ANNIVERSARY.

The Fifth Anniversary of the Missionary Society was Ancaster the 30th of August, 1829. Among a great multitude of listening hearers, were present about 50 Christian Indians. Eight native labourers were also present, who had just returned from their Missionary tour to several tribes of Indians on Lake Huron. Addresses on the occasion were delivered by Rev. T. WHITEHEAD, Rev. W. CASE, and Rev. W. RYERSON, and were well calculated to impress the congregation with the importance of improving the condition of the Indian tribes. A collection was taken up for the support of Indian Missions and a subscription was opened for completing the new Chapel lately commenced by the Indians, on the Grand River.

ANNUAL REPORT

ENDING 1st SEPT. 1829.

In presenting the fifth Annual Report of the Missionary Society, the Committee have the pleasing satisfaction of announcing to the Members and friends of the Society, that the work of conversion continues to prevail among the wandering tribes of our wilderness,—the Schools are in a prosperous condition, and are increasing in number, and several bodies of the Indian converts, who have been encouraged to settle, are losing their attachment to a roving life, and are engaging in the labours of agriculture and the improvements of Mechanism.

By reference to the Table which is annexed to this Report (marked A.) it will be seen that during the past year more than 200 converted natives have been added to the Church of Christ, thereby swelling the number of Christian converts to 1052. The same table shews that four new Schools have been established; making in all, sixteen. In these Schools are taught more than four hundred native children, about 80 of whom are reading in the New Testament.

The new Schools, instituted during the past year, are as follows: one among the Mohawks, on the Grand River; one for the benefit of the Mohawk children at the Bay Quinty; one at Mah-je-dushik Bay, Lake Huron; and a Female School among the Rice Lake Indians, at Schoogog-Lake. The whole number of Schools have been established in compliance with the earnest solicitations of the natives themselves, who have, since their conversion, evinced the most ardent desire to hear their children read the "Good Book." Other Schools, now called for, will be opened when the means can be obtained for erecting the necessary buildings, and the support of Teachers.

The education of the Native Children, it is believed should be principally in the English language, there being so few translations into the Indian tongue. When a knowledge of the English is once obtained, it will be no difficult task to learn the scholars to read their native tongue. The most effectual means should therefore be adopted which may lead to the pronunciation of the English. To accomplish this object, the Pestalozzian system has been adopted; a system which combines instruction with amusement, and necessary bodily exercise with entertaining labour of mind, and renders the studies of the children delightful, at the same time that it promotes health.

and activity of body. From the experiments made, this system is found to answer several valuable purposes in teaching the elementary parts of education. The first school on this plan was commenced the first of June last, in the School at Grape Island. It has since been introduced in the School at Rice Lake. From the rapid improvements which the children in these schools have made, the committee are led to believe, that the system should be introduced into the Native Schools generally.

Another important object which the SOCIETY has kept in view, has been the improvement of the Native converts in the arts of civilized life. To bring the wandering Indians to settled habits of industry, has been found a difficult task, and to the Missionary, the most laborious part of his duty. If ease and indolence are among the most natural propensities of man, the Indians' mode of life has led them to the indulgence of habits which have been formed, and the inhibiting of principles whereby they have been induced to imagine, that labour and the arts are for white men, and not necessary for either the support or happiness of the Indian. These prejudices and habits however, in the older stations, have been gradually dying away. By continued instruction, they are convinced that their huntings must soon be done, and that the "good word" enjoins the duty of providing for their families by industrious labour. The examples of the Missionaries and School Teachers have had a valuable influence in this work. Believing that only a part of their duty was accomplished when their flocks were taught to pray and read, they have said, "Come Brothers, we chop and clear this ground, we plough and plant this field, we build this house, no white man do our work while we lounge at ease in the sun." The result has proved that the wandering savage can be tamed, and become an industrious farmer and ingenious mechanic. It is a maxim which the society adopts, that it is not proper to do a work for the Indians which they may be instructed to do for themselves. In accordance with this plan, the Native converts at the RIVER CREDIT have been induced to clear and plant their fields, and to do much of the labour in building several houses, among which are an Hospital and Mechanics' Shop. The latter is an excellent building, 24 by 40 feet, two stories high, in which the boys of the school, as well as several of the men, will be instructed in various branches of mechanism. They have now (Sept.) about 100 acres in crops, chiefly in corn and potatoes, which promise a good harvest. Several have acquired the use of the plane and chissel, and produced pleasing specimens of ingenuity in sleighs and joiner work. Every season shows an increase of industry and improvement in the happy community at the River Credit.

