WANT TO BUY LIBERTY.

London, June 11.—The four leaders of the Johannesburg reform committee, Col. Francis Rhodes, George Farrar, Lionel Phillips and John Hays Hammond, have offered the Government $200,000, to be used for charitable purposes, in exchange for their release. This action on their part has given rise to a slight misunderstanding, which may retard the settlement of their cases a few days.

CRETANS WANT INDEPENDENCE

Athens, June 11.—It is learned that the Cretan Reform Committee have formulated demands which include the economic independence of the Island of Crete, the island to receive half of the customs revenues, which are now paid into the Turkish treasury. The committee also demands the nomination of a governor of their own choice, under the guarantee of the powers that that official shall hold office for five years.

EXPENSES OF THE NILE EXPEDITION.

London, June 11.—In the House of Commons, Sir Michael Hicks-Beach stated that the question of assisting Egypt in meeting the expenses of the Soudan campaign was under consideration by the Government. In the meantime, he said, the expense would be met by moneys taken from the Egyptian funds, which were by no means limited to $2,500,000. This method of defraying the expenses of the campaign, he declared, would be continued until the adverse decision of the Egyptian mixed tribunal should be heard.

THE DELEGATES DINE.

London, June 11.—The annual dinner of the London Chamber of Commerce last evening was attended by many guests, among them being Sir Mackenzie Bowell, Sir Donald Alexander Smith, the Earl of Jersey, the Earl of Shelburne, Parliamentary secretary of the Colonial Office; Rt. Hon. Geo. N. Curzon, and other prominent persons. Rt. Hon. Jos. Chamberlain reiterated his views upon the subject of free commercial interchange between the component parts of the empire. Whether the latter perished liked the empress of antiquity, Mr. Chamberlain declared, depended less upon the people of the British Isles than upon the possible action of Great Britain binding the parts of the empire more closely together.

CHEERS AT AN EXECUTION.

London, June 11.—The execution of Mrs. Dyer, the slayer of numerous infants, was private, and witnessed only by the proper officials. Public interest had been so excited, however, by the knowledge of the enormity of the woman's crimes, that despite the rain that was falling all morning, a large crowd gathered outside the walls of Newgate, and eagerly awaited the hoisting of the black flag. When the sable signal was unfurled, there burst from the throats of the crowd a cheer, which was again and again repeated. There was an attempt on the part of the police to suppress this outburst of feeling, but the crowd having relieved itself by their expression of approbation, quietly dispersed. When Mrs. Dyer was led to the scaffold she seemed dazed, stupefied, half-dead with fright, and had to be upheld by the women wardens who had her in charge. She made no outcry, offered no prayer, gave evidence of no desire to confess. Almost fainting before the noose was adjusted to her neck, she completely collapsed as the knot tightened, and when she was swung off into eternity, there is doubt whether or not she was conscious of her doom.

Laurier in Guelph!

Another Ovation to the Coming Premier.

Thrilling Scenes and Incidents at the Great Gathering.

Guelph, June 11.—As the Liberal leader passes from place to place each succeeding demonstration in his honor seems to excel those which have gone before, great as the success of his tour up to the present time has been. When the train which brought him from Stratford rattled up to the station last evening Mr. Laurier found waiting his arrival a throng of 1,500 people, who greeted him with a mighty cheer of welcome. The demonstration began with his appearance on the platform, and it accompanied his conveyance behind a four-in-hand team of grays to the Royal Hotel. In the evening he was escorted to the meeting in the Victoria Rink by a monster procession, which was the admiration of thousands of spectators who lined the streets. At the head of it was Capt. Mann, the chief marshal, and the Thirtieth Battalion Band; a bicycle corps, composed of the wheelmen of the Royal City came next, and following it was the Erin Band, setting the pace for the sturdy yeomanry of that township afoot; next in line were the carriages containing the leader and other prominent Liberals; the students of the Ontario Agricultural College marched in a body, keeping time to the skirling of the pipes, under the deft manipulation of William Thain and John McNeil. A squad of horsemen followed, then the Hillsburg Band, and finally a large number of citizens on foot. The crowd that jammed itself into the rink was estimated at between 4,000 and 8,000.

The decoration of the great Auditorium was elaborate and tasteful. In the arrangement the British flag played a conspicuous part. The balcony was relieved by bunches of evergreens at intervals clear around the interior. Exotic plants and a festooning of white and blue upon a crimson ground set off the front of the platform.

When Mr. Laurier arrived, a band was playing. In the middle of the selection the leader arrived, and a cheer went up from that mighty crowd such as has never before been heard in Guelph. The people rose to their feet and cheered again and again, waving their hats and handkerchiefs wildly in the air. The ovation began when Mr. Laurier appeared in the building, and continued with ever-increasing vigor until he had stepped upon the platform and made his bow. The girls in the gallery gave him an old-time Chautauqua salute. In the midst of the demonstration the strains of "The Maple Leaf Forever" were heard, although indistinctly, so great was the volume of the cheering by which the people gave expression to their feelings of pleasure and satisfaction at seeing their leader.

On leaving the hall, after speaking, the horses were taken from Mr. Laurier's carriage by the college boys and the Young Liberals, who, in the intensity of their enthusiasm, hauled the conveyance between the lines of cheering people to the Royal Hotel.

Knighthoods for Judges.

The Title of Sir Was Recently Refused by Three of the Leading Ontario Jurists.

Canadian Law Journal for June.

"The honor of knighthood has just been conferred on the Chief Justice of Common Pleas, who will now be known as Sir William Meredith. The title was some time ago offered to Chief Justice Armour, Chief Justice Hagarty and Chancellor Boyd, but they did not, for personal reasons, think proper to accept the distinction. While the degree of Knight Bachelor does not mean much in these days, and titles do not seem very appropriate to the western hemisphere at the close of the nineteenth century, it is almost a pity that these learned chiefs (than whom none are more entitled to the honor) did not accept the title as appurtenant to the honorable positions they occupy."

COREA THREATENED

With a Rebellion—The King's Absence—Famine Prevails.

Vancouver, B. C., June 11.—The steamship Empress of Japan, which has just arrived from the Orient, brings news that another rebellion is feared in Corea owing to the protracted stay of the King at the Russian Legation. The insurgents declare the King's absence a disgrace to the country. Twenty-two thousand men have already risen in revolt. Famine prevails in Tonquin owing to the prolonged drought and consequent failure of the rice crop:

The General Elections.

Tupper's Frantic Rush to the Help of Despairing Friends.

A New Appointment Costs the Taxpayers Another $1,400 a Year.

Mr. Laurier and Sir Oliver to Speak at Lachine, Que. on Saturday.

MASSEY'S MEN HEARD FROM.

The Toronto Globe publishes interviews with fifteen or twenty of the foremen or heads of departments of the Massey-Harris Manufacturing Company, nearly all of whom state that although formerly Conservatives, they intend this time to vote against the Tupper Administration. The large majority of the mechanics will do the same thing.

A VOICE FROM MANITOBA.

Joseph Beaulieu, a farmer of Otterbourne, Manitoba, writes to the Electeur begging it to continue to fight against the passing of the Dickey Coercion Bill, as Manitoba Catholics do not want it. He adds that even if it were to pass, five Catholic families could not be found to demand its application, as none of them have the means to comply with the conditions prescribed by the bill.

STILL THEY COME.

Mr. H. H. Shaver, of Quinn, writes: I noticed a few days ago your list of manufacturers who deny the National Policy is a benefit to them, I wish to add my name to the list. I am a manufacturer employing over 50 men, and I say that the National Policy is no benefit, and I am sure I can prove it an injury. I am for Laurier and good government.

ANOTHER MANUFACTURER.

At Oshawa, Mr. McLaughlin, the leading carriage manufacturer, recently gave his views as a manufacturer, on the trade question. He also spoke in very respectful and pleasing terms of the Hon. Wilfrid Laurier and his policy. He said that while he was protected to the extent of about 30 per cent on the manufactured article, the duty on the raw material was from 30 to 70 per cent, and, considering this fact, the benefit of protection was almost nil.

HIS VIEW OF IT.

Mr. John Crawford, of Verdun, a wealthy and prominent Montrealer and life-long Conservative, says this time he will vote Liberal. He takes no stock in the school question, believing that either party must do justice to the Manitoba minority, but he thinks that eighteen years in power have made the Conservative leaders careless and unscrupulous.

OUTLOOK IN WINNIPEG.

Montreal, June 11.—A gentleman from Winnipeg, in conversation with a representative of the Witness, declared that Winnipeg would place Fighting Joe Martin at the head of the poll on June 23 by at least 700 majority.

"In spite of Hugh John's popularity?"

"Yes, in spite of Hugh John's popularity. Let me tell you, Hugh John is very much liked. He is not only liked, he is very much beloved. Hundreds of men who will oppose him on the 23rd of June would do anything for him but vote for him. That they have in many instances, even when the duty was very painful, told him in so many words, and the Tuppers gained nothing by putting that class of men in such a position."

"That is strange news to hear in face of the bribes the Conservative Government is offering to the Winnipeggers?"

"It is the truth, nevertheless; for, let me tell you, the people of Winnipeg are a better educated class than you will find anywhere else in Canada. You will find more university men in the ordinary walks of life there than in any other city in Canada. Quite recently, at a meeting attended by me, there were, out of 45 who attended, no fewer than fifteen graduates of Toronto University; so that you can see we are capable of seeing through the promises of the Government."

"What about the C. P. R.?"

"The C. P. R. people were waiting for a sign as to how they were to go. When Mr. Shaughnessy came out with his fiat that it was to be every man as he liked, there was soon evidence of how the Canadian Pacific men would go. Out of say 169 men in that concern, the canvass gave 51. In the Hudson's Bay concern, out of their employes, say about 125, the canvass showed 31 for Hugh John and the rest for Martin. So you see the outlook for Tupper is not pleasant in Winnipeg. I can tell you of men who even dislike Mr. Martin personally and yet are working like beavers for him, knowing well that they are working for a free and uncoerced Manitoba."

TUPPER'S BIG RUSH.

Sir Charles Tupper spoke yesterday at Trenton, Oshawa, Brighton and Colborne, rushing through the Province in a special express train, the property of the Dominion.

Today Sir Charles speaks at Bowmanville, St. Marys and London.

A SIGNIFICANT OFFER.

Quebec, June 11.—L'Electeur has now a standing offer of a bet of $500 that Mr. Laurier will carry the Dominion elections. This bet, although publicly open for two days, has not yet been covered. In 1891 Mr. Laurier carried 18 out of 23 constituencies in this district, and the Liberals on the present occasion will not concede the loss of one of the counties out of the 23. They are sanguine of going to Ottawa with a solid delegation.

ANOTHER CANDIDATE.

Toronto, June 11.—Sam Platt, a nephew of the late Samuel Platt, one time M. P., East Toronto, has consented to run against N. Clarke Wallace in West York as Independent Conservative.

DAVIN WILL BE BEATEN.

Winnipeg, June 11.—At Swift Current, N. W. T., on Monday, a large meeting voted confidence in Mr. McInnes, the Liberal-Patron candidate, and voted condemnation of Mr. Davin for his cowardice in failing to attend Mr. McInnes' meetings after Mr. McInnes had met and worsted him at all his own meetings. The Patrons of Lumsden county and the Patrons of Regina county each met last Saturday and each unanimously revoted entire confidence in Mr. McInnes as their candidate. In the districts surrounding Regina and Lumsden, a dispatch says, Mr. McInnes will beat Mr. Davin by ten to one.

NOTES AND INCIDENTS.

Mr. J. H. Metcalfe, ex-Conservative M. P. for Kingston, assumed the office of warden of Kingston Penitentiary at a salary of $2,000. The late warden, Dr. Lavell, has been retired with an allowance of $1,400 per annum.

Mr. Laurier and Sir Oliver Mowat will address a meeting at Lachine on Saturday evening.

Mr. R. Stanley Bogg, who failed to get the Conservative nomination in the St. Lawrence division of Montreal, secured by Mayor Wilson Smith, announces that he is in the field to stay. Ald. Penny will be elected beyond a doubt.

The General Assembly.

Opening of the Great Presbyterian Governing Body.

Rev. Dr. Gordon Elected Moderator—References to the Dead.

Toronto, June 11.—With due and customary ceremony, the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada was last night constituted in the Central Presbyterian Church, and the Assembly is now fairly launched on its sessions. The important duty of electing a moderator has been discharged, the choice of the Assembly falling upon Rev. D. M. Gordon, M.A., B.D., D.D., professor of systematic theology and apologetics at the Presbyterian College, Halifax.

