UNCLE TOM'S CABIN.

It was a warm, golden evening; and as St. Clare walked to the other end of the verandah, he saw Tom busily intent on his Bible, pointing, as he did so, with his finger to each successive word, and whispering them; to himself with an earnest air.

"Want me to read to you, Tom?" said St. Clare, sgating himself carelessly by him.

"If mas'r pleases," said Tom, gratefully; mas'r makes it so much plainer."

St. Clare took the book, and glanced at the place, and began reading one of the passages which Tom had designated by the heavy marks around it. It ran as follows:—

"When the Son of Man shall come in his glory, and all his hely angels with him, then shall he sit upon the throne of his glory; and before him shall be gathered all nations; and he shall exparate them one from another, as a shepherd divideth his sheep from the goats." St. Clare read on in an animated voice, till he came to the last of the versus.

"Then shall the King any mute them on his left hand, Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire for I was an hunggred, and ye gave me no meat: I was a thrarty, and ye gave me no drink: I was a stranger, and ye took me not in paked, and ye clothed me not. I was sick, and in prison, and ye visited me not. Then shall they answer unto him. Lord, when saw we thee an hungsred, or sink, or in prison, and did not minister, unto thee! Then shall be say unto them, Inasmuch as ye did it not to one of the least of these my brethren, ye did it not to me."

St. Clare seemed struck with this last passage, for he read it twice—the second time slow, ye and as if he were revolving the words in his mind.

"Tom," he said, "these folks that get such hard measure seem to have bestidoing just what I have—living good, easy respectable lives; and not troubling themselves to inquire how many of their brethren were hungry of white he had not answer.

"What a sublime conception is that of a last judgment!" said he; "a righting of all his wrongs of ages!—a solving of all moral problems by an unanswerable, wisdom! It is, indeed, a wonderful image."

'It is a fearful one to us," said Miss Ophelia. It ought to be to me, I suppose," said St. Clare, stopping shoughtfully. One should have expected some terrible enormities charged to those who, are excluded from Hearen as the reason; but nothey are condemned for not doing positive good, as if that included every possible harm."

"Perhaps," said Miss Ophelia, "it is impossible for a person who does no good not to do harm."

TO THE EDITOR OF HASZARD'S GAZRITE.

To the Editor of Haszard's Gazette.

Dear Sir,—I believe the new School Act is causing a good deal of trouble in many parts of the Island, where the people have heretofore been earcless in not having their districts defined. This part of the trouble should properly be thrown on the former Act, for certainly it is requisite that the bounds of each School District blouid be properly defined and registered; and if the people caunot agree among themselves; and are not willing to abide by the margistrate's decision, they should not pick holes in the Act, in this respect. Every settler cannot expect to have a School within 100 yards of his door; and, therefore, each neighbour should learn to use brotherly kindness one toward another. But I believe, the people have greater cause of complaint in not being able to obtain Teachers, and it is thought that many, very many Districts, will be without a Teacher altogether. This is owing to the smallness of the remuneration for the Teachere' services. I do not mean that a larger sum should be taken from the Revenue, but that the Act should enable the people to assess themselves for a farther sum to obtain the services of a good Teacher, and give him power to recover the settlement should wish to give an additional sum for a superior Teacher, he has to trust to the honor of the people, as he is, I believe, precluded from recovering it by Law. This is one of the remedied.

I hear a great deal of trouble is given to Thear a great deal of trouble is given to the Books which are purchased for schools, so great a variety is now offixed, many of them, possessing the same merits and only differing in their compilation, which render it impossible for them to make classes. I think this only requires to be represented to the Board of Edurequires to be represented to the Board of Edu-cation, to get them to move in the matter, but as anything that is everybody's business is nobody's, it yet remains to be done. Books are now being purchased, so that the sooner it is done the better, teachers will know what to order, pirents what to buy, and the dealer what Books to procure for sale. Maxvos. Ms. Haszane;

Sir, Can you inform us through the medium of your widely circulated Gazette what is consemplated by the 22d. section of the Pree Education Act, which prescribes, that all engagements to teach Schools shall be made between the Trustees and the Teacher! Does it mean, that the Trustees can engage a Teacher on their own responsibility; even if the inhabitants may be opposed to him; or can three of the Trustees of a School impose upon a district a teacher to whom the people may be opposed, merely because he may be a friend or a favourite of theirs! As the subject is one of much controversy throughout the country, any light thrown upon it would set at rest a great deal of agitation going on at present in districts where teachers are engaged, without the concurrence and approbation of the inhabitants.

Three Rivers, May 21st, 1853

Three Rivers. May 31st, 1853

[There is no doubt, it is the intention of the Education Act, that the selection of the Teacher in each District shall be in the Trustees for the time being. For the present year, we are of opinion, that if a District obtain the services of a compatent Teacher at ell, it may be considered fortunate, there being, at the present time, as far as we can learn, at least 50 or 60 Districts likely to be unprovided. If an unpopular Teacher be chosen at any time, it must not be forgotten, that it is the privilege of the Inhabitants to elect two new Trustees, every July, in place of these going out of office, which may place the remedy in the hands of the people at large.]—Eb. Of Wheoping Cough, on the 11th of April lest, Isabella, youngest daughter of Mr. Malcolm M'Neil, Lot 65, aged 8 years and 7 months.

INTRRESTING ORITUARY.—On Friday, Nevember 5th, 1852, at the Dwelling of her maternal Grandfather, Mr. John Reid, Lot 63, having completed her ninth year, died, Mary Woodley, daughter of J. L. Lewellin, of Woodley, daughter of J. L. Lewellin, of Woodley, Grove Farm. The deceased munificated much good sense, so sweetly blended with a friendly, neighbourly spirit, as to win golden opinions and kindly regards. During her; short illness, it became triumphautly manifest she was one of the happy flock of the Lambs of Him who graciously said, "Suffer little children to come unto me." How pleasing, since her removal, to hear quite unexpected testimonies to the high esteem with which she was generally regarded, to hear it said, "Age might listen, age night lears.

Twelvetrees Brothers' Soap Powder,

IWelvetrees Brothers Soap Pewder, (an entirely new invention.)

IS the cheapest, asket, best, and most effectual article for all washing purposes, a seeket of which is equal to ten Fennyworth of Soap!

The saving of Time and Labour is so astonishingly great, that a W E E K 'S W A S B can be accomplished BEFORE BREAKFAST—no rubbing being required.

This wonderful Article is MORE SERVICEABLE THAN SOAP, as it produces a better and much quicker lather, and is adapted for purposes for which Soap cannot be safely or effectually used.

for which Soap cannot be salely or unwanted.
It will not injure the hands, or the most delicate material; but whilst it is incomparable for permanently whitening Linens, &c., after they have become discoloured by age, or injured by bad Washing, it is also unsurpassable for improving the colors of FLANNELS, BLANKETS, WOOLLENS, COLORED PRINTS, BUSLIN and LACE. For Sale by GEO. T. HASZARD, Queen Square.
