

DEMANDS CONFISCATION OF ALL IDLE FACTORIES

ASK PROVINCIAL BOARD'S APPROVAL OF SEWER SCHEME

City Engineer Will Submit Wellington-High Street Proposals to Ontario Officials.

WILL PROVIDE WORK

City Engineer P. W. Near and Assistant Engineer Veitch go to Toronto tomorrow to seek the approval of the provincial health authorities for the contemplated Wellington-High Street sewer scheme.

This undertaking, at an estimated cost of $300,000 roughly, was initiated by the city council, and the 30-day time limit has elapsed without objection being raised by a sufficient number of the ratepayers. City Engineer Near explains that nothing now could halt the project but the disapproval of the provincial board of health. Such action is not expected, however, will be charged with arranged for a conference in Toronto tomorrow with the provincial sanitary engineer.

The engineer will bring his plans and specifications to the capital, in order that the entire proposal may be thoroughly explained to the authorities. It is a big problem, involving intricate and important questions of the city's sewer disposal scheme.

When the work is finally authorized, and the third and final reading of the bylaw is passed in council, it is intended to commence whatever portion of the work possible, in order to provide work for the city's unemployed—bona fide citizens only.

Minister Who Was Tarr'd And Feathered Declares His Intentions Misjudged

Rev. Elijah Bundock of Stirling Church Gives His Side of Story.

TO TRY CITIZENS

Pastor Tells of His Agreement With the Stewart Family.

Special to The Advertiser. Belleville, Nov. 22.—"I felt sorry for the old people in their loneliness and tried to help them about the farm all I could, but the townspeople thought my intentions selfish and attacked me cruelly."

Thus Rev. Elijah E. Bundock, pastor of the Apostolic Church in Stirling, explained to The Advertiser the position of the incident which will be threshed out in court here on Friday when a number of Stirling men, whose names have not yet been divulged, will be charged with assault. The trial was to have opened yesterday, but was postponed.

Mr. Bundock, a short man of stocky build, who does not look his 51 years, told The Advertiser his story of his relations with the Stewart family.

"I went to the Stewart property, 1920, to start an Apostolic Church," he explained, "and lived at the home of Mrs. Stewart. We got along splendidly. I was working the Stewart farm on shares, besides preaching and had come to an agreement, through a power of attorney, to run the farm."

Mr. Bundock said he also held a first mortgage on the Stewart property. This, Mr. Bundock says, was given him for money loaned and for his share of the farm proceeds. "My relations with the Stewarts were honorable and I was trying to do good."

According to Mr. Bundock, Mrs. Stewart first showed dissatisfaction with the arrangements in July last. Then on August 7 he received a letter from her demanding that he vacate the premises. He replied by sending in a claim for amounts alleged to be due him.

Mr. Bundock says, was settled by a dispute between the parties in dispute between the parties in dispute.

"Meantime a wave of lawlessness broke out against me," continued Mr. Bundock. "On Nov. 2 some youths stoned the church and broke windows. On the night of Nov. 9 the house was attacked by a mob using guns, and a regular battle followed. They had made the house uninhabitable and I went with my wife, who was living elsewhere."

"After that things quieted down, but on the night of Nov. 13, after paying service, I was again attacked by a mob of about 100 men just as I stepped from church."

The pastor then described in detail the tar and feathering incident.

STATES MILLIONAIRE PRESS ONLY CRITICS

Arthur Henderson, the Famous British Labor Leader, Opens His Election Campaign.

Associated Press Despatch. London, Nov. 22.—Arthur Henderson, Labor leader, in opening his campaign in Newcastle today, said the only criticism of the Labor party was that it was not a millionaire's party.

Only a quarter of a million persons would pay under the levy, he declared.

A torchlight procession and a huge floral horseshoe were featured at Ramsay MacDonald's welcome at Aberdeen last night where he formally adopted as the Labor candidate. He was met by a crowd of 30,000, some of whom dragged his motor car three miles.

The Labor leader declared that protection as proposed by the government would ruin the South Wales and adjoining coal fields.

Speaking at Paisley, the Liberal Lord Derby and Lord Robert Cecil as Unionist free traders, "weak in the knees and supple in the spine."

He declared the government was unable to give an answer to what tariffs were proposed. The government's policy was in a tangle of confusion and incoherence, not even economic.

READING BLOCK IS BURNED WITH LOSS OF MILLION

Associated Press Despatch. Reading, Pa. Nov. 22.—The entire plant of the Jackson Cordage Company was swept by fire last night with a loss estimated by officials at nearly a million dollars. The blaze was discovered in a new concrete building in the centre of a group of old structures about an hour after closing time.

Before the flames could reach the place, the flames had spread to adjoining buildings, and they were held at bay by a series of explosions. The origin of the fire is uncertain. The factory is built over an area of almost two city blocks, and contains almost a dozen buildings.

Hon. Lincoln Goldie, Provincial Secretary, Arrives to Open Thomas Alway Home.

Hon. Lincoln Goldie, provincial secretary, who arrived in London today in connection with the opening of the Thomas Alway Home, denied any knowledge of a serious case of provincial debt or of the statement attributed to the premier that when the books of the U. F. O. administration were disclosed to the public they would be confronted with a serious position.

"I know nothing about it," the minister said this morning. "I have been away from Toronto for some time now. The question of the provincial debt and the books of the U. F. O. may have been discussed by the cabinet in my absence, but I personally know very little about the state of affairs at all. There have been strikes in the last few years, but I don't know that the public is unduly worried over them."

ALLEGED WIFE-KILLER CAUGHT IN HOME TOWN

E. Fountaine Thought To Have Been Insane—Four Small Children Left.

Associated Press Despatch. Providence, R. I., Nov. 22.—Ernest Fountaine, of Warren, was arrested by the police of that town early this morning, charged with beating and kidnapping his wife and four small children. He was taken to the police station and held in the city jail.

It is believed that he was suddenly insane. Mrs. Fountaine and her husband had quarreled violently earlier in the evening. Their altercation continued after they had retired.

He attacked her, police state, and she fled to the street to seek safety. Neighbors, attracted by her screams for help, arrived too late to prevent the tragedy.

Four small children of the couple were in the house at the time of the alleged murder.

HOESCH ENTERS PROTEST AGAINST AID OF FRENCH

Associated Press Despatch. Berlin, Nov. 22.—Leopold von Hoesch, the German charge d'affaires in Paris, has handed to the French government and newspapers a note protesting against the French authorities, assisting the separatists in the Bavarian Palatinate and hindering German officials in combating seditious or revolutionary elements.

The note cites a number of individual cases for protest, especially incidents at Speyer and Kaiserslautern.

PROMISES CORRESPONDENTS TO GET EQUAL TREATMENT

Associated Press Despatch. BUSINESS GOOD IS REPORT FROM THEATRE HEADS

John R. Minihinnick Says Trans-Canada Men Expect Good Future.

NO PRICE BOOSTS

No increase in prices of the Grand Opera House is contemplated, John R. Minihinnick, manager, said today, in discussing the advance in admission costs decided on by local moving picture theatre managers this week.

Mr. Minihinnick returned yesterday from a tour of the theatre managers in Toronto where the question of boosting prices was considered. They concluded that it was better policy to keep prices as they are and play to capacity houses than to make increases and play to small audiences.

A distinct improvement in business was noted by the theatre men with whom Mr. Minihinnick came in contact. Reports from each link in the Grand Opera House chain of opera houses in Canada show a depression which characterized the theatre business a year or so ago has given place to a more optimistic outlook.

The matter was quite satisfactory to the proprietors and managers.

Mr. Minihinnick said the local Grand Opera House was singularly fortunate. While the cost of the best seats for Columbia burlesque shows was $1.50 in American cities, the price here is only 75 cents. The theatre men here are quite satisfied with the situation.

Boom Henry Ford For President

Associated Press Despatch.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 22.—Resolutions formally calling a convention at Detroit, Dec. 12, and endorsing Henry Ford for president on a ticket to be known as that of the "People's Progressive Party," were adopted by the group of Progressives, Farmer-Laborites, Independents and Liberals, headed by Roy K. Harrop, national temporary chairman of the Progressive party here yesterday.

Fifteen states were represented, according to a statement given out by Mr. Harrop.

GIVEN SAFE CONDUCT TO THE CITY LIMITS

Hobo Caught in Railway Yard Told To Keep On Traveling.

Andy Horngik, the first honest-to-Mike hobo, with all tramp trimmings, to appear in police court for some time, graced one corner of the city's box today. Andrew sports a good Scotch Christian name as a handle, but carries a mustache from Hungary that would almost balance a ton of coal.

Whether it was the court's admiration for the flowing ornament over Andy's upper lip, or whether it was the vagrant's dilapidated appearance, is not known, but the fact remains that the prisoner was given safe conduct by the magistrate and escorted to the city limits by a courteous constable.

The prisoner was picked up in the C. P. R. yard yesterday afternoon by Special Constable Weller, and landed in the cells. The man's coat was of holes, while his trousers were delicately threaded with what was once white string. Had he gone to a barber shop for a cleanup, it would have cost him about $5, and then some.

Andrew told the court in broken English, he had come from Michigan, and that he was placed under arrest by the chief of "Parley" with Horngik. Chief Birrell, who is a linguist of no mean ability, found out that the prisoner was from Chicago and Geneva, and was a coal, and not a gold, digger by trade.

This was sufficient for the magistrate, and Andrew was sent on his way.

COMMUNIST PARTY DEMANDING HELP FOR UNEMPLOYED

British Political Factions Are Using Every Means to Gain Any Advantages.

ALL ARE CONFIDENT

Associated Press Despatch. London, Nov. 22.—The Communist Party's manifesto, issued in connection with the present general election, demands confiscation of all idle factories and land, and a weekly minimum wage of $30 for a six-hour working day; also full maintenance for the unemployed and housing for all the people.

Only twelve ridings now are without Conservative candidates, and it is expected that most of these vacancies will be filled by the Communist Party, Monday next. The number of Conservatives engaged in the general election of Nov. 15, 1922, when about 50 National Liberals received Conservative support. The Liberals claim that the danger of rival candidates of the party appearing in Central Hackney has been eliminated by Sir Arthur Lever, the sitting member, retiring to leave the field free for the Liberal. Sir Arthur was elected last year as a National Liberal.

This reduces the constituencies where the Liberals are divided to three—namely, Cardiganshire, Carmarthen and Cornwall. In Cardiganshire, Capt. Ernest Evans, who was elected last year as a National Liberal, and Hopkins Morris, his Liberal opponent in 1922, are both standing as Liberals in the present election. In Cornwall, Capt. A. H. Moreland, National Liberal M. P., is threatened with opposition from Rt. Hon. Left Jones, Liberal, who opposes his return, and has fought many unsuccessful political battles. Rt. Hon. J. H. Whitely, Liberal member for Halifax, speaker of the House of Commons, who was elected by acclamation last year, probably again will be returned without a contest, in accordance with the tradition of the convention, though the Labor party is active in the convention that allows a walkover for the party to which a speaker has been elected.

The Free Churches have issued a manifesto in which they disclaim the responsibility of churches pronouncing on the merits of rival fiscal policies.

His wife's remark gave husband away.

ough search of the house, and found also a parcel of children's clothing which Carr admitted having stolen from the doorstep of a neighbor.

Carr declared he had taken the bicycle in trade for one of his own six months ago from an unknown man, and that his companion in the witness box, Henry Donnelly, and his wife had witnessed the trade.

