

GERMANS REPULSED AT ARRAS IN THEIR WESTERN OFFENSIVE

Big Onslaught North of Arras Repulsed—Whole Front Heavily Bombarded—Enemy Admits Losses--Bombs Supposed to Have Fallen in Calais.

Paris, June 7.—The German forces north of Arras began last night a violent attack along the Ablain-Souchez-Neuville front, bent upon regaining some of the ground they have lost there. Not only was this attack repulsed by artillery fire of an extremely hot character, but infantry attacks were made with great energy at numerous places.

The bombardment and the frequent infantry charges continued without interruption throughout the night. Day came, but it brought no cessation in the violence of the German onslaught. Last night the War Office announced that the general attack continues without the French forces having been dislodged from a single one of the many new positions which they have recently secured in this region.

Not only in fact, but the German assault has been repulsed, but new positions have been wrested from the Germans during the day. The slow and hard fought investment of the village of Neuville-St. Vaast has been advanced by the capture of new positions in the interior of the town and in the northern part. Furthermore at the centre and to the south of the Labyrinth, where the fighting has been bitter, more trenches have been won by the French, and a total gain of 100 metres has been made. French troops now hold two thirds of this important defence work, a fact which portends the quick expulsion of all German soldiers from the locality. The French delivered an attack on the village of Neuville-St. Vaast in the sector north of Arras. French Gen. von Kluck and captured two lines of trenches and several defence works.

The German official report admits the loss of the remainder of the sugar refinery at Souchez and the capture by the French of the balance of Neuville. Bombs were dropped on Calais.

IN COMPLETE CONTROL French troops now hold practically the entire village of Neuville-St. Vaast in the sector north of Arras. French gains in the fighting in this village have made them master of all but a small section at the north. Just south of Neuville, in the district called the Labyrinth, because of the interwinding character of the trenches, additional progress has been made in the face of furious resistance by the Germans. Four hundred and fifty metres of entrenchments were captured in the northern section of this district on Saturday, which, considered with other gains reported there would indicate that the French troops are now in control of a large part of the territory. To the north of Neuville the Germans have made furious counter-attacks which however, have been broken down by the French fire, the German forces being compelled to retire. It would appear from

ZEPPELINS ARE AGAIN SHOWING MUCH ACTIVITY IN RECENT RAIDS ON ENGLAND

German Ship Visited East Coast of England, Dropping Bombs—Five Killed and Forty Injured--German Hangar Set on Fire.

BRITISH AEROPLANES SCORE

Brilliant Series of Aerial Adventures Give Germans a Taste of Their Own Medicine—Zeppelin is Blown Up.

By Special Wire to the Courier. LONDON, June 7, 2.34 p.m.—It was announced at the Admiralty this afternoon that a Zeppelin visited the east coast of England last night, dropping incendiary and explosive bombs. Five persons were killed and forty were injured. Two fires were caused by the incendiary bombs.

BRITISH AIRMAN DESTROYED A ZEPPEL LONDON, June 7, 3 p.m.—The Admiralty announced to-day that a Zeppelin had been blown to pieces over Belgium by British airmen.

"This morning, at 2.30 a.m., an attack was made on the airship shed at Evere, north of Brussels, by Flight Lieuts. J. P. Wilson, R.N., and J. S. Mills, R.N. Bombs were dropped and the shed was observed to be in flames.

"It is not known whether a Zeppelin was inside, but the flames reached a great height, coming out from both sides of the shed. Both pilots returned safely.

"At 3 o'clock this morning Flight Sub-Lieut. R. A. J. Warneford, R.N., attacked a Zeppelin in the air between Ghent and Brussels. At 6,000 feet he dropped six bombs, and the airship exploded, fell to the ground and burned for a considerable time.

"The force of the explosion caused the Morane monoplane to turn upside down. The pilot succeeded in righting the machine, but had to make a forced landing in the enemy's country. However, he was able to restart his machine, and returned safely to the aerodrome."

LLOYD GEORGE IS SATISFIED WITH SUPPLY ARRANGEMENTS

LONDON, June 6.—"At last I believe things are going all right. I feel the machine begin to move."

This statement Mr. Lloyd George made to-day at the office of the Ministry of Munitions. "Huge contracts already have been placed for high explosive shells, but a tremendous amount of work is yet to be accomplished. The state must have more direct control over labor and must be able to move bodies of skilled workers where they are most required," he added.

Mr. Lloyd George was very much impressed by the inspection at Liverpool. An industrial battalion might be the solution of the great problem. In an extension of this scheme, skilled men might be enlisted and given uniforms in an industrial army under the orders of the state.

Mr. Lloyd George hopes and believes his revelation of the truth and vital necessity of the nation will sweep away all difficulties of employers, which the men, with less knowledge of the situation, might have raised.

19TH BATTALION NOW SAFE IN CAMP NEAR SHORNCLIFFE IN KENT

After Good Passage and a Little Excitement-- A Whale Taken For a Submarine—Machine Guns Mounted Fore and Aft.

Writing from West Sandling Camp, near Shorncliffe, England, Private Gladstone Ghent, machine gun section of the 19th battalion, says: "The Canadian authorities deserve great credit for the rapid and comfortable way they have transported us. Just six days ago we left Toronto, and here we are comfortably settled in camp. West Sandling is just nine miles from Folkestone and five miles from Shorncliffe and is as pretty a place as one could wish for. The sun started to shine on our first drill, and we considered it a good omen. Everyone is glad we are here, and think we are somebody. (Correct! We are.)"

Private Ghent goes on to say that the battalion left Toronto at 11 p.m. on May 17th, and sailed from Montreal on the Allan liner Scandinavian at 10 o'clock on the following morning. "The trains were A1," he says, "and there was no crowding. The machine gun section had a first class coach to itself, and we were very comfortable that we had to travel in the train. The comforts during the trip were first class. Words of praise came from all sides on the service of our government."

Private Ghent makes the rather important statement that the troops were entirely unaccompanied during the voyage until within a comparatively short distance of the British coast, when several British destroyers met the mist and escorted

ITALIANS ARE NOW ADVANCING ACROSS ISONZA

By Special Wire to the Courier. Udine, Italy, June 7.—A general Italian advance is taking place to-day across the Isonzo river from Caporetto to the sea, a distance of forty miles. The movement is one of importance, and hard fighting is taking place at Gradisca, and in the vicinity of this town.

The Italian authorities are drawing tighter the screen of secrecy as to the Italian operations, nevertheless, it may be said that masses of Italian troops have been concentrated on the roads from Cormons, Palmanova and Cervignano.

The resistance of the Austrians is daily becoming stronger. This Italian staff officers declare, has had the effect of making their men more determined.

Todmino, on the east side of the Isonzo, is one of the Italian objectives.

LIEUT. A. COCKSHUTT

TWO MORE SUNK BY PIRATES

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, June 7.—The British steamer Sunlight, of Liverpool, has been sunk by a German submarine. The crew of the vessel has been taken to Queenstown. STAR OF WEST SUNK. London, June 7.—A despatch received here from Aberdeen says the British steamer Star of West has been sunk by a German submarine. A trawler brought the crew into Aberdeen. Kuhn, Loeb and Company of New York paid a cheque for a sale of bonds to the Pennsylvania Railway calling for over $62,000,000.

CHIEF HEIRS OF VANDERBILT'S $35,000,000 ESTATE

Mr. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, who lost his life when a German torpedo sank the Lusitania, distributed an estate estimated at between $30,000,000 and $35,000,000 among relatives, friends and employes by his will, which has been filed. Mrs. Margaret Emerson Vanderbilt, whom Mr. Vanderbilt married in December, 1911, and her two sons, Alfred G. and George Vanderbilt, receive the bulk of the estate. For William H. Vanderbilt, Mr. Vanderbilt's son by his first wife, Mrs. Ellen French Vanderbilt, there is a trust fund of $5,000,000. He also receives other large bequests, including Oakland Farm, at Portsmouth, R. I. No mention is made in the will of Mrs. Ellen French Vanderbilt, who obtained a divorce in May, 1908. Under the decree she received the custody of her son, William H., and no provision was made for alimony. A substantial settlement was made upon her, it was said, which precluded the possibility of any contest of Mr. Vanderbilt's will. The will was executed on December 16, 1913.

