WIRELESS ON A PEACE BASIS.

Montreal, Jan. 10—It is announced that the Matconi stations at Sable Island and Camperdown, Halifax Co., N. S., are now available for a full commercial service to and from ships at sea. This means that the wireless service is back on a Peace basis.

MANITOBA'S HEROIC DEAD.

Winnipeg, Jan. 12—Manitoba has lost in 3,785 dead, presumed dead, and missing on the battlefields in the Great War, according to estimates secured from the military. Of this number 189 are officers.

A REPRESENTATIVE WHO IS DEEPLY LAMENTED.

The Maritime Merchant was told by Clayton & Sons, Halifax, how deeply they regretted the death of Mr. Archibald McKinnon, who for 26 years was their representative in the Island of Cape Breton and in portions of New Brunswick and Quebec. In speaking to the "Merchant", Mr. Edward Clayton referred to him as a man of the finest character, and in every way dependable. "He was", said he, "a good salesman, and a man who inspired confidence. And in addition to these splendid qualities his industry was unflinching. We shall miss him greatly; in fact it seems scarcely likely that his place can ever be adequately filled."

(The departed Mr. McKinnon was a nephew of Dr. D. L. MacKinnon of the Ainslie Hospital, Truro; and the Doctor and his wife went to Anherst to attend the obsequies of this much lamented kinsman.)

JAPS WITHDRAWING FROM SIBERIA.

Vladivostok, Jan. 9—The Japanese are preparing for the withdrawal of their reserve forces consisting of three regiments, stationed in Manchuria and Siberia; and this will affect 30,000 men.

LIVES LOST FROM CASTALIA.

Halifax, N. S., Jan. 15—Fred Stone, Seaman; John Tomakvitch, seaman; Benjamin Silverman, water tender; died from exhaustion and Andrew Cobb were drowned during the rescue of the Crew of the United States Shipping Board's steamer Castalia off Sable Island, Monday morning. The remaining members of the old lake boat's crew are safe aboard the Bergen-sjor, enroute to Bergen, Norway. The list of the dead came in the following message, just received, by Capt. A. E. Taylor, of the United States Shipping Board Here; "All saved except Fred Stone, seaman; John Tomakvitch, seaman; Benjamin Silverman, Water Tender; died from exhaustion and Andrew Cobb, drowned." Stone comes from Andover, N. H.; Tomakvitch from Olipant, Pa; Silverman from Roxbury, Mass. and Cobb from Ware Shore, S. C.

HUNGER RIOTS IN PETROGRAD.

Stockholm, Jan. 15—Hunger riots in Petrograd on Saturday and Sunday. Ten thousand people paraded thru the streets, shouting for bread and were fired upon by Bolshevik troops. Desperate from hunger the crowds are reported to have asked the soldiers to fire upon them. Despatches state that not a single piece of bread is to be found now in Petrograd and that unground oats are being given to the people. Propagandists disguised as refugees, are said to have been sent into Finland by the Bolsheviks. The Socialists there have recently discovered several organizations which were alleged to be plotting anew insurrection.

VON HINDENBURG IN THE FIELD AGAIN.

Copenhagen, Jan. 15—Field Marshal Von Hindenburg will soon take command of the German troops opposing the Soviet forces in eastern Germany, according to advices received here from Bromberg.

BOLSHEVISM CONQUERED IN BERLIN.

Berlin, Jan. 14—Berlin's long week of Bolshevism is finally ended. Here and there scattered desperadoes, mostly youths, still fire occasionally from some house top and during the big attempts are made by small bands of the followers of Dr. Karl Liebknecht to revive the reign of terror. They are insignificant however, compared with what has past.

GERMAN GOLD RESERVE—LOTS OF PAPER MONEY.

Paris, Jan. 14—German gold reserves, with the Allies propose to transfer to Frankfurt from Berlin Reich Bank, totalled $560,000,000 on December 31 according to the last official reports of the Reich Bank. Complications made here from German official reports relative to paper in circulation give a total of $795,000,000. Besides this, there are great quantities of paper, which various municipalities have issued.

NEW RULER IN LUXEMBURG.

Luxembourg, Jan. 14—Princess Charlotte, sister of Grand Duchess Marie, has been chosen as the latter's successor by the Chamber of Deputies which met immediately after the abdication of the Grand Duchess was announced.

GERMAN MINE OFF HALIFAX HELD BY NAVAL AUTHORITIES.

Halifax, N. S., Jan. 15—The Naval Secretary, Ottawa, has notified the city that the department was unable to approve of the transfer to the city of a German mine, recovered off the Harbor, it being required for naval purposes.

GERMAN CABINET CONSIDERING NEW CONSTITUTION.

Copenhagen, Jan. 15—The German Cabinet met yesterday to discuss the new constitution and to consider proposals for the meeting of the national Assembly. Germany's participation in the Peace Congress was also taken up. The meeting will be continued today.

Children Can Serve By Saving

One of the great lessons of this War is the value of Thrift. Let the children learn it, too, by saving through a Bank of Nova Scotia account.

There is no more useful "nest egg" when college or business days come, than a substantial savings account.

AFFLICTION IN FAMILY
FORMER COLCHESTER PEOPLE.

Very distressing news comes from Nashua of the sad affliction that has befallen the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Chaplin in the loss of their two little children, Margaret Hall, aged six, and Janet Muriel, aged four, from that fatal malady influenza, both were stricken at once by this grim reaper and these little ones were laid to rest in two little graves in Woodlawn cemetery. The services were held in First Congregational church on Jan. 2nd, and were very sad and impressive. Miss Grace M. Law and Mrs. Helen Wood Wilkins sang "Sleep, Baby Sleep" "Sweet and Low" and "Jewels". Rev. T. A. Williams, pastor of the M. E. Church in this section, and Rev. Laurence L. Barber spoke words of comfort. There was a wealth of beautiful flowers about the casket.

The parents are both natives of Colchester; Mr. Ezra Chaplin is from Steviacke, and his wife was Miss Hattie McLean, daughter of Mrs. Ross McLean, Truro. It will be remembered that Mrs. Chaplain suffered the loss of her only surviving brother, Charlie, just a few months ago, and now this crushing blow has fallen upon a woman that is not overly robust.

We learn with regret that the eight year old daughter Elizabeth, is also afflicted with this influenza malady, and we trust that He who tempers the wind to the shorn lamb will see fit in His infinite wisdom to raise up this little sufferer to health and strength once more. We sympathize with our old friends in this their sad hour of distress.

CORPORAL STANLEY WRIGHT WINS HONORS ON THE BATTLEFIELD - TRURO FIGHTERS.

Word has been received that Corporal Stanley C Wright of Truro has not only won his "stripes" since he left his native town, but has also won on the field a Military Medal.

He enlisted in Halifax Dec 14, 1915 in the 63rd Battalion and went overseas from St. John in February 1916.

On account of his youth only 16 1-2 years he was given work in the Record Office, London, with his brother, Lieut N R Wright, who had enlisted with the 17th Battalion.

Corporal Wright went to France in July 1917 and was soon in scraps with the Huns and was twice wounded. He is now with the fighting 85th Battalion and when last heard from was moving with his regiment in the direction of the River Rhine.

Without doubt this gallant Truro soldier won this covered medal for some good work that he did in his last scrap with the Huns, in September when he was wounded for the second time.

And yet another brother of the fighting Wright family, Corporal Gordon L Wright, has been in the midst of many engagements with the Huns. He has been wounded and is just out of hospital in England and may be expected home at any time. These Truro lads have won credit to themselves and honor to the "Hub" of the Province.

CAPT. R. J. TURNER RETIRING FROM BUSINESS.

Capt. R. J. Turner, is retiring from business and will take a well earned rest from his busy life for a while.

He has sold his entire stock of merchandise, excepting the hardyare end to Councillor H. A. Johnson, and the store building and property to Mr. C. F. McDonald—the Music Store man.

Capt. Turner retains the control of the store until May 1st, during which period he intends to clear off the hardware stock also.

Capt. Turner, after retiring from a successful career on the deep sea, began business in the Chambers Company, Corner Prince and King Streets, later he conducted his own business on Commercial St., in his own name; while there he took his son F. McG. Turner into partnership; but later this union was dissolved and Capt. Turner established his present business.

The Capt. was Mayor of the Town for several terms and always takes an active interest in the Board of Trade and all affairs for the advancement of Truro.

While giving up the toil of business for a time it is hoped he will more than ever lend his advice and good judgment to public affairs.

SHOP-LIFTERS.

Editor News:
Truro Merchants and their employees are requested to keep a sharp look out for bold female "shop-lifters" this is the time of year for the "Muff Hand Bag," at the annual clearance sales.

ONE WHO WAS STUNG.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Miss Jean Macdonald, who sang so sweetly at the Firemen's Concert has left for Boston to resume her musical studies. Before leaving some of her most intimate Truro friends presented her with $65.00 in gold.

The fire Company had a busy morning—A still alarm for the Mrs. Geo. Bentley house Elm Street; Considerable damage. A still alarm for Harry Archibald's house, Walker Street; little damage and the larger fire at the J. K. Fraser house Walker Street, practically destroyed.

Rev. A. Ritchie Yeomans, Rector at Aylesord, has been seriously ill and his church services have been discontinued for a while. We are glad to learn that Rector Yeomans is considerably improved in health.

The Toronto Mail and Empire thinks there is a simple way of determining on the indemnity that Germany shall pay the Allies and how it shall be paid. First, find out what Germany has, and then accept a mortgage for the remainder.

A Winnipeg curler, while sweeping the ice in front of a store, lost his balance, fell and hit his head on a stone. He was rendered unconscious, was rushed to a hospital where he died of hemorrhage of the brain two hours later.

Mrs. John Publicover of Kentville is a guest with Mr. I. N. Hopper, Muir Street.

The many friends of Mrs. Geo. Brison will be pleased to learn that she has recovered from a critical illness.

A very enjoyable New Year's dance was given in Masonic Hall, Baddeck, C. B., by Mrs. Baldwin and Mrs. Frank Dickie for our returned soldiers. A great many guests were present. The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Abundant and elaborate refreshments were served, music was furnished by local talent, and everyone voted the party a complete success.

We have received "Canada War Thrift Book" from Mrs. C. Ada Chennell, who is General Organizer Woman's Division, Ottawa. Mrs. Chennell is well known here, and will do her work well.

Montreal on Jan. 12 had a fire, that caused a loss of $1,000,000. The plant of Cummings & Co., was burnt and some 140 automobiles and nine ambulances owned by the Federal Government were destroyed.

On the 11th at Southampton a great "send-off" was given to 5000 Canadian troops sailing for Halifax by the Olympic. The mayor made a megaphone speech, praising the troops for their courage and rejoicing in their wonderful victories. He wished them God's speed.

A picture of a very handsome girl was picked up by an Australian soldier on the Somme battlefield on Oct. 3 last. It was sent to the New York World and when it appeared in the columns of that paper, Miss Sue Holmes of Utica, N. Y., recognized it as her photograph that she had sent to an American soldier. Miss Holmes now wants this picture for a souvenir as she has been in picture on the battlefields of France.

THANKS FOR $100.

Editor of the Daily News,
Truro.
Dear Sir:
I beg to acknowledge through your paper the very welcome donation of $100 from the Town of Truro on behalf of the Truro Citizens' Returned Soldiers Welfare and Reception Committee and beg to extend the very hearty thanks of the Committee for the same.

Yours Truly,
G. W. MONTGOMERY,
President.

THE TOWN FINANCES.

The Auditors of the Town of Truro Books and Accounts for the business year 1918, are working day and evening to get out the Annual Financial statement.

Councillor A. R. Coffin, Chairman of Finance for the Town, states that the finances will show up much better than anticipated when the extraordinary emergencies came upon the Town in the Fall; and will prove that the first of the year estimates would have taken care of these, but for apparently unavoidable over expenditures in several departments.

The total receipts from all sources have been $146,932.40 and expenditures $147,189.67, showing an over-expenditure for the year's operations of $257.27.

The Street Lighting Department shows an over expenditure of $550.00 due to some extent to a delay in getting the lights reduced in number, because of an undefined point of authority.

The Fire Department shows an over expenditure of $500.00; but this is an advance payment for coal wisely laid in in advance for 1919.

The Streets show $700.00 behind; but this is accounted for by McClure's Road Bridge being accidentally carried away.

The Police and Poor departments have gone about $500.00 each over their allotments and the biggest emergent item is $1,500.00 net deficit on the Emergent Influenza Hospital.

The total Emergent and overexpenditures above estimates for the year are over $3500.00.

At the end of 1917 there was a deficit of a little over $2000.00; and had it not been for the Influenza Epidemic and considering the Fire department Coal, in spite of other over expenditures of over $2000.00; the old deficit would also have been wiped out.

As it is, the years work, under exceptional conditions have been taken care of; but the emergencies have left the previous years' deficit still outstanding.

The shortage in sinking Funds has been made up and $44,200. ready to pay off maturing Bonds in 1919. This will reduce current expenditures over $4000.00 annually.

San Francisco, Jan. 6—Three hundred military aviators and mechanics sailed for Vladivostok today on the transport Sherman. They carried with them airplanes, armored cars, rapid fires and other equipment. A second detachment of two hundred officers and men will leave here early in February.

TOO BIG TO BE SECTARIAN.

