FATE OF COINCIDENCE

By Mrs. B. M. Croker

A brilliant morning in June, the sky deep, cloudless blue, sun ablaze. But within the station of Charing Cross the atmosphere and light were comparatively cool and dim. The central and most attractive figure in the all but empty terminus was a tall, red-haired woman, who loitered below the great clock, or occasionally paced to and fro, sweeping the dusty station with her graceful grey gown.

"Oh, Myrie," she said, "how sweet of you to meet me. What a delightful day we shall have together. But, tell me how you are getting on? Diners big and dinners little-balls, the trees, recipients—the daily round, the common task?"

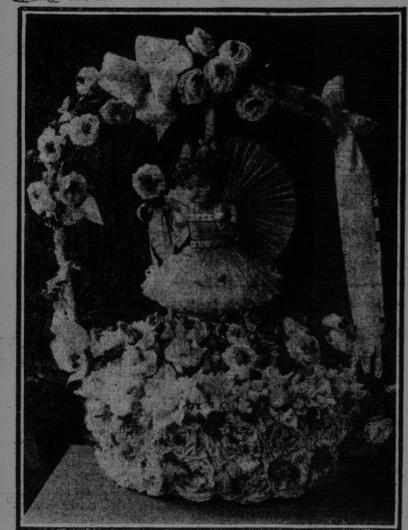

"Yes, and I'm sick of it all," said Mrs. Murray-Anderson, the tall woman with the auburn hair. "I yearn to break out into some new line; I'm always boiling over with discontent and perversity, never knowing what I want next or how to leave well alone!"

"And how is 'well'—meaning your husband?" Mrs. Anderson inquired in business all the time. "All the same he is what I call a thoroughly reliable partner, who endows his wife with his complete confidence and his purse!"

"Oh, a purse is not everything!" muttered his helpmate, with a scornful passing glance at a glittering window. "Money goes far."

"Not so far as you imagine, Susie; it does not fill all the empty hours, or supply sufficient interest in existence." "You've tried?"

JOHN WHITE, 27 Charlotte St. UPSTAIRS

Mr. Justwed makes both ends meet

There had been nothing insinuating in his tone, not even the slightest trace of reproach, but Mrs. Justwed was firmly convinced, and had so stated, that the flat was to be run on less than Mrs. J. distributed each week to the "butcher, the baker and candlestick maker" and the other notables who, perforce, disobeyed the front on the "Bargains-for-Tradesmen" and "Servants-in-the-Road" sign on the door of the apartment-house.

It wasn't a real disagreement over money, you know—far from it, for they had both vowed before marriage never to be in debt. It was a misunderstanding—for Mr. Justwed had been strangely suspiciously willing to let Mrs. J. put his theory into practice and run the flat for a week.

With his knowledge of figures, Mr. Justwed had argued, and with the practice he had every day at the bank in keeping accounts, he should be peculiarly fitted to soil the finer whiteness of a long, imposing blank page out of an old bank ledger with multitudinous figures.

"Hum-hum," he paused, suddenly, meditatively, "there's something wrong here. On Wednesday I ordered a three-pound roast of beef, by phone, at 22 cents per pound, and here on the book Mr. Staplegoods has $12 pound roast of beef, 72 cents—the old robber! That's an overcharge of 11 cents! I ordered three pounds, not three and a half. Now, there's an excellent example of what I mean by watching every item and—"

"But, Homer, dear," Mrs. Justwed interrupted, with just a trace of a suppressed smile about the corners of her pretty mouth, "you know you can't always get a fair deal. It's the way of the world."

"And now, on the afternoon of the seventh day, he came home from the bank a little more than Mrs. J. her first words of one-syllable lesson in how to spend money and yet have it.

Accordingly, Mr. Justwed had entered upon his duties as Chairman Pro Tem of the Committee on Finance of the Justwed home seven days before with much gusto and relish.

"And look at this, will you?" Mr. J. exclaimed, wrathfully. "Here on Monday I ordered a dozen eggs at 25 cents a dozen, and on Thursday another dozen—and that pirate Staplegoods has charged 28 cents for them! We've got him dead-to-rights this time—they don't weigh eggs, do they?"

"Sometimes when you think you are stepping something you are getting right in it."

$25,000 PURSE FOR "HACK" AND GOTCH Chicago, March 27.—Runners of a purse of $25,000 for a meeting between Frank Gotch and Geo. Hackenschmidt, in Australia, for the title of world champion, were disappointed today when the prize was awarded to the victor, Vincent Sanderson, who is promoting the meeting here and has received a cable from his partner making an offer of $25,000 for the contest to take place at Melbourne next November, during the Melbourne cup race week. Hackenschmidt already has consented to the terms, and Gotch's signature is all that is needed.

A card contest lasting twenty years was ended in Manolinos, Mich., when John W. Wallace, won the tenth consecutive victory from D. W. Lazelle. The two men agreed twenty years ago that the title of world champion should go to the man who won ten straight games, and the game has gone on almost nightly since.

THE LICENSE LAW It may be hoped that in connection with the amendment of the liquor license law the government will see the importance of making the license commission stronger and more independent of all influence. Much depends upon such action. With such a commission as could easily be secured the regulations would be better observed and it would be impossible for some dealers who now have licenses to have them renewed. If it is the intention of the government to make the amendment law effective it must provide the proper machinery, and this includes the license commission. The whole question is one that calls for careful consideration and such provision for enforcement of the law as will make violation a thing to be feared and avoided, both by licensed and unlicensed persons. This is a matter to which Hon. Robert Maxwell may well direct special attention—if he does not move an amendment in favor of total prohibition—which he was formerly so strong an advocate.

A SPLENDID WORK The Times early in the week told the story of the work being done by members of the Temple of Honor in this city to impress upon the importance of total abstinence. This is a splendid work. The hundreds of boys who are cadets of the order are getting a better start in life than the best-drinking, cigarette-smoking lad of the street corner. The workers for this cause are beginning at the right place. If the boys can be led to see the evils of intemperance and to shun them, the men of the next generation will in the great majority of cases be sober men. One has only to become familiar with a class of men who are to be found in this city whose chief aim in life appears to be to procure liquor and who represent so much wasted human energy, to be convinced of the need of saving the boys of today from such a future. Therefore those who give a portion of their leisure time to this work among the boys are conferring a real and lasting benefit upon their country. The cost of greatness in a country comes down to men.

POOR TENEMENTS The city council of Halifax has been considering the question of model houses for working men, but has not been able to agree upon a scheme. Possibly the question as one to be dealt with by the city government is best with difficulties, but it is one that should be more generally studied by the citizens at large. In the city of St. John there are tenements which are neither healthful nor decently habitable. It is no answer to this for a landlord to say that there are some tenements who do not want or appreciate decent surroundings. For the sake of the general health of a city it is sometimes necessary to tear down old structures and build new. The general health of St. John depends to some extent upon the condition of houses in the tenement districts, and there are some places where the conditions with regard to light, fresh air and drainage are very far from satisfactory. There is plenty of vacant land for model tenements in this city, and if such were provided at a moderate rental they would pay a reasonable return for the money expended and add greatly to the health, comfort and convenience of many people.

