GREAT ACTIVITY AT BUSY BATH

Lifting of Embargo on Cars Gives Big Impetus to Shipping

The last week has been a very busy one in local shipping circles. An activity similar to that witnessed during the days of the Great War was staged by local shippers. This activity, being due to the lifting of the embargo on cars to United States points.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Haley returned from Lynn, Mass., on Friday last. Sheriff A. R. Foster, Hartland, was in town on Friday on professional business.

Don't to Mr. and Mrs. Danes, Church St., on April 22, a week. Joseph Craine, Johnville, who spent the past winter in Portland, has returned home.

An Ice Cream parlor has been opened in the J. N. Drott building by Fred Drott, and we feel sure that he will be well patronized as he states that he will do all in his power to serve the public as they wish to be served.

Bridge Inspector H. W. Craine has a crew engaged shingling the Monmouth highway bridge.

James Gibson of this place, but who has been teaching in Victoria county, has had to return home on account of illness.

Holland Gibson of Capel was in town on Tuesday last.

The Senior Bath Dramatic Club will present "The Goodies" on May 2, at the Elite Theatre. A Three Act play rich in laughs and fancy costumes. The plot centres around an Egyptian scarab. Egypt has been in the limelight of late. Improve your Egyptian by attending. Remember the Elite Theatre on May 2.

Wm. Brown who for the past three weeks has been ill, is recuperating. He left last week for St. John on a visit to his brother, F. P. Brennan, 298 Union St.

On Saturday April 26, a portion of the bridge joining Bath and Newbury, started on its annual journey to the Bay of Fundy. The remainder followed Sunday morning. The river is now quite clear of ice. The passenger ferry was running for the first on Monday of this week.

Miss Emma Gillingham is visiting with friends and relatives in Washburn and Eagle Lake, Me.

Miss Lester, E. N., returned on Monday from Pittsburgh.

Arthur Drott, is busily engaged in renovating the Riverside Garage, preparatory to the summer rush.

Frank Palmer left last week on business to Fredericton.

Dr. Bailey was in town during the past week. Last week before the bridge moved out Lee Cain of Knoxford in attempting to cross the river has as usual broke through the ice cutting one of his horses pretty badly. He succeeded in getting them out, however, not much the worse for their ducking. We believe now, that should the occasion arise, Mr. Cain would heartily join in the chorus of any song, entitled "Somewhere near Bath there Should be a Bridge."

The many friends of Mrs. Charles Roberts, Red Rapids, will regret to hear that she had the misfortune to break a leg. At the present time the writer has not heard any details as to how or where it happened. Suffice to say, that her many friends are very sorry to hear of her misfortune.

The opening of the Elite Theatre as a motion picture house on last Friday evening, was a grand success. Burpee & Tedlie care to be congratulated on their appointing Mr. W. J. Gorman as manager. There is no reason why this popular form of entertainment should not thrive and receive the support which it deserves. The program last Friday night was of a three-fold character. The Pathé News was educational as well as humorous; the pictures portraying the St. John Carnival and Winter Sports showed the great possibilities this province has of becoming a mecca for winter tourists; and thirdly, "Through a Glass Window" featuring May McEwen. The story of temptations, poverty overcome, through the kindness of friends and hard work.

The public wants good, clean pictures and if such are run here, Messrs. Burpee & Tedlie will find that their enterprise will meet with success.

On Friday evening 27th, the following will be screened: "Wallace Reid in 'The Champion'" also a Pathe News and a Scenic. "What's wrong with Women" a super-special is the feature for next week.

WALLY REID TRAINS FOR ROLE IN NEW PHOTOPLAY

Star of "The World's Champion" Does Fistic Stunts With Realism in View

When Wallace Reid, Paramount star, agreed to do the title role in "The World's Champion" from the successful play by Thomas London and A. E. Thomas, as his new starring vehicle, which will be shown at Hartland tonight, Bath tomorrow night and Centerville on Saturday, he drew a large order, for to portray a prizefight champion and to show the pugilist in action in the heat in which he grabs the prize belt is a stunt that cannot be "faked" before the camera.