Robertson said the bike was stolen on the evening of Aug. 30 from the back door of his home, which was most up against the back yard of the Carr property.

Carr has had an eventful career in police court this week. Monday morning he was fined $10 and costs for acting in a disorderly manner in his house, and besides facing charges of theft today, was charged with driving a horse and buggy at an immoderate rate of speed last Sunday.

A Snappy Driver.

Constable Walker, Pope told of the snappy manner in which Carr drove his horse in Knollwood Park and down Oxford street. The constable pursued him on a bicycle, but didn't catch up till Colborne street was reached.

"He's a fast horse," explained Carr. "Better put the brake on," advised Mr. Graydon, with a smile. "Suppose we go on to the other matters. There are two charges of theft against this man."

J. M. Donahue, counsel for Carr, wanted to know just how many charges the police had against his client. Constable Birrell, according to that there were but three, all told.

Constable Pope then related that he could smell liquor on Carr's breath on the Sabbath, when the horse was pretty well lathered.

Carr contended his nag was "speeding" at but six or seven miles an hour, his usual gait, and that his equine was an easy one to sweat.

ORATORY OF PARTY CHIEFS SWEEPS GREAT BRITAIN

CLAMOR FOR POLICY'S GAINING STRENGTH IN LONDON

Women Electors Said To Be Greatly Impressed With Premier's Promises.

ALL PARTIES ACTIVE

Associated Press Despatch. London, Nov. 22.—The Conservatives contend that they are making headway in their constituencies toward a victory at the polls, and their claim is indorsed by the Times, which, although it gives general support to the government, is nominally non-partisan.

Editorially the Times says there is no doubt but that the position of the government is stronger today than it was at the dissolution of parliament, and maintains that Mr. Baldwin's "temperate statements, made without boasting, threats of calumny," are steadily gaining ground.

The women electors, the paper asserts, are being impressed by the principle of the prime minister's platform, notwithstanding attempts to influence them to a contrary view by warnings of the increased household budget that will result from protection.

According to the Morning Post, there will probably be 550 Conservative candidates in the field when the nominations are completed next Monday, as compared with 441 at the last election. Then, however, about 50 Georgian Liberals received Conservative support.

Call It Hollow Sham.

Although the Laborites and the Liberals continue to stand aloof from each other, there is evidence, according to the Laborite Daily Herald, of a Conservative-Liberal pact in some constituencies. The newspaper cites as an instance the Aberavon division of Glamorganshire, which Ramsay MacDonald is contesting, and where the Liberal candidate has retired, leaving the issue between the Laborite and Conservative representatives. A similar situation exists in Accrington, Blackburn and Derby, the Daily Herald adds.

"The Tory-Liberal pact is a hollow sham," continues the Laborite. "It is Labor against the rest all the time."

Mr. MacDonald, leader of the Labor party, arrived in his constituency last evening, after a motor tour from London, in the course of which he was enthusiastically received by many Labor districts. Judging from the fervor of his welcome in South Wales it might be conjectured that if this region were Britain, a Laborite victory would be inevitable. Demonstrations of enthusiasm among the Welsh miners and other workers are reported as indescribable. Mr. MacDonald's motor was driven by his miners through the streets of several towns and villages amid wild cheering, while mothers held their children aloft and told them excitedly: "That's the new prime minister."

Lady Astor Has Straight Fight.

Lady Astor, who voted in Plymouth at the last election by the Independent Conservatives standing against her, will be free from this handicap at the coming poll, the threatened opposition by so-called Imperial Conservative having been withdrawn. Lady Astor thus will have a straight fight with Capt. W. Brennan, the Laborite whom she defeated at the last election.

The final party manifesto was launched last evening. It was that of the Communists. The statement denounced all other parties, asserting that Labor's program contains nothing of socialism and nothing to which a progressive capitalist might not subscribe. The Labor party's proposals, the manifesto asserts, are a betrayal of the workers, and are equivalent to restoring capitalism. Among the Communists' demands are full recognition of the Russian soviet republic and a minimum wage of £4 a week, with maintenance of the figure from the national exchequer for all unemployed.

MAINTAINS BEST MEN SHOULD NOT EMIGRATE

Ramsay MacDonald, British Labor Chief, Condemns Policy Sought by Dominions.

Associated Press Despatch. London, Nov. 22.—Ramsay MacDonald, Labor leader, in his speech at Aberavon last night, in connection with his nomination in that constituency by the Labor Party, said: "I do not think this country is prepared to send to the dominions only our very best workmen. Until now we have been robbed of the best elements of our working population. We ought to come to some arrangement, whereby the dominions will take some of those whom we call our second grade men. MacDonald described Lord Birkenhead's address at Glasgow University recently, when Birkenhead declared that idealism in national affairs was impracticable, and that the motive of self-interest was, must be, and ought to be, the guiding principle of human conduct, as a devilish pronouncement."

SIR HENRY THORNTON PLEADED OVER TRAFFIC

Canadian Press Despatch. Winnipeg, Nov. 22.—Satisfaction regarding the greatly improved traffic conditions and record grain movement over the national lines was expressed by Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railway, who arrived here last night to spend four or five days.

Since September 1, up to November 20, no less than 125,000,000 bushels of wheat had been marketed over the C. N. R. lines, of which 91,000,000 bushels had been loaded into cars, he said. The average daily delivery of cars at the head of the lakes was approximately 950, an increase of at least 250 over last year's figures.

MURDER DECISION OF CORONER JURY IN HAMILTON CASE

Lindsay Verdict Disperses Theory That Victim Took His Own Life.

WILL NOT CALL GIRLS

Canadian Press Despatch. Hamilton, Nov. 21.—Homer C. Lindsay, who died in the hospital recently a few hours after being wounded while driving on the highway, was shot by a person or persons unknown, the jury tonight found when the adjourned hearing was held at the court house under Chief Coroner Dr. George S. Rennie. The case was closed without any further evidence being submitted, and the verdict dispels the theory of suicide. Inspectors Miller and Boyd of the provincial department will continue investigations, it was announced.

On advice of the crown, certain evidence in the case was not permitted tonight. It was suggested that two Brantford girls be called, but Crown Attorney Ballard stated that he did not think it necessary.

"Cross-examination of these witnesses would produce nothing which would assist the police in solving the crime," he added. It is understood that the girls could have given certain information to the police which has been known to the police for some time.

The police will continue their investigations.

Lindsay was killed shortly after dark on the night of October 17 while driving alone in his automobile along the Mount Albion road from Vine-mountain district. After being shot through the stomach with a 32 calibre bullet he drove his car a mile to the refreshment stand in Mount Albion Park, where his cries attracted attention and he was rushed to the hospital. He died in the hospital after signing an ante-mortem statement to the effect that a foreigner asked him for a ride, and shot him after robbing him of his watch. A few days later Boy Scouts found the watch and revolver in thick bushes over the mountain side.

At the Churches

JUNIOR PRAYER MEETING.

The Junior Prayer Meeting Society of Egerton Street Baptist Church (organized by Evangelist Gunton) have been meeting regularly twice a week at the homes of the members. The last meeting was held at the home of Mrs. R. Mills, Hyia street, and 25 were present. Cecil Parker was in charge of the meeting, and reading the scripture lesson. A great many of the children took part in the devotional exercises and the Bible drill. The next meeting will be held Friday evening at the home of the pastor, Rev. A. A. Burgess.

BRITISH ELECTION GETS UNDER WAY; LEADERS IN ACTION

Lloyd George Declares He Is Not Seeking Premier's Position.

BECOMING PERSONAL

States He Only Said Baldwin Is Not Fit For Job.

Associated Press Despatch. London, Nov. 22.—Premier Macdonald King will call for Canada tomorrow on the Montclair. He says any statement he has to make in connection with his tendency at the imperial conference will be delivered on reaching home.

countries which would have collapsed but for the help of this free trade country. Yes, and these countries, in spite of their tariffs, cannot afford to pay us back today.

"They stood in need of borrowing money in order to buy materials in America, but America would not lend to them except on the credit of the land of dying industries.

"This is the only country in Europe today whose credit is sound, and which is able to pay its debts. No wonder when the war was over they were a little ashamed to talk about our languishing and drooping industries, therefore nothing was heard of it. Bonar Law in the last election dropped it. He said that although he was a tariff reformer he felt that the disadvantage of disturbing trade would be greater than any advantage that would be given from tariff reform."

QUEENSLAND GOVERNMENT WILL NOT ACCEPT OFFER

Associated Press Despatch. Melbourne, Australia, Nov. 22.—It is intimated that the Queensland government does not intend to avail itself of the imperial government's offer to aid in connection with development schemes because such assistance would militate against the use of the Australian manufacturers' materials.

Greatest Exporter.

He declared that Great Britain, which the protectionists said had been "ruined by free trade," was in proportion to output the greatest exporter of manufactures. The United States exported $26,000,000 worth of cotton goods, while Great Britain sent out $187,000,000 worth, and the United States last year sold $39,000,000 worth of iron and steel, while the British exports were $61,000,000.

"Baldwin said he would live and die a tinker," remarked Mr. Lloyd George, in another part of his speech. "When a ship has sprung a leak from a great explosion it is not a tinker's job. We want a man who will tackle the job. I am not an applicant."

"If you look back you will find that whenever the Conservative party is in a dilemma, whenever it is doing badly it sees a vision of dying industries. Some people in trouble take alcohol; the Tory party when worried always takes to tariffs.

"Go across England today and you will find the skies crimson with glare from blast furnaces that were said to have died 40 years ago. They are producing more than ever. They are dying with extraordinary vitality."

These sallies were greeted with laughter and cheers.

Raked for Occasion.

Continuing, Lloyd George said: "The franchise had been extended when Joseph Chamberlain started his great campaign, and it was absolutely clear that there was going to be a great Liberal victory, so something had to be done, and the dying industries were raked for the occasion."

"The war came. It was shown that the dying industries were more adaptable and more responsive than any industries in any land under the sun. More than that, they financed other countries. They enabled us to lend $2,000,000,000 to protegionist

FORM ASSOCIATION OF POSTMASTERS TO EXTEND TUNNEL AT NIAGARA FALLS

Ontario Members Urge Closing Offices On All Statutory Holidays.

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, Nov. 21.—At a meeting of postmasters from different parts of the province here today it was decided to form an Ontario postmasters' association. The officers elected were: President, D. L. Darroch, Col. lingwood; vice-president, M. W. Brandon, Fenelon Falls; secretary-treasurer, R. G. Hanbury, Dundalk.

It was pointed out that the duties in the postoffice had become increasingly onerous of recent years, but there had been no corresponding increase in remuneration. The question of holidays also was brought up, and a recommendation was made to the executive commission that the matter of closing the postoffices and observing the statutory holidays should be taken up by the Canadian Association.

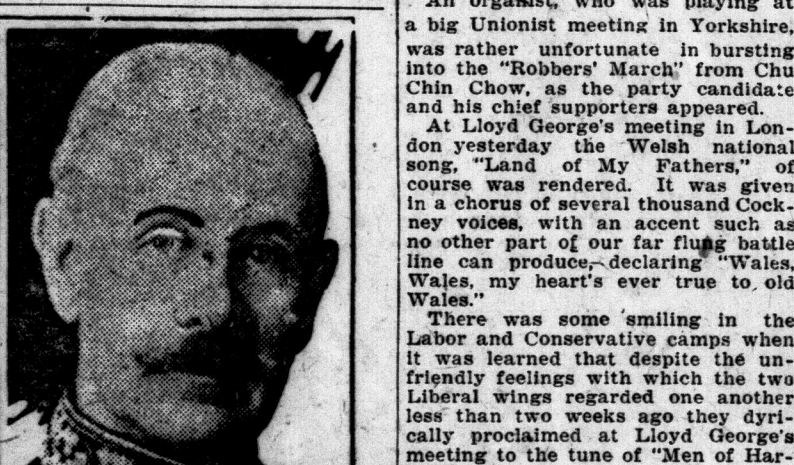

Disappointment was expressed at the meeting that the sale of inland revenue stamps had been taken out of the hands of the postoffice and a source of revenue was thus cut off.

