MINOR FIGHTING ONLY EVENT ON VERDUN FRONT

German Infantry Did Not Attack French Lines West of Meuse.

CANNONADE DIES DOWN

Skirmishing With Bombs and Hand Grenades Reported on Vaux Ridge.

Special Cable to The Toronto World.

LONDON, March 5.—No infantry attack was made by the Germans on the Bethincourt-Cumieres front to the west of the Meuse and to the north-west of Verdun today, while counter-attacks of the French enabled them to regain a portion of the trenches which the Germans captured in the course of their powerful assault on this front yesterday. The bombardment also perceptibly slackened. On the eastern bank of the Meuse, across the way from the Bethincourt-Cumieres lines, considerable activity was reported in the region of Vaux and Damouloup, and skirmishes with hand-grenades were fought by French advanced groups with Germans on the slopes to the east of Fort Vaux. The villages at the foot of the Meuse hills in the Woivre have been bombarded and French artillery was very active along the whole front today. West of the Bois de Wavre-ville an artillery convoy of the Germans was dispersed and a powerful explosion in a German battery placed in the region of Moulin and Hanon-ouille, to the north of Fresnes-en-Woivre followed a French bombardment. It is believed here that if the Ger-

STRIKING SUCCESS GAINED BY BRITISH IN EAST AFRICA

Gen. Jan Christian Smuts Drives Germans Demoralized in Rapid Retreat Southward and Occupies Mushi.

LONDON, March 15, 7.46 p.m.—Further progress for the British Expeditionary Force in the campaign against German East Africa was officially announced this evening.

The statement said that Gen. Jan Christian Smuts, in command of the force, had reported the occupation of Mushi and that the British were pushing on to occupy Arusha, which was believed to have been evacuated.

Arthur H. Steel-Maitland, colonial under-secretary, at a meeting of the Overseas Forces Club this evening characterized General Smuts' advance as another striking success. He said the Germans, demoralized, were retreating southward.

The text of the statement reads: "General Smuts reports: 'Our troops occupied Mushi the 13th of March, and are pushing on to occupy Arusha, which is believed to have been evacuated by the Germans. The enemy appears to be retreating rapidly southward. His movements are greatly assisted by the Tanganyika railway. Numerous rivers in the area of operations have somewhat hindered our progress.'"

BRITISH PURSUE TRIBESMEN ACROSS EGYPTIAN FRONTIER

Sollum Reoccupied by Major-General Peyton, While Enemy Blew up Ammunition Stores—Guns and Machine Guns Captured.

LONDON, March 15, 8.45 p.m.—The secretary of war tonight issued the following announcement:

"The force under Major-General Peyton yesterday reoccupied Sollum, the Egyptian frontier port on the Mediterranean near the Tripoli frontier, which was evacuated by the British last December. The enemy on the 13th blew up their ammunition stores and on the 14th only offered slight resistance. "The retreating enemy was successfully pursued by armed motor cars and cavalry and camel corps, with the result that 28 prisoners, including three officers, and three guns and nine machine guns were captured. About fifty of the enemy, including three officers, were killed. The camp is now in our hands. "A quantity of gun ammunition and over a quarter of a million rounds of rifle ammunition and nearly 100 rifles were destroyed."

WAR SUMMARY

THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

IT NOW appears that, in the eyes of Russian military observers, the British and the Russians are setting a trap for the purpose of destroying the Turkish army in Mesopotamia and the winning of a complete victory. This is being done by exerting pressure on Baghdad from three directions—the south, the east, and the north. The Russian expeditionary force in Persia has already covered half of the difficult mountain road from Kermanshah westward to Hanikin, progress of 50 miles having been won under strenuous fighting conditions in the narrow passes of this route by the czar's army. So the Russians in this campaign may be said to be acting in co-operation with the British at Kut-el-Amara. The holding of this fort by General Townshend is not to be regarded as a mishap, but as part of a well-arranged plan to embarrass the Turks and their German commanders, and to prevent them from concentrating their forces to check the Russians. When the proper times comes for the British to resume sudden activity, they will resume it. When the Russians get to Hanikin, their advance will be an ominous thing for the Turks, and they have only 50 miles more of mountainous road to traverse before they get there. From the Lake Van region the forces of Russians are also descending towards Mosul to threaten Baghdad from the northern route. The Turkish troops that were sent from Baghdad to Mosul to threaten the flank of the Russians at Kermanshah, so as to make a further advance westward dangerous, have been compelled to withdraw, owing to the increasing British pressure in the south and the Russian activity in the north, leaving the troops moving from the east only frontal opposition to overcome.

Having gained an extremely expensive first-hand knowledge that the French troops who hold the ridges and hills on the western bank of the Meuse, on the lines northwest of Verdun, cannot be lightly driven from these positions, the Germans did not try any further infantry assaults either yesterday or the night before, and they have been spending the intervening time in thinking over the situation. But the fact that the kaiser's higher command has had to make so many pauses and to make bids for successes in so many different places is proof enough that these German generals are at their wits' end as to what next to do. The removal of their battering-ram and their surplus troops from the front of Verdun would be such a confession of defeat that they may try again for success, this time, perhaps, around Fort de Vaux, or against the villages at the base of the Meuse, in the Woivre. In the case of the German soldiers, they easily get discouraged, and fight with half a heart, while in the case of the German generals, they have such overwhelming conceit that they frequently set their men impossible tasks. In the case of the British soldier, his dogged determination enables him to stick to a hopeless task, and he never knows when he is beaten, while in the case of the British gen-

Gen. Pershing's Forces Enter Mexico in Pursuit of Villa's Band.

