LONDON, March 17.-Paderewski has erranged to make a tour of America, peginning in November. He will give a seres of 80 concerts under the management of Goerlitz.

CABINET CRISIS IN SPAIN. LONDON, March 17.-The whole Sagasta Cabinet has resigned, and Gen. Martinez de Campos has been appointed captain-general of Madrid. Gen. Campos will probably be the next ROYAL LOVERS BETROTHED. ROME, March 17.—The newspapers confirm the report that the Duke of Aosta, King Humbert's nephew, and Princess Helene of Orleans are betrothed. The princess is the second daughter of the late Count of Paris and is 20

PAPAL HONORS.

LONDON, March 17.-The Morning Post's Rome correspondent says that at the consistory tomorrow the Pope will preconsize 65 archbishops and bishops, including Archbishop Langevin of St. Boniface, Canada, and Very Rev. M. F. Howlet, of St. Johns, Nfld. KIMBERLY REFUSES.

LONDON, March 16 .- Lord Kimberley, Minister of Foreign Affairs, has refused to receive a deputation which called upon him to entlist his official sympathies with a movement to quire into the treatment of Christian prisoners in Turkish jails.

A SPOILED SENSATION. Harold Frederic cables from London to the New York Tmes: The rumor about Lord Rosebery's impending resignation, which was mentioned last Sunday, found its way to the public here, and enjoyed a brief, though exciting run. It is treated as quite devoid of foundation.

CHINESE ON THE RUN. TIEN TSIN, March 17.-Hundreds of refugees are arriving from Kinchow at Shan Kwan. They say that the last heard of Gens. Sung and Ju was that they were fleeing with the Japanese in hot pursuit.

OSCAR AND QUEENSBURY. LONDON, March 17.—The report that the Marquis of Queensbury and Oscar Wilde had arrived at Cannes was erroneous. It was true in regard to Oscar Wilde, but instead of the Marquis of Queensbury the other arrival at the Riviera resort was Lord Arthur Douglas, a relative of the marquis. The latter is in London.

POOR PEACEMAKERS.

LONDON, March 17.-The unsuccessful Chinese envoys, who have returned from Japan, report in the most favorable terms of the courtesy of the Japanese officials, but declare that while in Japan they were virtually prisoners. A cordon of police at all times prevented them from having any oustide communication. The Japanese populace were intensely hostile to them.

MR. GLADSTONE'S REAPPEAR-ANCE.

LONDON, March 17.-Mr. Gladstone has intimated he will make his reappearance in Parliament on the occasion of Mr. Peel's retirement, as a tribute to the departing Speaker. The majority of the Cabinet having selected Mr. Campbell-Bannerman as their candidate for Speaker, and that gentleman having accepted, it appears to be settled that he will be the next incumbent of the office.

COMING HERE.

LONDON, March 17.-Dudley Churchill Marjoribanks, the eldest son of Lord Tweedmouth, will accompany his mother on a journey through Canada. They go to visit the family of the Earl of Aberdeen, the Governor-General of Canada. The announcement of engagement of the young man to Miss Sutherland, a member of the Gaiety Theatrical Company, was made a week ago, coupled with the statement that Lord Tweedmouth insisted that the marriage should be postponed two

A CHOICE PLUM.

LONDON, March 17.-The Speakership is one of the finest places in the State. Its emoluments are $25,000 yearly, with a pension of $20,000, and the retiring Speaker always receives a peerage. He has a large suite of apartments furnished like a palace, and the cost of his household is largely borne by the State. Unfortunately the labors of the Speaker are exceedingly heavy, and none but a man of iron constitution ought to undertake them. It is 60 years since the Conservatives secured the election to the chair of one of their own party.

BIG STRIKE IN ENGLAND.

LONDON, March 16.-The strike of boot makers has been extending throughout the week, until today there are 200,000 idle operatives in that branch of industry. The strike affects all the anxious, declaring they have enormous stocks yet unsold. Nevertheless, they are preparing to protect themselves by the employment of labor-saving machinest

A VICTORY FOR SILVER. BERLIN, March 16 .- The Council of State today adopted the resolution of the silver advocates indorsing Chancellor Hohenlohe's monetary statement in the Reichstag, and immediately afterwards rejected the proposal of the gold advocates that a guarantee of the present currency continue unaltered. It is learned that France has informed Germany of her willingness to co-operate in settling the currency question.

THE G. O. M. ON SUNDAY OB-

SERVANCE. LONDON, March 17 .-- Mr. Gladstone has issued a second article on the observance of Sunday, in which he argues that with a true Christian it is not how much of the Lord's Day shall we give to his service, but rather of how little shall we withhold. Mr. Gladstone, who is personally a strict observer of Sunday, recently attributed his long life to the fact that he invariably kept Sunday apart from his ordinary life, and especially from his political life.

FIFTY PERSONS PERISH. TROPPAU, Austrian Silesia, March 17.-An explosion of fire damp took place yesterday in the Hohengie mine, belonging to the estate of the late Archduke Albrecht of Austria. At the time of the explosion there were 280 miners below. Of this number 80 were rescued, slightly injured. Later in the day 80 more of the miners were rescued, but the remaining 120 are imprisoned in the galleries, which are blocked with debris. The bodies of several of the imprisoned miners have already been extricated from the ruins.

During the day twelve dead bodies were recovered, and a number of miners, fifteen of whom were injured, were rescued, and it is now believed that not

that there is to be a continuation of club sensations. About a couple of weeks ago we had the refusal of the Marlborough Club, the favorite club of the Prince of Wales, to elect to membership Mr. Belt, the South African millionaire. Last week clubdom was star-tled by the black-balling of the Hon. Cecil Rhodes at the Travelers' Club, which was followed by the resignation of the Prince of Wales, the Duke of Fife and Earl Grey. Now, London has another club sensation. The famous Carlton Club has refused to elect Mr. Barney Barnato, the Johannesburg diamond king, and on the other hand, the Carlton Club elected Mr. Robinson, of Robinson's mine, a rival millionaire.

INFLUENZA LINGERS. LONDON, March 17.—Influenza still lingers here, and the death rate touched 41.2 per 1,000, one of the highest percentages ever known in this city, where the average death rate is only 21 per 1,000. Lord Rosebery has entirely recovered from his sickness, and is spending a few days at the Durdans, his seat near Epsom. From that place the Premier will go to Deal, the wellknown sea resort on the coast of Kent. Baroness Burdett-Coutts, Mr. Henry Fowler, the Secretary of State for India, and Rustem Pasha, the Turkish ambassador to Great Britain, who have been suffering from influenza, are improving in health. Among the latest additions to the list of distinguished sufferers from the epidemic are the Earl of Pembroke and Montgomery and Sir Douglas Galton, the distinguished engineer, formerly inspector of railways and assistant inspector-general of fortifications.

IMPERIAL PENNY POSTAGE. LONDON, March 15.-In the House of Commons today Right Hon. Arnold Morley, the Postmaster-General, informed Mr. Henniker Heaton, M.P., that the Government had taken no steps to obtain the assent of the Canadian and the Australian Governments to the imperial penny postage scheme. The Government, Mr. Arnold continued, was well aware that some of the important couonies were opposed to the

the present juncture.

STEVENSON'S LAST PRAYER. LONDON, March 17.-The British Weekly publishes the text of a prayer composed by the late Robert Louis Stevenson, which it appears was read aloud to Mr. Stevenson's family on the night before his death, which occurred in December. It is as follows:

"We beseech Thee, O Lord, to behold us with favor. Folk of many families and nations are gathered together in the peace of this roof. Weak men and women subsisting under the cover of thy patience. Be patient still. Suffer us yet a while longer, with our broken purposes of good, with our idle endeav-ors against evil—suffer us a while longer to endure, and if it may be, to help us, do better. Bless us to our extra mercies, and if the day comes when these must be taken, have us play the man under affliction. Be with our friends. Be with ourselves. Go with each of us to rest, and if any awake temper to them the dark hours of watching, and when the day returns to us our sun and comforter call us with morning faces and morning earts, eager to labor, eager to be happy, if happiness shall be our portion, and, if the day be marked to sorrow, strong to endure it.

"We thank Thee, and praise Thee, and in the words of Him to whom this day is sacred, close our oblat'an." A NOBLEMAN AS A SK. TER. LONDON, March 17.-Though somewhat stiff with age the Marquis of Clanricarde enjoyed himself to his heart's content during the recent cold spell. He is an expert skater, and he was a daily performer on the free space on the ice at the Serpentine. His costume attracted as much attention as his tricks with the skates. He wore dark blue cloth trousers, with a broad stripe of black braid up the sides, three or four Cardigan waistcoats of doubtful color and great age, a loose tweed jacket, and a stove pipe hat flat on the rim and straight up and down in the crown. The factories in England except those in Stafford, Norwich and Bristol. Some circle of society on the ice. He devoted himself to the free space where his won-ing 10 shillings a week to the strikers. The employers are not in the least anxious, declaring they have enormous stocks yet unsold. Nevertheless, they are preparing to protect themselves by the property of labor saving materials. It loves to save a penny whenever he ly loves to save a penny whenever he

> TO PROTECT BRITISHERS. LONDON, March 17.-Lord Kimberley, Secretary of the Foreign Office, answered yesterday the request of the Liverpool Chamber of Commerce that Sir Julian Pouncefoote be instructed by cable to secure the protection of British subjects in New Orleans. The shooting of the steamship Engineer's purser during the recent riot gave rise to the request. Lord Kimberley said that he had comunicated with Mr. Gresham, Secretary of State, who on the 15th had received assurances from the governor of Louisiana that the lives and property of foreigners would be protected and that the crews of foreign vessel were in no danger. The governor, remarked Lord Kimberley, added that the identity of the Engineer's purser was in doubt when he was shot THE ARMENIAN INQUIRY. LONDON, March 17.-Mr. Hugh Everard Hoare, Radical member of Parliament for Cambridgeshire West, and other anti-Turkish members in the Radother anti-Turkish members in the Radical section have recently been trying to obtain the publication of a collection of dispatches from Mr. Hallward, Brittish vice-counsel at Van, in regard to the Armenian atrocities. The Armenian Association professes to have learned that Mr. Hallward dilates upon the Armenian horrors, not as incidents, but as evidence of the increase of their bruis evidence of the increase of their bruas evidence of the increase of their brutalizing influences upon the Armenians themselves. The Foreign Office has refused to cause the publication of the dispatches on the ground that their publicity would prejudge the case already under investigation by the Armenian Commission of Inquiry. Mr. Hallward seems to have lent an ear to the Armenians who the correspondent the Armenians who the correspondent of the Telegraph at Kars says are "gifted with a faculty of exuberant lying beyond any other people, and are ready to invent sanguinary battles and blood curdling massacres to a degree of coherence and plausibility that would put Falstaff to blush.

