ROLLER POLO PRACTICE SCHEDULE ARRANGED

Last evening the captains of the teams entered in the Roller Polo League and arranged a practice schedule and also discussed the names of persons suitable as officials. The gentlemen decided upon the following to officiate and upon their acceptance of the positions, the names will be given to the public.

The schedule of practice for each week is as follows: Monday, Queen Square; Tuesday, Strathcona; Wednesday, Carleton; Thursday, Ramblers; Friday, Queen's.

For the first two or three weeks the public will be excluded from the practice. After that spectators will be permitted to attend the practice games.

- Two mile roller, handicap, adults only.

BARKER IS NATIONAL CHECKER CHAMPION

BOSTON, March 25.—Chas. F. Barker of Boston successfully defended his title as national checker champion today in the final game of this year's tournament with August J. Heffner, also of this city. Barker receives the first prize of $10, the other money winners in the tournament being Heffner, $100; L. S. Head of Bronxville, $80; H. V. Reynolds of Syracuse, $60—these four finishing in the major division; H. Zink of Boston, $50; Willis A. Hill of Lowell, $40, and Geo. Andrews of Boston, $20, the last three finishing in that order in the minor section. From the players who participated in this year's tournament a team of five will be selected to go to Great Britain next year and play English and Scottish teams for the international championship.

JACK TWIN IS TO MEET PALMER

BOSTON, March 25.—Jack (Twin) Sullivan faces in an international match in Los Angeles tonight and several other noted boxers are down on the cards for contests in the east and west.

The Los Angeles bout being an international affair is considered of more importance than the others. Jack Palmer, who is to fight the Twin, is one of England's foremost boxers, and notwithstanding that he was beaten by Gunner Moir in his battle for the heavyweight championship of England, is thought highly of as a fight artist by the English sports. He is no stranger to the "Twin," for they met in London in 1902. Their 15-round bout was declared a draw, but unbiased spectators conceded that Sullivan should have been given the award.

Since then Palmer has not shown that he has improved, nor has the "Twin." As a matter of fact, many of the local experts believe that the latter has fallen off on his form.

Palmer is an aggressive boxer, with considerable science, and a good punch with both hands. He is a right-hander and can stand a walloping if it is handed to him. In his bout with "Gunner" Moir he had hardly got started when he was declared the loser on a foul. Palmer has always claimed he was "jobbed" in that battle, but the English sporting writers deny it. Palmer has claimed since coming to America that he boxed Philadelphia O'Brien in private in England and had beaten him, but Palmer is the only one that says so.

The Englishman will have weight on the "Twin," but it is believed that he can defeat the Cambridge boxer. At present Sullivan is a 10 to 7 favorite, and 10 to 9 has been offered that the English boxer does not last more than 15 rounds.

ATHLETIC BOYS FOOT RACE

H. Danaher, H. Smith, Bob Pettigton and L. Davidson, the boys who were in the first four places, in a road race last summer, will struggle for supremacy in a half mile foot race at the Queen's Rollaway next Thursday night after the tenth band.

ALTOONA, Pa., March 25.—George Formhals, Jr., aged 25, a bartender, shot and killed William J. Warner, aged 23, a Pennsylvania Railroad brakeman, last midnight.

The shooting took place at York, Pa., and is said to have resulted from a quarrel over a girl.

Warner went to the girl's home and found her on the porch. He told her they came home Warner was still there, and the altercation and shooting followed.

The girl entered Warner's apartment, and he died in twelve hours.

After Formhals' arrest he declared he shot in self-defense, as Warner had hit him with a stone on the stump of his cork leg.

BURNED WITH POKER, YIELDS LIFE SAVINGS

Robbers Cruelly Torture Old Man Who Lived Alone, and Stole Hoard.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., March 25.—With a heated poker, four masked burglars who broke into the home of aged James Adams, at Thomaston today, made him disclose the whereabouts of his savings of years, amounting in all to only a few hundred dollars.

Adams lives alone. The robbers burst in upon him, took all sorts of means to interfere with his feeble attempts to make a defense. They bound him and called upon him to reveal the hiding place of his money. This he refused to do at first.

Finally one of them heated a poker red hot in the kitchen stove and applied the seething iron to his bare chest, compelling him to surrender the money. Disappointed in not finding more money, the burglars broke up the house furniture before they took their departure.

The entire neighborhood is up in arms, and it is believed that the robbers are being made everywhere for the desperadoes, who are in hiding.

BEQUEATHS BONUS TO WIDOW TO WED AGAIN

White Plains Man's Will Provides Marriage Gift of $250 for Her.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., March 25.—Dykman Odell's will, which was filed here yesterday, is a peculiar document. It provides that a marriage gift of $250 shall be made to his widow in case she veils again, but that in the event of his two daughters to certain real estate should instead of them take his property.

But the most unusual thing about Odell's will is that he makes no disposition of $300,000 left him by his father, who died a short time before he passed away. The widow will get half of it, and the children the remainder, so that the marriage question is not likely to figure much.

Odell who was related to former Governor Odell, of New York, gives his widow the right to pick the best horse on the farm and take her choice of the household furniture.

PELLISSON'S LITTLE ADVENTURE.

Pellisson, the famous French historian, was frightfully ugly. One day when he was walking down the street a beautiful lady took him by the hand and conducted him into a house close by, dazzled by the man's charm and flattering himself that this adventure could not possibly entail any unpleasant consequences, he had not the strength to offer any resistance. His captor introduced him to the master of the house, saying:

"Line for line, exactly like this," whereupon she took her departure.

Pellisson, on recovering from his astonishment, demanded an explanation. The master of the house, after sundry apologies, confessed that he was a painter.

"I have undertaken," he added, "to supply the lady with a picture of the 'Temptation in the Wilderness.' We have been debating for a couple of hours as to the mode of representing the tempter, and she ended by saying that she wished me to take you for a model."—Revue Antioquique.

KAISER RUNS STORE AND SOLICITS ORDERS

Pottery Made on One of His Estates is Retailed in the German Capital.

BERLIN, March 25.—The German Emperor, as well as several prominent members of the most exclusive class of German aristocracy, are active men of business, who do not hesitate to canvass orders on behalf of their respective firms.

This interesting information is contained in an urgent appeal addressed by young Gottlieb nobles, to his fellow-aristocrats to emancipate themselves from the obsolete idea that it is beneath their dignity to participate in an commercial transaction.

OWNERS OF POTTERY WORKS.
The Emperor possesses extensive pottery works at Cudingen, in East Prussia, and conducts them himself with great commercial skill. Exclusive productions of the imperial factories are sold in the Berlin branch of the business, which is known as the Hohenzollern Stores.

The Emperor thus openly trades under his own name, and moreover, frequently seizes suitable opportunities to place an order, and if the answer is in the affirmative the Emperor draws a pencil from his pocket and scribbles the order on his cuff, and does not conceal the pleasure he has in having done a stroke of business.

Prince Christian Hohenzollern, a member of a mediocrity royal dynasty, possessing equal rank with all the reigning houses in Europe, carries on several different businesses on his ancestral estate at Oehring, Wurtemberg. One factory makes oatmeal, sold under the name of Hohenzollern oatmeal. Another makes cakes, sold under the name of Hohenzollern cakes. A third factory produces corsets, sold under the name of Hohenzollern corsets.

Prince Egon Fuerstenberg owns large breweries, which supply many south German inns with excellent beer. Prince Guido Egon is a remarkable one of the wealthiest Silesian magnates, conducts a silk factory, the products of which are sold under the trade-mark of his royal arms.

The author of today's appeal begs the Emperor to follow the example of excellent examples and renounce their ludicrous dislike of trade.

UNGALLANT CABRIES MAKE WAR ON WOMEN

Try to Break Up Competition of Weaker Sex in the Business of Job.

PARIS, March 25.—The cabmen of Paris are ungrateful enough to make war on the new cabwomen. The success of the cabwomen has roused their ire, and they are endeavoring to use all means to interfere with their feeble competitors.

Mme. de Courcelles, one of the women, was driving her cab in the Rue de Rivoli last night, when a cabman deliberately drove his vehicle between her cab and the curb.

This caused her horse to swerve, and the cab was struck by a passing motor car and partly wrecked. One of the two women who were inside was slightly injured.

The offending cabman tried to drive away, but he was arrested and taken down from her box, seized him by the collar and held him till the police arrived.

There was an angry altercation, several other cabmen violently taking the part of their male colleagues. But a number of pedestrians gathered in favor of the woman and the cabman is to appear in court.

