Still Pressing On, Combles Has Fallen

BRITISH HAVE CAPTURED COMBLES, BULLECOURT AND OTHER PLACES

Canadians Let Loose This Morning Again and Are Making Favorable Progress—Fall of Peronne Predicted; Australians Have Won Back 125 Square Miles

London, Aug. 30—British troops have captured Combles, between Bapaume and the River Somme.

Advance troops have crossed the River Somme south and west of Peronne.

Between Hendecourt and the Arras-Cambrai road the Canadians attacked the German line and made favorable progress.

East of the Senne the forces of Field Marshal Haig made progress, capturing Bullecourt and Hendecourt-lez-Cagnicourt.

The British also captured Clery-Sur-Somme, on the Somme River between Combles and Peronne.

In the Clery-Sur-Somme and Combles area along the British took more than 200 prisoners and a few guns yesterday.

It was the London and West Lancashire troops who made important progress yesterday afternoon east of the Somme River, capturing Bullecourt and Hendecourt-lez-Cagnicourt after hard fighting, together with the powerful German trench systems protecting these villages.

Astride the River Scarpe English and Scottish troops continued their advance yesterday and gained valuable ground in the direction of Eberghy, Hamblain-Les-Prez and Plouvin.

The village of Remy is held by the British. Prisoners were captured in these operations. In the valleys of the Lawe and Lys rivers our troops continued to push forward.

PERONNE NEXT.

Paris, Aug. 30—(Havas Agency)—The British line north of the Somme has been carried beyond the points indicated in last night's statement from Field Marshal Haig and the British are now several kilometers east of Combles, according to reports to the newspapers here. The advance continues and the fall of Peronne is predicted.

MILE FROM PERONNE.

With the British Armies in France, Aug. 30—(By the Associated Press, noon)—Blaches, on the south bank of the Somme, and about a mile from Peronne, has been captured by Field Marshal Haig's forces. British troops have entered Les Bouis and patrols have passed through Morval, to the southeast.

British troops this morning passed forward in an easterly direction from Bapaume.

The British have made further advances to the north of Lens. At one place they pushed forward for a distance of 1,000 yards.

Le Transloy, on the Bapaume-Peronne high road, was reported to have been captured this morning.

BIENCOURT CAPTURED.

London, Aug. 30—British forces east of Arras resumed their advance this morning and at an early hour had penetrated another 2,000 yards on a front of seven miles between Bullecourt and the Scarpe, according to advices received here.

The British forces have reached within a mile of the Droocourt-Queant switch line and have captured Biencourt.

GREAT WORK OF AUSTRALIANS.

London, Aug. 30—Australians troops are now about two miles from the outskirts of Peronne, reports the Australian representative at the British front.

The Australians captured Feuderes, Herbecourt, Asserville, Barleux and Belloy yesterday. In the present drive they have recovered 125 square miles of territory and nearly forty villages, most of which are in ruins.

Dominion Troops Have Advanced Seven Miles Since Last Monday

With the Canadian Forces, Aug. 29—(By J. F. B. Livesey, correspondent of the Canadian Press)—After very hard fighting all day yesterday the entire front of the Canadians has been pushed forward to a depth of 12,000 yards from the jumping off point on Monday last, and we are now in possession of most of the strong enemy advance positions in front of what he has advertised as his main line of resistance—the Droocourt-Queant switch. Deep penetration has been made into that line east of Briary and also east of Vis-en-Artois.

In the first two days fighting the Canadians captured more than 2,600 prisoners, exclusive of wounded, besides accounting for large numbers of enemy dead. A considerable number of guns, both heavy and light, have been captured, but these are not so numerous as the captures of the early days of the Amiens battle, because the enemy has followed the policy of withdrawing his artillery so far as possible behind his main line.

The New Line.

This evening the line runs south of the Scarpe River, approximately as follows: From about midway between Peveas and Blaches, easterly to the outskirts of Hamblain-Les-Prez, thence about a mile northeast of Bolry to a point due south of that village, thence it bulges out east, taking Hancourt and trends off to the southwest, where the troops on our right established themselves in Croisilles.

Supported by a great concentration of guns resulted after persistent efforts in the storming of Jigsaw Wood and the capture of the all important artillery hill that lies between this wood and Bolry. In this operation we had the assistance of a few tanks.

SEIZE 30,000,000 GALLONS OF HOME MADE WHISKEY

Big Round-up in Southern Mountain Districts of U. S.—Arrest of 200 Moonshiners

Washington, Aug. 30—The biggest intensive round-up of illicit whiskey distillers ever undertaken by the government has just been completed in southern mountain districts by government agents.

The activities of the agents resulted in the seizure of 486 stills, arrest of 200 moonshiners, killing of five outlaws and two sheriffs, and the wounding of other government men and liquor makers.

More than 30,000,000 gallons of pale moonshine whiskey was seized and poured down mountain streams. More than $100,000 worth of illicit copper stills of all sizes, and other paraphernalia, automobiles, horses, mules and wagons belonging to the distillers were taken by the agents.

Recommendations for 821 prosecutions have been made to the department of justice and forwarded to United States attorneys, while most of the moonshiners caught at their stills are behind bars in southern jails, awaiting trial.

MEET IN BOSTON DESPITE PROTEST

Session There Tomorrow To Consider Temporary Increase in N. B. Power Co. Rates

In spite of protests by the mayor and council for the city, there is to be a hearing in Boston tomorrow to consider granting a temporary increase of rates to the N. B. Power Company. A Boston despatch to The Times this morning follows:

"Commission is to hold hearing here re temporary increase in rates at ten tomorrow morning."

With reference to the matter, His Worship Mayor Hayes said at two o'clock this afternoon that he could not say anything further than he had already said until he hears something more from the city's council in Boston.

E. M. Hopper, general manager of the Street Railway, said this afternoon that the company had not received any official notice that a meeting is to be held in Boston, and has no intention of sending anyone on in their interests. He said that the only word received in the city about a meeting came from Mr. J. M. Ryan, the city's collector, and that was not an official notice.

The general interpretation of the act is that the commission may not hold its meetings outside the province. Section two of the act appointing the commission is as follows:

Some Features of the New Treaties Made by Russians and Germans

Copenhagen, Aug. 30—The principle laid down by Germany in the supplementary agreements to the Brest-Litovsk treaty will not cause or support the forcible disunion of the former Russian territory, explains the semi-official North German Gazette.

The independence of the Baltic provinces is assured, it says, and Russia has consented to recognition of the independence of Georgia (in the Caucasus). The newspaper adds that Russia has agreed to pay Germany six billion marks. German losses due to Russian revolutionary confiscatory legislation. Of this sum the Ukraine and Finland jointly will pay one billion marks.

Germany has obtained concessions in the old fields around Baku.

Forces opposed to the Central Powers, including British troops, are in control of Baku.

Guiscard Soon Added To List

French Advance Is Kept Up—Reported That Juvigny Has Been Taken—Twelve Miles in One Day

Paris, Aug. 30—German counter-attacks between the Alliette and the Aisne were repulsed last night by the French, says the war office statement today. The French maintained their gains east of Parsy, north of Soissons.

South of the Somme and along the Canal du Nord there was no change in the situation during the night. German raids along the Vesle and in Champagne failed.

TWELVE MILE PUSH.

Paris, Aug. 29—(Havas Agency)—Some units of the armies of General Debeney and General Humbert, north of the Oise River yesterday advanced for more than twelve miles, according to the Intransigent. The newspaper confirms the report that French troops have reached the region of Ham and adds that it does not seem possible that the Germans will be able to hold Guiscard for any length of time. Guiscard is on the high-road midway between Noyon and Ham.

JUVIGNY CAPTURED?

A New York despatch to J. M. Robinson & Sons says that Franco-American troops are reported to have captured Juvigny, north of Soissons, and forced the Germans out of Chevigny.

DESPERATE EFFORT TO STAY FRENCH AND AMERICAN ADVANCE

With the French Army in France, Aug. 29—(By the Associated Press)—The Germans are making a supreme effort to maintain their positions on the plateau north of Soissons. They are throwing fresh troops against both the French and Americans, and are disputing the ground foot by foot.

After the unsuccessful enemy attempts a few days ago to retake the heights west of the Soissons-Coucy-Le-Chateau road, known as the Orme de Montcouvree, prisoners taken by one French division included men from three divisions of infantry and two installations of crack mountain troops.

The loss of this height and a further advance made it all the more necessary for the Germans to prevent the Allies from gaining ground on the plateau in the region of Juvigny, which are the last heights defending the valley of the Alliette where it runs eastward before turning southward again toward the Chemin des Dames. The enemy has reinforced his line there with some of his best divisions of shock troops.

The French third army met with greater resistance today along the line of the Somme and the Canal du Nord. The German opposition was particularly stout in the region of Neuf, where it was necessary to have artillery to reduce some positions.

Could Not Stay French.

With the French Army in France, Aug. 30—(Havas Agency)—The battle is progressing favorably for the troops of General Mangin.

The Germans are making the most determined resistance against the French army in an effort to prevent it gaining a strong foothold north of the Alliette. French success in this direction would menace the enemy's communications.

Cavalry was employed mainly by the Germans yesterday, but, notwithstanding this display of force, the enemy was unable to stay the advance of the French. Our Losses Comparatively Light.

Paris, Aug. 29—(Havas Agency)—Correspondents of Paris newspapers at the front agree that the Allied losses in the present operations have been comparatively light. They say that the Allies have never taken so many prisoners and guns and so much material and territory at so slight a cost.

