DECISION ON THE BLOCKADE

Important Action by League of Nations Assembly.

Amendment to Article 16 of Covenant—Some Smaller Members Gain a Point—The Hon. C. J. Doherty's Amendment Goes Over.

Geneva, Oct. 5.—The assembly of the League of Nations took definite action yesterday on two important matters. It unanimously adopted an amendment to Article 16 of the league covenant relating to the blocking of any member resorting to war in disregard of the provisions of the covenant, and also a resolution postponing consideration of an amendment proposed last year by Argentina, providing that all sovereign states would automatically become members of the league.

Article 16 as amended imposes upon council the duty of giving an opinion whether a breach of the covenant has taken place, and, in the event that it has, the council will notify the league members of the date which it recommends for the application of economic pressure. The council also is empowered, in certain cases, to postpone the coming into force of any of the measures specified in the article, where there is possibility of attaining the desired object by this means.

Switzerland, the Scandinavian countries and other smaller members gained a point in the amendment of this article which leaves a way out of obligation to blockade when the council may give a dissenting vote. The amendment is characterized as "the slow and sure" policy was applied to Argentina's proposition to make all sovereign countries automatically members of the league and in the case of the amendment proposed by the former Canadian minister of justice, Hon. Charles J. Doherty.

The assembly rejected a Czech-Slovak amendment to Article 21, which recognized the Monroe Doctrine. It was decided that the article as it stands authorizes such regional agreements as the Czech-Slovak amendment had in view.

WATCH FRIEND BURN TO DEATH

Automobile Turns Over and Catches Fire Near Hamilton, Ont.

Hamilton, Ont., Oct. 5.—Forced to stand by and see his friend roasted to death was the harrowing experience of three Oakville men on the Toronto-Hamilton highway when the automobile they were riding in turned turtle in a ditch, took fire and burned the body of John Forester, the driver, also of Oakville, almost to a cinder.

The three men, who escaped with a bad shaking up and minor burns, are Bert Wilson, George Robinson and Joseph Lyon.

Mr. Forester, thirty-eight years of age, who was a well known painter and decorator of Oakville, was returning from Guelph, where he and his three companions had visited friends.

For a number of years he had been active in the local volunteer fire brigade, and was captain of No. 2 company. He was an Oddfellow and a member of the Methodist church.

COUNTY JAILS ON STANDARD PLAN

Chief Justice Mulock's Advice to Municipal Councils—Fewer Escapes.

Hamilton, Ont., Oct. 5.—Chief Justice Mulock in instructing the grand jury yesterday advocated the adoption of standard plans for the building of county jails. At present county councils build jails with only their own ideas to guide them but with the advice of experts in their work safer jails would be erected and fewer escapes would result.

More Delay in Announcing The Date of Elections

Ottawa, Oct. 5.—(Canadian Press)—Sir James Loughheed, acting premier, said today that late developments made it possible that the date of the election would not be decided upon until the end of this week.

But for the delay in securing the complete lists of returning officers from the provinces, he said, the date would have been announced yesterday.

HAPPY BRIDES OF AUTUMN DAY

Gandy-Morrison. A pretty wedding and one of much interest was solemnized this morning at ten o'clock in St. David's church, when Rev. J. A. MacKeigan united in the holy matrimony Miss Elizabeth Robertson Morrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson Morrison, 100 Leinster street, to G. E. Gandy, son of Harold Gandy and Arthur Gandy, 250 St. John street.

The bride was becomingly gowned in a navy blue duvetyne suit, with hat to match and grey squirrel stole, and carried a bridal bouquet of Ophelia roses. The bridesmaid was Miss Helen Murdoch, who was daintily arrayed in brown and sand colored satin and carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses. Dean Gandy, brother of the groom, was best man, and Harold Gandy and Arthur Gandy acted as ushers.

The church was well filled with relatives and friends of the bride and groom. Bayard Currie presided at the organ, and when the bridal party entered the church, a quartet sang "O Perfect Love." Immediately following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Gandy left for an automobile tour of Upper Canadian provinces. On their return to St. John they will reside at 87 Wright street.

Armstrong-Milne. A quiet wedding was solemnized this morning in St. Paul's church, when Miss Ruth Hagen, daughter of George and the late Mrs. Milne of 9 Goodrich street, was united in marriage to Frank William Armstrong, son of Mrs. Minnie and the late Mr. Armstrong, 99 Mecklenburg street. Owing to a recent bereavement in the bride's family, only immediate relatives and friends were present. The bride, who was unattended, wore a traveling suit of brown velvet with feathered hat to match, and carried a large bouquet of Ophelia roses. Rev. J. W. Millidge officiated at the ceremony. The bride and groom left for Boston and New York and other cities in the afternoon. They will return they will reside at 119 Princess street.

Morgan-Goodspeed. Miss Anna Heath Goodspeed, daughter of Mrs. N. N. Goodspeed, 122 Bridge street, was united in marriage to Charles Morgan at 8:30 o'clock this afternoon by Rev. George Coffin, C. S. R. The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Hubert, wore a very becoming bolivia suit, a French hat with ostrich trimmings and a Hudson seal stole and carried a bridal bouquet of Ophelia roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Amy Goodspeed, who wore a navy blue suit with black picture hat and carried a bouquet of carnations and lilies of the valley. The groom was attended by Harry Dolan. Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Morgan left on an extended honeymoon trip to Boston, New York, Washington, Chicago, and other United States and Canadian cities, after which they will take up their residence in Montreal. They were the recipients of a large number of magnificent presents.

Lemon-Webb. A quiet wedding took place last Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick R. Webb, 83 Fawcett avenue, Toronto, when their third daughter, Irma Webb, was united in marriage to Albert Colborn Lemon, of the New Brunswick Telephone Company, of this city. The bride wore a brown tulle and lace gown, and carried a bouquet of white and pink flowers. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. H. Saunders of the First Baptist church. A large group of young people of the church were invited to the wedding. The bride and groom were accompanied to the altar by Mr. and Mrs. Lemon, who were assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Webb. The evening was pleasantly spent in music and games and refreshments were served to the visitors.

QUITS FARMER ORGANIZATION

President of Grand Prairie District Protests Against Dictation by Wood.

Grand Prairie, Alt., Oct. 5.—In a letter published in the Grand Prairie Herald Johna Fletcher, president of the Grand Prairie district United Farmers of America, tenders his resignation and withdrawal from the organization as a protest against the dictation of President Wood, whose policy in regard to the federal affairs is declared as being dangerous and, in effect designed, to bring about national suicide.

He makes it quite clear, however, that he remains a strong supporter of the local farmer member of the provincial legislature.

Warships Reach Halifax. Halifax, N. S., Oct. 5.—The cruisers Raleigh, Constance, Calcutta and Cambray of the British navy arrived in port this morning from St. John's, N. B.

As Hiram Sees It

"I see you got some big petaters down in the under," said Mr. Hiram Hornbeam to the Times reporter. "You ought to see the way we work when I was a boy. I fergit the name of 'em now, but they was a long white petater with deep-set eyes. Some of 'em was a foot-long and some was a foot and a half long. We didn't pick 'em up in baskets—we just picked 'em up in our hands like firewood—an' kerried 'em to the wagon. One of 'em ad make a hog's breakfast for 'em."

"I suppose," said the reporter, "you raised them up in the cellar like cord-wood?" "Yes, sir," said Hiram, "an' we reeked 'em on so many cords to the acre."

"Hiram," said the reporter, "it would be a great joy to me if I could believe the truth which you are saying, but I can't believe a word of it. You are spoofing me."

"That one goes to show," said Hiram, "that I can't be trained for a newspaper. I can't lie slick enough—hey, what?"

DOES NOT WANT 100,000 A YEAR

Hughes of Australia Speaks of Emigration Proposal.

London, Oct. 5.—(Canadian Press).—A Reuter cable from Melbourne says that Premier W. M. Hughes, referring to an interview with the Australian emigration agent, cabled from London, who is alleged to have recommended the despatch of 100,000 emigrants yearly to Australia from the British Isles, says it would be folly to pour such a population into Australia until adequate arrangements have been made for making these wealth-producers.

Responsible men from the ranks of the unemployed who found place all in front of the lines of world's series ticket seekers last night sold these advantageous positions to more fortunate brethren this morning for $5.

MISS LEITCH IS ELIMINATED

Fails to Win the U. S. Golf Championship—Defeated by Mrs. Latts.

MONTEAL STOCK MARKET

Montreal, Oct. 5.—Nothing of interest occurred on the local stock market during the first half hour this morning. Superior and the problem of the All Brothers. The Americans virtually slugged their way to the 1921 pennant, while Meigs and his associates were apparently more than ready to overcome, achieved victory through daring and cleverness.

Even Money as New York Teams Start Series

Neph and Mays Likely Pitchers Today.

Weather Man Gave Promise of Favorable Conditions for Opening Contest—Every Indication of a Gruelling Series—Great Crowds Attending.

New York, Oct. 5.—Betting on the world's series is practically at even money. Several bets were reported last night at eleven to ten in favor of the Yankees, but this morning it was said that Giants money could be found at the same odds.

New York, Oct. 5.—The weather at eight a. m. was fair and cool, with a light northwest wind. Indications were that the weather would be favorable to the Yankees and Giants when they meet at two p. m. in the first world series contest of 1921. The probable lineup for the opening game is as follows:

New York Nationals—Burns, c. f.; Bancroft, s. s.; Frisch, 2b.; Young, r. f.; Kelly, lb.; Meusel, l. f.; Rawlings, 2b.; Snyder, c.; Neft, p.

New York Americans—Miller, c. f.; Peckinpaugh, s. s.; Ruth, l. f.; R. Meusel, r. f.; Pipp, lb.; Ward, 2b.; Moriarty, 3b.; Chang, c.; Mays, p.

The Giants' lineup probably will be distributed in this order: At the plate, Rigler; first base, Moriarty; second base, Quigley; third base, Chill; in the second game, Moriarty will go behind the plate, with Rigler at first and each of the others advancing. That rotation will be continued throughout the series.

OPPOSE UNION OF THE CHURCHES

Sentiment Found at Meeting of Anglo-Catholic Union in Toronto.

