Victory Loan Meeting Held In Town Hall

Last Friday evening, a public meeting of the merchants and citizens of the Town of Newcastle was held in the Town Hall at 8 o'clock. A fairly good attendance of representative citizens were present, with Mr. G. P. Burchill, chairman of the West Northumberland Victory Loan Committee in the chair. The chairman opened the meeting by stating that the reason the meeting was called, was in the task of obtaining her objective and he felt sure, the citizens of Newcastle did not want such a thing to occur. Newcastle's objective was $150,000, and at the present time only $54,000 had been subscribed, thus being $96,000 below her objective, with two weeks of the campaign passed and only one more week to solicit subscriptions. Last year Newcastle went over her objective, and he knew no reason why this year, the objective could not be reached. He had been told by the canvassers that the merchants this year were indifferent and the idea of the meeting tonight was to discuss and devise means whereby the objective could be reached.

In all other parts of the Dominion the campaign was going along with good results, but in the Maritime Provinces it was falling far below the mark. Especially in Northumberland and West, were the subscriptions coming in slow. Gloucester County had subscribed up to the present $240,000 which was almost her objective. Madawaska had reached her objective, and he hoped Northumberland County would get down to business and reach hers. The different districts in West Northumberland had all been organized and the canvassers were faithfully doing their duty, but nevertheless they were not getting results, and he requested the persons present to devise some method, whereby they could secure more effective results. Northumberland West's objective was $350,000, and only $155,000 had so far been described. Mr. J. D. Creaghan, who had been chairman of the two previous Victory Loan Campaigns for Northumberland West said he was at the committee's service to do whatever he could, and he felt that the men who were interested in lumber should contribute largely to the loan. The lumbermen were particularly interested in the loan, as the money secured would go towards purchasing lumber next season, and this meant increased prosperity for all. The merchants should also assist as much as they possible could, and all citizens, no matter what their calling, should assist in every way possible. In concluding he stated that the committee could use him in any way that he would be of any service to them and they also could have the use of his automobiles if they required them. Mr. McGloan of St. John, said that a meeting was being held in St. John tonight, for the same purpose as this one was called for, and the Victory Loan Committee there were asking the employers to assist their employees to purchase bonds, and he thought it would be a good suggestion for the people of Newcastle to take up. Last year Newcastle was a little slow at first, but the citizens got busy and the result was that West Northumberland went over the top.

So far this year, Northumberland West has only subscribed 27% of its objective which was to say the least not very encouraging. A few meetings had been called, but the result obtained from them had been poor, and he felt that Mr. Burchill the chairman, had not been given the support by the citizens, which he deserved. The committee in charge of East Northumberland felt positive that they would secure their objective, but such was not the case with West Northumberland. The canvassers were being told, by those, whom they expected to subscribe liberally, that the investment did not warrant them subscribing, and he thought the time

Popular Stock Co Appears at Opera House

Commencing next Monday night Mr. H. Wilmot Young presents that always popular and versatile young star Miss Marjorie Adams and that favorite Company of players, the Young Adams Company in three of the strongest dramas and comedies ever produced on any stage. After an absence of several years, during which time Mr. Young was serving his country in an advisory capacity, he has organized one of the strongest assemblage of players that could be engaged including some of his former organization who have been here before.

Every performance will be given with complete scenic effects and includes such high class dramas, as "In Secret Service" a Romantic Military drama of the present period, in which Miss Adams has the strong emotional part of a frail girl fighting for her country. Another strong bill is All of a sudden Peggy. "As" Peggy—Miss Adams has a comedy part, directly the extreme opposite to her dramatic lines in "Secret Service" giving her vast opportunity to demonstrate her versatility and charming personality.

There is a smile or a broad laugh in every line of "All of a Sudden Peggy," for the farcical situations that arise during the action of the play are truly ludicrous. Another bill to be presented is "The Marriage Question." "How often "Oh how often" has that question been in the minds of our readers. The young Adams Co give an excellent performance of this far famed question, which is a problem the world over, in every clime and country.

Mr. Young personally appears at every performance having a strong part in each bill.

In addition to the opening play on Monday night, not to disappoint our theatre goers Mr. Richards, Manager of the Opera House has arranged to show the 14 "Episode of 'The Lightning Raider,'" which has been a special serial Monday nights. Thus the patrons of the Opera House on Monday night, will witness two shows—14 "Episode of Lightning Raider," and the opening performance of Young Adams Co. Special request is made to patrons to secure their seats early, and to attend the theatre on Monday evening before 8.15 p m so as not to obscure the view of those already seated while the picture is being screened.

