COURTS RESTORE LOW CAR FARES IN LONDON

Londoners Condemn "Mercy Murder" of Girl Paralytic

SEVEN TICKETS FOR QUARTER MUST BE SOLD BY COMPANY WHILE FRANCHISE IN EFFECT

Second Divisional Court at Osgoode Hall Allows Appeal of the City of London From Decision of the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board and Holds Original Fares Agreement Is in Effect For at Least Next Five-Year Period.

ALDERMEN, CITY OFFICIALS HAIL GOOD NEWS

The city has won its appeal in the second divisional court, Toronto, against the decision of the Ontario railway and municipal board permitting the London Street Railway Company to charge a straight five-cent fare on its lines in this city.

The decision of the appeal court handed down today opens a whole vista of interesting possibilities in the local street transportation problem. As matters stand, the judgment means that the decision of the railway board is reversed and the street railway company must, therefore, revert to the old rate of fares, viz., seven tickets for a quarter, and nine tickets for a half, as a special workmen's rate to be in effect between 6 and 8 in the morning and 5 to 7 in the evening.

The logical course of events would be for the street railway company to carry the case to a higher court, as it has repeatedly claimed that it could not afford to operate cars in London on the old fares; in fact, it was said previously to the hearing by the railway board last June that if the decision went against the company it would cease operations in London. R. C. Avery, vice-president of the company, was absent from the city today, and what the decision will be in regard to an appeal could not be learned.

Sees No Appeal.
Ald. Dr. L. H. Douglass was of the opinion that the company will not appeal. "It's good news," he stated when informed of the decision. "I had reason to expect that would be the decision. It means, if I interpret it correctly, that the decision of the railway board is reversed and the company ordered to revert to the old rate of fares."

Mayor Wenig is absent from the city today and could not be reached to give an opinion on the turn of events.

Ald. Frank McKay, commenting on the decision, stressed the point that the council in deciding to appeal were only carrying out their duty towards the citizens of London, who looked to the council members to see that the agreement between the city and the company was lived up to. He believes that the decision rendered today will get the whole proposition decided from basis, whereby the company will have to live up to its agreement, not only as to fare, but as to paving and other matters.

Precipitates Crisis.
Manager Leonard Tait of the street railway company, commenting on the decision of the appeal court, stated that it would only precipitate an immediate crisis in the local transportation situation. The company may decide to appeal the decision, he pointed out, but unless some such step is taken it precipitates the issue at once. The road, even now, is crowded with cars. Since the buses came in they are taking away sufficient traffic to turn a small operating surplus into a deficit.

"Absolutely not," was the reply. "I think the company would refuse to do

Fares Restored By Court Ruling
The rate of fares which today's decision of the second divisional court in Toronto orders into effect on the London street railway is:

Five-cent drop-fare.
Seven tickets for 25c at all times.
Nine tickets for 50c for use of workmen between the hours of 6 and 8 a.m. and from 5 to 6:30 in the evening.

If the Ontario railway and municipal board orders the company to do so, it can, of course, always come in and operate the road. And it has simply cannot operate on the old rate of fares and avoid a deficit. It simply cannot be done."

Full Judgment As Written By Mr. Justice Riddell
Special to The Advertiser by Staff Correspondent.

Toronto, Nov. 6.—Following the appeal of the city of London to the second divisional court at Osgoode Hall today gave judgment for the city.

The case was heard before Chief Justice Latchford and Justices Riddell, Middleton and McEachern, and judgment was written by Mr. Justice Riddell, says:

"The Corporation of the City of London vs. the London Street Railway Company.

"This is a motion by way of appeal from the order of the Ontario railway and municipal board, dated 28, 1925, and involving an exceedingly important question.

"Notwithstanding the importance of the question which has to be decided by the citizens of London and the London Street Railway Company, the facts are exceedingly simple. The London Street Railway Company were incorporated by the act of 1873, 36 Victoria, chapter 99, and this was amended by the act of 52 Victoria, chapter 79. The street railway then made an agreement with the city, as they are authorized to do by the act of 1873, and came to the legislature so as to get further legislation, and this was passed in 1896, 59 Victoria, chapter 105, which, amongst other things, validated the agreement between the city and the railway company, which is set out as schedule 'A' to the act.

Original Prices.
"By this agreement, the railway company by virtue of clauses 25 (D) and 25 (E), were limited as to the price to be charged for transit on their line. The amounts were substantially 5 cents, but seven tickets were to be sold for 25 cents during certain hours, and another class of tickets, nine for 25 cents during other hours, and the company were to keep a sufficient supply of tickets for sale at some convenient place in the city as well as upon their cars.

"The company, finding it, as they contended, impracticable to carry on their operations with that provision came again to the legislature and in 1922 the act, 12 and 13 George V, chapter 141, was passed, by which,

JUSTICE W. R. RIDDELL, whose written judgment on city of London street railway appeal restores seven-for-a-quarter tickets.

HEART WAS BROKEN, SAILOR'S DEFENCE

Towers On Trial in Southampton For Killing Captain of Steamer Melita.

Associated Press Despatch.
Southampton, Nov. 6.—"The captain was talking about me and turning all my friends against me and I could not stand it any longer. He has broken my heart. I am very happy I did it."

This is what Thomas Towers, former first officer of the Canadian Pacific liner, Melita, who is charged with murdering Captain A. H. Clews, commander of the Melita, and wounding two other officers of the Melita, D. K. Gilmour and John Holman, with intent to kill, is alleged to have said just after the shooting on board the Melita at Antwerp on Oct. 21. The words attributed to Towers were spoken today at the resumption of the hearing before the magistrates here by a witness, Joseph Geerick, inspector of the Canadian Pacific investigation department at Antwerp.

Witness Geerick further said that shortly after the tragedy on the Melita, Towers said he had spoken to Captain Clews a couple of minutes before the shooting. The captain was in his bunk. "He wouldn't turn out, and I shot him in bed," Towers said, according to the witness.

Geerick said that Towers added that one shot was sufficient to end the captain's life.

Continuing, the witness said that when Towers was asked why he had shot Gilmour, he replied: "He is my enemy. I am sorry I shot him. He is a man of the crew of the Melita, didn't get what holiday got."

CITY CHARITIES GET $2,500 FROM BURROWS ESTATE

Missionary Society of Methodist Church Gets $1,000 and Salvation Army $500.

CHILDREN BENEFIT

Protestant Orphans and the Thomas Alway Hall Home Each Get Sums From Will.

Public bequests of $2,500 were made by the late Jas. Burrows of London, who died on Oct. 8 leaving a large estate. The estate is being probated by the London & Western Trusts Co., with Tennent & Tennent acting as solicitors.

The missionary society of the Methodist church is left $1,000; No. 1 corps, Salvation Army, London, $500; British and foreign Bible society, $500; aged people's home, $200, and the Protestant orphans' home, and the Victoria home for incurable, each $100.

The balance of the estate is divided among four children of deceased. They are Harriet Jane Baker, 125 Bruce street; Edith Mary Kelly, Cathcart and Bruce street; Francis James Burrows, Seaforth and Ell Edgar Burrows, Lambeth.

The personal effects were divided among the children. There was no real estate, the estate being made up of Dominion of Canada bonds and debentures.

GLENCOE MAN FINED FOR WHIPPING BOY

Ten-Year-Old Youngster Is Severely Beaten For Halloween Prank.

Because little James Grover, 10-year-old youngster, took a cart with other small boys for a Halloween prank, Frank Smith, Glencoe farmer, cruelly beat the child with a black snake whip.

Smith appeared before County Magistrate Peter Morrison and Zaphie of Glencoe, pleaded guilty to a charge of common assault and was fined $10 and costs by Magistrate Zaphie, after a severe lecture.

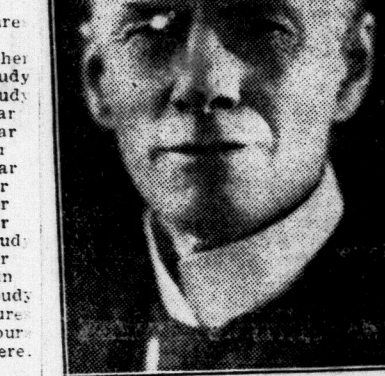

Magistrate Morrison stated today that the boy was working for Smith, who completely lost his temper over the fact that the little chap had taken an old cart for some fun on Halloween. The farmer laid on the whip till the blood came, the magistrate said he had been told.

The charge was laid by the boy's father, who lives in Glencoe.

The unprovoked cruelty of Smith recalls the famous Bulfinch case of a few years ago, when Benson Cox, a farmer residing in Colborne township, near Goderich, beat Charlie Bulfinch, 16 years old, with a hames strap. Young Bulfinch committed suicide. Cox served a term of three months.

CHURCHES AND TROOPS WILL MARK ARMISTICE ANNIVERSARY IN CITY

R.C.R. Will Parade to Church Sunday Morning and Full Garrison a Week Later.

HOLIDAY ON MONDAY

Observance of Two Minutes of Silence Will Be General in Dominion on Wednesday.

Elaborate preparations are being made by the military and religious authorities of the city for special services in observance of Thanksgiving Day, Monday, Nov. 9, and Armistice Day, Wednesday, Nov. 11.

His Majesty King George V. has requested that the British people throughout the Empire observe a two-minute silence at 11 a.m. on Wednesday morning to honor the memory of the men who died for the Empire during the great war which ended on Nov. 11, 1918, at 11 o'clock in the morning.

This request has been endorsed by Premier Mackenzie King, and the two minutes of silence will be observed in addition to the regular celebration of Armistice Day, recognized by the Canadian parliament as the Monday preceding the day.

The Royal Canadian Regiment will hold a special Armistice Day parade and service to Cronyn Memorial Anglican church next Sunday morning at 11 a.m. Rev. G. Quintin Warner, B.D., rector, will preach and the dipping of the colors will be observed as a salute to the dead.

Armistice services, to which all military and returned men are invited, will be held in Metropolitan church and Dundas Centre church on Sunday evening, when appropriate addresses will be given by Rev. Major J. Bruce Hunter, M.A., B.D., M.C., and Rev. Capt. E. W. Edwards, M.A., B.D., M.C., respectively.

Monday (Thanksgiving Day) will be generally observed throughout the whole city, while the London United church ministerial association has arranged a union service for all the United churches of the city, and any other who care to attend, at Metro-United church at 10:30 a.m., when Rev. A. R. Orton, B.D., Chatham, will be the special speaker.

As previously indicated, there will be an observance of two minutes of silence at 11 a.m. on Wednesday morning, Armistice Day, in memory of the fallen, when all activities in the city will cease for that brief period.

Garrison Parade Later.
On Sunday, Nov. 15, there will be a full garrison parade of troops at Wesley barracks and of all returned men of the city, G. W. V. A., and others, beginning at 3:30 p.m., with a review and march past at Victoria park, with Brig.-Gen. W. B. M. King, C.M.G., D.S.O., commander of M. D. No. 1, taking the salute. Following the parade, there will be an armistice service in St. Paul's cathedral, beginning at 4 p.m., with Very Rev. Dean N. L. Tucker, D.D., D.C.L., rector, in charge.

Swatow has repeatedly changed hands during the last few months. In September it was reported to have been captured by Gen. Ching Chung Ming.

O'Connor Heads Drive In Toronto

Special to The Advertiser.
Toronto, Nov. 6.—Announcement was made today by the Toronto committee of the Beck Memorial Endowment, that John O'Connor, prominent member of the Toronto harbor commission, has accepted the local chairmanship with George H. Ross, city finance commissioner, acting as Toronto treasurer.

The Toronto committee is organizing energetically, and is leaving no stone unturned to insure the fulfillment of the Beck Memorial endowment of Sir Adam Beck's death-bed appeal made on behalf of Queen Alexandra sanatorium and its province-wide work in combating the white plague.

HUMANE MURDER NOT JUSTIFIABLE, LONDON'S OPINION

Taking of Invalid Daughter's Life by Colorado Doctor Rouses Storm of Protest.

DR. BLAZER ON TRIAL

Imbecile Almost a Gain to the Race in Self-Sacrifice, Says Juvenile Judge.

The taking of a life, even if it be to put an end to a born imbecile, is not justifiable. A "mercy murder" can never be tolerated. London's opinion would point a finger of condemnation at Dr. Harold A. Blazer, who goes on trial today at Littleton, Colorado, charged with the murder of his daughter, 32-year-old paralytic "child woman" who had neither speech nor expression.

The condemnation would be for Dr. Blazer's disregard of the laws of man by taking it upon himself to attempt to restore a civilization of 3,000 years ago. In a summary of the opinion of representative Londoners, Dr. Blazer rightfully faces a murder charge, but the punishment for the crime should not be too severe in view of the fact that it was his confirmed belief he was actuated by humane intentions.

His daughter was a living creature, they contend. She was aimless, legless, deaf and dumb—a "human husk," but in his act of taking her life by administering a killing quantity of chloroform, he also took a soul.

Never Justifiable.
"No, there is never any ground for taking the life of an imbecile," Rev. G. Q. Wainwright, a prominent Londoner, answered today. "It is not justifiable. There could ever be no justification for putting out of the way a defective or a cripple. In the long run an imbecile almost always becomes a burden to the race in the self-sacrifice and care which they provoke. This would compensate the worst and trouble in the upbringing. There are those who have unfortunate imbecile children. There are those who are bitterly disappointed, and those who are real desire to add. Of the two types give me the people who will work with faith, in preference to those with cold scientific reasoning, who would suggest putting an end to life for the defective child's own betterment."

The day will never come when the killing of a defective child is justified, Mr. Wainwright declares. There is no use in trying to improve the race by killing the defectives; rather he advocates killing the defect and getting back the source.

Custom Outgrown.
The same expression of opinion is given by Dr. Robinson of the Ontario hospital for the insane. The world would never agree with the reasoning which actuated such a murder, he declares. It was the custom once, three thousand years ago, to execute such a child, but now, he states that the world will never go back to those days.

"But one cannot help but feel sometimes that it would be better," Dr. Robinson said as he refused to categorize Dr. Blazer as an out-and-out murderer. "It is a terrible thing for any man to take the law in his own hands, but this man does not deserve the full punishment for murder."

Sympathy for Father.
"I couldn't say that murder is ever justified," Mrs. John Rose, school trustee, said. "I have a certain amount of sympathy for the father, however, because I can readily conceive that 33 years is a long time to carry such a trouble as Dr. Blazer had, and in his old age he may have been driven to the crime by a dread of leaving the helpless girl behind. The weakest child, physically or mentally, is the one most dear to the parents. I wouldn't like to judge this man, but to me his act was not justifiable."

In the eyes of the law if Dr. Blazer did kill his daughter he is guilty of murder, and would have to pay for his crime with his own life, according to Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon. The law cannot accept moral and humane arguments as proof of innocence.

JURY BEING CHOSEN.
Littleton, Col., Nov. 6.—Is taking the life of an imbecile by any person, even the parent of the helpless invalid, ever justified?

The trial of Dr. Harold E. Blazer, charged with the killing of his helplessly daughter, Hazel I. Blazer, 32, began yesterday in the Arapahoe county court here with this question on every tongue.

Selection of the jury, it was indicated at the very outset of the trial, was a long, involved process, because of the exacting qualifications both prosecution and defence will demand. A list of 120 veniremen is under summons for this trial, and Judge Samuel W. Johnson issued orders today for the summoning of 300 more. It is thought improbable that the jury will be chosen by tomorrow.

PROVINCE'S DEFICIT NEARLY 6 MILLIONS IS TORONTO REPORT

Treasurer Price Estimates in His Budget Nearly Doubled For Fiscal Year.

REVENUES FAILED

Annual Expenditure For Roads Alone Will Require $25,000,000.

Special to The Advertiser. Toronto, Nov. 5.—Instead of a deficit of three million for the province of Ontario for the fiscal year which ended Oct. 31 last, as estimated in his budget speech on March 1, Treasurer Price will be faced with a deficit for the year of about six millions, according to information given to the Telegram today. Inasmuch as the accounts have not yet been finally closed, this figure is approximate, and may be altered somewhat in either direction, more likely downwards, by the time a full accounting of the past year's transactions have been made.

Up to the end of August last total ordinary expenditures are reported to have reached the total of $40,000,000 in round figures. The remaining

HERB JUICE IS TAKING LONDON BY STORM

Prominent Lady Voluntarily Expresses Her Gratitude.

MRS. JACK RICHARDSON.

