AIRSHIP TO CROSS ATLANTIC OCEAN

Wooden Dirigible Planned to Carry Thirty Passengers and do it in Two Days.

A VISION.

BERLIN, June 23.—From America to Europe in forty-eight hours in a modern airship, 425 feet long, of 450 beam, carrying thirty passengers and traveling at an altitude of 3,000 feet.

Such is the astounding plan which William Rottig is working out toward perfection, and his airship is nearing completion.

You see in America will exclaim, of course: "Herr Rottig is a half-brained visionary."

But Herr Rottig is a distinguished architect, engineer and scientist of varied attainments incidentally it may be stated his design won the first prize in the competition for the national statue to Emperor William I, a competition in which some of the most brilliant minds in Germany devoted themselves.

Furthermore, Herr Rottig is negotiating with an American company to construct several airships, the company intending to organize a super-Atlantic airship line on a strictly business basis. So hard-headed money-making Americans are anxious to have a share in the "visionary" scheme.

It is established, blow across the Atlantic at a height of 3,000 feet—have a speed of 30 miles an hour, (which is not uncommon), and calculating that my airship's speed will increase the pace at least 20 miles an hour, as it will, my ship will easily traverse the distance from the American to the European coast in about forty-eight hours.

Herr Rottig is building his airship of Canadian fir, and he declares that 2,000 miles as much gas escapes through the stuff that balloons are made of now as leaks through fir wood. Besides, the fir is very light and, immensely strong. The inventor says:

My experimental vessel for the American flight will be 425 feet long and of 450 feet beam. Two small air-balloons take up about one-tenth of the entire space. The vessel will be shaped like a cigar and is thicker at the bow. There is only one car, which hangs considerably forward of the center, for the vessel's center of gravity has been calculated at about two-fifths of the whole distance from the bow. When at anchor three-fifths of the whole distance from the bow. When at anchor three-fifths of the vessel will swing free, acting as a wind-vane. There are two motors, of which 150 horse-power, but because of the extremely pointed bow of my vessel and its general slimpness throughout, this 150 horse-power is equivalent to about 220 horse-power applied to the Zepplins. The screws will be attached to the car and operated directly by the motors. Moreover, being of wood, the vessel will present no pliable surface to the wind, cannot be pressed inward and therefore under no circumstances can form bulges which the wind will catch.

Here you can make a selection from all the authoritative styles in hundreds of fashionable, exclusive patterns of finest foreign and domestic fabrics.

Here you can be sure of getting garments, not only correct in every fashion detail, but faultless in workmanship and perfect in fit.

Pay us the compliment of a visit.

GRAPHIC HAS NO KICK COMING.

Valuation of Our Plant Fair and Equitable—Tribune's Valuation a Farce.

A DISHONEST CITIZEN.

In criticizing the action of the assessors in reducing the valuation placed on the Tribune's plant, the Graphic did not complain of its assessment, but merely made the assertion that the Tribune was assessed on only $1,000. We consider our assessment is a very fair one, and one which no citizen can complain of, and we hope to be able to pay our taxes on this valuation. What we complained of, and still contend is that the assessors did wrong; that these men had no practical knowledge of the machinery they went to value and consequently erred in placing the value of the entire plant at $100, when the newspaper press is alone worth that much. It looks as if some influence was brought to bear upon the assessors; that Mr Crockett was being paid a price for some reason which we will not here state.

The Tribune also makes the assertion that the Graphic does the "dirty work" for the Town Council. We are not aware of doing anything for any body of men in the town of Campbellton, which has not been straightforward and done with the conviction that it was in the best interests of the town. And in the meantime what of the Tribune? For some time it has been the mouth-piece of a clique who would stop at nothing to injure the town. That about has become so notorious in its dishonest dealings and unfair criticisms of town business that it is barred from the homes of the majority of Campbellton citizens. Out of six or

ANOTHER START AT DEVELOPMENT

Grand Falls Power Franchise Passes to Sir William Van Horne.

START DEVELOPING.

MONTREAL, July 4.—For some time past negotiations have been in progress between the Grand Falls Power Company and Sir Wm. C. Van Horne and others, owners of property at Grand Falls, and interested in the development of the power possibilities there. It is understood that an arrangement has been arrived at where, by the Van Horne interests will take over the old company, and, starting clear of entanglements, be in a position to see effectively in dealing with the problem of power development.

