doubt; but those who have the All-British cable scheme at heart have heard of this move, and are up in arms against it. To these "farmers" of the Empire, the Minister for Canada, has sent a message across to his Government, urging them to protest against any such concession being granted, and some of the other colonial representatives in London have acted similarly in their own spheres. They believe it would cut the ground from under the project.

When Parliament opens, the Colonial Office will, perhaps, be called upon to explain why it gave permission for the concession. Office hours, 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Sundays, 1 p.m. to 8 p.m.
