OPEN VERDICT IN DEATH OF LORD MAYOR OF CORK

Mrs. MacSwiney Dominant Figure at Inquest Plans for Funeral Are Being Made—Procession in London to Station—Other Reports of the Day.

London, Oct. 27.—A jury of ten men after twelve minutes deliberation this morning returned an open verdict in the case of the late Lord Mayor of Cork, who died in Brixton prison early Monday from the results of his 73 day hunger strike.

The verdict was that he had died from heart failure, due to a dilated heart, acute delirium, following a scurvy, which was due to exhaustion from prolonged refusal to take food.

The widowed lady mayora, dressed in black and heavily veiled, was the only witness on behalf of the MacSwiney family, and was the dominant figure of the proceedings. Her composition was indicated by her quick and pointed replies.

Mrs. MacSwiney successfully resisted continued attempts of the coroner to have her characterize her late husband's occupation otherwise than as a "volunteer officer of the republican army."

The inquest, which was held in the bright, sunny office of the prison governor, was attended by thirty-five persons besides the coroner and jury.

London, Oct. 27.—The family of Lord Mayor MacSwiney has today completed arrangements for the funeral. The body has been lying in state at St. George's church since last evening.

DANGER FOR CANADA

Trek to the Cities Not Good, Says Speaker on "The Deserted Village." London, Ont., Oct. 27.—That Canada is in danger of a national decline if not checked, as the result of the great trek to the cities was the inference drawn by President J. B. Reynolds of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, in an address on what he called "The Deserted Village" before the delegates to the convention of women's institutes here.

Referring to the ancient nations of Assyria, Babylon, Rome and Greece, Mr. Reynolds said that their history clearly showed that the adoption by the people of city ways of living was invariably followed by national decline and national extinction.

News Notes About

Prominent Baptists

(Maritime Baptist.)
Rev. David Price has tendered his resignation as pastor of the Chipman church having received a call to the River Glade-Forest Glen field.

Our Baptist brethren of Ontario and Quebec have found a successor to Rev. H. B. Comans, superintendent of home missions, who recently resigned that important position. The new superintendent is Rev. C. H. Schutt, M. A., B. D. He has been the pastor of the Century Baptist church, Toronto, since its organization nineteen years ago.

We have received a copy of the Star-News of Pasadena, Cal., which announces the death of Mrs. Mary R. Johnson, wife of G. Rupert Johnson, of that city, and sister of Rev. S. W. Cummings, pastor of the First Baptist church of Pasadena. About thirty-seven years ago she and her husband removed from Halifax to California.

At the recent convention in Yarmouth one took a deeper interest in the addresses and discussion than did Deacon C. E. Sanford of Berwick, N. S. Though he is now in his ninety-second year he is as alert and active as many men at sixty.

Rev. J. A. Gordon has been asked to take the oversight of the Parkdale avenue church, Ottawa, a small mission which has just erected a new house of worship, and which greets the wise leadership that Dr. Gordon is so well qualified to give.

TRIDUUM ENDED.

A triduum in honor of Saint Clement, which was conducted in St. Peter's church by Rev. J. Kane, C. S. R., of Montreal, was brought to a close last evening. The speaker gave an eloquent portrayal of the life of the saint, and told of his efforts and accomplishments. At the conclusion of his discourse he imparted the papal blessing to all present. Rev. William Hogan, C. S. R., rector of St. Peter's, also spoke, thanking Father Kane for his untiring efforts during the triduum, and asking those present to pray for his success on the mission. Solemn Benediction was then celebrated.

A meeting of the Free Kindergarten Association was held yesterday in the G. W. Y. rooms, Wellington row. She detailed the efforts of the mothers toward the keeping up of these kindergartens and the means they were taking to raise money. Members of the Y. W. P. A. are giving lunches including milk to the children of the North End kindergartens. Two new members were added at the meeting, Mrs. D. C. Dearden and Mrs. E. R. Taylor.

WILL SEEK AID FROM GOVERNMENT
(Canadian Press Despatch)
Ottawa, Oct. 26—Claiming that it is just as reasonable to give aid to other branches of merchandising which have been "interfered" with by the board of commerce, retail clothiers and shoe dealers will expect the government to give them financial assistance if similar support is given the sugar refiners in Canada, as is anticipated. This attitude was expressed at a meeting of the executive of the Ottawa branch of the Retail Merchants Association of Canada held this morning to discuss various matters in connection with Ottawa branch affairs, and embodied in a resolution which will be put before the first meeting of the branch for endorsement. W. J. McKerracher, vice-president of

FINAL DIVISION

Balance of Money Raised by Prentice Boys for Benefit of Orphans. A year ago King Edward Lodge, No. 80, P. A. B., held a fair in the Currier's Rink, West St. John, for the benefit of the orphans, making the sum of $2,007.74 clear. Of this amount they gave $237.74 to furnish a room in the Memorial Home for Children in Wright street, also another sum of $500 toward supporting the home, and the sum of $300 to the Martello annex of the St. John Orphan Association.

This left the sum of $780 in the hands of three trustees to be donated to the proposed new Protestant home. On last Monday night the lodge decided to divide this latter amount between the two first named orphanages, the lodge pledging itself for $750 as soon as the new orphanage has advanced far enough to use the money.

To the Martello annex to furnish a room, $250. To the Memorial Home, $250. Making a total of $750, thus relieving the trustees (L. E. Rolston, W. W. Donahoe and Clifford Price) of the fund of which they have been custodians.

THREE MEN TOOK SCHOONER ACROSS THE ATLANTIC

A remarkable passage has been accomplished by the large Danish three-masted schooner Harris, which made a voyage from Campbellton to Coleraine, Ireland, with only three men on board to handle her. The voyage was made in twenty days. Just as the schooner was about to sail from Campbellton the entire crew before the mast deserted and, as Capt. Harris did not want to come to St. John for another crew he decided to sail without one. He had with him C. Rasmussen, the mate, and O. Gudow, the steward, aged 18. When the people of Coleraine learned that the three had taken the vessel of five hundred tons across the Atlantic they tendered them a banquet and reception and presented to them mementoes of the occasion.

WHERE WE FALL SHORT.

The interprovincial conference on technical education, meeting at Ottawa, has adopted a resolution urging the federal and provincial governments to provide a central institution to train teachers for vocational schools. One of the most serious problems of the New Brunswick Vocational Board has had to do with the training of teachers. This was foreseen by the committee on whose report the vocational training law of the province is based, and they suggested that for evening classes the teachers should be chosen from among efficient journeymen in the trades to be taught, while special provision should also be made for the training of both pre-vocational and vocational teachers. Of course the law has been but a short time in operation in this province, and the teacher problem is not solved. As a result of experience in all the provinces it is now urged that the federal authorities, in conjunction with the provinces and provide a central training school. Aside from what may be done by the federal and provincial authorities there is an obligation resting upon each community, and St. John has not been making the most of its opportunity in this regard. Apparently, because of limited funds, the local vocational board cannot do all that it desires in relation to evening classes this winter, and there is no move on the part of the city to provide a vocational high school, which could be utilized for both day and evening classes.

