BOMBARDMENT MAY NOW BEGIN

Firing at Tripoli Today is Reported Turkey Makes Complaint

London, Oct. 3.—A despatch from Rome states that the bombardment of Tripoli by the Italian fleet, "has begun."

A message to Italy from an Italian warship off Tripoli under Sunday's date, quoted the Italian consul as saying that the bombardment would begin three days after the notification to evacuate, which was given on Saturday.

Another despatch to a paper at Rome, from Malta, last night, also set forth that the bombardment would begin today.

The Turkish ambassador, Ferid Pasha, presented a note from his government to the foreign office today complaining that, contrary to all international rules of warfare, the declaration of war against Turkey has been preceded by hostilities. Intervention is asked.

London, Oct. 3.—Little definite news has come from the seat of war. Of details, the most important are the statements that Tripoli has not been bombarded and that Italian troops have not been landed at Prevesa.

Several hours later, the reservoir of the Tripoli boats was reported to have been sunk in the Adriatic and two transports have been captured to date.

Turkish losses would seem to be four torpedo boats and one gunboat sunk, three transports, two torpedo boats and one transport captured. The wireless station at Tripoli has been destroyed.

The British customs authorities at Southampton have seized four naval launches fitting out for the Turkish navy, this being in conformity with the usage imposed on neutrals in war time.

Germany is doing her utmost to stop the war, but it is certain that Italy will not discuss terms of peace until she has definitely occupied Tripoli.

The Daily Mail's Constantinople correspondent says Emperor William sent a telegram to the Turkish sultan on Monday, recommending that Turkey accept the terms of Italy's ultimatum, adding that Germany would stand by Turkey.

The "Daily Mail" asserts that Turkey asked Great Britain to intervene, but made a condition of intervention that the integrity of the Ottoman dominions should be maintained.

It was unlikely Italy would agree to this, the British government was compelled to decline to attempt to carry out what is considered an impossible task.

Said Pasha's Step Down Constantinople, Oct. 3.—It is reported that Pasha's resignation as grand vizier is pending owing to his inability to form a new cabinet and the unavailability of the late cabinet ministers to face the re-assembly of the chamber on October 14.

Cattle, However, Die in Waters and Barns and Crops Are Swept Away—Worse Disaster Prevented by Gradual Release of Reservoir Contents

(Canadian Press) Punksutawney, Pa., Oct. 3.—Reports received here last night were to the effect that flood water due to heavy rains, has caused upward of $500,000 damage through out the Mahoning valley.

Several hours later, the reservoir of the Pitsburg-Buffalo and Rochester Railway, located at Cleveland and holding 120,000,000 gallons of water, was believed to be in serious shape.

As a precautionary measure, a sluice was opened and the water allowed to run out gradually to avert a catastrophe similar to that experienced on Saturday in Austria.

Every cellar in the business district was quickly filled and hundreds of residences on the lowlands inundated.

Heavy damage was suffered in the country districts. Live stock was drowned and barns carried away.

By RUTH CAMERON

THE little girl visitor left our house the other day in tears. No, we hadn't been mistreating her. She cried because she felt so badly to go. But we could claim none of the credit of these complimentary tears for ourselves. It all belonged to a fuzzy little baby named RITA, with which the little girl visitor had been having the time of her young life all the afternoon.

This will place the Conservatives at 49 with the slight possibility of a change of one or two either way when the recounts have taken place.

Asquith's Son Becomes Clerk in Argentine Republic—Cardinal Logue Loses an Old Friend—Re-fortify St. Helena

Premier Asquith seems to be just as anxious as the late Mr. Gladstone to avoid any chance of nepotism and in the same way that the Grand Old Man left his third son, Henry, to embark in a commercial career in India, where he made his fortune for himself, eventually becoming the head of one of the most important firms in Calcutta, so is Premier Asquith sending out his son Arthur to take up a commercial career in the Argentine Republic and the young fellow has recently arrived at Buenos Ayres to assume a clerical position in the firm there of Franklin, Herrera & Co.