LIEUT. ASHTON COCKSHUTT IS WOUNDED

Son of Mr. W. F. Cockshutt is Reported Privately to be Injured.

Lieutenant William Ashton, eldest son of Mr. W. F. Cockshutt, M. P., and Mrs. Cockshutt, is the latest Brantford boy to be reported wounded at the front.

A message to this effect was received by Mr. Cockshutt from Ottawa on Sunday night, but no particulars were given except that he sustained his injuries during the fighting of Friday last.

He is 23 years of age, and was located at Calgary in the employ of the branch of the Flow Company at that place. Some three years ago he joined the Rifles there as private, and solely by his own merit speedily attained the rank of lieutenant. When war broke out, he was one of the first to offer his services, and went as Lieutenant in the 10th Battalion. He has been through many hard engagements, including Neuve Chapelle, but had hitherto escaped.

The many friends of himself and the family in this city and county will sincerely hope for him a speedy recovery.

Another son is also with the colors.

CORPL. R. HAMILTON

Word was received to-day from Ottawa by Mrs. Hamilton, residing on King street, that Corpl. R. Hamilton had been wounded in the head by a gunshot. Corpl. Hamilton, resided previous to enlistment on Terrace Hill, and served for three years in the Dufferin Rifles.

RUSSIANS HOLDING ADVANCE

Austro-German Movement on the Right Flank is Being Retarded.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

Petrograd, via London, June 7.—The forward movement of the extreme Russian right flank, operating on Stanai, Yata, Zargina and Lentovina, continues to retard the advance of the central Austro-German forces east of Jaroslau and Przemysl, which, thus far has failed. Krawce and Burdzi, which were particularly mentioned in this connection, are just north of Stanai and Alsen on the Lem River.

Southward the fighting front may be traced by following the San to the mouth of the Lubaczowka and then following this river to the village of Tuklia, which is twelve miles south-east of Jaroslau. Thence the front is on a straight line twelve miles east of Przemysl, including the villages of Kalmikof, Kosmenitz and Krukenitz and proceeding southeast to the Dniester, which marks the southern front.

CHURCHILL MAKES A SPLENDID SPEECH TO HIS CONSTITUENTS

Dundee Cheers Him For His Manly Words--Victory is Not Far Off--Navy in Perfect Order--No Re-eriminations, and a Striking Speech.

Dundee, Scotland, June 7.—Winston Churchill, formerly First Lord of the Admiralty, who is Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster in the coalition Cabinet, arrived Saturday at Dundee, which he represents in the House of Commons. He was received enthusiastically at a meeting of his constituents. He told them he did not come to make explanations or indulge in reproaches or recriminations, for the only thing he cared about was the waging of a successful war on the enemies of Great Britain.

"For four years I have borne heavy responsibilities, being, according to the time-honored language of my party, responsible to the Crown and Parliament for all business of the Admiralty," Mr. Churchill said. "When I say responsible, I was responsible in the sense that I would have to bear the blame for everything that occurred. These years have comprised the most important period of our naval history, a period of preparation for war."

"I have done my best. The archives at the Admiralty still show the part I played in all the great transactions that have taken place. To them I look for my defence."

NAVY IN PERFECT ORDER

"I look also to the general naval situation. The terrible dangers at the beginning of the war are over. Everything is in perfect order. Nearly everything has been foreseen. We have taken the measure of our foe, and have only to go forward with confidence."

Mr. Churchill added there were two statements he wished to make about the operations at the Dardanelles. Heavy losses must be expected on land and sea. The fleet employed there was composed of a surplus of warships after all other needs had been provided for.

"Those who suppose Earl Kitchener embarked on these operations without thoroughly and carefully considering every requirement in relation to the army in France and Flanders are not only mistaken but are presumptuous," he continued. "In looking at our losses fairly and squarely, we must not forget the prize for which we are contending."

VICTORY NOT FAR OFF.

"The forces are within a few miles of a victory such as this war has not seen; a victory, which, when it comes will make amends for all."

Mr. Churchill said he did not think the newspapers should attack responsible leaders of the nation at home or in the field, or publish anything calculated to make bad blood. If there were any criticism, it should be in Parliament. That was a matter of self preservation.

SPRING SHOWERS AND BARGAINS.

Were the order of the day. Both were welcome. The bargains continue every day for the next fifteen days. Needless to say when such an unusual chance occurs to buy bright new goods, at such marked savings, it is obviously the part of wisdom to supply your needs now. The great Rebuilding Sale continued with many new lines added daily. You are invited to come and get your share of the savings. E. B. Crompton & Co., Limited, Empire Building, Colborne St.

TURKS FLEEING FROM PERSIA SURRENDER TO BRITISH FORCE

London, June 7.—The following official communication was issued last evening:

"The following further information has been received from Gen. Sir John Nixon regarding the operations on the Tigris Asiatic Turkey: "Gen. Townsend, accompanied by Capt. Nunn and Sir Percy Cox and a small gunboat flotilla, received the surrender of the Governor of Amara together with some 30 officers and about 700 soldiers, on June 3. Amara is now occupied by us in force. The troops captured comprised advance guard Turkish forces retiring before

General George. Goringe's column, which is pursuing the Turkish forces in their retreat from Persian territory. The main body following was seen to disperse into the marshes.

"Our total captures up to date amount to 70 officers and 2,000 men, and seven field guns, six naval guns from the gunboat Marmaris, 12 large steel barges, one large river steamer, three small steamers and a considerable number of rifles and ammunition of all kinds. Further surrenders are expected.

GERMAN FLEET IN BALTIC MET RUSSIANS NEAR RIGA

London, June 7.—In a despatch from Copenhagen the Daily Telegraph correspondent says:

"It is reported from Stockholm that a naval battle occurred Saturday near the Baltic Sea end. The Russian Baltic fleet is deemed by French and Russian naval experts to be sufficiently powerful to compel the German commander-in-chief to detach a considerable squadron to meet it. The Russian fleet in the Baltic consists of five battleships, five armored cruisers (accounting for the loss of the Pallada), six light cruisers and a flotilla of 70 destroyers and 20 submarines.

By use of the Kiel Canal Germany could send into the Baltic as many as her 41 battleships and four armored cruisers and other lighter craft as she could safely withdraw from the North Sea end. The Russian Baltic fleet is deemed by French and Russian naval experts to be sufficiently powerful to compel the German commander-in-chief to detach a considerable squadron to meet it. The Russian fleet in the Baltic consists of five battleships, five armored cruisers (accounting for the loss of the Pallada), six light cruisers and a flotilla of 70 destroyers and 20 submarines.

An official communication received from Petrograd Saturday night stated that a strong German fleet had appeared in the middle Baltic, and had exchanged shots with the Russian fleet of the Gulf of Riga.

The last week has been a very busy one. Two church parades were held on Sunday, one of the First Baptist and in the evening when a goodly number of boys turned out, and enjoyed the splendid service that was rendered. Mr. Taylor Slater, Toronto, W. Peirce Woodstock, Mr. Thompson of the city Y. M. C. A. assisted at the service which was conducted by the pastor.

Rev. L. Brown will give an illustrated lecture on Japan at the Boy Knight's armory next Friday evening to which all are invited.

Many thanks are due to Mr. Ed. Hopkins for the gift of poles for swings for the playground, these will be much appreciated by the children who will make use of the grounds during the summer season.

The concert on Friday evening was quite a success, Master Cecil Monkman sang a solo in good style, Miss L. Sterne gave a fine recitation and Mr. Harry Lasterbrook contributed two monologues in comic costume. Harry is always a favorite with the boys but his efforts on this occasion surpassed all previous ones. Solos and recitations were also rendered by Phyllis Monkman, Doris Sterne, Mamie McDonald, Vera Reynolds, Miss Lecker and others. Display work by W. Clewley, G. Gillen, Sergt. Heit E. Williams, B. Knowles, A. Willis and H. Coakland.

A large number of new members were added during the week. Considerable excitement was in the air Tuesday evening over the election and the marking of ballots and their counting was something of a new experience for the boys. As a result of the following B. K's were elected to look after the two junior soft ball teams: Earl Johnson, Boyse, Jagglen, Burnett, Knowles and Jack Stewart, all of whom are excellent and if they get some sleep they will make them up.

