BALDWIN SEES COUNTRY NEAR CIVIL WAR

PREMIER IN HOUSE DECLARES LABOR HEADS THREATEN GOVERNMENT

Sees No Use of Further Parleys Before Unconditional Withdrawal of Order For General Strike

SAYS TRADES CHIEFS LOSE CONTROL

Prime Minister Says Renewal of Subsidy Out of Question; Not Too Late To Avert Disaster, Asserts Prominent Labor Leader After Conference

Canadian Press.

LONDON, May 3.—Premier Baldwin today told the House of Commons that as a result of the order for a general strike at midnight tonight, the government finds itself challenged by an alternative government.

The Premier declared that the labor leaders organizing the strike were threatening the basis of orderly government and were nearer to proclaiming civil war than Great Britain had been for centuries.

Further talking would be wrong, the Premier said, unless the government get immediate and unconditional withdrawal of instructions for the general strike.

SAYS LEADERS LOSE CONTROL

He became convinced last night, he asserted, that A. Pugh, chairman of Trades Union Congress, and his colleagues were no longer in control of the situation within their own ranks.

The Premier said that it was no use disguising the facts of the seriousness of the situation with words that conceal the truth. He declared that he did not believe that there had been a thorough consultation with the rank and file of the Trades Union Council before the power of calling a general strike had been put into the hands of a small group of executives in London. This, he felt, was a gross travesty of every democratic principle.

GOVERNMENT DONE WITH SUBSIDY

Premier Baldwin told the House that continuance of the governmental subsidy to the coal industry was out of the question. He said that the government's single aim had been to obtain the assent of both parties to the recommendations in the recent report of the Royal Commission with a view to placing the industry on an efficient and self-supporting basis.

LONDON, May 3.—"It is not too late yet to avert the disaster. A tremendous lot depends on what happens in the next hour or so."

This pronouncement was made by a prominent trades union leader at the conclusion of a joint meeting of the Parliamentary Labor Party, the coal miners executive, and the joint council of the Trades Union Congress in the House of Commons this afternoon.

GOVERNMENT OPTIMISTIC

A government spokesman, talking to the newspapermen at noon, said: "News from the country is eminently satisfactory. There is no excitement and everything is normal. Offers of services are pouring in all over the country. Food stocks are normal, taking the country as a whole, and in many cases they are above the average."

The members of the executive of the Miners' Federation met this morning at the headquarters here, coming from the mining areas in response to telegrams summoning an emergency meeting. A. J. Cook, general secretary of the union, was quoted in an interview as saying: "The miners are locked out—denied the right of a living wage—their proposals received from the Premier were reductions of wages and longer hours. The whole trade union movement will prove to the government the solidarity of labor."

"This is labor's greatest effort to protect the mining community. We asked for peace and bread; the government and the coal owners are determined to give us a stone. We shall win the right to live in 1926."

WORKERS WILL WALK

In view of the prospective tie-up of transport, there was a big rush at the stores today for the purchase of bicycles, oil stoves and camp beds. The banks, financial institutions and big commercial firms, were arranging to have beds set up in their offices for those employees who live at a distance and have hired motor coaches to transport those living nearer.

The management of the county council tramways does not expect the drivers to report for work, in which case many thousands of workers due at their businesses and trades between six and eight o'clock in the morning, will have to find means of conveyance or walk.

MARKET PARALYZED.

The strike situation cast a pall of gloom over the financial district of London today, especially the stock exchange, where dealers and brokers feared to make quotations in any section lest selling orders be brought out. The only quotations up to noon in the gilt-edged section were the five per cent war loan at 99½, or one-quarter down, and the conversion loan at 74½, or one-half lower than Friday. All sections were quite nominal, and inquiries were quote prices produced no quotations.

The general strike, it is estimated,

Sidelights On British Strike

In effect midnight Monday.

Number of workers affected by strike call, including miners, 2,525,000.

Trades—Miners, 1,120,000; railwaymen, 410,000; railway clerks, 60,000; builders, 300,000; transport workers, 350,000; seamen, 60,000; printers, 120,000; iron workers, 100,000; electricians, 25,000.

Reasons—Trades Union Congress support of coal miners, who, after end of government's wage subsidy, declined to accept lower wages or old wage with an increase of hours of work.

Government's attitude—Workers' position is challenge to freedom. Government prepared by troops to prevent disorders and by voluntary assistance to transport necessities of life.

Union's attitude—"The Premier has declared war; we must prepare for the struggle."

It will be Great Britain's first general strike.

Famous previous general strikes: In Spain in 1917, 1918 and 1919. All industry stopped. Troops intervened, thousands of arrests made and numerous executions before order restored.

In Germany in 1923, when troops suppressed strike in Ruhr region. In Seattle, Wash., for two weeks in 1919.

In Havana in April, 1924. Martial law declared. Strike lasted one day.

May, 1924, in Buenos Ayres, Argentina, strikers sought reform in pension law and won victory after three days.

Attempts by Communists to call a general strike in Paris and Stockholm, in 1925, failed.

Victor Napoleon, Bonapartist pretender to the throne of France, died here this morning. He was stricken at his home in Brussels last week. The Prince was 64 years of age.

Victor Napoleon was born in 1862, grandson of King Jerome Bonaparte and cousin of Emperor Napoleon III. He never renounced his claim to the throne of France, and in 1866 like the late Duke of Orleans and the Duke of Guise, he was banished from the land of his birth. Like the Duke of Orleans, Victor made his home in Belgium.

Although he was not recognized by the Belgian court, Victor soon made the acquaintance of Princess Clémentine, daughter of the late Leopold II, who afterward became his wife.

FRANK HODGES, Secretary International Federation of Miners.

LONDON, May 3.—This is not the moment for an extravagant statement. However, I can say we are in communication with miners' organizations in the United States, Canada, Germany, Belgium, France and other continental countries.