The Assembly met at 8 o'clock in the Central Presbyterian Church, which was crowded to the doors with the commissioners and citizens who had come to see the opening ceremonies. Rev. Dr. Robertson, superintendent of home missions, the retiring moderator, presided, and after devotional exercises the retiring moderator preached his sermon, which was largely a plea for missionary activity.

Rev. Dr. Robertson then delivered a brief valedictory, referring to the losses the church had sustained in the past year in the deaths of Rev. Dr. Reid, Rev. Dr. Williamson, Rev. Dr. Burns, Rev. D.J. Macdonnell and many others, and called for the election of a new moderator. On motion of Rev. Dr. Torrance, Rev. Prof. Gordon was unanimously chosen.

THE NEW MODERATOR.

Rev. Prof. Gordon is 51 years of age, and was born in Pictou, N. S. He received his education in Scotland, at Glasgow University, from which university, he graduated at an early age, taking the degree of M.A. He continued his theological studies in the same place, taking the degree of B. D. He returned to Canada, and about 1866 became minister of St. Andrew's Church, Ottawa. He remained in that church until 1882, when he was called to Knox Church, Winnipeg. In 1887 he was called to St. Andrew's Church, Halifax, remaining there until 1894, when he was appointed to the chair of systematic theology and apologetics at the Presbyterian College, Halifax, frequently known as the Pine Hill Seminary. About a year ago the degree of D.D. was conferred upon him by his alma mater, Glasgow University.

Waterloo Whitecaps

Get Three Years in the Penitentiary

For Riding a Woman on a Rail—Heartiful Story.

Berlin, June 11.—Tar and feather outrages should soon be unknown in Waterloo county. This fact was noticed when Judge Lacourse yesterday sentenced Amos Hamacher and Chas. Katzenmeir, the two whitecappers, to three years in the penitentiary, the heaviest sentence the law allows.

The plaintiff, Mrs. Mary Koehlen, spoke no English, so Mr. Peterson interpreted. She repeated her story of the assault, which took place on the night of May 20. About 11 o'clock she was called from her bed by some men who asked her to visit a sick woman, while they went for a doctor. When she got outside she saw four men, who grabbed her and proceeded to gag her with a cloth to prevent her screaming. During this her right eye received a blow which left it bloody. They pulled off her clothes, leaving her naked, and placed her on a rail. She fell off and ran away screaming, but they caught her again. The prisoner Hamacher, she testified to as one of the men who had hold of the rail. Near neighbor Battery's gate, the four men threw her to the ground and again tried to gag her. In this they failed, and she screamed once. They then plastered her all over with tar, face and head included, and let her go. The prisoner Hamacher told witness all came from Lisbon, and were punishing her for what she had done to her stepdaughter. Witness positively identified Hamacher and Katzenmier as two of her assailants.

A GREAT ARTIST EXPRESSES HIS OPINION OF THE

NEW MODEL "BELL" PIANO

Very Excellent Pianos—Most Elegant Instruments Seen Anywhere—Singing Qualities all that an Artist Could Desire—Broad, Rich, Massive Tone—Nothing to Fear from Foreign Competition.

Tecumseh House, London, April 28, 1896.

THE BELL PIANO COMPANY (LIMITED), GUELPH, ONT.

Dear Sirs,—It gives me pleasure before leaving Canada to testify to the very excellent Pianos of your manufacture which I have met with and used in connection with my song recitals in this country. The Upright Concert Grand which was placed at my disposal by your manager in London I unhesitatingly pronounce as one of the most elegant instruments that I have seen anywhere, and whilst its singing qualities were all that an artist could desire, it possessed in addition that broad, rich, massive tone which is absolutely indispensable for solo purposes. I heartily congratulate you on your latest achievements in piano construction, and believe that so long as the present high standard of your instruments is maintained your company can have nothing possible to fear from foreign competition. I am faithfully yours, R. WATKIN-MILLS.

BASEBALL.

LONDON LOST AGAIN.

Galt, June 11.—The Alerts, of London, were defeated here yesterday for the third time this season by the Galts. The visitors could not hit McGinnis, and played a very inferior game in the field. Their string of pitching talent was exhausted in the effort to save the game. Wood was hit hard in the third inning, and with a combination of errors, the home team piled up eleven runs. Plummer and Sheere were also in the box for London. McGinnis pitched steady ball and was well supported. Score:

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS ALWAYS CURE

AFTER TEN YEARS SUFFERING

Two Box Cure

MILVERTON, 28TH JULY, 1895.

Gentlemen,—For the last ten years I had been troubled with kidney disease, being so bad at intervals that I could not lie in bed at night nor stoop to the ground.

I had tried all the remedies I could find without effect, but heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills and procured a box.

I am most happy to say it for my own sake as well as for others that I am perfectly cured after using four boxes.

GUELPH WON.

Hamilton, Ont., June 11.—About 700 people witnessed a fast and exciting game of baseball between the Maple Leafs, of Guelph, and the local team yesterday. Moore and Carney, the opposing pitchers, were both batted freely, and although there were several bad errors on both sides, the game was a good exhibition of ball. In the sixth inning the Leafs scored five runs, and it looked as if they had the game in their hands, but in the seventh inning the Hamilton heavy batters came in a string, when the bases were full, and they piled up five runs. In the ninth inning the Leafs scored two runs, while the Hamiltons failed to tally. The score by innings was:

	R.	H.	E.
Guelph ....1 0 0 2 0 5 0 0 2—10	13	7
Hamilton ...1 0 0 1 0 0 5 0 0— 7	13	4

Batteries—Carney, Bradford and Roberts; H. Moore and Baker. Umpire—Randall. Bradford pitched the eighth and ninth innings.

THE TURF.

STRATFORD RACES.

Stratford, Ont., June 11.—The second day of the Stratford Turf Association meeting was a great success. In the 2:10 race the track record of 2:16, made by Sir Harry Wilkes in the 2:50 pace in 1894, and by Capt. Hunter last year, was equaled by Syrena, a mare from Saginaw, Mich. A very strong wind was blowing, and had the conditions been favorable a better record would doubtless have been made. In the 2:40 trot the performance of the 3-year-old colt, Wight, owned by H. C. Knill, jun., Port Huron, caused very favorable comment. Wight won the race, making a record of 2:24 1-4. As this is the first mile race in which the horse ever started, the feat is considered remarkable. Summary:

ON GRAVESEND TRACK.

Gravesend Race Track, June 11.—There was a medium-sized crowd at the races here yesterday, and as the card was a fair one, and the track was dry and fast, some good sport was indulged in, many of the finishes being very closely contested. There were two stake races on the programme. The first was the Seagate stakes, for 2-year-olds and upwards, at a mile, and it was won by Gotham at odds of 4 to 1, who succeeded in defeating his stable companion, Hornpipe, a hot favorite at 6 to 5, by a head, after a long and furious drive. The time, 1:41, is the fastest mile this season over this track, and equals the track record. The talent was undecided between Woodvine and Intermission for the Gazette stakes, of $3,000 for fillies, 3 years old. They finally selected the former, and sent her to the post a hot favorite. She had the call over Intermission by a fraction of a point. The race was a mere procession, Intermission winning in a romp by four lengths.

First race, 6 furlongs—Ferrier, 16 to 5, 1; Ameer, 20 to 1, 2; Magian, 9 to 5, 3. Time, 1:17.

Second race, 5 furlongs—Divide, 20 to 1, 1; Loyal Etta, 4 to 5, 2; Devil's Dream, 8 to 1, 3. Time, 1:04.

Third race, 1 mile—Gotham, 4 to 1, 1; Hornpipe, 6 to 5, 2; Ed. Kearney, 12 to 1, 3. Time, 1:41.

Fourth race, mile and a furlong—Intermission, even, 1; Woodvine, 9 to 10, 2; Bessie Browning, 12 to 1, 3. Time, 1:58 1-2.

Fifth race, 5 furlongs—Stachelberg, 6 to 1, 1; Mistral II., 12 to 1, 2; Full Speed, 6 to 1, 3. Time, 1:04 1-2.

THE WHEEL.

L. B. C. RACES.

The bicycle races at Tecumseh Park on Friday evening promise to be very exciting. A great number of the fast men have made entries for the races, and every night are to be seen working out fast quarters and thirds. The tandem race will be the most exciting on the list. It will be first local tandem race ever run here. Four teams have entered, and fast time may be expected. The race for the officers of the London Bicycle Club will also bring out some fast men, and the efforts of some of the dark horses to win will, no doubt, provide lots of sport for the spectators. The races are open to all city riders, and any who have not as yet put in their entry should do so at once, to H. C. Screaton, 420 Talbot street.

SPOKES.

On account of the meet on Friday evening, there will be no run of the London Bicycle Club this evening. Tomorrow evening there will be a bicycle parade, headed by the band, leaving the club house at 7:15 and proceeding along Dundas street to Tecumseh Park, to the races. An invitation is extended to all wheelmen.

Dr. Belton, Dr. Balfour, H. C. McBride and A. R. Kingsmill, of the London Bicycle Club, will hold a reception at Springbank on Tuesday night next, when the bicycle boys will be down in full force.

There were over 100 bicyclists at Springbank last evening many of them ladies. It is a popular route. Many go down on the north side of the river to enjoy the scenery, which is really magnificent. They cross the Byron bridge and return via Springbank and the Pipe Line Road.

CHARGED WITH FORGERY

Frank Sparks Said to Have Got Whisky That Way—A Girl's Downfall.

The police magistrate this morning had quite a docket of one kind and another, but soon disposed of all the cases. Henry Sparks, who is accused of having obtained liquor from John Garvey on a forged order, bearing Mr. Jerry McDonald's name, came up. He has preferred against him two charges of forgery—one on the 9th and the other on the 10th of this month. He was told by the magistrate how serious the charge against him was, and elected to be tried by jury. He was remanded until tomorrow.

Mary Price, the pretty young girl from London West, adorned the dock. She has been the victim of a bad companion, who was the cause of her going astray. The court was adjourned, and her case heard in private. The mother pleaded for her daughter, who tearfully promised to reform. The magistrate considered the case, and after advising the girl kindly, allowed her to go.

Arthur Johnston allowed his horse to run at large on the street. His boys did not take the necessary care of the animal, and it got out. He was warned not to let it occur again.

Two young men, for riding bicycles in the park at a 2:40 pace, were taxed $1 each.

A LODGE CASE.

The I. O. O. F. Sued by a Wallaceburg Widow—Interesting Point.

Chatham, June 11.—A suit has been in progress here before Judge Bell and a jury which involves the legality of parts of the constitution of the Independent Order of Oddfellows. The late T. B. Gillard, a member of Sydenham Lodge, Wallaceburg, was in arrears when taken sick; his arrears, however, were paid and accepted before he died. On his death the executors claimed $200 widow's and funeral benefit. Payment was refused on the ground that the consitution provided that a member could not be reinstated for six weeks after his arrears were paid up. As Gillard died within the six weeks he had no claim. The plaintiffs, however, contended that the acceptance of the arrears was sufficient and sued accordingly.

Judge Bell gave judgment in favor of the plaintiffs for the full amount claimed—$200—and costs.

Manufacturers' View.

Address Presented to Mr. Laurier by Owners of Stratford Factories.

A Clear and Explicit Reply by the Liberal Chieftain.

Stratford, June 10.—A feature of the great Laurier demonstration in this city was the presentation by Mr. Wm. Preston, manager and principal owner of the Stratford Mill Building Company's business, of an address to Mr. Laurier on behalf of the manufacturers of Stratford. It was as follows: "To the Hon. Wilfrid Laurier, Q.C., M.P.: Honored Sir,—We, the undersigned manufacturers of Stratford, in welcoming you to our city desire to express the confidence we feel in you and the assurance that it will soon be the good fortune of Canada to have its affairs in the hands of a Government with yourself at its head. As manufacturers we are persuaded that our progress must be limited to the extent of the general advancement of the community, and consequently trust that the mismanagement and worse that has characterized the control of public affairs during the past, will, under your administration, give place to a policy that will bring to it a larger measure of prosperity. We need an increasing population and a prosperous country in order that the output from our factories may find a profitable market, and we look for an economical administration of affairs, honesty in the use of public funds, a wise and vigorous immigration policy, and legislation in the interest of the country as a whole to bring this about. But if manufactures are to expand as the resources of our country would warrant, we must look for markets outside of Canada, and in this connection we desire to express our confidence that the industries of Canada have no reason to fear any competition with equal conditions of trade. We believe that the natural resources are here, the brains are here, the energy is here, the capital is here, and will be here in increasing quantities, to make Canada the peer of any country in manufacturing. Therefore we contemplate with pleasure the return to power of an Administration that favors the policy of enlarged trade relations. This, combined with reduced duties on raw materials, would, we believe, give the country a degree of prosperity which it has not enjoyed for many years. In the meantime, we are confident that manufacturers may rest assured that their interests will not be jeopardized by reason of the adoption of tariff legislation that would place an unfair advantage in the hands of foreign competitors.