Toronto, Oct. 5.—Strong opposition to any move on the part of the Church of England in Canada towards union with other Protestant churches is being raised by the Anglo-Catholic Union. From the feeling displayed at a general meeting of the union here yesterday it was evident that the union is diametrically opposed to the spirit which found expression in the appeal issued by the Anglican bishops at Lambeth.

Declaring that the Anglican church was not one of the Protestant churches of Canada, Rev. J. P. Waterman of the diocese of Ottawa said that there was a fundamental difference between "the religion of Our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ, and the religion of the Protestant churches of today." This difference, he continued, was similar to the one that distinguished the Protestant from the Catholic church. The latter was sacramental, the former non-sacramental, practically anti-sacramental.

Aches and Pains of Rheumatism

Sometimes They Are Unbearable.

There are weather conditions that make rheumatism worse. They are not the same in the cases of all persons. Some rheumatics suffer more in dry, warm weather than in moist, cold weather, but all suffer more or less all the time.

The cause of rheumatism is an excess of uric acid in the blood, affecting the muscles and joints, causing aches and pains. Hence the blood must have attention for permanent results in the treatment of this disease.

Hood's Sarsaparilla has given entire satisfaction in thousands of cases. Do not fail to try it.

ARMOUR CLAD CONTEST AT OAK HALL PROVES POPULAR

A large number of boys are trying for a share of the one hundred dollars offered by Oak Hall for essays on Armour Clad Clothes for Boys. The one hundred dollars is divided among the first four winners, forty dollars to the first, thirty to the second, twenty to the third and ten to the fourth. The idea of this contest is simply to introduce to the boys the new Armour Clad Clothes, and Oak Hall considers this an excellent way to get the boys interested. The contest ends this coming Saturday, still giving plenty of time to the boys who have not started yet.

Armour Clad Clothes is a new line of suits that are strongly reinforced at the vital points; for instance, the knees are doubled with the same cloth, so whether the wear comes from the inside or the outside there is double protection. If a boy wears his knees through, simply

USELESS SUBJECTS TAUGHT IN SCHOOLS

(Montreal Gazette.)

The late Rev. Dr. MacVicar, for many years chairman of the Protestant Board of School Commissioners, Montreal, said that if he had his way he would abolish home lessons, about which complaint was and is constant but nobody had the hardihood to propose that the school curricula should be altered so as to eliminate subjects which are unrelated to need or experience. The best educationists admit that useless subjects are taught in the public schools. They know that precious time is wasted, they are aware that because of this many young boys and girls who, for economic reasons, have to commence life early, find themselves handicapped for lack of the kind of knowledge which would be useful to them in the pursuit of a livelihood.

What we call the dead languages have a certain intellectual value; but they are not related to the concrete life of the world. They do not spell dollars. They are not a part of that complex we call life. Greek and Latin appeal to leisure and culture; but in the desperate pursuit of the clock of knowledge what is needed is of the marketable sort. The tongues that live and thrill and influence experience and life are capital value. The studies that are related to the life that is lived from day to day, those which should have first consideration. These subjects which are theoretical and which are never expressed on the street, will never express any real value. It would be criminal to eliminate any study which encourages imagination and encourages the finer emotions; but convention is important, and convention rather than the imagination which is so much in the schools of Montreal, but elsewhere.

It often happens that typewriting would be more useful than trigonometry, and shorthand than the classics. There should be encouragement for that refines the whole mentality and gives dignity to expression and mental attitude. But the age is an inventive and industrial one; and what is wanted is quick equipment with educational fundamentals which will be hardwired and which can instantly be used to the moment the boy leaves school.

It happens that the boy, leaving school, finds himself in a world of which he is a stranger, uninitiated to cope with conditions which he has not made familiar. His education has been too theoretical. It should, on the contrary, respond to the call and pressure of the commercial and industrial world all about. No post course should be necessary at private schools before the boy or girl can get a position. There should be such identity of interest and sympathy between the school and the store, the warehouse or factory that one should be the complement of the other.

We are likely to see the greater triumphs of industrialism buttressed by amazing inventions and to cope with these things experience our young people will need the education that will enable them to keep up with the procession.

It was evident from the greater international intercourse, the keen pressure for industrial supremacy—these are the real reasons with which the youth of the country will have to deal. Superfluous studies, which are not encouraged in the struggle of life, might be eliminated with advantage.

THE NON-BURNING WOODEN SHINGLE

(Ottawa Journal.)

A demonstration of wooden shingles that will not burn was given at the afternoon session of the Dominion Fire Prevention Association at the Chateau Laurier yesterday, and opened up a lively debate on the relative fire risks of wood as against the various kinds of patented roofing in sheets and tiles. The non-inflammable type demonstrated consisted of the ordinary wooden shingle saturated successively in two solutions, which caused a deposit of zinc borate which it claimed is not only immune against fire but insoluble in water, thus meeting one of the most general objections to chemically treated roofing, the pollution of rain water.

It was evident from the outset of the business that the meeting was divided into two camps, those representing the fire insurance interests who objected strenuously to the employment of the wooden shingle in any form, and the various bodies who upheld the old favorite roofing for many reasons. Statistics were quoted supporting both parties and in turn refuted by the opposition, but there was an apparent majority who held the opinion that the British Columbia red cedar shingle was still the ideal, combining weather and fire resisting qualities with artistic appearance, and having the added inducement of utilizing a species of tree which it appears is not being used as fast as it is being grown.

The present prohibitive cost of building, with the consequent slackening in operations, was adduced as an additional argument against any legislation to enforce the use of extensive ro-

KING CHALLENGES PRIME MINISTER

Calls on Mr. Meighen to Refute Charges of Autocracy and Extravagance—Meeting at Kentville.

Hon. Mackenzie King, leader of the Liberal party, in an address in Kentville, N. S. last evening, recalled the slogan "let well enough alone" which was the battle cry of the Conservative party in their 1911 campaign. The cry today, he said, was "give us a chance to get rid of all time this government which has increased our debt, our taxes and our expenditures."

The premier, said Mr. King, had charged the Liberals with avoiding the tariff issue by talking about railways and other matters. Mr. Meighen, he declared, the Liberal leader, has not refuted any of the charges of autocracy and extravagance which I have made and I challenge him to do so.

The Liberal leader declared that the government refused to practice economy, but continued to make large expenditures on army, navy and air forces, while taxes and the cost of living continued to soar.

William Duff, ex-M.P., Lunenburg, and Hon. H. S. Beland also addressed the meeting. The former charged Hon. F. B. McCurdy with making an unfair attack on Hon. Mackenzie King, of Amherst, and declared that Mr. McCurdy would gain nothing by precipitating a discussion of war records.

Meighen Manifesto

Ottawa, Oct. 4.—Hon. Arthur Meighen's election manifesto was issued here late this afternoon, following the official announcement of the dissolution of parliament.

Mr. Meighen emphatically urges that the best interests of the dominion could only be served through continuing effect the present tariff policy, and that the fight in the present election is wholly a fight against free trade. Pointing out that forty-two years ago, the people of Canada realized the need of a protective tariff to prevent a subservient relationship towards the United States, and that a study of the past forty years would conclusively show the advances made under protection, the prime minister sets forth that any downward revision of the tariff schedule would mean the surrender of the advance made.

The prime minister's manifesto opens no new ground. It says the war is no longer an issue. It declares for the maintenance of the British empire as a league of autonomous nations, and it may be inferred from his statement in this connection that "there are common burdens that all must share," that he means the defence of the empire with all that entails in upkeep of navies and of land forces. Practically all the rest of the manifesto is devoted to a laudation of protection and attacks on the Liberal and Progressive parties for their attitude to it. He ends with an appeal to women electors.

Premier at Digby

Digby, N. S., Oct. 4.—From the same platform on which Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King spoke last night, Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, prime minister, this afternoon made his declaration to the St. John, N. B., Oct. 5, 1921.

Greetings—The opening date of our Fair, 17th to 27th, is rapidly approaching, and there are a large number of comfortable, well-to-do Protestants from whom we have not yet heard. Surely we are not to construe this as meaning that you are not going to contribute something towards the Orphanage? Read what the Word says in regard to those who shut up their hearts of compassion. See I John, 8:17.

Here are a few suggestions re small community work. See if you cannot get a few of your neighbors to go in with you and fill a box, or barrel, etc., with miscellaneous articles. Or each one put in one or more pair of chickens, or poultry of any kind, or a few dozen eggs each, rolls of butter, or anything that would be most convenient. This is a time when everybody ought to be ready to sacrifice, or if necessary go to a little trouble to assist, as the Scotchman says: "Many mules make a muckle." Advise as if possible of your intention but do not forward perishable goods until opening of Fair.

Season Tickets still on sale at $1 each, $1 for $5, good for chance on Automobile and Sleigh, which are to be given away free.

Important meeting of general committee tonight, all (male) workers urged to be present.

Address James E. Arthurs, Secretary, P. O. Box 12, City.

people of Digby and vicinity. His speech, which was well received and evoked hearty applause, contained admonition to members of the Liberal opposition. He advised Dr. H. S. Beland, who voiced a plea for racial harmony at last night's meeting, to practice and preach this doctrine in his own province. He denied allegations which he said had been made by William Duff, M.P., for Lunenburg, that the government had put through its mercantile marine programme by order-in-council and declared that the Liberal opposition, including Mr. Duff, had voted in favor of the programme.

The prime minister, immediately after his Digby speech, went to Yarmouth, where he addressed another large meeting. He again pleaded the cause of protection, declaring his earnest belief that a protective policy was essential to the life of the dominion.

H. B. Short, president of the local Liberal and Conservative Association, introduced Mr. Meighen. Hon. F. B. McCurdy, minister of public works; Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, minister of customs, and A. L. Davidson, M. P., were also on the platform.

Davidson Nominated

A. L. Davidson, present member of Annapolis-Digby, was unanimously nominated yesterday as standard bearer of the National Liberal and Conservative party.

Dissolution of parliament was announced yesterday afternoon by Hon. J. A. Stewart, minister of railways. The date of the election was not announced as the returning officers for Prince Edward Island are not yet chosen on account of a local controversy. The manifesto of the prime minister was also given out. The probable date of the election is December 5 with nomination day on November 21.