Cardinal Logue, Archbishop of Armagh and Roman Catholic Primate of Ireland, died in health and advanced years, last night at a very old and dear friend, through the death of Dr. William Alexander, Anglican Archbishop of Armagh, and until the beginning of this year, Anglican Primate of the Emerald Isle. Re-fortify St. Helena

St. Helena, so celebrated in connection with the exile and death of the great Napoleon there, and which of late years has been so neglected by the English government, and the abandonment of the island to a British possession, and its desertion by the few remaining authorities and thoroughly discouraged population—their transfer to some other British possession—has been under discussion, it is to receive a new lease of life. For the strenuous endeavors of the Kaiser to obtain Agadir, the Canary Islands, Cealao Islands, and other points of vantage as forming stations on the route to South America and to the Cape has, awakened the English government to the importance of St. Helena in this connection. It is to be once more strongly garrisoned and the old defenses, which have been permitted to fall into such decay that they have become worse than useless, are to be replaced by powerful fortifications, of the most modern description, equipped with some of those new guns of such colossal range as to render the approach of any hostile shipping within a radius of twenty miles a matter of impossibility.

LAST NIGHT'S WIRES SAID WAR WOULD NOT CONTINUE VERY LONG

London, Oct. 2.—From present appearances the Russo-German war promises to be the shortest and most bloodless war in history. Thus far its distinguishing characteristics has been the absence of fighting, and with Germany acting as peace-maker it may be ended before fighting commences.

GOVERNOR TWEEDIE ON THE STAND TODAY IN DAVID RUSSELL CASE

(Canadian Press)

Montreal, Oct. 3.—Lieut. Governor Tweedie of New Brunswick took the stand this morning in the Russell case and told of an acquaintance with the plaintiff testifying to his sanity and shrewd business ability. Mr. Russell completed his evidence, being cross examined, on the accounts which he claimed the Pinkerton's should pay.

Mr. Russell was first questioned regarding the drawing of the account, which he said was a budget game which were in a scrap book. He told what he knew of each and how the substance had been obtained. These drawings were put in as one of the exhibits.

Mr. McMeffer asked Mr. Russell why he gave interviews on the subject: "I was sure there was a plot against me," he said. "Everyone was talking about it and there were rumors as to the effect that I was insane. I wanted to put myself right with my family and my friends."

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 3.—(Special to Times) The interesting developments in the political situation arising out of the change of government will not be much longer delayed. It was definitely asserted that the contract for the St. John harbor improvements had not yet been let.

The New Brunswick portfolio is almost certain to go to O. S. Crockett. Another story is that Geo. H. Parley, is not anxious to enter the ministry and if he does not H. B. Ames' chances will be improved. F. D. Monk is said to be amongst the certainities.

BOMBARDMENT MAY NOW BE ON

Said Pasha's most likely successor is said to be Kiamil Pasha, the new foreign minister, which would imply serious defeat for the committee of union and progress.

It is alleged that a remarkable revolution of feeling in favor of England has occurred in military circles, which would welcome a republican cabinet presided over by Kiamil Pasha with Nazim Pasha as war minister.

Copenhagen, Oct. 3.—Much surprise is expressed that King George of Greece, who has been for several days a guest of King Frederick of Denmark, has returned to Athens immediately on the outbreak of the war. To a court dignitary the king has given an explanation, with permission to publish it: "I do not fear that the war will be extended to European Turkey or that Greece will be involved. Had I thought so, I should have at once returned. According to information I received today, I believe that the war will be short and localized." The King of Greece added that Italy's action might lead to dangerous complications later, but at present he saw no reason to expect that the war would extend to the Balkans.

Rome, Oct. 3.—The Tribune announces that the Italian cruiser Marco Polo has captured the Turkish transport Sabah loaded with ammunition and troops, on the way to Tripoli.

He has for two years conducted a summer class for the boys of the city schools who failed to graduate. More than a week ago a farewell banquet was given in his honor and a valuable gift of books of the Everyman's Library, presented to him. Lectures were to begin this morning and about a dozen under graduates, including Raymond Haley of this city and Eric McDonald of Fredericton commenced their studies at the beginning of the Michaelmas term.

THE BOARD OF TRADE

The St. John Board of Trade, which meets this afternoon, has about 400 members. Its membership includes business men and professional men, all of whom have a stake in St. John, and should therefore lend their aid to make the Board an effective working organization.

Governments may come and governments may go, but St. John remains, and its welfare is of more immediate importance to the citizens than any mere political considerations.

During the last two years a new spirit of hopefulness and energy has been manifested in this city, and the Board of Trade and its committees have done much to give it practical expression. This should continue, and during the fall and winter the Board should do much valuable work.

There are other questions of importance coming properly under the head of Board of Trade business, and the Board should be the most vigorous and progressive body in the city. There is a good prospect of securing additional industries within the next year or two. The Board of Trade is especially interested in this subject.

