MANY KILLED AND INJURED

Train Crashes into a Thousand People—Killing Seven and Injuring Over a Score.

Crowd were Waiting the Arrival of a Lake Shore Train at Detroit when Struck.

Detroit, May 4.—The Grand Trunk Pan-American flyer from Chicago ran into a crowd of 1,000 people at the corner of Dequinder and Canfield streets at 8.30 this evening, killing four men, a boy and a woman, and seriously injuring about 30 people. The majority of the killed and wounded are from Toledo. Fifteen hundred Poles from Toledo came up to Detroit this morning on a special Lake Shore train to celebrate a holiday. They left the train at the corner of Dequinder and Canfield streets and went over to St. Joseph's Church, where they spent the day with the congregation. The Lake Shore tracks run out to Dequinder street, and a special train was to stop for the Toledo excursionists at Canfield avenue at 8.30. Accompanied by hundreds of their local friends, waiting for the train, the excursionists jammed Canfield avenue some time before the train was due in readiness for it.

THE VICE-REGAL VISIT TO CITY

Lord and Lady Minto Will Drive Over Chatham and Meet Its Citizens.

Will Visit Each of Its Schools and Spend Five Minutes with the Children.

The route for the visit of Lord and Lady Minto and their party on the 13th inst. has now been definitely arranged and authorized.

As the vice-regal party will likely be accompanied by press representatives from Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal it is important that the Maple City shall make as good a showing as possible and the citizens and residents upon the streets which will be travelled are asked to beautify their gardens and front yards as much as possible and decorate where possible with flags and bunting.

The only places where the vice-regal party will alight, except Harrison Hall, are the schools, and the Governor-General and his lady will spend five minutes in each of our schools.

The route is as follows:—Arrive Wednesday, the 13th, at 12.45 p. m., at the G. T. R.

Col. Rankin and squad of 24th Kent Regiment will escort them to Harrison Hall via Queen St. to Post Office, up King to Fifth St. and thence to Harrison Hall.

There the city's address will be read by his worship, Mayor McKeough. Presentation of citizens. All who desire to be presented are requested to be at Harrison Hall at one o'clock. From Harrison Hall the vice-regal party will be driven about the city stopping:—

Five minutes at the Central school. Down Wellington to William St., via William over the creek to Colborne St., up Colborne to Prince St., passing the Collegiate Institute to Stanley Ave. Down Stanley Ave. to Tecumseh Park, past Hotel Sanita and Tecumseh Park to King. Down King to Fifth St. and across bridge to Victoria Ave., up to Forest St. to McKeough school, where party will stop for five minutes.

Thence to Joseph St. Down Joseph to Head St., along Head to Ursuline Academy, where party will stop five minutes.

Thence to Violet St. to Emma St., passing General Hospital to Aberdeen bridge; across to King; down King St. West to St. Joseph's Hospital. Back to Lacroix; along Lacroix to Wellington. Up Wellington to Raleigh and along Raleigh to Cross St., thence to Separate school, where party will stop five minutes.

Thence to Queen St. and along Queen to Park and Park to William, thence to G. T. R. station. Departure.

Toronto Topics.

Toronto, May 4.—Mr. Alex. Bradshaw died very suddenly.

George Redfern, five years old, died from the effects of carbolic acid, given him by his father in mistake for medicine.

Cheu Len was seriously injured at the meeting of the Chinese Order of Free Masons. Two of his countrymen have been arrested.

Samuel E. Guest, a machinist, who had been ordered by Lieut.-Col. G. T. Denison during the Northwest rebellion, was found dead in his room.

COUNCIL REPUDIATE RESPONSIBILITY AND PLACE IT ON GOVERNMENT

Attorney-General Sent Special Messenger to See to Release of Shambleau—Motion Passed to Request Crown Attorney to Act.

There was a very lively time at the afternoon session of the County Council on Saturday. Mr. Reycraft stated that Mr. Shambleau, late treasurer of the County, has been released from custody by the Government on representations made to the effect that the County Council wished his release. Mr. Vester accused the Council of purchasing the late treasurer's freedom for $8,000. Mr. McCoy repudiated this and said that if the Council had made settlement because they held bonds which were only good for $1,835, and by settling had secured $8,000. He maintained that the $8,000 had been accepted in the interests of the County.

Mr. Somers claimed this amount had been accepted in good faith with the brother-in-law and one of the conditions was that Mr. Shambleau should not be prosecuted by the Council. That was one of the conditions on which the money was tendered. The agreement, as read in the Council, bears out Mr. Somers' contention. Mr. Reycraft's motion to prosecute carried.

The County Council resumed after dinner with the Warden in the chair and all the commissioners present.

On motion of Mr. French, seconded by Mr. McCoy, the auditor's report was laid over until the June session. This motion carried.

The Warden stated that he had a check for $50 from C. L. VonGuten. Mr. McCoy said that the Council had no alternative but to accept the check in lieu of the amount received by Mr. VonGuten from the late treasurer.

It was moved by Mr. Vester, seconded by Mr. Haggart, that whereas the Government auditor, F. H. Macpherson, in his report charges C. L. VonGuten, ex-Warden, with changing figures on the December pay roll of 1901, thus taking $50 out of the County treasury more than was voted to him by the Council for his services as Warden, and whereas Mr. VonGuten explains that he made the alterations on the pay roll in this presence and on the advice of two members of this Council, namely, S. Somers and John Crowder, and that he did so for the reason that he had omitted putting in a claim for extra work, and that while this Council is of the opinion that the course pursued by C. L. VonGuten was not regular, this Council is not in a position to say that we do not owe the said $50, and further, that Mr. VonGuten has deposited the said $50 in the hands of the present Warden, this Council does accept the same. Further, this Council will cheerfully pay Mr. VonGuten for extra services while Warden as soon as he presents this Council with an account in detail showing the said amount is due him.—Carried.

It was moved by Mr. Sifton, seconded by Mr. French, that the resignation of A. T. Arnold as superintendent of the House of Refuge, and Mrs. Arnold as matron, be accepted. The motion carried.

It was moved by Mr. Reycraft, seconded by Mr. Horal, that whereas it has been tried to make it appear that it was through the action of this Council that the late treasurer was released from the criminal proceedings made with said Shambleau's bondsman, and whereas it was no part of the agreement that this Council should interfere with the course of the criminal proceedings then pending, be it resolved, that this Council are of the opinion that the said Shambleau should be prosecuted and that the Crown Attorney take steps forthwith to carry out this suggestion.—Carried.

This motion created a lot of discussion. John Reycraft, speaking to his motion, said that since Mr. Shambleau's release, it had been reported about the County that a deputation from Wallaceburg went to Toronto and represented to the Government that the County Council of Kent wanted Mr. Shambleau released, and in consequence he was let go scot free, while others had been sent to the penitentiary for stealing five dollars. This action was a standing invitation to wrong-doers to steal in large quantities.

Mr. French said that he was pleased that this motion was brought up. Nearly every member of the Council had suffered from the release of Mr. Shambleau. While he didn't vote for the motion, he could sympathize with those who did. After hearing the statement of the auditor, exposing the schemes, rascality and forgery of the late treasurer, it wasn't safe to allow the man at large. If it were in Mr. French's power, he would have the ex-treasurer put behind the bars.

Mr. Somers pointed out that the Council were satisfied when the settlement was made in committee. Mr. Shambleau's brother-in-law had stated in committee that if the Council intended to prosecute he had nothing to settle. Mr. Somers thought that the County had made a good settlement from a financial standpoint. It was quite unfair to take $8,000 of John H. Fraser's money, under the conditions, and then go on and prosecute.