With the American Army in France, Aug. 29—(By the Associated Press)—Late this afternoon the Americans held positions in the fighting line in the Soissons region extending in a northerly direction from Chavigny.

HUN PRISONER AT AMHERST GOING HOME IN EXCHANGE

Montreal, Aug. 30—Passengers on the Maritime express were mystified yesterday when they saw a German sailor in the uniform of the Hun navy moving about without let or hindrance, and mailing cards to Germany, written in his own language.

He was a six foot ruddy Saxon, with a prominent moustache that turned upward in style, and his open neck was very red as though he had been splashed with shrapnel. On one side of it was an old wound which, according to his story, he received when he was on the Wilhelm Der Grosse when that auxiliary cruiser was sent down by H. M. S. Highlander. Fritz, who refused to give his name, was taken prisoner in that action, put on board a British vessel and sent to Jamaica, after which he was brought to Canada and placed in an internment camp at Amherst. Now he is being repatriated as an exchange prisoner and he counts on returning to the Fatherland within three weeks.

It declares that the surrender of Roye, which is a mere heap of ruins, was unimportant from a military point of view.

Borsia is about fifty miles north of the Manchurian border in Siberia, 175 miles southeast of Chita, the Bolsheviki base in this region.

Amsterdam, Aug. 30—The Japanese consul general and the embassy staff, last Entente representatives at Moscow, have left for home under a special safe conduct provided by the Bolsheviki government, according to a Moscow despatch to the Lokal Anzeiger of Berlin.

BRITISH ACROSS RIVER SOMME AT ONE POINT

Germans Driven Behind River All Along Fronts Where Haig Commands

With the British Armies in France, Aug. 30—The Germans have been driven behind the River Somme everywhere along the British front. The whole western bank now is in the possession of Haig's troops and at one place just south of Lachapelle a British force has crossed to the east bank. The Germans have destroyed all the bridges, including the railroad bridge and the regular bridge at Peronne. North-west of Peronne, however, the river changed its course from the north to the west, the British swept in so quickly that the causeway over the Somme at Clercy on the north bank was secured intact. Clercy is in British hands. Peronne and the country to the rear of that city are well under the fire of British guns. North of Peronne the Germans now are holding the road to Bapaume as far as a point opposite Comblis. North of here the advance of the British made the enemy retire again. British patrols are astride the road and are moving southward. Bapaume seems to have been captured without much resistance by New Zealand troops, assisted by pressure from the English on the south. The town was entered from the north and east. There was only short street fighting and then the Germans, who had been left behind, surrendered. Paris, Aug. 30—The Germans are no more at Noyon," exclaim the newspapers in Paris, in triumphant heavy type this morning. While all are exultant and all believe that the situation for the Allies is more brilliant than ever, yet previous experience makes French soldiers to shout victory. It is realized that the Germans, although beaten, are still full of fight, but they are undoubtedly in an awkward predicament. Operations during the past week have left their front running north and south, instead of northwest and northeast as it should be to permit an orderly retreat to the Hindenburg line, where they hope to spend the winter, keeping the Allies on the barren and desolate ground to the west of that famous position. The enemy is now some dozen miles from that line and the Bapaume-Peronne road is being cut. Unless he can mark time for a while on the Tortille River, he will not be able to hold the Peronne-Ham road, which is particularly valuable as it runs along the Somme. Water is the only thing that can stop tanks. Once across the Somme there is nothing behind the enemy but a wide plain cut only by the Omling River, which is useless to him, since it runs perpendicular to the front. He will be obliged to hold back General Mangin south of the Oise, where the French army forms a dangerous, aggressive horn in the German line. Henri Bidou, military critic of the Journal des Debats, in a dispatch from the battlefield clearly sets forth the plight in which the Germans are placed.

COAL FIND BY SUSSEX MAN

Some time in last May Albert Tribe, contractor of Sussex, went to Alma, A. C., to build a dam for Mr. Garfield White of C. T. White & Sons, Ltd. Having had some experience in mining, he thought the geological formation was such that there should be indications of coal in that vicinity. He spent his evenings and leisure hours examining the rock formations and began to suspect that he had found coal. He soon found at Owl's Head the indications of coal. He took out a prospector's license and began to work a few years ago. He has been rewarded by finding two seams of coal, one of which is more than a foot thick and surrounded by a large body of shale. He has tunneled in at high water mark about ten feet and the seams of coal get thicker and by appearance. The further in the seam that he is working on extends above to the surface a distance of more than 100 feet. Mr. Tribe is certain there is a large quantity of coal in the vicinity. He has sent specimens of the coal and shale to Ottawa for analysis.

IN WALL STREET

New York, Aug. 30—An advance of 2-1/4 points in American Tobacco was the only unusual feature at the steady but dull opening of today's stock market. Some important issues, including U. S. Steel and Transcontinental, fell minus their quarterly dividends, but continued to the smallest fractions. Equipments, shippings, coppers and other metals were disposed to harden, but specialties eased, Maxwell Motors losing a point. Liberty issues and international bonds were variable. Noon Report. With no appreciable extension of offerings, the market developed irregular tendencies in the course of the first hour. Yesterday's warning of the local money pool again counter-balanced good work of the market. Active in industrials and equipments reacted from substantial fractions to a point and prominent mills were lower by 1 to 1-1/2 points, although St. Paul preferred showed marked strength and Union Pacific held firm with Southern Railway. The moderate recovery at midday was led by United States Steel and Canadian Pacific.

BOSTON HAS STRIKE

NAVY LEAGUE WILL SPRING SURPRISE

Committee Leaving Nothing Undone to Make Great Success Thursday — Money Already Coming In

The citizens will receive a surprise next week, when through the energetic efforts of the committee headed by the naval authority, Captain Mulcahey, a scheme has been devised for the purpose of producing a war-like appearance, and provide the necessary atmosphere for the big drive next Thursday, when hundreds are going to help swell the funds who heretofore have felt no interest or rather responsibility in connection with the navy. The committee are very mysterious and other than this statement they will say nothing. Arrangements have been made for the hearing of public speakers on the King square and other public places in support of the great cause which will occupy attention next week. In the meantime citizens from the youngest to the oldest are getting ready with their pennies and thousands to help gladden the hearts of the sailors and give St. John a high place among Canadian cities in the matter of contributions. We have done nobly for the army, can we do less for the navy? Only a few more days remain and during the time it is felt that interest in the Navy League campaign will develop from interest to enthusiasm. Next Thursday, Sept. 5, is the day set apart for the big drive, and the British statutory curtailment in the fact that many have already sent in large sums rather than wait to be called upon.

WAR GARDEN TEA VERY SUCCESSFUL

The war garden tea of Royal Standard Chapter, Daughters of the Empire, on the grounds of Mrs. A. P. Barnhill, Douglas avenue, was very successful. Among the features was a vaudeville programme, including piano solo, Miss Adeline Keenan; canty bird, solo, anonymous; two dances, Little Miss Laura Waring; violin solo, Clarence Causton; dwarf dance (grotesque), anonymous. Some flower girls canvassed the patrons for purchases and many very choice articles were lotteried. The following is the list of articles lotteried: Wedgewood cheese dish, won by Leslie Peterson; luncheon cloth with crochet border, donated by Mrs. J. E. Moore, won by Mrs. Hammond Evans; pearl necklace, donated by Messrs. Ferguson & Page, won by Mrs. William C. Cross; picture, donated by Mrs. E. Atherton Smith, won by holder of No. 85; two cases of three smoked mackerel, donated by a friend, won by Mrs. Harry Miller and A. B. Holly; three dozen eggs in basket, won by Mrs. Kennedy; bag of potatoes, won by Dr. A. P. Barnhill. The bag of potatoes and many of the purchases of vegetables were sent by their owners to the charitable institutions of the city.

MAKING IT EASY FOR YOUR EYES Defective eyes have to work harder to see. Usually vision isn't as good as it would be if properly fitted glasses were worn. Eye-strain exists, and unless it is removed permanent injury to sight will follow. Glasses help the overworked eyes. They bring normal vision and protect sight. There are very few perfect eyes. Often strain is present when it is not suspected. The sensible thing is to have us examine your eyes. Then you will know exactly what should be done.

WOULD IMPORT CANADA'S PULP

British Paper Merchants Inquire About Product of Dominion

Supply Law in Britain—Question of Dominion Ability to Compete With Scandinavia is Raised

Canadian manufacturers can reasonably expect a broadening in the export business after the war in pulp and paper to Great Britain if they can compete with Europeans who held this trade prior to the war. Conditions in the United Kingdom as a result of the import duties placed on the way of the shipment of these products have been acute in the last three years, and a system of collecting waste paper for repulping has been resorted to, to aid in a solution of the situation. A number of British firms have been formed to attend to the collection of refuse paper, and practically every municipality in Europe has a department for looking after this work. There is a general inquiry among British paper merchants as to Canada's ability to compete with the former countries in the pulp and paper markets of Britain after peace has been declared. The answer to this query is not established, but an act of the Dominion could successfully compete with the European exporters of pulp and paper products would mean an extensive addition to Canada's foreign trade revenue.

Pulp Export is Enlarged.

The growth of Canada's trade with the United Kingdom in pulp since the beginning of the war is indicated by a comparison of the exports for the fiscal years 1914 and 1917. In 1914, the former twelve months exports of chemical pulp were valued at $86,774, as against $2,677,929 for the second period. In 1914, the former twelve months exports of chemical pulp were valued at $86,774, as against $2,677,929 for the second period.