Few weeks past there has been considerable correspondence and negotiations going on between the different parties interested in the Grand Falls property and Premier Hazen, of New Brunswick, and it is believed in financial circles here that the new company will be organized under the laws of the Dominion, and put in a position to proceed without delay with the financial arrangements necessary.

TAX RATE HAS CLIMBED OWN.

Tribune Now Admits It Will Be Very Little Higher Than Last Year.

WILL BE ABOUT $1.35.

The Tribune, which a few weeks ago stated that this year the tax rate for the Town of Campbellton would be between $1.50 and $1.75, now admits that it was in error and that the rate will probably be $1.35, which is only a slight increase over last year's rate. Campbellton citizens should indeed be thankful that, despite the fact that through the rapid growth of the town much work in the extension of streets, water and sewerage and electric light systems has been undertaken, this can be done on the modest assessment of $1,500 and keep the rate lower than that of a large majority of towns in the Maritime provinces.

It speaks well for Campbellton also that the assessors have been able to find sufficient new property in the year, notwithstanding a reduction in many valuations, to make up the extra amount required without increasing the rate. Campbellton is growing and real estate is rapidly increasing in value each year.

ADOPT REPORT ON WHITE SLAVE TRAFFIC

Sessions of the National Women's Council Plan Campaign Against White Slavery.

PLAYGROUNDS.

HALIFAX, July 4.—At yesterday afternoon's session of the National Council of Women of Canada, Mrs. Sexton presented the report of the committee on the educational care of feeble minded women. Mrs. William Dennis stated what had been accomplished in Halifax. The report was adopted.

Miss Mrs. H. H. Sexton presented the report on various schools and supervised playgrounds. It recorded the development of the playground-idea in the past eight years. The philosophy of play, said the speaker, and its application, is in large measure the solution of the problem of juvenile crime. The report noted the presence in Halifax of their supervised playgrounds and at the request of the council, Miss Little gave an interesting account of the way in which they are conducted. Mrs. D. McIntosh, Montreal, told an interesting story how the Alumnae Society of McGill University are supplementing the work of the playgrounds committee there. Other details told of similar work in Toronto, St. John and other cities. Mrs. F. H. Sexton said the playgrounds are a matter for the municipality. "Let us continue to urge all the time," said she, "that the municipality take them off our hands."

At five o'clock tea was served, and a pleasant hour was spent over the cups.

In the evening a public meeting was held in the assembly hall of the school for the Blind, Prof. Maclean in the chair, and a large and truly representative audience were present. The outstanding feature of the meeting was an admirable lecture on "Child Labor," by Dr. Horning, Professor of Modern Languages, Victoria College, Toronto.

At this morning's session the report of the "White Slave" traffic, referred back yesterday, was again brought before the Council, with eliminations made to meet the views expressed by members. It was adopted.

The report of the committee on public health was presented by Mrs. Mar. Dixon. It addressed itself especially against "white slavery." The meeting was an admirable lecture on "Child Labor," by Dr. Horning, Professor of Modern Languages, Victoria College, Toronto.

THE PRIZE FIGHT.

The great prize fight, about which so much has been written and said in advance, came off on Monday, July 4th, a very poor one, by the way, to make of a national holiday. The fight does not appear to have been a spirited contest. Even the skilled reporters who usually give lively descriptions of events of this kind were not able to overcome the gloom of the occasion. Perhaps the only relief in the whole business is that the spectators of whom there were many, took their disappointment soberly, and outbreaks of feeling which were feared by many did not result. Nevertheless, the majority of people cannot but be surprised at the wonderful fascination which contests of this kind have upon the human mind.

A COMPLIMENT TO CANADA.

The London World, which last year celebrated Dominion Day by the issuance of a very creditable "Canada" supplement, has repeated the compliment this year, and has again paid a compliment to the Dominion. The supplement which is handsomely illustrated, including an excellent picture of the Parliament Buildings, contains articles upon a six weeks holiday in Canada and upon the sporting opportunities which we have to offer to the British tourists. The World, in its regular issue, has this to say of Canada:

"The Dominion offers the Mother Country a choice of work or play. As a place in which to make your living or to spend your holidays, Canada is unrivalled by any part of the world. No man or woman, who call themselves Imperialists can afford to neglect to cross the American continent under the British flag at least once in their life. If they go they will get the mental as well as physical tonic. With his intense enthusiasm, his breadth of view, his love of his country and his flag, and his rather original temperament, the modern Canadian is the Elizabethan Englishman come to life again; his attitude differs as much from the bounding Yankee as often to be met with south of the frontier, as from the calm, rather tired, unimpaired, uninteresting pose-for-it is generally a pose-of-aloofness of the average Englishman. There is a good deal of rather witty talk, in both English and Canadian newspapers, about the bad feeling caused by the difficulty of the understanding the other. The difficult

Our Local Shakespeare Club.