A meeting of the Executive Board will be held shortly, the time and place to be announced soon. I believe I can state that miners' organizations in different countries, in accord with the resolution adopted at Brussels on April 17, will support to the best of their ability and in ways which seem best to them, the present grave struggle of British miners.

ENCOURAGING REPORTS

Fraser Companies Limited which operates for the Victoria mill this city on a number of streams, has received most encouraging reports. On the Nashwaak the drive will be in today. On the North Branch of the Oromocto the drive will be in today or Tuesday.

On Greer Creek the drive will be in tomorrow. On the Nashwaak the drive will be in today. The Victoria mill according to W. J. Gren, manager, will start on the season's operation on Monday next with logs which have been carried over, and those which have been cut on the Nashwaak.

On the Keswick river the main crew of the E. Burt Lumber Company goes in today. By the end of the week the Nashwaak River had been carried over by the lake ice. This dam is the property of the River Valley Lumber Company.

A. B. Smith, ex-M.P.P. left Oromocto this morning for the scene to investigate the extent of the damage and take measures. On the Nashwaak river driving conditions are excellent. Half a million feet of lumber was in the booms above Maryville, Sunday, with more coming. The Nashwaak Pulp and Paper Co. has about nine million feet on the Nashwaak, a cut much smaller than any in recent years.

Stanley Douglas, Ltd., with mills in Devon has drives on the Dunbar, Tay and Cross Creeks, in Nashwaak waters and on the Mactaquac. From all drives the reports are most encouraging except that there is rather too much water on the Mactaquac. The company expects to have its mill in operation in about a fortnight.

HEAR FAILURE PROBABLE CAUSE OF DEATH OF ALEXANDER McMANUS

Special to The Times-Star

SUSSEX, N. B., May 3.—Alexander McManus, gate tender at the Main street railway crossing here, was found dead this morning in the gate house. When the morning express from Saint John passed the crossing shortly before 9 o'clock, it was noticed that the crossing gates were not lowered, and on investigating, Mr. McManus was discovered lying on the floor at the foot of the stairs.

Dr. I. R. Murray was summoned, and after a brief examination pronounced the man dead and that death had apparently been caused by heart failure. The body was cold and death had evidently taken place several hours previous to the body being discovered.

Deceased was about 65 years of age and was formerly baggage-master at Hampton. His wife has charge of the station at Lakeside. Conductor James McManus of the C. N. R. is a brother. The body will be taken to Hampton for interment.

HONG KONG, May 3.—The failure of the Spanish flier, Captain Loriga to arrive at Macao, has caused deep concern in the Portuguese dependency. Captain Loriga left Hanoi, French Indo-China, Sunday morning, with his comrade, Captain Gallarza, the latter arriving Sunday evening at Macao, near Canton.

The airman is en route from Madrid to Manila. The Governor of Macao has ordered one and possibly two gunboats to conduct a search for Captain Loriga.

Strike Not To Effect Atlantic Sailings

NEW YORK, May 3.—No serious interruption to trans-Atlantic shipping as a result of the British coal strike is foreseen here. In anticipation of a situation as exists in Britain arising, arrangements have been made, according to an official of the International Mercantile Marine, to fuel vessels at this end of the run. It was further pointed out that the larger number of passenger liners flying across the Atlantic, are now equipped with oil-burning boilers, and do not require coal.

Robert A. Jaffray, who recently returned from China, said in a sermon Sunday. Rev. Mr. Jaffray stated that there were American and English teachers in China who denied the virgin birth, the bodily resurrection and miracles performed by Christ, as recorded in the Bible.

U. S. WILL COLLECT DOUBLE WAR LOANS

Ten and Half Billion Advanced; Over $22,000,000,000 to Be Received

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The debt commission virtually cleaned up its work of funding the United States ten billion dollars war loan with the conclusion Saturday of negotiations for a settlement of Jugo-Slavia's debt of $21,000,000.

Only a little more than $20,000,000 of the total war debt remains unfunded. The commission, however, has little hope of concluding early agreements with Russia and several smaller nations, which have not come to terms on account of the diplomatic situation and other considerations. Under the war debt funding program as announced last week, the United States is to receive in principal and interest $22,145,489,492 as a return for the $10,228,480,186 originally loaned.

Settlement of the French debt has opened the way to France to negotiate for private loans in the United States, with the consent of the United States government, it was disclosed Saturday.

Dr. H. Moskowitz Tells of Terrible Conditions in Poland and Russia

TORONTO, Ont., May 3.—Addressing delegates from Jewish communities throughout the province, Dr. Henry Moskowitz, president of the United Jewish Campaign organized for reconstruction work in Europe, appealed for some measure of relief from what he described as a dire situation, which even Dante could not have done justice. After graphically picturing the conditions of starvation, disease and miserable poverty existing in Poland, Russia and Bessarabia, where the work is to be carried on, Dr. Moskowitz concluded his address with a note of optimism as he spoke of the opportunities which might be opened up for these people. In Russia, particularly, he said, the Jews had a great potential future.

BUILDINGS HOUSING EXPLOSIVES FIRED AT NEW ABERDEEN

Success of Terrorism Effort Would Have Cost Lives STICKS OF EXPLOSIVE SCATTERED ABOUT Locks Broken and Holes Are Burned in Floor to Set Off Monobel

SYDNEY, N. S., May 2—A daring attempt to blow up morning, or early Sunday morning, two large powder magazines at No. 2 Colliery, the property of the British Empire Steel Corporation, situated at New Aberdeen, was reported from Glace Bay today.

Watchmen at the mine discovered that the buildings, one of which contained 500 pieces of explosive, including a quantity of gelatine, and the other 200 cases of high explosive detonating caps, had been entered and set afire.