DYE PLANTS WILL DELIVER GOODS TO THE ALLIES

Agreement Between Rhineland Industry and Commission Involves 50,000 Workmen.

BERLIN RECOGNITION?

Associated Press Despatch. Dusseldorf, Nov. 22.—The agreement recently signed between representatives of the Rhineland dye industry and the inter-allied high commission at Coblenz involved 50,000 workmen. Together with the reaching of other industrial agreements, this will serve greatly to facilitate resumption of work on the west bank of the Rhine, according to the French authorities here. The dye plants, it is stated, agreed to deliver dyes to the allied reparations account, and in return their export taxes were temporarily reduced, so that the plants could rehabilitate their finances.

Other agreements reached by the commission were with shoe manufacturing plants, employing 30,000 workmen, and the French state that other groups of Rhineland industries are negotiating.

A Paris dispatch Wednesday night, carrying an announcement by the German war burdens commission, of the reaching of the dye industry agreement, said that particular importance was attached to the German communication because it appeared to imply, indirectly, recognition by the Berlin Government of agreement between its nationals and the occupying powers. The German announcement was made in a communication by the war burdens commission to the inter-allied reparations commission.

BALDWIN LOUDLY CHEERED BY CROWD AT HUGE MEETINGS

British Premier Is Given Great Reception On Appearance At Reading.

WILL GROW SUGAR

Associated Press Despatch. Reading, Nov. 21.—Three hours before Premier Baldwin was billed to appear before the meeting here tonight a great queue lined up outside and when the meeting started not only was the town hall filled, but also a smaller hall and the corn exchange. A microphone stood beside the premier and by means of loud speaking his audience totaled 50,000, his speech being transmitted to the other gatherings. The waiting period was beguiled by songs, including "Keep the Home Fires Burning."

Premier Baldwin was given a tumultuous reception on entering the hall. The chairman mentioned that 30,000 people had applied for tickets. On the premier rising to speak, the audience sang "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." The premier said "I am very hopeful now, for the latest reports I have had are that owing to remission of the excise duty we may really be able to establish this country a sugar industry. There are fifteen thousand acres in England today under sugar beet, and there is no reason why there should not be half a million acres. Sugar beet has been produced here which is equal to or better than the sugar beet of Holland. It is a remunerative crop and it leaves the land with a good heart and wheat crops grown after it have proved themselves ten to fifteen per cent better than wheat crops grown on other land. There is no reason why sugar beet factories should not be a blessing in rural areas throughout the country, leading to an enormously increased demand for labor of all kinds. The government having stabilized the preference to the dominions for a term of years will take into consideration the stabilization of the preference now given domestic grown sugar by remission of the excise duty if we are returned to power." (Cheers.)

The arrival of Miss Cornwell, who is but 18 years of age, created much interest; in fact she was the recipient of so much attention from all concerned that she was forced to appeal to the immigration authorities to have her passed through quietly, so as not to attract any more attention than was absolutely necessary.

CIVIC ELECTION FIGHT OPENS WITH TWO MEETINGS

Mayor and Candidates For the Public Utilities Inject Pep Into Meetings

Tallant and Vining Clash, and Debate Carried Into Corridors—Wilson Proves To Be Lone Heckler—Prospective Aldermen Present Case To Ward One Ratepayers.

The booming of municipal artillery through Ward One last night indicated that the battle was on again for the "seats in high places"—the second and third floors of the old city hall.

Mayor Wenige and candidates for the public utilities commission and school board injected the real "1923 pep" into two mass meetings; one at the Simcoe street school, and the second at the Wortley road school.

Mayor Wenige carried the "new city hall" issue into the ward, delivering characteristic fighting addresses at both sessions. He was warmly applauded.

Ald. W. A. Wilson is again "mentioned in dispatches," enjoying the unique distinction, in that he was the mayor's lone heckler at Simcoe street.

"I dispute the mayor's statement regarding the votes on the city hall," announced Ald. Wilson (Free Press candidate for mayor until qualification night). "The people were never asked to vote on the McCormick site."

"Sit down. We've heard enough from you all year," was the encouragement from the audience.

The Free Press selection for the mayor's chair "ran true to form." "You can't make me sit down," he retorted.

Ends In Corridors. Dennis J. Tallant, Labor candidate for the utilities commission, and Jared Vining, chairman of the commission, now seeking re-election, carried their debates into the corridors at the Wortley road school, at the instigation of the former.

Sharp words followed, and Commissioner Vining informed Candidate Tallant in effect that "he could form what ever opinion he cared to choose."

Candidate Tallant replied in kind, and pursuing his adversary to the door challenged, "I suppose it is considered an insult if any person dares to run against you or Philip Pocock?"

Ald. John T. May, seeking re-election, was narrowly questioned at both meetings by Mayor Wenige, who requested that "Ald. May tell the people of London why he voted against the pure milk bylaw."

One of Ald. May's reasons was that the enforcement of legislation compelling pasteurization of milk or government testing of cattle was chiefly responsible for placing the milk supply of this district in the hands of a combine.

Mayor Wenige couldn't grasp this point of view, however, and persisted that Ald. May voted to deprive the people of their right to pure milk.

Mayor Reviews Question. Concisely, but briefly, Mayor Wenige reviewed the city hall question, and it was evident from his applause that the majority of the ratepayers are ready and even eager to vote for the early construction of new offices on the McCormick site.

His worship pointed out that since 1912 the city had lost about $124,000 interest, and so forth, by the reason that the hall had not been built as originally intended when the land was purchased.

Ald. John Greer who, with Ald. John May and the "Free Press" selection for mayor, Ald. Wilson, had consistently opposed Mayor Wenige since the first of the year in this regard, stated that he had heard a number of arguments from the mayor last night that he had never heard before. He felt that the time was not opportune for an expenditure of $500,000 or more as proposed, in view of the high tax rates.

"If we have not the pride to build a real civic center we ought to decay," warned Mayor Wenige, also pointing out that while the council was asking for $500,000, this amount would not be required; and that about $239,000 would revert back into the city treasury following the sale of the remainder of the so-called federal square.

Mayor Wenige related that it was his impression that the city hall opponents, Aldermen May, Greer and others, had fixed the price at $500,000 to insure the defeat of the bylaw.

His worship also contended the remainder of the council, that "he was preparing an aldermanic slate."

"I am not here to tell you how to vote," stated the mayor, "I am in the position to dictate. You're the boss. I'm merely carrying out your orders. I have no slate, and never will have one."

Presents Case. Ald. John T. May was allowed to present his case first. He explained that he had not supported the proposal to build a city hall on the McCormick site because it could not be done this year without a debenture issue and that would have meant upsetting the council's "pay-as-you-go" policy. He charged further that the council's procedure had been illegal.

Explaining why he voted against the third reading of the city hall salary bylaw, Ald. May stated that $4,700 was available for this purpose and that he did not care to increase this amount. He had supported increases aggregating about $4,100, he related, exclusive of the assessment department readjustment.

Ald. May also claimed that while he had moved to save the city another $15,000 or so by having a less expensive front to the new registry office, none of his colleagues had seen fit to support him.

Ald. John Greer stated that in all likelihood he had made mistakes during the year. That would only be natural. He had no doubt been guilty of snap judgment occasionally, he explained, when forced to a quick decision by the circumstances, and when he would like to have had more information than seemed available at the time. He thought that a new city hall would cost in the neighborhood of $800,000, as ample provision must be made for interior decorations and fixtures. He questioned the need of a "palace," however, and did not think that the construction would be advisable during a period of depression.

The three newcomers in the aldermanic field were well received. John Andersson spoke briefly, explaining that he was acting strictly upon his own initiative and "had no axe to grind," or "favors to ask or give."

He urged a lower tax-rate as a safe inducement for outside industries to establish branches in the community.

Allan Towse. Allan Towse, member of the industrial area commission, stated that he was at a disadvantage by being known to but few residents of the ward. Recalling his opposition to the proposed improvements in the industrial area during his present term of office, he explained that while he favored the project, he felt that such an undertaking would not be advisable until a better system was in vogue for securing new industries for the district in question.

"I do not wish to criticize the chamber of commerce," he said, "but the system under which they work is wrong."

Mr. Towse advocated the inauguration of a committee to seek industries, with a commissioner who would visit outside municipalities, near and far; the committee to comprise entirely of men other than manufacturers. This idea seemed to meet with general approval in the audience. He pictured a bright future for London if firms could be induced to locate here, and believed many American firms would if the proposition was "sold" to them in a proper manner.

PRINCIPAL IMPROVING. Latest reports received by G. L. MacDonald, B.A., acting principal of the Collegiate Institute, from Mr. Miller, principal, are that he is progressing very well. Mr. Miller was seriously ill in a local hospital some time ago and was ordered to take a complete rest.

IT'S WARMING UP EARLY.

The civic election contest is warming up early. Last evening's meetings were featured by spirited clashes between Ed. Smith (left), formerly of the board of education, now an aldermanic candidate in ward four, and Adam Palmer (right), who is offering this year for the board of education. Alleged favoritism in school building contracts was the subject of lively passages between these gentlemen.

CAMPAIGN ADDRESSES START AT "Y" MEETING

NATIONALISTS WIN VOLKSTAG ELECTIONS

Associated Press Despatch.

Danzig, Nov. 21.—In the Volkstag elections, in which 120 seats were contested, the Nationalists won 33, the United Socialists 30, the Centre 15, the Communists 11, and the Poles 5. Candidates of half a dozen other parties secured 26 seats. It is significant that the Poles lost two of their seven seats to German candidates, while both the left and right wings gained at the expense of the Liberals, Bourgeois and Center parties.

Shows Decrease. From year to year the board was spending much money in new buildings, and maintenance, while the enrollment showed a decrease of 1,203 over 1918. The claim was made however, that the schools were still overcrowded. If this was true, there were some mighty lax officials on the board. The cost of teachers had also increased enormously. Mr. Palmer then dealt with the officials of the board, stating that in 1918 these consisted of one inspector, secretary, attendance officer and stenographer, drawing salaries totalling $5,700. This year, however, there were two inspectors, one secretary, attendance officer and assistant, and two stenographers, drawing salary totals of $17,000.

As R. Kennedy next took the floor, he said it was a mistake that educational matters trailed after everything else when the board was the largest spending body in the city. In 1914 expenditures were $270,000, and estimates for 1924 were $1,000,000. He wondered whether the citizens' earning power or ability to pay had increased as much as the cost of education. He pointed out that the board would not make any serious promise of what he would do, but would endeavor to see that the people had full knowledge of all expenditures. Building were excellent, but something more than these were needed for the boys and girls. This was a desire to learn and around this must be built the system.