Difficulties of Transportation.

"There is no need to emphasize the self-evident fact that Scandinavia, and the invaluable commercial asset it confers upon her exporters. This phase of the question was thoroughly investigated by the special commission of Canadian business men who visited Europe two years ago. Their comments were: "In taking a general view of the transportation between Canada and the Allied nations, it would appear that the established lines have not given that the fullest benefit from their natural resources and manufactured products."

Life Saving in this War.

(Chicago Tribune) Gen. March has permitted the publication of some interesting statistics of casualties based on the experience of the French and British armies during four years of war. In brief, they are as follows: Of wounded sent to hospitals fewer than one in twenty die. Of wounded sent to hospitals only about forty-five in a thousand die. Of all soldiers wounded in action more than 80 per cent return to service, many of them less than two months. Only 14.5 per cent are discharged for permanent disability.

THE IMPERIAL WAR CABINET

(Toronto Star) Henceforth, if the Canadian government desires to communicate with the government of the United Kingdom, or vice versa, the communication will be direct, not through the Colonial Office and the governor-general. This is a sensible reform, which will expedite business and save responsibility to the Imperial War Cabinet will have a permanent instead of a periodical existence. The London Chronicle says: "This cabinet will not in future carry out its duties, but attempt to override or dictate to the constituent governments. It will rest with them to carry out its decisions, which will be arrived at with the knowledge of and full reference to their various policies and programmes." It has yet to be seen how this "new system" will work out under responsible government, which is the basis of the British constitution. Under this system the king governs on the advice of responsible ministers. Laws are made by His Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of parliament. Practically, the responsible ministers govern, and they also initiate the most important legislation which is enacted by virtue of their majority in parliament. If the government support falls off, the government is defeated, and the king must look to other advisers. Responsible government means the responsibility of government to parliament. It has yet to be seen whether the new system will work satisfactorily. During the war we have of course a direct interest in the army, which is controlled by the British government, and which contains a large Canadian force, large at least in relation to our population. At the same time we in Canada have very little to say about the operations of the army as a whole; even the British government must leave that in the main to General Foch. The initiative does not come from Canada. In many cases, as in the appointment of General Foch, it would be impossible to wait for the consent of the Canadian parliament to any decision made by the Imperial Cabinet. But after the war the conditions will be entirely different. There will not be the same necessity for rapid action. Parliamentary control will be resumed. Any action to be taken by Canada even if it controlled by the British government, must be passed upon by the Canadian parliament. We could not give a blank power of attorney to Sir Edward Kemp to act in any policy requiring Canadian action. If objection were taken to some action of our government, or some proposed legislation, it could not be met by saying that the Imperial Cabinet had decided that it was necessary. Suppose, for instance, that the Imperial Cabinet decided in favor of a system of preferential trade, requiring alterations in the British and Canadian tariffs. That matter would have to be decided by the Canadian parliament so far as Canada was concerned. We could not leave the decision to Sir Edward Kemp. The other hand, Sir Edward Kemp could hardly take a part in framing the tariff for the United Kingdom. The Imperial Cabinet might recommend, but it could not execute. The arrangement should, therefore, be

BRITISH MERCHANTS ARE ANXIOUS

The statistics relating to imports of paper from Canada are not yet published for the year 1917, but those embracing the year 1916 show that imports of paper on reels were only 57,868 cwts. compared with 75,142 cwts. in 1915; and imports of mill board and pulpwood board 189,626 cwts. in 1916, against 218,982 cwts. in 1915. This decline in the volume of purchases from Canada is regrettable at a time when Great Britain was anxious to increase her imports. It must be borne in mind, however, that lack of transportation facilities and the British statutory curtailment of imports have considerably handicapped Canadian exporters. "A short time ago the secretary of the Wholesale Stationers and Papermakers Association called at the Birmingham office of the Canadian trade commissioner to discuss the subject of future supplies of paper from Canada. The commissioner showed that continued interest is being shown by British firms in trade with Canada. Business men in the United Kingdom are fully conscious of the difficulties under which Canada is laboring, but the general opinion is that no time should be lost in discussing preliminaries before the cessation of hostilities."

MEET IN BOSTON DESPITE PROTEST

"The said commissioners shall give a notice in writing, signed by their chairman, to the said New Brunswick Power Company and also to the mayor of the said city of St. John, fixing the date and hour for the first hearing before them of the matters hereinbefore mentioned, and the said commissioners may adjourn the said hearing from time to time and from place to place, WITHIN THE PROVINCE, as they deem necessary." The mayor wrote, yesterday, to the chairman of the commission, Mr. Currier, protesting against the idea of holding a session in Boston to decide about temporary rates and pointing out that the intent of the act was to have the sessions held within the province and also the specific examination of the rates would naturally be preceded by the hearing of evidence sufficient to show fully the conditions of both sides. As a matter of fact the experts who examined the company's affairs on behalf of the city would not have their report without consideration of these reports would be highly improper, in addition to the fact that the act provides clearly for sessions within the province of New Brunswick only.

AMENDMENT TO ACT

After the act was drawn Section 12 was added as an amendment as follows: Section 12—"The commissioners, may in their discretion, at any time during the investigation, or at any time thereafter it shall appear to them desirable or justifiable and necessary for the financial temporary relief of the said power company, to suspend or allow rates of fare for transportation, abolish free transfers and fix the maximum price said power company may charge for fare for heating or electricity or the maximum rate for electric current for power and light supplied by the company." It is a curious circumstance in connection with the question of rates that workmen who recently approached the Power company to ask for a better service to an existing section of the city were told by a company official that increased rates on the cars were going into effect in a couple of weeks.

LONDON POLICE STRIKE

London, Aug. 30—London, outside of the little square mile composing the city proper, has practically been without police protection since midnight when the famous metropolitan police force went on strike. Traffic, usually so well looked after, was left to regulate itself until special constables—regular citizens engaged for the duration of the war to assist the regulars—turned out in hundreds to do the work of the "bobbies." The police strike became worse as the morning wore on. Many members of day force joined throughout the metropolitan area. Only a small number of the older men remained at their posts. Plain clothes men picketed the stations and tried to induce the officers still on duty and also the special constables to strike. An early morning call was sent out by Scotland Yard to the special constables, and by ten o'clock many of them had reported for work and were sent to the busiest corners to take on duties which were new to them.

The stations were not so badly affected as were the streets as the men of higher rank were not so ready to disregard regulations and thus take their chance of being degraded. The City of London police, which are not affected, number 800. The metropolitan police demand increased wages, recognition of their union and the reinstatement of a discharged man who was active in the policemen's union. A majority of the policemen in the great Woolwich arsenal and dockyard joined the strike this morning. The men in the town of Woolwich itself however, so far are unaffected.

Of all soldiers wounded in action more than 80 per cent return to service, many of them less than two months. Only 14.5 per cent are discharged for permanent disability. When the history of the war is written ten of the most remarkable chapters will disclose the advance made in the treatment of wounds, the prevention of disease, and the salvage of life and body health through modern medical and surgical science.

REWARD OF $5,000
FOR FLAGLER GEMS

Burglars' Loot Estimated to be Worth About $50,000

Jewels Listed in Circular—Robbery on Night of June 15 Still a Mystery to Victim and Detectives on Case

(New York Times.)

A circular offering a reward of $5,000 for the recovery of the many gems stolen more than two months ago from Edgewood, the country home of Harry Harkness Flagler, near Millbrook, N. Y., was distributed yesterday among the pawnbrokers by the Pinkerton Detective Agency. Although it was reported at the time of the robbery that the loot did not exceed $100,000, it was ascertained yesterday that $50,000 would have been a closer estimate.

The Flagler home is one of the show places of Dutchess County. It sets back in spacious grounds, apart from any other dwellings. On the night of June 15 Mr. and Mrs. Flagler dined out and upon their return found that seventy-five pieces of jewelry had been stolen. The burglars, who evidently worked leisurely, had taken nothing but jewels, no attempt being made to make off with a quantity of heavy silver.

Sheriff Conklin, who was summoned to Edgewood, was unable to discover any footprints about the grounds leading to the house, nor were any fingerprints found in the rooms that had been entered and ransacked. He gave it as his opinion that the burglary had been accomplished by experts who had their wifely supplemented by a thorough knowledge of the interior plan of Edgewood.

The thirteen principal pieces stolen are described as follows:—
Brooch, diamond bowknot, diamonds red set, knife edge lines, ribbon back, platinum mounting, gold pin.
Brooch and pendant with twenty-one rubies and seventy-one diamonds in platinum.
Brooch and pendant, detachable brooch attachment, platinum mounting.

Pair hairpins, platinum mounting two tortoise shell prongs 3/4 inches long.
Bar pin, aquamarine and tourmaline, 2 1/2 inches long, pierced border.
Brooch, open platinum and diamond circle, eight round sapphires in bezels.
Small string of pearls and pearl heart locket.

Rob of platinum with star sapphire surrounded by diamonds.
Silk ribbon sash, rose diamond slides, leaf and pretzel alternately. Rose diamond monogram "A. M." in centre-piece, 312 rose diamonds and six diamonds with pendant.

Diamond bar pin, long pin of brilliants, thread edge, all platinum, gold pin, eighteen brilliants, 235 carats.
Platinum ring, one white and one brown pearl, diamonds on either side. Solid gold back.