Broken locks on the doors, smashed cases used for fuel and holes burned in the floor were indications found of what is generally believed to have been an attempt at terrorism, which, had it been successful, might have resulted in serious loss of life, as the buildings were situated about a quarter of a mile from the mine, are near a group of houses on Table Head.

DOUBLE LOCKS BROKEN Both buildings, which are built of brick, had double locks, which were broken, and in the powder magazine some five cases of monobel (gel powder) and gelatine. He based his opinion on the fact that monobel will burn without exploding and needs a shock to detonate it. The parties responsible were probably aware of this, and there are indications of a much higher level as there is much snow in the upper districts.

POTATOES AT $7 BBL. IN STATE OF MAINE Dullest Week of Season in Aroostook Market; Shippers Unloading CARBOU, Me., May 2—The dullest week of the season in the Aroostook potato market closed today with no change in the situation, very little demand, small haulings by growers and at the best prices offered at shipping points. The shippers seem to indicate a desire of buyers to get all their holdings to market and about 150 cars have been shipped in the past two days. Experts are expecting more activity the coming week, although the roads are bad in most places.

Several Hurt In Rough Trip Across Ocean

ST. PIERRE, Miq., May 2—The storm-battered French steamer Mulhouse, disabled during a tempestuous 29-day voyage from Milo, France, was anchored in St. Pierre harbor today. The Mulhouse wallowed in heavy seas for 12 days before the steamer Pro Patria, answering her call for help, came to her aid and towed her into port. She carried 75 passengers and a crew of 24. Several sailors were injured in the rough passage. Captain Labrousse said that he had never encountered such weather. The Mulhouse was damaged in the last voyage. While fighting a storm on April 11, the rudder system broke. Next day the rudder itself went to pieces.

CELEBRATE ABOUT GAGETOWN POLE

Citizens Then Adjourn to Public Hall For Social Time GAGETOWN, May 2—A Maypole was put in position on the ice in the river opposite Upper Gagetown on Saturday morning in the presence of a large number of the citizens. The pole was gaily decorated with red, white and blue streamers and a British flag flew from the top. A placard with the inscription "Upper Gagetown, May 1, 1926" was also attached to the pole. At 1.30 in the afternoon the ice in the river began to move and the pole was left in place. It was still seen about dusk on its way down the river. The citizens of the community would appreciate it if anyone farther down the river who may observe the pole would notify them.

Following the ceremony the citizens adjourned to the public hall where a social time was spent. Farther up river the ice began to move down at 2 p.m. on Sunday. At Gagetown it was well under way at 4.30 o'clock and has been steadily running since. The water is rising and there are indications of a much higher level as there is much snow in the upper districts.

On Thursday afternoon two canoes, presumably those of muskrat hunters, were observed crossing the river at Hampton. They were being carefully guided between the icefloes.

ATTACK IMPENDS IN PEACE RIVER CASE

EFFORT TO UPSET ELECTION SLATED More Sensations Talked of in Expected Customs Disclosures OTTAWA, May 2—Political activities during the coming week give promise of being productive of unusual interest. Rumors that further sensational evidence will be adduced before the customs committee within the next few days are in circulation. The committee resumes its sittings on Tuesday morning. The probability is that the work of hearing witnesses will not be terminated for three weeks.

A petition on behalf of J. A. Collins, who opposed Mr. Kennedy as Conservative candidate in the general election, asking for a declaration that Mr. Kennedy is not entitled to sit as representative for Peace River, has already been presented to parliament by Mr. Bennett.

TOMORROW—AND THEN, WHAT?

Tomorrow, unless the strike of the British miners is settled in the meantime, Great Britain will be thrown into one of the greatest industrial conflicts in its history by a general walk-out of 5,000,000 workers in all the vital services of the country. Looking on from afar, we in this country may fail to grasp the full significance of what such a crisis might mean to the Motherland. In the event of a general strike, the situation will be, briefly, this—Every railwayman, dockman and transport worker will quit his job, thus causing a complete tie-up of transportation—which must inevitably result in a complete stoppage of industry—unless the Government's preparatory measures to meet such an emergency prove sufficient to keep things moving—as many are certain will be the case. With that situation in effect for only a few days, almost anything might happen when more realizes that England depends on more than half of her food supplies on imports from abroad, the seriousness of such a crisis as is pending can be appreciated.

Underlying the situation is the reputed inability of the mine owners to make the coal industry a profitable one. When the country faced a similar situation last July the operators argued that only a cut in wages could prevent the total abandonment of an unprofitable industry; the miners replied that the existing scale was a starvation wage and reduction was out of the question. As a stop-gap the Government agreed to subsidizing the operation of the mines to keep them open. Now, the term of the subsidy having expired, the whole question is back at the starting point. Both sides agree that the industry is in a bad way. The employers assert that the only remedy is lower wages. The workers' leaders say no. They claim that an entire re-organization is necessary, as embodied in the Sankey Commission's report seven years ago, in which the present system of ownership and operation "stands condemned and some other system must be substituted for it, either nationalization, or a method of control by national, purchase, or joint control."

At that time, according to the Labor leaders, the Government promised to adopt the Sankey report in spirit and in letter but to date, they claim, it has not carried out its pledges. Is it yet too late? If not, wherein does the remedy lie?

Individually and on the whole, the British coal miners are a human, sensible lot of men. Unfortunately, however, they are under the sway of A. J. Cook, secretary of the Miners' Federation, and an avowed Communist; he is in the key position in an industry in which there is a greater opportunity for trouble than any other in the land. It is practically bankrupt; the men are underpaid. The operators admit that but argue that they cannot pay a living wage and compete in the world market. Mr. Cook has an ideal stamping ground for his Communist activities.

But on the other side of the picture is J. H. Thomas, the Railwaymen's leader, a tower of strength in his organization—and a man of keen perception who before this was instrumental in saving off a national industrial calamity.