Let us consider in this connection what the city of Milwaukee has done, as described in the following paragraph. "A splendid illustration of what should be done is furnished by the city of Milwaukee. That city has appropriated $1,000,000 per annum for the education and vocational training of the youth of the city. It has built a seven-story building in the heart of the industrial district, it requires every boy and girl of between fourteen and eighteen years of age employed in industry to attend that school for vocational training one-half day each week, and it has over 11,000 students in attendance." How many boys and girls between fourteen and eighteen are there in St. John, and what are we doing for them along the line of vocational training? In the city of Winnipeg according to Canadian Finance, there are 6,000 boys and girls between these ages who are employed in industrial establishments, many of them in "blind alley" occupations, and none of them getting the benefit of the special training which should be provided for them. What the Winnipeg Journal says of conditions in the west applies equally, if not even more emphatically in the east. It says: "It is an admitted fact that too many of our boys and girls leave school too early. Thousands of our youth in this western country have said good-bye to what should be the greatest character-building institution in the country—at school—at the age of fourteen, just at the time when their characters are in the early stages of formation. Many of them go out to face the world, either by choice or necessity, at this early age—all equipped to fight the forces with which they have to grapple. A few, a very few, are successful, but many are failures for the time being. Some of these failures lose many valuable years in finding themselves, whilst others never overcome the great initial handicap and make excellent material out of which to build up a body of discontented and reactionaries."

Emphasizing the last clause of the last sentence quoted, Canadian Finance pointedly declares that "the dissatisfied youth of tomorrow," and adds by way of contrast that "a capable workman makes a good citizen." Here is another pointed paragraph: "The boy that steals is simply taking what he wants in the very best way he knows how to get it. He follows the line of least resistance. He has not learned that honesty is the only policy. He is innocent of criminal intent, in all probability. He knows no better way to get what he wants—he lacks character. You have a direct interest in the boys of this country, for they will carry on when you are through—are you studying the boy problem?" Are we effectively studying this problem in St. John? What are we doing in regard either to pre-vocational or vocational training that should prompt any degree of self-satisfaction? We have only made the merest beginning, in a half-hearted way, and the boys and girls who form the great majority of those now at school or out of school and at work, are lacking that which is the plain duty of the community to provide.

Press comments agree that the vote in the four provinces on Monday points to a bone-dry Canada within a reasonable period. There is no doubt at all about what the people want. A Dominion-wide referendum on the question of Dominion-wide prohibition thoroughly enforced would result as did the referendum in those provinces on Monday. Even if Quebec went wet it would be overwhelmed by the rest of the country as Halifax or Winnipeg was by the province at large.

THE AMERICAN OUTLOOK.

The New York Evening Post thus summarizes the industrial situation in the United States: "Numerous cotton mills in New England and in the south are shut down or operating on part time. The silk trade has been stagnant since April. The American Woolen Company is now operating only on a small scale. Hosiery and knitting factories are working on a restricted schedule. The shoe trade has been inactive for several months, with some factories closed and others producing at less than 50 per cent. of their capacity, though at the present time there is some tendency towards increased production. The story has been much the same in the automobile industry. Iron and steel work generally maintained their normal rate of output during the summer, but depression in other industries is beginning to cause a restriction of production in a few steel mills. Because of the instability of prices of wheat and flour, the Minneapolis flour mills have been reported this month to be operating at only 50 per cent. of their capacity."

This widespread curtailment of production is described as the result of strained credit and a reaction against inflated prices, and can only be remedied by the process of liquidation and the absorption of existing stocks of merchandise. The last would be accelerated by reduced prices, and only when demand again becomes active will industry revive. The outlook is not by any means hopeless. Indeed Mr. Gary, the steel king, asserts that "business skies are practically without clouds," if the people exercise courage, composure and caution.

The Retail Merchants Association of Canada takes the ground that if the government should come to the rescue of the sugar refiners it should do so as much for other branches of trade and manufacturing. The contention is not without a degree of force which the government will not be slow to recognize. Take, for example, the article of butter. There is no export demand, we are told, and stocks are large, and prices in the Montreal market have been steadily slipping down. If sugar is to be helped, why not butter—or lumber?

LEAP FROM LADDER FOILS HOLDUP MAN

Cigar Store Clerk Jumps on Masked Intruder and Holds Him for the Police. An attempt to hold up the United Cigar Store in New York with a club failed when John M. Holmes, the clerk, leaped from a ladder upon the masked intruder, subdued him and held him until the arrival of the police. Elias D. Ashby, a former clerk in the store, was arrested. "Ashby came into the store in the morning," said Holmes, describing the encounter, "and after a few minutes went away. Half an hour later, while I was on a ladder, I heard some one enter the store. As I turned round I received a glancing blow on my left temple. Without thinking, I leaped from the ladder onto the man who had a white handkerchief over his face. We fell on the floor. I am a wrestler and helped and pulled the man from his face. When I saw who the man was I let him up. He said he was only playing a joke. "By this time a crowd had collected, and Patrolman James Kane entered the store. Ashby then, admitted he had come to rob the place to get even with the proprietors. He had stolen the police club when employed here, and his plan was to knock me out, put me in the back room and rob the safe, of which he knew the combination."

A GREAT DAY FOR BOYS

"If it be your will, let us, therefore, endeavor to develop among our boys such comradeship through the worldwide Scout spirit of brotherhood that peace and good will may henceforth reign among men. Are you willing to join in this high enterprise?" With one voice the 12,000 Boy Scouts at the great Boy Scout Jamboree in England responded, "We will." "I'm sure you will," was the parting word of the Chief Boy Scout, Sir Robert Baden-Powell, and the Boy Scouts from forty nations filed out from the thanksgiving service of prayer and praise, where York Archbishop of York had just preached to them from the text: "Keep that which is committed to thy trust." The Boy Scout movement, the Girl Guide movement and similar movements are of the highest value in the education of our boys and girls. At present Canadian schools are not touching the fringe of the possibilities of these organizations. One main reason for this is the lack of any connection between their governing bodies and the teachers. Some day wise leadership may establish a satisfactory working arrangement and these movements will come into their own.

THE CORSAIRS. "The moiled interests all combine to get these hard earned plunks of mine; the Wall street barons plot and plot to soak me in a tender spot; the components of unearned gain would give their heads to knock me cold." This is the way that James P. Jones declaims to me in trumpet tones, when evening shadows softly fall, and he leans on the garden wall. And if the barous climbed on him, they'd find the pickings mighty slim; for James P. Jones is always broke, his credit is a ghastly joke. And I have always found it thus; the man who makes the biggest fuss about the plutocracy leaves who beat us into early grave in one who never had a roll, some chap who's always in the hole. I find that if I work and save, and like a thrifty gent behave, I have the plunks to put in brine, and none disputes that they are mine. No Wall street barons are abroad to touch me for my humble wad; no malefactors of great wealth secure that hard word by force or stealth. But still I hear this James P. Jones: "I cannot have a store of ones, because the grasping, soulless plukes will rob a poor man of his boots."