HOSPITAL NEEDED

St. John ought to provide a hospital for advanced cases of tuberculosis. Let it be stated once more that this disease causes the death of more than one hundred persons in this city every year, and that every advanced case, especially in a poor tenement, is a centre of infection.

It is not necessary to provide a large and expensive institution, but even if that had to be done, it would be worth the price. There is to be a sanatorium for patients in the early stages, but there is very great need of proper provision for the isolation of advanced cases.

A TAXATION COMMISSION

The provincial government of British Columbia has appointed a commission which is making an investigation of assessment and taxation conditions in that province. Mr. C. H. Lugin, of the Victoria Colonist, and formerly of St. John and Fredericton, is a member of the commission, another being the finance minister of the province.

TOOK THE CONCEIT OUT OF HIM

The captain of a steamer, having listened for some time to a passenger's boasting of his abilities as a marksman, decided to try to take some of the conceit out of the boaster. "I don't think you could hit this bottle placed on the taffrail at twenty yards' distance," he remarked.

CIVIC AFFAIRS

The citizens of St. John will experience a great sense of relief when the new form of city government goes into force next April. There will then be an end to the uselessly wrangles over small matters which take up so much of the time of the city council.

THE FERNHILL COMPLAINT

There have been 15,700 interments in Fernhill. Complaint is made that at times through leakage in the pipes the cemetery is soaked in places with water, and if a break occurred the results would be such as one does not care to contemplate.

IN LIGHTER VEIN

This Turco-Italian war may be useful in comic opera, but where is the fighting? Mr. Borden is receiving much advice from his political friends—perhaps "too much of it. We shall know the result in a few days."

AN OBEYDIENT SON

"Clarence, did you peel that apple before eating it, as I told you?" "Yes, mother."

LOST IN ANTIQUITY

"Mother, did grandma whip father when he was a little boy?" "Yes."

NOVA SCOTIAN HIGH UP IN TURKS' NAVY

C. D. Bucknam, Vice-Admiral of The Sultan's Fleet—Farm Boy Till Fourteen But Loved The Sea

Boston, Oct. 3.—Canada has a peculiar interest in the Turco-Italian war. The vice-admiral of the Turkish fleet is Bucknam Pasha, who was born within seventy miles of St. John.

R. D. Bucknam, the Nova Scotian who is vice-admiral of the Turkish fleet.

He resided in Boston at one time and has relatives here. It has been erroneously stated that he was born in Buckport, Me.

His Career

A relative, Albert Roscoe, of Waverley, furnishes the following sketch of his career:

"My nephew, Capt. Ransford D. Bucknam, was born under the British flag, at West Halls Harbor, Kings County, N. S. His father was Ezra Bucknam, of West Halls Harbor, and his mother's maiden name was Isabel Roscoe, of East Halls Harbor. His grandfather, who was a very able and intelligent man, and a successful ship-builder, came to Halls Harbor from Buckport, Me., and his maternal grandfather, William A. Roscoe, was a native of Billtown, Kings County, N. S., and sturdy, respectable farmer.

"The ancestors on both sides were of English and Scotch origin; not a few of them took their early lessons in seamanship, in those good old days of blood and plunder, when might made right, and the English pirates plundered the commerce of the world and carried their spoils to England, laying the foundation of England's greatness and her matchless navy. And her navy is still manned and captained by their descendants. So what wonder that Bucknam Pasha is a man of valor, ability and fight?"

"Still he doubtless, like most great men, has outlived his antecedents. He has certainly risen to his present position from humble surroundings and adverse conditions through sheer force of character, inborn ability and fitness.

"It is not true that both Bucknam's parents died when he was a small boy. The facts are that his father left the family and went to sea, leaving the wife and four small children without means of support, and to be cared for by the relatives, a share of which fell to me.

"His father never returned, however, and some three years later was reported dead, which I have reasons to believe was not true. His mother, who married again and is Mrs. Isabelle Gorin, is living with her daughter at Emerson, Manitoba. For a few years after his father deserted them his grandfather, John Bucknam, moved to Manitoba, taking all the children with him, and he lived there on a farm till he was fourteen years old. But farm life was too tame for him; it did not satisfy him, and his love for the ocean and his restless and irrepressible spirit, made his grandfather decide to let him go.

"So they fitted him out with the necessary clothing and $50 in cash and he started for the great lakes.