CARRANZA GIVING AID

Washington Hopeful of Full Co-operation—Operations Are Carefully Cloaked.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—With American troops across the Mexican border tonight seeking Villa and his bandits, President Wilson and officials of the war department resigned themselves to wait possibly many days for news of developments in the chase. Information that forces of the de facto government were co-operating with the expedition from the United States served to relieve the tense anxiety that had been apparent on all sides over the possibility of Carranza troops revolting against their commanders and attempting to oppose the entry of the Americans.

Although Brigadier-General Pershing and Col. Dodd marched into Mexico with some 5000 men about noon today, it was not until more than six hours afterward that the official announcement came to Washington. It was received this evening and Secretary Baker at once hurried to the White House for a conference with the president. At 10 o'clock the secretary made this announcement: "The department received tonight, a code message from Gen. Pershing, which announces that American troops crossed the border into Mexico today, but does not give the hour of the crossing. I am very happy to say that the despatch shows that the military representative of the de facto government of Mexico not only proposed no obstacle, but appears to be co-operating." Reports tonight told of Gen. Obregon's (Continued on Page 2, Column 7.)

OTTAWA, March 15.—The negotiations which have been proceeding for some time past between the Canadian Bankers' Association, J. W. Flavell, chairman of the imperial munitions board, and the minister of finance, and which have extended over several conferences held during the past three weeks, have resulted in an offer made by the Canadian chartered banks to establish in Canada a credit of seventy-five million dollars for the imperial treasury, to be expended in payment of further munition orders to be placed in Canada during the next two months. In anticipation of the arrangement which has now been completed, twenty million dollars of additional orders have been received by the imperial munitions board during the past two weeks. Broached in December. The proposals now made by the Canadian bankers date back to a conference called by the minister of finance in December last, when the Dominion Government placed to the credit of the imperial treasury fifty million dollars of the Canadian war loan. "On the right bank of the Meuse, and on the eastern slopes of the hills, artillery on both sides kept up a bitter duel without interruption. "In the Vosges, the French undertook numerous small attacks with reconnoitering parties, but with no noteworthy results. "North of Bapaume, Lieut. The following Italian official communication was issued yesterday: "In the Alpine zone, our artillery activity extends from Tonale to the upper Friaul, and from there we are carrying out offensive movements. "On the Isonzo front there were lively artillery duels, and infantry attacks yesterday. We progressed somewhat in the Rombon zone and on the height dominating Lucifcio. "Southwest of San Martino, on the Carso, after an intense preparatory fire, the enemy advanced to dawn positions won by us the previous day, but was not able to evacuate at night a little redoubt in order to avoid useless losses. Nevertheless, the concentrated artillery fire of the enemy during the whole day impeded us to evacuate at night a little redoubt in order to avoid useless losses. An intense gun-fire was exchanged near Kobulevsk. "Our artillery dispersed a strong enemy convoy in the neighborhood of the Ilukav and Feniessch Railroad, in the Dvinsk region. Between Lakes Medusa and Demnen we successfully shelled marching enemy columns. "Southward of the Pripet River and in Galicia, in the Stripsa River region, we had several successful encounters with enemy patrols. HAMILTON, Thursday, March 16.—Hamilton hockey fans were treated to a real live contest last night, when the Winnipeg Monarchs and the Hamilton Bowling Club Seniors hooked up in an exhibition game. The final score was 4-2 in favor of the Monarchs. The game, on the whole, was the best played here this season, both teams displaying good checking and combination work. Neither team indulged in any rough work and only a few penalties were imposed. Members of the Rotary Club and the Retail Grocers' Association have pledged enthusiastic support to the Red Cross Conservation Movement. They will visit the various schools and instruct the pupils in collecting waste paper, rags and rubber, the manner of bundling it. Efforts will also be made to have all the manufacturers and business men support the movement.

Ald. T. M. Wright, chairman of the fire, police and jail committee, announced yesterday that the lengthy report which he and Chief Tom Eyck have been working on for weeks, outlining what has been done and what it is hoped to do respecting fire protection, is almost ready to be submitted to the board of control. What is advocated principally in their report is a card index system of regular inspection to be made daily by the firemen in manufacturing plants and business houses.

Big Hydro Meeting. Controller Morris announced yesterday that a public meeting in the interests of the hydro radial scheme, to be addressed by Sir Adam Beck, was arranged for March 23 or 24. W. C. Bush, secretary of the Niagara District Union, communicated with the controller, expressing belief that the time was opportune to have the municipalities lined up and start an educational campaign with Hamilton as the place of the inaugural meeting. The controller expects to be in Ottawa shortly to discuss matters with the Dominion Commission. The private hydro telephone line between Toronto and Hamilton yesterday, he arranged an appointment with J. H. Pope, secretary of the commission at Ottawa.

erals they realize when their men are in a fix, and they hesitate to sacrifice a single person under their command in a hopeless adventure.