OPERA HOUSE HAS FIVE SURE SUCCESSSES

Reduced Prices Attracted Packed Houses—Patrons Delighted With New Bill.
The mid-week bill at the Opera House is right and bright all through, every one of the five acts a hit. There isn't a coarse word or even a rough hint anywhere in the bill.
Last night the large audience fairly ate up everything offered and seemed to have an appetite for more, especially more of Gertrude Dudley & Co., whose piano, chat and singing sketch, "Class and Jazz," certainly has plenty of class. Mrs. Dudley has a beautiful soprano voice and some gorgeous costumes. The Dudleys serve up a sprightly line of songs and chat, such that the audience hate to part with.

Anthony and Arnold also share in the showers of bouquets. Anthony says he is an Italian of Irish descent. Anyway he is a fine Wop comic. Miss Arnold's soprano is neither lacking in quality nor quantity, and between them they ripple out a line of chatter that kept last night's audience happy.
Sandifer and Benson are the real thing in blackface comedians and, needless to say, their offering of dancing, singing and talking went over with a bang.
Visser & Co., two men and a woman, excel in parlor acrobatics, balancing, dancing and tumbling.
Grace Leonard looks well in boy's dress, and receives hearty applause for her several song numbers.
The show is more than satisfactory in every way, and will no doubt attract capacity house today and Thursday at the reduced prices.

DODGING THE ISSUE

Parliament is dissolved and the prime minister has issued his manifesto. This document contains nothing that is new in regard to government policy. It misrepresents the attitude of the Liberals and Farmers toward the tariff, and seeks to make an issue of that which is not an issue. It does not tell the people what the government proposes to do, even in regard to the tariff. There is only the vague assertion that if only the people will stand by the government the country will be safe. Let us consider one paragraph from the manifesto. It says: "Already there is unemployment of business conditions resulting in unemployment and loss to all classes. A persistent anti-protection campaign, resulting in uncertainty and lack of confidence, has so disturbed and curtailed production as to account for many thousands being out of work today. A decisive verdict by the Canadian people will be the signal for returning activities, for renewed productive conditions and for better times."

If what Mr. Meighen here asserts be true, why has he so long delayed the business of getting a decisive verdict? If there was no unemployment of business and no loss to all classes as a result of uncertainty, why did not Mr. Meighen end it by going to the country as soon as he was made premier, instead of leaving the decision to be made in December, 1921? According to his own argument the country would now be well on the road to renewed prosperity, if he had got a popular decision in his favor when he assumed the reins of power. Instead of that, by an exercise of autocratic power resorted to a free people, he held on to office and is only giving the people an opportunity to speak now because his failure to secure a proper observance of law may lead to individual or collective action to impress the law-breakers, but the result is always of doubtful value. The mask, the rope, the gun and the torch are not the right instruments of justice and should be placed in the hands of an enlightened and active public opinion. The Ku Klux Klan seeks to enforce laws by defying the law, and should be exterminated.

BENEFITS OF TORY RULE

The province of New Brunswick does not need to be told what happens when a tory provincial government is in power. It has had the experience and the records of royal commissions have embodied the story for the benefit and the warning of the people. Ontario has had a similar experience. They had a lumber scandal in that province also. The Drury government has already collected from various lumber concerns a total of $234,111 which, except for the government probe would never have reached provincial coffers. Amounts collected up to date by the government are made up as follows:

G. E. Farlinger	$13,000
James Horrigan	14,104
E. L. Lambert	4,218
Marshall Lumber Co.	57,559
Russell Lumber Co.	55,000

$134,111

And the end is not yet. There are several smaller concerns to be dealt with, and it is understood that some entirely new ground is still to be broken by the attorney general, who has acquired fresh information regarding operations in the north country. In province after province the tories have been driven from power, and their turn at Ottawa has now also come.

An exchange says: "Mr. Bennett is a very able addition to the platform strength of the government, but he must feel pained as he recalls the number of speeches in which he attacked Mr. Meighen and which will be disintegrated from the dusty pages of Hansard. The introduction of men like Dr. Edwards is convincing proof of the disintegration of the Liberal-Conservative party."

THE TARIFF

When Hon. Mr. Baxter shouts: "Canada for Canadians, now and forever," he means Canada for some Canadians. The Liberal policy calls for a square deal for all Canadians. Mr. Meighen's assertion that the tariff is lower than it was in 1911 is quickly disposed of by Mr. Fielding. We quote from the Toronto Globe's report: "In his nomination speech at Shelburne Mr. Fielding referred to Mr. Meighen's claim that the tariff is lower today than in 1911. A tariff cannot be judged by the percentage on the whole body of imports. It must be taken item by item, and the true test is whether it bears lightly or heavily on the necessities of life and industry. Mr. Fielding says that before the tariff was revised in 1907 duties upon common articles of clothing ran as high as 40, 50 and 75 per cent, and these were reduced to 24 and 33 per cent. Tariff revision should aim at the lowest possible taxation of the necessities of life and also of the instruments of production. It should as far as possible remove the burden of taxation from industry and from the home."

THE KU KLUX KLAN

Last night's despatches, referring to disturbances in a small town in Texas, said that the people favored the Ku Klux Klan. A congressional committee in 1917, after investigating outrages in the south, declared that Ku Klux Klan law was put above state law by its members, and that the skull and cross-bones were put above the flag. Nothing in the history of the Klan, which now has hundreds of thousands of members scattered through the United States, would lead to the conclusion that it is more law-abiding or patriotic now than it was half a century ago. It is a convenient cloak for cowards who strike in the dark and who are a disgrace to the patriotism they profess. The only hope of civilization lies in law and order, duly respected and enforced by the authorized officials. Those who take the law into their own hands may find sympathizers among the ignorant or prejudiced, and failure to secure a proper observance of law may lead to individual or collective action to impress the law-breakers, but the result is always of doubtful value. The mask, the rope, the gun and the torch are not the right instruments of justice and should be placed in the hands of an enlightened and active public opinion. The Ku Klux Klan seeks to enforce laws by defying the law, and should be exterminated.

During the unemployment relief period of last winter in Winnipeg a staff of thirty-six visitors or investigators was constantly employed. They were under the direction of trained social workers, and the relief is said to have been handled more satisfactorily than in other cities. Every case was properly investigated. In Montreal for the Montreal relief workers for the Montreal Settlement have been trained by the McGill department of social service. In the social service of the Presbyterian Church of Canada no one can be admitted to a permanent staff position in their social settlements without a certificate from a university department of social service.

Up to Friday last 3,446 persons had enrolled in the Ottawa technical school evening classes, or eleven hundred more than the same date last year. The Journal says it has been necessary to extend greatly the organization, obtain additional equipment and accommodation. Many more students are expected to register. St. John should have evening vocational classes and they should be established with as little delay as possible.

A high church Anglican clergyman in the diocese of Ottawa opposes a church union on the ground that there is a fundamental difference between the religion of our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ, and the religion of the Protestant churches of today, and says it is similar to the one that distinguishes the Protestant from the Catholic church. If the founder of the real Christian faith were on earth today, it would not take him long to discover why the cause does not flourish as it should among the sons of men.

It will be necessary to have workers and automobiles to get out a large vote for prohibition next Monday. There should be many volunteers. The time for preparation is short.

—Alley in the Memphis Commercial Appeal.

PARTING SONG.

(Rev. George Scott.)

So hardly the robin pipe,
So cheerily withal and bold,
Where clustered trees are brown and ripe,
And cherries crown the pasture wide,
So saucily he jerks his head,
Dear brethren with impatient eyes,
As chiding at my noisy tread,
Breaking up my reveries.

SEPTEMBER'S LAUREATE.

If (as I am prepared to maintain against all comers) Henley is the laureate of October, and Francis Thompson of July and Coventry Patmore of February, whom would you choose as the poet laureate of September? When, for instance, you were making up your nose-peg for September's birthday last Thursday, whose verses, I wonder, did you tuck in among the fragrant, cottage-garden sheaf of hollyhocks and dahlias? My own choice lay between two poets. One of them is, of course, world-famous (Yes, in spite of the dear old lady who asked: "What are Keats for? but the other, Bliss Carman, is not nearly well enough known. But once you get certain of his verses into your head there's no getting them out again. These, for example:

LIGHTER VEIN.

"Your references are satisfactory," observed a client, "but can you write shorthand?"
"Yes, sir," answered the applicant for a clerkship meekly.
"You understand double entry and can correspond in French and German, I believe?"
"Yes, sir."
"Humph! Do you smoke or drink?"
"No, sir," said the applicant, "but I could soon learn if you want me to."

Not His Idea of a Holiday.

Thompson came back to the office looking very brown after his fortnight's holiday. To the amusement of his chief he was straight in to him and asked for a few extra days.
"Why, you've only just had your holiday," said the amused employer.
"What do you want the extra days for?"
"I want to get married during your holidays."
"I didn't want to spoil my holidays in that way," replied Thompson.

Misanthropic Lady.

A New Yorker was talking about the late Lady Randolph Churchill.
"She grew embittered," he said, "as she grew older. She was especially embittered in her attitude toward men."
"Once, at a dinner party, I heard a young matron define an egotist as a man who thought he was cleverer than any one else."
"No, no; that definition is quite wrong," said Lady Randolph. "An egotist is a man who says he is cleverer than any one else—every man thinks he is!"

HAWAIIAN ISLANDS PLAN TO HOLD PAN-PACIFIC OLYMPIAD

The Hawaiian Islands do not propose to wait much longer before getting themselves on the athletic map. A Pan-Pacific Olympiad has recently been announced by the Pan-Pacific Union, to be held at Honolulu in 1923. The proposed Olympiad would include, among other sports, competition in swimming, golf, baseball, polo, rowing, soccer, track and field games, tennis, bicycle races, a marathon race and trapezoidal. Athletes from every country bordering on the Pacific Ocean are to be invited to take part.

"World" Babbitt Metal

There are many anti-friction metals on the market, sold under various names, but still there is a demand for a good honest babbitt sold at a medium price.

We have studied the whole field carefully and selected a metal which we know to be good and one which has been thoroughly proved.

We especially solicit a trial for the "World" babbitt, but know beforehand you will be pleased with it. Ask for prices.