"He has quite a number of near relatives in Nova Scotia, Manitoba, Illinois and Massachusetts, all of whom are very much interested in his welfare, and very proud of him. I am the uncle, his mother's uncle, and his mother's elder brother. I am, of course, very intimately acquainted with his early life and can vouch for the facts so far as I have told you."

WAS A BLIND VOTE AGAINST RECIPROcity

(Montreal Witness).

A man came into our office the other day and said that he had just read the reciprocity agreement, and if he had done so before voting he would have voted for it. He had supposed from the paper that he had been reading that the agreement committed us to general reciprocity with the United States in manufactures as well as the things that were really in it, and that it meant annexation to that country. Another man, a Canadian, visiting Canada, said that his mind had been made up in favor of reciprocity by reading the arguments against it.

If nothing more relevant than these could be urged against it, it was surely a good thing for Canada. The same result had not followed with many intelligent people he had met. He had since got the agreement itself and read it, and he was convinced that not one of the many who had voted against it, with whom he had conversed, had any knowledge of it. They had given him such reasons for opposing it as that the Yankees would take away our wheat. When asked how they would take away our wheat without paying for it—and paying more than we are now getting—they had never thought of that. It would be our lumber or our hay or something else.

It would seem that, after all the campaign, the most of the voters had their only ideas of what they were voting about from newspapers and pamphlets that paid them the poor compliment of appealing to their sentiments rather than to their intelligence.

A correspondent says that anti-reciprocity papers never once gave their readers the facts of the arbitration agreement. We cannot corroborate this from knowledge, and the fact that their readers knew nothing about it, is in these days no proof that they did not publish it. For such

NO INTemperance AT CORNELL, SAYS PRES. SCHURMAN

Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 3.—In his annual address to the students at the opening of the academic year at Cornell University, President Jacob Gould Schurman replied to the criticism of R. T. Crane, of Chicago, who called attention a few weeks ago to the alleged prevalence of intemperance among students.

President Schurman added that he had made investigation and had watched the conduct of students at Cornell for a long time and knew there was no intemperance at that institution. Mr. Crane, he said, declined an invitation to speak at Cornell.

A QUEBEC WARNING TO MR. BORDEN

La Patrie Tells New Premier What French-Canadians Expect

THREE MEN IN CABINET

Suggestion of Any Slight to Conservative Nationalists Means They Will Rise in House as One Man—The Sower is Reaping

Under the title of The New Cabinet and the Province of Quebec, the Patrie has the following to say in part—

"To give to the Province of Quebec its just representation in the cabinet Mr. Borden will only have to follow the invariable custom which has prevailed in the federal administration since confederation."

"In the first ministry of Sir John A. Macdonald it was determined one time for all that Quebec should have three ministers. Since 1867 there have always been in the cabinet three French-Canadian ministers holding important portfolios and occasionally as well a minister without portfolio or the solicitor-general, the latter not making part of the cabinet."

"It is a false principle to think that, because the Province of Ontario gave to the new premier a solid support it should have the right to exercise a larger influence. The composition of the cabinet should not be based on the result of the ballot in the different provinces. All our parliamentary history is there to prove it."

"Quebec did not have more representation in the cabinet because she gave a nearly unanimous support to Sir John A. Macdonald, and later to Sir Wilfrid Laurier. It is not because she has less now that Ontario goes on block, and gives a majority to the first ministers."

"The Patrie then suggests that among the Quebec representatives are men admirably adapted for cabinet positions. It mentions J. D. Monk first, then Rodolphe Forget, and in a block the names of the Hon. L. P. Pelletier, D. O. Levesque, J. Codrington, B. Nadeau and ex-judge Doherty."

"With such elements at his command, we do not believe that Mr. Borden dreams of looking outside the ranks of our representatives for the ministers who will represent the Province of Quebec."

"And we hope that in the delicate choice which is left entirely to his discretion he will take into consideration the worth and personal abilities of the candidates without listening to the rumors of certain narrow spirits to whom real merit gives offence, and who favor only minorities."

"Though the danger of reciprocity has been averted, that is not all. The victory must be completed by the formation of a cabinet enlighten, and strong, composed of men of initiative, and not of men enjoying reputations more or less overrated."

"A bad move now might have disastrous results. We wish, for example, to see only two insignificant portfolios to Quebec, and set aside representatives of worth."