From a remark let drop in Paris yesterday the allies may soon take trenches from the Germans in a wholesale way, for the French have howitzers that are being turned out in the factories of Lloyd George and they are expected to be vastly superior to the heaviest German guns. In the fighting for Verdun, the Germans brought up mostly 13-inch and 15-inch howitzers. The report that they were using 17-inch howitzers is probably an exaggeration of frightened refugees, for British fortress and artillery experts have repeatedly said that the chief reliance of the Germans was placed on the Austrian Skoda siege gun and that weapon is a 13-inch piece. The Germans also use a great many 8 and 9-inch weapons. Putting the 20-inch allied howitzer alongside of these 13-inch guns you can easily figure out the superiority of the allied weapon. The striking forces of guns compare as the cube of their diameter. Thus a 20-inch allied howitzer would compare in striking power with a 13-inch Skoda howitzer as about four to one. This is the sort of artillery which the Germans will confront when the allies blow their bugles for a general advance.

The importance of the victory won by General Jan Christian Smuts over the Germans in Eastern Africa is revealed by the latest news which shows that the Germans are now in rapid retreat southward, that they are much demoralized, that they left behind a great many dead on the battlefield of Kitovo and that, pushing after them with horse, foot, and artillery, General Smuts has occupied Mushu and is making for Arusha, which is believed to have been evacuated. Three machine guns and one cannon, the British. The finding of a great many bodies at Kitovo indicates that the British are equipped with a powerful artillery, for when the South African troops captured the key position, the Germans, having enough of the fighting, began to retreat under cover of night, so that the bulk of the dead were probably not victims of infantry fighting but of gun fire.

It is now confirmed that Von Tirpitz, German naval minister, has retired, for the German newspapers are publishing notices to this effect. The reason for the shelving of the father of submarine piracy can well be surmised. It was on March 1 that the new German submarine campaign was to have begun against allied merchantmen "armed with guns," a Washington wanted Germany to delay this fresh piratical program and Washington was informed that its request came too late, for the new submarines had already put out to sea. But the submarines which were sent out to sea have apparently all disappeared and the slight damage done to British merchant shipping has been mostly by mines as usual. Von Tirpitz has sent out his corsairs, so his fall is not as a result of the success of his submarine policy, but as a result of its failure. It was the British navy that caused its collapse.

The British army in Flanders is mainly concerned with siege operations and artillery bombardments and patrol raids are still chiefly in order. British aeroplanes had many brushes with the German machines yesterday and one of the British reconnaissance squadrons beat off a formidable air attack. A German captive balloon was bombed and forced to descend by a ventu,ous aviator.

Yes, There is a Nickel Mystery!

That there is a nickel mystery in Ontario is an idea which received some support from Mr. Sam Carter when discussing the public revenue from that source in the budget debate. One of the mystifying features was the striking contrast between the provincial treasurer's pugnacious declaration of what he would do to the insurance companies if they sought to evade their taxation, and his complacent willingness to wait for the report of the commission before requiring the payment of the nickel company's three per cent. on net profit. The treasurer so aggressively belligerent toward the insurance companies and so mildly tolerant toward the nickel miners, deepened the sense of mystery.

Five Thousand Men Cross Into Mexico

South of Columbus

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, March 15.—Pershing, with more than 4000 troops, began the pursuit of Carranza today. Carranza's new secretary of war, and chief military officer, Gen. Gaviro, commander of the Juarez garrison, to co-operate in every way with the United States forces. This was accepted as a conviction of the attitude of the Carranza government, and any remaining fears of trouble between the Americans and soldiers of the defunct government are being laid to the possibility of insubordination or of mistaken identity.

Gen. Pershing's report that he and his command had crossed the international boundary line just south of Columbus reached Gen. Frederick Funston at a change here of general operations, late today.

How far into Mexico the column has reached was unknown here tonight, nor was it clear how far the column was. Gen. Pershing's course for the next two days is known at headquarters. The column is expected to reach the border last week. Carranza's military representative, Gen. Gaviro, is expected to appear here in a southern direction, and these two forces should be within touch of each other before the end of the week.

At that time it is expected an infantry support will hold the lines of communication, along with motor trucks, to the transportation of ammunition and supplies will be operated.

To Show No Mercy. Although Gen. Pershing's military representative, Gen. Gaviro, is expected to appear here in a southern direction, and these two forces should be within touch of each other before the end of the week.

Gen. Pershing has gone into Mexico with orders to overtake and wipe out Carranza and his organization. Unless orders to the contrary are received from Carranza, the campaign will be continued. SENATE IS CONCERNED OVER CANADIAN TRADE

Beique Proposes Joint Committee to Survey the General Situation. FRANCE WANTS NICKEL Britain's Ally Would Supply Germany as Market After War.

OTTAWA, March 15.—In the senate today Senator Beique moved that a "committee of nine members of this house be appointed to inquire alone or jointly with a like committee of the house of commons, into what is being done and what could be done to best promote the agricultural, industrial and trade interests of this country, both during and after the war."

Senator Beique said it was important that consideration should be given to the condition of the country and a decision reached as to what should be done to meet conditions after the war. In Canada agriculture was in a sound condition and full of promise for the future.

France Sees Opening. Senator Beique said he had recently talked to the French trade commission which had visited Canada. They had told him that many things which Germany supplied before the war might be furnished by France. From them he learned that the nickel articles used in Canada before the war were made in Germany from Canadian nickel. He with astonishment. This commission asked him if it would not be possible for France to take the place of Germany in the fabrication of these two natural products of Canada. They had pointed out to him that Canada could well find a market for many natural products in France and that she would be most welcome there. For instance there was a great demand for wooden houses to take the place of thousands destroyed in the operations of the armies.

