TWO HOMES DARKENED BY WRECK OF THE ELLA G. EELLS.

Mrs. Brown Was at a Picnic When News of Her Husband's Death Was Received—Mrs. Duplisse Left With a Large Family to Support.

Two more broken-hearted women have been added to the long list of those who are yearly called upon to assume the mourning robes for husbands lost at sea. When a Star reporter called this morning at the home of Mrs. Duplisse, 104 Erie street, he found her sitting helplessly on a sofa surrounded by a number of her orphaned children, with tear-stained faces, and eyes that bore unmistakably the marks of sleeplessness. When the news of the wreck of the Ella G. Eells first reached Mrs. Duplisse early yesterday afternoon she started out to see what information she could get regarding the welfare of her husband, who was steward on board the schooner, while in Carleton last evening where she went to see if Mrs. Brown, the mate's wife, had heard any news of the crew, she received a copy of one of the evening papers which bore the fatal intelligence in glaring headlines. She was so staggered by the blow that she was unable herself to read the story. Only three short weeks ago her husband had gone out from his home, saying when he kissed her good-bye that he would be home again some time during July. She started for home as one in a dream, and when she arrived the children had already secured a copy of the paper and learned the sad fate of their father.

A message was sent to the only boy, a young man of 20 years, who was in camp at Sussex, and he arrived home on the evening train. A sadder group of faces could not be imagined than those which greeted the reporter as he entered the house of mourning today. The mother while telling the story of her husband's career at sea, would occasionally break down and sob, while the eldest daughter, of some 18 years, would turn away her head to hide her streaming tears.

Mr. Duplisse was a man of 45 years. Unfortunately he was not a member of any fraternal society and carried no insurance of any kind. As the family consisted of seven children, were almost wholly dependent on the father's earnings, they are left in hard circumstances. The boy, who is a fairly strong youth, has been engaged a good part of the time at the York Theatre, but will now be obliged to get some other employment and help to support his mother and little sisters.

The late Mrs. Duplisse has a sister, Mrs. Jas. Rosier living in the city. He has also five sisters living in Moncton and three brothers in different parts of the province. Mrs. Duplisse's only near relatives left are her aged mother, whom she is now supporting, and a single brother living in Prince Edward Island.

Mr. Duplisse's career at sea has been a rather checkered one. He first shipped from Chatham when he was ten years of age, and has followed the sea ever since. He had encountered many fierce storms in his time, had been rescued from many a sinking vessel, and had many hair-breadth escapes. He formed one of the crew of the schooner Carrie Bell which was wrecked three years ago, in South West Bay, and along with the rest of the crew came very nearly perishing from cold and hunger. He was brought home in the presence of the defenders in close touch and at Aphonqui...

Desiring to seek the shelter of a harbor to avoid a heavy wind and rain storm, Capt. Breen headed into Mealy bay with the intention of coming through the eastern passage. He misjudged his position and ran aground on the islands that he intended. The schooner struck solidly upon the submerged ledge and her hull was pierced with holes. She was broken up in a short time and the captain and crew, who had failed to launch their boat in the heavy sea because it would be swamped at once sought refuge on a large section of the island.

They were thrown against the rocks and, except for the captain, were pulled back into the sea and drowned. Capt. Breen was carried further in shore than the others and succeeded in grasping one of a number of ropes thrown out by life savers who pulled him ashore. He was badly exhausted but unharmed. He remained on the island when he was cast upon the rocks.

Mrs. Alice Sprague returned by this morning's boat from New Bedford, Mass., where she has been spending the winter and spring.

Mrs. W. E. Vroom and son, Ludwig, arrived by the States today by Calvin Austin.

Mrs. Winslow, of Union street, is home from Boston.

SUSSEX, July 4.—The great question regarding Camp Sussex today is, will the convoy from Moncton be intercepted by the hostile force? The attacking party is composed of the 74th regiment, with Col. Jones in command, the 10th field battery, three squadrons of cavalry from the 1st Hussars, with Major Markham commanding, one field company of engineers and half field ambulance corps. In the line of defenders are the 67th, 71st and 72nd regiments, the 12th battery field artillery, a squadron of cavalry, a company of engineers and a

FEAR RODNEY WHARF MAY TAKE A SLIDE

Serious Damage Threatened on the West Side.

Two Big Cracks Have Opened at the Side of the Wharf Where the Dredging Was Done—A Crib Stuck in the Mud.

D. C. Clark, the contractor for the new Sand Point wharves is having some trouble with one of his cribs. The crib in question is about twenty-eight feet deep and has for some time been moored at No. 4 wharf, Sand Point, awaiting such time the dredging would make a place ready for the sinking of it on the site for the new wharf. At low water the crib grounded, then sunken into the soft mud and stuck fast. At high water it was so fast on the bottom that it failed to float. This morning two large crabs were placed on top and made fast to the crib and when the tide rose it was successful in floating one end of the crib.

There is now grave danger of Rodney wharf taking a slide into the slip, like the Union street sidewalk and building did last spring. The dredge beaver has been daily removing the mud and coming to within five or six feet of the wharf. Yesterday it was noticed that there was a large crack a foot wide, about eighteen inches from the face of the wharf. It would seem that the soil is gradually giving way. If the wharf should take a slide it will mean much to the ferry traffic as there is no other road way leading from the foats or vicinity, other than Rodney wharf. It is also on this wharf that the St. John Street Railway Company intended placing a line to the ferry. There are also a number of warehouses along the wharf that may be demolished by a slide, to say nothing of the great loss through the damage to the wharf.

The situation is causing considerable talk and is discussed quite freely about city hall this morning.

FUNERALS.

The funeral of the late Miss Kingston took place this morning from the home of her sister on Broad street at 9 o'clock. A service was conducted at the house last evening by the Rev. Mr. Hand of St. James' church. The interment took place at Lorneville.

Henry Hopkins, of Crookville, 72 years of age, passed away at his home last evening. He leaves a wife but no children.

Miss Alice Sprague returned by this morning's boat from New Bedford, Mass., where she has been spending the winter and spring.

Mrs. W. E. Vroom and son, Ludwig, arrived by the States today by Calvin Austin.

Mrs. Winslow, of Union street, is home from Boston.

PHIL RICHFORD ON THE STAND IN THE VICTORIA HOTEL CASE.

He Seemed Uncertain as to How Much Money He Had in the Bank or Why He Paid $6000 to Mr. McCormick—How His Information Was Secured.

The case of selling liquor on Sunday preferred against D. W. McCormick of the Victoria Hotel, was resumed in the police court this morning. Philip Richford, a former clerk in the Victoria was the informant and the chief witness, and on being cross-examined by C. J. Milligan some sensational evidence was given. G. A. Henderson appeared for the prosecution.

Philip Richford said he saw Robert Dow and Charles Morris on Sunday, June 17th, on Charlotte street. They went into the Victoria Hotel. He waited a half an hour for them and they did not come out. They are fellow boarders in the building next door to the hotel. While at dinner Morris' tongue was shaky. After dinner Morris went to witness' room and had a conversation and as a result of the conversation submitted the names of the two men to Inspector Jones, who had asked for them. It was some time ago that the inspector had asked for the names.