Will the sagacity and sane-minded persuasion of Thomas be able to counteract the Red influence of Cook? This seems to be the crux of the situation by England today. Will the laboring public take a measure of consideration in the deliberations? Or will the Labor Federation barge ahead, heedless of consequences? These are questions which naturally arise as the country faces this great impasse. If Thomas was true to form there is still hope. If he is swept aside by the Red element, who can tell what will happen?

(La Presse.)

Or one thing the people of the British Empire may be sure. At long last Britain will vindicate its right not only to live but to flourish; its determination that no class shall dictate to the nation will be justified.

It may be that the general strike will be averted at the last hour. It may be that it will break after a few days of menace and struggle. If, unhappily, the opposing forces grapple for the long test, Britain, true to its habit of a thousand years, a period which has included seemingly hopeless foreign wars, national despair and the black shadow of national bankruptcy, will emerge from the grim battle, breathing hard, but stronger than ever before. "There's something in the English after all."

The outlook in the overseas Dominions, in order to keep true their sense of proportion, and in order to measure accurately that which may come, must keep Britain's past in mind. Doing that, they are justified in feeling the utmost confidence that, however grave the situation may appear today, and even though it appear indelibly worse tomorrow, the British people will deal successfully with this problem, as down through the centuries

INFORMATION PLEASE.

When Mr. W. L. McFarlane left his grip on the platform at Moncton and somebody walked off with it the Chief Inspector was hopeful that the bag had been taken by mistake, but inclined to believe that it might have been taken by someone in search of information. Now, that clears up a mystery which has puzzled us for long.

A man takes a grip from the rack and nods to a friend across the car. They disappear together. Of course the first is going to impart information to the second. It may be they are seen later and the bag is open, disclosing towels, pajamas and so on. They hold glasses in their hands. The third for information without a doubt! They scowl suspiciously at every intruder. Information is not disseminated to all and sundry; a man pays highly to obtain just the information he fancies and cannot afford to be lavish in its distribution. Apparently information is all the better for a "chase" from the ice-water tap. How wonderfully concrete and abstract parallel!

We live and learn; but we must confess that the idea that information was the object of this quest would have entered our head if somebody had stolen our grip. And if Mr. McFarlane happens to have missed his guess—well, the joke is on the sneak-thief who picked a bag belonging to the Chief Prohibition Inspector.

The Only Worth While Things to Strive For

(Christian Science Monitor.)

As he stood before 5,000 people in Tremont Temple, Boston, on Sunday last, and spoke for a few minutes on the subject of the "Only Worth While Things to Strive For," the speaker, who had been thought of up till then as little more than a remarkable runner, showed that he was much more. For he showed that he knew something of the things which are the prerogative of every one, but the goal of which is often lost sight of in the chase. He recognized the importance of that race. The only great prize, he urged, is eternal life. The only worth while things to strive for are the love, belief and service of God.

It was a simple message that he brought to his hearers, but it made them forget the Marathon winner in the more forceful preacher of the gospel. "Since Monday I have had a wonderful time," he declared, adding: "I have met your prominent men, your Governor, your high officials; visited your historic places and been greeted by crowds of people. But this is the greatest honor I have received, the one of which I am most proud, to be here with you in God's house in the fellowship of those assembled to do God's work."

A little later he spoke to some young men along the same general lines. "It is wonderful to win—to enjoy the public and share-time glory," he said. "But after all what does it amount to? Today you win, and you are a hero—tomorrow you lose, and you are nothing and forgotten. But when you run for God, you are striving for one who never forgets, with that spirit in his heart, Jack Miles should be heard from in the future as a winner and a greater contest than he won the other day."

Rulers Needed.
(Ottawa Droll.)

We need, at the head of a country like ours, men of broad mind, who understand the different economic interests, who show respect for the national and religious traditions of each group, and who would be energetic in check and to keep the disturbing elements in check and would establish the rule of law and peace. Men of fine discrimination who have in plenty, almost too many of them. But of what use are their fine instincts if they will not turn them into action, if they will persist in leaving the field open to the enemies of national unity?

Credits to Customers.
(La Presse.)

To buy on easy terms, that is to say, to pledge your future resources, to buy objects of doubtful utility, in order to satisfy covetous instincts, objects which are unproductive and deteriorate rapidly, cannot be justified except by those who have an assured revenue on which they can count without risks. This is where the shoe pinches, where the abuse comes in; for it is only too certain that very frequently this is not the case with those who profit by this method of purchases on which they are very likely to be repaid.

Merry-Go-Round in a Harem.
(San Francisco Argonaut.)

Colonel Harry H. Armistead, the well-known traveler, has returned with a tale of an experience in Turkey last winter, while he was visiting a potentate who had conceived a novel method of amusing the ladies of his harem. In the garden was installed a merry-go-round, imported from the United States. Several of the wives of his host were mounted on the wooden horses and the steam organ was blaring out a tune strangely familiar to the American. Noting an amused smile on the face of his guest, the colonel asked the reason. "I told him it was an old song that I liked," said the colonel. "I didn't have the courage to tell him my organ was playing 'There's Only One Girl in This World for Me.'"

After beginning life in London as a stock broker, Rufus Isaacs, who was born in 1860, took up the study of law. He was 40 years of age before he began to receive recognition, but in 1904, coincident with his admission to the Middle Temple, he returned again as vicary of the vicarage.

He held his seat for nine years. In 1910 he was named solicitor-general, and in 1912, when the Conservative government was in power, he was made attorney-general.

In 1918 that he was appointed lord chief justice of England, and in 1921 he was made a member of the Privy Council. He was appointed vicary of India in 1921.

His appointment as vicary of India was a great honor, and he was the first British citizen to hold that office. He was the first British citizen to be appointed vicary of India.