"Very respectfully yours,

"George McLagan, Macdonald Manufacturing Company.

"The Stratford Mill Building Company.

"W. S. Duncan.

"John Becker & Son.

"Thornton & Douglas.

"R. M. Ballantyne

"Kalbfleich Bros.

"Dufton & Sons."

THE LEADER'S REPLY.

In the course of his speech, Mr. Laurier alluded to this expression of confidence in the Liberal platform by the manufacturers. He said that the manufacturers of Stratford thought that a change would be beneficial not only to the country at large but to the manufacturing interests in particular. He rather believed that these manufacturers did not read the Mail and Empire, the Stratford Herald, or other Conservative papers. If they were to take their inspiration from the Ministerial papers, they would view with great alarm, or, at all events, with feigned alarm, the advent of the Liberal party to power. They were saying that the Liberals were animated with a desire to destroy all the industries in the country. To make all classes rich in this country there must be a policy which, above all, would make the farmers rich, because the farmers were the basis of all prosperity in the land. With a wealthy agricultural class, the country would everywhere be prosperous. It was the aim and purpose of the Liberal party to develop the country, and the people of Canada must come to the conclusion that the National Policy had been a failure. What was wanted here, according to the views of the manufacturers of Stratford? The manufacturers of Stratford were not in this respect singular. The views which they held were the views of all manufacturers. What was wanted in this country for the manufacturers was simply markets and nothing else.

COMMENDABLE PROMPTITUDE

A Resident of St. John, N. B., Makes a Successful Trial of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

St. John, N. B., June 8.—Mr. Robert Moore, residing in Indiantown, a suburb of this city, has recently made what is allowed by all who are acquainted with the facts to be a most remarkable recovery. He has been a sufferer from a serious complaint of the kidneys for over seven years, and during that time has suffered excruciatingly. He has also suffered considerably in pocket, having paid large sums for medical advice. Quite recently he happened to read of the many cures effected by Dodd's Kidney Pills, and with commendable promptitude made a trial of them, with the result that after taking three boxes of the remedy he was entirely restored to health.

The Bloomer Show

Visited by a Large and Interested Crowd.

The Finest Rose Exhibition in a Number of Years.

A History of the Growth of Rose Culture in London—The Late John Marshall the Pioneer.

London ranks among the first cities of the Province in the production of the commercial rose, and absolutely first in amateur rose culture. Those who visited the rose show last night—and they were legion—will not dispute this statement, and if they reinforce last night's visit with another visit to some of the famous rose gardens of South London they will be prepared to defend London's claim against all outsiders. In fact, if rose culture assumes such proportions in the other wards of the city as it has in the sixth, London will shortly be obliged to alter its name from the Forest City to the City of Roses. The large attendance at the flower show last night showed conclusively that the general public is commencing to take an interest in the growth of roses, which, as an enthusiastic amateur said last evening, is by far the most interesting pursuit in the study of flowers. The visitors to the Public Library building, where the show was held, came and went in crowds. Dignified madams with the very strictest views on dress lingered fondly over the 300 odd vases containing bloomers. Sedate gentlemen talked with one another upon the different varieties, young girls clasped their hands in delight over the beauties, small boys took surreptitious sniffs of the fragrance, and the large boys made up their minds to send each of their girls a dozen or so on Saturday night. Messrs. Balkwell and Gilbert, of the Forest City Horticultural Association, were in charge, and besides the roses, a number of Delphinium, a perennial variety of larkspur, and single and double Columbine were exhibited. Among the exhibitors of roses were Messrs. I. E. Bond, E. R. Cameron, R. C. Macfie, Mrs. John Marshall, R. W. Rennie, Wm. Gammage and John Macpherson. A floral critic of excellent judgment said that the roses were in better condition than for several years past.

The pioneer of out of door rose-growing in London was the late Ald. John Marshall. Most people had then an idea that roses could not be successfully cultivated in this country in the open air, and Mr. Marshall set about disabusing the general mind of this belief. So well had he succeeded when he died that the sixth ward has become famed for its beautiful varieties, and fully two-thirds of the roses grown in the city are grown there. The late Mr. Marshall began importing his roses from Cranston & Co., the celebrated rose-growers of Hertfordshire, England, and his widow has now probably the finest rose garden in Canada. Neighbors, seeing Mr. Marshall's roses blooming all summer and late in the fall—something unknown to those who had been taught to believe June and no other, the month of roses—also began importing them, through Mr. Marshall. In that way nearly all the rose gardens in South London have been stocked by this celebrated English firm. Among the most extensive growers in the neighborhood might be classed with Mrs. Marshall, R. C. Macfie, J. R. Minhinnick, T. H. Smallman, Col. Leys, Thos. Alexander, R. W. Rennie, Mrs.Pritchard, John Macpherson, I. Bond and R. C. Cameron. Since rose culture has come into prominence the period of existence of this English national flower has been lengthned from June until November—and some varieties bloom to greater perfection in the fall. The majority of the roses grown are hybrid perpetuals. The leading varieties are: Gloire de Margotin—a dazzling red, the most brilliant yet known, large and full, of fine form and splendid in the bud.

Alfred Colomb—Brilliant carmine crimson, flowers very large.

American Beauty—Rosy pink, large and fragrant.

Anna de Diesbach—Rosy carmine, large and full-cupped, fragrant.

Augustine Guinoisseau — Flowers white, slightly tinted with flesh color.

Baroness Rothschild—Pale pink, large double flowers and of fine globular form.

Charles Le Fevre—Rich velvety crimson.

Fisher Holmes—Rich purplish crimson, flowers large and double.

General Jacqueminot—Brilliant scarlet crimson; an abundant bloomer.

Gean Liabaud—Fiery crimson center and rich, velvety and large crimson flowers.

La France—Silvery, rose-tinted to pink, constant bloomer. Some style it the sweetest of all roses.

Madam Gabriel Luiset—Fine satin rose, delicate and beautiful tint, large, full, and well formed. The largest variety exhibited at the present rose show are of these.

Merveille de Lyon—White, lightly tinted with rosy peach, very large. There is a splendid showing of this variety on exhibition also at the flower show.

Mons Bon Senne—Intense rich plum color; one of the best dark roses. The best exhibit in dark roses at the present show is in this variety.

Mons Paul Neron—Pale, soft rose, flowers immensely large, the largest rose grown.

Mrs. John Laing—Soft, pink flowers, large and very fragrant.

Prince Camille De Rohan—Rich, dark maroon crimson, flowers moderate size and double. This is generally admitted to be the finest dark rose. Some beautiful specimens are exhibited at the flower show.

Another much-grown variety is the tea-scented rose. These are less hardy than the others. Those mentioned above will stand the Canadian winter without any protection. The tea-scented roses stand the winter weather if they are "heeled," or the earth drawn up around the plants so as to cover them to a depth of five or six inches. These roses yield the finest perfume, and they are the varieties usually grown in hot houses. The finest varieties in this class grown in South London are Belle Lyonaise, a deep canary yellow, flowers globular, large and full. It is one of the most prolific bloomers in the fall.

Etoile de Lyons—Fine flower, yellow, deeper in the center, very large and full, fine form. This has proved one of the most successful roses grown in South London.

Gloria de Dijon—Buff, with orange center; very large and double. This is admitted to be the most useful of all the different scented roses, the richest in perfume, and equal to the finest in bud.

Madame Lambard—Fine, bright red, and full of well-formed buds.

Marie Van Houtte—White, slightly tinted with yellow, border petals tipped with rose; flowers full and well formed, a most beautiful rose.

Among other varieties which can be grown and are grown successfully, and which stand our winters, are the following hybrid tea roses: Grace Darling, Riene, Marie Henriette, Viscountess Folkstone.

Another class is the noisette rose. These ordinarily are hard to winter, but the varieties that are issued by Cranston & Co. are grafted on the briar, and are found to be perfectly hardy in the Canadian climate. In South London there are the following varieties: Bouquet D'Or, Mareschal Neil and William Allan Richardson.

In the Bourbon class there are: Mrs. Paul, Souvenir de la Maison.

The crested moss rose, with its pale, rosy buds, is perhaps the most successful Austrian rose grown. There is also the Harrison yellow and the Persian yellow.

In climbing roses there are the Prairie Queen and the Baltimore Belle.

In the north end of the city Mr. A. W. Woodward, of St. James street, is the pioneer grower of beautiful garden roses, his score or more of grand varieties having an enviable local reputation.

The rose-growers have many difficulties to contend with. First there is the greenfly, or Aphis. A solution of tobacco is a good remedy. Another is the red spider, which is particularly troublesome during the hot weather. The hose turned upwards "underneath the rose" is the best remedy for these. The rose-hopper, or thrips, can be killed with tobacco and hellebore, and the rose chafer can be reached with paris green mixed with Bordeaux mixture to allay its virulent qualities. The rose slug can be brought to time with hellebore, and Bordeaux mixture and sulphur are both good for mildew.

A rose-grower accounts for the many disappointments of enthusiasts by the fact that they buy too young plants. They should be at least 2 years old, and then they will bloom the first year.

About the Liver.

A lazy, slow or torpid liver influences the whole system, causing biliousness, sick headache, sallow complexion, languor and dullness. Burdock Blood Bitters regulates the liver, purifies the secretions and cures all forms of liver troubles. We say so and here is the proof:

I hereby wish to thank you for the great benefit derived by me from your Burdock Blood Bitters. For three years I was troubled with liver complaint and tried everything to no purpose. I had almost given up hope, until one day I determined to try Burdock Blood Bitters. I can say now that marked improvement resulted from the use of the first bottle, and at the end of the sixth bottle I discontinued its use, being completely cured.

Bribery by Public Works.

How the People's Money Has Been Stolen and Squandered.

B. B. Osler, Who Was Asked to Join the Tupper Government, Denounces Recent Jobs.

Speech by B. B. Osler, Q.C., at Dunnville.

The laws against bribery should be strengthened. He asked them which was worse, to buy an individual voter with a drink of whisky or $2, the lowest current price—(laughter)—or to buy a country or a province with the promise of a railway. The present practice reminded him of the judge who, charging the Grand Jury, said: "In this state it is larceny to steal anything under $10,000; over that it is financing." (Laughter.) All parties should rise and say it shall be declared a corrupt practice to promise the expenditure of public money in return for the support of a candidate. Mr. Osler, in the closing part of his speech, referred in terms of sweeping condemnation to the useless expenditure of public money on such works as the Trent Canal, a ditch which, he said, had cost a million already, and had been begun simply to aid a half dozen members to be elected, Major Sam Hughes being the chief. The majority of the appropriations for works of this class were brought down at the close of the session and rushed through in supplementary estimates. There should be a law that every vote for expenditure on public works and every railroad subsidy should be put before Parliament within 30 days after the opening of the session. (Cheers.)

USELESS PUBLIC WORKS.

Contract scandals also should cease, and no extras should be granted or payments made except on the certificate of the engineer in charge or of the judges of the courts. Fradulent tenders should be made a crime. (Cheers.) A contractor, when he had pointed out how enormous was the waste on unnecessary public works of the class of the Trent Canal, Hudson Bay Railway and Chignecto Ship Railway, remarked, "My God, you don't propose to stop public contracting?" That was the contractor's view, but, on the other hand, the works were simply a huge waste of public funds. The Trent Canal was constructed with only five feet of water over the sills, and the men of Dunnville knew how much navigation that permitted. (Laughter.) All it would do would be to interchange the breed of bass of the Trent and Lake Simcoe, and greatly improve, it was hoped, the fishing (Laughter.) Meanwhile such great works as the deepening of the St. Lawrence Canals, works of national importance, were delayed for lack of funds. For the Trent Canal Mr. Haggart was chiefly to blame. There was against him the unsavory record of the Tay Canal, costing half a million and realizing $125 revenue a year, but he was to be forgiven for that because of his splendid management of the Intercolonial, which he had brought to a paying basis, although it had cost the country $750,000 a year before. He was asking too much, however, in asking to be forgiven for the Trent Canal. (Applause.) The expenditure upon such works must end. The debt was enormous and the interest bill about ate up all the revenue from the great cheese industry. He had not discussed the matters in his address in a party spirit. It was time to drop party and think of country. They had a grand country and probably the freest system of government in the world. The attitude of Canada when the war cloud passed over a few months ago gave evidence that the old Canadian spirit still existed in the people, the spirit that kept the land clear of the invader in 1812. (Cheers.) There was the throb of national feeling and love of the motherland. There was the determination to stand by the country whatever might come. No matter what Government Canada had so long as its people voted for good measures and saw to it that clean and honest methods were followed; the future before it was such as no man need be ashamed of. (Cheers.)