CELEBRATED HER ONE HUNDRETH BIRTHDAY

On Thursday, September 29, an interesting event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Crawford, Lakeside, when about fifty friends of Mrs. Mary M. Bull assembled to congratulate her on her one hundredth birthday. Mrs. Bull is the widow of James Bull, of French Village, who died in 1885, and the daughter of Isaac and Katherine Rutherford, of New Brunswick. She was born in Hampton in the reign of George IV, 1821, and has lived under the rule of five sovereigns, and has always been a resident of New Brunswick. She has always been a faithful helper in the church and a kind friend to everyone who knew her. On the afternoon of her birthday, being St. Michaelmas Day, the Rev. C. Gordon Lawrence administered the Holy Sacrament to her, with full communion service, using the fair linen cloth he used in France during the war. Mrs. Bull's daughter and three granddaughters being present. On the morning of her birthday she breakfasted at 7 o'clock and came from Sussex to Hampton on the noon train at a distance of twenty miles. As friends called during the afternoon and evening she did not retire until midnight.

Mrs. Bull has seven grandchildren and twenty-one great-grandchildren. Four of the grandchildren and nine of the great-grandchildren were present at the celebration. She recognized some of her old friends whom she has not met for years. Refreshments were served. Mrs. Bull making the first cut in the birthday cake which was decorated with one hundred roses and birthday greeting.

ANOTHER CHANGE IN SOVIET POLICY

Will Take Five Per Cent. of All Meat Butchered in Russia — 64,000 Rubles to a Dollar.

Moscow, Oct. 5.—Another marked change in economic policy is announced in the decision of the Economic Council to permit co-operative organizations and concessionaires to buy machinery and raw materials abroad independent of the government. Only the consent of the Commissariat of Trade will be required.

The co-operative societies will also be permitted representation in the Soviet missions abroad and allowed to export Russian manufactured articles with the consent of the Commissariat of Trade. This change is designed to enable concessionaires who have already taken over small factories to get supplies of machinery necessary for the resumption of industries generally, and it is regarded as a decided step toward complete freedom of export and import trade, which here before has been monopolized by the government, together with domestic trade which is now free.

The Soviet announces that hereafter all meat must be butchered in government slaughter houses, five per cent. of the meat and certain other products being taken as the government tax. The official exchange rates are announced as follows:— A dollar is worth 64,000 rubles; an English pound, 221,000 rubles; French franc, 4,400; German mark, 900; Polish mark, 15. The exchange value of the silver ruble is 10,000 paper rubles.

EVIDENCE MISSING IN BURGLARY CASE

Board From Stolen Case of Liquor Disappears from the Court Room.

Brantford, Ont., Oct. 5.—That evidence in a burglary case in which local men are charged with burglarizing the home of J. P. Spence, getting away with a quantity of liquor, had disappeared was admitted at a special police commission inquiry. The evidence, it was shown, was a piece of board from one of the stolen cases of liquor which contained the revenue stamps cancelled in a peculiar manner by Mr. Spence himself and bearing other distinguishing marks.

The board was entered as exhibit 6 in the case in the hearing on Monday last. It was discovered on Wednesday that it was missing, and Mr. Spence wired Attorney-General Raney asking for an investigation. Chief Slemis reported the matter to Crown Attorney Wm. Charlton, who conducted the inquiry yesterday. It was shown that there was no one in charge of the material evidence on Monday, and there was no evidence to show that the board had been returned to the strong room, which was locked with keys held by Chief Slemis and Detective Chapman. It was said that private persons have had access to the evidence while it was held in the open court. The commission will sit again on Monday.

C. P. R. PRESIDENT OPTIMIST ON WEST

Provinces Emerging Successfully from Depression

Expects to See Vancouver One of the Largest and Most Prosperous Cities on Pacific Coast.

"While it is true that a more optimistic tone is usually characteristic of the western provinces, and rarely is their faith in their own future disturbed, still I found, coupled with this optimism a strong confidence that the present depression was being successfully emerged from prevailing throughout the west, including British Columbia," said E. W. Beatty, K. C., president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, on his return after a western tour.

"Personally I think this confidence is amply warranted by the present conditions and the outlook for the future. Notwithstanding the partial failure of crops in some portions of southern Alberta and Saskatchewan, due to drought, rust and hail and latterly owing to the damage to grain occasioned by the recent spell of wet weather which prevented threshing operations being carried on, the crop will be an excellent one, probably the second best in the history of the country.

is very heavy, both in wheat and oats, the average wheat probably thirty to forty bushels per acre. This high average yield will more than equalize the geographical disadvantage to the farmers in this territory and they should be able to market their crops with satisfactory results.

"In the interior of British Columbia, there is every reason for satisfaction, the crop being excellent both in quantity and quality and the market apparently being able to absorb the surplus for export. Throughout British Columbia I found a most cheerful atmosphere for increasing the areas under cultivation and supplying the necessary water to them.

Mining is Quiet.

"Mining is, of course, quiet in view of the condition of the metal markets but the operations of the Consolidated Mining Company at Kimberley and Trail are being conducted very satisfactorily under the existing conditions, with decreasing costs and a fair demand for the finished product, particularly zinc and lead.

The lumbering industry, which has suffered so severely, is showing signs of improvement and this should be increased by a larger demand on the prairies, which would be a natural consequence of the satisfactory marketing of the present crop.

"Vancouver seems to have passed through the last three years in a very creditable manner and there is considerable business activity, accompanied by rather extensive building operations. That Vancouver has a great future no one can deny. Before many years have passed I expect to see it the largest and most prosperous city on the Pacific coast.

"The position of the livestock industry is not and cannot be satisfactory, in view of the great shrinkage in the value of beef and sheep. The banks are extending the greatest possible accommodation under the circumstances and, with the assistance of the Government and a reduction of at least twenty per cent. by large manufacturers of agricultural implements in Canada, which will be followed by another year.

"There is every reason to believe that there will be a substantial change for the better in 1922. The general elections, always a disturbing factor in business, will be over. It is hoped that a strong Government will be in power, and if this is accomplished it will do much towards re-establishing that confidence which is so essential to commercial expansion.

"I wish every eastern business man could go to the West once a year. It would do him good and also strengthen those whose problems are particularly concerned with the development of that portion of the country. The freest possible interchange, both physical and in ideas, between the two portions of the country will do more to reconcile the differences in interest than anything I can conceive of."

MORE WORK IN FACTORIES.

Toronto Globe: Industry feels a renewed impulse in many directions, with promise of more reopened factories as autumn proceeds and apparently steady, though cautious, buying has started for the replacement of exhausted stocks. Higher prices in some lines of steel are declared to have brought many new orders in the United States, and there are signs of greater activity in Canadian steel industries. Announcement of a reduction of at least twenty per cent. by large manufacturers of agricultural implements in Canada, which will be followed by another year.

TRADE GAINS MOMENTUM.

Toronto Globe: Reports from wholesale dry goods houses are still more optimistic than last week, and the forward movement appears to be gaining momentum. Orders are increasing in number and size, and although they are as yet mostly of a routine nature, they indicate ment in the volume of business in marked. One house reported that fall and winter lines are moving as well now as during the war period, but this seems not yet what they might be. There is a better tone in the boot and shoe business, and there is already considerable buying for spring. Western buying of boots and shoes is good. Groceries are moving in a satisfactory manner, though some irregularity is observed.

LOYD GEORGE AND IRELAND

Premier's Mind Responsible for Formula Which Brings Sides Together — Two Courses Appear Possible.

London, Oct. 4.—The formula of the association of Ireland with other communities of the British Empire for which the mind of Mr. Lloyd George was responsible has finally brought together two sides to the long-drawn-out controversy on terms which it is considered here involve surrender by neither side.

The conference is expected to be unprecedented in the history of Great Britain, if not of Europe. One result of it will be the cancellation of all hopes of Mr. Lloyd George attending the Washington disarmament conference, because the country will look to his diplomacy to steer the Empire through the waters of the complicated undertaking.

Although no names have been formally announced, it is understood that the Sinn Fein delegates to the conference will be Arthur Griffith, founder of the Sinn Fein; Michael Collins, "finance minister"; Robert C. Barton, who has been a leading figure in the negotiations; Eamon J. Duggan, Sinn Fein member of Parliament, and George Gavin Duffy, who has acted as representative of the Sinn Fein abroad.

Two Courses Possible. The programme of the conference remains to be decided. Two courses appear to be possible—the conference of leaders merely to frame the general plan, or determining Ireland's position and writing down the main planks of the agreement, as was done in Mr. Lloyd George's original offer to the Sinn Fein, and delegation of the work of arranging the new plan of Irish government to other negotiators.

An alternative is that the conference sit as long as is necessary to settle the details of Ireland's relations with the remainder of the United Kingdom. That it is thought would mean long and tedious work, which would leave the members little time for other affairs of the Government.

It appears that the Prime Minister himself can hardly give the necessary time because of the problem of the employment already in progress and attention and is likely to become more important before it becomes less.

Beyond this point there is little speculation as yet, although the possibility is advanced that the Sinn Feiners may ask for the restoration of the British crown, for which growing sentiment among important factions of the Irish is developing.

While it is generally recognized that the calling of the conference does not necessarily mean a solution of the Irish problem is at hand, it is considered the greatest step yet taken toward the peace-smoothing of the difficulty.

According to a despatch to the Daily Mail, belief is expressed that the Sinn Fein delegates to the conference have been in London during their stay here. The British delegates to the conference have not been announced, but it is presumed that in addition to Mr. George, who will preside, the others likely will be Lord Birkenhead, Sir Hamar Greenwood, Chief Secretary for Ireland, Sir Lansing Worthington-Evans, Secretary of State for War; Sir Winston Churchill, Secretary of State for the Colonies, and Sir Horace K. Short, Secretary of State for Home Affairs.

TENTATIVE PLANS TO AID UNEMPLOYED

Establishing of Representative Emergency Committees the Initial Step. Washington, Oct. 4.—Tentative recommendations for providing work for the jobless workers of the United States, estimated at 4,000,000 have been completed for submission to the national conference on unemployment.

