A Liberian Love Story.

Among the number of recaptured Africans in the United States steamship Niagara, there were two young Congoes—Kandah and Kandah who became strongly attached to each other on the passage. During the few weeks that all who landed from that ship remained at Monrovia, and in the same receptacle this mutual attachment strengthened and matured into a passion, that regarded every earthly possession and enjoyment as valueless, if it embraced not the one darling object of its choice.

None but the parties themselves were at all in the secret; and when a division had to be made, and some of the company, for many, wise reasons, must go to other portions of the republic, the young man Kandah was selected to go to Basa. When made acquainted with this determination as to himself, he manifested extreme reluctance, and begged to be permitted to stay where he then was. But those having authority in the matter, in the absence of any special reason, insisted that he must go. He went.

The secret soon got out. On reaching Basa, this hitherto lively and smart young Congo was downhearted—refused to wash or eat, and neglecting the personal attention common to his tribe, grew wan, poor and soon fell sick, replying to those who spoke, with him on the subject, in a spirit of desperate coolness, "what use he be for me to live? suppose I no get dat gal, I want to die."

In the meantime, manifestations in the Monrovia receptacle on the part of one there showed that Kandah's love was not misplaced or without compensation in the strong affection of his loving fellow in misfortune and misery—his wildly-adored Kandah.

The humane appreciations of those who had these children of wrong and suffering under care, arranged to save the life of Kandah and remove his savage grief, by having him returned to Monrovia.

Once more the lovers met. Subsequently Kandah not being well was inquired of by one of teachers, as follows: "What if it should be thought not best for you to marry Kandah?" Her cool reply, looking her teacher full in the face, was,

"Well, I can die." The lovers were submitted to no such trial of their affection and tendencies to desperation in the destruction of their own lives. It was agreed upon by the agents that their marriage be immediately celebrated, and in as nearly a civilized and Christian style as their own rule and barbarous state would admit of.

We were invited to attend the nuptials; but sickness dashed this cup of meditated pleasure from our lips. On the afternoon of the 17th ult. the successful lovers were joined in matrimony by the Rev. John Seyes. Everything, we are informed, was conducted with much respectability, which, while it reflected no little credit on the managers in the matter, without doubt made fine impression on the minds of all the witnesses belonging to the company.

The sequel to the above is to be found in the following announcement: Married. On Thursday, the 17th inst. (March) at the Colonization Receptacle in Monrovia, by the Rev. John Seyes, Kandah alias James Buchanan, to Kandah alias Ann Liberia Jeffa, both liberated Africans of the company by the United States ship Niagara.—Liberian Christian Advocate.

CAUGHT IN HIS OWN TRAP.—Once two ministers of the gospel were conversing on extemporaneous preaching.

"Well, said the old divine, waxing warm, you are ruining yourself by writing your sermons and reading them off. Your congregation cannot become interested in your preaching; and if you were called upon to preach unexpectedly, unless you could get hold of an old sermon, you would be completely confused."

The young divine used all his eloquence, but in vain, to convince the old gentleman that the written sermon expressed his own thoughts and feelings, and if called upon he could preach extemporaneously.

"As we are of the same faith," said the young minister, "suppose you try me next Sabbath morning. On ascending the pulpit you can hand me a text from any part of the Bible, and I will convince you that I can preach without having looked at the text before I stood up. Likewise, I must be allowed the same privilege with you, and see who will make the best of it."

The idea seemed to delight the old gentleman, and it was immediately agreed upon.

The following Sabbath, on mounting the pulpit, his senior brother handed him a slip of paper, on which was written: "And the ass opened his mouth and spake;" from which he preached a glorious sermon, chaining the attention of his delighted hearers,

In the afternoon, the young brother, who was sitting below the pulpit, handed him a slip. After rising and opening the Bible, the old man looked sadly around—"Am I not thine ass?" Pausing a few minutes, he ran his fingers through his hair, straightened his collar, blew his nose like the last trumpet, and read aloud—"Am I not thine ass?" Another pause, in which a deadly silence reigned. After reading the third time—"Am I not thine ass?" he looked over the pulpit at his friend, and in a doleful voice, said—"I think I am, brother."

Drainage lengthens the Season.