An interesting game was played between Ham and Nettis and the B. K. on Saturday afternoon at Greenwood. Results, 19 to 13 in favor of the Ham and Nett team, both did good work. A card was received from Rev. Mr. Buck during the week. He has been busy at work stirring up things in Boston and New York.

The next month will see the busiest part of the year for us, so we will all have to get ready.

At Johnson corner Oklahoma outfall, now a state political figure, was baptized in a suburb of Los Angeles by Rev. John H. Troy.

Rose Day Was Big Success

The headquarters on Colborne St. kidly leaned by Mr. A. H. Tremains in connection with the "Rose Day" campaign of the Women's Hospital Aid, constituted a busy scene to-day when the heads of districts, members of the finance committee and the officers were busily engaged counting the contents of the boxes, nearly four hundred in all. The system employed was most effective, each box having a number with the name of somebody responsible therefor, and the dime that could escape such a scrutiny had not been minted up to the time of going to press.

Police stood guard at the door, for the welfare of money thus valiantly earned, was not to be lightly jeopardized.

At a late hour this afternoon, the counting was still taking place with nothing definite to report except a noise which had the sound of about $2,000. Manufacturing firms contributed some $500, Paris $300, the centre of the Women's Hospital Aid, and so on, but the details will not be given until later. One young lady turned in a box with $25, and not a cent to help swell the total at that. The county wants to be the fore as never previously, and the all round indications are excellent.

FLEEING SOLDIERS

"Tommy" Has to Pay Exorbitant Prices.

"Tommy," generally speaking, may be trusted to look after himself. He is not the green, unsophisticated gentleman some people imagine him to be, although his characteristic open-heartedness and generosity sometimes leads him to place too much reliance on the tales of strangers.

There are, however, certain witty jackals in the towns and neighborhoods of camps who fleece our soldier-boys by tricks which should be exposed as much as possible. In the first place, the strongest protest should be made against the manner in which soldiers are overcharged by boarding-house keepers and hotels. Threepence for a cup of butter and a glass of beer; 1s. 6d. for eggs or toast; 2s. 6d. for a cut of the joint and vegetables—these are a few of the extortionate prices which "Tommy" is asked to pay by grasping people whom he is forced to rely upon at times for anything extra in the way of food.

In some garrison towns small hotels and boarding-houses are taking every advantage of the overcrowding which creates such a demand for sleeping accommodation. Quite fourth-rate hotels are charging 1s. 3s. and 1s. 10s. a week for single bedrooms, simply because they can get it.

The worst type of soldier shark, however, are the keepers and decoys of the night clubs which have sprung up in such large numbers in London and some of the provincial towns. Many an officer or private who has returned from the trenches for two or three days' leave has been inveigled into one of these places and gone back not only reared of every coin he possessed but in fear of the blackmail.

A favorite trick is for one of the women who frequent these night clubs, to arrange up an acquaintance with a soldier visitor, to ask him to take care of her purse and articles of jewellery while she dances. The soldier in nine cases out of ten, acquiesces, and is amazed a short time afterwards, when he is suddenly accused by the woman herself of stealing her purse and jewellery. It is little use him telling the story of taking care of them, for it is only when a man's name is put in the affair generally ends in the soldier, particularly if he is an officer, paying so much hush-money to avoid any further trouble or scandal.

Armed Defeated By Weather.

The weather has often served Britain well in times of war. We all know how the weather finished the destruction of the Armada, and served us when the French invaded Ireland, and there have been other times when a fog, a mist, or a rain from the shores, found his work rendered difficult by bad weather. A heavy thunderstorm at Creech slackened the bow strings of the Genoese archers of the English. When King Edward kept their bows cased, and suffered nothing; and, to come to modern times, the Devons made their famous charge at Wagon Hill, Ladysmith, with a thunderstorm at their back.

Respectable Origin.

The Prince of Wales is becoming more and more enthusiastic over his arduous duties at the front, and in spite of his high position he is not avoiding extreme hardship and danger.

Those who know the prince intimately say that he is as fond of a joke now as he was when he was a little boy—and in his nursery days his quaint sayings were proverbial in the royal family.

The late King Edward used to tell the following story. The King asked the little prince what part of history he was then studying.

"All about Perkin Warbeck," replied his Royal Highness.

"And who was he?" inquired his Majesty, anxious to test his grandson's knowledge.

"Oh," answered the prince, the pretended he was the son of a king; but he wasn't. He was the son of respectable parents!"

Served Etonians 22 Years.

Thomas Line, the college butler and verrier at Eton, is retiring owing to the infirmity of old age. He has been in service at Eton for 62 years and has held his present position for the past 22 years.

When King Edward and Queen Alexandra last visited Eton, his Majesty spoke to Line under the Clock Tower, and inquired how long he had been at Eton, remarking, when the butler told him the fact, "You are a long time naturally has recollections of many famous men. He is in his 75th year, and his wife is still living."

Six hundred pounds a week is being spent by the fund providing bands for recruits in London. Recently it was decided at a meeting at the Mansion House to expend up to 10 per cent. of the money collected to provide grants to provincial bands. London has now eleven bands.

THE SITUATION.

In connection with the Dardanelles the Allies made a successful attack from a trench standpoint, but the line of the Turks still holds. The latter now, as always, are proving themselves to be good fighters. In Mesopotamia, British forces are also making good progress. This constitutes a most fertile district between the Rivers Euphrates and Tigris.

Fierce fighting still continues in the Western theatre of hostilities. The French official claim is that of "important gains," especially in the vicinity of Neuville. The German official despatch admits the latter, stating "in Neuville we lost two groups of houses," but asserts that in other directions attacks have been repulsed with heavy losses to the foe.

In the Eastern arena the Russians still continue to fall back, apparently in an orderly manner. Any danger of a cut-off in connection with troops which they pushed into the Carpathians would seem to have disappeared. The Germans, at last accounts, were preparing to cross the Dniester river in their progress towards Lemberg, the Austrian chief which the troops of the Czar took during their onward rush. It is stated that the Germans have introduced a new formation of attack, likened by military experts to the Macedonian phalanx, with this difference, that it is composed not of individuals, but of divisions and army corps.

The Italians continue to do excellently, and they evidently had all their preparations in good shape before deciding to enter the conflict.

CANADIAN TRADE OUTLOOK.

That trade in Canada has passed the period of greatest depression and already exhibits signs of a sound revival in many lines, appears to be the opinion of the majority of representative business men throughout the Dominion who have contributed their views to a comprehensive survey of conditions which has just been completed by the C. N. R. Less than ten per cent. of those responding, confess to a gloomy outlook; more than 90 per cent. numbering more than two thousand report themselves as optimistic as far as the immediate future is concerned. Practically all are agreed that trade conditions will rapidly return to normal after the restoration of peace. A large number are convinced that if the harvest of 1915 is up to expectation, domestic business will be satisfactory in all the provinces.

In the survey, all classes of enterprise as defined by the last Dominion Census are reported upon. The provinces have furnished the latest information regarding the 1915 production of the agricultural, mining, fishing and lumbering industries. Country towns and villages as well as the large commercial and industrial centres have also been covered.

The reports indicate that business in the Dominion as a whole is from 15 to 20 per cent. below the normal of one year ago. Exactly two-thirds of the informants report a volume of trade as good, or better than it was last Autumn, while 12.03 per cent. state they can not compare present business and last autumn business because trade is always brisker with them at one season than during the other. Apparently trade in the Maritime Provinces is affected least, the Prairie Provinces it is not nearly as brisk as it was last year, but optimism is reviving under the influence of excellent crop prospects. Business in Quebec is slow, but apparently improving, and in Ontario it is gradually returning to normal condition.