MILLER'S CANADIAN HERB JUICE is certainly the most effective remedy I have ever tried. I have been ailing for two or three years, and have suffered terribly from stomach disorders, backache, general tired feeling and sleeplessness. I have been losing weight at the rate of one or two pounds per month. I could not sleep at night on account of trouble with my stomach. Seeing what MILLER'S CANADIAN HERB JUICE was doing for others, I decided to try a bottle. The first bottle is not completely gone, yet I now sleep well at night, have a better appetite and never feel better in my life. HERB JUICE is certainly a wonderful general restorative. I can now do my work, eat anything I like and nervous much better. I have purchased another three bottles, as I would not be without it in the house. This is a voluntary statement made by Mrs. Jack Richardson, prominent lady of La Salle, Ontario. What HERB JUICE has done for her can be done for you. The representative from the HERB JUICE laboratories has established headquarters at the STANDARD DRUG STORE, 150 DUNDAS ST. W., where he will meet the local public daily between the hours of 9 a.m. and 12 noon and 2 p.m. and 5 p.m. for the purpose of explaining the merits of HERB JUICE, and how to get the best possible results from its use. Veteran Member Taken By Death

Canadian Press Despatch. Montreal, Nov. 5.—J. E. Marcell, Liberal member-elect for Bagot, Que., and representative of that constituency in the house of commons since 1898, died here this afternoon at Hotel Dieu hospital, to which he was taken Monday night suffering from an illness which had prevented him from taking part in the election. Mr. Marcell was elected by a majority of over 700. Mr. Marcell, who was 71 years of age, was born at Contrecoeur, Que.

Two months of the fiscal year witness the heaviest payments of provincial obligations, so that the treasurer's estimate of last March of a total ordinary expenditure for the year of 49 millions will likely be very close to the mark. However, in some respects, however, have fallen down, and while it had been expected they would reach 26 millions, this belief was predicated on the assumption that the gasoline tax would net for the remainder of the fiscal year some $2,300,000. From this source about two millions is collected so far. And in the absence of any official statement, the total receipts under the head of "luxury tax" which had been expected to reach $250,000 two months ago, whereas $2,200,000 had been counted on.

So from these two sources alone the revenue for the year is now below expectations to the extent of $2,250,000. On the other hand, however, revenues from the lands and forest branch have stood up well during the year, and those in the succession duties branch, the greatest revenue-producing department of the administration, will exceed the four-million mark, and will show some considerable increase over the year preceding.

Mr. G. S. Henry has announced that from now on, to keep up with the road building and improving program which has been approved, an annual expenditure for roads alone of some $25,000,000 will be required. Always to be provided for, and with the interest charges always creeping up a little from year to year, the problem confronting the treasurer becomes increasingly hard.

His official statement of affairs is awaited with interest, inasmuch as the above figures do not cover the entire year, and the final accounting is hoped to materially improve the situation as herein outlined. It seems certain, however, that the deficit will be greater than three millions.

W. WOOD ADDRESSES PUBLIC SCHOOL HEADS

Secretary of Chamber of Commerce Speaks at Regular Meeting of Principals.

W. H. Wood, secretary of the chamber of commerce, was the speaker on Wednesday at the regular meeting of the public school principals' association, over which President R. N. Welsh presided.

In his opening remarks, Mr. Wood emphasized the fact that his work is of an educational nature, and pointed out that the work of the chamber of commerce and of the schools is community building. Giving as the title of his paper, "Community Building," the speaker proceeded to outline the early work along this line in North America. He paid tribute to early workers in London, and to those who were responsible for the formation of our present chamber in 1918. A very comprehensive and illuminating survey was given of the various activities of the chamber of commerce, with special attention to those spheres of usefulness having a direct interest for the principals as educators.

Mr. Wood advocated as being desirable in his opinion the use of our expensive school plants for longer periods during the day, and also during the year if such a thing was practicable. He also suggested that members of the chamber of commerce might be invited to speak to the older pupils on various topics of interest.

Discussion at the close of the address revealed the fact that this plan is being followed in some schools with good results. Some of the principals were of the opinion that more good might be done by educating many of the parents to appreciate the value and importance of the schools.

Plans were made to consider various administrative matters at the next meeting.

IRISH BOUNDARY REPORT EXPECTED IN TWO WEEKS

Associated Press Despatch.

London, Nov. 5.—The Westminster Gazette says the Irish boundary commission's report may be made within a fortnight. Dr. McNeill, the Irish Free State's representative on the commission, arrived in London yesterday, and the three commissioners will meet to tabulate the evidence obtained and draft a report. Much of the evidence is yet to be dealt with.

According to the Westminster Gazette, the report of the commission is hopefully awaited in Free State circles, and from this it infers that Joseph R. Fisher, North Ireland's representative, who was appointed by the British government, has consented to such rectifications of the frontier as will mollify Free State opinion. The newspaper adds that if a compromise is reached between the commissioners it is unbelievable that large transfers of land will be proposed.

Interference To Be Chased If Fans Help Defray Cost, Decision of Commission

Man Will Devote Whole Time to Elimination of Radio Trouble If 65,000 Fans in City Assist, Says Manager Buchanan.

Providing radio fans will supply the necessary equipment the public utilities commission is inclined to provide a man to devote his whole time to elimination of radio interferences in the city. The stand taken by the commission at its regular meeting yesterday afternoon was that the fans should be prepared to bear a portion of the cost and thus the matter was laid on the table pending action upon the part of the fans.

Manager E. V. Buchanan introduced the question of heating the utilities building by means of an electric boiler, using power in off-peak hours, but the proposal was laid on the table, pending further information. Mr. Buchanan stated that it costs the commission about $810 for Pochontas run-of-mine coal and a man to fire the boiler, as compared with $3,500 for the electric boiler installed, which with no cost for power, would mean a saving of about $460 to the commission per annum.

The London Street Railway company, having failed to make any reply to the bill of $231 rendered by the commission for damages to its waterworks equipment on Horton street, due to electrolytic action, permitted by the company to continue, instruction was given to the city solicitor to proceed to collect the bill. Main extensions on Wortley road.

There seem to be 65,000 radio fans in the city," remarked Mr. Buchanan, "and when there is any interference the commission is called upon about it. We try to be courteous, but there is little that can be done without equipment, which would cost $500 or more. Does the commission wish to take the attitude that if shown the trouble, the commission will correct it, or the attitude that the commission will undertake to clean up the whole situation by putting a man on, equipped with the instruments, and delegated to that duty alone?

"In locating some of the troubles we have saved the commission some money," continued the manager, "but the interferences we have actually been able to trace down have been few and far between. I am not convinced that we are responsible for the radio interferences, because there are electrical appliances in private homes, X-ray machines, violet-ray machines, welding machines, and then, too, there are poor receiving sets. The dominion government, when asked to appoint a permanent radio inspector for the city, stated that thus far the revenue derived from radio licenses did not permit such a step being taken. I think that the radio fans and radio dealers should do something, but, of course, it is a question that the commission is prepared to do."

"I think that as a public service commission," declared Philip Pocock, "we should render public service."

"I don't think we should have to go out as detectives," asserted T. W. McFarland, "and while I am agreeable to co-operating with the fans, I do not think that the commission should be asked to carry the whole load."

"This radio proposition has come to be a big thing," reminded Jared Vining, chairman, "and the government will have to take hold of it. It will not be long before there are as many radio receiving sets in London as there are telephones. I think the commission should do something toward eliminating radio interference, but I think we should wait until the fans have organized themselves into a club and are ready and willing to meet the commission to discuss just exactly what can be done."

Toronto, Nov. 5.—Ten million bags of Canadian potatoes bought up in Ontario and shipped to the United States!

That was the statement made today as the reason for the sudden sharp rise in potato prices and the scarcity of the "murrhies" on the local market. Dealers were not disposed to confirm the estimate of 10,000,000 bags bought up by American invaders, but they did say that the Yankees were heavily buying in Canada.

"In one day 25 carloads were taken out of Toronto, I am informed," said Ald. Sam Wright, wholesale potato merchant. "The wholesale purchasing of potatoes here by the American dealers has all to do with the high prices and the shortage here. The price today is $3 a bag, and walk out to within 30 feet of the first pound net stakes, and this condition exists along the shore for a long way. With islands and sandbars showing in many places. Protection piers built along the shore in the vicinity of Murphy sideland and eastward, have now 20 feet of dry land in front of them, and on the land side have 400 feet of land behind them. It is the worst condition on the lake shore in the records locally, and is attributed to the Chicago water diversion.

six weeks ago we were selling for 90 cents. There is little doubt but that the price will go still higher."

Just think, a further ten per cent. reduction of the ridiculously low sale prices on fur coats at the big fur coat sale at the Royal Millinery & Fur Co. store.—Advt.

HAMILTON HAS EPIDEMIC OF SCARLET FEVER CASES

Special to The Advertiser.

Hamilton, Ont., Nov. 5.—With the number of cases doubling monthly since August, Hamilton is now in the throes of a serious scarlet fever outbreak, and has had 23 cases reported since the first of the month. Dr. James Roberts, M.O.H., this morning stated that the rough games the children of today play, which appear to be a series of fights and mailings, do more to spread the disease than anything else. He remarked that the games children play have changed since he was a lad.

TRADE BODY ASKS NAMING OF PORT

Would Have Government
Select Port As Grain
Terminal.

ELEVATORS NEEDED

Resolution Favoring Kingston Withdrawn On Motion of Prescott Man.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Kingston, Nov. 5.—By resolution, the meeting of the Ontario associated boards of trade and chambers of commerce here this afternoon asked the Dominion government to make known its selection of a trans-shipping port in Lake Ontario or the St.
Lawrence River, in preparation for grain shipments through the Welland canal.

The Kingston board of trade presented a resolution to the effect that the port of Kingston for the reasons strongly advanced by the Dominion Marine association should be selected and developed for the terminal, "being safe and most convenient for the large craft to which the new Welland canal is designed to give passage."

The claims of Kingston were presented by Francis King, K.C., who is counsel for the Dominion Marine association. W. P. McCarthy, a Prescott delegate, strongly disputed Kingston's right to be regarded as the deep-water terminal, and urged that Prescott was the proper place for the terminal. He moved that that part of the resolution which urged the claims of Kingston, be stricken out. The motion was seconded by Mr. King, who said he did not desire to divide the meeting on the question. The resolution as amended, was then adopted. It urges the Dominion government to announce the selection of a trans-shipping port "considered to be in the best interests of Canada," and to hasten the steps necessary to ensure the erection of transfer and storage elevators for the first grain cargoes to come down through the enlarged canal.

A resolution dealing with the coming licensing of all automobile vehicle drivers, and declaring that before a license was granted, the department of public highways should determine the applicant's ability to operate a motor car safely by ascertaining his physical and mental fitness, and knowledge of the laws, and by requiring an actual demonstration of his ability to operate a motor vehicle, was defeated on the ground that it was too drastic.

A resolution submitted by the Kingston board of trade requesting that all motor tourist camps should be placed under a department of the provincial government for regulation and supervision, and that all camps should be licensed, was adopted after considerable discussion.

The Old Man's Corner

Just you folks sit down in a quiet corner right now and take an inventory of the millions of things you've got to be thankful for. I'm betting a fine, fat turkey against a little wee cranberry that they outweigh your troubles a hundred to one. The old world's a pretty decent place to live in. And I can prove it by the fact that most of us would raise seven or eight different kinds of a rumpus if we thought we'd have to leave it behind tomorrow. It doesn't hurt a bit to be thankful, either. Try it and see. And then try to help somebody else be thankful for what you've done for them.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1925.

Parliament Will Decide.

By deciding to advise the governor-general to call parliament as soon as possible and there have it determined by a vote of elected representatives what government shall hold office, Premier King has taken a reasonable and proper course. In so doing he has not taken it on himself to say which party shall be in power, or who shall be the premier. Had he resigned he would more nearly have been dictating the decision which ultimately must belong to parliament. Mr. King is following the first principles of responsible government in placing on parliament the choice of government.

The prime minister had two other courses open to him. The first would have been to advise the governor-general that there had been no finality in the decision of the people. He could have argued that Mr. Meighen had the largest single group in the house but that it was not sufficient to carry on a government. He might have hesitated about his own chances of drawing support from the various groups elected in opposition to Mr. Meighen and therefore concluded that the best thing would be to have another election at once.

The second course would have been to resign and advise the calling of Mr. Meighen to form a government as the leader of the largest group. Mr. Meighen would have faced the house with a following of 117, less one for a speaker, leaving him with 116 against 128 elected in opposition to his general policy. It is improbable that Mr. Meighen could have survived the first vote in the house, and another election would again have been the result.

Had Mr. King followed that course he would have been doing what some of the practical politicians think he should have done in order to bring about the embarrassment of Mr. Meighen. That he should have turned aside from this and insisted that parliament itself should give the answer to the whole question is evidence of frankness and regard for constitutional methods.

Mr. King did well not to follow either of these courses, because the country does not want another election at once. A general election is a disturbing element in business at any time, and more particularly now when municipalities are concerned with their own elections and the Christmas trade just at its starting point.

In the interval between now and the calling of parliament Mr. King has stated there shall be no appointments made other than those necessary to carry on the business of government. That is as it should be. There is no desire on the part of the prime minister to take advantage of the situation.

When parliament is called the question will be settled with a degree of finality that could not be approached by any other method. The parliament of Canada is the proper place for the rendering of such decisions.

Trying New Methods.

Canadian National officials who put an electric engine to the endurance test of a continuous run of 2,337 miles from Montreal to Vancouver found that it stood the strain. The average speed for the trip was 43½ miles an hour, which in itself constitutes a record. At several points it attained a speed of 60 miles an hour.

This is the same type of car that has been running for some weeks between Hamilton and Guelph, and from Guelph to Southampton. The motive power is secured from a Diesel type engine, burning fuel oil, generating electricity. As at present constructed it develops 185 horsepower and is capable of propelling two cars. Primarily it was designed for feeder lines, and the fuel cost, compared to a coal-burning locomotive, is 96 per cent less.

Railwaymen are not ready to state to what extent the new engine will be able to compete with the modern locomotive. Taking the 185 horsepower now used and comparing it with the 1,900 horsepower developed by one of the large engines in use today leaves a great gap to be filled up before the present steam engine can be seriously challenged for the premier position in the railroad world.

The arrival of the oil-electric car in Vancouver was a matter of interest; it was regarded as a distinct achievement, and so it was. Back of all such accomplishments are the men who designed the engine and the mechanics who built it. They must have done their work with rare thoroughness.

Ontario and the West.

A great deal has been heard during the past four years, and more particularly during the past few weeks, of the attention and consideration which must be given to the needs of Canadians in the western provinces. What has been said regarding that necessity has all been true but like most other things in this world its virtue weakens if carried to an extreme.

The people of Ontario, particularly the Liberals of Ontario, have not failed in making modifications in their point of view to meet the wishes of the west. It is to be hoped that the people of the west are prepared to follow a course of similar reasonableness. The need of the west can not be denied, but the view of Ontario deserves equal attention and should if necessary be firmly asserted. The concessions made by Ontario must be accepted by the representatives of the west as proof of Ontario's good faith and as deserving reciprocal consideration, not as evidence of Ontario's intention to sacrifice without discretion. The west, as well as the east, may sometimes profit by receiving a warning which loses nothing of its friendliness by being firm in its meaning.

Wasted Effort.

The question of what the prime minister should or should not do about continuing in office or resigning has been settled, but not in the way suggested by the Free Press.

The Free Press was certain to the point of being emphatic on what should be done. It was this:

"There is not the slightest question what should be done. The governor-general should ask Mr. King for his resignation. . . . Lord Byng knows his history. He will proceed accordingly."

The latter part of that statement was correct, but it did not work out according to the Free Press schedule of action. The prime minister went to Rideau Hall to see the governor-general, and several times discussed with him the various steps that could be taken, and finally advised his excellency on the one he thought would be the best to follow in the interests of a definite settlement of the difficulty, and the advice given by the prime minister was accepted by Lord Byng.

The whole procedure must have been disappointing to the Free Press. It is not pleasant for it after jumping up and shouting to Lord Byng that it knew exactly what should be done to find that the suggestion was not even considered. That Lord Byng should ignore the advice of the Free Press rather strengthens the belief that he is a very capable governor-general.

Father and Daughter.

Littleton, Col., seems all set to furnish the latest plea in murder trials. A respectable country doctor is charged with the murder of his daughter, aged thirty-five, a girl who was stunted in growth, void of speech or expression. Dr. Blazer's defence will be that death was more kindly to his daughter than the painful, stunted life that was hers.

The case is far removed from some of the sordid recitals of orgies that have come before United States courts. The doctor had been kind to his deformed daughter and used every possible means to discover a method of recovery. The defence will even urge that it was an expression of paternal love that caused the father to bring to an end the existence of his daughter.