Large round brooch, pink or violet pearl in centre, surrounded by olivines and diamonds in fancy platinum design. Outer design of olivines and diamonds with four pearls same as centre and four smaller pearls same color, alternating pearls backed with gold setting.

Brooch, diamond shaped, amethyst surrounded by diamonds in platinum beads, pearls pegged on the outside, one amethyst 1 1/2 carats, twenty-eight diamonds 1 1/4-1.64; twenty pearls, 16 1/2 grains.

Despite the persistent search of private detectives and a constant watch by the police of the principal cities, no clue to the gems has yet been obtained. Inquiry among pawnbrokers yesterday indicated that they were convinced the robbers would not attempt to dispose of their haul through the usual channels because of the prominence given the description of the jewels. The general opinion was that the jewels would be sold to a "friend," then demounted or otherwise disguised before finding their way to public market.

Admitting that so far the whereabouts of the jewels was as great a mystery as their theft, Mr. Flagler, over the telephone last night, refused to discuss the burglary beyond telling how he and Mrs. Flagler had discovered it.

PATIENCE NECESSARY.
(Philadelphia Public Ledger.)
We must be patient with Russia. This does not mean that we must be patient with men who mislead Russia. The paucity of news, its prejudiced coloring, the wide difference of race and mental methods, have prevented us from judging prematurely the good faith and honest purpose of men whom the turbid tide of the revolution has from time to time thrown upon the surface. Wise and fair minds have awaited some supreme test. That test has now come. The present attitude of the Allies, as expressed by the American government, by the British expedition at Archangel, by Japan and in various other ways, is so transparently, unquestionably sincerely friendly toward

The Evening Times and Star

ST. JOHN, N. B., AUGUST 30, 1918.

The St. John Evening Times is printed at 27 and 29 Canterbury street, every evening (Sunday excepted) by The St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co. Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN? The citizens are astounded by the news that the commission to enquire into New Brunswick Power Company affairs proposed to have a hearing in Boston tomorrow to consider the question of an immediate temporary increase in the company's rates.

IF GERMANY KNEW. If the people of Germany could get an opportunity to read the American newspapers and get out of their minds the belief that the Americans are "a nation of bluffers" the war would end much sooner. It is just as well, however, that they are not fully informed, as the punishment their ignorance will bring upon them is necessary for their own good as well as for the good of the world.

UNBROKEN SUCCESS. Yesterday the news was that the French had captured Noyon. Today it is that the British have captured Bapaume. The French are at the gates of Ham, which shows that their advance must be very rapid. The British have outflanked Peronne, and the Germans cannot hold it much longer. The whole great salient from Arras to Soissons is being flattened out, and there is still no indication that the retreating enemy is ready to make a stand at any point.

Following the war on the map is now an interesting study. Each day the battle-front shows changes at one or more points, and always in the one direction. The enemy holds on as long as possible at strategic points, but each falls in turn and the Allies drive on. The deadly pressure is never relaxed. The Allied troops are close on the heels of the retreating foe, and he is thus prevented from organising an effective resistance at any point for any length of time.

And yet we must not be too optimistic. There is still the Hindenburg line, strong for defence. That it will be passed is generally believed, but we must not be over- sanguine. There is a natural tendency to believe that success so remarkable as that of the last month will continue; but there are still great German armies to be beaten, and it is still a long way to the German border.

Today's reports tell us that some units of the French armies north of the Oise advanced more than twenty miles yesterday. They now threaten Nogent on the high road between Noyon and Ham. They have also put a German army into a pocket between the Canal du Nord and the River Aisne, which must be evacuated quickly to avoid disaster. The British are several miles east of Cambes, which is between Bapaume and Peronne, and Australian troops are within two miles of the latter place, after capturing half a dozen more villages yesterday. Doubtless the latter cables will bring more news of success. The Americans as yet have not been thrown heavily into the fight, but Foch undoubtedly has work for them at the proper time. They are holding positions in the line in the Soissons region and have done some spirited fighting, where the enemy is throwing in fresh troops in a desperate effort to hold the plateau north of that town. The Allied losses in the present operations have been comparatively light, and they have never taken so many prisoners, guns and material, and so much territory, at so slight a cost.

In Siberia Gen. Semenov, the anti-Bolshevik leader, continues his advance with success. It is also reported that a Russian volunteer army has captured a Black Sea port, and this is an interesting new development. The tenor of reports from Russia, including eastern Siberia, continues to be of a satisfactory nature.

LIGHTER VEIN

Her Vernacular. "Why did you discharge your cook?" "She said she wouldn't be reprimanded."

Good Advice. Gov. Livingston Beekman of Rhode Island, said in Providence, apropos of the gigantic strikes that the temperance movement is taking:

Women Workers. While in a certain government office recently Sir Evan Jones, the British transport board chairman, overheard the following dialogue between two fair typewriter operators:

Over There to Stay. The voyage was a bit rough and going across on the transport Sun got about all he wanted of life on the ocean wave. On arriving he was heard to remark:

Weighted in The Balance. The clergyman was preaching a long sermon from the text, "Thou art weighed in the balance and found wanting."

ORDER REVERSED. (Christian Science Monitor.) That the war has reversed the order of many things is a fact that must particularly impress the American soldiers in Italy.

German Hoops in Russia and Japan. Russian massacres of "bourgeois" and Entente misdeeds, and Japanese rice riots, are now the fond hope of the Germans, and they are no doubt stimulating both to the best of their ability.

THE DYE INDUSTRY.

Whether anything can be made of the British dye industry has yet to be proved. The president of the Board of Trade is still unable to say that the dye situation as a whole is "anything like satisfactory." He has lent at once £1,000,000 to those engaged in the industry, given them £200,000 for building purposes, £100,000 for research, and prohibited except by license the import of dyes for ten years after the war.

Various members of the House have criticized this programme on the ground that its beneficiaries are undisclosed. What seems to us more doubtful is the comparatively small amount set aside for research and the uncertainty as to who is to administer it. The best results we believe would be obtained if it were handed over to the Department of Research, which in its three years of existence has started a genuine revolution in British industrial thought and practice. To split it up among a number of learned or commercial institutions would be

War Canning Bulletin

Issued by Canada Food Board

HER JOB IS DONE

Illustration by courtesy of National War Garden Commission, Washington

This Canadian housekeeper feels a glow of satisfaction as she draws back the curtain on a well-stocked pantry. She has been seeing what she could do in her own small corner in the way of helping those sons of hers who are Overseas.

She has taken each kind of fruit as it came on the market and now her utmost work is done. More than that, she has made the fullest use of what grew in her war garden. Now she can rest secure for she knows that whatever she opens she has added something to the country's food supply and she will be able to save the essentials for export Overseas during the time of year when they are most needed.

She has used brown sugar almost entirely in making her preserves and everything turned out well. Indeed, according to the Dominion Analyst, "it is only want of knowledge on the part of the public which prevents the extended use of yellow and brown sugars."

Food Board Flashes For Feminine Folk

It is only a little more than a hundred years since the fruit-canning industry was born. In the olden days the way to keep fruit and vegetables was to put them or put them away in sugar or salt. With the canning fever at its height at present it is interesting to note that the invention of canning is credited to Nicholas Appert, a Frenchman, who lived in the time of Napoleon Bonaparte and was given 12,000 francs by the Emperor for his work. The idea of canning the food to be preserved in glass jars, set them in boiling water, heat thoroughly and then seal. England quickly took hold of the idea and utilized it for her own purposes. About 1815 Ezra Deggert introduced in the United States the process for canning salmon, lobsters and oysters. Gradually this extended to pickles, jellies and sauces.

And now? Well, everyone knows what canning is now! If Nicholas Appert were to come to life and to visit some of the busy community canning centres or the average kitchen in Canada on an August day, he would be surprised to see what he had started.

Cost of Living Up 50 P. C. In Four Years

Official U. S. Investigation Shows Food Prices Increased 62 Per Cent and Clothing 77 Per Cent

Boston, Aug. 30.—An increase of 50 to 55 per cent in the cost of living for the family of the average wage-earner in the United States during the period from the outbreak of the war in July, 1914, up to the middle of June, 1918, is indicated in a report on "Wartime Changes in the Cost of Living" issued by the National Industrial Conference Board. The increases for the different items were:

Food	62
Rent	15
Clothing	77
Fuel and light	45
Sundries	50

Average increase (depending on apportionment of these respective items in the family budget) 50 to 55

In combining the percentages of increase for the respective items, in order to determine the average increase for the budget as a whole, food was taken as constituting 40 per cent of the total family expenditure, rent 18 per cent, clothing 13 per cent, fuel and light 6 per cent, and sundries 20 per cent. Applying the board's percentages of increase for the respective items to this distribution of the budget, the average increase is 52 per cent. The distribution of budget items given is an average based on cost of living studies made by several United States government bureaus and other agencies, covering in all 12,000 families.

The report cites records of the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics, which show an average increase in retail prices of fifteen leading articles of food between mid-summer of 1914 and June, 1918, of about 62 per cent.

All articles of food show a considerable increase in price since 1914. Exceptional advances were recorded in prices of flour, lard and corn meal.

In Philadelphia, the increase in the cost of food between 1914 and the end of 1917 was 54.41 per cent; 53.28 per cent in New York; in Jacksonville, Fla., 57.32 per cent; and in New Orleans 50.83 per cent.

A frequent feature of the replies received during the inquiry was that further increases in rent during the coming fall were to be expected.

Information secured from retail stores in cities well distributed throughout the country indicates increases in prices of the most common articles of wearing apparel ranging from 50.5 per cent for women's dollar blouses up to 161 per cent for men's overalls.