AN OPPOSITION SPLIT. LONDON, March 17.-The Conservatives and Liberal-Unionists are wrangling over the representation in the seat about to be made vacant by Speaker Peel's retirement, with the result that despite the public appeals of the leaders to the rank for unity, there are at present a Conservative and also a Uni-onist candidate with the secret approval of these same leaders. The shab-by treatment accorded Mr. Courtney by his allies will probably induce him to give more frequent and stronger support to the Liberal Government, but a still more interesting case will result when Mr. Peel receives the peerage, which, in acordance with precedents, he is sure to do. Then the home rule party in the House of Lords will receive a powerful reinforcement, for it has long been an open secret that he has largly modified his views respecting the government of Ireland. In fact, his support by the Liberal Home Rule Association in the Warwick and Leamington constituency, which he represents in the Commons as an anti-Home Ruler, is one of the reasons why the local Conservatives insist upon running a candidate for the coming vacancy. There are some indications that the Conservative-Liberal-Unionist combination will be changed into complete organization, but it is by no means certain which way the crisis will turn.

MAUD'S POSSIBLE MARRIAGE. LONDON, March 17.-Whether the Princess Maud of Wales is or is not to marry the Prince of Naples is a question that continues to agitate English society. There have been semi-official denials that any such match is contemplated, but the gossips persist in assert-ing that nuptial negotiations are al-ready in progress and that the visit of the Prince of Wales to Italy in the spring has something to do with the affair. In some quarters the political advantages of such a match are openly discussed. It is suggested that a matrimonial alliance with the future King of Italy would be a splendid coup for England. It would in some respects lead to a readjustment of political relations which would give Great Britain more influence on the European continent. For some time there has been a disposition in Downing street to smile on Italy's of Wales and Lord Rosebery warmly support Mr. Heaton's plans.

been credited with a desire to assist Humbert in crushing the native foes that have warried the Italian. that have worried the Italian armies of late. The Italian monarch has fully appreciated this kindness, and on more than one occasion hints have been given that he might forsake the triple alliance and clasp hands with England. As all royal matches have a view to political contingencies, either near or remote, Mr. Sydney Buxton, the Secretary for the Colonial Office, said he was not prepared to answer that question at ust relatives to strengthen the position ust relatives to strengthen the position of England in Europe. There is religious difficulty in the way. The prince is a devout Roman Catholic, and his spouse, according to custom, should belong to the same faith. But princes and princesses have displayed great facility in accomodating their religious sentiments to the needs of the hour, and it is not believed that divergent faiths would keep either loving or diplomatic hearts apart in this case. However, society will not have to speculate long. The Prince of Wales will be in Italy a few weeks hence, and it will soon be known whether the match is seriously contemplated or not.

THE LATE DR. SUTHERLAND.

tend His Funeral. TORONTO, March 15.—The funeral of the Rev. Dr. D. G. Sutherland, which took place this afternoon, was attended by hundreds of clergymen and citizens. Services were held at the house and at the Central Methodist Church, of which deceased was pastor. Eloquent eulogies were passed on the life and character of deceased by Rev. Dr. Potts and Rev. Isaac Tovell. The pall-bearers were Rev. James Allen, Geo. Bishop and Dr. Workman, and Mayor Kennedy, Prof. Reinar and H. J. Mathese.

Thos. Wilson, an expert diamond cutter rfom Toronto, Ont., committed suicide Friday night in a low drinking place in Chicago, by taking carbolic acid.

Attorney-General's Law Reform Bill.

To Be Introduced at Today's Sitting of the House.

(Special to the "Advertiser.) PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS, TO-RONTO, March 17.—The bill which Sir Oliver Mowat is bringing in to reform certain legal clauses was made public yesterday, and contains some radical alterations of the present conditions. The change with regard to appeals is that cases where the amount at issue does not exceed $1,000 or which does does not exceed $1,000, or which does not come within certain classes of cases, are appealable directly to the divisional court of the High Court, from which a second appeal to the Court of Appeal is not allowed. The specified cases are as follows: Where the validity of a patent is affected, or where the matter in question relates to the taking of an in question relates to the taking of an annual or other rent, customary or other duty or fee, or a like demand of a general or public nature, affecting future riglety, or where the judgment or order involves a question of law practice on which there have been flicting decisions by the High Court Justice or by judges thereof; where the judgment or order is in regard to a matter of practice, but afgard to a matter of practice, but affects the ultimate riglety of parties to the action; or where there are other sufficient special reasons for treating the case as sectional.

The next change is that in cases in which the amount is more than $1,000 or come under the cases given, the appropriate the case of the ca peal from the trial judge may be taken on the option of the appellant, either to the divisional court of the High Court or to the Court of Appeal. If the former, the party so appealing shall not be entitled afterwards to appeal from that court to the Court of Appeal but on the court of Appeal but on the court of Appeal but on the court to the court of Appeal but on the court of the action peal, but any other party to the action or matter may apply for leave to appeal to the Court of Appeal. The application shall be made to the divisional cation shall be made to the divisional court or to the judge, whose judgment or order is in question, or to the Court of Appeal or to the judge thereof. The granting of leave shall be entirely in the discretion of the judges of court appealed to. No security for costs shall be required for an official court of appeal upless such security is specialappeal, unless such security is specially ordered by the court to which the appeal is made or judge thereof.

Printed appeal books shall not be necessary, but the court may order for special reasons the printing of any documents, proceedings or other papers in any case for the use of the court.

The divisions of the High Court are in any case for the use of the court.

The divisions of the High Court are abolished, and provision is made for the monthly sitting of the divisional court, which shall be composed of a president and two other judges of the court arranged according to or-

The divisional court of the High Court shall always be composed of three judges, from none of whom the appeal shall be taken. Non-jury actions in any county may be entered for trial at any sittings of the High Court in such

A High Court judge at either jury or non-jury sittings shall be authorized and required to determine any local matters which would have jurisdiction to determine it in getting in court or chambers in Toronto.

No sittings for the trial of causes shall begin before 9:30 a.m., or except for special reasons extend beyond 7 p.m., with at least one-half hour's in termission at or near noon.

In a case of a compulsory reference by the judge at the trial of any action to the county judge, registrar, deputy registrar, deputy clerk of the crown, local master or other officer of the court, of any matter where it would have been competent for such judge to try himself at the trial, no fees are to be allowed to such referee.

The charges for litigants for term copies of evidence taken in shorthand at trials, refere ;, examinations, etc. shall be 7 1-2 ce per folio, instead of 15 cents as heretofore. In respect to costs in civil action, as between solicitor or client, it shall be competent for a solicitor to make an agreement with his client as to the remuneration, either by a gross sum, commission, salary or otherwise. This agreement is subject to taxation and review by the court.

Arrangement is also made for the Arrangement is also made for the substitution of monthly or semi-monthly for weekly sittings at Ottawa by the judges of the High Court in view of the expressed desire of the Ottawa bar, and the expected reduction of work, and a similar change may be made for London if the London bar so wish.

SONS OF ENGLAND.

Concluding Vession of the Grand Lodge-Change in Regard to Assessments.

WOODSTON K, March 15.-The Grand Lodge of the Lons of England Benevolent Society resumed its sessions this morning. During the greater part of the day the Grand Lodge has been in committee of the whole on the consideration of the constitution of subordinate lodges and the Grand Lodge. The consideration of the constitution con-cerning subordinate lodges was completed, but no changes of importance were made.

In regard to the proposed change in the beneficiary department it was re-solved to make monthly assessments instead of at death as previously. The present scale of the assessments will remain in force, and the monthly rate Hundreds of Clergymen and Citizens Atwill be calculated upon the basis of the number of death calls for last year, which was sixteen.

During the afternoon session the newly elected officers of the Grand Lodge were instaled by Supreme Grand Past Prsident Thomas Elliott, Brantford.

SHOTS FROM THE BARRACKS.

Successful Concert-Sergeant-Major Munro Honored-Leaving for England.

The non-commissioned officers of the Royal Canadian Regiment gave a smoking concert to their friends on Friday evening at Wolseley Barracks. After partaking of an oyster supper, the usual loyal and patriotic toasts were proposed and duly responded to. The toast of "Our Visitors" was replied to by Messrs. W. Hiscott, P. Toll, O. J. Bridle and Alex. Irwin. "Our Sister Corps" brought kindly remarks from Sergt.-Major McCrimmon (Seventh Battalion), and Sergt.-Major Taylor (London Field Battery), and several others. A pleasing feature of the evening was a presentation to Sergt.-Major Munro, of the Royal Canadian Regiment, of a traveling valise, he being about to proceed to Aldershot, Eng., for a term of six months. The presentation was made by Quartermaster-Sergeant Kennedy in a short speech, and Color-Sergeant Cooper handed the valise to Sergt.-Major Munro, who was completely taken by surprise, and responded, thanking the donors for their useful present. Songs were rendered by Sergt. Cooper, Corp. Beaumont and Corp. Evans, of the R. C. R., sergt. Grant, of the London Field Battery, and Mr. Alex. Irwin. The recently organized band of the corps played several selections, during the evening's entertainment. Sergt. Major McCrimmon proposed the toast of the "Non-Com. Officers of the R. C. R. I.," which was duly honored, all present singing "They are jolly good fellows." Amongst the visitors were Sergt.-Major McCrimmon, Col.-Sergt. Brown, and Sergt. Stein, of the Seventh Battalion; Sergt.-Major Taylor, Quartermaster-Sergeant Irwin, Sergt. Grant, and Sergt. Burwell, of the London Field Battery; Messrs. Peter Toll, O. J. Bridle, J. W. Metherall, W. Buller, W. Wyatt, J. Childs, W. Young, W. Carter, O. Mooney, Wm. Pace, John MacIndoe, J. Fitzpatrick, Robert Bonney, and the following non-com. officers, who are at present attending the Royal School of Infantry at London: Sergeants J. Smith, 22nd Battalion; W. J. Stephenson, 40th Battalion; F. Spence, 38th Battalion; J. Mackay, 40th Battalion; E. Insley, 16th Battalion; R. Clarke, 27th Battalion; L. Hastings, 28th Battalion; C. Missner, 39th Battalion; J. Smith, 25th Battalion; and Corporals J. Austin, 49th Battalion; R. Mulree, 39th Battalion; F. McKnight, 39th Battalion; C. E. Wallace, 30th Battalion;

