

HER LINES GRACEFUL

Thistle Arrives in Tow of La France

Large Passenger List on Columbia and Sifton—Last of the Cut Rates.

The La France of the Merchants' line with the hull of the Thistle, her sister ship, in tow sailed into port like a whirlwind this morning at 11 o'clock, the graceful lines of the Thistle on account of her being light showing splendidly as she sat high in the water. Every stick of timber and every plank in her hull is of selected British Columbia fir and she is as pretty craft as ever churned up the Yukon. The only cargo brought by the Thistle was material for her completion. Her boiler and other machinery will be installed at once and the house and upper works completed. The La France brought 25 tons of freight and as most of it is Eagle she will probably deliver freight direct without transfer. Captain Martineau reports a pleasant trip down without any incident worthy of note. The shallowest water he found on the flats at the head of Lehigh was six feet. The following are the passengers arriving: Mrs. N. Miles and child, Miss Archambault, A. Bir, E. R. Peoples, F. M. Woodruff, W. H. Henderson, James Wardell, Miss Telford, C. McDougall, P. N. Bergman, Jno. Mero, R. Reski, P. Napier, R. Nero, J. F. Ferguson, Miss Eva Vincent, Captain Fussell and Dr. Austin. The Columbian yesterday afternoon took the largest load of passenger mail that has left this season, every berth, every cot, and practically all the standing room being taken. Her passengers were as follows: Ed. S. Brown, A. Camell, Mrs. Ella McDonald, Mary McDonald, Margaret McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. R. Oliver, Mrs. Hemstead, Mrs. C. A. Celene, W. Shaw, T. H. Allice, H. H.

Dawson, Y. T., June 14.—An open declaration of war between the steamship lines operating between Whitehorse and Dawson was made today and cut rates now prevail. The rate war was precipitated by the appearance of more smallpox aboard the White Pass fleet two days ago and the refusal of the public to patronize that line. As a last resort, on the arrival of Vice-President Newell, the White Pass people yesterday decided upon a cut and the reduction was made to the unprecedented rate of $50 first class and $40 second class to Skagway. The managers of the independent lines, when interviewed, stated that they will go to the White Pass people one better and year to the tenth is expected. The public will patronize the independent fleet as long as they meet the cuts, because of a fear of smallpox.

Put Bullet in His Head

Buffalo, N. Y., June 15.—The body of John George Newland, 35 years old, said to be from Minneapolis, was found in an Exchange street hotel today with a bullet wound in his head. The door of his room was locked on the inside and he had evidently committed suicide. Among Newland's effects were found several bank books showing balances in Kansas City and other western banks.

Double Fatality Results

Philadelphia, June 15.—Mrs. Rachel Sahlor, a widow, was today shot and killed at Coatesville, Pa., forty miles west of here, by Harry N. Riccer, of Newcastle, Pa., who was also killed by a bullet from his revolver while struggling with another woman for possession of the weapon. The tragedy, it is said, was the result of a quarrel. Riccer was regarded as Mrs. Sahlor's accepted suitor.

Destroyed by Fire

Denver, Col., June 15.—The Union ore sampling works and the warehouse of the Second Hand Supply Company, at Thirtieth and Wewatta streets, were destroyed by fire this morning. The total loss is about $50,000. The fire broke out in the sampling works, but the cause is unknown. No one was hurt.

Over Brooklyn Bridge

New York, June 15.—A young man who was a passenger on a Brooklyn bridge car tonight suddenly left his seat and sprang over the bridge rail into the river below. The body has not been recovered. Those who noticed the man before he made the jump from the bridge say he was apparently about 27 years old and was well dressed.

ANOTHER NIGHTMARE

Prehistoric Find Made on Eldorado

Tale of a Rusty Gun, a Human Skeleton and the Remains of a Mastodon.

A new brand of bop has been found on Eldorado and "Tribby" Collins has again succumbed to the seductive influence superinduced by divers long draws of the fragrant poppy on the end of a yard of bamboo. Another pill has been rolled, but the dreams resultant are not of petrified ships hidden on mountain tops at the source of the purling, laughing Koyukuk, nor of unprecedented storms that ravaged the bleak, barren coast of Alaska sending "Black" Sullivan's barges to fathomless depths below, nor is "Tribby's" brain child new to the untutored and ultra credulous denizens of this classic village. There have been others.

Killed by Accident

Colville, June 15.—Arby Cecil, the 16-year-old son of S. P. Cecil, who lives near Addy, sixteen miles south of this city, accidentally shot himself last night while hunting. Only meager details of the shooting could be obtained this morning, as the family lives some distance in the country, but the report is that the boy was leaning on the gun, when it was discharged, the bullet passing diagonally through the body, ranging upwards. Soon after the report reached this city a second dispatch conveyed the news of the death of the young man. Deputy Sheriff W. H. Graham, uncle of the young man, left immediately for the home of the stricken family.

New Fruit Tree Pest

Vancouver, Wash., June 15.—A fruit insect has been troubling Clarke county orchards very much lately and B. F. Packard, a well-known fruit man, has been looking up the matter. While in Washington, D. C., recently he called upon the department of entomology and left some specimens of the insect. A letter received here from the department says the species is known as the pear blight beetle or shot-hole borer (Xyleborus dispar, Fab.) and that it originally came from Europe. It has not been reported from this coast before.

Mrs. Miles Arrives

Which Will be Operated on the Forty Nine Group on Bonanza.

Part of the huge cargo of the Mary Graf was for the Dawson Light and Power Company. Its consignment consisted of one Babcock boiler of 500 horse power, two large beam pumps and a new fashioned compound centrifugal pump. Mr. Williams has lately purchased an interest in the twelve claims known as the Forty-nine group on Bonanza and he has sent for this pump to put on the property. The limits of the ordinary centrifugal pump is from 45 to 50 feet, but it is claimed that this will raise water 500 feet.

Criminal Assize

Criminal cases will be taken up by Mr. Justice Dugas next week. The case of the King vs. Clarke is down for trial on Tuesday, but as his longship has expressed a desire to not hear the case it will doubtless be enlarged a week, or until the return of Mr. Justice Craig. The Bertrand case, that wherein the defendant is charged with having committed an unmentionable crime against nature, will be heard. One of two other persons bound over for trial will be up for arraignment and election.

THE QUESTION OF TERMINALS.

Elsewhere in this issue of the Nugget will be found a statement from Mr. Thos. O'Brien setting forth the reasons why the Klondike Mines Railway Company does not propose to establish its terminals in this city.

This condition of affairs the Nugget regards with regret. If the railroad is to be constructed, the natural place for the location of the terminal is in this city.

If the railroad terminals are located at Klondike City, Dawson is certain to suffer and Klondike City to profit thereby.

The Nugget's interest in the matter is the interest of the entire community. We believe that a mistake will be made the seriousness of which the future will reveal, if the first railroad projected in the district does not enter this city.

Every day brings evidence of the fact that the question of water supply is the all important problem now confronting the miners of this district.

The gentle dove of peace has descended upon the scene of the late transportation war, and all is now harmony and quietude where grim-visaged war formerly held sway.

Dawson will join with British communities the world over in celebrating the coronation. The interest and enthusiasm so generally manifested in the occasion is indicative of the loyalty and patriotism of this community.

FRANCHISE IN THE YUKON

Representation Act of Late Parliament

Providing for Election of Member to the House of Commons.