"Rhodesia in 1911 enjoys peace and prosperity. Fortunate in the possession of a good administration, an excellent system of roads, railways and telegraphs, an efficient police force, a native population without any grievances, promising revenues and an export trade amounting to $2,000,000 a year and rapidly increasing."

"Rhodesia was first conceived as a part of the British Empire by Cecil Rhodes. There is no record as to when this idea first came into his mind, but it is known that he was first conceived as a part of the British Empire by Cecil Rhodes."

"Rhodes knew that the possession of the land extending north of Cape Colony was the goal of others besides himself and when in 1890 after having obtained a concession, by the efforts of C. D. Rudd and Lochter Maquire and others, from Lobengula, King of the Zulus, this chief, adversely influenced, seemed ready to retract his promises, Rhodes was not taken unawares."

"Throughout the development of his great scheme Rhodes had two friends on whom he could rely, Dr. Jameson and Beit. At this juncture Dr. Jameson and Beit accepted the offer of the King that he conferred upon him an honor that is unique in the history of the Zulus. He made him an induna of his favorite regiment, the Imboza. Describing the ceremony Seymour Fort says:

"It was a strange spectacle, the slight, thoughtful young Scotchman, in store clothes and weapons, confronting the massive-framed, barbarically adorned chief and receiving from his hands the insignia of the famous impi—the black-plumed otch-head-dress, the shoulder cape, the ox-hide armband with its distinguishing black and gold stripes, the two assegais."

"Eventually, Lobengula connived at the march of the Mashonaland pioneers, timing his prohibition too late to stop the expedition. Starting on June 25, 1891, the expedition consisted of South Africans, English, Scotch, Irish, Welsh and even Americans, under the command of Colonel Pennell and accompanied by Dr. Jameson. Sept. 12 saw the difficult march accomplished, Salisbury, or what is now the town of Salisbury, being reached and the Union Jack unfurled."

"From that time to 1908 followed a time of difficulties and struggles, but 1908 saw the turning point and from that time prosperity has increased and settlers are flocking into the land encouraged by the terms granted by the company. Harrop's policy has increased and settlers are flocking into the land encouraged by the terms granted by the company. Harrop's policy has increased and settlers are flocking into the land encouraged by the terms granted by the company."

"The great impetus given to agricultural activity in the west by the record increase of settlers, and the all-round stimulus to manufacturing, industry and general business in the prairie provinces, as well as in Eastern Canada, has provided the Canadian Pacific with a surfeit of transportation and hotel business which will mean much to the pockets of the shareholders."

"Needless to say, the big transcontinental has again taken time by the forelock in laying numerous branch lines while ocean traffic is being speeded, and in other ways going ahead so as to be right on the spot for business. Canadians cannot over-estimate the great work of the Canadian Pacific in building up the country."

"Gross earnings for August were $10,421,272, working expenses, $6,346,833, net profit, $4,074,439, while for the two months ended August 31 gross was $20,983,722, working expenses $12,933,123 and net profit, $7,890,600."

"In August, 1910, the net profits were $2,691,672 and from July 1 to August 31, 1910, there was a net profit of $7,176,291.92. The gain in net profits over the same period last year is therefore for August, $833,898.08 and from July 1 to August 31, the handsome increase of $62,317.42 is shown."

The Indians of Bolivia catch fish by pouring the milk of one of their native fishes (hura crepitans of the genus Euphrasia) on the surface of the water. This liquid paralyzes every fish that comes in contact with it, and all the Indian has to do is to pick them up. The fish will remain stunned for several days but are not affected as food. The Indians also use this milk as a cure for toothache."

WOMAN'S POWER OVER MAN

Woman's most glorious endowment is the power to awaken worthy men. When she loses it and still loves, no one in the wide world can know the heart agony she endures. The woman who suffers from weakness and derangement of her special womanly organs loses the power to sway the heart of man. Her general health suffers and she loses her good looks, her attractiveness, her amiability.

Dr. K.V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N.Y., with his power and prestige as a woman, has devised a successful remedy for women's ailments. It is known as Dr. Pierce's "Fruit-a-tives" and is a positive cure for the weaknesses and disorders peculiar to women. It purifies, regulates, strengthens and heals. Medical dealers sell it. No honest dealer will advise you to accept a substitute in order to make a little larger profit.