Of the situation in the Balkans the New York Herald of Friday says:—That a final break between Austria and Serbia is near unless the latter gives a straightforward and categorical answer to Austria's demands is plainly indicated by a special cable dispatch to the Herald from Vienna this morning. The note is presented to the Belgrade government is neither an ultimatum nor a declaration of war, says the dispatch, but the results are likely to be just as serious. Short shrift will be given to King Peter, whose position as a war leader has been seriously shaken by the renunciation of the succession of the fiery Crown Prince under the sensational circumstances reported this morning. Financial and commercial necessities are crowding both nations to a speedy decision, and a few days, even a few hours, will see the balance tipped for peace or war. This information comes from a Boston correspondent:—An effort to organize the teachers in the United States and Canada, numbering nearly five hundred thousand, will be made under the auspices of the North America Teachers' League, according to announcement made here today by Frederick A. Tupper, head master of the Brighton School. The league has the patronage of leading educators in this country and Canada, and an energetic campaign is planned in order to establish branches in every part of the country. The object is to extend the scope of the league, obtain positions and higher salaries for teachers and national and state aid to education.

The following is an extract from the report of Hon. Mr. Swenney's address in the legislature:—The St. John Globe now admired the government, but it did not always think so highly of the president of the council. He respected a fair foe, but he had the utmost contempt for a man who would turn his guns on his own friends, and such a treacherous paper should not be quoted as justification for the present government. The west side Every Day Club has been formally organized. A little over two years ago this was a social experiment, patiently being tried out by a group of earnest working men, who made mistakes but were not discouraged. The present Every Day Club with its brief but comprehensive code of by-laws, may be made great moral and social force in any community. It is based absolutely upon a broad interpretation of the motto, "To help men to be men."

Speaking about tourist travel to the south in winter the New York Herald says:—Beautiful Bermuda has shared abundantly in this new prosperity, which this season has been greater than ever. Special correspondence of the Herald, published in another column, states that 8,000 persons visited the island this season, against 2,800 last year. A new hotel is projected at Hamilton to help accommodate the tourist throng. The debate on the address in the legislature is ended. The government has been sharply criticized and its weaknesses exposed by the vigorous attacks of the opposition. The Liberals in the legislature defend themselves opposed by the St. John Globe, and several of them have taken occasion to make some observations which should interest the evening organ of Mr. Hazen.

Premier Asquith has dampened the ardor of New Zealand by postponing until next year the acceptance of the proposed battleship. Nothing, however, can lessen the enthusiasm aroused by the evidence from New Zealand, Australia and Canada that the closest sympathy unites the mother country and the Greater Britain overseas.

That would be a dull day which did not bring news from Ottawa of another fruitless attempt by Dr. Daniel to score a point against the minister of public works. Dr. Daniel is a patient man, and not easily discouraged, but he and Mr. Crockett are having a real time of it this season.

At a time when St. John is unusually well provided with newspapers, it may be observed that the circulation of the Times has continued to increase in a manner that makes its sworn statement of circulation a matter of interest to advertisers. The Canadian flag appears to have won more persons in Boston yesterday. There is something to be said in favor of having one's own flag in evidence when others are displayed. In this respect Canada might learn something from Uncle Sam.

Col. Sam Hughes defeated the Japs at Boston last evening, and settled several other matters of world-wide concern. Canada is fortunate in having Col. Sam at her service.

The morning organ of the Hazen government joins in the gladness of throwing things at the late provincial government. This is much easier than defending the present one. The organ says that Surveyor General Grimmer made a "scathing speech" yesterday. He must have been a regular forest fire.

The real trouble of the Hazen government will now begin. It must patch up its highway act and disclose its incompetence in other directions.

Another apparent case of infanticide in this city is reported. The frequency of this crime reveals a degeneracy which should cause the citizens serious concern. The organ says that "Mr. Hazen never professed to be a prohibitionist." How about Bro. Maxwell?

A new serial story of great interest will be begun in the Times on Monday.

WHEN THE MARCH WIND BLOWS I don't mind the weather, but I'm glad I can ride along my way a-lookin' for the sun. But my dear Maundy keeps a grumblin' all the while. It's hard I wear her feather. When the March wind blows, I can travel on my way 'neath skies o' blue and gray. It don't make any difference, I suppose, but Maundy grumbles all the blessed live-long day. It's hard to keep her curls in when the March wind blows. I keep smiling ever though a tempest howl at me. I'm no livin' fashion plate a-wearin' fancy clothes. But Maundy, how she grumbles, an' her grief I can't disguise. She can't keep lookin' decent when the March wind blows.

TAKING THOUGHT (Harpur's Weekly) The daughters of a certain charming old lady in Washington are frequently much upset by the odd social blunders of their parents, whose failings in this respect are, however, more often by her kindness of manner.

Among the callers to the house of this family was a Mrs. Parrell, who after some years of widowhood, again married, this time becoming the wife of a Mr. Meigs. "If you love us, mother," said one of the girls, when the newly married lady's card had been brought in one afternoon, shortly after the completion of the honeymoon, "don't make the mistake of calling her Mrs. Parrell."

The mother solemnly promised to commit no such error, and as she went down stairs was heard to repeat to herself, "Meigs—Meigs—Meigs—not Parrell."

At the conclusion of the call, the old lady was met at the door by the daughter, an ominous expression of despondency on the old lady's face. "Oh, mother," she exclaimed, "surely you didn't."

"No, Clara," replied the mother, emphatically, "I didn't. I was so careful to call her Mrs. Meigs all the time."

"Well, what's the trouble, then?" "Oh, dear," murmured the kindly old lady, as she sank into a chair, "it was awful of me, I know! When I greeted her I said, 'I am glad to see you, Mrs. Meigs. How is Mr. Parrell?'"

SHE KNEW THE GAME. No matter what he did or said. She would not call her chaperone; And yet one more week had sped. She proudly called the chap her own.

"77" Humphreys' Seventy-Seven breaks up Colds and GRIP

A Common Cold is caused by a check in the circulation of the blood; the first indications are lassitude, a chill, a shiver or a sneeze. One dose of "Seventy-seven" taken at once, will restore the checked circulation, start the blood coursing through the veins and break up the Cold. Keep it handy for immediate use, it fits the vest pocket.

White Blood Corpuscles and Disease Germs

Scientists have been learning more and more about the white blood corpuscles and our dependence on them for health and strength.

They are everlastingly fighting for us, to protect our red blood corpuscles and bodily tissues.

And the healthier and stronger we keep them the better they fight.

Many thousands more would be victims yearly of infectious and contagious diseases if the white corpuscles in their blood were not in fighting condition.

It is only when these corpuscles are healthy that they can protect the red corpuscles and the bodily tissues from the germs and toxins or poisons of these diseases, which invade the system through the air we breathe, the water we drink, the food we eat, and otherwise.