Broadly considered, the reports show that business in the towns and villages located in well-settled fertile agricultural districts is practically normal. Dealers in all lines report that collections in such centres are generally normal and that activities have not been curtailed to any extent. The chief falling off has been in big industrial centres. When reductions in staff were made by manufacturers and by business houses last autumn to reduce expenses, they were forced to curtail credits to customers thrown out of work and in turn wholesalers were obliged to scrutinize carefully all credits extended to retailers. The people generally continued to purchase necessary lines of foodstuffs and essentials in other branches of trade as well, but dealers discovered that goods not falling within that classification were in danger of becoming dead stock upon their shelves. However as Canadians arrived at a better understanding of actual conditions, a certain amount of confidence returned, and retail sales were gradually extended to take in the usual lines of goods. The distribution of orders for war materials also exerted a favorable influence where it brought about a renewal of employment in several of the industries in the large cities, and trade credits related to a proportionate extent. Collections, despite the altered conditions, appear to have continued fairly good in the large centres and seem to be steadily improving.

The strong position in which the farmers of the Dominion were placed with the exception of those in the drought-stricken areas in the southern portions of the Prairie Provinces as a result of the marketing at excellent prices of their farm produce—particularly grains and cheese—has worked out apparently to the advantage of the groups of manufacturers whose products are distributed wholly or in part by the agricultural districts. It is clearly shown that purchases by the farmers have contributed very largely to the maintenance of output in many lines. They have continued buying their regular supplies and necessary farm implements, and they have also been devoting a portion of their surplus fund to the improvement of their farm properties.

The reports indicate a keener perception by all classes of the importance of the position which agriculture occupies in the business life of Canada. There is evidence of a disposition to lean upon the crops of 1915, and to qualify expressions of optimism regarding the future with the remark that "the crop is the determining factor." According to the special reports sent in by the various Departments of Agriculture, prospects of a good yield on a largely increased acreage are bright throughout the Dominion. With the incentive of prevailing high prices, farmers have devoted more time and care to cultivation.

MERCHANTS BANK

With public liabilities amounting, at the end of the fiscal year, April 30, 1915, to $71,769,000, or three millions greater than in the year previous, The Merchants Bank of Canada this year reports a total of cash and liquid assets amounting to $33,421,571, or over eight millions greater than in 1914. This means that the liquid assets are not less than 46.6 per cent. of the public liabilities, an almost unprecedented condition of strength, the significance of which may be realized on considering that last year's normal ratio was only 36.9 per cent. In a word, the Merchants Bank and its depositors are able to contemplate the utmost possibilities of this difficult and uncertain period with complete equanimity, and at the same time the shareholders can look forward to a large increase in the bank's activity and profits when normal conditions are restored, as a result of its present strength. A further notable point about these liquid assets is the exceptionally large proportion of actual cash, the items of current coin and Dominion notes alone total $15,425,947, or twice what they were a year ago.

The profits for the year naturally show a considerable reduction as the result of this sustained and vigorous effort to keep the assets strong. Net banking profits were $995,431 for the year, against $1,218,694 on the same capital last year, and further deductions were made from the profit and loss account for patriotic donations, taxes and depreciation—the latter a loss which will doubtless be recovered in part in future years. It is worthy of note that the items relating to delinquent debtors are so small as to be negligible, real estate and overdue debts together only total $263,000. The growth of the business (time deposits are over four millions larger) shows the great confidence which the Bank enjoys among Canadian depositors.

Mr. W. A. Burrows is the courteous manager of the Brantford branch of this bank, which is deservedly enjoying increased popularity with the public.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

The Old Land for a while has been freed from her militant suffragette, and Brantford pretty soon will be clear of its sulphurette.

A despatch says that the Kaiserites are preparing to artificially introduce cholera among the French troops. They are fully capable of that or any other, murderous devilment.

A discussion is taking place in American papers regarding the origin of the phrase, "Who struck Billy Paterson?" A writer in the New York Sun declares that it originated many years ago at Baltimore during a political campaign, when a ward politician by the name of Billy Paterson was hit with a brick when making a speech.

PURE BLOOD MAKES HEALTHY PEOPLE

Hood's Sarsaparilla removes venereal sores, boils and other eruptions, because it drives out of the blood the humors that cause them. Eruptions cannot be successfully treated with external applications, because these cannot purify the blood.

Hood's Sarsaparilla makes rich, red blood, perfects the digestion, and builds up the whole system. Resist on having Hood's. Get it now.

The head of the political organization made the statement, "I will give ten dollars to know who struck Billy Paterson." The expression caught on and became widely used. Some people in Canada think that the phrase related to the late Hon. William Paterson, but such is not the case.

Robert W. Nesser, United States naval expert, says that if Uncle Sam's navy should at once be called into action it would be lacking 18,000 trained men and 900 officers for the efficient manning of the vessels. They have a newspaper man named Daniels at the head of that department, and it is the general opinion that he had better go back to that job.

Wendell Phillips, the great American author, had the Prussians sized up as far back as 1873. Writing in that year, he said:

"What does Prussia represent? She represents the reorganized feudal system of the nineteenth century. She is a power marshalled into form by the one purpose of courts and soldiers. She is not a nation, she is an army. Her great public schools, and all her civil life have a great, if not primary, purpose in the design to make men soldiers. Every man of the population—banker, mechanic, tradesman, lawyer, doctor, and the great military outgrowth, the abnormal monstrosity of the nineteenth century."

The above was penned 42 years ago, and it has been proven to be just as abundantly true of them to-day, only a thousand times more so.

Interesting Coal Case

The affairs of the National Coal Company were investigated at the Police Court by Judge K. J. Harley, acting on behalf of several firms in the United States.

The fraud alleged is that Katz did present a financial statement showing his company to be operating upon a good foundation with assets at $40,000, to several wholesale merchants in order to elicit credit from them and in which he succeeded.

Mr. Henderson, K. C., appeared with A. M. Harley for the prosecution and W. M. Ewen represented defendant Katz.

The firms behind the prosecution were Morlock Collieries Company; Seiler, Blanchard, Company, C. G. Bowman, represented by Mr. Harley and Companies for from Mr. Henderson was acting.

Defendant Katz, who was spoken of as the whole firm, had, he stated in his evidence, been in the business of the National Coal Company for a long time and later as he severed his connection with Louis Stander who speedily disassociated himself from the business.

In February the firm issued a statement which showed the business of the National Coal Company to be flourishing and heavy assets at $40,000. On the strength of this statement, United States firms supplied to the local company several large consignments of coal on credit. Subsequently the firm failed and all that was realized of the alleged $40,000 was some $800 obtained at auction by S. P. Fitcher upon some job lots of coal which were found upon the premises.

Messrs. C. J. Parker and Fred Frank gave evidence and an audit of the books which did not conform with the financial statement printed by Katz and A. V. Ludlow gave testimony as to the value of the property which he placed at $9000 and nowhere near the $83,000 suggested by the defence.

Katz admitted receiving rents from the property owned by the National Coal Company but that the books showed entered since February was $6. He stated he had received no wages for himself but the ledger belied him and he further stated that the financial statement was not given out to induce credit, but in this particular, one of his own letters was entirely contradictory.

After this he admitted receiving quantities of coal from firms to which they had been sent, but he could not state where the money had gone, which had been cleared, simply stating that he left much coal in the company yards when he quit. Further, it was proved when the statement was published the company owed to creditors $4,500. Katz denied that he knew where it had gone. His wife had not any of it.

Mr. Henderson declared that Katz had given a number of recklessly-made statements for the purpose of securing credit, while Magistrate Livingston summed it up in a few words, saying that some one had been robbing the state of Denmark.

Mr. McEwen desired to call some real estate men as to the value of property, and in order to allow him to do so the case was adjourned for a week.

The Visiting Card.

There is probably nothing half so building as the innocent bit of white cardboard called by common courtesy the personal visiting card. It is more often anything but a visiting card, having fallen into dubious uses as a means of sending regrets, apologies and introductions, or of representing the sender herself. It is so easy to send a card, much easier than going oneself or writing a note. It is just correct enough to let one out of a situation without criticism, but there is no surplus courtesy. A card, like charity, covereth a multitude of social sins.

But since cards are a necessary evil, or blessing, if you choose to call them so, it is well to know what is absolutely correct. There are variations in cards from season to season, as in stationery, but the conservative card does not change its essentials. It should be engraved, either in script or old English lettering and should bear only the name of the owner, the address, if desired and the day at home, if one follows such a custom. A married woman uses Mrs. and her husband's full name on her visiting card; if a widow, Mrs. her maiden Christian name and the surname of her deceased husband. An unmarried woman uses Miss and her Christian names written out, no initials. If she is the eldest member of her family, and there is no danger of confusion, she may use just the Miss and her surname. A husband and wife may have a joint card for use in sending gifts, regrets or announcements of residence. Otherwise it is safer for a man and wife to use separate cards. Never make the mistake of using a business card for social purposes.