GRAPE ISLAND.—The Native converts have done much of the labour in erecting 26 buildings. Among the 6 buildings erected the past year, is a frame building for a Mechanics' Shop, 24 by 40. They have fifty acres in crops, and beside these and other labours, they have procured by their industry, about 20,000 feet of lumber, which has been used for their public buildings, and other purposes for their domestic improvements. Although, the expences of this their first attempt at lumbering have been equal to the worth of the lumber, yet the knowledge they have acquired in business will benefit the Mission by preparing them for more profitable enterprises hereafter. In the use of tools they are gaining knowledge, and every season shews an increasing attachment to domestic life. They say, "as soon as we obtain lands we no more live in wigwam and hunt."

At RICE LAKE, signs of industry appear in their business of planting; and the females especially, are active in providing for the support of their children while at School.

At the Salt Springs on the GRAND RIVER a decent frame Chapel, 30 by 40 has been erected, principally by the labour of the Christian Indians. And thus the Missionary Society is encouraged in their labours, that, whole bodies of idle, wandering drunkards, have been brought to habits of industry, and the joys and devotions of the Christian religion.

TRANSLATIONS AND PRINTING.

During the past year an edition of 2000 Hymn Books has been published for the use of the Missisauyah converts. This book contains 130 English Hymns, 46 of which having been translated into Chippeway (Missisauyah) tongue, are printed on opposite pages with the English.

An edition of 1000 Hymns Books has also been published for the Mohawk congregations. This book contains 151 Hymns in English, 87 of which are translated into the Mohawk, the language of the six nations. These also are printed in opposite pages with the English. These valuable works have given a new impulse for improvement both in reading and singing. They have stimulated even the older Christians to learn to read, and not a few who have never had an opportunity at school, have by private application and instruction, so far learned, as to be able to read both English and Indian Hymns.

An edition of the Gospel of St. Mark, and other portions of the Scriptures, have likewise been printed in Mohawk for the benefit of the Six nations. These having never before been published apart from the book of "Common Prayer," are now embodied together, and form a convenient volume for the benefit of the Schools, as well as for family use.

One thousand PRIMERS of the Indian Spellings, have also been printed for the use of the Mohawk Schools.

The Gospel of St. Matthew, the Acts and Epistles, heretofore translated into Mohawk, will need correction before they are put to press.

The Missionary Society having made an arrangement for Mr. Peter and John Jones to give their principal attention to the translation of the Scriptures, it is hoped that the Missisauqah Christians will o'er long have the New Testament in their native tongue.

NATIVE LABOURERS.

By reference to the table marked B. will be seen the names of those who have been employed the past year, together with the fields of their labour. In this service 17 Natives have been employed in various places, and at sundry times during the past season. Five of these speak the Mohawk, and thirteen the Chippeway language. They have been useful in all places where they have laboured. The tour of Mr. Peter Jones with several of his Brethren, to Mah-jedushk and other bodies of Indians on the south shore of Lake Huron, will most probably be attended with happy consequences to the natives in those parts. In every tribe but one, their instructions were cordially received, earnestly soliciting Missionaries and School Teachers to be sent among them. The language of one of the Chiefs, appears to have been the language of all. "Brothers, in becoming a Christian I shall desire to see my children read the "Good Book." As for myself, I am too old to learn; But if I can hear my children read, I shall be satisfied. It shall also be my desire to have my people settle where we may learn to serve the Great Good Spirit, and till the ground."

By the faithful labours of Native Teacher's, about 40 of the Mohawks at Bay Quinty have been reclaimed from intemperance, and become a praying people. Many promising youths in the Schools are rapidly acquiring a knowledge of the English, and are making good proficiency in their studies. From these will be selected our future Missionaries and Teachers, who will enable the Society more effectually to extend the knowledge of God, of learning, of agriculand Mechanism to the numerous bodies of their Brethren to the North and West.

MEASURES FOR IMPROVING THE CIVIL CONDITION OF THE INDIANS.