Canadian Press Association Asks That Complainants Be Forced to Give Security For Costs in Frivolous Cases

Toronto, March 26.—A deputation from the Canadian Press Association waited upon the attorney-general this morning with regard to the revision of the law as affecting actions against newspapers for libel.

The deputation particularly urged that power should be given to the judges to order that security should be given for costs in cases where the charges appeared to be of a frivolous nature.

VOLUME OF EXPORT TRADE NOW EXCEEDS $17,000,000

Eighty Steamships Have Filed Their Outward Manifests at the Customs House—Grain Export Largest in the History of the Port

Up to date eighty steamships have filed their outward manifests at the customs house. The valuation of exports is now over the seventeen million mark. It looks now as if this year's figures would exceed those of last year, which amounted to over twenty-three millions.

The grain shipments this season will be the largest in the port's history, and the shipment of United States products, will be away ahead of any previous year.

LESS MEAT Advice of Family Physician.

Formerly people thought meat necessary for strength and muscular vigor. The man who worked hard was supposed to require meat or fish times a day.

It is now a common thing for the family physician to order less meat as the following letter from a N. Y. man:

"I had suffered for years with dyspepsia and indigestion, and was unable to eat to any extent and greasy foods generally. I tried several things to take the place of my usual breakfast of eggs, potatoes, etc., but got no relief until I tried Grape-Nuts food.

"After using Grape-Nuts for the cereal part of my meals for two years, I am now a well man. Grape-Nuts benefited my health far more than the $200.00 worth of medicine I had taken before.

"My wife and children are healthier than they have been for years. They are all happy and healthy largely due to Grape-Nuts."

"We have been so much benefited by Grape-Nuts that it would be ungrateful not to acknowledge it."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich., is "The Road to Well-Being" in plain, "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one is being sent to you. It is a genuine, true, and of human interest.

SANDY MURRAY DENIES AROSHA STORY OF MURDER PACT

Andover, March 26.—It is unlikely that the preliminary investigation into the murder of the confession made by Tony Arosha in implicating the three Italians, Sandy Murray and Andrew and James Hatch, in the murder of Edward Green, the peddler, will take place before next Tuesday.

Some difficulty is being experienced in securing an interpreter. Sheriff Gagnon, of Madawaska county, is endeavoring to obtain the services of the man who acted in that capacity at the last circuit court at Edmundston, falling him, Charles Vincent of St. John will be engaged.

T. J. Carter, who is acting for the crown, was in telephone communication with Vincent in St. John yesterday, and is now awaiting word from the Sheriff. Vincent was born in Italy, but is a naturalized Canadian, and has been employed by the C. P. E. for some years as an interpreter.

The three Italians occupy two cells in the jail, the Hatch brothers being together for want of more accommodation. Murray, who speaks English well, maintains that he knows nothing of the charges in Arosha's confession and that the whole thing is a put up job.

His uncle, Michael and Peter Murray arrived today from Hamilton (Me.), and will probably arrange for his defense. The other two men only speak Italian and have made no statements. Murray is a young man about 23 years of age, and his brother a few years younger.

There is thought to be very little hope of recovering the stolen money, amounting to $2,690, which Arosha claims Andrew Hatch hid in a barn near Johnson's camp. The place has been thoroughly searched but since the murder there has been every chance for its removal.

SPORTING RIGHTS OF FORESTS AND STREAMS SHOULD BE FOR ALL

Editor Times: Sir,—A special to the Times last night in part reads: "A petition to the N. S. legislature asks that fish and game be vested in the crown and no private rights be granted."

A spirit of selfishness and oppression of the worst type has prevailed in New Brunswick for the past twenty years in the exclusive use of the public from the right of fishing streams and lakes for trout and shooting of small game over unutilized lands in the near vicinity of the commercial capital of the province.

Myself and several other sportsmen have organized a committee to secure the free right of the aboriginal and the Indians to hunt and fish on their own lands.

"After we have secured the free right of the aboriginal and the Indians to hunt and fish on their own lands, we will be able to check the white plague and the curse of the youth. By compelling the boys to remain in the city the girls of evil and bad habits are created."

John E. B. is a member of the legislature and has introduced a bill to secure the free right of the aboriginal and the Indians to hunt and fish on their own lands.

It is by ignorance and graft that such conditions are gradually brought about and the public must see to it that a remedy be applied.

The first introduction of this present grafting of the public lands, for private fishing clubs was brought about by the formation of what is termed a coalition government. Such a government was then composed of about equal members of the leaders of an opposition and the government acting.

The government feared the opposition would succeed if they went to the people and an agreement was made that the coalition government should be divided between the leaders of each party. This happened twenty years ago.

It is said our present government is a coalition one, but it can hardly be considered as such, the Conservatives being so greatly in the ascendancy as to number as to be honored as a Conservative government.

In this sense they will stand on their merits as to their care for the public's interests. Thus it will be seen that coalition is detrimental to the people and their natural rights and favorable only to a graft interest to those who rule.

There could be no better proof of the coalition principle than the appropriating of the lakes and streams to the favorites and friends of each side of such a system of government as the people have experienced under it, and which should be as quickly as possible abolished by an equitable law for all.

The outcome of such legislation under common sense restrictions would soon give the people a chance to better their health and have a share of the vast amount of wild fruits that are now allowed to rot and waste, where before there gave thousands a benevolent and nourishing food for the winter's use of the poor.

Reform series and sanitarians are brought into being mostly by ignorant and selfish legislation. Such institutions were unknown before these unjustifiable laws were introduced and it is by both parties they were inaugurated. It should redound to the honor and manliness of both government and opposition to see the public interests are no longer ignored. You are in session, gentlemen, to ensure the people's rights.

Who will be their champion? Take away a people's heritage and lawful liberties and they are as passive as a lamb to a confederate and the natural outcome is disease, poverty and crime.

Respectfully, A. S. CLIMO.

SALISBURY PERSONALS

Salisbury, N. B., March 26—Havelock McFee, of Boston, who purchased a lot of land near this village a year or two ago, arrived in Salisbury last week and now has men at work fixing up the buildings on his property. Miss Coral Milton was in Moncton last week visiting her friend, Mrs. Fred Williams. Chairman Kinnear, of Shediac, is visiting Salisbury this week, visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Triton. Misses Fannie and Dora Gray, professional nurses, who have been spending a few weeks at their home here, returned to San (Mass.), a few days ago. Councillor G. A. Taylor will leave for Dorchester about the first of April to enter upon his duties as secretary treasurer of the municipality of Westmorland county. Gen. Taylor, who went out to the Pacific coast about a year ago, returned to Salisbury this week. Mr. and Mrs. William E. Triton are visiting Mrs. Triton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Crockett, at Fredericton. Mr. and Mrs. Triton are being heartily congratulated on the birth of a son. Mrs. Robert Prescott, who has been spending a few weeks here with her sister, Mrs. Keith, returned to her home in Baie Verte a few days ago. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ketchum are being congratulated on the arrival of a baby boy. Truman Whiston is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Whiston, St. John. The first maple candy of the season made its appearance here today, and was from the sugar orchard of S. Day Hopper, of Little River, Elgin.

