MAYOR GAYNOR DEAD IN VOYAGE ON ATLANTIC

Famous Head of New York Affairs Suddenly Succumbed to Heart Failure - He Had Been a Great Fighter of Vice in His Day.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—William J. Gaynor, mayor of New York, died in mid-ocean on the steamer Baltic at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon of heart failure.

News of his death was received here in a message sent by wireless and cable to Robert Adamson, his secretary.

His father died Wednesday at 1 o'clock, due to heart failure. Notify mother.

Mayor Gaynor sailed suddenly from New York, a fast failing man on the morning of Sept. 4. An hour before he sailed, but one man, his secretary, saw of his plans, outside of members of his immediate family.

The Baltic was due at Queenstown today. The mayor died as he was morning the other side. News of his death was sent by wireless to Cuxhaven by Rufus W. Gaynor and relayed to New York by cable.

He left New York at a time when the city was in the midst of one of its largest municipal political campaigns in its history. The day before his departure he was notified in the city hall steps by representatives of independent political organizations that they had chosen him for their standard bearer in the mayoralty campaign.

A throng that crowded city hall park assembled to hear him accept. He had prepared a speech of acceptance, but was so weak that he was unable to deliver it.

vacation in Europe, had entirely disappeared, according to Mr. Adamson, and the mayor expected to return and enter the campaign with his old time vigor.

William Jay Gaynor was born on a farm near Whitestown, N. Y., in 1831. He had to help the family there in his struggle for existence and in this fight he had to take time for his own education.

He graduated from the Whites town seminary, went to Boston to teach school and afterwards studied law in the office of Ward Hunt of Utica, who later became a justice of supreme court of New York.

In 1873 young Gaynor went to Brooklyn and became a newspaper reporter. Two years later he was admitted to the bar.

From that moment until his death, Gaynor had lived in the midst of continual political warfare. He started it with an attack upon the unlicensed saloons in Flatbush a section of Brooklyn and won. Ten years later he led a successful fight against the so-called McLaughlin ring in Brooklyn.

He was elected a justice of supreme court of New York in 1893 on a nomination given him by Republicans and Independent Democrats.

WAS NOT DRUNK

Latest Development in Taylor Case Today--Witnesses Say He Had No Liquor --Revulsion of Feeling All Over Community Against Prisoner--It is Hoped He Will be Hanged, and Right Soon.

That James Taylor's plea of drunkenness Monday night, is earnestly resented by his captors, the police, was the statement made last night by both Sergeant Wallace and High Constable Kerr.

Mayor Hartman, himself, waited upon Taylor at the counter, and Mayor says that Taylor was absolutely sober.

What do you think of me now? asked Taylor of the Mayor, when he first came in, pointing to a nice blue suit.

Why, said Mr. Hartman, if you keep on picking up that way you'll soon nook a whole lot better.

I guess so, said Taylor, who then asked for some cigars. After he was served, he said he wanted a package of cigarettes as well, and picked up a package of Players' Navy Cut.

One cigarette from this package was gone when the package was found in the boys' possession.

At the livery stable, when Taylor took the horse and rig at 9 o'clock, he was not drunk, and had no liquor with him.

Here is a Question. The question all decent-minded people in the city of Brantford are asking to-day is: How long will the powers of justice provide a free boarding house to James Taylor, the fiend and pervers.

If a wife were taken to-morrow among high and low, rich and poor, of the citizens of this county, Taylor would swing from a tree right in front of the County of Brant jail, and his summary punishment, so it is felt by an outraged community, would be no more than deserved.

The question also centers into the situation, will Taylor's sanity or insanity, have anything to do with his final outcome of the trial. Taylor fear many who are afraid that Taylor will escape the gallows on the ground that he is mentally deficient.

On the other hand, officers of the law state emphatically that Taylor's cunning classifies him as a criminal only. His fiend, while not what an ordinary man would boast of, knew what right or wrong was. Hence came his desire to kill Charlie Dawson in cold blooded fashion, to back the boy to pieces, lest his self-confessed sodomy came to the light of the world.

Mr. Jerome, accompanied by Deputy Attorney-General Franklin Kennedy, of New York, reached town last night on a special train. He had had no supper, so he chose as his conference room the kitchen of the Manadock House, where he ate and discussed the situation.

At first merely detained, Thaw was subsequently arrested on a complaint charging him with conspiracy in connection with his escape from the asylum, and it was upon this charge that he was to be arraigned to-day before Justice Carr in the police court. New York was prepared to ask that he be remanded, pending the receipt of a requisition warrant.

The Thaw lawyers yesterday took preliminary steps to swear out a writ of habeas corpus in the prisoner's behalf. It was said this morning that they might not press this further, and like the Canadian counsel, who tried hard to keep Thaw in the Sherbrooke jail, they considered their client safer as a prisoner than at large.

Thaw might be sent to the Lorton, a private detective, who has been working with Jerome, and hustled across the New York state line as a lunatic. Lanyon was due to arrive here to-day.

Both Messrs Jerome and Kennedy were indignant at the action of the Canadian authorities, who put Thaw over the border yesterday.

We had no inkling of it, said Jerome to-day. To say the least, it was a high handed piece of work. It was neither fair to Thaw, a lunatic, nor to the state of New York. Moreover, it upsets the principles of justice based on the habeas corpus act, and I do not doubt that it will result in more or less of a scandal in Canada.

Mr. Kennedy was more emphatic. It was contemptible and cowardly, he said. If those who put Thaw across the line thought they were giving him an even break in setting him down with no American officers in sight, they failed to look at the other side of the case. Here was Thaw, a lunatic, turned loose with only the clothes on his back, short of funds and with no means of transportation save the automobile he commandeered from a newspaper man. Thaw's not a same man. That has been proven time and time again. This made it the more pitiable. It was a terrible thing.

Thaw retired before midnight, and far from objecting to the presence of Deputy Sheriff Burley H. Kelsea, insisted that other guards too, sit near the door. Two armed deputies dozed in rocking chairs just outside the room, the door was left ajar and a light was kept burning in the hall all night. Thaw was fearful of what he called strong arm work. After his experience at Coaticook yesterday, nothing would surprise him. Jerome's presence filled him with terror. The unwelcome taste of liberty yesterday with its incident thrills and responsibilities, left him trusting eagerly to counsel and making few suggestions. Thaw himself does not know, except in one case, the identity of the three men who saved him from the Sherbrooke jail.

The hotel corridors here had the appearance of a convention town this morning. The Manadock House lobby, headquarters for the pro-Thaw and anti-Thaw forces, were crowded.

When handed a large print Bible he said he could not read. The Ensign then told him he would get him an illustrated Childs Life of Christ and he could at least look at the pictures and he would also read to him.

He told the officer of the army about his early days. "Did you attend Sunday School?" was asked.

Yes, he replied, the prisoner, on West St. 16 years ago. "Do you remember the minister?" Yes, his name was Mr. McKenzie I think, he replied.

Who were your teachers? was then asked. "There were different ladies. I don't know their names," he replied. "And what do you remember about the Sunday School lessons?"

"Well I learned the 10 Commandments and knew them off by heart."

James Taylor, the murderer of the little Dawson boy, and the first self-confessed murderer in the history of crime in Brant County, awaits trial in the county jail while his victim lies in the cold grave. Taylor occupies the northeast cell during the night, and spends the day in the corridor, sitting most of the time upon a bench, his shoulders somewhat stooped, and exhibiting no concern about his future. He will talk when spoken to, but does not talk about his case with his keepers. His attitude is practically the same as it has been since the arrest. He sleeps quite well and eats like a fiend. He is attired in the same black pair of overalls, which are without a bib, and the greenish colored shirt in which he made his appearance in court yesterday morning.

There is no special guard placed on him, and Jailor Brown anticipates no trouble at all with the prisoner. There will not be especial guard placed over him until he is found guilty, unless his actions become of such a nature as to require a guard.

This morning, several parties with special privileges, were allowed to see the prisoner. In fact the jail authorities are receiving all kinds of requests, even from young girls who want to have a look at the fiendish murderer. It is the sordid curiosity of the human species.

Ensign Trickey stated this morning that Taylor had never been a member of the army. Probably he dropped in for a few services as hundreds do.

American Authorities Are Holding the Famous Harry Under Arrest - Courier Has All Latest Details of the Great Case.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Commenting editorially on the action of the Canadian immigration officers yesterday, in deporting Thaw, The Tribune says: "This country must take off its hat to Canada. It has found a way to put a summary end to the Thaw game of trading with its courts. While the Thaw lawyers were talking bravely of fighting the issue up in a leisurely way through the Colonial courts and thus to London, the immigration officers suddenly cut the whole tangle of technicalities and dumped the bewildered lunatic across the border, leaving a lot of attorneys, alienists, sorrowing for the loss of vast prospective fees.