When the Calcutta riots of December, 1921, still brought no action from the Government House, Englishmen began to wonder if it were not a weakling that the King had sent to govern India. It was wise statesmanship that stayed government action while united India was clamoring with Gandhi against British rule.

It was not until 1922 that he was well as well, and the British had had to quarrel with Mohammedan and Hindu politicians over matters of policy, that Lord Reading spoke. He ordered the arrest of Gandhi, whose divided followers could make only a feeble protest.

The present honor was conferred on him at the conclusion of his five years' Indian service.

It happens that certain of our fellow French-Canadians, influenced by unjust feelings of depreciation or inclined only to judge by appearances or preconceived ideas, admitted perhaps by that malady common to so many people, a narrowness of mind, do not lose an opportunity of disparaging the country of their origin. It is true that the sentiment of the better French-Canadian elements condemns these detractors; but it is well to preserve our pride of race in the minds of all.

POEMS HOME

BY CHARLES HANSON TOWNE

The Precept of Silence," by Lionel Johnson.

LIONEL Johnson was identified that flaming group of young poets who amazed England, and the whole English-speaking world in the mid-Victorian spirit, and they preceded to despair—though I doubt it—Tennyson and Wordsworth. Some of them, like Johnson and Ernest Dowson, wrote a number of authentic poems, and at their best, they were decidedly worth watching. Johnson's longer poem, "By the Statue of King Charles at Charing Cross," has been hailed as one of the finest poems of his period. I like this simple sonnet quite as well.

I know you: solitary griefs, Desolate passions, aching hours! I know you: tremulous beliefs, Agonised hopes, and aches and fears! The winds are sometimes sad to me; Mine is the sorrow on the sea, And mine the sigh of places drear.

THE BEST OF ADVICE
By CLARY KINNAIRD

WE frequently speak of the "wisdom of the ages," as if wisdom had been accumulating all down the centuries since man's beginning. If this were so we should be very much wiser than we are.

But are we? Can we honestly think we have attained even a small amount more wisdom in, say, the management of public affairs, in tolerance, in open-mindedness, than was in evidence nearly 2,400 years ago, when that fine old Greek philosopher, Socrates, walked the streets of Athens and taught the youth of the city.

Socrates, you remember, was arrested, tried and sentenced to death because he "knew something of his own work, but they assumed much wisdom that he did not possess, thinking apparently that because he worked well in his own art he possessed knowledge of another and a higher nature."

His grand old man of ancient Athens believed to be the greatest wisdom—to know that you are not wise, and therefore to be afraid of nothing not even of death. "For to fear death, citizens, is nothing at all but to think you are wise when you are not wise,—to think you know what you do not know. For no one knows what death is, or whether it may be the greatest of all goods to men; and do they fear it, as if they know it to be the greatest evil; and what is this but the same old disgraceful ignorance,—that of thinking you know what you do not know?"

It is wisdom to be found among our statesmen, or would our experience be like that of Socrates when he approached a man who was adjudged wise? "It seemed to me," he says, "that this man had the appearance of being wise in the eyes of many others, and most of all in his own, but in reality was not wise. Whereupon I tried to convince him that he only thought himself wise but was not really so, and consequently I became an object of hatred to him and to many of those who were present. And as I went along I reasoned thus within myself: 'I am wiser than this man; for it may well be that neither of us knows anything really beautiful and good, but he thinks that he knows something when he knows nothing, whereas I neither know nor think that I know anything. I do therefore seem to be wiser than he, at least in this particular, that what I know not, I do not even think I know.'"

SAY, what's the diff if your plans go smash, an' a thought turns out as a heap of trash? It can't hurt you a bit, but it won't a bit, if the stuff you've got make you never quit.

You can't quite expect every thought that's sent, to bring forth results of a hundred per cent. Some things, undertaken, fall shy now and then, while others, old top, you can try again.

The fellow who figures and plans all day, and sticks to his task in his own sweet way, can feel fairly sure that he'll reach the top, when setbacks and such never make him stop.

The easiest way is to give right in—that is, if you never expect to win. But the better way, when the going's rough, is to plug on through—'an' show your stuff.

ASSERTION CITY
OVERCHURCHED
IS DISCUSSED

Rev. H. A. Goodwin and
Rev. H. C. Rice
Speak

FORMER SPEAKER
GIVES FIGURES

Latter Sees Need In Arresting Drift From Church

An assertion recently made that Saint John was over-churched, was taken up by two of the city clergymen in sermons last evening. Rev. H. A. Goodwin speaking in Portland United church on "The Church Relation to the Community," said that at present the family pew was out of fashion and expressed a belief that the rented pew in some church was a detriment to a large attendance. He questioned whether the members of today were as zealous in worship as were their fathers, and deprecated the practice of having spectacular services causing people to wander from the home church, destroying the sense of worship and the sense of real church home. He appealed to his congregation for loyalty and support of the home church.

SOME FIGURES GIVEN
With reference to the number of churches in the city, Mr. Goodwin said:

"Experts have said that 27 per cent of the people on the continent attend church, but that 98 per cent of the social work that is done is done by that 27 per cent who attend church. With regard to the suggestion that we are over-churched in our city, the Catholics claim one-third of the population and they have six churches in the city proper. The Protestants have two-thirds of the population and they have 88 churches. Thirty years ago there was a Protestant population of 28,000 and at that time we had 40 churches. Today there is a Protestant population of 38,000 with 98 churches. No person complained 30 years ago that we were over-churched. All the churches were prospering and the city was filled but in the 30 years we have gained 7,000 Protestant people and we have lost a seating capacity of 1,200 in the loss of two churches." Mr. Goodwin felt that the statistics proved that as the people of 30 years ago thought the city not over-churched the problem today was not too many churches but how to get the people to attend the churches.