The Advertiser

FOUNDED BY JOHN CAMERON IN 1863.

London, Thursday, June 11.

B. B. Osler's Address.

The speech delivered at Dunnville by Mr. B. B. Osler, Q.C., the well-known Canadian counsel, was one of the most noteworthy pronouncements on public affairs that has been made in the Dominion for many a day. Mr. Osler spoke from the standpoint of an independent citizen of Canada, who in the past has not exactly seen eye to eye with either political party, and who yet sees need for improvements in both. But there can be no mistaking the views of this far-seeing, patriotic citizen, who has deemed it necessary, in the present crisis, not to give a silent vote on the great dividing issues which must be settled at the polls on the 23rd inst.

Mr. Osler's stand will appeal to moderate men in every section of the community with all the greater force from the fact that within the last few weeks he was offered the position of Minister of Justice in the Tupper Government, but refused to become an upholder of the policy of that much-discredited and decaying organization.

In his address, Mr. Osler made a powerful argument against the Manitoba school policy of the Tupper Administration. In his opinion, the Government has bungled the question from first to last; the men in power have adopted a coercive policy when conciliation would have much better served the public; and they have stirred up race and religious strife in order that they may climb back to power on the disturbance thus caused. So base a line of procedure certainly deserves the censure of this able independent authority, and the condemnation at the polls, as he argues, of Protestant and Catholic alike.

The so-called remedial bill, as interpreted by the supporters of the Government in Ontario, and by a special Tupper agent who spoke from the same platform, Mr. Osler regards as worthless to secure the object for which it was alleged to be promoted. In this view, Mr. Osler is at one with such eminent legal authorities as Hon. Mr. Laurier, Hon. David Mills, Hon. L. H. Davies, and Hon. Mr. Longley, Attorney-General of Nova Scotia.

In regard to the Dominion Franchise Act, Mr. Osler agrees with the Liberals of Canada. He denounces it as a most unfair measure, which, while expensive in operation, in this election deprives hundreds of thousands of legitimate electors from polling their votes, while many who have left the country can return and vote. Mr. Osler was justified in his condemnation of a law that in this election will prevent every young man in Canada who is not 23 years of age from exercising his rights as a free man. We agree with him that the only fair franchise law is one on the lines of the Ontario Franchise Act, which supplies an up-to-date voters' list for every election, discriminating against no class in the country. The Liberal party is pledged to provide such a law at the earliest possible moment after Mr. Laurier becomes Prime Minister.

On the question of boodling, Mr. Osler is equally emphatic. He points out how the public have been plundered by unfaithful servants at Ottawa, and he condemns in equally strong terms the rascally expenditure of public money upon such unprofitable works as the Tay Canal and the Curran bridge.

Mr. Osler's view is that a political leader who goes up and down the country at the time of an election, offering public works to influence the electors to vote for him—as, by the way, is the method adopted by Sir Charles Tupper in this campaign—is guilty of bribery of the worst form, and ought to be punished by a term in jail and deprived of his rights as a citizen for a term of years. Is he not right?

Mr. Osler's views are given in extracts from his speech in the columns of the "Advertiser" today. They emphasize the trend of the opinion of moderate men of both parties—that the country needs a change, and that it would be injurious to the Dominion to place Sir Charles Tupper in power at this time.

The British markets should be extended in every possible way. Any party, Conservative, Reform, McCarthyite or Patron, that could bring about closer trade relations with the motherland and secure a more profitable outlet for our farm products would be aiding the country and building it up far more than could be done by the N. P.—B. B. Osler, Q.C., at Dunnville.

Greater Than London's Value.

The Dominion public debt has been increased $11,000,000 in the last two years. Just think of it! The sum represents an increased debt in the last 24 months greater than the assessed value of the electoral division of London. No wonder B. B. Osler, the keen Canadian lawyer, who was asked to accept the position of Minister of Justice in the Tupper Cabinet and refused, denounces the prodigal waste of the people's taxes which has been revealed in the last year or two. The reign of extravagance and boodling will end on June 23 if the electors are true to themselves.

Another Plot!

We have discovered another great conspiracy, and hasten to make it known. In North Norfolk, the Conservatives have conspired to blot themselves out for this election, and to join hands with the Patron candidate in an attempt to defeat John Charlton. This is awful! Whether or not any of the correspondence has been Welched has not yet been made known, but there may be other revelations. The indications are, however, that Mr. Charlton will hold the consituency by a good majority.

The N. P. is not in this election. The true policy is to look on the national debt, and the national tax bill, and make the burden as even as possible by taking the taxation off the necessities of life and putting it on the luxuries, by taking it off the raw material in the interests of the manufacturers. The Government should watch the combines, watch the operations of the tariff, see where it stopped all goods from coming in, see what dividends the companies manufacturing such goods paid, and lower the tariff on such goods when it was required.—B. B. Osler, Q.C., at Dunnville.

Carriages.

Our contemporary, the Free Press, continues to labor under the hallucination that it knows more about carriage building trade, and what is good for it than such a veteran carriage builder as ex-Mayor John Campbell. It is known to Mr. Campbell, and it is known to us all, that the carriage builders of Canada prospered to a greater degree under a revenue tariff, with free or low-taxed material, than they have done under a so-called "protective" tariff, which collects heavy duties on the raw material of the carriage builders. Our contemporary answers its own arguments by asserting that in recent years the import of United States carriages has been on the increase. And it runs away from Mr.Campbell's challenge to prove its charge that under the Mackenzie tariff, of 17 1-2 per cent,, with free or low taxed material, American carriages were slaughtered on the London market. Mr. Campbell asserts that the statement is untrue, and says the London customs records uphold his position. Our contemporary, in its zeal, made the rash charge. It should now retract or supply its proof.

Poles are fast taking the place of English-speaking workmen in the Hamilton rolling mills. There is no duty on imported workers.

National Debt, Not "N. P."

Mr. B. B. Osler, Q.C., in his noteworthy address at Dunnville, said that no matter by what high sounding name it might be spoken of, the N. P. was really a device to raise additional taxes, and it had succeeded in effecting the purpose of its originator. It was as if the supporters of Sir John had sat down to consider the matter. "We have got to spend a lot of money," says one, "and must put up the taxes." "The people won't stand it," says another. Sir John says, "Let's put them up tremendously high, and call it the N. P." The audience saw the point, which Mr. Osler further elucidated. The N. P., he said, was a tax tariff, and a tax tariff absolutely necessary, because of circumstances that were entirely beyond control today. The mortgage was on the farm, and the interest had got to be paid. What was the use of a man prancing up and down on the platform talking National Policy? It was national debt, he meant, added Mr. Osler, with emphasis.

The London (England) Daily News says: "A clean sweep at Ottawa would be for the permanent good of Canada."

Convicted Out of His Own Mouth.

Our city Tupper contemporary ventures the assertion that Sir Charles Tupper, in dealing with the Manitoba school question, "does not mince his language to suit the audience he may be addressing, or play the demagogue to win votes."

It is the easiest thing in the world to prove that the high tax leader has been guilty of what our contemporary protests he is wholly innocent of. Take the positions he assumed at Winnipeg and at Montreal repectively, within the short space of ten days, and say if the attitudes then assumed are worthy of even a third-rate statesman. At Winnipeg, Sir Chas. Tupper indorsed the pledge given by his lieutenant, Hugh John Macdonald, that no remedial bill would be introduced until an earnest effort had been made to get the Manitoba Legislature to settle the question by a compromise; and then, if the Legislature refused, and remedial legislation became necessary, he would see that the bill was made to bear as lightly as possible on Manitoba. Sir Charles backed this up by an appeal to Conservatives not to stultify themselves by opposing him and voting for a Frenchman and a Catholic, whose only objection to the remedial bill was that it was not strong enough, and who, if he got into power, would go farther in restoring the rights of the minority than he (Tupper) would go. Here are the statements, as reported by the shorthand writers of the Conservative daily papers:

TUPPER AT WINNIPEG.

To my Conservative friends, who have turned their backs upon me I want to make another appeal, and it is this: I want to know where is the man with any brains in his head, where is the man who has any capacity for exercising intelligent reasoning capacity, who would justify himself, or would justify himself to his countrymen, if he oppressed a feeble minority, and that for the purpose of bringing into power a Roman Catholic French Premier, who declares he will do more. Do you think he would stunt himself? Perhaps, I hear a person say, that Mr. Laurier has done much to deter the passage of the remedial bill. Quite so, but I want to ask that person the reason Mr. Laurier gave for it. It was that the bill was useless, that it was a half-hearted measure, that it could do nothing for the Roman Catholics, and that he would have a much stronger bill. You see the reason he has for striking down that bill.

TUPPER AT MONTREAL.

It was one of the most astounding spectacles that has been witnessed in this country to see Mr. Laurier, himself a French-Canadian and Roman Catholic, sitting cheek by jowl with Mr. Martin, of Winnipeg, and Mr. D'Alton McCarthy, of North Simcoe, and endeavoring to use all the power that he could obtain in the House of Commons to defeat a measure brought forward by the Government to give justice to the Roman Catholic minority in Manitoba, and restore to them the privileges of which they had been deprived.

I ask every man of intelligence here to say whether the Government, when they brought in a bill to restore to the Roman Catholic minority of Manitoba the privileges of which they had been robbed; a bill which that minority and their friends in Parliament were prepared to support—were not entitled to the support of Mr. Laurier, instead of moving, as he did, the six months' hoist.

It is a matter of regret to think that though we are spending $200,000 or $300,000 every year in order to bring in immigrants, we cannot keep our own people amongst ourselves.—Wilfrid Laurier.

Senator McCallum's Protest.

At the mass meeting called to hear Mr. B. B. Osler, Q.C., in Dunnville, Senator McCallum rose and said that he had been cut off at a former meeting by Dr. Montague calling for cheers for the Queen, and added he was not to be cut off that way. At considerable length he roundly condemned the Government for its action in cattle inspection, the French treaty and the drainage regulations. He was not a Grit, he said, and never would be, but he refused to be muzzled. He was delighted with Mr. Osler's speech and would be no party to the coercion of Manitoba, which should settle its own affairs. As to the Hudson Bay Railway, he opposed it, believing that it looked like a bribe, and he was sorry to say it, to Manitoba to change its attitude.

Senator McCallum is one of the strongest Conservatives in the Niagara Peninsula, and his denunciation of the Tupper Ministry is one of the signs of the times. The change is at hand.

In Hamilton, Rev. Mr. Boville is the hind legs of a kangaroo ticket. But the kangaroo is powerless to kick outside its own family.

THE INFAMOUS FRANCHISE ACT.

The Dominion Franchise Act, on which a million dollars had been spent uselessly, should be abolished. Conservatives and Reformers should agree that the Provincial Franchise Act should be used, and that if a man was good enough to vote in Provincial matters, he was good enough to vote in Dominion affairs also. (Cheers.) It was unfair that many young Canadians could not vote in the coming election as a result of the operation of the law, while people could be shipped in from the United States, who had long ago left the country. (Cheers.)—B. B. Osler, Q.C., at Dunnville.

Racked with Rheumatism

Unable to Walk, Owing to Excruciating Pain—After Ten Years' Terrible Torture, Cured by Scott's Sarsaparilla.