One beneficial result claimed for thorough drainage is that "it lengthens the season for labor and vegetation"—an "extension"—which the crops and the farmer needs as often as the customer of banks and brokers. That the time required for the "settling of the soil" after the frost passes from it, depends to a great extent upon its porous or its retentive character, is everywhere known and conceded. The deep gravelly loam is seen to be very soon free from water, while the heavy clay requires a long time to become fit for cultivation. In the one case the soil is fully drained—in the other the water passes off by the slow process of evaporation. Thorough drainage of the heavy soil renders both alike in this respect, and thus adds from ten to fifteen days of time of preparation for seeding—giving the same increased time for the growth of the crops to which the land is devoted.

We have the testimony of various practical farmers on this question, and none more to the point than the following: At an agricultural meeting in Boston, Mr. B. F. Nourse, of Orlington, Me., who was present, said that drainage on the farm "had put his spring, cold lands in good working order in the season than any other in the neighborhood. One lot drained in 1832 was in good working condition as soon as the frost was out. Before drainage, cattle could not cross it early in June without miring. It enabled the later as well as the earlier cultivation of the land. He had ploughed as late as the 20th of November. Messrs. Maxwell Brothers of Geneva, N. Y., in a statement of draining done on their farm in 1855, and which received the first premium of the State Ag. Society, say they underdrained one clayey lot, which previously "it was quite impracticable to plow or cultivate in a wet time, and consequently it was very difficult to get in a spring crop in season."

After underdraining they could cultivate immediately after rains with advantage, and, of course, get in their crops much more seasonably than before. Mr. Yeomans, another Central New-York farmer and nurseryman, states that on his drained lands "he ground becomes almost as dry in two or three days after the frost comes out in spring, or after a heavy rain, as it would do in as many weeks before draining," and the frost leaves drained land at least a week sooner than that which remains undrained.

These instances are surely enough to satisfy those who have lost time, labor and crops from late sowing and planting, caused solely by waiting for "the subsiding of the waters," that there is a remedy for this evil—a remedy not only effectual in removing this, but many other disadvantages under which they labor in cultivating retentive or springy soils. We have above stated that in addition to the lengthening of the time of preparation for crops, it gave, by enabling earlier planting and sowing, increased time for vegetation. How important this is, facts in the experience of every farmer show.—[Cultivator.]

PREVALENCE AND PREVENTION OF SMALL POX.—Two eminent medical correspondents of the Times call attention to a matter of immense national importance. Small pox has of late been committing fearful havoc in the metropolis and other parts of the country, and the gentlemen referred to fear that this formidable malady will again, as in former times appear as a terrific scourge "unless efficient and immediate measures are taken for its prevention." The recent increase of the disease is traced to three causes the first of which is the extraordinary fact, that the virus used for vaccination has never been renewed since Jenner's time. It has thus, it is argued, become comparatively inefficient as a preventive of infection. In the next place, it is asserted that London is the centre from which the supply of vaccine matter is obtained, and the correspondents very reasonably hold that the transmission of the cow-pox matter so variously influenced as that of a great city population must have greatly deteriorated its powers. The third alleged cause is one which the medical profession has often had under consideration, and it is one to which the public generally should now direct some attention. It is stated that the remuneration awarded to public vaccinators is not sufficient to ensure the care and scrutiny necessary for the due performance of the important duty with which they are charged; and in addition to this, it is urged that the number of these officers should be greatly increased, and that Government inspectors should be appointed for the purpose of watching "whether the results of each operation are successful or not; and thus to secure, by direct official superintendence, the complete performance of vaccination."—[London Journal.]

Poetry.

THE AUTUMN WINDS.

O! I love the autumn night winds
And the moaning autumn blasts;
As they shake the leafless branches,
When they wildly hurry past.
Let them shriek around my casement,
In this murky midnight hour;
For I'd love to hear them ever,
And to live within their power.

Let them pass with wails unearthly,
They can wake in me no dread;
Though each voice be sad as Sorrow's,
When she lingers o'er the dead.
Yet I'll glory in their wildness,
In their mournful mystic spell;
As they sweep along the mountain,
Or in the rocky cavern dell.

Let me stand beside the ocean,
When the angry billows roar;
For I love the waves' fierce motion,
As they dash against the shore.
O! they mind me of the sorrows,
That in awful wildness roll;
As they struggle in their madness,
To engulf my living soul.