Mr. Goodwin also said: "As the Catholic church has a rotation of parishes in the same building from 6 o'clock until noon, therefore one Catholic church does the work of three other congregations than a Protestant church. If the Protestant people would attend services in rotation with the Catholic people, then no doubt half the Protestant church buildings could be closed, but the Protestant people demand church home to accommodate the entire constituency."

AT QUEEN SQUARE
Rev. H. C. Rice preaching in the Queen Square church, said the church stood for the highest ideals in human society and was the motive power of all philosophies, but in 30 years there had been a drift away from the church and an American writer estimated that less than 40 per cent of the population attended church while in England the percentage was still less. In Saint John there were many who had the habit of absenting themselves from the church. With reference to the statement that this city was over-churched he considered that to determine that matter satisfactorily would need a careful survey. The survey might reveal a need of a new group but he thought the matter in Saint John, as in many other cities, was not that it was over-churched, but the question how to arrest the drift away from the church. Rev. Mr. Rice agreed that there were too many churches in the people secularized the Lord's Day and passed their time in other ways from church worship. If all the people in Saint John were real churchgoers the churches would not have excellent seating accommodation. He spoke of the church as the place where God manifested Himself to His people and pointed out how readily people were discouraged from attending church. Rain on Sunday was a much wetter rain than that which fell on week-days. It seemed, by the reluctance of people to brave the weather to go to church, Mr. Rice held that the real problem of the city was low to bring the people to take a vital interest in higher things.

Editorial Causes Strike And Suspension of London Paper

LONDON, Monday morning, May 3—"For King and Country" was the title of the editorial written for today's (Monday's) edition of the Daily Mail and which caused a strike and suspension of the newspaper when printers disagreed with the tone of the editorial. The editorial declared that a general strike cannot be tolerated by any civilized government. The Daily Mail informed the Associated Press the printers took exception to the editorial and demanded that alterations be made by the editor, who refused to comply. The printers, supported by the machine managers, stereotypers and packers although not by the compositors, process workers and telegraph operators, ceased work. Consequently the paper was unable to appear. The Mail's editorial included the following: "We do not wish to say anything hard about the miners themselves. As to their leaders, all we need say at the moment is that some of them are under the influence of people who mean no good to this country. A general strike is not an industrial dispute, it is a revolutionary movement intended to inflict suffering upon the great mass of innocent workers and thereby put forcible restraint upon the government. It is a movement that can only succeed by destroying the government and subverting the rights and liberties of the people. This being the case it cannot be tolerated by any civilized government and must be dealt with by every resource at the disposal of the community. A state of emergency and national danger has been proclaimed to resist the attack. We call upon all law-abiding men and women to hold themselves at the service of King and Country."

GRADUATES SPEAK FOR UNIVERSITY

Addresses at Function at Beatty Hotel With Law Students Guests

The dinner given by the N. B. University Club and the Law Faculty to the students of the Law School Saturday at the Admiral Beatty Hotel proved an enjoyable function. In replying to the "University," Mayor W. W. White said this was the first time he had been honored with an opportunity to reply to the toast to his Alma Mater. He gave a brief review of the history of the institution. The reply to the toast of "Our Guests" was by Dr. F. R. Taylor, K. C., and Percy H. Steeves.

DR. TAYLOR HEARD
Dr. Taylor paid his tribute to the fine work which had been done by the Law School while operating under the University of King's College, and he was glad that the University of New Brunswick, his Alma Mater, had seen fit to take over the school and make law one of the regular courses of study. Being a state university, U. N. B. was under a great disadvantage as many alumni felt that the province should attend to its financial needs. Fortunately this idea was gradually passing from the minds of the former students, and the attitude at the present was that those who were able to do so should come to the assistance of the institution which gave them their early opportunity of getting an education.

Percy H. Steeves thanked the members of the U. N. B. Club for entertaining the students of the Law School and said that it was such functions that made them feel that they were in reality a part of the student body of the University. Before the signing of the National Anthem Mr. Stead announced that the usual reception for the graduating classes of the local High School would be held some time during the month.

Those present at the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey Stead, Mayor White, Dr. and Mrs. F. R. Taylor, Mrs. V. K. Forsythe, Miss Alma K. Gale, Percy H. Steeves, Mr. and Mrs. John N. THOUSAND AT PUBLIC HOLY YEAR SERVICES

Cathedral Congregation Members Attend At Three Churches

SINGING LED BY CHILDREN'S CHOIR

Impressive Scene On Sunday Afternoon As Making of Jubilee Begins

The first public observance of the Holy Year Jubilee exercises by members of the Cathedral parish took place yesterday afternoon when about 1,000 attended the special devotions, first in the Cathedral, then in Holy Trinity church, and then in St. Peter's church.

the public observance. While those making the exercises yesterday did not march in procession from church to church, they formed in procession to enter each of the three churches in turn.

At 2:30 the procession entered the Cathedral preceded by the Bishop and Father Duke with cross bearer and acolytes. The prescribed prayers for the intention of His Holiness the Pope were recited and Arthur S. Goddard was at the organ and the choir of girls led the singing. Holy Trinity church was entered at 3:15 p.m. and the same prayers were recited and the same sacred music sung. At St. Peter's church at 4 o'clock the same exercises were carried out.

IN ST. JOHN THE BAPTIST. Rev. William Duke spoke in St. John the Baptist church at the 10 o'clock mass yesterday morning regarding the Eucharistic Congress to be held this year in Chicago.

THREE MORE. It was an impressive sight as the large number entered the several churches and walked through the streets on the way to Holy Trinity and St. Peter's. At Holy Trinity not all were able to get into the church and many had to follow the exercises as they stood outside. Then the assemblage wended its way to St. Peter's by way of Rockland road, Main street and Douglas avenue.

There are three more similar ceremonies to be held in the public making of the Cathedral Jubilee and these will be on the three remaining Sundays of May.