Establishment of representative emergency committees in the communities to co-operate the work of finding jobs for the involuntarily idle and registration of the unemployed was understood to be recommended as the initial step in the relief programme. Other recommendations were understood to include:

- Publication of the number of unemployed by the individual communities.
Establishment of part time work by manufacturers, thus increasing the number of workers used by each plant.
Operation of factories and mills in the making of stock where possible.
Constitution of repair and similar work on a normal scale.
Doing a repair and alteration work by office building, hotel and home owners during the coming winter instead of in the spring, as usual.
Expansion of street, sewerage, repair and building work by municipalities to the maximum volume.
Establishment of part time work by municipalities.

PRESENTATION TO REV. MR. JENNER

The Young People's Society of the Charlotte street United Baptist church held a social evening last night in the home of Mrs. E. B. Rogers, City Line. The meeting was held in honor of Rev. J. H. Jenner, who is soon to leave for the United States, where he has accepted a church. During the evening, Vernon Warnock, vice-president of the society, presented to Mr. Jenner a leather bill fold containing $25. Mr. Jenner made an appropriate speech and a pleasant evening was spent in games and music. Refreshments were served.

It is announced that more spinning mills, iron and steel works, galvanizing and tin works have re-started manufacturing.—News of the World.

FOUND CHILD IN POULTRY STORE AMONG HENS

When patrolmen Regan and Walsh of Cambridge heard a child crying in a poultry store on Bridge street, East Cambridge, at 1:30 the other morning, they investigated, that being the formula in the police book of rules.

There was a grating window at 2 Bridge street, in the store of the Cambridge Poultry Company. A number of excited hens were in the window space, and a baby was among them, crying for her mama, and pulling at the bars.

"Look what they hatched out!" said Regan.

"Go on," said Walsh, "that chicken was hatched at least three years ago."

Then one of them recalled that at 10:30 the night before Isabella Olivera, aged 8, had been reported missing by her mother, Mrs. Mary Olivera of 56 Bridge street.

"Are you Isabella Olivera?" asked Walsh of the baby.

"Yes."

"Then we'll get you out," said Walsh. They had to pry off the gratings to release the baby, who had wandered into the store just before closing time and had fallen asleep in the window.

BOY DID FOUR YEARS' WORK IN TWO MONTHS

London, Ont., Oct. 4.—James Patrick McCarthy, of Rural Route No. 4, London, a youth yet in his teens, has completed four years' work in Latin and French since July 6, in order that he might obtain full matriculation standing for entry in Western University this fall.

On the date mentioned, Mr. McCarthy passed other examinations for matriculation standing with high marks. He did not stand the Latin or French examination for the reason that he had never studied those languages. But within two months from July 6 he had stood examinations in both languages and obtained full matriculation standing. His papers submitted were marked over 80 per cent.

This is believed to be one of the most remarkable cases of intensive study ever reported. For in two months time the student covered efficiently the entire four years' course in Latin and all but three months of the four-year course in French. Mr. McCarthy will be an art college freshman this fall.

THE MODERN BOOZE

Hackensack, N. J., Oct. 5.—Dr. E. C. Hellstern, of Hudson Heights is credited with giving a perfect diagnosis of the smell of the present day booze as has yet been recorded, when called as a witness in the Bergen County Circuit Court to testify in a suit for damages resulting from an auto collision. It had been charged that the man responsible for the accident was under the influence of liquor and Dr. Hellstern had so adjudged.

"How do you know he was intoxicated?" asked Lawyer Denson.

"Why, I gave him the usual tests and smelled his breath."

"Oh, you smelled his breath! What does the average intoxicated man's breath smell like these days?" asked the lawyer.

"Something like the combination of children, mustard gas and garbage."

The court room roared and even Judge Cutler smiled.

LONGSHOREMEN'S UNIONS BOLT

(Canadian Press Despatch.) New York, Oct. 4.—Fifteen of the twenty-nine locals of the International Longshoremen's Association today voted to withdraw from the organization.

Spokesmen for the seceders announced they would appeal to Mayor Hylan this afternoon and ask him to open negotiations with steamship interests for them, with a view of ending the strike at this port. They declared that if negotiations could be established they would return to work, pending the outcome.

FRANCE TO PUNISH FUTURE DUELLISTS

Prosecutions to be Made Under Heading of Homicide and Assault.

Special Cable to the N. Y. Times and Montreal Gazette. Paris, Oct. 4.—Minister of Justice Bonnevay has issued a circular to public prosecutors urging strict application of the laws in connection with duelling.

"The war has cost too much blood," says the minister, "and it is more than ever essential to take all necessary steps to spare it. The war has cost so many equipped that their number must not be added to with the vain pretext of settling private quarrels."

Having quoted the articles of the code under which duelling falls, the minister concludes by inviting prosecutors to demand the heaviest possible punishment for infringement of the law. As no law specially deals with duelling, it is under the heading of homicide and assault that prosecutions will be undertaken.

The circular is very favorably commented on by the press as proving that the Government intends seriously to suppress the old custom in popular France.

Ex-Finance Minister Klotz is implicated in the chamber registry and the prosecution of the principals and seconds of last week's sensational Paris duel which lasted an hour and a half, first with pistols and then with swords.

Postum for Health There's a Reason

CALLS HIMSELF 'BOSS,' COLLECTS AND GETS AWAY

(Montreal Herald) Impersonating the "Boss," and claiming to have authority to collect on delivery, a man about forty-five years of age got $50 from a customer of Wilson Brothers, coal merchants, 1407 Notre Dame street east, yesterday afternoon.

The trick was performed at the home of Mrs. Grenier, 1925 Demontigny street east, where the coal was delivered on order. As the last bag was being taken from the cart, the impersonator congratulated the carters on the quality of the coal and asked for the bill. To all intents and purposes he was the man of the house and the bill for $49.50 was handed to him.

After telling the carters to wait a minute, he went to the front door, opened it without knocking, and presented himself to the landlady.

"Your coal is all in, Madam, and here is the bill," he said.

"But who are you?" asked Mrs. Grenier, looking out of the window at the carters, "and what authority have you to collect the bill?"

"I'm the boss, and these are my men," came the cool reply, as he, too, looked out of the window at the waiting carters.

Mrs. Grenier had a $50 bill and the stranger had no change. He told the landlady to wait a minute and he would return with her fifty cents. He told the carters he was going for change. They waited for the payment of the coal and finally entered the house.

"Where is your husband, madam, he is a long time coming?" said one of them.

"My husband? That man is not my husband. He told me he was your son," exclaimed the startled landlady.

"The coal was in the cellar. Mrs. Grenier paid $50 to someone, but the carters went home minus coal and money."

REVERSES SEARCH DECISION

Judge Haskell Rules Pedestrians May Refuse to Open Handbags. (New York Times.)

Pedestrians are within their rights to refuse to have the police to search their handbags on the streets, Judge Reuben L. Haskell ruled yesterday in the Kings County Court in setting aside a previous conviction against John D. Harrington of 552 73rd Street, Brooklyn.

Harrington was convicted on a disorderly conduct charge with a suspended sentence June 25 last by Magistrate Polwell in the Fifth Avenue Court, Brooklyn, on the complaint of Patrolman Charles M. Taylor of the Fourth Avenue Police Station. Harrington, who is Grand Knight of the Admiral Dewey Council, Knights of Columbus, testified that he refused to open his bag when arrested by Taylor because it contained copies of the secret ritual of his order.

When taken to the station house, he opened his bag, and the police were not setting within in their rights in the station house when they assaulted the prisoner and took his property away from him."

DEAD CHILDREN IN THE STREETS

Frank Connes and Albert A. Johnson, two members of the commission of the five sent into Russia to inquire into and report on conditions there to Herbert Hoover, as head of the American Relief Administration, have arrived in Paris on the way to Washington. They will sail on the steamer Olympic on Wednesday next.

Mr. Connes said he had found the reports of the famine in Russia not to have been exaggerated. On the contrary, he declared, his party found the situation in the Volga district to be terrible. "Members of our party picked up dead children in the village streets," he said, adding that the commission had visited every part of the famine stricken districts of Russia.

Louis Daley appeared in the police court this morning on a charge of assaulting a young woman. The plaintiff testified that she was walking down Erin street yesterday in company with a boy when the defendant accosted her and after warning her to stop making remarks about him struck her on the mouth and knocked her down. The defendant denied that he struck her, saying that he had merely shoved her and she tripped over his foot. Magistrate Ritchie strated to comment on the case, but was interrupted by the defendant who said he did not need his sympathy and was not looking for any charity. He became quite demonstrative and was ordered taken below and placed in a cell.

WILL SOUND MUCH LIKE WINE LIST

Names of German Telephone Exchanges to be Leased to Makers of Much Advertised Products.

Berlin, Oct. 5.—Germany is turning in every direction for money to pay her debts, but nothing more ingenious has yet been devised by the government than the new system of naming telephone exchanges, by which it is expected the use of the telephone will sound like the reading of a wine list. It has been announced that rights to the names of such advertised products, and it is freely predicted that liquor manufacturers will take most of them. If this proves to be the case, it will be as if a Canadian asked for Haig & Haig 1234.

This financial innovation is a continuation of a policy in vogue for some time at the post office, where the purchaser of stamps, or the individual mailing letters, has been urged to eat and so's chocolates or use who is it's soap.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Palmer have returned home after a wedding tour through the province. They will reside at 26 Harrison street.

One man had to be called from the body of the court to complete the jury in the case of Thomas James Spellman, charged with acting together with Edward O'Brien and murdering Albert Norris in this city on September 8. O'Brien was acquitted by a jury yesterday. The entire panel of fifty-one names was called, but only eleven jurors were secured. The sheriff then called upon Harold Stubbs, and he was sworn to complete the jury. The case came before Judge Barry in the circuit court. Dr. W. B. Wallace, K. C., conducted the prosecution, and D. Mullin, K. C., and G. Earle Logan appeared for the accused. Spellman pleaded not guilty. After the first twenty-one names had been called and only four jurors selected, Mr. Mullin objected to the calling of the other names on the list, claiming that it was a separate panel and could not be summoned until after the original panel had been exhausted. The judge, however, ruled that as the whole fifty-one names had been submitted before the court sat, it was in order to continue the selection from them. After the prisoner was arraigned the indictment was read over to him and he pleaded not guilty.