Mr. Vester said he was a little surprised at the motion. Mr. Fraser had stated that his only object in offering the money was to keep his brother-in-law from the penitentiary. When the settlement was made, the debt was all paid. "I told you then," continued Mr. Vester, "that you were taking $8,000 of other people's money to purchase the freedom of the biggest scoundrel in the County of Kent. The Council, however, were in such a hurry to get the money, I am perfectly satisfied that the Council didn't intend that Mr. Shambleau should go scot free. It turns out as I said it would, and you have bought his freedom with the county's money, and I charge you with it. You did it with your eyes wide open."

Mr. Somers called attention to the fact that the Guarantee Company could only have been held for $1,835 according to the auditor's report. There was a bond given by citizens of Wallaceburg, but it had been returned. The names on the bond would be secured from Mr. McCoy. His memory of the names on the bond would not have stood in a court of law. Therefore instead of $1,835, the County got $8,000 of the brother-in-law's money. This settlement was the best for the County.

Mr. French said that he was willing to bear a share of taxes in making up the $10,000 rather than bear a share of his crime.

GOVERNMENT RESPONSIBLE.

Mr. McCoy said that, if Mr. Vester charged the Council with purchasing the late Treasurer's freedom for $8,000, he (Mr. Vester) had been willing to purchase it for $10,000 as the motion Mr. Vester supported asked for that amount. The $8,000 was taken as security and it was the most that could be got. It was held out to the bondsmen that there was a copy of the bond in Matthew Wilson's office but that was false. All the security the County had was $1,835. The settlement for $8,000 was one of the best that could be made under the circumstances. The Council is not implicated in Mr. Shambleau's release. He was released by the Attorney-General's Department at Toronto. The Council did the best they could for the County of Kent when they settled for $8,000.

Mr. Vester said that he didn't accuse the Council, but the result of the action of the Council had had the effect of settling differences between Shambleau and the County.

Mr. Sifton said that in wording the resolution accepting the $8,000, he had taken particular care that there shouldn't be a shadow of doubt as to the release. The Council had nothing to do with Mr. Shambleau's release. The Crown Attorney had nothing to do with it. He got his orders from the Attorney-General by special messenger, who was sent to the County for the express purpose of so doing.

Mr. Sturgis said that when A. L. Shambleau was suspended in 1897, a bond was given for $10,000 by Wallaceburg friends who became responsible for $10,000 for the past and for the future as long as Mr. Shambleau was in office.

Mr. Sturgis would rather have seen the matter go to the courts if only $10 were recovered than that the ex-treasurer should escape.

Mr. Horal said he didn't feel any guilt about it as he had taken every precaution to find out if the motion would bind the Council to release Mr. Shambleau before he had voted for it. Messrs. Sturgis, French, Haggart, Chinnick, Reycraft, Horal and Handy voted for the motion. Messrs. Sifton, Ross, Vester, Grant, Somers and McCoy voted against it. The yeas and nays were called and then the vote stood as follows: Yeas—

Messrs. Sturgis, French, Haggart, Chinnick, Grant, Reycraft, Horal, Handy and the Warden. Nays—Messrs. Somers, McCoy, Ross and Sifton.

Mr. Vester moved, seconded by Mr. Ross, that the securing of copies of the auditor's report required, be left in the hands of the committee.

It was moved by Mr. Grant, seconded by Mr. Chinnick, that whereas Mr. Arnold had resigned his position that the House of Refuge committee be empowered to secure a superintendent for the House of Refuge.—Carried.

On motion of Mr. Sifton, seconded by Mr. Vester, Mr. French was empowered to sign the contract for the bridge over Long's Creek on the Lambton-Kent County line.

On motion of Mr. Sturgis, seconded by Mr. French, the account of auditor F. H. Macpherson was ordered paid.

On motion, the Warden was instructed not to sign any grants to agricultural societies till after the Fair had been held.

Mr. Ross asked if the municipalities were to be allowed interest on the wild land taxes retained by the late Treasurer. It would, perhaps, be wise to get the auditors to figure up the interest.

Mr. Sturgis said that if additional interest were added it would be practically compounding the interest.

Mr. Grant said that he didn't think that the Townships should ask for the interest. Their treasurer's should have seen that the money was paid over.

Mr. Ross said that District No. 7 was going to collect the interest if they had to do so through the courts. Mr. French didn't think that the County should be compelled to pay the interest. Besides there was no need to pay men $14 a day to make up simple interest.

Mr. Sifton said that he had talked with the Revere of Tilbury and they would collect all that the law allowed. Mr. Reycraft thought that the Council should go a little slow and let the Townships make up the interest do them, themselves.

Mr. Grant said that if the County had the interest computed, it would be strong evidence that they owed it.

Mr. Vester was satisfied that if the interest were demanded that it would have to be paid, but there was no need of hurry in the matter.

NAMING THE FARM.

Too much cannot be said in favor of giving the homestead a name, by which it may become distinguished in the district or province in which it is situated, says the Farmers' Advocate. Most farmers who are breeding pure-bred stock have taken advantage of this idea, and there is no reason why others who are making special efforts in producing high-class products or to have their premises appear homelike should not do likewise. It will influence the boys and girls to think more of home, and will lead them to take a greater interest in making it appear beautiful. It costs nothing and can certainly do no harm, but will rather tend toward making the home more widely known, and, eventually, more valuable.

HERE IS A CHANCE.

The City Council and the Board of Trade might do worse than take the hint contained in the following extract from an article published in the Sherbrooke (Que.) Daily Record. The firm referred to has found it necessary to greatly extend its works and a site in this district would doubtless suit the ambition of the directors.

"During the past few years the business of the Jencks Machine Shop has increased to such an extent that expansion has become an absolute necessity. At present about four hundred and fifty hands are employed, and the shops as they now stand are too limited for their accommodation. It is believed that with the proposed increase in shop capacity, business would warrant the employment of six hundred hands. The idea of an Ontario location for the shops is not a new one with the company. The necessity for the extension of the works beyond the limits of the present shops, however, has again brought it into prominence and made it a matter for immediate consideration and decision. Some of the directors are of the opinion that the advantages of a location in, say, Niagara district, are such as to make the matter worthy of very serious consideration."

There is no rush on the part of the Liberal press to discuss the ease with which the Sullivan realized $9,000 within a few days on a Government land investment of $250. Conditions under which such things are possible are suspicious.

One thing about the Frank disaster makes it of particular interest to people in this part of the country. The Rev. C. W. Gordon (Ralph Connor) some years ago did missionary work in this district, and, indeed, the scene of "The Sky Pilot" is laid in the foothills in which the ill-fated town of Frank is situated.

HAS A CLEAN RECORD.

Hamilton Spectator.

When one takes into consideration the fact that, ever since Gamey made the charge in the Legislature, the Government has had an army of detectives hunting up his record, and without result, one may be sure that Gamey is an exceptionally clean man.

MRS. GAMEY'S CONFIDENCE.

Montreal Conservator.

We had a pleasant call from Mrs. R. R. Gamey, who returned from Toronto yesterday. She had been in Toronto over a month—a month of that city's most exciting history—but notwithstanding the strain that must have been on her mind during that time, she has stood it remarkably well. All she asks for her husband is fair play, and if he gets that, she has the utmost confidence in his purpose, and his ability to come out on top.

CAPTIVE IN LONDON TOWN.

There comes a ghostly space
Twixt midnight and the dawn,
When from the heart of London Town
The lives of life are drawn.

What time, when spring is true,
The captives underground deep,
Beneath the stones of London Town
Grow troubled in their sleep.

And wake—mild, mellow, deck,
Brambles in bondage sore,
And grasses shut in London Town
A thousand years and more.

Yet, though, beneath the stones
They starve and overheat,
The countless feet pace London Town
Of men who hold their dead.