At the 9:15 o'clock mass in the Cathedral yesterday His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc spoke on the Holy Year Jubilee. He announced that the children of the congregation would not take part in the exercises of yesterday but would make their jubilee visits later.

Ordinarily the visits are made privately, but in order to facilitate the attendance of the Cathedral parish congregation Father Duke arranged for

TALKS AT TORONTO ON MARITIME CASE

Freight Rates Rise to 45 Cts. Per 100 Lbs. From 16 Cts. in Period, Says M. P.

TORONTO, May 2.—Manufacturing output which had decreased in five years from $160,000,000 to $23,000,000 and freight rate charges which had increased during the same period from 16 cents per hundred pounds to 45 cents per hundred pounds were mentioned as the salient features in the Maritime problem in the address which A. de Witt Foster, M. P. for Hants-Kings, N. S., delivered Friday evening in St. John's Hall to the Ward Eight Liberal-Conservative Association.

GIVEN OVATION

Mr. Foster was the speaker of the evening at a rally and smoker which the Ward Eight Association held. His remarks were given the closest attention, and his plea for assistance from Central Canada to the outlying parts of the Dominion in order to build up an ovation at the close. The Maritimes, he said, were ever ready, as in the past, to support great projects of interest to the progress of the other parts of the country, such as the St. Lawrence development. They asked in return, however, that the other parts of Canada consider the handicap under which the Maritimes were placed by the country's geography, and afford what help might be possible to overcome the situation.

SITUATION IN MARITIMES

Touching upon the situation in the Maritimes, he mentioned the decline in manufactured output in five years from $160,000,000 to $23,000,000, and the increase in the freight rates to Central Canada at the same time from 16 cents to 45 cents per hundred pounds. It was no wonder, he commented, that an industry which had formerly been shipping 200 cars now shipped only 17. Mr. Foster dilated upon the practical value of adjusting freight rates so that the Maritimes should be placed in a position to compete for the country's trade. What did it matter, he asked, if an article were made to cost a trifle more, if the increase were more than compensated by employment afforded to Canadian workers. There were brains enough in the House of Commons, he declared, to evolve a freight rate structure which would build up Eastern Canada industry instead of putting it out of business.

POUND STERLING IS AFFECTED BY STRIKE

Shows Sharp Falling Off as Does Belgian and French Francs

United Press

LONDON, May 2.—The pound sterling showed a sharp falling off at the opening of the foreign exchange here today, reflecting the chaos of a general strike ahead. The pound was quoted at $4.85 5/8, off 17-32 from Saturday's closing level. Belgian and French francs fell to new low records, the French quoted at 148 1/2 to the pound sterling, and the Belgian 145. At Saturday's close the Belgian currency was 148 to the pound, and the French 147.35.

Mr. Foster was the speaker of the evening at a rally and smoker which the Ward Eight Association held. His remarks were given the closest attention, and his plea for assistance from Central Canada to the outlying parts of the Dominion in order to build up an ovation at the close. The Maritimes, he said, were ever ready, as in the past, to support great projects of interest to the progress of the other parts of the country, such as the St. Lawrence development. They asked in return, however, that the other parts of Canada consider the handicap under which the Maritimes were placed by the country's geography, and afford what help might be possible to overcome the situation.

Next time—say Carnation to your grocer. You'll be in good company. Throughout the world today, more people buy Carnation than any other brand of evaporated milk!

NAVAL RESERVE AND CADETS IN CHURCH PARADE

Make Fine Showing Sunday In March To Trinity

WREATH PLACED ON WAR MEMORIAL

Lads of Boy Scouts and Cubs of St. George's Dedicated

The Saint John Company of the R. N. V. R. and the cadets of the city were paraded to the morning service at Trinity church yesterday and both organizations made a very smart appearance and attracted much attention as they marched through the city streets headed by their own band.

Rev. C. Gordon Lawrence, rector of Trinity, conducted the service and gave an impressive sermon, pointing out the obligation of service and telling the members of the two organizations that they must have the courage to carry through the tasks which he called upon them to perform.

On its route of march from its headquarters in Charlotte street to the vic war memorial and in a simple but very impressive ceremony paid a tribute to a naval dead by placing a wreath at the foot of the monument and standing uncovered as the bugles played "The Last Post." It was the annual church parade of the company and held nearly on the anniversary of the title of Zebrugge as could be arranged conveniently.

THOSE IN COMMAND

The naval reservists were in command of Lieut. Paul B. Cross and their glee band was making its first appearance at a church parade. The band gave a very fine performance and the boys marched well.

The cadets were in charge of Capt. V. Palin and assembled at the morning. On the march they were led by the St. Andrew's church lads in uniform of the "Black Watch." The cadets numbered between 100 and 150 and all were in their uniform. They paraded in dapper fashion and their marching was highly creditable.

FLAGS DEDICATED

To the impressive service of dedication of the flags of the Boy Scouts and Wolf Cubs of St. George's church, held in the church yesterday morning, junior organizations of the church marched from the Sunday school to church in a body and were seated either.

The service was conducted by Rev. in Unsworth, the rector, who gave a sermon. The organizations which corporate attendance were the W. A., under the leadership of Willis Waring; the G. S. I., under the leadership of Miss Alice Lee; Wolf Cubs, with their assistant master, Stanley Olive, and the Scouts, with their assistant Scoutmaster, Donald Colwell.

The dedication ceremony was carried after the opening of the morning service, Frank Lord and Harold Ringe the Scout flags to the church and a Vinny carried the Wolf Cub flag.