The Canadian swiftness dazzles us, untried to the worship of legal rape. But it has this to commend and yet his going from us has startled the whole countryside. His in the final analysis is traceable to the fact that human life, one human soul, is of transcendent importance. It cannot be reckoned or estimated in value by any human standards. What a single life is worth no one knows but the giver of that life even God himself. If this is true then we should pay a high estimate upon life. We should one and all seek to make the most of it. We should safeguard it in every possible way. We should see to it that those who try to spoil young lives, who seek to poison the very streams that feed society that dare to take life to cover up crimes which they have committed. We should see to it that these should receive the extreme penalty of the law. The moment we hold life cheap that moment our own lives and the lives of those whom we love are in jeopardy.

A second lesson that I learn from this Tragedy is the Awful Depths to which Sin Can Sink Men Who Give Way to the Lower Voices of the Soul. Surely this is one of the outstanding lessons of this hour. To think that any human being could carry about with him such awful thoughts as lurked in the heart of the murderer is hard, indeed, to realize and yet they were there, there, no doubt for some time. This awful precipice of crime over which he plunged was not reached in a moment. The man who had committed it came slowly up to it and in a dark moment was pushed over by the spirit of evil within him. Surely we should learn from this the supreme importance of suppressing even the very suggestion of sin, for first cometh the bare thought and then the desire and later the deed. Surely we need to pray daily. Lead us not into temptation or abandon us not to temptation. Let us keep as far from the pathway of danger as we possibly can for then and then only do we walk in the pathway of safety.

A third lesson is the Supreme importance of safeguarding our young. We who have children of our own must cling a little closer to them after this awful tragedy and if we have not children of our own then we must try and safeguard somebody else's.

TAYLOR CAME FROM THE BAY OF QUINTE

He is Not the Son of the Late Nathan Taylor as Reported.

Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor called at the Courier this morning. James Taylor, the murderer, is not the son of the late Nathan Taylor, but is the son of Abraham Miracle, of the Bay of Quinte. Mrs. Taylor, the mother, has been dead about 9 years.

A RECEPTION

Rev. T. E. Holling, pastor of Colborne street Methodist church, who returned on Saturday after spending two months in England and France was accorded a reception by the congregation last night, about 300 in the lecture room, and a very pleasant social time was spent. Mr. James Harley occupied the chair. The evening was opened with prayer by Mr. John Greet. Miss Ada Rounds gave a short talk entitled "Friendship in the church." Mr. F. W. Thompson extended a welcome from the Brotherhood; Mrs. J. E. Baker from the Women's Missionary Society, and Mr. John Mann from the Sunday School. Dr. Linscott also spoke.

Rev. Mr. Holling, while replying spoke considerably about his trip.

Solos were rendered by Mr. Stewart Sanderson, Miss Verna Heaman, and Miss Agnes Butler. During the serving of refreshments a piano duet was rendered by Miss Irene Turnbull and Mr. G. C. White.

Damage to the extent of about $250 was occasioned by a fire which broke out in the stockyard at the farm of Ballochindrie, near Bannockburn.

Three children, playing in a yard in Bridgeton, Glasgow, found a bottle of belladonna and drank some of the contents. They were taken to the infirmary in a serious state, but it is believed they will recover.

ENSIGN TRICKEY TELLS TAYLOR TO EXPECT WORST AND PRAY

This morning Ensign Trickey, the prisoner's spiritual adviser spent an hour with Taylor in the corridor and during the conversation which took place between them, the prisoner admitted freely his guilt. The seriousness of his position is beginning to slightly dawn on his mind and he sticks to the story that he was drunk.

He had taken a bottle of whiskey with him when he went for the drive. He remembers the boys' cries but does not recollect much that happened. "The lad did not cry much," he said.</

PETT-MALCOLMSON

Against a background of palms, pink and white gladioli and asters, the marriage took place this afternoon at the home of the bride's mother, at Barton street east, of Miss Catharine (Kate) Malcolmson, to Mr. William W. Pett, one of Hamilton's best known young orchestral musicians. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. W. Peach, Galt, brother-in-law of the bridegroom. The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. W. B. Malcolmson, looked very fair in her beautiful gown of snow white charmeuse satin en train, skirt in draped effect with inset panels of white brocaded satin, bodice draping caught with pearl ornament and entreeux of shadow lace. She also wore a veil of silk net with small bandeau of orange blossoms, the veil falling in soft folds to the hem of her train. The bridegroom wore a white rose and white hatter, the latter coming from Scotland. Two little flower girls were the bride's only attendants, Miss Muriel Hendry of Brantford, niece of the bride, in a pretty frock of shell pink satin with trimmings of white lace and basket of roses, and Miss Jean Graham of Toronto, niece of the bridegroom, in a dainty frock of pale blue satin with ruchings of the same material, and basket of roses. Miss Myrtle Pett, sister of the bridegroom, played the wedding march. Miss Pett was gowned in apricot satin over old rose hat of embroidered chiffon. Mrs. Malcolmson, mother of the bride, wore a handsome gown of black duchess satin, jetted ornaments, with touches of burnt orange, black hat and corsage bouquet of lilies of the valley. Mrs. Pett, mother of the bridegroom, also wore black satin with trimmings of jet, hat of black, and corsage of valley lilies. Mrs. Hendry, Brantford, sister of the bride, wore a graceful gown of Alice blue silk etolienne, with touches in Bulgarian color, hat of black velvet. During the signing of the register vocal solos were rendered by Mr. Percy Catchpole, and Mr. Jack Pett. Following the ceremony, buffet luncheon was served, about fifty guests being present. The bride's table was daintily arranged in pink and white. The bride and bridegroom left at 6:08 P.M. for New York and Atlantic City, the bride travelling in a chic tailored suit of Cunard blue broadcloth, blue hat in Copenhagen shades, trimmed with wings. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Pett will reside at 334 Cannon St. east. A wide array of lovely and useful gifts are tokens of the bride's popularity.—Hamilton Spectator.

Thaw at Hotel.

It was announced shortly after 11 o'clock that by mutual consent counsel had agreed to postpone the hearing until 4 p. m. It was expected that the case would then be adjourned until to-morrow.

A crowd followed Thaw to the barbershop, where he was being shaved this morning. Sheriff Drew stood beside him. Thaw was in gay humor and spoke laughingly of his trip yesterday.

Thaw's arraignment in police court has been delayed. Jerome was waiting for his detective aide, Langson, due on a ten thirty train. "We are also waiting for the New York gun men," he added with a smile. Justice Carr came to the hotel shortly after 9 o'clock and said he was ready to preside at any time the complainant agreed. Thaw desired, it looked then as if the hearing would not get away before eleven o'clock. After being shaved Thaw returned to his room and talked with his lawyers.

Why Men Are Bald.

London Chronicle

Too much hair-cutting was suggested as a cause of baldness by Dr. F. H. Barend, a skin specialist of Liverpool, at a sectional meeting of the British Medical Conference of Brighton.

"Why is it there are so many bald men and so few bald women?" he asked. "I believe it is because men will not let their hair grow to a proper length. The average man wears his hair about an inch long, whereas it should be at least thirteen or fourteen inches."

Dr. Barend afterward explained that he considered nature was affronted by frequent cutting of the hair. "If it is not allowed to grow to the length I have mentioned, it becomes dry and loses its strength, much in the same way that the muscles of the body become flabby and weak if they are not exercised."

Dr. David Walsh, a Harley street skin specialist, told the meeting that he considered the abnormal loss of hair of the head, as well as many skin diseases, was largely associated with defective circulation of the blood. Loss of hair might often be taken as a sign of heart trouble. In support of this he found that out of thirty-six bald people he had examined twenty-four were suffering from valvular disease of the heart.

A WONDERFUL COLD CURE.

Just think of it, a cold cured in ten minutes—that's what happens when you use "Catarthozone." You inhale its soothing balsams and out goes the cold—sniffles are cured—headache is cured—symptoms of catarrh and grippe disappear at once. It's the best of all cold cures. It's powerful antiseptic in the nose and enables it to act so quickly. In disease of the nose, for irritable throat, bronchitis, coughs and catarrh it's a marvel. Safe even for children. 25c and $1.00 sizes at all dealers.

Western Wheat Crop Record

Totals Over 200,000,000 Bushels

Farmers Are Advised by Retiring President of Grain Exchange to Provide Home Storage.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 11.—Andrew Kelly, retiring president of the Grain Exchange, at the annual meeting yesterday, estimated the year's yield of wheat as over 200,000,000 bushels.

In his address he said: "We have just about finished harvesting the crop of 1913, which is conceded by all to be a record one so far as quality and quantity is concerned. I expect our wheat crop to run well over 200,000,000 bushels. Oats about 22,000,000 bushels and flax about 15,000,000 bushels. Based on present prices the crop should net the farmers $170,000,000, a wonderful showing considering only 12 per cent. of our land is under cultivation.

We have heard a good deal about this in the last few months, but from what information I can get, I believe our banks are well able to take care of all the legitimate commercial business offering, besides being able to furnish all the money necessary to move the crop of 1913. Just so long as this present system of marketing the crop continues just so long will blockades and tie-ups occur, and no improvement can be reasonably expected until farmers spread the marketing of their grain over a period of nine or ten months instead of trying to crowd it into a brief three or four.