Like Samson, blind and scorned,
In pain their time they bide,
To seize the roots of London Town
And tumble down its pride.

Flow well by proof and sign,
By men unheard, unseen,
They know that from London Town
The woods once more are green.

But theirs is still to wait,
Deaf to the myriad hum,
Beneath the stones of London Town
A spring that needs must come.

W. G. Cole, in The Spectator.

Human nature is so constituted
That all see and judge better in the Affairs of other men than in their Own.

Eruptions

Dry, moist, scaly, tetter, all forms of eczema or salt rheum, pimples and other cutaneous eruptions proceed from humors, either inherited, or acquired through defective digestion and assimilation.

To treat these eruptions with drying medicines is dangerous.

The thing to do is to help the system discharge the humors, and strengthen it against their return.

Hood's Sarsaparilla permanently cured J. G. Hines, Franka, Ill., of eczema, from which he had suffered for some time; and Miss Alvina Walter, Box 212, Algona, Wis., of pimples on her face and back and chafed skin on her body, by which she had been greatly troubled. There are more testimonials in favor of this great medicine than can be published.

His Son Andy.

Dr. Andrew J. McCosh was in his college days a famous athlete. He could run faster, kick a football further and jump higher than any man in Princeton. Publicly his father, President McCosh, took no notice of Andy's achievements. That he privately rejoiced in his son's prowess the students learned in this way:

Jimmy, as the president was familiarly called, though exceedingly courteous, was given to fits of abstraction in which he entirely forgot his surroundings.

Once at a reception in his home, apparently forgetful of all the world, he was pacing up and down the room with head bent and hands interlocked behind his back. Suddenly he walked up before a young lady and asked:

"How tall are ye?"

In an embarrassed way she replied, "Why, doctor, I'm—I'm 5 feet 2 inches."

"Me son Andy could jump over yer head," said the doctor and immediately resumed his walk.

Are Men Inquisitive?

At Eaton Hall in the days of the late Duke of Westminster there stood on the mantelpiece of the principal guest chamber, dedicated to bachelor visitors, a clock of remarkable design. Below it was placed a card bearing the words, "Please do not touch." A famous politician who chanced to find himself an occupant of the room ventured to ask his noble host after dinner the reason of this prohibitory notice. "I have often contended with my daughters," replied the duke, "that women are more curious than men. To satisfy me of the contrary fact they have placed the clock to which you refer in the bachelors' room with the notice affixed to it. The result has been that every man, with one notable exception, who has occupied that room has asked me the reason of the notice." "And who, may I ask," rejoined the interested guest, "was the notable exception you mention?" "The late Mr. Fawcett, one time postmaster general," was the reply of the duke. "As you know, poor man, he was blind!"

The Stone Houses of Easter Island.

The remarkable stone houses of Easter Island are built against a terrace of earth, or rock, which in some cases forms the back wall of the dwelling. They are built of small slabs of stratified basaltic rock, piled together without cement.

No regularity of plan is shown in the construction of a majority of them. The average measurement is as follows: Height from floor to ceiling, 4 feet 6 inches; thickness of walls, 4 feet 10 inches; width of rooms, 4 feet 6 inches; length of rooms, 12 feet 9 inches; average size of doorways, height, 20 inches; width, 19 inches.

"Scattered consumption" is a good way of describing this disease. It is in fact a real consumption of the little glands under the skin.

Scott's Emulsion cures it. Scott's Emulsion is good for all kinds of consumption but especially good for scrofula.

It heals the sores—but doesn't stop there for the weakness and loss of flesh is the worst part of scrofula.

Recognized Him.

A professor in the Harvard Law school has a memory which plays him false on all matters except points of law. He cannot remember his men. When the school opened last fall a student who prides himself on his reputation with the instructors and makes himself felt by wise questions in the classroom approached the professor and held out his hand.

The professor hesitated a moment over the man's name and finally got it out in triumph.

The student was highly elated and a few minutes after said with proud satisfaction to the professor's secretary:

"The old boy seems to be getting his memory back. He hesitated only a minute before he called me by name. Pretty good after a three months' vacation, isn't it?"

"Why," replied the secretary, "it's funny he hesitated when I had just told him your name. He saw you coming across the hall and asked me who you were."—Youth's Companion.

The Mistletoe Legend.

Here is the real historic reason for a very pretty custom that should never be allowed to die out. It is the good old Christmas custom of kissing a girl when you catch her under the mistletoe.

Here is the legend: "Balder, the Scandinavian god of poetry and eloquence, was protected from the violence of his enemies by the promise of everything in earth, fire and water not to harm him.

"The mistletoe only had not been asked, and Loki, his enemy, discovered this, got another man to shoot him with an arrow formed of it. Then all the gods and goddesses mourned grievously, and at their urgent request Balder was restored to life, because he was greatly loved.

"So to the goddess of love the mistletoe was given to guard and keep, and every one passing underneath the bough she held kissed her as a sign that henceforth the branch was an emblem not of death, but of love."—Kansas City Independent.

A Play Within a Play.

Atkins Lawrence in recalling his appearances with Mary Anderson when she was a youthful aspirant for stellar honors in the east says: "I was getting a little stout in those days, even though I was a young fellow, and, as Claude Melnotte, I had a vest that I had supplied with three powerful buckles in the back. These I would draw as tightly as possible to make myself slim. One night I had just finished my description of my palace and knelt down to say, 'Likest thou the picture, Pauline?' when suddenly all three of the buckles gave way with a snap that set the people in the orchestra tittering. 'What's the matter, Atkins?' Mary Anderson said in a stage whisper. 'My vest buckles have broken,' I answered. 'That's all right,' she replied. 'I was afraid it was your suspenders.'"—Argonaut.

The Principal Weapons of Death.

The fifteen principal causes of death, with the rate per 100,000, made public by the census bureau, are as follows: Pneumonia, 191.9; consumption, 191.5; heart disease, 134; diarrheal diseases, 85.1; kidney diseases, 83.7; apoplexy, 66.6; cancer, 60; old age, 54; bronchitis, 48.3; cholera infantum, 47.8; debility, 45.5; inflammation of the brain and meninges, 41.8; diphtheria, 34.4; typhoid, 33.8; and premature birth, 33.7. Death from all principal causes shows a decrease since 1890, the most notable being consumption, which shows a decrease of 54.9 per 100,000.—Dietetic and Hygienic Gazette.

The Price of Pleasure.

It is hard for a lovely woman to forego the pleasures of the life which she was created to enjoy and adorn. She may have to be busy all day in office or in store, yet she cannot deny herself the social pleasures which are offered her.

But the fatigue is often too great for her, and she suffers from headache and backache as a consequence of over-exertion.

Women who are tired and worn out will find a perfect tonic and nerve in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It cures headache, backache and the other aches and pains to which women are subject. It establishes regularity, dries weak, healing inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

"I am so pleased with your instructions, I hardly know what to say to you for your kind favors," writes Mrs. M. J. Bryant of Loda, Illinois, Co. Ga. "I suffered from much weakness and the lower part of my stomach and palpitation of the heart, that I could hardly lie down at night, but after using three bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and two vials of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, I am like a new woman."

Sick women, especially those suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held strictly private and is confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

The Coming of the Lord

It may be in the evening, when the work of the day is done, And you have time to sit in the twilight and watch the setting sun.

While the long bright day dies slowly o'er the sky, quiet and holy with thoughts of me, When you hear the village children passing along the street;

Among the thronging footsteps may come the sound of my feet, I hear the angels, by the light of the evening star,

When the room is growing dusky like the clouds afar; Let the door be on the latch in your home;

For it may be through the gloaming I will come.