To Mr. Milligan, witness said he was the informant in the case. The boys Dow and Morris were not friends of his, only acquaintances. He understood that the boys were liable to be fined if they swore they purchased liquor, but did not think it would jeopardize their positions. Witness said he had been in the employ of Mr. McCormick and left the employ of his own free will and accord. He went to Butte, Montana where he was given work but took sick and had to return to St. John. After he left Mr. McCormick's employ he paid Mr. McCormick $6000. It was not because he witness, was a thief, and he did not know what he paid it back for. He did not remember depositing $100 a month in the bank. He did not know that there was $16,000 in the bank deposited in his name. He could not tell whether $10,000, but there may have been about $12,000 deposited there. He paid $2000 to Mr. McCormick but did not know why he paid it. Before he left the hotel he did not rob one of the girls or take money from Mr. Hutchinson, one of the guests. About twelve o'clock one night Mr. Hutchinson was asleep and witness took $80 from his pocket and put it in the safe. He did not run out of the room. Hutchinson did not follow him. He did not go to Mr. Hutchinson the next day and ask him not to prosecute him.

"I told Inspector Jones I would put Mr. McCormick in the poor house because he put me on the street as a thief. I heard he had said I was a thief. I was left $2,000 by my brother who died in New York. I did not deposit a hundred dollars a month. I don't suppose I deposited less than $100.

Mr. Milligan speaking on the case said that the only evidence against the hotel was that of Dow, who was not known by the bell boy, but he was a guest, and he could not swear he paid for the beer. There is nothing in the act against the giving of liquor to a guest.

Mr. Henderson read the section on the sale of liquor during prohibited hours.

Mr. Dow was recalled and said he had no medical certificate at the time he had procured the larger beer.

Mr. Milligan objected to this question being asked when the case was closed.

Continuing Mr. Henderson said it was a first offence and that they conceded that it was without Mr. McCormick's consent.

The magistrate said that Mr. McCormick had nothing personally to do with the sale of the liquor. This does not make him not guilty, but prevents him from having to forfeit his license. Under the evidence he was found guilty and fined $100.

STRONG TALK AGAINST RACE SUICIDE

Ontario Board of Health Denounces Modern Social Life.

TORONTO, July 4.—"Slaughter of the innocents" was the phrase used in the report adopted by the provincial board of health yesterday by Secretary D. Holdreid, in dealing with the statistics of infant mortality, and the evident growing tendency towards "race suicide" in Ontario.

The real cause, thought the chairman, Dr. Ritchie of St. George, was "the strenuous life pursued by modern women in their devotion to society."

Dr. Cassidy believed the husbands were equally to blame with the wives, and very often responsible. "I would not be surprised if these practices were confined to the criminal class," said Dr. Holdreid, "but church-going people, class leaders and others of that sort are just as bad."

Dr. Boucher told of a bride, who, without the slightest modesty, stared at her wedding that she got married in the one condition that she would have no family.

"Women influence each other, and if they can be impressed more good can be done than in any other way. A bad moral atmosphere is at the bottom of the whole thing," declared Dr. Cassidy. He quoted the last sentence of a novel he had picked up at an Ostend Hotel.

"And they will be forever happy for they will not be married and will never have any children," was the graphic conclusion. The board finally decided by resolution to prepare a pamphlet for circulation among women, in which the points touched upon in the report as adopted will be brought to their attention.

NEW DREDGE REACHES QUEBEC.

The Galveston Lies at Sorel After a Voyage of Over 4,000 Miles.

MONTEAL, July 5.—The new Dominion government dredge, which was launched at Quebec on Monday under her own steam, after a voyage of over 4,000 miles from the mouth of the Mississippi, is now in the government shipyard in Sorel. The Galveston left for New Orleans on June 2. It is intended to surmount the straits of the Galveston, and it is hoped that in two weeks she will be actively at work dredging the Baubien bar, near Crane Island, thirty miles below Quebec.

Quite an elaborate musical program will be rendered at the supervised playgrounds this afternoon. Several lady vocalists and instrumentalists have consented to contribute. In this Mrs. McLeellan, president of the Women's Council, would be glad to hear from any ladies who would care to play the piano for the children in the afternoon. Their assistance would be much appreciated.

A number of the teamsters have complained lately of the action of the teams of the ice company in blocking up Market street by standing directly across the road and thus completely blocking this side street. Although very narrow this street is one of the busiest in the city and the ice wagons while supplying different market merchants often manage to keep half a dozen teams waiting.

WILL BE A MEMBER OF NEW COMMISSION

Miss Helen Keller Writes Interesting
Letter to Governor Guild

BOSTON, July 5.—Miss Helen Keller, of Wrentham, the famous deaf, dumb and blind girl, will be a member of the new commission for the industrial education of the blind, which had long been advocated by her and which was recently authorized by the legislature. Governor Guild announced the appointment of five members today to make up this commission. Besides Miss Keller, who will serve on the commission for four years, are: Dr. E. A. Hartwell of Boston, five years; Miss Whetia P. Rogers of Boston, three years; Dr. J. H. Matte of North Adams, two years; and Robert L. Raymond of Milton, one year.

Under the act of legislature, the new commission may establish a bureau for the employment and registration of the blind; for the education of adults in the useful arts and trades; and for the establishment of workshops in which the blind may be employed and made self-sustaining.

Miss Keller wrote to Governor Guild today, in part as follows:

"It is an event charged with great meaning to all the sightless and to their friends who have thought, planned and labored so earnestly for the betterment of their education. At last my long hope has been fulfilled that the blind may be strengthened and mastered by the useful toil of their hands the calamity which has robbed them of their equality with their seeing fellow citizens."

CHAPTER OF ACCIDENTS.

Tuesday at Kentville seemed marked by serious accidents all in the space of ten hours. Mrs. Augusta Pike, while about her household duties, fell with a kettle of boiling water and was terribly burned about her chest and chest. Her son, who is an invalid, called for help, and medical aid was summoned.

In the late afternoon a number of boys went to Mennie's pond to swim. They were just out of school where examinations were going on. One of the number, Kenneth Warner, eleven years old, plunged in first and got beyond his depth and sank, and before help reached him, was beyond aid. His body was recovered and the doctors and nurses worked over him faithfully, but life was extinct, although he was only in the water twenty minutes. He was the youngest son of Mrs. Florence Warren and grandson of Peter L. Lord, where he resided.

That evening an alarm sounded and the barn of Charles Dennison proved to be on fire. Although the firemen were promptly on hand, the barn was consumed.