An innocent little controversy has arisen in certain small circles about the ecclesiastical connection of Field Marshal Foch. Some Roman Catholic papers claim him as a member of their church and rather warmly resent any hint to the contrary. Col. Beattie, a Chaplain in the Canadian Overseas Forces, on his return from the front, recently stated in an address before the Canadian Club, Vancouver, that Marshal Foch is an elder in the Presbyterian Church of France. We cannot vouch for the accuracy of this statement, but we do not think Col. Beattie would make such a statement before a body composed of intelligent men of all denominations without knowing whereof he was speaking. We do not think the church connection of Marshal Foch is a matter to grow warm over. One thing is certain, Protestant or Roman Catholic, the great French General is a deeply religious man and a devout and humble Christian, and that is more than saying that he is a Presbyterian or a Roman Catholic or a member of any other church. Protestants and Catholics alike may well claim Marshal Foch as a noble example of our common Christian Faith. He is too big a man for sectarian limitations. He belongs to the great brotherhood of believers who are found in all the churches.—Presbyterian Witness.

NEWS FROM LONDONDERRY STATION.

Jan. 11—The community of Londonderry was shocked on Monday 30 ult to learn that an aged man John McInnes had been found dead in his house on Furnace Street. This man was some 80 years of age, was unmarried and lived alone. Not seeing him about for about a week some of the residents thought he had gone away for a visit. It was decided to make a search and he was found leaning over his woodbox dead.

The interment was made in the R. C. Cemetery.

Red Cross will meet at Londonderry on Friday, 17th the flu being about over in that town.

Mispah Lodge, L. T. B., of this place met on the 11th and the following officers were elected.

W. M.—Miss Bertha Jobb.
D. Master—John Cooper.
D. of C.—Mrs. W. W. Giddens.
Fin. Secy.—Mrs. May E. Slack.
Treasurer—Mrs. Albert Toole.
R. Secretary—Miss Mangolia Toole.
Conductor—Mrs. J. C. Giddens.
Chaplain—Miss Bessie E. McLean.
Inside Tyler—John MacKay.

Letter of thanks for parcels to boys overseas were sent by Pte. James Slack, J. Rutledge and Joseph Smith.

Miss Arabella Wilkie Halifax, who has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. George, returned home the 11th.

On the evening of the 8th inst. the people of this place were invited to the school house by the teacher, Miss Fleming, where was arranged a beautiful Tree bearing besides other decorations, bags and boxes of candy, apples, fudge, etc. presents for each pupil from their teacher. Miss Fleming also generously treated the adults to fudge and apples. The schoolroom was very prettily decorated for the occasion. Santa Claus was there to distribute presents. He said he had been threatened with "Flu"; so was a little late.

Miss Fleming had promised her pupils that they should have a tree and the Xmas season was over; she carried it out. She went to no little trouble and expense in so doing and we think her persevering interest should be appreciated by the rate-payers and parents.

Miss Ethel Lee, Londonderry spent the 7th in Truro.

Clifford Toole visited Belmont of the 10th.

Rex Fleming visited Truro the 7th.

Messrs. Thomas and Cornelius Lee visited here on the 12th.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred McLean and family, Folly Mtn. went to Truro on the 11th.

BORN.

STREATCH—Upper Meagher's Grant Hx., Co., Dec. 23, 1918, to Mr. and Mrs. Percy Streach, a son.

THE LATE MRS. ALFRED PUTNAM.

Halifax, January 14—A telegram received in this city this morning brought the sad news of the sudden death, in Montreal, where she was visiting her daughter, Mrs. Alfred Bowser, of Margaret, wife of the late Alfred Putnam, formerly member of the Federal House from Hants. The tidings will be received with true sorrow in the wide circle of her friends—death is attributed to heart disease Mrs. Putnam having made no complaint of indisposition before retiring and having passed away in her sleep. She had as intimated, gone to Montreal to visit her daughter, with whom she had spent the Christmas holiday. The shock of her passing is, as will be readily understood, a sorrowful one for the family circle.

Mrs. Putnam is survived by eight children, Mr. Putnam, as will be recalled, having died some fourteen years ago. The children are Dr. W. Graham Putnam, of Yarmouth; James F. Putnam, of Vancouver, formerly of this city; Clarence A., of Selmah, Hants; A. A. Putnam of Toronto; Mrs. H. H. McDougall, of Vancouver; Mrs. D. A. Frame, of Westville; Mrs. A. S. Barnstead, wife of the deputy provincial secretary of Nova Scotia; and Mrs. Alfred Bowser of Montreal.

During her residence in Halifax, where she has a host of friends, Mrs. Putnam was a member of the congregation of Fort Massey church, and the news of her death will be received with a special sense loss.

Mrs. Putnam is also survived by two brothers, Capt. A. W. Flemming, Truro and James Flemming of Glenhoms and one sister Mrs. Fred Thompson, Fort William, Ont.

The funeral will take place in Maitland from St. David's Church, on Thursday, at 2 P. M.

WEDDING BELLS.

McIVOR—McLEAN.
Gulf Shore lost one of their most charming and popular young ladies when Miss Pauline McLean became the bride of Stewart McIvor of North Wallace on Wednesday, Dec. 18th. The nuptials came off at St. Matthews Manse, Wallace, Rev. J. W. Britton officiated. Miss Jessie McIvor of Gulf Shore was bridesmaid, while Laurie McLeod supported the groom. The bride was tastefully attired in a navy travelling suit with white hat.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the groom's mother, Mrs. James McIvor of North Wallace. Miss McLean was enrolled on the Teaching Staff of Cumberland Co. and has been a very popular and successful teacher in the School Sections in which she has taught. Many valuable and useful presents, of cheques, silver, linen, chain, furniture, etc., were received testifying to their esteem. This happy couple will reside in North Wallace where they are followed by the good wishes of their many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Ryan left yesterday for Boston, to attend the funeral which took place today.

The deceased was one of the clever illustrators on the Boston Post, and a man with a brilliant future before him in this line of work.

Much sympathy is extended to the bereaved wife, aged mother and other relatives—Windsor Tribune, Jan. 10.

DEATH OF DR. JOHN GEORGE REID.

Death on Saturday evening Dec. 14, about eight o'clock claimed one of Exeters bright and popular professional men in the person of Dr. John George Reid, V. S. at the age of 29 years and 3 months. Dr. Reid was taken ill the latter part of the previous week, and his illness soon developed into influenza and pneumonia and the struggle was short and severe for those few days. The doctor was really ill before he took to his bed and made a trip or two into the country to attend sick animals at the urgent request of patrons, and his cold became deep seated.

Several days he was in a very critical state and Dr. McCallum of London was called in, in consultation but he passed away Saturday evening about 8 o'clock. He was born in Nova Scotia and was a graduate of the Nova Scotia College of Agriculture. Later he attended Toronto University, attending the Veterinary College and as a student spent the summer of 1914 assisting Dr. Sweet. The following year he returned and entered into partnership and in June 1915 was united in marriage with Miss Flossa Sweet.

The deceased was a member of the I. O. O. F. of town and an ardent worker in the church, taking an active interest in the Sunday School. Besides his bereaved widow he is survived by his parents Mr. and Mrs. Jas. S. Reid of Nova Scotia. The private funeral was held on Monday afternoon interment in Exeter cemetery.

The floral offerings comprised a number of beautiful wreaths and sprays—Exeter Ont. Papers.

Dr. Reid commenced the practice of Veterinary in partnership with D. Sweet only a few years ago, but had become very popular in his profession, while as a citizen he was respected and admired by all who knew him.

He was an exemplary young man in every way and will be much missed. Before going to Exeter the doctor had lived with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Uas. S. Reid, Brulo., Nova Scotia, who deeply mourn his loss.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. S. Reid and family desire to express their grateful appreciation to the many friends for their sympathy shown during their recent bereavement.

THE DEATH OF THE WELL KNOWN HARRY G. KEMP.

After an illness of some months, borne patiently and uncomplainingly, Harry Gilbert, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kemp, passed peacefully away at five o'clock this morning. Age 43 years.

He came home from Maine, U. S. A., where he had been residing for a number of years, the first of August 1918, thinking the change might benefit him and he did seem to be getting better but God willed it otherwise and took him home.

Besides father and mother, he leaves to mourn a wife and little son Roland, two brothers, Wallace and Charlie in France, and two sisters Mrs. Emily Stewart Truro and Mrs. Mazie Ryan, Brookfield.

Funeral notice later.

LATE MRS. LUCY SMITH.

Funeral of the late Mrs. Lucy Walker Street, will take place today afternoon from the ...
... Parlor of Mr. J. C. B. ...
... Young Street, at 2 o'clock ...
... J. W. Godfrey, officiating.

The deceased was Miss Welsh of New Annan, and married John Smith of Prince Edward Island, of the staff of the Department of Marine and Fisheries. They resided in Truro for many years and brought up a large family, most of whom are scattered in different parts of the country.

Sgt. J. Wesley Smith, is home from overseas and arrived in Truro today to attend the funeral.

Mr. John Smith, husband of the deceased pre-deceased her about forty years.

During late years she resided with her son, Mr. R. Smith, who was absent at the time of her death.

SAD NEWS TO A TRURO FAMILY.

We are sorry to learn that Rev. G. W. F. Glendenning, on this (Friday) morning, received a telegram bringing the sad intelligence that his son-in-law, Amos J. Lawrence, barrister, of Munson, Alberta, died unexpectedly, on Thursday of complications arising from influenza.

Mrs. Lawrence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glendenning, is also sick but doing well. The two children had light attacks but are recovering.

Mr. Lawrence was a native of Southampton, Cumberland Co., N. S. He was educated at Dalhousie University both in Arts and Law and has been practising in Munson since 1912, where he established a large business. Mr. Lawrence has also been an active worker in the Church and was Recording Steward of the Methodist Church at Munson. His remains will be brought to Southampton for burial, accompanied by his brother, Richard, who resides at Medicine Hat.

Much sympathy will be felt for the afflicted families by a large circle of friends on many circuits on which Mr. and Mrs. Glendenning have labored, and the numerous friends of Mr. Lawrence and his family.

A HUSTLING FOREST GLEN FARMER.

On January 8, Burpee M. Stevens, Forest Glen, Col. Co., plowed almost two acres of ground. Previous to this on December 26, 27 and 28 Mr. Stevens plowed some five acres or more. He has had two farms to work during the summer; his only grown up son Arthur being overseas. Help has been hard to get and Mr. Stevens, who is a hustler at any time, did the greater part of the work alone. The wet weather has been a great drawback to farm work, but this farmer has made good by doing a part of his ploughing in our peerless Nova Scotia, in the New Year of 1919.

RED CROSS ANNUAL MEETING.

The Annual Meeting of the Red Cross was held last evening and was well attended.

These willing workers are as ready to continue their burdens for another year at least, as they were to go to work the day they went to War.

We must continue our support and not slack in our efforts because "cease fire" has sounded till every mother's son of our soldier boys is landed at his home in Canada.

We will have later a further account of the meeting with list of officers elected and a synopsis of the many satisfactory reports presented.

WATCHING FOR THE HOME PAPER.

From Disbury, Alberta, a lady subscriber, in renewing with a most liberal check, her subscription to the Truro News, writes; "We have truly enjoyed the Truro News ever since we came West and when the team returns from the town the first question asked is 'did the News come?'"

RESIGN ON LOCAL ISSUES.

Hon. W. R. Motherwell, in submitting his resignation as minister of agricultural in the Saskatchewan government, says he did not resign as a protest against the Union Government but because he could not agree with proposed educational legislation that the Saskatchewan government was to submit to the local assembly.

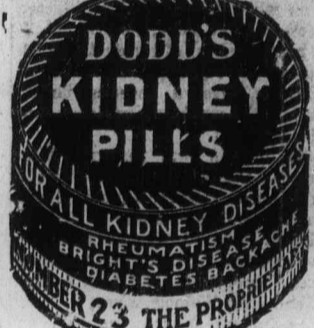

Mr. Motherwell says: "My first letter to Premier Martin was written hurriedly and perhaps may create the impression that I am leaving the government on a federal issue. An attempt will no doubt be made to make it appear that such is the case, but the last straw—and I want to emphasize this—in influencing me, was the legislation which the government plans to submit to the assembly next week.

"I found that nothing I could do would swerve the government from its attitude, then I felt I should resign to elucidate my position. When legislation comes before the house, I intend to use my liberty, for which I have paid a tremendous price, and not abuse it."

GIVE NATURE A CHANCE Gin Pills Instead of Medicine

ALL scientists agree that pure blood is the basis of good health. It will build up, restore health, fortify against disease. The work of purifying the blood falls to the kidneys. If the kidneys fail to perform their function, impurities and poisons are carried in the blood stream to all the organs and joints, resulting first in backache, pains across the groins, down the sides, dizziness and urinary derangements. If neglected Rheumatism, Sciatica, Gravel and Inflammation follow.

The chemist who worked out the formula for Gin Pills to restore normal kidney action thus placed in the reach of every man and woman, a great preventive remedy that gives Nature her chance to cure the evils due to poison in the blood. That is a simple scientific fact. AMHERST DEANERY IN SESSION IN TRURO.

The Amherst Deanery of the Anglican Diocese of Nova Scotia in St. John's Church, Truro on Tuesday evening the Rev. George Harrison, Rector of St. Bees, Westville, a former curate of St. John's Parish, preached ad celerrim, but his timely, practical discourse fitted in for both clergy and people.