WOMAN BURIED ALIVE FOR EIGHTEEN MONTHS

Forced by Husband to Subsist in Hole Only Two Feet Deep.

PARIS, March 25.—An old woman was found practically buried alive in a hole in the courtyard of Versailles today. She is the wife of a rapist, who lived in a hut on the border of the woods. Nobody had seen his wife for the last two years, but today a couple of forest guards, while walking through the woods, were startled by hearing a moaning sound, apparently from some dry brushwood almost under their feet.

Pushing aside the brushwood, they saw looking out of a hole in the ground the face of an old woman. They found that she was buried in a hole, the entrance to which was less than four feet square. With some difficulty they dug her out.

She was in a terribly emaciated condition, and had been lying on a mass of filth in her prison, which was four feet wide, six feet long and two feet deep.

The woman, who is 60 years old, had lived buried in this hole for the last eighteen months. Her husband had buried her in this hole for the last two years, but today he was left for his day's work covered over the entrance to the hole.

The woman was seen in an ambulance to the Versailles Hospital, where she lies in a serious condition. The rapist has been arrested. Hundreds of people came to the woods today to see the place in which the woman had been entombed for so long.

SERVIAN OFFICERS DEGRADED IN PUBLIC

Those Convicted of Conspiracy Against King Peter Are Driven Out of the Service.

BELGRADE, March 25.—The formal degradation of the thirty anti-regicide officers who were convicted of conspiracy against King Peter was carried out in the courtyard of the fortress early on Thursday morning. The ceremony did not have quite the effect desired by the authorities, and the defiant attitude of the degraded officers made a strong impression on the soldiers who had been drawn up to witness their humiliation.

The troops formed a hollow square, with the anti-regicides in the centre. The commanding officer, a prominent member of the regicide party, read a long and tedious speech, emphasizing the untowardness of the prisoners.

At the words, "Therefore, you are no longer worthy to wear the King's uniform," the prisoners suddenly snatched the insignia of their rank from their shoulders and cast them on the ground, several officers even standing on them. As the prisoners were marched away under guard they sang the Servian hymn, "Naught is in vain, and naught is forgot."

Many of the soldiers who witnessed the ceremony wept.

WILHELMINA'S TOAST. ARTIST GOES INSANE AT A ROYAL CONCERT

An Evidence of Amity Between Britain and Holland.

Queen of the Netherlands Refers to King Edward in Most Flattering Terms

Always Among First to Alleviate Suffering.

The toast of the Queen of the Netherlands to King Edward and Queen Alexandra at a recent dinner at The Hague in honor of Prince Alexander of Teck, has been the cause of much favorable comment in the British press.

Referring to the incident, The Times says:—The ties which unite the British and the Dutch are, in the past, many and strong. We have fought against each other, and we have fought shoulder to shoulder in many a campaign that has made history against common foes of the two countries who were also in bygone times the foes of the liberties of Europe.

The war with the South Africa Republics estranged for a time the people of Holland from their best, their eldest and their surest friends. The leaders of their kinfolk in that heroic struggle are today the responsible Ministers of King Edward in the Transvaal, and will doubtless soon hold the same office in the Orange River Colony.

CANADA SHOULD HAVE FAST STEAMSHIP LINE SAYS CLOUSTON

MONTREAL, Q., March 25.—E. S. Clouston, general manager of the Bank of Montreal, returned to Montreal after two months' sojourn abroad. Mr. Clouston returned via Halifax and expressed the opinion that it was a great pity that Canada had not a faster steamship service with Great Britain. "The Victoria, on which we came over, is a very good boat," he said, "and a trip from Halifax via the I. C. R. was quite comfortable and occupied less than twenty-four hours, but Canada should have a fast steamship line with Great Britain."

Mr. Clouston spent only a short time in London, but could say that the recent trip of Lord Strathcona to Canada, had done a great amount of good.

HABEAS CORPUS WRIT FOR NEW-BORN BABY

Playwright, in Matrimonial Distress, Sees for Right to Admit Progeny.

NEW YORK, March 25.—Lee Arthur, whose real name is Arthur Lee Kahn, and who makes a living writing plays, is to be allowed to see his infant child every day, if he so desires, under an order of the supreme court made today.

Kahn and his wife have not been on the most intimate terms lately, and it was somewhat of a shock the other day when he learned that she had given birth to a bouncing boy and did not intend to let him, the father, see it. He got out a habeas corpus writ for the baby.

The mother's lawyers interposed that Baby Kahn was far too young to be brought to court, but it was promised and agreed that if its playwright father would stop the machinery of the law, Mrs. Kahn would allow him to examine and admire baby every day. And so the matter was settled.

GET A PRESS AGENT. Insurance Man's Advice to Cleveland Clergymen.

NEW YORK, March 25.—The Telegraph has received the following despatch from Cleveland:—"There can be no doubt that were Paul the Apostle alive today he would use every proper means of publicity, as he did in his own day, and would not only employ a press agent, but would run display advertisements."

Such was the statement made today by Wilbur G. Warner, in an address to the ministers of Cleveland. Warner is in charge of the Ohio offices of a large insurance company. He urged the ministers to advertise, much after the manner that theatres do.

"There were no printing presses in the time of our Lord's ministry, but He used the means at hand in spreading the theme of the new teaching by miracles. The Apostle Paul wrote everywhere advertising the blessings of Christ. He used the manual method.

Became Interested in Canada at Lecture a Her School—Became Engaged Before Seeing Him.

LONDON, March 25.—Respecting the romantic engagement of Miss Kate Warden of Henham, Essex, to a settler in Canada whom she had never seen, and her subsequent marriage, Mr. B. T. Hood of Henham sends some interesting details.

"The origin of the affair," he writes, "was as follows: I had been giving a lecture on Canada in my school. Miss Warden was my infants' mistress. "She had a conversation with a friend, saying she would like to go out there. Her friend chaffed her on the matter, and while writing to a settler in New Brunswick mentioned that Miss Warden would like to go out to Canada. "Mr. C. wrote back. He was a widower with three children. The re-

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry must be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situated.

The homesteader is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

- (1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.
- (2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of the homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.
- (3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of the homestead, the requirements as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.
- (4) Six months' notice in writing should be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

THE OFFICIAL GUNNER.

King Edward has sanctioned the appointment of Henry Field, of Windsor, as bombardier of the royal salutes in the Long Walk, Windsor Park, on the birthday anniversaries of the Royal Family and other special occasions. The office is an ancient one. The cannon which are used in firing the salutes are the bombardier's own property, which he keeps stored at his dwelling house, together with powder. This he provides out of the sum paid for firing the salutes of 21 guns.

THE STREET CAR STOPS.

There was some confusion as to which side of the street cars should stop.

"Let us make it a rule," said the motorman, "to stop on which side the people are waiting, and then stop at the other."

"But suppose there are people on both sides?" ventured one less hardened in experience.

"Oh, as to that," replied the instructor, "of course, it's impossible not to oblige somebody once in a while."

HUTCHINSON, Kas., March 25—The Morton salt block, the largest in the world, owned chiefly by Joy Morton and Paul Morton, formerly secretary of the navy, was destroyed by fire tonight. The loss embraced a new $250,000 addition to the plant and a vast quantity of refined salt and may reach $1,000,000.

BOSTON, March 25—The Boston Theatre, the largest and one of the oldest theatres in Boston, for years the home of grand opera, will be devoted to vaudeville next season. The B. F. Keith interests are said to be behind the move, and the Boston Theatre and Keith's present playhouse will be run to offset the Klaw & Erlanger houses recently acquired in this city.

ST. JOHN, N. B., MARCH 26, 1907.

THE C. P. R. AND LOCAL TRAFFIC.

While everyone is more or less interested in the present avalanche of announcements regarding important railway extensions and while all who possess the broader Canadian spirit will gladly support any scheme calculated to benefit the nation as a whole, yet the patriotic sentiments of St. John people could be more readily developed if some points relating to local affairs were dealt with a little more generously. In his address before the Canadian Club a few evenings ago Mr. Willson remarked that the eastern provinces had sacrificed more for confederation and had received less than any other part of Canada. Had the speaker been acquainted with local conditions he might have observed with equal truth that St. John has made every sacrifice for transportation and has received very little in return. Sufficient has been said concerning what this city has done in providing facilities for the handling of Canadian business. It is well known that in proportion to our wealth we have done more than any city in Canada, and that at last we have reached the limit of our abilities though not our desires. And in return, what, in the way of conveniences for traffic have we received? Everything has been done to facilitate the moving of through freight, but in the handling of local business our merchants are each year put to a loss of many thousands of dollars. Shipments are received at the west side, and as a rule are given a tenton only when the instant demands of consignees make further neglect impossible. Freight landed from the steamers remains in out of the way corners often for weeks at a time while finally it is put on cars and brought around to the I. C. R. yards. Even "rush" goods are held up, and merchants are compelled to make excuses to their customers day after day, endeavoring to explain that the fault is on the part of the railways. Frequently, trade is lost through this negligence and lack of system, and complaint on the part of business men is general.

