A Denver paper professes to think it marvellous that a man whose brains were knocked out is still living. If he were out this way, he would not be only living, but he would be holding some important office.

Some one says Pocahontas was a myth. Perhaps she was; but he cannot make us believe that John Smith was also a myth, because he still lives, and we have seen him.

Mrs. Ramsbotham dropped off asleep at church last Sunday evening. She says she supposes it was on account of the soothing effect of the full choral service.

It is said there are only four hundred of the cedars of Lebanon left. Some one should be setting out a new crop.

A correspondent wants to know how "burnt umber" is made. Very likely the makers have to cucumber to get the burnt article.

A little boy remarked: "I like grandpa because he is such a gentlemanly man; he always tells me to help myself to sugar."

If a two-wheeled vehicle is a bicycle, and a three-wheeled a tri-cycle, it does not follow that the one-wheeled is an icicle. It is a wheelbarrow.

There are thirteen sardine canning factories on the coast of Maine, and anything which can be packed into a box four inches long is called a sardine.

A recipe for lemon pie vaguely adds: "Then sit on the stove and stir constantly." Just as if anybody could sit on a stove without stirring constantly.

Things one would wish to have expressed differently: Musical maiden—"I hope I am not boring you, playing so much!" Enamored youth—"Oh, no! Pray, go on! I'd so much sooner hear you play than talk!"

An aesthetic butcher gazed on a beef carcass just opened, put up his hands and murmured: "What a beautiful interior!"

The man who takes well is a policeman.

The game literary men shoot—The reed bird.

A love letter is not the only writ of attachment.

The man who had a fist thru t at his nose said that he was shaken to the center.

The farmer that "ran rapidly through his property" wore a red shirt, and had his brindle bull behind him.

Webster was an aesthetic, because he enthusiastically says in his dictionary that the verb "speak" is too utter.

"Six Girls" is the title of the latest novel. It is expected that a sequel, entitled "Our Broken Gate," will be issued soon.

The lawyer and the doctor are the real highwaymen on the road of life. The one takes your money and the other your life.

Free as the mountain air: "Excuse the liberty I take," as the convict remarked when he escaped from the State prison.

"Tis said the oyster frequently get: into a stew, but it has never been as yet reported that he jumped out of the frying-pan int. the fire.

Tobacconists have discovered that a little red label on a five-cent cigar makes it worth ten cents. Smokers have not yet discovered the fact.

Lawyer to client: "Good-bye, and keep your own counsel, Pat." Client: "Sure, an' 'tis keepin' him I am iver since I wint to law."

"When Peter led the first crusade
A Norseman wooed an Arab maid,"
Beneath the tropic moon;
And as they cooed together there
It makes one think of silverware—
Namely—a dessert spoon.

The rocks in the cradle of the deep are all at the bottom.

No matter how actors may quarrel or have petty jealousies, they always make up before they go on the stage.

A cow out in a pasture got a big bull-thistle tangled in the end of her tail the other day, and every time she switched her tail it sent her dancing across the field in a style so funny that a hired man, who was sitting on a fence, got to laughing so hard he fell off and broke his leg.

First lady—"Dear me, I never saw Mrs. Potts look so pale." Second lady—"Nor I; she's probably been out in the wet without an umbrella."

A new style of door mat has just been devised for editorial sanctuaries. It bears the woven inscription "Come again," and is intended to lie outside the door.

Army officers say there is no danger of a Crow war. Crows never go to war without cause.

"What sort of a servant have you now?" inquired a lady of a friend she was visiting. "Oh, splendid," she replied. "He's a Chinaman, and is so methodical in his habits that I know just what he is doing at any hour in the day. He is now probably putting away the dishes and tidying up the kitchen. Come and see if I'm right." She led the way to the kitchen, quietly opened the door, and there, in the middle of the floor, sat John Chinaman, washing his feet in the dish-pan.

Daisy, hearing the sunset-gun for the first time, asked her sister Bessie what it was. Bessie says, "Don't you know, it is the sun going down with a bang."

"Were you guarded in your conduct while in New York?" said a father to his son, who had just returned from a visit to that city. "Yes, sir; part of the time by two policemen."

Assistant Sculptor Wanted—One who is quick and correct at figures preferred.