Wortley Road School. At Wortley road school Jared Vining, chairman of the utilities commission first spoke. He said that if the citizens thought others could serve them better than the present body it was their duty to vote for them. He had been on the commission for six years and had endeavored to give the best he could, as had the commission, in the supplying of water and power to the citizens. He mentioned the water supply of the city, going into detail on that for $101,500 the commission had secured as much water as could have been gotten at Kilworth for one million. Asked whether he was in favor of supplying the city with water, he said he was not, and had always voted against it. The questioner, however, insisted that this had been done, and that the city was a result lost taxes. He suggested that these non-residents should move into the city and build up the vacant property.

D. J. Tallant, speaking in the same strain as at Simcoe school, repeated his statements of lack of harmony between the council and commission. "I have always been a water drinker," declared Ald. Watt, "and I am a strong supporter of spring water in preference to the well system."

He went on to say that there was no method of shutting off surface water in the wells, and that he had been told by Engineer Glaubitz, of the commission, that water would gravitate from the Kilworth springs, at Komoka, to Springbank, and that

Candidates In Ward One For Board of Education and Utilities Start Fight

Address Gatherings At Simcoe and Wortley Road Schools—Lively Arguments Ensnare Candidates and Citizens—Tallant Attacks Utilities' Attitude Towards City Council.

Candidates for the public utilities commission and board of education launched their campaigns in Ward 1 last night, when they addressed meetings at Simcoe school and Wortley road school.

The former meeting was quiet and peaceful, none of the speakers being heckled, and no questions being asked, but at the second gathering, the war clouds gathered and lively arguments between candidates and citizens ensued, winding up in a spectacular debate between Adam Palmer, candidate for the board of education, and Edwin Smith, retiring trustee, which ended only after Mr. Palmer had been called out of order by Chairman T. S. F. Graham, leaving the honors of the engagement with Mr. Smith.

Ald. Peter Watt, seeking a seat on the utilities commission, speaking at Simcoe school, stated that he had been pressed by several businessmen to enter the field, these men stating that a change was needed in the personnel of that body. With new life and blood, harmony between the commission and the city council could probably be restored. This was lacking at the present time, and the citizens were suffering, he stated.

Commission Autocratic. Dissatisfaction with the attitude of the commission towards the city council was expressed by D. J. Tallant, also seeking election to that body. He declared the commission was autocratic, rather than democratic. He mentioned that the mayor does not sign the checks as formerly, and that if elected he would remedy this. He went over his record as a member of the housing commission, of which he is chairman, stating that through his endeavor the city had saved some $10,000. He was not finding fault with the members of the commission, but thought it was time for a change. He mentioned that if elected he would not be a wallflower, but would fight on all questions.

Bryden N. Campbell, the first of the candidates for the school board, to speak, thanked the electors for his return two years ago. He said his motto was economy with efficiency, and had always endeavored to work along these lines. He mentioned his work on the various committees.

Adam W. Palmer, a defeated candidate of last year, expressed the opinion, later endorsed by A. R. Kennedy, that it was unfortunate that the citizens were not asked to vote till the last before speaking. He said he was glad he was not a member of last year's board, as the members had a lot to answer for. He said his slogan was to knock the "high" out of the high cost of education, which was costing far too much. No reasonable citizen would complain of ordinary expenditures wisely spent, but facts must be considered.

Shows Decrease. From year to year the board was spending much money in new buildings, and maintenance, while the enrollment showed a decrease of 1,203 over 1918. He mentioned the water supply of the city, going into detail on that for $101,500 the commission had secured as much water as could have been gotten at Kilworth for one million. Asked whether he was in favor of supplying the city with water, he said he was not, and had always voted against it. The questioner, however, insisted that this had been done, and that the city was a result lost taxes. He suggested that these non-residents should move into the city and build up the vacant property.

D. J. Tallant, speaking in the same strain as at Simcoe school, repeated his statements of lack of harmony between the council and commission. "I have always been a water drinker," declared Ald. Watt, "and I am a strong supporter of spring water in preference to the well system."

He went on to say that there was no method of shutting off surface water in the wells, and that he had been told by Engineer Glaubitz, of the commission, that water would gravitate from the Kilworth springs, at Komoka, to Springbank, and that it would be good water. He also declared that wells petered out in time.

"Mr. Watt does not know what he is talking about," interjected Mr. Vining. "The wells are not petering out; there is no surface water and no bacteria has ever been found in the water supply of the city. To get water from Kilworth would mean pumping it about 200 feet, while at present we are getting a sufficient supply from the wells at far less cost."

Mr. Watt said that the water could be pumped from Springbank, but for the fact that no one except the commission could establish a power plant on the river, the commission owning the franchise.

"Vote for the dam at the election, but that does not mean a power plant, because you must have permission from the commission to build one," continued the alderman, "and I would ask that it be taken back." Mr. Vining replied that Mr. Palmer is getting personal, and I have nothing to hide. If Mr. Palmer is so sure of himself, why let him lift the cloak and discover to the citizens just what is hidden.

"Yes, I will lift it, and it does not require any bright man to do so. The collegiate is an instance of this," said Mr. Palmer.

The High School Contract. "Harry Hayman did not tender on the high school," replied Mr. Smith, "and, as far as the Kingston Construction Company was concerned, they were at liberty to buy where they pleased. We do not dictate to contractors. No businessman would think of ordering a person to buy some place, when he could purchase the same materials cheaper elsewhere."

"But your Conservative Association assured me this was the case," said Mr. Burke, "and I wanted to find out. I am quite satisfied with Mr. Smith's answer."

"In the six years that I was on the board, no contract was let to a member, or anything of that nature," again repeated Mr. Smith. "You can't force contractors to buy. This year six are to be elected, and I hope the citizens will select the best of the right persons. Mr. Palmer was told last year that he was not wanted. I don't know whether he is this time or not. The board will select a clear and open for inspection at any time."

"Mr. Smith is one of the men who built the high school," began Mr. Palmer, "and we are out of order, replied the candidate."

"The only thing I am concerned with is keeping the speakers in order and to their limit. You are out of order," said Mr. Graham closing the meeting.

Not the Case. Edwin Smith, retiring trustee, stated that this was not the case and that Mr. Burke had been misinformed. Mr. Campbell was then asked about Principal E. H. McKone's salary, which was overpaid by about eight days, and the interrogator wanted to know why he had been allowed to keep the money. He replied that that was a matter between the secretary and the inspector of the board. The citizens then stated that if this was the case and these officials had been responsible for it, it showed inefficiency.

"If we send you back this time," said the citizen, "we want you to curb this inefficiency. There are too many incompetents on both the board and the city council."

A. R. Kennedy spoke in much the same manner as at Simcoe street.

Challenges Edwin Smith. Referring back to Mr. Burke's question of Harry Hayman and school contracts, Mr. Palmer challenged Edwin Smith to come forward and tell the whole truth of the matter, because he knew that what had been stated was true.

"Mr. Palmer does not know what he is talking about," replied Mr. Smith. "I have told the truth. So far as I can remember Harry Hayman has not been given a contract on schools. As to other contractors buying their material from him, that may be so, as the board cannot tell a contractor where or when he is to buy or sublet. Anyway, the people are getting personal, and I have nothing to hide. If Mr. Palmer is so sure of himself, why let him lift the cloak and discover to the citizens just what is hidden."

"Yes, I will lift it, and it does not require any bright man to do so. The collegiate is an instance of this," said Mr. Palmer.

TILES PRESERVED AFTER 25 YEARS UNDERGROUND

Excavators on English Street Disclose Fifty Drain Pipes in Fine Condition.

WILL BE USED AGAIN

More than fifty large tiles, dug up this morning by workmen on English street, were found to be in a good state of preservation after having been laid for more than 25 years.

They were found to be so solid and in such good condition that they will all be used again for drains in different parts of the city.

The tiles were laid on English street, between Lorne and Princess. For more than a quarter of a century they have served the purpose of draining the old Carling's Creek, which used to run through that district. Ten years ago the course of the Carling's Creek was changed when larger tiles were laid along Lorne avenue. Since that time the drain on English street has not been used.

Now that a curb stone and gutter is being laid along English street the old drain has to be taken out.

J. Mulhall, who built the drain 25 years ago, and who is now supervising the excavation, expressed great satisfaction when he saw the excellent condition of the tiles. According to Mr. Mulhall, the cement work for the tiles was executed by W. J. Anthistle. At that time each tile cost about $7. The price of the same tile now would cost $15.

Because the tiles are in such a good state of preservation a considerable amount of money can be saved by the city in using them again in place of new ones. Mr. Mulhall points out.

RESERVES JUDGMENT IN LUMBER ACCOUNT

Judgment was reserved by Mr. Justice Kelly this morning in the supreme court non-jury action brought by George W. Lankin, of Utterson, Ont., for $2,248.12, against Ernest Hill of London and Lorenzo Banghart of Port Bruce.

The plaintiff claimed the above amount was owing for lumber supplied to the defendants, and he alleged that Hill and Banghart had converted the lumber to their own use and sold it without paying the plaintiff.

The defence endeavored to prove that there had been a subsequent agreement, which made Hill an agent to sell the lumber and relieved Banghart of any liability.

J. J. Hodgins of Fraser & Moore, acted for the plaintiff, J. W. G. Wintnett for Ernest W. Hill, and J. M. McEvoy, K.C., for Mr. Banghart.

There is Much Anxiety Over Children's Colds

WE do not mind so much having colds ourselves, for we imagine we can tell when they are getting serious and apply the remedy.

But when the children cough it is different. Especially does the sharp, metallic cough of croup send a thrill through the mother's nervous system.

The trouble is the child does not realize the danger, cannot describe the trouble, and all depends on the prompt action of his elders.

Why not be on the safe side by always keeping Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine on hand for use in case of emergency?

Croup and bad colds usually develop in the night, when it is not convenient to send for treatment, even if you are within reach of a drug store.

Being pleasant to the taste, gentle and soothing in action, and composed of simple ingredients of well-known medicinal value, this medicine is especially suited for children, as a relief from coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, sore throat, whooping cough, etc.

In very many thousands of homes it is the old favorite treatment which has proven its exceptional value so many times that it is depended upon absolutely.

Next to knowing what to use, the most important point is to apply the treatment promptly, and this is why we emphasize the necessity of keeping Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine on hand at all times. For this reason it is well to get in the way of buying the large, family-size bottle. This ensures an adequate supply.

RHEUMATISM

A Remarkable Home Treatment Given by One Who Had It.

In the year of 1893 I was attacked by Muscular and Sub-acute Rheumatism. I suffered as only those who are thus afflicted know, for over three years. I tried remedy after remedy, but such relief as I obtained was only temporary. Finally, I found a treatment that cured me completely, and such a pitiful condition has never returned. I have given it to a number who were afflicted, even bedridden, some of them seventy to eighty years old, and the results were the same as in my own case.

I want every sufferer from any form of muscular and sub-acute (swelling at the joints) rheumatism, to try the great value of my improved "Home Treatment" for its remarkable healing power. Don't send a cent; simply mail your name and address and I will send it free to try. After you have used it and it has proven itself to be that long-looked-for means of getting rid of such forms of rheumatism, you may send the price of it, one dollar, but understand, I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Isn't that fair? Why suffer any longer when relief is thus offered you free? Don't delay. Write today.

SCHOOL FIGURES NOT CORRECT, IS STAND OF GREER

Inspector Repudiates Statistics Quoted by Candidate Adam Palmer.

ENROLLMENT GROWS

Figures that were unreliable and not secured from official sources were used by Adam Palmer, candidate for the board of education, in his addresses at mass meetings last night, according to Inspector V. K. Greer, who takes issue with Mr. Palmer in the matter.