When finally the cars are brought around to the city, the same trouble is found. The congestion of business is such that no corporation with the necessarily limited facilities of the I. C. R. could hope to satisfactorily handle all that is offered. The best possible is being done under the circumstances, but the Intercolonial in St. John is not equipped for the speedy despatch of both its own and the Canadian Pacific business. The freight sheds are always full; the yards, far too small, are always crowded; shunting is carried on as speedily as is possible, but it is a fact that owing to lack of room cars are held for weeks in the yard yards before goods can be delivered. This is the sacrifice, or one of them, which St. John merchants are making, and it really does seem that some steps should be taken to relieve the unending congestion. The Intercolonial if left alone could handle its own freight, but there is a poor show for importers when all C. P. R. shipments are crowded into the limited space.

The time will come, and in the very near future, when all the southern side of Paradise Row and the southern side of Main street as far west as Long Wharf at least must be expropriated and converted into freight yards. The C. P. R., now owning the bridge and the railway line to the city should take some action towards providing proper accommodation for local freight. It is extremely unfair to make St. John merchants, or those of any other point, suffer in order that through traffic may receive the principal attention.

THE ALDERMEN AND THE PLEBISCITE.

It would seem that the opposition on the part of a large number of citizens has at last awakened a majority of the aldermen to a realization of their duties, and the result of this afternoon's meeting will be heard with much interest. The Star has all along contended that plebiscite should be taken before the ward system is introduced or any other change made in the system of civic elections. This contention was supported by the public meeting held last week in the board of trade rooms, but in spite of the strong resolution passed at that meeting the aldermanic lobby at Fredericton was powerful enough to prevent any amendment, providing for a plebiscite, being added to the bill.

Following this came much discontent, and the indications were that those who oppose the introduction of the ward system without a plebiscite, would express at the polls their disapproval of the policy adopted by certain members of the council. This may or may not have had something to do with the change of mind, but at any rate today's meeting, even though called at such a late hour, is evidence of an awakening interest. Whether St. John wants the ward system or does not want it is yet to be ascertained.

and the aldermen far exceeded their duty by endeavoring to have it thrust on the people without an expression of opinion. The result of the aldermanic consultation today will be discussed before tonight's meeting, and in the Opera House the proceedings should be of a most interesting nature.

The condition of some of the streets of this city calls for severe criticism of the department. It is deplorable that such lack of management exists and that citizens should be compelled to walk ankle deep in water and slush.

Let the Opera House be crowded at this evening's meeting. The questions to be discussed are of personal interest to every man in St. John.

The names of those aldermen who today refuse to seek a plebiscite on the ward system should be remembered when election time comes.

GEO. D. ROGERS,
MOUNT ALLISON
RHODES SCHOLAR

He is a Son of Rev. Dr. Rogers, of Sussex, and is Now Taking a Course at Harvard.

SACKVILLE, N. B., March 25—Mount Allison University has just appointed as Rhodes scholar for New Brunswick, George Douglas Rogers, son of Rev. Dr. Rogers, of Sussex, N. B.

He was born in 1885, and received his preparatory training in Truro, Halifax and Lunenburg. In 1900 he entered Mount Allison and, after a distinguished course, winning prizes in Latin and chemistry, he graduated in 1904 with first class honors. The next year he returned as a post-graduate to Mt. Allison, besides taking advanced work in philosophy, French and German, he completed an honor course in classics. The academic year 1905 and 1906 he served most acceptably as classical master at Acadia Villa school. Last year he went to Harvard, where he is now pursuing advanced courses in Latin and Greek.

While at Mt. Allison, Mr. Rogers took an active part in the various games of athletics, football, base ball, hand ball, hockey, tennis. He was very popular with his fellow students, and was prominent in the society life, such as the athletic association, the urthorian and the Y. M. C. A. Mr. Rogers possesses a well balanced mind of the qualities, physical, social, intellectual and moral, which, according to the will of Mr. Rhodes, are to be considered in election to his scholarship.

CHILD HELPED FATHER TO COMMIT SUICIDE

NEW YORK, March 25—With the innocent aid of his little six-year-old daughter, Violet, Theodore Schmidt, a sinner who was partially paralyzed, "Wait a minute or two, till the miller comes along with my new hat and the bill."

Mrs. Schmidt left the child to care for her husband and bring the medicine which Schmidt instructed the child to bring a piece of rubber one from the kitchen, attached it to a nail, wound the other end round his neck and placed it in his mouth. He then told her to turn on the gas and to go to play. The child did as directed and when Mrs. Schmidt returned her husband was dead. The little girl told her mother her unsuspecting part in this tragedy.

CANADIAN LADIES AT BRITISH COURT

Painters for Those Wishing to Get Presented to His Majesty the King.

OTTAWA, March 25—Canadian ladies going to England with the idea of being presented at court will be interested in a despatch which has been received by His Excellency Lord Grey from the Colonial Office. It says:

Ladies from the colonies, who possess the requisite qualifications, are at present, by his majesty the king's command, presented at court by the Countess of Crevecoeur, acting on behalf of the Countess of Arundel, whose health will not permit her to attend court.

Ladies who are thus officially presented must be the wives or daughters of persons who have either held appointments of high rank in the public service of a colony, or who, though not belonging to the public service, are members of legislative bodies, or otherwise possess the requisite social standing to entitle them to be received at court, and are usually resident in a colony. Ladies who themselves belong by birth to a colony, and who are married to gentlemen belonging to and residing in the United Kingdom, do not fall within the category of those who can be officially presented by the Countess of Creve.

If a colonial lady is the daughter of a lady who has already herself been presented, the presentation should, if possible, be made by the latter lady. Ladies who are presented at a court by the Countess of Crevecoeur present their daughters, with the permission of the Lord Chamberlain, to whom they must make application for this purpose. Ladies belonging to colonies which are represented in this country by high commissioners or agents-general should be presented by the high commissioner or agent-general representing the colony. The application must state the full name of the lady and the name, rank in public service or professional social position of the husband of the applicant, or, if she has no husband, that of her father, and that, to the knowledge of the high commissioner or agent-general, the lady is in every respect eligible for presentation to Their Majesties.

Each application should state the date, or approximate date, as e.g., "the first court after Easter," of the court at which it is desired that the presentation should be made. The dates of the courts are seldom fixed till within a few weeks before they take place, but as a general rule there are two courts before Easter and two at the end of May or in June. As there is a limit to the number of ladies who can be presented at each court it will be convenient that the names of ladies to be presented, should be sent in as early in the year as possible.

MEMBER OF CONGRESS CANNOT BE IMPRISONED

WASHINGTON, Mar. 25—The question whether a member of congress can be imprisoned on being found guilty on a criminal charge is involved in the case of Representative John Newton Williamson, Oregon, on which a motion for writ of habeas corpus was granted in the supreme court of the United States. In 1895, Williamson, with others was found guilty on the charge of conspiracy to unlawfully secure United States lands and was about to be sentenced to pay a fine of $500 and serve ten months in prison when he made protest that his imprisonment would prevent his attendance upon the sessions of congress from which deprivation he claimed protection under the constitution, and when the protest was overruled he appealed at the supreme court. The motion to advance was based on the ground of the public importance of the case.

FIX PRICE FOR THEIR HERRING

Charlotte Co. Union Charge American Packers $3 at First of Season.

ST. ANDREWS, March 25—At an important meeting of the recently formed weir men's union held here today, the price at which the fishermen will sell their sardine herring catches to the packers at Lunenburg and Eastport was fixed. Sixty or seventy members from various parts of Charlotte county were present.

James A. Polson, of St. John, the president, was in the chair. George M. Byron, of Campbellton, on behalf of the executive, reported decision that the price of sardine herrings shall be from the first of the season to July 31, $8 a hoghead, and from July 31 to the end of the season $8. These prices are to apply only to United States packers, a preference being given to Canadian packers.

A proposition to make the price $7 for the whole season was voted down, and the executive report was adopted. Last year the price received from the weir was $8.