CANADA—EAST AND WEST

Domestic Happenings of Other Days

THE COD FISHERIES. One of the great sources of wealth for the Atlantic provinces and Newfoundland is the cod fisheries. Two hundred and fifty years ago from 200 to 250 vessels with a crew of about fifteen men each, used to cross the ocean each year from Brittany to seek the Newfoundland cod. At first this industry was prosecuted as an offshore fishery entirely. Later it was discovered that every creek and inlet was just as full of fine fish as the ocean farther out, so many of the ships, instead of remaining on the Banks where they were subject to the fury of the Atlantic, sought some sheltered harbor where they moored for the time while carrying on their work near at hand. The crews lived on shore in temporary shacks as the catch was being dried on platforms in the sun. After the end of the war between France and England in 1760, and the subsequent establishment of better conditions, the industry revived from its war lethargy. The Jersey Island fishermen began, too, to take an interest in the new business. The coming of the United Empire Loyalists after the war with the rebellious colonies gave another impetus to the trade, but this increased the shore fishing more than that on the Banks. At the present time the in-shore business is larger than that of the far away Banks.

Of all the cod eaters perhaps the most prolific are the Gulf of St. Lawrence, the waters around the Magdalen Islands, the north and east coasts of Prince Edward Island, the north coast of Cape Breton and in the Baie de Chaleur. Annually a sea crop valued at many million dollars is harvested there and at the present time it is a staple industry of the Dominion.

AUTUMNAL

I look about me on the faded hillsides And I know the field is lately swept of golden grain— I hear the soft-winged partridge sweetly Well-Meeting Friends You sit by bushes From out the leafless border of the lane. Beyond the earth a touch of sunlight lingers "Tinting the skies like dainty buds in May." Beyond the little world that knows not of yearning Alone I watch the passing of the day. Ah, it is sweet—where Autumn leaves have fallen. Whilst red and sunbeams light the distant West— To cast one down in Nature's sweet dream. To spend an hour in solitude and rest. Yet as I linger, wrapped in wonder, dreaming. Forgetful that the hours have longer grown, The chilling twilight creeps along the meadow And far away I see the lights of home— Anna S. Harlan, in the New York Times.

DEFIATION IN THE THEATRE

(N. Y. Times.) In the theatre, as elsewhere, business men have long been aware that a recession was due from the boom times of recent seasons and have prepared for it. Those who are wise will welcome it. Too many play-houses have been built, too many productions launched. Competition has been on a basis of unfortunateness. For both the art and the business of the theatre. When there is a reasonable certainty that mediocrity will flourish side by side with excellence, the tendency is toward mediocrity. And when standards are lowered the more regular and steady training down in the competitive struggle. The most serious element in the situation, from the commercial point of view, or what is called "the road," is the refusal of the public to pay for a production of Shakespeare. If the rule of quality prevails there will be an abatement also in the price of tickets for musical comedy. In a word, the question is no longer where one can get in, but what one really wants to see. The mere killing of time in the theatre has become far too expensive. Henceforth the burden of proof will be shifted; an "attraction" will have to attract, an "amusement" will have to amuse. Even prohibition will have to amuse. Even prohibition will have to amuse. Even prohibition will have to amuse.

PHYSICAL ABILITY TEST.

During the month of May the Department of Education of New York State conducted a state-wide physical ability test which was probably the largest and most comprehensive ever attempted. Though not the originator of the idea, it may be said that the Empire state has taken the lead in carrying out a physical ability test on a state-wide basis, including students of the seventh and eighth grades and high schools, both boys and girls. In number, the test was probably the largest ever conducted, and it stands as a record of achievement highly satisfactory to all concerned and a cause of congratulation to all who had a part in it. Eighty per cent. of the enrollment of all schools entering were tested between May 1 and May 22, the results from 56 cities and 203 villages, involving nearly 300,000 children, were compiled and forwarded to the state department before May 26. The events consisted of running (100 yards), jumping (standing broad), climbing (chinning the bar), for boys; running (50 yards), running and catching and throwing (basket ball) for girls. Every precaution was taken to insure fairness and uniformity. Certificates of award are issued by the state.

HEAD OF KING STREET. LONDON HOUSE

WELSHMAN AND THE EMPIRE

Sir John Maurice Jones Tells of Conditions in Wales.

Wales is perfectly contented with its position in the British Empire, said Sir John Maurice Jones, distinguished authority on the Welsh language and professor of the Welsh language and literature in the University of North Wales at Bangor, who has been a life-long friend of Lloyd George, and is visiting Toronto.

"The ordinary person in the United States hardly seems to realize that Wales and Scotland are just as distinctly national in feeling as the Irish, yet the Scotch and the Welsh, with far less favors are firm in their loyalty to the British Empire. We in Wales would have danced with joy if we had been treated like Ireland in the last few years, especially in the matter of landlords. The question, though, in Ireland is not economic, but really religious.

"The majority of the miners of South Wales, where a great deal of the present labor unrest is concentrated, Sir John pointed out, are not Welsh people at all. They are imported elements. It seems to me that Sunilite and the extremist leaders of the miners have been beaten by the Government. The majority of the people of the British Isles are certainly against any revolutionary or destructionist movements. Because the high cost of living must be due to a large extent on the high price of coal, there is a strong feeling against the miners amongst most of the other classes of laboring men themselves.

Very few people realize how distinctly Welsh Wales still remains. In most of the Welsh families, the old Welsh language is spoken almost entirely. "We use it all the time in our homes," said Sir John. "Most of the people, however, speak English, which is the official language of the University. You don't find many people who don't speak English in Wales." The strange case, though of a man who came from Ulster in the United States and who spoke nothing but Welsh, was cited by Sir John. "A week from today I am going to lecture in Welsh to about 2,000 people in Ulster. Over 60 per cent of the people of Scranton, also speak Welsh almost exclusively. "We never felt the want of a revival of the Welsh language, as in Ireland. There are over 20 weekly papers and many monthlies printed altogether in Welsh. A committee of the Pangor Professors are engaged at the present moment in making a revised translation of the New Testament in Welsh. Twelve years after the authorized translation of the New Testament was made in English in 1611, the Welsh translation appeared."

Lloyd George, who Professor Jones resembles a great deal in general features and stature, never passes Sir John's house without paying a call. "I have known him for over thirty years," he said, "although I haven't seen him lately." Sir John met him in Paris when the peace treaty was signed, and turned the conversation around by his "little finger," said Sir John. "Lloyd George is in the best of health," he thinks. "When I saw him last he seemed very well and seem to have stood the strain in a remarkable way."