This reasoning is faulty because it leaves out the cornerstone of civilization—life is sacred; it is something humans can destroy but cannot replace. Were we to depart from that basis nothing would be secure. It would make possible the supplanting of natural laws of life and death by human judgment which would arrogate to itself the prerogative of deciding when a human life should cease to exist, and there is no finite mind so well adjusted that it could unerringly make such decisions.

When a Bride Was a Real One.

This must be a cold, unsympathetic age, judged by the abbreviated, even curt, descriptions of brides that appear in print today as compared with the enthusiastic excesses of twenty-five years ago. Here is one of a quarter of a century ago:

"Lips that curved deliciously, vividly carmine, hiding Hogarth's fourfold line of beauty; challenging, imperious, tender; eyes that are fawn, shadowy, tigerish, one minute the eyes of Artemis of the Arcadians, and the next those of the brooding Juno of the Romans, sometimes languorously alert, sometimes indolently museful, quiescently sorrowful, yet opalescent always, with dominant and dangerous fires; hair that is golden, heavy, luxuriant . . ."

Reporters will do well to go over this introduction and then realize what unimaginative scribbles they really are.

Note and Comment.

Perhaps it will go down in history as "the 14 election" because it fails to satisfy.

When there's lots of them at 80 cents a bag they're spuds. When they're scarce and sell at $1 a peck they are potatoes.

The Wall Street Journal says Henry Ford doesn't like crows because they never need a new horn or spare parts.

There's nothing new in U. S. officials using aeroplanes to make war on rum traffic, because there have always been people who looked down on strong drink.

A nation-wide lottery is proposed to pay off the national debt of France. That's what we came pretty close to getting here on election day when the Tories got 117 seats.

Russian scientist has a plan for making gold out of sea water. There's nothing new about it for those who have been conducting beauty contests have been doing the same thing for months past.

Truro woman who couldn't collect $30 owed her by a farmer went to his pasture and helped herself to a horse. When the charge of horse-stealing was concluded the farmer had his horse and the woman had her $30. City collectors might try this plan by picking up a garage or a woodshed.

Conservatives, Liberals and Progressives met in the town hall at Lucan for a reception to A. King Hodgins, the member-elect in East Middlesex. That is the right spirit, for after a man is elected, no matter what party supported him, he becomes the representative of them all. The extent to which he does this is the measure of his success.

Worry No More

By A.R.K.

A chap come in to me today and says I see you wrote a piece, and wondered if spuds' risin' price would slacken up a bit or cease.

Says he I used to be like that, and worry till it made me sick, about the price of fish and prunes or figures on pressed hay or brick. It put big furrows in my brow and crowsfeet settled 'round my eyes, and I would well nigh throw a fit when prices ever took a rise.

I mind one time some years ago when spuds was scarce as handsome men, and folks was sayin' for ten years we'd never have no spuds again.

Well I kept talkin' at the house and harp-ah on my silly whims, and urg'n' how my wife should save when cuttin' off potato skins. And every day I'd take a look to see if what we had was through, and kept on fussin' all the time about the things that we should do.

A neighbor he come in one night when I was mopin' on this point, he up and tells me that my brain was fuddled up and out of joint.

So I'm just passin' on to you the point my neighbor made back there, 'twill save you wrinkl'n' up your dome and paintin' gray streaks in your hair. When spuds go high why let them go, and use the brains inside your head, why, feed 'em leeks and carrot stew and give them turnips mashed instead. (Copyright)

PERHAPS HE NEEDED A CHANGE.

From the Hamilton Spectator.
A LOCAL man, returning from a holiday, discovered that $5,000 worth of imported liquors had been stolen from his residence. The mystery to a lot of folks will be that the owner left the city, when he could have had such a pleasant vacation at home.

UNEMPLOYMENT IN BRITAIN.

From the London Daily Mail.
SO DARK is the unemployment outlook, so manifestly is industry overweighted by its existing burdens, that relief ought to be given at once. It would be of immense assistance if the enormously costly pensions act could be suspended till unemployment has decreased. When it was introduced every one too hastily assumed that unemployment was declining, whereas the people out of work are now steadily rising in number.

A Union For Farmers

By "Sodbuster."

WILTON GROVE, Nov. 5.—Well,

I've got the poison mostly out of my system over tariff matters. I felt real hot up for awhile. I never really realized just how high and how very comprehensive our tariff was until I began to look around to see why and whereof of protection. One thing I don't know whether I'll ever get over, not that is the alarm clock that wakes me in the morning. Just think of it, that old contraption that just seems to wait until I'm in my best sleep and then it begins its racket, and to think that it has 30 per cent tariff protection.

Why should any government want to protect the alarm clock? I thought it was pretty stiff to pay 30 per cent on the bed I sleep on, and 55 per cent on the blankets I sleep under and my underwear, trousers, coat and vest, shoes and stockings, and no end of everything else, but then a fellow can overlook some things like I mentioned being protected, for they give me protection, but the alarm clock—that's the limit.

Caring for the Farmer.

But that wasn't what I started out to tell you about. I can stand the prospect of telling us that if they make everything higher in price that we have to buy we'll be so much better off, but I find the farmer's trouble is nearer home as well. I don't believe the Prosperity League really cared whether the farmer was better off or not, but I think of it. The one person in the world who really does care—the farmer's wife. Now don't for one minute think that the farmers don't have good wives, for they do. They have the very best, and you know that Solomon says, "a good wife is from the Lord." He doesn't say where a bad wife comes from, but he just leaves us to infer; but we have none of that latter kind out in Wilton Grove, and these good wives of ours are really killing us with their kindness.

Now look at the contrast between the farmer's and any other man's who earns his living by working. Just fancy the plumber's wife working along with him, doing a lot of the dirty work and hustling the job along so that he can get through as soon as possible, or the plasterer's wife. How would it look if she mixed the mortar and hustled the job along, or in fact any other man's wife with the exception of the farmers' Why, if their wives and boys and girls were to dig in and help to speed up the work it would bring the price of their labor down almost to the vanishing point, but the farmer's wife is on the job all the time, and consequently everything the farmers produce is so plentiful that the price has almost vanished—at least the profit has in a great many cases. I don't know how the matter could be remedied. I believe if we had pictures of the women in foreign countries showing the women with a waist line like a large sewer pipe and a back profile like the back-end of a Ford car and show them what they are likely to become if they persist in working at farm work so much, but I don't know if even that would stop them.

Form a Union.

I honestly believe that we'll have to form a sodbuster's union, where we could just say to any man who lets his wife speed up production: "See here, Mr. Man, you'll have to stop this," and point out to him how he is keeping prices down. Way a short time ago I had the pleasure of a trip down west through the potato growing country and one place especially I saw a man and his whole family, and some of the neighbors on a cold day. The ground was damp and snow flying, and there they were just fairly scratching out the potatoes. Now if the man had that job to do himself he'd probably not get out one-quarter of the crop, but look how much better off he'd be. It wouldn't take nearly so many bags to hold them, nor so much room to store them, and on account of the scarcity he probably be able to get over four times the price. At another place a man and his family were all out in the field, at least the man, his wife and two daughters, pulling out sugar beets. Just think of it! Those women keeping down the price of sugar like that. And so it is all the time, but just how to arrange it so that sodbuster's union could control the situation will have to be worked out.

Learning a New Trick.

Now the women in Westminster are not too awful bad at doing field work, although they do do a tremendous lot of the production work, but the women down west, at the day I passed through was a sample, they are great at it. I took a walk over to a field, where a man and his wife and three of his family were digging potatoes, and just for my curiosity I asked the good woman how it was that the women were out working alongside with their men, and she said: "Well, it's this way: we don't want to starve this coming winter, and if you want to see your women-folk get out and work just go to them anxious enough and you can't keep them in." So there you are, Mr. Editor. What would you do in a case like that?

Wm. B. Nichol.

To the Editor

Old Age Pensions.

Editor of The Advertiser:
Sir—For the purpose of disabusing people that are under the impression that there is a cost to a system of old age pension, will say it requires money to start it and after it is started it is self working.
The government becomes like a banking institution in dealing with old age pensions, as the tax deposits of the people go to the government and an amount to make up for old age pension is sent back to the people. It also expands production by filling the vacancy made by the retirement of the old people with a younger class of workers. In short this money-making system is being grossly delayed here in Canada when in all countries under the British flag it has been expanding and the people enjoying the great benefits. The government at the last session of parliament have passed legislation that a system of old age pension shall be drafted by a conference made up of the premiers of Canada, the federal cabinet, and to be ratified by parliament at the next session.

Trusting that this Canada of ours will get equal recognition with other nations of the earth that has adopted a national system of old age pension, I remain, THOS. SULLIVAN.

For Deep Chest Colds

All colds should be treated with vapors, for vapors alone can carry the medication DIRECTLY to the air passages and lungs.

Vicks is a "vapor" treatment in saline form. For deep chest colds, you first apply hot wet towels over throat and chest to open the pores, then massage briskly with Vicks for five minutes, spread on thickly and cover with a flannel cloth.

Vicks not only penetrates like a poultice or plaster, but the ingredients, vaporized by the body heat, are inhaled all night long. This double action usually checks the most stubborn cold overnight.

RANEY APPROVES PREMIER'S STAND

Former Provincial Minister Favors Trial of "Weak" Government.

WANTS NO ELECTION

Special to The Advertiser. By Staff Correspondent.

Ottawa, Nov. 5.—Another public man who thinks that "government by parliament" under Mackenzie King may be a very successful experiment, is Hon. W. E. Raney, former attorney-general of Ontario, who was in Ottawa last night. Like W. C. Good of Paris, he expressed the belief that it is better in the interests of the ordinary people of the country to have what is commonly called a "weak" government that must consult parliament and walk cautiously. "Strong" government, that is, government by a few men who control an overwhelming following in parliament, is most often mere autocracy, Mr. Raney declared.

"The present government in Ontario is an example of such autocracy," Mr. Raney said. "Take Mr. Ferguson's action in regard to 4.4 beer. In this matter of amending the O. T. A. it is known that it was actually amended by a few men before the question was ever presented to parliament. The 'strong' government simply rode rough-shod over all opposition. Some 45 Conservatives from dry ridings were not only kicked but whipped into line. That's government autocracy by strong government."

ONE FRIEND TELLS ANOTHER

The fame of a successful remedy is often spread far and wide by women telling one another of its merits, as is evidenced by a letter written by Mrs. Wm. Hildale, of Mount Forest, Ont. She writes: "I was weak, miserable and in pain. A friend told me what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for her. I tried it and am now well and strong. There is nothing else to it for women's troubles." There are women everywhere who have been benefited by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and gladly tell their friends and neighbors about it.

Foreign Markets Necessary To Solve Apiarists' Problem and Dispose Canadian Honey

Twenty-One Millions of Pounds of Honey Produced in Canada Annually, and Only 9,000,000 People Here To Eat It—Ontario Producers Meet.

Special to The Advertiser.

Toronto, Nov. 5.—Marketing problems were the principal subject of discussion at the annual meeting of the Ontario honey producers' co-operative, held today at the Prince George Hotel.

"Canada is producing 21 million pounds of honey, with nine million people to eat it," said F. W. Krouse of Guelph, president of the organization. "In Ontario it is said that we eat less than one pound per capita. To dispose of our surplus it is necessary to cultivate new markets."

Last year, on the honey handled through the co-operative and not sold locally, the charge for handling totaled 1.4 cents per pound. Eight-tenths of a cent per pound covered freight, storage and export charges which were beyond the company's control.

"With practically every district in Ontario showing an increase in production," said A. G. Halstead, general manager, "the problem is how and where we are to market our honey."

Mr. Halstead felt that there was opportunity for growth in increasing the consumption of honey in Canadian towns and cities, particularly as raspberry and strawberry jams were scarce this year, and butter was high priced. Sales in Toronto and Montreal have been steady.

Holland and Germany are both big buyers, where only a start has been made, and the product of Ontario apiarists is now finding its way into the Scandinavian countries and France, Belgium and Switzerland. Mr. Halstead made a particular plea for a united front on the part of beekeepers if markets were to be established.

The board of directors for the ensuing year was elected as follows: Morley Peitz, Georgetown; T. H. Shields, Peterboro; J. A. McKinnon, St. Eugene; F. W. Krouse, Guelph; E. T. Baird, Lambeth; W. R. Agar, BrookMne.

servatives from dry ridings were not only kicked but whipped into line. That's government autocracy by strong government."

"Better legislation in the interests of the country comes in 'weak' governments. Where parliament really rules and the measures presented must be obviously good ones to command a majority in the house," Mr. Raney pointed out.

Mr. Raney said that the Farmers' government was also a parallel to the present government at Ottawa. "In the early days of the Farmers' government," he said, "counting the Labor men, we had only a majority of one. I think, and were always at the mercy of accidents. We were even in the minority after the defections of Messrs. MacBride, Homuth, McNamara, Casselman and Hicks. Yet the Farmers' government went through four sessions, and left more advanced social legislation on the statute books of Ontario than any other provincial government."

"I don't see anything impractical in the new King government," Mr. Raney said. "The thing I would dread would be the calamity of another election in a few months. Anyone can see that Mr. Melchior could form a government that could carry on."

Majority of Total Votes Against Conservative Over Thousand.

Special to The Advertiser. Watford, Nov. 5.—The official figures in East Lambton show that Joseph E. Armstrong, Conservative, has a majority of 89 votes over his nearest opponent, Burt W. Fansher, Progressive, the count having been made yesterday by W. G. Connelly, returning officer for the constituency. The official figures show 12,226 ballots cast, divided as follows: J. E. Armstrong, Conservative, 5,611; B. W. Fansher, Progressive, 5,522; J. R. Sturtevant, Liberal, 1,061; rejected ballots, 32. These figures also reveal that while Armstrong regains the seat from Fansher, to whom he lost in 1921, he really goes back to the house as a minority member. He failed to make any gain in supporters, as the total vote against him shows an adverse majority approximately the same as that by which he lost the seat at the last election in a straight fight with Fansher.

The Scovell dancers, seven shapely young ladies, in a revue which combines interest with real art, undoubtedly feature the bill at Loew's for the last half of this week. It is the best-balanced vaudeville program seen at Loew's in some months.

The Midshipman is a picture that is different, dealing as it does with life in the Annapolis naval academy. The story is purely narrative, but it is a picture which not only amuses but thrills, and holds the interest of the audience from first to last. Ramon Navarro is the leading man, and is capably supported by Harriet Hammond, formerly of Sennett comedies. Wesley Barry gets into real dramatics in this picture and more than justifies the reputation he has established for himself.

Fire Away, with the ever-funny Al St. John, holds up the laugh or el of the program. It is a burlesque on western thrillers, and is funny. Last evening it had the theatre resounding with laughter. Kinegrams, a new news weekly, completes the picture program.

The costuming of the Scovell act is excellent, and the eccentric side dancing of one of the members of

WILLIAM T. GOODISON.

Special to The Advertiser.
Sarnia, Nov. 5.—William T. Goodison, familiarly known in Sarnia and throughout Lambton as "Bill" Goodison, made something like a record in the federal elections in scoring what is believed to be the only Liberal gain from the Conservatives in the whole dominion. It may as well be admitted that there was not another man in Lambton who could have won this seat back for Liberalism at this time.

A quiet, unassuming man who has made a success both of manufacturing and of farming, a man who loves horses and every kind of sport that is played on Canadian fields, Mr. Goodison made his initial bow in the field of politics in the campaign just completed. Fighting against great odds he came through with a majority over R. V. Lesueur, prominent lawyer and director of Imperial Oil, Limited, who won West Lambton from Senator F. F. Pardee in 1921.

Mr. Goodison undoubtedly owed his victory to his personal popularity with the farmers of West Lambton. They consider him as one of themselves, and knowing this well the Liberals were quietly confident even when the returns in Sarnia showed the Conservatives 300 in the lead. Plympton, Moore and Sombra townships brought down the Conservatives advantage in unmistakable manner. Though Sarnia cast its vote against "the man for the people," as Mr. Goodison was described in his party's advertising, there is no businessman in this city held in higher esteem.

Not one word against him could his opponents find. His public record had been confined to the board of education for nine years, and it was known that he shouldered practically the whole responsibility when the new college, held to be the finest in Ontario, was erected in 1921.

Great Sport Fan.
Sport fans admire him. Baseball, hockey and rugby always appealed to him, and many a struggling team in the city found itself lifted to financial solvency by his kindly aid.

Mr. Goodison has qualifications to represent this riding that are probably unique in the dominion. He is a successful manufacturer, a graduate in law and a keen farmer.