About Invitations.

Notes of invitations to dinners, dances, "at homes," garden parties, etc., are generally written in the third person and must be answered in similar style. Sometimes between intimate friends and for a small dinner party the note of invitation would be written in the first person and, of course, the reply would be worded accordingly. Luncheon invitations are, as a rule, sent by notes written in the first person.

Invitations to dinner or luncheon should always be replied to as soon as received, whether accepted or refused. It is usual to state a reason for refusal, such as indisposition, previous engagement, etc. If you are unable to attend, you should be sure to say so.

From five to ten days' notice is usually given when sending invitations for friendly dinner parties, but for a large dinner party quite three or four weeks' notice is given, so that time is thus allowed to ask others should any of the first invited guests refuse.

Guests arrive ten to fifteen minutes in advance of the actual dinner hour, and punctuality is most important. Invitations to balls, dances and garden parties are issued on ordinary "at home" cards, the form of entertainment provided being written or printed on the left hand corner of the card. "R. S. V. P." (meaning an answer is expected) does not appear so frequently on invitations as formerly, but when it does an answer should be sent as early as possible.

When You Go Visiting.

When on a visit to friends it is essential that you make yourself very agreeable and fall in with the ways of the house, so that you give no extra trouble to hostess or servants. Visitors shake hands with the host and hostess morning and night and can do so with any other guests that may be staying at the house.

Always leave your bedroom as tidy as possible and so save the household unnecessary work. Letters can be written in the bedroom, and if the hostess rests after lunch then visitors may retire to their own room or go for a walk, as they may prefer.

On the conclusion of a visit it is usual to "tip" the servant who has shown you any special attention. A lady would "tip" the housemaid a sum from $1 to $5, according to length of stay and attention given. A gentleman "tips" the manservant who valets him, the butler and also the coachman if he drives him from and to the station.

Fees are never given by guests to servants after any entertainment, not even after a private dinner given at a restaurant or hotel.

Thimble Party.

If you have a girl friend who is to be married and wish to entertain in her honor, why not give a thimble party? Take your card and write on it "Thurs. day from 3 to 5 (give date), in honor of Miss Browne, Thimbles."

After all have arrived you can produce towels on which an initial is to be embroidered, dish towels to be hemmed of cheese-told from which to make dusters. In this way you make it a personal party for the honored guest, but avoid the "shower" part by your providing the gift.

Chewing Gum.

Gum contests in public have gone out of fashion. No more unlovely habit can be formed, and it outrages all the canons of good form. Though at times gum chewing may be necessary or may be thought to be necessary as an assistant to good digestion, it is doubtful if it is ever anything more than a bad habit when done in public.

Mrs. Loreta Swaton asks a divorce at Detroit claiming her husband bets three deuces against a full house in poker.

THE MERCHANT'S BANK OF CANADA

Proceedings of the Fifty-Second Annual Meeting of the Shareholders.

The fifty-second annual meeting of the Shareholders of the Merchants Bank of Canada was held on Wednesday June 2, in the Board Room at the head offices at Montreal. The chair was taken at twelve o'clock noon, by the Vice-President, Mr. K. W. Blackwell, in the absence of the President Sir H. Montagu Allan.

Mr. J. M. Kibbourn was appointed Secretary of the meeting. The minutes of the last annual meeting were taken as read. The Vice-President then submitted the Annual Report of the Directors as follows:—

I beg to submit the Annual Report of the Directors, the General Statement of the Bank and the Profit and Loss Statement covering operations for the past twelve months. The net profits for the year, after payment of charges, rebate on discounts, interest on deposits, and making full provision for bad and doubtful debts have amounted to $895,431.73.

It will be observed that the earnings for the past twelve months are considerably below those of the previous fiscal year. They are less by $223,282.72. A glance at the Balance Sheet will be helpful in affording a reason for this shrinkage in profits.

Meanwhile, with regard to their disposition:— We have authorized the writing off of $250,000, against depreciation in bonds and investments made necessary by the times we are passing through.

The donations to the Canadian Patriotic Fund, the Red Cross Society, and the Belgian Fund, I am sure, will

The Germans, at last accounts, were preparing to cross the Dniester river in their progress towards Lemberg, the Austrian center which the troops of the Czar took during their onward rush.

With public liabilities amounting, at the end of the fiscal year, April 30, 1915, to $71,769,000, or three millions greater than in the year previous, The Merchants Bank of Canada this year reports a total of cash and liquid assets amounting to $33,421,571, or over eight millions greater than in 1914.

The Italians continue to do excellently, and they evidently had all their preparations in good shape before deciding to enter the conflict.

CANADIAN TRADE OUTLOOK

That trade in Canada has passed the period of greatest depression and already exhibits signs of a sound revival in many lines, appears to be the opinion of the majority of representative business men throughout the Dominion who have contributed their views to a comprehensive survey of conditions which has just been completed by the C. N. R.

In the survey, all classes of enterprise as defined by the last Dominion Census are reported upon. The provinces have furnished the latest information regarding the 1915 production of the agricultural, mining, fishing and lumbering industries.

The reports indicate that business in the Dominion as a whole is from 15 to 20 per cent, below the normal of one year ago. Exactly two-thirds of the informant report a volume of trade as good, or better than it was last Autumn, while 12.03 per cent state they can not compare present business and last autumn business because trade is always brisker with them at one season than during the other.

A despatch says that the Kaiserites are preparing to artificially introduce cholera among the French troops. They are fully capable of that or any other murderous devilment. A discussion is taking place in American papers regarding the origin of the phrase, 'Who struck Billy Paterson?' A writer in the New York Sun declares that it originated many years ago in Baltimore during a political campaign, when a ward politician by the name of Billy Paterson was hit by a brick when making a speech.

chief falling off has been in big industrial centres. When reductions in staff were made by manufacturers and by business houses last autumn, retailers were forced to curtail credits to customers thrown out of work and in turn wholesalers were obliged to scrutinize carefully all credits extended to retailers.

The strong position in which the farmers of the Dominion were placed with the exception of those in the drought-stricken areas in the southern portions of the Prairie Provinces as a result of the marketing at excellent prices of their farm produce—particularly grains and cheese—has worked out apparently to the advantage of the groups of manufacturers whose products are distributed wholly or in part in the agricultural districts.

The reports indicate a keener perception by all classes of the importance of the position which agriculture occupies in the business life of Canada. There is evidence of a disposition to lean upon the crops of 1915 and to qualify expressions of optimism regarding the future with the remark that 'the crop is the determining factor.'

MERCHANTS BANK

The affairs of the National Coal Company were investigated at the Police Court when David Katz appeared to answer a charge of fraud preferred by A. M. Harley, acting on behalf of several firms in the United States.

When you visit friends it is essential that you make yourself very agreeable and fall in with the ways of the house, so that you give no extra trouble to hostess or servants.

Always leave your bedroom as tidy as possible and so save the household unnecessary work. Letters can be written in the bedroom, and if the hostess rests after lunch then visitors may retire to their own room or go for a walk, as they may prefer.

When you visit it is usual to 'tip' the servant who has shown you special attention. A lady would 'tip' the housemaid a sum from $1 to $5, according to length of stay and attention given.

After this he admitted receiving quantities of coal from firms to which they had been sent, but he could not state where the money had gone, which had been cleared, simply stating that he left much coal in the company yards when he quit.

Mr. Henderson declared that Katz had given a number of recklessly-made statements for the purpose of securing credit, while Magistrate Livingston summed it up in a few words, saying that some one had been robbed of a sum of Denmark.

PURE BLOOD MAKES HEALTHY PEOPLE

Hood's Sarsaparilla removes scrofula, sores, boils and other eruptions, because it drives out of the blood the humors that cause them.

Robert W. Nesser, United States naval expert, says that if Uncle Sam's navy should at once be called into action it would be lacking 18,000 trained men and 900 officers for the efficient manning of the vessels. They have a newspaper man named Daniels at the head of that department, and it is the general opinion that he had better go back to that job.