Although Reid was no novice with the gloves, having been for a long time a boxing enthusiast, there were nevertheless many tricks for him to master, and to perfect his role he went through a daily course of rigid training for several weeks prior to the filming of the fight scenes.

Under the clever direction of Philip E. Rosen, the scenes of "The World's Champion" are more realistic and the picture is declared to be highly diverting. J. E. Nash adapted the play to the screen and Mr. Reid is supported by John Wilson, Lionel Belmore, Henry Miller, Jr., Helen Dunbar, and other players.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL ITEMS

On Saturday evening the management was obliged to substitute
"Through a Glass Window" for the regular show advertised. This proved a most touching little drama of the daily happenings of a couple of families who eked out the sordid existence in the neighborhood of the Bowers and Sixth Avenue. A pretty little love story brightened up the many tribulations. May McAvoy was charming in the leading role with Raymond McKee as the hero. A Burton Holmes Travelogue, A Pine Weekly and the pictures of the St. John Winter Carnival and Miss Canada
made a most complete bill. On Saturday the 28th, there will be shown "World's Champion", a famous players feature with an all star cast and on Tuesday "French Heels" featuring Irene Castle. News reels and comedies will supplement each show.

The mock trial conducted by the pupils of the Superior School and principal was held in the Opera House on Friday evening in the presence of a large court. King Tutenkhamen called his court at 8.30 and the remainder of the evening was occupied in the consideration of an alleged case of Bigamy, perpetrated by one Everett Hoyt Snubbins, an amorous colored gentleman, of decided polygamous intentions and inclinations. Evidence was adduced from individuals of divers nationality and sex ranging from low brow Jews to high caste Irish noblemen. The culprit was at times in danger of a Ku Kluxing by the enraged audience, as evidence of the most damning nature was piled up against him. Many local quips were introduced. The victim is now doing time up in the C. N. R. railroad yards.

MRS. CASTLE AGAIN APPEARS ON SCREEN
Makes First Public Appearance in Period of Two Years

Mrs. Irene Castle, famous danseuse and actress, appears again on the silver sheet for the first time in more than two years, in the picture called "French Heels" which comes to the Neighborhood theatre next week.

It is difficult to estimate in advance
the welcome that local theatre patrons will accord this celebrated and popular artiste. Suffice to say that the Neighborhood theatre will no doubt be crowded to capacity.

The story of "French Heels" introduces Mrs. Castle in a series of whirlwind events. She dances, rides, swims, and wears a number of stunning wraps and gowns that will no doubt be the envy of every woman in town. The action of the story takes place in New York City and in the lumber camps of the far north. It is a modern story, written especially for the star, and is said to provide her with some of the best opportunities of her career.

"French Heels" which is a Hodkinson released picture, was directed by Edwin L. Hollywood, who for several years was production manager for Mary Pickford.

MRS. CHARLES GEE

The sudden death of Mrs. Charles Gee took place at her home in Summerfield, April 8. She was taken ill on Friday morning and passed peacefully away on Sunday in the 57th year of her age. The deceased was a daughter of the late Percy G. and Martha Smith of Summerfield. She was a member of the Methodist church since her early girlhood and was much loved by all who knew her. All that loving hands and medical skill could do was done, but all of no avail. She leaves to mourn their sad loss, her sorrowing husband and eight children. Two sons, Merrill and Manzer at home, and six daughters, Mrs. Howard Antworth, Mrs. Lee Thomas of Greene Settlement, Mrs. Russell Green
of Summerfield, Mrs. Lewis Lawrence, Mrs. Alvin Hadden of Knoxford, and Clara at home, and fifteen grand children; also two sisters—Mrs. Charles Brown of Summerfield and Mrs. Simonson Luna of Lovell, Maine; three brothers, James and William Smith of Summerfield and Charles of Riverside, Calif. The funeral service was held at the Summerfield Methodist church on Tuesday at 2 o'clock by the pastor, Rev. D. R. Chown. Interment was made in the Summerfield cemetery before the service.