OPPOSITE OPERA HOUSE

ANNA EVA FAY HOLDS INTEREST

Answers Many Questions for Patrons at Opera House—There Were Four Other Good Vaudeville Numbers.

Anna Eva Fay continues to hold undivided interest at the Opera House. Yesterday afternoon and again last evening she answered numerous questions for patrons in all parts of the house and her ability to pick out those wishing questions answered and then enlighten or advise them was astounding.

Her act, which is based on mental telepathy, is one of the most fascinating booked at the Opera House this season.

In addition to this feature act there were other highly entertaining vaudeville offerings which made a decided hit with all. One of the best was that of Elkins, Fay and Elkins, three young men who appeared in comedy singing, dancing, etc. All three possess good voices and their tris made a decided hit. In addition, two are exceptionally clever dancers and gave an exhibition of soft shoe dancing which would be hard to excel. Their concluding number brought down the house. One presided at the piano, another played the bones and the third beat a tambourine. His antics caused considerable amusement. They were accorded hearty and prolonged applause.

Another act which was exceptionally good was that of McIlvray and Hamilton, who presented a thrilling acrobatic and barrel jumping novelty. The male member is one of the best jumpers that ever appeared in local vaudeville circles and his performance well merited the prolonged applause evoked by his daring feats.

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 27.—Morris Ackerman of Cleveland, noted big game hunter and publisher, passed through here on his way home after a big game hunt in the Canadian Rockies near Jasper, Alberta. Mr. Ackerman said the hunt was the best the American continent offers.

The bag was five grizzlies, one brown, one black bear; three Rocky Mountain big horn sheep, one of immense size, six goats, five caribou, two moose. Other game was seen in abundance.

Mr. Ackerman is well known in this province, having made several visits here.

R., who was celebrant at nuptial mass, united in marriage Miss Mary Helena McIntyre, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Grotty of Fredericton. FIRE IN WATER ST. IN EARLY MORN

Cremo Confectionery Specialties Chief Loser in Blaze in Magee Building.

Fire a little after 3 o'clock this morning in the Magee building, in Water street near the West St. John ferry floats, did damage estimated in the vicinity of $5,000. It started in the stock room of the Cremo Confectionery specialties conducted by the firm of Gale, Elliott and Taylor and caused considerable damage to the plant in addition to destroying a large quantity of supplies. The firm was operating only since October 4.

In the stock room there were three tons of shelled peanuts, 1,400 pounds of coconut for use in the manufacture of candy, 500 pounds of peanut butter, six gross of jars of peanut butter, ready for shipment, a large quantity of walnuts, a barrel of coconut butter, a barrel of glucose and a quantity of extracts.

The origin of the fire is a mystery although it is thought that it probably was caused by spontaneous combustion. An alarm was rung in from box 9 and the fire department were quickly on the scene. By the time a hose was stretched to the seat of the blaze the stock room was a mass of flames and it was only by dint of hard labor that the firemen were able to prevent the fire spreading.

When the blaze was extinguished it was found that a shipment of chocolates for Nova Scotia had been destroyed, about $700 worth of material for making concentrated flavoring extracts, ruined the motor of one of the motor cars badly damaged, another brand new motor considerably damaged and boxes, mixing apparatus, etc., burnt. The entire loss is estimated between $3,000 and $4,000. This is partly covered by insurance. As soon as possible the firm contemplates renewing operations.

In addition to the fire loss it is said that a cash drawer in the main office was opened and $14 in change and more than $8 worth of stamps stolen. Fortunately the firm's invoices and books were saved.

The damage to the building is estimated at several hundred dollars, covered by insurance. Slight damage by water was caused in the Simonds Saw Company premises on the ground floor.

HEAR HARTLAND 'PHONE MATTER

The Pay of Manager and Lineman Contrasted — Board of Health and N. B. Telephone Co.

An interesting matter of salaries and wages was brought out in evidence at the hearing of the application for increased rates by the Farmers Telephone Company of Hartland before the New Brunswick Public Utilities Commission here this morning. Giving evidence in support of the application, Miss Annie Drake, the general manager of the company received a salary of about $1,300 in 1919, while the wages of the linemen were $1,125.

The company asked for authority to increase its rate on business telegrams from $24 to $30 and residence telegrams from $18 to $20. It was said in evidence that the expenses of the company during 1919 were $12,405.50, while the total revenue amounted to only about $9,600.

M. L. Hayward of Hiram appeared as counsel for the company and evidence was given by George D. Britain, manager; Miss Annie Drake, secretary and J. S. Leighton, a shareholder, who appeared on behalf of himself and other shareholders. A. R. Michman, of Boston, was present as expert on behalf of the board. Mr. Leighton in his evidence said that the proposed increases would not be sufficient to make the revenue meet the expenses.

After listening to evidence and argument, the board decided to consider the case and will give its decision later.

The Board of Health, represented by the chairman, John Kelly, and the secretary, T. M. Burns, asked that a rate be fixed on their telephone now installed in the Isolation Hospital. The board contract with the N. B. Telephone Company fixing the rate and when increased rates were granted the company a short time ago, as if their contract was good and asked for an adjustment on the matter, but officials of the company referred them to the commission. The case was postponed until Wednesday, November 3, for a further hearing.

FRED CAMERON IN A HALF MILE EXHIBITION

Fred Cameron, well known in St. John ran an exhibition half mile at the Amherst sports this week and the News says—

"Freddie Cameron was given a great reception when he appeared on the track to do his exhibition half mile. It surely looked like old times to watch him float around that track, with the same ease, grace and speed that gained him a name that is known pretty well over Canada. It brought back memories of that night some eight or nine years ago, when this same Fred went after and captured the famous Tom Longboat scalp, in a grueling ten mile hunt. This race took place in the old Aberdeen Rink. The building was packed to capacity that night, even to the rafters which were black with people. Freddie's time for the half last evening was 2:25, mighty good going."

You Pay for a Kitchen Cabinet Whether You Buy One or Not

Many women feel they have a plausible excuse for not owning a Kitchen Cabinet when they say they "can't yet afford one."

They look at the monetary part as the sole expense, forgetful that their time, energy, temper are all important considerations quite more worthy of conservation than money. In this way they buy a Cabinet without getting one.

RECITAL GIVEN IN IMPERIAL THEATRE

Soprano, Violinist, Cellist and Pianist Heard in Comparison With Reproductions of the Same Music.

The big audience which filled every seat and overflowed into the aisles of the Imperial yesterday afternoon was delighted and deceived by the music of the phonograph which re-produced sound, tone and expression and almost the personality of the artists who sang and played while it gave in duplicate the melodies. The greatest test was made when Miss Betsy Lane Shepherd, of concert and opera fame, sang for a time with the phonograph and then, after the lights had been turned off let the phonograph continue its reproduction of the song.