The report places the average rise in the total clothing budget, since 1914, at 77 per cent. This increase compares with an increase of 51.33 per cent between 1914 and 1917 for families in the shipbuilding district of Philadelphia and an increase of 54.21 per cent among similar families in the shipbuilding district of New York.

Prices secured from coal dealers in different localities frequently showed advances of 20 per cent to 40 per cent up to June, 1918, for ton lots of anthracite, and more marked increases in the cost of bituminous coal, which is extensively used for domestic purposes in some sections of the country.

"SOME" DRIVE.

(Cobalt Nugget.)

It is all in the way one looks at things. Yesterday the Nugget displayed in its window a war bulletin announcing that the total German casualties were now over six million.

"By gosh," said one man, who was studiously reading the bulletins over audibly, "that sure was some drive."

ISSUED BY THE CANADA FOOD BOARD

"It will be too late next winter to think of saving the present Vegetables and Fruit."

Bans Sunday Motor Trips For Pleasure

U. S. Fuel Administration Asks People in East to Down Gasoline Consumption

The U. S. fuel administration on Tuesday called on the public east of the Mississippi to stop using gasoline for pleasure purposes, motorcycles, motor boats on Sundays until further notice. Unless voluntary action on the part of the public improves the gasoline situation, notice is given that the administration will be obliged to enforce prohibitory regulations.

List of Exceptions.

The following exceptions to the request are made:

Tractors and motor trucks engaged in hauling of freight, physicians' automobiles, ambulances, fire and police apparatus, public utilities, repair wagons, gasoline railway equipment and motor vehicles used by persons living in rural communities without other means of transportation.

Automobiles for hire, including taxicabs, are included in the class of motor vehicles that are expected to observe the request.

Only voluntary compliance with the letter and spirit of the request will prevent the issuance of a mandatory order prohibiting the use of gasoline on Sundays, it was declared at the fuel administration.

The action was taken by the fuel administration, it was stated, to meet a threatened shortage of gasoline for military purposes, created by increased domestic demands and extensive military operations in France.

"The United States fuel administration considers necessary that a limited consumption of gasoline be undertaken, in the states east of the Mississippi, river in view of the increasing demand for gasoline for war purposes and the paramount obligation of meeting promptly and fully all overseas requirements," said a statement issued jointly by Administrator Garfield and Marks Regua, director of the oil division of the fuel administration.

An appeal is made therefore to exercise rigid economy in the consumption of gasoline during the next few weeks as a necessary and practical act of patriotism.

"War necessities are being and will continue to be met, and the increased domestic demands have rendered it necessary for a limitation in gasoline.

"The United States fuel administration believes it is best to do with the least interference of the country through the discontinuance of all classes of motor vehicles, motor boats and motorcycles on Sundays."

"The United States fuel administration therefore requests that in the section of the United States east of the Mississippi river there shall be a discontinuance of the use of the vehicles above specified, including all such as are operated for hire on each Sunday hereafter, until notification is issued jointly by the administration, voluntary, additional conservation in the operation of their own automobiles, wherever possible."

Oddly enough the first glass eyes were not made for living persons, but for the dead. In the days of the earliest Pharaohs the Egyptian embalmers removed the eyes, poured plaster or wax into the sockets and set the eyes of volcanic glass or some precious stone.

NEW GREENBACKS OUT.

One and Two Dollar Bills Put Into Circulation.

Washington, Aug. 30.—Two new greenbacks—the first of the nation's wartime currency—are in circulation. They are the $1 and $2 Federal Reserve bank notes planned especially to replace the silver certificates withdrawn from circulation as the treasury's silver reserve is melted into bullion for export to the Allies.

The one-dollar note bears a portrait of George Washington in the upper left hand corner of the face side, and otherwise resembles generally a federal reserve note. On the reverse side is shown in a centre oval an eagle in full flight, typifying the nation mobilized for war.

The two-dollar note is similar, except that it bears a portrait of Thomas Jefferson on the front and a picture of a battleship on the back.

John F. Harriman of San Francisco, formerly of Newcastle, passed away yesterday. He leaves his wife and son in California, his step-mother and step-brother in Newcastle, two brothers and three sisters in the States.

ST. JOHN SISTERS GET WORD OF FORTUNE IN PHILADELPHIA

Yesterday afternoon Miss Mary H. Easson and her sister, Miria Easson, both of the Lansdowne House, were advised by letter from an attorney in Philadelphia, who is executor of the estate of their aunt, who recently died, that they were heiresses to the estate. The value is estimated at $100,000. Both left for Philadelphia last evening.

THE TEACHERS' CONVENTION

At yesterday afternoon's session of the Maritime Teachers' Institute in Montreal, Rev. Father Guertin, vice-president of St. Joseph's University, addressed the convention on the French language in Canada. He said that the French language should be placed on a footing with the English in all schools in Canada. Other speakers were Rev. Dr. Hall, Canadian secretary of the Navy League, and Captain Robinson Black, organizer and inspector of cadets in the maritime provinces. Resolutions were passed favoring the using of the same text books in all the schools throughout the province.

Children Can Serve By Saving

One of the great lessons of this War is the value of Thrift. Let the children learn it, too, by saving through a Bank of Nova Scotia account. There is no more useful "nest egg" when college or business days come, than a substantial savings account.

ALLIES CONTROL RAW MATERIALS

Tremendous Economic Strength of Entente Powers is of Importance. Power to Dictate Terms—Significant Facts Revealed at Inter-Parliamentary Commercial Conference.

A tremendous preponderance in the control of the world's raw materials is held by the Allied powers, and this economic weapon is one that can practically paralyze the industrial life of the Central nations of Europe. The significance of the economic strength of the Allies was appreciated to the full by the delegates to the fourth inter-parliamentary commercial conference, held in London early last month, according to information that has reached this side of the Atlantic recently.

The fact that the Allies are in possession of the greater part of the raw material necessary to German industry is an advantage we can oppose usefully to our enemies' territorial annexations on the war map, declared Charles Chautauque, president of the French group of delegates. The Allies have it in their power to restrict seriously both imports and exports of Germany and her allies. The decision of the British government to control the movement of raw materials in the interests of the Allied and neutral powers was announced at this conference by Chancellor Bonar Law. The same control was demanded by the conference over manufactured and all other goods.

Powerful Economic Weapon. Statistics were presented by Eugene Bule, vice of the Belgian delegates, who is secretary of the general council, in which the economic strength of the Allies, which can be used for post-war negotiations, was strikingly shown. The populations of the Allied countries at the opening of the war was 1,140,000,000, which, with the omission of Russia and Roumania, becomes 1,180,000,000. This compares with 160,000,000 for the German coalition.

The summary of the possession of raw materials presented by M. Bule contained the following: Textiles—Wool, 1,180,000 tons for the Allies, as against 97,000 for the German coalition; cotton, 4,650,000 tons, against none; silk, 225,000 tons, against 16,000; flax, 1,225,000 tons, against 100,000; hemp, 912,000 tons, against none; jute, 1,462,000 tons, against none.

Oil seed—3,800,000 tons for the Allies, against 168,000 tons for the German coalition; olive, 1,945,000 tons, against none; rubber, 120,000 tons, against none; iron ore, 104,000,000 tons for the Allies, as against 37,000,000 for the German coalition; copper, 780,000,000 tons, against 172,000,000; zinc, 1,518,000,000 tons, against 678,000,000; nickel, 889,000,000 tons, against 14,000,000; aluminum, 329,000,000 tons, against 10,000,000; manganese, 222,000,000 tons, against 124,000,000 tons.

Petroleum 50,000,000 tons for the Allies, against barely 10,000 tons (these figures have evidently not been subjected to the inevitable adjustments from German acquisition of Roumanian wells—after considerable destruction—) and the still doubtful status of Russian works.

Fuel and Power Resources. Coal, 878,000,000 tons for the Allies, against 807,000,000 tons for the German coalition (these figures, which are taken from 1912, also need adjustment). The Allies in the other end of the scale are increasing the development of electricity from water power, in which they have the advantage. Germany's coal riches would be held in case of victory as a surety for legitimate reparation to the Allies.

Food products—Leaving wheat and other cereals out of the count because of the coalition of Russia, there remain: Rice, 34,000,000 tons for the Allies, as against 106,000 only for the German coalition; coffee, 805,000 tons, against none; tea, 354,000 tons, against none; cocoa, 187,000 tons, against 6,000 tons.

Comparative Stocks of Gold. From the Allies' possession of raw materials compared with that of the German coalition there is but a step to their possession of gold and, therefore, whether coined or not. This is quite distinct from the question of comparative credit, which internationally has to be counted in gold and, therefore, the entire possession of gold by the banks of the German coalition amounts to little more than $800,000,000, whereas the known reserve of the Allies figures up to $2,000,000,000 in gold. This makes on account of the equivalence of silver metal reserves, which is by no means to be overlooked. In the re-establishment of monetary parity, the Allies' gold will be almost as important to Germany as the possession of raw materials, this possession of gold will be extremely important.

DESCRIBES HOW FOCH TURNED TIDE OF WAR

Floyd Gibbons, Correspondent, Says Marshal Skillfully Tricked Enemy

To Fight Peace Offensive - Head of Allied Armies Sends Personal Message to the People of America

(New York Times)

Floyd Gibbons, war correspondent of the Chicago Tribune, who was wounded in the reduction of the Marne salient by Marshal Foch, and who recently arrived at an Atlantic port on a French steamer, told yesterday at the Ritz Hotel of the marvelous strategy which enabled Marshal Foch to stop the German drive in its inception and throw the enemy back to the Vesle.