The entire panel of fifty names was called and only eleven jurors were secured. Fourteen were challenged by the defence, as follows—George Bishop, A. Chipman Ritchie, Marshall D. Austin, Horace G. Black, John A. Driscoll, William W. Hawker, Ralph G. Dykeman, Robert E. Armstrong, Edgar Boyle, Walter A. Adams, W. Edgar Campbell, Charles D. Hoyt, William S. Clawson and D. Arnold Fox. The two latter were challenged for cause. S. C. Webb and G. Wilsford Halsey, two jurors already sworn, were appointed by the judge to act as triers and after hearing the evidence of Messrs. Clawson and Fox, decided that they were not suitable to serve. Mr. Clawson said he had expressed his conclusions previously to Mr. Logan, counsel for the defence. Mr. Fox testified that he had served on the coroner's jury, which brought in a verdict implicating the prisoner.

Wilfred M. Darlow was challenged by the crown prosecutor. Thirteen were reported absent and Judge Barry imposed a fine of $10 on each unless they could show good cause for absence. James S. March, Charles J. Clayton, George A. Stackhouse, T. Carleton Olive, George S. Kelly, Gilbert Davidson, J. Fred Emery, Joseph Gilbert, Harry A. B. Fales, Robert M. Barthe, Robert B. Amulian, William E. Anderson and Edward S. Farren.

Nine were excused for various reasons: A. G. Gregory, C. B. Allan, J. L. Collins, J. L. Cambridge, William Scott, Henry Crawford, George K. Britton, F. C. Gregory and J. W. Armstrong. The following eleven were sworn in as jurors—Stanley C. Webb, G. Wilsford Halsey, Herbert Nix, Frederick C. Wesley, DeWitt Cairns, William T. Jenkins, Joseph S. Grey, William Dykeman, Robert W. Black, Robert M. Thorne and George E. Crowe. Harold Stubbs was summoned from the body of the court by the sheriff and sworn in as the twelfth juror.

The court then adjourned to allow Mr. Mullin, senior counsel for the accused, to attend to another matter outside the court. Judge Barry here announced that on the conclusion of this case the court would adjourn until Tuesday, November 1, at 10 a. m. He warned all the jurors to be present at that time unless the attorney-general decided to call for a new panel in a case which had come before the court and in which there was a mistrial. The original panel of twenty-one names, however, would be required to attend on that date in any event.

Evidence Taken.

After Mr. Mullin's return, the charge was read to the jury and Dr. Wallace outlined the case for the prosecution. He called Henry W. Norris, but he was reported absent.

Mrs. Alma Smith, 185 Erin street, told of seeing three men going into the Ryan alley, saw an object fall heavily and saw two men come out. Later some one lighted a match and she saw it was a man who was lying in the alley. To Mr. Mullin, the witness said she did not notice in what order they went into the alley. She saw the three men in the alley. The two who came out separated, one crossing the street and the other standing at the entrance to the alley. They joined again and ran up Erin street.

She said she did not attach importance to seeing the man fall until the crowd began to gather. It was not until two or three days afterwards that she spoke to one of the detectives about the matter.

Mr. Mullin tested the witness' estimate of the time by asking her to say when five minutes had passed. She announced time was up when four minutes had passed by Mr. Mullin's watch.

To Dr. Wallace, Mrs. Smith said one man was taller than the other.

Mrs. Margaret Moore, 128 Erin street told of three men coming to the street door. She said Spellman came up three flights to her door and asked for Fred Keefe, and the three disappeared around the corner of the house.

To Mr. Mullin, the witness said that Spellman was the man who was up stairs. Mr. Keefe, she said, lived in the house but she could not say what his business was; she did not know if he was in the boot-legging business.

To the judge she said this happened between 8:30 and 8:45. She did not know Spellman before. He did not look as if he was drinking.

At this point recess was taken until 2:30, when the case was resumed.

WOMEN'S VOTE IN COMING ELECTION

The Franchise Extended to Women Who are British Subjects 21 Years of Age and Up—Voters' Qualifications.

Ottawa, Oct. 4.—The coming general elections are of particular interest to women all over the Dominion, particularly in view of recent amendments to the Dominion Elections Act, which give to women a wider share in the government of the Dominion than they have ever had previously.

Under the act as amended at the last session of parliament, the franchise is extended to women on a considerably wider basis than it was in the 1917 war election, when the only women eligible to vote were those who had a husband, father, son or brother in the Canadian Expeditionary, Imperial or Allied forces.

Under the present act any woman who is a British subject of the full age of 21 years, and is not prohibited by the special clause setting forth the prohibitions, has equal rights with men in holding election offices, being a candidate for the House of Commons and in voting.

The qualification of electors, as set forth in the instructions to election officers by Col. O. M. Biggar, chief electoral officer, states:

"The general rule is that every person in Canada, male or female, is qualified to vote and should be included in the list of voters for the polling division in which he or she resides, if he or she—

(a) is a British subject, and

(b) is twenty-one years of age, and

(c) has ordinarily resided in Canada for the year immediately preceding the date of the issue of the writ of election, and

(d) has ordinarily resided in the electoral district for the two months immediately preceding the date, and

(e) is not expressly denied the right to vote.

British Subjects.

There are a number of ways in which a person may become a British subject in Canada. The instructions state that if a person is found to come "within any one of the classes hereafter defined, it is not necessary to consider whether he falls within any other."

Thus everyone has become a British subject in Canada who—

(a) was born in any of His Majesty's dominions or on a British ship, no matter what was the nationality of his parents, or

(b) was born elsewhere of a father who at the time of the child's birth was a British subject by birth or by naturalization under any of the Imperial naturalization acts, or

(c) has been personally granted a certificate of naturalization under any statute of Canada or under the Imperial Naturalization Act in any other of His Majesty's dominions, or

(d) has had his name included in a certificate of naturalization granted to a parent under the Imperial Naturalization Act in any other of His Majesty's dominions, or

(e) is the wife or unmarried widow of a natural born British subject, or of a British subject naturalized under any statute of Canada or the Imperial Naturalization Act in any other of His Majesty's dominions, or

(f) is the child of a person naturalized in Canada otherwise than under the Imperial Naturalization Act, and was, at or after the time his parent was naturalized and before he or she became a British subject, resident in Canada for 21 years of age, resident in Canada with the naturalized parent, and every person who has become a British subject in Canada continues to be so unless his British nationality has been surrendered by him becoming a naturalized citizen of some other country, or unless the certificate of naturalization under which he became naturalized has been cancelled, or unless, if a woman, she has married a man who is not a British subject.

Those Who May Not Vote

The classes of persons who may not vote is set forth as follows:

(a) Judges appointed by the Government of Canada.

(b) Persons employed in the electoral district in reference to the election, for the purpose of the election, who may be paid out of public funds and are mentioned in section 31 (2) as follows:

(1) The returning officer in case of there being an equality of votes.

(2) Any person employed under the authority of this act as registrar, revising officer, deputy returning officer, poll clerk, messenger, interpreter or constable.

(3) Any person except the election clerk, necessarily and properly employed by the returning officer for the conduct of the election.

(4) Any person employed as clerk to a revising officer.

(5) Any person necessarily and properly employed by a registrar or revising officer in preparing copies of lists of voters authorized by this act to be prepared.

(6) Any person necessarily employed by any election officer for his conveyance while travelling on duties relating to the election.

(7) Women who have become British subjects merely by reason of having become the wives of British subjects, and who (a) were not born on the continent of British North America and (b) were not entitled to vote at any time before June 4, 1921, and (c) have not obtained a certificate from a judge.

(8) Indians resident on an Indian reservation who did not serve in the naval, military or air forces of Canada in the war of 1914-1918.

(9) Persons who, in the province in which they desire to vote, are by the provincial law of that province disqualified in respect of race from voting for a member of the Legislative Assembly thereof, unless they produce to the registrar a certificate of discharge from the military, naval or air forces of Canada after service in one of such forces in the war of 1914-1918.

(10) Prisoners undergoing punishment for criminal offences.

(11) Patients in lunatic asylums.

(12) Persons maintained in whole or in part as inmates receiving public charitable support in municipal poorhouses or houses of industry.

(13) Persons who are inmates receiving public charitable support in any institution receiving aid from the government of a province under any statute in that behalf.

(14) Persons disfranchised for corrupt or illegal practices.

Gaelic in London.

Gaelic, which, according to the census, is only spoken by 8.3 per cent of the population of Scotland, can still be heard in two churches in London six times every year. One of these places is Crown Court Church, at the northeast corner of Covent Garden, and the other is the Presbyterian Church in Regent square. Three of the annual services in Gaelic are held at each of these churches, and all old forms are kept. The organ is silent and the worshippers sit to sing and stand to pray. The psalms are only from the Bible and a precentor leads the singers, chanting over the words before them, as one might hear him in the Hebrides. Until the war a Gaelic service was held every Sunday afternoon in the Conference Hall, Eccleston street, Buckingham Palace road, in connection with the Free Presbyterian Church of Scotland.

Manufacturers of clothing are cleaning up the fall trade which can hardly be classed as more than fair.
In the iron market matters still move somewhat slowly, the majority of regular foundrymen being only partially employed, but some fair business is reported with car manufacturing and other large concerns. The quotation for foundry iron remains at $31.80, but there are some indications of a firming up.
Dealers in heavy chemicals find business dull, but there is a little more doing in the paint and oil trade. While there are reports of one or two shoe manufacturing plants shutting down temporarily, others report improved orders and some fair leathers orders have been placed for immediate delivery.
In the grocery trade the distribution is of the moderate steady character noted of late and the only noteworthy feature is a reduction of a quarter of a cent in sugar quotations by local refiners. In some quarters there appears to be an expectation of some further decline. Notwithstanding the reported possibility of a shortage in canned goods, some lines of new pack are being quoted appreciably lower than last year.
No appreciable improvement is reported in the lumber trade.
The failure list for the week is a fall-ly heavy one, twenty-five district insolvencies being reported, with liabilities of $988,000.
The improved condition in our wholesale trade, says Bradstreet's report, is still noticeable. Cotton mills have not sent out their new price lists yet, but will do so in the next few days. Prices will show an advance in mostly all lines.
"Summed up," says Bradstreet, "it may be said that the domestic trade outlook has improved, not very greatly, it true, but still enough to hasten the business and industrial community, while the prospects for the entire season are promising.
Current consumption is depleting the accumulated stocks of goods in retail or greater than the same period last year. Representative retailers report that their volume of turnover is equal to or greater than the same period last year. Merchants have in general presented the policy of buying from hand to mouth owing to the uncertainty they entertained about the future course of prices. There is no longer the same amount of nervousness about decline of prices. Notably the firmer prices on cotton goods has added to retailers' confidence in the stability of prices. There is, however, a scarcity of orders placed with primary and intermediate producers for fall and winter. Some manufacturers have shown sufficient faith in the business of the next few months to go ahead producing the goods that they feel will be required when the retailer is actually faced with the new season's business. It is estimated that a good fall and winter trade will to a large extent correct the reluctance of distributors to order a normal quantity of goods.
Confidence in the stability of things is being built up gradually and upturns in the markets are hastening the process.