E. Brown, 29th Battalion; D. Bolby, 26th Battalion; C. Beecroft, 39th Battalion. Sergt.-Major John B. Munro, Royal Regiment Canadian Infantry, will leave in a few days for Halifax en route for Aldershot, Eng., where he will attend a special course of instruction. He will be absent till October. Several other non-com. officers from the other branches of the permanent force of Canada will leave on the same steamer for a similar course at Aldershot. Too much praise cannot be accorded to Sergt.-Bugler I. F. Walsh for the efficient state he has already brought the band of No. 1 Company, R. C. R., to, and it is safe to say that ere long London will possess a first-class band, and one of which the citizens may just-

Lieut. Wm. Forrester, 32nd Battalion, who has been attending the Royal School of Infantry for some time, returned home on Saturday. Capt. Reeves, quartermaster of the day. MUCH MARRIED.

Some Sarnia and Port Huron People Badly Mixed Up. PORT HURON, Mich., March 17.-A very much complicated case, in which charges of bigamy are made on both sides by an alleged husband and wife, has developed here. About eighteen months ago George Mempstead, of this city, was married to Eliza Mason, of Sarnia, both being members of the Salvation Army. Two weeks of a honey-moon, however, was sufficient for the couple, and then they decided to separate. Two months ago the woman married a second time, the new husband being William Levere, of Fort Gratiot township. This new alliance came to the ears of Mempstead, and he swore out a warrant against his wife charging her with bigamy. She was arrested and arraigned before Judge Wagner, who re-leased her upon $100 bail to appear for examination. The woman claims that her marriage to Mempstead was illegal, as she was less than 16 years of age at the time, and consequently she cannot be guilty of bigamy. She also charges that Mempstead is a bigamist in that he has another wife living from whom he has never been divorced. To this Mempstead replies that his first marriage was void in that the woman had had two former husbands, who are still living. How the affair will be straightened out is an unsolved problem. Among the pains and aches cured with marvelous rapidity with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is earache. The young are especially subject to it, and the desirability of this Oil as a family remedy is enhanced by the fact that it is admirably adapted not only to the above ailment, but also to the hurts, disorders of the bowels, and affections of the throat, to which the young are especially subject. Thousands of cases of Consumption, Asthma, Coughs, Colds and Croup are cured every day by Shiloh's Cure. For sale by W. T. Strong. Manuchester, England, has voted through its town council, a million dollars for a technical school.

A Death-Dealing Fire Escape.

DULUTH, Minn., March 17.-Fred Marcoll, aged 25, and George Marcoll, his cousin, aged 13 years, while illustrating the working of a patent fire escape, were killed last night. They started to come down the rope in a sliding belt from the sixth story of a hotel. The rope broke and the young men were dashed to pieces on the pavement.

He Came from Canada.

CHICAGO, March 17.—A mildly insane man created a scene yesterday afternoon in be rooms of the board of education by declaring that he was the assistant superintendent. For fully an hour the crazy man sat at the desk of A. S. Nightingale and dictated business. His name was found to he J. L. Ganton, a college bred man, who came from Ontario four months ago. He passed an examination for a teacher's certificate and served as a substitute. He was decoyed to the city hall, examined by physicians and locked up.

The New Hymnal. TORONTO, March 16.—The Presbyterian Church in Canada will soon have a new Book of Praise for use in the services of the church. The work of compilation has been going on for the past three years, and the new book, it is expected, will be placed before the General Assembly and issued this year. At St. Andrew's Church during the past week the hymnal committee has held essions daily, the members present being: Revs. Dr. Grace (convener), Dr. McLaren, Prof. Scrimger, Dr. D. J. Macdonnell, Dr. Somerville, Dr. Armstrong, Dr. Fraser, Dr. McCrae, R. S. G. Anderson, W. P. Anderson, Alex. McMillan, Alex. Henderson, Alex. McGillivray, —. Stuart, C. Heine, J. Thomson, Messrs. W. B. McMurrich, Q.C., J. H. Thom, Toronto; R. Murray, Halifax; R. A. Becket, Montreal, and James Gibson, Ottawa. Presbyteries reported as to what hymns should be omitted and what added to the collection, and the result of the recommendations was the omission of twenty hymns from the draft and the addition of 30 to it. The General Assembly will be asked to approve of selections from the Psalms in metre, and urge congregations to make the larger use of the Psalter in church services. The tunes to be incorporated in the new hymnal have been selected by a sub-committee, and the changes made | lustrations being exceptionally good. have been carefully considered. The com mittee is still engaged in the selection of tunes for hymns to be added. It was hoped at one time that by correspondence with the joint committee of the Established, Free and United Presbyterian Churches in Scotland on hymnal compilations a book could be published for use in the British and Canadian churches. There seems, however, to be little prospect of securing united action, and the Canadian committee will present the Book of Praise as compiled by them to the General Assembly for indorsation and publicatio

Opening Services of the Talbot Street Church Jubilee.

St. Patrick's Day Sermons at St. Peter's Cathedral.

Rev. T. W. Glover, of Toronto, at King Street Methodist Church-Notes.

THE BAPTIST JUBILEE.

The Baptists of the Talbot Street Church will mark their jubilee by special services every night this week-Saturday excepted. The first of these was held yesterday, when both morning and evening Rev. W. H. Porter, of Brantford, a former pastor of Talbot Street, occupied the pulpit. The church was not extensively decorated, but some lilies and palms placed about the pulpit platform looked very pretty. Suspended above the pulpit was the word "Jubilee" in large letters of cedar, and down one side of the Baptistry was "1845," and on the other "1895," signifying the length of time the church had been in existence. The congregations at both services completely filled the body of the edifice, listened to suitable sermons from the ex-pastor. In announcing the reception of both offertories Rev. Ira Smith stated that the special services were not held with the object of raising a certain sum of money. The jubilee year was considered worthy of remembrance, and was to be fittingly celebrated. If, however, any of his hearers had twenty-five, fifty or a thousand dollars to spare the church would gladly accept it. One thing the church management had decided to try and accomposn this year, and that was the complete extermination of the debt on the edifice. It amounted to about $5,000, and already about $3,000 had been subscribed. "We are here," said the pastor, "to give thanksgiving to God for all his kindness to us in these 50 years. The announcements for the week, as published, were made. "And while there is gladness among our members this morning," continued the pastor, "Yet there is sorrow, for there passed away yesterday morning one who was once a member here. Mrs. Arthur Dates."

a member here—Mrs. Arthur Peters." Rev. Mr. Porter on rising to deliver his morning discourse expressed his pleasure at being once more with his former congregation. "As I look over the church," said he, "and see many familiar faces, it recalls to me many pleasing memories. But there are some who have crossed the flood since I left, and are now with their Saviour. Still it looks as though God was blessing you under your new pastorate." Mr.

Porter took for his text I. Samuel, vii.,

12: When the children of Isreal crossed the Jordan, he said, the priests were commanded to take twelve stones out of the river and to set them up so that their children in years to come could say, "This is where God divided the Jordan." They were memorial stones and were to bring to the people's minds what God had wrought. It recalled wide, worth 25c, Whiskard's price, what God had wrought. It recalled God's delivering mercy, and suggested one thing—that the Lord's people and one thing—that the Lord's people and children to obey their parents. other people have always been the same in one respect, and that was, they were all sinners. So it was with the jubilee services of the church—they were hid to mark a great event in its history to which the children could look back with pleasure. The occasion of the gathering together of the children of Israel to seek God's blessing was spoken of by Mr. Porter, and the attack of the Philistines was noted. It brought to the preacher's notice another thing concerning the people of God-that they have always been and ever will be a warring people, a fighting people. He called particular attention to the help the church had received during its 50 years' existence. Jesus was ever with his people, a great deliverer and helper. He was with Moses in the wilderness; he was the leader. He had done all for the Talbot Street Church. Mr. Porter referred to the 37th chapter of Ezekiel, which speaks of the Lord putting life into the dry bones found in the valley. "This," said the speaker, "was the condition of this church in its earlier days, but it is different now. I thought of a great many texts for this service, but one in particular struck my mind, 'The Lord hath done great things for us,' and I began to think what great things the Lord had done for Talbot Street Church? And I thought that during the 50 years of the church that scores, hundreds, perhaps thous-ands, have been brought to Jesus, and their voices have gone to heaven, and their throats have swelled with heavenly joy, Has it taken any power to keep this church in its 50 years' history? God only knows. He has done great things in saving and keeping, and then what great things he has done by inspiring us to effort. Some have gone out from his church here and there and everywhere. One after another in the history of this church has been lifted up and done work for the Master. We can refer to Rev. Mr. Ingles (the first pastor of the church), Dr. Boyd, Dr. Cooper, Rev. Mr. Grant, and forgive me if I speak of myself, who, by the Spirit, were able to have aided in the work of extending the church. And so in all things, the Holy Spirit, which has to furnish inspired leaders, the Spirit which has to make co-operative helpers for the leaders, the Spirit that has to give energy and unity and power to the army-to him be all the praise, for he is deserving of praise for whatever he has done, for whatever progress has been made in connection with this 50 years' experience." In the evening Mr. Porter based his remarks on the 29th chapter of Leviticus, which speaks of the jubilees of ancient days. The learned preacher's remarks were deeply interesting, his il-KING STREET METHODIST CHURCH. On Sabbath morning, March 17, the King Street Methodist congregation were favored with a sermon from Rev. T. W. Glover, of Toronto. His discourse was eloquent, logical, Scriptural, beautifully and forcibly illustrated by incidents of his own experience and observation. All present were very deeply interested and profited by Mr. Glov-er's sermon, and in the language of the church's esteemed pastor, "The congregation will hear him again gladly." Mr. Glover spoke very highly of the pulpit gifts of his old friend, Rev. C. Smith, when he was a young man twenty years ago, also stating that he was sure his friend Mr. Smith is now a very able and eloquent expositor of the Word of God, which Mr. Smith's congregations, past and present, in this city can indorse. ST. PATRICK'S DAY SERVICE. The feast of St. Patrick was celebrated yesterday at St. Peter's Cathedral. St. Clair's mass was sung at 10:30 a.m., the solo parts being admirably taken by Miss Mary Mulligan and Julia Dibbs, J. C. Lockhart and P. J. Watt. A pleasing feature of the matins was the singing of a new "Ave Maria," composed by Santley, the celebrated English baritone. The singer was Mr. J. T. Dalton, an old-time favorite of many Londoners, and who was formerly pany. Mr. Dalten's magnificent voice appears to have lost none of its old-time purity of tone and resonance. It in six years since he last appeared in London, and has lately sung at St. James' Cathedral, Twenty-ninth street and Wahash ayence Chicago Rishon. and Wabash avenue, Chicago. Bishop O'Connor preached in the morning and expressed himself as somewhat disappointed to find so very few people at Holy Communion. "The right way to celebrate the feast of any saint," said he, "particularly of such a saint as St. Patrick, the one to whom we owe the true faith, is surely to approach the true faith, is surely to approach the sacraments which he recommended so much. I fear it—and I regret it as much as I fear it—that St. Patrick's Day year by year is becoming more and more of a holiday and less of a holy day. This is not right,"