NEW YORK, March 25—The first steel section of the keel of the large naval collier Vestal, was laid on the ways at the Brooklyn navy yard by Rear Admiral Joseph B. Coghlan, today. After the ceremony Admiral Coghlan, who will retire shortly as commandant of the yard, stated that the Vestal would be completed in record time in order that work might be begun as soon as possible on the new twenty thousand ton battleship to be constructed in the Brooklyn navy yard.

DISCUSSES MODERN METHODS OF TREATING CONSUMPTION

(Continued.) The Sanatorium Movement—This needs particular emphasis. It is unquestionably the most far-reaching and efficient means of attacking the tuberculosis menace. The sanatorium takes the patient consumptive and gives him seventy chances out of a hundred to get well; teaches him how to live when he has recovered and resumed work, so as to be an educational agency to his fellows as well as a support to his family and a productive member to his community.

The Physician.—In this connection may one ask: Is the medical profession a unit in adapting itself to its duty in the voluntary or compulsory notification and registration of cases of tuberculosis? I fear not. Does it realize the importance of thorough training and skill and care in the diagnosis of tuberculosis in its early stage, and frankly but hopefully tell the patient that he has it, that it does not necessarily mean a death warrant, but that with his intelligent, obedient, cheerful and resolute co-operation he may be cured?

following year his mother succumbed, to be followed in 1902 by his cousin, and in 1903 by another cousin, the infant son of another of his mother's sister. The same year his father died, but in another town to which he had moved from Oxford. The four relatives of the first case lived in the same house. The father, the mother and three daughters in the same family had the disease when they moved away, but this I was unable to verify. It is a matter of interest to know that the consumptive father, who saw five of his relations die of consumption, was in the habit of himself spitting on the wall of his own bedroom.

"In another instance a family lost five in four years. This last series was appalling. The mother and three daughters died in the same house within three years of each other, and the father then moved away to fall a victim a year later.

"A young man of twenty-one died in 1879 on a farm. Seven years later his sister died in the same house. Their mother died after another interval of eight years also in the same house, and a year later another brother died. Three years later still another brother similarly succumbed, but in a different dwelling.

"One family lost nine members from consumption. The first death occurred in 1847 and the last in 1890. Several others in this family had the disease but moved out of town. It is shocking to realize the loss caused by one disease in this family group. Consider the effect on the temperaments of the survivors, as well as the financial loss. Constant illness prevented accumulation of capital even though the family was frugal.

"Another family lost seven members in twenty-six years. A mother died in 1847, the father in 1848, to be followed by one daughter, who lived in the same house, and in 1833 by another daughter, who had moved, and in 1889 by another daughter, who had also moved. These five deaths occurring in three houses took place within twenty-two years. This family was in far better circumstances than those in which the deaths came close together.

"Contrast the rapidity of deaths in these last three families with that of the two preceding. In one series we have 'tenement-house consumption,' with 5 deaths in four years; in the latter, 'farmhouse consumption,' with 5 deaths in nineteen years, 9 deaths in forty-three years, and 5 deaths in twenty-two years. Other family histories might be cited, but they do not differ essentially.

"During the last ten years 52 deaths from consumption in the town have occurred in 43 families. In each of 33 families there was 1 death, in one family there were 2 deaths, in another 3, and in 3 families 2 deaths each. In 10 of these families the total number of deaths from consumption since 1844 was 22.

BRIEF DESPATCHES.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 25.—Mrs. Mollie Hill Gibson, the great-uncle of Elmer Gibson, a real estate dealer, was shot and probably fatally injured today on an inter-urban car by Victor Clark, an insurance agent. The shooting is said to be the result of a scandal in the choir of the First Christian Church of Chicago, Ill. Clark was shot five times at Mrs. Gibson, three bullets entering her head and one piercing an arm. Clark surrendered to officers at Virden, Ill.

As a result of the choir scandal in which Clark and Mrs. Gibson were alleged to be implicated two years ago, Gibson and Mrs. Clark procured a divorce.

GREENFIELD, Ind., March 25.—Twenty-four persons were injured, some seriously, and a two-story building, occupied by a five-cent theatre with moving pictures, was wrecked tonight by an explosion of natural gas used to heat the building. About 200 persons were in the theatre at the time of the explosion and in the panic that followed men, women and children rushed for the doors, trampling on one another.

DENVER, Colo., March 26.—In the presence of a large audience, including clergymen and officers of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, Governor Henry Buchtel today signed the local option bill, the first temperance measure ever passed by a legislature in Colorado. The signing was celebrated with religious services, opening with scriptural reading and prayer with benediction by Governor Buchtel.

SPARTANBURG, S. C., March 26.—Fanned by a fierce gale, fire today destroyed half a hundred tenement houses in Spartan Mills, a cotton mill district in a remote part of the city. The Spartan mills were saved by a wind carrying the flames in another direction.

NEW YORK, March 25.—British Ambassador Bryce was the guest of the Union League Club at a dinner tonight, when he met 600 prominent men in American political and public life. Former Ambassador to Great Britain, Joseph H. Coates, accompanied the Ambassador to the dinner, where he was received by a company which included General Grant, commanding the department of the East, U. S. A.; Rear Admiral Coghlan, commanding the Brooklyn Navy Yard; Admiral Lord Charles Bessford, of the British navy.

NEW YORK, March 25.—Charles M. Schwab has had his personal assessment for taxing purposes cut down from a million to $429,000. He was listed at a million under the non-resident law. He had an inventory of his New York effects before President Purdy of the department of taxes and assessments today, when he swore his property in personality in this city amounted to $429,000 and this was set down as the tentative assessment. Mr. Schwab, Reginald Vanderbilt, and former Senator William A. Clark are the only three persons on the tax list assessed at a million dollars or over.

VAUDEVILLE.

The bill this week at the York is well up to the standard, and one of two of the numbers are exceptionally good. Chick, the trick bicycle rider is an expert, and made the biggest hit of the evening. The De Fontas are fairly good. Chick, the trick bicycle rider, is a little dog taking a leading part in a very funny. Shorty and Lol Desmond provided laughable comedy, the former being a cute little chap of some six years, while the latter is a clever mimic who has a repertoire of several good good turnings and other scabious things. On the other hand, Leonard and Lester should think the vaudeville stage owes them a living; the bioscope pictures were not nearly as good as usual, and the illustrated songs were tiresome. These will, however, be changed.

FORESTS OF STONE.

Stone forests are found in various parts of the world. In many cases they are hardened by some peculiarity of the atmosphere and are found standing just as they were when clothed with green foliage thousands of years ago. The Little Colorado river, in Arizona, has long been famous as a locality for such finds. At one place more than 1,000 cords of solid stone, tree trunks, sections, limbs and logs, were found by the government geographers. Most of them were silicified, many seven to ten feet in diameter and from twenty to eighty feet in height. Geologists say that the petrified trees of the Little Colorado were once covered with marl over 1,000 feet in depth. Some of the trees have been changed to jasper and have assumed various hues; others resemble opal, and when broken open the core is often found lined with crystals of the most beautiful tint.

COMMERCIAL

LONDON EXCHANGE.

LONDON, March 26.—Trading on the stock exchange today opened with prices in a sensitive condition. The renewed weakness was largely attributed to yesterday's decline in New York. There was no buying power here and consequently little actual business was transacted and the quotations were largely nominal. The failure of a small broker was announced this morning, but it had no effect on the market.

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, March 26.—Fluctuations were wild and irregular in the opening dealings in stocks. The advances and declines were much confused and showed no consistency either with the earlier movements in London or in the individual members of the same groups. The copper stocks continued demoralized. Amalgamated broke an extreme low on running rates varying as much as two points down to the lowest. American Smelting fell 4, and Anaconda 5 1/4. Examples of the irregularities of the market were shown in the advance of a point in Union Pacific, while Southern fell 2. American Locomotive rose 2 1/4; St. Paul, 2; Great Northern, 1 1/4; and U. S. Steel, 1/2. N. Y. C. Northern Pacific, N. and W. Mo. Pacific, and Atlantic, 1 to 1 1/4; Great Northern Oregon certificate fell 2.

LONDON.

LONDON, March 26.—In the course of the afternoon the general tone of the markets hardened, though considerable liquidation of accounts caused much irregularity. The quotations for Americans further declined and the drop in the price of the metal caused another weakening in copper shares.

IN BOSTON.

BOSTON, March 26.—Weakness again marked the opening of trade on the Boston Stock Exchange today. Copper stocks were carried down to new low levels for the year. On the curb copper were fractionally lower.