Mr. Greer this morning stated that if figures were to be used in the campaign, they had better be secured from official sources and verified before being brought into any arguments dealing with attendance and overcrowding.

"The public school building program in the past few years was fully warranted," said the inspector, "and we stand ready to vindicate the whole thing whenever called on to do so. There was overcrowding, and new schools were necessary."

Referring to the enrollment figures which Mr. Palmer quoted last night, Inspector Greer stated that the candidate had emphasized that the enrollment in 1918 had been 9,694 and this year was but 8,491, a decrease of 1,203.

"These figures are misleading and correct," said the inspector. "There are two types of enrollment which cannot be compared. The annual enrollment, which means the total number of pupils who gave some attendance to school the whole year, and the monthly enrollment, which gives only the number of pupils on the roll for any one month. The former figures include all those who moved in, out, or graduated from the public schools in the year. The following figures will indicate the trend of London school population, and in no case can the annual and monthly figures be compared:

What Figures Show.
From the figures it will be seen that the annual enrollment is increasing every year and that the monthly enrollment for this year is considerably higher than in 1918.

Mr. Palmer quoted the annual figure in 1918 and the September figure for 1923, and, therefore, no basis of comparison between the two years is established by this.

Annual enrollment

Year	Annual enrollment	Sept. enrollment
1918	9,694	7,950
1919	9,898	8,029
1920	9,663	8,958
1921	10,132	8,200
1922	10,359	8,697
1923	?	8,491

DECLARE MILK LAW PROMOTES FAIR COMPETITION

Health Board Officials Say Pasteurization Ordinance Prevents "Combines."

MAY REPLIES

The enforcement of the city ordinance, compelling the pasteurization of milk or a governmental test of herds safeguards against the formation of a "milk combine" rather than prompting one, according to board of health authorities today.

Ald. John T. May, speaking at last night's mass meeting in Ward 1, replied to a question from Mayor Wenige as to his reason for registering disapproval of this measure in 1922 and 1923, saying that it tended to place the district supply of milk in the hands of one big dealer.

The local health authorities hold a contrary opinion, however, and state that the enforcement of the bylaw provides for good milk and a fair competition among the dealers.

OLD AND NEW COUNCILS.

The tentative estimates for 1924 from all spending bodies will not be considered until after the election, the mayor advised today. It is then proposed to call a special session of the 1923 council, at which will attend the members of the new council, when the most important items can be considered in a friendly and cooperative manner. This course has been recommended by Dr. Horace L. Brittain and other leading municipal experts.

"COUNTRY WIDOW" WILES AROUSE CITY OFFICIALS

Many Would Move Here To Benefit by Mother's Allowance Scheme.

The city authorities are constantly on guard to prevent the admission of "country widows" into the city, for the government's mothers' allowance pension scheme, much of the financial responsibility then resting upon the ratepayers of the community.

An instance in kind was brought to the attention of Mayor Wenige today in the form of a communication recommending the admission of this nature for a widow of Eergus—not a resident of this community at all.

It was presumed, of course, that she would move into the city to live if there was any assurance forthcoming from the city authorities that she would benefit from the mothers' allowance scheme, and before she was burdened off the shoulders of the community in which she now resides and placing it on the people of London.

The charge was made about two years ago that many widows had been locating in this city for that very purpose, and a controversy raged for a considerable period, the charge being indignantly denied.

Mayor Wenige stated that there was no hope for the Eergus applicant.

GIANTS TO ASK CHANGE IN SERIES REGULATIONS

Associated Press Despatch.

New York, Nov. 21.—The New York Giants will ask the joint major league player-changes committee to change world's series regulations whereby expenses of the annual classic will be deducted from the gross receipts, and before any divisions among players, advisory council or clubs is made.

Competing clubs now pay the series expenses out of their respective shares.

IGNORANCE OF THE LAW DID NOT SAVE MERCHANT

Peter Hird told Magistrate Graydon in police court today he had just recently purchased a tobacco store and didn't know it was against the law to sell tobacco to minors unless said minors had notes from their parents.

"I've just been in the business eight weeks," said Mr. Hird.

"Well, you're honest about it anyway," replied the court. "But it would be establishing a dangerous precedent to let you go. Everyone who appeared in future on such a charge would claim they didn't know about the law. The minimum penalty, Mr. Hird, is $10 and costs, and I'm afraid you'll have to pay it."

DISMISSED, THEFT CHARGE, WHEN RESTITUTION KNOWN

A local man, who had "neglected" to return some carpenter's tools belonging to George Cowie, of this city, had made restitution to Mr. Cowie, J. G. Gillanders, acting crown prosecutor told Magistrate Graydon in police court today, and the case, which was adjourned two weeks ago, was dismissed by the court.

LONDON WOMEN ARE PLANNING LABRADOR VISIT

Dr. Grenfell's Meetings Here Enrich Local Mission Branch by $500.

DRIVE FOR MEMBERS

Dr. Wilfred Grenfell's two meetings in this city, one a public reception and the other a lecture, attracted capacity houses on both occasions. Incidentally, the sum of $500 was added to the treasury of the local branch of the Labrador Medical Mission.

An anonymous contribution of $60, sufficient to pay for the yearly upkeep of one hospital cot in the Labrador Hospital was received. Mrs. A. T. Little, president of the London branch of the Labrador Medical Mission, wishes to record the society's thanks for this generous donation.

Dr. Grenfell's visit has been a source of inspiration to members of the local association, which is doing much to enable him to carry on his work in Labrador. On leaving the city, the association gave every assurance that they would continue their efforts in behalf of the land to which the distinguished missionary has devoted his life.

Last evening Dr. Grenfell was the guest of Mrs. Becher, St. George street, and this morning he made a call on Mrs. Maria Elliott, whose work in the interests of the Labrador people covers a period of 30 years.

With a revival of interest in the activities of the local branch of the Labrador Medical Mission, a campaign to secure new members will be undertaken. The annual fee of $2 a year and individual contributions will do much to assist the association in a financial way. Mrs. A. T. Little, the president, said this morning. Citizens desiring to join the society will have the aims and objects explained by Mrs. Little at any time.

The local branch was started by Mrs. Becher and the original meetings were held in her home, "Thorwood," on St. George street. Later, Mrs. W. J. Reid was prominent in the work, which has been going on now in a modest way in the city for years.

A number of London women, as a result of Dr. Grenfell's visit, are making arrangements to visit Labrador next year, a member of the Labrador Medical Mission said.

Dr. Grenfell goes to Kitchener today, where he will address the Canadian Club there. Saturday he speaks in Convocation Hall, Toronto.

Have Passed the Ten Year Mark

Last week we celebrated our tenth anniversary. Ten years of successful progress in business. From one store to seven is our record. We are now beginning, we hope, on another ten-year period, and can only wonder if, at the end of that period, we shall have made the same progress as in the past. We will, we feel sure, if we continue to receive the same loyal support that you have always accorded us. That we are doing our part to deserve this support is evidenced by this big list of

"I was ashamed to go anywhere, and the itching and burning caused such a terrible sensation I could get no relief day or night."

TELLS DYSPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Avoid indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas, On Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due nine times out of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things. Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion or they can eat as they please, in reason and measure, a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bismarck Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antacid than Bismarck Magnesia, and it is widely known and used. It has no direct action on the stomach, and is not indigestible. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests and is absorbed without the need of peptic pills or artificial digestants. Get a few ounces of Bismarck Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as a liquid, dist or other form. In the disburated form is not a laxative. Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat."—Adv.

LABOR WOMEN MEET TO DISCUSS ELECTION

Special Gathering in the Labor Temple Scheduled For Wednesday.

Mrs. George Eddie, president of the Women's Labor Party, addressed the members of the party at the home of Mrs. M. Stumers last night. In her talk, Mrs. Eddie urged the women to come out on election day and support the Labor candidates.

A special meeting of the Women's Labor Party is being called for next Wednesday night at the Labor Temple, when further discussion concerning the coming election will take place. This meeting is to be thrown open to all interested in obtaining information with regard to the municipal candidates.

The president's talk at the home of Mrs. Stumers was followed by a social evening. A delightful program was presented, including vocal numbers by Mrs. Abigail and Mrs. Greenslade, and readings by Mrs. Greenslade, Mrs. L. Greenslade acting as accompanist.

MANY WOMEN LOOKING FOR WORK IN LONDON

Employment Bureau Suggests a Day's Job as a Christmas Gift.

The women's department of the London branch of the Government Employment Bureau brings this welcome news to the housewives of London—that there are many women and girls seeking employment. Yet, while this news is welcome to those who want help, it is a tragedy to those who are seeking work. And the suggestion comes from the bureau that the women of London might let their Christmas gifts be those who need helping, be one day or several days of work.

In many a home the mending has piled up so high that it would seem it could never be done. Here is the opportunity for which many a woman is waiting. And only the housewife can put in her time with a job. Many of the women seeking jobs are able to do practical nursing, and are proficient in the care of children. Indeed there are some girls over sixteen who would make very fine mothers' helpers.

GIRLS' CANADIAN CLUB HEARS COL. GRAHAM

Immigrants Were Not Canadianized Rapidly Enough, Thought Speaker.

Col. C. M. R. Graham gave an interesting address to the members of the Girls' Canadian Club, following supper at the Y. M. C. A. last evening. The subject of his address was "International Citizenship," and the talk led to a discussion on the necessity of university education, especially in European conditions, as she must find markets for her exports.

The immigration question was also discussed by the speaker, who expressed the opinion that he did not think that immigrants coming into this country were Canadianized rapidly enough.

The question of university education was then brought up, and Col. Graham stated that he thought Canada was becoming over-educated, but that following up with a vocational education was a splendid plan.

COLLEGIATE ALUMNI PLANS HOLIDAY DANCE

Executive Calls Meeting of All Graduates For Tuesday Next.

Plans for a banquet and dance to be held some time during the Christmas week, probably on the Thursday following Christmas, were made at a meeting of the executive of the Collegiate Institute Alumni held at the school. This was the first meeting of the newly-organized graduate students, and Gordon McDermid, the president, occupied the chair for the first time.

The dance will be but the beginning, however, of a series of interesting gatherings, arrangements for which will be made at a meeting of the members of the alumni which has been called for Tuesday night at the Central Collegiate. The officers of the alumni are: Honorary president, C. K. Blewett; president, Gordon McDermid; vice-presidents, Olga Miller, Harold Newell and George McCracken; secretary, Marian Stark; assistant secretary, Harold Grace; treasurer, Richard Bower.

WOMEN CALL MEETING TO HEAR CANDIDATES

Mrs. Donald McLean Will Preside at Central Collegiate On Friday.

Great interest is being shown by the women of the city in the civic meeting to be held in the Central Collegiate tomorrow night. The meeting has been called at the instigation of the Women's Citizenship Committee of the Local Council of Women, of which Mrs. John Rose is president, for the purpose of giving the public an opportunity of hearing the candidates for municipal office. And it is probable that Mrs. Donald McLean, vice-president of the local council, will preside.

Although the meeting is being called by the women, it is open to all the citizens of London, and is being advertised by the mayor. The Local Council of Women, through its citizenship committee is endeavoring to arouse the women of London to an interest in the vote, and hopes that election day this year will see a larger vote polled than has yet been polled on that occasion.

The members of the citizenship committee meet again Monday to draw up a slate of candidates.