Copies of the Canadian Official Gazette of date May 24th were received by the last mail and contain the act respecting the representation of the Yukon territory in the house of commons. The act is cited as the Yukon Territory Representation Act, and decrees that this territory shall be an electoral district and return one member to the house of commons. The judges of every court now existing or hereafter created in the Yukon territory whose appointment rests with the governor in council shall be disqualified and incompetent to vote at any election of a member under this act.

Every male person shall be entitled to vote at the election of a member who, not being an Indian, is a British subject and of the full age of twenty-one, and who has resided for at least twelve months immediately preceding the issue of the writ of election in the Yukon territory.

Every writ for the election of a member of the house of commons under this act shall be dated and returnable on such days as the governor general determines, and he shall fix the place and day for the nomination of candidates at each such election; the first of such elections to be held before January 1st, 1903.

Among those debarred from acting as officers of election are members of the Yukon territorial council, ministers, priests or ecclesiastics of any religious faith; all judges and magistrates, and it also gives a list of those who shall not be obliged to act as such officers.

At least two weeks before the date fixed in the writ for the nomination of candidates, the returning officer shall cause to be inserted in at least one of the daily newspapers published in Dawson, and in the newspaper published in Whitehorse if any, a notice of the place and time fixed for the nomination of candidates; the day of the poll; the several polling places and the territorial limits to which they respectively apply; and the time when the returning officer will sum up the votes.

At any time after the publication of the notice and until two o'clock in the afternoon of the day fixed for the nomination, any fifteen electors may nominate a candidate by affirming and signing before a justice of the peace or police magistrate or the returning officer and causing to be filed with the returning officer a nomination paper according to form. No nomination paper shall be valid unless accompanied by the consent in writing of the person nominated, except when such person is absent from the territory, unless $200 is deposited, and such sum shall be returned to the candidate if elected.

Whenever a poll has been granted it shall be held on the 28th day after the expiration of the day fixed for the nomination of candidates, and a proclamation of the granting of such poll shall be published for at least two weeks immediately preceding it.

The poll clerk shall make such additions, alterations and erasures in the voters' list, and such entries in the poll book, as the deputy returning officer directs him to make, as required by the provisions of this act.

Then follow the provisions of "The Dominion Elections Act, 1900," as shall apply to elections in this territory, and those which shall not apply.

Decision Rendered

Monday afternoon the gold commissioner handed down a decision in the case of Jonathan McBrien versus Duncan Estabrook and Joseph Sarnock versus Richard S. May, two contests in regard to 18 above discovery. Last Chance. The commissioner says in his decision:

"The defendants staked the upper and lower halves respectively of creek claim No. 18 above discovery on Last Chance on February 4th last. They found they had staked the claims before they were open for location, so Mr. May states 'he went back and changed his location to the 6th of February at five minutes past twelve on the morning of the 6th of February,' and Mr. Estabrook says he changed his notice immediately after 12 o'clock on the morning of the 7th of February.

"The evidence of both plaintiffs, corroborated by one Leake, is that on the evening of the 6th of February they were on the ground from about 11 o'clock until half past twelve, and that no one else was on the ground during that time. They saw May's down stream location notice, and Estabrook's up stream notice. They were both dated February 4th, and up to 12 o'clock on the morning of the 7th of February, they were not changed.

"I have come to the conclusion that the defendants did not change their location notices until after the plaintiffs had staked the ground when it was open for location. The plaintiffs are entitled to receive grants for the ground in question."

JUDGMENT RENDERED

Claim is Awarded Frank Slavin

Contest in the Gold Commissioner's Court Over Right Limit Hillside on Bonanza.

Gold Commissioner Senker yesterday rendered a decision in the case of Frank P. Slavin vs. Minnie McRae and Charles F. McRae, the ground involving being the hillside, right limit, adjoining 23 above on Bonanza. The judgment is as follows:

"This is a case where the ground in question was relocated by the plaintiff on January 22nd, 1902, the grant under which the defendants held the ground having expired on January 21st. Mr. Slavin applied for record on the 22nd of January, and on the 27th of January the defendants filed affidavits of representation and obtained a renewal grant for their claim. This protest is brought on the ground that the defendants did not do their representation work as required under section 41 of the placer mining regulations.

"The plaintiff having staked the ground subsequent to the expiration of the lease under which the defendants held the ground, and before they obtained a renewal thereof, I am of opinion he was entitled to do so as a free miner, provided the representation work was not done.

"The evidence of the plaintiff given by himself, Mr. Fowle and Frank King, was to the effect that the holes put down were not nearly so deep as stated by the defendant Hack in his affidavit of representation. King saw the ground in May, but the others did not see it until December. J. F. Swatensky was one of the reliable and disinterested witnesses who corroborated the defendant Hack when he was proving his representation work. At this trial he is put in the box by the plaintiff and coolly states that when he made the affidavit of representation he did not know the depth of the holes referred to in said affidavit, as he looked at them but did not measure them, and he could give no information as to the tunnel mentioned in his affidavit.

"Mr. Houston, who states he did the work from April 8th to 28th, says he put down two holes 10 feet, and two others four and three feet deep respectively, and that he had two men working with him, one four or five days, the other two days.

"Mr. Hack tries to explain his affidavit of representation by saying that when he said the third shaft was seven feet deep, that was the same as two shafts four and three feet deep respectively. Swatensky's evidence can not be relied on at all, and from what Houston says it is evident that there was not a tunnel on the ground, only a small cut. There was inexcusable carelessness, to say the least, in the way these affidavits of representation were taken, and even if what Mr. Houston states is true, there was not sufficient work done to represent the claim.

"The grant to the defendants must be cancelled, and a grant shall issue to the plaintiff for the claim in question."

Fine for Vegetation

The recent mild showers followed by warm sunshine are causing vegetation of all kinds to spring up with astonishing rapidity and garden sassafras is coming on here as quickly as it ever did in any tropical country. Yukon summers are brief but very productive while they last.

UNDERWOOD CAPTURED

Alleged Murderer of His Child in Custody

Ten Days a Fugitive Gave Him Wild Man's Appearance—His Girl Wife.

South Bend, Wash., June 14.—Sheriff Cudihoe has made good his bluff. He captured Paul Underwood at 6:30 this morning in spite of the dismal prospects of practically the entire population of Aberdeen and South Bend.

For many days Sheriff Cudihoe and Stewart with a posse have patiently watched the trails leading out of the big timber belt that lies around Tokeland. They had traced Underwood into this forest and were certain that he lay hidden in its impenetrable depths.

Footprints were found that showed that a man with canvas shoes was camping in the woods, empty beef cans of the same brand as Underwood has purchased from Fisher's store were found near smouldering camp fires and it was made certain that the alleged murderer was not far off. At daylight this morning Sheriff Cudihoe ascended a high bluff near his camp and swept the horizon with a pair of field glasses. About one mile and a half distant in the woods along the beach he saw the smoke of a camp fire, and Sheriff Stewart sent his posse to surround it. Cudihoe and Stewart then approached it quietly, but Underwood heard them approaching and plunged into the thicket.

The officers gave chase and finally came in sight of the fugitive who was easily followed by the noise he made in crashing through the undergrowth. Cudihoe then fired a shot to frighten him, and Underwood threw himself flat on the ground in token of surrender and called to the sheriff not to kill him. When the officers picked him up the first question he asked was: "Have they got Nellie, and where is she?" He then refused to talk any more.