A. H. Christiansen, writing from the Clifton House, Niagara Falls, says: "I owe you more than I can ever pay. For ten years I suffered the tortures of the damned with rheumatism. Father had it before me, and I believe it is an hereditary disease. My knee joints would get inflamed, and if I was out in any "weather" I was sure to be laid up, which to a traveling man is a calamity. In a score of Canadian towns local doctors treated me, some giving relief, others none. I read that Sarsaparilla was a rheumatic cure, and I asked a druggist for "a bottle of the best Sarsaparilla on the market." He gave me Scott's, remarking that it was an improvement on all others, and that he could honestly recommend it. I have taken four bottles, and am as free from pain as a man can hope to be. I was out in a rain storm two days ago, and never felt a twinge. As I said before, to Scott's Sarsaparilla I owe more than I can ever repay."

The best remedy for rheumatism, sciatica and neuralgic pains—all arising from the presence of poison in the blood—is Scott's Sarsaparilla, a modern concentrated medicine,prompt in its curative effects. Doses from one half to one teaspoonful. At $1 a bottle from your druggist.

Agony

The wonderful cure related below is by no means unusual with Hood's Sarsaparilla. This great medicine has given health to suffering children, even when health seemed impossible. The secret of its success is that it purifies, vitalizes and enriches the blood.

"I wish to tell of a wonderful cure effected by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Five years ago my little boy was suddenly seized with a severe lameness, apparently in his right knee, which some physicians said was rheumatism, while others said it was hip disease and that it was

Incurable

During the next winter and spring he became rapidly worse. We took Jimmie to a specialist, who said it was hip disease. At this time the affliction became so severe that we could not move him without causing screams of agony. He became reduced in weight to 30 pounds, and was but a shadow of his former self. We had about given up hope when we read of a cure by Hood's Sarsaparilla of a similar case. We resolved to try this medicine. Jimmie was decidedly improved after taking the first bottle. He was even after the second. We have since used over a dozen bottles of the medicine, and the change has exceeded our expectations. James is now able to walk without the aid of crutches and goes to school every day. He has been wonderfully cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla." J. O. RUNDELL, Oakley, Michigan.

Better

Druggist C. C. Tubbs says he knows the Rundell boy has been wonderfully by Hood's Sarsaparilla and that Mr. Rundell is thoroughly reliable. He has a good sale of Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Pills, both of which are giving perfect satisfaction. He says Hood's Pills seem to be the coming family cathartic.

Cured

Montague Resigns

Tupper's Cabinet in Deep Water and Fearful of Defeat.

Mr. Haggart also Sulking, and the Other Members Fighting for Their Lives.

Ottawa, June 11.—The resignation of Hon. Dr. Montague as a member of the Cabinet is in the hands of the Premier, who, however, does not think it advisable to accept it at present. The matter was discussed at the Cabinet Council held in Montreal last Friday. The reasons for this course are not known to your correspondent, but the main fact is correct, though they may be denied for a time, as similar ruptures have been. They are easy to conjecture, however, from certain well known facts. Dr. Montague and Mr. Haggart are sulking. The former was to accompany Sir Charles Tupper in his present Ontario tour, but he failed to go. Of course, his health is not of the best, but it is probably as good as it has been any time since dissolution. The fact is, he is sick of the campaign, and sees that there is no hope for the Government. He does not wish to identify himself with the Premier's shamelessly open attempt to secure for his Government a solid Catholic vote, as it would spoil his chances for the Conservative leadership, at which he aims. He is also known to fear defeat in Haldimand. Another sign of the private anticipation of defeat present in the minds of the Ministers is found in an effort recently made by Hon. George E. Foster to secure a position under the Grand Trunk Railway Company. Mr. Haggart is keeping close to his constituency, and refuses, like Dr. Montague, to indorse Sir Charles Tupper's policy on the stump. He is being hard pressed for his seat, and the latest reports are that he will be defeated. Mr. Wood is holding small eldeline schoolhouse meetings in the townships attached to Brockville electoral district, and pursuing a campaign altogether unusual in a Minister, in fact unprecedented. His call to Sir Charles Tupper to give him a meeting was undeniably the hoisting of the flag of distress. All the Ministers are having their hands full in their constituencies, and appeals are being made to Mr. Foster to come to Ontario, where at present there is no Ontario Minister doing anything at large. Mr. Foster has his work cut out at home.

Four former leading supporters of the Conservative party in New Brunswick have accepted the Liberal programme, and are now running as candidates in support of Laurier—Dr. Lewis, is Albert; Mr. Turgeon, in Gloucester; Mr. Lablanc, in Kent, and Mr. Laforest, in Victoria.

The Citizen, Government organ, says this morning that the campaign in Ottawa is typical of the struggle throughout the country. If it is, the Government are in a bad way, as the Ottawa meeting on Monday night showed, when Sir Charles Tupper and his Minister of Public Works were hooted down by the other Conservative faction and refused a hearing in this former stronghold. The Government will lose Ottawa beyond doubt.

That Boy Brown.

He Is 25 Years Old, 190 Pounds Weight and a Confirmed Loafer,

So Says High Constable Schram, of Middlesex, Who Defends the Administration of Justice in the County.

To the Editor of the "Advertiser":

In today's issue of the Free Press I see an article called "Bureau Justice." Then it goes on to state that two cases were before R. F. Lacey, J.P., which call for more than passing attention. One case is that of an unfortunate boy, named Wm. Brown. No doubt but the boy was and is unfortunate; but let us come down to the truth of this case. In the first place, the boy was arrested on April 28, charged with vagrancy, and let off with a very light sentence—21 days. He came out about May 19, and immediately returned to his old haunt, not looking for work. He remained there with the Moxey gang of tramps, till June 3. On that night there was a telephone came asking for help—that a gang of tramps had taken possession of the crossing, and would not go away. Well, two constables were detailed for this duty, and went out and arrested four tramps, and, lo! and behold you, this innocent, poor boy, Brown, was in the gang. As he had been let off with a light sentence before, and it had done no good, I think and know, that Squire Lacey did nothing more than his duty when he sent that boy to the Central for six months, and had he sent him there for 21 months I think it would have been much better. As to the Col Peters case, that's too silly for anything, as no magistrate was ever known to defend an appeal.

If the Free Press only knew how often I am called out of my bed in the middle of the night to go out and arrest tramps they would not be defending them in a silly article like the one in today's issue.

Now, as for the amount the ratepayers of Middlesex pay for criminal justice, they pay less in this county than any other county in Ontario, and I take good care, and so do the auditors, that there is no money paid out for arresting anyone who should not have been arrested.

When I read this article I was astonished, and very much put out, as I had just got out of a sick-bed, and I immediately sent for my deputy and made full inquiry, and found the boy Brown's story all a fabrication, as I knew it would turn out, as I have been very careful about this bureau business. When the Free Press wishes to champion tramps, then they had better take them to their homes, and take care of them. I could write volumes on the tramp question, and cite case after case of murder, attempt at murder, highway robbery, rape, and all the crimes and tricks that are known, committed by just such boy tramps as the innocent young man, Wm. Brown. Of course, Brown is a good name.

H. R. SCHRAM,
High Constable, Middlesex County.

P.S.—The boy Brown is 25 years old and weighs 190 pounds—Baby Brown.

Milkmen at Springbank

Much Interested in the Ponds and Hydraulic Pumps.

The Cream of Weather for Their Outing Sports and Pastime—A Great Success.

When the milkmen were casting about for a place to hold their picnic they turned to Springbank as naturally as the needle turns to the pole. It was their first annual outing and it proved so pleasant that the same place will be chosen next year by unanimous consent. If your milkman was late this morning he could not help it; yesterday was a day of pleasure to him, of boisterous picnic fun, and getting out at 4 a.m., after such a day is too much to expect even of a milkman. The day was the very cream of fine weather, and nothing o-curd to mar the enjoyment of the occasion; no thoughts of butter fat or M. H. O.'s troubled them, and the picnickers gave themselves up to one perfect (milk) round of pleasure. About 600 people went down during the day and as many more at night, when the regular weekly band concert was held.

The collecting ponds, with their limpid, sparkling contents had a peculiar fascination for the picnickers. But they were more interested still in the hydraulic machinery, and more than one inquired the probable cost of a hydraulic pump on a smaller scale. For fear that so much straight water would have an untoward effect on the milkmen and their friends some of the more thoughtful of the party supplied nearly 300 gallons of milk for the use of the picnickers.

Sports were held during the day, and resulted as follows:

Flat race—1, Geo. Roberts; 2, S. Lee; 3, H. Polle.

Bottle race—1, W. Spettigue; 2, M. Dyer; 3, J. McLaren.

Milkmaids' race—1, Emma Tanton; 2, Miss O'Brien; 3, Mrs. Mills.

Egg race—1, Thos. Dyer; 2, E. Phoenix; 3, J. O'Brien.

Boot and shoe race—1, W. Noble; 2, E. Phoenix; 3, J. McLaren.

Leap frog race—1, O'Brien, Spettigue and Wilkinson; 2, Phoenix, Dyer and McLaren; 3, Noble, Hurd and Dyer.

Novelty race—1, J. Phoenix; 2, W. Noble; 3, A. Hurd.

Committeemen's race—1, J. Wilkinson; 2, J. O'Brien; 3, W. Spettigue.

Tug-of-war, between the north and south ends of city—South side won. T. Foster and J. W. Jarvis were the respective captains. Mr. Sutton was referee.

The Wolverines, of East London, and the Pleasant Valleys, of London Gore, played a ball game, the Wolverines winning by a score of 19 to 18. Batteries—Wolverines, Bullock and Hosier; Pleasant Valleys, Creighton and Leitch.

The McLaren string band, of Springbank, supplied music for dancing in the evening.

The picnic committee were untiring in their efforts. It comprised Messrs. J. W. Jarvis, W. Phoenix, W. J. Spettigue, W. Foster, J. O'Brien, R. McCullagh, J. W. Wilkinson and A. Pack.

TOWN AND COUNTRY.

A Glen Oak correspondent describes a trip across Middlesex county and the crop prospects thus: "The crops generally look fairly well. In Ekfrid township the wheat looks fair. In Caradoc it looks quite good, and a full crop is the prospect; while in Lobo, London and Nissouri no more than a two-thirds crop is expected. The heavy snow lying on it towards spring, and in some cases water, accounts for the shortness. New clover meadows are a fine crop, and the farmers are getting their mowers ready, but the old meadows are nearly a failure. Spring grain looks well throughout the county, especially oats, although the wire worm has been making its appearance in places. So far there is all prospect of a good root crop. Potatoes are just coming up, while the bug is lying on top waiting. Fruit is doing well. No frosts or other drawback as yet to injure it. Cherries are ripe and delicious, and so are the strawberries, giving employment to many hands in this vicinity. They are selling for 4 or 5 cents per basket.

ARKONA.

Arkona, June 10.—Mr. Henry Stephenson died on Monday evening last after an illness of some weeks. Mr. Stephenson had been a resident of this neighborhood for a good many years. He was upwards of 80 years of age. He leaves quite a large family of middle-aged children, who will feel the loss of their father. They have the sympathy of the community.

There is talk of having a demonstration here on July 1 again this year. If it comes up to the time we had last year, it will pay all within range to come and spend the day in the Ark. Decoration day will be held here on Wednesday of this week, when the Oddfellows will decorate their comrades' graves.

There were 127 crates of berries picked at the Atkin berry farm in the first picking this week. We don't think people need to go without strawberries around here.

On Tuesday, while Mr. C. N. Richardson was unloading strawberries from J. Atkin's berry farm at the canning factory in Strathroy, his horses became frightened at a passing train and ran away. They just crossed the track before the train passed, and ran against an apple tree, smashing the rig badly. Fortunately Mr. Richardson was not in the rig at the time. There was also an attempted runaway at the Atkin farm the same day, which ended a little more seriously, as Mr. G. Stephenson was thrown from the rig, and the horse broke away and was bruised quite badly. But George had good grit and hung on to the lines and managed to stop the horse. Only one fill was broken on the rig. We think the boys had better not feed so much grain for a while.

We are getting more than our share of rain this week.

AILSA CRAIG.

"Advertiser" Agent, C. Walker.

Ailsa Craig, June 10.—Rev. D. L. Dewar left here this morning to attend the General Assembly to be held in Toronto this week.

Rev. James Coutts will occupy the pulpit in the Presbyterian Church next Sunday afternoon, and Rev. Mr. McKay will preach in the evening, in the absence of Rev. Mr. Dewar.

Rev. Mr. Barlthrope arrived home this afternoon from attending the Methodist Conference, held in Stratford.

Mr. Robt. J. Robinson shipped a carload of cattle to the old country last week. One animal weighed 2,450 pounds.

Mrs. Reichenback and family, of Walkerton, are visiting at her mother's and Mrs. (Dr.) Henderson's here.