It may be when the midnight is heavy on the land, And the black waves lying dumbly along the shore;

When the moonless night draws close, and the lights are out in the house, And the fires burn low and red, and the watch is ticking loudly beside the bed;

Though you sleep tired out on your couch, still your heart must wake and watch:

Let the door be on the latch, For it may be at the midnight I will come.

It may be at the cock crow when the night is dying slowly in the sky, And the sea looks calm and holy waiting for the dawn of the golden sun, which dawns each night;

When the mists are on the valley shading the vines from chill, And the morning star is fading over the hill;

Behold! I say unto you watch; let the door be on the latch, In your home in the chill before the dawning I may come.

It may be in the morning when the sun is bright and strong, When dew is glittering sharply over the little lawn,

When the waves are laughing loudly along the shore; And the little birds are singing sweetly about the door;

With the long day's work before you, you rise up with the sun, And the neighbors come to talk a little of all that must be done;

But remember I may be the next to come in at the door, To call you from your busy work forever more.

As you work your heart must watch, For the door is on the latch in your room;

And it may be in the morning I will come.

So I am watching quietly every day, whenever the sun shines brightly, I arise and say, surely it is the shining of His face.

And look unto the gates of His bright place beyond the sea; For I know He is coming shortly to summon me;

And when the shadows fall across the window of my room, When I am working at my appointed task,

I lift my head to watch the door and ask, if He is come: And the angels answer sweetly in my home,

Only a few more shadows and He will come.

A Morning Run

Here's a morning program that will put life into a sluggish liver, give you a clear eye, a fresh skin, harden your muscles, and make you feel like a new man:—Rise at 6 a. m. Take a cold sponge bath. Put on your sweater and take a five-mile walk in the country or the park. Get your lungs full of fresh air and your ears full of nature's music, and your head full of healthy thoughts—nothing like a walk for that. Then when you get home have a good rub-down with a coarse towel; make your skin glow. After that you will feel like breakfast. There is no better beginning for the heat of a summer day than that course. Just try it.

THE LOCAL BUDGET

If the demand for the lots on William street in the athletic ground survey continues, there will be none of them left in a short time.

Whitewash brushes lost in the city last week. Finder will be rewarded by leaving them at The Planet Office or with R. J. Danlop, grocer.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Henning of St. John, N. B., were in the city Saturday. Mr. Henning is Wm. Gray & Sons traveller for the Maritime Provinces.

Jack Fleming, formerly of this city, who recently left Boston for the old country, has arrived in Fifehire, Scotland, after a very rough voyage across the Atlantic.

The Campbell property on Stanley avenue has been sold to D. S. Patterson, principal of the C. C. I. Mr. Patterson's present residence will be converted into school rooms.

Roy Benson, of McMaster University, Toronto, is visiting his parents Cross street. On Friday Mr. Benson will leave for Sundridge, Parry Sound District to take charge of the Baptist church for the summer months.

Easy terms of payment, a lot at half its market value, and the choicest building site in the city to-day, makes a strong demand for the lots in the athletic ground survey. Call on D. McLaughlin, Business College, for particulars.

Among the recent arrivals in the business department of the C. B. C. are Miss Louise Stewart, of Morpeth; A. W. Bell, of Ailsa Craig; Sydney J. Stenlake, of Kingsville; Miss Mary McDonald, of Ridgeway, and Miss Mary Rankin, of Dover.

W. E. Rispin, city passenger and ticket agent, is advertising specially low rates to Manitoba, the Canadian Northwest, British Columbia, California, and all coast points, with special train arrangements. Passengers desiring to go to any of these points would do well to write or call on Mr. W. E. Rispin, 115 King street, Chatham.

Alex. Moffatt, cigar maker, lately in the employ of Bowers & Philip here, has returned to Chatham and has taken a position with O'Brien Bros. According to The Chatham Planet Alex. has been filling the hats of the county town lacrosse players about the importation of players here. He is credited with saying, "that the Wallaceburg lacrosse club are practising every night and will put a good team in the field this year. They have secured the services of a goal keeper, named Smith, of Montreal, who played with the Shamrocks last year."—Wallaceburg Herald-Record.

Jos. Baker, charged with stealing two life insurance premiums from the Sun Life Assurance Co., was arraigned Saturday morning before Judge Bell in the County Court. He pleaded guilty and, as he had made restitution and paid the costs, he was allowed to go on suspended sentence. Baker lives at Thamesville. The Crown Attorney, Herbert D. Smith, prosecuted, and W. E. Gundy defended.

Guatemala's Queer Indians.

In Guatemala a race of Indians, the Nahuas, numbering 30,000 souls, live in a gigantic caldron scooped out of the mountain, as it were, in the midst of the Cordillera. Four centuries ago, at the time of the Spanish conquest, they met Alvarado's army outside of their rocky basin and gave it battle for an entire day, after which both they and the Spaniards appear to have been willing to treat for peace, and terms were agreed upon by which the Nahuas promised to recognize the Spanish sovereign, the Spaniards on their part agreeing to leave the Indians alone in the future. And they have been pretty well left alone from the outside world to reside in their principal city, Santa Catalina, which is at the bottom of the bowl-like country, and they look with suspicion upon any one passing through their domain. They govern themselves, although the Guatemalan Government pretends to exercise jurisdiction over them. They do not inter-marry with any of the people surrounding them.

How Liquid Fuel Is Used.

Those who have had no practical experience in the use of liquid fuel are often surprised at the elaborate nature of some of the methods employed to secure sufficient combustion of the oil. One of the latest is the Orde system, which is employed for steamships. First, the oil must be freed as perfectly as possible from water. This is done by preliminary settling in a tank. From the tank the oil is pumped under a pressure of sixty pounds to the inch into the burners. On its way it is heated to a temperature just below its boiling point, and then on emerging from the inner tube of the burner it is met by steam and air heated to 600 degrees or more and thus is entirely converted into vapor. In this form it is sprayed into the flames and consumed.

Get a man into a rut and nothing can drive him into adopting this view of others.

MR. RIDLEY GONE

The quarters of the old Gun Club were the scene of an interesting gathering on Saturday evening, when Fred Ridley, the financial manager of the Club, was presented with a handsome bloodstone ring. All the members of the club were present, when Dr. I. L. Nicholl, with a few well chosen words, made the presentation on behalf of the members. Mr. Ridley sincerely thanked his brother members for their gift.

Mr. Ridley was one of the finest young men in the city. For nearly 19 years he was a salesman with the firm of Thomas Stone & Son, but he severed his connection with that business house a week ago to take a position as manager of a large store at Saskatoon, N. W. T. When leaving the firm of Thomas Stone & Son, Mr. Stone presented him with a handsome meerschaum pipe and his fellow-clerks gave him a beautiful gold locket engraved with his initials. The gift was accompanied by an address cleverly designed and executed by George Embrey.

Mr. Ridley left on the 3.32 p. m. C. P. R. express for Toronto. After spending a few days in that city purchasing stock, Mr. Ridley will leave for his future home at Saskatoon, N. W. T. Mr. Ridley's many warm personal friends in this city bided to see him go, but wish him every success in his new home.

LET JUSTICE BE DONE

At their meeting on Saturday the following resolution was passed by the Kent County Council, as noted in Saturday's Planet:

Moved by Reycraft, seconded by Hornall, "that A. L. Shambleau, the late treasurer, should, in the opinion of the Council, be prosecuted, and that the Crown Attorney be requested to act upon this suggestion."

Some time ago A. L. Shambleau was arrested on two charges of theft and one of forgery. After a number of remands, his bondsmen having effected a settlement with the County Council the prosecution was dropped, no evidence being offered.

This phase of the affair caused a good deal of indignation and adverse comment upon the way this case was dealt with as compared with other cases, the general opinion throughout the County being that the County should have demanded his prosecution.