There should be Church union all over the country and if this union and good fellowship commences in the Churches, then we may look for the great "Brotherhood of man" the world over.

The visiting clergy attended at Holy Communion at eight o'clock this morning; and after the mid-day dinner at the King George Hotel, have been continuing the Deanery business meetings this afternoon.

DEATH OF MRS. GEORGE FULTON, NEWTON MILLS, COLCHESTER CO., N. S.

The many friends of Mrs. George Fulton, Newton Mills, Col. Co., N.S. will regret to hear of her death, which occurred on January 12th, 1919 at her home, after a lingering illness, borne with much cheerfulness and patience.

Mrs. Fulton was formerly Miss Margaret Dunlap, a daughter of the late Samuel Tupper Dunlap, South Branch, Middle Stewiacke.

She is survived by her husband, also two sisters, Mrs. Edward A. Logan Lower Truro, N. S., and Mrs. Arthur McLean, East Walpole, Mass.

The funeral service was held on Tuesday, January 14th, from her home, and was conducted by Rev. David Cobourne, Upper Musquodoboit.

THE LATE A. M. SHAW.

In the rush of work we omitted to refer to the death of Mr. A. M. Shaw, of Sydney, formerly of Stewiacke, the our ever-thoughtful correspondent in Stewiacke had a kindly reference to the passing of this most estimable man.

Some 20 years ago Mr. Shaw settled in Stewiacke and at once took an active interest, as a progressive citizen of the place in which he had made his home. He was especially interested in Exhibitions and in the development of agricultural pursuits, owning one of the well known farms near the town of Stewiacke.

A few years ago he moved to Sydney and with a son was engaged in a dairy business in that city. Latterly he has been engaged in general insurance business.

Mr. Shaw is survived by his wife and two sons, Archibald in Sydney and Fenwick in the West and by two daughters, Mrs. A. D. Fulton in Stewiacke and Mrs. Rowland Sharples in Sydney.

For many years bright and trenchant notes appeared in the columns of the Truro News both from Stewiacke and Sydney from the facile pen of this now deeply lamented man.

FURTHER NOTE ON THE DEATH OF MRS. ALFRED PUTNAM.

Widow of Alfred Putnam, ex M. P., dies suddenly at Montreal.

The relatives and friends of Mrs. Margaret Putnam, widow of Alfred Putnam, ex M. P., were greatly shocked to learn of her passing away early this morning at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Alfred Bowser, 578 Claremont Avenue, Westmount, Montreal.

Mrs. Putnam never fully recovered from an attack of tonsillitis about two years ago, and latterly suffered from heart failure. She succumbed to an attack of this nature in the night, and passed peacefully away, her daughter finding her this morning as though asleep. She had spent most of last evening with the family, and there was no premonition of so sudden a dissolution.

Mrs. Putnam, who was a daughter of the late James Flemming, Glenholme, Colchester Co., survived her husband by over 14 years and was in her 77th year.—Acadian Recorder.

FRASER'S LIMITED OAK HALL

INDIA LOYAL BUT RESENTS TREATMENT ACCORDED HER SONS.

Miss Blackadar, returned Missionary Says Indian Princes Poured Out Wealth and Provinces Gave Freely of Their Men—Some Difficulties Missionaries Have to Meet.

That the war has completely changed the aspect of affairs between India and the world, and especially between India and the rest of the British Empire, was the fact emphasized last evening in German Street Baptist Church by Miss Blackadar, missionary on furlough.

The war has been so wrought upon by long years of British justice and by the integrity and high character of British officials that they told their people to stand by the British flag. And so, on the western front, in Mesopotamia and other fields, the men of India fought side by side with other men of the British Empire, and today in India mothers mourn as they do here over sons who will not return.

India was greatly impressed and rejoiced by the British capture of Jerusalem, after all the centuries of strife for its possession. Miss Blackadar said that India had earned the right to present her claims for autonomy; but, though that was the ideal, yet so large a population proportion of the people are illiterate and so few of them followers of Christ that the speaker felt educational and missionary effort should be made before autonomy is given.

The war has brought India and the rest of the empire closer together, and our sympathies must go out to that people. Miss Blackadar said that the greatest obstacle to the work of Canadian missionaries in India is the political attitude of Canada toward India. She said Canadian profiteers had exploited Hindoo labor and brought here natives of India who had perhaps never heard of Canada until what seemed to be offers of riches were made to them. But all India has heard how they were treated, and this disgrace must be wiped out.

She said she had been asked how the war affected the work of the missionaries. At first it was difficult to deal with the blunt questions why nations professing the religion of Jesus could go to war, but they patiently explained that it was because Germany was not animated by the spirit of Christ that she caused the war; and, as a matter of fact, more converts to Christianity were secured in India everywhere during the four years of the war than in any previous four years. Canada has a duty in this regard, and the speaker with force and eloquence urged its performance.

Referring to Baptist missions, she said they had 11,000 converts and seventy-two churches, besides more than 200 schools for girls. Sometimes after the estimates of money needed have been cut to the limit the Canadian church had failed to provide the amount asked for, and the missionaries denied themselves in order that the work might not suffer. The challenge of India to the empire, to Canada was expressed with illuminating power by the gifted speaker.—St. John Telegraph, Jan. 6

(Miss Blackadar for the present, while on this rest from foreign missionary work, is making her home with her sister, Mrs. W. W. Bowers, Great Village. Both father and mother of this Christian worker past away, while she was in India.—Ed. News.)

PROSPERITY IN CANADA.

We pin our faith to Banks, as the unflinching barometer of business prospects, and our Country's prosperity.

Within a little over two weeks 26 Bank branches have been opened in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

The New Branches are distributed among the Banks as follows:—Royal.....12 Merchants.....10 Imperial.....3 Dominion.....1 This demonstrates in a concrete way that the expected era of peacetime prosperity is at hand.

The ru mor is current in the West, that many more branch Banks will be established before the first of the new year.

GOOD ADVICE FROM CANADA'S LABOR MINISTER.

Montreal, Jan. 13— If the Canadian people will only keep their heads during the present year and during the period of returning into civil life of the soldiers there will be no hardships for the latter nor for the men and women, who have lost their employment in munition works owing to the cessation of the war.

This was the assurance given by Senator Gideon Robertson, Minister of Labor, in an address to the United Win-the-War-club here on Saturday night.

RESCUE OF 44 MEN.

Halifax, Jan. 13—The rescue of the forty four men on board the Castalia, which has been in distress off the Coast of Nova Scotia since early Saturday morning, was begun shortly after nine o'clock today. The steamers, effecting the rescue, are the Bergensfjord and the War Fijian, which have been standing by since yesterday morning. The first boat to leave the Castalia capsized and at least two men were drowned. The War Fijian is to the lee of the Castalia and the Bergensfjord to the windward.

A FINE ADDRESS.

Red Shield Fund Got a Good Send Off.

The well known Gypsum property at St. Anne's, N. B., has been purchased by Frank O. Garson of St. John, N. B. He intends to form a large company and to operate the works.

There was a good audience in Academy Hall last night to greet Capt. Steele of the Salvation Army the hero of many a sharp scrap with the Huns. Mr. C. E. Vail presided and in very happy words introduced Captain Steele, after devotional exercises.

From "Knoll Crest", Bass River, comes "enjoy the regular visits of the Truro News."

Captain Steele, who was all thru the thickest of the fighting with the Canadians for four years, and he got a grand reception.

The Garnet Chili potato story, that we got off lately in the News, was like all our yarns away with the mark as where we spoke of shipping some 5000 "bushels" of these spuds to Bermuda we should have said "barrels."

The Band had played outside the Hall and its inspiring strains of welcome to Capt. Steele drew a fine attendance to this lecture.

The Empress of Britain with 3000 soldiers sailed from Liverpool on Jan. 12 for Halifax.

Capt. Steele had a thrilling life and death story of real religion, of realities and not abstractions to tell, and he told it simply and straight—a heart to heart talk of human pathos and humor and endurance and sacrifice that was entralling.

Hugh R. Silver, Halifax, has been elected in the Board of Directors of the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

Capt. Steele's good work at the War front in the Salvation Army was officially mentioned by the British Commander. He had been resourceful, courageous, and had done nobly under heavy shell fire.

Mrs. Wm. Clarke of Ottawa is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Archibald, Forrester St. Mrs. Clarke came to Truro to attend the funeral of her father-in-law, Mr. Herdman Clarke, Victoria Street.

Capt. Steele spoke naturally and simply, yet straight from the field where men played with life and death every day. He told of the life the boys lived there, for King and Country. They lived well. They died well with a magnificent lofty spirit of the British race. They suffered and sacrificed with greatness of soul. He paid a noble tribute to the First British Army—the "Old Contemptibles" who rushed to France where they had to shift for themselves, and of their undying effort that will thrill every man of British blood till time shall be no more.

Mrs. W. Rankine, 22 Coburg Road Halifax, has been the guest for a few days, of her Aunt Mrs. H. L. Doane Park Street.

A solid wall—a valiant stand—noble, steady with their backs to the wall they stood and died. If it was not their efforts we would not be here tonight. And then he told graphically and yet simply with that human eloquence so moving, because it is real, not art, of the lives of the Tommies and of what the Salvation Army men and huts meant to the soldiers.

Ex-Mayor W. K. Murray was yesterday presented with a very largely signed requisition from the ratepayers of Ward 111 to accept a nomination for Councillor for that Ward for the ensuing term. On account of personal considerations Mr. Murray could not accept the nomination.

He told of life at the base, of going up the line, of the roads, of the ambulance work, the food, of the wounded and dying, of the coffee stalls—the whole a natural story of blood and tears and humor and laughter, and of going out into the great beyond.

Przemysl in Galicia is being bombarded by the Ukrainians and the story is that 2000 persons have been killed.

Capt. Steele brought to Truro a message straight from the battlefields, and it was realistic in every way. The Captain brought with him a draft of the real thing from the muddest of battlefields, not as an instructor, but with the candor of a candid friend—not the stereotyped type, but breezy of the Pashendale, and the Somme—a very practical address.

Grey wool blankets, socks, mittens, clothing and footwear and all kinds lumbermen's supplies at Nelson's Stewiacke at special prices.

Now comes the part the public is to play in this great Red Shield Drive;—that is to contribute generously to this fund. The Salvation Army forces were the first to serve and the last to appeal for help and their work now is to carry on till the boys are home.

BOTH GOLD AND IRON.

Mr. Dunbrack, of Waverly, but formerly of Mt. Uniacke, and a mining man of much experience, and Mr. John Chambers, of Brooklyn, will endeavor to have their Gold and Iron claims at Rawdon, Hants Co., worked with the least possible delay, now that the war is over.

Their work was important before but it is far more important now when the war is over o keep the morale of the boys there till they get home.

If Hants capital is not at hand to develop these areas, outside money is redy for the venture.

Now for a generous response to this Red Shield Drive.

DIED.

FULTON—Newton Mills, Col. Co. N. S., Jan. 12, 1919, Margaret Dunlop, wife of George Fulton.

Owing to the prevailing epidemic Mrs. Henry T. Irwin will not receive on the coming Thursday, January 16, beside seventeen other pilots from Dear Mr. Reid:— Some time ago I received a letter from Father informing me that you had not at that date received my letter to you containing the particulars of Frank's death, so in case it has gone astray I am writing you again, although I sincerely hope you have learnt the particulars of his going long ere this reaches you.

I saw in the "Montreal Standard" that he met his death on Oct. 2nd. Probably you know that to be incorrect, as he paid the price about 10.25 A. M. Monday, September 30th.

I was with him for a few hours, the Friday previous and he was in the best of health. He was being posted to the "Finishing Flight" to take the place of Lieut. Rylands, my old instructor, who had been killed a few weeks previous. Monday morning he took a Sopwith "Camel" (a war machine) up from the Aircraft Repair Section of the Station, to test it before allowing a pupil to fly it.

He went up to a thousand feet or so and threw the machine about, apparently finding it quite satisfactory. Then he came down to about seven hundred feet and was practising some dives on the silhouettes which are placed on the banks of the pond near the aerodrome. To get into a good steep dive he was performing a "Half-roll" each time before going into the dive. This evolution of the machine is caused by pulling the machine from the flying level position vertically upwards, whereupon she stalls and falls over backwards to whichever side you manoeuvre your controls, and then continues in a very steep dive until you wish to bring her out. On his last half-roll he got the machine on its back and she never came out of it into a proper dive, as she fell in a most sickening attitude directly on her back into the pond. Spectators of the accident from the "drome said Frank put up a wonderful fight to get her off her back but a "Camel" is tricky in that respect, as I know to my own cost, and unless you have a great deal of height it is practically impossible to gain control quickly enough. He was killed instantly by the fall and his body was found floating about fifteen feet from the wreckage in the shallow water. His body was not crushed at all, except for a cut on the side of his head where his skull had been broken, he was not disfigured. The ambulance was on the scene almost immediately but the M.O. said he never knew what hit him as he could not have lived an instant after receiving the blow on the head.

Regarding the accident, it is my own opinion that in doing the "Half roll" he probably was thrown from his seat forward onto the controls and after getting back again where he could control his machine he did not have sufficient height to enable him to get her off her back. Sometimes if a "Camel" hangs on her back in a "half roll" it is very difficult for a chap who is not tall to maintain his feet on the rudder and also lock his shoulders under the cock-pit, so if you are thrown from your seat only the belt keeps you from falling out until you can get back into your seat again.