He was born in Caradoc township, eight miles from Strathroy, in 1876. His father, the late John Goodison, affectionately recalled by the older residents of the Lambtons, brought his plant for manufacturing threshing machines to Sarnia in 1882. The first year 25 threshing machines were sold. The family came along in 1892, and William T. after attending the collegiate institute here, went through a law course, graduating from Osgoode hall in 1900. He joined his father's firm and continued until May 3, 1915, when his father died.

Then with his brother, Edwin F., Mr. Goodison assumed the management, but Edwin died on Oct. 29, 1916, and then William became president of the company. Sound business methods found the output of the plant increasing year by year, until now it turns out three hundred threshers and fifty or so gasoline engines a year.

Yet in addition to this considerable business, Mr. Goodison finds time to operate two farms, one of 150 acres on the London road, and one of 100 acres three miles south of Sarnia. He breeds Hereford cattle, and is always a leading exhibitor at the West Lambton fall fair. He has raced on Western Ontario tracks for 20 years. He is a lover and a fine judge of horse-flesh. There are 18 standard bred horses in his stables at the present time.

Small wonder that this manufacturer-farmer was popular with farmers as a candidate. He has been honored by the Progressive nomination after he had committed himself to the Liberal party. So the Progressive party worked for him just as they would if he had been able to accept their nomination.

Twenty-two years ago Mr. Goodison married Miss Ida Jones of Exeter, and there are two children, one son and one daughter.

Mr. Goodison is a director of the Independent Mortgages Agency, and a director of the Ontario Commercial Travellers' association.

Infants' Adjustable Sleepers at $1.50 to $2.00.

Let Stanfield's help with their patent Adjustable Combinations and Sleepers for growing children.

CHILDREN don't readily outgrow Stanfield's Adjustable Sleepers and Combinations because an outfit bought for a child of two, three or four years can be easily adjusted to fit him as he grows older. The adjustable feature makes these garments a real economy.

Combinations and Sleepers are made in all sizes from 2 to 8 years, adjustable to fit for two or three more years as required. Perfect-fitting and comfortable—do not gape at the back or sides. Double weight over the abdomen and back gives extra warmth and protection to the stomach and kidneys—provides a health insurance.

Stanfield's Underwear is so soft it will not irritate the tenderest skin. There is no better fabric for dainty baby wear. You can just feel the luxurious, downy softness of Stanfield's. Happy, healthy children will enjoy wearing it and you, yourself, will be delighted with the comfort and health-protection it affords them. Ask your dealer to show you Stanfield's Underwear for Infants and Growing Children. Made by the makers of Stanfield's Unshrinkable Underwear for all the family.

NEW CONVENERS ARE APPOINTED

New Wing at Victoria Home Will Be Completed Next Week.

At a meeting of the Women's Christian association, held this week, it was announced that the new wing at Victoria Home would probably be completed next week. It was proposed that an "at home" be held at the time of the opening, but no definite plans were made.

During the afternoon the new conveners were elected. Mrs. C. B. Hunt, the president, presided, and the appointments were made as follows: Improvement and supply convener, Miss B. F. Brighton; purchasing convener, Mrs. John Currie; fund convener, Mrs. J. K. McDermid; relief convener, Mrs. Max Lerner; visitor for Aged People's Home, Mrs. Lamb; for Victoria Home, Mrs. John Hyatt; house convener for Aged People's Home, Mrs. Max Lerner, and for Victoria Home, Mrs. W. E. Kelly.

Mrs. J. E. Bickle was in charge of the devotional exercises. The meeting was largely attended.

Small Hat Holds Its Own In Paris

Larger Types Missing at Recent Displays.

Paris, Nov. 5.—The recent offensive, led by the trade against the small hat for women and the cloche shape, apparently has failed. At recent public gatherings the larger and more complicated types of hat which dealers have been attempting to sell were missing. Nothing but the small hat and few except cloche shapes was to be seen. With equal determination the Parisian women seemingly also are resisting the movement against bobbed hair.

W. G. STEWART INFORMS THE PUBLIC ABOUT STORE

Mr. William G. Stewart, who has recently opened a ladies' ready-to-wear store at Richmond and King streets, wishes the public to note his store has no connection with any other store.

ORENDAGA RALLY IS HELD TONIGHT

Campers Will Gather at Lenmore To Re-enact Summer Scenes.

An important event of this evening will be the Orendaga campers' rally at Lenmore, King street. The girls will wear camp costumes and present camp stunts during the evening. Miss Ann McGregor and Miss Grace Cape being in charge of the stunts. Officers for the coming year will be elected.

Special guests of the occasion will be Miss Kanamori of Japan, who is attending Macdonald Institute, Guelph, and who spent a delightful time at camp this summer. Miss Jessie MacFarlane, former assistant sports mistress at the "Y," and now of Toronto. Miss Olive Tilton of Alma College, St. Thomas, with whom Miss MacFarlane is a guest. Miss Audrey Pennington of Windsor, who is a guest with Miss Clara Jones, and Miss Alice Bartlett of Windsor, who will be a guest with Miss Jean Beatty.

A feature of the evening will be the presentation to Miss Audrey Pennington of Windsor of the silver cup won by the sports champion at camp. Another guest of the evening will be Helen Phillips of Windsor, who will be a guest with Miss Pat Manuel.

PIANO FUND STILL NEEDS SOME HELP

Auxiliary Board of Victoria Hospital Has Not Yet Completed Payments.

It has been wondered by the auxiliary board of women of Victoria Hospital if Londoners realized just how much pleasure is being obtained through the piano they are presenting to the public wards at the hospital. Recently some of the patients expressed their appreciation.

However, though the piano has been greatly enjoyed, it is not yet completely paid for. Not long ago the ladies' aid of the Metropolitan United church donated $10 toward the instrument and the commercial travellers donated $5. There is still $133 to be paid. It is hoped by the auxiliary that enough donations will come in during the next few months to finish the paying of the instalments.

The piano is adding greatly on Sunday, when the ministerial alliance of the city provides ministers of all denominations to take Sunday services. The instrument is a great help at these times, and travels from ward to ward, making it possible to have a service of song at least once a month. It is a help when concerts are given. Recently a friend of the auxiliary visited one of the wards and played and sang delightfully for the patients.

CATHOLIC WOMEN END CONVENTION

Mrs. G. P. Dawson, Sarnia, Is New President—Recommendations Are Made.

Special to The Advertiser.

Sarnia, Nov. 5.—The Catholic Women's league of the diocese of London yesterday morning elected the following officers: President, Mrs. George P. Dawson of Sarnia, by acclamation; first vice-president, Mrs. Bohan, London; second vice-president, Mrs. McHugh of Windsor; third vice-president, Mrs. Roach, London; secretary, Mrs. Kerwin of Ingersoll; by acclamation; treasurer, Miss Blair of Stratford; by acclamation; Walkerville, Kent, Miss McDonald; Chatham, Elgin, Mrs. Grant, St. Thomas; Middlesex, Mrs. Gallagher, Stratford; Perth, Mrs. Shea, Dublin; Huron, Mrs. Dorsey, London; Oxford, Mrs. Brophy, Woodstock; Lambton, Mrs. Labele, Corunna; Norfolk, Mrs. Turner, Lasalle.

The convention closed in the afternoon. An outstanding feature of the resolutions was the granting of a life-membership to Mrs. J. P. Dunn of Chatham, retiring diocesan president. It was decided also that subdivisions will meet in their own counties and select officers from their counties. It was recommended that the diocese direct to the diocesan treasurer.

The convention forwarded to Bishop Fallon an expression of appreciation for his interest in the league work.

WARD THREE W. C. T. U.

Ward three, under the patronage of Mrs. J. W. Jones, was successful in raising a goodly sum of money during the past few days, serving meals to the visiting delegates of the federated women's institutes of Western Ontario, convening in the city. Dinner and supper were served in the central hall of the W. C. T. U. to a large number of visitors.

ENGAGEMENTS

A charge of 75c one insertion ($1.00 for 2 insertions) on the Women's Page is made for notices under the heading "Engagements." Inserting of engagement notices must bear the name and address of sender and must be in this office by 5 o'clock on the evening preceding first day of insertion.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Belton announce the engagement of their daughter, Doris MacLean, to Mr. Charles Arthur MacLean, son of Rev. Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Vining of Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Rouleau, London Junction, wish to announce the engagement of their daughter, Edna Berg, to P. S. Colwell, M.D., of San Francisco, the wedding to take place at Sacramento, California.

WOMEN and THE HOME

SEASON IS OPENED BY SKATING CLUB

Arena Is Scene of Initial Gathering Yesterday Afternoon.

MONDAY NIGHT TOO

Evening Meetings This Year Expected To Attract New Members.

The London Skating club opened its season yesterday afternoon when the members gathered in the arena for the first time since the carnival last spring. Once again skilful skates cut intricate figures on the ice, and waltzing was seen once more in the arena. The opening was marked by a goodly turnout of members.

The fact that Monday night of each week is to be given over at the arena to the skating club as well as Thursday afternoons from 4 to 7 o'clock, has brought about an increased interest in the skating club. Many men who last year could not be present at the afternoon meetings, are finding it possible to join the club this year, with one evening meeting offered.

With Ronald Harris as president of the club and a large proportion of the members now familiar with fancy skating the season promises to be an exceptionally interesting one. The carnival, which is being planned for next spring, will be a more brilliant spectacle than last year, and many are already looking forward to it.

The officers for the coming season, elected last month, include: Secretary, H. B. Hunter; treasurer, R. A. Boucher; executive committee, J. G. Boucher, R. B. Brynner, J. M. Gunn, H. Higgins, Col. Ibbotson Leonard and J. F. Moore.

The ladies' committee includes Mrs. R. B. Brynner, Miss E. Complin, Mrs. J. A. MacGregor, Mrs. Gordon Hunt, Miss M. Hunter, Charles Ivey and Mrs. Fred White.

HALLOWEEN SOCIAL IS HELD BY CONGREGATION

Hamilton Road Church Scene of Enjoyable Party—Jolly Program.

The basement of the Hamilton Road Presbyterian church was the scene of much merry-making this week when, under the direction of the church sports committee, the congregation gathered for a Halloween masquerade. The church was festively decorated in Halloween colors, with many bright lanterns strung around. In one corner was located the witches' cave, where the witches of the junior C. G. I. T. presided, and where, if one crossed the palms of the black-robed figures with silver, an ice cream pumpkin or a candy witch would be forthcoming.

To the strains of the grand march the masked figures paraded before Rev. M. Cree and his committee of judges, giving them a hard problem to solve in deciding just which was the best costume.

The remainder of the evening was spent in games. A sing-song, led by Mr. Wilson, added greatly to the zest of the program. Then, while the revellers rested, delightful solos were heard from Miss I. Burns and J. Lindsay, while Mr. Scafe told very appropriate stories.

A delicious lunch was served by the committee, including Miss N. Willoughby, Mrs. B. Butterworth, Miss P. Smith, J. Lindsay and H. Watkins, assisted by Mrs. Russell and Mrs. Perry.

VANNECK UNITED CHURCH.
Lobo, Nov. 5.—The Sunday school of the Vanneck United church is already making preparations for the annual Christmas tree and concert, and has set the date for Wednesday evening, Dec. 22.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Weigle, Stanley street, are expecting the former's sister, Mrs. B. McGee, and friends from Toronto for over the Thanksgiving week-end.

Sanford Granger of Ridley college, will be a guest with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Granger, Dufferin avenue, for the Thanksgiving week-end.

Miss Sylvia Granger, Dufferin avenue, will be a guest with her sister, Miss Ruth Granger, in Montreal, for the Thanksgiving week-end. Miss Ruth Granger is attending Royal Victoria college, McGill university.

Messrs. Palmer McCormick, Aubrey Bayley and Jim Davis of Appleby boys' school, will be in town for the Thanksgiving week-end, guests with the former's mother, Mrs. T. F. McCormick, Talbot street.

Miss Beryl Roulston, R.N., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roulston, London Junction, recently left for San Francisco, Cal., where she has accepted a position in the clinic of the University of Stanford.

Mrs. Harry Chapman of Mitchell, who has been in town this week attending the Western Ontario women's institute convention, was a guest with her son, Mr. A. E. Chapman, Piccadilly street, while in London.

Miss Lorretta Weigle, who is on the teaching staff of the Windsor public school, will spend the week-end and holiday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Weigle, Stanley street.

In the report of a halloween party which appeared in Thursday's edition the name of the host and hostess should have been Mr. and Mrs. John Purdy instead of Mr. and Mrs. John Purdy.

Miss Flora Matheson, violinist, and Mrs. Lella Hoover Ward, accompanist, of Guelph, who were in town this week for the women's music club concert, were guests with Miss Hawkshaw in Central avenue, while in London.

Miss Kitty Munday entertained the public library staff at a delightful shower in honor of Miss Frances Brownlee on Wednesday evening. Little Miss Jean Wrighton assisted in presenting the gifts.

Alderman James McCormick was the acting mayor this week in the city during the absence of Mayor George Weigle and Mrs. Weigle, who were in Wallaceburg for the marriage of their niece, Miss Abigail Fennaway.

Hume Cronyn of Ridley college and Doreen Egan of Toronto, a former Ridley classmate, arrived in town today to spend the Thanksgiving week-end at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hume Cronyn.

Miss Christina Rock, Miss Freda Rock and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Armstrong, of Birmingham, Mrs. William Becker of New Hamburg, and Mr. Arthur Henry of Stratford, were visitors in London recently for the funeral of Mrs. Fred Olne.

Col. and Mrs. Seeley-Smith of Wolseley barracks, expect to spend the week-end and Thanksgiving with the latter's brother, Mr. Fred Betts, who is entertaining a shooting party at his lodge at Rondeau. It is expected that a number of Toronto friends will join the party.

Mr. Clarence Gilmour, organist of the Robinson United church, has received a letter from Hugh S. Robertson, conductor of the famous Glasgow Orpheus Choir, in which Mr. Robertson states he is looking to a visit to Canada for his great organization. Glasgow Orpheus Choir has 250 voices.

The members of the dramatic club of the Wells Academy were recently entertained at the home of Miss F. Langford, Horton street when they rehearsed the play, "Poor Father," which they intend presenting within a month. Musical selections were rendered and dainty refreshments were served at the conclusion of the evening.

Dr. F. J. H. Campbell of this city, a graduate of the University of Western Ontario medical school, of which he is president of the alumni association, recently won high honor in England. Dr. Campbell, who has been engaged in post-graduate work there for several months, has achieved success, and it is announced that he has won the M. B. C. P. degree from the University of London, England. It is expected that the doctor will return to London shortly.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. James Andrews, 146 Egerton street, was the scene of a happy gathering this week, when the host and hostess celebrated the 15th anniversary of their marriage.

The evening was spent in music and cards, and the prize-winners were Mr. Fred Carruthers and Mrs. Harry Holmes, while the consolations fell to M. Denley and Mrs. Hilbert. A delicious supper was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Maroon Kerr. A feature of the evening was the presentation of pieces of china to Mr. and Mrs. Andrews, each guest having brought a piece of bridal wreath china toward the set of dishes. The supper table was attractively centered with a silver basket filled with carnations.

An enjoyable time was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Lawson, Princess avenue, when their young daughter, Miss Rachel, entertained 20 of her small friends to a Halloween party recently. Music and games were enjoyed, after which a delicious supper was served from a pretty table centered with yellow mums and pumpkin shade cardles and at each place was a dainty yellow favor. The guests included the Misses Mary Beard, Margaret Beard, Lela McLellan, Lorna Nash, Winnie Redman, Patricia Grant, Katherine Redman, Kity Barbour, Jean Gibson, Helen Foker and Benny Higgins, Rolff McNaughton, Bob Daly, Stephen Grant, Harold Wheeler, Donald Emerson, Winston Aylesworth, Billie Hayman, Charles Gibson and Billie Garner.

An enjoyable post-Halloween party was given recently by Miss Winifred Pether and Miss Ruth Johnston, when they entertained delightfully at the Blue Dragon tea room. Orange and black streamers were expertly used as decorations and black and orange shades softened the lights to a mellow glow. The evening was happily spent in games, music and dancing, after which a delicious supper was served from a table centered with autumn flowers and arranged with unique chestnut favors. The guests included Misses Leona Kirkwood, Fern Bullivant, Gladys Hodgins, Daisy Johnston, Edith Johnston, Reita Logan, Marion Pether, and Wallace Cunningham, Kingsley Allison, Walter Hughes, Ernest Johnston, Mr. Parker, Harry O'Neill, Dr. Edgar Williams, Leonard Potter and Alex. Scarrow.

C. E. F. CHAPTER PRESENTS FLAG

Riverview Cadets Receive Gift At Impressive Little Ceremony.