THURSDAY MORNING, MARCH 16

Preparedness in Banking

If the United States is not prepared for war so far as men and munitions are concerned she is certainly well prepared with what has been often called the sinews of war.

There is, of course, nothing new about the system now prevailing in the United States. That country has merely placed itself abreast of European nations long accustomed to state banks of issue and rediscunt.

There is really no foundation for such a statement. It is unfortunate that it should gain circulation in such a paper as The Times, where many readers may be misled by it.

Now all this is changed. The smallest national bank is a member bank of one of the regional banks of issue and rediscunt. It can always get national currency by rediscunting good paper.

The United States regional banks of issue and rediscunt will no doubt make money, but they are not trying to put one another out of business.

Federal Reserve Act are simple. They represent, among others, the principle of consolidation of reserve and note issues, keeping apart the function of ordinary banking from that of the issue of notes.

Totally Disabled

It was a coincidence perhaps that the Dominion and the provincial houses should both have discussed the Pension Act on the same day.

The totally disabled man must be allowed at least $12.50 a week. This is not equal to the standard of living laid down by the labor bureau, but that standard may be regarded as an average.

There is no excuse for placing the disabled man in a position where he must appeal to charity. There is no reason for making a distinction between the married and the unmarried.

NEWS OF SPECIAL INTEREST TO WOMEN

WOMEN ASK PREMIER FOR RIGHT TO VOTE

Promise Made That After War Government Intends Giving Consideration.

ONTARIO OUTDISTANCED

Alberta and Manitoba Cited by Deputation as Having Made Great Progress.

Premier Hearst promised a woman's suffrage deputation yesterday morning that after the war the Ontario Government intended giving active consideration to the equal franchise issue. He told the scores of women who waited on him that in spite of the declarations of the suffragettes to the contrary there was a distinct branch of the women of Ontario who did not want the vote. Dr. Stowe-Gullen interjected that there was no organized body of women opposed to woman's suffrage to which the premier replied.

"I wish you could see some of the letters I receive; they would convince anyone," Dr. Stowe-Gullen, who introduced the deputation, deplored the fact that although Ontario was the first province in which the women actively took up the equal franchise problem, Manitoba and Alberta had outdistanced her in legislation. "And it is in the air in British Columbia," the premier was informed. What the woman of Ontario wanted was to be a co-partner with the husband and father, politically and legally and in her guardianship over the children.

Mrs. Flora McD. Denison pointed out that now when many of their sons were at the front and the women were doing great work for the empire they were being told how much their work counted. Mrs. Fankhurst, she said, came over to Canada for a different purpose this time; she had done great work on the Red Cross, but she did a greater work in Holloway jail.

Credit to Government.

"Mr. Premier it would be to your credit and to the credit of your government to give the women of Ontario what they ask," she declared. Dr. Margaret Gordon informed the prime minister that if the women of all the countries had the vote there would be no war. She said the spinners should by all rights have the same privileges as the married women. "If we can get no more we should get no less than equal municipal suffrage," she declared. She thanked the premier. Sir Robert Borden's promise that when the women secured provincial rights he would give them federal privileges.

British men had always been proud of their women—and rightly so, the premier said in his reply. But Mrs. Fankhurst had done her part for the cause of woman's suffrage on her patriotic work that she would have accomplished in a thousand years by other methods. "I feel that now is not the time to bring in suffrage legislation," he told them. "Conditions are such that we must be much altered and then the question will receive the active consideration of the government. I am expressing no opinion as to the merits of the proposal."

Among the women present were Mrs. Margaret Gordon, Mrs. Flora McD. Denison, Dr. Margaret Johnston, Dr. Augusta Stowe-Gullen, Mrs. E. Stevens, Mrs. Scott Milne, Mrs. Louise A. Long, Mrs. R. Robson, Mrs. F. N. Pratt.

TORONTOIANS HONORED BY GOVERNOR-GENERAL

Presented With Insignia of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem.

An interesting ceremony took place yesterday afternoon in the House when His Honor Sir Joan Hendrie, acting for his royal highness the governor-general, presented the insignia of the Order of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem in England to the following gentlemen: Knights of Grace: Col. George Augustus Sweny, Hon. Col. Noel George Lambert, Marshall and Dr. Charles Joseph Fraser. Honorary Associate: Dr. Charles R. Dickson, Toronto.

The recipients of this distinguished honor have been prominent in Red Cross work for many years. Lady Hendrie and Miss Hendrie were present and Dr. Alexander Fraser was in attendance.

ANOTHER WAY TO MAKE AEROPLANES INVISIBLE

Celluloid Wings Are Latest Kind of Transparent Material and Have Double Advantage.

Of late attempts have been made to construct aeroplanes of a transparent material, at least for all purposes where a canvas covering is used as present, such as the wings and the fuselage. One of the latest ideas of the kind is said to be the aeroplane which uses nonflammable celluloid for the wings and other parts, and when flying at a few hundred feet elevation the apparatus is quite invisible, according to reports. A new muffling box on the motor serves to deaden the sound. One advantage of the transparency is that observations can be made in all directions.

TOOLS FOR GARDENING.

It is now none too early to consider the selection of proper gardening tools, for use in making one's garden in the spring. For success in producing vegetables, efficient utensils are necessary; no one can do as good work with poor or makeshift tools. If one already possesses proper tools, they should be examined several weeks before planting time to make sure that they are in good condition, and to repair broken or rusty tools. Tools which will be needed hoes, rakes, transplanting trowel, garden line, stakes, wheelbarrow, shovel, flower-pot and flats. For field work, one should have breaking plows, harrows and a disc; it is well to procure pruning shears, briar hooks and other such tools. The most important thing in accomplishing the right work at the right time.