Notes of invitations to dinners, dances, 'at homes,' garden parties, etc., are generally written in the third person and must be answered in similar style.

Invitations to dinner or luncheon should always be replied to as soon as received, whether accepted or refused.

Good Form. There is probably nothing half so baffling as the innocent bit of white card-board called by common courtesy the personal visiting card.

A warning to fire first before exertion is not laziness—it's a sign that the system lacks vitality, and needs the tonic effect of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Sufferers should get rid of that tired feeling by beginning to take Hood's Sarsaparilla to-day.

WERE WARMLY WELCOMED "This is a great country. There are long stretches of undulating fields with no signs to mar their beauty, trim green hedges and such artistic farms. We one and all marveled greatly. When we got into Devonshire harbor the tide was wrong, so we anchored for the night. Some big lighters came alongside and took us all off, and everyone cheered us as we passed along the river. The warmth of the welcome made one's blood tingle. There was no delay at the Plymouth station. Troop trains were all ready and they brought us to camp comfortably. We got to Exeter just after the troop train bringing some of the Royal Scots to Plymouth, where they were to embark for the Dardanelles, was wrecked, killing about 150 of them and costing, he added, We thanked God that this had not been our fate."

Private Ghent gives details of the arrival in camp and of how they marched the several miles from the station, carrying full kit and string. "We're on the way to Mandaly. The camp is in a part of the country given over entirely to troops, and they are comfortably quartered in clap board huts, 22 men per hut. Everything is clean and orderly, and just outside is a tall tree, from the top of which it is possible to see France on clear days. He states also that the camp is only about 50 miles from the firing line. In conclusion, Private Ghent says that all the officers and N.C.O.'s are off to Shorncliffe for two weeks' special training in Maxim gun work, and that there is a rumor of taking Maxim to the front instead of Coing. He adds that there is another rumor abroad to the effect that the second contingent may go to the front sooner than is expected.

COUNTY CO The County Council held its last session on Saturday. It proved to be the most busy meeting during the four days' session. The most important business was the passing of a by-law, No. 325, to equalize the assessment of the various townships and towns of the County of Brant for the current year. With Mr. Evans in the chair, it was read the first, second and third times, and passed by a majority of two. Nays: messrs. Harris, McCann, Greenwood and the Warden. Yeas: Messrs. Burtis, Eddy, Evans, Pitts, Walker and Aiken. For 1914 the assessment rolls were as follows: Town of Paris $1,786,068 Township of Brantford 3,711,188 Township of Burford 3,068,292 Township of South Dumfries 2,424,500 Township of Onondaga 1,023,250 Township of Oakland 511,824 Total $12,525,122 This year's assessment rolls are as follows: Town of Paris $1,600,000 Township of Brantford 5,502,000 Township of Burford 2,510,100 Township of South Dumfries 2,575,800 Township of Onondaga 836,700

Township of Oakland 484,100 Total $13,608,700 The assessment for Township of Brantford at $60 per acre would amount to $4,282,140. Township of Burford at $50 per acre, $3,335,100. By-law 325 of the County of Brant, to authorize the borrowing of $25,000 from the Bank of Commerce, was read the first, second and third time and passed. For the same reason and amount By-law 324 was read the first, second and third time and passed. The report of the committee on the accounts of Schultz Bros., Geo. Yake, Wilson Coal Co., A. J. Osborne and Geo. Thompson. Several communications were dealt with. Those from J. A. Wickert and V. Tanlaff, re the new registry building, and those of Dr. Bruce Smith, Dominion Floor Co., Thos. Evans, County Clerk and Barber & Tilley referred to the chairmen of the finance committee and buildings and grounds committee. It was moved by Thos. Evans that report be adopted. Carried.

The report of the committee on gaol supplies, re tenders for coal for use of county buildings, was read by J. E. Walker. It was moved by him to be adopted. Carried. It was moved by Mr. McCann that Mr. M. E. Harris be appointed to represent the County Council in reference to getting information on the prison farm scheme. Carried. The finance committee report was next read by Chairman M. Harris. It was recommended that $160 be granted towards an auto for the use of the district agricultural representatives' officer. In reference to the account from the Provincial Treasurer for the proportion claimed due by the county of Brant on account of the district officer in health district No. 3, the committee reported that as the township of Tuscarora consisted entirely of an Indian Reservation, under the jurisdiction of the Dominion Government and not the Provincial Government is included in the sum allotted to the County of Brant. The committee recommend that the question be taken up with the provincial government, and upon the proper amount that should be paid by the county being ascertained, payment of same be made by the treasurer. The report was moved to be adopted by M. E. Harris and carried. The committee's report on printing was read and moved to be adopted by A. W. Eddy and carried.

The report of the committee on roads and bridges was read by Mr. Burtis. The Engineer was authorized to advertise for tenders for contract of new Pultown bridge. The County of Brant's share will be $8,500. The council then adjourned. P. S. A. 1 TUTELA I The above teams met on Saturday at Agricultural Park and the P.S.A. had to play Tutela and the A. referees. The game was fast, but one team was continually favored by the man in charge. Times out of number the Tutela men handled the ball, but nothing was said or done, but when on two or three occasions the ball hit the shoulders of a P. S. A. player a foul was given. The P. S. A. should have claimed the game, their's was the best play all the time. Tutela scored first from a clear off-side shot but the ref. "did not see." or a good example to show how the game was handled, on one occasion came within 2 yards of the touch line and the referee gave a throw-on for Tutela. Within the last 5 minutes the P. S. A. scored after bombarding their opponents goal for three-fourths of the game. A. White of the P.S.A. played a fine game, trying hard all the time. Robus scored for the others. The P. S. A. boys feel grieved at being forced to play under such circumstances and think that football is being ruined in this city by the game being mismanaged.

In a very interesting game of ball the MacBride Baseball team defeated the Paris outfit in a city league fixture at Agricultural Park by the score of 5-4. The battery selections by Manager Humble for MacBrides was Lynn and Powell, while Flahiff and Gibbs were in the points for the Frenchmen. After getting a lead of two runs in the first inning the Paris boys were playing good ball, but the Printers made a strong finish and managed to win out by one run, after a good exhibition of ball. Lynn, the MacBride pitcher, had only five hits chalked up against him but a couple of errors paved the way to Paris scores. He struck out seven men. Mr. James Bradley was a satisfactory umpire. It is understood that a little rowdiness occurred during the game, which has been reported to the league. The umpire has been asked to report on the matter and it will be threshed out at a league meeting along with other matters. The league officials are determined the league will be run along proper lines and will permit nothing improper to occur during games if they can prevent it.

ALERTS BEAT HOLMEDALE. On Saturday afternoon in the Amateur Baseball League the Alerts defeated Holmedale the League leaders by 4 to 1. There was a large crowd and the game was the pitching was good. A pleasing feature was the large attendance of the fair sex. The Terrace Hill management had made complete arrangements and the time of the game was perhaps the shortest one played in the league this season, being completed in about one hour and a quarter. Burnett of Paris was umpire and gave general satisfaction. Some of his decisions were questioned but he was impartial. The feature of the game was the pitching of Roy Myers. He had fifteen strikeouts to his credit. "Runt" was there in the pinches and on several occasions had men on bases and only one down, but struck out the next two batsmen. Gordon McDonald was all to the good, his fielding and hitting being brilliant. The Alerts are beginning to get their stride now and next Saturday when they meet MacBrides it should be a merry tussle. Holmedale have a good aggregation. Their team play is perhaps the best in the league. R. H. E. Holmedale . . . 100 000 000—1 6 1 Alerts . . . 001 003 000—4 10 3 Batteries: H. S. O. E. v. THISTLES. This game was played at Tutela Park before the largest crowd that has witnessed a game this season. The Sons won the toss and Thistles kicked off against the sun. Play at start was in favor of the Thistles, but the Sons defence was better contested. The Englishmen pressed and Baker was brought down heavily by Harrington and badly injured and was forced to retire for the balance of the game. The Sons being handicapped by being a man short played pluckily and tried hard to score. Thistles took the play to the other end and nearly scored, but Stanley in goal was playing a brilliant game and could not be beaten. In an attack on Thistles goal Johnson of the S. O. E. was badly injured and was carried off, leaving the sons with only nine men. Despite

She took a step toward her. "Look at me," he said quietly and involuntarily. In the sharp desire to establish himself in her regard he forgot that her eyes had never left his face. But the incongruity of the words did not strike her. "Oh," she exclaimed, "I believe I knew directly I saw you here." The quick ring of life vibrating in her tone surprised him. But he had other thoughts more urgent than surprise.