The question naturally arose as to who was responsible for dropping the prosecution, the County Council, the Crown Attorney or the Government.

It was well known, both by the County Council and Mr. Shambleau's friends, that the Crown Attorney said that he could see no reason for treating this case differently from any other case of theft or forgery, and if the matter were left to him the prosecution would go on. It is safe to say, therefore, that the prosecution was not stayed by him of his own free will.

It is understood that Shambleau's friends represented to the Government that the County Council, by not placing themselves on record as desiring a prosecution and compromising the theft, wished it to be inferred that they did not want a prosecution to be carried on. It is also said among the knowing ones that this, coupled with a big political pull, caused the Crown Attorney to receive instructions to drop the prosecution.

At the time The Planet endeavored to interview Mr. Smith but he, being a public officer, declined to make any statement.

The action of the Council on Saturday, if followed up by their laying an information and furnishing the Crown Attorney with the necessary evidence, relieves the County of the stigma under which it has been resting for the past two months of being a party to the compounding of a felony. It also makes it clear to the Government, no matter what representations have previously been made to them, what the desire and attitude of the County Council now is. It remains to be seen whether a political pull can again interfere with the administration of justice in this County.

No matter what party is in power the people want justice administered without fear or favor and will not stand for any underhand way of getting people relieved of the responsibilities of their misdeeds.

The above we believe to be the facts in this case and we trust that justice will now be done. It is not now the case of the man and his family, but the case of the County Parliament of Kent setting an example to the rest of the community in seeing that the laws of this County are administered as they should be.

It is now up to the Attorney-General's Department to see that the local authorities have a free hand and are not prevented from doing their duty.

Let justice be done.

THE STYLE OF HAIR WORN

Is an important factor to produce a younger and refined face and a well shaped head to any Lady or Gentleman. Prof. Dorenwend, who will be at Chatham, can demonstrate this to anyone calling on him at his Show Rooms. He has Ladies' and Gents' Wigs, Toupees, Bangs, Wavy and Plain Fronts, Switches in every length and shade, that he will gladly adjust on any Lady's head free of charge to prove this. Don't fail to see him at the Garner House, Chatham, on Tuesday, May 5th.

Time draweth wrinkles in the face, but addeth fresh color to a fast friend which neither heat nor cold nor misery, nor place, nor destiny can alter or diminish.

SUGGESTIONS TO TREASURERS

Kent Municipalities are All Reported Upon—Promised Improvements for the City.

Kent Municipalities are All Reported Upon—Promised Improvement for the City.

The report of the Provincial Municipal Auditor for the year 1902 has been issued by the Government in pamphlet form.

The municipalities of the County of Kent were reported upon as having been inspected in November last.

The treasurers of Wallaceburg, Thamesville, Blenheim, Dresden, Howard, Orford, Bothwell and Tilbury East are complimented on the state of their books and the way they are kept.

The treasurers of Chatham Township, Dover, Camden, Zone, Raleigh, Harwich, Ridgetown and Tilbury are subjected to some suggestions as regards the keeping of their books, although no errors are found.

Of the city of Chatham the Government auditor reports:

"This municipality has an assessed value of $3,500,000.00, and a Collector's roll of $99,370.84, of which $6,000 is still due. The receipts for the same year (1901) were $141,852.04, and the payments $138,288.74. Tax rate 25 mills on the $1. The Treasurer receives a salary of $900, and has been in office since 1889. He is a very worthy man, but I cannot compliment him on the way he keeps his books. However, for next year he has promised to do better, which all his friends will be glad to have realized. I found the accounts of the Treasurers of the schools correct."

POURING INTO MACEDONIA.

The Country is Overrun With Turkish Soldiers.

Uskub, Macedonia, via London, May 4.—Sympathies go with interests; that is the key to the race problem in Macedonia. The fact that all the other races of the provinces are in sympathy with the Turk, or, rather, are prejudiced against the Bulgarians, might be taken by loose reasoners as a conclusive argument against their cause, but it would leave out of account the interests of rival peoples. I have tried to explain why the Bulgarians have no friends among Albanians, Greeks and Servians. If Macedonia should secure autonomy, the principal race would appeal to Bulgaria for annexation. Russian statesmen in 1878 were confident that Bulgaria would be practically a province of the great northern power. Lord Beaconsfield thought so also, for in the treaty of Berlin, with the help of Prince Bismarck, he cut off Macedonia, which had a Mediterranean coast, and gave it back into the Sultan's hands. Now that Bulgaria has shown capacity for self-government, the English people would no doubt like to see a strong buffer State south of Russia, to block her way to the sea. On the other hand, Russian diplomacy prefers to keep the Balkan States divided and helpless. If Bulgaria, with Macedonia added to her domain, becomes a powerful State, she will no longer be a mechanical instrument in the hands of the Czar. Russia now controls her Ministry, but the people are becoming bitter and resentful, and are eager to work out the salvation of Macedonia and their own.

The railway lines are a sight. At the stations troops, troops, troops! You pass through a file of them to the officer who examines you tescarries, without which you cannot move a mile anywhere. You march out to your hotel followed by soldiers if, as a newspaper correspondent, you happen to incur suspicion as a spy. Patrols pass up and down the crannies from section to section. Soldiers stand sentry within earshot of one another. On much of the railway line blockhouses are constructed; in some sections similar structures are building, and on the remainder tents are pitched, and temporary brush huts are raised. The flagman carries his weapon and his military escort. Troop trains are twice as frequent as other trains, and behind every freight or passenger train trail several cars filled with new recruits or seasoned reinforcements. In the towns soldiers are stationed every fifty yards; at night they are massed more closely. Patrols parade continually. Every day regiments march through the streets, with bands playing and colors flying. The border is now impassable except in a few places, which, from natural environment, can never be closed. It is said that from 80,000 to 300,000 troops are in Macedonia. The figures, like all those which one obtains in the Orient, may be untrustworthy, but at least I have seen the conditions which I am describing. In addition to the regular troops, there are the bashi-bazouks—a comprehensive term embracing all who take up arms against the Christian population—and they are an important reserve whenever a fight takes place.

Sugar-coated compliments are often bitter inside.

She says: "I wish to add my testimony to the many others who have spoken so highly as to the unflinching virtues of Burdock Blood Bitters. I was all run down, had no appetite, lost all ambition, could not sleep much and had terrible headache and backache, and my food did not digest properly. I saw B.B.B. advertised, so concluded to give it a trial, thinking if it did no good it could do no harm. But after using one bottle I began to feel better, and by the time I had used three bottles I was feeling like a new person. I am so glad there is such a remedy provided for suffering humanity, and cannot praise it enough for I think there is no medicine like it on the market."

MARTINIQUE
By MARY WOOD

Copyright, 1902, by the
S. S. McClure Company

Under the brilliant southern stars the white camellias gleamed waxlike. Between the glossy leaves a slender figure leaned over the low white wall that skirted the garden. It seemed a spirit of the night, that face shadowed by dusky hair, gazing down with troubled eyes into the passionate one raised to her own.

"Camille," he whispered, "mia bella, must I still implore you? It is that you do not love me, cruel one."

He seized her hands imperiously as if to draw her to him. They trembled in his hot grasp as her voice sighed:

"Filipe, it is you who are cruel. You know—the granpere is so old. He has none but me. It would kill him if I should fly with you."

The girl's charming patois betrayed the daughter of France, while her deep, mysterious eyes were the heritage of an Indian beauty—a quadroon girl, but none the less vaunted as the heiress of old M. Le Moine and the belle of St. Pierre, where the color line is but loosely drawn. Her granpere planned great things for her when they should go to Paris in the fall. She was so beautiful; a prince perhaps, or at least a count.