This afternoon he arrived at South Bend in the company of Cudihoe, two members of the posse and an Indian, and was immediately locked up in the county jail.

He was much excited but had nothing to say about the case. He looks like a wild man, with a scrubby growth of beard, his clothes tattered, and his feet almost bare. He said his flight had been one long nightmare, owing to his innate fear of darkness in the woods.

Seattle, June 14.—Jailer McLeod was the first to break the news to Nellie Underwood at the county jail. He did it gently, fearing the shock might have serious results in the woman's weakened and nervous state. But Mrs. Underwood found relief in piteous crying. "What will they do to him? Oh, what will they do to him?" she moaned. "Will he be with me now?"

Nellie Underwood, be she guilty or not guilty, sinning or sinned against, loves Paul Underwood still. Not the accusatory hand of the drowned baby nor the ghastly tale of its death will ever come between the alleged murderer and his girl wife.

Leonard Abroad

Tuesday evening about 8 o'clock, Prof. Leonard made his second ascension and parachute leap in this city, and again won the plaudits of the throngs who saw him ride the wind. And of those who have seen many ascensions, all admitted that for skillful managing of the oftentimes fickle parachute, Leonard has no superior.

Mounting the frail trapeze as the great balloon left the earth he shouted adieu to the crowd and like a rocket was wafted away from the wicked world in a manner that made many hold their breath at what seemed sheer reckless daring. But those who had seen him in the heavens before appreciated the fact that the aeronaut, thoroughly understood his business and yelled with delight when he did some stunt a thousand feet from earth that many would not attempt in the gymnasium. After attaining a dizzy eminence he cast adrift with the parachute while hanging by the ankles alone, and dove through space 150 feet. Then the beautiful white parachute opened and down he came gracefully, easily, like a brother to the birds, landing in the garden in the rear of J. Antonio's residence, corner of Bonanza and Jail streets. Three hundred school boys were soon at hand to escort him back to the show lot, and 100 more strung out the balloon which landed a block further on.

Leonard has made a hit in Hilo, and especially with the rising generation. Almost every boy has a paper chute and one of them, thinking to outdo the first climber a tree, spread his parachute made of a Japanese napkin, and jumped—the doctor says he will recover all right.

Prof. Leonard and his cloud shooting apparatus would be just the kind of an attraction for the celebration on the Fourth of July. —Hilo, Hawaii, Tribune.

TELEPHONE SERVICE

Is to be Extensively Improved

Gigantic Poles Erected in the City—New Wire Will be Utilized.

One of the most magnificent line of poles ever seen anywhere studded Fifth avenue this morning, and every one who passed that way said they were a credit to the city. They are 46 feet in height and nine inches in diameter at the top, everyone as straight and trim as if turned in a lathe. They will be gained for gauged for nine 14-pin arms, which are to carry the long distance toll lines to the creeks, and are one of the betterments that Captain Olsen, manager of the Dawson Telephone Company, is putting in this season. The work is being done under the supervision of F. H. Hamilton, and the line of large new poles will run from the stone quarry to Ogilvie bridge, from which point there will be branches to Hunter and Bonanza creeks.

The stouter poles are rendered necessary by a change in the wire. Although there has been no kick coming from those using the long distance phones, only a common iron wire has been in operation. This will be taken out and a heavy copper wire substituted, which will carry a much heavier current and give even greater distinctness to the instruments.

Captain Olsen is today up the creeks, when he returns he will probably have further extensions and improvements to talk about.

A Man-Killer

It was the Fourth of July in the small town of Los Plagos, and a cow-puncher in the crowd bet he had a pony that would shake the teeth out of a prairie hen.

"Run him out," yelled a chorus, and soon a broad-chested, well-set-up, mouse-colored pony with the doe's eye of a doe, stood before us.

"Me take you, me ride, me dig out hide." It was a Mexican who spoke. The bargain was quickly clinched, as money in a cattle town runs freer than water, by the cashing of 25 shining silver dollars in the hands of a stakeholder.

The Mexican secured his saddle and drew the cinch up without the slightest trouble. His foot touched the stirrup, then, with the quickness of a cat that pony reared, whined, and like a panther sprang at the Mexican. One foot caught him a sickening blow fell in the face. Down he went like a sack of meal, clutching and convulsively working his fingers in the dust.

He was in the act of repeating his deadly work when a shot rang out and the infuriated beast dropped like a trap, full on the prostrate body of the Mexican.

The pony was rolled off and rough though very gentle hands carried the Mexican into the Red Haven. The blow had completely crushed in his face and he had passed over the long trail.—From Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly for June.

Rome, June 8.—The duel between Signor Prinetti, the minister of foreign affairs, who was challenged to fight Signor Franchetti, a member of the chamber, as the result of a heated discussion last Friday in the chamber of deputies on the subject of the Prythetian (Italian East Africa) budget, occurred this afternoon at the villa of Marquis Medici. Signor Franchetti was slightly wounded in the ear. After the encounter Signor Prinetti and Signor Franchetti became reconciled.

Heroic Surgery

Walla Walla, June 15.—Miles from any habitation where medical aid could be secured J. S. McKenzie of Dayton a few days ago was bitten by a rattlesnake in the fleshy part of the hand. No other means being available to cut out the poisoned flesh Mr. McKenzie whipped out a revolver and shot the wounded part of flesh away.

Mr. McKenzie was on the Tucanoh just below the Patrick place, and feeling dry went to a spring branch to get a drink of water. He had lain down so he could reach the water, when a rattlesnake at his elbow, quick as a flash struck him with its fangs in the fleshy part of the palm of the left hand. He had not seen the viper and did not know of its proximity until he felt the bite. He was a long way from a doctor and he knew he must act quickly if he wished to save his life. He had no knife sharp enough to cut out the poisoned part and in a few moments the virus would be conveyed to the veins. A moment's thought decided his actions. Pulling his trusty revolver from his pocket he took careful aim at the spot and pulled the trigger. The bullet went true and struck the exact spot, taking the piece clear out. A small vein was severed and the greenish-black poison stained blood gushed out, which he allowed it to do until he was satisfied the poison had been brought out. It was a nerve thing to do and many a man would not have thought of it. His hand swelled up some, but he did not come to town to have the wound dressed by Dr. Day for several days, and he is now nearly all right.

FRANCHISE IN THE YUKON

Providing for Election of Member to the House of Commons.

Copies of the Canadian Official Gazette of date May 24th were received by the last mail and contain the act respecting the representation of the Yukon territory in the house of commons. The act is cited as the Yukon Territory Representation Act, and decrees that this territory shall be an electoral district and return one member to the house of commons. The judges of every court now existing or hereafter created in the Yukon territory whose appointment rests with the governor in council shall be disqualified and incompetent to vote at any election of a member under this act.

Every male person shall be entitled to vote at the election of a member who, not being an Indian, is a British subject and of the full age of twenty-one, and who has resided for at least twelve months immediately preceding the issue of the writ of election in the Yukon territory.

Every writ for the election of a member of the house of commons under this act shall be dated and returnable on such days as the governor general determines, and he shall fix the place and day for the nomination of candidates at each such election; the first of such elections to be held before January 1st, 1903.

Among those debarred from acting as officers of election are members of the Yukon territorial council, ministers, priests or ecclesiastics of any religious faith; all judges and magistrates, and it also gives a list of those who shall not be obliged to act as such officers.