HOW TO PLACE FIGURES IN KODAKERY

In "Kodakery," publisher by the Eastman Kodak Company, Sidney Allan gives some instructions about how to place figures in space. He writes: "The first requisite in a figure or group composition is that the figures look real, as if they were actually standing in space and were surrounded by air and atmosphere. This is largely a matter of the background. The plain background is the simplest and, perhaps, most dignified; but at the same time most difficult to handle. It is almost impossible to make the figures stand out against the background. The outline of the figure must be distinct and yet vague, or it will not recede and look as if cut out. A plain light background behind a dark figure is always bad taste, as it accentuates the silhouette, and the figure is placed as if it were actually moving in the scene. This is due to the low skyline of the trees and the lower margin cutting into the lady's gown. It is one of the most skillful and natural backgrounds ever painted, but it is almost impossible to realize a similar effect in photography without manual assistance. The home portrait background is the most easily accessible and most logical and suitable one. It is wise, however, not to introduce too large a section of an interior, as objects are apt to become distorted. Whistler in his figure compositions has shown us an ideal way of solving the problem. His backgrounds consisted merely of a wall that was interesting itself, either by a division of the wainscoting or by a picture hanging on the wall. The lines and masses of the design in the background are arranged in such a way that they do not interfere with the importance of the figure. That is to say that the accessories and the figure should be in harmony, and that the grouping of all the elements should form an agreeable picture."

Facts About Big Things

The largest and most valuable library in the world is the Bibliotheque Nationale, in Paris, France, which was founded by Louis XIV. The library contains 1,400,000 volumes, 300,000 pamphlets, 175,000 manuscripts, 300,000 maps and charts, and 150,000 coins and medals. There are 10,000 volumes of engravings, containing 1,300,000 specimens. The portraits number about 100,000.

Tugboat Moves By Aerial Propeller

For towing barges on the rivers of British Guiana, where the water is often very shallow, a London firm has just built a tugboat moved by an aerial propeller. It is a little more than 30 feet long and draws less than eight inches of water, says The New York World. The hull is of steel, as it has to resist constant scraping on the bottom of the river. It has a single cylinder motor, worked by crude oil, which gives 13 horsepower with 450 revolutions a minute. The total weight of this tug is five tons.

Mechanical Postcard Vendor

A mechanical postcard vendor which displays 15 postcards at once, prevents handling and soiling of the cards, and eliminates the expense of a salesman. It has been put on the market recently by Popular Mechanics. The vendor consists of a tall, narrow steel case with a glass front, behind which the postcards are displayed. Opposite each card is a push button. At the top of the case are two slots, one for cents and the other for nickels. After a customer has made his selection, he deposits a cent or nickel in the proper slot. It is the former, the mechanism permits him to push any button once, after which the button locks automatically; if a 5-cent piece has been inserted he may have six "pushes" distributed among the buttons as he sees fit, each button controlling the card nearest it. The cards selected drop to an open receptacle. Adjustments of the mechanism to correspond to other prices can be made easily.

Permanent Cure of Piles

Certified By Minister Sixteen Years Ago This Man Was Cured By Dr. Chase's Ointment—Had Suffered Keenly For Twelve Years. You might almost say that there is only one actual cure for Piles, and that is Dr. Chase's Ointment. Every day reports from persons who had tried one thing and another without success. Some have even been operated on, a-ly to have the old trouble return, and finally to obtain cure by use of this ointment. Why not avoid waste of time, waste of money and needless risk with operations by using Dr. Chase's Ointment at once? Some say that "it is all very well for itching Piles, but my trouble is from bleeding Piles." Well, here is a letter from a man who had bleeding Piles for 12 years, and suffered most keenly. For 15 years he has had no return of the old trouble, and naturally considers the cure permanent. Mr. O. B. Peters, Salmon Arm, B.C., writes: "I was troubled with bleeding Piles for about 12 years, and suffered ever-thing but death. I was so bad I could scarcely walk about, and though I tried many things, could get no relief. At that time I lived at Sharbot, like O. T., and a friend advised me to use Dr. Chase's Ointment, saying he would guarantee cure. Less than two boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment cured me. That is 15 years ago, and I am O.K. yet so think you can consider the cure permanent. I cannot praise Dr. Chase's Ointment enough, as it saved me from a great deal of pain and suffering." Rev. W. J. Beamish, Salmon Arm, B.C., writes: "I have been acquainted with Mr. O. B. Peters, and have always found him to be a man of his word. I can therefore most thoroughly endorse what Mr. Peters has written concerning the merits and value of Dr. Chase's Ointment." A test of Dr. Chase's Ointment will soon convince you of its merits. Relief comes almost immediately, and cure follows persistent treatment. For sale by all dealers. Sample box free if you mention this paper and write direct to Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

NAVY BLUE FAVORITE IN SPRING MILLINERY

Great Variety of Dainty Creations Meet All Sizes of Purposes.

TRIMMED WITH RIBBON

Close Tailored Model Has Crown Covered in Same Shade as Straw.