FIERY, ITCHY SKIN QUICKLY SOOTHED BY THIS SULPHUR

Mentho-Sulphur, a pleasant cream, will soothe and heal skin that is irritated or broken out with eczema; that is covered with ugly rash or pimples, or is rough or dry. Nothing subdues fiery skin eruptions so quickly, says a noted skin specialist.

The moment this sulphur preparation is applied the itching stops and after two or three applications, the eczema is gone and the skin is delightfully clear and smooth. Sulphur is so precious as a skin remedy because it destroys the parasites that cause the burning, itching or disfigurement. Mentho-Sulphur always heals eczema right up.

A small jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur may be had at any good drug store.—Adv.

Suggest Inclusion of Westminster Rink In City Playgrounds System

Rink Would Save Upkeep Of Many Open-Air Sheets; Has Many Revenue Sources

Many Lesser Leagues Will Be Unable To Get Accommodation In New Arena.

"IDEA SOUND"—GREER

Suggestions have been made from so many quarters in favor of the playgrounds committee of the public utilities commission acquiring the old Westminster Rink that it is practically a certainty that the 1924 estimates will provide for the proposition being put through.

It is pointed out that the playgrounds committee already maintains hockey rinks in connection with all the outdoor skating rinks at the public parks. The expense of maintaining these rinks would be cut in half were those devoted to hockey taken away and all games played in the Westminster Rink. Applying this upkeep charge to the Westminster Rink would, spread over a number of years, pay off the capital charge. The revenue possibilities of Westminster Rink from lesser leagues and other sources, it can be shown, would carry the interest charges and possibly do more than that.

"I believe the idea is sound," commented Ald. Jack Greer yesterday, "and I have heard many suggestions favoring this move. The rink can be obtained at a very low figure and would be used by both public school leagues and by the colleges in their 'winter' games. The city now maintains two rinks, one for hockey, the other for skating, at every public park. If the rinks to be maintained were reduced to half the number, it would mean that the expense would be cut in half. This would be a saving in that less labor is needed in keeping and covering rinks than keeping four or five outdoor sheets going."

The new arena cannot begin to accommodate all the hockey leagues in the city, and a revenue that would easily carry interest charges is certain from this source."

The Garrison, Church and C. A. A. are the leagues which will be going strong this year, but which will hardly be able to get accommodation in the new arena. There will be other leagues spring into existence this winter in view of the hockey revival already under way.

It would, however, be in the development of hockey in the public schools and colleges that the inclusion of Westminster Rink in the city playgrounds system would play the biggest part. The hockey rinks in the playgrounds have proven far from satisfactory. Two seasons ago activities in the public school hockey league were entirely suspended owing to the continuance of soft weather all that winter.

C. C. I. Plans For Hockey Season

London South and East C. I.'s Busy on Courts.

Central Collegiate is already planning for hockey and is considering getting practice hours in the afternoon at the new arena.

With several of last year's players back at school and McKencher, of Alvinston; Ted Johnston, of London; and Ken Ross, the Central team should show class in the district group.

The basketball team is practicing twice a week, and the Central school has hopes of capturing the W. O. S. S. A. case game title. The Central C. I. put up a good fight in the play-off for the W. O. S. S. A. honors last year.

London East. At a meeting presided over by the president, Miss Watson, the London East Collegiate Girls' Athletic Association decided to stage all basketball practices at the Western U. Oxford street gym on Tuesday nights. The hours of practices will be announced later.

South London. South London C. I. has chosen a basketball committee which will be in charge of the court program at the school this season. The members are: Dan McLean, J. Ferguson, Reg. Apleyard, E. Hadfield and Clive Vollick.

Stove Leaguers Chatter

Merlin Kopp, former Canadian League outfielder, who has been playing for some years in the Pacific Coast League, is for sale to any major league club that wants to pay the required price, according to an announcement made by the Sacramento club, for which he has been playing. With Kopp is also offered Dick McCabe, former Buffalo heater.

Kopp played with St. Thomas in the old Canadian League, and was recognized as one of the finest fielders ever in the league. He has had one crack at the big show, but apparently is ready this time to stick.

Joe Dugan, third baseman of the Yankees and the best third-sacker in the league, by the way—was a patient at St. Vincent's Hospital yesterday, suffering from the antics of his trick knee. Dugan's left knee has a nasty way of hopping out of joint every once in a while. On Monday night while Joe was going over his financial balance sheet for the year, his knee suddenly popped into what is known as the double lock—a very painful situation.

Joe was removed to St. Vincent's, where he was put under an anesthetic by Dr. King, while the trick knee was shot back into place. The surgeon held Joe in his cot yesterday, but he will be released this morning. Dugan's knee went out of place several times last summer, but never behaved so badly as it did this time. Helnie Groh has a similar knee. Babe Ruth used to sport one, but it seems to have mended.

Benny Kauff is ready to return to the Giants and bat "at least .330, if not better." Just before McGraw called for Eppie Benny came to him and said: "Well, I see you have sent all your center fielders to Boston. Here's one better than the rest. How about it? I am ready to go back into harness and play the game of my life." Kauff asked McGraw to apply to Judge Landis to reinstate him. However, it's a question if Benny could help the Giants now.

There is considerable interest around the American League circuit in the fate of Dicky Kerr, the left-hander, who belongs to the White Sox. Having remained out of baseball last year as a penance for jumping into the big league, Kerr is eligible to apply to Judge Landis for reinstatement. If Kerr makes the application it is reasonable to believe that the Yankees will readmit him.

Leo Mackie, last year manager of London, is the man Carroll reported to be after, but whether he can get him or not is another matter. As an all-around receiver, Mackie has few equals in Class B ball, and for that matter, in leagues of higher classification. He is a consistent .300 hitter, a powerful arm, as many M.O. base stealers have learned to his past; he can use good judgment, and for a big man is very fast on the path.

If Buzz can secure Mackie, he will make one of the strongest moves possible. With a man like the former Londoner behind the bat for a flock of young and ambitious pitchers to hurl at, the battery success of the team should be greatly facilitated.

Buzz is now at his home in Columbus, Ohio, but will be here for a few days prior to the annual meeting of the majors and minors in Chicago on Dec. 15. No word has been received from him as yet regarding the deals he has under contemplation, but his policy is known to favor a complete change, from the bat-boy up.

At the National alleys last night the Cubs defeated the Giants; the Pirates went under to the Tigers; the Aces beat the Hustlers; the Ducks topped the Chickens.

"Shorty" Green Makes Long Green Demand—Shocking

Merely Asks $4,000 Season For Forsaking Amateur Ranks To Play With Hamilton Tigers, and Also Two-Year Contract.

Special to The Advertiser. Hamilton, Nov. 22.—Paddy Jones of the Hamilton Herald says: "Wilfrid 'Shorty' Green of Sudbury places great value on his hockey services. When it comes to demanding pay he has Newey Lalonde, the famous veteran, beaten a city block and then some. He could give Newey cards and spades and then beat him by a wide margin. Lalonde carries a reputation as one of the best money-getters in the hockey and lacrosse world. But he has been backed against the wall by Green's 'modest' request from the Hamilton N. H. L. club.

Long Search. For a long time Business Manager Percy Thompson of the Hamilton club has had an idea in his bonnet that Green would be a welcome addition to the yellow and black hockey squad, from a box office standpoint and for effectiveness. He has made several unsuccessful attempts to land him. A few days ago Percy succeeded in getting 'Red' Green, 'Shorty's' brother, to make the jump, and with this job done, thought it would be easier to get the elder brother. He made Wilfrid a big offer—one of the largest ever offered an amateur. The answer arrived in last evening's mail. The young ladies employed in the arena office fled when they hear their boss' roar. The chaps in the ice-house, 100 yards away, quit work and raced to the office to see what the trouble was.

Help Rush In. "What's up?" the hired he, shouted in unison. "What's up?" roared Thompson. "Look at that and see—no; I won't show it to you. Go back to your work and give me a chance to recover. I've had a severe shock."

Finally, Percy found his tongue. "Can you beat that?" he said. "I make Green an attractive offer and then I can't get him. He wants more money than any hockey player I ever did business with—$4,000 a year and a two-year contract. Wow! Isn't that a pippin?"

"I just can't talk business with a fellow who talks that big," he added. "I'll raise the ante a bit, but for $4,000 per season—well, that's something out of reason. I guess 'Shorty' has no intention of deserting the amateur ranks."

GRANITES WILL HAVE ABSENTEES WHEN THEY SAIL. Aggett, Jeffrey and Romeril Will Not Go to the Olympic. GOOD IN PRACTICE. Special to The Advertiser. Toronto, Nov. 22.—Coach Frank Rankin of the Canadian Olympic team strengthened the "yanigan" line-up yesterday by using Rod Smylie and Ganton Scott of St. Patrick's and Ross Somerville of the University of Toronto seniors, but even this combination proved unable to stop the great back-checking and strong attacking of the Granite regulars in the best practice of the season at the Arena. "Hooley" Smith, Harry Watson and Bert McCaffrey, backed up by the Munro-Kamsay-Cameron defense, did just about as they pleased, and they rattled the twine behind Ernie Collett with regularity.

Acting Manager Campbell stated that no definite Canadian success, duplicate Winnipeg Falcons' success, made regarding the line-up which will go across the sea in search of the world's title, but intimated that the team would be strong enough to duplicate Winnipeg Falcons' success. The Watson-McCaffrey-Smith forward line never worked better than at present.

Jack Aggett, Don Jeffrey and Alex. Romeril will not make the trip to Europe. Aggett and Jeffrey are being claimed by Aura Lee, while Romeril will coach and manage the Argonauts. Hughie Fox, the flashy defense man, who is noted for his speed, was not at yesterday's practice. The management has arranged an extensive exhibition series. The Canadian team will also open the Sportsman's Patriotic Association series at the Arena a week from next Saturday, with Kitchener as defender of the trophy. One of the Kitchener defense players, E. Goss, stated here yesterday that Kitchener will have a strong line-up. The team is practicing at Hamilton, and will be in good condition when they meet the Granites.

GALT HURLBUTS ENTER LADIES' HOCKEY AGAIN. Galt, Nov. 21.—The Hurlbut Shoe Company of Preston will again have a ladies' hockey team in the H. A. The team, which made such a good showing last year, being put off the running for the championship by Welland, after the London, is intact, and with the experience gained last winter, better results are expected this winter.

Down the Line

It begins to look as if London were going to do its developing of school hockey "under cover."

The prices amateurs are asking to jump into pro hockey are likely to discourage any local ideas of that sort of pastime for a while. When they talk of equipping the five-minute pro moguls with shock absorbers, taking on pro hockey on an apparently rising market is not likely to interest any local people for quite a spell.

There is no doubt but that professional hockey would be a successful venture in London when the time is ripe. But the time won't be ripe as long as salaries are as full-blown as they are at present.

Equipping the Horticultural Building at the Western Fair for girls' basketball was a plan in view earlier in the season, but it's been lost somewhere.

The camera's eye seems to rhyme with lie. When the slow motion stuff was perfected, it was thought all arguments over decisions would be stopped. The camera would be the final court. What the camera saw of the Dempsey-Firpo fight wasn't seen by the officials. The public also missed a good deal of what the camera saw. Now the camera throws doubt upon that nose Zev defeated in Memoriam by, but the human eye gets the benefit of the doubt.

The Toronto Globe wants to know if anybody has a better deception play than the following: Out in Western Ontario the other day two teams were all set for a play. The quarterback emitted a few numbers, then stood up to his full height and shouted: "Time—we were getting going."