CENTREVILLE HAPPENINGS

Centreville, March 26—One of the results of the tremendous gale and storm that prevailed here last night and today was the blowing in and total destruction of the beautiful memorial window to the late Harry Clark in the northeast side of the United Baptist church. The window has only been in about two years and was a costly one. It seemed for a time as if the intrusion of the storm would sweep some others on the opposite side out before the vacant space could be boarded up. An invitation has been received by the United Baptist church here to send delegates to meet with other delegates and ministers with the Rowena church, Victoria county, to consider the advisability of obtaining their pastor, Liverslate I. E. Vanwart, of Hampstead, Queens county, to the work of the ministry on April 6. The cheese factory at Tracy Mills, which has been closed for some years now and belonging to the defunct Carleton County Creamery Company, was sold a few days ago to a new company, who are planning its reopening.

Rev. Mr. Johnson is holding special meetings at Tracy Mills, assisted by Rev. R. W. Ferguson, with increasing interest. Letters from Geo. McClintock to friends tell of a very pleasant trip and safe arrival at Dufur, Oregon. His impressions of the country are very favorable indeed. Mrs. Cahill, wife of Rev. Joseph Cahill, of Hodgson (Me.), is quite ill and is to be brought for treatment tomorrow to the home of her daughter here, Mrs. Fred Tweedie. There is quite a lot of illness about just now. Merrill Tracey, of Lakesville, is seriously ill with pneumonia. Lee Margison, of this place, is also down with the same dread disease. W. J. Webb is also quite ill at his home here. The friends of Judson Pryor are glad to once more see him returned in such good health from the Woodstock hospital, where he recently underwent a severe operation. Mrs. Emily Jefferys has returned to her daughter's home at Glassville, after a prolonged stay in the village. Mrs. Graville Page, of Tracy Mills, is visiting for a few days at her mother's, Mrs. W. J. Webb.

MARINE NEWS

A. G. Simonds, of Weymouth, has sold his 21 ft. open pleasure launch to Geo. Evans, of St. John.

Navigation on the LaHave River is now open. Heavy lumber shipments are expected to be made from Bridgewater this season.

Schr. Daisy Loden, Capt. Morrell, which has been chartered to load molasses for St. Stephen, N. B., probably sailed from Barbadon this week.

Capt. Murray Lewis was a passenger from St. John for Fredericton, Saturday. He expects to pass the stmr. Tourist, now at that port, in commission and bring her to Digby where she will be employed in the excursion business next summer.

The steamer Gertrude M. was able to resume her shore on the shore route on Monday. There is a proposition on foot to place the steamer Amelia on the South Shore route to conduct a weekly service between Halifax and St. John—and St. John—Yarmouth—Leds.

Stmr. Oda Lee, Capt. Meechouse, arrived here Monday from Sandy Cove, for St. John, to have her machinery thoroughly overhauled and repaired before going on the St. Mary's Bay route between Weymouth and Digby Neck ports. She sailed for St. John yesterday afternoon.—Digby Courier.

The auxiliary schooner Francis, Captain Genear, arrived yesterday from Annapolis, N. S. She will trade between this port and Bridgewater, N. S., during the summer.

Atlas line steamer—Sardinian, Capt. Henry was detained at Halifax yesterday by the storm. She will probably leave there today for the port. She will land here twenty-two second and eight stowage passengers.

COST OF RUNNING FOREIGN AND AMERICAN STEAMSHIPS

Ships That Cost $6,500,000 Abroad Would Cost $8,100,000 in the United States—Difference of Interest, Repairs, Insurance, Wages, Food, Etc., Would Amount to $1,600,000 Annually

(Journal of Commerce)

During the recent discussion of the subsidy bill on March 2, J. Stuart Bacon, representative for New York, made these remarks on the comparative costs of running a first class steamship under conditions in Great Britain and the United States. He said: "Much has been said in this debate by gentlemen on the opposite side about the Mauritania and the Lusitania. These magnificent boats—the finest steamers afloat—the best created of modern naval skill and ability—were practically donated to the Cunard line. Nothing has been spared to make them perfect; nothing has been spared which could render them more swift, more strong, more true, more useful. Nothing has been spared to secure economy of administration, of maintenance and of operation. These magnificent vessels cost $6,500,000 each. The English government loans the money to the Cunard Line—to the company—under terms and in accordance with agreement whereby the subsidy paid by the government meets every payment of interest and principal the moment it becomes due. At the end of twenty years the Mauritania and the Lusitania will not have cost the Cunard Company one cent. All the Cunard Company will have to do is to make a profit over and above the cost of maintenance and operation. Now, where would an American be in undertaking to do anything against the Mauritania and the Lusitania? "Here is where he would find himself. In the first place I will take the illustration, even if he should buy the ship in England at the same cost. If the American bought the ship in England he would pay six and a half million dollars for it. He would pay the Englishman's cost of $6,500,000. He would get his money for 2 3/4 per cent for his money. In this way the interest. It would cost the American 1 per cent annually more for the repairs; that is, $65,000. It would cost the American $130,000 more a year for the wages and salaries of the officers and crew. It would cost the American $48,750 more a year for the food for the crew, because under our "inadequate navigation laws" it is made necessary to feed a sailor like a man. At the end of one year over our American owner was on an even keel with the Englishman he must earn $300,000 more than the Lusitania, and the same is true of the Mauritania. "And this is the case where we have been permitted to buy in the foreign market, under my supposition. "But now let us take the conditions as they actually exist where we are compelled to build the Mauritania or the Lusitania in America. It would cost us to build one of these ships $12,150,000. We would pay 2 per cent for our money $243,000. The Englishman would get his boat at $6,500,000, and 2 3/4 per cent interest, or $167,350. It would cost us $248,375 or 3 1/2 per cent for repairs; the Lusitania costs 2 1/2 per cent for repairs, or $162,500. We would pay $406,250; the Englishman would pay $118,000. We would pay 4 per cent for food; the Englishman would pay 3 1/2 per cent for food. We would pay $325,000; the Englishman would pay $112,500. We would pay 3 per cent for insurance. We would pay $363,750; the Englishman would pay $195,000. We would pay 5 per cent for depreciation; the Englishman would pay 5 per cent, the same as the Englishman pays. But we are paying this on $12,150,000, so that on insurance bill is $607,500 against the Englishman's of $380,000, and our depreciation is $607,500, as against the Englishman's of $380,000, or an annual handicap on account of difference in cost and charges $905,875. For twenty years, which is the life of the English contract with the Lusitania, the handicap would amount to $18,117,500. "To pay a 5 per cent dividend the American would have to earn $406,250; the Englishman would have to earn $235,000, or an annual increase of earnings on the part of the American amounting to $171,250 which, in twenty years would amount to $3,425,000; or, in other words, in order to be on an even keel with the English boat the American boat in twenty years would have to earn more than the Englishman $21,842,500. In the meantime the Lusitania gets a subsidy of $6,500,000, plus the interest at 2 3/4 per cent.