HAZEN AND GLASIER UNANIMOUS CHOICE IN SUNBURY CO.

Leader of Opposition in Speech Refers to Fredericton Sewerage Question—Other Addresses.

FREDERICTON, March 25.—The opposition convention held at the Burton court house, Sunbury county, this afternoon was attended by about 400 persons, all the parishes in the county sending delegates. Messrs. Hazen and Glasier were the unanimous selection of those present as their candidates in the coming provincial election. The audience was addressed by Messrs. Hazen, Glasier, Morrissy, Hartt and Grimmer. The leader of the opposition devoted much of his speech to the Fredericton sewerage question. He went into the history of the business and characterized the statement that politics entered into the discussion without any foundation. He asked if such strong Liberals as Chas. Burpee, Hon. Archibald Harrison, Dr. Peake, Cecil McLean, Geo. Day and others would have any interest in favoring his politics. Mr. Hazen said that the people of the down river sections had won their case after a fair hearing before the Board of Health and the government. If the legislature, he claimed, should reverse the decision the government it would be an action that no legislature in the world would do. If the legislature, he said in conclusion, should do such a thing, which he thought was doubtful, he thanked God that we still had the courts of law in this land, where justice could be obtained, and his services are at the disposal of the county of Sunbury so long as there is fighting chance for people's rights and justice. The other speakers dealt mostly with provincial matters and received a good hearing. Councillor Geo. Ferley presided.

ENGLISHMAN HAD HIS FEET FROZEN WHILE ON LONG TRAMP

MONCTON, March 25.—Miss Hannigan of Buctouche arrived in the city this morning, and is at the city hospital, where she will be operated upon for appendicitis. The first maple candy of the season appeared in the city Saturday. It sold at twenty-five cents a pound. An Englishman named Westercott, who was recently taken to the hospital with his feet badly frozen, will probably have to have some of his toes amputated, gangrene having set in. He froze his feet in endeavoring to tramp from Halifax to St. John. The marriage of A. E. McSweeney, son of Senator McSweeney, to Miss Cecile Burrell, daughter of I. C. R. McMaster Burrell, will take place on Monday afternoon, April first, in St. Bernard's church. An assault case preferred by James Farris, a Gallagher Ridge blacksmith, against Joseph Price, a former member of the Moncton police force, was dismissed in the police court today. Mrs. Exler of London, Eng., is spending some time with Mrs. (Hon.) C. W. Robinson of this city.

BANK OF MONTREAL MUST PAY $1,000 DAMAGES TO RYAN

TORONTO, Mar. 25.—In a judgment handed out by Justice Clute, makes it sufficiently clear that no bank has a right to throw a man's account open to inspection, especially to hostile interests. The point arose in connection with two suits with which Peter Ryan, of this city, was connected. The action, Montgomery vs Ryan, a note of twelve thousand dollars is dismissed with costs, while the counter claim, Ryan vs Bank of Montreal, is dismissed without costs. The bank is ordered to pay Ryan $1,000 damages for having wrongfully permitted inspection of his accounts.

FREIGHT TRAINS CRASH TOGETHER AND TWO MEN ARE KILLED

TORONTO, Mar. 25.—A collision in which two freight trains smashed together killing two men and seriously injuring two more, occurred this morning on the C. P. R. a couple of miles east of Myrtle Station. The dead are Fireman C. Jones and Brakeman H. Howe, who was caught in such a position under the debris of freight that his body was not removed until nearly two hours after the collision occurred. The accident was caused by the alleged mistake in orders on the part of the conductor of the east bound train and coupled with the fact that both trains were running at the time in the midst of a dense fog, too thick to permit either engineer to avoid a collision.

ELECTED SPEAKER PRO TEM.

TORONTO, March 25.—The Ontario legislature was compelled today to elect a speaker pro tem. J. S. Duff, of West Simcoe, was elected speaker for the day only, owing to the illness of Hon. Speaker J. W. St. John, who underwent an operation in the hospital yesterday for appendicitis.

BOURASSA TO BRING UP MATTER OF WINE, WOMEN AND GRAFT CHARGES IN HOUSE TODAY

Foster Asks Member for Labelle Just What He Intends to Say

Latter, However, Has Not Decided—Canada's Representation at the Colonial Conference Discussed—Opposition Urge Premier to Go—Sir Wilfrid Is Anxious to Get Away if Business Will Allow.

OTTAWA, March 25.—Canada's representation at the colonial conference, what Mr. Bourassa is going to say tomorrow about some members of parliament and the new scale of provincial subsidies were the subjects discussed by the commons today. The Bourassa business comes first. Mr. Foster, who has been expecting unpleasant things, today said: "I see the member for Labelle in his place, and I would like to ask him how he proposes tomorrow to bring up a certain matter in which I am interested. I do not know whether it would be too much to ask whether he intends to bring it up by way of question of privilege or resolution." Mr. Bourassa replied: "I have not yet made up my mind as to the wording of my motion, but as the Prime Minister has stated, the last time this matter was before the house that he did not see in the insurance commission report anything against any member, I intend to quote the first of the report which refers to the member for North Toronto (Mr. Foster) on account of attacks made on the hon. gentleman in the press of the country and reference made in this house in order that the question may be fully discussed." Mr. Foster—Cannot the hon. member inform the house of the nature of his resolution? Mr. Bourassa—I really am not able to do so. Mr. Foster—Is it a leap in the dark? Mr. Bourassa—No, I think I have clearly indicated the intention of my motion. I will ask the house to assist in clearing up insinuations against the members for Kings (N. B.), Simcoe, North Toronto and P. E. Island. R. L. Borden asked whether or not there was foundation for the report that the Prime Minister will not attend the colonial conference. Sir Wilfrid said: In view of the slow progress which has been made by the house in certain matters, he contemplated the possibility of my being forced to cancel my trip. I would not like to do so, but I must say that the matter is under consideration now.

Mr. Borden's Criticism. Mr. Borden—In that case I would ask leave to move for the adjournment of the house for the purpose of discussing the importance of Canada being represented at the conference. I think it is a subject that ought to engage the attention of the house at once, and I therefore move the adjournment so as to discuss the urgent public importance of Canada being represented by the Prime Minister at the conference. The leader of the opposition then quoted extensively from order in council and despatches in regard to the conference of 1902 and the correspondence carried on between the imperial government and the self governing colonies for the purpose of holding the coming conference. In 1902 it was arranged that the conference should meet within every four years. The only subject which Canada has brought to the attention of the home government for discussion at the conference was the constitution of the conference, although the other colonies had suggested many subjects for consideration. Mr. Borden proceeded to argue from the documents that as far back as 1902 Canada desired the conference to be one of ministers and not of premiers, and that the Canadian government desired the status of ministers defined so they might attend the conference along with the premiers. From this Mr. Borden drew the conclusion "that even as far back as 1902 the premier had in contemplation the idea that he would attend the conference."

Must Facilitate Business.

But I would be only too glad to welcome the proposal to facilitate the business of the house in order to afford me the opportunity. I am entrusted with; and if gentlemen opposite will carry out the suggestion I do not think that there will be any necessity of adjourning the sitting of the house. My hon. friend would put a reasonable restraint upon the flow of eloquence of the gentleman opposite, so that we could confine ourselves to the discussion of the questions before the house. I think it will be possible for me to return to the house at next month, leaving some of my colleagues here until the business of the house is completed. "Now I have already alluded to the fact that Canada has not suggested any subject for discussion, and it would seem to me a most deplorable outcome that this country, the premier overseas dominion of the Empire, and within easy reach of the Mother Country, should not be represented at that conference. The Imperial government properly answered that this is a matter which should be left to the council itself, that was the view of Mr. Leighton and late government and of Lord Elgin and the present government.

Mr. Foster said that he would like to see the member for Labelle in his place, and I would like to ask him how he proposes tomorrow to bring up a certain matter in which I am interested. I do not know whether it would be too much to ask whether he intends to bring it up by way of question of privilege or resolution." Mr. Bourassa replied: "I have not yet made up my mind as to the wording of my motion, but as the Prime Minister has stated, the last time this matter was before the house that he did not see in the insurance commission report anything against any member, I intend to quote the first of the report which refers to the member for North Toronto (Mr. Foster) on account of attacks made on the hon. gentleman in the press of the country and reference made in this house in order that the question may be fully discussed."

PROVINCIAL SUBSIDIES

Premier Brought up Matter in Parliament Yesterday.