How to Pronounce "Ouch."—The ending syllable "ough," which is such a terror to foreigners, is shown in its several pronunciations in the following lines:

Wife, make some dumplings of dough;
They're better than meat for my cough;
Pray let them be boiled till hot through,
But not till they're heavy or tough.
Now, I must be off to my plough,
And the boys (when they've had enough)
Must keep the flies off with a bough,
While the old mare drinks at the trough."

An Elephant at Large.

One of Van Amburg's elephants escaped in Williamsburgh, N. Y., about ten days ago, causing great commotion. A man had been employed to bring something to the menagerie, which were brought in a wagon. The man drove into the tent, and while unloading the wagon the elephant was observed to grow restless at the sight of the horse, which had a white blanket on. The man was advised to take his horse away, but before he could do so, the elephant advanced a few steps, and knocked the man down with a blow of his trunk and injured him seriously. He then seized the wagon, throwing it up in the air and breaking it to pieces. His anger was now fully aroused, and proceeding to the cage of the prairie wolf he smashed it with his trunk, and released him.

Next in his way was the cage of a black bear. This cage was demolished, but the bear was chained up and could not escape. The cage of the zebra being next in his way, he pushed it through the tent and clear through the wall of a small shanty at the back of the tent. Then leaving the tent he got into the street, pursued by his keepers and hundreds of people, none of whom were able to cope with the enraged elephant. He did not molest passers by, but seemed to have a great aversion to horses, which he would pursue as rapidly as he was able being hopped with a chain connecting his tusks with one of his fore-legs. He was finally driven by the crowd into a stone yard, where his chain got caught in a large stone which checked him.

The keepers gradually approached him, and he was thrown down upon his side, where he lay for some time bellowing and thrashing about him with his trunk. Application was made to members of two Hook and Ladder companies, Nos. 1 & 5, who furnished the keepers with long hooks. One of these was run through one of his ears and twisted round until the poor animal could not move his head from the pain of the wound. When he was perfectly subdued, he was heavily bound with chains and taken back to the menagerie. This is the largest elephant that has been exhibited in this country, and it is the same that a few years since caused such havoc by escaping from his keepers at Harlem.

An association has been formed in San Francisco, with the intention of embracing the whole State, for the purpose of excluding the Chinese from all employment, except the lowest kind.

When the framers of the declaration of American independence declared that "all men are born free and equal," they little thought how soon the doctrine would be contemptuously spurned by their countrymen. If the intention of the association is carried out, the Chinese nation should adopt the lex talionis in respect to the treatment of the people of the United States in their much coveted trade and intercourse with the Celestial Empire.

The accusation against Dr. J. C. Ayer, of Lowell, for stabbing R. S. Fay, Jr., the Treasurer of Middlesex Mills, has been withdrawn because the prosecutrix found that no complaint against him could be sustained. The fact is that Dr. Ayer merely defended himself as best he might, with a penknife he happened to have in his hand, against a cowardly assault made on him from behind, with the premeditated intention to dishonor and punish him for the exposure he has made and is still making of the wrongs practised by the officers upon our manufacturing corporations. This community not only upholds the Doctor's successful defence of his person, but it heartily approves his course in publicly denouncing the Tite-Barnacle Family management—the abuses of our public property for private ends. Dr. Ayer's medicines, however valuable, are not all for which the masses of our people hold him in regard.—[Boston Herald.]

A true story of a Robin.

We doubt if the records of ornithology furnish a more striking instance of affection and sensibility than is displayed in the following story of a robin, which we can vouch to be authentic.

"The servant of a lady residing at the north part of Brighton, whilst occupied one day in the scullery, was startled by a noise, which at first, was supposed to be occasioned by a mouse; but on examination of the various pots and pans in the place, she at length discovered the true origin of the disturbance. It was a young robin, which had found its way into a bright copper coal-scuttler. She succeeded in capturing it, and took it into the parlor to her mistress, where it soon made itself quite at home, and ate the sopped bread which was placed on its little beak. In a short time it was quite happy in its comfortable quarters; but, as some of its habits were not quite consistent with the cleanliness of a lady's sitting-room, and the lady had no wish to confine it to a cage, full opportunity was given to the little stranger to recover his liberty, by the window being thrown open. Of this opportunity, however the robin availed itself to a certain extent—that is, it would fly out, but invariably return at a certain hour of the day, and its practice was then to perch upon a certain founce of the lady's dress, and then, looking into its mistress's face, it would pour forth its cheerful little song. This went on for some time, until, one afternoon, when the robin was in its accustomed place, a friend called who wished the lady to accompany her for a walk, and then came the question, what was to be done with the robin? There it was its favorite founce and the lady was a prisoner until it flew off. It had not yet sung its song, but its mistress anxiously to join her visitor, at last took up a handkerchief, and waving it said, "You must go now, Bobby, Good-bye." The bird took the hint immediately, and flew out of the window. On the following day its coming was looked for at the accustomed hour as a matter of course; and the window was left open as usual. But no robin came. Another day passed, and no robin, until at last it was given up for lost to the infinite regret of the lady, and the great indignation of the old servant, who sympathized with the bird, said, "Of course Missus couldn't expect Bobby to return after being treated in such a manner."