"This is the kind of competition which we are obliged to meet; it is bitter and it is destructive, for, of two ships of equal capacity, officered and manned by a crew of equal ability, directed by a company of equal sagacity, that one ship will get the business which can carry the trade the cheapest, and that ship can carry the cheapest which costs the least to build, maintain and operate."

CURE MEN AND WOMEN ALIKE

What Dodd's Kidney Pills Did For One Family.

Cured Chas. Bell of Rheumatism and His Wife of Inflammation of the Kidneys—Mrs. Bell's Statement

North Range, Digby Co., N. S., March 26.—(Special)—That Dodd's Kidney Pills cure the kidney ills of men and women alike is shown in the case of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bell of this place. A short time ago Dodd's Kidney Pills cured Mr. Bell of Rheumatism from which he had suffered for ten years. This led Mrs. Bell to try them for inflammation of the kidneys for twenty-four years. Some few years ago I got worse and was laid up for a long time. When I was able to get up again the doctor told me I must have on no account any work. I suffered from Dropsy and my feet would swell so I could not wear my shoes. "My husband benefited so much from taking Dodd's Kidney Pills I decided to give them a trial and how they have taken only three boxes I am well and can wear my shoes and do nearly all my own housework. A few cannot say too much for Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Dodd's Kidney Pills make weak Kidneys strong, and sick Kidneys well.

SPECTACLES VENDOR TAKES HIS OWN LIFE

Bangor, Me., March 26.—In what is supposed to have been a temporary fit of insanity, Fred Palmer, a traveling vendor of spectacles, who hails from Beverly (Mass.), cut his throat with a small pocket knife about three o'clock this afternoon at the home of his father-in-law, John Mulligan, 801 Main street. Death resulted a few minutes later. Palmer, who was about 33 years of age, was survived by his wife and by a few relatives who reside in Beverly.

Rheumatism for Several Years—Now as well as Ever

647 Main St., St. John, N. B., Nov. 27, 1908. Father Morrissey Medicine Co., Ltd. I am writing to tell you I have been a victim to Rheumatism for several years, and have been treated by seven doctors without finding any permanent relief until I got Father Morrissey's medicine. I am now able to do my work and find I am as well as ever in my life.

Yours truly, JOHN CRAWFORD.

Rheumatism cannot exist when the kidneys are in perfect working order for then they take out of the blood all the Uric Acid, which alone causes the Rheumatism.

Father Morrissey's "No. 7" Tablets act directly on the kidneys, toning them up and helping them to clear the blood of the Uric Acid. If the Rheumatism is of long standing it may take some time to clear out all the poison, but almost from the first "No. 7" Tablets relieve the pain, and if used faithfully they rarely fail to cure.

Even if other remedies have done you no good, do not give up till you have tried Father Morrissey's "No. 7" Tablets.

What Causes Stone in the Bladder and Inflammation of the Bladder

The kidney always. The kidneys should filter urine and urea (or waste matter) from the blood. When they do not, urea stays in the blood and is changed into uric acid. This uric acid inflames the bladder, and worse still, forms Stones or Calculi. The only possible way to cure these serious bladder troubles is to cure the kidneys.

Gin Pills Cure

They act directly on the kidneys—strengthen them—heat them—and enable them to filter the blood properly. This prevents uric acid being formed at all. With no excess of uric acid, the bladder is no longer irritated and stones cannot be formed.

Money Back

Every box of Gin Pills is sold with a guarantee of money back if not just as represented. Hamilton Man Tortured By Stone in the Bladder

TREATED BY DOCTORS FOR A YEAR AND GREW STEADILY WORSE THEN CAME GIN PILLS—AND A CURE

Cut Out The Coupon and Mail Today For Free Trial Box.

Everyone who lives in the neighborhood of Hamilton, Ont., knows about the strange case of Mr. Herman. Four years ago he consulted Hamilton physicians. They said he had "Inflammation of the Bladder." But all their treatment did him no good. Two and a half boxes of GIN PILLS (at a cost of 50c per box) did what the doctors couldn't.

Messrs. The National Drug and Chemical Co., Toronto. I cannot express myself strongly enough when I speak of what Gin Pills have done for me. When I remember how I suffered not only from Kidney and Bladder trouble, and how now I am healthy and well and strong and able to do a full day's work. I feel I should speak and tell other sufferers of my experience and of the wonderful merits of Gin Pills. Something over four years ago I was taken down with what the doctors called inflammation of the bladder, intense pains in the back and loins, great pain and difficulty in urinating and agony in passing urine. I was confined to my bed for three or four days at a time. Positions were laid out for me, but I could not get up and in a certain position I could get relief and then get up and go to work, although frequently I would have to leave my bed before nine o'clock and return home before the pain was greatest in the region of the bladder, and during the attacks, which occurred more and more frequently, amounted to unbearable agony, and I became so weak that I could not walk across the floor.

C. P. R. AWARDS A BIG IRRIGATION CONTRACT

Calgary, March 26.—(Special)—The C. P. R. have let a contract to Foley, Wright and Co. for the construction of 60 miles of irrigation ditches to connect the western section of the great system. The main canal will be forty feet wide and will carry six and a half feet of water. A quarter million acres will be served by the system when completed.

MAKING A PAIR OF SHOES EVERY FOUR MINUTES

How long would it take you to make a pair of boots, do you think. You probably had better not begin it, especially if you need them soon. Even a cobbler in the old days, working with his assistant, would spend a day and a half making a pair of boots. And the cost would be about $4. But now, of course, shoes are made by machinery, and it is astonishing to hear how quickly they are made. It takes just four minutes to make a pair of boots! And the labor cost is about 35 cents. Of course no one makes the whole boot nowadays. There are a hundred different men making different parts of it, and each one does the same thing over and over again, and each man learns to do his particular work especially well and quickly. And you should see the buttons sewed on! A boy takes the part of the shoe where the buttons are to go and fits it into a machine, throws in a handful of buttons quite carelessly, turns the machine, and in no time out comes the piece of leather with all the buttons exactly in the right place. No wonder some factories turn out ten thousand pairs of shoes in a day!

DOWNFALL OF TAFT BARELY AVERTED

Oak Chair Gave Way Under Cares of State—and Other Weighty Matters. Washington, March 26.—The presidential chair broke down. Of course, in appearing before a camera the settee may find it more natural to speak than to remain motionless, but skill in pantomime counts for everything. On this side of the Atlantic, the pantomime is a branch of the drama that has attracted not attention, but has been highly developed abroad, and performances for the kinetoscope are found in large numbers in this country.