And she? She had already given her heart to the keeping of Filipe, he who only owned a small lugger plying between Martinique and Guadeloupe.

She loved him, and yet she answered all his prayers with "Wait!" Filipe could not understand it. As the night wind, perfumed with the scent of a hundred flowers, caressed her cheek his heart was suddenly filled with a passionate jealousy. She was so beautiful, and she loved him alone, and yet the fates had placed her high above him, so that, as now, he could barely touch the tips of her delicate fingers with his lips. The hot blood of Spain that lent color to his swarthy cheek and fire to his dark eye could not brook such thwarting.

"Camille," he cried impetuously, "let me again implore you! Come with me. The white sails of my Santa Maria will bear you safely to Basse Terre.

And there I have a friend, a good padre, who will make us one. Come, my flower."

His voice had softened to infinite tenderness. Camille leaned heavily against the wall, and her words were broken by longing as she whispered, "I cannot."

A hot tear splashed down upon his hand, but he drew it away roughly. "Enough of tears!" he cried bitterly. "They cost you nothing, while I—I am eating my heart out for you. But you have said 'No' once too often. I swear to you"—and he raised his hand and pointed to the distant mountain peak half cloaked in vapor—"I swear to you that your sleeping Pelee shall wake to life before I again seek for your love!"

Camille gave a cry of anguish, but it fell on ears all unheeding. Filipe strode down the road toward the quay with never a backward glance. The girl's face was as waxen as her name-sake's, and like a rudely broken flower she sank on her knees against the wall. Above her sobs came the rumble of Pelee's voice, but she did not hear.

It was at Basse Terre that the news came to Filipe—came in a swift succession of horrible rumors, each more terrifying than the last. Pelee had awakened. And St. Pierre? No one knew.

And Camille? Filipe prayed in his heart when his dry lips refused to move. So benumbed were his senses from anguish and suffering that the memory of his oath had no longer power to move him. The Santa Maria was headed directly for the port of St. Pierre. Her decks were strewn with ashes and stones, her sails and rigging torn and broken, yet gallantly she rode this unknown sea of dirty saffron color, whose sullen water was cumbered with wreckage. She had met huge tidal waves that swept away her crew, for she could not fall the hand of the man at the helm. The pilot's eyes, bloodshot by long hours of vigil, were fixed on the blazing heaps which alone remained to tell the story of St. Pierre.

Swollen bodies were now added to the wreckage on the water. Filipe had sunk on his knees, as if fearful of recognizing a beloved face among them. But the Santa Maria, driven on by a sudden breeze, headed straight for the quay that lay nearest to where the white wall still showed amid the stricken garden.

Hardly conscious of having made the landing, he staggered up the walk and leaped the wall. A groan escaped his lips. There, amid the blackened stems of the camellias, lay a body. It was burned to a crisp far beyond recognition, but the lover could not doubt. Around was silence, desolation, death. And here lay Camille.

"She was watching for me—for the heartless one," he muttered.

Then sudden fury seized him. "I shall not leave you here, my flower one!" he cried. "There must be places on this accursed island still untouched by fire. I will lay you to sleep there under fragrant blossoms, and then perhaps the saints will ease me of my misery."

Stripping off his coat, he wrapped it tenderly about the body, hiding the face, and bore it down to the quay.

Again the favoring wind sprang up, and the Santa Maria crept slowly down the bay, and still the voice of Pelee thundered from the peak wreathed in forked lightnings. Her ashes fell ceaselessly on the shrouded figure at the foot of the mast and on the head of the pilot. His hands and face were blackened and burned, and his eyes were blinded by smoke and dust, but his hand still kept the helm and the Santa Maria her way.

The Dixie's deck was crowded with anxious men, for were they not already entering the great zone of ashes that surrounded the fated island? Through the gloom came the gleam of a sail. "Ship ahoy!" brought no answer.

"Probably refugees and too dazed to speak," one man said commiseratingly. "No; not dazed—only dead," another replied, for Pelee had added another victim to her list, and the saints had released Filipe from his misery. Perhaps—who knows?—he found his flower one again in all her radiant beauty, where camellias ever bloom.

GLAD NEWS

Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured his Lumbago and he is a Sound Man

Granton Man Shouts the Good News That There is a Cure for Kidney Disease and That is Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Granton, Ont., May 3.—(Special).—There is no uncertain sound about the statement of John Fletcher, of this place. "I am glad to let the public know that Dodd's Kidney Pills have cured me of Lumbago and now I am perfectly sound," that is the way he puts it. Questioned as to the particulars of his cure Mr. Fletcher said:

"I had been troubled for a year with Lumbago and Kidney Troubles. My urine was of a very bad color and I could get nothing to help me. I consulted doctors but they could not help me and I was not in a very cheerful frame of mind when I decided to try Dodd's Kidney Pills."

"But it was a lucky day for me when I did. Almost from the first they gave me relief and I was soon entirely cured."

"Yes, my Lumbago is gone; my Kidney Complaint is gone and Dodd's Kidney Pills did it all."

Dodd's Kidney Pills never fail to cure Kidney Complaint, whether that complaint takes the form of Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Dropsy, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lame Back, etc.

Her ashes fell ceaselessly on the shrouded figure at the foot of the mast and on the head of the pilot. His hands and face were blackened and burned, and his eyes were blinded by smoke and dust, but his hand still kept the helm and the Santa Maria her way.

The Dixie's deck was crowded with anxious men, for were they not already entering the great zone of ashes that surrounded the fated island? Through the gloom came the gleam of a sail. "Ship ahoy!" brought no answer.

"Probably refugees and too dazed to speak," one man said commiseratingly. "No; not dazed—only dead," another replied, for Pelee had added another victim to her list, and the saints had released Filipe from his misery. Perhaps—who knows?—he found his flower one again in all her radiant beauty, where camellias ever bloom.

A woman can look more completely disgusted than a man.

A CORNER WARDROBE.

One Specially Scaled For Houses Where Room Space is Limited.

An ingenious manufacturer has recently evolved the corner wardrobe design here reproduced with the idea in mind of meeting the situation where economy of space is the thing to be considered. In a flat, for instance, where every inch of space is valuable, such a wardrobe might effectually solve the problem concerning closet room, for what apartment dweller ever had sufficient closet room?

In houses, too, where room space is limited this contrivance will be found especially advantageous. The wardrobe is not difficult of construction and ought to be an easy problem for the ordinary handy man about the house.

The piece of furniture in the sketch is of weathered oak, with hinges and door handles of hammered pewter, but the idea is one that might successfully be carried out in any desired variety of wood and ornamentation and toned down to severe simplicity as taste may dictate. The interior of the wardrobe might be fitted up one part with hooks, one part with shelves and one part for packing away purposes, while the lower part for drawers may be enlarged or modified to suit the will of the possessor.

Teach Your Daughter to Work.

Any American girl is possibly and probably going to need to fall back upon her own resources some time. The ups and downs of fortune are too certain and too conspicuous to need pointing out. To bring up a girl without any training in a useful occupation is not simply imprudent and foolish, but it is wicked. Feminine character needs independence to make and keep it sweet and perfect. The darkest tragedies of life grow out of the ignorance, helplessness and dependence of women. Courage, training in work, independence of character and self reliance—these, with high ideals of womanhood for inspiration, are what every girl needs. Only through intelligent work can the highest character be attained, and the growth of character is the whole purpose of this school which we call "the world."—Woman's Home Companion.

Never Kill Rats With Poison.