There was, however, no help for it. Every reparation would have been made, and apology offered that could heal the wound inflicted upon the bird's feelings; but like a slighted lover or injured friend, he kept aloof.

And comes the most singular story. One day the lady who had owned the robin was walking by herself along Rose Hill terrace when suddenly she was alarmed and almost blinded by something striking against her face. She thought at first that it was a stone thrown by some careless boy; but on recovering from the confusion of a moment, to her astonishment she perceived the true perpetrator of the assault. There was a pale, close by, sat the robin—her own Bobby, singing his old song, as loudly as ever; and having finished it he again flew away, and was seen no more.

MINIATURE STEAM ENGINE.—A miniature steam engine, complete in all its details, has been on exhibition at the State Fair, of about one rat power, manufactured by Henry Rice, watchmaker, of Sacramento. A steam attachment was formed with a copper pipe no larger in diameter than an ordinary straw, connecting with the boiler outside, from which it receives its supply; and when under a full head, its fly wheel performed over two thousand revolutions a minute. Nothing could be more beautifully accurate in its adjustment. The cylinder has a three sixteenth inch, seven-sixteenth inch stroke. It propelled a small turning lathe, and elicited from the spectators many complimentary remarks to the skill of its manufacturer.—[San Francisco Standard.]

THE HUMAN VOICE.—The most beautiful and touching instrument, which man has received from the hands of his benevolent Maker, is the voice. Through words he can impart life and significance to his melodies; he can call forth the most secret feelings of the heart, awaken every passion into living reality, and powerfully vibrate all the cords of the soul. What joyful sensations cannot the simple song of the shepherd, of the Alps inspire! If such be the case, how much greater must be the effect produced by a cultivated singer, if his song be enlivened by art and a regulated fancy; we say a regulated fancy for how often do even experienced singers, betrayed by vanity or affectation, overstep the limits marked out by nature. And yet how much more frequently are the most excellent gifts, instead of being consecrated to the art, to a mere mechanical and unintellectual means of making a livelihood.—[Bentley.]

AN INDIAN KILLED BY A BEAR.—Some day last week, as we learn by Mr. Fish, the body of an Indian, whose intestines were protruding, was found in the woods in Morrison-town, Brown county. A little distance from him lay a dead bear, which had been shot through the neck. It is supposed that after shooting him, the bear turned upon the Indian, and after a desperate fight killed him, and then it died itself from the Indian's ball. The bear weighed some 400 pounds.—[Manitowoc Pilot.]

FIXEDNESS OF PURPOSE.—When a child learning to walk, if you can induce the little creature to keep its eyes fixed on any point in advance it will generally "navigate" to that point without capsizing; but distract its attention by word or act from the object before it, and down goes the baby. This rule applies to children of larger growth. The man who starts in life with a determination to reach a certain position, and adheres unwaveringly to his purpose, rarely fails, if he live long enough, to reach the goal for which he set out.

Omnibuses, the first seen in Syria, have begun to run at Beyrout. Crowds of natives stood gazing at them for hours with wonder and admiration.

European Intelligence.

New York, Dec. 7.

Steamship Edinburgh from Liverpool 23d via Queenstown, arrived this evening. The announcement that invitations had been issued for the Congress was premature. Nothing authentic was known in the matter.

It was reported negotiations were progressing for the forwarding of New York direct mails via Queenstown.

Dr. Barry, Catholic Bishop of Savannah, has died in Paris.

The father of the child, Mortara, had arrived in Paris, determined to demand from the Congress the restoration of his child.

The Paris Bourse was dull, but steady at 60 1/2.

FROM CALIFORNIA.

The overland mail arrived at St. Louis on the 6th inst., with San Francisco dates to the 14th ult. The advices from Vancouver's Island are to the 10th ult.