ENGAGED AN ATTORNEY TO COMPARE THE TESTIMONY

BOSTON, July 5.—District Attorney John B. Moran, announced tonight that he had engaged at his own expense an attorney who will compare the testimony of every one of about 300 witnesses given before the committee on rules of the legislature in the inquiry into the explosion of Representative Frank J. Gethro of Boston. Discrepancies in the testimony are sought for by the prosecuting officer as a basis for perjury indictments, and all admissions as to bribery or knowledge of bribery are to be selected for the purpose of presenting that to the grand jury.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the residence of the officiating clergyman, Rev. P. J. Stackhouse, B. D., last evening, when Chester Horncastle of this city was united in marriage to Miss Minnie May Burton of Truro, Nova Scotia. The bride, who was unattended, looked very beautiful in a navy blue travelling suit with hat to match. The groom, who is well known in the city, is a clerk in the employ of C. B. Allen, the hardware merchant. The happy couple received many beautiful and costly presents.

HE OUGHT TO BE HAPPY.

Bertha Krupp's Husband to Get Salary of $200,000 a Year.

BERLIN, July 5.—Herr Dr. von Bohlen und Halbach, Bertha Krupp's fiance, already has practically left the diplomacy and is now hard at work in Essen and other centres of the Krupp industries, acquiring familiarity with the ramifications of his future wife's enormous business.

The late Herr Krupp's will provides that Bertha's husband is to assume the position of leading director of the works. Von Bohlen works ten hours a day and is very businesslike and very methodical. It is expected he soon will master all the details. He is said to entertain notions about the formation of German steel trust. The salary he will be paid as managing director after marriage will be $200,000 a year.

FOXY JAPAN.

Her People Prospering at Expense of Western Nations.

LONDON, July 5.—The Kobe correspondent of the Daily Mail says the Japanese have not yet fixed a date for the opening of Daini as a free port. Meanwhile great quantities of Japanese goods, especially cottons, are being daily poured into Manchuria by way of Daini, without the payment of duty, while British and American dealers are compelled to go elsewhere and pay duty. The Japanese mills are working day and night to meet the demand and are combining to export their products, the government virtually guaranteeing them against loss.

The shipping prospects are also gloomy. The Japan Mail Steamship Company, besides opening new lines in all directions, contemplates a systematic campaign to drive British shipping out of the Yangtze Kiang. Mr. Waring, the company's manager, says it is the company's duty and object to check the arrogance of European steamship owners. The government is also backing the steamship enterprise secretly and openly.

Japan is now amazingly prosperous. Wages are advancing and land values are doubling.

CHAUFFEUR CHARGED WITH MANSLAUGHTER

LOWELL, Mass., July 5.—Arthur W. MacDonald, chauffeur, charged with manslaughter in causing the death of Wm. H. Arnold, in Tewksbury, on the night of June 27, while driving the automobile of the late victim, was found guilty of manslaughter in the Superior court today as was expected.

His counsel, F. E. Dunbar, asked for a continuance until after the inquest which is to be held on the body of Arnold. The inquest, it was stated, will be held next Tuesday. MacDonald has held under the same bonds, $5,000, which was furnished by Mr. Whiting.

LAST NIGHT'S SHOW.

Quite a large audience heard "When Women Love" at the Opera House last evening. The play is a strong one and most of the parts were well taken. In the roles of the hero and heroine, Wm. G. Hoffman and Ada Greenhalgh, were frequent applause. Theo. V. Renne, as detective, took a very prominent part in the play and did some good spotting. His work as policeman, prison warden, and butler from Delmonico was excellent, but when he entered the prison cell of Madge disguised as a sister of mercy, the size of his boots was a dead give away, and no shrewd jailkeeper would have allowed him to pass unquestioned. Baby Dorothy, as Ruth, Madge's little sister, is a bright little thing and pleased the audience. Perhaps the strongest part in the play was that of the miser and villain, taken by Harold Wilson. When he taught holt of the dying mother of Madge and shook her violently until the remaining sparks of life had fled, the audience involuntarily closed their eyes and shivered. He possessed a singularly repulsive appearance, and his laugh was bloodcurdling.

MONTREAL, July 5.—The Dominion Textile Company has a strike on its hands at Massey mill. It is claimed that delegates from other centres, such as Montreal, have been among the men stirring up strife and the demands are an increase in the wage scale of 20 per cent; that the union be recognized; that employees recently discharged be reinstated; that all agreements signed shall become null. On these counts the employees went out yesterday, four hundred hands quitting work. So far no violence has occurred.

MILLS HAVE REST.

The open hearth furnaces, blooming and rail mills of the Dominion Iron and Steel Company have ceased operations temporarily, while the machinery for stripping the ingots produced by the first named department is being removed.

It is expected that the work of removal will not occupy more than five days, and when completed will enable all the departments to run more smoothly and thus facilitate production.

MILLIONS MADE BY THE BIG BEARS.

Big fortunes have been made by the bears in Wall Street in the last two months, and the earnings of some of the operators who were bearish before the San Francisco earthquake are estimated in the millions.

Brokers who should be well posted declare that Moore Bros. have been among the large sellers of stocks since June 1.

One of the most prominent brokers of this crowd, Sydney C. Love, has made a fortune on the short side since the San Francisco disaster.

James F. Keene has also made a great deal of money on the short side since June 1. Many of his stocks were covered during the early part of last week, and some estimate his profits at

TO SHIP APPLES ONLY.

NEW YORK, July 5.—The first steamship service ever operated exclusively for the exportation of American apples is now being arranged for by Henry M. Isaacs, a London firm of fruit importers. The ships will ply between Boston and London and Hull. Formerly it has been the custom to ship the apples on the large freight ships, but the business has grown so as to support a line of steamers. Mr. Isaacs, who is now in New York, says that the exportation of apples will be greatly expedited by the new service, and that much of the fruit will be marketed to better advantage abroad. The steamers will sail every fortnight, and will have a capacity of 20,000 barrels. The total export of apples last season from all ports was 2,411,473 barrels.

The earnings were at the rate of 16.4 per cent on the average capital of the year, a record which but few of the banks can equal.

CANADIAN BUTTER VERY DEAR.

Dowdall Bros., of Manchester, write as follows of the butter market under date of June 23: The Canadian dairy farmers are revealing in high prices for their butter by the insane rivalry of some of the new combines. Canadians are ten shillings too dear, and they resume normal conditions. Our Copenhagen correspondent reports: Choice butter is freely offered even below cost. Officially the prices are higher. If so, the advance will be only nominal, a kind of inclusion of the over-charge. Business is altogether in a most unsatisfactory shape, leaving no profit to anybody, and prices generally are too high. Danish is still higher than the corresponding price everywhere. So far pastures are excellent, untroubled by the most favorable weather, sunshine and rain. For the North of England markets there are 12 1/2 to 13 1/2 in the market, being 1,000 casks less than last week. Dutch, Irish and Canadian creameries are selling in the wholesale market at a singularly range of figures, viz., 10s. to 4s. and for extra fine 10s. Australasian and Argentine are practically finished.

SEASIDE PICNIC PARTIES HAD TO WALK HOME

Crowd at the Park Inconvenienced by a Poor Street Car Service.