If our Government would go a step further and introduce some system whereby they could educate the farmers to provide storage for say 50 per cent. of the grain they produce it would be of immense benefit to the Western provinces, and especially to the farmers. It would enable them to hold a part of their crop on the farm and not rush it on the market in the short space of about three months, thereby causing railroad and elevator blockades, to say nothing of depressing prices. If they would distribute the marketing of their crop over a longer period, the average price received would be greater than under the present system, especially as the Bank Act has been amended to allow the farmers to borrow money from the banks on warehouse receipts in their own granaries, and in this way enable them to pay their press-bills and hold their grain for the higher prices which so many claim always come at a time when the farmers have no grain to market."

Alvin K. Godfrey was elected president, to succeed Mr. Kelly.

MARKET REPORTS

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—Wheat scored an advance today on assurances that shipments free of duty from Canada into the United States could not be made until after the Canadian Parliament had assembled in January and had removed duties against wheat from this country. The market closed steady at prices varying from last night's level to 1-4c higher. Corn finished 1/8c to 1-4c off to 1-4c up, oats down 1-8c to 3-8c and provisions at 2 1/2c to 22 1/2c decline.

BRITISH CIVIC RULE.

It appears strange, after considering the advocacy of W. B. Munro, of Harvard, at the Canadian Political Science Convention, in favor of British municipal institutions, that no city on this continent has attempted even by experiment, to work out a municipal system on British lines.

Canadian cities have hitherto followed the examples of those of the United States and these cannot be said to have been entirely successful. Members of municipal councils in England are elected for three years, one-third retiring each year, giving the local taxpayers a chance of influencing the council each year but preventing any violent reaction or reversal of policy.

The popularly elected members are termed councillors and those elected by the councillors, aldermen. While the former are elected for three years, the latter are elected for six, one-half retiring at the end of each three years. These indirectly elected aldermen, with their special privileges, form as it were a miniature house of lords and their existence is as a matter of fact, due to amendments made in that house when the municipal act was passing through.

The work is done through committees, the council meeting once a month in executive session, the administrative work being entrusted to the oversight of the various committees, and the number of committees on which any member can serve is limited by the council. In the large cities there are from fourteen to twenty of these committees on which any member can serve.

The mayor, whose position in England has always been highly important, is elected by the members of the council. Usually their choice falls on one of their own number who has long and good service to his credit, though they sometimes go outside as they are authorized to do. Practically every mayor in England serves a long apprenticeship on the council before reaching the mayoral dignity, and, as a result of full acquaintance with the work in hand, is able to make his year of office an effective and profitable one for the city.

POLICE INFORMATION.

The Guelph Mercury in the following editorial hits it off just right. Brantford has had experiences of which the Mercury complains and it is time that police chiefs appreciated the fact that the press can and will render a great service to them in their work. The Mercury says:

The Mail and Empire has a complaint to make against Chief Randall of Guelph. The Toronto paper phoned the chief for information about James Ray, who had "worked" a local bank. This was refused, the Toronto paper getting neither the name of the man wanted nor a description. The Mail already had the story from Galt, and the Guelph end of the story, as the chief could have given it, would simply have been appended thereto.

This business of keeping information from the press is a common practice, especially in police and railroad circles. How would it work out in this case? Chief Randall would not let the Mail have a description of the man. He sent printed postcards later to the police at nearly every centre. The Mail was circulated the morning after the forger to presumably sixty thousand subscribers. Here a good description could have been circulated of the forger within 12 or 14 hours of the time the crime was committed. Other papers would take the matter up, and the Dominion would soon be flooded with descriptions of the man wanted, and financial institutions would, before the next day's business was well under way, be on their guard against the inroads of the forger. The newspapers have the postcards beaten to a frazzle when it comes to getting there.

There are times when, secrecy is desirable in police circles, and the newspapers, can generally be depended upon not to knowingly spoil an arrest by ill-timed publicity. If the reporters are denied all information in police circles, then there is only one course open, to publish everything.

The same course of suppression is largely followed in railroading. Just why, it is hard to state. The authorities must surely know that the newspapers sooner or later will get word of accidents or wrecks. It would be much better for the company to hand out authentic statements, rather than force papers to leave it to the vivid imagination of passengers.

But that's a large part of the newspaper business—finding out what others are trying to hide. A TRIUMPHANT POLICY. Few measures of social reform have had such immediate and drastic effects as those following upon the institution of old age pensions in Great Britain in 1909, and its extension by the removal of the pauper disqualification in 1910. The pensions are payable only to those over 70 years of age who are in receipt of an income from all sources of less than £31 10s per annum, yet the decline in the number of people receiving outdoor pauper relief from the Poor Law Guardians is very striking. In 1906 a return obtained by the Poor Law Commission showed that there were 108,000 persons in receipt of outdoor relief. By January of the present year this number, according to a report issued by the local Government Board, had fallen to 8,563. This is the second year in succession, in which it has been below 10,000 so that it may be fairly said to represent a permanent diminution.

Thus, in a few years, no less than 94 per cent of those who would have been stigmatized as paupers and have lost some of the privileges of citizenship (such for instance as the right to a vote) have been enabled to retain their self respect while local taxation has been relieved by amounts varying from 4d to 2s 0d in the pound. A striking evidence of the manner in which the wealth of Great Britain is distributed is to be found in the fact that out of every 1,000 persons over 70 years of age 600 are, on the average for the whole country, in receipt of the pension.

Jerome says poker isn't a game of chance. There is more subtle meaning than legal grip in Jerome's words. Lawyers, Greenshields of Montreal is wrothy that they forced Thaw out of the country yesterday for the probable reason that with Thaw went the prospect of an extra $25,000 in fees.

Galt, Brantford, Ingersoll, Guelph, Berlin, Woodstock and Lindsay were the cities on Mr. James Ray's itinerary of bank forgeries. After reading of this coup and the way the bank managers fell for it, the average layman doesn't feel quite so sore at once having had a plugged quarter passed on him—Guelph Mercury.

What the Other Fellow Thinks. Summary Methods (Pittsburgh Dispatch).... In Bavaria they do not forbid the turkey trot by law. They simply call it disorderly conduct and apply the penalties for that offence. Which makes that kind of athletics rather hazardous.

Honk! Honk! (Louisville Courier-Journal) "Did she come to the 3rd when you serenaded her with your mandolin?" "No; but another fellow came along and brought her out with an auto horn."

Intoxicated Bicycle (Newburgh News).... Tommy—Pa, what would you call a motorcycle? Tommy's Pa—A motorcycle, my son, is an ordinary bicycle driven crazy by an overindulgence in gasoline.

The Near-Prizes (Washington Star) "Some men seem to enjoy bad luck," remarked the cynical observer. "I never met any such person." "Oh, yes, you have. Every fisherman you ever knew took more pride in the fish that got away than in those he actually caught."

What He Said (Exchange) "I never was so embarrassed in my life, I came face to face with my first husband." "What did he say?" "Nothing much. He just looked up and he said: 'Who are you nagging now, Mary?'"

BRANTFORD LADY IS INTERESTED IN HOSPITAL PROBE ON AT HAMILTON

The Hamilton authorities are having a serious hospital probe. The following from the Spectator last evening refers to a former Brantford lady, whose name was Miss Costello. She is well known in Brantford. The Spectator's story is as follows: Mrs. G. Lane, wife of the Detroit business man who was refused admittance to the Hamilton city hospital because, as the hospital authorities claimed, he was an alcoholic patient. Mrs. Lane was seen by a Spectator reporter at the home of her deceased husband's mother, 46 Main street west, last night, on which occasion she made the following statement:

"I regret deeply that the impression has gone abroad that my husband was suffering from alcoholic poisoning. Up to January of this year my husband was employed as an engineer on the Michigan Central railway, which position he had held for many years, all the time enjoying the highest respect and confidence of the officials of the company. Any one who knows the demands on a railroad engineer must also know that he cannot be a drinking man and retain his position. In January last, Mr. Lane suffered a nervous breakdown, and was obliged to give up his work on the railway. He then went to the city of Hamilton, where he weighed 180 pounds, and except for his nerves, was in perfect health. His condition, however, grew worse until recently, less than a year from the time he was first taken ill, he weighed only 125 pounds. After quitting the railroad he went into the grocery business in Detroit, and as we were about to give up this business, I suggested to him on Saturday last that he get ready, and go to Hamilton for a couple of weeks to visit his mother while we were moving from the store to our new home. I also thought the visit home would do him good and he was delighted. He was so pleased with the idea of visiting his home, that when some friends mentioned he had better eat something before he left Saturday evening, he said: 'I'm too happy to eat. I am going home to visit my mother and I will not eat until I get home. I will be in such good spirits and seem to be getting better that he would not listen to me accompanying him to the station, and when he bade me good-bye I little realized that it would be the last time I would see him alive.'"