At least two weeks before the date fixed in the writ for the nomination of candidates, the returning officer shall cause to be inserted in at least one of the daily newspapers published in Dawson, and in the newspaper published in Whitehorse if any, a notice of the place and time fixed for the nomination of candidates; the day of the poll; the several polling places and the territorial limits to which they respectively apply; and the time when the returning officer will sum up the votes.

Any time after the publication of the notice and until two o'clock in the afternoon of the day fixed for the nomination, any fifteen electors may nominate a candidate by affirming and signing before a justice of the peace or police magistrate or the returning officer and causing to be filed with the returning officer a nomination paper according to form. No nomination paper shall be valid unless accompanied by the consent in writing of the person nominated, except when such person is absent from the territory, unless $200 is deposited, and such sum shall be returned to the candidate if elected.

Whenever a poll has been granted it shall be held on the 28th day after the expiration of the day fixed for the nomination of candidates, and a proclamation of the granting of such poll shall be published for at least five weeks immediately preceding it.

The poll clerk shall make such additions, alterations and erasures in the voters' list, and such entries in the poll book, as the deputy returning officer directs him to make, as required by the provisions of this act.

Then follow the provisions of "The Dominion Elections Act, 1900," as shall apply to elections in this territory, and those which shall not apply.

Decision Rendered
Monday afternoon the gold commissioner handed down a decision in the case of Jonathan McBrien versus Estabrook and Joseph Salsman versus Richard S. May, two protests in regard to 18 above discovery. Last Chance. The commissioner says in his decision:

"The defendants staked the upper and lower halves respectively of creek claim No. 18 above discovery on Last Chance on February 4th last. They found they had staked the claims before they were open for location, so Mr. May states he went back and changed his location to the 6th of February at five minutes past twelve on the morning of the 6th of February, and Mr. Estabrook says he changed his notice immediately after 12 o'clock on the morning of the 7th of February.

The evidence of both plaintiffs, corroborated by one Leake, is that on the evening of the 6th of February they were on the ground from about 11 o'clock until half past twelve, and that no one else was on the ground during that time. They saw May's down stream location notice, and Estabrook's up stream notice. They were both dated February 4th, and up to 12 o'clock on the morning of the 7th of February, they were not changed.

"I have come to the conclusion that the defendants did not change their location notices until after the plaintiffs had staked the ground when it was open for location. The plaintiffs are entitled to receive grants for the ground in question."

JUDGMENT RENDERED

Contest in the Gold Commissioner's Court Over Right Limit Hillside on Bonanza.

Gold Commissioner Senkler yesterday rendered a decision in the case of Frank P. Slavin vs. Minnie McRae and Charles F. McRae, the ground involved being the hillside, right limit, adjoining 23 above on Bonanza. The judgment is as follows:

"This is a case where the ground in question was relocated by the plaintiff on January 23rd, 1902, the grant under which the defendants held the ground having expired on January 21st. Mr. Slavin applied for record on the 22nd of January, and on the 27th of January the defendants filed affidavits of representation and obtained a renewal grant for their claim. This protest is brought on the ground that the defendants did not do their representation work as required under section 41 of the placer mining regulations.

"The plaintiff having staked the ground subsequent to the expiration of the lease under which the defendants held the ground, and before they obtained a renewal thereof, I am of opinion he was entitled to do so as a free miner, provided the representation work was not done.

"The evidence of the plaintiff given by himself, Mr. Fowle and Frank King, was to the effect that the holes put down were not nearly so deep as stated by the defendant Hack in his affidavit of representation. King saw the ground in May, but the others did not see it until December. J. F. Swatensky was one of the reliable and disinterested witnesses who corroborated the defendant Hack when he was proving his representation work. At this trial he is put in the box by the plaintiff and coolly states that when he made the affidavit of representation he did not know the depth of the holes referred to in said affidavit, as he looked at them but did not measure them; and he could give no information as to the tunnel mentioned in his affidavit.

"Mr. Houston, who states he did the work from April 8th to 28th, says he put down two holes 10 feet, and two others four and three feet deep respectively, and that he had two men working with him, one four or five days, the other two days.

"Mr. Hack tries to explain his affidavit of representation by saying that when he said the third shaft was seven feet deep, that was the same as two shafts four and three feet deep respectively. Swatensky's evidence can not be relied on at all, and from what Houston says it is evident that there was not a tunnel on the ground, only a small cut. There was inexcusable carelessness, to say the least, in the way these affidavits of representation were taken, and even if what Mr. Houston states is true, there was not sufficient work done to represent the claim.

"The grant to the defendants must be cancelled, and a grant shall issue to the plaintiff for the claim in question."

UNDERWOOD CAPTURED

Alleged Murderer of His Child in Custody

Ten Days a Fugitive Gave Him Wild Man's Appearance—His Girl Wife.

South Bend, Wash., June 14.—Sheriff Cudihoe has made good his bluff. He captured Paul Underwood at 6:30 this morning in spite of the dismal prospects of practically the entire population of Aberdeen and South Bend.

For many days Sheriff Cudihoe and Stewart with a posse have patiently watched the trails leading out of the big timber belt that lies around Tokeland. They had traced Underwood into this forest and were certain that he lay hidden in its impenetrable depths.

Footprints were found that showed that a man with canvas shoes was camping in the woods, empty beef cans of the same brand as Underwood has purchased from Fisher's store were found near smouldering camp fires and it was made certain that the alleged murderer was not far off. At daylight this morning Sheriff Cudihoe ascended a high bluff near his camp and swept the horizon with a pair of field glasses. About one mile and a half distant in the woods along the beach he saw the smoke of a camp fire, and Sheriff Stewart sent his posse to surround it. Cudihoe and Stewart then approached it quietly, but Underwood heard them approaching and plunged into the thicket.

The officers gave chase and finally came in sight of the fugitive who was easily followed by the noise he made in crashing through the undergrowth. Cudihoe then fired a shot to frighten him, and Underwood threw himself flat on the ground in token of surrender and called to the sheriff not to kill him. When the officers picked him up the first question he asked was: "Have they got Nellie, and where is she?" He then refused to talk any more.

This afternoon he arrived at South Bend in the company of Cudihoe, two members of the posse and an Indian, and was immediately locked up in the county jail.

He was much excited but had nothing to say about the case. He looks like a wild man, with a scrubby growth of beard, his clothes tattered, and his feet almost bare. He said his flight had been one long nightmare, owing to his innate fear of darkness in the woods.

Seattle, June 14.—Jailer McLeod was the first to break the news to Nellie Underwood at the county jail. He did it gently, fearing the shock might have serious results in the woman's weakened and nervous state. But Mrs. Underwood found relief in piteous crying: "What will they do to him? Oh, what will they do to him?" she moaned. "Will he be with me now?"

Nellie Underwood, be the guilty or not guilty, sinning or sinned against, loves Paul Underwood still. Not the affectionate hand of the drowned baby nor the ghastly tale of its death will ever come between the alleged murderer and his girl wife.

SWIFTWATER BILL GATES

Discussed by One of His Many Wives

Who Says He is a Cheap Guy With no Intellect But is Very Jealous.