James, son of Dennis Finan, section boss here, took suddenly ill last night, but is on the mend.

A Frenzied Tour.

Sir Charles Tupper's campaign of four meetings a day is a sign of considerable vigor in an octogenarian, no doubt, but it is also a frenzied performance of the hysterical order, indicative of a feeling of desperation, and of egotistical belief that he can fill the shoes of Sir John Macdonald as a magnetic force. The tide of feeling in favor of a change at Ottawa is too strong to be turned back by a dozen Sir Charles Tuppers.

What Next?

The whopper of the campaign so far is that Mr. McGreevy, the boodling contractor, for exposing whom Mr. Tarte has been so viciously assailed by the Tupperites, is the Liberal candidate in Quebec West! This statement has been made and reiterated by Mr. Henry, the chief high tax opponent of Mr. Wm. Paterson, in South Brant.

The truth is that Mr. McGreevy is the straight Tupper candidate, having entered the field at the express solicitation of Sir Charles Tupper.

Next we will have it alleged that Mr. Rykert, of Lincoln, is a Liberal, though he was exposed in Parliament by the Liberals, and driven out of the House of Commons, for using his position to feather his nest, on the motion of Sir John Thompson. But Rykert, too, is a bosom friend of the present high tax leader, and, like Mr. McGreevy, has entered the field at the earnest request of the Nova Scotia knight.

UNIFORMED STREET CLEANERS.

The men who have been making such a good job keeping the city asphalted streets clean appeared today in a neat uniform of blue, and careless drivers will now have no excuse for running them down. The uniform consists of a blue peaked hat with a wide top of the mortar-board variety, only round. The trousers are of blue serge, and a blue flannel shirt and white suspenders complete the outfit. The donor of the suits is Mr. Sam Grigg, and the men appreciate the gift very much.

THE BERRY SUPPLY.

The cool weather of the last few days has had its effect on the strawberry crop, and today prices are stiffer. The lowest wholesale price reached on the market today was 4 cents a box; the retail price was 5 and 6 cents. The heavy rainstorms have sanded the berries to an uncomfortable extent. The supply was only fair. Saturday will probably see the price at the lowest notch. Gooseberries sold at 6 cents a quart, and cherries at 8 cents. Fruit men are receiving large shipments of St. Catharines cherries.

FELL FROM THE ROOF.

Alex. Kerr, a young man, who lives with his parents on Elias street, just east of Adelaide, met with a distressingly painful accident on Tuesday afternoon. He was engaged sweeping the roof of the house. His feet were encased with slippers—and they slipped. The youth attempted to grasp a tree in his descent, and fell heavily on his side. He was carried into the house, where medical examination revealed a dislocated shoulder and a badly splintered arm. The fracture is an exceedingly bad one, and will be very hard to mend.

CALLED AWAY.

Mr. T. W. Cannom, of 428 Dufferin avenue, died this morning at 5 o'clock. Mr. Cannom had been for 27 years a resident of London, and was respected and loved by all who knew him. For twenty years he was superintendent of the business of Thomas Green & Co., contractors and builders. Although a busy man, he found time for Christian work, and was for several years superintendent of the First Congregational Sunday school, and assistant treasurer of the church. Of late years, and at the time of his death, he was a member of the Dundas Street Center Methodist Church. He was also a member of the Independent Order of Foresters and the Canadian Order of Chosen Friends. A wife and three daughters mourn the loss of a faithful and devoted husband and father. He was the third eldest son of the late John Cannom, five brothers remaining—Edward, and the Rev. George F., of Iowa; Jas. G., of the Cannom Press, printers and publishers, Chicago; Rev. John W., of Toronto, and Charles, of this city. Services will be held at the family residence, 428 Dufferin avenue, on Saturday at 2:30, after which the remains will be laid to rest at Mount Pleasant.

COMING BACK HOME.

Writing to the Brantford Expositor from Stratford, Rev. R. Hobbs, the new pastor of the Askin Street Methodist Church, says: "I am thankful to say that I have been most cordially and heartily received by the conference, so that I am feeling quite at home. I find a greater number of my college chums in this conference than can be found in any other, and about half of my ordination class are in the London conference, which fact tends to make one feel more at home. In being introduced to the conference, I took occasion to remind the brethren that I was not a foreigner, but that I was a son of the London conference; that the first few years of my ministry were not only spent in the London conference, but on the London district, so that I was only coming back home."

CLEVER LONDON STUDENTS.

The results of the Toronto University examinations reveal the fact that Londoners are just as clever abroad as in the home schools. J. R. Bone has secured the Fulton scholarship in chemistry and mineralogy, and physics and chemistry. As before stated, Mr. Charley Carson secured the Blake scholarship in chemistry and physics. Miss L. R. Laird and W. R. Hobbs secured the coveted "B. A." The following passed: Third year class—Miss M. Bapty, F. H. Barron, Miss M. Harvey, Miss M. Hills, H. M. Little, W. D. Love, Miss H. B. Mills, J. M. Nichol. Second year—C. M. Carson, Miss M. L. Cowan, Miss A. J. C. Dawson, B. Gahan, Miss M. A. Harvey, Miss K. L. Mullins, W. E. Slaght, Miss L. E. Taylor, J. M. Gunn. First year—J. R. Bone, Miss T. G. Davison, E. J. Taylor, E.

Toronto, June 11.—The question of members' fees came up at this morning's session of the Ontario Medical Association, and was warmly discussed. The fee is fixed at $2, but many of the members are as much as 20 years in arrears. A motion was introduced by Dr. Armour, of Ingersoll, and seconded by Dr. Sangster, proposing that Christopher Robinson, Q.C., be engaged as solicitor to see how far this state of affairs might be remedied. The motion was lost by only a few votes.

Where the Shoe Pinches

The shoe that pinches most people is the one they pay too dearly for. As a general thing ladies are willing to give a price for something good and stylish—provided it fits. That's our kind, only we sell at less than is called a good price. We give special attention to the wants of Ladies, Girls and Boys.

We know what they require, and see that they get it. The recent large extension of our Footwear department was made necessary on account of the increasing popularity of our styles and prices. With increased facilities much better things may be expected. When we stock larger and sell greater quantities the prices will come down.

Here's a List:

BLACK AND TAN

AT 98c Dongola Kid Oxfords, spring heels, sizes 11 to 2. Our old price was $1 35.

AT 90c Tan Goat Oxfords, spring heels, sizes 11 to 2, former price $1 35 and cheap at that.

AT 60c Ladies' Tan Pebble Oxfords, were cheap at $1, the old price.

AT 90c Ladies' Tan Calf Oxfords, the kind we formerly got $1 25 for.

AT 88c Ladies' Dongola Kid Oxfords, customers never grumbled at paying $1 25, the old price.

The above prices cannot be surpassed. We haven't put them so low to undersell other dealers, but because we can do it and want to give our customers the benefit. A visit to this department will repay any lady.

Sheep—Receipts, 10,000. Market is steady.

MONTREAL.

Montreal, June 8.—A fairly active business has been done in live stock circles during the past week, owing to the fact that farmers in the west who held stall-fed stock, and would not sell in the earlier part of the season, have decided to ship them, and in consequence the demand for ocean freight space has been in excess of the supply. All the offerings have been taken up for this week and part of next, and on one of the leading liners it has all been engaged up to July 3rd to London, Liverpool and Glasgow. These facts, coupled with a continued demand for space for early shipment, has given the market a decidedly firmer tone, and rates have advanced fully 2s 6d, recent engagement having been made at 40s to 45s without insurance, The Montezuma advertised to sail from here on June 10, had a consignment of 400 horses. The demand on spot today for export cattle was fair, and all the choice stock suitable for shipment was picked up at 3½ to 3¾c, and even at these prices and the present range on the other side shippers will make no money. English cable advices were contradictory.

LIVERPOOL.

Liverpool, June 8.—The tone of the market was steady at the advance noted last week, notwithstanding the warm weather. This market was bare of Canadian cattle, but choice States sold at 10½c, and sheep at 12c to 12¼c. At London choice Canadian cattle brought 10c, and Argentine sheep 11¼c. A private cable from Liverpool reported the market easier for cattle, and quoted tops at 9½c to 10c.

LONDON.

Messrs. John Olde & Son, live stock salesmen, of London, Eng., write Wm. Cunningham, live stock agent of the Board of Trade, as follows: The trade was firmer for cattle today, and prices improved for good qualities, For sale were 2,141 States cattle, which realized from 4¾d to 5d, and 456 from Canada, at 4½d to 4¾d. There were no South American cattle for sale. The sheep market was steady. For sale were 1,495 from the States, and 1,100 from South America, for which 4½d to 4¾d was paid. The supply was of an inferior quality to last week.

Previous to engaging in his present business he was private secretary for the Secretary of State of Iowa, Frank Jackson, now Governor of the State. Mr. Cannom is agreeably surprised at the progress that London has made during his eleven years' absence from the Forest City.

DOUBLE-TRACKING THE LINE.

The street railway company has a gang of men at work double-tracking the lower portion of the Springbank line. Nearly three-quarters of the line will be treated in this manner, and the work will be concluded in ten days. This will greatly facilitate the handling of crowds. It is impossible to double-track Railway street, the Cove or the cemetery stretch. A picnic of school children from Hyde Park visited the resort today. This morning a party of 150 came down from Ilderton and Birr and took in the trip. The girls of Hellmuth College will take in the trip this afternoon, and for their benefit the cars will be run up Wellington to Regent street. The popularity of the resort is growing.

VICTORY FOR PEACE.

Important Statement by Curzon—Venezuelan Dispute to be Arbitrated.

London, June 11.—The Parliamentary Secretary to the Foreign Office, Mr. George N. Curzon, answering a question in the House of Commons today, said that negotiations were proceeding with the United States with the view of bringing about a settlement by arbitration of the Venezuelan dispute. But, he added, in the public interest the Government could not make any further statement on the subject at present.

Mr. Leonard's Stand.

The Head of the Great Foundry on a Recent Canard.

A Story Circulated by High Tax Canvassers Emphatically Denied.

He Cannot be Tuppered on Any Condition, He Says.

There Never Has Been and Never Will be Any Intimidation in Leonard's Works.

For several days past persistent rumors have reached the "Advertiser" office that Conservative canvassers have been going through the third ward stating that Mr. Frank E. Leonard had gone through his foundry and instructed his men to vote Conservative. Finding that the rumor was repeatedly cropping up, a reporter called on Mr. Leonard at his office today and stated the case to him.

"It is altogether too silly to bother contradicting," said Mr. Leonard.

"And you are as Liberal as ever?"

Mr. Leonard laughed outright at the suggestion that he might be aught else.

"I will tell you how the rumor probably originated," said he. "There was a recent meeting of manufacturers held at Toronto, at which the name of "S. Leonard & Co., dyers," was given out as supporting the Government's policy. This name has been read by some of our excited opponents to be the firm of E. Leonard & Son. Of course, they would see it was not if they would take trouble to read. But they don't want to read or even look at good reliable figures."

"The fact of you not being on the platform at the recent Liberal demonstration might also have given credence to the story."

Mr. Leonard laughed again. "I was in Cleveland," said he. "My brother was at the meeting, but could not get near the platform because of the crowd."

Mr. Leonard then called Mr. Robert Angus, superintendent of the works.

"Have you ever seen me intimidate either Conservative or Reformer in the shop?" he asked.

"Never," replied Mr. Angus. "There is nothing of that kind done around here. We do not even allow a canvasser of either party to come around the shop in working hours."

"No," said Mr. Leonard, "every man, Reformer or Conservative, is given an hour in which to vote on election day, and we pay him for the time he is away as well."

"I guess that is enough to set the matter right," said the reporter.

"If the "Advertiser" is going to contradict every election rumor about this shop it will soon need Dr. Bucke's care," answered Mr. Leonard. "I may go to the Tupper meeting tonight to see the fun, but they can't Tupper me."

A Steep Price.

The Transvaal Reformers Must Pay for Liberty.

Fined $100,000 Each—No Imprisonment for Them.

Leonard, the leaders of the Johannesburg Reform Committee, upon the payment of a fine of £25,000 each, or, in default, fifteen years' banishment.

CONFIRMED.

London, June 11.—The Secretary of State for the Colonies, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, has received a private telegram saying that the leaders of the Johannesburg Reform Committee have already been released, subject to a fine. The dispatch adds that the conditions of their release were the same as imposed upon the other reformers.