The artists who took part in the recital were Miss Betsy Lane Shepherd, soprano; Miss Madeline McGuigan, violinist; Igor Sokoloff, cellist and

Rienzi Thomas, pianist. Each in turn invited the comparison of the phonographic reproduction of his or her performance by unexpected stopping in the middle of a melody and letting the phonograph prove its similarity. Miss Shepherd had the curious experience of singing a duet with herself. While the record of her voice singing "Home Sweet Home" was played she sang a counter-melody the exactness of the enunciation and expression of her living voice and its duplication made a singularly pleasing and appealing harmony of the old familiar song. When the phonograph's selections had been given and well applauded, each of the artists was heard in concert numbers without its aid and on their own performance received the prolonged and heartiest applause which they well merited. Miss Shepherd's soft, yet remarkably clear and full soprano was heard in "All Thru the Night"; "L'Eté"; "When ever I Think of You," "In the Gloaming"; "Comin' Through the Rye" and "Home Sweet Home." With Mr. Thomas's sympathetic piano accompaniment she sang "The Wind is in the South." Miss McGuigan, whose touch on the violin is light and sure, gave charming interpretations of "To a Wild Rose," and "Elegie," by Massenet and, accompanied by Mr. Thomas, played the Spanish Serenade and Chaminade by Kreisler. Mr. Sokoloff is a sensitive and artistic cellist and he played "Cantilena" by Góttler and "Chanson Triste" by Tchaikowski. Together with Miss McGuigan and Mr. Thomas and the phonograph reproduction he played "Cavatina" by Raff and "The Angel's Serenade" by Braga. This trio of musicians performing with the duplication of their own performance was a very remarkable feat. Without the phonograph they played one of Schubert's most merry and graceful pieces and were very warmly applauded.

Recount in Charlotte Completed

John W. Scovil Elected by Two Votes — Flewelling Goes to Second Place.

St. Andrews, N.B., Oct. 26.—Two votes constituted the majority of John W. Scovil, of St. Stephen, the highest government candidate in the Charlotte county balloting for four members of the legislature on Saturday, October 2, according to the official recount completed before Judge Carleton this afternoon, after a three days' session. The result of the recount still gives the government twenty-four of the members elected in the province. The official vote as the result of the recount follows, with the declaration day figures in parentheses: Dr. H. I. Taylor (opposition) 8,691 (8,781); J. M. CHANGES TO BE MADE IN QUEBEC PROHIBITION LAW

(Canadian Press Despatch) Montreal, Oct. 26.—Interviewed today D. R. Murphy, K.C., the general administrator of the prohibition law in this province, stated that changes in the law will be made in the next session of the provincial legislature with a view to the better carrying out of the law. It is regarded as likely that this is the last year of the licensed vendors system which is generally admitted to be working out badly, says a writer in the Montreal Gazette. The Quebec government, he says, is averse to going into the liquor business and there may be changes involving the handing over of licenses to hotel men of proven high reputation. In the meantime the law is being strictly enforced as it stands. Many business men found out today that the obtaining of liquor meant the furnishing of a doctor's prescription, a formality with which the majority went to dispense. In connection with the prohibition law two important appointments will be announced from Quebec tomorrow. These are Dr. J. B. A. Quintal, of Maisonneuve, and Dr. Larue, of Quebec city. These two with Mr. Murphy will form a board for the due enforcement of the law.

Yesterday Afternoon's Audience Mystified by Phonograph

Hears brilliant Concert Soprano and noted Violinist compare their renditions with the RE-CREATION by Edison's new phonograph — and could not tell original music from Edison's RE-CREATION of it.

MISS BETSY LANE SHEPHERD, the famous American concert soprano, and Miss Madeline McGuigan, noted violinist, gave an extraordinary recital yesterday afternoon at the Imperial Theatre.

Miss Shepherd walked onto the stage and stood beside the stately cabinet. She began to sing the old Welsh air, "All Thru the Night." The audience immediately yielded to the spell of her beautiful voice. Then suddenly there was a stir—a subdued murmur of surprise—and a perplexed rubbing of eyes. The voice continued to fill the auditorium with undiminished sweetness—your ears were the proof of that—but her lips had become absolutely silent—your eyes told you that

What wizardry was this? It was the test of direct comparison with the living artist, which Thomas A. Edison has developed to demonstrate that the Official Laboratory Model of his new phonograph will sing any song exactly as it was sung by the artist, and that his RE-CREATION of a singer's voice, as it comes from his wonderful new phonograph, positively cannot be distinguished from the singer's actual voice, when both are heard in direct comparison.

Miss Shepherd made repeated comparisons—always with the same result. It was truly wonderful. This master achievement, of the great wizard, Edison, marks a new epoch in music.

The NEW EDISON "The Phonograph with a Soul"

Miss Madeline MacGuigan contributed several violin numbers in direct comparison with Edison RE-CREATIONS of them, and, only by watching the artist, was it possible to tell whether Miss MacGuigan was playing or The New Edison. Mr. Igor Sokoloff, cellist, made the same test with exactly the same result—the vast audience fairly gasped. And the direct comparison tests made by Mr. Rienzi Thomas, pianist, were equally bewildering to the audience who could scarcely believe the evidence of their senses.

You can have a duplicate of the wonderful instrument used in the Imperial Theatre and, if you act quickly, we can furnish you with an engraved certificate (signed by Miss Betsy Lane Shepherd) certifying that it is an exact duplicate in tonal quality of the instrument she used in her amazing comparison; also that it will sustain precisely the same test.

We have a number of the famous Laboratory Models, all of which have been certified. Come to our store at once and ask to hear the Official Laboratory Models on which Miss Shepherd has issued certificates of authority.

SCHOOL MATTERS BEFORE COUNCIL

A session of the city council yesterday afternoon was enlivened towards the close by a remark, strongly emphasized by Commissioner Frink, who was discussing a warning from a Wright street resident that the council was a legislature. The declaration was greeted with laughter, but the commissioner added that he thought "this body stood well in comparison with the lights at Frederickton." W. E. Lane, of 160 Wright street, had complained by letter to the council that nothing had been done towards preventing damage to his property there. The city was warned that it would be held liable for any damage from water. It developed that the house is below the street level and that the sewer had given his opinion that the sewer would not be liable for damage.

The council adopted the report of the committee of the whole, dismissing the appeal of Sir Douglas Hezen and the estate of Sarah A. Latta from the action of the board of assessors in assessing their property in 1920.

School Trustees' Report.
The annual report of the board of school trustees was received by the council. The report showed that the bonded debt is $983,500 and that there is an overdraft of $125,000. The sinking fund account shows $74,459. The report recommended a larger amount of insurance. The report was laid on the table.

Mr. Bullock spoke of the increasing expenditures of the school board and he could not see why the board should have such a large overdraft. He thought it would be a good thing if the school taxes were separated from the general taxes so that the taxpayers could see what the schools were costing. He suggested that the school tax bills go out at a time different from that of the general tax bills.