"As to the statements that he had been a drinking man, I might say that for months he has been ill, and during that time he has been under the constant care of Dr. Bryant of Detroit. Dr. Bryant would not say much as to let him have wine during all his illness, and while I know his condition was such that at times he would appear as if he had been drinking, this was caused by his extreme nervousness, and I and all his friends knew that he was not a drinking man. His trouble developed into what is known as 'eating diabetes,' and it was not an uncommon thing for him to eat as many as seven meals in one day, and frequently eating during the night, but he never used strong drink. His brother Oddfellows in Detroit had been visiting him regularly for months, and they as well as his doctor and myself know that he was not a man who drank. I shall secure a certificate as to this from Dr. Bryant of Detroit, in order to clear up this unjust accusation against his character. If the doctors at the Hamilton hospital had taken the trouble to look into his case they would have discovered this for themselves. It is an awful story to go back to his friends in Detroit that he died of alcoholic poisoning, and I hope to clear the matter up before I leave."

Relatives Deny Hospital Story. The charge that Mr. Lane died of alcoholic poisoning is denied by the aged mother, Mrs. Lane, also the brother who went with him to the hospital. They point out that he arrived here direct from Detroit Sunday morning. He was alright when he left his wife states, and they know he was suffering greatly from nervous trouble, the trip apparently having upset him considerably. On arrival here he came direct to the home of his mother, and his friends say he was never outside of the house again until taken to the city hospital in a cab on Monday afternoon. During the two days he remained at the home of his mother, local doctors were called in who treated him for nervous trouble, all advising that he be taken to the city hospital. During these two days his condition was so bad that the doctors in attendance ordered that he be given occasional stimulants of honor, but it is said in no case did he take enough to cause trouble from that source.

Oddfellows Aroused. The Oddfellows of this city also resent very much the statement that a brother member was in the condition claimed by the hospital doctors, and are doing all in their power to place the matter right. They claim that an injustice has not only been done to a brother member, but the organization in general. They fear injury will be done to their memory in the minds of the Detroit friends should such a story reach that city, and they are doing all in their power to assist the heart-broken wife and mother in their bereavement.

Mrs. Lane was accompanied here by her mother, who will remain and return with her after funeral arrangements have been made. Mrs. Lane is a former resident of Brantford, her maiden name having been Costello, and she is also well known to many Hamilton citizens.

Cab Driver's Story. Concerning the story published in yesterday's Spectator, a further statement was made to a Spectator reporter by John McIsaac, the cab driver who was called to take the sick man to the city hospital. Mr. McIsaac is employed by Harry McCamis, the Charles Street liveryman, his statement being as follows: "I was sent in answer to a telephone call, to take a man from 46 Main Street, west, to the city hospital. I drove the cab to the rear entrance of the hospital and assisted the brother in carrying the patient inside. A nurse, whose name I do not know, said to address the patient and put him to bed, while I assisted in doing. A doctor came along, but

To The Editor

TAYLOR NOT INDIAN. To the Editor of The Courier: Sir: I beg to state through the columns of your worthy paper that the statement made to the effect that Jim Taylor, the murderer, is an Indian, is a base falsehood. I can prove that he has not a drop of Indian blood in him. I have been a Chief in the Six Nation Council for over thirty-five years, therefore positively know there are no Indians belonging to our Reserve by the name of Taylor.

I know that the Six Nations do not want the record of one of the cruelest murders to be written against them. Every thinking man no matter what nationality, will uphold me in doing what I can to not have such a disgrace written against the Indians. I know the whole family of Taylors well and I am prepared to prove that he has not a drop of Indian blood in him. Indians when they kill wouldn't do such horrible butchery as Taylor did. They would simply have taken the scalp and quit. The manner of killing was anything but an Indian characteristic.

Yours Respectfully, CHIEF G. W. HILL, Indian Hereditary, Box 232, Brantford, Ont. Sept. 11, 1913.

Hamilton and Brantford Grocers at Great Picnic

Mohawk Park was visited yesterday afternoon by one of the jolliest bunches that has ever visited the park in recent years. The Hamilton Retail Grocers Association held its annual hump there, about 275 associated with the grocery and butcher trade coming up by special radial car.

As guests were quite a number of travellers, and many from the Ontario and Toronto associations, and fully thirty local grocers and butchers and clerks. Several of the local stores were closed.

During the afternoon two softball games took place at the Mohawk diamond, and after a sumptuous repast a number of speeches were made.

A Welcome Shortly after 3 o'clock, the picnickers gathered together, and after reviewing acquaintances, headed by the clown band which played "Marching Through Georgia," the merry gathering wended its way to the ball ground. The local trade received a most hearty welcome. One very enthusiastic Hamiltonian said to a Brantford crowd which was wending its way into the park: "Come on, boys, we've got a suffragette band." It might be stated right here that for once during the year the Hamilton grocers slip off and have a little outing in which the fair sex is nil and void. But to escape the monotony of man looking simply upon man, one of the bandsmen attired himself in woman's wearing apparel, and needless to say, made quite a hit. The band certainly added a great deal to the pleasure of the outing. There were eight members, and it mattered not what those fellows were called upon to play they could do it. Why, they could even play, "How Dry I Am!"

Farce Comedies There were two comedies. The one between the Brantford and Hamilton picnickers was staged in 5 acts and resulted in a win for the Ambitious Dry I Am. The comedy in which the Hamilton grocers took part, was staged in well, the grocers won by the score of 20 to 0.

It was in the game between Hamilton and Brantford that real interest centered. In the first innings Hamilton secured six runs, and Brantford evened up. In the second each team secured a run and in the third Hamilton blew up and Brantford secured 13 runs and Hamilton 1 run. The securing of the 13 runs, although it gave Brantford a lead, it put a hoodoo on the game as far as Brantford was concerned. From then on Hamilton secured 3 runs in the fourth, and Brantford secured 4 runs. It seemed that it was Brantford's turn to blow up in the fifth and last innings, for in this innings Brantford did not score a single run, and Hamilton got 20 runs. The game was certainly a very funny one, and the grocers who were not playing, did not fail to appreciate the comedy. The line-up: Hamilton - A. Hobson c, Jack Knox ss, J. M. Sommers 1st b, M. Fred White who handled the ball for Hamilton was a good butcher out he has lot of room for improvement when it comes to playing soft ball.

From the way some of the players handle the ball it would lead one to believe it a relative of quick silver.

The battery for Brantford was composed of two heavy weights, Welsh and Burns. Have you ever met them?

The Hamilton battery were just the opposite.

John Knox had a "grick" on the game.

Jimmy Mains of Hamilton handed out rattlers on the cars coming to Brantford. Did you hear them at the ball game?

The game between the Hamilton grocers and the travellers resulted in a win for the travellers by the score of 20 to 6.

Billy Smye disappointed the crowd by not playing ball.

Jack Forth who handled all athletic events in previous years was at the picnic as a spectator.

The Brantford boys stood by their players.

Even the band got disgusted and left the grounds.

Some Lunch At the conclusion of the soft ball games, the merry bunch returned to the park proper and shortly afterwards supper was served. The bunch were hungry and lunch melted away like the dew before the sun. During supper the band played many selections, and among the numbers were "Good Old Summer Time," "How Dry I Am," "Marching Through Georgia," "Dolly I am Growing Older," "We Won't Go Home Until Mornin'."

Many Speeches Once lunch was over speeches were in order. "Bay" Hill, of Hamilton, was master of ceremonies, and to be brief, there is not a man could be found who would fill position better. He simply bubbled over with humor "Bay" did everything, even to rendering a solo. Mr. Burgaw and "Billy" Dore, both of Hamilton, added much to the pleasure of the outing with their talent.

The other speakers were Mr. Somerville, Hamilton, Mr. John Young, Hamilton, Mr. J. W. Mellen, Brantford, Mr. Clark, president Ontario Association, D. B. Wood, Hamilton, W. C. Miller, secretary Ontario association, ex-cald, John Forth, Hamilton, ex-controller William Bailey, Hamilton, Alf. Patterson, Brantford.

"Bay" Hill Again As almost the last number on the program, "Bay" Hill led in singing, "Yip-Yi-Ali-Ay," and shortly afterwards the merry bunch of hosts from the Ambitious City and the Toronto bunch left for home. The Brantford grocers and butchers certainly appreciated the way they were entertained.

for his material wants. He should never again be released from surveillance. The Canadian immigration officials should have given notice of their intention, in order that when he was put across the border, Thaw might have been taken in charge at once and not left to shift for himself.

The Sun says: "This last act of the Thaw melodrama in Canada was in singular contrast with the subtlety of the earlier proceedings, the essence of which was not any limitation of time. When directed by a master hand, the Canadian immigration department can be robust and expeditious, even dramatic. In cutting the Gordian knot, the Hon. Charles J. Doherty, Minister of Justice, and acting Minister of the Interior, did what all respectable and scandalized Canadians wanted to be done. He deported the unwelcome paranoiac, whose hired attorneys were making the Dominion a laughing stock, and dumped him on the soil of the country whose problem he properly was."

QUIET MORNING WITH THE POLICE

Only Three Cases Were Heard by Magistrate This Morning.

There were only three cases to come before Magistrate Livingston in police court this morning, and the session occupied only a very short time.

Felix Cononietick was charged by Sergai Pereshof with conversion, it being alleged that the defendant had appropriated a sum of money belonging to the plaintiff to his own personal use. The complainant, it is stated, purchased a ticket from New York to the old country from the defendant and paid him $33. Later he decided not to make the trip and asked for his money back. Cononietick would not give back the whole amount, however, keeping $4.