An impressive little ceremony marked the presentation of a beautiful flag, the gift of the C. E. F. Returned chapter, I. O. D. E., to the Riverview cadets yesterday afternoon.

The presentation was made at the Riverview school, where the cadet corps made a formation before the regent of the chapter, Mrs. D. F. Campbell, who read a brief address prior to handing over the flag to one of the cadets, who made a fitting reply. The salute to the flag was given and the company sang God Save the King.

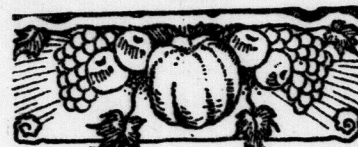

An inspiring address was given by Mrs. J. I. A. Hunt of the board of education, in which she thanked the chapter, on behalf of the board, for their interest in the boys. Mr. Campbell, the cadet captain, also spoke briefly, thanking the ladies for their gift.

Mrs. Wyatt, a member of the chapter, took this opportunity to speak about Poppy day.

I.O.D.E. SUPPORTS 1926 CENTENNIAL

Important Business Is Transacted at Meeting of Campbell Becher Chapter.

PRESENTING FLAG
Appeal Is Made by Regent Regarding Nurses' Home Bylaw.

The Campbell Becher chapter, I. O. D. E., has pledged its unanimous support toward the centennial being held in London in 1926. The decision was made at a meeting of the chapter held yesterday at the home of Mrs. Leonard Douglass, Wellington street north, following the reading of a letter from City Clerk Baker. Mrs. Greenaway, the regent, and Mrs. J. Murray, the first vice-regent, were appointed as representatives of the chapter.

An appeal was made by the regent regarding the nurses' home bylaw. She also requested that the members attend the social hygiene exhibit to be held in the Royal Bank building during the week of Nov. 23. The sum of $10 was voted toward the I. O. D. E. work being done in the dance being arranged for this year in India. It was decided to postpone until February, when a valentine dance will be arranged as a benefit to the chapter.

The chapter within the next week is presenting a flag to the Alexandra school cadets. The presentation will be made as part of the school's Armistice day celebration. A report on the recent general meeting of the provincial I. O. D. E. held in Preston, was given by the regent. It was also announced that a travelling basket would soon be on its way to the various homes of chapter members and their friends. Mrs. Douglass is in charge of it.

Afternoon tea was served at the conclusion of the business meeting. Mrs. C. E. Steele and Mrs. W. D. Macgregor as hostesses. The mystery package, donated by Mrs. Deviney, was won by Mrs. Douglass.

WEDDINGS

MASCARO-MERILEES.

A pretty wedding took place at St. Peter's parish hall on Saturday morning last at 8 o'clock. The bride, Miss Merilees, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Merilees, became the bride of Mr. Thomas A. Mascaro. The wedding music was played by Dr. Balogh and Rev. Dr. Flannery officiated.

The bride's becoming gown was of poudre blue georgette, and she wore a smart hat of blue velvet and black velvet slippers and sand hose. Her attendant was Miss Marjorie Mascaro, who was frocked in sand crepe, trimmed with pencil blue. Mr. Frank Raffaele attended the groom.

The bride's mother was gowned in navy polka twill, trimmed with pencil blue, while the groom's mother wore black satin, trimmed in colored beads. During the service Miss Ferguson sang very sweetly. Until, at the home of the bride's parents, where a reception was held after the ceremony. Mr. Ed. Crawford sang "O Promise Me." About one hundred guests attended the wedding. Later Mr. and Mrs. Mascaro left on a short wedding trip to Detroit, the bride travelling in a navy polka costume, trimmed in red. They will reside in London.

Mrs. Frank Pascuzzi and son William of Detroit, and Mr. C. E. Merilees of Troy, Ohio, were out-of-town guests at the wedding.

PASHLEY-LOTHOUSE.

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the residence of Rev. H. M. Paulin, Windsor, Ontario, on Thursday, Oct. 18, at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, when Miss Nell Lofthouse of Detroit became the bride of Mr. George F. Pashley of Windsor.

The young couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Lofthouse of Detroit. After the ceremony, the bridal party went to the Prince George hotel, where a hearty supper was served. The bride and groom left later on an extended honeymoon to New York.

PETZ-FARDILLA.

Tillsonburg, Nov. 5.—An interesting ceremony was solemnized Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Mary's church, when Frances Catherine, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Fardilla, was united in marriage to Mr. Salvatore Petz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Petz of Dunkirk, N. Y. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Nagle, resident priest, assisted by Father Moran of St. Thomas, in the presence of a very large number of friends and relatives.

The church was prettily decorated with autumn flowers, the guest pews being marked with shaggy mums.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked charming in a beautiful gown of cream georgette and cut velvet. Her long court train was fastened at the shoulders. Both the gown and train were trimmed with pearls and crystals. The bridal veil was arranged in cap effect, trimmed with orange blossoms and pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of butterfly roses and lily-of-the-valley.

peach satin, trimmed with fur. She wore a large black picture hat and carried a bouquet of roses. Miss Catherine Petz of Fredonia, N. Y., was the best man, assisted by Mr. Joe Petz. The five little nieces of the bride made charming flower girls and wore pale yellow and pale pink crepe de chine dresses, trimmed with yellow and blue rosebuds, with hats to match. All carried baskets of mums.

During the offertory Miss Jean Scallisi of Woodstock sang Ave Marie, and during the signing of the register, O Promise Me, while Miss Delia Scallisi played the bridal marches.

At the conclusion of the church services the entire party adjourned to the home of the bride, where a dainty wedding breakfast was served. The bride and groom left on the afternoon M. C. R. train for Niagara Falls and from there they will start on a long motor trip through the eastern states and eastern Canada. They will be at home to their friends in Tillsonburg after Dec. 1.

Among the guests were: Mr. and Mrs. A. Petz of Dunkirk, N.Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Petz of Jamestown, N.Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Peter Girault and family of Fredonia, N.Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Victor Swanson of Jamestown, N.Y.; Misses Mamie and Annie Petz of Dunkirk, N.Y.; James, Joseph and Peter Petz of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Caruso and family of Brampton; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Guchard and family of Shelburne; Leonard Fardilla and daughter of Alliston; Sam Fardilla and children of Fergus; Samuel Merlino of Orangeville; Joe Fardilla of Colborne; Philip Bonaccorso of Simcoe; Mr. and Mrs. Dave Lauer of Tillsonburg and Miss Ditz of Frysburg, Pa. The little flower girls were Misses Ida Petz.

TATE-RIEHL.

Special to The Advertiser.
Dublin, Nov. 6.—St. Mary's Anglican church, Dublin, was the scene of a pretty marriage at 12:30 o'clock yesterday, when Mr. Harry Tate of the C. N. R. shops, Stratford, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Miss Alice Riehl, only daughter of Mr. James Riehl, C. N. R. section foreman of the village. Rev. Mr. Roberts of Mitchell, pastor of the Dublin church, performed the marriage ceremony.

Miss Hicks played the wedding march, and during the signing of the register, Miss Margaret Smith of Mitchell sang "O Promise Me" very sweetly. The bride, who was unattended, was given in marriage by her father. Her pretty gown was of blue silk canton crepe and a smart sand-colored hat was worn. She carried a shower bouquet of pink and white carnations.

The church was prettily decorated with potted plants. Many friends of the bride were present at the ceremony.

Dish Dinner.

In many families it is a problem to serve up a simple meal on one course. Here is a dish that will please a family of six, besides having the indispensable elements of nourishment:

2 cups cooked macaroni.
1 cup cooked carrots (diced).
2 tablespoons grated onion.
2 tablespoons chopped parsley.
2 tablespoons chopped fresh red pepper.
1 cup chopped ham.
6 tablespoons buttered crumbs.
1 cup Borden's St. Charles milk.
1 cup water.
2 tablespoons butter.
2 tablespoons flour.
1 teaspoon salt.
1½ teaspoon paprika.
Cook macaroni in boiling salted water 15 minutes. Make a white sauce of butter, flour, milk, water, salt, paprika. Place a layer of macaroni in a well-greased baking dish. Sprinkle with ham, carrots and seasonings. Repeat until all are used. Pour over all the white sauce. Cover top with bread crumbs and bake in a moderate oven for 40 minutes.

WEDNESDAY FOUR O'CLOCK.

A. D. Jordan, the musical director of the Institute of Musical Art, presided at the fourth in the series of Wednesday four o'clocks, which are given weekly by the students of the institute. Kitchener Will Ask To Be Grouped With Toronto At C.H.A. Confab Tonight

Green Shirts Stronger Than Early Reports Said

Will Work Out On Stratford Ice When Available.

FRIES BACK

London Junior Last Year Will Be Goal Candidate.

Special to The Advertiser.
Kitchener, Nov. 5.—Five youngsters of the Kitchener senior O. H. A. team turned out for the first night of indoor training at the Stratford rink tonight under the direction of Tommy Dyer, well-known in boxing circles. Regular work-out will be the order from now on, and when ice is available at Stratford, the locals will make the trip there twice a week to get in shape for the senior S. P. A. series which they will again enter. Those out tonight were Hinesperger and White of last year's senior team; Lloyd Gross and Klem of the last year's junior team; and Hartlieb, a city league player.

The Kitchener club will be represented at Toronto tomorrow night by Percy Pearce, who will ask that the locals be grouped with the Toronto teams and Peterboro. The Kitchener club is not in favor of as many games as last year when the Big Six played three weekly.

For good the locals are counting upon two former juniors in the persons of Klem and Fries. Both Kitchener products. The former was with the locals last year while Fries was with the Argos. On the defense Jack Hemphill and George Karges will probably be used. For forwards George Hiller and Lorne More, the latter last year with the intermediates.

At right wing there are five candidates. Ted Hillman, Lloyd Gross, the latter of the juniors last year; Chuck Roth, Jack Krug and Alf Schell. On the left boards Hinesperger and White of last year's senior team will perform.

Seniors Lay Off Over Holiday

Will Commence Drills Again Tuesday.

The London Seniors will lay off workouts until after Thanksgiving, according to an announcement made last night.

The whole squad had a good workout yesterday at noon, and as the three drills they have put in have been strenuous, the lay-off comes at an opportune time.

By the end of next week Marden should have returned to the point where he'll begin the line-up he intends to start with. An exhibition game the week after would find the outfit in fine condition.

FRENZIED CRIES GREET RAISE IN REFEREE FEE

Small Promoters in Gotham Asking Elimination of Four-Round Bout.

By FAIR PLAY.
Special to The Advertiser.
New York, Nov. 5.—You can hear the frenzied howls all along the Great White Way these days. This is the outburst of the promoters who are engaged at the recent action of the New York boxing commission in raising the referee fee to $20 and that of the judges to $20.

This certainly does work a hardship on the small club which is barely able to get by financially.

In an effort to hedge on expenses and keep themselves in business, the promoters are asking for the right to eliminate the four-round bout. This would mean an $80 saving and go a good way toward paying the extra officials' fees.

On the other hand, such a change would hurt the young fighter, who would have to break in over the six rounds, instead of four.

Six rounds may seem to the uninitiated to be a short distance, but ask any fighter who remembers his youth, and he will tell you how fast and how weary the legs seem in the last six minutes of mulling, and how the breath and how weary the legs seem in the last six minutes of mulling.

Three years ago the commission made a ruling that a boxer was to be paid less than $10 a round. The sequel was the closing of half a dozen clubs throughout the state.

WESTERVELT CAGE CHANCES BRIGHT

School Will Have Three Squads in the Running This Winter.

Three good teams will represent Westervelt in basketball this winter, two girls' teams and one boys'.

The Grads are the L. O. B. A. entrants, while the other girls team is in the city league. The boys will be entered in the junior O. B. A. series, and with a triple stab at honors Westervelt's chances look bright. A meeting will be held tonight to elect officers of the three groups.

Coach Goodman is enthused over the chances of the juniors, and by the present outlook he has every right to be. The best basketball material in the city has been assembled at Westervelt. The players trying out for the squad are as follows: Volck, Roughley, Murray, Lindsay, Martin, O'Hara, Henry, Henderson, Wong, Farquharson, Brown, Day, Donovan, Gordon.

The city league team possesses an unknown quality at present, as most of its members are newcomers, but the grade are all well-known, and the team which will represent London in the largest basketball organization in the dominion contains the following players: Hayden, Ann Johanson, Helen Lindsay and Marg. Mortimore; center, Lottie Garret and Audrey Walker; defences, Frances Talbot, Doris Thorne, Marg. Culbert and Eve Hardy.

The line-up looks good on paper and from the individual past performances of the players it should look as good in action. They all have ability that has been tried, and Coach Goodman should be able to work them into a real machine.

Jerry Goodman will represent the school at the O. A. B. A. meeting in Hamilton tomorrow night. A report comes from Toronto that the Queen City club are going to move to a reduction in the number of players on a team. It now stands at ten, but the local representatives will fight the proposition. There is too much good material out for the teams to have players cut out of the game just because Toronto makes a move to better its chances.

MAROONS COMMENCE PRACTICE NEXT WEEK

Majority of Players Under Contract Arrive in Montreal in Good Shape.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Montreal, Nov. 5.—With the majority of the players under contract to the Montreal Maroons, practice will start next week, as ice will be made at the Forum for Saturday, when the place will be opened to the public for skating. The outlook for the team this season is much better than a year ago. The players who reached Montreal Tuesday night took their first workout yesterday. Among the players who are expected to be in the team are: Dutch Cain, "Dinky" Dinsmore, and Dunc. Munro. Munro has been reduced to the greater part of the autumn season, and is fifteen pounds lighter than when he started last winter.

Nelson Stewart arrived last night from Toronto, while Lowery came in from Ottawa.

Three new players will be on the team, one of whom is a former member of the Banque Nationale man in the bankers' league. Another French-Canadian amateur, and a third who has been in the amateur ranks, was announced, are the other new additions.

Manager Gerard has already decided on changing his team about. He will have for the defence Benedict in goal; Reg Noble and Dunc Munro as the regular left defence, with others to relieve them. On the line he will have Dinsmore, Kitchener, Stewart, Selbert and Broadbent, as well as some of the players to be retained from last season's squad.

SEALS' SERIES A BUST.
Associated Press Despatch.
San Francisco, Nov. 5.—The recent inter-league series between Louisville and San Francisco was a financial "bust." The umpires made more money than the players. Each of the Colonels received $175, while the returns for the seals was $225 apiece. Umpires Casey and Chilli collected $500 each.

MICKY WALKER SIGNS TO FIGHT FRIEDMAN

Newark, Nov. 5.—The National Sportsman's club today announced it had signed Mickey Walker, world champion of boxing, to fight Salor Friedman of Chicago for a bout here on Thanksgiving Eve. The twelve-round affair.

SLATTERY GIVEN 60 DAYS TO GET IN CONDITION

Associated Press Despatch.
New York, Nov. 4.—Jimmy Slattery of Buffalo was given sixty days by the state athletic commission today to get into physical condition for future fights. Slattery was scheduled to fight in Syracuse on Friday night of this week, but reported his inability to fulfil the contract, due to illness.

On the Side Lines With C.S.G.

CONACHER'S CASE.
The possibility of Conacher playing for Argos Saturday has aroused an immense amount of comment, most of it unfavorable to the idea and to the Argos for attempting to get by with the Big Train.

There are many interesting angles to the thing. Conacher is already a professional at heart, as he has signed, or will sign, a contract with Pittsburgh, and while he may have been living within the letter of the amateur regulations, still the public has its own ideas of Conacher's amateurism.

The tangle brings out again the gaps there are between the governing bodies of different sports in Canada. Conacher, as a member of the Pittsburgh Yellow Jackets, last year was under a partial ban of the O. H. A. and C. H. A., as Canadian teams were not allowed to play in U. S. teams, and moreover, Conacher would not be eligible to play in the O. H. A. under the ruling that insists on a year's residence in Canada following residence in the States. Granting him an amateur card in the first place weakens the O. H. A.'s position.

While it is felt generally that it would be a mistake to let Conacher flout the amateur rules any more than he has done, there is also a sneaking desire even on the part of the fans who won't be near the game to see whether he's still the Big Train of Canadian rugby.

A SLUGGISH CREATURE.
Dr. Lowell, president of Harvard, has declared that the American college student is a sluggish and a dolish creature, who prefers athletics to studies. A New York writer humorously points out that when the late Percy Haughton was coaching Harvard football teams Dr. Lowell had no such unflattering views of the genus ran rah.

"WANTED"—To exchange one slow-thinking college president for fast-thinking quarterback. Will give something to boot and no questions asked. Apply J. H. Cambridge.