A young man in Des Moines loved a girl so wildly that he wrote her fifteen letters a day for five weeks. At the end of that time he was killed with a green tomato.

It takes only thirteen minutes to load an elephant on a railroad train, while it takes twenty for any sort of a woman to kiss her friends good-bye and lose the check for her trunk.

Many men who claim that the world owes them a living, appear to have very poor success collecting the debt.

What is the difference between a popular swinging bed and a wooden ham? One is a hammock and the other a mock ham.

The New Haven "Register" gives the following excellent directions as to how to tell a good onion: "Hire your best girl to eat it raw, and then call upon her. If the onion is good your stay will be short."

Somebody heard a Boston girl say: "I think he looked like a perfect raving angel in his uniform! He was awful heavenly." She got introduced to him, however, and found him so lacking in culture that baked pork and beans choked him. She would not go back on the angel business, but qualified it by dubbing him Lucifer.

Jones, who is engaged in the real estate business, was riding along one day, when he saw this sign: "This farm for sale." Seeing a woman pick up an apron full of chips at the wood-pile, he politely asked her when the farm was to sale! "Just as soon as the man comes along who can raise the wind."

"It was terribly oppressive in the theatre last night," said Brown; "it was so hot that the blood all rushed to my head."

"Well, it found plenty of room there, didn't it?" replied the unsympathetic Fogg.

A Suezical Course—Mrs. Muddlecrop has no patience with that "Mounser Lesseps." "The silly man," she says, "deserves all his trouble for having gone and dug his canal in such a savage place as that Egypt. Why ever couldn't he stop at home like a sensible man and dig it in France."

An editor received a letter from a subscriber asking him to publish a cure for apple tree worms. He replied that he could not suggest a cure until he knew what ailed the worms.

If you want to win the good graces of a matronly lady and have her ever after speak of you as that "polite, pleasant gentleman," innocently mistake her for her very youthful and charming daughter. It's a safe scheme and a sure one.

"I remember," said Brewer, "I remember two young men who used to board at my house—they are both dead now." The crowd broke into a meaning smile, and Brewer wondered why they didn't wait for the funny part of the story to come.

"What is the moon good for?" asked the teacher. "What are its principal uses?" And the smart bad boy looked up from the foot of the class and said: "To rest the gas companies."

A good way to restore a man apparently drowned, is first to dry him thoroughly inside and out, and then clap a speaking trumpet to his ear, and inform him that his mother-in-law is dead.

Because a certain doctor of our city helped the sufferings of a consumptive under his care, for which he received a good round sum, ever after, in speaking of it, he always smiled over his cough-fee.

"How to treat babies during the summer," is the subject of a long article in a Western paper. To ask them up to take a drink is absurd, and other treatment is recommended.

At Alton, Ill., a preacher asked all Sunday school children to stand up who intend to visit the wicked, soul-destroying circus. All but a lame girl stood up.

Sunday School Teacher: "When father and mother abandon you who then will take you in?" Bright Pupil: "The perleece, sir."

Some traits run in families. Shakespeare's father, being illiterate, made his remark. So did Shakespeare.

RECEIPTS.

SAGO SOUP.—Take three pounds of lean beef, a slice of lean ham, and lay them in a stewpan with a lump of butter, draw the gravy gently, add two quarts of water and a sliced onion which has been browned by frying in fresh butter,—add a bunch of sweet herbs, six cloves, a blade of mace, a teaspoonful of allspice and one of black pepper whole, stew until the soup is rich and brown, then remove the meat and strain the soup clear, put in a clean stewpan, thicken to good consistency with sago.

HESIAN SOUP.—Cut into slices three pounds of shin of beef, lay it in a stewpan, put in three onions, five carrots, eight potatoes, a pint and a quarter of split peas, three heads of celery, some whole pepper, salt; pour in by degrees seven quarts of water, stew until reduced to half. If the soup alone be required, strain off the vegetables, if not, serve as cooked.

SPRING SOUP may be made of a knuckle of veal—allowing a quart of water to each pound—with four calves' feet, a little cold ham, or salt and cayenne, simmered slowly for several hours. Add then two quarts of young green peas and a pint of asparagus tops, previously boiled with the juice of spinach and other green herbs or vegetables, and a quarter of a pound of butter rolled in flour. Boil up together and serve.