LANGUAGE OF EYES FOR SPANISH SWAIN

In Spanish speaking countries young women are allowed but little of the liberty that they enjoy in lands where English is the native tongue. They rarely meet young men at social entertainments, and are never permitted to converse with them except in the presence of older people. They do, of course, converse to carry on flirtations, but chiefly with the eyes. In every town in a Spanish-speaking country there is a plaza, where a band plays music, and where the young men and women congregate there, the former walking round and round in a circle, and the latter standing in the direction. They are constantly meeting and making eyes at each other, and are never permitted to converse with the benches together. When a young man wants to pay his attentions to a girl he must get those smudged to her or "play the beam" that is, stand under the window of her room and try to attract her attention, either by sending her some musical instrument, or, if he has no gift that way, by simply waiting patiently until she chances to look out and cast him an encouraging glance. In spite, however, of all difficulties and obstacles, Cupid contrives to find a way, and young people fall in love and marry just as in lands where etiquette is less strict and opportunities for tete-a-tete conversations more frequent.—Wide World Magazine.

SEEKS NO PROSPECTS OF A COAL STRIKE

Indianapolis, Ind., March 26.—"I see no prospect of a strike in the anthracite coal field," said Thomas L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, at the close of today's session of the national executive board. The miners will continue to work indefinitely. I hope for another conference with the anthracite operators next week or the following week. I maintain that the anthracite operators must deal with the miners' organization as a whole, but I believe that some time will elapse before a crisis is reached in our negotiations with the anthracite mine owners.

HITCH IN SETTLEMENT OF STEEL-COAL SUIT

Demand for $400,000 Damages for Shut-down of Plant in 1906 Angers President Ross. Montreal, March 26.—(Special)—A hitch has arisen in the negotiations between the coal and steel companies, which at present bids fair to delay a settlement or perhaps prevent any immediate agreement. This is the reported demand of the steel company for $400,000 damages for losses caused by the shutting down of their plant in 1906 owing to the failure of a coal supply. This claim is not regarded with much favor by the coal people, and acute differences of opinion appear to have developed on the subject. In fact so sharp has the difference been that, although at noon Mr. Ross appeared to be sanguine that a settlement was in sight, a few minutes later when he received the demands of the steel people he was prepared to break off negotiations altogether and leave on a trip to the south.

LADIES, WHY NOT PRESERVE YOUR YOUTH AND BEAUTY?

Parisian Sage, the quick acting hair restorer, is now for sale in St. John at the drug store of Chas. B. Watson, 109 King street, and is sold with a rigid guarantee at 50 cents a bottle. Parisian Sage has an immense sale and here are the reasons: It is safe and harmless. It cures dandruff in two weeks, by killing the dandruff germ. It stops falling hair. It promptly stops itching of the scalp. It makes the hair soft and luxuriant. It gives life and beauty to the hair. It is not sticky or greasy. It is the daintiest perfumed hair tonic made. It is the best, the most pleasant and invigorating hair dressing made. Eighty six of the druggist who offers you a substitute, he is unworthy of your confidence.

This is an Exact Reproduction of the Stone which GIN PILLS Brought Away From Mr. Herman

You have often gotten a speck of dust in the eye. It felt as big as an egg, and seemed to tear the eyeball like a barb wire fence. But when you got the speck out, it was so small that you could hardly see it.

Imagine how a stone, the size of the one above, would irritate and inflame the delicate lining of the bladder. Then you can imagine what Mr. Herman suffered, until he took GIN PILLS.

GIN PILLS cost 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, at all drug stores. Money refunded if GIN PILLS do not cure.

MORE RUNNERS ENTER NEW YORK MARATHON

Shrub is There to Run Long-Boat to the Ground, Say Some—Longboat is Favorite Longboat (Canada), Shrub (England), Pat Powers (U.S.), Hayes (United States), White (United States), St. Yves (France), Svanberg (Sweden), White (Ireland).

This looks like the entry list for the Marathon Derby to be run at the Polo Grounds in New York on April 3.

At first it was announced as an open affair, then it was decided to make an invitation race, and five entries were accepted.

The eight contestants in the event represent almost as many nationalities.

The result of this race will accordingly be of universal interest.

Shrub is doing a lot of talking about this Freachman, St. Yves, calling him the dangerous dark horse.

This view may be held by some, but don't count Shrub wrong to show the world that he can run a full Marathon.

KETCHEL WON ANNUAL MEETING OF THE CITY RIFLE CLUB

Defeated Jack O'Brien Last Night in Fast Ten Round Battle

National Athletic Club, New York, N. Y., March 26.—Not since the repeal of the Horton law, which stopped the law fast boxing in this city, has such a fast and furious contest been seen here in the squared circle as that tonight in which Stanley Ketchel, the middleweight champion, defeated Jack O'Brien, of Philadelphia, at the National Athletic Club.

A match will be shot on the ranges on Good Friday at 1 o'clock, beginning at the 400 yard mound.

TAILORED COSTUMES FOR AFTERNOON WEAR

Tailored costumes are made this season with very long coats and especially in the more elaborate costumes—designed for afternoon and dress wear—in this extreme length noticeable. The plain tailored suit, of severe mannish style, with no trimming beyond tailor stitching and buttons, is still the correct and most desirable model for general wear, but even these suits have marked differences in cut from those of the past season, and the coat cut to knee depth is generally seen. Following the present fad, the hips are made to look as small as possible, and, although the majority of such coats are made semi-fitting the coat is cut rather scant about the hips, to give a slender effect to the figure.

It is in the more elaborate tailored costumes that originality of design is in evidence, and most of the models recently shown are very effective as well as becoming.

Some of the newest coats are cut with the kimono sleeve, and many of the long-sleeved sleeves are finished with plaited frills of white lace or net. The lines of most of these coats follow the Directorate and have wide revers and big pockets. The length, of course, depends on the height of the wearer, and it is important to select a becoming length. On tall figures many of the coats are cut to within 18 inches of the bottom of the skirt. A few models have the high-waisted effect, which is often simulated with straps, but the majority of models show the waist line dropped to the natural position. The fronts of the coat are cut in various ways. One especially good style, showing pointed fronts and back—a style that is becoming to the majority of figures. The square or the slightly rounded fronts are also excellent, and the cutaway style that leaves a swallow effect in back is sometimes seen.

As to coloring, the blues are very smart, especially those with the peacock tones, and browns, especially in the red and mustard tones, are also well liked. Black in the glossy broad-brims and novelty weaves is always desirable, and for dress wear the light center, canary and apricot colorings and the new greys are charming.

The two costumes illustrated were sketched from new importations. The figure toward the left shows a costume of blue broadcloth, the gored circular skirt being quite untrimmed and made with a

DAINTY AND INEXPENSIVE DESSERTS

Orange Cream.—Soak half an ounce of gelatin in sufficient lukewarm water to cover it. When it is dissolved, stir in half a teaspoonful of orange juice and the grated peel of the orange, which has soaked in the juice while the gelatin dissolved. Beat the yolks of two eggs very stiff and add three-fourths of a cupful of sugar; add this to the orange and gelatin and then stir in one and a half cups of sweet cream after it has been whipped. Strain into a mold which has been wet in cold water and set away in the refrigerator to become very cold. At serving time turn out on a pretty glass dish and heap whipped cream around the edge.