A request was read from the school board for land in King square, West End, for a school site. Mr. Bullock favored a mail referendum for West Side voters on this issue, but his motion that effect lacked a second. Mr. Thornton did not believe in looking for trouble and he had heard of no objections. He moved that the letter be received and laid on the table to await the action of any one wishing to appear. The motion prevailed.

An application was received from George A. Earle, janitor of the police station, asking for an increase of salary.

getting the letter of his envelope. The communication was referred to the commissioner of public safety.

On motion of Mr. Frink it was voted to purchase an addressograph for $2,004. Some discussion followed as to the advisability of issuing bonds to cover the city's share of the cost of a retaining wall at 208 Brussels street; the city and owner to pay one-half of $692. Mr. Bullock considered that the amount was too small to be turned into a bond issue. Mr. Thornton agreed with Mr. Bullock and said it was strange that the commissioners could get so many bond issues.

Mr. Jones reminded him that he (Thornton) was getting material for his department on bond issues. Mr. Thornton said there was no other way to get it. Mayor Schofield and Messrs. Frink and Jones voted in favor of the bond issue. Mr. Frink having moved that the expense be so provided for if it were not possible to pay it out of the revenue, and the motion was carried.

ASKED W. C. T. U. TO AID BOYS' CLUB

Miss Heffer, supervisor of the Boys' Club, was present at the meeting of the W. C. T. U. yesterday and spoke of the club's work for boys, asking the co-operation of the members of the Union, as she believed they were much in sympathy with efforts for the boys' welfare. She also asked the members to assist with the Christmas plans for the boys. The president assured Miss Heffer that the Union would undertake some work for the Boys' Club but that the decision as to what form the assistance should take must be left till a later meeting. Much satisfaction was expressed at the results of the plebiscites on prohibition in the four provinces on Monday. Mrs. George Colwell gave an account of the provincial convention of the W. C. T. U. in Dorchester. A hearty vote of thanks was given to Mrs. Colwell for her report. Mrs. O'Neill, president of the Dorchester branch, in which she said caught fire at sea. A NAMESAKE OF THE RE-CHRISTENED DORNFONTEIN

The three-masted schooner Netherton, a name-sake of the re-christened four-masted schooner Dornfontein, built in St. John, later set on fire by German submarines down the Bay of Fundy and finally burned in mid-ocean this year, was launched from the yard of the Job Shipbuilding Company, Machias, on Monday. The new Netherton registers three hundred tons and will fly the British flag, she having been built for St. John's (Nfld.) men. The former Dornfontein was also owned in Machias when she was caught fire at sea. Another schooner, a duplicate of the new Netherton, will be built at Machias immediately.

LEADING THE WAY IN REFORM OF EDUCATION

Radical Policies Adopted by Province of Alberta

Loans to Teachers — Homes Are Also Provided for Them — Are Enabled to Marry.

Here are some of the radical policies in education administration which have been put into effect in the province of Alberta, according to Hon. George P. Smith, minister of education, who has been renewing old acquaintances in Toronto.

State money is loaned to prospective school teachers to enable them to take their training course.

Homes for rural school teachers are being provided.

Every private school is inspected by provincial inspectors to see that an adequate standard of education is maintained.

These are things not being done, as far as Mr. Smith knows, any place else on the American continent.

Loans to Teachers.

Loaning state money to prospective school teachers is certainly a novelty, but Mr. Smith reports that it is getting results. He holds very strongly to the view that one of the first duties of a department of education, if not the very first, is to provide competent teachers. Certainly, unless it does this, all the rest of this work goes for little. Some time ago he was impressed with the necessity for raising the standard of teachers' qualifications and with this end in view a full year's training course was inaugurated. At the beginning of the first term of this new course it was disconcerting to find that the training schools were only about half filled. Inquiry indicated that prospective teachers, particularly young men from the rural districts, the very class most desired, could not afford to take the full year's course. An emergency meeting of the cabinet was held and decided to offer to loan the money to take the course to those who would sign a declaration that they wished to become teachers and could not afford the expense. Within ten days the training schools were filled. This year about one-third of the teachers in training have taken advantage of the offer. The loans are repaid in two years.

Take Education Seriously.

"No state or province in America is providing homes for teachers, but they do it in Scotland and in Denmark where they take their education seriously," said Mr. Smith.

In Alberta each rural school teacher's home must have a minimum of five acres of land. The house must be built according to government specifications, and furnished according to government specifications. The province bears one-third of the expense, the school district the remainder. Boarding out the teachers thus becomes an obsolete system. Under the new arrangement the teacher can marry, raise a family, and look forward to a settled life. His land enables him to keep a horse and cow, raise his own vegetables and with his salary attain a degree of comfort. Under the old arrangement it was often found that even when teachers were available there was no accommodation for them.

A full supply of first class teachers is our great need," said Mr. Smith. "In some districts we have a foreign element and if there is a shortage of teachers, these districts are sure to suffer, and they are just the districts where a good Canadian education is most essential. We have innumerable problems to work out, but it is worth while."

Inspect Private Schools.

Inspection of private schools is imposed under the Truancy act, the province taking the view that if children are not attending the state schools the province is entitled to see what standard of education they are receiving in the schools they do attend. If a proper standard is maintained, considerable latitude may be allowed these private institutions, but English must be the language of instruction.

RED CROSS MISSION TO VIRGIN ISLANDS

Will Provide Nurses and Librarians.

The inhabitants of the Virgin Islands, the three tiny islands off the eastern end of Porto Rico bought recently by the United States Government from Denmark, are soon to know what it is to have American Red Cross workers living permanently among them and helping to keep them in good health as well as looking after some of their other needs.

Miss Joanna Colcord of New York City will sail for the islands on November 6 as the permanent field representative of the Insular and Foreign Division of the Red Cross. She will be accompanied by two Red Cross nurses and two librarians. Miss Colcord has for the past six years been superintendent of the Charity Organization Society of this city. She recently visited the islands and became enthusiastic over the opportunity for a civilian social worker to help interpret America to the people of these new possessions.

Red Cross Gives Libraries.

The librarians will be in charge of libraries on the two larger islands, St. Thomas and St. Croix. These libraries equipped and stocked with books, are gifts from the Junior department of the Red Cross to the children of the island. It will thus fall to the Red Cross to assist in appealing to and educating the reading tastes of the people of the islands. It will cooperate with the Department of education of the islands. The Red Cross nurses will assist in the work of the hospitals on the islands. These were civilian municipal hospitals under the Dutch regime. Ever since we bought the islands the navy medical staff has been operating them and the Red Cross has sent medical supplies. The nurses will also visit homes. They will be the first to carry visiting nursing work into the islands.