SUMMER SOUP made of mutton neck or shoulder, simmered as above in the same proportion of water with sliced turnips, carrots and onions, a quart of Lima beans, and parsley, sweet marjoram and other herbs; green corn is an excellent addition late in summer, or cauliflower and a few pickled nasturtions; also small dumplings mixed with egg and butter; simmer the vegetables till done.

AUTUMN SOUP.—Take six pounds of lean beef cut up, a quart of water to a pound. Add the back of a ham, boil and skim it, and put in two quarts ochras, cut in small slices, an onion sliced, two quarts ripe tomatoes, cut up, one quart Lima beans; simmer four hours slowly, add the green corn grated off eight ears, season the soup and boil until the meat is in rags and the soup thoroughly done. Dried ochras may be used in winter.

WINTER SOUP.—Take a shin or leg of beef, cut in pieces, salt and let it stand all night; next morning put it on with water, a quart to a pound, season with salt, pepper and mace; simmer and skim well. When boiling put in a head of cabbage cut fine, twelve carrots sliced; a bunch of sweet herbs and parsley; add six turnips and three potatoes and an onion, all sliced; skim off and simmer slowly until the boys come home.

RICE SOUP.—Take white stock, season it, and either whole rice boiled until tender or the flour of rice may be used; one-half pound will be sufficient for two quarts of broth.

VENISON SOUP (English).—Take four pounds of freshly killed venison cut off from the bones and one pound of ham in small slices. Add an onion minced and black pepper to your taste. Put only as much water as will cover it and stew it gently for an hour, keeping the pot closely covered. Then skim it well and pour in a quart of boiling water. Add a head of celery cut into small pieces and three blades of mace. Boil it gently two and a half hours; then put in one-fourth of a pound of butter, divided into small pieces and rolled in flour, and add half a pint of port or Madeira wine. Let it boil a quarter of an hour longer and send it to table with the meat in it.

Or.—Take a breast of venison, cut it in small pieces and stew it gently in brown gravy soup. Serve it with roots cut in dice and french beans in diamonds, add two glasses of port wine when first put on. The head of the deer chopped in pieces and the flesh stewed to a jelly, is also an excellent addition to the soup.

VENISON SOUP (American).—Cut all the meat off a forequarter and shoulder of venison, put it into a pot with two gallons of water, a large onion, a head of celery and some salt. Simmer it very slowly for forty-eight hours. Break all the bones and put them in an earthen pot just covered with water; add a little salt, clove, mace and red pepper. Place the pot in the oven set in a larger vessel of water and let them stew as long as the soup; strain the soup clear and add the juice of the bones. Color the soup with a little flour and a lump of butter as large as a walnut, browned in the frying-pan. Boil it up quickly and throw in half a pint of port wine.

POTATON SOUP-MAIGRE.—Take some large mealy potatoes, peel and cut them into small slices with an onion; boil them in three pints of water till tender and then pulp them through a colander; add a small piece of butter, a little cayenne pepper and salt, and just before the soup is served, two spoonfuls of good cream. The soup must not be allowed to boil after the cream has been put into it.

SAUCES FOR FISH.—EGG SAUCE—Is generally served with salt fish or haddock. Boil six eggs ten minutes; let them get cold; then cut them into pieces about the size of dice; put them into a stew-pan with three parts of a pint of melted or drawn butter; add an ounce more fresh butter with a little pepper and salt; keep the stew-pan moving round over the fire until the whole is very hot and serve in a boat.

CAPER SAUCE.—Take some melted butter, into which throw a small bit of glaze, and when the sauce is in a state of readiness throw into it some choice capers, salt and pepper, and a spoonful of essence of anchovies.

MARROW BONES.—They must be sawn into convenient sizes; cover the ends with a little dough made of flour and water and tie them in a floured cloth, boil them an hour and a half, serve on a napkin with dry toast.

COD SAUCE.—Take a bunch of parsley, chervil, two shalots, two cloves, a bay leaf, some mushrooms and a bit of butter, soak all together on the fire, adding a small spoonful of flour and milk or cream, sufficient to boil to the consistence of a sauce, and add to it some chopped parsley, first scalded.