Many complaints are being made against the street car service from Seaside park. There is no time table posted up at that park or is there anything else to indicate to a stranger what time the last car will leave and make connections with the city cars. Last evening a number of picnics were held at Seaside and several of the parties arrived at the car tracks at about twenty minutes past ten to return to the city, but no car was there. However, five minutes later No. 62, a special car came along and all got on board. They were ordered off by the conductor as he said that this car had made its last run for the night, but that another car would soon be along. The parties then had to wait until nearly eleven o'clock when the last car arrived. They all got on this and were informed that this car was due to go in the shed then and that No. 62 which was a special car, should have taken the crowd in nearly a half hour earlier, but as the conductor and motorman of No. 62 were so anxious to get off home that they had neglected their duty. After some parleying the conductor of the last car, No. 37, kindly offered to run the crowd to the bridge. It was found however that while they were in time to catch the last Douglas Avenue car yet they were too late by ten minutes for the last car to the city, and as a result about twenty-five people had to walk home.

MORE EVIDENCE IN THE STONE THROWING CASE

In the police court this morning Benjamin Fish was fined four dollars for being drunk on Pond street last night. He said he was on his way to Amherst and missed the train. He also said he had a wife and seven children to look after. The magistrate said that Fish by getting drunk was taking a very poor way of looking after his family. The case against John Goldstein, charged with hitting Harry O'Donnell with a rock last Friday, was resumed this morning. Harold Cunningham, aged 12 years, testified that he saw O'Donnell chase Goldstein through Peacock's alley off Murray street. Afterwards O'Donnell came back with his face bleeding. Sherman Osborne and Richard Nass were on the wagon with O'Donnell when he left to chase Goldstein. Richard Saunders, aged 12 years, said he was on the team with Harry O'Donnell driving down Murray street. Some person threw a stone, then O'Donnell chased Goldstein into Peacock's alley and on his return his face was bleeding. O'Donnell then went to the doctor's and Richard Fitzgerald took the team to the mill. In answer to Goldstein's witness said, at the request of O'Donnell he got off the team and gave O'Donnell a rock, but he did not see O'Donnell throw the rock at Goldstein or did he see Goldstein throw a rock at O'Donnell. Mrs. Charles Kennedy of Sheriff street said that on Friday afternoon about one o'clock she requested Goldstein to go to the barn and order a load of wood. Shortly afterwards Goldstein came running back through the yard crying that O'Donnell had

They failed to get away soon enough. Their bodies were scattered over a distance of 100 yards.
HALIFAX DRUG CLERK DROWNED FROM CANOE.
HALIFAX, July 5.—Henry O. Allen, a young drug clerk, was drowned this afternoon by the upsetting of his canoe on the North West Arm. He and Chas. McDonald were paddling when their canoe turned over, Allen sinking and McDonald keeping himself afloat till rescued.
IT IS THE GENERAL OPINION that Allen had some affection of the heart, which weakened him. Canoeing on the Arm is very general, and it is considered to be surprising that more drownings don't occur.

NOT AN ATTEMPT TO OUST JUDGE TUCK
OTTAWA, July 6.—In the commonsense morning Peter Elson complained because the flag had not been raised over the parliament buildings on Dominion Day. Mr. Hyman said Sunday was Dominion Day and the flags were then up.
DR. STOCKTON SAID THE NEW BRUNSWICK JUDICATURE ACT was an attempt to legislate Chief Tuck out of his place. The Prime Minister denied this and the bill was read the third time.

HALIFAX DRUG CLERK DROWNED FROM CANOE.

HALIFAX, July 5.—Henry O. Allen, a young drug clerk, was drowned this afternoon by the upsetting of his canoe on the North West Arm. He and Chas. McDonald were paddling when their canoe turned over, Allen sinking and McDonald keeping himself afloat till rescued.
IT IS THE GENERAL OPINION that Allen had some affection of the heart, which weakened him. Canoeing on the Arm is very general, and it is considered to be surprising that more drownings don't occur.

ST. JOHN STAR, FRIDAY, JULY 6, 1906, SEVEN

A Story of France in the days of Louis XV., and now the work of a traitor was foiled by the energy of Madame Pompadour.

For the purpose of dancing, the court of the Hotel-de-Ville had been converted into a ballroom and the crowd that had gathered was immense. Nobles of the realm, great ladies, peers, peeresses, and the Court here jostled in the wildest confusion with the gentlemen of the robe, with aldermen, shopkeepers, and even flower girls and the dancers of the royal ballet. The company was supposed to be masked, but many had already discarded the flimsy disguises for all that still wore it. Most of the ladies of the middle class had donned fancy attire, but the nobles for the most part showed their quality by refusing to imitate the canaille. Andre of course was content with his uniform of the Chevaliers de la Garde, that beautiful and famous livree of scarlet with white facings, silver buttons, spurs of gold, and hat with white plumes which in itself conferred an enviable distinction, and about his neck, more proudly still, he carried that Croix de St. Louis, whose possession sufficed to make any soldier happy.

For a few minutes he stood gazing at the brilliant spectacle presented by the moving throng—one vast arena of human beings in which the uniforms of the stars and ribbons, the jewels, the bright eyes, and the fair shoulders were blended into a magic and inspiring panorama, over which floated the tender music of the harp, violin, and flute. And as he moved slowly forward kissing grateful hands, receiving gentle congratulations, or looking into eyes to which in passed days he had whispered devotion in the Oeil de Boeuf beneath the balmy fragrance of a fete champetre at Rambouillet his ambition soared still higher. But dance he would not before he had come to watch, to teach, and to learn. The Chevalier to his joy was not here; he had been dispatched. Andre discovered with grim satisfaction, on special business of the King. But yonder was Denise, holding a military court. As Andre edged his way towards her, her glance fell on the familiar uniform, and it plainly said: "Here at least let us forget the past— I have forgiven you—come let us be friends as we were before." And Andre replied to her graceful reverence with his stiffest bow, as he had deliberately come to do, and then moved slowly off to her cheek. But the lesson must be completed. A partner must be found and at once. He paused—looking about him—started.

"You, Madame!" he ejaculated, checking his astonishment, for Denise was watching him.

"Monsieur le Vicomte," was the serene reply. "This is more fun than spelling the truth from crystal, and she laughed wickedly.

Yes, indeed it was the wise woman from "The Cook" with the Spout of Gold" wearing her diamond cross and dressed in adorably pale blue satin, just such a color as her eyes covered by the pale blue mask. Strangest of all, Andre felt at that moment there was not a woman in all this throng who carried herself with more of the true air of the noblesse than did this young sorceress, who plied a charlatan's trade for him.

"The Vicomte looks to-night as the Vicomte de Nerac should," she remarked quietly. "But it is my presence here or is it my perfume that perplexes you?"

And Andre started again at her unerring divination. "Surely it is very simple," she proceeded. Recall if you please, a supper party in London—the perfume was there then—now it is here. That is all."

"Certainly, the same, only a trifle disguised. In London I was dark, in Paris I am fair, because," she shrugged her shoulders, "I love change and I hate being recognised unless I choose.