The correspondent told the story of the preparation for the attack of July 18, the day of the turning of the tide. "The Germans knew that the logical place for an attack to be made was along the western side of the salient, and for that reason had made the line almost invulnerable with their Prussian Guards and other crack troops," Mr. Gibbons said.

"Foch kept that part of the front clear of any evidences of preparation for attack. Every day he allowed the German planes to come over and reconnoitre. They saw nothing, and so concluded that the French had no troops to spare for an offensive. The moment, however, that the Germans gave away their plan of striking at the other side of the salient and making a play for Epernay, Foch gathered together from distant parts of the line 70,000 of the finest troops in the French and American armies.

"Yet on the night of the 17th there was still nothing to indicate an attack, but as soon as darkness fell amid the flash of lightning and the roll of thunder these three divisions forced their way through the Cotret Woods, and at 4:30 the next morning, after having been traveling for three days, most of the time on the double quick, went over the top, and—well, the world knows the rest.

"It has been said that the great trouble with the American soldiers is that they want to fight the war in their own way, that they do not know enough to stop when their officers tell them to. In at least one case this was literally true. At one point on the front were the famous New York Irish regiment and an Alabama contingent. The French general in command had planned that the line should be held for ten hours, and that the troops were then to retreat for three kilometers. Well, that line never retreated, and the general has not yet had a chance to work out his carefully planned strategy. He has decided that you can start the Americans fighting, but you have to let the generals decide when they are going to stop."

Mr. Gibbons, after warning against false optimism that the morale of the German troops was low, added: "If the German was to win, this was his year to do it. But he didn't do it. Next year will be ours, and if we keep an absolutely stiff backbone and do not succumb to the peace offensive that will undoubtedly be launched this winter, victory will be ours. Part of my message, perhaps the principal part, is to prepare the people for this peace offensive and make them see the utter futility of giving it the slightest consideration until a military decision is gained."

Mr. Gibbons will be received by Mayor Hyland at City Hall this morning at 11 o'clock.

N. S. ADMINISTRATOR SAYS GET COAL SUPPLY AND THEN GO EASY ON IT

(Halifax Chronicle)

"In order to avoid suffering from cold in your city I would strongly advise everyone to secure his winter coal at once—and then go easy on it," said R. H. Mackay, of New Glasgow, fuel administrator for the province, to a Morning Chronicle reporter yesterday.

"The situation is exceedingly grave in Halifax, and from what I have heard the people do not seem to realize the fact, nor that it is necessary to get coal in for the winter at once.

Mr. Mackay also said that the people should not expect the same quality of coal just now, as they used to procure before the war. They ought to be satisfied to get any at all.

Decrease in Output. "In Ontario only 70 per cent of the normal requirement is allowed and it may become necessary to make the same restriction in Nova Scotia, if the situation keeps on becoming worse instead of better," said Mr. Mackay. "The output will be far below the usual amount on account of the shortage of labor. There will be at least two million tons less than the output previous to the war."

One of the problems at present, Mr. Mackay pointed out, was the transportation. Large quantities of coal on the banks of Glace Bay, remain there for lack of vessels. The railways cannot handle it alone, and it must be moved by water. At the Strait of Canso all the coal must go over the ferry and only a limited amount can be handled.

"In reference to hard coal, large quantities must not be expected. While it is possible to get a small amount in the United States, it is difficult to find means of water transportation, and again they claim that Nova Scotia has plenty of soft coal so we should not expect to get a large amount of hard. A war is on and the people should make use of what is at hand and not demand the impossible.

Old Folk Dying By Thousands. Miss McAvooy was inclined to believe that it all might be true until she learned the early buying of fuel if homes are to be spared with the coal when they do get it and try to conserve fuel wherever possible. He also strongly emphasized the early buying of fuel if homes are to be properly heated this winter.

Mr. McGrath, the fuel controller, is doing all possible to help the situation in Canada. He has had many difficult problems, especially in Ontario, where all the coal comes from the United States."

On being asked the conditions of the mines at Westville, Stellarton and Thornburn, Mr. Mackay replied that they were doing very well considering the shortage of men.

"Those in a position to buy coal should do so at once, in my message to Halifax folks. If they do not, they must not expect those in charge to take the responsibility later on. I feel there will be no trouble if people will only prepare now."

THE MAN MY MOTHER THINKS I AM. While walking down a crowded city street the other day, I heard a little urchin to a comrade say: "Say, Chimnie, lemme tell youse, I'd be happy as a clam if I only was de feller dat my mudder tink I am."

"She tink I am a wonder, and she knows her little lad. Could never mix with nuttin' dat was ugly, mean and bad. Oh, lots of times I sit and tink how nice 'twould be, goe white. If a feller was de feller dat his mudder tink he is."

Starving Teutons Gloat Over Raids

Women Tell How Dresden Exults When Innocents Are Slain

Like a City of Spectres—Back on Liner, Americans Say Even Poverty's Progress Will Not Start Revolt Among Masses

In refurbished costumes of five years ago, Mrs. Ida M. Otz and Miss Florence McAvooy of Montclair, N. J., landed at an American port from a Norwegian-American liner with the latest news, personally acquired, of the progress of poverty in the German Empire. They left Dresden on March 28, two days after the beginning of the gigantic "peace drive" of the German militarists, and they left the populace of Dresden almost fanatically enthusiastic over the fancied triumph of the armies of the Kaiser.

The people needed psychological boosting. Dresden was really a city of spectres. Like most other German towns, it had stirred the American women to pity. Their pity was tempered by reflection on the pitiless spirit of nearly all the Germans they met, who glistened over the smashing of the innocents of Paris by the long range Teutonic cannon and declared that the great German offensive would see the end of the war before the autumn of the coming year.

of cars and workers in factories producing war material. They were totally in the dark as to the progress of the war. The hospitals of Dresden received the German wounded soldiers only at night and the residents had little or no information about the number of wounded brought into the city and no acquaintances of the thousands slain at the battle-fronts. Everything unfavorable to the German cause was camouflaged. The people did wonder why they had no friends in the world except the Austrians, whom they looked upon more as tools than allies.

Miss McAvooy expressed some surprise when she learned that the Germans had been reported eating dogs in certain cities. She said that no dogs were eaten in Dresden, but that crows were a desirable diet. She did not know how good crows were until she was forced by the scarcity of other meat to sample them. She said they were delightfully meaty, and although dark, were very sweet. She had nothing to say against crows as a diet.

Everybody Gaunt and Hungry. Everybody in Dresden was emaciated, except, perhaps, certain munition workers. The men were thinner than the women, who were supposed to be better able to stand the strain of insufficient fats. There was no beer worthy of the name. A substitute made of a concoction of herbs did not do the girls or the health of the men. The little children especially were lean and hungry looking. It was only by paying high prices that Miss McAvooy was able to prevent herself from becoming very ill.

HUNS CAUGHT IN ANOTHER POCKET

In Trouble Between Canal du Nord and Aisne—Interest New About Mont. St. Siméon

With the French Army in France, Aug. 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Evening.—The operations of the last two days have put the Germans into another pocket, between the Canal du Nord and the River Aisne. They will have to evacuate it promptly or run a big risk of having their positions there turned from the north by the French along the valley of the Somme.

Since the fall of Noyon, which was the apex of this salient, until this morning, Mont St. Siméon, a mile and a quarter to the east, was its advanced defence. This height dominates the valley of the Aisne eastward and the valley of the River Noye and the Canal du Nord to the north. These valleys were lines in the salient last night.

The taking of Queyroy Wood this morning has lightened the pocket from the western side, bringing the French within shelling distance of the main road leading out of it in the direction of Ham. The road from Noyon to Chauny, which skirts the salient on the south, has been under the fire of General Mangin's artillery for several days.

Between the route to Ham and Chauny a succession of heights extend from Mont St. Siméon to Chauny forming a position of great strength. The French lines there today, but the imminence of danger threatening their communications to the north suggests that they are merely using part of their immediate ammunition supplies there to ease the pressure which has become so acute on the position to the east. There is an ammunition all over the field of the Aisne.

The French troops having gained a foothold in the valley of the Somme northeast of Nesle may naturally be expected to advance eastward on Ham, which will render the stronghold of St. Siméon and the ridge leading east useless to the enemy, while enormously increasing the difficulty of getting the rear guard out of the salient.

A book has been published entitled: "How to Live Longer." It ought to be worth reading—a great many of us are short all our lives.

NO END TO GIVING.

(Chicago Tribune.) Is there no end to giving? There is not—until the great end. The best line that any advertiser in the United States ever wrote was the liner: "While some one gives his life, what are you giving? Think a minute."

What are you giving, you who run loose and go about your virtually undisturbed affairs? What are you giving when you think a minute of the fellows who fight Germans and coolies, rats and trench fever, gas and shrapnel, mud and filth, and endure atrocious suffering or miserable discomfort? What have you given or what can you give? The demands upon your money do come rapidly. It is the way they have to come. It represents the pressure which must be put upon you. Even this pressure is an indication of your own good fortune. You are here, being asked for your money but not your life. This is the way in which the boss coin of the nation is shaken out of its pockets; the fashion in which local habits are ironed out and community discipline imposed.