SAUCES FOR ROAST FOWLS.—Put into a small stew-pan two slices of ham, a clove of garlic, a laurel leaf and sliced onion; add a little good gravy, a sprig of knotted marjoram and a spoonful of tarragon vinegar. Simmer slowly an hour, strain off and put into the dish or a boat.

Or:—If wanted in a hurry, cut a few slices of calve's liver, or any kind of brown meat; fry them with a little lean bacon and an onion, and when browned pour upon them boiling water to what strength you please and strain it.

CELERY SAUCE.—Wash and pare a bunch of celery, cut it into pieces and boil it gently until it is tender; add half a pint of cream and a small piece of butter, rolled in flour; now boil it gently. This is a good sauce for fowls of all kinds, either roasted or boiled.

SEA PIE.—Make a thick pudding crust, line or dish it, or what is better, a cake tin, put a layer of sliced onions, then a layer of salt beef cut in slices, a layer of sliced potatoes, a layer of pork and another of onions; strew pepper over all, cover with a crust, and tie down tightly with a cloth previously dipped in boiling water and floured. Boil for two hours and serve hot in a dish.

TO CURE SHEEP'S TONGUES.—Let the tongues be well washed and cleaned, and lay them in spring water for half an hour. Take one pound of salt, a gill of molasses, and half an ounce of saltpetre; rub the tongues well with it, and put them into the pickle; a week or ten days will be sufficient to cure them.

MISCELLANEOUS RECEIPTS.

Green tea is good to restore rusty silk. It should be boiled in iron—a cupful to three quarts. The silk should not be wrung, but ironed damp.

Lime sifted through coarse muslin and stirred pretty thick with the white of an egg, makes a strong cement for glass or china. Plaster of Paris, pulverised, is still better, and should be stirred by the spoonful as it is wanted.

TO TAKE SPOTS OUT OF CLOTH.—Sal ammoniac, one ounce; rectified spirits, two wine-glassfuls; aqua distillata, one and a half pints. Apply with a sponge.

TO SWEETEN CASKS.—When musty it is best to unhead large casks, and white-wash them with quicklime. Or they may be matched with sulphur mixed with a little bicarbonate of potash and afterwards well washed. Small casks may be sweetened by washing them first with sulphuric acid, and then with clean water.

TO COLOR HARNESS.—The color of harness that has become rusty or brown by wear may be restored to a fine black, after the dirt has been sponged off. Boil logwood chips in three quarts of soft water, to which add three ounces of nut galls finely powdered and one ounce of alum; simmer the whole together for half an hour and it will be fit to use.

A HARNESS BLACKING is thus made: Melt two ounces of mutton suet with six ounces of beeswax, then add one ounce of indigo, finely powdered, six ounces of sugar candy dissolved in water and two ounces of soft soap; mix and simmer over the fire, then add a gill of turpentine. Lay it on with a sponge and then polish.

TO PRESERVE PICTURE FRAMES.—Varnish the frames with water in which onions have been boiled.

TO PRESERVE PENCIL MARKS.—If you have anything drawn or written with a lead pencil that you wish to preserve from rubbing out, dip the paper into a dish of skimmed milk. Then dry it and iron it quickly on the wrong side.

CHEAP CONTRIVANCE FOR FILTERING.—Take a large garden flower-pot and lay in the bottom a piece of sponge so as to cover the whole. Upon this put smooth clean pebbles to keep the sponge in its place, and fill up the pot to within two or three inches of the brim, with a mixture of one part of powdered charcoal and two parts of fine sharp sand. Then cover the top of the pot with a piece of clean white flannel tied tightly round the rim with a twine, but so as to sink or sway down in the centre. Set the flower pot in a pan or two and pour the water into the flannel, let it filter through the charcoal, &c. And by the time it has passed through the sponge and come out at the bottom it will be clear.

RAT POISON.—Recent experiments have shown that squills is an excellent poison for rats. The powder should be mixed with some fatty substance and spread upon slices of bread.

TO CLEAN PAPERED WALLS.—The very best method is to rub them with stale bread. Cut the crust off very thick, and wipe straight down from the top, then go to the top again and so on. The staler the bread the better.