Among the visitors in the city is William C. Gates, who is better known as "Swiftwater Bill." Mr. Gates is a noted character of the Klondike gold fields, where he has been the hero of many adventures. Not the least interesting of these was his marriage to Gussie LaMore, a variety actress, and his subsequent marriage to two of her sisters. Gussie was the first Mrs. Gates. Then her eldest sister became Mrs. Gates No. 2, next a younger sister became Mrs. Gates No. 3. The first Mrs. Gates has resumed her occupation as a vaudeville performer. She is now playing in Spokane and vicinity. She is not a bad looking woman. She has genuine flaxen hair, a piquant expression, a pleasant smile, and is neat and stylish in appearance. She is still young and the disposition incidental to the consumption of the champagne which "Swiftwater Bill" used to buy for her has left no tell-tale marks on her pleasing countenance. Recently she unbosomed herself to a reporter as to the details of her marriage and her sister's marriages to "Swiftwater Bill." She said:

"I met 'Swiftwater Bill' in Dawson in the winter of '97. He certainly had the coin then. We were married after a while. He lavished money on me, but I got dead sick of him. He had no sense and so I got to skating around with another guy. There was an egg famine came on in Dawson. Bill was interested in a store that got a consignment of 900 eggs, which they were going to sell at a dollar apiece. I'd shaken Bill.

"I went down to the store to buy some eggs. Lordy, how I wanted some eggs for breakfast! Well, Bill was in the store when I goes in. He sees I want the eggs, and while I'm talking with the clerk, see, he buys up the whole consignment at $1 apiece. Then he says to me, 'Now, my dear, if you want eggs for breakfast, come home where you belong.'

"Well, say, I was just dying for them eggs, and I came to my milk like a lady. I goes home with Bill. After that we lives in Dawson for a while and then I comes out to the states with him. We stopped at Seattle and from there we went to Frisco.

"In Frisco I introduced Bill to my family. Well, say, would you believe it, my sister Grace she cops him out—steals him from me cold. I gets a divorce, with a few alimony, and uses her as the correspondent. Our family is nothin' if not on the square, so, after I gets the divorce, Grace marries him.

"Well, say, she lives with him a couple of weeks and quits him. She couldn't stand for him at all. She leaves their rooms in the Baldwin—it hadn't burnt down then—and takes a flat. Bill, he goes to her room while she's away, wraps her silverware and other valuables up in a sheet and carries them down town on his back.

"Finally Grace she gets a divorce and her maiden name, and then, he steps in and joins up with my sister Nell. Nell only lived with him a week. She says she has a divorce from him, but I don't believe it. But it's a long time since they were together.

"I didn't hear much of Bill until about a year ago, when I read in the papers that he'd ran away from Tacoma with his niece. Wouldn't that kill you? They goes to Frisco, and Bill, as usual, goes flat broke. Bill hunts up sister Grace—the one that got her maiden name back—and tells her a hard luck story. Grace she always was kind o' soft, and what do you think? Why, she gave that slob enough money to pay his hotel bill and get out o' town on.

"Since then I haven't heard much of Bill. I'll bet money he's broke. I wouldn't be his niece for no money. Since I quit him I've been working in show shops again, and I'd rather do that than be the wife of any old Klondike millionaire. My other sister—one I haven't mentioned yet—is married to a Klondiker, and he took her to Europe last summer. She says he treats her fine, but I'm scared o' the breed. Say, I almost forgot to tell that Bill tried to cop out this fourth sister o' mine after Nellie shook him, but he couldn't touch her with a 10 foot pole. That's where she's wiser than the rest of us.

"No woman could live with Bill. He's one o' them cheap guys that never had a great big bunch all at once. He doesn't know nothin' except to tell everybody that he's lousy with the yellow stuff. He'd throw dollars into crowds just to see 'em scramble for 'em and let 'em know that he had it to throw at the birds. He'd tip bell boys with $5 gold pieces, and buy wine at show prices by the barrel.

"Hasn't a particle of intellect; couldn't carry on an intelligent conversation for five minutes to save his soul. He's no company for a woman, and still he's jealous as the devil if a woman only looks at another man.

"Say, did you ever see his get-up? Well, you ought to. He wears a plug hat of the vintage of '75; then he wears a Prince Albert coat and a negligee shirt that cost him a dollar and a quarter. He tops the whole thing out with dancing pumps. Why, say, he's a regular mark.

"Are you and your sister on good terms?" Miss LaMore was asked.

"Why, certainly," was the reply.

"Why should we fall out. Not over that stiff, I hope. We simply kept him in the family. When he got tired of one of us we simply passed him along to the next one. If we hadn't some other fairy would have got him, and there was no reason why all that coin shouldn't be kept in the LaMore family as long as possible."—Seattle Washingtonian.

RAILROAD TERMINAL

Is to be Established at Klondike City

Thos. O'Brien Tells Why the Road Will Not Come to Dawson.

Last week Mr. T. W. O'Brien, president of the Klondike Mines Railway Company, upon receipt of a telegram from Mr. Hawkins put a surveying party at work surveying the grades and preparing for construction work. At the time he made this known for publication he was asked if any further steps had been taken for the establishment of the terminus at Dawson, and he replied that he had heard nothing at all on that head. Many enquiries have been made at the Nugget office since, so much so that a general interest seems to be felt upon the subject and therefore Mr. O'Brien was again tackled this morning on the subject of a railroad depot in Dawson.

"Have any steps yet been taken in the matter?" he was asked.

"Not to my knowledge."

"Have you practically decided upon a site for such depot if you can get the ground on reasonable terms?"

"No, and I don't think we shall get to it this summer. We want first to get the road built and running; then it will be time enough to take into consideration the expense of building a new bridge and extending the line to this city."

"Has any site been offered to the company, or any inducement in any form, to extend the line to this city?"

"None whatever. Moreover, the people of Dawson have not shown the slightest interest in the matter so far as I know. At any rate they have not shown it in any practical shape. Nearly all the capital has had to be obtained outside, and what has made the financing of the enterprise doubly difficult is that one fact that we were not able to show to the outside capitalists when we went to them that the Dawson people had such faith and confidence in the paying possibilities of the proposed road that they were heavy subscribers to the stock.

"Now, if the people of Dawson were so much interested in extending the line to Dawson they could easily have had it extended without having to appeal to anybody. Had they been stockholders they could have demanded it and voted it themselves.

"No, nobody in Dawson has shown sufficient interest in the undertaking to suggest running it to Dawson, much less offering a site for it. We have completed arrangements for building the road from Klondike City and Mr. Hawkins will be here next week to push on the work as rapidly as possible. We have not a doubt of its success, and its extension in this and other directions is a matter for future consideration."

KLONDIKE ROMANCE

Ended at Skagway on Last Week

Woman Followed Wayward Husband Six Years—He was in Dawson.

A sad romance, one which has the most solemn touch about it, was ended in this city Tuesday. It might have not ended in such a happy manner but for the powerful coercion of Deputy Marshal Snook and a sweet little woman.

For the past two months Joe Rapuzzi, the confectionery man of lower Broadway, has had a pretty little lady making candy. She was generally in a merry little mood but oftentimes there would cross her face a look of anguish. Behind those pleasant features there was a strange sadness.

Six years this same little lady, whose name is Mrs. L. Bosasco, was a wife and mother of four fine little children. Suddenly one morning the husband was missing. She waited days, weeks and months for his return, alas even for a letter telling of his whereabouts. No letter came and the four little mouths must be fed. Pluckily she went to work and two years ago the children were placed in a school for education.

Mrs. Bosasco went hither and thither looking for her husband. She could find no trace of him. Three months ago she learned that he was in Dawson. Taking what little money she could raise, she came to Skagway and immediately went to work for Mr. Rapuzzi, in order to make more money with which she would go to Dawson.