To administer poison to rats in the house in which human beings dwell is foolish. It is criminal. Let the thieving little beast be doctored with a death dealing dose of arsenic, strychnine or prussic acid, and in the throes of approaching dissolution he doubles himself up in a narrow space between the walls or in some close corner in the dark cellar and dies. In a few hours the horrible stench of his decomposing body permeates the atmosphere of the house, and in a day or two the atmosphere is saturated with mephitic gases that indicate other sources of contagion that may cause death. When war is made upon the rat in the house, let him be caught in a trap. Any trap that is workable will do.

The Solecism Box.

The children of our household, says a writer in a magazine, take a great deal of interest in what is known in the family as "the solecism box." This is a small box into which any one may drop a slip of paper recording an error of speech that has come under his notice. These notes are not made personal at all, although at the weekly opening of the box some of us readily recognize and acknowledge our mistakes. The fear of being "put in the box," I believe, makes even the grown-ups a little more careful than we should otherwise be.

Children and Late Hours.

Put children to bed early. If you have to look after your children yourself don't let them sit up late as a rule on any terms. You need and ought to have some time to yourself for rest and recreation, and it will be bad for the children as well as yourself if you don't get it. The important thing is, get your thoughts directed into fresh channels or in time you will find it difficult to talk or think of anything except the house and the children.

Lamp Wicks.

If a lampwick proves troublesome and will not move up and down easily, try drawing a thread or two from one side. In turning out a lamp do not blow straight down on it, but across it, first turning the wick far down. When trimming a wick do not cut off the brown tinder, as it helps in relighting; rub a cloth over it to remove stray bits.

To Poach Eggs in a Ball.

To poach eggs in a ball is a knack known to all clever cooks. The water is heated to boiling and then rapidly stirred till a small whirlpool is produced, in the hollow heart of which the egg is cleverly dropped. The motion of the water crystallizes the white instantly into a circular covering for the unbroken yolk.

A NEWSPAPER ENJOINED

Court Orders it Not to Publish an Advertisement.

Toronto, May 4.—An important injunction affecting labor unions has been granted by Mr. Justice Britton on the application of George A. Rudd & Co. and Adams Bros., harnessmakers, of this city. There is a strike on, and some of the employees of these firms are out, and an advertisement was inserted in The Mail and Empire as follows:—"Harness and collar makers keep away from Toronto and Toronto Junction; trouble on." Acting for the two firms, Mr. Geo. H. Watson, K.C., applied for an interim injunction restraining The Mail and Empire from publishing this advertisement, and Mr. Justice Britton granted an injunction till Thursday next. The newspaper, it is understood, will not oppose the application, and it will remain therefore for the labor unions to oppose the granting of an injunction.

The chronic invalid is often suffering from fatty degeneration of the imagination.

THREE HUNDRED DEAD.

Result of the Disturbances at Salonica.

Paris, May 2.—A despatch received here from Salonica says that the police there, in their search for persons suspected of being concerned in the dynamite outrages, discovered that the revolutionists had mined the principal districts of the town, with the intention of blowing them up simultaneously, but circumstances forced them to act before their preparations were finished, and the planned disaster was averted. The Turkish population, however, is dangerously inflamed. It is estimated that three hundred persons are dead as the result of the outbreaks. One thousand arrests have been made.

A complete bomb manufacturing plant has been discovered in a shoemaker's shop, communicating by an underground passage with the Ottoman Bank. It is feared that the presence of the three Austrian warships, which arrived here yesterday, will encourage the Bulgarians to irritate the Turks, who up to the present time have behaved well.

LOSS BY FOREST FIRES.

DISTRICT NORTH OF SHARBOT LAKE RAVAGED.

Bridges, Lumber and Cordwood Burned—Many Narrow Escapes—A Disastrous Fire at Ilderton—Forest Fires in Quebec Dying Out.

Kingston, May 4.—Disastrous forest fires have been raging in the north country, north of Sharbot Lake, since Wednesday last, destroying thousands of acres of fine standing timber, cut lumber, devastating homesteads and doing incalculable damage. The loss cannot be estimated. Farmers have had the results of their life's work swept away in a few minutes in the mad rush of the devouring element. Many families have rendered homeless and destitute, and hardship abounds on all sides. Herds of cattle, horses and other farm stock, unable to escape, were swallowed up by the flames. Many narrow escapes are recorded, but fortunately no lives were lost.

The fire started at a point north-west of Plevna, where farmers were clearing land by burning underbrush. A stiff breeze sprang up unexpectedly, and carried the flames into the tall timbers, where they were soon beyond human control. With a noise resembling the roar of the mighty Niagara, the flames swept onward, destroying everything in its path. So quickly did it advance that farmers and their families were forced to flee to open fields in order to save their lives. When the fire had passed the families returned to where their homes had stood, and find nothing left but ashes. The village of Vennachar was cleaned out, and practically wiped from the face of the map. Fears are also entertained for the safety of Plevna, as no late word has been received. Where once prosperity reigned, now is all desolation—burned farms, blackened and charred timbers, ruined prospects and saddened hearts. The path of the fire covered a wide area, and nothing destructible escaped. The smoke was so dense that people for miles around suffered from its effects.

Peter Lee of the Iron City House, Omphah, had a thrilling experience. He had driven up the country a few miles to secure the services of a girl to attend his sick wife. On the way back the two encountered the fire. Before they could escape they found themselves surrounded. The girl wrapped her head in a shawl, leaving one ear exposed, unknown to the flames, so badly burned that at least half of it will be lost. Putting the whip to the frightened horse, Mr. Lee hoped to escape through the wall of flame which almost surrounded him and his charge. A way dashed the horse, but, unfortunately, the trunk of a fallen oak obstructed the roadway, and when the rig struck this the horse broke loose, leaving the vehicle and its occupants behind. Mr. Lee was dragged over the dashboard, but escaped serious injury. His face and hands, however, were badly burned. The horse's tail was burned off and its ears and sides were badly singed. The two people had a narrow escape from death.

The Rathbun Company lost a large quantity of cordwood and logs. At Folgate Station Isaac Allen, lumber merchant, had 60,000 feet of lumber entirely destroyed. His lumber camp below Ardcho, on the Mississippi River, was wiped out of existence. Those in the camp at the time were forced to take to logs and push out into the stream in order to save themselves. The long bridge over the Mississippi, below Ardcho, was burned to the water's edge, and communication between the two shores at that point is now maintained by use of skiffs. This bridge was nearly half a mile long. Another long bridge at Landreaux's, near Plevna, was also destroyed. Mr. Landreaux's home was wiped out, and he lost everything, saving nothing more than the clothes he wore. A farmer farther north, towards Renfrew, had his farm swept clean of everything that stood on it. Sixty head of cattle were also lost. Many farms were visited by the devouring element and the houses or barns destroyed.

To show how quickly the flames swept inflammable things away, the five Kingston travellers say that on their way out from Omphah they passed a mill that was in full running order. Fifteen minutes later, when they were fleeing from the fast following fire, they again passed the mill site, but this time the mill was nothing but a heap of ruins.

Many highways have been rendered impassable by falling trees, and traffic will in consequence be much delayed until the roads can be opened up again.

The loss created by the fire is beyond estimate. Thousands of acres of finely timbered land have been laid waste. It was one of the severest catastrophes that has ever visited this section of the country.

London, Ont., May 4.—A disastrous fire in Ilderton that broke out early Saturday morning for a time threatened the destruction of the village. It started in the grain store of Squire Patrick, which was destroyed together with the stables of Patrick's Hotel, with their contents, and the general store of Postmaster J. H. McRae. Some of the contents of Mr. McRae's store and living apartments were saved, but the loss will amount to several thousand dollars. The store was valued at $3,000 and the stock at $3,000, partly insured in the Economical, the National, the Atlas and the London Mutual. Loss on stables and grain store not given. According to some estimates, the total loss is $5,000. But for the splendid work of the villagers, women as well as men, who pluckily fought the flames, the destruction would have been widespread, as a brisk breeze was blowing. Shawinigan Falls, Que., May 4.—The fire in the bush at this place subsided Saturday, and all danger is now past. There was no damage done to any buildings, the fire being confined to the mountain.

