REV. HENRY POPE, D.D. One of the Fathers of Methodism And one of the Most Eloquent Pulpit Orators

Few men have a warmer place in the af-fections of the Methodists of the lower pro-vinces than Rev. Dr. Pope, who after an arduous life in the ministry, to which his vinces than Rev. Dr. Pope, who after an arduous life in the ministry, to which his father also belonged, is now on the supernumerary list and a resident of the city of St. John. During his active ministry his ripe scholarship and fine gift of eloquence made him a popular preacher, while his clear judgment, and wide knowledge of Methodist polity and church history have always made him a most valuable man in the counsels of church. He is still frequently heard in public in St. John, where the members of all the evangelical churches hold him in the highest esteem, his cordial sympathy and aid being ever at the service of every worthy cuse. Rev. Dr. Pope attended the great Ecumenical Council in London some years ago, and his brilliant address there was widely quoted and highly appreciated by the leaders of Methodism in the mother lands. When such a man lends his voice and influence to anything it must at once be taken for granted that sound reason and a profound conviction form the basis son and a profound conviction form the basis son and a profound conviction form the basis of his action. Hence what Rev. Dr. Pope says in the following letter will be accepted by every reader as establishing beyond question the wonderful curative powers of two of the famous Hawker standard remedies. Writing to the Hawker Medicine Co., under date of March 21, 1894, he says:—

"For several years I have suffered, almost continously, many of the distressing ills resulting from sluggishness of the liver, realizing from various medicines but partial and nonly temporary relief. Nine months ago I determined to test the efficacy of Hawker's liver pills. To-day I am happy to inform you of the great benefit derived from their use. In my case they have proved a decid-

SEVERELY BURNED. Mill Owner Meets With Dangerous Accident.

ANNAPOLIS, N. S., Jan. 10, 1894. B. M. Goldsmith, of the firm of H. C. & B. M. Goldsmith, millowners here, met with a severe accident recently. There were thirty pounds of steam on at the time and the burn received was a constant of the control of the contr a very severe one. It is reported that no physician was called and no relief experi-enced for some days after the event. The annual meeting of the Annapolis District of the Methodist Church is being held in this town this week. This district includes the circuits from Digby Neck to Canning, and the members of the meeting are the ministers on these circuits, both stationed and retired and an equal number of lay delegates elected by the quarterly meetings of each circuit.

The business transacted consists of an examination of the character of each minister, and probationer for the ministry in the bounds of the district; a review of the work of the year, and suggestions to conference for the future working of the Methodist Church at large. The most of the meetings are open to the public. Religious services are held each evening. The District will probably close to-morrow or Friday.

The Mouth as a Catch All. There are a multitude of people who in addition to the natural and proper uses of able, though harmless, itching over the the mouth seem to regard it as a sort of handy receptacle, into which any small objects may be thrust for safe keeping till remedy a permanent check on the first apwanted. So says "Good Housekeeping" pearance of poisoning symptoms.

This trait is not confined to either sex, or the diseases of the human family have been to any age. Many a fond mother will cry recently brought prominently before the out in alarm at the sight of her child running about with a plaything in its mouth, to this disease in the past, and now that the should an hour later have occasion to pay on a public conveyance, the would fish out, from some widinders and some refusing to allow carcasses affected with the from some ridiculous receptacle called a from some ridiculous receptacle called a purse, a small coin, which she would hold between her lips till ready to make some other disposition of it—and this regardless of the fact that on an average the coin had been travelling about the country from fiftiguation. teen to twenty years, during which time it had been in all sorts of places and amid all kinds of surroundings. This observation is true of many other things than small coins, and of fathers as well as of mothers. Some of the most painful instances possible have recently illustrated the danger of the habit. The horrible death of a well-beloved clergyman, the result of swallowing a small cork which he was holding between his lips, is fresh in mind; and at this writing a man in Albany has his lungs filled with tacks which he swallowed in a similar manner. He was holding them between his lips, while putting down a carpet, and inhaled Them in laughing at the remark of some one present. He now lies at the point of death, and no earthly power can aid him. Surely these illustrations and the suggestions which they invariably call up, ought to be sufficient reason why no thinking person should ever make a temporary receptacle of the mouth for foreign substances.

Bilious From Childhood Rev. Benjamin Hills, Pugwash, N. S., writes: "In a word I may say that K. D. C. has helped me more than anything else I bave ever used. I had been bilious from have ever used. I had been bilious from childhood; for several years had rarely passed a week without a severe attack of bilious colic, with intense pain at the back of the head. These attacks usually followed my Sunday work. Since I began to use the K. D. C., I have scarcely had any returns of biliousness and the attacks have been very light. I have had greater freedom from suffering since I began to use the K. D. C. than for years past. I believe that the occasional use of a bottle of K. D. C. will keep me comparatively free from the old trouble. casional use of a bottle of K. D. C. Will keep me comparatively free from the old trouble. I thank you for calling my attention to K. D. C. Had I tried it long ago it might have saved me years of suffering. I am glad to recommend it to fellow sufferers."

"A BARNARDO BOY."- Dr Barnardo has proved quite triumphantly that the boy in Manitoba who murdered a farmer was not as alleged, a "Barnardo Boy"-that the boy had never been in any of Dr. Barnardo's Homes. This is a triumph for which his friends and supporters are thankful on account of the really good work in which he is engaged. A somewhat similar case has occurred, only that the crime was theft instead of murder. The "Barnardo Boy" in this case also turned out to have had no connection whatever with the work of the emigent London philanthropist. Possibly some of our contemporaries which have published the accusations in these cases have overlooked the correction. It would be well to do ample justice to Dr. Barnardo's work.

A man came into the waiting room of the dishonest. The majority of women are fas-tidious in the conduct of their finances, shrinking from debt as from disgrace, and shrinking from debt as from disgrace, and preferring to pay fully and honorably as they go. Yet, now and then one hears a wail of complaint from people who suffer needlessly because of the heedless manner in which other people keep them waiting for money which they have earned.