The ball was snapped at "we," and the defence, which sat back and took a deep breath at the word "Time," was knocked off its pins. A big line plunger broke through for a 40-yard run all the way to the five-yard line, where somebody snatched him by the ears. After that the game was quite informal.

When Tex O'Rourke left New York for England a few months since in search of a man to lift the crown from Jack Dempsey, the boxing world wondered why he went to a country that had not produced a good heavyweight in many, many years. But it turns out that O'Rourke did not go of his own accord, but was in the employ of some English sportsman who wanted to see if some heavyweight could not be developed there of a better calibre than Joe Beckett and Bombardier Wells. O'Rourke picked out three youngsters who had the size, weight and ambition and they are now in a training camp, where they will be taught how to swing the unpolestered digits. Of his search for a champion in the making, London Sporting Life says:

"If the prospect of quickly won wealth could alone provide the urge for our strong, able-bodied youth to become boxers, there should surely be a big rustle in the undergrowth that conceals those potential world's champions which people believe are to be found in the British Isles."

"In what sport other than boxing is wealth to be won in such chunks?" "Wouldn't one think that all the lusty young manhood of the country, knowing of the fortunes to be made in the ring, would be flooding Messrs. Bettison, Major Wilson, Dan Sullivan, Tex O'Rourke and other guiding spirits with inquiries as to the best way of getting into the game of big money?"

"Instead of which, search parties have to be sent out, first to find England's biggest young man, and then to coax him into having a whirl. 'Is there no ambition in the young nation? Is there no desire to be somebody and to do something?'"

"The project financed by Englishmen abroad and put into effect by their agent, Tex O'Rourke, resulted in the finding of less than half a dozen young men of the right stamp physically and with a glimmering of ambition, and of those few only three are now in the camp established at Beacon View, on the western side of the highest of the Malvern hills."

"It seems little to show for the time, money and trouble expended in dredging the country, but if the small remnant should prove to be the pure gold which was sought the task will not have been in vain. We can only hope."

"The three men in the Malvern camp are progressing steadily under Mr. O'Rourke's guidance, but several months must pass before the American trainer finds out whether or not he has discovered a boxer likely to become a contender for the title at present held by Jack Dempsey."

LONDON PLAYERS ARE ALL WILLING TO PLAY PETROLIA

Local Intermediates Will Make Amends For Failure To Play Thanksgiving.

WORKOUT TONIGHT

The London intermediate rugby players made it a unanimous decision to make the trip to Petrolia Saturday, and acceptance of the Hard Oil terms was immediately wired to the committee.

The apparent determination of the players to leave nothing undone which will give London a clean bill of health to start out with next year in rugby caused a huge sigh of relief to go up from the committee members, and will bring an echo from the enthusiastic fans who made the game's comeback here this year possible.

With the exception of Worthington, touch with whom has been temporarily lost, all the regulars will make the trip to the Hard Oil town Saturday. Worthington will be found today. An indoor workout has been ordered for the Y. tonight, the time for which will be notified individually. A good stiff signal drill and a little run around the gym should bring the squad back to something like form. Few of the men have lost the condition gained in the early part of the season through a grind of training that few London teams have undergone.

Transportation arrangements will provide that the team make the trip by train Saturday.

This game won't be the formality it has the appearance of being. Petrolia can win second place in the group standing by taking it, and anything in the way of rugby consolation in the Hard Oil town goes a long way. The locals on the other hand, would like to show on paper anyway, that they are as good as Sarnia, by rolling up a score something similar to the one the Blue and Whites piled up on the Hard Oil gridiron.

Goddard Wins Beckett's Vacated Title When Bloomfield Fouls

F. GODDARD WINS HEAVY TITLE ON FOUL IN SECOND

Bloomfield Disqualified For Hitting Goddard When Rising.

MASON KEEPS CROWN

Associated Press Despatch.
London, Nov. 21.—Frank Goddard tonight became heavyweight champion of Great Britain when he was fouled in the second round by Jack Bloomfield, who hit Goddard while the latter was down.

The men were to have fought 20 rounds for the title, held until recently by Joe Beckett, who retired from the ring following his sensational defeat at Olympia by Georges Carpentier, who knocked him out in the first round. Tonight's fight was held in Albert Hall, Bloomfield, who was disqualified, holds the light heavyweight championship of Great Britain.

In the first round Goddard took the aggressive and endeavored with his right to land a knockout blow. Bloomfield, however, was too elusive for his opponent. In the second round Goddard again rushed, but Bloomfield measured him neatly with a hard right, and Goddard went to the floor. He stayed down only momentarily, however, and when he rose he made another rush toward his adversary, only to be sent to the canvas with another hard right. This time he stayed down for a longer count, and when attempting to rise was struck by Bloomfield. The referee immediately disqualified the light heavyweight champion, and Goddard thereby succeeded to the heavyweight crown laid aside by Beckett.

Harry Mason retained the lightweight championship of Europe by defeating Ernie Rice on points in their twenty-round bout here tonight. Both contestants are English.

SIKI'S GAMENESS DRAWS APPROVAL OF U. S. FIGHT FANS

Plagues Spectators by Standing Up To Kid Norfolk's Withering Punishment.

K. O. ELEMENT LACKING

By FAIR PLAY.
Special to The Advertiser.

New York, Nov. 21.—Even though "Kid" Norfolk received the award over Battling Siki in their light-heavyweight bout at Madison Square Garden last night, Mons. Siki won't have to return to Paris if he doesn't fight. For there is every assurance that every time the sable battler appears in the ring on this side of the water the spectators will be packed in. Why? Because all the world loves a fighter.

Siki proved in his bout against "Kid" Norfolk, last night at Madison Square Garden, that he is every inch a gladiator, and the fact that he showed greater genius in receiving than in giving didn't hurt him with the fans.

There is a world of power in Siki's right—it descends like the falling branch of the tallest tree in Siki's native jungle. And the left is a weapon of power, too. Siki's difficulty was the difficulty that Firpo experienced against Jack Dempsey—lack of knowledge of just how to apply his tremendous strength. In fact this Siki-Norfolk encounter was a reproduction in charcoal, one may say, of the great September battle at the Polo Grounds.

The knockout element was lacking, but the action was all there. Norfolk fought a great fight. He demonstrated beyond any mistaking that in ring contests, skill, knowledge and experience do count, and that other things being equal they will prevail in the end.

Siki was a sadly battered Senegalese when the bout ended. His eye, lips and cheeks were cut and bleeding. But his ardor for battle was undimmed, and the chances are that in some forest glade, with no ropes nor rules, nor referee, nor judges, Siki at length would have beaten down his antagonist and then cooked him for dinner.

But as it was, Norfolk was able to pile up points, to stab his man and to gain a convincing lead. There were times when Siki rushing in with hands flailing, absolutely indifferent to the damage inflicted upon him by his adversary, gave promise of hurling the kid out of the ring, even as Firpo hurled Dempsey, but always the American dinged stabbed, hooked until Siki, bewildered, drew back. Siki started this way at the first sound of the bell in the first round, ferocious assault, while the light from the arc lamps glowed upon black, perspiring bodies that shone like polished ebony. There were flashing whites of eyes, gleaming teeth and all about, everywhere, as it seemed, flailing arms, flying fists.

But through some strange process, all the cardinal precepts of boxing science had been driven through Norfolk's thick skull, and he remained the master.

Montreal, Nov. 21.—Setting aside all rumors that Georges Vezina, senior goaltender of the Canadian Hockey Club, might not be available this season, Leo Dandurand, managing director of the local N. H. L. team, today announced the receiving of the signed contract of Vezina.

U. S. WILL ENTER DUAL MEET WITH BRITAIN

Invitation of Britain For Meet After Olympic Is Accepted.

Associated Press Despatch.
New York, Nov. 21.—Formal acceptance of an invitation for United States athletes to compete in a dual meet at London with representatives of the British Empire was announced today by the A. A. U. The meet will be held on July 29, immediately following the Olympic track and field program at Paris.

The program for the meet, which will be similar to one held in London after the 1920 Olympics, as suggested by British athletic authorities, include eight relay races, ranging in distance from 400 yards to four miles, and the running broad and high jumps. The Amateur Athletic Union also has approved the proposed Irish games at Dublin, where the Irish Free State plans to hold an athletic tournament for Irishmen and all those of Irish extraction next August. An invitation has been extended to Irish athletes residing in the United States.

ACKNOWLEDGES ENTRY OF CANADIAN PLAYERS

Olympic Committee Announces Hockey Games Will Begin January 28.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, Nov. 21.—A communication was received tonight by the Canadian Olympic committee from the French Olympic committee acknowledging the receipt of the official entry for Canada in ice hockey in the eighth Olympiad, to be held at Chamont in January, 1924.

Mr. Frantz Reichel, secretary-general of the French Olympic committee, writes as follows: "The official program has been forwarded to you, giving all particulars concerning hockey and skating. 'Hockey begins Jan. 28, and the speed skating will take place Jan. 26 and 27. There are no races for women.'"

A committee, comprising Dave McLean, Bob Ferguson, Reg Appleby, Ernie Handfield and Olive Vollick will represent local students in managing the affairs of "Wossa" basketball in London this winter.

Dempsey Buys Hotel Property

Associated Press Despatch.
Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 21.—Jack Dempsey, world's champion heavyweight pugilist, and his manager, Jack Kearns, looked up from real estate contracts long enough to laugh at reports coming to them from all sides that Dempsey had been killed. For two days Dempsey and his manager have been engrossed in realty deals, involving acquisition of a $600,000 hotel property here.

NEW PRO HOCKEY LOOP IS PLANNED WITH U. S. CITIES

Toronto Men Interested in League Which Includes New York.

ENTER MONTREAL

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, Nov. 21.—The Telegram this evening says:

There is a new professional hockey league in the making. It will be international in character, and will be in the east. Whether or not the circuit will operate as a whole or in part only this winter is a matter of doubt. The Torontonians interested in the proposed new circuit are Percy Quinn and Eddie Livingston. Mr. Quinn, who was prominent in professional hockey in Toronto some years ago, has just returned from New York. "We are not in a position to say anything definite as yet," said Mr. Quinn today. We are withholding definite statement until later. I will be in New York again in a few days.

The idea, from what can be gathered from Mr. Quinn's conversation, is the establishment of a professional hockey league with teams in the United States cities as well as in Canada. Toronto will certainly be one of the Canadian cities, and the games will be played in the Coliseum at Exhibition Park. It is too late now to have an ice plant installed in the Coliseum, and the natural ice would have to be depended upon. However, it is said the plans of the new league do not figure on operating in Toronto this season.

New York, however, is said to be ready, and Mr. Quinn's next trip is that city will likely clear that situation. Boston is said to be another in view, and also Pittsburgh. The Pittsburgh rink is to be remodelled. Montreal may be one of the Canadian cities.

JOE DUNDEE GETS BETTER OF WELLING IN CHICAGO

Associated Press Despatch.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 21.—Joe Dundee of Baltimore, who awarded the decision over Joe Welling, Chicago veteran, after a twelve-round bout here tonight, Welling floored Dundee for a count of eight in the second round, but was unable to cope with his rugged young opponent after that. Dundee won ten rounds, Welling one and one even. Dundee weighed 138 and Welling 137 1/2 pounds.

Sarnia Squad Is Full Strength

Wilson Will Be In—Karn and Perry Fit Again.

Special to The Advertiser.