Gen. Scott arrived at Victoria, Nov. 7, but the papers do not state whether he had had an interview with Governor Douglas.

The Victoria Gazette of Nov. 10 says that the United States troops, with the exception of Capt. Pickett's company have withdrawn from San Juan by order of Gen. Scott.

Gen. Scott left Victoria previous to the 10th of November for Fort Townsend, to take the steamer Northern for San Francisco where he would await further instructions from Washington.

The accounts from the Fraser River mines are favourable. $105,000 in gold was exported from Victoria in October.

Heavy rains had furnished abundance of water for mining operations in California, even in the driest diggings.

The overland mail of October 23, reached San Francisco on the 13th ult. Twenty days out, the shortest trip yet made.

Discouraging accounts had been received from the Carson Valley mines, resulting doubtless from inability to work the mines on account of cool weather.

THE TERMS OF THE TEMPORARY ARRANGEMENT AT SAN JUAN ISLAND.—The following is the proposition submitted by Gen. Scott to Gov. Douglas, for the joint occupation of the island of San Juan:—

"Without prejudice to the claim of either nation to the sovereignty of the entire island of San Juan, now in dispute, it is proposed that each shall occupy a separate portion of the same by a detachment of infantry, riflemen, or marines, not exceeding one hundred men, with their appropriate arms, only for the equal protection of their persons and property, and to repel any descent on the part of hostile Indians."

Gen. Scott added in his note that any addition or modification suggested by Gov. Douglas would meet with respectful consideration.

Lieutenant-Colonel Lay returned with the following reply.

Memorandum.—His Excellency Gov. Douglas authorizes me to say, having yet no time to consider the proposition offered by Lieutenant General Scott, or to consult with his official advisers here, he is at a glance satisfied that no obstacle exists to a completely amicable and satisfactory adjustment continuing throughout the period of diplomatic discussion respecting the title of the island of San Juan, either upon the plan suggested by Gen. Scott, or some other that may be mutually agreed to after advisement.

A copy of this memorandum was retained by Gov. Douglas, after being read and approved by him, and signed by Lieutenant Colonel Lay.

A WEALTHY WOULD BE PAUPER.—There is a woman living in Ercelfont, nearly eighty years of age, who has several times applied for parochial relief, and has as often received an order from the guardians to decline to the house, which she has always declined, and it would appear, not without good reason. Last week she went to a certain box in her possession, and having counted over its contents to the amount of 327 sovereigns and two half-sovereigns she exclaimed that there ought to be sixty more and vigorously anathematized whoever might have robbed her, but whether she had really been robbed or had erred in her previous calculations, was not very satisfactorily made out. [Wilshire (Eng.) Independent.]

MILITARY.—It is stated that a letter has been received from Home in this regard intimating that the route for the two gallant Regiments, at present serving in Halifax, to proceed to the West Indies may be expected at any time. The rumor is that the 62nd will proceed to Jamaica, for the purpose of relieving the 41st Welch Regt., and the 63rd to Barbadoes to replace the 49th, that the two Corps thus relieved will come on to Halifax.

There is a reasonable probability that this change will take effect early in the ensuing Spring. The citizens of Halifax will, when the time arrives, part with regret from the 62nd and 63rd—two of the highest disciplined and best conducted corps in the British Army. [Halifax Morning Journal.]

NOVA SCOTIA has already set a good example before her neighbors in the matter of Sabbath observance. We have a hundred, and thirty miles of railway, but no engine ever started or stirred on it on the Lord's day.

We have our morning and evening papers in abundance, but none of them are printed or circulated on the Sabbath. We have daily mails to almost every village of importance in the province, as well as to New Brunswick and the United States; but all post offices are closed and all mail carrying ceases on the Sabbath. We have now been without Sunday mails since 1850—nearly ten years; and my sincere belief is that five sixths of our people are delighted with the change, and would profoundly deprecate a relapse into the old state of affairs. We have never had any Sunday theatricals, excepting away when the Roman Catholics manage to get up something fine in their own chapels. [Cor. Montreal Witness.]