"WANTED"—To exchange one head of mathematics for peppy assistant cheer leader who can turn handspins. Right man will be furnished with saxophone. Apply Box 4114, Harvard.

"WANTED"—To exchange bright head of psychology for sluggard or dolist creature who can play center and pass accurately once in ten times. Phi Beta Kappa Key for right applicant. Apply Harvard Lampoon.

WESTERN RULES.

The N. H. L. is likely to adopt Western league rules regarding defensive play in their entirety. The Patrick brothers claim that these rules prevent the type of defensive play that has threatened to take the interest out of hockey in the east.

A westerner who knows the eastern rules and has seen the best teams play them says:

"Our rules, particularly in regard to defensive hockey, make it a great game for spectators. They make for continuous action," he said. "That's the type of game that is evidently going to be offered this year, and after all, with the public 'the game's the thing.' Show them hockey of the fast and furious type, and it takes a mighty lot of counter-attractions to keep them away."

HARVARD GRIDDERS LEAVE FOR TIGER STRONGHOLD

Associated Press Despatch.
New York, Nov. 5.—The Harvard football team leaves for Princeton tonight ready to grapple with the Tiger on Saturday.

Harvard's football season begins with this Princeton battle to all intents and purposes. Reverses in the earlier games, although undesirable, become a part of the gradual development of a crimson gridiron machine. And so, also with Princeton, which, despite his defeat at the hands of Colgate and a tie with the Navy, is far from disheartened.

Baseball Rumors Carry Yankees Stars To Cleveland For Jamieson.

Associated Press Despatch.
New York, Nov. 5.—Baseball rumors today carried Wally Pipp and Aaron Ward, first and second basemen of the New York Yankees, to Cleveland in a deal which may bring about the return of Jamieson's presence in New York another season, in spite of Tri Speaker's recently expressed decision to make no trades.

Pea Wae' Wannier, who succeeded Everett Scott at shortstop early last summer, is slated to go elsewhere, according to reports.

REPORTS RIDICULOUS.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 5.—Reports in New York that Wally Pipp and Aaron Ward of the Yankees may come to Cleveland for Outfielder Charley Jamieson were called "absolutely ridiculous" by E. S. Barnard, president of the Indians, tonight.

EARL CAMPBELL, OTTAWA, SIGNS WITH N. Y. PROS

Associated Press Despatch.
New York, Nov. 5.—Another Canadian player was signed by the New York team of the National Hockey League yesterday. He is Earl Campbell of Ottawa, a wing man.

A league schedule is to be adopted in Montreal Sunday.

EIGHT DODGERS SIGN.

Associated Press Despatch.
New York, Nov. 5.—Eight players already have signed for the 1926 baseball season by the Brooklyn Dodgers. Six are pitchers—Osborne, Egan, Brown, Cantrell, McGraw and Elliott. Infielder Corgan and Outfielder Hutson also have entered the fold.

CONNOISSEUR OF THE JOB WITH LEAFS

"Big Train." Center of Storm. Had Chance Few Years Back.

By CHARLIE GOOD.
Toronto, Nov. 5.—How many fans play with the Argos on Saturday, all but signed a contract calling for $100 monthly with the Toronto baseball club several years ago? The papers were all ready for his signature and the "Big Train" had his pen in hand prepared to sign on the dotted line when the thought suddenly occurred to him that he wouldn't be able to play football if he accepted terms, and he asked for a little more time to consider the matter.

It was late in the season then and "Conny" was playing with the Hulls in the P. H. League. The late President Jim McCaffery of the Leafs, always an admirer of the big fellow, was rather chagrined when Conny, whom he figured on as a great attraction at the gate, refused to go through with the proposition, but he recognized his position and no effort was made to induce him to change his mind.

Other Plans.
The following spring Conacher had made other plans and a promising baseball prospect was lost. There is little doubt but that the versatile athlete would have made good as a professional, and his performance of the could always hit the ball and as a fielder he covered a great deal of ground. Had he hooked up with the Leafs the chances are that he would have been converted into a catcher. Larry Doyle, the then manager of the Toronto club, was of the opinion that because of his size and good throwing arm he would have been better adapted for backstopping than any other department in the game.

Only his love for rugby kept Conacher out of baseball. But for his affection for the gridiron sport he would have tried his hand at the great American game as a source of livelihood, and with proper training he would have achieved the same prominence that he has at lacrosse, hockey and football.

Conacher in all probability would never have drifted to Pittsburgh but for the fact that he was possessed with a desire to break into American football. He would never have gone over to the Smoky City for hockey alone. His football over there was confined to the preparatory school brand and although he scored the majority of the points for the institution with which he was connected he didn't make much of a name with the coaches because he preferred to provide his own interference and carry the ball on his own. As a result he didn't get anywhere.

If Conny plays with the Scullers on Saturday against Montreal he should show the Red and Black crew something that they won't like a great deal. Intensive tuition that he has received across the border has improved his style wonderfully, and on his work with the Argos last night at practice the claims made for him by his admirers that he is the best back in the country are well founded. There is only one Conacher.

The center's controversy has aroused widespread interest. Here are Conacher's views:

"Montreal has objected to my playing Saturday," Conny was told. "How about that?"

"Montreal's objections mean nothing to me," was the reply. "As long as I am eligible and Argos want me why I intend to play. That is of course if I can convince Mr. Townsend that he doesn't need me in Montreal Saturday."

Howard Rigby, manager of the Duquesne Gardens rink in Pittsburgh, was in town yesterday on his way to Montreal.

"As far as I am concerned Conacher can stay here and play with his old team Saturday," said Rigby. "I think it is only fitting that he should wind up his amateur career playing the game that he likes in the town where he sprang into athletic fame. In fact, I think that he is to be commended for his desire to stay and help out his old club in their time of need."

Conacher worked out with the Argos again last night and convinced Coach Rodden that he is in good enough shape to step into the line and play his class for at least half of the game.

As far as Argos are concerned, Conacher has secured the necessary permission from the Pittsburgh magnate.

Olga Miller Adds Another Net Title

Defeats Isabel Duncan in Finals For Western Crown.

Displaying flashes of the tennis that carried her to the city championship this year, Miss Olga Miller have added another title to her list by defeating Isabel Duncan in the finals for the Western ladies' championship, by the decisive score 6-0, 6-0. Miss Duncan, who pluckily fought her way to the finals, was unable to check the brilliant attack of her opponent, and failed to win a game.

The fine weather at the beginning of the week saw good progress in the tournament, and only Magdalen, who had been out of the running for the men's singles' title, which ought to be decided early next week.

The tournament is under the direction of the university tennis committee, of which Jim Dean is chairman.

WINDY CITY CUBS OUT OF MARKET

Chicago Desires To Trade, But Other Moguls Turn Deaf Ear.

OUTLOOK IS DARK

Owners' Promise For Four Best Batters Has Fans Wandering.

By JOHN B. FOSTER.
Special to The Advertiser.
New York, Nov. 5.—Curious fans are wondering just where and how the Chicago Cubs are going to get those "four best batters in the big leagues," promised the Chicago fans by "an out-of-the-owners" just about the time Joe McCarthy was signed on as manager. The Cubs would like to trade, but have nothing much to offer in return.
Some fans speculated whether the Cubs and Pirates were not in league to hook up on another trade of some kind, especially on top of this much-bruited and much-dented yarn that Moore and Bigbee had been waived along to the San Francisco team when Dreyfus got Warner and Rhyme from the coast. If the Cubs had been in on that deal, it would have been perfectly absurd to have passed any players along to the coast, when all that Chicago would have had to do was claim them by waiver.
That the Cubs could use Moore is easy enough to see, because, despite his faults in the world series, he would make a mighty good man for Chicago in the outfield and might go fairly well on the infield in a new place. He needs more work in the infield if he is ever to be a baseman of rare skill.
The Cubs have drafted Wilson from Toledo, where he had been sent by the Giants. Last season Wilson was down early as one of the greatest stubby outfielders in baseball, but the National league twirlers discovered he couldn't hit a high one outside with a quick break to it, so he cannot be one of the four big batters promised the Cubs.

Jarvis Second Wilde—Maybe

New English Flyweight Has Punch, But Lacks Science.

Special to The Advertiser.
New York, Nov. 5.—He has been called a "second Jimmy Wilde," has Ernie Jarvis, the latest flyweight to come across from England to try his fighting fortunes in America, and he has shown enough in his two bouts here to warrant the belief that he will go far in his climb toward a championship. They bring out a Wilde only once in a generation, if that often.
Like Wilde, who was of spider physique, Jarvis packs a remarkable punch quite out of keeping with his size and weight, but he does not compare with Wilde as a boxer. Jarvis likes to get in close to his man and whale away at the body. It was by such methods that he won from both Black Bill of Cuba and Johnny Breslin. Johnny outboxed the little Englishman at long range, but whenever they got to close quarters Breslin was forced to back away from the fierce exchanges. British boxers, as a rule, have not shown to advantage at infighting when meeting Americans. Jarvis is one of the exceptions. He is a sweet puncher.

For 1926.
Maranville of the Cubs, who was part of the trade with Pittsburgh in 1924 cannot be sent anywhere, by the looks of things. Chicago is unable to discover any team that is crazy to get him, despite the fact that he doesn't seem to be all through with baseball.

OTTAWA PROS STAGE FIRST INDOOR PRACTICE

Canadian Press Despatch.
Ottawa, Nov. 5.—The Ottawa Senators of the National hockey league, held their first indoor training workout last night. Also Connell and George Boucher were absentees, while Frank Nighbor and Howie Smith are out of town. Frank Clancy, Frank Pinnington, Alex Smith, Cy Denney and Ed Gorman played basketball for an hour and then reeled off a mile on the track.

CARDIFF ELEVEN STRENGTHENING

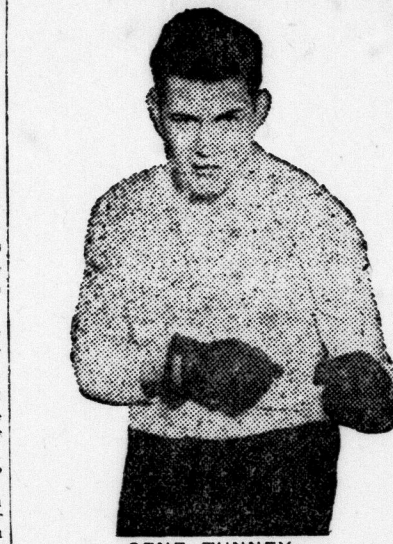

1924 Cup Finalists Make Effort To Repair Shattered Team.

Associated Press Despatch.
London, Nov. 5.—Some wholesale transfers from Scottish league clubs to Cardiff City in the first division of the English league have been effected this week. Cardiff, who were cup finalists last season, are in a bad position this year, their place second from the bottom of the first-division table being none too promising. In an effort to repair their shattered fortunes, the Welshmen have been searching for promising material among clubs north of the Cheviots, and, as a result, Cassidy of the Celtic has joined Hugh Ferguson, Motherwell's center forward, into the Welshmen's ranks. MacLaughlin, Clyde's outside right, has also been signed on, and all three will appear against Leicester City at Cardiff on Saturday.
Ferguson's transfer fee was stated to be the largest in the history of Scottish football, while the aggregate of the three Scottish players' fees amounts to somewhere in the vicinity of £10,000, approximately $50,000.

TWO STRATFORD WOMEN CAPTURE GOLF MEDALS

Special to The Advertiser.
Stratford, Nov. 5.—Mrs. F. A. Copps is the winner of the silver medal, while Mrs. Gordon Rankin won the bronze medal, donated by the Canadian ladies' golfing union in the competitions which have been staged on the links of the Stratford Golf and Country club during the summer.
An idea of the brand of golf played by the Stratford ladies can be obtained from the fact that the following qualified for the silver division of the C. L. G. U. competitions: Mrs. Ina Gregory, Mrs. W. Lawrence, Mrs. J. Orr, Mrs. H. Bruce, Miss V. Davidson, Miss B. McLenahan, Miss Mary Miller and Miss Alice Hughes.

DEMPSEY MAY BE SUED BY MEXICO PROMOTERS

Associated Press Despatch.
Mexico City, Mex., Nov. 5.—Newspaper despatches from Tampico say local boxing promoters are much exercised over the failure of Jack Dempsey to appear at exhibitions there in accordance with a contract. They allege that the champion returned a 10,000 peso check given him as a retaining fee, and left Tampico without explanation. The despatches say the promoters will sue Dempsey for damages in the United States courts.

Friday and Tuesday Nights For Workouts—Games Commence Wednesday.

START AT 7 O'CLOCK

Two squads of eager young puck-chasers will hop over the boards at the arena next Wednesday night, and officially open the new Junior city hockey league, which has gradually come into being under the gentle soothing of Bill Marsden.
The big idea of the senior coach marks the coming of a new era in London hockey circles, for it means a cache of worthy material from which can be chosen the city's best hockey teams of the future. In other words, it means that home-brews will be given the job of broadening the hockey worth of London. It's a long way off yet, but nevertheless it's coming.

In the past there have been Junior hockey leagues, but the players have been getting out there and shoving the rubber along any old way, and with no one to show them why they must do this and why they must not do that. It means that the youngsters will be playing under the watchful eye of Marsden, who has a knack of picking hockey diamonds no matter how rough the surface is, and smoothing off the corners until they are good in any market. The admission for the games has been set at 15c for allcomers.
The executive of the league will meet tonight to draw up the schedule and make ready for the opening ceremonies. Bill Marsden has already been appointed referee. The games will start at 7 p.m.

Practice nights have been allotted to the hockey teams in the group. Three squads will get the feel of the ice this Friday, with the other three cutting the sheet Tuesday, the night before the opening.
The following are the hours:
Friday night—Westervelts, 5 to 5:30; Hawks, 5:30 to 6; Ridout Falcons, 6 to 6:30.
Tuesday night—St. Mary's, 5 to 5:30; Young Britons, 5:30 to 6; Hawks, 6 to 6:30.
It will be necessary for the teams to take the ice promptly on time and get away as soon as the time is up, so as to make room for the next squad coming on.

Motorist Saves Three Families

Gives Fire Alarm, Then Rouses Occupants.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, Nov. 5.—A passing motorist was responsible for the saving from a burning building of three families here early this morning. Driving by when two companions, the man saw flames coming from a store, and immediately drove to the nearest fire-hall to give the alarm. Returning they entered the building and roused the occupants. The firemen kept the fire confined to a small portion of the building, resulting in a loss of not more than $5,000.

WINDSOR POLICE RAID THUGS' DEN

Discover Complete Arsenal Guns Equipped With Maxim Silencers.

ITALIANS FROM U. S.

Special to The Advertiser by a Staff Correspondent.
Windsor, Nov. 5.—Modern rifles, equipped with Maxim silencers and loaded with dum-dum explosive bullets, were seized by a squad of Windsor police late tonight when they raided a house at 329 Ann street to investigate a report that a highly-organized band of black-handers had established a headquarters there.
Four men and two women, all Italians, found in the house, were placed under arrest. The names as given by the police at midnight are: Frank Sherbo, 29 years old, 329 Ann street; Albert Desson, 20, Niagara Falls, N. Y.; Nick Rosa, 27, no address; Raphael Visiro, 27 years old, Detroit; Peggy Smith, 23, and Mary Smith, 24. The two women appear to be Italians. All are held for investigation.
The information leading to the raid came in the afternoon, when Joseph Maure, 35 years old, who lives at 321 Pitt street east, reported to the police that when he dropped in at the Ann street house to see a friend, in response to an invitation, he was met at the door by three men, all armed, who forced him to hold up his hands while they went through his clothing and took $50 he had.

Body of King Tut Believed Found

Tomb Reopens and Work of Unexampled Beauty Found.

Cairo, Nov. 5.—The body of King Tut is now definitely believed to have been discovered, a communique issued in Arabia by the ministry of works announces.
Tutankhamen's tomb was re-opened Oct. 12 in the presence of Egyptian officials. The lid of the first sarcophagus was lifted, revealing another, on which lay linen coverings and bouquets. These were removed, revealing a work of unexampled beauty. This second sarcophagus bore an effigy of the god Osiris, decorated from head to foot and embellished with multi-colored pieces of glass.

N.Y. STOCKS MAKE RECORD ADVANCES

Unusual Individual Advances Counterbalance Drop of Railways, Motors.

Associated Press Despatch.
New York, Nov. 5.—There was plenty of selling all through the list on the New York stock exchange today, in which the railways and motors suffered, but the effect on sentiment was counterbalanced by the extraordinary advances in individual shares, some of which sold at unprecedented figures. General Motors hit 147, American Smelting at 125 1/2, the highest in twenty years, and the highest in the market. The Brooklyn Edison jumped 7 1/2 points, Dupont 7, United States Steel Pipe and Federal Mining and Smelting 6 1/2. Call loans renewed at 4 1/2 per cent.