Ninety per cent. of the inhabitants of the island are of African descent. The others are largely Danish. The total population is about 26,000. The Red Cross workers will find travel exceedingly difficult on St. Thomas and St. John where one has to resort to horseback as soon as he leaves the city. St. Thomas has no distinctive industry, its Lancaster, Pa., Oct. 27—Judge Landis in permitting an adoption order in the local court caused a complicated relationship. ON ADVICE OF DOCTORS. London, Eng., Oct. 27—English women smokers are turning from cigarettes to pipes. The principal cause for the change is the advice of physicians, who tell the women patients that, if they must smoke, it is healthier to use pipes and cigars than cigarettes. One well-dressed girl at a promenade concert pulled a briar pipe from her bag and lit it in the middle of the concert.

In Position for Playing BRUNSWICK RECORDS and now the FINAL ACHIEVEMENT

It is not the "all-in-one" Phonograph that is absolute. The new BRUNSWICK method of Reproducing is the Final and Supreme Sensation.

This "ULTONA" reproducer revolutionizes ancient standards—it frees the phonograph and old style talking machine from all their admitted handicaps.

The ULTONA is an amazingly simple contrivance—and the wonder of it is that some manufacturer has not developed it before this.

But here it is for you to see—and hear—only on the BRUNSWICK, which has already met with such phenomenal success that the old style "standard" type talking machine people have their backs to the wall.

Always Ready—Nothing to Adjust

The ULTONA is a distinctly new creation. At the turn of the hand you adapt it to play any record. It is not an attachment—nothing to take off or put on. The real diamond for the Edison, the real sapphire for Brunswick or Pathé, the steel or fibre needles for other records always there.

There is nothing like it in the Phonograph world today. We want owners of other phonographs to come in and hear the Brunswick play the records they use and are familiar with.

Remember, we claim that the BRUNSWICK plays all records better. All that you can have in any phonograph, all that you can possibly imagine that you want, is to be found in this pre-eminent musical instrument.

Acoustics of Every Style Record Solved

The ULTONA, coupled with the BRUNSWICK all-wood, throat and sound chamber, solves the gravest problems of acoustics—all tone values are now given a naturalness hitherto unattained.

And it plays all and every record according to its exact requirements. The proper Diaphragm is presented, the exact needle, exact weight.

Find Out for Yourself—Investigate

Just what is it that makes everyone who hears the BRUNSWICK want one? Why have hundreds of owners of the old-style talking machines traded their instruments in for a BRUNSWICK? Is it the tone? Is it the appearance? Is it the price? Or is it "all-in-one!"

Yank boy, with the pilot strapped in the cockpit.
The accident was witnessed by 2,500 men and women gathered at the new airplane station of the Police Reserve, Fourth Avenue and the Shore Boulevard extension, Brooklyn, for ceremonies incident to the taking over by the police department of the hangars and two naval planes awarded to the city by the government.

Women in the gathering were greatly excited by the accident, but when a brother of the pilot, Captain John Gans of the Police Reserve, flew in a hydroplane to the spot where the machine sank, and with the aid of the crew of the coast guard cutter stationed nearby, Rear Admiral James H. Glennon, commander of the Third Naval District, through whose efforts the hangars and airplanes were donated to the job department; W. F. Hunter, commander of Fort Hamilton, which adjoins the new air station; Dock Commissioner Murray Hubert and Police Commissioner Enright were among those who witnessed the accident, and were among the first to congratulate Major Gans on his escape when he was landed at the air station. Major Gans said that no injury had been done to the airplane, and before the ceremonies were closed he flew in it over the bay to the cheers of those present.

Major Gans explained that a few minutes before the ceremony was to open, and that when he had dropped about 300 feet in the nose dive, something went wrong with his controls and the airplane dived into the water 100 feet below. He said that as the machine drew him beneath the surface he released the straps about his body which held him in the cockpit, and thus freed himself. He was swimming about the machine, he said, when his brother and the crew of the coast guard cutter came to his assistance.

Police Inspector John F. Dwyer, commander of the police reserve, presided at the ceremonies which followed the rescue of Major Gans, and introduced Police Commissioner Enright. Mr. Enright rescued the police reserve, they vigorously applauded the rescuers.

Dr. Frank M. Chapman, curator of the bird department of the museum, announced that the series will be continued with descriptions of bird life in Ecuador, Peru and Bolivia, with further publications to complete the series as fast as the museum field work can be extended and circumstances will permit.

ADOPTS UNIQUE PLAN TO GET NEW CAPITAL
Automobile Concern Decides to Offer for Sale 2,000 "Ownerships of Motors."

(New York Times.)
An automobile manufacturing company has hit upon a unique method of increasing its working capital, while at the same time providing for an increase in the sales of its automobiles. It has been decided to sell 2,000 of what are termed "Ownerships of Motors," these being apportioned among the various states on what appears to be a population basis.

To become one of the so-called owners one has to subscribe for twenty-five shares of eight per cent. preferred stock which participates in dividends on the preferred and after six per cent. has been paid on the common. This stock may be purchased at $5 a share, and ownership entitles the holder to subscribe to seventy-five additional shares of preferred stock at the par of $5 a share at such time as the board of directors may declare further subscription.

The bearing of the ownerships to the sale of cars is bound up in a clause in the circular which states that the holder of a membership is entitled to purchase one car manufactured by the corporation at a discount of twenty per cent. from the list price at any time within two years from the date of subscription, provided that at such time he shall have signified his intention of purchasing a car. The situation is, however, summed up in these words: "In acquiring an ownership in the company you are putting yourself in line to share in profits of this money making industry by an investment which will give you an amount and very easy to make." From "safe" to the end of the sentence the words are underlined to give added force to the statement. With the additional capital to be supplied by the 2,000 new owners for the immediate expansion of its business, it is asserted there is an opportunity for profit that is unmatched today.

In letters to prospective "Owners of Motors" some glowing details are set forth of the earnings which the automobile companies are enjoying, but there is no specific mention of what the company's earnings amount to with relation to outstanding stock. The situation is, however, summed up in these words: "In acquiring an ownership in the company you are putting yourself in line to share in profits of this money making industry by an investment which will give you an amount and very easy to make." From "safe" to the end of the sentence the words are underlined to give added force to the statement. With the additional capital to be supplied by the 2,000 new owners for the immediate expansion of its business, it is asserted there is an opportunity for profit that is unmatched today.

London, Eng., Oct. 27.—During the year it has been in existence between Paris and London the aerial line made 2,100 voyages, carried 4,389 passengers and about 72 tons of merchandise, and traveled approximately 4,000,000 miles.

COSTA RICA RICHEST OF ALL IN BIRD LIFE

While the Two Americas as a Whole Outstrip Any Other Part of the Earth.

(New York World.)
As the result of explorations during the last nine years the Museum of Natural History has undertaken to print the results of a series of surveys which will show that the two Americas are richer in bird life than any other part of the world, and that the regions of chief interest in this respect are in the south of Mexico rather than in the north of it.

Costa Rica, which is about the size of West Virginia, has developed more than 650 species of land birds, while in the entire region north of Mexico only 600 species have been found. In the Andean-Columbian the museum expeditions secured specimens of more than 1,150 species of land birds, or more than twice as many as exist in the United States, Canada and Greenland.