The St. Patrick sermon was preached at vespers by the gifted Monseignor F. P. McEvay, Hamilton. The large cathedral was completely filled, the cathedral was completely filled, the crowd overflowing into the choir gal-lery and lobbies. As at the morning sergrand. The singers appear to be almost faultlessly trained under the direction of Mr. T. F. Walsh, with Mrs. Cruickshank presiding at the organ. Incidental to this portion of the programme was the rendition of Hollandgramme was the rendition of Hollander's "Ecce Panis," by Messrs. J. T. Dalton and P. J. Watt. Both men sang in splendid voice. In commencing to speak of the saint whose feast they were celebrating the eloquent monseignor mentioned the dispute between France, Scotland and Ireland as to the honor of having given birth to St. Patrick, and went on to state that it mattered very little where he was born. One thing they were certain of—that he was a good Roman Catholic. Anyway, he went to Rome and knelt at the foot of the Pope, and was selected by him to be a bishop of the Church of God, commissioned to preach the Cospel in Ireland. With the preach the Gospel in Ireland. With the Pope's blessing he set out for the green shores of Erin to spread the merits of Jesus and of Mary. This was 400 years after the Lord had left the earth, and had returned to the right hand of his Eternal Father. At that time there were no superstitions in the church. These were introduced in the so-called dark ages later on. In glancing, as it were, at the real doctrine of St. Patrick, the preacher mentioned that he believed in the Holy Trinity. He also mentioned the incident which occurred at Tara, where St. Patrick was preaching, when he stooped down and picked up a green shamrock to illustrate the Holy Trinity-the Three in One. And from that day to this the shamrock has been taken as the emblem of St. Patrick. How often had they heard

"The dear little, sweet little, sham-rock of Ireland."

St. Patrick preached the redemption and the mission of the Holy Ghost. He honored the Blessed Virgin; he invoked the saints; he carried the crucifix; he frequently made the sign of the cross on his forehead, and explained that sacred emblem in many places through-out Ireland. He believed in miracles, and performed many of them. He heard confession and forgave sins. He ordained priests and bishops, and as he told people to pray for the repose of souls he evidently believed in purgatory. He told both the priest and people that the bishop must be the hand that supports, the pilot that guides, the hammer that strikes, the sun that enlightens, and the dew that moistens. St. Patrick also established many convents and mon-

Indeed, it is said that the priests make the matches, and to their credit we may say that they do it far better than a great many young people of this country, who consult neither God nor their parents, but their own whims and passions." God had blessed Irish marriages, he said. He went on to speak of the Irish people's horror of divorce, and in a masterful manner he depicted the revolutions and persecutions of thirteen centuries of trial, and yet the faith of Ireland was unshaken! He made a pathetic reference to Daniel O'Connell. who, when taken sick at Genoa, died, and willed his heart to Rome, his body to Ireland and his soul to God. But the speaker did not dwell for long on these dark scenes, and a little later a ripple of enjoyment swept over the vast audience, as with the true Irish power of turning rapidly from the pathetic to the opposite extreme, he re-

Briefly, the speaker compared the stability of the teachings inculcated by St. Patrick in Ireland with those preached in England by St. Augustine, and in Scotland by St. Colomkill. Those of St. Patrick, he pointed out, were lasting, and were carried by Irishmen all over the world, while the other countries were largely given up to here-sies and schisms. The secret of Ireland's success, he said, was her devotion to the See of Rome.

Munificent collections were taken up n aid of the orphans. The bishop in the morning specially mentioned St. Patrick's concert on Tuesday as a worthy event.

THE EVANGELISTS CLOSE. The evangelists, Messrs. Appel and Anderson, closed a week of most successful meetings at the Grosvenor Street Baptist Church on Sunday evening. when the seating capacity of the church was taxed to its utmost capacity, and the meeting throughout proved in every way the crowning blessing of the series. Never in the history of the church have such crowds gathered night after night to listen to the simple proclamation of divine truth. meetings have increased in interest and power from the first. Every night numbers have expressed a desire for prayer, and definite conversions have also taken place at each meeting, some of which were direct answers to prayer, and many of them most striking in character. The church has been greatly blessed by the services, many of the members being stirred up to a more spiritual life, and a number of regular attendants in the congregation have decided for Christ. In almost every class in the Sunday school conversions have taken place, a fact which greatly rejoices the hearts of the teachers and officers. There has been an absence of anything like excitement or sensationalism in the meetings. Mr. Appel's earnest and simple addresses, full of Gospel truth, and Mr. Anderson's sweet and effective singing have been accompanied by the power of the Holy Ghost, and as a natural result great blessing has followed. Many have cause to bless God for the visit of these devoted brethren, and the church will never forget the times of refreshing it has enjoyed during the past week. THE ARMY'S SOCIAL WORK. Capt. UNCLE SAM WIDEAWAKE. NEW YORK, March 16.—That Uncle Sam is determined not to be caught napping in the controversy with Spain over the firing upon the steamer Allianca is shown by the orders which were received by Commander Second at the Brooklyn navy yard yesterday. The orders were not for public inspection, but it was learned that the commander had een directed to lose no time in preparing all the warships in the yard for sea service. The battleship Maine was put upon the drydock yesterday, and an extra force of men set at work upon her. A large force of workmen was put upon the Terror and Puritan, as Secretary Herbert's orders are that all the vessels must be ready in three weeks. Every warship on the Atlantic coast will be ready for service in a month, and if Spain feels like fighting Uncle Sam was more than prepared to meet her half way. Commander Secord said he was pleased with the position taken by Secretary Gresham.

These men ought not to shirk the responsibilities of dealing with that subject before undertaking to go to the country.

We believe that the Government will be beaten in the contest, no matter when it is brought on, and that by a large majority; and to require a new Administration, without any time for preparation, to call Parliament together to vote the necessary supplies, and to deal with the large deficit on hand, is talking direct at the Speaker's empty little short of a crime against the com-

"Both the defenders and opponents of the antiquity of the Avesta and other sacred books of the East ought to distinguish carefully between the date of a book in the form which we possess it and the date of the original composi-tion of its component parts. I shall hold, in spite of all assertions to the contrary, that the existence of books in our sense of the word can nowhere be traced beyond 600 to 700 B.C. A book, as we understand the term, presupposes

the existence of an alphabet, abundance of writing materials, and, most of all, the presence of a reading public. Alphabets consisting of consonants and vowels existed, as is well known, at a no harm in doing this, the age of books would have to be put back considerably, possibly to the reign of Yao in the 24th century B.C. But if we retain its destination for the reading public as an essential feature of a book, I doubt whether we can prove the existence of such a thing in any part of the world that the earlier centuries were entirely illiterate. On the contrary, the more literature, the clearer becomes the fact that there was everywhere a period of oral literature composed and handed down by memory only. It is difficut to realize this, because our memory has become something totally different from what it was in ancient times, when writing and reading were unknown; nay, from what it still is in countries like

India, where, though there exist manuscripts, the Veda can properly be learned from the mouth of the teacher only.

THE HIGH LIFE SCANDAL. The malodorous Wilde-Queensbury scandal grows daily in unwholesome intensity. There is ahead, quite surely, an exposure in certain theatrical, artistic and literary circles which will equal in foulness a similar exposure some years ago which drove many young titled and fashionable London men into dishonorable exile. The Marquis of Queensbury did not follow Wilde to Monte Carlo. He was in London yesterday. Indeed, while it is not improbable that he would attack Willed. able that he would attack Wilde, his friends say he would never dignify him by accepting or giving an invitation to

A MERRY QUARREL.

The merry quarrel over Lady Eden's portrait between the Artist Whistler and Sir Wiliam Eden goes on with unabated vigor. The French court had another sitting over it this week, but a decision was again postponed. The most interesting contribution to the newspaper version of the squabble is a letter from Mr. George Moore, who acted as a go-between for the artist and his patron in making the bargain. Mr. Moore sent this pungent note to the artist and made it public:

"Dear Whisler,—I am reading a won-derful book, and have no time to read the senile little squalls which you address to the papers, and are obliging enough to send me. There is so much else in life to interest one. Yesterday I was touched by the spectacle of an elderavoid facing the consequences of their ly eccentric, hopping about on the edge of the pavement. His hat was in the gutter, and his clothes were covered the responsibilities for a settlement of with mud. The pity of the whole thing was that the poor old chap fancied everyone was admiring him.' The writer added this postcript: "If a man sent me a check for a manuscript, and I cashed the check, I should consider myself bound to deliver the manu-script, and if I declined to deliver the manuscript, I should consider that I was acting dishonorably. But then, every-one has his own code of honor."