Monday morning, some friend sent word to Mrs. Bosasco that her lost husband was aboard the train bound for Skagway. She evidently knew that he would not be over joyous to see her, so Mr. Snook was apprised of the full circumstances and was on hand when the train arrived. Sure enough Mr. Bosasco arrived and with him a poke containing $8,000. He was warned not to leave the city until repairs had been made his wife and finally being brought face to face with his loving wife and by the earnest entreaties, the long lost feeling for a husband's possessions returned and matters were patched up. Mr. and Mrs. Bosasco went south on the Humboldt, lovers again.

In making an explanation for his disappearance, Mr. Bosasco told an Alaskan representative that six years ago he failed in business and he was ashamed to face those he loved. He traveled for several years, and 18 months ago arrived at Dawson and started to make candy. Fortune was with him and two weeks ago he sold out, cleaning up $8,000 in the transaction.

Thus one more Klondike romance has ended happily.—Skagway Alaskan, June 21.

Nobleman's Pitiful Plight

New York, June 14.—At dawn this morning, a few minutes before the fast express was due, track walkers on the Hudson River railroad came upon a man bound hand and foot across the rails. He was removed, unconscious, to a hospital in an ambulance. A short time after he revived and wrote a statement in Italian which, on being interpreted, announced his identity as Carlo Cattapau, the Marquis de Cordova, an Italian nobleman.

In his statement Cattapau says on Saturday last he received papers giving him possession of his estate in Cordova, which are of great value. A few hours later, while emerging from his residence, three men sprang upon him from the darkness, threw pepper into his eyes and grappled with him. The marquis screamed for help, but was beaten into unconsciousness. After this he was bound and gagged and carried to a strange house in New Jersey.

He was kept imprisoned in a cellar, terrorized, from time to time beaten into insensibility and fed on nothing but scraps of victuals. Each time before he was tortured a demand was made on him that he relinquish all claims to his Cordova estate. On his refusing to do so, his captors told him they proposed to kill him.

Last night the men took him to the tracks after blindfolding and gagging him. They put him on the rails bound hand and foot several times, but would remove him as a train approached. Finally on his persistent refusal to sign papers relinquishing his estate they again beat him into unconsciousness and left him bound on the tracks to die.

After making this statement Cattapau again relapsed into unconsciousness and up to noon had not revived. He is in a serious condition from the treatment received and, it is possible may die.

The police are investigating the story. Officers who can speak Italian are constantly on watch by the bedside of the injured man, in the hope that he will give a description of his assailants.

Kills Two Highwaymen

Des Moines, June 9.—It is reported from Talmadge, 40 miles southeast of this place, that two unidentified men, alleged to be highwaymen, were shot and instantly killed by Claude Bristow of Cawker City, Kansas, who was hunting.

Bristow alleges the men sprang upon him from behind a clump of bushes, attacking him with clubs. He drew a revolver, shooting one man through the head and the other through the lungs. He says both were armed. Bristow exhibits a wound on the back of his head, said to have been caused by the highwaymen.

AUSTRALIAN METHODS

Are Followed by Yukon Quartz Miners

Wilson Foster Tells of Hardships in Tracing the Quartz Leads.

Editor Nugget:— It is not a pleasant thing to sink a shaft 100 feet and find that one has lost $2000 or $3000 cash and valuable time by putting the hole down in the wrong place.

It is not encouraging to a prospector to have the people who do not understand his methods laugh at him and ridicule him by calling the open pits and shallow shafts "graves" and "ditches."

For these two grievous reasons I beg to ask the space to explain why we quartz prospectors are sinking shallow shafts and open cuts.

In Australia the hills and mountains are covered with broken rock and dirt in many places to a depth of 5 to 20 feet, which forms a blanket covering the ledges underneath. In the Klondike most of the mountains are covered with a blanket of moss and a blanket of broken rock and dirt to similar depths.

In other mining camps the solid rocky peaks of the mountains are entirely bare, and the prospector finds quartz, porphyry, and other solid pieces of rock uncovered, in plain view, which enables him to secure the samples, make the assays, and determine whether to run a tunnel or sink a deep shaft upon the spot.

The Klondike prospector is embarrassed and in most cases cannot follow the float specimens found on the surface, thus tracing them to their origin in the solid ledge, without ripping up the surfaces, stripping off the moss and broken rock to trace them to the covered ledges by means of open cuts and shallow shafts.

In consequence we prospectors of the Klondike are working to a great disadvantage, being compelled to use high dynamite and fire to find even the top of the ledges or ore deposits before thinking of sinking deep holes or running long tunnels. On the Dawson City group of quartz claims we have sunk over 30 prospect holes and have found at least 6 large veins and porphyry deposits or pits which carry good gold values, ranging from $1.86 to $85.40 per ton.

In the "Stewart Lode," "The Lone Chief," "The New Bonanza," and the "Lone Star" group, more than 50 prospect holes were sunk on the top of the mountain between Bonanza and Eldorado creeks before the ledge carrying the gold nuggets was discovered. And when the rich ledge was found it was Mr. Cortney of the Lone Star Company who struck the top of it with the first stroke of his pick, within 3 inches of the surface of the dirt, beneath the moss which had been stripped off.

Now, I wish to call the attention of the readers of the Nugget to the fact that if these many shallow prospect holes had not been sunk as I have described them, there would have been seen or known of today, and furthermore, hundreds of quartz prospectors who are now at work in this camp would never have seen the samples of quartz carrying gold nuggets, in consequence of which they would all of them be denying the existence of rich quartz in the country and would not be doing the vast amount of development work that is being done this summer.

The greatest curse and drawback to this camp today is the "croaker" and skeptic, who is too lazy to prospect himself and is continually criticizing the prospectors methods of doing his work and trying to discourage his neighbor from assisting the prospector.

The sooner these sour faced, hard luck story croakers shut up or get out of the camp the better it will be for the men who have pinned their faith to the Klondike and intend to stay in the country.

Yours faithfully,
WILSON FOSTER

Japan House Tax

Tokio, May 26th, via San Francisco, June 14.—It is announced here that Sir Claude Macdonald, British minister, and Count von Arco-Halloy, the German minister, have notified the Japanese government that their respective governments have accepted Japan's offer of arbitration of the house tax portion of the treaty property question, while urging submission thereto of all the remaining points in the revised treaties which are in doubt. Japan, however, is said to be firm in refusing to extend the scope of the arbitration. England, Germany and France are now included in the negotiation parties to arbitration, America not being included, but coming in for the benefits of the appeal under the most favored nation clause. The Netherlands government has signified its intention of not joining in arbitration, but of abiding its decision. The question which foreigners here desire settled is the right of Japanese to tax property, i.e., of Japanese exempted from taxation by special treaty. They are not likely to have the whole question settled at this time, but consider that a decided victory has been scored by securing arbitration on a portion of the vexed questions. The Japanese Bar Association has decided that the house tax is rightly levied on foreigners residing in the treaty reservations.

Bolooed by Natives

Manila, June 15.—Friendly natives in Manila say a report is current among their countrymen that five soldiers of the Sixth cavalry, who were captured by the insurgents May 10, have been bolooed to death near Teresa, in Morong province, Luzon. This report has not been confirmed by the American authorities of that district.