A MARVEL OF HEALING

Salt Rheum of Ten Years' Standing Healed as if by Magic—Hands Cracked, so Could Not Work—Cures Effected by Dr. Chase's Ointment

It does not take long for Dr. Chase's Ointment to prove its healing power. A single night is often sufficient to produce the most startling results. Internal treatment for skin diseases is nearly always disappointing. By applying Dr. Chase's Ointment to the diseased parts relief is obtained almost immediately, and gradually the sores heal and disappear. Here are two letters which will interest you:

Mrs. C. G. Gill, 1454 York St., Toronto, Ont., writes: "For years I was troubled with my hands cracking, often becoming so sore that I could hardly do any work. Some of Dr. Chase's Ointment and happily find that one or two applications of same to the affected parts make them well. I have had no trouble since using the ointment for some time."

LARGE ESTATES IN OLD COUNTRY ARE BEING BROKEN UP

Day by Day Appears News of Some Great Estates Passing Out of Hands of Land Owner

London, Oct. 3.—The process of breaking up the great estates in England is going steadily on. Day after day the news finds its way into the papers that some estate or another is being divided among the tenants and so passing out of the hands of some great landlord. Perhaps the most colossal example of it may be found in the sale of the Irish estates under the hand of Mr. Deedes, who has reached a point that enabled Mr. Deedes to sell not long ago that the day of landlords was over.

The latest, and in some ways the most interesting phase of the development has been manifested in the case of Lord Howard de Walden, of giving his tenants permanent holding instead of their present leases.

Lord Howard de Walden is one of the great landowners in England, a distinction he shares with the Duke of Westminster and the Duke of Bedford. His estates, lying in the very centre of London, contain not only a most valuable shopping district in Oxford street, but the professional offices, Harley street, with its adjacent Welbeck street.

The idea of Lord Howard de Walden's advisers is that the leases of the present tenants should be extended to a term of permanent right in their present holdings. What shape this idea will eventually take it is impossible to say. If it is successful, it is not improbable that the other great landowners in London will be found following his footsteps, with the result, it is predicted, that when the day of the land nationalizes arrives, they will not be a few great landowners, but an enormous number of small ones.

SUGAR IS UP CENT A POUND

Price is Seven Cents in Toronto Groceries Now MAY BE DEARER

Shortage of Raw Material Declared to Be the Cause—A Blow to the Housekeeper Who is Putting up the Late Prices

Toronto, Oct. 1.—You do not get so many coppers in your change when you buy sugar in Toronto now.

When a few days ago you purchased at the rate of six cents per pound the price is now seven cents.

Your dealer will tell you that he cannot help it at all. The wholesale price has been put up on him steadily for the past month and his sugar costs him about six dollars per hundred pounds exclusive of the cost of handling.

Several retailers who were spoken to by The News said that they had to charge more for the sugar because they have to pay more for it.

May Go Higher The manager of one of the large refineries told The News that prices had been rapidly on the increase for the past month due mainly to the falling off in the supply of raw material.

This is not much solace to the housekeeper who is coming to look upon the sugar bowl as one of the necessities of life.

Not only the uses of sugar for domestic purposes are affected, but the confectioners and candy men are beginning to feel it strongly and a rise in these luxuries is inevitable.

Had to Put up Price Some of the local grocers, who had a good stock of sugar on hand, kept their prices down to six cents until they had to pay more they had to charge more.

According to one refiner the actual cause is the failure of the crop in Europe. The best crop was very poor owing to the drought and it will not be known until early next month what the real extent of the damage is.

In a statement issued by the American Sugar Company, known as "The Trust," it is stated that the crop just harvested in Cuba showed a shortage of 300,000 tons from the previous crop and long-continued drought in Europe has so impaired the growing beet crop that a reduction of 1,000,000 to 1,500,000 tons, or almost a fifth of the supply of Europe is predicted.

As it looks now, canned goods, biscuits and other sweetened articles will all feel the effect of the high cost of sugar and the housekeeper's burden promises to be considerably increased thereby during the coming winter.

It is likely that there will be much less of the oatmeal, chow-chow, etc., that mother makes, stored away in the cellar.

SCENE OF TURCO-ITALIAN CONFLICT REPORT ON

The above map gives a good idea of the territories affected by the Turco-Italian conflict. Italy's commanding geographical position in regard to Tripoli and the surrounding country, taken in conjunction with the strength of the Italian fleet, compared with that of Turkey, is obvious. Proves, at which point it is reported an Italian cruiser destroyed a Turkish torpedo boat, is close to the southernmost point of Turkey, just above the word Levkas on the map.

NEW CLUE IN THE THEFT OF MONA LISA?