Leslie Sella, one of our chums, wired me immediately after the accident, but the telegram did not reach me until a quarter to four that afternoon. I left immediately for Beaulieu with Geo. Townsend, a pupil from New Glasgow, by air, arriving there twenty minutes later. I saw the crash lying in the pond when some distance away and flew very low over it to ascertain, if possible, how the accident had occurred. The machine was nothing but a mass of twisted wreckage; but even while gazing upon it I could not realize that Frank had given his life in that machine a few hours previous. On landing I received a careful account of the accident from some of the pupils who had witnessed it, and then went to see the Medical Officer to learn if he had suffered at all before going out. As you know he assured me that Frank had felt no pain at all. After seeing that his personal belongings were being packed for shipment home I left for my own aerodrome again and did not go back until the day of his burial. Friday, at noon hour, I went down again in a "Camel" and glided in just as the funeral cortege left the aerodrome for the burial service at East Boldre Church. I joined the party and followed his remains to the church. He was buried beside seventeen other pilots from Beaulieu who had paid for our safety with their lives. As the "Lost Post" was sounded it seemed that the remaining link binding me to the loved ones at home had snapped and I was left alone.

Perhaps you may know how we were attached to each other. Always good friends it only needed our absence from home to develop a feeling that was something more than friendship. God knows that I have never had a chum like him, nor do I ever expect to again. He was as "white" a boy as ever breathed the air of Canada or England and I cared more for him than for any boy I ever knew. When he was posted to Turnberry for overseas. I asked to be sent with him but the "powers that be" would not have it so, as I had not completed my term of instruction, so when on his return to Beaulieu the C.O. asked him to stay as an instructor he did so, in order that we might be together again, trusting to luck that we would be able to go out to France together at a later date.

During his instruction as a pupil we had many wild rides together. I took him for his first trip in a machine, in England, and incidentally he was the first pupil I ever took into the air. While I was at Gosport he was posted to Lieut. Anderson, as a pupil, so I did not have the fun of putting him through his course for his wings over there, but later I did teach him how to stunt, and he could most assuredly stunt to perfection. He was a pilot of which any instructor might well be proud. For a week I was testing machines at Hamble, on Southampton Water, and Frank flew over there with me every day from Beaulieu and came up with me on all the machines I tested which is something every person, even pilots, would not do, because, well, you never know what may occur in testing a new machine.

After I left Beaulieu we flew back and forth between Lopcombe Corner and Beaulieu at every opportunity. The distance is about thirty-five miles by air and we used to average it in just under twenty minutes flying.

A few weeks ago I had a letter from Miss Joan Poole, a friend of ours at Beaulieu, and a relative of Lieut. Rylands, stating that she was caring for Frank's grave and that it was very neat. If I am not sent overseas with the Army of Occupation from here I shall be posted to Beaulieu again and then shall be able, not me, to see that his grave is not neglected.

Now, I must close. I am very sorry that my previous letter did not reach you, but I shall insure, if possible, that this one does not go astray. May God grant that in your sorrow you may receive comfort from the knowledge that Frank gave his life for his country and loved ones at home, in the greatest struggle for Humanity the world has ever witnessed, and that he did not give it in vain. He played the game, as you would have had him do, right to the last.

He was popular at Beaulieu and his death was deeply lamented by the staff and pupils.

Should I be spared to return home I trust that I shall be able to relate to you personally all that occurred at his death and to explain any details which I may have omitted in this letter.

If you have not received his personal belongings please let me know and I shall enquire for the cause of delay in sending them home.

Yours very sincerely,
LOGAN BARNHILL.

WEDDING BELLS.

The marriage took place at Amherst, Dec. 31, of Miss Ellen Rolston (daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Rolston, Yarmouth) and Philip Drummond Fraser of New Glasgow. The bride was unattended and wore a travelling suit of blue serge. The ceremony too, in the church of England rectory, Rev. H. E. Dible, M. A., officiating. The groom is well known in Yarmouth, having visited this town frequently in his capacity of inspector of munitions. The happy couple have the best wishes of their many friends.

NOTES OF THE FARMER'S MEETING.

Mr. Hector Cutten of Truro addressed a representative audience of Yarmouth farmers on Friday evening in Dayton Hall. Subjects of the greatest practical value at the present time came up for consideration and discussion. Commercial fertilizers, conservation of farmyard manures and their application, dairy farming and the labor conditions caused by the war, were brought under review. Much valuable information was developed from the experience of our most scientific farmers. During the week Mr. Cutten, has visited Brenton, Kempville, Pleasant Valley and Gavelton where the interested farming public joined in the discussion of the topics mentioned above. The Agricultural Department and the local Farmers' Association deserve the support of the people in so important a matter as farm production and the energy put forth in this direction should be rewarded with a very large increase in the membership of the Association—Yarmouth Times, Dec. 24.

WEDDING BELLS.

Tanner-Watson.

The marriage took place at the manse in Shubenacadie, Nov. 26 of Lester A. Tanner, of Shubenacadie, and Rubbie A. Watson of the same place, Rev. Hugh Upham, officiating. After the ceremony the bride and groom, bride'smaid and groomsmen drove to the home of the bride, where a dainty tea was served. The bride looked charming in a navy blue suit, blue picture hat with white Ostrich plume. The bride's gifts consisted of glass, china, and silverware, cash and Linen. The evening was much enjoyed in music and singing after which all returned home wishing the newly married couple many happy years of married life.

GOVERNMENT TROOPS AND SPARTACANS STILL FIGHTING IN BERLIN—BANKS AND SHOPS PLUNDERED.

London, Jan. 12—The armistice between the contending factions at Berlin has been broken and fighting has been resumed, reports from Berlin indicate that the Spartacan forces have lost 1,300 killed since the outbreak of the revolution and that there are many more wounded.

Government troops numbering 13,000 arrived in Berlin on Saturday; but with the strengthening of its military forces, the cabinet is reported to be losing its political influence among the masses.

Twenty eight mass meetings were planned for today at Berlin for the purpose of offsetting this trend. These meetings, which were to be addressed by ministers and party leaders, were expected to lead to a renewal of the collisions with the Spartacans. It is reported that several banks and shops were plundered by mobs on Saturday and that great armed crowds are continually parading the streets. Spartacan leaders had been able to conclude an armistice of fairly even terms. There is no confirmation of the report that Dr. Karl Liebknecht has been killed.

UPPER STEWIAKKE, COL. CO.

Jan. 8.—The "Flu" patients have quite recovered, with the exception of Mrs. Roy Blaikie and Mrs. Ernest are still confined to their beds.

Mr. Isaac Gammell, Montreal, spent a part of his Xmas vacation with his brother Mr. W. H. Gammell, Upper Stewiacke.

McGill Johnson has returned from the War, none the worse for his big experience. Now the work is over and the boys returning every week, our thoughts naturally fly to the dear lads who will never return. Of all the Stewiacke boys who enlisted only a small percentage made the Supreme Sacrifice, and of them it can be truly said:

"For honor liberty and truth they sacrificed their glorious youth. They died, yet were death to give their lives, that we, their friends might live."

Miss Norma Cox and Frances Foster have returned to their winters work, the former to New Glasgow, the latter to Wittenburg, but we doubt if either of them know it, until they read the "News".

At the Congregational meeting, Wednesday night, a full yearly report of the year's work by the girls of the Seven Link Club was read by the treasurer Miss Marie Fulton, as follows: Amount raised during the year by fees, basket social, and contributions $117.35

$43 sent to the Red Cross Society $25 to the Navy League, $3 to the Good Fellows Club, Halifax.

Twenty five pairs of socks, four scarfs, eight pairs of mittens and two comfort bags were sent to the Sailors Committee, Halifax, and a snug balance in Cash on hand to begin the New Years work.

The Club was asked by the managers to collect the amount required to make up the Mission allotment for this congregation and already their collectors are at work.

Jan. 13.—Mrs. Geo. Fulton, Newton Mills passed away at her home early Sunday Morning. Mrs. Fulton was Margaret Dunlop and besides her husband leaves two sisters, namely Mrs. E. A. Logan, Old Barns and Mrs. Esther McLean, Boston. Funeral Tuesday A. M.

Miss May Ellis has returned from a short trip to the City and can be found at her old stand behind the counter.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Fulton returned on Saturday from a business trip to Halifax.

Mr. David Kennedy is on the sick list, suffering from a heavy cold and sore arm.

May we have the pleasure of wishing The Editor and staff of the Truro News a bright and prosperous New Year and all the news readers at home and abroad the same good wishes.

STEWIAKKE, COL. CO.

Jan. 13.—The town was about clear of Flu patients until a few days ago a number of men, working in the lumber camps a few miles away, were taken ill with the disease and those residing in town were brought to their homes; but we are glad to hear of no serious cases and hope all will be well again in a very short time.

Miss Bessie Brenton, Middle Stewiacke, was the guest of Mrs. William Johnston, Main Street, last week.

Miss Catherine Bigelow of Onslow is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Catherine McNutt of McNutt's Hotel.

The Misses Mary and Hazel Geddert have returned to Brockton, Mass., after spending a few weeks at their old home here.

The many friends of Mr. R. J. Pollock, who is the oldest resident of our town, will be glad to know he is enjoying fairly good health this winter and enjoys having his friends call to see him.

Mr. Frank Taylor, of Brookfield, Col. Co., was in town on Wednesday last. Mr. Taylor has recently purchased Mr. E. T. Sibley's meat market, where he is now conducting business and we hope that Mr. Taylor will soon be able to secure a suitable residence here for his family.

Little Margaret Leck visited friends in Shubenacadie recently. Master Lloyd McCarty, son of Mr. and Mrs. William McCarty, who has been so seriously ill is reported some better.

Rev. H. T. Parlee conducted the funeral service of the late Alonzo Ellis of Shubenacadie on Friday p. m. last. Mr. G. T. McNutt was amongst those who were unfortunate in losing a considerable amount of personal property in the fire that occurred in Halifax last week.

The light fall of snow last week was not sufficient to make good sleighing, but we had zero weather alright. Rev. Mr. McCabe, pastor of the Baptist congregation of Wittenburg and Stewiacke residing at the former place, preached his first sermon since coming to his new charge on Sunday last in Union Hall at 2 o'clock p. m.

The annual business meeting of St. Andrew's Church congregation will be held on Wednesday evening Jan. 15th at 7.30 o'clock.

Mr. Smith of Halifax is filling the position in the Royal Bank here lately occupied by Mr. Selwyn Crowe, who is taking a business course in Truro.

"Coming events cast their shadows before" so a number of the friends of Miss Jennie Nelson met at the home of her brother, Mr. Fred Nelson on Friday evening last and gave Miss Nelson a "shower" consisting of a number of useful electrical articles a very pleasant evening was spent by all present.

The "Riverside Rink" was opened for the season on Monday Jan. 13th to the delight of those who enjoy this pastime. Mr. A. D. Fulton and son Neil are in charge and will do their best to have good ice and a good time for all those who attend this up-to-date rink.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Clarke returned on Tuesday from New Glasgow where they visited their son Mr. J. S. Clarke. Mrs. Sutherland, wife of Rev. J. M. Sutherland, New Carlisle, Que., is visiting in town the guest of Dr. D. and Mrs. Mackintosh.

On Monday evening 6th inst. a delegation from the Pugwash and Gulf Shore sections of St. Matthews Congregation waited on Rev. J. R. and Mrs. Millar at the Manse and presented them with an envelope containing a snug sum of money.

Mr. and Mrs. Millar were taken completely by surprise but expressed their thanks for this token of good will from the congregation.

Rev. Mr. Millar leaves on Monday, 13th inst. for Toronto to attend a meeting of the General Assembly's Committee on Sunday School work.

Misses Myrtle Mackintosh and Bertie Purvis spent Sunday 12th inst with friends in Oxford.

By mutual consent the merchants of the town have agreed to close their stores every evening except Saturday from Jan. 1st to April 30th.

"Crystal Wave" and "Silver Spray" Lodges I. O. O. F., will hold a joint installation of Officers on Thursday evening, Jan. 16th.

R. H. McKay, Grand Master, John A. Craig, P. G. M., and H. Jeffers, D. D. G. M., will be present. At the close of the ceremony a banquet will be tendered the visiting brothers.

was heard to often have accidents, but I've escaped so far." He little thought he would be next. Yet he was! His injury was only a slight one and he neglected it. It began to fester. Then blood-poisoning set in and developed so quickly that he had to have his arm amputated.

How about you? You may be next! You can safeguard yourself against the result of accidents, as many other people have done, by keeping Zam-Buk always handy.

Miss S. A. Wernicke of Hilton, B.C., accidentally ran a needle so far into her finger that it pierced the bone. She writes: "My hand became so stiff and swollen that I could not use it. I naturally tried every remedy I knew of, but it only got worse. Blood-poisoning developed and extended right up my arm. The pain was intense, and I certainly thought I would lose my arm, which was in a terribly inflamed and swollen state, and literally covered with lumps. A friend advised me to use Zam-Buk, which I did, and it was not long before the pain grew less. With perseverance the inflammation was all drawn out, the swelling and lumps disappeared, and my arm was soon quite well again."