OLD GOAT AS VENISON. The British public has another grievance. American beef is often sold as prime English-fed, the butchers charging a good round price for the change of name. Now, these same unconscionable trademen are palming off old goat as venison. This fact was disclosed at the Two young men were charged | could have composed the Iliad and with stealing a goat worth $7 50. They sold it to a butcher, who admitted killing the animal and selling its flesh as venison. To the horrified clerk of the court the butcher said this was a common practice with men of his trade,

A FUNNY SCENE. A curious scene was witnessed in the House of Commons on Wednesday last. NOTED MASONIC SERVICE. Nonconformists are beginning to take an interest in Freemasonry. The special service held by Rev. W. J. Dawson, of the Highbury Quadrant Church, London, last week, was very successful. The edifice was crowded. Even the pulpit stairs and passages were thronged, and large numbers failed to obtain admission. It is stated that this was the first time there has ever been a parade of the craft in a Nonconformist place Worship. This church, it may be of interest to note, is fitted with a telephone, which not only transmits to distant adherents the sermon, prayers and music but also makes a collection, just as if the hearers were in the building. On this occasion the preacher announced that his invisible audience had contributed $7 50 towards the mission work of the church A GREAT EXHIBITION.

Much interest is being taken in the proposed pictorial representation of the passage of paganism into Christianity, which is to be one of the features of the great French exposition of 1900. Part of this historical representation will be the Jewish and pagan life of Palestine at the time the great Christian message was being delivered in the Jewish villages and in Jerusalem-a portrayal of the scenes and conditions of social life during the early and public life of Christ and the scenes of the month of March will show a still great- labors of the apostles. > A NOTEWORTHY JUBILEE. Next year will be the fourteenth centenary of the conversion of France to Christianity, King Clovis and his warriors having been baptized by St. Remy in the year 496. The event is to be celebrated at Rheims, where that historic scene was witnessed, by fetes, which are being organized by the archbishop the diocese, Cardinal Langenieux. Pope Leo has blessed the undertaking and has been pleased to grant the favor of a jubilee, "of which the precious advantages may be enjoyed for six months." The rejoicings will begin on Jan. 13, next with a special celebration of the festival of St. Remy. The jubilee granted by the Pope begins with the following Easter, after which time numerous pilgrimages will be made to Rheims to visit the tomb of the saint and to inspect some relies connected with his life. CURLING.

A WORD TO PLAYERS. Mr. J. D. Flavelle, of Lindsay, Ont., one of the best known curlers in Canada, contributes a valuable little paper to the Annual of the Ontario Association, in which he gives the following hints to players: Obey your skip implicitly, even though it may seem to you that he is directing wrong. No success can be obtained unless, for the time being, strict loyalty is maintained to your skip. If you think he is not skipping you properly, speak to him quietly between the heads, suggesting where you think he is in error; if you fail to convince him, waive your judgment and carry out his instructions to the best of your ability. United action on the part of the rink is the only possible way of insuring success; individual brilliancy will never succeed if coupled with insubordination. If your skip proves a failure depose him when the proper time comes, out while he occupies that position give him your unqualified and cheerful support. When not playing yourself keep in your proper position along the rink ready to sweep when called upon, and, above all things, do not loaf around the tee. It is contrary to the rules of the game, annoying to your skip, demoralizing to discipline, and may be the means of losing a match, through not being in your place sweeping an important stone when called upon. Never call out to your skip challenging the shot he is giving you, or argue with him so that the same is audible to onlookers. If he is not selfconfident it tends to rattle him, and in any case must necessarily ruffle him; and no curler, be he skip, or occupying Cycling and skating would seem to be exercises that go hand in hand. The fastest skater in the world, J. S. Johnsson, has also a world wide reputation as a bicyclist, and as such has achieved some remarkable feats. J. J. Eden, one of the fastest amateur Dutch skaters, is equally good as a bicyclist, as is also the Norwegian skater Henie. Several of the most rising German skaters are renowned as cyclists, and in Great Britain the same rule applies. Johnson, who is a Scandinavian by birth, has had no peer as a skater since he beat Donoghue two years ago.

CRICKET. A CLERICAL EXPERT.

In the election of that all-round Episcopalian clergyman, Rev. Dr. Rainsford, to the presidency of the New York Cricket Association we discern a sign of the times. Dr. Rainsford is more than a good cricketer; he is an organizer, a manager, a progressist, and a man of diplomatic tact, possessed of an active judgment and a well-defined purpose. He will undoubtedly make his influence felt, from the long leg to the cover point, from wickets to popping creases, the English way. He will be master of the situation in all controversies. There are now seven clubs in the New York Association, and there will probably be twice as many before the close of his presidency. In regard to the question of the championship matches a settlement will not be delayed. He will not neglect his elerical duties either, or the regular services of St. George's Church. In England many of the clergymen of the Established Church are famous cricketters, and a curate may be helped to a bishopric there by his expertness at the game. It is possible that the president of the New York Cricket Association may yet be exalted to the Episcopate.-ATHLETICS

Windsor's Misfortune.

Destruction of St. Andrew's Church by Fire.

Loss on Building and Organ Placed at $20,000.

Destructive and Fatal Fire in Toledo,

WINDSOR, March 17.—St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, in this city, was totally destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. About 2:30 smoke was noticed issuing from the windows at the top of the building. An alarm was turned in, and although the department made a quick response, by the time they arrived the smoke was belching out of the upper windows and coming through the roof. In a few minutes the flames burst from all parts of the building, and it was seen that the church was doomed. Adjoining the building on the west was the Sunday school room, and on the south the manse occupied by Rev. Mr. Tolmie. The firemen directed their attention to saving these buildings, and for a time it seemed as if they would go, as the water furnished in two of the branches was not strong enough to raise the stream to their roofs. The crowd soon cleaned the manse out of all household goods, and one of the heavy streams was turned on the house. The firemen by means of ladders managed to get the water on top of the school room, and both buildings were saved. The fire, though lasting only about an hour, was a very hot one, as the interior of the building was finished throughout with pine, and only the heavy brick walls kept the flames from spreading.
The firemen kept playing on the flames until late, and what was 24 hours ago a beautiful church is now four broken walls. The fire started from the furnaces under the organ. The janitor left the church shortly before 12 o'clock, and said that the fires in the furnaces were lower than usual.

The loss of the magnificent organ, placed in the church last year, is particularly deplored, and in a few weeks the congregation had hoped by subscription to pay off the remaining debt on the building.

The church was erected in 1884, but since the arrival of the present pastor it has been unable to accommodate the attendance, and it was proposed to extend it where the manse stood. The loss on the building is estimated at $17,000; organ, $3,000, and the insurance is covered as follows: London Assurance, $4,000; London and Lancashire, $5,200; Western, $2,000. Besides this the London and Lancashire has an insurance of $2,000 on the organ. The loss to Rev. Mr. Tolmie on account of removal of furniture is small and is covered by in-

THREE LIVES LOST. TOLEDO, Ohio, March 17.—A fire at-ended by loss of life occurred in this city this morning at the round house of the Wabash Railway. Three men lost their lives, two being instantly killed. Nine others were more or less injured, one of them, it is thought, fatally. Following is a list of the victims: Dead-R. H. Bohlman, 56, painter, married, seven children; J. J. Preston, 35, car inspector, married six children; John Bowen 18, spectator.

Injured—H. F. Howard, general foreman eastern division; John O'Leary, machinist, may die; Patrick McDonogh, fireman; Martin Greenburg, car repairer; Harry Zimmerman, painter; Henry Gerding, car repairer; Louis Decker, painter; Casper Becker, painter; T. C. Lauer, truck foreman. All of the dead except John Bowen were employes of the Wabash Railway. They constituted the company's fire department for the protection of the shops and were engaged in fighting the flames when the accident occurred, which was caused by a wall unexpectedly falling outward. The round house was com-pletely wrecked, and the six engines stored there were rendered useless.

The loss is estimated at from $75,000 to $100,000 and is said to be fully insured. IN ST. LOUIS. ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 17.-The elevator and general warehouse of Hugh Rogers & Co. on the river front was burned to the ground this morning. The buildings contained 240,000 bushels of wheat and a large amount of salt, hay and cotton. Nothing was saved. LARGE FIRE IN CLEVELAND. CLEVELAND, Ohio, March 17.-The newspaper building on Ontario street occupied by the World, the A. N. Kellog Newspaper Company and the United Press was destroyed by fire this evening. The total loss was about $150,000. It is thought the fire started through the carelessness of a porter.

Postoffice Boxes Robbed.

OTTAWA, March 17.-A series of robberies was brought to light yesterday in connection with the postoffice department. As one after the other of the morning delivery returned to the postoffice he reported that a letter box on his route had been forcibly broken open and the contents scattered over the street, while at the same time a number of letters and other articles of mail had been carried off. About half a dozen boxes were robbed.

PERSONAL MAGNETISM

Is All on the Side of the Liberal Leader.

Prince Edward Island Liberals Show a Solid Front.

PERSONAL MAGNETISM. In its report of the demonstration accorded Hon, Wilfrid Laurier on Tuesday last, in his own constituency of Quebec East, the Montreal Witness

"Last night's demonstration in honor of the Liberal leader will forever remain memorable in the annals of old Quebec. Mr. Laurier has in the past received many hearty welcomes from the population of the Ancient Capital, and especially from his constituents of Quebec East in the seventeen years during which he has represented them, but nothing like this one in point of warmth, magnitude and brilliancy, for which it stands unparalleled in local history. Indeed, it is questionable wnether so remarkable a tribute of popular affection and public respect was ever before paid to any Canadian politician here or elsewhere. It seemed as if our entire population, strengthened by thousands from the surrounding country and other parts of the district, had turned out as of one accord to do honor to the man whom the whole Dominion so delights to honor at present, and whose connection with Quebec reflects so much luster upon it."

In this campaign the personal magnetism that counts for so much is all on the side of the Liberal leader. In the past this advantage has always been with the Conservatives.

ST. PATPICK'S DAY

Observed by Processions and Special

TORONTO, March 17 .- St. Patrick's Day was celebrated here by a procession, taken part in by about 800 representatives of different Catholic societies, who marched to St. Patrick's Church, where a sermon was preached by Rev. Father Grogan. Rev. A. H. Baldwin preached the annual sermon to Irish Protestants at the Church of the Redeemer. The day was similarly celebrated in other Canadian cities.