And our hearts are bowed in sorrow,

Your Rheumatism —its origin

You would not have rheumatism if your kidneys performed their proper function of expelling uric acid from your system. Uric acid causes rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica and kindred ailments.
What you need is Gin Pills.
They act directly on the kidneys—the source of all the trouble. They neutralize the uric acid, relieve the congestion and cause the kidneys to resume their work. Thousands have found quick and permanent relief from rheumatism by using Gin Pills.

A headache is frequently caused by badly digested food; the gases absorbed by the blood which in turn irritates the nerves and

MAKE HOME AND THE TOWN ATTRACTIVE

Why is it the average young man of twenty has an intense longing for life in the big cities?

Why is it that millions of men of maturity in the cities have an equally intense longing for the peace and quietness of the rural districts they left in their younger days?

The country town does not blaze with the bright lights of life as do the great cities. It is small, but it is solid, and substantial, and inclined to be subdued. It's citizens' words are as good as their bonds, and their reputations stand high in the sight of their fellow men, but the variety and excitement that appeals to youth is too often missing. Hence youth becomes fretful, and impatient of restraint, and finally breaks the home ties and rushes into the maelstrom of metropolitan existence.

Once in the great city, possibly one in ten succeed, and a few forge gradually to the front. In time these few are known to the world as self-made men. The other nine are not so fortunate.

Opportunities are numerous, it is true, but where there is one opportunity there are many young men of varied experience to grasp it.

Thus the great majority of young men from the country who invade the cities expecting to set the world afire find that about the best they can do is to burn the candle at both ends.

Too proud to go back to the home town and confess failure, they just plug along and do the best they can, disillusioned and wiser, but not better off.

They are the millions who, later in life, long for the peace and quietude of the home towns they left in their younger days.

The remedy is simple. Pull the home town out of the rut and the boys won't want to rush out of the town.

Loosen up on the purse strings and introduce some spice and variety into our community life.

Make the country town and the farm so attractive to our young people the city will no longer appeal to them. Don't expect our boys and girls with red blood in their veins to be content with spending their lives in a cemetery.

Begin to live yourself, and you won't be opposed to allowing the rising generation to do the same.

Life is full of changes, and there is only one end for the person who is not willing to change with the times.

A VISION OF UTOPIA

(Contributed)

A great many of the older folk are given to criticizing the younger generation nowadays without, apparently, first considering the younger person's point of view. We live in a progressive age, nobody dare deny, and it is not a natural sequence that the young folks, who have the world before them, should endeavor to keep step with what is going on around them?

First and foremost it is the fundamentals which have been weighed in the balance and found wanting. If every Christian in the world today were truthfully living the religion he professes, we should find a different set of ideals in our young men and women. Christianity was surely never meant to be shut inside its churches or closed up with the pages and covers of its Bibles. If we could so desire, and therefore receive, the spirit of Christ, that we could go out into life's everyday highways and byways, and radiate a sweetening and uplifting influence upon those around us, to such an extent that others would be impelled to live better and closer to God, would not the world be a finer place? If we could attain our highest ideals and make practical use of them, could we not carry our Christianity into all our home and business activities? And if we could carry it so far, why could we not take it into our pleasures? An action is made what it is by the mind which plans it.

If we believe in a God at all, we must believe that He is everywhere—no corner or crevice in the whole universe is too insignificant for His comprehension. His presence must be felt in the meanest dwelling, the grandest palace, the saloon and the public dance-hall, as well as in the church and cathedral. It is only because the individual deliberately shuts the eyes and doors of his soul to the better things that the drinking saloon in any country is allowed to exist. The minds of men and women have made public dance-halls and women's dress what they are today, and have allowed the insidious drug-tend to hold sway where health and strength should reign supreme.