Ribbon trims the very prettiest spring examples of early spring millinery. Navy blue is a pronounced favorite with just a touch of rose at the crown or underneath the brim. Certainly there is generous tolerance of every possible style, for hats are high and low, broad and narrow, big and very tiny, and last but not least in importance, they are very expensive—and very inexpensive. Chic little models that two or three seasons ago would not sell for under $15 or $20, are now held for one-third price, and then again, the "360" model still brings the $60!

For immediate wear tailored sailors are in very good taste, as are the close-fitting chapeaux with high flare brim extensions. The use of ribbon is as popular as ever, and a hat of this popular mode of trimming the small, close tailored model, is to cover the crown with silk ribbon in the identical shade of the straw used, which is again used as a pleated "collar" in place of the straw brim. A small odd-colored ornament, which is a hat pin in disguise, lends the only note of color. Tete de negre—sometimes known as jungle brows—is another favorite for immediate wear, and a hat of this shade is particularly attractive when a touch of coral is introduced. A very handsome little model with a smartly flaring "high-backed" brim, is underfaced with matching silk and has for its ornament two little coral pompons with brown "feelers" curling high at an angle from the crown.

ARTIFICIAL BLOSSOMS ON PARASOLS.

For making a plain parasol more attractive, or freshening an old one, artificial flowers may be used. One newly shown is a plain, emerald green silk with a green wood handle; about the edge of the sunshade is a border of tiny pink roses and sprays of leaves. Black parasols are made gorgeous by a brilliant artificial blossom and bud, with a loop or two of gay ribbon fastened at the top. White parasols are correctly decked with pale roses in long, trailing sprays falling downwards to the edge, tucked tightly here and there to hold the sprays in place.

DOUBTERS MAY KNOW OF GERMAN CRUELTY

Miss Neelin, Returned Nurse, Says Visit to Hospitals Would Be Evidence Enough.

Miss Neelin, a returned nurse, sold at the King Edward yesterday, that there was no doubt about the German atrocities. Men had come back from the German camps with limbs amputated where there was no necessity for such operation, and the brutality of the treatment was increased by the fact that no anaesthetic was used to prepare the patient for the operation. It was only necessary for some of the people over here to cross the water to make them realize that this is a war for right, justice and humanity, said Miss Neelin. In the French convents were Belgian children who had been horribly mutilated by the Germans. Miss Edith Neelin went over with the second contingent of nurses May 1 last on the Hesperian, which was only twelve hours behind the ill-fated Lusitania. She was sent to Shoncliffe when the hospital was opened, and had been on constant duty until sent home to recuperate. Miss Neelin expects to return to the front shortly, but in the meantime has taken up recruiting work. The Canadian women have done much war work, and a great deal more would be required of them, in her opinion.

BUCHAREST, March 15.—Food riots have broken out in Varna and Philippopolis, Bulgaria. Stores were raided and foodstuffs seized.

Thin Men and Women Who Want to Gain Weight Should Try At Once This 10 Days Flesh Building Test

Report Gains At Rate Of Three To Five Pounds a Week In Many Instances. Full Directions Given. Most thin, run-down men and women would probably be glad to increase their weight with ten or twenty-five pounds of good, firm, solid, healthy fat there, and fat if they believed it possible to accomplish such result by merely making the flesh-making materials in their daily meals do a little more work than they are doing now. This is said to be the chief reason why most thin people do stay under-weight. They are so constituted that they fail to fully assimilate the nourishment of their food, a great deal of which passes from the body as waste, increase assimilation to normal and normal weight follows as a matter of course. If you are ten pounds or more under-weight and believe this can't be done in your case, here is a simple, inexpensive and really harmless test that is well worth trying. First weigh yourself. Then with each meal for ten days and each night as you go to bed take a single Sargol tablet. Then weigh yourself again and let the scales tell the story. Sargol may not increase your weight as much as one pound a day but with what increase in your weight may be shown you can decide what its continued use for a few weeks further may be able to do for you. Sargol does not itself make fat, but consisting of a splendidly balanced combination of assimilative aids and flesh-building agents it assists your body in the purpose of making it easier for your blood to accept their strength and turn it into strength, a great many people have gladly told that it succeeds. There are many reports like the following: "I have increased 18 pounds in less than a month." "I have gained 10 pounds in a month." "I have gained 15 pounds in a month." "I have gained 20 pounds in a month." "I have gained 25 pounds in a month." "I have gained 30 pounds in a month." "I have gained 35 pounds in a month." "I have gained 40 pounds in a month." Revelations of a Wife

By ADELE GARRISON

Why Madge "Bribed" Katie.

I HEARD a vehement clattering of pots and pans as I entered the kitchen to give Katie directions for the day before starting on my eight-day trip with my mother-in-law.

"Katie, I am ashamed of you," I said, coldly and firmly, in much the tone that I used to use to my children.

"That wasn't the only reason, Katie," I said, "and you know it. Then, personally, Katie, look at me!"

"You know, Katie, I went on, 'that your greatest fault is curiosity. I do not want you to pry into my business, but it leads you into all kinds of trouble and mistakes. I have known that you have listened to conversations, and I know you have eavesdropped on me.'

"A Masterly Stroke. 'You see, Katie,' I said slowly, 'that is the punishment of people who listen to conversations not intended for them. They get things all mixed up. Now I am going to tell you just what was said, and then you'll see how foolish you were.'

"I could not tell from Katie's manner whether she were in a receptive mood or not. Her eyes were steadfastly fixed on the floor, and her face was still flushed.

