Last session, towards the close of his remarks on the Bunget, he made the following observations: "The estimated Revenue for the year was $209.957.31, and the Expenditure $225.56.22, leaving a surplus of $3,410.0. If things turned out as the Government expected, these figures would represent the receipts algures might, however, vary a little from the sums stated, for every bon member and every senable man in the country knew that it was impossible to state precisely what the exact revenue and expenditure would be. If the receipts for the present year reached the sum anticipated, and the expenditure move estimated, and the expenditure of the expected surplus, leaving a Balance of only forty-four thousand dollars against the Province." Now, the receipts, for the last year were estimated at $260.967.31 and the expenditure at $252.556,22. The actual receipts as shown by the Public Accounts for 1885 were $243.224 44 and the actual expenditure $266.317. To That is to say, the receipts fell short of the estimate to the extent of $12.744.87 and the expenditure exceeded the estimate by $13.761.53. It is very easy to account for the storage in the receipts for last year. Unfortunately we had an epidemic of Small Pox last autumn, and this affected public and private business as much that the receipts at the Government offices were much below those of previous years. The estimate it receipts from the Land Office were $50,000, but the actual receips were only $38,000. This was owner to the fact that the prevalence of the small pox in Charlottetown deterred people from coming or communicating with the Land Office to make their payments; and although the Commissioner of Public Lands sent a cillector to distant parts of the country to receive the amounts due, the prevailing excitement, and fear of the contagion, prevented the people from responding to the call made upon them; King's County having to be passed over altorative	rependiture It is true they declared they wild reduce their salaries from $1,600 to $1,300 from the lat January, 1879, and some of them actually refused to accept cheques for their full salary, while the elections were pending; but finding themselves defeated they sent for the balance which they had previously refused. If that government had been returned to power, industry they would have pursued the same pohey with respect to all their prop-sed reductions. Their average expenditure during their term of two years, was $332,832,10 but if they had remained in office during the past six years, the increase in the expenditure for Education would have been added thereto.