So far the Australian bushranger who christened his daughters Eczema and Neuralgia certainly takes the prize in the way of strange names. It is only fair to him to add that he had not the slightest notion what the words meant. He had seen them in a newspaper, and was pleased with the sound—London Daily News.

British Capture Bapaume

(By the Associated Press.) The Germans continue in retreat everywhere between Arras and the Soissons sector under the violent attacks by the Allied troops. As yet there seems to be no slackening in the offensive that is steadily reclaiming numerous French towns and villages and territory that long has been in the hands of the enemy.

Indeed, instead of halting his men for a breathing spell, Marshal Foch seems to be pushing them forward with greater impetus. And at present the retreating enemy shows no indications of turning and offering more of a battle than he recently has been giving with his machine gunners and infantry units that are acting as rear guards to aid in covering the eastward retrograde movement.

Already outflanking the old Hindenburg line on the north, Field Marshal Haig's forces gradually are cutting their way eastward both north and south of the Somme and putting down strong counter-offensive actions, although on several sectors they have had to cede ground temporarily.

British in Bapaume

Official reports announce the British have captured the important town of Bapaume, where for days there has been bitter fighting the Germans exerting their utmost strength to keep Haig's men from gaining control of the railway and the high road leading to Cambrai. To the south the British also are reported to have penetrated to the outskirts of Maurepas, another point of strategic value. Along both sides of the Somme running eastward ground has been gained, and south of Peronne, where the river bends sharply southward, the stream has been crossed at several points and this important railroad junction outflanked.

Since the capture of the German line by the fall of Chaumes and Roye, the French literally have overrun the southern portion of Picardy, having reached the western bank of the Canal Du Nord along almost its entire length and captured the town of Noyon which, surrounded by hills, has stood defiantly for days under a rain of shells. East and southeast of Noyon other important positions have been taken and between the Oise and the Aisne the French have overcome the heavy resistance of the enemy and crossed the Ailette River.

Northwest of Soissons, where the Americans are in the line with the French in the general movement of clearing Picardy of the enemy there has been severe fighting but with the Allied troops having the advantage. The American sector is between Chavigny and Juvigny, and the enemy facing them includes the Prussian seventh infantry, along the Vesle River at Bazoches and Fismette the situation is rather less tense than it was Tuesday and Wednesday, when heavy fighting occurred between the Americans and Germans. Thursday the Americans heavily shelled the German positions, but the Germans failed to accept their challenge to a duel and replied only feebly. The claim of the German war office that 250 Americans were made prisoners during the recent fighting is denied by the Americans, who assert that only a few of their men are missing.

The situation in Eastern Siberia seems to be somewhat clarified through the disarming by the Czechoslovaks of all the Russian volunteers who revolted recently and took sides with General Horvath, the anti-Bolshevik leader.

The first big battle in which all the Allied forces, except the Americans, took part, occurred last Saturday, when the enemy attacked but was decisively beaten. At last accounts the Allied troops were steadily advancing against the enemy.

Ryan To Direct U.S. Air Plane Work

Baker Gives Him Title of Second Assistant Secretary of War, With Full Powers—New Duties for Crowell

Washington, Aug. 30.—Swiftly upon the heels of the disclosures made in the Senate Military Committee's report upon the army aircraft investigation announcement was made by Secretary of War Baker of the selection that John D. Ryan had been chosen to act as Second Assistant Secretary of War, with full responsibility over the army's air service. At the same time Benedict C. Crowell, First Assistant Secretary of War, is intrusted with the munitions programme. Although the official statement refers to Mr. Crowell as "director of munitions," and Mr. Ryan as "director of air service," the changes virtually establish separate organizations, each under direct control of the main.

Mr. Ryan will act as second assistant secretary of war in place of Edward A. Stearns, who is now in France, and who will remain there indefinitely as special representative of the War Department with primary powers. Mr. Ryan will not only have supervision, control, and direction of the bureau of aircraft production, of which he himself has been the director, but also over the Bureau of Military Aeronautics, of which Major General William L. Kenly is chairman.

Secretary Baker made it plain that the changes announced were being instituted with the full concurrence of President Wilson. It is the president's answer to the recommendation of the Thomas report on the aircraft investigation for the creation of a department of the air to unify the nation's air activities under a man who would be a member of the cabinet equal in rank and power to the secretary of war.

At seventeen, John D. Ryan was selling candy in one of the chains of general merchandise stores run by his uncle in the mining district of Michigan. At twenty-five he was selling lubricating oil through the stocky mountain section from Ontario to Mexico, and at thirty-five he was in charge of the affairs of the Allouez copper company. But he is a contented man, and does not care to talk about his own achievements. Says a warily leeching friend: "Mr. Ryan to tell me something about his achievements for the inspiration of younger men."

"No!" replied Mr. Ryan, holding up both hands in protest. "I've never written a picture-story about me, picturing me sweating in miner's tog at the bottom of a shaft, for I never did a day's mining in my life. I want a prodigy at school, and I haven't worked harder than lots of other men."

"Then do you want me to assume that you have got where you are because of influence."

"Influence!" broke in Mr. Ryan. "Influence is the worst hindrance any young man can have. When any young engineer or college graduate or anybody else comes to me asking for a letter to enable him to get a job at our works, I say to him just what I have told you."

ST. JOHN METHODIST FINANCIAL MEETING

The financial district meeting of the St. John Methodist church on Thursday, Rev. G. F. Dawson acted as chairman with Rev. George Morris as secretary. The sum of $250 was recommended to Zion church for the sustentation fund. The district objective is $6,000 for the year and its apportionment to the various circuits represented in the committee as follows: Queen square, $700; Centenary, $2,000; Exmouth street, $300; Portland, $750; Carleton, $225; Zion, $50; Fairville, $100; Silver Falls, $180; Sussex, $185; Newton, $215; Apohaqui, $110; Springfield, $165; Hampton, $110; St. Martins, $180; Jerusalem, $105; Welsford, $165; Westfield, $180; Kingston, $105; and the others completing the balance of the apportionment.

The following missionary grants were recommended: Hampton, $400; Springfield, $391; St. Martins, $188; Jerusalem, $485; Welsford, $200; and Long Reach, $475.

Rev. Robert Smart was appointed statistical secretary of the district and Rev. J. B. Gough was appointed district Epworth League secretary. It was decided to hold the second district meeting at Apohaqui the latter part of November.

CLOSING OF MORE OF THE PLAYGROUNDS

The closing exercises of the Bentley, Allison and Carleton playgrounds took place yesterday afternoon and the children gave some very excellent exhibitions of drills, and went through the programmes arranged by their supervisors with great credit to themselves and to their teachers. The work which had been done by the children during the summer and which consisted of raffle work, knitting, crocheting, and basketry was on sale and was very greatly admired.

At the Allison playgrounds the supervisor, Miss Heffer, was assisted by Miss Morrison, while Miss Berwick was special helper for the afternoon. There was a very large attendance of visitors and children. A number of interesting

A Baby's Skin

What is so beautiful as baby's soft, smooth, velvety skin? And how is it to be kept free from chafing, irritation and distressing eczema? This is every mother's question.

Many have found the answer in the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment. Applied after the bath, this soothing, healing ointment overcomes irritation of the skin and prevents the development of eczema and other annoying skin diseases.

drills and races took place and an excellent programme was carried out. The display of basketry was the subject of much very favorable comment. The visitors from the executive of the Playgrounds' Association included Mrs. T. N. Vincent, Mrs. J. H. Dood, Miss Grace Lovell, and M. Belding. At the Bentley playgrounds the supervisor, Miss Parlee, assisted by Miss Lundy had arranged a very fine programme for the exercises, which was carried out in a splendid manner. The folk dances were especially pretty and well done. After the exercises the children played games and the singing of Auld Lang Syne and God Save the King was followed by three lusty cheers for Mrs. W. C. Good, who had given the children a parting treat of candy.

The supervisor of the Carleton playgrounds, Miss Miller, left last week for New York and yesterday her assistant, Miss Jean MacDonald, took charge of the children and was assisted by Miss Hawker. Many of the children's parents were present and the Playgrounds' Association executive was represented by Captain A. J. Mukeshy and several ladies. More than three hundred children took part in the exercises and went through the very prettily arranged drills with marked success. The flag drill with the saluting of the flag by the children was particularly well done.

SOME COMMENT ON THE MARRIAGE ENGAGEMENT OF PRINCE RUPPRECHT

(N. Y. Times Editorial.) The latest victim of Cupid's darts is that war-worn veteran, Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria, who amid the preoccupation entailed by a series of victorious retreats has found time to become engaged to Princess Antoinette of Luxembourg. Despite the disparity in age—Rupprecht is forty and his fiancée nineteen—the match will no doubt be a happy one. Rupprecht crown prince rather than his distinguished rival Wilhelm of Prussia, and if he has never displayed an inclination toward Wilhelm's habit of stealing clocks and silverware from chateaux where he is quartered, his bride will nevertheless find a well-furnished home. Rupprecht's throne, moreover, is likely to be more secure than Wilhelm's when the German people have leisure to sit down and figure up whether the war was worth what it cost.