Sarnia, Nov. 21.—It was feared at first the Sarnia intermediates would be badly handicapped by the absence of leading players through injuries, for their important game at Galt on Saturday. It was learned today that with the exception of Manora, who wrenched his knee on Saturday, the Blue and White will probably be at full strength. "Red" Wilson is still limping, but the doctor thinks he will be all right by Saturday, and Karn and Perry have overcome the hard knocks they received.

Newton is working the team hard this week, and is confident that his line can repeat the dose handed to the Galt team last week. Outside of the team itself, the chances of Galt even winning Saturday's game, quite apart from matter of reducing the big Sarnia lead, are not seriously considered. The team itself is working away as if it had no advantage and are determined to avenge last year's defeat at the hands of Galt. So far the Sarnia team has played the best football away from this city, as Petrolia and London records will show.

Acce was high even in 1845. Here is the way a score sheet looked in that primitive day. You can't even tell just what kind of ball they played. They had fines, though. Hands out can't mean hand-outs, but run is plain enough, though the umpire, W. R. Wheaton, wrote down in the "Remarks" column, "Winner by 3 aces" and as the score was eight runs to eleven that proves an ace was a run. However they played, seven men made a team. Science has made wonderful progress since then.

KINGSTON IS "HUFFY" OVER DATE OF GAMES

See Veiled Effort To Move Tigers-Queens Battle To Toronto.

Kingston, Nov. 21.—Today Major Greenwood, coach of the Intermediate Intercollegiate R. M. C. team, received a letter from Bobby Hewitson to make arrangements for the team to play in Montreal Saturday next, with the return game in Kingston Dec. 1.

Providing Queens defeated the Hamilton Tigers Saturday, the athletic board of control is anxious to have the game with the western team pulled off in Kingston Dec. 1, but at Queens there is a feeling that the C. R. U. officials are endeavoring to pull the game to Toronto, and they do not like the action of the C. R. U. in ordering a game played at the Richardson Stadium without first consulting the college authorities.

Umpires wore high hats, but so did the scorers. This is one. His name was William Bull. He's got a big sheet and a piercing glance. This old eagle eye flourished in the sixties.

OLD SCORE KEEPING.

In the baseball guides of the early days it was required that the scorer should be "one whose gentlemanly conduct will render him acceptable to all who are liable to make inquiries of him relative to the score of the game." It was Henry Chadwick who devised the first adequate method of keeping scores. In the days of the Knickerbocker Club they talked much in the same manner Rip Van Winkle tallied his drinks on the Inn-door. It was the old New York game they played, when buses were called aces.

But by the time the Red Stockings were in full swing there was a short-hand of score keeping as intricate as it is today, and as full of personal improvements. So that any score is sort of cryptic puzzle, and we give such a puzzle here from the score books of the two clubs mentioned—valuable books from the library of Mr. Spalding, now in possession of the New York Public Library. Through the persistent recording of games by Mr. Chadwick, whose complete score books are still followed by those who read scores, with the same facility as an ardent chess player reads the chess problems in the papers. Compare this scoring of yesterday with that of today.

These days before Christmas bring so many things to do; so much shopping to think about. Money seems fairly to fly away.

But what a difference in the time it takes if before you go to the stores, jammed and crowded with Christmas shoppers, you know exactly what you want to buy for each member of your family and for every friend.

Why not sit by your own fireside, visit with the stores in advance, and determine just how much you are going to spend?

It is the unprepared shopper who wastes time and money. Your list can be prepared to the very last item before your leave your house. Take the help that is offered so generously.

TOWE PAYS TRIBUTE TO MAYOR WENGE

Aldermanic Candidate Tells of Striking Incident Re Industrial Work.

Allan Towe, member of the industrial area commission and aldermanic candidate in ward one, paid Mayor Wenge a high tribute at last night's mass meetings. Referring to the work of the commission during the current term, Mr. Towe explained that he had been the one member of that body to oppose the proposed improvements for the industrial area. "Mayor Wenge knew that I was strongly opposed to his way of thinking in this respect," Mr. Towe said, "yet he called me four or five times after a meeting to be sure that I would be at a special meeting, although he was practically assured that I would not be supporting his measure. "And I think I have the mayor about converted to my way of thinking," he concluded.

CAMPAIGN OPENS IN TWO WITH ADDRESS BY MAYOR

The municipal fight extends to Ward Two tonight, with meetings in the Talbot Street and Empress Avenue Schoolhouses. The former meeting opens at 7:30 o'clock sharp, and the latter at 8:30 p.m. Mayor Wenge will review the new city hall question and deal generally with the stewardship of members of the city council from that district.

Grenfell Gives Intimate Account of Possibilities of Developing Labrador

Noted Missionary Sees Great Future For Country of Which Canadians Have So Little Acquaintance—Declares Future
Generations Will Appreciate Its Worth.

An intimate glimpse of Labrador and a graphic account of its possibilities and resources was given before a large audience at Wesley Hall last evening by Dr. Wilfred Grenfell, the noted missionary. Interesting slides and word pictures of that apparently beautiful country which Canadians in general know so little about featured the distinguished doctor's lecture.

Dr. Grenfell compared Labrador with the condition of Canada years ago. Few persons now would believe that Canada was not very badly wanted by the British when the Dominion was taken over from the French. Yet in those days Europe did not think favorably of this country as a colony. The same is true of Labrador today. It doesn't seem to be wanted, but future generations will appreciate its worth.

The man who has devoted his life to work in Labrador, opened his address with reference to publicity given his statements while in London. He said he was not accustomed to having his opinions paraded before the public in large headlines. He also said he was in no position to judge whether the sentence meted out to Eskimos convicted of murder was just or unjust. He knew nothing about the situation in this regard. The Eskimo was like a child, he averred, but his unfamiliarity with this particular case did not justify an expression of opinion one way or the other.

"Further, I do not pretend to know whether ships will come direct to Europe from Labrador in the future," Dr. Grenfell said. "It is not for me to predict. It is true that fish vessels come to the country and go away carrying cargoes of salmon."

Must Look Ahead.

It was a curious fact, the speaker continued, that no one at present knew to whom Labrador belonged. As the closest seaport to England, Labrador was entitled to consideration from Canadians. In developing this great stretch of habitable land it was necessary to look ahead to the future, as the old-time pioneers did in the development of Canada.

"There has never been an intelligent human effort put into Labrador except in its fish," Dr. Grenfell said. "Markets for this product have always been poor, the principal buyers being Greece, Spain and Portugal. The war has, of course, had a detrimental effect on trade with these countries."

"The people who trap furs in Labrador are better off than those who catch fish. The lady who wears white fox skins should know that the trappers who catch these animals get a fair price for them. The average is $20 to $25 apiece. All our products are taken away raw, such as fish, furs and timber."

"What return do the inhabitants of Labrador get for their life? Well, they are saved from many temptations. Their natural instincts are satisfied and they lead a happy existence."

"But you mustn't think of Labrador as it is now. You must think of it as it will be 50 years from now."

"If I have been asked once I have been asked twenty times if it wasn't the cold which caused Labrador to be sparsely populated. No matter how many times it is contradicted the people will go on believing that an ostrich puts its head in the sand. But let me say that I have fallen into a frozen lake in Labrador and come out without a cold. Yet in a Boston subway you can contract a severe epidemic which will send you to bed for a fortnight or more. You have to come to civilization to get the benefit of these things."

Develops Character.

"The influence of cold climate on character shows that it produces a splendid type of man—men who are inured to hardships. The problem of clothing is well worked out in Labrador. I have gone through a blizzard with the temperature 25 below in clothing which was probably lighter than that in which I came to London. We don't use overcoats. An overcoat leaks all the heat out at the neck and other places. You know, you can't make a marble statue warm by putting a fur overcoat on it."

"The actual elevation of temperature—the mean temperature—doesn't make an iota of difference in the ability of an individual to enjoy life. "There are no physical reasons why Labrador should not be developed. It has many distinct advantages over other parts of the world, and it is actually on the same parallel of latitude as Scotland and other thickly populated centers. Now, I am not urging an exodus to Labrador, but I do object to it being called a dumping ground. It has been a dumping ground of get-rich-quick promoters, and this is one of the burdens it has been compelled to bear."

Dr. Grenfell added that Labrador was more beautiful than Ontario. He said there were cliffs and mountains there as yet unexplored by white men. One of the waterfalls had a much greater drop than Niagara, and the waterpower resources were unlimited, yet all were virtually going to waste.

Numerous fine slides illustrating the beauties of the country were put on the screen. Dr. Grenfell explained the portent of each, describing the many varieties of plant life, animals and territories.

"What I have done in Labrador," he said, "is just what any man in this audience might have done. I saw what scope there was for giving succor to the lame, the needy, the stricken, and I couldn't resist the challenge. Young Canadians who come overseas at the call of war were actuated by the same motives. They heeded the challenge."

Tells Port Arthur Quantity

Doubled in Year.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Port Arthur, Nov. 21.—Speaking at a dinner given by the city of Port Arthur in his honor here tonight, Sir Adam Beck, chairman of the Ontario hydro-electric commission, predicted that inside 12 months, Port Arthur would be taking double her present quantity of power from the Nipigon. Sir Adam said electricity would play a great part in the development of the district, especially in the utilization of the iron ore resources and detailed the extent of the commission's undertakings in Ontario.

Pregonal failed to appear in court.

To-day I saw

Fashion has thrown down the gauntlet glove! But the supple kid skins of early fall are being superseded by the new woolen gloves which I saw today!

Developed in camel hair or brushed wool, they are of a clinging softness and cozy warmth which wins immediate favor in this crisp, cold weather. The prevailing color is the natural shade, with contrasting colors to suit your costume and your fancy.

At the Glove Counter you will find plain knitted white woolen gauntlets, with a ribbed cuff and bandings of cardinal and castor; plain knitted hands (they all have the snug-fitting seamless fingers) with brushed wool cuffs, and turnover tops with mofks in brown and castor.

A delightful gift for the out-of-doors girl would be a pair of brushed wool gauntlets with blurry bands of white, rose and turquoise or brown. Their price of a dollar and sixty-five cents is another argument in their favor.

The softest of camel hair gloves, in natural color, are banded and fringed in turquoise, orange and brown, or have invisible plaids of orange and brown or blue and sand on the cuffs. You will want their easy little fringes. For the fringe which tries everything from fingerie to lampshades doesn't neglect the gauntlet glove.

ST. THOMAS MASONS GUESTS OF PORT BURWELL LODGE

Special to The Advertiser.
Port Burwell, Nov. 21.—A number of prominent Masons of St. Thomas were entertained in true Masonic fashion at the regular meeting of Oriental Lodge, No. 181, Tuesday night. The occasion was the official visit of D. D. G. M. Cochran to the local lodge—the first visit since the Port Burwell and Vienna lodges were placed in St. Thomas district. The local officers, under direction of W. M. P. M. Stewart, exemplified the work of the third degree of Freemasonry. The address of the grand lodge officer was instructive and interesting. A splendid banquet followed the regular meeting, and the toast list elicited many interesting talks.

UNIONIST CAUSES SURPRISE

Associated Press Despatch.
London, Nov. 21.—Sir Newton Moore, coalition Unionist member for North Islington since 1918, is not of-faring himself for re-election, greatly to the surprise of his constituents. He explains that he may have to leave for Canada in a few weeks, and probably would be unable to give the constituency effective representation. He adds that he has no quarrel with Premier Baldwin's policy.