Moved Resolution that British Government Amend B.N.A. Act to Give Increase—Amendments Defeated.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 25.—In the House of Commons today Sir Wilfrid moved the resolution that the British government amend the British North America act to increase provincial subsidies on the basis agreed upon at the recent provincial conference. In moving it Sir Wilfrid said that 40 years had passed since the subsidies were fixed. The fathers of confederation had done this work well, but conditions had indicated that the time had come for a change. At that conference, as well as at the 1887 and 1902 conferences, the provinces had asked that the financial arrangements be put on a more equitable basis. The proposals placed now before the house would increase provincial subsidies by about $2,346,000. Mr. Foster thought that when the prime minister presented a demand to the house for between two and three millions increase payment from the Dominion treasury he should present a better reason than a historical sketch. Mr. Fielding said it was essential to remember that Canada was made from provinces. On entry to the Dominion these provinces had declared against direct taxation. The principles on which subsidies were granted being admitted he could see no objections to the present proposals. Mr. Bergeron thought that provincial legislation was too expensive. Mr. Lefurgey complains that Prince Edward Island would only get $70,000 increase under the new arrangements. This is too little. The island had too small a revenue to pay its school teachers a direct salary. He claims the island should be placed on the same basis as British Columbia which would give it $18,700 increase in subsidies. He moved an amendment providing that a province with a population of from 100,000 to 200,000 should get a subsidy of $120,000 or not $100,000 as proposed. Mr. Crockett did not agree that the proposal of granting subsidy on basis of population would work out to the advantage of the smaller provinces, and speaking as a New Brunswick representative he opposed the motion. He said that every head of a family in New Brunswick would have to pay $2.19 more to make up the aggregate of increase while the per capita each head of a family would receive only an increase in subsidy of $1.86. He objected to corrupt provincial administrations knocking at the door of the federal treasury to make good their financial difficulties. He stated that the motion did not include his recommendation as a readjustment of representation. Mr. Martin of P. E. I. offered an amendment declaring that all the interest paid by the island before confederation on expenditure for railways should be refunded, and that no interest should be charged the province for the time since confederation. The speaker ruled this out of order, as Mr. Lefurgey's amendment stood in the way. Mr. Lefurgey's amendment, was defeated by 96 to 35. Mr. Daniel held that terms of Confederation had been uneven to the present time and the new proposals were to even the terms. However, this would not be accomplished in the case of New Brunswick, as Mr. Crockett had shown. A few years ago the Dominion bought large territories from the Hudson Bay Company. A large part of that territory went to Ontario and Quebec. The maritime provinces had paid their share from that territory and had received no benefit. As the imperial parliament was to be asked to alter the financial position of the provinces at the same time, he asked to be asked for by which the representatives of each province had at the time of Confederation should be reduced, and where reduced, should be restored. Mr. Lake wanted to offer an amendment respecting lands, but was declared out of order. Mr. Fowler of Kings, N. B., declared that New Brunswick had not got a fair deal out of the provincial conference. Mr. Maclean of Kings, P. E. I., moved that an additional allowance be given to Prince Edward Island. This was declared lost. Sir Wilfrid raised a point of order, that the amendment was not relevant to the resolution. The speaker moved the amendment out of order. Mr. Martin offered his amendment, which was lost on division. WASHINGTON, March 25.—Senator Cohen, the Nicaraguan minister, tonight received a despatch from President Zelaya of Nicaragua announcing the capture and occupation of Tegucigalpa, the capital of Honduras.

He claims the island should be placed on the same basis as British Columbia which would give it $18,700 increase in subsidies. He moved an amendment providing that a province with a population of from 100,000 to 200,000 should get a subsidy of $120,000 or not $100,000 as proposed. Mr. Crockett did not agree that the proposal of granting subsidy on basis of population would work out to the advantage of the smaller provinces, and speaking as a New Brunswick representative he opposed the motion. He said that every head of a family in New Brunswick would have to pay $2.19 more to make up the aggregate of increase while the per capita each head of a family would receive only an increase in subsidy of $1.86. He objected to corrupt provincial administrations knocking at the door of the federal treasury to make good their financial difficulties. He stated that the motion did not include his recommendation as a readjustment of representation. Mr. Martin of P. E. I. offered an amendment declaring that all the interest paid by the island before confederation on expenditure for railways should be refunded, and that no interest should be charged the province for the time since confederation. The speaker ruled this out of order, as Mr. Lefurgey's amendment stood in the way. Mr. Lefurgey's amendment, was defeated by 96 to 35. Mr. Daniel held that terms of Confederation had been uneven to the present time and the new proposals were to even the terms. However, this would not be accomplished in the case of New Brunswick, as Mr. Crockett had shown. A few years ago the Dominion bought large territories from the Hudson Bay Company. A large part of that territory went to Ontario and Quebec. The maritime provinces had paid their share from that territory and had received no benefit. As the imperial parliament was to be asked to alter the financial position of the provinces at the same time, he asked to be asked for by which the representatives of each province had at the time of Confederation should be reduced, and where reduced, should be restored. Mr. Lake wanted to offer an amendment respecting lands, but was declared out of order. Mr. Fowler of Kings, N. B., declared

KILLEN WILL GET PAID FOR TIME LOST IN HUNTING AXES

Chief Clark's Request for Increased Pay Laid on Table.

Chief Kerr Granted a New Helmet and Coat—Eight New Lights Asked for.

The Safety Board met last evening, Chairman Vanwart, Mayor Sears, Ald. Rowan, Spruille, Baxter, Hamn, Tilley, Lantalam, Pickett, Bullock, Christie, Chief Kerr, Director Wisely and Common Clerk Wardroper being present.

An application was received from William O'Keefe and he was granted a renewal of his lease for seven years. William Byers was given the lease of a lot of land in Lancaster for fourteen years. The land is what is known as the Baker property.

Police Officers Ira Perry, Ward and Lucas were granted half pay for time absent in February owing to illness. Officer Finley was granted full pay for time absent during illness, caused by the officer slipping on the sidewalk at Indiantown.

The warrants of T. A. Dunlop and Eric MacNeill as members of No. 1 salvage corps and of A. G. Patterson of No. 2 salvage corps were cancelled, these men having resigned.

Frank Elliott was elected a member of No. 1 salvage corps.

The subject of extra lights was then taken up. The estimate for extra lights has been reduced from thirteen to eight. Ald. Spruille asked for a light on the north side of King square.

Director Wisely said that the light on the fountain in King square could be shifted from the south side to the north side of the fountain, and this would suffice.

Ald. Bullock and Spruille were appointed to see if this would be satisfactory.

An application from Chief Clark for an increase in salary was laid on the table for further consideration.

Some discussion regarding the pay of Detective Killen in the Collins case, Ald. Bullock said that as Detective Killen had been served with a subpoena he should not be docked. He accordingly moved that the detective receive his pay. The motion was carried.

Chief Kerr, upon application, was granted with a helmet and coat. He said that he had not received a helmet from the city in twenty-five years.

It was decided that tenders be called for forty black and forty white helmets for the policemen.

Some discussion then followed on the objections of the Board of Works to the proposed plan for a building in which to keep the proposed patrol wagon.

It was decided that the matter be discussed before the Common Council.

Director Wisely suggested that a light be omitted on Seely street and one placed on Spring street, to meet an objection raised by Ald. Pickett.

Ald. Pickett asked for a light on the Marsh road, and Ald. Baxter suggested that the location of the light be allowed to stand over. Ald. Lantalam thought the proposed position of the lights should not be changed.

Pickett moved that one extra light be added to the number on the estimates.

Carried.

Ald. Christie asked for a light on the corner of Peters and Waterloo streets. He moved that this be placed there.

Ald. Christie and Spruille voted for the motion. Ald. Bullock and Rowan voted against it.

The chairman then requested the other aldermen to vote and asked for a second show of hands, but with the same result. He then declared the motion lost.

Ald. Bullock then referred to the condition of the lavatories in the country market. Ald. Lookhart said that Mr. Maxwell had promised to fix them as soon as the weather moderated. The meeting then adjourned.

BOARD OF EDUCATION MET YESTERDAY

FREDERICTON, March 25.—The Board of Education met this morning. Lieutenant Governor Tweedie presiding for the first time since his appointment and Mr. Robinson took his seat at the board for the first time. The most important matter taken up was the future of Kingston Consolidated School.