Prune Whip.—When stewing prunes, cook a few more than usual, and strain and mash sufficient to make a cupful of pulp. Whip the whites of five eggs until frothy, add the pulp of one teaspoonful of cream of tartar and continue to beat until very stiff and desired sugar and the prepared prunes, turn into a buttered dish, stand in a pan of hot water and bake 25 minutes in a moderate oven. Plain cream may be served with it.

Apples Baked With Figs.—The use of figs for a filling, produces a new combination of flavors in baked apples. Steam the figs until tender and use large tart apples. Cut the figs to fill the cored apples, rolling each in powdered sugar mixed with a pinch of cinnamon. Bake in a hot oven, adding a little boiling water to keep from burning. When tender remove glass serving dish and baste with a syrup made of half a cupful of sugar, four tablespoons of water and a little vanilla. When cold serve with whipped cream.

Cider Ice.—As this is the season for fresh cider, it can be utilized in an ice. If not sufficiently sweet, add sugar syrup to taste, then freeze. When partly frozen beat in an Italian meringue, made by boiling egg whites for one-half of a cupful of water, then pouring it in a thin stream on the beaten white of an egg and continue to whip until cool. Finish the freezing as usual.

Lemon Ice.—Put one quart of water and one and one-fourth pounds sugar on to boil. Chop the yellow rind from four large lemons. Set away to cool. Add the juice of the fruits to the cold syrup. Strain through a strainer, packing as for ice-cream, but only turn out occasionally and very slowly. Continued stirring spoils it. Serve in eberbet glasses.

EXERCISE FOR BUSY MEN

Now that winter is coming along and the usual outdoor exercise is somewhat curtailed, the busy man must look around for some easy way to keep himself in condition. Many men solve the problem at once by walking and from their residences to their places of business. But these are generally the lucky men who live within three or four miles of their offices.

For others the advice is to indulge in a regular course of jumping. This jumping can include every form—the long jump, the high jump, the down jump and the vault. A winter maxim of the business man should be "This jump is before breakfast." If he sticks to this all winter he will come out in the spring at a fiddle.

Take an ordinary heavy kitchen chair. Near it place a heavy rug or an ordinary front-door mat. Jump from the chair. Then jump off again on to the mat. Keep this up for 30 times, and your exercise is accomplished.

It is advisable to start off with fewer jumps than 30, especially if one is around the age of 40, for the jump upwards is apt to exhaust a man quicker than anything else in that line. Then the jumping down should be accomplished in a special way. The legs ought to be well drawn up after the spring, and one must alight on the mat with the knees well bent.

The long jump from a standing position is also an excellent exercise, as practically all the muscles of the body, particularly those of the legs, are used to it. But be careful in doing this jumping. It is possible to jump from the bare floor on to an old mattress. Jump in bare feet or socks. If a mattress is not used to alight and one wears shoes, a slip is probable, and that means it is dangerous.

Vaulting is a splendid and easy exercise. It not only strengthens the wrists and back, but promotes ease of bearing.

HUSTLING THE MAILS

It is not often that Europe gets ahead of the United States in business hustling, but the Paris post office has just installed a new electrical device by which it acts a "move on" with vengeance on the mail dropped into the big collecting boxes.

The device consists of an "endless" roll of heavy oil cloth 200 feet long. This, in revolving, rubs against 22 electrical bobbins operated by a powerful distribution. When the current is switched on the oil cloth roll descends into the letter box. The mail matter is attracted by the electricity to the roll, which carries them back to the jumping off place, where they fall into a truck. This, when full, runs along a miniature railroad track through the offices to the sorting-room at the back, another truck quickly taking its place. The apparatus is almost noiseless and the saving in time and labor is immense. Now that twenty-cent postage has begun in England it is only a matter of time when it will become almost universal with all European countries and, therefore, any device which will facilitate the handling of mail matter is to be welcomed, whether it be American or not.

GOLF

A whang—a whirring through the air—Two hundred yards to walk. Another whang—an hour's search. Made warm with low breathed talk. A triplication of the whang—The walk and talk the same. The green—a pretense at croquet—And that's the golfing game.

WHERE OUR GREAT BATTLE FLEETS ARE STATIONED

Japan has made such a contention over the sending of our great battleship fleet to Far Eastern waters that it is all the more interesting to learn that the United States has a fairly respectable navy still in home waters. The present arrangement of American war vessels constitutes indeed a "bar flung" battle line that is of the most imposing dimensions.

Our visiting fleet, with its superb array of 16 war vessels of the first class and with attendant collars and supply ships is the most powerful fleet before the United States ever assembled under one command. It is probably not realized that never before has such a powerful fleet belonging to any nation been assembled in a single squadron and under one commander in the waters of the Pacific Ocean.

Still the United States has powerful fleets remaining. Admiral Swinhurn commands a splendid fleet of eight new

REMEDY FOR NAUSEA

The distressing sensation of nausea, especially at sea, is attributed by many physicians nowadays to the brain and not to the stomach, as has been the theory for generations. It is a fact that relief may be obtained by cooling the base of the brain. This has of late been much put to the test, and has successfully and thoroughly cured in the case of sick headache, bilious, colic, cholera morbus and other ills in which nausea is a distressing symptom. Relief may be obtained by holding the head under a cold water tap and pouring a small stream of water on the neck. The best plan, however, is to use ice. The ice should be broken and, the bits placed in the folds of a towel which should be applied to the base of the brain.

THE FURNISHING OF THE DINING-ROOM

Perhaps the dining room is the most interesting room in the house to furnish, for the reason that so much of the family life is hinged around it. Unless some elaborate period style is attempted, it is not at all a difficult problem. It is not necessary to invest a large sum in the furnishing, either, for charming results can be obtained by combining originality and taste in the selection of fittings and furnishings. In general, the darker woods are more desirable than the light.

Mahogany furniture calls for a light background, preferably a buff, green or blue, according to the exposure of the windows. If the room has a northern exposure and the light is cold, a side wall of buff is desirable. If the room has an abundance of strong sunlight, however, a plain or self-toned green wall covering will impart a soft warmth to the dining room that will be cheery, pleasing and restful to the eye. Of course, red wall paper, though very attractive in hall or library, will clash with the rich dark red of the mahogany. If the furniture be of Flemish or weathered oak, however, the background for it may be either of red, green or brown.

REMEDIATION FOR NAUSEA

The furniture usually consists of a well-built sideboard, a dining table, either square or round, a serving table, and from two to eight chairs, according to the size of the family. The pieces should be in harmony with one another and extremely simple in their lines. This is essential if the room is to have a tasteful appearance. An important point to be considered is the finish of the wood trim. With mahogany furniture the wood trim should be finished in white enamel. If the oak furniture is used, however, the wood trim should correspond in tone to that of the various pieces in the room.