1. The principles of true religion, are the foundation of every other improvement, and of all that is noble and excellent in the character of man. Never till they embraced christianity, did the wandering tribes of the Missisauhahs think of learning or domestic and industrious economy. But in every case, so soon as their minds become affected with divine truths, they immediately begin to inquire for schools and books, and for implements of husbandry, and they became extremely solicitous to be settled in communities, where they might steadily hear the "good word" and have their children at school.

The free exercise of the christian religion which several of our tribes have so generally and happily embraced, is undoubtedly, essential, not only to their happiness, but also to all other improvements. Any interference with their religious sentiments or mode of worship, from which they have already derived so many spiritual comforts and temporal enjoyments, would have a distracting tendency, and to a people naturally averse to labour, would have a discouraging influence on their desire for the improvements of civilized life. Their consciences should be free, that their minds may be wholly given to learning and industry. The propriety of these remarks will appear evident, by reference to all those countries where the inhabitants are free to worship God according to the dictates of their own consciences, contrasted with other countries where the people are laid under restraints, or suffer persecution for their religious worship.

2. The settlement of the Indians on lands which they may call their own, appears to be an important measure to encourage their industrious habits and promote their civilization.

To be subject to removal without their consent, or to be in suspense in regard to their title to lands, on which they may be making improvements, would have a discouraging tendency. This, at present, is among their most anxious inquiries, "Shall we have a good title for the lands on which we are to settle, like whitemen?"

To strengthen their desire for domestic life, and for improvements in agriculture and the arts, they should be secured in their possessions.

3. Instructions on temporal economy, are also essential, and to daily instructions should be added industrious examples. Men of industrious habits and pious deportment, to teach them the business of the farm and Mechanic arts, would be particularly useful and have a happy tendency to promote their civil improvements.

4. A compliance with their wishes, for having their children instructed is also an essential measure for carrying forward their improvements in civilization. The establishment of schools has been found to be among the most useful measures for their improvement. Few impediments to improvement are more difficult to overcome than those which arise from ignorance. To strengthen the mind by education, is next to the power of the Gospel, the most effectual means to check the influence of Pagan superstition and barbarism, and to introduce the refinements and blessings of civilized life.

In closing these remarks on this subject, the Committee would urge the importance of keeping up, without the least relaxation, the wholesome discipline, adopted from the beginning, of discouraging in all cases, the use of either ardent spirits or fermented liquors among the Indians. The temptation should be entirely removed. If the Indian indulge in the use of even Beer or Cider, he is frequently exposed to temptation from those who feel it their interest or pleasure to prostrate his virtue. In some instances, where the Indians have incautiously taken a glass of Cider or Beer, it has been found that Spirits have been mingled. The most natural and wholesome beverage for man is water, and nature and health require nothing more, except for Medical uses. For the Indians at least it is their safety and happiness to abstain wholly from the use of all fermented liquors.

Such are the measures pursued by the Canada Conference Missionary Society, for the conversion and improvement of the Indians. And such have been the success of the Gospel, and the measures pursued, that five bodies of the Missisauquahs and about two hundred of the Mohawks at Grand River and Bay Quinty, have been converted from intemperance and vice to become a praying and virtuous people. Among a people hitherto averse to all kinds of improvement in learning and industry, 16 Schools are now in operation where 400 children are instructed in learning.

Balance remaining in the Treasurer's hands. £25 12 11

Estimate for the Schools and Missions for the year ending August, 1830.—$3242 50, equal to £810 12 6. Deduct £25 12 11, and there remains the sum of £784 19 7 to be provided for the ensuing year.

NOTE.—Beside the sums acknowledged in the Treasurer's Report, the Society mentions with pleasure the liberal donations of various useful articles. They afford a timely supply, and add much to the convenience and comfort, as well of the Missionaries and Teachers, as to the destitute of both the aged and children.

Among the donations from various parts, are two quarto Bibles, forwarded by the British and Foreign Bible Society,—they were presented through G. Ryerson, Esq., and designed, the one for the River Credit Mission, the other for the Mission at Grape Island.

* For one month's service previous to Oct. 2, 1828, Mr. Jackson was paid £4 3s 4d. These two sums, together with the further sum of £3 15s. shews that Mr. J. has received the sum of £23 3s. 9d.