COCHRAN, HAY OFFICES MOVED TO DUNDAS ST.

The offices of the Cochran-Hay company have been removed from the Royal Bank building to the new Gamagay building on Dundas street, H. L. Petrie of Toronto has been appointed resident manager of the London office. Mr. Petrie was for several years connected with the Bank of Montreal, and has been in London since 1914, and since his return to Canada in 1919 has been actively associated with the bond business.

BUTTER AND EGGS

New York, Nov. 5.—Butter steady, receipts, 14,212.
Associated Press Despatch.
Chicago, Nov. 5.—The butter market today continued steady, with lower prices. Supplies were not exceptional, but not so much as last week. A fair demand was reported for 92-second storage butter, and the market for this grade was firm. The centralized market was steady at unchanged prices, but buyers showed practically no interest. Fresh butter, 40c to 45c; centralized, 35c.

SPINDRIFT

An Adventure of the Great Lakes

By HAROLD TITUS

INSTALLMENT 30.

"Haines is just pullin' out for Escanaba," remark Cap'n Needham as John released the whistle cord and changed the Wanderer's course to bring her to her berth.

It was the first word that had been spoken in the tug's pilot house for an hour. Depression was heavy on the cap'n's wheelerman and he had been unresponsive to the old man's efforts to launch conversation. He did not reply to this, just turned his gaze for a moment to the tug backed into port, and then watched his own manoeuvre.

Along the road leading into Fair-port Bart McManus' automobile roared and rattled, throwing great fountains of rain water from the puddles it plunged through, boring the night with its headlights, side curtains rippling and rattling in the gale.

From the cap'n's house Will Hopp raced down toward the Needham dock, a letter in his hand.

"What if you show it to?" he panted, holding it out to William.

"She said it was for her father, didn't she?"

"Yes, she did."

"Well, then, git it to him fast's you kin. Me an' Willie, we'll stay here an' wait for— Lookit! Lookit!" His voice, until then of normal timbre, cracked as he flung up his arm.

"He ain't goin' to Escanaba! He's standin' out into the lake!"

He was pointed to the United Fish-eies tug and, sure enough, she was steaming eastward, when she should have been going westward into Green Bay. If Haines had been bound on his usual trip.

"He didn't say nothin' about that to us!" cried Willie.

"Nothin' to us!" echoed Will.

"An' mebbe she didn't know—until now!"

"Git for th' cap'n, Will. Git!"

Down along the dock Will ran frantically, but even as he paused at the end and waited while Goodheart backed and worked against the wind to make a proper landing, a careening car swung into the village.

At the store Bart McManus halted, opened a side curtain and looked out. He saw the lights of a tug just at her dock, and even as he looked the lights were turned out. The Wanderer was at her berth. Cap'n Ezra and the man who had been known to the village as John Goodheart were stepping down from the pilot house almost into the arms of the law, for McManus sent his car forward, stopped again, and then walked swiftly through Ezra's reel yard toward the dock.

The cap'n and John did not leave the tug. A pattering, frightened, wide-eyed Will Hopp leaped aboard and thrust an envelope into the old man's hands.

"Here! Read it! I d-don't know what's in it," Will stammered. "But Janet she went away with Haines an' the sheriff's comin' an' he didn't go to Escanaba like he said he would."

"What's this?" asked Ezra. "Say that again, Will, Sheriff?"

A low exclamation broke from John and Ezra's eyes went to his face. John was staring inlandward, brow furrowed as he sensed catastrophe.

"Here, John, I ain't got my spec's. Read this. Mebbe it explains more'n Will can tell us."

John took the envelope in an unsteady hand and, moving toward the engine-room where an electric light burned, ripped it open.

"It's addressed to both of us," he said. "She's written— Good God!"

"I know now what you have tried to keep from me."

The words burned into his consciousness and it seemed as though another voice than his repeated them. He looked dumbly at Ezra, and saw the pain in the old man's eyes.

"Hurry! Hurry!" broke in little Will. "The car's just come up. Mebbe it's him—the sheriff!"

"Sheriff? What's the sheriff got to do with—"

But John's voice interrupted the cap'n.

"Under heaven, listen, Ezra! Listen to this!"

He read rapidly, in a strained voice, and little McNabb, wiping his hands on a bunch of cotton waste, listened as well.

"I love you both very much. Don't worry about me. I can take care of myself. Janet."

He ended in a hoarse whisper and the hand which held the letter dropped to his side.

Ezra whirled and gripped Will's arm so savagely that the little fellow, despite his excitement, winced. He was trying to talk but could only sputter and stammer.

"Leggo! He cried, drawing back. "Leggo me, so's I kin talk! Haines he didn't go to Escanaba! He went into the lake, I tell you! He did, an' the ain't no time for you—"

Haines telephoned the sheriff. Willie heard him. He says that you, Mister Goodheart, is an escapee convict an' he says that you, Cap'n, 's been a shelterin' of him. He's comin' Bart. Mebbe that's him, there. There's a car! I'll bet it is. He was some'rea near. Haines said he could git here in an hour, after he heard what Haines told him.

John had whirled to the rail and was staring into the wind.

"Into the lake?" he asked, dully, as a stupefied man might ask.

"And not to Escanaba!" moaned the older man.

"Tricked, by God! He'd trick her when she was going— Look here, we haven't a second! Let go that bow line, McNabb! Cap'n, it's up to us to follow!"

"An' dam quick!" shrieked little Will. "Dam quick, Willie an' William is a-fightin' of somebody now! Hustle! Hustle!"

He leaped ashore, hesitated as though he would help throw off the lines, and then pounded on up the dock, reckoning that he could be of greater help there, perhaps. In that gale it might take minutes to move the Wanderer away from her berth, and Bart McManus must not board her this night, he knew!

The sheriff had all but gained the dock when two men approached him from the shadows of the net house.

"Good evenin', Sheriff McManus."

"Sheriff McManus?"

"Oh, hello, boys!" The officer stopped. Better to get the lay of the land, he told himself. A desperate man was out yonder, and placing him in custody might not be such a simple matter. "Just drove an. That the cap'n's tug that just now docked?"

William turned and looked out to where the light in the Wanderer's engine-room showed faintly. He cocked his head on one side and said:

"Well, Sheriff McManus, it might be an' it mightn't be. Course, this 's Ezra's dock, an' he gerty uses it, but of course it might be—"

"He's got this fellow Goodheart wheelin' for him yonder, the sheriff broke in, and Willie hiccupped sharply.

"Yes, I expect Mister Goodheart's still wheelin' for Ezra. He has been figurin' moved before the light on the tug and William's heart was re-acting. The one chance that Ezra and John had of safety for themselves and to pursue Haines' tug on whatever errand he had gone with Miss Janet lay in speed. The Wanderer must not be delayed, even by the law. So he held his words to deliberate measure and kept his great hands ready. He wanted no fuss with the sheriff, but John Goodheart was in danger, and the cap'n and Miss Janet.

"Let's see. Now he come here in August, didn't he? Yeah. Thought so I was here the night we was looking for Garrison an' Ezra introduced me to him. Goodheart. Yes. That's the name he give me. Seems as the old cap'n said he come from Wisconsin."

"Seems like he did, don't it, sheriff?"

"What kind of a fellow is he, anyhow?"

McManus, as well as the others, watched the tug narrowly, waiting for men to approach him from it. He was satisfied to wait there.

"Why, he's a might' fine feller, Sheriff McManus. He's spent most his time helpin' folks to git along, it seems. He pulled Sam Faxon's boy outta the water, an' he drug us off the rocks."

On went William, slowly, deliberately, with his heart in his throat, and then the sheriff broke in with a sharp exclamation.

"What's that? They pullin' out? Who?"

He started forward. He was going to run forward, for it seemed to him that the tug was moving; surely her engine was at work, because the gale bore the sounds of steam rushing in escape as a piston functioned.

But he did not go forward. A great hand seized his wrist and spun him sharply about.

"That was just a-goin' to tell you, Sheriff McManus."

"Let go! I can't talk to you now an'—"

"Why, yes, you kin, Sheriff, McManus. I got somethin' real inter-estin' to say if you'll only—"

That hand held the officer's one wrist in its iron grip. The other arm was creeping around McManus' body. He was being drawn close to big William.

"What's this?" Bart cried out, sharply, and struck.

His blow landed square on William's chin and rocked the big fellow. The arm about the sheriff sagged and he twisted free, but as he lurched away Willie was on him, throwing him off balance and driving him against the wall of the net house.

Curses belched from the officer and he struck out savagely, turning his face for one instant to see the Wanderer, still scrubbing the end of the dock, but swinging away, pivoting against the corner spiles to save time in her departure.

William recovered from the daze of that first blow and closed, Willie was grappling to pinion one of McManus' arms. He succeeded, he thought, but the other hand behind the sheriff's body was busy in his hip pocket. It closed over cold steel.

Bart's breath was heaten from him in a sob as William threw his weight against his chest, driving him again into the side of the building. But with a twist and a turn he shook Willie's hold off. The hand whipped out of his pocket. Above his head the handcuffs glittered as he swung them and William dropped like a felled tree as they crunched against his skull.

Willie leaned low and charged, but the sheriff's knee, doubling sharply, caught him on the side of his head and he pitched helplessly across his brother's body.

Along the dock toward this conflict little Will had charged. He ran swiftly, heedless of his uncertain footing and, with a gasp of dismay, tripped, pitched forward and sprawled on the boards.

A rope had caught his foot. It was the painter of a pole, on the leeward side of the dock, but the only place there about which to take a turn of a line was a slender spike on the windward side. As he seized his feet, Willie heard feet drumming toward him. He looked over his shoulder and saw the tug, still fuming against the wind, and the rudder pivoting slowly around the corner of the dock.

Something had gone wrong ashore.

Your Head Off

Don't Cough

All Night Long

Mrs. Thos. Gilbert, Welland, Ont., writes: "Some time ago I took a very severe cold, and it settled on my lungs."

I coughed day and night, and had such severe pains, in my chest I could hardly bear them, but finally I sent and got a bottle of

Dr. Wood's

Norway

Pine

Syrup

After I had taken a couple of doses I found that my cough was relieved and the pains were all gone, and by the time I had finished taking the whole bottle I was completely rid of my trouble.

Now, I will never be without a bottle of 'Dr. Wood's' in my home."

Ulsters, Ulsterettes, Great Coats, Guard models, Chesterfields, etc.—here they are, in the season's smartest styles—durable, likeable fabrics, hand-tailoring—featured in three big groups.

HERE YOU'LL FIND overwhelming variety. That's the way to select an Overcoat—with broad choice before you—a vast diversity of models, patterns, colors, fabrics—a world-wide contribution—cloths from Ireland, Scotland, England and Canada, and the finest products from American looms. There are the new "Guard" models, new tubular effects—calf and ankle length types; new single and double breasted box Coats and storm and motor Ulster models.

derer gave chase to Val Haines and his prey! (CONTINUED TOMORROW.)

DENFIELD

Special to The Advertiser. Denfield, Nov. 5.—Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Rosser and two sons visited friends at Stratford on Sunday.

Miss Myrtle Noyes has accepted a position in Alisa Craig.

Miss Helen Courney gave a Halloween party to her young friends on Saturday evening, when about 25 were present, and the evening was spent in games and fortune telling contests. Lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Little and family visited friends at West McGillivray on Sunday.

Charles Rosser of the Western university, London, spent the week-end at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Rosser.

JURY RECOMMENDS NEW NURSES' HOME

Justice Lennox Hears Report
On Inspection of Hospitals of London.

IN GOOD CONDITION

Judge Is Impressed by Number in This Territory.

The grand jury present at the fall assizes was made to Mr. Justice Lennox yesterday afternoon, and recommended the building of a nurses' home for Victoria hospital.

"One thing that impresses me very much is the number of hospitals in this territory," declared his lordship in reply. "I am glad that you found all the institutions in good condition. Your duties have been very light at this court, and I have great pleasure in telling you that you are free from further duties."

The presentment was as follows: We, the members of the grand jury at the present sittings of the supreme court, beg leave to make the following presentment: We wish to thank your lordship for the directions and explanation you gave to the grand jury at the opening of the assizes.

On Monday, Nov. 2, we visited the Victoria hospital. We were courteous to the officials in charge and shown through the buildings comprising the Victoria Hospital and the Children's Hospital, and found everything working smoothly, but we beg to make the following suggestion, that the ceiling in the children's department be repaired at once, as we considered this very dangerous in the condition it is at present. During our inspection of the main building we found considerable alterations taking place, which will be a great improvement. We also noted the only building available for the officials' cars was a frame building situated very close to a frame addition to one of the wards. We beg to recommend that the insurance policies be examined to see if they cover the use of this building as a garage.

Patients in residence at midnight, Nov. 1 were as follows: Pay, 116; city (free), 88; county, 18; total, 222. We found the nurses have no suitable accommodation. It being necessary at present to obtain buildings some distance from the hospital. We strongly recommend the building of a nurses' home.

On November 3 we visited the county jail. The number of prisoners was nineteen, all males. Dawson informed us that the recommendations regarding fire protection were being attended to at the present time. We wish to commend the officials on the efficient and economical manner in which the jail is managed.

At Westminster Hospital. We visited the Westminster hospital on the afternoon of November 3, and were very courteously received by the staff and shown through the entire building and noted the very latest improvements provided for the treatment and comfort of the disabled veterans of the great war. The number of inmates was 439. We were favorably impressed with this institution.

We also visited on the afternoon of November 3 the Byron sanatorium and were received by the officials in charge and shown through all the various buildings connected with this very commendable institution, which stands as a worthy memorial to one of the outstanding achievements of the late Sir Adam and Lady Beck.

On Wednesday, November 4, we visited the aged people's home and found it very efficiently managed. We noted that the storage facilities were inadequate for the convenience of the inmates.

Notes Improvements. The Ontario Hospital was visited the afternoon of November 4, and we were received by the official and shown through the institution and noted the improvements that have been made and that were now under consideration. The management throughout seemed very efficient and the sanitary arrangements were very much improved, the inmates receiving every consideration for their welfare. The nursing home and the management is a credit to their efficiency. Daily population Nov. 1, 1924, 1,326; daily population Oct. 31, 1925, 1,380; daily population Nov. 3, 1925, 1,384. Admissions for the year ending Oct. 31, 277; discharges for the year ending Oct. 31, 214; deaths for the year ending Oct. 31, 109.

We proposed visiting St. Joseph's Hospital, but owing to the extensive alterations it was not convenient to receive us at this assizes.

We proposed to visit the house of refuge at Stratford on Thursday, but owing to the weather and transportation conditions we deferred this inspection.

All of which is respectfully submitted, A. J. CLATWORTHY, Foreman.

DOCTORS SKEPTICAL ON OPERATION REPORT

Possible But Not Plausible, Is Comment on Windsor Case.

London doctors look with skepticism upon the report of an operation in Windsor in which 1,500 cubic centimeters of blood taken from the abdominal cavity of an accident victim were preserved and returned to his veins nine hours later, thereby saving his life.

"It is possible, but not plausible," one local doctor said in commenting on the case. "If the transfusion were actually made after nine hours, it certainly constitutes an exceptionally rare case and is an achievement for the operating surgeon."

The patient was found to be bleeding internally, with the abdominal cavity full of blood. This was mopped out and the pads squeezed into a saline solution to keep the blood from coagulating.

The transfusion could be made after a few hours, London doctors say, but the difficulty arises in keeping the blood from coagulating when it is exposed, as once it becomes coagulated a transfusion would be impossible.

Missing Sarnia Girl Alive In Detroit, Is Firm Belief Of Sarnia Police Officials

Mother Believes Body Found at Omaha May Be Daughter.

LANNIN IS DOUBTFUL

Sarnia Police Head Says Girl
May Have Reason For Silence.

Special to The Advertiser.
Sarnia, Ont., Nov. 5.—Although her mother believes that a dismembered body found in the river at Omaha, Neb., may be that of Florence Heal, 20, missing since January, Chief Constable W. J. Lannin said today he is confident Florence is alive and well in Detroit.

Miss Heal, whose marriage to Harvey Hewitt last November caused his arrest on a bigamy charge, has been missing from her well-to-do parents' home since January. Since then the distracted mother has spent hundreds of dollars to trace her child.

"I am sure my daughter is dead," Mrs. Charles Heal, the mother, said. "She loved me so, and I loved her. She would know how I suffer and drop me a card at least."