The Christian religion was not intended to be a long-faced, straight-backed affair, to be used only by old people who are weary of the world's sinful ways. It was meant to be a joyous, vigorous theme, pulsating with clean life, and governed by the greatest things in the world, Love. Love accepts no half-measures.

Truth, Honesty, Reverence, true Sportsmanship, a keen sense of Honor and has the welfare of others at heart. If only our politicians, leaders of education and of commerce in all branches of activity could bring themselves to live the true community life, the rising generation would have a cleaner, saner world to step out into when the time comes, as it inevitably must, to leave the home and seek "fresh fields and pastures new." Our home influence is the greatest influence around us. If we can so teach and train the young lives entrusted to our care to live for the highest things attainable that the lower or baser subjects will not appeal to them, have we not, in some measure, insured them against yielding to the temptations which must surely arise?

Our bodies are the temples in which we live. If we allow them a life of indulgence and intemperance, we undermine the foundation, the pillars rotter and the walls crumble to decay. Temperance, in the fullest, broadest sense of the word, is necessary if we mean to build temples fit for the Spirit of God to enter and enrich with His presence. Indulgence in any form we may call sin. Sin obliterates and gradually crushes out the finer issues of life, especially religion. If we indulge our pleasures, then, the exclusion of all else that really counts, until the mad pursuit of our favorite pastime becomes an obsession, we sin. We crowd out our better aspirations and give them, at best, only a secondary consideration. Pleasures and pastimes in their rightful place are a necessity, a means of recreation. Every normal child is born with the play instinct, and no sane person would endeavor to keep a child from playing. Adults are only children grown bigger and older, and perhaps wiser and their playtime is exactly what they plan it to be.

Shall we not, then, set up higher standards for our young people? A perpetual reaching up for higher things must inevitably leave its impression, and, even if we cannot see immediate results, let us remember that:

"The smallest effort is not lost;
Each wavelet on the ocean tossed
Aids in the ebb-tide or the flow;
Each raindrop makes some floweret blow.
Each struggle lessens human woe."
Evelyn R. Wright.

Chaille States Tanlac Built Him Up Recently Like It Did Years Ago

"I was about the first man in Montreal to buy Tanlac when it was put on sale here, and ever since then I have been one of its firmest friends," declared Mr. S. Chaille, 54 De Grandpro St., Montreal, Jan. Mr. Chaille has been in the real estate business for twenty years and is well-known throughout the city.

"I was feeling greatly in need of a tonic at that time," he continued, "and as the ads. said Tanlac was good for anybody in a badly run-down condition, I decided to try it. The medicine promptly built me up and I was soon back in fine health."

"I have been strong and well ever since, until a few weeks ago when I began to get weaker and felt all tired out, and was afraid I would catch the grippe if I didn't keep fit. So I went back to Tanlac and now taking it, with the same good results I got before. It certainly is a dependable medicine, and I'll always recommend it."

Tanlac is for sale by all good drug gists. Accept no substitute. Over 35-million bottles sold.

IN THE SPRINGTIME

St. John, N. B., April 18, 1933.
Editor of Observer, Ltd., Hartland.

Dear Sir: I am going to call the following few remarks in "The Springtime". I don't want you to get alarmed thinking that this is some usual fulsome poetical effusions insisted on the public about this time annually. It is just a few remarks appropriate to this season of the year.