Zam-Buk is also best for eczema and all skin troubles, ulcers, running sores and piles. All stores, 60c.

A GALLANT SOLDIER GETS A HOME WELCOME.

A few evenings ago Williamsdale friends and neighbors numbering 40 gathered at the home of J. C. Taylor where Mr. and Mrs. Bennett reside to welcome home Pte. Raymond Bennett who had been in Active Service in France having enlisted in Truro in April 1917. A merry time was spent in playing games and chatting. At 10 o'clock the Company stood and sang "The National Anthem" and on behalf of those present Mrs. Leander Johnson presented Pte. Bennett with a souvenir gold piece, after which a bountiful supper was served to all present.

Children Like It

It is not an easy matter to get a medicine that children like, or to force them to take one they don't like. Most mothers know that a cough medicine, while palatable, should contain no drug injurious to the child. The great popularity of is explained by the fact that it contains no opium or narcotic of any kind, and at the same time is so pleasant to the taste that children like it. For this reason it is a favorite with the mothers of young children.

PAMBRUN'S PACKET OF NEWSY ITEMS.

Pambrun, Sask., Jan. 3, 1919.
Editor Truro News:
As requested, I am sending you a few items from this little corner of the West.
In the first place, let me wish you, and all the readers of the Home Paper, a bright and prosperous New Year.
Pambrun is a small town 40 mile south east of Swift Current, but not too small to celebrate right loyally, when the news came over the wires, that this world-weary War was over.
On Peace Sunday, our pastor, Rev. Mr. Clare, gave us a most inspiring address. He briefly outlined the noble work done by Britain and her Allies; and in a clear and forceful manner showed that victory belongeth unto the Lord.

Not wholly lost, Oh Father,
Is this evil world of ours;
Upward, thru its blood and ashes
Gleam afresh the Eden flowers.
From its smoking hell of battle
Love and pity send their prayer;
And still, Thy white-winged angels
Hover dimly in our air.

The following Sunday a memorial Service was held in memory of our fallen heroes. Rev. Mr. Clare preaching from the words, "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends." Excellent music was rendered by the Choir under Miss S. L. Lindsay, as organist. Two solos by Miss Young and Mr. Gilmore deserve special mention; namely "The Vacant Chair," and "Loved ones in the Glory Land."

The churches have again closed as the "Flu" has broken out afresh in our midst. At the time of writing our pastor is seriously ill and grave hopes are entertained of his recovery.
Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Davidson of East End spent Christmas in Pambrun, the guests of Mrs. Davidson's mother; Mrs. Thos. Lindsay. They leave this week for Swift Current to visit Mr. Davidson's relatives.
Two of our Nova Scotia teachers have left for their homes in the East, the Misses Winnie Lindsay and Sylvia Fulton of Londonderry and Great Village. Methinks, Mr. Editor, that when the geography of Nova Scotia was written, one important product was omitted, namely: "Teachers" for surely our little province by the sea has given our "Great West" a goodly number.

Our Saskatchewan Schools are well equipped and up to date in every particular. Not only our towns but our rural Schools have their Junior Red Cross Societies, Domestic Science, and Manual Training.
The Lady Grain Growers still have their meetings in the Municipal Hall. They meet fortnightly and are doing excellent work for the Red Cross.
We have had delightful weather, clear sunny days, Christmas Day ushered in our first zero weather. New Years Day registered 35 below with a high wind and slight fall of snow—a foretaste of what is coming.
Your paper is a welcome visitor to Easterners in Western Canada as it keeps us in touch with old friends and old associations.

It's nice to know the new friends
We meet along life's way.
It's fine to add a few friends
To those of yesterday;
But when the truth is told, friends,
No other friends of mine,
Can take the place of old friends,
The friends of auld lang syne.
A NOVA SCOTIAN.

Municipal Council.

MUNICIPALITY OF COLCHESTER.

January Session, 1919.

First Day, Tuesday forenoon.

Court House, Truro, Jan. 14, 1919.

The Municipal Council of the Municipality of the County of Colchester, met in the Court House at 10 o'clock, A. M., on the 14th day of January, A. D. 1919, pursuant to law K. R. McLean, Esq., Warden of the Municipality, took the chair.

The roll being called, all the Councillors were present except Councillors for Districts 6, 12, and 18.

The Municipal Clerk read the return for the Municipal election held in District of Middle Londonderry No. 16 for the election of Councillor to fill the vacancy caused by the appointment of the sitting Councillor I. O. B. McKim to the position of Sheriff for the County of Colchester. This return showed that Harry B. Layton of Great Village, Farmer, was elected by acclamation. Councillor elect Harry B. Layton was sworn into office by the Warden and signed the roll.

The Warden addressed the Council. He welcomed the Councillors to the present session of Council. He was pleased to note that at this time we were meeting under more happy circumstances. The war has been ended and although the work of citizens of the Empire is not yet ended there appears a very bright outlook.

He referred feelingly to the loss sustained by the Council since the last meeting in the death of Sheriff McLennan and also in the death of Councillor F. Tupper. Both of these men were interested in the work of the Council and in the welfare of the County in general. He also referred to the loss sustained by Councillor Reid in the death of his only son, Dr. Reid, who lived at Exeter, Ontario. He congratulated ex-Councillor McKim on his appointment as Sheriff and he welcomed his successor H. B. Layton to the Council Board.

After referring to the sad events that had taken place he also referred to the pleasant event in which the Councillor for Salmon River was one of the interesting parties.

He referred to the 11th of November last as the most important date in the history of the world. He felt confident that that date would never be forgotten by the people.

He had no doubt the Council would not forget the duties imposed upon it in the matter of reconstruction and doing the best possible for the returned soldiers. New matters would come before the Council in due course.

Councillor Starratt said that the Warden's remarks were very timely and he was afraid that he could not add anything of interest or of benefit.

He hoped that no one would forget the services rendered to us and the Empire by our soldiers and sailors. He was proud to say that the Municipality of Colchester had never hesitated in assuming its financial assistance to war purposes whenever called upon.

Deputy Warden Wilson thought this notwithstanding the breaks in the Council ranks, was and should be the happiest session of Council ever held in Colchester. The war was ended and now the duties rested on the Council and upon individual Councillors to see that everything possible was one for the returned soldiers, and the families of those whose sons made the Supreme sacrifice should not be forgotten.

Councillor McQuinn appreciated and endorsed the remarks of the Warden, and the others who spoke. He regretted the deaths of Councillor Tupper and Sheriff McLennan. He said that Colchester had done its part in the war and for this he was pleased and proud.

Councillors Angevine, Cassidy, Fulmore, Cox, made short and interesting addresses.

Moved by Councillor Holmes and seconded by Councillor Angevine that the following be a committee to nominate standing committees. The Warden, Deputy Warden, Councillors Cassidy, McQuinn, Starratt, Jas. Reid and Brenton. Passed.

Report of B. N. Foster, F. O. Smith and Edward McKenzie committee appointed to report on and lay out a Pound District at Upper Steviacke was read.

Moved by Councillor Cox, seconded by Councillor Nelson, that the report of the Committee establishing a pound district at Upper Steviacke, East be received and adopted. Passed.

The matter of road and at Beacon Hill laid over from the April session was taken up. Gilbert Sutherland was the Committee appointed on this road and the matter had been referred back to him for completion. The report of Gilbert Sutherland was now read and confirmed the report he made previously.

Councillor Cassidy stated that the Clark property was now sold and that the new owner would prefer the old instead of the new one and others interested preferred the old road. He therefore asked that this petition and report be laid over till the April session and he thought by that time all parties interested would come to an agreement. Moved by Councillor Cassidy, seconded by Councillor McQuinn that further consideration of this report be laid over till the April session. Councillors Cassidy, Reid, McQuinn, Fulmore, Wilson, Purdy, Brenton, Holmes, Cox, discussed the report. Upon a vote being taken the motion, carried.

Moved by Councillor McQuinn seconded by Councillor Holmes, that a Committee be appointed to draw up a suitable memorial resolution regarding the death of the late Councillor Tupper. Passed.

Moved by Councillor Starratt, seconded by Nelson that the Warden Councillor McQuinn, Cox, and Nelson be the committee to prepare this resolution. Passed.

Petition of Geo. A. Gamble et al residents of Castlereigh asking the Council to appoint a Committee to lay out a Pound district at Castlereigh was read.

Moved by Councillor Starratt, seconded by Councillor Cassidy that the prayer of the petition be granted. Passed.

Upon motion Council adjourned to meet at 2 o'clock.

Minutes of Proceedings TUESDAY AFTERNOON

Court House, Truro, Jan. 14, 1919

Council met at 2 o'clock pursuant to adjournment. Warden McLean, in the chair.

Report of Committee appointed to nominate Standing Committee was read and upon motion was received and adopted.

Petition of Geo. R. Slack et al residents of Londonderry asking to have a road near Londonderry Station closed, was read.

Moved by Councillor Purdy, seconded by Councillor Angevine, that the Council approve of the closing of this road and that the matter be referred to the Road Board, for further action. Passed.

The Municipal Clerk read a letter from the Resident Engineer stating that an additional expenditure of $58.00 had been made on the new road at Londonderry Station and asking the Council to take over the new road in lieu of the old one, and have the old road closed.

Moved by Councillor Starratt, seconded by Councillor Layton that the Council take over the new road at Londonderry Station in lieu of the old one, and that the old road be closed in order to get rid of dangerous crossings, and that if necessary the Provincial Road Board be requested to close the said old road. Passed.

The matter of changes in the new "Franchise Act" was now taken up. The Franchise Act was fully discussed and questions asked and answered as fully as possible.

The councillors were requested to write their revisers and instruct them as fully as possible in regard to their duties.

Upon motion Council adjourned to meet at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Our big sale still continues. Lots of thrifty shoppers are taking advantage of our wonderful low prices and passing the good word along to others. Great bargains in every department at Cummings & Hiltz.

Mr Marshall Fleck and his son, Sidney, Middle Steviacke, were in town on the 15th. "Sid" was the chauffeur; and the road he said was fairly good, except from Hilden to Truro. "Sid" is a born mechanic; a good driver and best of all he never violates the Motor Vehicle Act.

RUSSIA AT THE PEACE CONFERENCE.

Paris, Jan. 12—Prince Lvoff, former premier, has been named as chairman of the Russian committee composed of ambassadors and other prominent Russians, which is meeting in Paris to arrange for the presentation of the Russian claims to the Peace Conference.

BOLSHEVIKI AND GERMAN DESERTERS LOOTING.

Warsaw, Jan. 9—When the Bolsheviks entered Vilna they joined bands of German deserters, and members of the soldiers and workmens council, who had remained for the purpose of looting. The situation at Lemberg appears more hopeful. The Poles are making a flank attack to the north west from Seolkiew.

STILL TRYING TO RESCUE MEN FROM THE CASTALIA.

Halifax, Jan. 13—Following the capsizing of the first lifeboat and the drowning of at least two of the seventeen men aboard, the War Fijian decided to employ a portion of her cargo of oil on the water in an endeavor to calm the seas. But the following message timed at 10.11 indicates that the plan was unsuccessful: "After the oil had been spilled, it was impossible to hold on to any in the water. They were as slippery as eels; besides they could not breathe."

GOVERNMENT FORCES CAPTURE POLICE HEADQUARTERS.

Berlin, Jan. 12—Government forces have captured the police headquarters after a short bombardment. No government troops were killed in this encounter it is reported that The Bolsheviks are believed to have suffered the loss of fifty killed and many wounded.

BOLSHEVIKS IN CANADA—CHEERS IN TORONTO FOR A BERLIN OUTLAW.

Toronto, Jan. 11—Twelve hundred workers of both sexes attended a meeting in Broadway hall tonight, which had been called by the Workers Political Defence League to protest against the sentence of Magistrate Kingsford of Charles Watson to three years in penitentiary and a fine of $500 for having prohibited foreign literature in his possession and to demand the release of all political prisoners. Feeling ran high as the meeting progressed until at the conclusion the audience wildly cheered for Karl Liebknecht and the Socialist Revolution. A lengthy resolution was past. It asked for the release of Political prisoners and the rescinding of Orders in Council.

BRITISH TROOPS OCCUPY TOWNS IN PRUSSIA.

Copenhagen, Jan. 12—British troops have occupied Dusseldorf, which has been in the hands of the Spartacans, according to a report from Berlin. Dusseldorf is a town in Rhenish Prussia. It is situated on the right bank of the Rhine, twenty one miles from Cologne.

TRANSPORT WILL SOON FLOAT.

Fire Island, Jan. 12—The United States transport Northern Pacific, which ran hard aground on a sand bank off Fire Island on New Year's day probably will be floated within the next three days, naval officials said here today. The ship has been pulled two hundred feet seaward.

GREAT HONOR TO BRITISH ARMS.

London, Jan. 8.—Commenting upon Field Marshal Haig's report the Chronicle describes the operations dealt with as "The most glorious achievement in the whole history of the British army."
The Daily Graphic says: "That these victories should have won against the Germans numerical superiority sufficient proof that the manhood of a free Empire is more than a match for the legions of a military autocracy."

SERIOUS ILLNESS AVOIDED.