Father Silent.
The father, however, refuses to state his belief in regard to his daughter. The dismembered body of a girl found in the Missouri river near Omaha, Neb., has been identified as the missing Sarnia beauty, so an Omaha despatch says.

Chief Lannin, however, says the identification was made through a letter written to Omaha authorities by Mrs. Heal after she had read in newspapers that the body of a girl had been found in the river.

Mrs. Heal admitted she wrote such a letter last Saturday, giving a complete description of her daughter. Four days later an announcement was made by the sheriff's office and by detectives that they believed the corpse to be that of Miss Heal. A reward of $500 has been offered by Mrs. Heal for information leading to the return of her daughter whether she be alive or dead.

Lannin Skeptical.
"I might place a slight amount of credence in the Omaha identification if it had been made entirely from that end," Chief Lannin said. "It was not, however, the Omaha authorities not mentioning such identification until they had received information from Mrs. Heal, herself, asking a description of the body."

"After Mrs. Heal's letter came the newspaper despatch that the body is believed to be that of Miss Heal. I don't think so. I believe Miss Heal will be found living with her illegal husband in Detroit, and I am sure both he and she are alive and happy."

First Wife Alive.
According to Chief Lannin, Hewitt's first wife is living at 8019 Merrie street, Detroit. Mrs. Heal knew of Hewitt's first marriage, and when she discovered her own daughter had married a man already married, she became enraged and caused Hewitt's arrest. Hewitt lived in the Heal home. Early in January Miss Heal disappeared. The same day Hewitt left. Miss Heal was working in a Port Huron office the day she disappeared. She left behind her knitting, pocket-book, umbrella and other personal property.

Radio Assists.
Since that day Mrs. Heal has written more than 500 newspapers asking their aid. She has even written her native home in England, believing that her daughter might have possibly grown homesick and returned there. Every radio broadcasting station in America has flooded the air with her description. The police departments of 100 cities have been furnished with descriptions of her beauty.

It is the opinion of local authorities that Hewitt, living with his second wife in Detroit, refuses to permit Florence to reveal her whereabouts, fearing trouble from the first Mrs. Hewitt. Mrs. Heal refuses to subscribe to such a theory.

Search Underworld.
However, the mother, whose heart is pounding out its grief through tearful eyes, has spent days at a time searching Detroit resorts with policewomen, believing her daughter might be held in such a place against her will.

Chief Lannin also disagrees with this theory. In his 25 years of police experience, he says he knows of very few legitimate kidnapping cases involving girls. Kidnaping girls without their consent is a quite difficult, he explains. He then added that the greater difficulty would be in "keeping them kidnaped" without an opportunity to communicate with their friends, if they so desired. Chief Lannin is one of the best known Canadian police officials.

"Florence is in Detroit," he reiterated. "She has reasons known only to herself and her husband for her silence and seclusion."

DETROIT NEGRO KILLS
POLICEMAN, ESCAPES

Officer Halts Four Negroes To Search For Weapons—
One Fires.

Special to The Advertiser
by Staff Correspondent.
Detroit, Nov. 5.—Another Detroit policeman gave up his life to duty here late tonight when Patrolman William E. Wagner of the second precinct station, was shot through the heart and instantly killed by one of four negroes. The officer had halted the negroes and was about to search them for concealed weapons, when one of the quartet pulled a pistol and sent a bullet through Wagner's heart.

The shot was fired at so close a range that the victim's coat showed the powder marks. The men escaped. The shooting occurred at Hastings street and Hendrie avenue.

FLORENCE HEAL, missing Sarnia girl, for whom a ten months' search has been conducted in Canada and the United States. Reports that a dismembered body of a woman found in a river at Omaha, Neb., was that of Miss Heal, are discredited by Police Chief Lannin of Sarnia.

GOODISON WINNER BY 169 MAJORITY

Returning Officer Announces
Official Result of W. Lambton Voting.

AWAIT INFORMATION

Special to The Advertiser.
Sarnia, Nov. 5.—Returning Officer R. J. Donohue today officially declared William T. Goodison, Liberal, elected over R. V. Lesueur, Conservative, by 169 votes, or 11 less than the unofficial returns compiled on election night. The vote for Mr. Goodison and Mr. Lesueur by divisions is: Sarnia city, 3,384, 4,173; Courtwright, 91, 92; Moore township, 1,021, 501; Point Edward, 181, 388; Plympton township, 832, 359; Sarnia township, 524, 548; Somers township, 557, 359; Wyoming village, 114, 117; totals, 6,704, 6,535.

Information Awaited.
Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Heal are still awaiting further and more definite information from Omaha, Nebraska, regarding the identification of the dismembered body found in the Missouri river and which, it was believed, might have been that of their daughter, Florence Edith, aged 20, who has been missing since January. Mrs. Heal telegraphed to the Omaha authorities on Wednesday in the hope of expediting matters.

SOUTH BRUCE GIVES
HALL 603 MAJORITY

Liberal Member-Elect Has
1,837 More Votes Than Progressive Candidate.

Special to The Advertiser.
Cargill, Nov. 5.—Dr. A. W. Hall, Liberal member-elect for South Bruce, had a majority of 603 over F. W. Lippert, Conservative, and 1,837 over J. W. Findlay, Progressive, according to the official returns given out today by William McDonald, of Chesley, returning officer for South Bruce riding. Following are the figures: Hall, Liberal, 3,965; Lippert, Conservative, 3,362; Findlay, Progressive, 2,928.

Mr. McGillivray, of Port Elgin, returning officer of North Bruce riding, stated today that the official count for North Bruce would not be completed by November 30th.

Observe Silence
On Armistice Day

Memory of Fallen Honored by Two Minutes' Silence.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Ottawa, Nov. 5.—Once again the British empire will honor the memory of those who died in the great war by a two-minute silence on Armistice Day. The following statement was approved by the cabinet and made public this evening:

"In accordance with arrangements for the observance of Armistice Day, the people of Canada are invited to mark the occasion by a two-minute silence at 11 o'clock a.m. on Wednesday, November 11. This is a special observance suggested by his majesty, and is in addition to the regular celebration of the date recognized by the Canadian parliament for the previous Monday."

1 KILLED, ANOTHER INJURED
WHEN TRAIN STRIKES CAR

Canadian Press Despatch.
Oshawa, Nov. 5.—James Bennett of Bowmansville was instantly killed and William Vinson, East Whitby township farmer, seriously injured this afternoon when the motor car in which they were driving was struck by a westbound C. N. R. train at a crossing about three miles east of this city. Vinson is now lying in Oshawa hospital. The approach to the crossing lies up a steep grade, and the view of the track is obstructed. The motor car was demolished, portions being buried a considerable distance along the railroad.

ASKS FOUR MILLION FOR MISSION WORK

Chairman of United Church Fund Speaks at Metropolitan Church.

RESERVE EXHAUSTED

An objective of $4,000,000 must be realized during the ensuing year to carry on the work of the maintenance and extension fund committee of the United Church of Canada.

Such was the substance of an interesting report given last evening to a group of nearly 100 enthusiastic workers at the Metropolitan church by Mr. W. E. Gundy, chairman of the dominion maintenance and extension fund committee. Mr. Gundy received his early boyhood training in the public schools of this city, and is today a very prominent broker in the city of Toronto. Outside of his own business interests, Mr. Gundy is most deeply interested in the advancement of the home and foreign mission fields, and it was with these interests in mind that he addressed last evening, at the local church last evening.

"The expenses incurred owing to the union of our churches have compelled us to overdraw on our reserve funds, and today those funds are virtually exhausted, but they must be replenished if our great work is to go on," Mr. Gundy continued.

"These cortices on our reserve funds were most justified, however, in the aftermath of the great war, which during the days of church union, but in the past two years we have been blessed with two wonderful crops, and we are today standing on a threshold of a new era of prosperity. Consequently it is our opportunity at the present time to contribute most liberally to this great work, which forms the nucleus and the backbone of the Christian church. I sincerely trust that those of you who are here tonight will be so inspired as to go back to your own congregations and put the objective of your own local church over the top."

Another interesting speaker of the evening was the Rev. Dr. Murdoch McKinnon of Regina, who is largely instrumental in carrying on the mis-

CHATHAM POLICE HEAD WOULD WELCOME QUIZ

Special to The Advertiser.
Chatham, Nov. 5.—Chief of Police Daniel MacLachlin today declared that he would welcome an investigation of police matters since the first of the year by a representative of the attorney-general's department. Commenting upon a suggestion of this nature voiced at a recent council meeting by Alderman E. C. Brisco, he said: "I hope that the city council will arrange for this investigation to meet tomorrow and make a decision on the charges of alleged irregularities on the part of the chief. The chief stated today that after the commission has given its decision that he will issue a statement explaining a few things to the public, and tell of what is behind the trouble since he came to Chatham."

and today those funds are virtually exhausted, but they must be replenished if our great work is to go on," Mr. Gundy continued.

"The two sections of our mission work, foreign and home, are causally fusing themselves together, and today no church on earth has the opportunity for extension work in the mission field as has the United Church of Canada in the western provinces of our dominion," remarked Dr. McKinnon.

"In years gone by the prayers of our forefathers were that the closed doors of India, Turkey and the Orient might be opened to the teachings of Christianity. These prayers have been answered by the young manhood and womanhood of our country who have sacrificed so much to work on the frontiers of our Christian kingdom. But these prayers must be followed by our actions in an endeavor to keep alive the fighting morale which has so dominated the spirit of our Christian workers. Conditions in the churches of the west today are most unwholesome, and we are looking to the churches of the east to help us in modernizing many of the antiquated ideas which are so prevalent beyond the Great Lakes. If this help is forthcoming, the western churches of tomorrow will be entirely self-sustaining and will be able to unite with the churches of the eastern provinces to carry on the teachings of Christianity throughout the world."

Mr. E. E. Reid, chairman of the local maintenance and extension fund committee, occupied the chair and introduced the speakers. In his pleasing manner he also thanked the ladies of the Metropolitan church, who so kindly prepared the banquet. Following the addresses of the evening an informal discussion was enjoyed, during which Dr. McIntosh and Rev. Capt. Beattie spoke of various problems encountered in the local churches.

Dr. D. C. McGregor closed the meeting with a short prayer.

SLANDER CASE DEFENDANTS ARE REPRIMANDED BY JUDGE

$10,000 Action Closes When Perkhill People Withdraw Imputations.

COURT COSTS PAID

Imputations affecting the character of Mrs. John Gilbert, Parkhill, were withdrawn by George Coates and James Metcalfe, neighbors of the plaintiff, by J. M. McEvoy, K.C., during the course of two $10,000 actions for slander and libel, brought by Mrs. Gilbert against the two men, at the courthouse yesterday, and the case was settled on payment of costs by the defendants. N. F. Newton, Parkhill, acted for Mrs. Gilbert.

Mr. Justice Lennox spoke of the actions of the defendants in a most scathing manner. "Gentlemen of the jury," he said, "You have been relieved of the embarrassment of having to decide this unpleasant matter between neighbors. There was an element to my mind more serious than slander. I think it unfortunate that these men and the women they collected should be camped about this woman's home, which they had no business to do."

"For that there was no justification. If they had trespassed on that property and I was assessing, I would make it high. The conditions revealed in this case are deplorable and shows lack of proper feeling. I never heard of anything like this before. I have heard of people prying on other people's property, but for respectable people to do this was worse than slander."

Shields Actress, Prince Is Fined

Associated Press Despatch.

Paris, Nov. 4.—Prince Boris Golitzne, former vice-president of the Russian drama, and cousin of the late Emperor Nicholas, but more recently employed as head chef in the Jugo-Slavian restaurant at the exposition of decorative arts, ran afoul of the George law and has been fined 25 francs and costs. He acted as protecting knight to an actress who was taking up a collection in the restaurant, over whose kitchen the former drama official is now presiding.

plaintiff, was the first witness called by Mr. Newton. He stated that he was employed on the C. N. R. as a painter and only got home week-ends.
The defendant Coates lived next door.
On Sunday, August 3, last, he heard stories about his wife and George
Law, who ran parcel express in Parkhill. He was told that eight people on his street could prove the story that Coates could not tell himself. Witness went on to relate now he had gone to Coates and told him that he (Coates) was the main starter of the yarn. Coates said that he didn't like to tell him, as he didn't want to break up his home. After a little persuasion, Coates told witness he saw Elliott in the Gilbert backyard and didn't know how he got there. Elliott went in the back door of the cottage and Coates went into his own house and told his wife,
"There is a bird caged at Gilbert's."

Witness said Coates told him Mr.
Metcalfe then came over and he, too, watched the "bird cage." Coates watched for half an hour, and then went to work in the garden and didn't see Elliott leave.

In the meantime the news travelled fast, and soon Mrs. Metcalfe, Mrs.
Coates and Mrs. Pearson were on the job with a Mr. Nichols, who was told that a bird was caged.

Crowd Gathers.
"Then in a short time the Methodist minister came along, so Mr.
Coates told me," related Mr. Gilbert.
"The women talked to him and told him, too, that a bird had been caged."

"Mr. Metcalfe went round to the front of the house (he had been watching at the back) and told the women, 'Now that you have made the minister curious, you better tell him the rest of it and what's going on.'"

Mr. Metcalfe, the next witness, told counsel: "He certainly would watch to see what was going on."
This led the court to ask witness if he always watched every time he saw some person enter another person's house.

Witness said he watched the Gilbert house for two and one-half hours and didn't see anyone come out. He had arrived at 12:45 p.m., just after his dinner.

George Coates denied saying, "We have a bird caged," when questioned by Mr. McEvoy, but he did say,
"Elliott is in there with Mrs. Gilbert and we see how long he stays there." He denied talking to the minister and others.

Witness claimed that his statements were true in fact and substance, but denied any innuendo. He recounted his conversation with Mr.
Gilbert.

Coates Questioned.
Questioned by Mr. Newton, Coates said he told Gilbert about it because he thought it was his duty.

Q.—You were talking juicy bits of scandal, you old fellows, weren't you? No answer.

Q.—You knew you had a congregation of the worst gossips in Parkhill that day, didn't you? No answer.

Q.—You allowed this woman's name to be dragged in the mud when you could have saved it. Why did you do it? No answer.

Q.—You started this story and made Mrs. Gilbert the talk of the town. You were hoping Gilbert would sue his wife for divorce and that you would get a trip to Ottawa, weren't you? A.—No.

Q.—Nothing goes on along the street that the same gang doesn't know about. You make a business of knowing other people's affairs, don't you, Mr. Coates? A.—I wouldn't say that.

Q.—Ten people watched the house and one of them saw Elliott come out? A.—He was seen a few feet from it.

Q.—Do you know Gilbert and Elliott are still friends? A.—Yes.
It was at this point in the case that the judge called a recess and talked to both counsel in his chambers, after which Mr. McEvoy announced that his clients withdrew all imputations against the plaintiff.

ILDERTON FRUIT MEN STILL PICKING APPLES

Special to The Advertiser.
Lobo, Nov. 5.—The Ilderton fruit growers are still picking apples, two gangs are busy. No apples have been picked since the cold wave of last week, when the apples on the trees were frozen so hard. These frozen apples will not be packed, but some may be all right for home and local use.

Four cars have been shipped, and there will be sufficient for one or possibly two more. The crop in Lobo was nearly all saved, but some of the London township members had most of their crop frozen. The quality of the fruit was much better than for several years. The whole output was sold for export to England.

ROSHANARA BENGALINE CREPES, $2.95 YARD

One of this season's most fashionable silks shown in Navy, Black, Nigger and Gray. An ideal material for winter. It's much heavier, but just as soft and serviceable as other silk crepes, and has been accepted by women of fashion in France and America because of these qualities, and also for its attractive large crepe cord weave that's different. The saving is about one-third the usual prices asked for similar weaves.

ONE LOT OF SILK DRESS LENGTHS FOR SATURDAY

Every end is this season's silk. There's not an old style length in the assortment. Here is what you will have the choice of—Crepe Back Satins, Pure Silk Flat Crepes, heavy quality Crepe de Chines, in black and colors; Black Satin Duchesse, Black Silk Armure (Bonnet's make), Printed Silk Dress Crepes, etc. Lengths vary from 2½ to 3½ yards. All marked by the piece. Come early for these.

SILK SCARFS (PLAIN AND PRINTED PATTERNS), 1¾-YARD LENGTHS, READY TO PUT ON—
AT $2.60, $2.95 AND $3.50 EACH

Silk Department, Main Floor.

A great variety of newest French Printed Silk Crepes, in designs that give you a scarf that's different. The edges are pinked so that you may wear them out of the store. Or if you prefer, we will hemstitch them at a little additional cost. Also plain white and colors in Crepe de Chine.