VENTILATION is not much understood in this City. The houses are not constructed in the majority of cases as they ought to be. The windows almost invariably rise from the bottom in place of going down from the top, and the consequence is that people have to shut their bed-room windows at night. The Scientific American in an article on ventilation says:—

"Though we are thus constantly manufacturing a deadly poison, we are by a most beautiful and benign provision of our Maker shielded from its bad consequences. The outgoing breath is always considerably heated; this makes it lighter, and causes it to ascend over our heads; when we are out of doors it is rapidly carried away, and is in time purified by another process less beautiful. Four houses were properly constructed, this constant carrying away of the foul products of respiration would always go on, and we should never suffer any more inconvenience from them than when out in the open air. But it seems that it is hard for us to learn nature's laws."

RACE HORSES.—Flying Childers bred in 1715 by the Duke of Devonshire, was allowed by sportsmen to have been the fleetest horse that ever ran in New market, or that was ever bred in the world. He ran 4 miles in 6 minutes and 48 seconds at the rate of 300 miles an hour carrying 9 stone 2 lbs. Eclipse was the fleetest horse that ever ran in England since the time of Childers; he was never beaten and died in February, 1789 aged 25 years. His heart weighed 11 lbs., which accounted for his wonderful spirit and courage. [Christie White's History of the Turf.]

At a meeting of the Medical Council, which took place on the 24th Nov., the following resolution was passed and copies ordered to be sent to the various newspapers:—

Whereas, There is no public Prosecutor in this Province, whose duty it is to relieve individuals from the responsibility of prosecuting for public offences.

Resolved, That the enforcement of the prohibitory clause of the Medical Act be undertaken by the Council, and that for the more effectual carrying out of this object there be appointed one person in each County of the Province to obtain the name and address of, and all possible information concerning persons practicing in violation of the Medical Act in their respective Counties and report the same to the Registrar of the Medical Council.

It was further Resolved:—That the following gentlemen be appointed in accordance with the above resolution:—Victoria, Dr. George Currier; Carleton Dr. G. A. Brown; York Dr. T. A. Gregory; Kent Dr. L. McLaren; Albert Dr. W. J. Lewis; Westmorland Dr. H. A. Jacobs; King's Dr. Thos. C. Sharp; Queen's Dr. Harry Peters; Charlotte Dr. S. T. Gower; Sunbury Dr. E. Cougle; Northumberland Dr. S. Thomson; Gloucester Dr. Jas. Nicholson; Restigouche Dr. D. R. Carter; St. John Dr. Chas. E. Hatheway.

THE STANDARD.

ST. ANDREWS, DEC. 14, 1859.

ENGLISH NEWS.—In another column we have given the telegraphic reports of the news by the steamships Edinburgh and Persia. Preparations for defence are still carried on with vigor in Great Britain. Rifle and Artillery Corps are being formed, and the whole people evince a noble spirit in the national cause. Should the French attempt an attack upon England, they will meet with warm reception. The political news is unimportant.

THE U. S. CONGRESS met on the 5th inst. The first question came before the Senate was upon a resolution submitted by Mr. Mason of Virginia, for the appointment of a committee to enquire into the facts attending the late invasion and seizure of the armory and arsenal at Harper's Ferry, by a band of armed men.

The House occupied the whole day in the election of a Speaker, but adjourned without coming to a decision.

C. C. GRAMMAR SCHOOL.—The semi-annual examination of this Institution, took place at the school room on Saturday last, in the presence of the Directors, and a number of visitors, ladies and gentlemen.

Compared with the examination at midsummer last, there was an evident advance by the scholars in the different branches of their studies, and the proficiency displayed by them rendered it a difficult duty for the Directors to decide to whom they should award many of the prizes, a list of which is as follows:—

Best general scholar, A. D. Stevenson, Second do Geo. Treadwell, Good conduct Geo. Irwin, English composition, R. Nestitt, R. P. Chandler, Second in classics, R. P. Chandler, Arithmetic, Robt. James, Eng. Gram'r & Delectus, J. W. Chandler, Latin exercises, J. James, Philosophy, Herbert Street.

The president, Rev. W. Q. Ketchum, in closing the duties of the day, expressed his gratification on account of the improvement which the examination disclosed, and congratulated the pupils upon the credit they reflected upon their preceptor.

He also alluded to the large proportion of the scholars who were studying the classics, and pointed out the importance of these studies in the formation of character.

He called the attention of the scholars to the importance of acquiring a proficiency in their English composition—a qualification they would find very useful to them in whatever situation in life they might be called to fill.