"Mrs. Graham, of course, does not know you, Katie," I began, "and naturally she is nervous about leaving her things in the care of a stranger. She asked me if you were honest, and I told her that I was sure you were. Then she asked me how long I had known you, and I told her only two weeks, but that you had come well recommended, and that Mrs. Graham had known you before."

"Then she said: 'There is nothing to be done but to trust her. She can't get into the trunks without keys unless she is a sneak thief, and I do not think she is that.'

"So you see, Katie," I went on smoothly, "there is nothing for you to get angry over. Instead, you ought to be very grateful to me."

"Katie looked up at me, her eyes swimming in tears. 'Oh, I know, Mrs. Graham, I such a bad girl. I'm sorry I so mean to you,' she said. 'Suppose I had told her of the time you opened my trunk?'

"Can you keep a promise, Katie, if you make one?" I finally asked. "Sure," Katie answered. She was fast recovering her cheerfulness. "There will, of course, be more work in the apartment now, Katie," I went on. "And sometimes you may find the older Mrs. Graham a little—"

"Cranky," supplemented Katie with a cheerful grin. "Difficult," I substituted, frowning slightly, "and so I have decided to give you $25 a month at present, and $50 when we move into a larger apartment, which we expect to do in a few months."

DREAMS

WHEN sleep arrives what dreams may come? "Ah, THAT'S the rub!" as Hamlet said. For when we trust our senses to forgetfulness, along with it we give our power of choice. Little, vagrant imps we wouldn't recognize when Reason sits upon her throne, with fairy fingers weave our dreams in grotesque and fantastic patterns of near-reality. How we laugh at the puzzles in the morning!

And yet we never dream of things we know not of—and usually of those we like the BEST. So it is with the Lady of the Picture. See the little men who dance around her in HER dreams. Men of all sorts, "rich men, poor men, beggar men, chiefs"—dancers, golfers, oarsmen skating! Men of EVERY kind—and each man, in his time, her HERO of an hour. But is she dreaming only backward in the Past, or dream-wishing into the Future, too? Ah, THAT'S the question!

WINIFRED BLACK WRITES ABOUT Hanging On to Youth

Copyright, 1916, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

THE man of fifty sat at the table with the woman of twenty-five and made large and entrancing eyes at her. The woman of twenty-five smiled sweetly at the man of fifty. But when she looked at the man of twenty-eight at the table across the room her eyes were very wistful.

"You see," said the man of fifty to the third person at the table, "you see, that's just the proper difference in marriage really—twenty years—a man should always be at least twenty years older than his wife."

"The woman of twenty-five didn't answer—I don't think she heard. The man of twenty-eight was looking very soulfully at her at the special moment and she was busily engaged in blushing. 'Shouldn't she?' said the man of fifty. The woman of twenty-five started so violently that she nearly knocked the glass of water at her wrist over. 'Why, yes, yes, of course,' she stammered.

And then the man of fifty went on to tell us all about it. A man wanted youth, he said, especially as he grew older; the older he grew the more youth he wanted. In fact, he really needed it. Youth was an inspiration to him, a rest, a buoyant help. And then just think what a man of fifty can do for a woman of thirty or twenty-eight. He can teach her to be patient with her and lead her in the way she should go, without letting her know she's being led.

"True, quite true," said I. "Why, of course," said the woman of twenty-five, and she signaled to the man of twenty-eight across the room to wait for her outside. She told him that she was bored to death and that she would hurry and get rid of the man of fifty as soon as she could, and she begged him not to be angry and she told him that she loved him—all with one look of her tired, wistful eyes.

And the man of fifty babbled on, much to his own delight and the cynical amusement, alas, of the girl for whose benefit he was talking. "A girl may think she is in love with some young fool," said the man of fifty, "but it takes a man of experience to teach her what love really is."

"Quite so," said I, without a smile. "Of course," breathed the woman of twenty-five. And then we all drank our coffee and went and listened to the music, and the man of twenty-eight came and talked to us and looked at the woman of twenty-five. And the man of fifty was very much pleased with himself, and the two who were making such a fool of him were pleased, too, for the man of fifty is very rich, and some day, perhaps—

But I was not pleased. I was puzzled and confused. When I was a young girl people thought men were much cleverer than women. I have always had a strange superstition that they were, too.

Young women have fallen in love with old men once in a while, and nine times out of ten they wish they hadn't. But the average girl wants young love, new love, true love—or what she can make herself believe is true love—and she is not to be fooled into taking any second-hand, warmed-over, imitation affection for the real thing—unless she is cast away on a desert island and there isn't another man in sight.

How pathetic it is—the old, old struggle to hang on to a vanishing youth by the old, old trick of borrowing a few years from somebody else! It's like all the rest of the borrowing schemes, easy enough to begin, but, dear me, how soon, how pitifully soon, the interest always seems to come due!

Solving the Problem of How to "Do" the Hair.

YOU simply cannot please every one. Even in the small matter of arranging your hair relatives and friends disagree as to whether you should wear it high or low, parted or pompadour.

Personally I abominate an elaborate coiffure, nor do I like the "plain Jane" arrangement unless the face has that Madonna-like regularity of features that does not require a softening frame of hair to enhance its beauty.

I bought an assortment of smart coiffure ornaments, two Spanish combs of silver encrusted with brilliants, another with a blue enamel tint, in a figure eight design, two pins with tops studded with amethysts, and a third with a circular top of silver studded with rhinestones.