Most of us are glad that the long, grey winter is about over, and that the time of singing of the birds has come. I can hear a very sweet song being sung by a robin while I am writing, and the refrain is being taken up by other birds nearby. Every creature seems to rejoice that the very severe winter is about a thing of the past. But the heavy snow is in a way a good friend to the farmer as it keeps everything warm and cozy for him underground, and supplying the necessary moisture to the soil, not in bucketfuls, which wash out everything, but filtering gently through the earth, quietly doing its work of preparation for the seed. But you can't have it always, and as it is promised that seed time and harvest shall not fail, we need not be bothering our heads too much. It is very comforting to reflect how seldom they have failed. I cannot recall a single instance. There are bad years and good years, of course, sometimes the springtime is favorable, sometimes the reverse. But nothing can ever rob it of its lure for the heart and mind. It is immortal youth come to its own again. Even the middle-aged ones and the "fogies" feel the blood coursing more quickly through their veins. It has just a few drawbacks, however, especially for the lazy and spineless ones. For everybody is expected to get a move on, to be up and doing, and to show a quickened interest in everything. And now I come to a very important part of the spring program, namely, Spring Housecleaning. That is the biggest bogey of all, saving and excepting to those who are actively engaged on it. There is one going on in our house now. I had to hunt nearly half an hour for my fountain pen, and then found it had been put away, not by me, in a safe place where nobody could find it, nor yet remember. And all my books are off the shelves, and the pictures are arranged in stacks against the wall; while an energetic person who sometimes sits quietly and talks to me in the twilight has her sleeves up to the elbows, and wearing some kind of an indescribable head-dress is polishing wildly with a leather and a duster.

"Just think how nice it will be when it's all done," she says cheerfully. When I venture to say weekly that it is done often a earthquake might not be necessary, she looks at me rather pityingly, the way women can look when you are invading their preserves with the futile remarks men make when handling things they presumably know nothing about.

In the spring we have the summer in front, a cheering, heartening thought. It is the time for making plans, for saying we will do this thing and that. We plan our grand holidays, most of which we never take, but half the fun of life is planning and talking about what we would do if we had the chance, what voyages we will take when the ship comes in.

Ah, those ships, some of them carry a good long while on the salt seas that are supposed to be bringing them, and some of them never come into port at all. Some of them we know never could come, for the gales would not be favoring gales. We launch them, however, with good heart, and hope that someday we will see the bellying sail on the horizon of our dreams.

Now Mr. Editor that is enough about spring. I was pleased to note that you have had a very successful contest as to who would continue Carleton I congratulate the successful candidate and also The Observer on its increased circulation. It is a bright and newsy paper and I hope this is the springtime of its existing prosperity, and that it will continue to grow and delight its readers with lots of news. I hope to see you and all the good people in Carleton county when I come up on my business trip in the near future.

Yours sincerely,
W. H. ROSS,
94 Spring St., St. John, N. B.

THE MOST BEAUTIFUL CAR IN AMERICA

Standard equipment of all Paige Models includes: 6 cord tires, tubes, rims. Spares mounted on each side with lock and tire cover. Motometer. Double bar spring bumpers front and rear. Luggage carrier. Combination tail and stop light.

Automatic windshield wiper. Aluminum kick plates. Gasoline gauge on dash. Eight-day Waltham clock. Electric cigar lighter. Green glass sunshade. Rear-view mirror. Snubbers front and rear. Power tire pump.

We Announce—with Pride—Paige and Jewett Motor Cars!

The Ideal Paige Is Your Ideal Car!

The new, six-cylinder, 70-horsepower Paige for 1933 is incomparably beautiful, powerful and well-appointed. Bodies are creations of ultra-fine coachwork; doubly braced; ruggedly and dependably built. Not a piece of imitation leather anywhere. Rich in the small touches of big appeal. Commodious to an extreme. Throughout the car are superior chassis features hitherto exclusive to European custom practice.

In performance the ideal Paige equals every expectation. Reserve power makes you master of every situation. Swing from 2 to 70 miles per hour in high gear. Laugh at traffic. In emergency, shift gears swiftly as your hand can move; you cannot "jerk" or "clash," however inexpert. Drop from high to second at 30 miles per hour, if you wish.