Without doubt, it is a royal instance of the phenomenon so often seen in humbler circles—a gentleman consoling himself with the younger sister when the elder will have none of him. For ever since the German army took forcible possession of Luxembourg, on Aug. 2, 1914, German intrigue has been doing its best to get the young Grand Duchess Marie Adelaide to accept a German husband and facilitate the inclusion of her realm in the German Empire. So far Adelaide has held out, but she has five sisters, and Antoinette, the third of them, has apparently been picked out as the sacrifice when the German people royalties were becoming insistent; even in Germany it begins to be apparent that the good German sword cannot do all the work at the peace conference, and that it is highly advisable to get up some sort of title to the neighboring countries whose inclusion within the German sphere of influence is still hoped for. German kings are being picked for Lithuania and Finland, and if a good German is used who wants the war to restore their independence. If this design is so far unsuccessul, the present match will at any rate mean a closer German connection for the ruling house.

Prohibition in States

Washington, Aug. 29.—National prohibition moved a considerable step forward today in congress. Without a record vote being taken or requested, a senate late today adopted the leaders compromise on "home dry" prohibition, during the war, and until the American effective July 1, 1919, and continuing troops are brought home and demobilized.

A Message to The Women of The Dominion About Men's Clothes

WHEN your husband comes home ask him if he ever finishes the war news and the sporting page in time to read our advertisements. If he asks you why you want to know, you might say that it is just as important to know how he can save money on a custom tailored Made-to-Measure Suit as it is to know the news of the day.

Your husband, as you know, is a slave of habit. When he needs a new suit he goes to the same tailor or ready-made clothing store he has been going to for ten years. He would rather buy from somebody he knows than seek a new tailor, even if he can save money and get imported fabrics and be assured perfect fit.

All he needs is a little prodding. Ask him why he does not drop into one of our 22 stores and tailor shops and see what sort of tailoring and fabrics he can get. Suggest that if there is a saving to be had, you want to know why he does not get it. There is no reason why all the careful buying should be on your side. Help us give your husband a lesson in thrift, and a garment that he will feel proud to wear.

Rheumatism A Home Cure Given By One Who Had It

In the spring of 1893 I was attacked by Muscular and Inflammatory Rheumatism. I suffered as only those who have it know, for over three years. I tried remedy after remedy, and doctor after doctor, but such relief as I received was only temporary. Finally, I found a remedy that cured me completely, and it has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted and even bedridden with Rheumatism, and it effected a cure in every case. I want every sufferer from any form of rheumatic trouble to try this marvelous healing power. Don't send a cent; simply mail your name and address and I will send it free to try. After you have used it and it has proven itself to be that long-looked-for means of curing your rheumatism, you may send your price of it, one dollar, but understand, I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Isn't that fair? Why suffer any longer when positive relief is thus offered you free? Don't delay. Write today. Mark H. Jackson, No. 79E Gurney Bldg., Syracuse, N. Y. Mr. Jackson is responsible. Above statement true.

MANUFACTURE OF LIFEBELTS NOW OF GREAT IMPORTANCE

Kapok, a Vegetable Fibre Grown in Java, Extensively Used by Allies—Dominion Contracts for Supply

(Toronto Globe.)

Exigencies of war conditions, and the wanton slaughter that has been introduced through submarine fighting have made more imperative than ever that sea-going vessels should carry an adequate supply of the most efficient safety-belts that science can construct. The unprecedented rate of ship construction has made necessary the manufacture of life-belts on a much larger scale than in peacetime, and shortcomings of the material formerly in use has led to the discovery of the substance which is believed to be unexcelled for this purpose. Kapok, the snowy-white vegetable fibre which grows in the seed pods of an East India tropical tree of the same name, has been used for the manufacture of mattresses for many years in the Orient, and it has come to take an extensive place in mattress construction in America during the last twenty years.

Kapok is one of the lightest fibres known, and after it has been put through a heating process it expands still further. A unique feature is that it is quite waterproof and non-absorbent. When placed in a covering of duck, it has been found that one pound of this material is sufficiently buoyant to keep a man of average size afloat for an indefinite period. The knowledge of its buoyancy led to experiments with kapok for use in life-saving cushions. It was found to have properties much superior to cork, and its popularity grew steadily. It is stated to be one-half lighter than cotton, and is, of course, waterproof. The non-absorbent quality is attributed to the vegetable oil which is contained in the pods in which the kapok grows, and the fibre contains air chambers which add to its buoyancy.

Kapok Used in Safety.

Tests were made with vests lined with kapok, having a weight of about two pounds, and it was found that they would keep a person afloat quite easily. These vests were supplied to many trans-Atlantic travelers since the beginning of the war, and they furnished an added sense of security by reason of the fact that they could be worn constantly without a great deal of personal inconvenience, although they were about two inches in thickness.

The British government took up the manufacture of safety-belts from kapok some time ago, and they were so eminently satisfactory that practically the entire supply of raw material available in the English market is being used for this purpose, lessening the supply which would ordinarily be used for mattresses and pillows. Kapok is now being used extensively in the equipment of ships of British register with life belts. In the United States, the government has practically commandeered the entire supply within that country, and it is being used for no other purpose than for supplying American ships with adequate numbers of belts. The American embargo against the release of material brought from Java through United States firms in Canada caused many tons of raw material to be held up in transit.

Must Face Shipping Difficulties.

Firms to which the kapok was consigned were unable to secure delivery, and the matter is now being taken up between the Canadian and United States governments. The shipments of more raw material is now being sought from Java, and it is proposed to have the cargoes taken to Japan and transferred to Japanese bottoms for shipment to Vancouver and thence eastward by rail. The Canadian government became interested in the possibilities of kapok as a material for the manufacture of life-belts a short time ago, following the success which was experienced in England. It was found that while the kapok vest was fairly satisfactory, it was not the most efficient form in which the protective device could be constructed. While the buoyancy of the vest was sufficient to keep a person afloat, it was possible for its wearer to get his head under water in case of fainting or exhaustion from exposure.

Subject to Severe Tests.

Belts were constructed on much the same principle as those made in England, except that they were less elaborate. The Canadian article finally specified by the authorities at Ottawa, while quite as efficient as the British belt, can be manufactured for thirty per cent less, and would, if placed on the general market, retail at about $2.75. It consists of two sacks filled with kapok and joined by bands which pass over the shoulders and under the arms of the wearer. It is quite easily adjusted.

The belt was subjected to the most exacting tests, and was found to be satisfactory in all respects. It has been learned that a two-pound belt covered with six-ounce duck will keep a man weighing 200 pounds afloat for thirty-six hours. The government conducted tests in which the belt was used under the most trying conditions.

CORN AND OATS.
Chicago, Aug. 30.—In the absence of selling sentiment profit-taking by shorts ran the price of corn up momentarily at the opening of the market today, but in half an hour the price was backed around yesterday's close. October opened 1/4 cents lower to 1/2 cents higher at 1.55 to 1.54 1/2, touching 1.55 1/2 and then reacted to 1.54 1/2. Feeling was nervous and fluctuations were jerky.
The oats market opened dull and slightly higher, with corn. October opened unchanged to 1/2 cent lower at 71 1/2 to 71 1/4, sold to 72, and reacted to 71 1/2 to 71 1/4.
Provisions were inactive and nominally unchanged.

CARLETON STREET CAR SERVICE IS GIVEN AN AIRING

Commissioners Decided to Apply to Utilities Commission

MR. HILYARD FOR FIGHT

Says It Is Time To Take Bit in Teeth—Tenders for Sand Point Ferry Bonus

At a committee meeting of the common council this morning tenders were opened for a platform in No. 1 shed and for runways in 3, 4 and 5 sheds in West St. John. Edward A. Farren and Grant & Horne were the only tenderers. The tenders for the platform were: Edward A. Farren, $2,900; Grant & Horne, $4,100; for the runways, Edward A. Farren, $1,248.50; Grant & Horne, $1,900. The tenders were referred to Commissioner Bullock and the mayor.

Commissioner Bullock spoke about the condition of the piling at the east side ferry floats and moved that he be authorized to call for tenders for the construction of a brace of piling on the north side of these floats. The motion was carried. It came out that the city is encroaching on W. H. Thorne & Co's property at one end of the float and that the company is encroaching on the city property at another point. A line will in all probability be established.

Commissioner Bullock reported that he had interviewed the city recorder regarding the city position. He desired to grant a bonus towards the maintenance of the Indiantown-Pleasant Point ferry service. He said that the recorder declared it would be perfectly legal for the city to pay such a bonus. The city has been asked to pay $82.50 a month for the maintenance of the service, the Lancaster Commission to pay the same amount, the said sum to be paid not beyond May, 1919.

Carleton Street Cars.
The question of the street car service and the ferry boat was then brought up by Commissioner Bullock. He said he had been endeavoring to come to an understanding with the railway officials to get them to resume their former service of meeting the ferry. This, he said, he failed to do and as a result moved that the matter be given to the Public Utilities Commission. This was seconded by Commissioner Fisher and passed.

Commissioner Hilyard asked if the old route on some streets in West St. John could not be torn up as they were not being used. Commissioner Fisher said he thought they had that power. Mr. Hilyard said that the street railway were never willing to concede a point, so it was time to take the bit in their teeth and fight them tooth and nail. He said the sooner the better.

A five years renewal at $150 rental was granted to the Dominion Government Fish Hatchery on the Loch Lomond road.

Commissioner Fisher brought up the question of the proposed city playground on the streets in Rockwood Park. He said that it would require an expenditure of approximately $1,000 to get the first four acres in shape, providing that material for filling in a portion of a creek could be procured free. He read a recommendation of Road Engineer Hatfield who said that he felt it would be a good thing to have the grounds turned into a dump for a period in order to fill in the creek section.

The other commissioners seemed unanimous in the opinion that if the permission of the park authorities could be had it would be a good idea to open it up for dumping purposes.