Many a serious illness has been avoided by the prompt use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills actually enrich and purify the blood, and in this way build up the system, tone and strengthen the nerves and invigorate the vital organs.
Serious diseases generally come from some simple disorder that has been neglected. Therefore any thinning of the blood should be looked upon as a warning sign, and more serious illness should be avoided by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. In the case of young girls and women the blood is peculiarly liable to get out of order—to become thin and watery—and to lead to a general breakdown in health. This can be avoided by the occasional use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which are suitable for the most delicate constitution. These pills will give you a new appetite, improve your digestion, tone and strengthen weakened nerves, banish depression and lack of energy, clear the complexion of pimples and blotches, cure pain in the back and general weakness, cause the disappearance of headaches, dizziness and heart fluttering. Give these pills a fair trial and you will soon note a wonderful change in your condition. Your spirits will brighten, good health and strength will return, and you will feel like a new person. You can confirm these statements by enquiring among your friends almost everywhere, as thousands and thousands of hopeless sufferers have been restored to new health and energy by using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.
You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

COMPLIMENTARY BANQUET BY SCOTSBURN CREAMERY TO DAIRYMEN'S ASSOCIATION, TRURO JAN. 10'19.

"Come, let us to the banquet"
The Convention of the Dairymen's Association of Nova Scotia, that has been in Session at the Agricultural College, Thursday, 9th was brought to a close on Friday night, the 10th by a most enjoyable Banquet given to the representatives of the Association, by Mr. D. W. Stewart, on behalf of the Scotsburn Creamery, Pictou, this Creamery having been the winner of the Butter Buyer's Trophy for the years 1918 and 1919 of the terms of which is that the winner shall provide the banquet for the representatives at the Convention.
At 10.30 the company, some

sat down to a table covered with good things amid gay decorations in the spacious dining hall of the King George Hotel, which had been engaged for this festive occasion.

The members of the Association vied with each other in the bounty set on every hand and did good justice to the gems of culinary art provided by mine host Stewart, who all thru the evening kept mirth and hilarity at its highest point with his many jokes and ready wit, nor was he alone in this respect for all present were brimful of jest and vivacity, which was exhibited in a marked degree by the different speakers who took part in the long and carefully prepared toast list.

Altogether a more congenial, off-hand, happy set of fellows like this aggregation would be hard to duplicate anywhere.

After the wants of the inner man had been amply provided for Toast Master Stewart
in a few brief remarks proposed the "King" and "Our Victorious Soldiers" which was responded to by all joining heartily in the singing of the National Anthem.

A. M. Wheaton.

Wolfville, the retiring President, then proposed "National Dairy Council" which was responded to by D. W. Murray of Scotsburn, Past President of the Association, who spoke of the possibilities of operating at a loss and showed why farmers should organize in order to get their rightful share of the profits which in many cases were diverted from them by various unscrupulous middlemen.
"Our N. S. Dairymen's Ass'n," proposed by Supt. W. A. MacKay.

Truro, was fittingly responded to by past President A. M. Wheaton, who warned the Association that coats must be thrown off and that as an organization they must get busy and face great problems not in the least of these were transportation, oleomargarine, and pasteurization.

H. R. Brown.

Truro, proposed "Federal Department of Agriculture," to which Harvey Mitchell, of Fredericton, N. B., replied in a crisp, racy manner, taking a short retrospect of work done by this department, then compared the dairy farmer with others and showed how the former was in a bright, prosperous condition, and closed by predicting for him a golden future, and also noted the marked advance made along the lines of good dairy butter.

H. Aitken, River Hebert.

proposed "Our Local Gov't and Department of Agriculture," coupling therewith the name of Prof. Jno. M. Trueman, who briefly contrasted dairying in the U.S. and Canada and was pleased to note the fine cooperation of the dairymen of our Dominion as compared to the rivalry which existed among those of different sections across the border. The Professor also stated he believed a government's right function was not so much the doing of a thing for the farmer himself, as in teaching him how to do a thing right for himself then if the farmer had ambition the rest would adjust itself.

At the juncture A. M. Wheaton wished to hand the Professor a bouquet, stating that in applying to United States Departments of Dairying for ideas that would help to keep the industry up to the minute he had repeatedly received from them pamphlets bearing the signature of Prof. Jno. M. Trueman.

"Our Government Creameries" proposed by H. Aitken, was responded to by H. A. McDonald, Margaree Forks, and D. E. McLeod, Baddeck. These gentlemen both spoke of the good work being done in Cape Breton and were very optimistic with regard to the industry in that part of our Province. Their remarks were somewhat of a resume of what had been accomplished, and showed the advantages of cooperation.

"Our Butter Buyers," neatly proposed by

D. W. Murray.

Scotsburn, was responded to at some length by W. B. Proctor of Smith and Proctor, Hx., who assured the Association of the continued interest of his firm in their future undertakings.

J. D. McKenzie, Bridgewater, then proposed

'Our Trophy Donors

which was responded to by D. C. McNeil, Antigonish, representing DeLaval Separator Co., and G. L. Williamson representative of Canada Salt Co. Headquarters now in Truro. Both gentlemen referred to the pleasure and profit derived from the gathering and believed firmly in the success of the Association. With congratulations they assured the Dairymen of the continued interest and support of their respective firms in the future.

Mr. McNeil also assured the Association of the usual donation from the J. B. Ford Co. in the future as the representative of this firm could not be present.

Our Maritime Corporation

proposed by M. J. Falt, Antigonish responded to by Benj. Gallant, Moncton, representing N. B. Dept. of Agriculture, noted with pleasure the high quality of butter scored this year and could also see that the Associations are rapidly working toward this ideal standard, and said the consumer would always pay the higher price for the prime article. He would like to see a meeting of this Association held in New Brunswick.

"Our Creamery Inspector" was proposed by Alex. Cameron, Lower South River, to which gave a brief outline of his work and referred to cream grading and pasteurization at some length showing that both were necessary for good storage purposes. He found the creameries as a whole in very fair condition.

The "unfathomable" Wheaton of Wolfville proposed "Our Dairy Superintendent" responded to by who after explaining the significance of the different epithets by which he was generally known thought it better to give an address fitting to a Superintendent of Dairying. His remarks were based chiefly on the theme "Vision." He spoke of the nobility of the men of our Dominion and said its farmers and men were not merely toiling for the money that was in it—they had had a higher vision, and here he quoted effectively what had been accomplished by her noble sons in Europe. Noted what the industry had accomplished in the past, and predicted for Nova Scotia possibilities equal to that of Denmark.

W. A. McKay, Truro.

R. B. McLennan, proposed "Increased Production," and coupled therewith the name of

H. R. Brown,

Supt. of Cow Testing, Truro, who said the Dairy industry was comparatively young, and showed how his work was one of cooperation with the dairymen. Showed that conditions were better where records were kept, and a contrast with different sections and communities went to prove this.

W. L. Brenton, Brookfield proposed "Our New President," which was responded to modestly by of Stellarton, who was much impressed with the way Dairymen were getting together. He believed in cooperation and wished to thank the Association for the honor conferred upon him.

"Mine Host" Stewart in his usual happy vein proposed "The Press" referring to the help of the "Fourth Estate" in their work.

"The Farmer" of the

Truro News

spoke on the line of the willingness of the Press to support anything bearing upon any phase of Agriculture. The Truro News covered like a blanket the central counties of Nova Scotia and was even watchful for the farmers' interests in its constituency. The great job plant of the News was at the disposal of the Dairymen. He thanked the different gentlemen present for numerous orders received by his firm from them, and assured them of quick despatch and good work for whatever kind of printing they might need in the future.

"Our Host" was nicely proposed by H. R. Brown, and responded to by Toastmaster Stewart in a manner befitting his office. He closed with telling a "True Story," which was somewhat different to ones they had been listening to during the evening.

"The Ladies"

proposed by "Billy" or Supt. W. A. McKay was followed by the passing of the hat, and all joining in singing the National Anthem at about 2 a.m., which brought to a close a banquet that was appreciated to the full by all present.

Owing to the length of the toast list and the lateness of the hour a number of toast were cancelled, among those being "The Importance of the Dairy Industry," "Our District Representative" and "Our Milk Producers."

EDWARD INGRAHAM DIES IN CALGARY.

North Sydney, Jan. 6—Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ingraham have received news of the death of their eldest son, Edward, which occurred at Calgary on Thursday. Beyond the fact that heart failure was the cause of death, no particulars have been received. Mr. Ingraham was about 40 years of age and leaves a wife and several children in Calgary. The news of his death will be heard with general regret in North Sydney where he grew to manhood, and also throughout the province in nearly every section of which he was well known, having for a number of years been travelling salesman for a large Montreal clothing house before going west. His remains will be brought to North Sydney for burial. (Mrs. Ingraham was formerly a Miss Kent of Tatamagouche; a sister of Mrs. Louis LeVesconte Elm Street, Truro. Ed. News.)

KEEP LITTLE ONES WELL IN WINTER.

Winter is a dangerous season for the little ones. The days are so changeable—one bright, the next cold and stormy, that the mother is afraid to take the children out for the fresh air and exercise they need so much. In consequence they are often cooped up in overheated badly ventilated rooms and are soon seized with colds or gripe. What is needed to keep the little ones well is Baby's Own Tablets. They will regulate the stomach and bowels and drive out colds and by their use the baby will be able to get over the winter season in perfect safety. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A NEW PAPER.

"The Labor Leader" is a new paper that comes to us from Sydney, C. B. and it asserts that it is "independent in politics and fearless in the defence of the Common people."

It is well filled with good articles, bearing upon the question of Labor and the interests of the Workman. There is a wide field for a newspaper in the interests of the Toiler, that will properly champion this every interest, but that will not try in every line to antagonize him against his employer.

Why does an "Independent" Labor paper everlastingly have to criticize the "powers that be?"

Does a Government never do right in regard to the workman?

Why, as an educator of public opinion is the Labor man constantly impressed with the idea that the Capitalist is his out-and-out enemy?

Surely this is not good helthy journalism, and if it can be improved upon this new paper "The Labor Leader," has a wide field for action.

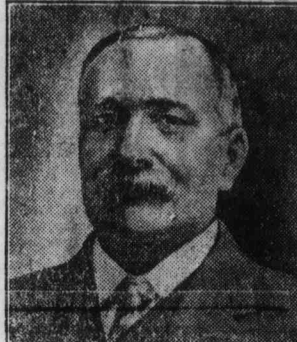

This paper is in good hands and should be made a journalistic success.

It starts with a splendid advertising patronage some 24 columns of its 48 devoted to the announcements of Sydney Business houses.
Success to this new journalistic venture.

There is a report of some 7000 cases of "Flu" in London, Ont.

ACUTE NERVOUS EXHAUSTION

All Treatments Proved Useless Until He Tried "FRUIT-A-TIVES".

MR. JAS. S. DELGATY.

R.R. No. 4. Gilbert Plains, Man. "In the year 1910, I had Nervous Prostration in its worst form; was reduced in weight from 170 pounds to 115 pounds.

The doctors had no hope of my recovery, and every medicine I tried proved useless until a friend induced me to take "Fruit-a-tives".

I began to mend almost at once; and after using this fruit medicine for 3 or 4 months, I was back to my normal state of health.

I never had such good health for twenty years as I have enjoyed the past six years. We are never without a box of 'Fruit-a-tives' in the house".

LONDONDERRY STATION, COL.

Jan. 6—Mrs. Wright, Truro, spent New Year's Day with Mr. and Mrs. George.

The Misses Georgina and Minnie Maxwell, Folly Mt., who have been spending the past few months with their father, Wm. Maxwell, left for United States on the 29th.

Miss Arbella Elkie, Halifax, is a guest of Mrs. Frank George.

Miss Winnie George returned from a pleasant visit to Springhill on the 4th.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lightbody and Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Atkinson, Belmont, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart McLean on New Year's Day.

A letter from Pte. Blake Jobb, tells of his safe return to Three Rivers, Que. where he enlisted about two years ago. Pte. Jobb has seen hard fighting in the trenches in France; been severely wounded and burned and after recovering was taking a course preparatory to going again to the front when the war ended. He will visit his mother and sisters in February.

Pte. Basil George, another of our home boys is in Germany near to River Rhine. The young Basil has shown real pluck and will make his mark among the Canadian guards in Germany.

Miss Lillian Lindsay returns to South Athol to take charge of her school after spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Lindsay.

School begins to-day. During the vacation of five weeks our teachers Miss Mattie Fleming, Glenholme, had an attack of "Flu."

Pte. Sam Fields, Folly Mtn. was here on the 4th. Pte. Fields is another of our returned heroes having been thru the war from start almost to finish.

The station yard is about full of cars with lumber.

NAVY LEAGUE CONTRIBUTIONS

AMOUNT RAISED IN COLCHESTER COUNTY $3,759.83.

List of Contributors in Town and Country.—Letter of Thanks from Chairman Montgomery.

Truro, N. S., Jan. 6, 191

Editor Truro News:
Dear Sir:

Will you be kind enough, through your valuable paper, to extend my very sincere thanks as Chairman for Colchester County of the Navy League Campaign, to all those workers throughout the town and county who so kindly assisted in this campaign, and thanks are due to the Local Council of Women who took charge of the Town of Truro. While we did not raise the amount asked for in the town and county there were many factors working against the success of the campaign. Throughout the county the influenza epidemic seriously retarded the work in many districts.

The total amount raised was $3,759.83, of which the town of Truro contributed $1,705.72 and the county $2,054.11. I am enclosing you a list of the contributions as received and would ask you to kindly publish these in your weekly and daily papers.