Premier Pugsley and Dr. Inch were appointed to confer with Sir William McDonald and Prof. Robertson in reference to the continuation of the school after the expiration of the three year period now provided for. This period will end in June next. Prof. Robertson will visit New Brunswick in a week or so, when the question will be taken up with him. A resolution from St. John county Orange Lodge was before the board. The object of the resolution is to have the Canadian ensign flown on all school grounds in the province during school hours. The board ordered the resolution sent to the government as the proper body to deal with it. Dr. Inch and Chancellor Jones were named as a committee to appoint examiners for matriculation and closing examinations. The matter of revision of the boundaries of certain school districts was also taken up, and petitions from the Normal and Model School instructors and others for salary increases were before the board.

HAVE BOUGHT TUG BOAT.

ALBERT, A. Co., March 25.—I. C. Prescott, W. B. Dixon and others have purchased a large tug boat for towing purposes in Shepody bay and river. The boat is now in a Maine port, where she was laid up during the winter, and will be brought here as soon as navigation opens. She will be commanded by Capt. John Luna.

FATHER THROWS SON TO HOWLING WOLVES

Villagers Decide That He be Clubbed to Death, But Police Save His Life.

BUDAPEST, March 25.—Johann Horvath, a peasant of Kay, yesterday threw his 8 year old son to the wolves with the boy, when four wolves got on the track of his two-horse cart and overhauled it, the road being in bad condition owing to the melting snow. Horvath was unarmed, and as the wolves were about to attack him he seized his boy and threw him into the road, when the wolves tore him to pieces.

Horvath escaped, and on reaching Kapl told how the horrible sight of the wolves devouring his child had so fascinated him that he kept looking back until they were out of sight.

His life was saved by the appearance of the police, who had been informed of what was happening, and Horvath was arrested.

ROMANS THINK GIOLITTI HAS THE "EVIL EYE"

Strange Record of Deaths in Italian Cabinet During His Administration.

ROME, March 25.—The superstitious citizens of Rome have regarded the Premier, Signor Giolitti, as a man possessing the "evil eye," and the belief has been suddenly strengthened by two tragic events which have recently occurred.

Signor Gallo, the minister of justice and public worship, was found dead in bed, having had an apoplectic seizure. He was apparently in good health the day before, and was out driving.

The minister's death, following the attack of apoplexy which seized Signor Masimino, the minister of finance, in the Chamber, has caused an indelible sensation.

It is recalled that four ministers in Signor Giolitti's first cabinet died in office, while Signor Rosano, minister of justice in his second cabinet, committed suicide by shooting himself.

Signor Tittoni, minister for foreign affairs in the present administration, has also had an attack of cerebral congestion, and Signor Cianciuro, minister of public works, is seriously ill.

The opposition hope that a political crisis will be brought about by the unfortunate position of the cabinet, but that is doubtful, as there is no other person who holds such an ascendancy over parliament as Signor Giolitti.

MASKED NEGROES DANCE WITH BELLES

Hotel Cooks Attend Masquerade, and Tread Measures With Elite of Village.

HYANNIS, Nev., March 25.—After they had danced with all the society belles of the city, at a masquerade last night two negroes, Frank Shepard and Sam Minn, took off their disguises in a saloon, and with razors shaved off an angry mob of fathers, brothers and sweethearts.

The ball was for citizens generally, and was attended by nearly every one. It was easy for the negroes to get in masked and disguised. They are cooks at a hotel and stood well in the community until the masquerade. Today they have defied arrest, but the sentiment is strong and they must leave town at once. Today there was a wholesale destruction of hitherto highly prized souvenir programmes of the dance, for the negroes did not overlook any of the prominent women.

POLICE INCREASES RECOMMENDED BY SALARIES' COM.

The salaries committee met in City Hall yesterday afternoon to consider the proposed increase in the salaries of some of the civic employees.

It was decided by the committee to recommend the increase to the policemen, as petitioned for. Policemen will get $2 a day instead of $1.75, as at present. Detective Killen's salary was increased to $2.50 a day. Deputy Jennings was increased to $2.75 a day, and the pay of sergeants was increased to $2.25 a day.

It was proposed that the Police Pension Fund would be available any time the officers desired it. This fund will be in the hands of the city, and not handled by an insurance company, as was at first proposed.

William Boyle, who is caretaker of the six lockups in the city, had his pay increased to $1.50 a day.

Marshall Coughlan, who was formerly given $1.50 for each of $18 for the twelve meetings of the Common Council in the Court House, will hereafter receive $2 for this work.

His Worship Mayor Sears, Ald. Vanwart, Bullock, McGoldrick, Lantalam, Lockhart and Tilley were present at the meeting.

NEW YORK, March 25.—The body of Mrs. Natalie Dele Lockwood Latham, who committed suicide in Paris recently, was interred in Hillside cemetery, Peekskill, N. Y., today.

GOV'T LIKELY TO APPOINT COMMISSION TO INQUIRE INTO OPERATION OF P.E.I. PROHIBITORY LAW--WILL NOT SATISFY TEMPERANCE PEOPLE

While the provincial government has not yet submitted a definite reply to the Temperance Federation's request that a prohibitory law be introduced in the legislature, it is understood that the government propose instead the appointment of a commission of three to examine the working of the prohibitory act in Prince Edward Island.

The Temperance Federation to have the privilege of nominating one of the commissioners.

A leading temperance man in speaking of this proposal to The Sun said it would not be at all satisfactory to the temperance party. They want a promise that a prohibitory law will be introduced, and unless this is done they intend taking an active part in the coming election, and the candidates in all constituencies will be asked to pledge themselves to support such a measure.

Those who refuse will be deprived of the support of the temperance party as far as the federation can control the vote. It is very evident that this question will occupy a prominent position in the coming contest, as the temperance people are getting well organized and are apparently in earnest in the fight.

Prof. John A. Nicholls of Boston, who has been filling engagements in this province for several weeks under the direction of the Grand Lodge, I. O. G. T., will leave here on Wednesday for Lowell, Mass. By special appointment he will act as fraternal delegate from the Grand Lodge of New Brunswick to the Massachusetts Grand Lodge at Lowell, Mass. By special appointment he will then fill a number of appointments in that state, and is one of the principal speakers at the state banquet of the prohibition party at Tremont Temple, Boston, April 17th.

Professor Nicholls will return to New Brunswick the latter part of April, and will remain in the province, conducting a prohibition campaign under the direction of the Grand Lodge executive until the annual meeting of the Grand Lodge, which will be held in St. John in July.

CELEBRITIES INVITED BY CANADIAN CLUB PROSPECTS ROSY FOR 62ND. RIFLE CLUB

A largely attended meeting of the Rifle Association of the 62nd Fusiliers was held last evening at regimental headquarters, 217 Charlotte street. Officers of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association who will be in the city early in April to address the Club during his visit.

W. T. Sted, who is coming to Canada in April will also be invited by the club to address the Club and a similar invitation will be extended to Earl Grey also, who will be in St. John during the coming summer.

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy has not yet announced when he will be able to come.

CHICAGO, March 25.—"On a winter afternoon, while I was lecturing to a class of 200 students at the Fisheries and Marine College of Chicago," says a writer in the Chicago Tribune, "one of my experiments—a color reaction—failed."

"The solutions were on the table in unlabeled, tall, cylindrical jars. I depended upon my memory and the arrangement upon the table to inform me of the nature of the various solutions, which were colorless when unmixed. The experiment for a moment had been misplaced, in an unguarded moment I directed my assistant to procure some sticks of the chemical from the laboratory, make a solution quickly and bring it to me. The assistant seized some sticks of potassium cyanide instead of the proper chemical. The cyanide resembles the other in form, color and appearance. But the cyanide is the most powerful and rapidly fatal poison in the world. He made the solution with the cyanide and brought me the deadly mixture. I used it without suspicion, and again the reaction failed."

"Seeking to discover the cause of the trouble, I put a few drops of the cyanide upon my tongue. It was as sweet as sugar, and with any other poison in the pharmacopoeia it would have been a trifling error. But it is not safe to test the subtle and deadly cyanide in form, color and appearance. But the cyanide is the most powerful and rapidly fatal poison in the world. He made the solution with the cyanide and brought me the deadly mixture. I used it without suspicion, and again the reaction failed."

"There was a stupendous roar in my ears, like the fall of a cataraet, and there also was a certain outburst of all the senses. Yet I was conscious of a startling internal clearness of thought, as if the mind, withdrawn from all outward things, was preternaturally alert within. I felt certain that if that velvety cloud dropped low enough to hide the students' feet I would be dead, and I struggled to regain consciousness."

All idea of time disappeared. I could not tell how long I had been there, and only obscurely where I was. The strongest state was a mingling of curiosity and anxiety as to whether the students' feet would disappear."