CHICAGO, March 17 .- St. Patrick's Day occurring on Sunday gave the laboring men chance to turn out in unusual numbers. The result was the largest parade in years. The procession was over an hour in passing a given point.

Spencer Block. - - - Telephone 1,120. HOW A PIANO IS TUNED.

It Is a Simple Thing After You Have Learned. "Plunk - plunk - kerchug - twang-You have heard these sounds before, though they look a little unfamiliar when reproduced on paper. They represent the performance of a piano tuner from an outside and tympanic standpoint. They are the tangible and disagreeable part of the necessary business of putting in tune an instrument, which, alas! too many people spend a deplorably large portion of their lives putting out of tune. This business of tuning pianos, which watch the manner in which the operator pries up first one string and then another, sounding meanwhile a confused jargon of notes, until the puzzled listener does not know an octave from a fifth, is not, however, as difficult and as mysterious as at fisrt it appears.

All that is required is an exact ear and a few simple tools, viz., a tuning-fork (usually a C fork), a long, hammer-like key, and a wedge or mute. The accuracy of the tuner's ear is partly a natural gift, partly the result of long practice.

Even the most unpracticed ear can readily distinguish sound from noise; sound is produced by regular vibrations, while noise is a mixture of sounds thrown together without reference to any law. High notes have a large number of vibrations per second, while low notes have a small number. The highest A is calculated to have 3,480 vibrations per second, while the lowest A has only 271/2.

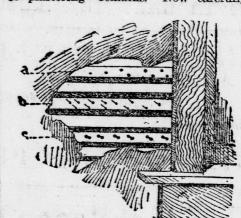

The majority of tuners have adopted a method of tuning which includes but two intervals, the octave and the fifth. The ordinary square piano has two strings, and most uprights have three strings, to each note, except in the lower octave. The pitch of one of these strings is tuned in the relation of octave or fifth to some previous note. The remaining strings are then tuned in unison with the first string. As the strings approach unison, a number of strong and rapid beats or pulsations are perceptible to the ear; as they come still closer, the beats become slower, till finally dians. The following facts relating to the they are no longer to be heard. Then the unison is perfect. The ear in tuning is guided by progression from a confused sound to strong an Eliot New Testament of 1661 brought beats, and then from smooth waves to one continuous sound. Unisons and octaves are always tuned perfect; that is the beats must entirely disappear. In the fifths, when perfectly tuned, there will be neither wave nor beat. It takes generally about three years to learn the business, and a good workman will make from $18 to $35 a week. A few women have been employed as tuners with great success.-New York Recorder.

BROKEN WALL PLASTER This Little Article and Picture Tell How

to Repair It. Always in repairing bits of wall or ceiling remove all the adjoining portion of plaster that is loose, then industriously brush the exposed lath until not a particle of plastering remains. Now carefully

REPAIRING BROKEN WALL PLASTER. wash with a hand broom. This will swell out the fibre of the lath. Let it dry for one day, again brush and either make half-inch holes in the lath as at a, or dirve in plenty of three-quarter-inch wire nails to about half their length as at b, or insert small screws left projecting a little less than the thickness of the wall as at c. The object of all of these plans is to hold the plastering firmly in position. When patching a wall it is best to put in more hair than usual, and be certian to press the plaster into every crevice, using none but well-made mortar. Do not mix and apply the same day, but let it season or ripen as masons do. Better still, where but a bushel or so is needed, go to some places where building is going on, or to a mason who keeps it ready. made, and obtain a better article than you can possibly make and at a trifling expense. - American Agriculturist.

Did Not Recognize the Cow. Several good stories are told of the absent mindedness of some well known divines. Of one popular clergyman it is said that when walking on the street his mind is generally so thoroughly fixed upon some subject that he will pass by his most intimate friends without the slightest recognition. Once, when in the country, this minister ran full into a cow, which was calmly chewing her cud by the wayside. Without noticing the nature of the obstruction, the absent minded clergyman lifted his hat and, with a bow, said, "I beg your pardon." Upon realizing the ridiculousness of his error he made a mental resolve never to commit a like blunder again. Somewhat further on his ramble and while still pondering the same weighty subject, he approached a sharp turn in the road, beyond which he could not obtain sight of any moving object. Turning the corner quickly he came face to face with a lady, and, before he could check his speed, nearly knocked the woman down. Dim recollections of the cow episode evidently flashed through his mind, for he said, sharply, "Go away, you dirty beast." What the lady said is not recorded. Of another clergyman the tale is told that he was once riding with a companion through the woods. For a long time not a word had been spoken, as the mind of the reverend gentleman seemed wrapped up in some matter far from his surroundings. Suddenly a fox darted across the road, directly in front of the horse's head. The clergyman did not see it and his companion exclaimed:-"There goes a fox!" As if nothing had been said the minister continued silent; still thinking of the weighty subject of his reverie. Fully half an hour elapsed before he ask-ed. quite innocently. "Where?"

secrets of Their Lives. Every man's life, no matter how humble, would furnish an interesting book if cleverly written. You can't always tell by a glance at a man what his past has been. There is a humble carpenter in town who was the prize orator at an Eastern college. Not far from the home of the writer of this there lives an ugly, decrepit old woman who was considered in her youth the handsomest girl in Kentucky. Poems were written about her, men went crazy over her, and duels were fought by jealous admirers. Yet she married & worthless man who got drunk and abused her. The intensely religious life followed by another man in town is the result of certainly looks rather mysterious as you remorse over having caused the death of a comrade a great many years ago. A sweet child sat at a table near me in a restaurant not long ago. He was a child of the Lord Fauntleroy type, and its mother's back hair had that hopeless, tired-of-life look that only the possession of that sort of offspring can give. The sweet child was frank in his comments on everything he saw.

"Oh, ma!" said he, pointing to a man whose ears were so arranged that they could freckle on the under side, "get on to them ears." "Hush, Georgie," remonstrated the mother, visibly embarrassed, "the gentleman will hear you." "Huh!" said Georgie, "if he couldn't with them ears he ought to be ashamed."

Old Bibles. The first Bible printed in America was in 1663. It was translated by John Eliot into the Algonkin language, for the Inpresent value of this and other old Bibles will prove interesting. At the sale of the Brinley library in New York, March, 1879, $700. At the same sale a Bible of 1663 sold for $1,000. At an auction in 1884 a Bible of 1685 brought $950. The Bement copy of the Eliot Testament of 1661 sold in London in 1820 for less than a dollar. The same copy at a sale in New York in 1890, brought $610. The total number of Indian Testaments and Bibles of this period now known to exist is 125. The first Bible printed in America in a European tongue is "The Saur Bible." This was printed in Ger man, by Christian Saur, who came to this country in 1724.

July: 594c asked Aug. CORN-46c bid cash and May. OATS-314c cash. CHICAGO, March 18. Wheat slipped back further today. Gradually diminishing confidence appears to be the diminishing confidence appears to be the aspect of the situation, and the people who professed to believe that there was no possibility of anything but a large raise are beginning to find their theories at variance with the true state of affairs. Corn, the immediate factor today, was the action of wheat. An easy opening was followed by a recovery, with finally a decline taking place. Oats were dull and inactive. No one evidenced interest in the dealings today. Oats were dull and mactive. No one denced interest in the dealings today. Wheat,

A brisk demand for onions has been ex-perienced from American buyers, about 25 carloads having been shipped from this city to Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City and other centers in the Western States during the past three weeks. The prices ranged from $2 to $2 25 per barrel, and orders are still being received. The United States seems to have run ceived. The United States seems to have run short of its onion supplies, and hence the present demand.—[Montreal Trade Bulletin.

The Cheese Outlook. Within the past ten days the actual sales of cheese on the Montreal market have footed up to a considerable amount, besides which some to a considerable amount, besides which some good-sized lots have changed hands in the country at firm prices. John Bull held off quite a while, expecting to get all the Canadian cheese he wanted on consignment; but things have changed, and he is now sending in his orders quite lively for such a quiet and easy going trader, and paying better figures into the bargain. This in face of the fact that he has already taken 2.875.000 boxes from no the has already taken 2,975,000 boxes from us during the present season, or 173,900 boxes more than during the same time the year previous, shows he wants all our make. The range of values during the past week has been from 9tc to luc, and a fraction over the latter figure; and if the demand continues at the present ratio, stocks will very soon disappear. Boom in Pork.

May pork in Chicago sold up 25 cents per barrel today (Thursday), making a rise of $2.25 per barrel during the past six weeks. Unfortunately for Montrealers, however, there seem to be very few, if any, who have profited by the rise, as they were inclined to regard pork a good sale. Here the market is also firmer and higher, with sales of choice heavy Canada short cut at $1.50 in good-sized lots, and we quote $15.50 to $16. A dealer from the west states that he does not believe from the west states that he does not believe there are half a dozen carlots of dressed hogs to be had in Ontario, and until the summer run of live hogs commences the hog supply he thinks will be scarce. As regards mess pork, he says one of the largest packers in Toronto who packed thousands of barrels during the past season is now without any stock.—[Trade

A FAMOUS APPEAL. On April 25 a session of the Court of Ap peal of the Metropolitan of the Anglican Church in Eastern Canada will be held at Kingston for the purpose of hearing the ap peal of the late incumbent of Christ Church Amherstburg, from a Diocesan Court of Huron and a sentence pronounced by the bishop of that diocese. This event will be interesting, inasmuch as it will be the first session of the Court of Appeal since its establishment in 1842. The Archbishop of Ontario as Metropolitan will be the president of the court, and the other members will be the bishops of Montreal, Toronto. Algoma, Niagara, Quebec, Nova Scotia and Fredericton. The Bishop of Huron being the bishop whose sentence is appealed against will not sit as a member of the court. The court is advised by assessors. A LETTER FROM THE "ELBE."