Magistrate Livingston heard the story of the accused and then adjourned the case for a week.

A local man, whom the police claim is a habitual drunkard, and who makes his appearance in court on an average of once every two weeks, was fined $3 and allowed to go with a warning that the next trip up meant the Central Prison.

Another drunk, a first offender, was allowed to go.

KINGSTON DECIDED UPON FOR NEXT CONVENTION

Mr. W. A. Langmuir Elected President of A.Y.P.A. For 1914.

The Dominion Anglican Young People's Association terminated a successful three-day convention yesterday afternoon when in Holy Trinity Parish House his Lordship the Bishop of Toronto installed and pronounced his benediction upon the new corps of officers elected to administer the ensuing year of God.

Mr. Clarence Bell, who for a number of years has proved a tower of strength to the movement in his capacity as President, is succeeded by Mr. W. A. Langmuir, a former member of the Dominion Executive.

The association considered invitations to go to Windsor and Kingston next year for the annual convention and after long deliberation chose the latter as their meeting place.

At the morning session the convention heard stirring addresses from Rev. J. E. Faithful, secretary of the Rev. Arthur Carlisle of Windsor and Rev. W. G. Davis of Stony Creek all of whom touched upon the ideals and purposes of the A. Y. P. A., and defined the position the many branches over the Dominion should maintain on moral question.

COMMENCED WORK AT THE TERRACE

Men on Job This Morning for New Railway.

Messrs Wright, Hazzard and Cohen contractors have commenced operations at the Jubilee Terrace. They started a staff of men there this morning getting the machinery and other equipment in shape to go on with the work. The iron railing at the edge of the board walk was taken down and laid aside.

A concrete mixer is on the ground, also a huge derrick which is being set up.

Teams are engaged hauling the equipment from the railway cars to the vicinity of the bridge. In a few days a large staff of men will be put on and the construction will be commenced in earnest and will be rushed with haste to completion. The foot of Jubilee Terrace presents a very busy sight to-day and the gentlemen of leisure were there in throngs to watch the proceedings.

NEW PLANS TO PERFECT SCHOOLS

Government Will Stand by General Terms Laid Down in the Year 1911.

The Government's revised plans for the supervision and regulation of the English-French schools of the province were announced by Hon. Dr. Payne yesterday, following a meeting of the English-Canadian area in which a determination on the part of the Government to stand by the general terms of the regulations laid down in 1911 along the lines of the Prime Minister's statement to the Legislature, but provide means by which, through the exercise of judgment on the part of the chief inspector of Public and Separate schools, hardship may be obviated in special cases.

The chief changes in the regulations provide that instruction in French may be continued beyond the first form, upon the approval of the chief inspector, in the case of pupils who, owing to previous defective training, are unable to speak and understand the English language. The injustice of a cast-iron rule in certain cases was strongly emphasized by the supporters of the English-French schools and the easing up of the rule by giving the chief inspector some discretion will to some extent meet their objections. The school deputation from the eastern counties that waited upon the Government protested against teachers being confined to one hour's teaching in French each day, and in that direction also the chief inspector has been given authority to exercise his discretion.

Under the Chief Inspector.

"The syste most inspection has been altered," said Dr. Payne, "so as to place the schools under the supervision of Dr. Waugh, chief inspector of Public and Separate schools, who, as a provincial officer is directly responsible to the Minister of Education. Under the chief inspector, as heretofore, there will be three English-speaking inspectors and three French-speaking, and the status of a II will be the same. Their personnel has not changed.

"In reference to the use of French the regulation last year was as follows," continued the Minister. "Where necessary in the case of French-speaking pupils, French may be used as the language of instruction and communication; but such use of French shall not be continued beyond Form I, excepting during the school year of 1912-13, when it may also be used as a language of instruction and communication in the case of pupils beyond Form I, who, owing to previous defective training, are unable to speak and understand the English language."

"As this provision was tentative, a year's experience of its working has led it to be amended as follows:

May Extend Use of French.

"Where necessary in the case of French-speaking pupils French may be used as the language of instruction and communication; but such use of French shall not be continued beyond Form I, excepting that upon the approval of the chief inspector it may also be used as the language of instruction and communication in the case of pupils beyond Form I, who are unable to speak and understand the English language."

"This alteration provides for the contents clause in cases where the chief inspector shall consider it necessary. In reference to the teaching of French as a subject of study the former provision was that 'instruction in French shall not interfere with the adequacy of instruction in English, and the provision for such instruction in French, on the time table of the schools shall be subject to the approval and direction of the supervising inspector and shall not in any day exceed one hour in any class room. The new provision as amended provides that 'such instruction in French in the time table of the school shall be subject to the approval and direction of the chief inspector, and shall not in any day exceed one hour in each classroom except where the time is increased upon the order of the chief inspector.'

"All the provisions, as those of last year, also embody and carry into effect, the terms of the resolution unanimously adopted by the Legislature in 1911."

Police Complimented

William McKenzie, inspector of detectives on the Chicago police force, an old Brantford boy, accompanied by his wife, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. Logan, Alfred Street. Detective McKenzie stated this morning that the quick work of the police in arresting the man Taylor in connection with the murder of the boy Dawson is deserving of great praise.

MAYORALTY FIGHT TO BE 3 CORNERED

Ald. Minshall Will Likely be a Candidate For Office.

Ald. J. H. Minshall will likely be a candidate for the mayoralty. He informed the Courier last night that he was seriously considering entering the field, a large number of his friends urging him to step into the field. He has not yet decided however what he will do.

Ald. Minshall anticipates a three-cornered fight with Ald. Spence and Ald. Suddaby in the field.

Ald. Ward gave a strong intimation to the Courier that he didn't intend to run for Mayor. His name has been mentioned and the Ward Five representative said it was all talk.

T.H. GREENWOOD HAD HIS WRIST BROKEN

Lost His Balance on Wagon and Fell to the Ground.

While unloading tomatoes Tuesday morning in front of the home of Mr. John I. Miller, 130 Market street, Mr. T. H. Greenwood, living on the Park road, which runs from the Hamilton road, quite seriously fractured his right wrist. He was standing on the foreboard and lifting a box of tomatoes from the wagon, when he lost his balance. In an attempt to save himself from falling, he put his right foot on the step. His foot caught and he was thrown violently on his right side, thus sustaining a most painful injury.

MYSTERY MURDER PUZZLES WINDSOR

Police Think Body That of Mrs. Anna Sherman of Wyandotte, Mich.

WINDSOR, Sept. 11.—The plans that were laid a week ago Sunday to waylay and murder Mrs. Anna Sherman, of Wyandotte, Mich., ten miles south of Detroit, who moved across the border three years ago, following an alleged disagreement with her husband, in the fear that a return to her former home in Kingsville, Ont., would lead to serious trouble, and that the body of the woman found eight miles from here, hidden in a cornfield on the Talbot road, is that of Mrs. Sherman—this is the theory that the provincial officers, the county constabulary and the Windsor police are working on.

This morning a knife was found near where the body lay. It was covered with either rust or blood stains, and is of the kind that is used in the canning factories in this section. This find strengthened the theory of the police that a man from this section knowing of the woman's plans met her on the road, and after luring her to that lonely spot brutally murdered her.

Mrs. William Fritz, living in a farm house 200 yards from the place where the body was found, declared that she heard a woman's cries a week ago Sunday night, but she was frightened and did not tell anyone.

BEATEN AGAIN BY THE ROYALS

Montreal Took Both Games of a Double-header From Toronto.

TORONTO, Sept. 11.—The return of Benny Meyer to the Toronto team did not prevent Montreal from taking both games of a double header at the Island yesterday afternoon. In both games were the Leafs blanked, the first going to the visitors by 7 to 0, and the second by 5 to 0.

Montreal got a run in the second inning of the first game on Lennox's double, Deining's sacrifice, and Purcell's single. In the fourth inning, the Royals added four runs to their score. Farnood reached second on Schultz's low throw to first. Demmitt scored; Lennox singled, scoring the base-runner. McConnell threw Deining out. Miller and Purcell followed with singles and Madden doubled, sending in two runs. The visitors got two more tallies in the eighth. With one out Lennox walked, and Deining hit into the right field bleachers for a home run.

Score—First game: Montreal 7, Toronto 0. Second game: Montreal 5, Toronto 0.

ROCHESTER BEAT BUFFALO

Keefe Held Hard to Four Scattered Bingles.

ROCHESTER, Sept. 11.—Keefe held the Bisons to four hits yesterday, and the Hustlers had no trouble in downing Buffalo 4 to 0. Miles Mains was erratic at times when his support was ragged. Twelve hits were cleaned off him.

Score—Rochester 4, Buffalo 0.

NEWARK BEATEN AGAIN

Baltimore Took the Leaders into Camp by Five to Two.