Dry goods travelers are doing fairly well with fall goods, but find little disposition in the part of customers to undertake any commitments for spring lines as yet. Mills working on domestic woolens report good business as a rule.
New quotations on a higher basis are looked for from cotton spinning companies early next month, and advices are to

BASEBALL

Brother vs. Brother.
In the first sixteen series between pennant winners of the two major league clubs there was not an instance of brother opposing brother. Last season the first case developed, when Jimmy Johnston played third base for the Robins and Wheeler Carpenter played first base for the Cleveland Indians. Now comes the second brother vs. brother feature in two years. Bob Meusel will play right field for the Yankees during the series, and Emil Meusel will play left field for the Giants. Emil, the elder of the brothers, went to the Giants in mid-season after several years with the Phillies. Bob went to the Yankees a year ago last spring from the Vernon club of the Pacific Coast League. Both are heavy hitters who have done much to bring pennants to their respective clubs. Both his hands than Emil, though he is not so consistent in paring his hits. Bob also excels Emil as a thrower, but Emil is the more finished fielder. Bob is a left-field hitter and Emil hits often to right, so the play of "Meusel died to Meusel" may be repeated frequently during the series.

James O'Brien Said World's Series Would be Fought Out in New York— Picks Yankees to Win.

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 5.—James O'Brien, a New York stock operator, gave a dinner party at the Ambassador Hotel to celebrate his winning of a $100,000 bet on the world's series contestants. While attending the Dempsey-Carpenter fight at Jersey City on July 2, O'Brien declared that the world's series battle would be fought between the Giants and the Yankees and that he was rooting with all his might to that end. Arguments to weaken O'Brien's loyalty to the home team caused him to place $25,000 with a syndicate, betting that the pennant in the National League would be captured by the Giants and that the Yankees would win the American League flag. As neither team was leading at the time the syndicate gave him odds of four to one. He says the Yankees will win the series, but nobody at the dinner was rash enough to take him up.

N. Y. Exporter Causes Arrest of Two Men— Says He Paid $16,000.

New York, Oct. 5.—Thomas Cassasse, of 204 East 108th street, an importer and exporter, paid two men $16,000 on last Friday for thirty-five barrels of water, according to his story to the police. As a result, the police arrested Joseph Man-telle of 189 West Eighty-third street, who said he was an importer, and Anthony Orapallo, a chauffeur, of 187 Hester street, who were held in $7,000 bail each on suspicion of grand larceny by Magistrate Charles E. Simms, for examination. An affidavit by Detective Eugene Scripiani of headquarters says that on Sept. 30, at 602 East Fifteenth street, the two men obtained from Cassasse, $15,100 in cash and a certified check for $900 by "trick and device," in substituting water for alcohol. Orapallo and Frank Picocchi of 85 Mulberry street, also a chauffeur, were held in $1,000 bail each on charges of violating the Mullen-Gage act. They will be examined on Oct. 6.

Detectives Servani and Ennelle said Cassasse thought that he was buying real whiskey from the men, but instead found that each of the thirty-five barrels contained only water. Cassasse said he found that cans of real whiskey had been attached to the spigots of the barrels. In this way the person sampling the supposed contents of the barrel would get genuine whiskey, he told the police.

After being driven around in an automobile for a while, Cassasse told the detectives, he was taken to the rear yard of a place in East Fifteenth street, near Avenue C, where the thirty-five barrels were. A watchman was on duty there. Cassasse sampled the whiskey at random and found, he says, that all the barrels contained satisfactory stuff. A third man then appeared, who said he was the owner of the whiskey, and he received the cash and certified check, Cassasse said. Two men, who had acted as escorts, Cassasse told they would take no further responsibility for the "whiskey" and suggested that he get away quickly.

Acts on His Suspicion.

The men disappeared and Cassasse hired an automobile to haul the barrels away. Cassasse said he became suspicious as he was loading the stuff and after knocking in the top of one of the barrels found that it contained nothing but water. The other barrels also were found to contain water, he says.

After notifying the police Cassasse went with the detectives in search of the automobile in which he had been conveyed to East Fifteenth street. An automobile in front of 73 Mulberry street was recognized as the car, and Manuelle and Orapallo's arrest soon followed. Frank Picocchi returned a few moments later and he, too, was arrested. Nine cases of Chianti were in the car, the detectives say. Picocchi said the wine was put into the car in his absence, but nevertheless he was taken on a charge of violating the dry law.

Coveted!

COVETOUSNESS is far more than a simple desire for something we do not happen to possess. All too often it is an uncontrollable craving for something never rightfully to be ours, something wholly and properly the possession of another.

If the name and fame of RUBBERSET brushes, and such measure of success as may accrue to their originators, were not positively coveted by other brush makers there would be no imitations of the name, the process, or the general principles of square dealing which stand behind them. But because RUBBERSETS are recognized as the world's standard quality article of their kind, and because less resourceful manufacturers find it easier to endeavor to share in their prestige rather than to originate more effective methods of manufacture for their own individual benefit, RUBBERSET brushes must ever be subjected to widespread imitation.

When you buy your next brush ask yourself this question: "Which will produce the brush I want, a manufacturing spirit based on imitation and covetousness, or the one spurred on by origination and quality perpetuation?" Brushes bearing the trade name RUBBERSET, as shown herewith, will be your answer!

GOOD-BYE, Son! Such simple words, yet how they choke you! How they blot out the sunshine! You have always known that the day must come when he would go out into the world. But ah! The bleak reality of today! Leaving home! Grown up! And it seems only days since he was tumbling out of apple-trees, and tracking mud over the kitchen-floor to the cookie jar.

"Good-bye, Son!" Unreasoning fear clutches at your breast, but in that valiant mother-way, your eyes smile straight and trustingly into the young eyes looking lovingly into yours. It is a moment of sacred covenant between you and your boy. And as your lips seal the silent compact of promise and trust, you slip into his hand that matchless gift—an Elgin Watch—while the look of amazed delight and the sudden mist in his eyes, is your precious reward.

ORIGIN OF THE INTERNATIONAL SCHOONER RACE

Halifax, N. S., Oct. 5—The international fisherman's schooner race, an annual event which absorbs the attention of the Atlantic seaboard of the United States and Canada, and of the island colony of Newfoundland, was conceived and instituted within three months of the summer and fall of 1920.

On August 11 of that year there appeared in the Halifax Herald an article from the pen of Colin Mackay, formerly of Shelburne, which proposed that vessels representing the American and Canadian fishing fleets should compete in an ocean race. He suggested that the respective governments might grant subsidies for the promotion of the contest. The response was immediate. On November 1 the international yearly race had become an established yearly event, and the Esperanto of Gloucester had crossed the finish line at Halifax, first victor.

The American cup yachting contests off Sandy Hook in July 1920, played a part in the institution of the fishermen's races. The protest against the development of speed machines for those contests generally aroused in sporting and shipping circles in America and England an echo in the fishing fleets and among fishing people. One writer said: "It is a sorry day for British seamen when they allow millionaire Nova Scotians to pose as defenders of their national seamanship." Nova Scotians looked at their sturdy fishing vessels and remembered the days when their clipper ships ruled supreme in all the oceans of the world. They recalled Donald MacKay, the Shelburne master builder, whose boat stands in the Louvre in Paris alongside that of Raphael and Michael Angelo. "What Raphael did in canvas," wrote one, "what Michael Angelo did in marble, Donald MacKay did in never conceived anything finer than the 'Lightning' or the 'Sovereign of the Sea'." The "Lightning" was the fastest ship that ever sailed and in a record trip around Cape Horn averaged eighteen knots per hour on her fastest day.

As early as July 19, while the American Cup contests were being held, an editorial in the Halifax Herald asked why Nova Scotians could not build a craft that would lift the cup for this province. A. C. Ross of the Royal Cape Breton Yacht Club made a proposal that a Canadian yacht should be built with money provided by popular subscription and preliminary steps were taken to carry out his scheme. The plan, however, gave way before the new suggestion of an ocean race between work-a-day fishing vessels.

On September 2, the Halifax Herald announced that it would offer a trophy for a Nova Scotia fishing schooner race and from that date a contest was assured. A money prize list was provided by subscription. Throughout the discussion of the race an international contest remained a suggestion.

When, however, on October 8, nine vessels of the Lunenburg and Shelburne fleets met at Halifax and the Nova Scotian race was about to become an accomplished fact, enthusiasm would not permit further delay in the matter of the larger event. "An international race within four weeks" became the slogan. The Nova Scotian race was sailed on October 11 in a whipping fall breeze that sent two topmasts overboard before the nine contestants crossed the finish line. Starting at 9 o'clock in the morning the Delawana of Lunenburg finished first at 2:09. The last vessel finished at 2:51:27, thus making faster time than the Esperanto with a less favorable wind made in either of the two international races sailed in November.

BOLO PASHA STILL ON THE TELEPHONE

This in Spite of Fact That He was Executed in 1917—Some of the Peculiarities of French Telephone System.

What is regarded as an event of national importance has just happened in France in the issuing of a new telephone book.