PRESERVATION OF BOOKS.—A few drops of any perfumed oil will secure libraries from the consuming effects of mouldiness and damp.

TO GET RELIABLE INFORMATION.—Subscribe to "The Gazette".

"Insensibly drunk, was he?" said the J. P. to the arresting constable; "and what did you do to arouse him, policeman?" "I searched his pockets, sorr," was the ready reply. Recommended for immediate promotion.

"I don't know how it is," said Jack Dumbthump, "everybody is forever quoting that 'ignorance is bliss,' and yet I am not happy." "That's because you're just got enough sense to know what a fool you are," commiseratingly replied a sarcastic neighbor.

WIT AND HUMOR.

Where the mind inclines, the feet lead. Love climbs mountains.

The morning of life, like the dawn of day, has the most of purity, of imagery and harmony.

A Boston man ate 150 baked clams the other day. He died calmly, and was wafted to that beautiful shore where they bake everything.

A dredging machine is a very good thing in its way, but injurious to the sense of music, for it not only removes flats, but whole bars.

Chicago folks now have their monograms put on their toilet soap. And we somehow suspect they must be afraid of spoiling the monograms.

A fuddled New Yorker skinned his nose on a barber pole, and said: "Scuse rae!" He thought that he had fallen against a pair of striped stockings.

Passenjaire: "Why is it that these street boys who catch on to the cars have not been fined before?" Drivaire: "'Cause they've been found behind."

There is a hog in Georgia that drinks beer. Long hair and a suit of shiny clothes is all it wants to become a socialist, and claim to be a working man.

A philosopher says: "The man who laughs is the sympathetic man." It is astonishing how many sympathizers a man has when he slips down and hurts himself.

This is the very latest: "Are you going to the ocean?" "No, I am not going to the ocean—I detest the motion; but my sister has a notion of going to the ocean by way of Goshen."

They had quarreled, and she was waiting for him to begin the peace. At length he said, "Je'adore." "Shut it yourself," said she, "you left it open." He did. She is still waiting.

Two ladies in waiting at the Superior Court. First lady-witness: "What are you going to say, dear?" Second L. W.: "Don't know until I hear what you are going to swear, love." Innocent creatures. Fact.

There was once a tailor of Phil,
His dinner he loved as a meal,
His mind so obtuse,
He cooked his own geese,
And thought he was dining off veal.

CANADA
Medical and Surgical Journal.

EDITORS.

GEORGE ROSS, A.M., M.D.

T. G. RODDICK, M.D.

Subscription, $3 per annum,

PAYABLE IN ADVANCE.

A monthly publication of 64 pages, containing carefully selected matter by competent scientific editors, and successfully strives to place the medical fraternity au fait in current (medical) events; cases of peculiar interest outside the ordinary practitioner's observations are given, original papers are contributed each month, and, generally, such a compendium of matter is found as to render the JOURNAL indispensable, not only for present perusal, but also for reference hereafter.

Although not by any means a college organ, yet it enjoys the confidence of Canada's greatest medical school—McGill University.

The endeavors of the editors to supply at once popular, interesting, reliable, scientific and technical information is being rewarded each publication by an increasing subscription list; at present the JOURNAL far exceeds any other Canadian medical publication in point or circulation.

As a medium of advertising new appliances, new remedies, hygienic foods, or any article requiring the attention of both medical men and chemists, the JOURNAL has no equal in Canada.

Miss Mary Anderson has had built for herself a handsome steam yacht. This fact evidently has given rise to the report that she is about to be married. It is supposed that when she goes on a trip she will take a mate.

One can't be too careful with firearms. A Marathon boy carried a pistol in his coat pocket, and one day recently, while he was in swimming, the pistol unexpectedly went off. He has no suspicions as to who took it.

A little enlightenment is more to be desired than a big gas bill.—New York News. But you can't get the enlightenment out of the clerk at the gas office. He swears by the meter.—New Haven Register. What a gas-tly joke.

When a Connecticut newspaper announces that "the barn and contents of Mr. Giles Potter were burned on Thursday night," one is naturally concerned to know what Mr. Potter had been eating or drinking to make him so inflammable.

A butcher's boy, carrying a tray on his shoulders, accidentally struck it against a lady's head, and nearly knocked her hat off. "The deuce take the tray," cried the lady, in a passion. "Madam," said the boy, gravely, "the deuce cannot take the tray."