Twenty-five members of a band of insurgents, who were captured while fighting with Gen. Lukban in Samar, took the oath of allegiance to the United States and were subsequently released. Four members of the band were killed in the engagement which resulted in the capture of their companions. The twenty-five who have sworn allegiance have been General Chaffee and have promised to give him all the assistance in their power in the work of maintaining the present peace conditions in Samar. A committee has been sent to Samar to appoint Senor Lorentes governor of the island and to establish civil government there. It is expected that a general amnesty will be declared July 1. This amnesty will result in the release of the Filipino prisoners now on the island of Guam. The prospects in the island of Leyte for a speedy termination of the armed resistance there are bright. Since the ports of the island were closed surrenders of insurgents to the native constabulary have occurred daily.

To Hide Royal Foibles

Berlin, June 15.—Prof. Uphiues, the sculptor, who is to execute the statue of Frederick the Great, to be presented by Emperor William to the United States, informs the correspondent of the Associated Press that he will have no opportunity to see the emperor and take suggestions regarding the statue before August. The guards at the Sans Souci palace at Potsdam have been ordered not to mention to visitors certain pictures intimately connected with Frederick the Great. Among these is the portrait of one of his kitchen maids and also pictures of his favorite ballet dancer, and a picture of the great saw leaning out of a window while he was out driving. The idea of the authorities seems to be that the attention of visitors should be drawn to nothing suggesting that Frederick had the royal foibles of his period.

Not Paid to Withdraw

Havana, June 15.—President Palma and Gen. Gomez were questioned today with regard to the story published in the United States that Gen. Gomez had received $25,000 from the administration of the United States to withdraw from the presidential campaign in Cuba and to permit the election of Senor Palma. President Palma indignantly denied that he had been a party to any scheme to have Gomez withdraw from the campaign in his favor. He also spoke for Gen. Gomez, who was present when Senor Palma was questioned on this matter. The president of Cuba said to insinuate Senor Gomez had been bought off by a bribe of $25,000 was to question the honesty and integrity of Gomez and himself, and that such attacks would pass unanswered.

Arrested for Conspiracy

Dublin, June 15.—Patrick McFugh, M.P., has been arrested on a warrant on the charge of conspiracy and intimidation, in connection with the complaint of a tenant of a farm from which a member of the United Irish League has been evicted. The warrant was issued by a special court which assembled at Sligo, Ireland, June 6, under the crimes act.

OBSTACLES ON STREETS

Will Not be Tolerated in Dawson

Fine of $20 Was Imposed in One Case—Wage Trouble on the Creeks.

Inspector McDonnell was on the bench as acting magistrate at the police court yesterday, Inspector Starnes being slightly indisposed. There were two cases before him for violation of the city ordinance as to obstructions in the streets. The first was that of Boyle Orest, whose wagon was left standing in the middle of Third avenue. Defendant declared someone else put it there and he removed it as soon as he found it out. His case was dismissed.

V. A. Grant, the packer, pleaded ignorance of the law. Policeman Steward testified that three of defendant's wagons were left standing on the middle of the road and two others some distance from the sidewalk. Inspector McDonnell said such carelessness was liable to cause great injury to the city in case of a fire, and fined defendant $20, and costs.

Attorney McKay appeared for Louis Pond, who Monday was before the court on a question of workmen's wages and yesterday for unlawfully taking from claim 31 below upper on Bonanza 119 cords of wood. Mr. McKay said he could prove that defendant was the owner of the claim and therefore could not be guilty as charged, but asked that the case be adjourned and tried on Monday next in connection with the wages case. The request was granted, as there were two or three others equally liable for the amount of wages.

Attorney Smith appeared for Messrs. George, Rumlard and Victor Scherer, the owners of 35a below lower, Bonanza, in a suit for wages in which there were five creditors. Mr. Smith said the owners admitted the indebtedness and would accept judgment, but asked that a stay of ten days be granted. The creditors were Dorimid Bouteier, $226.45; Ernest Rivero, $245.85; Joseph Varielle, $280; Henry Villandi, $230.45, and Joseph Martell, $1250. All were satisfied with the ten day stay and it was so ordered.

Bought Worthless Shares

Paris, June 15.—The police here have been notified of the arrest at Spa, Belgium, of two of the men who are alleged to have recently swindled in Paris a New Yorker named Buchanan out of $40,000. The swindle was perpetrated by three Americans who bought for Buchanan a number of shares in a copper mine with offices in New York. The name of the third American, who has not yet been arrested, is given as Col. Conley.

After the purchase of the shares in question, Buchanan returned to New York and tried to sell them in Wall street, where he found them to be worthless. The shares had not been issued by the mining company whose name they bore.

Earthquakes in Sicily

Syracuse, Sicily, June 15.—Strong earthquake shocks, accompanied by a sound of underground rumblings were experienced here last night. The inhabitants of Syracuse became panic-stricken. The disturbances did not do any damage. For several days past the sky over Sicily has been overcast and the heat has been overwhelming. Shocks of earthquake are reported from other parts of the island of Sicily.

Southard Benefit

Sunday evening next at the Auditorium theatrical folk and the professional musicians of the city will render a testimonial to Mr. Ray Southard, the popular singer, who has been delighting Dawson audiences for nearly a year. The program as arranged will be somewhat different from the concerts recently given as a special feature will be made of the orchestral numbers. Mr. Freimuth will have 12 or 14 men in his orchestra and will give several selections new to the city. He has recently received from New York a large quantity of excellent music embracing some of the latest eastern successes, among which is "Bob White," the comic opera that is at present such a rage. The vocal numbers will be confined to Miss Melville, Miss Winchell and Mr. Southard. Another novelty which will be of unusual interest is the quarrel scene from the "School for Scandal," Miss Lovell appearing as Lady Teazel and Mr. Thorne as Sir Peter. Sheridan's famous comedy is almost as much of a classic as Shakespeare's and the part of Lady Teazel is one in which Miss Lovell a few years ago scored one of her greatest successes in England. The concert promises to be one of the best given this season.

Run Down by a Car

Portland, June 15.—Dr. W. J. McDaniels, a prominent physician of this city, was run over and killed by a trolley car on Williams avenue this morning. He was riding a bicycle between the tracks and turned to pass an approaching car when he fell. A car behind ran over him, crushing him to death.

BUILT FOR PLEASURE

Gasoline Launch Ready to be Launched

Emil Stauf's New Shooting Boat a Thing of Beauty and a Joy Forever.

Emil Stauf is the happy possessor of a steam yacht, and though it was not designed by Herrschel or Watson and gasoline is the motive power instead of steam, it is expected the pleasure to be derived by means of it will more than commensurate with its cost.

The Union engine and fittings are coming in from the outside and will be the latest and most improved of their kind procurable. Gasoline is to be the fuel and the engine will be of ten horsepower capacity with double cylinder, submerged exhaust and a 22-inch propeller made of manganese bronze.

The boat was built solely for pleasure and its owner accompanied by several friends will spend probably a month this fall shooting on the head waters of the Stewart.

Makes Rapid Speed

Pittsburg, June 15.—"We made good speed, but could easily do better," said the trainmen on the twenty-hour train on the Pennsylvania railroad which made its maiden trip from New York to Chicago today.

The new train had run easily from Altoona, over the mountains, up grade and down grade, and had to slow up in many places to keep the schedule for it. The train was filled with passengers. The train crew of the westbound train reported that from one to three minutes to spare characterized the run at every stop between New York and this city.