The evening we went to the opera I concluded that it was a fitting time to look "regal" to please mother. I divided my hair into two sections and pulled the front slightly, drawing it over the tops of the ears. Then I combed the back section up straight and plain from the nape of the neck, coiled the ends in a loose, flat knot high on the crown of my head and ornamented it with a Spanish comb. Over each ear I made a rather thick curl to relieve the severity of the hair-line about the face, but even this failed to lend a youthful coquettishness to this "queenly" arrangement, as I had hoped.

When I donned my turquoise velvet and silver lace gown and swept into mother's room for her inspection she

Secrets of Health and Happiness

What "Grip" Really Is: Why Heat Is Its Antidote

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG

A. B. M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins University)

THE tropics of Cancer and Capricorn are, as little Johnny says, "menagery lions" that run around the earth. The demarcations between "grip," "colds," throat, bronchitis and the like are also imaginary lines.

The present pandemic of "grip" or influenza has not yet been laid definitely at the door of the bacillus influenzae of Pfeiffer. Indeed, there are so many wholly different kinds of microbes that cause epidemic infections of the breathing apparatus, with bone-breaking aches and pains, paroxysms of sniffles, sneezes and fever depressions and prostrations that the malady known as "grip" may be caused by one kind of germ or another.

Had a dozen years ago an epidemic scourge about this time of the year was called in health reports and death certificates "grip" or influenza, until bacteriologists proved the offending germs to be filaments of beaded bacteria. However, a rose by any other name smells just as sweet. Hence what you are displeased to suffer as "grip" is as iniquitous, when due to the influenza bacillus, as when caused by any other evil germ.

No Respector of Persons. It is already evident in the present epidemic of grip that more than one type of microbe is getting in deadly work. Wide as is the distribution of the pandemic of watery eyes, running noses, sore throats, coughs, chills, fevers and backaches, evidence is already at hand from many quarters that the true "grip" bacillus, like the flowers that bloom in the spring, has nothing to do with the "case."

The Methods of Cure. The throat may become red and the windpipe and bronchi sooner or later involved in the process. Then sneezes give way to coughing and bronchitis. At this stage your vitality and reserve strength is called into battle to preserve you from pneumonia.

Answers to Health Questions. Mrs. K. W. Q.—I would like to know what you would advise for a mummy complexion. I practice dancing several hours a day, eat good, plain food twice a day, and drink a great deal of water. What will you advise me to do?

A.—Obtain more sunlight and fresh air, 10 to 15 hours in the 24, and just after a wash or bath, and while still wet, dry the skin with the following: Fine almond meal, 4 ounces; Fine glycerine powder, 4 drams; Oil of bitter almonds, 3 drops; Oil of sweet almonds, 3 drops; Fine p'd red orris root, 2 ounces; Fine p'd red punicaceous, 6 drams.

R. C. Q.—Will you kindly tell me what to do for excessive kidney fluid? I can see spots in the air when I move my eyes. What do you think of this?

A.—Take eight drops of tincture of belladonna in water every four hours. Take this a week, stop a week and continue as follows. Also stop in at the urological department of the City Hospital for a thorough physical examination.

E. J. F. Q.—Will you please tell me through the columns whether taking olive oil is beneficial to the system? I am neither sick nor ailing, but think it will make me stronger. Kindly advise me.

A.—Olive oil is a splendid tonic. Yes, I would suggest your taking a tablespoonful after each meal.

right in front of me so that every hair would fall just where her's did. Dad fairly beamed at me with parental pride, and said that I was exactly like his mother, and she had been considered a great beauty. Mother remained silent. But when Bob came over later in the day he burst into laughing and said: "Whyfore this Priscilla-like coiffure? I hope you're not going to tie yourself to a mummy? Don't do it, Robin, you're hair is too lovely to be shorn, and you're too popular to be shut away from the world. I came over to ask you to go with me to the 'Fraz' dance on Washington's birthday, but do—like a dear girl—just to please me, comb your hair low with a great, big, big wad at the back, like you used to wear it last summer."

So I returned to the old way of arranging my hair for Bob's dance. I pulled it in a soft pompadour, low over the forehead, and covered the ears with fuzzy ringlets—these always make me look like sweet sixteen—then I took the long ends and rolled them to form a soft knot whose size could not help but meet with Bob's approval. I used the pin with the circular top of brilliants in one side and was thoroughly satisfied with my reflection in the mirror.

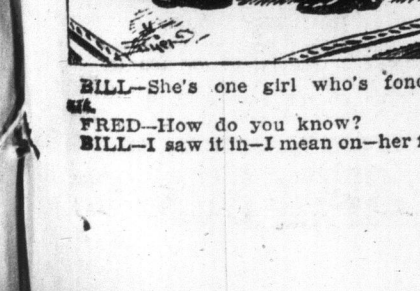

Aunt Kathryn dropped in just as we were ready to start for the dance, and after looking me over from top to toe, said: "You are very pretty tonight, Robin. Your hair is most becomingly arranged. It is youthful, so slick to combing it that way regardless of style."

BLUE EYES: It seems that you two do not understand each other very well, perhaps because you have not been quite honest. Fride is a very good thing, but if one isn't very careful it may cause a great deal of trouble. Perhaps if you told him you'd like to see him often, assuming that your parents are willing you should, I'm sure he would be very glad to come.

Because he enjoys the company of other boys is nothing against him. Personally, I would trust a boy like that in preference to one who has a different girl every day and can talk of nothing but girls.