Paris Magistrate Hears Deposition of Official About Ex-Convict Who Slept in the Louvre

Paris, Oct. 3.—Every day brings with it a new revelation or some fresh clue to the theft of the "Mona Lisa." A rather startling deposition has been made to the examining magistrate by a public official, to the effect that an escaped convict had been for some time a frequent visitor at the Louvre and had even slept there.

The official described the convict, who is well known. He is the son of a very respectable school teacher now dead, and he even took his degrees at the Sorbonne. In 1909 he was sentenced to transportation for a number of years, which, altogether, he meant twelve years' hard labor.

It seems that he came to the official, whom he had known, and begged assistance out of charity, as he was in complete destitution. The official pitied him, and he had him taken care of, and asked him where he had been for some time. The man admitted that he had simply been wandering about and had slept in the museum.

When the authorities recently decided it might be well to have an inspection of the interior of the building, it was found that every one of the pictures had disappeared.

Presumably some clever art thief, knowing that the building was left unoccupied, had made periodical visits and had stolen the pictures at his convenience.

Stranger still is the story of a lost package—that of the Empress Catherine, on the Upper Neva. It is said that the place contained some valuable antiquities; but the years it had stood without anyone to look after it, notwithstanding the fact that it appeared as the official list of historic monuments being an official record.

There are other points about this question too. We can hold up the communications from collecting agencies if the nature of their business is too emphasized of the envelope, and an inquiry is immediately initiated where a postcard might come through the mail station or more party to whom it is addressed or the sender's name.

While the report of Chicago's vice commission may not have been completed, the object of furnishing a reading, certain of the revelations may not be deemed fit for general dissemination. But the first step as regards this office must come from Ottawa.

A thousand copies of Chicago's vice commission's report were held up this week in Chicago by the postal authorities. John D. Rockefeller Jr., who investigated the white slave traffic in New York, was sent out on this report to college and returned workers in all parts of the country as a step in a plan to establish permanent vice commissions in all cities.

There is a closer agreement between the estimates of the number of Illinois coal miners, W. L. Park, general manager, estimated that sixty-three per cent struck. Union officials claim that the total is close to ninety per cent.

Chicago, Oct. 3.—Statements issued tonight by railroad officials and union leaders who are directing the strike of shop employees on the Harriman railroad, including the Illinois Central, still show a wide variance in estimate of the number of men involved. According to Julius Kruttschnitt, vice-president of the Southern Railway, 4,000 men left their work in the Union Pacific lines. J. A. Franklin, international president of the boiler-makers declares that 20,000 or more are out.

TREAT FOREST AS CROP

Plans of Dominion Forestry Branch in Conservation Policy

The progress of the conservation policy of Canada as applied to forest resources depends more upon the forestry branch of the department of the interior than upon any other organization. Upon the technical knowledge and executive ability of the officers of the forestry branch depends the future of the forest on 16,000,000 acres of Dominion forest reserves, as well as upon the large area of non-agricultural forest land in Western Canada, which for the good of the country may yet be set aside as permanent forest reserves.

In addition to looking after Dominion forest reserves, the forestry branch is now being asked by eastern land owners to furnish advice as to the best means of securing the earliest date a profitable crop of timber on waste land or wood lots.

The proper administration of forest lands requires a special knowledge of the tree and of the markets. Further there is needed knowledge of the habits of all the species of the forest, especially of the merchantable species, so that it may be known how rapidly they grow, under what conditions the seed germinates and in what way the seedlings when and under what conditions they are best adapted to each region, of their use and of the markets. Further there is needed knowledge of the habits of all the species of the forest, especially of the merchantable species, so that it may be known how rapidly they grow, under what conditions the seed germinates and in what way the seedlings when and under what conditions they are best adapted to each region, of their use and of the markets.

In order that the new Rocky Mountain forest reserves be administered according to the latest scientific knowledge and the best experience, the forestry branch is now making studies of the habits of the merchantable species of trees on the eastern shore of the Rockies in Alberta, and has sent one of its men in charge of the work to study the systems of forest management practiced during the last few years by the developed United States forest service in the national forests of that country.

The United States foresters have spent large sums of money and availed themselves of the experience of many foresters in the plan of lumbering which they have devised, and which is so convenient to the lumbermen, but which ensures the protection and reproduction of the forest and the Canadian forestry branch intends to benefit largely by their experience.