In the five days of banishment just lived through the need for a readjustment of his position with regard to her had come to him forcibly. The memory of the night when weakness and he had been at perilously close quarters had returned to him persistently and uncomfortably, spoiling the remembrance of his triumph. It had been well enough to smother the thought of that night in days of work. But had the ignoring of it blotted out the weakness? Had it not rather thrown it into bolder relief? A man strong in his own strength does not turn his back upon temptation. He faces and quells it. In the solitary days in Clifford's inn, in the solitary night hours spent in tramping the city streets, this had been the conviction that had returned again and again, this the problem to which, after much consideration, he had found a solution, satisfactory at least to himself. When next Chilcote called him—It was notable that he had used the word "when" and not "if." When next Chilcote called him he would make a new departure. He would no longer avoid Eve. He would successfully prove to himself that one interest and one alone filled his mind—the pursuit of Chilcote's political career. So does man satisfactorily convince himself against himself. He had his intention fully in mind as he came forward now.

"Well," he said slowly, "has it been very hard to have faith these last five days?" It was not precisely the tone he had meant to adopt, but one must begin.

Eve turned at his words. Her eyes were brimming with life, her cheeks still touched to a deep, soft color by the keenness of the windy air.

"No," she answered, with a shy, responsive touch of confidence. "I seemed to keep on believing. You know converts make the best devotees." She laughed with slight embarrassment and glanced up at him. Something in the blue of her eyes reminded him unexpectedly of spring skies—full of youth and promise.

He moved abruptly and crossed the room toward the window. "Eve," he said, without looking around, "I want your help."

He heard the faint rustling of her dress as she turned toward him, and he knew that he had struck the right chord. All true women respond to an appeal for aid as steel answers to the magnet. He could feel her expectancy in the silence.

"You know—we all know—that the present moment is very vital. That it's impossible to deny the crisis in the air."

"Big enough for a tombstone," he said below his breath as his eyes rested on a large blue cross. Then he smiled again and held the book to the light.

"Dine 23 Cadogan gardens, 8 o'clock. Talk with L., he read, still speaking softly to himself.

He stood for a moment pondering on the entry, then once more his glance reverted to the cross.

"Evidently meant it to be seen," he mused. "But why the deuce isn't he more explicit?" As he spoke a look of comprehension suddenly crossed his face and the puzzled frown between his eyebrows cleared away.

With a feeling of satisfaction he remembered Lakeley's frequent and pressing suggestion that he should dine with him at Cadogan gardens and discuss the political outlook.

Lakeley must have written during his absence, and Chilcote, having marked the engagement, felt no further responsibility. The invitation could scarcely have been verbal, as Chilcote, he knew, had lain very low in the five days of his return home.

So he argued as he stood with the book still open in his hands, the blue cross staring imperatively from the white paper. And from the argument rose thoughts and suggestions that seethed in his mind long after the lights had been switched off, long after the fire had died down, and he had been left wrapped in darkness in the great canopied bed.

"Eve," he said, "I want your help." Nobody feels it more than I do. Nobody is more exorbitantly keen to have a share, a part, when the real fight comes"—He stopped; then he turned slowly and their eyes met. "If a man is to succeed in such a desire," he went on deliberately, "he must exclude all others. He must have one purpose, one interest, one thought. He must forget that!"

Eve lifted her head quickly—"that he has a wife," she finished gently. "I think I understand."

There was no annoyance in her face or voice, no suggestion of selfishness or of hurt vanity. She had read his meaning with disconcerting clearness and responded with disconcerting generosity. A sudden and very human dissatisfaction with his readjustment scheme fell upon Loder. Opposition is the whip to action; a too ready acquiescence the slackened rein.

"Did I say that?" he asked quickly. The tone was almost Chilcote's. She glanced up; then a sudden, incomprehensible smile lighted up her face.

"You didn't say, but you thought," she answered gravely. "Thoughts are the same words to a woman. That's why we are so unreasonable." Again she smiled. Some idea, baffling and incomprehensible to Loder, was stirring in her mind.

Conscious of the impression, he moved still nearer. "You jump to conclusions," he said abruptly. "What I meant to imply!"

"—was precisely what I've understood." Again she finished his sentence. Then she laughed softly. "How very wise, but how very, very foolish men are! You come to the conclusion that because a woman is interested in you she is going to hamper you in some direction, and after infinite pains you summon all your tact and you set about saving the situation." There was interest, even a touch of amusement, in her tone; her eyes were still fixed upon his in an ineffable glance. "You think you are being very diplomatic," she went on quietly, "but in reality you are being very transparent. The woman reads the whole of your meaning in your very first sentence—if she hasn't known it before you began to speak."

Again Loder made an interruption, but again she silenced him.

"No," she said, still smiling. "You should never attempt such a task. Shall I tell you why?"

He stood silent, puzzled and interested.

"Because," she said quickly, "when a woman really is interested, the man's career ranks infinitely higher in her eyes than any personal desire for power."

For a moment their eyes met; then abruptly Loder looked away. She had gauged his intentions incorrectly, yet with disconcerting insight. Again the suggestion of an unusual personality below the serenity of her manner recurred to his imagination.

With an impulse altogether foreign to him he lifted his head and again met her glance. Then at last he spoke, but only two words. "Forgive me!" he said with simple direct sincerity.

CHAPTER XXII.
AFTER his interview with Eve, Loder retired to the study and spent the remaining hours of the day and the whole span of the evening in work. At 1 o'clock, still feeling fresh in mind and body, he dismissed Greening and passed into Chilcote's bedroom. The interview with Eve, though widely different from the one he had anticipated, had left him stimulated and alert. In the hours that followed it there had been an added anxiety to put his mind into harness, an added gratification in finding it answer to the rein.

A pleasant sense of retrospection settled upon him as he slowly undressed, and a pleasant sense of interest touched him as, crossing to the dressing table, he caught sight of Chilcote's engagement book, taken with other things from the suit he had changed at dinner time and carefully laid aside by Renwick.

He picked it up and slowly turned the pages. It always held the suggestion of a lottery, this dipping into another man's engagements and drawing a prize or a blank. It was a sensation that even custom had not dulled.

At first he turned the pages slowly, then by degrees his fingers quickened. Beyond the fact that this present evening was free he knew nothing of his promised movements. The abruptness of Chilcote's arrival at Clifford's inn in the afternoon had left no time for superfluous questions. He skimmed the writing with a touch of interested haste, then all at once he paused and smiled.

"Big enough for a tombstone," he said below his breath as his eyes rested on a large blue cross. Then he smiled again and held the book to the light.

"Dine 23 Cadogan gardens, 8 o'clock. Talk with L., he read, still speaking softly to himself.

Nothing is more desired by the feminine heart in the springtime than handsome new "undies," as our English cousins call them. One department of underwear which the spring maid and matron cannot supply too lavishly is the brassiere department. One handsome illustration of these very necessary adjuncts to a lady's toilet is shown in the illustration. Hand embroidered linen with real cluny lace is used in its development, and ribbon bows are used to further beautify it. A feature of this waist is the neatly beamed seams, which do away with the usual bulk where a seam occurs.

HER SHOES.
 What the Woman Who is Well Dressed Will Not Do.
 The woman who is really well dressed does not wear a smart frock and a becoming hat and then ruin her whole appearance by clothing her feet in a pair of shoddy shoes, run down at the heel and perhaps unpolished. And yet many women who are fastidious as to their appearance, who would not think of going out of the house without their suits being well pressed, their blouses being fresh and dainty, their veils adjusted in just the right way, will forget entirely to look at the condition of their shoes. Perhaps these will be worn and dusty and will be made still uglier by being worn with a pair of soiled and crumpled spats.