"Hindoo girls," says an English journal, "are taught to think of marriage almost as soon as they can talk." Hindoo is still behind America in this respect. Here girls think of marriage almost as soon as they can talk, without any teaching. It appears to come sort o' natural to 'em.

"Don't waste your time in clipping off the branches," said the woodman to his son, "but lay your ax at the root of the tree." And the young man went out and laid his ax at the root of the tree, like a good and dutiful boy, and then went fishing. Truly, there is nothing so beautiful as filial obedience.

They stood together looking down
Upon the waters blue,
When suddenly the rill gave way,
And she went tumbling through.

"Help, help," he cried; "my wife will drown.
Oh, help her life to save,
I did not dream when her I wed,
She'd find a wat'ry grave."

They fished her out and brought her up,
A dripping mermaid she;
Her husband seized her wet, cold hands,
So glad he seemed to be.

"Thank God," he cried; "you are not drowned,
I'm spared that bitter pain;
But I will never let you keep
The pocket-book again."

Educational Record

— 1883. —

(Official Organ of the Protestant Committee of Public Instruction.)

30 CENTS PER ANNUM.

Arrangements have been made by the Protestant Committee of the Council of Public Instruction for the gratuitous issue of one copy of the RECORD for 1883 to each Protestant School District in the Province of Quebec. It will be addressed to the teacher, but it is intended not merely for his use, but for such circulation among assistant teachers, Commissioners of Schools and parents.

THE RECORD is intended as a medium of communication between the educational authorities and the teachers and others interested in education. It will also contain educational intelligence and information of a general character, and will be rendered as practical and useful in its tendency as possible.

It will be seen, therefore, that it offers a certain and effective means of reaching the best informed and most influential people in every English-speaking district of the Province, and is thus a specially valuable means of advertising matters in which teachers and parents are concerned.

POSTAL REGULATIONS.

The following instructions with regard to the addresses of letters intended for the Northwest have been issued by the Post-Office Department:—

OTTAWA, 13th December, 1882.

TERRITORIAL DIVISIONS IN THE NORTH-WEST.

1. The extensive range of country lying between the western limits of the Province of Manitoba and the eastern boundary of British Columbia, has been formed into four territorial divisions, named Assiniboia and Saskatchewan, immediately contiguous to Manitoba, and Alberta and Athabasca further west, and between the other two divisions and British Columbia.

Letters and other mail matter, therefore, intended for any settlement or place in the Northwest country thus divided, should be addressed to the territorial division in which it may be situated.

As Winnipeg, however, is the distributing Post Office for the whole region, such letters, &c., should invariably have "via Winnipeg," as part of the direction.

For example, a letter for Battleford should be addressed—

Mr. A. B.,
Battleford,
Saskatchewan Territory,
Via Winnipeg, Canada.

Postmasters should instruct all persons corresponding with the Northwest Territories through their offices, to address letters, &c., as far as practicable, in accordance with these directions.

The Principal Post Offices already established in the above named districts are as follows:—

Name of Post Office.	Territorial Division.	Name of Post Office.	Territorial Division.

REPLY POST CARDS.

2. For the convenience of correspondence by post card within the Dominion, a double post card has been prepared and is now ready for issue, which will afford to the original sender of this form of Card the means of sending with his communication a blank prepaid post card to be used in reply. Each half of the double card will bear a one-cent postage stamp impressed thereon in prepayment.

The ordinary post card regulations will apply to these reply cards, both when originally posted, and with respect to the reply half when re-posted.

The reply or double post cards, will be issued at two cents each, and are to be sold to the public at that rate by postmasters and stamp vendors.

Canada reply postal cards, to be used in correspondence with the United Kingdom, will also be supplied at an early date, and when post cards of this description originating in the United Kingdom and bearing the impressed postage stamp thereof on both halves, have been received here by mail, the reply half may be re-posted in Canada for return to an address in the United Kingdom, as a prepaid post card, and may be forwarded to destination without requiring the addition of any Canada postage stamp or other postage prepayment in Canada.

CORRECTIONS TO BE MADE IN OCTOBER LIST OF POST OFFICES.