Guide Charges Assault on Self and Insults to Premier Mussolini

ROME, May 3.—The preliminary examination by a magistrate in the case of John Adams Abbott, member of a noted Boston family, who is in prison charged by a Roman guide, Astrolago with having assaulted him and insulted Premier Mussolini, began with the presentation by the attorney-general of the depositions of the plaintiff and two witnesses, alleged substantiating his charges. Abbott and Astrolago got into an altercation several days ago, and Abbott soundly thrashed the guide, whose friends called carabinieri. Abbott was taken to jail and immediately accused of having used derogatory language against Mussolini. He has been in jail ever since, notwithstanding the effort of the United States consulate to have him set at liberty.

SPRING RUSH ON IN OCEAN TRAVEL

Applications For Passports Increase in March - Peak in May

NEW YORK, May 2—The spring rush of ocean travelers is on. The expected advance in the number of passport applications over last year is already shown, the passports issued in March reaching the total of 16,502, of 17 per cent more than in March of last year, according to the records of the Division of Passport Control of the State Department at Washington. This number is double that issued in February of the present year, and present indications are that the figures for April will double those of March. Klahr Huddle, chief of the division, expects the busiest month will be May. During the month of May of last year, 1,700 passports a day were issued, it was pointed out, and the division this year is prepared to issue up to 2,000 a day during the same month.

The Department of State is now issuing the new type of passport to all applications, the old "blanket" style having been exhausted. The new passports are 3 1/4 inches by 6 inches in size, and consist of 32 pages, the first half dozen pages containing the passport proper, including the photograph of the applicant, and the remaining pages being for visas and extensions.

The passport is considerably simplified in wording as well as form, making for efficiency and expedition in issuing. Passports are now put through the department in two days, and can be handled in briefier time if necessary is shown.

Nevertheless, applications for passports should mail their applications two or three weeks in advance of sailing, it is stated at the Passport Bureau in order to avoid delays which result when applications are improperly prepared. Applications sent to Washington from far distant points should, if possible, be sent to Washington four weeks before sailing date. Applications can be made out at any Federal or State Court authorized to deal with naturalization matters.

The new passport regulations which have just been made public by an Executive order, include the

Celebrators Extol Russia and Hear Addresses From Lorry

MONTREAL, May 2—No disturbances, such as marred the celebration of May Day last year, featured the parade here on Saturday when the annual procession toward the Champ de Mars was held and addresses were delivered denouncing the "capitalists" and upholding the glory of Russia.

The parade was scheduled to lead to the Champ de Mars, but the police authorities decreed otherwise, and it was halted at St. Gabriel street.

Small red flags were carried, but the flaming streamers of last year, forbidden by the police, were absent. In the ranks of the marchers were over 100 children carrying distinctive red banners, while many women took part in the march.

Banners bore the legends "Get Behind the Strikers of Great Britain," "Down With Mussolini and His Fascist Murderers of Matteotti," etc.

The parade was headed by a band which rendered the "Internationale" and was guided by a number of city detectives. The latter had little to do.

ON AUTO JOURNEY TO SAINT JOHN TO LIVE

Mrs. Charles Inch and Daughters Are Coming Here From Omaha

An interesting announcement is that Mrs. Inch, widow of Dr. Charles Inch, formerly of this province, and her two grown daughters, are en route by automobile from their home in Omaha, Nebraska, accompanied by their two young daughters, where they will take up their residence. The party left on April 16, and is expected to arrive in Saint John, Miss Reed, 197 Mount Pleasant avenue, will reach Saint John this week. The trip is of the leisurely order, but Mrs. Inch and her daughters will probably establish the long-distance arrival record for 1926, if not eclipsing previous marks. It was not the intention to try for any automobile records but arrive here, but they did fail to create one nevertheless.

REV. HUGH MILLER SPEAKS ON OUR DEAD

Pastor of St. David's Discusses "Is There Second Chance?"

"Our Dead, Is There a Second Chance" was the title of Rev. Hugh Miller's concluding sermon in St. David's church last evening in his special series. He first reviewed his two former studies, the place of the dead and the recognition in the future life. These two studies dealt with the future of believers. There was another class to be considered, he remarked, those who did not accept Christ on earth and who on the other hand never rejected Him.

The subject was approached by several lines of thought; first, by our desires. We gladly give those who fall after a second and a third chance, and it was asked "Will God do less?" Second, by those who never have had a chance, and those to whom Christ was presented in such a light that they turned away from Him and those who had lived up to the light given them. Would these be condemned, forgiven or have another chance?

When we turn to Scripture, said the preacher, we are again met with silence. Though the Bible does not give an absolutely definite pronouncement the effect of its teaching is to create the belief that the present life is our probation time. It everywhere calls for immediate conviction. This has been the general belief of the church. Revelation gives no hope that those who willfully reject the offer will turn to Christ in the future life. Now is the day of Salvation.

Music of a special character was submitted by choir members. Mrs. McKel sang "O Rest in the Lord," an anthem was sung on "God So Loved the World," and there was a selected contribution of a fine type by a male quartette.

THREE FREED ON CHARGE MADE BY C. P. CONSTABLE

Street Case Cause of Argument Over Manner of Arrest

There was considerable argument in the police court this morning as to the legality of the arrest of John Lynch, 23, Thomas E. Keeler, 28, and James Hayes, 21, arrested about 1:30 o'clock on Sunday morning by Sergeant Sullivan and Policemen Killen, Gaudet and Garnett. They were taken at the request of George Curry, C. P. R. constable, who accused them of assaulting him. As the assault was of a slight nature, they were let go as the magistrate considered they had undergone sufficient punishment by their stay in jail.

COMPLAINANT TESTIFIES

George Curry, the complainant, said that he was going home about 1:30 a. m. on Sunday morning, leaving duty, when in Union street near the Pythian Club, he said four men approached on the other side of the street, singing. He stopped to look at them and one of them said, "Take a good look." He walked across the street and the witness told of the altercation that followed, during which, he said, they called him a liar and used profane language. He declared Lynch was the one that did the talking. The assault consisted in Lynch threatening him and taking him by the wrist.