INTOLERABLE BURDEN.

Chambers of Commerce Denounce Military Expenses—Declare for Arbitration.

London, June 11.—At the meeting of the Chambers of Commerce of the British Empire today, Mr. X. Perrault, seconded by Sir John Lubbock, Bart., M.P., in behalf of the London Chamber of Commerce, moved the following resolution: "That in the opinion of this congress, the present gigantic expenditure on military preparations imposes an intolerable burden on national revenues, and an immense addition to human labor; that the settlement of international differences by force of arms is barbarous, and unworthy of civilized nations, and that differences or disputes arising between different Governments which cannot be adjusted by diplomatic agency, should as far as possible be referred to arbitration."

The resolution called forth an immediate discussion, and was finally amended and adopted.

Spikes on the Track.

Two London Boys Accused of Placing Them There.

George and Alex McDonald Arrested on Suspicion—Disaster Prevented by a Vigilant Farmer.

George McDonald and Alex. McDonald, two London youths of the same name, though not related, are in trouble, and the charge against them is very serious. Last night they boarded the 5:55 train at Pottersburg. Conductor M. McKenzie discovered them and put them off at Thorndale. They were determined to ride, however, and again got on. He stopped the train and put the two men off about three-quarters of a mile north of Thorndale. It is charged against them that they then collected a number of spikes, placed them on the rails, and made for the woods. A farmer in the neighborhood is said to have seen the obstructions placed there. He removed the spikes from the rails, and immediately informed the railway authorities at Thorndale, who telegraphed to London that two tough-looking characters were in that vicinity and had placed obstructions upon the track. G. T. R. Detective Logan was dispatched on a special at once. He investigated the place of operation, and learning the direction the supposed culprits had gone, followed them. He stayed around the country, making inquiries as he went, and finally located the McDonald boys in a barn about a mile from the track, where they had bivouaced for the night. He brought his prisoners to the city, where they were arraigned before Squire J. B. Smyth, who remanded them until next Thursday for examination. Had the obstructions been allowed to remain until the arrival of the express, which is due here at 9:15, it is difficult to say what might have been the consequences.

A Double Courtship

CHAPTER XI.

The Rhine in August belongs not to Germany, but to America, and—in a lesser extent—to England. The Kaiser Wilhelm, the Germania, and the other awning-covered steamers that hurry from Cologne to Mayence, are boarded by folk speaking either the English or the American language; the hotels, that give their names in three languages, so that no one may have cause for hesitation, are in a state of siege, and nobody relishes the invasion more than the invaded Germans. Mr. Gilbert—journalist, financial man, engaged youth, one with the rosiest of prospects—had stood at the side of the steamer as it left Cologne and had laughed with satisfaction. His reception at the Coblentz landing stage by the entire household of the Villa Hermosa was most gratifying; but not more gratifying that the attentions that were paid to him during the week. Rooms had been taken for him at the Hotel du Geant, and his days were spent in trips organized by the assiduous Mrs. Brentford. The party had been across the river to Ehrenbreitenstein—with the exception of the stout youth, Mr. Lancing, who objected to all exercise as cruel; they had been down the winding, undecided Mosele to Treves; they had been up the Rhine to Bingen; they had held a pienc at Stoltenfels. Aucun incident, as the French journals say. But Miss Campbelltown, of the Ladies' Own, had told the stout minor artist (whom she loved) that something was going to happen soon.

"Mark my words," Miss Campbelltion had said mysteriously.

They were sitting on one of the balconies on the Rhine side of the Villa Hermosa. There were many balconies at the Villa Hermosa; a distinct advantage, inasmuch as if you wanted to evade old Howson, who had been an editor of some paper in the fifties (now extinct), and cherished against somebody a grievance that was at least 40 years old, you went to the upper balcony, where you found little Miss Howson, his daughter, whose company was the more gracious; similarly, if the lady of the house desired to consult Gilbert on financial matters—Mrs. Brentford insisted upon looking upon Gilbert as a prospective governor of the Bank of England—why, there was sure to be a disengaged balcony overlooking the Mainzer Chausee.

He rested an elbow on the wooden railing of the balcony, and took his cigar-case from his pocket. In doing so a letter in the familiar writing of Kittie Reade fluttered down, and, as he picked it up, he flushed.

"The regret will be mainly on my side," declared Gertrude Brentford earnestly. "Do smoke."

"I suppose, when I get back to the Budget, I shall have to take my coat off and do my best to fill Bradley Webbe's place." He laughed a little uneasily. "Poor old Bradley Webbe! He's unlucky."

"Why is he leaving?"

"Well, I scarcely know how to explain it. The Proprietor didn't care for him."

"Of course, Bradley Webbe can't say that you have helped him to oust him from his position?"

"I hope he won't say that," answered Gilbert with some anxiety.

"He is sure not to hint that you have done anything unfair," said Mrs. Brentford. "Anyone who knows you, Gilbert——"

"Quite so, quite so."

"Would ever think of suggesting that yould act in any way——"

"I suppose that is so."

"Ah," said Gertrude Brentford, "you have all a good man's modesty."

Gilbert picked a flower from the creeping blue clematis on the wall, and hummed a tune softly to give himself time to regain his self-possession.

"I wonder what your future will be like, Gilbert?"

"I beg your pardon?"

Gertrude Brentford repeated the question. She leaned back in the basket chair, and placed one small foot on the ledge of the balcony. It was a small, neatly-slippered foot, and there was thus every excuse for giving it some little prominence. Too often it is the large, bulging, elastic-side boot that is allowed by ladies to be en evidence; boots which bring no gratification to the heart of man, and should be used exclusively for the purpose of frightening birds. The silver buckle on Gertrude Brentford's slippers caught the last rays of the declining sun through the lime trees and made Gilbert blink as he glanced at it.

"It's rather difficult to say," answered Gilbert. "My future depends, I suppose, partly on myself, and partly on my friends. In some moods I foresee Westminster Abbey; in other moods the pauper side of Kensal Green. Can you do anything at palmistry?"

"Not unless you give me your hand," she said softly.

The voice of Miss Campbelltown came from the small drawing-room below. Miss Campbelltown was a good journalist, but as little Miss Howson remarked, she could not sing for nuts. Now, not to be able to sing for nuts is (one may translate for the benefit of country gentlemen) to sing with want of accuracy. Gilbert had only half heard the last remark and did not reply.

"Let us go out into the avenue," said Mrs. Brentford. He picked up a lace shawl and placed it over her head. "Thank you so much."

It was growing dim out in the long, long avenue that reaches from the barracks at Coblentz up to Laubach. Here and there statues of Fame and Liberty and other abstract things, gleamed at the side; a few hard-up German officers were strolling along, wooing, with military pertinacity, plain daughters of well-to-do Coblentz tradesfolk.

"Do you mind taking my arm, Gilbert? I am afraid of stumbling. Let us walk in this direction; we can find a place to look down upon the Rhine."

"I admire the Rhine too much for that."

"I want to ask you something. I want to ask you if you—if you are engaged."

There was a pause.

"Well," said Gilbert evasively, "I have no contract signed with the Proprietor, but if he gives me the editorship, I shall insist——"

"As you engaged to Miss Reade?"

"To Miss Reade?" He coughed. "Oh, no."

It is so easy sometimes not to tell the truth. People say the thing untrue either because they are lazy, or because they are ingenious. As a matter of fact, Gilbert blurted out this denial mainly because he did not want to have to enter into explanations.

"I am so glad. So glad. She is a good, dear girl, but——"

"I admire her very much," remarked Gilbert.

"But she is not quite the wife that you want. She will make somebody very happy, but——"

"It's a pity that these things are not managed by a state department. It would save people a great deal of trouble."

"I suppose some people like the trouble. Here is the place."

They could look across over the low, solid brick wall at the broad river. By the side of the wall was a map of the Rhine from Cologne to Basle. The birds, looking down upon the two, twittered in the high branches of the trees with an air of lively interest, as who should say, "Here's more fun." It occurred to Gilbert quite suddenly that Gertrude Brentford was an exceedingly good-looking woman; the faint suspicion of matronliness that daytime with its brutal frankness suggested was absent now.

"I suppose that being in love," she said slowly, "is a sort of agreeable madness."

"I believe that marriage not infrequently restores the patients to sanity."

She turned to him quickly.

"Why do you always talk like that, Gilbert? You make me think at times that you are wanting in sincerity. It is because you are trying to conceal your real self?"

"I am always rather cautious, I suppose. The fact is that, before my present life, I had the experience of 40 years. That enables me, you see, to avoid the errors other youths commit."

1,600 KILLED.

Spaniards Met Defeat at Caicaisjicara —Cubans Capture 49 Carloads of Food.

Key West, June 11.—The following report has been received from Las Villas, Cuba, by letter:

"The Cuban army in this territory is composed of more than 35,000 patriots. The Spanish commander acknowledges the loss of 1,600 men killed and wounded at Caicaisjicara. The Spanish colonels, Segura and Palance, have been defeated several times in the past month by Gen. Gomez, who, in these engagements captured two cannons. On March 25, at San Juan and De Los Yaras, a column of Spaniards composed of 5,000 men and 100 cars of food and ammunition under Col. Segura's command, was attacked by 24 squadrons of Cubans, with a loss to the Spaniards of 90 killed on the first day. The march lasted three days, and during that time the Spanish loss was 250 men killed and 49 cars captured, and it is believed that Col. Segura was either killed or captured. These fights were directed by Vicente Nunez, a strategic leader of the last war. There is no truth in the report that Garrido and Pineiro, Cuban leaders, have been killed."

New York, June 11.—A special to the Herald from Havana says: Trustworthy intelligence from Eastern Cuba announces serious dissensions in the rebel ranks, owing to the refusal of Jose Maceo to recognize Calixo Garcia's superior authority. Jose Maceo attempted to march westward to join his brother in Pinar Del Rio, but was intercepted by Gomez and ordered to stand trial for insubordination.

BY A BARNARDO BOY.

Farmer Shot Dead by a Lad Only 15 Years Old.

Port Hope, Ont., June 11.—About 5 o'clock last evening, Thomas Lingard, a farmer living near Quay's Crossing, about eight miles north of this town, was shot and instantly killed by a young Barnardo Home lad of 15 named Prentiss.

Prentiss was rabbit shooting on Lingard's farm. Lingard, coming along, ordered him off the property. The boy, refusing to obey, Lingard said, if he did not, he would put him off by force, and advanced towards Prentiss. The latter raised his gun and said, "If you come another step I'll shoot you dead." Lingard continued to advance, when the youth fired, the charge taking effect in Lingard's neck, killing him almost instantly.

Neighbors in the vicinity, hearing of the shooting, promptly arrested Prentiss and brought him to town, here he is now locked up.

Revival of Trade.

Reports from the United States support the view that trade interests have vastly improved recently, and that the business outlook for the future is encouraging. This will be welcome news to the people of Canada, since our own trade interest will be stimulated and improved. In nothing has this improvement been shown in a more marked way than in the increased sales of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. Times being dull, everything not absolutely needed became a luxury, and its sale became stationary. Now it is different. Sales have increased vastly, doubtless as it has proven the only safe, sure, and painless remedy for corns, and wise people will use no other.

"You must take good care of yourself," was the physician's warning. "Don't worry about anything, and don't over-exert yourself." "I suppose you mean that I must take a vacation trip?" "No, what I mean is that you must remain away from the summer resorts."

Osler On Coercion.

A Great Jurist Arraigns the Tupper Manitoba Policy.

Raised a Race and Religious Cry to Help Themselves to Power.

The Whole Coercion Business Unnecessary and the Bill Confessedly Worthless.

Dunnville, June 11.—In his recent trenchent address on public affairs in this town, Mr. B. B. Osler, who was asked to join the Tupper Ministry and refused, explained that for years he had taken no part in politics, but the crisis today was such that he was compelled to talk out. His address was an arraignment of the Tupper Minstry on every plank of its platform. Probably the most important declaration made by Mr. Osler, in view of his eminence as a legal authority, was his denunciation of the course pursued by the dying Government in connection with the Manitoba school question. He said it was safe to say that as things stand now, Manitoba could not be coerced on the line of the remedial bill. (A voice—Never.) This country could not, however, be governed by the mere declaration of the Protestant majority, but by a policy of conciliation, toward our Catholic fellow-citizens. (Hear, hear.) They all remembered the circumstances of the passage of the act of 1890 and its course through the courts. If the act of Manitoba had been disallowed the thing would have dropped and Manitoba would have had to find another way of arranging its school system. It was hardly fair to charge against the Government for the non-disallowance of that bill, and the more so because some of those now in the Government had nothing to do with it then. The critical point and the fault was here, that when the judgment of the Privy Council was received in January, 1895, the Government had taken a certain course. What did they do? They had a question of race and religion, a disturbing element difficult to handle, requiring nice adjustment.