NEWARK, Sept. 11.—The Newarkers slipped another cog yesterday, when they lost to Baltimore 3 to 2. As the Rochesterers came across with another victory, the breach between the two teams in the fight for the championship was reduced to three and one-half games. The Newarkers have nine games to play to finish on the schedule, while Rochester have ten. The Newarkers were beaten in the seventh inning yesterday, when the Birds bunched three singles with two errors for three runs.

Score—Baltimore 5, Newark 2.

PROVIDENCE WON

The Grays Made it Three Straight, Winning by 8 to 4.

JERSEY CITY, Sept. 11.—Providence made it three straight by finishing on the long end in their farewell game of the season in Jersey City yesterday afternoon, carrying off the verdict of 8 to 4. As in the preceding contest the Skeeters put up a ragged exhibition, making success easy for the visitors.

NEW YORK WON FROM PITTSBURGH

Big Jeff Tesreau Was on the Mound For McGraw's Outfit.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 11.—The Giants yesterday began their final dash across the western range, and one on which they must look to their knitting carefully if they are to reach the pennant pole ahead of all other explorers, by polishing off the Pirates in tidy fashion. The score was 5 to 2. The Giants carried on their part of the scrap with more skill and more vim than the Pirates, their bats being implements with which they made opportune use and their fielding being admirable to bolster up big Jeff Tesreau to his best efforts. Score New York 5, Pittsburgh 2.

WON IN THE TENTH.

St. Louis Defeated Philadelphia by a Score of 2 to 1.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 11.—The Cardinals, with Doake pitching, gained the verdict over Philadelphia yesterday afternoon in a ten-inning contest by the score 2 to 1. Riskey was in hot water most of the time, and if it had not been for stupid base-running on the part of the Cardinals the game would have been finished in the regular nine innings. Score: St. Louis 2, Philadelphia 1.

CINCINNATI BEAT BOSTON

The Reds Drove Perdue From the Mound in the First Inning.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 11.—The Reds fell upon the offerings of Perdue in the first inning of yesterday's game, and before the round was finished, the locals had succeeded in shoving across five tallies, and put the first game of the series with Boston on the line. The final score was 7 to 4. Rudolph, who succeeded Perdue, was touched up lively at times. Score: Cincinnati 7, Boston 4.

BROOKLYN DEFEAT CUBS.

Archer's Three-Bagger Drove in the Cubs' Only Run.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—Nap Rucker is himself again, and as a result the Cubs ate the grit of defeat yesterday, the score being 3 to 1. He walked Miller in the second, and a moment later Archer, the slugger in command, poked the pellet to the center of the left field for three sacks, sending in the Cubs' only run. Score: Brooklyn 3, Chicago 1.

Football

At a meeting of the football council held in the Borden club rooms the following players were awarded certificates: E. Robinson, Y.M.C.A.; J. D. Anderson, Cocksbutts; S. Taylor, Dufferin Rifles.

First Round Courier Cup Series.

The first round in the Courier Cup series will be played on Saturday afternoon. The teams have been lined up as follows: Duffs vs. S.O.E., at Agricultural Park. Referee Darlington.

Holmedale vs. Cocksbutts at O. I. B. grounds, referee, Elliott.

Tutela vs. M.C.A., at Tutela park. Referee, Farnsworth.

All Scots vs. Dragons, at Mohawk Park, Referee, Cassels.

The games all promise to be hard fought battles as there is such keen rivalry between the teams. They are all out to win the silverware and the team that wins the cup will have to play the game of their lives. The players are all in the pink of condition, and as the teams are all pretty evenly matched the race for the cup will be a hard one and there should be some fine exhibitions of football. So may the best team win.

WATERLOO FARMER FATALLY INJURED

Tilman Shantz Meets Death in Runaway--Was Ex-Warden of County.

BERLIN, Ont., Sept. 11.—While Tilman Shantz, one of the best drivers and most successful farmers in Waterloo county, was driving a team of horses attached to a threshing engine yesterday, the animals became unmanageable and ran away, Shantz being thrown beneath them and crushed so severely that his death resulted an hour later. Deceased, who was 64 years of age, was a former member of the county council, having been warden in 1902. For many years he was connected with the executive of the North Waterloo Liberal Association. He is survived by a widow, seven sons and two daughters.

ATHLETICS LOST AGAIN TO CHICAGO

Cicotte's Support Wavered at Critical Periods Game Went Ten Innings

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 11.—Chicago again triumphed over the Athletics yesterday in a long drawn out ten-inning struggle by the score 6 to 3. Cicotte outpitched Brown and would have won in nine innings had his support been good at critical times. The score: Chicago 6, Philadelphia 3.

BOSTON DOWNED DETROIT

Janvrin Stole Home With the Tieing Run in the Sixth

BOSTON, Sept. 11.—The Red Sox tamed the Detroit Tigers again yesterday 4 to 2. A steal home by Janvrin tied the score for Boston in the sixth inning, and three long hits by Hooper, Engle and Lewis in the seventh inning drove in the winning run. Score: Boston 4, Detroit 2.

WASHINGTON WON

Errors Behind Gregg Were Responsible for the Naps' Defeat

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—The fine pitching of Groomo won a hard fought ball game for Washington over Cleveland here yesterday 2 to 0. Groomo and Gregg were the principals of a lively pitchers' battle, but the Senators afforded their star fine support, which was denied Gregg. Score: Washington 2, Cleveland 0.

ST. LOUIS WINS

Three Errors Gave the Game to the Browns

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Six fielding mistakes were directly responsible for five of the St. Louis Browns' runs at the Polo grounds yesterday and the New Yorks were thrashed by the score of 10 to 7. Maisel, Knight and Ford committed these blunders, which handed the game to the Browns. Score: St. Louis 10, New York 7.

Indians Embrace New Faith, Let Cattle Perish of Hunger

Readily Give Up Habits of Industry When Told That They Must Live by Faith.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 11.—A serious condition of affairs among the Indians at Fairfield, Man., is reported by Rev. S. Lough, who represents the Baptist Union of Western Canada in that district, and who arrived in the city yesterday.

Mr. Lough states that owing to the extent to which the tenets of the adherents of the Apostolic faith have been practically abandoned all industry, and are neglecting their cattle and allowing them to die. In one case a man had ten head of cattle die from this cause, and Dr. Clark, who preceded Mr. Lough there, and who left two head of cattle, has lost them, as the men they were left with neglected to look after them. Mr. Lough said:

"This Indian reservation is situated on Lake Manitoba, about 160 miles north, there being about 2,000 Indians in the different reservations at Fairfield, Sandy Bay, St. Martin's and Crane River. The Baptist Church has carried on work there for some time, and J. S. Clark, M.D., was in charge until I arrived there. He looked after the physical and spiritual needs of the Indians, ministering to them in their sickness as well as preaching to them in health.

"The Apostolic faith adherents have been doing work out there, but the impression among the white people seems to be that the general effect on the Indians is not wholesome, as they readily give up their habits of industry when told that they must live by faith; with the result that the cattle are allowed to die from neglect."

About a year ago some of the members of the local Apostolic faith mission went among the Indians and spread their tenets, and the instinct of the Indian for demonstration and excitement seems to respond to the appeals made by the followers of the Apostolic faith.

Mr. Lough states that there is, however, little cause of complaint so far as the morals and cleanliness of these Indians are concerned, the objectionable features being those already stated.

He states that among the Indians at Upper Fairfield conditions in regard to the law to supply liquor to the Indians can scarcely be considered as desirable, although it is against the law to supply liquor to the Indians.

Mr. Lough has two mission churches in two of the reservations, and conducts services in the schools in the other reservations.

Lord Methuen Likely to be Governor-General

(Canadian Press Despatch)

OTTAWA, Sept. 11.—It is definitely announced from Rideau Hall, the Duchess of Connaught next month. However, she will be unable to undertake any of the heavy social duties which will fall upon the Princess Patricia.

It is semi-officially denied that Prince Arthur of Connaught will succeed his father as governor-general, and it is stated that the whole story to that effect was but newspaper gossip. Lord Methuen's name is most prominently mentioned as the probable successor to the Duke of Connaught.

Fiske O'Hara Coming

When Augustus Pitou wrote "In Old Dublin," he had in mind a fascinating romance that took place in the city of Dublin in the early part of the 19th century, and which he presented in skeleton form to Fiske O'Hara, when the latter asked him to write him a play for the coming season. The story at once interested the actor and he decided that it would need no addition to its dramatic form as there was plenty of material in it for a rattling Irish play. There is nothing namby-pamby about "In Old Dublin." It is one of those virile, dashing dramas that makes the blood tingle at times and still has enough genuine Celtic fun and love making to furnish material for a couple of plays. In Old Dublin is booked for Monday next, at the Grand.

BAGGAGEMAN IS DISCOVERED

Ottawa Police Are Endeavoring to Solve Murder Mystery.

OTTAWA, Sept. 11.—Discovery of the baggageman who delivered the trunk at 384 Somerset street, the scene of the tragedy, was the most important development yesterday in the quest for the murderer of Alie Rubenstein, alias Charles Robertson, the New York race track employe, whose dead body was found in the cellar of a vacant store here Tuesday.