This morning the postman handed to Mr. Chas. G. Beling, of this city, a letter which looked as if it had seen many miles of travel. It certainly had an experience that few letters are subjected to. The address was written in ink and plainly discernible, Chas. G. Beling, London, Ontario, Canada. It was in a larger envelope than is commonly used. On the face of the letter is stamped in German the following: "Geborgen aus der Postladung des untergegangenen dampfers Elbe, Postamt, Bremen." Translated it is as follows: "Saved from the postal cargo of the sunken steamer Elbe, postoffice, Bremen." The ink from the letter has soaked through the envelope. Mr. Beling considers the letter of such value as a memento that he has decided not to open it. It was from his wife's parents who immediately wrote another epistle after the sinking of the steamer, informing them here that a letter had been sent by the Elbe. This letterwas probably in one of the mail sacks picked up by fishing vessels.

BAKER ARRESTED AGAIN. Charles Baker appears once more before the public. Only last fall he shot himself in a fit of despondency because of unrequited love. The bullet entered the side of the head and took a downward course, lodging behind the nose. The bullet is still in hiding and while Baker was in the City Hospital it successfully eluded all and sundry of the probes that the doctors sent after it. Before this crisis appeared in Baker's life he had distinguished himself on different occasions in police circles, and two years ago he was brought back from Buffalo and given a long term in the Central for theft. This morning he was arrested again, bullet and all, and another charge of stealing entered against his name. A week or so ago Mr. C. B. Hunt reported the loss of a saddle from his stable in South London. Having reason to suspect Baker Detectives Rider and Nickle arrested him this morning while gathering rags in the found not only the missing saddle but a number of other stable articles, at present unclaimed and supposed to have been stolen. The articles comprise a new bristle brush, a pair of standing martingales, a pair of quarter boots, marked with the maker's name—A. V. Smith, Rochester—a heavy collar and an open bridle. From similarity in the make the martingales and the bridle evidently belong to the same set of harness.

CRUELTY TO ANIMALS AGAIN.

Another case of alleged cruelty to a street prosecution were Chief Williams, L. V. Ludwig, George Harding, R. W. Ffolkes, and J. H. Tennart, V.S. The evidence all tended to show that the animal was unfit for work and Mr. J. H. Tennant, V.S., said that the horse was suffering from navicular disease. On the other hand Wm. Kerr, the driver, Assistant Superintendent Reycraft and Superintendent Dehart gave evidence to show that the horse was not lame, or if it was the lameness was not discernible. The magistrate finally adjourned the case until Wednesday to admit of further witnesses being called. A street car driver named James Armstrong was charged by his wife with non-support. Mr. Frank Love appeared for the defendant and stated that Mrs. Armstrong did not wish to prosecute and desired the case to be withdrawn. The magistrate agreed to this. George DeEllion, superintendent of the Newsboys' Home, was charged by Hamilton Lally, a newsboy, with assault. The charge arose over a chastisement inflicted by De Ellion on the boy. He slapped him because the boy smoked cigarettes and swore. The suspended sentence. Two drunks were discharged.

A FINAL CLANCE

At Some of the Pictures at the Woman's Art Exhibition.

Some Admirable Pictures by Foreign

Artists-A Fine Work by Mrs. Dignam.

The notice which appeared in the "Advertiser" a day or two ago of the second annual exhibition of the London branch of the Woman's Art Association of Canada, which closed on Saturday, was by no means a full description of all the good things on exhibition. The writer, being hurried, had not then penetrated to the water color department. The W. A. A. of London is to be congratulated on its having secured for its exhibition the work of so many well-known New York artists.

First of all were some very clever sketchy water colors of boats by Rhoda Holmes Nicholls, vice-president of the Water Color Club of New York, and also a member of several foreign clubs. This original's work, it will be remembered, was awarded medals at the World's Fair. Miss Coffin, another wellknown artist of New York, had a very pleasing study of vegetables painted in the style of the Dutch school. Frances Carlin, of the same city, was represented by a landscape, and Miss E. Lamport, president of the Rochester Art Club, by a study of boats, also a painting of pink roses in an old Portuguese bowl painted by Mrs. M. E. Dignam, of To-ronto. Amongst all this work by old and well-known professionals was study of some sort of squash by Miss Elsie Perrin, which for so young a beginner compared very favorably with all the good work by which it was sur-rounded, being well drawn and nicely held together. In this same part of the exhibition was a pretty water color of California morning glories, painted in the old-fashioned style by Mrs. N. S. J. Smillie, the wife of the New York artist, who is a member of the N. A. D. "Aged Woman's Home," by M. C. Ferney, was a fine piece of work with a very skilfully painted interior. There were also several charming sketches from members of the Montreal branch of the W. A. A.

On leaving the water colors several southern part of the city, and drove with pictures among the oil paintings which him to his employer's place—a rag dealer named Harris, on Horton street. Young Baker boarded there, and there the police ed well worthy of attention. "Cabbages", again by C. A. Levin, was one of these. It would be of interest to know where this painter is from, whether she is a Canadian or American, and it is here suggested that on another occasion the place of residence of all exhibitors. with full titles, may be given on the catalogue.
Mrs. Macbeth was only represented this year by one or two little sketches. but which showed refinement and artistic feeling. "Sheep on Winter's Evening." by Mrs. Dignam, is a picture which will attract because of its tenderness and homeliness. This little pic-ture, breathing forth the sentiment of Another case of alleged crueity to a surect car horse was heard by Police Magistrate Parke this morning. The charge was laid against Driver Wm. Kerr by Sergt. McGuire, at the instigation of Chief Williams.

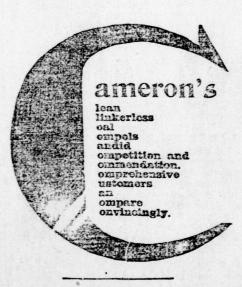

Guire, at the instigation of Chief Williams. The prosecution tried to show that the horse complained of was lame in the legs and unfit for work. The witnesses for the ter sun slowly disappearing behind the hills, is true to the life. The painter looked at the scene, saw what was there, and, what is better, is able to make us see what she saw, not alone the number of sticks in the fence, the amount of wool on the backs of the sheep, the standing shadow cast by the barn, but the "soul" of the evening, that undefinable spiritual atmosphere pervading all nature, which gives a distinct personality to every hour of the day. The painter of "Sheep on Winter's Evening" is essentially une femme d'esprit, with a quality of subtlety and sensitiveness to the infinite light and shadow in the spiritual and material world that makes her pictures. so full of suggestion and power.

No. 54, a study of dogs, by Mr. Shreiber, and peanuts falling out of a bag, by Miss Denison, were both good.

And Bliss, at Last.

This honor entails on the helder of it the necessity of living at or within reach of Spanish Town for some ten weeks toward the close of every year. Now, on the whole face of the uninhabited globe there is perhaps no spot more dull to look at, more Lethean in its aspect, more corpse-like, or more cadaverous than Spanish Town. It is the headquarters of the Government, the seat of the Legislature, the residence of the Governor; but, nevertheless, it is, as it were, a city of the very dead. Here, as we have said before, lived Miss Jack in a large, forlorn, ghost-like house, in which her father and all her family had lived before her. And, as a matter of course, Maurice Cumming, when he came up to attend to his duties as a member of the Legislature, took up his abode with her.

Now, at the time of which we are specially speaking he had completed the first of these annual visits. He had already benefited his country by sitting out one session of the colonial Parliament, and had satisfied himself that he did no other good than that of keeping away some person more objectionable than himself. He was, however, prepared to repeat this self-sacrifice in a spirit of patriotism, for which he received a very meagre meed of eulogy from Miss Jack and an amount of self-applause which was not much more extensive. "Down at Mount Pleasant I can do some thing," he would say over and over again, "but what good can any man do up here?" "You can do your duty," Miss Jaack would answer, "as others did before you when the colony was made to prosper.' And then they would run off into a long discussion about free labor and protective duties. But at the present moment Maurice Cumming had another vexation on his mind over and above that arising from his wasted hours at Spanish Town and his fruitless labors at Mount Pleasant. He was in love, and was not satisfied with the conduct of his lady love.

Miss Jack had other nephews besides Maurice Cumming and nieces also, of whom Marian Leslie was one. The family of the Leslies lived up near Newcastle-in the mountains, that is, which stand over Kingston-at a distance of some eighteen miles from Kingston, but in a climate as different from that of the town as the climate of Naples is from that of Berlin. In Kingston the heat is all but intolerable throughout the year, by day and by night, in the house and out of it. In the mountains round Newcastle, some 4,000 feet above the sea, it is merely warm during the day, and cool enough at night to make a heavy blanket

It is pleasant enough living up among those green mountains. There are no roads there for wheeled carriages nor are there carriages with or without wheels. All journeys are made on horseback. Every visit paid from house to house is performed in this manner. Ladies, old and young, live before dinner in their riding habits. The hospitality is free, easy, and unembarrassed. The scenery is magnificent. The tropical foliage is wild and luxuriant beyond measure. There may be enjoyed all that a southern climate has to offer of enjoyment, without the penalties which such enjoyments usually entail. Mrs. Leslie was a half-sister to Miss Jack and Miss Jack had been a half-sister alos of Mrs. Cumming; but Mrs. Leslie and Mrs. Cumming had in no way been related. And it had so happened that up to the period of his legislative efforts Maurice Cumming had een nothing of the Leslies. Soon after his arrival at Spanish Town he had been taken by Miss Jack to Shandy Hall, for so the residence of the Leslies was called, and, having remained there for three days, had fallen in love with Marian Leslie. Now in the West Indies all young ladies flirt; it is the first habit of their nature-and few young ladies in the West Indies were more given to flirting or understood it better than Marian Leslie. Maurice Cumming fell violently in love, and during his first visit at Shandy Hall found that Marian was perfection-for during this first visit her propensites were exerted altogether in his own favor. That little circumstance does make such a difference in a young man's judgement of a girl! He came back full of admiration, not altogether to Miss Jack's dissatisfaction, for Miss Jack was willing enough that both her nephew and her niece should settle down to married life.

But then Maurice met his fair one at a Governor's ball, where red coats abounded, and aides de camp dancing in spurs; and narrow-waisted lieutenants with sashes or epaulets! The aides de camp and narrowwaisted ieutenants waltzed better than he did; and as one after the other whisked around the room with Marian firmly clasped in his arms, Maurice's feelings were not of the sweetest. Nor was this the worst of it. Had the whisking been divided equally among ten, he might have forgotten it; but there was one specially narrow-waisted lieutenant who, towards the ead of the evening, kept Marian nearly wholly to himself. Now to a man in love, who has had but little experience of either balls or young ladies, this intolerable.