A new automatic take-up for silent motor driving chains postpones adjustment indefinitely. New-type, all-steel universal joints have oil-tight, sealed-in lubrication; good for 15,000 miles. High-pressure oiling insures an ever-silent, sweet-running motor.

The new Paige is thoughtfully outfitted for utter convenience—nothing to buy but fuel and oil. Read the equipment listed at left of illustration. All instruments grouped under glass panel on walnut dash. Walnut steering wheel with finger controls. Complete from stoplight to tire pump. Don't fail to see the Paige for yourself.

Both Paige and Jewett are breaking all previous sales records. They are doing it on sheer extra value and merit. Come in and see the line before you buy, and rest your case on facts of performance!

WANTS TO HELP OTHER WOMEN

Grateful for Health Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Toronto, Ont.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for backache and for weak and dreary feelings caused by my condition. Sometimes I felt so bad that I couldn't do my housework. My neighbor told me of your medicine and I read about it in the 'Toronto Telegram' and thought I would take it. I got very good results. It built me up and I have told several friends what it has done for me. You may use this testimonial as it may be of help to some one who has suffered as I have."—Mrs. J. Lee, 25 Harvie Ave., Toronto, Ont.

Mrs. Lee is willing to write to any girl or woman suffering from such troubles, and answer any questions they may like to ask.

Women suffering from female troubles causing backache, irregularities, pains, bearing-down feelings and weakness should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Not only is the worth of this splendid medicine shown by such cases as this, but for nearly fifty years letters like this have been received from thousands of women.

Edmundston Locals

The latest reports are that there are 131 cases of typhoid in town.

Vital statistics for March: 25 births, 1 marriage and 9 deaths.

The editor of the Observer was laid up for two or three days the beginning of this week.

Miss Helen Stevens left on Thursday for St. Stephens where she will be a visitor for a few weeks.

Dr. W. D. Rankine of Woodstock was a professional visitor to town this week. He came to see Douglas Dunbar who has been very ill.

Mrs. R. B. Owens, who has been visiting friends and relatives at St. Andrews and St. Stephen since Easter, is expected to arrive home this week end.

We regret to announce the death of Mrs. Pea Gagnon who died on Monday leaving a husband and four sons to mourn her loss. Also in the prime of young manhood, Dennis Cyr leaving a wife and two children.

Married on April 10, Alphonse St. Onge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Belonde St. Onge of Madawaska Parish to Miss Amelia Morin daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Morin of the same parish, at the Immaculate Conception church by the Rev. Father Conway.

Married April 10, Joseph Stanislaus Paul Henry Plote, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanislaus Plote of St. Bruno, P. Q. to Miss Marie Anne La Gasse, daughter of the late Fred and Mrs. St. Pierre of Edmundston, at the Immaculate Conception Church by the Rev. Father Conway.

Our readers will be interested in the announcement in this week's paper relating to the taking over of the Palatine Fire Insurance Agency held formerly by George Theriault, by G. N. Begin. This company is an exceedingly strong one and Mr. Begin is to be congratulated on acquiring it.

A meeting of doctors connected with the Provincial Board of Health was held at the residence of Dr. LaPorte on Tuesday. Among those present besides Dr. LaPorte were Drs. Desmond, Wade and Cyr. We are glad to report to our readers that the medical men believe that the epidemic is well in hand and that the cases are diminishing.

We hear great praise on every hand of the concert held in the Casino last week in aid of the Catholic church. The talent was of the very best, the songs were well received, and there was a snap about the whole program which appealed to the big audience. Miss Molanac in her dances brought down the house and was repeatedly encored. The concert was such a great success that it had to be repeated this week and the second performance was fully as good as the first.

There will be an exhibition of sewing the work of the evening classes on the evening of the 24th at the new school building. It will be remembered that last year the work which these classes did was of a very high class. The work that has been done this year, we are told, is just as good if not better. The public is cordially invited to come. Vocational work is what is needed here and in every town and village in Canada. Let us give the students, the instructors, and the trustees of the school the support which they are entitled to in this matter of vocational work which helps in the building up of a happy and comfortable home.