A NIGHT DRESS WITHOUT A YOKES

4766—The yoke has become so much a part of the night dress that one does not realize a night dress to be possible without it. The making and arranging of the yoke means at least one-half of the labor involved in the making of a night gown yet it is not necessary as is shown by the accompanying design. This gown is intended for girls and is so simple that the girl may fashion it herself. Three yards extend from the neck and shoulder edge in front and back and furnish the necessary fullness for the front. The neck closes simply with a frill of lace or embroidery. The sleeves are long and finished in a similar way, 4 1/2 yards of 36-inch goods are needed to develop the pattern in the medium size.

4766—sizes 10, 12, 14 and 16 years.

GREEKS MOURN FOR ANAGNOS

President of Greek Union in America Dead

Was Better to Greeks Than Any Other Man in America—Brief Story of His Life

BUCHAREST, July 5.—Michael Anagnos, president of the Greek Union of America, died June 29 at Turn-Severin, Roumania.

Michael Anagnos (also written Anagnostopoulos) was the son-in-law of the late Dr. Samuel G. Howe and Julia Ward Howe and was the successor of the former as superintendent of the Perkins Institution for the blind. Mrs. Anagnos died in 1888.

BOSTON, July 5.—An uncertain report that Michael Anagnos had died in Roumania was received by the acting-Greek consul here on Tuesday last, but as Anagnos had an uncle in Roumania bearing the same name it was thought that the person who died was Anagnos' relative. Anagnos went to Roumania March 17 to visit his uncle, who was he was apparently seized with cramps.

Anagnos was widely known in Greece, his native land, and among the Greeks in America, of whom he was the recognized leader. He was born in a mountain village of Epirus in 1837, and for many years was identified with Greek politics. For several years Anagnos was private secretary to Dr. Samuel G. Howe, the husband of Julia Ward Howe of this city, and it was while serving in this capacity that he and Miss Julia E. Howe were married. Of late years Anagnos was one of the best known instructors of the blind in the country. Many of the reforms introduced in the education of the blind was devised by him. Among the leaders of the United States he was better known than probably any other man in America, and since the report of his death became known, the Greeks have made inquiries at local newspaper offices.

SAD DROWNING WHILE SWIMMING

Son of Wealthy Parents Meets Death in Lake

Was at the Place in Charge of Number of Lads in Humble Circumstances—Story of Accident

ASHLAND, N. H., July 5.—H. McK. Twombly, Jr., only son of H. McK. Twombly, the well known capitalist of New York and Newport, was drowned tonight while swimming in Big Squam Lake, in the town of Holderness, six miles from this town. Young Twombly was eighteen years of age. He came to New Hampshire about three weeks ago with a number of others who had charge of a dozen or more boys in humble circumstances, who were sent into camp at the expense of the Groton school of Groton, Mass., from which Twombly was graduated last month.

Tonight Twombly started to swim from the Groton school camp to Carr's Cove, one mile distant. He had reached a point a short distance from the shore where the camp is located when he was apparently seized with cramps. He was seen to struggle in the water by several of the other boys at the camp, but before any of them could reach him he disappeared from view. The body was recovered within a short time after the accident and was brought to Ashland. A number of the young man's relatives are expected here early in the morning for the purpose of accompanying the body to Newport. Twombly was very popular with the boys at Groton and those at camp. Since his stay at the lake, he entered the water frequently and was a good swimmer. He intended to enter Harvard next fall.

Twombly's mother was Miss Florence A. Vanderbilt, daughter of Wm. H. Vanderbilt of New York.

TWO REGIMENTS HAVE MUTINIED

Present Series of Political and Service Demands

Ferment Among Soldiers and Sailors at Odessa and Sebastopol Continues—Situation Grave

ST. PETERSBURG, July 5.—Despatches received here today from Samara stated that two regiments garrisoning that important provincial capital had mutinied and presented a series of political and service demands. The officers promised to satisfy the service demands if the mutineers returned to duty; but the men replied that they would be satisfied only on condition with all of their demands. The mutineers still command the situation, but are not indulging in excesses. The situation is complicated by the fact that in Samara the revolutionaries are pushing a movement to proclaim a republic in case a general strike is declared and may seize the present opportunity to further their aims.

The ferment among the soldiers and sailors at Odessa and Sebastopol continues.

No inkling of the reported rioting and pillage at Vladivostok has reached the Russian public, but the military authorities, who control the telegraph, would be able to withhold for days any news of such conditions as they did of the last uprising there.

MILITARY OFFICERS IN CHARLOTTETOWN

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., July 5.—Charlottetown tonight is the headquarters of the Canadian chief of military officers who are here for inspection of the annual camp. Today Major General Macdonald, chief officer of the Canadian staff, made a general inspection of the camp. Col. Rutherford, director of the artillery, and Col. Lessard, the Charlottetown Light Horse, Col. Groatkins, director of operations, and Col. Drury, commander of the troops in the Maritime Provinces, also are here. General Lake said the men made a good showing, physique good, and steadiness decidedly satisfactory. The camp was well laid out, clean, and well looked after. Col. Lessard highly praised the Light Horse. The officers will leave for Halifax on Saturday.

NEW GAS BUOY AT BLACK POINT

The One Recently Anchored on the Foul Ground is Giving Splendid Satisfaction to Mariners

The new gas buoy which was placed in position on the foul ground above Partridge Island over a week ago, under direction of the department of marine, is giving general satisfaction to shipping men, so that it is a great improvement on the old buoy. The latter was a gas buoy, but not so improved as the one now in use. It was supposed to go three months without being recharged, but it was placed in it, for it often lasted not longer than three weeks. The attention of Mr. Harding, the marine agent here, was attracted to the result that he was immediately instructed by the department to see that the buoy was replaced by a newer and more up-to-date one. Nine months is the time the present buoy is supposed to work without being recharged. The light, which is an intermittent one, is strong and clear, and has been seen a long way off. Other improvements are also being made around the harbor by the marine department, and as a result of these orders, a splendid gas buoy arrived in the city yesterday, for use at Black Point, where circumstances many of the harbor. It is now lying at the Ballast wharf and will be placed in position in a few days. The old bell buoy which has been lying all winter at the Point slip, will be turned into a gas and bell buoy and put back in its old position over the island reef, at the northeast end.

These improvements are greatly appreciated by shippers who visit this port, and add greatly to the safety of the harbor.

Walking Suits With Pleated Skirts

MORE and more pleated skirts are seen, particularly in walking suits, the pleating cleverly contrived in a score of ways, although every skirt fits in a trig fashion about the hips; the pleats pressed so that they lie flat, instead of the curious little spring that the feated skirt of a couple of seasons ago had. Of course, as you walk the skirt flies out prettily, but it cleverly is the cut and the pressing done that the folds drop back into place again, almost instantly.

The most popular form of skirt for the popular linen suit is laid in box pleats—it's the least hard to do up, which is a point to be considered.

A New Material for Hot Weather

FOULARDS and China silks have seen such long and faithful service for summer that almost every one welcomes as a pleasant change a new material from which many of this season's gowns are made.