An empty trunk found beside the body bore evidence of having been used to convey the remains to the store. On Sept. 2, the Canadian Transfer Company got a trunk off a train which arrived from the west over the Canadian Pacific Railway, with instructions to deliver it at 384 Somerset street. There being no such number, the transfer driver left it at 384.

An effort is being made by Montreal to find the point from which the trunk was shipped. The police have the number of the cheque, and the C.P.R. records at headquarters in Montreal are being searched for the company's duplicate. The theory of the police is that Rubenstein, who disappeared on Aug. 28, may have been lured some distance outside Ottawa, and there murdered, his body being afterwards shipped to Ottawa with the intention to destroy it.

Phillies M T W E N And Giants Lo National

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—ing Tuesday's contest with Brooklyn, the Giants have four games to play, and if twelve of them, at the same time, they have twenty-nine to play, must win twenty-two to lose seven to tie the Mets' lead in the championship. At the present in the three or so days recently have been playing 33 cent. ball, it is safe to assume they at least will break even rest of the schedule.

Both the Giants and Phillies for their western trip today, the Quakers will have to play nominal speed away from it have a look-in for the pennant. The Phillies are offering as much 1 that the Giants will remain head of the procession to the end of the season. The Phillies with the Cincinnati Reds, and with the Cardinals, Pittsburgh and the Philadelphia Phillies, there will be a sixth game board of directors sustain the York club's appeal from P. Lynch's ruling on the Brent feat.

McGraw's men also have games with the Cubs, four Pirates, three with the Braves, five with the Brooklyn with the Cincinnati Reds, and with the Cardinals. Fifteen remaining games will be abroad and seven at home.

PHILLIES MUST WIN TWENTY-TWO GAMES And Giants Lose Twelve to Affect the National League Standing.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Including Tuesday's contest with the Brooklyn, the Giants have twenty-four games to play, and if they win twelve of them, at the same time suffering twelve defeats, the Philadelphia club's schedule calls for five games with the Giants, four with the Cubs, three with the Pirates, four with the Brooklyn, three with the Reds and three with the Cardinals. Doolin's men must play twenty games away from home.

It is conceded that unless Mathewson and Starnard suddenly come back to their best form the Giants will have a hard fight in the west. The Cubs, Pirates and Reds are making a strong finish, and are playing more steadily than a month ago. Matty has been batted freely in his last three starts, and some of the sharpers seem to think that he will need a rest if he expects to check the Athletics in the world's series. Marquard looks comparatively thin and drawn. Perhaps he has grown temporarily staid. But Tesreau and Deane are going well, which is taken to mean that McGraw's men cannot suffer from a complete form reversal in the pitchers' box.

Alexander and Seaton, who appeared to be overworked in July, again are pitching the best ball for the Quakers. Rixey is an in and outter, and Brennan's work has been only fair. Camnitz, who beat the Giants week before last, has failed to accomplish much since. The Phillies, however, are batting and fielding with the usual results. They are formidable in both departments of the game. After whipping the Quakers twice on Saturday, George Stallings, who has developed the Boston Braves into a powerful baseball machine, expressed the opinion that next year his team would finish as high as second or third, and that in 1915 the Braves would win the championship. Stallings says that the Giants alone possess a real major league class, and that his sole ambition now is to build up his team to beat them.

CHAPTER XII.

It is possible even in Loango to have a fling, but the carouser must be prepared to face, even in the midst of his revelry, the haunting thought that the exercise of the strictest economy in any other part of the world might be a preferable pastime.

During the three days following his arrival Victor Duranov indulged, according to his lights, in the doubtful pleasure mentioned. He purchased at the best factory the best clothes obtainable; he lived like a fighting cock in the one so called hotel, a house chiefly affected and supported by ship captains. He spent freely of money that was not his and imagined himself to be leading the life of a gentleman. He could sound on a hired horse to call on his friends, and on the afternoon of the sixth day he alighted from this quadruped at the gate of the Gordons' bungalow.

A few minutes later Jocelyn came into the drawing room, where he was waiting with a frozen face and a sinking heart. Somehow the very room had power to bring him down toward his own level. When he set eyes on Jocelyn, in her fair Saxon beauty, he regained aplomb.

She appeared to be rather glad to see him.

"I thought," she said, "that you had gone back to the expedition?"

"Not without coming to say goodbye," he answered. "It is not likely."

"Just to demonstrate how fully he felt at ease he took a chair without waiting for an invitation and sat tapping his boot with his whipl, looking her furtively up and down all the while with an appraising eye.

"And when do you go?" she asked, with a subtle change to her tone which did not penetrate through his mental epiphras.

"I suppose in a few days now. But I'll let you know all right, never fear."

Victor Duranov stretched out his legs and made himself quite at home, but Jocelyn did not sit down. On the contrary, she remained standing persistently and significantly.

"Maurice gone away?" he inquired.

"Yes."

"And left you all alone," in a tone of light badinage.

"I am accustomed to being left," she answered gravely.

"I don't quite like it, you know."

"You?"

She looked at him with a steady surprise which made him feel a trifle uncomfortable.

"Well, you know," he was forced to explain, shuffling the while uneasily in his chair and dropping his whip, "one naturally takes an interest in one's friends' welfare. You and Maurice are the best friends I have in Loango."

"Maurice has always spoken of you with gratitude," she said.

"To deaf ears, eh? Yes, he has reason to be grateful, though perhaps I ought not to say it. I have put him into several very good things on the coast, and let it in my power to get him into this new scheme. It is a big thing; he would be a rich man in no time."

He rose from his seat and deliberately crossed the room to the sofa where she sat, stretched out along the back of it toward her. In his other hand he held his riding whip, with which he began to stroke the skirt of her dress, which reached along the floor almost to his feet.

"Would you like him to be in it?" he asked, with a mocking glance beneath his lashes. "It is a pity to throw away a good chance; his position is not so very secure, you know."

She gave a strange little hunted glance round the room. She was wedged into a corner and could not rise without incurring the risk of his saying something she did not wish to hear. Then she leaned forward and deliberately withdrew her dress from the touch of his whip, which was, in its way, a subtle carap.

"Is he throwing away the chance?"

"No, but you are."

ARE WORTH THEIR WEIGHT IN GOLD

What Jas. Ferguson Says of Dodd's Kidney Pills

Quebec Man Cured of Backache, Rheumatism and Headache. Voices General Sentiment in regard to Greatest of Canadian Remedies. SELLARVILLE, Bonaventure Co., Que., Sept. 8.—(Special)—"I can say Dodd's Kidney Pills are worth their weight in gold." In these enthusiastic words Mr. James Ferguson, a well known resident of this place voices the almost universal sentiment in regard to the greatest of Canadian remedies.

"I have taken Dodd's Kidney Pills," Mr. Ferguson continues, "for backache, stiffness of the joints, rheumatism and headache, and found them as represented."

"I cannot say too much in praise of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and give my full permission to have my name published in regard to them."

People who have been sick and are cured, want to tell of it. They are grateful to the remedy that gave them back their health. They want their friends to know just how their ills can be cured.

That is why, from one end of Canada to the other, people are talking of Dodd's Kidney Pills. They cure kidney disease, and kidney disease is the root of the great majority of diseases to which the Canadian people are heir.

Dodd's Kidney Pills cure backache, lumbago, rheumatism, gravel, diabetes, heart disease and Bright's disease, because any and all of these spring from diseased kidneys.

A VEGETABLE CONSTIPATION CURE.

Because they contain mercury and mineral salts, many pills are harsh. The easiest and safest laxative is Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butterbur. They clean the stomach, intestines and bowels—drive out waste matter, tone the kidneys and forever cure constipation. As a general tonic and system cleanser nothing is so mild and efficient as Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butterbur. Sold everywhere in 25c boxes.

SUFFRAGETTES WARN SIR EDWARD CARSON

Will Fight if He Omits Votes For Women From Ulster's Constitution.

LONDON, Sept. 11.—The Women's Social and Political Union is planning to make things uncomfortable for Sir Edward Carson and his colleagues if they fail to make provision for votes in the new constitution they are drafting for Ulster.

In a letter to the Ulster leader the women put themselves on record as follows:

"You and your colleagues and supporters are forming an Ulster government and planning an armed rebellion as a protest against being brought under a system of government to which you do not give your consent. It is precisely on the same principle that the militant suffragist organization refuses to submit to government without the consent of the women, either in Ulster or in any other part of the kingdom."

NO DRINKING MAN NEED DESPAIR

The Neal Cure—Greatest of All Modern Discoveries—Offers a Means of Escape from the Curse of Drink. A cure of the Drink Habit is Guaranteed in Three Days no Matter Whether the Patient is a Hard and Constant Drinker, Social Tippler or Goes on Occasional Sprees.

There was wandering in the streets of Toronto lately a homeless man, who at one time held a splendid position, but drink was his downfall. To-day his wife, a cultured woman, works out by the day, endeavoring to support herself and little family. Think of it, you wives and mothers, who have homes of comfort and all that makes life worth living, what it would be to you to be deprived of these and forced to face the wash tub for an existence, as this poor wife has to do today?