There is nothing prettier than well shod feet, nothing uglier than a pair of neglected, rundown, soiled shoes. And now that abbreviated skirts are fashionable the girl who wants to be well dressed will take great pains in selecting her shoes, and once she has purchased an appropriate and pretty pair she will take still greater pains to keep them in good condition.

Never take off a pair of shoes without putting a pair of trees in them immediately. This will help them to keep their shape and also will help to prolong the life of the boots. When there is the least suspicion of the heels becoming run down send them to the bootmaker's immediately and have them straightened. Nothing looks so shabby as a pair of crooked heels.

Now as to some of the novelties to be seen this spring. In the first place the light top boot, which has made such a favorable impression this winter, remains in vogue for spring, all the smartest shoes having either light tan or light gray uppers. Gun metal leather and dark gray tops are also considered smart, while a tan shoe with a tan upper is very chic.

Common Sense Creed.
 Almost twenty-five years ago, when life was less strenuous than it is now, the following "common sense creed" was formulated. If its need was felt then how much more will it be appreciated today!

Don't worry.
 Don't hurry. "Too swift arrives as tardy as too slow."
 Simplify, simplify, simplify!
 Don't overeat. Don't starve. Let your moderation be known to all men.
 Court the fresh air day and night.
 "Oh, if you knew what is in the air!"
 Sleep and rest abundantly. Sleep is nature's benediction.
 Spend less nervous energy each day than you make.
 Be cheerful. "A light heart lives long."
 Think only beautiful thoughts. "As a man thinketh in his heart so is he."
 Work like a man, but don't be worked to death.
 Avoid passion and excitement. A moment's anger may be fatal.
 Never despair. "Lost hope is a fatal disease."
 "If ye know these things, happy are ye if ye do them."

Three Excellent Hints.
 If boiled frosting has been cooked too long it may be rendered smooth again by adding a piece of butter the size of a walnut before beating it.
 A fine bit of emery board, such as comes for manfearing, makes a good substitute for an eraser when you make an ink spot on paper.
 When one buys a child's dress, otherwise good, but with poor machine scallops on it, one can regard the scallops as padding and work over them with excellent effect.

War veterans of Evansville, Ind., sank a model of the Lusitania in the Ohio during a memorial service to the American dead.

TWO WERE HANGED IN THE SQUARE Fifty-six Years Ago Two Men Were Hanged in Victoria Square.

Very old timers when they awake this morning reminded their wives, or anyone else they could get hold of, that it was fifty-six years ago to-day that "the niggers were hanged" in Victoria Square. Every landmark in connection with this good burgh is greeted with the remark, "that was before the niggers were hung," or that took place after the niggers were hung.

It was on Thursday, April 14th, 1859, that Lancelot Adams, who carried mail between Paris and Brantford, was shot to death on the Paris Road about three miles from the city. Three colored men residing in the East Ward, after rigid enquiry were arrested—John Moore, Robert Over and Joseph Armstrong. When matters commenced to get hot the last named turned King's evidence and after conviction the other two confessed and also admitted that on March 12, 1859, they had placed an iron rail, a three inch plank and some fence rails across the track of the Great Western Railway between Paris and Harrisburg. With the object of wrecking a mail train and robbing the passengers. The engine, a heavy English one, snapped everything in pieces without going off the track.

The double hanging took place in the open in the centre of Victoria Square a little after nine o'clock in the morning and thousands had assembled to witness the gruesome sight. Armstrong got a life sentence in Kingston Penitentiary, but at the end of twenty years, was set free because he helped the guards in quelling an uprising of the prisoners.

ROUGH PLAY COMMENTED UPON MUCH

Scots Team is Indicted For Fouling Their Opponents' Record Spoiled.

For the first time this season an element of roughness crept into the football circles of the city on Saturday. And it was the Thistles who were responsible, let there be no mistake about it. Until Saturday they had gone from week to week, winning game after game without sacrificing a single goal, and when the Sons of England got to them on Saturday, scored the first goal of the season against them and looked like taking the two points the Scots became unduly rough, laid out two of the Sons best men, and then went in and won against a team of nine men.

It is in the manner in which they were responsible, let there be no mistake about it. Until Saturday they had gone from week to week, winning game after game without sacrificing a single goal, and when the Sons of England got to them on Saturday, scored the first goal of the season against them and looked like taking the two points the Scots became unduly rough, laid out two of the Sons best men, and then went in and won against a team of nine men.

Baker, Johnston and Howell were each subjects the display of bad tactics, each when he was in the act of penetrating the defence, Baker was severely injured and was laid out for the rest of the game. Johnston resumed after forty-five minutes, but he was crippled, and Howell did not find it necessary to leave the field.

The Thistles cannot now pride themselves that their record has been well achieved. P. S. A. COMPLAIN. The Congressionalists have a strenuous kick to make against the work of Elliott as referee for they state he was grossly unfair and quite partial to the Tutela team, with whom they drew one all on Saturday. Time and again he gave Tutela advantages which were not given to their opposites, awarding them a completely off-side goal. The outcome is that the P. S. A. club has written a strong protest with regard to the official to the League executive.

Zurich Paper Issues Warning Against Over-estimating the Victory in Galicia.

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, June 7—A Reuter despatch from Zurich says that the Austrian papers received there sound a note of warning against over-estimating the importance of the Austro-German victory in Galicia.

A war correspondent of the Zeit telegraphs that the fall of Przemyśl does not mean a decision in the great battle in eastern Galicia, but is only an important part of it.

"The Russians," adds the correspondent, "have proved themselves stubborn fighters and they also have large reserves of fresh troops.

"General Linsinger's army still has tremendous obstacles to overcome in an advance to the Dniester."

The lake steamer S. R. Kirby, down bound, was held at Houghton, Mich., until the crew were vaccinated for typhoid.

BOTH ADMIT LOSSES IN SEA FIGHTS

Both Petrograd and Berlin Admit Losses in Men and Ships.

London, June 7—A semi-official statement issued at Petrograd, says a Reuter despatch, states that the Russian transport, Yenisei has been sunk in the Baltic Sea by a German submarine, while Russian mines and submarines have sunk three German steamers. The statement follows: "Reports from observation posts and from our submarines watching the coast reveal activity by the enemy near our coast, especially the approaches to the Gulf or Riga. Large enemy warships preceded by torpedo boats approached the entrance of the Gulf on the third, but withdrew on perceiving our fleet. Shortly afterwards the enemy sent out hydro-aeroplanes which attacked our ships. These hydro-aeroplanes were without result. Their projectiles missed our vessels and they were driven off by our artillery.

The enemy repeated the manoeuvre on the fourth, but again was frustrated by submarines. At the same time in the Baltic Sea our transport Yenisei was attacked by the enemy's submarines and sunk, 35 men being saved. Reports dated the sixth seem to establish that three enemy steamers were sunk by mines placed in the route of the enemy, and by the attacks of our submarines."

GERMAN TRANSPORTS SUNK. London, June 7—The naval engagement at the entrance to the Gulf of Riga resulted in the sinking of several German transports and one large vessel not named, says the Petrograd correspondent of the Times. The Russians lost one auxiliary ship.

It is surmised, the correspondent says, that a majority of the German ships hitherto concentrated at Kiel, came out into the Baltic, but the battle squadrons apparently were not engaged. It is believed in Petrograd that the Germans will repeat their attempt to land troops on the Russian coast.

Pessimistic Note Over Przemyśl

Turner Not Captured by the Huns

Ottawa, June 7—Quick work was accomplished by General Sam Hughes on Saturday in running down the unfounded report from Berlin that Brigadier-General Turner, V.C. was a prisoner, and that damaging papers had been found on his person. Gen. Hughes was in New York on Saturday and at breakfast read the despatch regarding General Turner. He immediately wired his secretary at Ottawa to get into touch with the Canadian headquarters at the front and secure the facts. This was done expeditiously. A cable was sent Col. Carrick, M.P., who investigated and promptly replied: "Turner well and with his brigade." The cable was sent on to Gen. Hughes at New York, but he had left. It reached him, however, at Poughkeepsie on the way back. The whole thing was accomplished inside of 12 hours, and the first to be notified that the report was a pure German fabrication was Mrs. Turner, wife of the General.