This fabric, which is being much used by the best fashionable modistes both in this country and Paris, is called by various names, such as radium or pineapple tissue.

In point of fact it is neither one or the other, generally understood, but is a very thin, light silk, almost transparent, with a brilliant sheen. It has something the appearance of the old-time tulle, but is softer and more silky looking.

Plenty of plain suits are worn, especially those made in walking skirt lengths, as a sort of revelation against the elaborate affairs which have been so very much overdone, and gradually linen suits are resolving themselves into two classes—dress affairs, which may be as elaborate as you please, or the simple suits without a particle of trimming anywhere about them, but worn with the loveliest of blouses, sheer and beautiful and trimmed as little or as elaborately as you choose.

In white, the plain suits are particularly attractive—it's possible to keep them at the very top-notch of daintiness, a mighty hard feat to accomplish with a much-trimmed suit.

One of the chief advantages of this material is that it does not wrinkle like foulards and other summer silks, and while soft and "clingly" it is not "slinky."

Many shirtwaist gowns are being made up in this new silk, some without any lining, others with one of thin lawn. Such a costume is more nearly cool than is possible for anything not a sheer cotton to be.

Chiffon bows and plaitings and small cut steel buckles trim many of the dressy girdles. Narrow black velvet or satin ribbon about a quarter of an inch wide is also extensively used.

Embroidery Dominant in Summer Fashions

WITH all the air of apparent simplicity behind which summer dresses and suits mask themselves, those for dress occasions are growing steadily more extravagant, chiefly because of the hand embroidery which is upon any and every sort of thing.

It is not only hand embroidery which is used so extensively, either for deep, beautiful flouncings and allovers are in better favor for blouses and dresses than they've ever been—which is saying a great deal, when you consider how the world has been embroidered—and these last few seasons.

But to go back to hand embroidery—the most unusual and richest of all its many applications is to whole costumes of linen where skirt and waist are both embroidered, the design made a factor in the planning of the style, as, for instance, in the overskirts—an old idea, but a radically new form of it—which offer so good an opportunity for displaying the work.

Scallops are used upon every sort of thing—those overskirts and their broad, pointed front and back pieces of the blouse edged with it, the embroidery spread as lavishly inside as though the scallop were not the definite addition to the rest of the embroidery that it is.

A stunning dress, made of linen in the soft tint of tan which goes by the name of biscuit color, was made with both the skirt itself and the overskirt embroidered, although only the overskirt boasted the scallop, and that a curiously shaped one, cut in deep rounded points.

Embroidered belts are worn with even these handsomer types of costume, but the work must be of a sort to warrant the combination, the design and the work as elaborate in character as the gown itself.

Perhaps the gloves and parasol, hat and pumps are all embroidered to match. For although there's only an occasional lingerie hat to be seen, there are plenty of leghorns with motifs of the finest sort of handwork inset into the straw in such a fashion that they seem to give a dominating touch of embroidery.

As to parasols, embroidered ones of linen have things all their own way for "wearing" with linen gowns, although for silk and pongee suits and dresses linen parasols give way to silk ones, flowered in an indescribably quaint way, reminiscent of our grandmothers' day.

The tiny wraps which this summer is making such a fuss over show embroidery, too, trimming the all but shapeless little sleeves around the shoulders, down front and back—everywhere there is the slightest excuse for it.

And not only linen gowns, but those of pongee and voile are made stunning by the use of embroidery. One beauty of blue in that rare new shade which is neither dark nor light, but all beauty, had its short Eton jacket embroidered heavily in a typical braiding pattern, yet was as much lovelier than the more usual braiding as anything could be. Another of the softest wood brown—a pongee—was embroidered freely with tiny vines, all in the same exquisite shade.

Embroidered pumps, which just appear among us last summer, are here in several colors, white the most popular, by long odds.

All in all, embroidery strikes a dominant note in this year's fashions, every sort of it, from the sheer, cobwebby stuff with delicate traceries wandering over it to the boldest bit of heavy work upon a material which at first thought seems inappropriate as a foundation for it, but the result of an inspiration when done.

SEMI-READY AND FASHION CRAFT

Advertisements Lead to Lawsuit With Well Known Firm—Injunction Wanted.

(Montreal Herald.)

The Semi-Ready Clothing Company has entered action for $10,000 against the Richards Company, Limited, who are now advertising the "Fashion Craft" brand of ready-made clothing. The Semi-Ready Company alleges that by the terms of a contract with the defendants, the latter were permitted to sell the Semi-Ready goods in contract terminated some time ago, and removal of trademarks, tags, etc. The contract terminated some time ago, and the plaintiffs allege that the Richards Company continued in business advertising their new brand, the "Fashion Craft," and, at the same time stating that they had formerly been agents of the Semi-Ready Company, but were "going up higher" and "graduating into better quality." They maintain that the rival company had no right to mention their names in the advertisements. They ask an injunction to restrain this, together with the entering of the action for $10,000 at which they estimate their damages. Messrs. Clark and Kerr are solicitors for plaintiffs.

MEMBERS AND SENATORS UNJUST TO THE PEOPLE

Many Stay Away From Parliament More Than Half the Time and Draw Their Pay—More Amendments to Lord's Day Act—House Will Not Prorogue Till Middle of Next Week.

OTTAWA, July 5.—The house today looked in vain for the Lords Day Act bill, which has passed the committee stage and stands for third reading in a form which has produced unhappiness in Ontario by not going far enough, in Quebec by going too far and in the government by creating a multitude of amendments. It is understood some amendments are being prepared, and the act is standing while they are being prepared. In the meantime the approximate date of prorogation has been advanced to the middle of next week.

The house gave its attention to government bills. The telephone and Loans bill, the railway bill, which was put through, the indemnity was discussed and an interesting table was given by Mr. Bourassa. The New Brunswick judicature act was discussed.

The proposal to amend the railway act to give rural municipalities the control over the planting of telephone poles was defeated by a vote of 22 to 18.

Mr. Staples moved to give Manitoba authority to appropriate the telephone lines within its boundaries. Mr. Aylesworth said it would be as fair to give it power to appropriate the portion of the Canadian Pacific railway in that province.

The amendment was defeated.

A motion by W. F. Maclean to give a maximum 2 cent passenger rate was defeated by 194 to 8 after most of the conservative members had abused Mr. Maclean for looking for cheap popularity.

Dr. Sprout moved an amendment to give the railway commission authority to compel exchange of business between local telephone exchanges, as well as compelling a long distance company to accommodate a local line. This was defeated 88 to 21, and Mr. Emmerson's railway bill was read the third time.

Mr. Aylesworth then offered an amendment to the senate and house of commons act. One declared penalty of $15 a day for absence should not be imposed against a member sick at Ottawa who had attended one day; another allowed reasonable living expenses on a session to members coming and going to Ottawa.

Members living more than four hundred miles from Ottawa are allowed, instead of expenses, $15 a day traveling allowance, while coming to and going from the session. This clause is for the benefit of the Yukon and British Columbia men.