THE KING'S MOVEMENTS.

CLOSING INCIDENTS OF HIS MAJESTY'S VISIT TO PARIS.

Reviewed Many Troops—Brigade of Cavalry Furnished a Stirring Climax—A Beautiful Cup Presented by the Municipality.

Paris, May 4.—The picturesque features of King Edward's visit to Paris are practically over. The incidents of yesterday were comparatively quiet, but they were still expressive of the renewal of the Anglo-French good will. His Majesty, in the morning, took a short stroll on his way to church. He seemed to enjoy mingling in the throng of church-goers, who were clad in bright spring attire. King Edward wore a dark grey morning suit, and a high hat. He carried a cane in his left hand and walked briskly with Sir Edmund K. Monson, the British Ambassador. Crowds of people gathered at the British Embassy and along the thoroughfares where his Majesty passed, and gave mild demonstrations of goodwill.

In the afternoon King Edward planted a chestnut tree in the garden of the British Embassy, in commemoration of his visit, and received the orphaned pensioners of the British Institution, the corner-stone of which he laid when he was Prince of Wales. His Majesty also found time to discuss the purchase of a new auto.

To-night a gala dinner was given at the British Embassy to President Loubet. This was followed by a concert by the leading artists of the opera. The decoration of a number of French officials by King Edward is announced. The members of the King's party have received the decoration of the Order of the Legion of Honor.

A dramatic climax of the review was the furious charge of the whole brigade of cavalry. It was a blood-stirring sight as the solid line of horsemen swept straight toward the King's tribune, the cavalymen yelling and brandishing their sabres and terminating with an abrupt halt in unbroken column immediately in front of the tribune.

The King rose and bowed his acknowledgments of the salutes of the commanders, and addressed words of congratulation to President Loubet on the splendid discipline and appearance of the troops.

Later King Edward was driven to the Hotel de Ville, where he was welcomed as the guest of the municipality. The crowds everywhere continued their friendly manifestations. At the Hotel de Ville King Edward made his first formal speech in France. He referred to the beauty of Paris, and assured the officials he would not soon forget his visit to this charming city or the bounteous reception accorded him. The King then drank some champagne from an exquisite cup presented to him by the municipality. It is of crystal, chased with gold, and represents two sirens, with arms entwined, offering a cup. The Mayor expressed his best wishes for the health of Queen Alexandra and the other members of the royal family, for which the King heartily thanked him.

MORE MEN QUITTING WORK.

Refusing to Work With Non-Unionists.

Toronto, May 4.—The local strike situation assumed greater proportions on Saturday, and the indications are that there will be a general tie-up of the building trade this week. The fact that the bricklayers, stonemasons and stonecarvers laborers have quit work on account of the builders' laborers' strike has materially strengthened the position of the strikers, who have refused to compromise with the employers. On May Day the stonemasons, the stonecarvers and the stone setters returned to work as usual, but on Saturday many of them laid aside their tools, because several employing contractors endeavored to fill the places of the striking laborers and carpenters with men who could not produce the union card. As a consequence of this action the situation in the building trades has assumed a more serious phase, and in some cases private builders have cancelled their contracts with the contractors, their engaged labor, and are proceeding to complete their structures under their own supervision.

When the roll was called in the different meetings on Saturday about 1,000 men answered their names. In addition to this there are about 500 bricklayers, 200 stonemasons and stonemasons' laborers, 100 city teamsters and about 200 asphalt paviors, who are taking a holiday, with the prospect of many more to-day if a speedy settlement is not reached.

"The situation of the strike is unchanged," was the report handed out at the meeting of the builders' laborers in Occident Hall. It was reported that several stonemasons had, besides, their own duties, performed those of laborers, which is considered a serious offence among the craft, and a committee was appointed to deal with the matter.

A SAD FATALITY.

Little Boy Shot by Father While Hiding Behind a Stump.

Bloomfield, May 4.—A sad accident occurred Friday noon at the farm of Mr. Geo. Martin, Ridge Row. Mr. Martin had recently shot a number of woodchucks, and while at work thought he saw another hiding behind a stump some distance from him. Mr. Martin ran for his gun, but no sooner had he fired than he heard a scream from his little four-year-old son, whom he had shot through the back of the head. Medical aid was immediately obtained, but the child only survived a few hours.

NAKED DOUKHOBORS.

IMMIGRATION AGENTS DISPERSE A MEETING.

Three Delegates From Yorkton Attending a Pilgrimage in a North Saskatchewan Village Sent Home Mounted Police in Charge of Other Parties.

Bopadano, North Saskatchewan, May 4.—Immigration agents burst into large meetings consisting of several hundred delegates from four Doukhobor villages here yesterday, while three delegates from Yorkton were endeavoring to make an uprising, and were preparing to lead a pilgrimage. Under the influence of the excitement one hundred members of the settlements decided they would release all cattle, cease using the product of animals, and go in search of Jesus. Early in the morning a service was held near the village, which was attended by men and women in a nude state. Serious results were expected from the outbreak, as seeding operations are just beginning, and Agent Speers ordered the meeting to disperse, and forced the three leaders from Yorkton to return. They refused to ride behind horses, and started walking over the trail to Saskatoon, and will be taken by train to their homes to-morrow. The entire village gathered to see them leave. One hundred men on the other side of the river are being taken home under escort of the mounted police.

Winnipeg, May 3.—A despatch from Lovell's Ferry, elbow of the Saskatchewan, says:—Thanks to the promptness of the officials of the Immigration Department, what threatened to be another Doukhobor crusade was this afternoon nipped in the bud. Three agitators from the Yorkton colony, pilgrims in the movement last winter, have been for twenty days in the neighborhood, agitating for another crusade. They brought disciples from Trois-Rivières and other villages on the north of the Saskatchewan, to the number of 60. A sort of religious service was held at 4 o'clock this morning, at which four men and four women stripped naked. This afternoon the three leaders crossed the river to their village, and at 3 o'clock had a conference. Agent Speers broke into the gathering and made the three leaders march to Saskatoon, and others back to the villages. The Mounted Police are now walking them back to their villages, and no further uprising is feared.

TO CONTRACTORS

Contractors wishing to tender for the new Roman Catholic Church to be erected in Thamesville, will find plans and specifications at the residence of Rev. D. Foster, of Bothwell, and also at the office of Moore & Henry, Architects, London.

FRANK ABANDONED.

Great Fissures Discovered in Turtle Mountain.

Ottawa, May 4.—A message from Mr. Wm. Pearce at Frank to the Deputy Minister of the Interior, received last evening, reads:—"Three men who visited the top of Turtle Mountain returned, giving alarming reports of fissures some ten feet in width, five hundred feet deep and extending along the mountain one thousand feet. These fissures are several hundred feet in the rear of the present face of the cliff. As a result of the report a general stampede from Frank is probable. Practically no one is left here to-night."

Another message from Mr. Pearce, which came to-day, states that he had left Frank on his way back to Calgary, the Territorial authorities having assumed control. On Friday the sum of $500 was wired to Mr. Pearce, to be applied to the relief of those requiring pressing aid, and a like amount was sent yesterday.

Frank, N.W.T., May 3.—The list of dead has reached 75, consisting of four miners at the entrance to the mine, nineteen top laborers, 27 women and children, and 25 railway laborers. In order to ascertain just what the chances are for a further landslide two experts will ascend 3,000 feet to the peak of Turtle Mountain and make an examination of it.