The prize for the best composition was awarded to Nathaniel Nesbitt; the essay by Harry Gove was very creditable, and bespoke an independence of thought, which will doubtless exhibit itself to advantage on some future occasion. The directors expressed their regret that they were not provided with another prize in composition, as this essay was well worthy of it.

This school should not be considered as the Grammar school for the Parish only, but for the whole County; and it is desirable that the advantages it offers should be availed of by persons in other parts of the County; and the President in alluding to this, pointed out to the scholars that in the accomplishment of so desirable an object, they had to perform an important part—that the character of the school depended upon the conduct of its scholars, not only whilst they were connected with it but afterwards; and expressed a hope, that each scholar would make it his duty so to act, as early to bring about so desirable an object.

The attendance of the ladies is a fact pleasing to notice, and it is to be hoped they will continue to patronize those examinations whenever they take place.

The duties of the school will be resumed, on the third of January.

ENRATA.—In our last edition an important error occurred, in the fourth paragraph of our leading article, the last word should have been "years," not "years." Such errors are very annoying, and their occurrence, although often made in newspapers, is no excuse in our case.

It is our melancholy duty to record the death of an old and valued friend—James PARKER, Esq. of St. Stephen, in the 4th year of his age. As a merchant and man of business, he was distinguished for integrity, energy and enterprise—in his social relations he was affable and courteous, a warm friend and estimable man. We sincerely sympathize with his family in their bereavement.

LAUNCHED AT ST. GEORGE, on the 8th inst., a beautiful and exquisitely modelled schooner named the "Robert Mow, Junr.," of 174 tons, N. M. This unique specimen of naval architecture, was built by Mr. John Billings for Mr. Angus Holmes of Black's harbour; she is clipper built, copper fastened, and otherwise constructed of the best and most durable materials. At a given signal she darted into the waters, amid the cheers of those present, and rode as prettily upon her destined element as if she had been cradled there. She has already received the greater part of her cargo, and will sail for New York in a few days, commanded by Capt. James Holmes. We congratulate our former townsman Mr. Billings, on his success in ship-building; it only requires means and opportunities, to call forth the talents and mechanical skill of the young men of our Province.

During our visit to Lowell we were shown through the Laboratory of our celebrated countryman, Dr. J. C. AYER. Scarcely could we have believed what is seen there without proof beyond disputing.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP.

We have been repeatedly called upon to notice the various quick medicines that are daily thrust before the public, as curatives for all diseases that "touch" the "child," but have never complied with such requests, because many of them are merely manufactured and sold for the benefit of the manufacturer's purse. We have, however, a few words to say in regard to the medicine above named. We have tried, and know it will prove beneficial to all who use it in case of children teething. It is really a comfortable idea to retire at night, and know that we shall not be disturbed by the cries of an infant. We believe Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been well tried in this village, and have heard it highly recommended by all who have made use of the article. Let all who have children that are suffering with their teeth give it a trial, and we are sure they will be perfectly satisfied with the result.—Advocate, Prattville, N. Y.

The Great European Remedy.

Protected by Royal Letters Patent of England, and sanctioned by all the great Continental Colleges of Medicine.

DR. DE ROOS' GUTTE VITE; or LIFE DROPS, are the great remedy for Spermatorrhoea, Exhaustion, Nervousness, Debility, Aversion to and Incapacity for Society, Study or Business, Shaking of the Hands and Limbs, Indigestion, Flatulence, Shortness of Breath, Asthma, Consumptive Habits, Dimness of Sight, Dizziness, Pains in the Head, Eruptions, Sore Throat, Pains in the Bones, and all those diseases for which mercury, sarsaparilla, &c. are too often employed, to the utter destruction of health. Their almost marvellous powers must be felt to be believed. Hundreds of apparently hopeless cases have been cured, and thousands almost miraculously relieved, when every other thing else had failed; and they must sooner or later supersede all these questionable remedies which have hitherto been the sole reliance of English medical men.

Price 11s. and four times the quantity at 33s. per bottle, of the Agents below. The £5 packages containing twelve 11s. quantities, (by which £1 12s. are saved,) will be sent from the Establishment only, on receipt of the amount per draft on a London house or otherwise.

CAUTION.—Sufferers must guard against the recommendation of spurious or other medicines by unprincipled vendors, who thereby obtain a larger profit. The words "WALTER DE ROOS, LONDON," are printed in White letters on the Stamp affixed to the above, by order of His Majesty's Honorable Commissioners, to protect the public against fraud, as without this note can be genuine, and to imitate which is felony.