Particular pains should be taken to prevent any appearance of overcrowding. Aside from the intrinsic aspect of such an arrangement, it is a hindrance to the maid in the serving of a meal not to have plenty of space around the table. The dining room pictures should be few and well chosen and their frames simple in the extreme. Copies of old English hunting prints and pictures of a similar nature are particularly good for this room.

Picture frames are much in favor for use in the dining room, and rich color harmonies may be secured in greens, browns and reds in flat colors and appropriate designs. These may be had in widths varying from 10 to 40 inches. The wall space between the chair rail and the frieze should be hung with ingrain paper in the prevailing color of the frieze. The best friezes for the dining room are those which show a conventionalized landscape or forest scene, in soft, blended shades. There should be no figures, for these emphasize the repetition of the design.

The curtains of the dining room should be simple and of some light fabric, care being taken to avoid any suggestion of elaborate draping.

HINTS FOR THE HOUSEKEEPER

HOW TO USE STARCH IN LAUNDRY WORK.

It is necessary to employ some knowledge in using starch, reducing the strength to suit the material and remembering that starch varies in strength according to the quantity of water used in its preparation. The proportion of starch and cold water necessary to mix the starch into a paste must be accurately measured. To every tablespoonful of starch two full table-spoonfuls of water should be used, and spoonfuls thoroughly mixed together before the boiling water is poured over them. Cold-water starch is used for shirt fronts, collars and cuffs or any article that is to be made very stiff, and for these the starch is used in the proportion of one tablespoonful to half a pint of cold water. When boiling water is poured over starch the grains rapidly absorb the water and increase in size until the outside coat or envelope bursts, and the starch forms a soft and dissolves in the water, forming a thick, jelly-like, cloudy substance, known as clear starch.

POLISHING PAPER.

To attempt to polish a piece of old pewter is a very discouraging process, and the prevailing craze for collecting old pieces of this metal has resulted in many laborers attending to bring a shine to the dull leaden surface of the pieces. The endeavors are usually without marked success. There is no particular reason why pewter should be polished, for to the minds of most collectors it is indicative of old age, and, therefore, more desirable. Old pewter is often badly oxidized or corroded, and in this case it is, of course, better to remove the incrustation. The best method of cleansing such pieces is to soak them in a bath of soda crystals of borax, as hot as possible. Then scour with sandpaper. Now dry the article and scour the surface with a mixture of petroleum and metal polish; then wash in soap water and give a final polish with whiting.

If canlens are kept in a refrigerator for three or four days before being used they will not burn away so quickly when lighted.

LONDON'S LATEST STYLES FOR MEN

Extreme styles for men are dead so far as London is concerned. The edict has gone forth for "quietest" clothes. Three times a year—for spring, summer and winter—official announcements are made regarding the London styles for men. The winter announcement follows a tailoring show and a general consultation of tailors. The announcement is made through the columns of the two leading trade papers—The Tailor and Cutter and Men's Wear.

Here is a complete summary compiled from official quarters of the sartorial outlook for the coming winter.

SACK SUITS.

The recent craze for vertical and fancy pockets is over. Extremes in style may be safely ignored. The spring of the back and the waist will not be so defined and exaggerated. Trowsers will be less closely fitted. The vest will have a longer opening. The shades of browns and greens and purples will be distinctly darker than in the past two years. In fancy vests a striped preference will be shown in striped materials of a quiet nature.

OVERCOATS.

The easy-fitting Chesterfields will be the coat of the season. Fly fronts, with no buttons visible, will be the rule. Blanket cloths will be much used and also shadow stripes. Deep browns will rule in color, while the admixtures of two tones, with a thin purple thread, will be very popular. The lapels will be about

HATS.

The informal soft felt hat, introduced from America, has come to stay. The new season's soft hat has a low dome and a decidedly small flat-topped brim. The green felt has become so common that the makers are about to introduce a shade of brown. Derby hats are lower in the crown, with about the same style of brim. Silk hats will be made a shade straighter blocked and with a corresponding diminution of brim "shell." The cloth hat will be very narrow.

UNDERWEAR.

Soft negligee shirts are worn every-

NECKWEAR.

The knitted tie will be more popular than ever, and there will be a revival in favor of the old-fashioned Ascot. Greens and browns are the popular colors, but many well-dressed men are likely to cling to fouards of blue or black, with white spots or very small white patterns.

WIFE'S DRESSES.

NOT HER OWN

Men in England are chuckling over a recent decision of a judge in a London court who decided that, despite the Married Women's Property Act, which has been in operation for a quarter of a century, a wife's dresses are not her property, but that of her husband, and that he has given them to her only for use during her lifetime.

By the word "dress" much is meant. It includes everything with which a woman adorns herself, so that jewels and furs and valuable laces and such things are included.

WHY IS SUGAR INJURIOUS?

For three reasons, according to Dr. Patchen, is sugar injurious. First, because it is used very often to render palatable articles which by reason of age

READING AND SUCCESS

In giving advice to boys on how to succeed in life, Peter Keary, the author of "Get on or Get Out," declares that reading is the key-note of all success. Every boy and every man should read just as much as they can. The historical novel is a veritable gold mine, and even the comic section of the Sunday newspaper must not be despised even by the grown man. There is something to be learned in everything that is printed, from the daily newspaper to the most ponderous tome.

It is the little thing that one reads here, there and everywhere which is so important. One must not forget these little things. Sometimes they give information which sooner or later is useful, or they furnish ideas which are nearly always of value. It is the little thing which counts in life, although few people think so.

But for the finding of a little bit of seaweed Columbus might never have discovered America, nor Isaac Newton the cause of gravity but for the falling apple. If a young man reads all he can he is bound to be better informed than the young man who spends all his time in sports and games and having a good time. While common sense is a potent factor in success and hustling is a necessity, true success is never won by the ignorant.

A PRETTY GAMBRILOO ROOFED COTTAGE

DESIGNED BY CHAS. S. SEDGWICK, ARCHITECT, MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

This pretty cottage is designed with a gambriilo roof. The stories are low and the treatment of the roof is such as to give a low cottage appearance. The size on the ground is 22 feet in width by 28 feet in depth, exclusive of the front piazza, which is 9 feet wide. This cottage has three rooms on the first floor, two good-sized chambers and one small chamber and a bathroom on the second floor, each room being provided with a closet.

The finish of the first floor may be in Washington fir, finished with stains to suit the taste of the owner—the floor to be of red oak and stained to harmonize with the finish. The second floor is finished in soft wood and either painted or stained. It is estimated that this cottage can be built exclusive of heating and plumbing, for $2,200. There is a good basement under the entire house, one chimney with a fireplace in the living room. The entrance is at the right-hand side into a small cozy recess or alcove off the main living room and opened in connection with some by a columned arch. The exterior is designed to be shingled; the slungles stained and the trimmings, casings, cornices, etc., to be painted white and the roof stained either green or dark red. This house adapts itself well to narrow lots and will look well in any locality. The living room is treated with a pretty deep window on one side and a smaller one opposite in the hall alcove.