"The terror deepened, a strange sense of isolation, of remote distance from everything came over me; death probably was near. If one drop more had been taken, it would in all probability have been fatal, but as it was, the energies of the system began to throw the poison off."

"The cloud suddenly began to ascend with heavy jerks, even as it had descended. The roaring in the ears died away, and out of the darkness and nothingness that had surrounded me, the ceiling, the students, the table of chemicals—all the familiar surroundings—reappeared."

"There seemed to be no commotion in the class. I resumed my lecture."

ANIMAL SHELLS.

It is a curious fact that the shells of certain animals, such as cephalopods, brachiopods and some bivalves, are commonly marked by retrogressive changes as they advance. The old man returns to second childhood in mind and body," states a well known scientist at Washington, "and the shell of the cephalopod has in old age, however distinct and highly ornamental the adult, very close resemblance to its own young."

2400—A SMALL PINAFORE FROCK.

2400—There is something quaintly charming about pinafore styles which little maids and older ones too are wearing at present. The small dress shown is in vogue with a fanciful blue collar of velvet about the neck.

The wide armholes and open spaces under the arms suggest the young frocks of some of fashion's devotees but it they are very pleasing upon small figures. The skirt is a box pleated one and joined by a waistband to the material being the popular choice. Lawn, cashmere or a pongee might serve.

The gumpes may be of any contrasting fabric, a lighter tone and material being the popular choice. Lawn, cashmere or a pongee might serve.

The frock may be developed in any seasonable material which has body. For the medium size 24-4 yards of 42-inch material are needed for the dress and 11-2 of 36 for the gumpes.

2400—Sizes, 4, 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. The price of this pattern is 10c.

BORN BLIND AS RESULT OF FATHER'S ATTACK

Mother Brings Child to Court and Pleads for a Divorce.

ST. LOUIS, March 25.—There were no dry eyes in Division No. 6 of the Circuit Court today, when Mrs. Dolle S. Russell, suing Lee Russell for divorce, told with dramatic intensity of the blow which felled her to the floor and blinded her unborn child as she believes.

"We had been married only a few months," she said. "My husband came home intoxicated. I met him at the door. He struck me in the face and knocked me to the floor. I held my hands over my eyes like this, and when the baby was born it was blind."

"The woman sank back in the witness chair sobbing. The eyes of every one except those of the husband were turned toward the blind child, Helen, 8 years old, who sat on the front bench outside the rail. Her nightgown eyes turned toward the sound of her mother's voice. The husband blinked his eyes rapidly and averted his gaze.

MARY WEAVES A TANGLED WEB

By H. S. Dayton.

(Copyrighted, 1907, by M. M. Cunningham.)

You see, it happened to be my house! "Good night, Mr. Dwyer," her foot tapped the lower step nervously.

"But, Miss Hazleton," I protested, "allow me to see you quite to your own door."

"Here I am!" waving her muff aloft toward my house. I almost gasped.

"Isn't there some mistake?" I ventured.

"And you imagine I lived in a tree, like Peter Pan?" She laughed, doubtless thinking I was awed at the splendor of her abode.

"This gave me an idea. Perhaps the poor child had humble quarters and in her pride sought to play a ruse. Rather foolish that she should select my house!

My acquaintance with Mary Hazleton had consisted of many encounters at my cousin Belle's studio. A couple of Philistines, we often chatted in Belle's cozy corner, drank Belle's tea and amused ourselves watching Belle's guests—all alleged celebrities. Indeed, we talked of everything but Miss Hazleton. Nor did Belle seem to know much about the girl, which was not strange, for Belle often took up an attractive girl, made her welcome at the studio and pressed her into service as a model. Belle, like all extravagant persons, has her own ideas on economy.

On this particular evening I had chanced upon Miss Hazleton, hurrying through the streets, and had taken it upon myself to see that she arrived at her destination in safety. After walking blocks, often retracing ground, I was naturally puzzled when she stopped before my own door and coolly informed me she was "home."

"I had hoped some time to offer it to her." "Good night, Mr. Dwyer, and thanks for coming so far out of your way," she said again.

"You are too solicitous, Mr. Dwyer," she said sweetly. "I think I will sit on the porch a few moments—alone."

"I, too, like to sit on porches," I blurted out.

"Come up then," she invited promptly. "But you must not disturb my—"

"I was charmed with her daring. I wanted to tell her one might shout without fear of disturbing old Martha, who was 'doing' for me until mother and the servants returned.

I sat down on the top step. Listening to her clever chatter, I advanced theory after theory to myself to explain her motives. Even when a possible plot against the silver spoons suggested itself, I couldn't judge her harshly. A lady burglar! Well, we had some mighty pleasing ones lately in—"

"The point of offering myself as a confederate against my own silver when she sees more said."

"You really must go now, Mr. Dwyer."

"May I come again?" I queried.

"I'll see you at Belle's," she eluded.

"Belle sails for Europe Wednesday," I reminded.

Mary looked dismayed.

"So I may come here instead for our usual chat on the arts?"

STRANDED SETTLERS MAKE COMPLAINT

Say They Were Deceived in Coming to Canada

Want to Go West But Have No Money — Transportation Companies are Taking Action.

A young Scotchman, one of a party who came to Canada to work on the Grand Trunk Pacific, called at the Star office today to register a complaint against the treatment accorded himself and friends. He handed in a letter, containing the following:— "I am a man who is to be stranded in a strange country, yet such is the miserable situation in which I and fifteen others are placed in St. John through no fault of our own. The circumstances are as follows:—We left Great Britain some three weeks ago, having paid our passage money to St. John with the expectation of getting employment on the Grand Trunk Railway. The agents with whom we had booked our passage assured us that directly we arrived here we would be met by an immigration employment agent, who would advance us our fares to Winnipeg, which fares would be deducted from our wages when earned. What has been the result? Instead of our expectations being realized, we find that we have been completely 'taken in.' We have been informed by Mr. Lantulum, the immigration agent, that if we wish to proceed to Winnipeg we shall have to pay our own fares. This we are unable to do, the majority of us having not one single cent in our pockets. Consequently we are stranded. It is not a scandalous state of affairs? What are we to do? There is no work to be had here just now. We have searched for it high and low, but in vain. True, some of us secured jobs for three days shovelling snow, but the little we have earned has been required—or most of it at any rate—for food.

There is a certain matter—or shall I call it a mystery—in connection with the Immigration Hall in which we are presently stopping, which has puzzled me greatly since my arrival here. I refer to the several placards which are posted on the walls, containing information that farm work, railway work and domestic service can be secured free of charge, through employment agents. As I failed to secure employment on my arrival, I naturally inquired what was the meaning of these placards. The answer I got was that they were simply there as ornaments! Highly satisfactory, wasn't it? Now, sir, is this not a terrible state of affairs. Here are sixteen of us, stranded in St. John, the majority of us absolutely penniless, and with no prospects of immediate employment. Yours truly,

ONE OF THE SIXTEEN. The Star learns that only one of the men came by the Donaldson Line, and his friends in the west are now being located. The others came out by C. P. R. boats, and efforts are also being made to help them.

MANY ARE CALLED; FEW WILL BE TAKEN

NO SIGNS YET OF AN EARLY RIVER SEASON

Repairs on the river steamers are being completed this week and the boats will be ready to go on their routes as soon as the ice moves out. Boiler Inspector Dalton made his annual trip to Marble Cove this morning where he inspected most of the river boats. There are yet no signs of an early opening of navigation on the river. At several points the ice is only a few inches thick but L. Nasz, of Milltown, has received word that at Oromocto the ice is twenty-seven inches thick. At Kingston Creek, on the river, the ice usually shows the first signs of breaking up. At this place it is now about eleven inches thick.

TWO ASSAULT GASES DEALT WITH TODAY

Four men faced the magistrate this morning and were quickly dealt with. James Quiljan was the first called on, being charged by Joseph Hector with assault. The feeling between Quiljan and Hector has not been of the most friendly nature and yesterday Quiljan punched Hector on the jaw. The punch cost him $20 and being unable to pay the amount he was sent to jail for a two months term. Wm. Whipple got a very annoying jag on yesterday and interfered with people on Charlotte street. He went to jail for 30 days in default of paying an eight dollars fine. Arthur Cunningham's load got him in trouble yesterday. He went to his sister's home on Foundry Lane and showed his affection for his sister Hattie by smashing her dishes and assaulting her. He was sent into jail for 30 days in default of paying eight dollars. The sister did not appear against him or he would have probably not have got off so lightly. One drunk was fined $4 or 10 days.