Telegraphers Form Union

Chicago, June 15.—The commercial telegraphers of Chicago, who for several years have been without a union, were organized today by the American Federation of Labor. The new organization will be known as the International Union of Commercial Telegraphers. Between three and four hundred enrolled their names on the books of the new organization. The officials of the Order of Railway Telegraphers attended the meeting, and promised both their moral and financial support to the new union.

Will Resume Mining

Charleston, W. Va., June 15.—It is believed here that mining will be generally resumed in the Kanawha and New river districts this week and in the Elkhorn region tomorrow. The Kanawha and Hoeking company has announced semi-monthly pay days, and made other concessions. It is believed there will be a general resumption along the Kanawha and Michigan railway tomorrow.

Removing a Landmark

A number of prisoners were at work this morning pulling down the old offices of the gold commissioner. Every timber is being numbered and the building is to be re-erected within the confines of the barracks.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Mrs. M. N. Miles and infant child arrived today on the La France. Mrs. Miles was accompanied by her sister, Miss Archambault.

Mrs. C. A. Celene, wife of a successful Bonanza miner, left on the Sifton last night for a visit to the outside.

Noel, the impersonator, has returned to the outside, leaving last night on the Columbian.

Martin Hobbs, the well known trombonist, has returned to San Francisco for the winter.

Mrs. John Williams and Miss Lottie Williams were passengers for the outside on the Columbian.

Mrs. J. E. Girouard, wife of the registrar, with her three children and maid left on the Sifton for her former home in Quebec. Mr. Girouard hopes to join them in the fall.

Bishop Rowe of Alaska

Seattle, June 16.—Rt. Rev. P. T. Rowe, Bishop of Alaska, who sails in a few days for his northern diocese, arrived in the city yesterday morning from San Francisco and was the preacher at the 11 o'clock service at Trinity Parish church.

Instead of taking a text and preaching therefrom the conventional sermon, Bishop Rowe spoke simply and interestingly about the work in which he has been engaged for the past six years. He said that when he first entered Alaska the greater part of the missionary work was among the Indians, as the rush of white men had not then commenced. There was some amount of prejudice on the part of many white men to the missionaries because it was felt that they were neglected for the sake of the Indians. Such a prejudice had long since disappeared, and now the work was about equally divided between the whites and natives.

A great deal of credit for this condition of things was due to the hospital work which had been maintained, often at great expense, at Skagway, Nome, and Circle City. Of the devoted work of Miss Deane in the latter place the bishop gave some interesting illustrations.

Besides the work of the hospitals the work of the missionaries was described and the ways in which the church was to anticipate a new movement on the part of the miners and provide for it was illustrated by an account of the building of the church at Nome by the hands of the missionaries themselves. The devotion of the communicants of Nome to their church and the efforts made to attend the services there were vividly pictured.

The bishop also spoke at some length of the difficulties incurred in traveling from place to place, and spoke of his own long and lonely journeys into the interior, where he had encountered Indians who had probably never before seen the face of a white man. Yet even here he found some of the simple hymn tunes of the church familiar, the explanation being they had been picked up by Indians near the coast and carried on far beyond the place where they were originally learned.

Welcomed to Japan.

Tacoma, June 15.—Latest advices by steamer from the Orient state that upon the arrival in Japan, May 27, of John Barrett, commissioner general to Asia for the St. Louis world's fair, he was met and accorded an impressive welcome by a large committee of the leading Japanese manufacturers and merchants, representing all the principal chambers of commerce of the empire. The following morning he was presented by the American minister to the Japanese minister of foreign affairs. A few days later he was the guest of honor at a banquet in Tokyo, the capital, given by the principal business men of that city and Yokohama.

Mr. Barrett stated, after several conferences with members of the imperial cabinet, he believed Japan would make an exhibit at St. Louis which would surpass all previous efforts, and rival what will be done by any European nation.

Fast Train Service

New York, June 15.—The new daily fast train service between New York and Chicago was begun today. The train on the Pennsylvania railroad is known as the "Pennsylvania special" and left New York at 8:55 p. m. eastern time. It is scheduled to arrive in Chicago twenty hours later. The train was made up of five cars.

Takes Carbohc Acid.

Colorado Springs, Colo., June 15.—Mrs. Carrie Fassmore, of Colorado City, committed suicide early this morning by taking carbohc acid. She is supposed to have been mentally unbalanced at the time. Her husband, W. G. Fassmore, was in Eaton, Col., at the time. He is a photographer. She had relatives near Fort Scott, Kansas.

Will Consult Ministers

New York, June 14.—In shipping circles the formation of a house commons' committee, with the object of looking after urgent shipping questions in parliament, is regarded as a movement of a distinctly satisfactory character, says a London dispatch to the Tribune. Sir Charles Cayzer, chairman of the committee, and Col. Roper, deputy chairman, sit on the government side of the house, but Walter Runciman, honorary secretary, is one of the most promising of the younger men in the Radical ranks. The clear suggestion is therefore that parliamentary differences are to be, as far as possible, forgotten in the effort to enlighten parliament on the subject of the British shipping industry.

In taking these steps the ship owners in the commons are by no means to be accused of adopting a strikingly original line of action. The church party and the service members have had their own parliamentary committees for a long time past. It is significant, however, that all the members of the new committee look upon the north Atlantic combination in the light of a real danger to England's shipping industry.

It is stated that the promoters of the British combination in opposition to the Morgan syndicate will not take further action until the arrival of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Minister Tarte in this country.

Charged With Fraud.

Cripple Creek, Colo., June 15.—Charges of fraud are made by J. K. Eichorn, in a suit filed in the district court against Nelson B. Williams, George D. Kilbourne and others, in control of the Empire State Mining Company, on Bull hill, and the court is asked to appoint a receiver for the Empire State Company and the Orphan Bell Company, to restrain shipments from the Empire, to cancel the deed wherein the Orphan property is transferred to the Empire State, and to prevent a prospective consolidation of the Orphan and Isabella companies.

The suit grows out of the sale of the Orphan group to the Empire State Company last year, when the stockholders of the Orphan Company were forced to accept about eight cents per share on their holdings. It is charged that Williams and his associates mined in the Orphan property, presumably from the Isabella, and after discovering a large body of ore, sealed it up without appraising the stockholders of the find. After that it is alleged they manipulated Orphan stock without the knowledge of the holders, in such a manner as to secure control, sold it to themselves as the Empire State Company for $108,000, and immediately organized the new company with stock valued at $312,500.

Lynching Prevented

Peru, Ind., June 15.—John Hayes, a negro from Wabash, shot and mortally wounded Clarence Gillespie, white, an employe in the Peru Steel Casting Works, here this afternoon. Hayes, after the shooting, made an attempt to escape, but was captured by a crowd of steel workers who were with Gillespie.

While officers were hastening to the scene the steel workers were preparing to lynch the negro, and Hayes' body would have been dangling from the limb of some nearby tree had not the officers arrived when they did. The prisoner was taken to jail in a street car, followed by scores of people in buggies and on bicycles. Threats of lynching tonight are made by steel workers, among whom Gillespie was popular.

Holds Up a Saloon

Redding, Cal., June 15.—A lone bandit held up a saloon at Red Bluff this morning. While the bartender was serving four men, playing poker, with drinks a man entered the saloon. He had a can under his arm and it was presumed he came for beer. As he neared the table he whipped out a long revolver and commanded all present to raise their hands.

He then raked over $200 in coin that was on the table into his can and backed out the rear door.