Yours truly,
C. W. MONTGOMERY,
Chairman Navy League for Colchester County.

BIBLE HILL.
(Written for the News.)

For health and beauty noted,
Wher no one e'er is ill,
Except from "flu" or measles,
I speak of Bible Hill.

A suburb of fair Truro,
The "Salmon" flows between,
Its banks frost kist in winter,
In summer fairest green.

Stand on the bridge at sunset,
And watch the western sky,
Its gorgeous tints and colors
—An artist's brush defy.

And oft in early morning
Snow-white against the sky,
A stray gull from the marshes
Of Fundy, winging by

With weird voice is telling
Of storm swept rock and reef
Seek in from wind and tempest
A respite, calm, tho brief.

At our old historic places
'Tis worth your while to stop:
There "Castlebank" and "Woodliffe"
And the Old Curiosity Shop."

The Hall of Agriculture
With spacious farm, you'll see
Where they plough, and sow and harrow
By the straight "rule of three".

Whence came its pious cognomen?
They many stories tell,
One, that a Holy Bible,
Was found within a well.

I trust I am mistaken
I hate even this to say,
That some keep up that custom
Unto the present day.

There's a story told in history
That our fertile marshy lands
Were settled by the Frenchmen,
Who came in packs and bands.

They dyked rebellious Fundy,
But in seventeen fifty-five;
Since they would not bow to England
They were expelled—alive.

'Twas Justice plain and simple,
'Tho sore against their will,
For they loved these vertile marshes,
They loved old Bible Hill.

And when the Holland Dutchmen
Grow sick of Kaiser Bill
May the Saints above protect us
If he starts for Bible Hill.

A GENEROUS PEOPLE REMEMBER THEIR PASTOR AND WIFE.

During the first week of the New Year, the people of the Meagher's Grant section of the Presbyterian congregation of Lower Musquodoboit handsomely remembered their pastor, Rev. L. P. Archibald, and his wife, by presenting them with the following address:

To Rev. L. P. and Mrs. Archibald;
Elderbank, N. S.

"This evening a few of us, representing the Meagher's Grant portion of the congregation, have gathered here to extend to you our Hearty New Year Greetings.

"We appreciate your kind words, cheery smile and noble efforts on our behalf during your labor of two years among us, and we wish now to convey to you our love, and esteem, and hearty cooperation with you in the noble work in which you are engaged.

"We deeply regret the sorrows and sickness that have entered your family circle during the past year, and we pray that the God of comfort and mercy will sustain you.

"May the work in which you are engaged continue to be blessed as evidence of the above mentioned regard, we wish to present to you this small token of our esteem, and hope you will receive it in the same spirit as it is given."

SIGNED BY COMMITTEE.
Meagher's Grant,
Jan. 2, 1919.

This Address, couched in these touching terms, was accompanied by the splendid gift of $56.50. Such a spontaneous expression upon the part of the generous and sympathetic people of Meagher's Grant gladdened the hearts of the recipients, and the aforesaid gifts marks but one of many manifestations of kindness towards the occupants of the "Manse."

TWO PURCHASES OF REAL ESTATE.

One is the purchase by the Canadian Bank of Commerce of the D. Cameron property at the southwest corner of South and Pleasant streets and the other the purchase of the Elmwood Hotel property, northeast corner of South and Barrington streets. The price is reported to be in the vicinity of $50,000 and the purchaser J. M. Davison, K.C.

Threw Away Her Crutches

MRS. WALLIS was cured of inflammatory rheumatism ten years ago, and tells in her very interesting letter how cure was discovered. The treatment used was so effective that her system was restored to good condition, and she has had exceptionally good health ever since.

In order that others may have the benefit of her experience she has kindly written this letter and allowed the use of her portrait. Any reader wishing further particulars of her cure will find Mrs. Wallis only too glad to do what she can to help them.

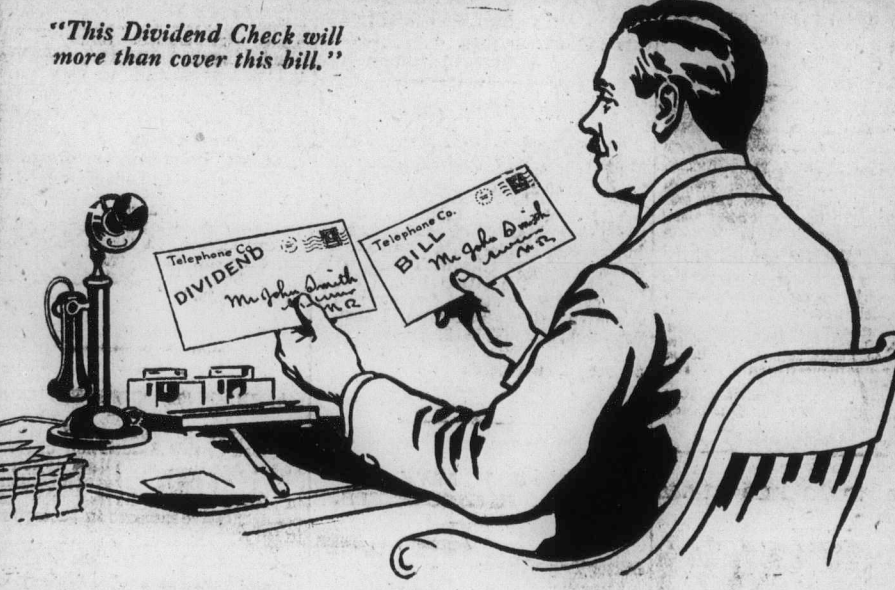

Mrs. J. A. Wallis, 17 House avenue, Brantford, Ont., writes:

"About ten years ago I was troubled with inflammatory rheumatism, and my system was in a generally run-down condition. I tried several doctors here and many different medicines, but received no benefit from any of them. I kept getting worse, and became so bad that I had to use two crutches to get around the house. One day I felt 'all in' and completely discouraged. The baby was sitting on the floor playing with a newspaper. She tore a piece off, and I happened to pick it up. I glanced over it, and my attention was attracted by a letter from some one who had been cured by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I had never tried this remedy, but decided right then to see what it would do for me. While taking the first box I found they were doing me good, as they seemed to put more life into me, so I continued the treatment, using box after box until I had taken 24 boxes. I felt so much better that I did not need any more medicine of any kind, and have not taken any for years. The Nerve Food relieved my rheumatism so I could do without the crutches, and I have enjoyed extra good health ever since. I can heartily recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to anyone suffering from either a run-down condition or inflammatory rheumatism."

This report should convince the most skeptical of the effectiveness of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food in enriching the blood, building up the system, and thereby removing the cause of rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, locomotor ataxia, paralysis and scores of other diseases which prey upon a run-down condition of the body.

You can obtain Dr. Chase's Nerve Food from any dealer or direct from Edmanson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto. 50c a box, 6 for $2.75. The portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., the famous Receipt Book author, are on every box.

"This Dividend Check will more than cover this bill."

The Universality of the Telephone

THE loyal citizen backs up home institutions. There is probably no public utility in which the best interests of Nova Scotia are bound up as they are in the telephone. It serves well-nigh universally; it should be supported likewise.

Today, one person in every twenty-two in this province actually pays for a telephone. Soon it will be one in ten.

Every telephone subscriber owes it to himself and his community to be a telephone stockholder, to share in the prosperity of this company and to have a voice in its management and operation, thus making it a huge cooperative enterprise.

As an investment for the Nova Scotian, it is unexcelled because its plant and operation are always under his eye, so that he can intimately observe them from day to day.

Love's Awakening

the year's garnered harvest of days. All the pent-up tenderness of the long solitary years of his wanderings was cast at Eulalie's feet, and the sweetness of being loved—or deeming himself so—so even as he loved, blinded him to all else, as the eyes that have gazed at the sun are blind to the things upon earth around them.

He did not love me less; he never loved me less. Nay, I think the time came when he loved me more even than he had done in early years when we had golden days together, and hot sweets of Mr. Twinkler, who hoped his lordship was in good health, and forced me to run away and sit me down among the buttercups to have my laugh out.

When the last evening at home came around, and the shadows of the coming parting was over me, my mind was in a strange whirl of conflicting feelings. On the one hand I was glad even to thankfulness, thinking of Miss Mary's greeting and the peace and freedom that would be mine once more when I should teach my Land of Beulah; on the other, I was smarting with the pain of that near Good-bye that now seemed doubly bitter.

A miserable sense of distrust too—a distrust not only of Lettie (that was nothing), but of Eulalie—had been growing in my heart. The mirror in the music-room had been the first to tell me that my once loved friend was no true gentlewoman; a hundred trifles light as air had told me the same story since. Her way of speaking to the servants when papa was not by, jarred upon me, and made me ready to fling myself into the fray and take up arms in their behalf. I found out that she had turned the three dear ladies of Summerfield into ridicule to Miss Dove; a discovery that sent me promptly to my own room, there to fight with a rising passion of indignation that bade fair to urge me on to untold impudence of speech. 'How could she—how could she, when they did so much for her!' I sobbed, as I paced up and down my room; and my heart added: 'The old mirror told the truth; she is false—false—false!'

Well, the last evening at home came, and a sort of desperate feeling came over me—a determination to be happy my own way for just that once, and, 'after that, the Deluge.'

When papa joined us in the drawing-room, I went straight to him, slipped my hand within his arm, and put up my face for a kiss.

'You know I am going away tomorrow,' I said, just as if there had been no one else in the room save himself and his 'little girl.' 'I want to be spoiled and petted a bit tonight.'

Miss Dove might blink like an owl in the sunshine, Eulalie might look calmly amazed—I cared not. I was going away tomorrow—I would have my fling that night.

But, alas! the strongest of us cannot always count upon our physical endurance; and no sooner did papa fold his arm about me and draw my head down to his shoulder, than the 'climbing sorrow' of poor heart-broken Lear took my breath, and set me sobbing. I clenched my teeth hard and fast, I shook from head to foot with the effort after self-control; but it was no use to struggle—give an inch to expression of feeling and it takes an ell—and in another moment I was clinging about papa's neck weeping bitterly.

'Dear me, the child is quite hysterical!' said Lady Vansittart, hurrying to my side. The Dove made queer little noises with her lips expressive of surprise and sympathy, and fluttered to the assistance of her cousin.

Eulalie suggested a glass of sherry the Dove cooed out something about a 'few drops of red lavender'; both urged my immediate adjournment to my own room. This last suggestion was carried out, through perhaps hardly as they had meant it should be; for papa went with me, and telling them to leave me to him, closed the door upon them both.

'Nell,' he said, 'is anything making you unhappy? Is there anything you would like to say to me? My darling—I could not bear to think of there being any want of confidence between us. I have, fancied you changed of late; I said so to Eulalie.'

'Yes,' I said, twirling the ring upon his finger slowly round and round; 'and what did she say.'

'She spoke very lovingly of you—as she always does—no one has your good so much at heart; but she hinted at some possible school trouble.'

The hot blood surging to my face dried up my tears; I grew quite strong again all in a moment.

'She is mistaken then,' I said; 'quite mistaken I never had a school trouble in my life.'

He drew a long breath as if some weight were taken off his mind, and then he stroked my hair tenderly and kissed me. I was his 'own little girl'—once more for that one short while—that one short while. Yet he seemed the dream-child came to me and wept and wailed, lifting its wee, white, weary face to mine.

'Nell, how heavy your eyes look,' said Miss Mary as I kissed her next morning; 'go for a turn around the garden to brighten you up before Sir Charles comes; never mind your books, love—today must be a holiday.'

Papa could not be at Summerfield before midday, so I had plenty of time 'to brighten myself up,' as Miss Mary said, and soon felt all the better for a stroll round the coppice, and a scramble in the wood.

As I came towards the house again, Amy, now grown to be what she called 'a great durl,' met me.

'H're's a funny, funny letter for 'oo, Nellie dear!' she said, holding a small blue envelope high above her curly head.

It certainly was a funny letter. The address, commencing at the top of the left-hand corner ran down-hill all the way nearly to the lower corner on the right; and the writer had evidently been mindful to practise economy in the matter of capitals, for he or she had bestowed one on Vansittart, but none on the 'Miss' that preceded it.

Laughing, I opened my letter, saying, 'I really think, Amy, it must be from Mr. Twinkler.'

Then I read it, but the words conveyed no meaning to my mind.

Amy, poor frightened child, clung to me, and I saw her lips move, but I heard nothing. I was deaf, and—half satisfied, for after a long silence he repeated his first question, looking wistfully into my face.

'Is there nothing you would like to say to me, Nell, before we part?'

I turned away.

'Nothing, nothing, dear papa,' I said; for how could I complain to him of his wife? A woman must fall very low before she can teach her tongue to speak against another woman to that woman's husband even in self-defence; gain what she may by such a course, the gain must turn to dust and ashes in her mouth.

As papa opened my door, I heard the wisk of a dress at the end of the passage.

'What have they to gain by all this watching and plotting?' I wondered to myself as I lay awake that night.

The next morning I left Hazeldeane, and papa and Eulalie drove with me to the station. We left Miss Lettie behind, blinking and kissing her hand at the hall-door, while Terence smiled at me from the back-ground.