The first of the series of bird books relating to Columbia has won from the National Academy of Science the Elliott medal as the most important contribution of the year in zoology or ornithology.

Dr. Frank M. Chapman, curator of the bird department of the museum, announced that the series will be continued with descriptions of bird life in Ecuador, Peru and Bolivia, with further publications to complete the series as fast as the museum field work can be extended and circumstances will permit.

English Somerset Serge At Super-Serge Values

I grow enthusiastic about the new Somerset Serge—made by Fox Bros. who made so many million garments for the British and allied officers in the late Deluge.

Somerset Serge is a fast-dyed pure wool cloth, chevot finish, and made in the smart styles which Semi-ready Tailoring weaves into lasting fashion and sold to you at the war-tax price of $45.

Somerset Serge Suits are made in conservative saques and also in form-fitting models for young men.

I cannot recommend this Serge or any other chevot-finished fabric to stout men—for the surface wears between the legs with any interference.

Balance of Immigration Between Canada and States in Favor of Dominion.

Ottawa, Oct. 27.—(Canadian Press)—That the balance of immigration between Canada and the United States has been in favor of this country instead of being against Canada, is the statement of immigration department officials who say that the report of the United States commissioner general for immigration for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1919, gives the following summary:—

"In the movement of United States citizens to and from Canada, the balance is in favor of the latter, for during the last ten years nearly 952,000 have gone there and about 367,000 have come to the United States."

Figures showing the movement of immigrants between the two countries show 329,316 going from Canada to the United States in the five year period, 1910-1914, and 605,498 from the United States to Canada in the same time. In the period, 1915-1917, 296,165 persons left Canada for the United States while 158,105 came to Canada from the United States.

United States immigration officials say this was largely due to the fact that the United States had not entered the war at that time and here was unusual prosperity in that country.

Many former Americans were returning from Canada to work in factories because of the higher wages offered.

In 1918 and 1919, while the United States in the war, the situation was getting back to normal. The number of persons going from Canada to the United States was 90,235 during the period and the number coming to Canada from the United States was 112,029, a balance of 21,794 in Canada's favor.

Of the people leaving Canada for the United States, it is said, few were of the agricultural class while the majority of those coming to Canada were farmers.

CONSIDERATION FOR WINNIPEG
MAY BE REQUESTED

Winnipeg, Oct. 26.—Official statements concerning yesterday's referendum given out today by wet and dry forces conflict in interpreting the meaning of the vote. Rev. Thomas Neville, leader of the Manitoba campaign for dry forces, declared the vote clearly indicates a desire on the part of the majority voters for absolute bone-dry conditions. Dr. A. S. Grant, chief executive of the Dominion prohibition party, declared it to be another step in the direction of Dominion-wide bone-dryness.

R. T. Ferguson, representative of Canadian liquor interests here, claimed that the Manitoba government now has a mandate to hold another referendum permitting the electorate to say exactly what it does want by way of liquor legislation.

Special consideration for Winnipeg as regards provincial liquor legislation is asked for in the next session, Mr. Ferguson intimated.

England's Poet Laureate for Forgiveness of the Germans.

London, Oct. 27.—Robert Bridges poet laureate, and chief mover in forwarding to German professors, on October 17, an appeal for reconciliation, has sent along an letter to the London Times, defending himself and his fellow signers against an avalanche of criticism appearing in newspapers in this city.

"The communication was signed," he writes, "by those on our side whose patriotism has not settled down into indiscriminate personal suspicion or ill-will, and it appeals to the humanity of the same class on the other side. It is the intention of the signers of the appeal to encourage the moderate party in Germany, which has always deplored the chauvinistic policy leading up to the great war. People here talk as if they would readily forgive the Germans if there was nothing to forgive. They do not see that it is the fact that we were so terribly injured that makes our forgiveness so necessary and so powerful."

The scandal. Chicago, Oct. 26.—Arnold Rothstein of New York and Joe Gordon, St. Louis American League second baseman, today testified before the Cook County Grand Jury, investigating the baseball scandal, and the state attorney's office afterwards announced their evidence had exonerated the two men from complicity in the throwing of games in the 1919 world series, but had materially strengthened the charges against some of the men already indicted.

The jury today completed the taking of testimony in the investigation which has lasted more than a month and resulted in five indictments being voted against thirteen men on charges of conspiracy to do an illegal act, but will hold a final session Friday to finish up clerical work.

Carlson and Rothstein testified against Alvin Karpis, Harry Campbell, James J. Parnes, and others on whom the jury already had acted. Their testimony, which will result in an attempt to have Alvin Karpis held here from Canada for trial, officers said, it being believed here that he can be extradited.

Eight-Round Draw. St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 26.—Pat Moore of Memphis, and Joe Lynch of New York, fought eight rounds to a draw late tonight, according to newspapermen. Moore's holding cost him the decision, newspapermen said, as he cancelled the fight to his opponent virtually an entire contest.

Toronto, Oct. 27.—Dissatisfaction with conditions in the local militia is said to be growing from day to day, and instead of four regiments being recruited here in connection with the reestablishment of the Canadian militia recruiting for only one regiment is actively under way.

Lieut. Col. Colin C. Harbottle's resignation from the command of the 75th battalion, which has been forwarded to Ottawa, is attributed to the general dissatisfaction in Toronto military circles.

of the earth and giving them out" the sculptor explains. On Sunday there will also be unveiled on the church portico the statues of two American Indians, representing "Aspiration" and "Inspiration." Those who do not regard this as "radical" will at least be able to see a certain untrammeled freshness in the idea.

"What is your spiritual conception of the ideas which underlie this statuary plan?" Dr. Guthrie was asked.

"That can only be explained by looking at the neighborhood which the church finds itself in," he replied. "Look around you. You see what the conditions are. We have been trying to change the character of the neighborhood, and in some cases have had to buy our way out of situations. Take this yard for instance. It was dead until we made it alive by putting in a fountain and planting trees.

"Now see what our various bits of statuary represent." Dr. Guthrie led the way to the portico and pointed out twin lions which flanked the entrance.

"The lions represent the animal world, and the shrubbery around them represents vegetation. It is the entrance to God's house. Then the primitive man who works his way toward religious thought through aspiration and inspiration, represented by the two Indians.

"Over there you see a very fine bust of the founder of this church, Peter Stuyvesant. He first had a private chapel on this ground in 1660. Then there was the Dutch church, and later this church. The corner stone was laid in 1795.

"Back of the church you see the niche, representing the spirit of baptism, with its running water, its arbor vitae, cedar trees, and the naked girl holding forth the waters.

"I want a naked woman for that statue. I want no clothed and muffled bodies. I want to teach the sanctity of the body as God made it. He did not make us with clothes, and the body is the emblem of the spirit. It is beautiful, innocent, scales, and only a Rodin could have done it."