Before the amendments were adopted Mr. Bourassa said men who spent little time at Ottawa got too much money for the time they attended parliament. Last session lasted 191 days or 129 sitting days or an average of $22 earned by each member who put in full time. Those who were absent part of the time received too much proportionately. He gave the following table to show this:—

Days Received	Present	Per diem
Clark,	48	$1,152
Foster,	51	$1,272
Kemp,	55	$1,365
White,	66	$1,584
White,	70	$1,710
Forrest,	75	$1,800
Bristol,	86	$2,016
King,	88	$2,112
Rose, Wm.,	88	$2,112
Carrier,	116	$2,784

The senate sat only 68 days out of the 191 the senate lasted, by attending 43 days a senator could draw $2,590 full indemnity. He would receive $17.17 a day.

The pay of some senators had been as follows:—

Days Received	Present	Per diem
Kirchoffer,	24	$576
Sheyn,	25	$600
MacKeen,	30	$720
Choquette,	31	$744
Thibodeau, A. A.,	37	$888
Church,	38	$912
King,	40	$960
Forrest,	41	$984
Bostock,	46	$1,104
Clarke,	50	$1,200
Gowan,	53	$1,272
Drummond,	59	$1,416
Fulford,	54	$1,300
Levy,	14	$336
MacKay,	14	$336
Jones,	57	$1,368
Rose, Wm.,	57	$1,368
Cox,	60	$1,440

Mr. Bourassa said that under the rules a member or senator who attended after the first day only and went away would have been entitled to $1,240. He thought a member should serve two-thirds of the session to draw more than ten dollars a day.

This was agreed to by Mr. Foster, Mr. Borden and in a measure by Mr. Aylesworth.

Col. Sam Hughes said more men would stay in the chamber if they could hear what was said.

Leighton McCarthy thought Mr. Bourassa's figures were misleading, as much of the most important business was done in committee and in the morning.

Mr. Bristol, Mr. Kemp and Dr. Sproute continued the discussion, and after an amendment that the bill apply to the present session was adopted it was reported and given third reading.

The New Brunswick judicature act, a bill relating to the supreme court of judicature of New Brunswick, was continued in committee. The question of the standing of the present judges under the new organization was the subject of debate, participated in by Mr. Stockton, Mr. Foster, Mr. Fowler and R. L. Borden, all of whom endeavored to obtain statement whether the present chief justice would be the chief justice of new court of appeal and whether seniority of the other judges would be regarded in the appointment to the two branches of the new court.

Mr. Aylesworth replied that as the government had formed no intention either one way or the other he could give no assurance along the lines requested.

With regard to the retiring allowance difficulty had been experienced in this respect under similar circumstances in Ontario.

Mr. Stockton protested against the independence of the judges of New Brunswick being threatened by the action of the New Brunswick legislature, which could only become effective by the legislation of the Dominion parliament. Leighton McCarthy denied that the independence of the judiciary was in any way assailed, and argued that the opposition could not be serious in asking the minister of justice to inform the house at this stage what recommendation should be made to his excellency later on. The bill was reported with some clerical amendments which were concurred in and the measure stands for the third reading.

The bill to provide for a hall mark on Canadian gold and silver passed the senate. W. K. McNaught spoke strongly in favor of the measure.

He said the wholesale dealers in and manufacturers of jewelry as well as retail dealers were generally in favor of the bill which applied to imported goods as well as to those manufactured in Canada. It was the custom of some in the trade, he said, to stamp such cases as being of higher quality than they actually were. He produced a case, guaranteed for twenty years, the gold in which would wear off in three years. There were 200,000 of such cases in Canada today, he said, the manufacturer of which was out of business. Mr. Sam Rosenthal, of Ottawa, supported the bill as a retailer. A letter from the solicitor of H. & A. Saunders, of Toronto, was read asking that the bill be deferred until further inquiry had been made. After general discussion, the bill was reported.

In committee again on Mr. Emmerson's bill to amend railway act, Mr. Lancaster moved an amendment embodying the conclusions of the special committee on this bill. The amendment provided that trains may run up to speed of ten miles an hour over level crossings in thickly populated parts of cities, towns and villages, but if they desire to exceed that speed they must protect the crossing. The amendment was adopted and the date of coming into force was fixed as January 1, 1908. An amendment by Mr. Emmerson was accepted relating to regulation of express charges. Providing that it shall not apply to existing contracts prior to Nov. 1, 1906, or until such time as the railway company determine. The militia estimates were all passed tonight amounting to between three and four million.

WILL SELL GOVERNMENT PROPERTY AT FAIRVILLE.

Herbert J. Barton May be a Registered Dentist in New Brunswick—Local Government in Session.

A meeting of the local government was held in their chambers, Church street yesterday afternoon. The members were sitting as commissioners of the Provincial Hospital, and received a report from medical superintendent in reference to certain necessary improvements. The board decided to have these improvements made.

The report of the chief commissioner in reference to the sale of some lands belonging to the asylum was heard. The report favored having the field opposite the asylum sold. This was adopted.

The adjourned meeting of the executive council was also held to consider the appeal of Herbert J. Barton from the council of the New Brunswick Dental Association, which refused to register him.

A. I. Trueman was present on behalf of Mr. Barton, while Dr. Godose, registrar of the N. B. Dental Society, stated the position of the society in the matter.

The facts of the case are these: Twelve years ago Mr. Barton entered upon the study of dentistry, and has ever since continued in the work, but did not register as a student until 1904. In 1905 he applied for examination and was appointed. In the meantime Dr. Godose was requested to acquire the members of the Dental Association with the views expressed by the premier, and it may not be necessary for the government to render a decision in the case.

An application from Geo. Robertson, M. P., was received to change the forty years' subsidy granted by the province to a twenty years' subsidy for an equivalent sum. This action is on the same lines as that taken by the city council. The matter was referred to a sub-committee of the premier and attorney general.

YOUNG TARDIF ACQUITTED.

Adelard Tardif, the Beaudry street boy, who emptied the contents of a shotgun into his father's leg about three weeks ago, was acquitted by Judge Choquet this morning. The evidence showed that the boy had fired to save his brother's life. The father was drunk, and was threatening to kill the younger boy with an axe. Adelard warned him several times, but the man paid no heed, and when he raised his axe the boy fired. The father lost his leg over the shot, but considered the boy had done right, and did not wish to prosecute him.

Judge Choquet said that in his opinion the boy had been perfectly justified in firing.—Montreal Star.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DROWNING

Fishing Fleet Spends Terrible Night in Bay

Swept by Huge Seas—Occupants Rescued by Schooner

DIGBY, July 5.—A terrific storm swept over the Bay of Fundy Wednesday and several boats of a fishing fleet had a narrow escape from foundering. The men being compelled to weather the gale in open boats all night, with seas breaking over them. When the gale was at its worst four small open fishing boats were almost six miles off shore, endeavoring to beat in. One containing Howard Dally and Dull Tidd was blown away off shore and remained all night out of sight of land, its occupants expecting every moment to see the small craft founder in the tremendous sea which was running. By the best of luck and good management the little boat was kept afloat and arrived at Culloden safely late this afternoon. In the meantime the boat containing Percy Ross and his brother, Emley Ross, filled up with the sea breaking over her. The occupants threw out the fish and ballast and were rescued just in time by the Digby schooner General, commanded by Captain Ansel Casey, and taken in to Turner's Eddy, Digby Out. The other two boats, containing Will Ross and son, Dillie Ross, John Daley and Aubrey Port, were also compelled to spend the night in the bay.