I had been round to the yard and patted Roderick's head; nay, more, I had bent down and laid a kiss upon his neck, sleek, wrinkled forehead; and then he lay down full length, and whined after me as I went away.

When I reached Summerfield Miss Mary was the first to greet me, and I had some ado to prevent repeating the 'quite hysterical' proceedings of the night before, for I was glad and sorry all in a breath.

'Have you been happy, child, at home?' said my good friend, as she and I walked over to Bromley church on Wednesday evening service some hours later.

'No; but I think I ought not to speak about it,' I answered, steadying my voice as best I could, and feeling by no means sorry that we were in the dusky gloaming.

'Child!' she said, 'dear child—'

'Yes, I put in quickly; 'yes, that is what I am, and Summerfield—my Land of Beulah—is my home.'

Summer was soon upon us in all its fulness of beauty, and never had I seen the roses in our garden more plentiful than they were that year. I was very young still, and the young have a power that belongs to them alone of casting aside sorrow. The vividness of my trials at Hazeldeane faded; and before long I heard that in consequence of Lady Vansittart being in delicate health she and my father were going on a yachting expedition in the Ladybird, and that the length of their cruise would be indefinite. I had a dear kind letter from papa telling me of all this. I had many other letters of a like nature from him in the days that followed, now from this place, now from that, but always full of the same loving histories of the doings of himself and his wife, always full of the same tender thought for me, his 'own dear little girl,' his darling Nell.

The summer passed away, and the leaves began to fall. Those from the chestnut tree in the coppice were striped orange and brown, while those of the Virginian creeper were more beautiful in their death robes of rich and glowing crimson than they had been in life. The rooks were blown about sadly by the wind; the hips and haws began to redden in the hedges.

By this time I had become quite a full-fledged young lady; my dresses were always long now; I climbed no more trees and played no more at hare-and-hounds with Amy and her comrades. Books that had been unknown to me before, began to open their meaning to me as a new life. I read Evangeline instead of Ivanhoe; the Psalm of Life instead of the Swiss Façade; Robinson. Hitherto it had been enough to read of the doings of men and women, good and great; now I began to long to fashion my own life after the pattern of theirs—in a word, my girlhood felt the stirrings of the womanhood within me, as the pool of old was 'troubled' by the angel's touch. By the end of September my father and his wife returned to Hazeldeane, where they found all things 'swept and garnished' under the careful administration of Miss Dove, who appeared to have become a fixture there.

'Eulalie is much stronger now, and has almost lost her cough,' papa wrote; 'as for me, I am flourishing.'

This was satisfactory, but nothing to what followed, for he told me he was coming to Summerfield for a 'long day,' and should insist upon being taken to pay his respects to his old friend Mr. Twinkler.' He added that he knew me to be as impatient a little mortal as ever breathed, and so fixed upon a date only ten days off for this promised visit.

Ten days is not a long time in itself yet my longing made it seem so. The night before the day that was to be a 'golden' one I could not sleep. I had heard nothing further from Hazeldeane, but I did not doubt that all was well—it was joy, not doubt, that kept me waking. Strangely vivid thronging thoughts of past happy times made me lie and count the hours chimed from Bromley church tower—those memories of little things and little words that come to us in such quiet, silent hours, like angel visitants.

Just as a faint streak of grey fell upon my bedroom floor I sank into a heavy sleep, and then all the sweet memories fled like elves at dawn, for yes, it must be so—mad! I looked wildly round as if for aid against some arm that was raised to strike me down where I stood.

Again my eyes grew to the words traced in strange uncertain characters upon the paper in my hand.

'Dear Miss Ellen,—Which it is my sorrowful duty to tell you as my master died very sudden early this day. They said they would rite; but I know it was no such thing, or you would have cum. I have lost a good master, but he is a gone to a Better world—From your 'umble servant, Terence Mahaffy.'

This time I grasped the meaning of what I read. I tried to take a step forward—to get to Miss Mary, I think—but the bank, leaf-strewn grass rose up to meet me, and I thrust out my hand to keep it off, all things—even my wful sorrow—faded into nothingness.

CHAPTER X

Terence Tells His Story.

In the 'good old days' when torture was a science, there was one relief that not even the most cruel could deny their victims, for when nature could bear no more she wrought a cure for herself, and insensibility stilled the sufferer's pain awhile. As in bodily, so in mental pain, its very keenness at last dulls sensation, and a sort of misty unreal composure mercifully deadens the faculties.

From that one dreadful moment in which I, falling, seemed to meet the rising ground, a numbness came over me, and I heard, as one hears things far off, voices that faint would have offered comfort when no comfort could yet come; saw tears streaming down Miss Mary's face, and envied her in that she could weep. Some one led me in from the garden, and then I sat down in one of the big oak chairs by the side of Polly's cage. I wanted no one to speak to me, no one to touch me. I wanted to be left alone, face to face with one awful thought.

In an hour's time papa should have been there; we should have gone out through the fields together, as we did long since; but now he would never come again—he would never come again. The roses that he had loved would all bloom again when summer came, but even then I should never see him more.

I had been making a watch-guard for him; now I drew it from the pocket of my little muslin apron and twisted it round my fingers.

'Get her to go up stairs to her room,' said some one, and I turned quickly to see Miss 'Dossia' standing between me and the light from the hall door. She was as tall and rigid as ever, but—was it part of the dream in which I was living?—her voice shook, and tears—yes, tears—were on her cheek. Somewhere hidden beneath that hard exterior then there beat a woman's heart, and my white, tearless agony had touched it.

The strangeness of this softening on the part of my old enemy struck me as so marvellous a thing that I held out my hand to her, and—yes—smiled.

'He will never come again,' I said. 'I made this chain for him; look at it—it is no good now. What shall I do with it, Miss 'Dossia?'

What happened after this? I can hardly tell. Time seemed to be no longer, and as I look back, one disjointed memory and another rises up merging into one another in wild confusion. Yet one memory is clear and vivid. I was in a train; the lamp above my head gave a sickly light, but enough to show me a figure in the opposite corner to the one in which I sat huddled, the figure of the vicar of Bromley, with a soft felt hat on the back of his head and his hands folded over the rug across his knees.

All Children Love "Syrup of Figs" For Liver and Bowels

Look at the tongue, Mother! It coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs" and in a few hours all the food, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "fruit laxative"; they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs" which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

As we whirled through the starlight night he neither spoke to me nor looked at me; he knew that fresh-made wounds cannot bear even the lightest touch. Once looking across at him I saw his lips move, and I knew that all his simple God-loving, God-fearing soul was being lifted up in prayer for me. The knowledge brought no comfort. I was somewhere all alone in a thick cloud of darkness through which no ray of heaven's comfort could come to me. I was alone with one thought—the old thought, yet a new phase of it. Papa would never speak to me, never kiss me again, but I should see him; there was yet time—a few days at most; but oh, what precious days!—in which the sight of my dear should be vouchsafed to me. I should kiss him, though he could not kiss me back; should touch his hand, though it could no more close on mine.

Presently—whether in a long or short time I cannot tell—Mr. Girdstone left his place by the window and came to my side; he took my hand, and held it close in one of his, patting it softly with the other.

'Nell,' he said, 'we're there now; tie your bonnet, child.'

I had undone the strings and thrown them back, for the one I felt was airy, plenty of air—something that should ease the strained tightness of my chest and throat, the burning throb of my temples. I did as he told me, and then our train drew up alongside the Hazeldeane platform.

I had no luggage with me save a small hand-bag, and so we were quick in a fly and on our way to the Hall. Mr. Girdstone held my hand still, and that kindly clasp seemed the only thing in all the world left to sustain me. As we passed through the gates and under the dark shadow of the trees in the avenue his hold grew closer, and he spoke to me—very quietly, but very distinctly—as if he wished to impress each word upon my mind.

'Nell, listen to me, dear, and try to remember what I am saying. I shall stay at the inn in the village until tomorrow night. If you want me, you have only to send a verbal message, and I will come.'

As he finished speaking our wheel grated against the curb of the steps I was at home once more.

The house was so still that the sounds of our arrival seemed a sort of sacrilege; and as Terence appeared he might well have been the dumb servant of an enchanted castle, for he stood staring at me, shaking from head to foot and stretching out his poor trembling hands almost as if he wanted to prevent me going in, and would fain keep me out in the chill autumn night.

'Miss Ellen, Miss Ellen,' he managed to say at last, plucking at my dress as I passed him by; 'wait a bit, my lady—wait a bit. Sit ye down in the chair here by the fire; ye must be cold; it's real chill to-night—too chill entirely.'

He was kneeling by the fire stirring the embers to a blaze; but as I put my hand upon his arm, he rose and faced me, shaking still.

'Take me to papa, Terence,' I said calmly. The nearness of my dead awoke me into quietude.

'Is it myself that must do as my young lady bids me, your reverence?' he said, turning to the vicar in dire distress.

'Let her have her way,' was the answer. 'I will come too.'

So we passed down the gloomy corridors: Terence leading the way, I following Mr. Girdstone last.

A door was opened, and the two others stood back to let me pass in.

In my agony I cried out to the ears that could not hear, 'Papa, papa! it is Nell—it is your little girl—Dear—I have come to you at last!'

The hour grew late. After a hurried conversation with Terence, Mr. Girdstone had left the Hall promising to return early in the morning; and I, weakened and softened by the sight of that quiet face, whereon a smile still lingered, as if even death had pitied me enough to leave me that dear greeting, began to bethink me that I was not the only woman in that silent house.

'Where is Lady Vansittart?' I asked of Terence, who hovered about me and seemed strangely ill at ease.

'She's in her room, Miss Ellen, along with Miss Dove. The new maid as come with her ladyship from foreign parts, she's there, too she is Miss Ellen.'

I put up my hand to my burning, aching eyes, and strove with all my might to grapple with this position of affairs.

'Does Lady Vansittart know that I am here?' I said. Then I added, 'But I daresay she is not able to come to me; I will go to her.'

'Maybe,' said Terence, rumpling his gray head with his hand as if in some sore bewilderment they'll not be after caring to see you. Maybe, Miss Ellen, ye'd best bid here whiles. I told the maid you'd come, and she's sartin sure to have told the mistress; maybe they'll send ye some bidding or other—'

'Send me some bidding?—not care to see me?' I repeated helplessly, letting my head fall back against the easy-chair in which I was sitting, and fondling poor Frizzle's ball of a head. 'I can't understand what all this means.'

'Well, Miss Ellen, then, it manes this the lot of them's terrible skered of the sickness that killed poor master, and they've been shut up there like so many nuns in a convent since iver he took ill.'

Here the old man began to shake again, and the cup and saucer that he was placing on the table rattled in his hands.

'Ever since he was taken ill?' I said, holding tight on to the edge of the table by my side. 'Do you mean to say, Terence—Terence, do you mean to say they left him to die—alone?'

Do what I would my voice rose to a sort of shriek as I spoke.

'For God A'mighty's sake, Miss Ellen, don't be after keening over it that way!' cried poor Terence, wringing his hands. 'How should the master be alone at-all, when I was along wid him? Poor old Terence, as dandled him on his knee a score of times when he wanted to ride cock-horse—and he no higher than the table, the cratur!—and sure the doctor was there too!'

But I might as well have been deaf for any comfort his words gave me.

'She was his wife—and she was afraid—she left him alone—to die. Oh, papa! papa!'

I was beside myself, and Terence was little better. I have a fancy that he tried to keep me from leaving the room. I think he saw the state of wild excitement I was in, and knew not what I might, or might not, do or say next. But no one could have kept me back; the old impulsiveness had got me in its clutches hard and fast—it drifted me

"Children Love Cascarets"

Keep your little Pets healthy, strong and full of play by giving a harmless candy Cascaret at the first sign of a white tongue; feverish breath, sour stomach or a cold. Nothing else straightens up a bilious, or constipated youngster like these deight-ful cathartic tablets—Only ten cents a box.

TO MOTHERS! While all children detest castor oil, calomel, pills and laxatives, they really love to take Cascarets because they taste like candy. Cascarets "work" the nasty bile, sour fermentations and constipation poison from the child's tender stomach, liver and bowels without pain or griping. Cascarets never disappoint the worried mother. Each ten cent box of Cascarets contains directions for children aged one year old and upwards as well as for adults—absolutely safe and harmless!

At Sheet Harbor a very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Moser (formerly of Moser River) when their only daughter Winnifred E., was united in marriage to Thomas Eduard Connor, of Sheet Harbor, Rev. David McGowan, pastor of the Presbyterian church, officiating. After the ceremony a repast was served to the immediate relatives of the families. Mr. and Mrs. Connor have the best wishes of their many friends. They will reside at Sheet Harbor.

THE LATE MISS LELIA SPENCER.

The death took place last evening at 18 Morris Street, of Miss Lellia R.
Spencer, aged 58 years. She was a daughter of the late John C. Spencer, who was station agent at Londonderry for many years. T. B. Spencer, C.N.R., station agent at Dartmouth is a brother and a sister resides in Philadelphia. Miss Spencer had been a resident of this city for sometime and was highly esteemed by a host of acquaintances. She had only been ill about ten days. The remains will be taken to Truro for interment.—Acadian Recorder, Jan 7.

the 9th, en route to Toronto.
Printing conditions are so disarranged by the War that Mr. Stewart is yet undecided about his special March number for 1919. He may make it a mid-summer number, or if not there will be a rattling big March edition in 1920.