All of our numerous readers, who have indicated their intention to join our Local Shakespeare Club, are enthusiastic in their praise of our weekly feature, a "sermon from Shakespeare." They but echo the opinions of the leaders of literature and religion on the American Continent, that these sermons are gems of literature on a theme of vital human interest. The "Associated Press Shakespeare Club" is an international organization of newspaper publishers, formed for the specific purpose of promoting the reading of Shakespearean literature, while incidentally furnishing popular and healthful newspaper matter. This A. P. S. C. is composed of Century Clubs and Local Clubs. Each Century Club is made up of one hundred newspapers and each Local Club is composed of the readers of the individual newspaper controlling the same, who complete the reading of the 37 Shakespearean sermons and answer the ten questions as outlined. The Club has assumed considerable financial obligations to secure so valuable a service for its readers and to give them the pleasure and profit of participating in the $100.00 to be given in prizes to each Century Club. The past and future announcements for full particulars. The contest starts about Aug. 1 but use the ty is largely imaginary; the twin peoples differ in certain characteristics, but are alike in many more. Perhaps the best way to express the difference is by saying that the Canadian is a good fellow and a sound man, the Englishman who has never been out of England (think goodness there are others though also a good fellow, is too often taught by his training and environment to believe that there is something wrong in being what you are. In this connection the closing words of Mr. Osborn's article in the Portfolio may be commended: "Do not criticize! Accept offers of service gratefully and gracefully. Be glad to talk to anybody and everybody. When asked how you like the country reply that it is the greatest that you have ever seen. That will be quite true."

It is a mistake to think that the advertisement demands upon the press. For many years we have existed on a profound interest—before it came off—this one has, or which has made greater demands upon the press. It is only a few weeks since a woman was allowed to practice law in Switzerland. It was to Fraulein Brustlein, the daughter of a Swiss judge, that this privilege was accorded, and she made excellent use of her first opportunity as a pleader by winning a case in which a woman gatekeeper was accused of criminal negligence. The prisoner had closed the gate just too late to prevent a child which was wandering on the line from being killed by an express train.

Fraulein Brustlein pleaded that poor pay, long hours and unpunctuality of the express train in question, except on the day of the fatality, were responsible for the crime, and so the jury thought, for it acquitted the poor woman.

At a meeting in all of the Bedford College for women at Sunderland House which was lent for the occasion by the Duchess of Marlborough, the Duchess, in the course of a witty speech, spoke of the splendid type of college-bred woman which America produces.

Men, she said, had not found that college-bred girls made less devoted wives and mothers than others. If women were tactful enough not to argue to worst their husbands in argument and to keep any superabundant knowledge up their sleeves, there seemed to be little opposition on the husband's part to his wife being well educated.

It was difficult to comprehend why there should be such a deep-rooted objection on the part of Englishmen to the higher education of their wives. There must be some secret fear, that hard as they found it to understand woman now, it would be absolutely beyond their ken were she highly educated.

There were, the Duchess continued, enormous possibilities open to intellectual and highly trained women in America, and there would be in time just as good opportunities for women in Canada and other overseas dominions—perhaps even in England; one never could tell.

THE LIQUOR AND THE MAN: JUDGE RITCHIE SPEAKS PLAINLY

"What good has the liquor dealer ever done you, or your family?" asked Judge Ritchie this morning of a prisoner in the police court, charged with drunkenness. "What value have you ever got front your money, hard earned, paid to him?" Nothing, but the loss of your respectability, and a source of worry and disgrace to your family. I know you—I know your family, certainly a respectable one, which you are now disgracing."

The liquor dealer has a good time of the money which you pay him, whereas you could have a better time by spending it otherwise, perhaps in lending your mother, father, sister, for a drive. The liquor dealer is able to do this on your money, and he can enjoy himself with automobiles, summer cottages, etc.—all the fruit of your hard labor."

"When I was younger than you, I joined the Father Matthew Association, and I have had a good time with out having recourse to drink. I want not only the police to assist in checking this awful habit of rum drinking, but I want the courts to punish those who render every aid possible also. If any one knows of an interested drinking liquor, he should report the matter to the authorities."—St. John Times.