But this home which was made a hell on earth through strong drink—as every drunkard's is—may be made into a heaven upon earth, as many have been made, as a result of the Neal Treatment. Three days only—the wonder of it—to effect a cure and make the victim of strong drink a new man, physically, morally and mentally.

We undertake to guarantee to effect a cure of the Drink Habit in Three Days, no matter where the patient is a hard and constant drinker, social tippler, or goes on occasional spees. Are you interested in a poor fellow going down, down, through the curse of drink? Then bring your influence to bear on him and bring him to the Neal Institute for treatment, drunk or sober, and we will undertake to remove the awful appetite for strong drink and deliver him to you a new man.

Here is an opportunity for REFORMATION SOCIETIES for INEBRIATES or any institution for the reformation of the drunkard, to test our ability to change the hard drinker into a new man, physically and mentally, in THREE DAYS' treatment.

We invite these Societies or any institution interested in the poor drunkard and the problem of dealing with him, to send us for treatment any victim of the drink habit, it makes no difference how much enslaved, and we guarantee to effect a cure in each and every case. Can you spend your money to better advantage or in a way that will bring in greater returns than in redeeming these victims of strong drink and giving back to their families kind fathers, brothers, husbands, and to the country most desirable citizens?

OTTAWA, Sept. 11.—The minister of justice, Hon. C. J. Doherty, who as acting minister of the interior, issued the order directing the deportation of Harry K. Thaw, explained the reasons for his action in a statement today. Mr. Doherty pointed out that as acting minister of the interior it was his duty to enforce the provisions of the Immigration Act. He had done that simply and nothing more. Thaw, he said, had entered Canada illegally and a board of enquiry had ordered his deportation.

PHILOSOPHICAL PHOENIX AND THE WEATHER

BY THE SPECIAL REQUEST I WILL NOT THING THE LATRO ROSE OF THUMMER!

TORONTO, Sept. 11.—Pressure is above the average in nearly all portions of the continent with the highest pressure now over the northwest provinces. Sharp frosts are reported from Alberta and Saskatchewan.

Moderate winds, fair and a little warmer to-day, showers or thunderstorms in many localities late to-night and on Friday.

Temperature for the last 24 hours: Highest 71; lowest 38. Same date last year: Highest 90; lowest 66.

Frank Chance Getting Together Team Fit for $25,000 Manager to Lead

Frank Chance has been showing the American League "something different" on his last swing around the circuit. With Maisel, his $18,000 third baseman, and Williams, the hard-hitting first baseman, the "Peerless Leader" has an outfield, which, with sea-soning, will compare favorably with any in the league.

Chance has Roger Peckinpaugh, the Cleveland shortstop, who is playing a wonderful fielding game and hitting the ball opportunely; at second is Jack Knight, the elongated extender, who was chased to the minors from the Yankees, only to be recalled by Chance, and Knight is playing a wonderful game these days.

The real Yankee star, however, is Maisel, whose work at third, coupled with his batting, reminds old-timers of the days when Jimmy Collins was hard-basing in a class by himself.

Maisel is one of the brightest stars sipped up in years and Chance has ceased worrying about the difficult corner.

On first base, Chance has Cy Williams, a big fellow, who looks as if he is the only thing he needed was experience. Williams covers lots of ground and is a whale with the swatstick.

Rollie Zeider is the fifth infielder, and Rollie is at home anywhere from first to third, although naturally a hard baseman. Just now he is playing first, not because Williams was not doing well, but Chance figured that a veteran would steady the kids.

A job which before Zeider's banishment was removed fell upon the shoulders of Jack Knight alone.

Matrimony is a sea in which many courtships have been swamped. It is easier for a woman to be happy if her imagination is in good working order.

Thaw's Lawyers Failed to Tie Up Machinery of the Government.

OTTAWA, Sept. 11.—The minister of justice, Hon. C. J. Doherty, who as acting minister of the interior, issued the order directing the deportation of Harry K. Thaw, explained the reasons for his action in a statement today. Mr. Doherty pointed out that as acting minister of the interior it was his duty to enforce the provisions of the Immigration Act. He had done that simply and nothing more. Thaw, he said, had entered Canada illegally and a board of enquiry had ordered his deportation.

Asked as to how this action of his could be reconciled, with the court order for Thaw's production in Montreal on Monday, Mr. Doherty said: "There has been no order or anything purporting to be an order restraining the minister from the exercise of his functions. The order was to officers of the immigration department to take custody of Thaw. By my orders he has been taken in charge of other officers and taken across the border. I saw absolutely no reason for refraining to do my duty and carry out the law, merely because counsel for Mr. Thaw questioned the constitutionality of the act. Of its constitutionality I have no doubt. We will be able to justify before the courts the action which we have taken."

The Situation in a Nutshell

OTTAWA, Sept. 11.—The emphasizing of two or three points will go far towards clearing up the situation as to the deportation of Thaw.

First, the warrant authorizing Thaw's expulsion was issued by the Minister of the Interior, not by the Minister of Justice, Judge Doherty happens at the moment to be filling both posts, and it is the Minister of the Immigration service who he acted.

Secondly, the expulsion was not effected by those immigration officials to whom the writ of habeas corpus was addressed, was leveled at the persons who composed the board of inquiry. That board, as a matter of fact, had completed its work. The writ was not leveled at the Minister of the Interior, and he acted through the Dominion police. It will, indeed, be open to the officials to go into court and show that the writ was not properly served, but they are very sorry, but the Dominion police took Thaw away from them.

A third point worth bearing in mind is the utter absence of all collusion between the Dominion authorities and those of the American side of the border. The Dominion authorities are simply carried out by the superior motives. Proof of this is afforded by the surprise felt by the Americans and the absence of any preparation to seize Thaw when thrust upon American soil.

MAYOR GAYNOR DEAD ON VOYAGE ON ATLANTIC

Mayor Gaynor's sudden death completely overruns the municipal political situation. It removes from the field a candidate for mayor who was expected to cut heavily into the vote of the fashion nominee, John Purroy Mitchell, and leaves only the tickets nominated by the Democrats and the Fusionists. The former is headed by Edward S. McCall, former chairman of the public service commission of the district.

The Mayor's renomination was brought about by no particular political fashion or party, but represented only his personal popularity. Politicians who discussed his death today expected that his followers would make no attempt to nominate a candidate in his place. No other places on the Mayor's ticket have yet been filled.

Mayor Gaynor was placed at the head of the independent ticket after Tammany Hall had refused him a renomination. He was to lead those who opposed the regular Democratic organization and yet were unwilling to join the fusion of Republicans and Progressives. His standard was the shovel, reminding voters of his efforts to hasten the building of the subways. The Mayor also said it was emblematic of his intention to "clean the grafters out."

He was expected to attack Tammany Hall sharply politically as soon as he returned to the city. Before his departure he issued a characteristic statement, directed at Tammany Hall leaders and other political opponents, in which he referred to them as "miserable scamps," and stated that they were seeking his "moral assassination."

The bullet that lodged in his throat three years ago had never been removed. It was the Mayor's plan to remain abroad less than a week. He expected to sail for New York from Liverpool on September 18 and to reach the city a week later.

The passing of Mayor Gaynor recalled the sudden death of Henry George of single tax fame, and a third party candidate, almost on the eve of the New York majority election sixteen years ago.

CENTURY MOVE AND WE STARVE

(Continued from Page 1) which we are most familiar there are two fundamental elements, supplies of food energy and supplies of mechanical energy. Since at present, partly because of geog. political conditions, these do not necessarily (or even in general) occur together, there is a third essential factor, the lines of transport."

Mr. Dickson referred to the wheat acreage as not keeping pace with the increase in population.

"If prophecies based on population statistics are trustworthy," Mr. Dickson declared, "the crisis will be upon us before the end of the century. After that we must either depend upon some substitute to reduce the consumption per head, or we must take intensive farming of the most strenuous sort."

As to the world's coal supply, Mr. Dickson said that the largest fields would last barely three centuries, even at the present rate of consumption of other fields, yet undiscovered, he could of course make no reckoning.

"There must begin in the near future," Mr. Dickson continued, "a great equalization in the distribution of population. This equalization will arise from a number of causes, among them being intensive cultivation of the soil and more uniform distribution of manufactures."

"What is wanted," he concluded, "is that we should seriously address ourselves to a stock taking of our resources. We should vigorously proceed with the collection and discussion of geographical data of all kinds so that the major natural distributions shall be adequately known. Eventually we shall find that country planning will become as important as town planning. In the meantime geog. knowledge will yield scientific results of much significance about such matters as distribution of population and industries and the degree of adjustment to new conditions which occur or is possible in different regions and amongst different peoples."

SHOWS THAT TOM BANNON ONCE WAS A SPEEDY GUY

Tom Bannon tells a funny story one day at Flaherty's. It was in 1901, when both men were, playing at Brooklyn. Flaherty was at first when Tom hit the ball to dead left, Bannon stuck his head down and was sure he could make three bases. He made third by a nice slide, before the ball. The umpire yelled that he was out and Bannon immediately started an argument. "You passed a base-runner, said the umpire. And sure enough, Flaherty was on second. After the inning Pat told Bannon that he stepped on his foot when he was stepping second."