THE HERPIDE GIRL IS THANKFUL

I am always grateful for real blessings, and I know of nothing that need be more thankful than the Herpide. Thousands of ladies not only in the United States, but all over the world, are the same way about it. To this wonderful scalp and hair remedy they owe their long, beautiful hair.

Mary J. Terry, of Lovell, Ill., writes: "My hair came out until there was not a scamp of hair left on my scalp. I tried everything I ever heard of or read about until I finally used Herpide. There is nothing like it. My hair is now covered with new hair. I shall forever praise Herpide." Most hair troubles come from dandruff. Newbro's Herpide cures this dandruff by killing the germ which causes it. It also stimulates a new growth of hair. Healthy hair does not come out and the new hair is allowed to grow. There are other preparations which they say are "just as good" as Herpide. It is not advisable to try them, instead of doing as you are told, and using Herpide. No one is ever disappointed in Newbro's Herpide. The results are always the same, always satisfactory as is indicated by the fact that Herpide has been sold for years and has thousands of satisfied users. It is the only genuine, original dandruff germ destroyer. There is no "just as good."

One dollar size bottles are sold and guaranteed by all druggists. Applications at good barber shops. Send the postage for sample and book to The Herpide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich. E. Clinton Brown, special agent, corner Union and Waterloo streets.

In speaking of place hitting a veteran ball player says: "It is largely a case of inside or outside corner. NOW TO FORWARD PROJECT OF PUBLIC PLAY GROUNDS HERE Hoped to See Large Gathering of Citizens at Meeting Called by Mayor for Thursday Afternoon Much interest is being shown in the public meeting to be held in the Common Council chamber of the Court House on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock for the consideration of a proposition for public play grounds for St. John. His Worship Mayor Frink will preside, and there will be a thorough discussion dealing with public play grounds from every standpoint. The question is one that is becoming more prominent each season, and has now reached a stage when it is felt the city must grapple with it. It is hoped that citizens generally will lend their sympathy and assistance, and that some plan will be evolved for organization, so that the project may be gotten under way. The location decided upon, and a decision arrived at for operation, and as to whether there will be a public supervisor as is the custom in other places. It is fully expected that Thursday's meeting will attract a large number and that the matter will be given a good start.

COMPLAINT BY DIRECTORS OF FERNHILL

Water Main Leakage Causes Conditions in Cemetery Painful to Think of—Insist on City Taking Action

The following letter dealing with serious conditions following leakage of the water pipes in Fernhill was sent to the Common Council by the directors of the Fernhill Cemetery Company. The communication is referred to the water and sewerage board at yesterday's council meeting. The letter reads: 29th September, '11. To His Worship the Mayor and Members of the Common Council of the City of Saint John. Gentlemen,—The directors of Fernhill Cemetery visited the cemetery grounds on Wednesday and are very much alarmed at the condition of certain sections of the grounds as a result of the leakage from the city's water mains, which, as you know, run through the cemetery.

For about three years now, or since the city's new water supply has been in operation there has been a constant leakage from these mains, which has done a great deal of damage to the cemetery grounds; in several instances it has required the services of our entire staff and teams hauling material for days to repair the paths and avenues that have been washed out by the rush of water over them from these leaks. One of our avenues has been closed to traffic practically all summer as the result of a leakage in the mains at that particular point. It is not so much the damage to the graveyards, but imagine the result of this rush of water over burial lots where interments have been made. Fortunately our superintendent was close by when the last serious break occurred and directed the heaviest of the flow from running over the lots, thus preventing what would certainly have been a very unpleasant accident in the cemetery; but the constant leakage from these mains has created a flow of water that is soaking all through burial lots where interments have been made, and you can imagine the condition of these lots. Understand, gentlemen, that this condition of affairs has existed now for nearly three years; the attention of Director Murdoch has been called to it from the start, he has been taken out there and shown the damage to the burial lots which the leaks were causing, and urged by our directors to do something to prevent it. The results, however, have been anything but satisfactory. Our directors have hesitated to lay this matter publicly before your council in the hope that something would be done by your water board through Director Murdoch to prevent these leaks, and so avoid the danger of alarming the citizens generally who are lot holders in the cemetery. The flow of water caused by these leaks has become so serious, and the apparent disregard of the seriousness of the situation by the city director, however, makes it necessary for us to bring the matter to the attention of your council and to insist that something must be done immediately to prevent this flow of water from the city's mains that are running through the cemetery. Yours truly, President.