IN-KNOCK-YOU-LAY-TED

Nervously I paced the doctor's office. What would he do, and what would the outcome be? A faint shriek reached me from the physician's sanctum sanctorum, followed by still another, and yet another. A moment afterwards a bevy of young girls came out, holding their arms gingerly, and somewhat tenderly, and they looked with a certain hauteur on those of us in the medicine waiting room, a look as much as to say "We have a superior knowledge to you."

Presently the white robed nurse appeared and asked whose turn next it was, and all present in extremely courteous manner wished the other one to go forward. But, alas, they all spotted me as the one who had been there the longest, and drawing in a long breath, and gathering my courage I followed the doctor's fair assistant.

The doctor was in his element. No nervousness here. He greeted me warmly and smiled as he casually mentioned that I was the seven hundred and fifty-ninth he had worked on that day. "Would you prefer it on your arm, or your collar bone?" he politely enquired. He mentioned casually that it would not hurt—much. He also mentioned that the inoculation consisted in burying just a few thousand million dead typhoid germs in your body. He took out a needle—a hollow needle—that looked a yard long. He filled the syringe with "bacilli typhoidi." The gentle million went in your chest. The doctor advanced with military step, they rubbed you with alcohol, to clear off the place you forgot to wash when you got up, and then he stuck you, and in a moment a thousand million dead germs are coming through your many veins. I am quite sure of the number, because the doctor and I counted them previously, and we had to go to the second bottle, because the first bottle was just five short. That is how I am so SURE of the number.

Oh, no, it didn't hurt—you rather enjoyed it, especially the other fellow got done. There comes a big man, obviously nervous. The doctor deals with him gently, and he is gently led away to recuperate. There comes a great war veteran, Oh! he's an old hand at it, he tells you that he has been inoculated for everything from chilblains to lovesickness. He says in the war they inoculated the men every morning before breakfast, just to give the doctors exercise. He shows you his arm, which looks like a pin cushion with all the pins taken out.

Next there comes a nonchalant business man. He says he doesn't mind in the least—but you know that at that moment he is a denier of the truth.

I wish I were a doctor, and could choose some of my patients to inoculate. There are so many of ones friends to whom it would be a real pleasure just to stick that little innocent looking needle—thirty-six inches long—more or less, into.

Next one please!

Severe Kidney Trouble

Mrs. F. Rinehart, Campbellville, Ont., writes:

"I had trouble with my kidneys and very frequent urination. This was followed by pains which at times were very severe. The doctor said I had inflammation of the bladder and that an operation might be necessary. To this I refused, and began using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. From the first few doses I felt the benefit. The pains left, urination was corrected, and I have had no recurrence of these ailments."

POTASH IN FERTILIZER

One of our customers writes us that he has heard we are not using European Potash in our fertilizer, but instead are using the same kind of Potash made during the war, which contained a small quantity of borax found to be very injurious to plants. He also tells us if we are using European Potash to notify our customers, as this report is cutting down our sales.

We are glad to be able to tell all the users of fertilizer and the dealers in fertilizer in New Brunswick that we have not—even during the war period—used anything but the regulation European Potash. Further than this we believe we are the largest importers of Potash in Canada for fertilizer purposes.

With the planting season coming on we have a full supply of all our different brands of mixed fertilizers in stock and are prepared to give any order prompt shipment. This is all thoroughly mixed, fine ground and in good drilling condition.

We also carry a complete line of unmixed fertilizer chemicals. Both on mixed fertilizers and chemicals we are quoting very attractive prices delivered at New Brunswick points, carload lots, cash terms. WE SUGGEST THAT FARMERS, DEALERS and Agricultural Societies write us before arranging for their fertilizer this year. We can quote the best prices and prompt shipment in any quantity.