I. C. R. CLAIMS AGENT HOLDS COURT HERE

Joseph Ingram Who was Seriously Injured at York Point Siding Alleges Negligence on Company's Part

E. H. Allen, of Moncton, claims agent for the I. C. R., has been holding court here for the last two days as the representative of the manager of railways to inquire into the case of Joseph Ingram against the railway department for injuries received on the 19th of February last. Should his client be allowed, the damages would probably be assessed at $4,000 or $5,000. L. A. Curry, K. C., argued the case for the claimant.

At the time of the accident, Ingram was employed in loading lumber on the shed from the end of a car at York Point siding. While thus employed, a shunting engine struck a loaded car which was connected with the one which Ingram was assisting in loading and jangling him in between the car and the load, injuring him severely and causing him to have to keep to bed for two months and at the house for three months, producing partial paralysis of his left leg and arm, and wholly incapacitating him for work.

Mr. Ingram and the two men who were assisting him in loading, and Dr. McIntyre, the attending physician, were examined on behalf of the claimant. The men in charge of the shunting engine, the engineer, the brakeman and fireman were examined on behalf of the railway department.

It is asserted on behalf of Mr. Ingram that the railway men were negligent in not notifying the men at work on the car of the shunting which was to be done, as is the usual course in such cases, and that as there was no notification the department is liable.

The evidence on the railway side was that the automatic bell was ringing all the time, and that no notification was sent to the men at work as the railway men did not know that they were there.

The claimant, however, asserts that they should have taken means to ascertain whether the men were at work or not before striking the car.

In the spring and fall from Fredericton to Woodstock and during the summer months as an excursion boat. At Wednesday's meeting of the local government in Fredericton, a charter was granted Scovill Bros., Ltd., to take over and carry on the clothing and gentlemen's furnishing business conducted for the past eighteen years by Scovill Bros. & Co., at Oak Hall, St. John. The incorporators are James M. Scovill, William C. Scovill, Frank Smith, J. M. Scovill, Jr., and S. C. Young. The old story, or rather the old question, "What should a hackman charge?" was brought to the front again Wednesday afternoon when the driver in the employ of a leading liverman demanded two dollars of a man for moving his little child from a central locality to the hospital. There were no waits, no exceptional circumstances. The parent who could ill afford to pay so much, handed over the cash to the extortioner. The question has been raised as to why should we want to take a taxi-cab. The questioner might just as well have asked, why do we want to walk, play golf, baseball, or ride bicycles? The answer is the same to all, for exercise. It is an admitted fact that the average person does not exercise enough, and yet it is admitted that exercise is absolutely necessary to a healthy body. The St. Andrew's roller rink opens in a few days, and healthier sport or exercise than roller skating does not exist. It is understood the financial results of the late political picnic at Gagetown were disappointing. It is stated over a thousand dollars had to be guaranteed steamboat people, and the cost of advertising, bands, platform arrangements, etc., ran into additional money. The shortage will not be very great however, and can be easily met. The caterers of the Tabernacle Baptist church of this city came out altogether ahead, but would have done handsomely had it not been for the opposition restaurant set up by people of the village. The ice cream and beer caterer from the city is said to have dropped a little money. THIS EVENING. Band concert, King Square, West End. "When Women Love" at the Opera House. Special meeting of L. O. L. No. 11, at 8 p. m. Monthly meeting of the Hibernian Knights. OH! FUDGE! A few days ago a woman appeared in court and complained of a man named Fudge using abusive language to her. Fudge and a witness were in court this morning, and the case was dismissed on account of the complainant not putting in an appearance.

SAYS THE ATTRACTIONS ARE ALL FIRST CLASS

Meyer Cohen Back Again With Moving Pictures Speaks Highly of the Exhibition Amusements.

Meyer Cohen, who made many friends in St. John when he was here with the Vitagraph Picture show, is in the city arranging for an engagement at the Opera House next week of pictures operated by another company. Mr. Cohen represents Miles Bros., of San Francisco, and New York, and says that he is bringing the best pictures ever seen here. The principal attraction will be views of the Frisco disaster taken by Miles Bros., who have their studio in the western town. These views will be explained by Leonard Mack, an actor who was in San Francisco during the earthquake and who is thus able to give a vivid description of the calamity. Mr. Cohen is making engagements only in the provinces just now but he hopes ultimately to establish a Canadian moving picture company, taking views of all parts of the country which would be sent to the United States, as well as shown in Canada. Mr. Cohen thinks that the attractions secured by Mr. Spencer for the exhibition are without doubt the finest on the road today. He has seen them all frequently and states that Adgie's lions which were seen here at the last exhibition, while a good feature, are not to be mentioned in the same week with the trained elephants. From a business point of view Mr. Cohen says if he were running the performances he would put each attraction in a different building and charge separate admissions to every one for they are all worth it. He is endeavoring to have Mr. Spencer add moving pictures to his exhibition programme. Mr. Cohen, while doing some business in St. John, is also enjoying his honeymoon. Four weeks ago Mr. Cohen was married in Halifax to Miss Jean Glasse, a sister of Mrs. Max Ungar, and well known in St. John, where she for a time resided. The moving pictures will be seen at the Opera House commencing on Thursday of next week.

QUEENS COUNTY GAZETTE TO START AT CHIPMAN

James Stewart, editor and proprietor of the Queens County Gazette, was in the city this morning on his way to Albert county. Mr. Stewart, in conversation with the Star, said negotiations have been going on for the purchase of the plant of the Queens County Gazette, and when these negotiations are completed the plant will be removed to Chipman and the paper will be again started. Mr. Stewart said that ever since that paper ceased publishing there have been negotiations going on for the purchase of the plant in order that it might be taken to Chipman. The Queens County Gazette was a bright little country newspaper, published weekly at Gagetown. While the paper was a paying proposition yet the facilities at Gagetown for sending it during the winter months were so bad that it was decided to discontinue publication. Chipman is now a flourishing little town of about 800 people, with prospects of being the junction for the Grand Trunk Pacific, and the necessity for a local paper is beginning to be felt. As a result a number of prominent business men have been considering taking over the Queens County Gazette and publishing it there. It is expected that the paper will be first issued during the early fall. GOING BY DEGREES. A very painful and distressing accident occurred in the I. C. R. railway yard at about eleven o'clock this morning, when David Coates, a brakeman, had two fingers taken off. Only last year Mr. Coates had his left hand injured in somewhat the same manner and lost part of that hand. TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION.