A FATAL COURSE.

Their first duty was to stop the race and religion cry, to pacify, to negotiate, to confer with Manitoba, saying here is the judgment, which says there is a grievance; we will leave it first to you. That should have been done. What was done? Before the formal judgment of the Privy Council was received, before the documents came to hand, the Government were shaping the remedial order as a menace to Manitoba, and on the 21st of March Manitoba was ordered to correct the complaint. The matter had dragged along for five years. It was so serious that any time that was necessary should have been given to its adjustment. Instead, in their haste, the Government put Manitoba in a hostile attitude. That was done erroneously, to use a very mild word. What was the reason behind that action? It was said that the Government intended to go to the country and that the remedial order was meant for use in the contest. Was that the position? If they stood on the order firm and strong they could carry the country by getting the solid Catholic vote added to the old line vote. (Applause.) Was that what was meant? (A voice, "Yes," and a voice, "No.") "Well," said Mr. Osler, "the vote is even." If the issue was used in that way the Government of the day was in the position of the man who sees a fire start—in this case the fire of race and religion—and looks on while the wind is blowing the fire on his neighbor's fields; looks on until he can no longer control it, and then the fire comes and sweeps him away. (Cheers and a voice, "It won't sweep us away.") If that is the position, if the logic of events shows that this is true, and that the Government utilized that race and religious cry in the manner stated, there is not an honest Catholic in this Province that should not say that Government will not get my vote. (Applause.)

CONFIDENCE IN MANITOBA.

Continuing, Mr. Osler referred to the splendid loyalty of the people of French Canada. In Ontario the interests of Catholics were safeguarded. They did not want more than their rights, and they did not get more, but they were protected in them. (Applause.) He had confidence in the men of Manitoba—confidence that they would guard the rights of the minority as they were guarded in Ontario, and that if they had been approached as they ought to have been they would have remedied the grievance. Why, what was their first act after the denomination boards of education in the Province were wiped out under the law of 1890 and a new public board constituted? They offered a seat on the board to the archbishop himself. (Cheers.) The negotiations carried on by Sir Donald Smith and Senator Desjardins with the Manitoba Government showed that the men of Manitoba were prepared to remove the grievance in any reasonable way. The whole coercion business was unnecessary, and before anyone was returned in any riding of the Dominion he should be pledged that before coercive legislation was introduced one year's or two year's effort should be made to bring the parties together and settle the question. (Cheers.) There had been no serious attempt to settle the question, except by coercive legislation. His complaint was, and the reason why he could not support a Government pledged to coercion was, that the Government had not taken up the question in a broad, statesman-like way, but had added fuel to the flame and made this race and religious issue one on which to ride back into power. (A voice, "They will never do it.")

CONFESSEDLY USELESS.

Mr. A. W. Wright, the professional high tax politician, essayed to reply to Mr. Osler. He said that there was much said of the Remedial Bill granting public money to Catholic schools, but nothing of the sort was in the bill.

Mr. Osler, in a word of reply, read clause 74 of the bill and asked: "Does it or does it not grant public money to separate schools? If it does not, the Catholics who asked bread get a stone and are deceived." It was the most extraordinary clause, Mr. Osler declared, that he had ever seen, and conferred rights without any means of enforcing them.

Work on the Berlin new opera house commenced Tuesday. It will be ready by Sept. 1.

Squire Smith, of Wallaceburg, brother of Henry Smith, of the Penwarden House, St. homas, died suddenly Monday. Deceased, who was aged 70 years, leaves a widow and two married daughters, living in St. Thomas.

While working on the L. E. and D. R. R. bridge at St. Thomas on Tuesday, John Keno was struck by a sledge-hammer, which slipped from the hands of a fellow-workman. The hammer struck him on the head, severely wounding him.

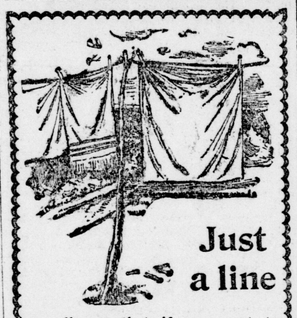

The remains of the man who was found dead in the Queen's Hotel, St. Thomas ten days ago, and who gave his name as Frederick Cane, were interred Tuesday. No further information as to his identity has yet been discovered than that already published, namely, the opinion of C. Deloney, of Alpena, Mich., that deceased was his uncle, Frederick Delaney.

At Guelph on Tuesday, in the case of the Queen vs. James Philpot, the defendant surrendered his bail and appeared before Judge Jamieson on a charge of negligence, occasioning the death of Lizzie Griffenham. He pleaded guilty to the charge. His honor considered he should be held answerable by appearing for sentence when called upon, and taking his recognizance for good behavior for one year. Philpot left a wall standing. It fell and crushed the girl.

James L. Christiani, colored, has entered an action against the proprietor of Janette's Hotel, Windsor, claiming $1,000 damages. He went in the hotel, which is near the race track, and took a seat at a table in the dining room. This was resented by the rest at the table, and they got up and left. He was ordered away from the table, it is alleged, by Mrs. Janette, she stating that they did not care for his patronage. He left in a hurry at once, and immediately came down to the city, where he engaged a firm of lawyers to take action against the proprietor of the hotel.

Some time between midnight and 6 o'clock Wednesday morning burglars affected an entrance to the rooms occupied as a dwelling by Mr. S. Sumner, who keeps a book store, and is also agent for the American Express Company, by unlocking the hall door with skeleton keys, and taking from the premises $160 belonging to the American Express Company, and $25 or more belonging to Mr. Sumner. Besides the money taken, which was in a box under the bed, the thieves secured a money order book, also his purse, which contained some small change and a bunch of keys. Mr. Sumner's pants were taken from the head of the bed to the hall, rifled and left. In this connection it might be mentioned that Mr. Sumner had sent away over $500 in money the same evening.

MOUNTAINS OF ICE

Blockade the Harbor of St. Johns, Newfoundland.

St. Johns, Nfld., June 11.—An iceberg blockade of the harbor has greatly damaged vessels. Navigation along the coast has been universally dangerous, owing to the prevalence in immense numbers of icebergs exceeding in number and size anything seen in the past quarter of a century.

The Allan Line steamer Carthagenian met the first berg 270 miles off the coast and reported that the whole ocean from that point inward was dotted with them. Their presence has the most detrimental effect on the fishery, the safety of the vessels being in danger.

LIFE SAVED.—Mr. James Bryson Cameron states: "I was confined to my bed with inflammation of the lungs, and was given up by physicians. A neighbor advised me to try Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, stating that his wife had used it for a throat trouble with the best results. Acting on this advice, I procured the medicine, and less than a half bottle cured me; I certainly believed it saved my life. It was with reluctance that I consented to a trial, as I was reduced to such a state that I doubted the power of any remedy to do me any good."

TWO BROTHERS DROWNED.

Toronto, June 11.—News reached the city this morning of the accidental drowning of the two sons of Mrs. John Morton, of Baldwin village, York county. The lads, who were aged 10 and 8 years respectively, went bathing in Heise's mill pond, and then proceeded to amuse themselves floating on logs. The younger, getting beyond his depth, began to sink, and Malcolm, his elder brother, fearlessly rushed to his aid. Both were drowned before help could reach them.

CROPS IN THE UNITED STATES.

Washington, D. C., June 11.—The Government crop report places the total winter wheat area at 22,794,000 acres; total spring area, 11,825,000 acres. Since the May report the condition of winter wheat has fallen 4.8 points, that of June being 77.9 against 82.7 on May 1. The condition of spring wheat indicates a prosperous yield, the average for the country being 99.9 per cent. The average for the year 1895 was 97.8. Oats, 98.8, against 84.3 on same date in 1895. Rye, 85.2, against 85.7 last June. Barley, 92 per cent.

SUICIDE OF A FARMER.

Uxbridge, Ont., June 11.—Alexander Patterson, a farmer, who lived on lot 10, con. 7, Uxbridge township, committed suicide yesterday morning by hanging. He was about as usual during the morning, and walked over his farm, inspecting fences and viewing his crops, and after speaking with his son, who was plowing, he went to the barn and crawled in through a hole and placed a board over it to prevent anyone seeing him. Shortly after this his son's wife went to the barn for some potatoes for dinner, when she was horrified to find her father-in-law hanging from a beam, quite dead. It is thought his mind must have been affected.

UNITED STATES' HEALTH REPORTS
Official Indorsement, June 19, 1895
Page 10.
THE TOBACCO HABIT CURED.
In the interest of the masses, for whom these reports are compiled, the United States Health Reports have examined and investigated many preparations having for their object the cure of the tobacco habit, but among them all we have no hesitancy in giving the editorial and official endorsement of these reports to the remedy known as "Uncle Sam's Tobacco Cure," manufactured by the Keystone Remedy Company, at 218 La Salle street, Chicago. They are distributing literature this week all through the city, and in the light of our examinations and tests of "Uncle Sam's Tobacco Cure," we are but performing a duty we owe the public when we indorse the same, and stamp it as the crowning achievement of the nineteenth century, in the way of destroying a habit as disgusting as it is common (For Only $1) hence we earnestly advise you to read full particulars, and if you have not seen circulars to call at W. S. Bryers Barkwell's, wholesale and retail agents for Canada, 268 Dundas street, London. w

A FARCIAL CONTENTION.

The Hamilton Spectator copies the McClary circular with approbation, and give this irrational advice to the wage earners: "Be guided by the men whose money is invested in manufacturing industries. They know what is good for themselves, and what is good for them is good for their employes." This is unadulterated nonsense. If it were true, we would hear no more of the struggle between capital and labor. We would have no more combinations of wage earners to insure fair treatment, to say nothing of generous treatment, at the hands of their employers. Trades unionism would die a natural death. Protests against scaling down of wages would never be raised, and requests for increases would never be made.—St. Thomas Journal.

W. C. T. U. REGULAR MEETING.

The regular monthly meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held on Tuesday afternoon in Somerset Hall. The honorary president, Miss Gregsten, took charge of the opening devotional exercises. The hearing and consideration of quarterly reports from superintendents of the departments was the order of business for the day. Nineteen different departments reported active work. The Industrial School and three bands of hope are now closed for the summer months. The reports of work done in the other departments were of an interesting and encouraging character, particularly in the evangelical department. It was decided to continue the work and regular meetings of the union throughout the summer. On June 23 a profitable meeting is expected. Rev. Mr. Meikle, the evangelist, will conduct the devotional exercises, and Mr. Kirk, principal of the Aberdeen school, will give an address on "How to ventilate the home and keep healthy the places in which we live."

Hume B. Elliot
Will be the Tupperite Candidate in South Middlesex.
Son of the Man Who Counted Out Mr. C. S. Hyman—The "Farmer Boy" Cry.

Delaware, June 11.—The adjourned convention for South Middlesex was held here yesterday. The attendance was not very large, many Conservatives throughout the riding considering that the Liberal majority being so great it was better not to have a contest. But the city managers insisted on forcing the campaign. The whole thing was cut and dried in advance, as already intimated in the "Advertiser." Mr. H. B. Elliot, a London lawyer, and son of Judge William Elliot, who at the last election in the city counted out Mr. C. S. Hyman, the choice of the people, was nominated. Addresses were given by Messrs. McKellar and Gray, of Lobo; Gibson, of Delaware; Henry Fisher and Logan, of Oneida. The fight will be a peculiar one. When a number of the Liberals in the riding favored recently the nomination of M. B. B. Osler, the noted jurist, the Conservative agents throughout the riding immediately started the cry that it would be a dreadful humiliation to the riding to take a lawyer candidate and an outsider to represent them. Now, as a forlorn hope, to prevent an election by acclamation, these same men are ready to champion the cause of a London lawyer, who has hardly won his spurs in the profession.

No doubt an effort will be made to poll as large a vote for Mr. Elliot as possible, though he is doomed to defeat. It will be for the friends of Mr. McGugan, the Liberal candidate, to see that every vote in his favor is polled. The majority on this occasion should be at least 800, and maybe 1,000, if everyone goes to the polls, as is a duty.