The Paris telephone book is commonly known as the "annuaire des telephones." Of course, annuaire means annual. As a matter of fact, however, this is the first new directory issued since 1917. Even so, there was much opposition in parliament to publishing it, on account of the cost. At last it appears, and Paris telephone subscribers are notified that they may have the advantage of this "annuaire" by calling at the telephone office. Otherwise it will be delivered as soon as possible, but not before the lapse of one month. Telephones installed five months before the book was published were "too late for inspection."

On the other hand, to compensate for the large number of subscribers granted the government has carefully kept on its list a considerable number of people who presumably no longer have telephones nor any use for them. One discoverer, for instance, "Bolo Pasha, 17 rue de Valenciennes," and one is told that one may be connected with "Almeryda, Miguel," by calling a certain number at St. Cloud.

As the former was executed and the latter committed suicide in prison about the time the preceding annuaire was published, it is, to say the least, considerable of the administration to continue their telephone subscriptions. However, repeated calls for Mr. Bolo's number go no response, while a voice tells those who ring up Mr. Almeryda that the gentleman "is no longer domiciled at St. Cloud."

Americans who are accustomed to new and up-to-date telephone directories every few months will perhaps find this sample of telephone service in France sufficiently annoying, but that is not the only complaint one may raise. To begin with, there is a charge of 700 francs—$6—for the installation of the phone.

Even then, unless one has some contact with the postal administration whereby to obtain preferential treatment there may be a delay of two or three months. Service charges of 700 francs a year are payable quarterly in advance, and on top of that one must make a deposit if one desires to make any long distance calls. Besides, the telephone instrument is not furnished by the administration, but each subscriber buys and owns the particular type of instrument he prefers.

In all lands "wrong number" calls are a source of irritation, but the French system is conceded the record. No statistics are available, the percentage of wrong numbers given is not less than fifty, and some would place the figure much higher. It is said that the French language does not lend itself well to telephonic transmission—there are too

HIKES 800 MILES TO SEE FATHER

15-Year-Old Lad Makes 27-Day Trip from Indiana to New York—Fails to Find Family.

(N. Y. Times.)
Because he was lonesome for "home folks," Charles Blum, 15 years old, a blue-eyed, blond-haired farmer boy, left the home of Mrs. Myrtle Ford in Geneva, Ind., where he has lived for ten years, and hiked the greater part of 800 miles across three States to New York in twenty-seven days to find his father, who lives at 86 Blackford Avenue, Port Richmond.

Late Saturday afternoon the young traveler was found in Wall street, near Williams, by Policeman John Wells of the Old Slip Station, taken to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children and put to bed between the first sheets he had slept in since he left Geneva.

Yesterday Charles spent the day at the Children's Society, waiting for his father. Self-contained and modest, he doesn't "see what all the fuss is about."

"I haven't seen my father and my two older sisters for a long time," he said, "and so one afternoon, on Saturday, Sept. 3, I decided to come to New York. I had a letter from my sister Ada, who lives with my father, and which came Thursday. It had the address of their home, so I came along."

That's about all there is to tell. When he was 5 years old and lived on a ranch in North Dakota, his mother was taken sick and had to go to a sanatorium. The home was broken up and the family separated.

Charles Blum, Sr. took his two daughters and the boy to Geneva, Ind., where he had friends. There he found a home for Charles with Mrs. Ford and came on to New York, to work in the shipyards, bringing the two girls with him.

The boy was lonely, but Mrs. Ford was kind, and he had a good home. He went to school, and in his spare time worked on the farm. Letters came from time to time telling of New York, the great ships and the new home on Staten Island—but no letters from the father, who writes only in Swedish.

Charles saw no chance of his father coming out to Geneva, and thought that if he was to come to New York he had better start before cold weather.

From Geneva he hiked to Ohio City, stopping at farmhouses the way and generally getting food and a place in a hayrack to sleep. He never stopped in towns. People in towns were not so friendly as the farmers, who almost always gave him something to eat, and sometimes a lift in their wagons to the next town.

From Ohio City the boy went to Lima, and from there to Akron, where two men in a runabout gave him a 125-mile ride to Youngstown.

SALVATION ARMY'S FAREWELL TO MISSIONARIES

A view of a procession of the headquarters of the Salvation Army in Queen Victoria street, London, England, when they sent off an army of overseas missionaries.

In Pennsylvania Charles found the friendliest people. "They almost always gave me a regular meal," he said, "but by that time I had learned that I got the most food if I stopped at a house at meal time."

Between Sunbury and Harrisburg Charles lost his way for the first time, and zigzagged up and down the State for several days, because people didn't seem to know the shortest way by road to New York, but from Harrisburg he hiked straight to Lancaster, where a kindly truck driver picked him up and carried him to Philadelphia.

"In Philadelphia," Charles said, "I found a gasoline station where a truck was just starting for New York, and it brought me along. I spent most of Saturday riding around New York looking at things, and then the truck went back and left me, and I went down to watch the boats."

Last night Charles was still waiting for his father.

MODEL VILLAGE FOR VETERANS

Five Hundred British Families to be Settled on 30,000 Acres.

(Special Correspondence, Montreal Gazette.)

Vancouver, September 28.—At the low price of six dollars per acre, an option has been taken on 30,000 acres of good agricultural land in the Big Bar Lakeland region, Northern British Columbia, by a company which is planning a community on a large scale. It is the intention to establish 400 to 500 families on this tract, the first fifty families being scheduled to arrive next April, when they will be taken in hand by an experienced staff which will have attended to most of the essential preliminary work.

Before the nucleus of the colony arrives, a portable saw mill, tractors, truck, machinery, tools, provisions and live stock will be on the spot. Until the location of the future home is definitely decided upon, the immigrants will live in large tents, having their meals in mess-fashion at small cost. It is the intention to allow each settler five or six acres of land, one cow, 50 chickens, and two pigs as a starter, and to instruct him thoroughly in the Canadian methods of farming. The men will have their home, fuel, light and water free, and will be paid a minimum salary of $60 a month, plus a commission on all stuff they sell through the community marketing organization. Free schools and free medical and dental attendance will also be provided.

It is not the intention to have the Big Bar colony a permanent home for the settlers, the majority of whom will be ex-service officers, but rather to use it as a training ground from which men may embark in ranching on their own account just as soon as they are competent, it being recognized that the majority of English farmers who fail in this country come to financial grief through the use of wrong methods, and that experience rather than inability is the chief cause of their downfall.

It is expected that the scheme will cost about $600,000 to get firmly established, of which $100,000 will be raised from the first 100 families, $220,000 from ex-service organizations, $220,000 from the Imperial Government, and the balance of $60,000 by public subscription.

(London Tit-Bits.)

"Poor, dear woman! She has probably been working hard all day. I must not disturb her," murmured Jones, as he crept upstairs at three a. m. on all fours. He was just going into the bedroom when Mrs. Jones turned over.

"George!" she whispered.

"George dived under the bed."

"George," repeated Mrs. Jones, in stern tones, "you may as well come out for I know you are there."

There was no help for it. George crept out, rubbing his eyes.

"Bless my heart, Maria," he said, "I was dreaming I was out motoring!"

CYCLICAL PERIODS OF UNEMPLOYMENT

An Insoluble Problem was the Speaker's Verdict at Welfare Convention.

(Montreal Gazette.)

Another contribution to the discussion on the ever present problem of unemployment was made last night when Francis Hankin gave an address on the subject before the Canadian Conference on Public Welfare, in the Windsor Hotel, over which A. J. McLeod, vice-president of the Kiwanis Club, presided.

For the cyclical depression which comes round every decade or so, causing unemployment, Mr. Hankin was inclined to think there was no solution; all they could do was to find palliatives or part remedies, and among these palliatives was the scheme for reserving from the prosperous days certain public works and undertakings of governments and public utilities. Even this scheme, although it had been very widely favored by those who had studied the question, was faintly and difficult to operate.

The causes of unemployment were carefully analyzed by Mr. Hankin, who began with the lesser, the first being the unwillingness or incapacity to work, as shown in the case of the tramp, the man who had never learned to work. Education and persuasion were necessary to correct this, these men being often the product of the blind alley occupation. A more difficult problem was that of the casual worker, who was the victim of seasonal work. This difficulty could to some extent be overcome by study of the question, and in support of this the speaker cited the case of a firm which was engaged in work that depended on the Christmas season. At one time it had all centred between September and December and for the rest of the year the employees were thrown out. By educating his clientele, the head of the business managed to spread the work over the year, with the result that the business now ran regularly all the twelve months.

Cyclical Depression.
But the main problem, stated Mr. Hankin, was that of the widespread and long-continued unemployment which set in with the cyclical periods that came round every ten years or so. For this it was impossible to put forward any complete remedy, though some suggestions could be made as to palliatives. The causes of these recurring periods lay in such things as variation of the world's harvests, war, exchange variations and tariff changes. He had no doubt that if peace were assured now, with financial stability for all countries, that would do much to ease off unemployment.

As to practical suggestions, he did not approve of relief works. He believed that the most important channel in which some partial remedy might lie would be in the co-operation of public utilities, municipalities, provincial and federal governments, such bodies to co-operate in a scheme for creating a reserve of contracts which might be held over to periods of depression. This was the only policy that had been endorsed by numerous committees that had studied the problem before, after and since the war.

Estimates which had actually been worked out on this scheme allowed for a five per cent reserve for such periods. One difficulty was, however, that the future could not be guaranteed. There had been a reserve of public works held over during the war, but the value of that reserve had been more than spent owing to the cause that brought it about.

In the way of individual effort, Mr. Hankin suggested that citizens might support the housing proposals now being discussed; that they should do all in their power to promote peace, and that money should be spent on useful purposes rather than on luxuries.

REV. G. OSBORNE TROOP OPENS A MISSION

(Montreal Gazette.)

Teaching Mission in St. Martin's Church on Sunday morning. Canon Troop was for many years rector of St. Martin's and is well known as a Bible student and as an earnest preacher of the fundamental truths of the Christian Faith. In this mission the emphasis will be on the basic principles of religion and their application to life.

In the Diocese of Montreal an effort is now being made, in continuation of the Forward Movement, to have a mission in every parish for the purpose of bringing these primary and essential things to the attention of the people. At the last meeting of the Synod it was directed that such Teaching Missions should be held, and to St. Martin's Church belongs the honor of being the first to put into effect the will of the Synod in this particular field.