Answer, speedy, and most successful mode of treating Spermatorrhoea, Nervous Debility and all Urino-Genital Diseases.

Severely Engraved. Price 1s. through all Book sellers, or post free from the Author for 1s.

THE MEDICAL ADVISER on decay of the mind and physical, arising from excesses, infection, climate, &c.; remarks on the use of the Microscope, and the devices of certain quacks to alarm the too sensitive invalid; observations on Marriage, the prevention and removal of certain disqualifications; rules for self-treatment, &c. By WALTER DE ROOS, A.D., of the Ecole de Medicine, Paris; Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London; Lecturer in Midwifery, &c. &c. 16, Berners-street, Oxford-street, London. Hours of Consultation daily from 1 till 4, Sunday excepted.

be Sold in Dublin by Berry, 162, Great Britain street; Edinburgh, Robinson, 11, Green-side; Glasgow, Leve, Bookseller, and by all the Agents.

Long practical observation of the treatment pursued in the various Institutions of London and Paris for those diseases referred to in the above work, the Author has had somewhat unusual facilities for acquiring that accuracy of diagnosis, and uniform success, which have characterized his practice for so many years in this country, in which the lamentable neglecting of these diseases by medical men generally, and their futile attempts to cure by mercury, copal, sarsaparilla, &c. have produced so much misery and suffering. Lasting benefit in such cases can only be reasonably expected at the hands of the legally-qualified medical man who devotes his chief attention to their removal; and to him only who can show his possession of the necessary qualifications, can confidently be entrusted.

Dr. De R. refers with pride to the numbers he has been instrumental in restoring to health and happiness; and to those who may be in need of such aid, he offers every assurance of speedy restoration, and that success will be secured as soon as the patient can be successfully treated by correspondence, on sending a full detail of their case, with a Bank note, or Bill on a London house for £5, in order to have a packet of medicines sufficient to meet the exigencies of the case, sent post by next mail; thus avoiding unnecessary loss of valuable time, and much suffering which might otherwise occur.

Pains in the Back, Gravel, Lumbago, Rheumatism, Gout, Disease of the Kidneys and Bladder, Stricture, &c.

DR. DE ROOS' COMPOUND RENAL PILLS are a well known and speedy remedy for the above dangerous complaints, Discharges, and Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs generally. Possessing tonic properties, they agree with the most delicate constitutions, and in three days effect a cure when copious, cubens, and all such dangerous medicines have utterly failed.—2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., 11s. and 33s. per box, of the Agents below, or post free on receipt of the amount by Dr. DE ROOS, 16, Berners Street, Oxford-st., London.

The superiority of these celebrated Pills over every thing of the kind is universally acknowledged, and the extraordinary demand for them without precedent.

Many persons, who, from natural diffidence, or fear of discovery, would silently bear their afflictions rather than apply to those for whom they may reasonably expect relief. With the above Pills, the sufferer may without the knowledge of a second person, cure himself speedily, privately, and at the least possible expense.

Sold at Langley's Drug Store, Holles-street, Halifax, Nova-Scotia; by Hazzard, Charlotte-town, Prince Edward Island; Ward, News Office, Sydney, Cape Breton; Ashton, Richmond, Nova Scotia; by J. G. Brown, St. John, Prince Edward Island; by J. G. Brown, St. John, Prince Edward Island; by J. G. Brown, St. John, Prince Edward Island.

Also, at the following places:—London: Smith & Co., Scinde; Dedworth & Co., Clark, Rome & Co., and Gamin & Co., Colombo and Candy; Lyman & Co., Montreal; Pestonjee & Co., 1, Military Square, Bombay; R. Ross, Laboratory, Falmouth, and Lawton, Advertiser's Office, Kingston, Jamaica; Reichmann and Tait, Port of Spain, Trinidad; Heagans, Weekly Register Office, Antigua; Haylock, Belize, Honduras; West, Palmer & Co., Kingston, Canada; Strickland & Co., Mobile, Alabama; Stump, Constantinople; Paisley & Fryer, 354, George-street, Sydney, and Ford, Chemist, Swanston street, Melbourne, Australia, of whom also may be had "THE MEDICAL ADVISER," or should difficulty arise in procuring any of the above, enclose the amount by draft or otherwise to 10, Berners-street, Oxford-street, London, and they will be sent as rarely packed return.