He only met her twice after that before his return to Mount Pleasant, and on the first occasion that odious soldier was not there. But a specially devout young clergyman was present an unmarried evangelical handsome young curate fresh from England; and Marian's plety had been so excited that she had cared for no one else. It appeared moreover, that the curate's gifts for conversation were confined, as regarded that oppor-tunity, to Marian's advantage. "I will have nothing more to say to her," said Maurice to himself, scowling. But just as he went away Marian had given him her hand, and called him Maurice—for she pretended that they were cousins—and had looked into his eyes and declared that she did hope that the Assembly at Spanish Town would soon be sitting again. Hitherto, she said, she had not cared one s raw about it. Then poor Maurice pressed the little fingers which lay within his own, and swore that he would be at Shandy Hall on the day before his return to Mount Pleasant. So he was; and there he found the narrow-waisted lieutenant, not now bedecked with sash and epaulets, but lolling at ease on Mrs. Leslie's sofa in a white jacket, while Marian sat at his feet telling his fortune with a book about

"Oh, a musk rose, Mr. Ewing; you know what a musk rose means!" Then she got up and shook hands with Mr. Cumming, but her eyes still went away to the white jacket and the sofa. Poor Maurice had often been nearly broken-hearted in his efforts to manage his free black laborers, but even that was easier than managing such as Marian Leslie.

Marian Leslie was a creole-as also were Miss Jack and Maurice Cumming-a child or the tropics; but by no means such a child as tropical children are generally thought to be by us in more northern latitudes. She black-haired and black-eyed, but her lips were as red and her cheeks as rosy; as though she had been born and bred in regions where the snow lies in winter. She was a small, pretty, beautifully made little creature somewhat idle as regards the work of the world, but active and strong enough when dancing or riding were required from her. Her father was a banker, and was fairly prosperous in spite of the poverty of his country. His house of business was at Kingston, and he usually slept there twice a week; but he always resided at Shandy Hall, and Mrs. Leslie and her children knew but very little of the miseries of Kingston. For be it known to all men, that of all towns Kingston is the most miserable.

I fear that I shall have set my readers very much against Marian Leslie-much more so than I would wish to do. As a rule, they will not know how thoroughly flirting is an institution in the West Indiespracticed by all young ladies, and laid aside by them when they marry, exactly as their young lady names and young lady habits of various kinds are laid aside. All I would say of Marian Leslie is this, that she understood the working of the institution more thoroughly than others did. And I must add also in her favor that she did not keep her flirting for sly corners, nor did her admirers keep their distance till mamma was out of the way. It mattered not to her who was present. Had she been colled on to make one at a synod of the clergy of the island, she would have flirted with the Bishop before all his priests. And there have been Bishops in the colony who would not have gainsaid her!

But Maurice Cumming did not rightly calculate all this; nor indeed did Miss Jack do so as thoroughly as she should have done, for Miss Jack knew more about such matters than did poor Maurice. "If you like Marian why don't you marry her?" Miss Jack had once said to him; and this, coming from Miss Jack, who was made of money, was a great deal.

"She wouldn't have me," Maurice had

That's more than you know or I either, was Miss Jack's reply. "But, if you like to try, I'll help you."
With reference to this, Maurice, as he left Miss Jack's residence on his return to Mount Pleasant, had declared that Marian Leslie was not worth an honest man's

"Pshaw!" Miss Jack replied; "Marian will do like other girls. When you marry a wife I suppose you mean to be master?"
"At any rate I shan't marry her," said Maurice. And so he went his way back to Hanover with a sore heart. And no wonder, for that was the very day on which Lieut. Ewing had asked the question about the musk rose.

THE NEW MILLINERY.

Hats to Transcend All Their Predecessors for Screen Purposes This Season.

Straw hats which will not be needed for weeks to come have already appeared in the shops in all sorts of fantastic shapes, large and small, high and low crowns, and mostly made up with a rim of one color and a crown of another. There is a new straw called satin, which is very glossy and pliable, like baby ribbon, and is used for rosettes as well as plaits. Some of the straws are shot with different colors, like the ribbons and silks which trim them, and the Leghorn hats trimmed with ostrich feathers and lace are to be worn again.

Many of the hats are immense in size and assume a sort of square shape, and flowers, feathers, lace, velvet and glis-tening ornaments are used in their trimming. Roses are the favorite flower in Pars, and more foliage is to be used this season than ever. Several close rosebuds, massed together in an upstanding bunch, rising from a bunch of bright green leaves, is a favorite ar rangement. Rims of hats are covered with frillings of silk, chiffon and braid, and crowns are made of tiny straw wings.

Great width is given to hats and bonnets by wide-spreading bows directly in front, and wings of chiffon wired into shape and covered with sequins are to be used more than ever.

Large airy black lace hats are a feature of the new millinery. One startling combination has a black lace rim and a crown of gold and black, from which roses in varying dahlia tints spread out among hoops of wide dahlia satin ribbon which extend out on either side in front, and are further softened by black lace edging. The backs of the hats are trimmed broad, like the front, and large rosettes of lace and velvet are seen on one hat, with a cascade of roses falling at the back. Boat-shaped hats are here again, but they are transformed by a frill of lace, which is wired and made to extend over the brim, and masses of flowers are arranged just above the ears.

A lace in white and cream which resembles Brussels applique, is a specialty in millinery, and every shade of red, from the palest to the darkest ruby, s to be worn, while violets will continue in favor. Bonnets are made entirely of loops of jet prettily mingled and brightened by flowers placed directly in front. With broad bows at the back of our hats, broad bows in front, each upstanding aigrettes on the crown, the new hat will transcend any of its predecessors for all screen purposes. Shirt waist continue to multiply in variety, and besides the regulation Chambery waist with the stiff turnover collar, there are dainty ones of Swiss, striped with a color and made with the soft draped band at the neck.

She was 32 years of age, and left no children. Deceased was a native of the gore of London and was a member of St. Matthew's Church, where Mr. Gardener is choirmaster. Mr. Gardener's brother Henry, of Briscoe street, South London, lost his wife by death only a few weeks ago. The funeral of Mrs. Edward Gardener will take place on Tuesday to Woodland.

-The benefit concert given to Bro. Harry Gardner at the Foresters' Hall, South London, proved the great respect in which he is held by the members of the various lodges who hold their meetings there. The chair was taken by Mr. J. Thomas, and the accompaniments of those who took part were played by Miss Edwards in her usual able manner. A good programme was given by the following: The Misses Wilson, Petrie, Smith and Harding, Mr. and Miss Rossiter, Messrs. Platt, Judson, Gammon, Gardner, Hartford, Chapman and Nichols. A dialogue by Mr. Hessel, Mr. Mansbridge, Miss Connor and Miss Dawes was highly appreciated by the large number present.

-In these days of degenerate comedy farce it is refreshing to come across one that preserves fresh images and does not depend upon vulgarity as its chief source of amusement. Such a play is "Charley's Aunt," which will be presented here for the first time this evening at the Grand. Sometimes a New York indorsement is not all that it might be, but "Charley's Aunt" had a prosperous engagement at the Standard Theston. perous engagement at the Standard Theater, New York, and when it visited the other large cities of the country it repeated its metropolitan success. The piece is said to be an admirable example of dramatic construction. The situations are delightfully absurd and consistently introduced.

Lodge, I. O. O. F., under whose auspices the funeral will be held on Monday. A HORSE KILLED.

On Saturday afternoon a son of Mr. Alex. Cattnach, grocer, of Adelaide street, was driving east on Piccadilly street. A little west of Adelaide street a dog ran into the road and Cattnach's horse became frigitened. It turned around and started in the opposite direction at a smart gait. The harness was broken and the cutter was left behind. The horse turned south at William to Pall Mall, but in endeavoring to turn east on that thoroughfare slipped on the car track and fell. The animal's fore left shoulder was broken, and the beast was shot yesterday.

FORESTERS' TRIP TO ENGLAND. This month's Forester gives full particulars of the arrangements made for the carrying of the delegates to the Supreme Court, which is to be held in August next in London, England. The steamship Kensington, of the American Line, has been chartered. The excursionists will start from Philadelphia on July 20. The fare will be $83 from Philadelphia to London and return, which is a very low rate, and includes the railroad fares from Liverpool to London and return, with stop over privileges at many points of interest. There also will be side trips arranged for at special rates to Germany, France, Switzerland, Scotland and Ireland. All Foresters and their friends may share in this special arrangement and those who wish can get all information by writing or calling on the supreme chief ranger. KILLED MEN IN GOOD CAUSES.

Capt. F. S. Dugmore, who joined the Royal Canadian Rifles in 1860, and after serving in several regiments retired, superannuated in 1881, is the subject of a sketch Council has had a very busy month and has in the London Graphic. Capt. Dugmore, with two other gentlemen, was shooting big ame at Merefano in British East Africa in October last, when a mission station in the district was attacked by the Somalis, a hostile and powerful tribe. Two hundred warriors had attacked the missionaries and the peaceful tribe with whom they lived. Capt. Dugmore marshaled a host numbering 5 Europeans and 24 natives and routed the enemy in a night attack, killing 50 of them. Later on he and his party successfully resisted an attack upon another mission station by the entire Somali force, and by killing their leader put an end to the war for the present. Great credit is given to the new Mannlicher rifles, of which the party had two. Capt. Dugmore killed a man with this weapon at a distance of 2,200 yards. The captain was stationed in London, Ont., with the Royal Canadian Regiment in 1861, and is remembered by old-timers here.

THE KENT CASE.

Physicians Universally Admit the Diagnosis to Have Been Correct.

OTTAWA, March 18 .- The diagnosis in the case of Mr. G. H. Kent, of this city, whose recovery from Bright's disease by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills has been so extensively chronicled, apthe disease was becoming attenuated with years. This time it has not come from Europe. It has become domesticated in convulsions and consequent insensibility, the racking pains, the formation of the hard ridges across the pit of the stomach, and the great loss of albumen are all symptoms of this terrible disease, and it is universally admitted by all who have been approached on the subject that the case was unmistakable in its character. It is also universally admitted that he owes his restored health to the above-mentioned remedy.