In addition to the successful plays presented by Young Adams Co.—Special High Class Vaudeville between acts will be given and like the plays will be changed each night. Mr. Youngs Company should be greeted by a brightly through Monday night next.

had arrived when it was necessary to solicit applications from an economic and patriotic standpoint. In all of New Brunswick the attitude seemed to be, "let the other fellow do it," but this attitude was one which New Brunswickers should not indulge in and he hoped they would show the rest of Canada that N. B. would and could do her share. Cooperation of the merchants was absolutely necessary if they wished to make a success of the campaign and he felt that with the cooperation of the merchants there was no doubt but the objective would be obtained. Two $25,000 applications had been received today, along with economic and patriotic lines and he thought if this argument were used by the canvassers, many others would see their duty and subscribe liberally. Mr. D. J. Buckley agreed with the remarks of the other speakers, and he thought that the lumbermen should do all they possibly could to make the loan a success, but it was also the duty of every citizen to do his share as well. He thought if the idle money of Canada was given to the government, there was plenty of it to give a stimulus to business. Hon. J. P. Burchill, stated that it was an absolute necessity to make the loan a success. All the lumber shipped this season had been paid for out of the last Victory Loan, and if we wanted prosperity next year, the present loan must

11th Hour 11th Day 11th Month

His Majesty King George V. requests that, throughout the British Empire, where possible, at eleven o'clock on Tuesday, November 11th, 1919 all work cease for two minutes to celebrate the first anniversary of Armistice Day 1918 when the great war ended and peace was restored to the world.

THE TOWN OF NEWCASTLE

hopes to celebrate the day by announcing that evening, that Newcastle has subscribed $150,000 to the Victory Loan and won the Prince of Wales Flag by reaching the Town's objective.

It is confidently expected that our citizens will purchase Bonds before Tuesday evening and make the celebration the same success that our soldier boys from Newcastle gained after so nobly fighting and dying even up to the eleventh hour of November 11th, 1918.

Only $54,000 has been subscribed in Newcastle up to Saturday last. $100,000 more is needed to get our quota and win the Prince of Wales Honor Flag. We have only six days to do it. Last year Newcastle subscribed $248,100, winning the Honor Flag and Two Crowns. We can do it again and will.

be subscribed. Credits for the other countries must be established, and Canada had to do her part in establishing same, if she wished to have continued prosperity. He could not understand, why people hesitated in buying Victory Bonds, as the security was the best obtainable, and the investment a good one.

He felt positive the lumbermen were doing their share in subscribing liberally, and while the lumbermen would benefit because of the success of the loan, all other industries would benefit as well because what was good for one was good for all, and what was bad for lumber was bad for all, as the lumber industry was the backbone of the Maritime. It might be possible that the loan was launched at a bad season of the year, but he would strongly urge everyone to do all they possibly could to make the loan a success.

Personally he would do all he could and he hoped everyone else would do the same. Mr. D. S. Creaghan thought that if a good meeting was held in the Opera House on Sunday evening, and the situation fully explained that it would help to put some enthusiasm into the people.

Mr. J. D. Creaghan thought that if good rousing meetings were held throughout the different districts, that it would be a good means of instilling enthusiasm among the people.

Mr. A. L. Barry agreed with Mr. D. S. Creaghan's idea of holding a Sunday night meeting in the Opera House. He said that his experience in canvassing the merchants, was that they felt they needed their money in their business, but if they could be shown the necessity of buying bonds along patriotic and economic lines, he thought it would have a good effect and prompt them to subscribe more liberally.

Mr. John A. Creaghan, said that last year, the bulk of the money obtained was subscribed, during the last week of the drive, and this was helped by the formation of a local committee which went over the lists and assisted the canvassers.

Mr. Clara P. McCabe thought it was a good idea to form such a committee as they had last year, to go over the lists and assist the canvassers.

Mr. J. D. Creaghan said that last year they were more successful in getting applications, after the Banks had assured the people they would carry them along.

Mr. Putman stated that he had received instructions from Head Office that the Bank would advance 99% of an application, and he assured the meeting that anyone who came to him with a reasonable proposition, (Continued on page 4)

She Believes It Saved Her Life

Mrs. O'Brien Didn't Have A Single Well Day In Five Years—Tanlac Restores Her To Health

"I actually believe this Tanlac has saved my life." is the remarkable statement of Mrs. Grace O'Brien, who resides at 18 June St., Halifax, Nova Scotia, Canada.

"I hadn't seen a well day in five years until I took Tanlac she continued. "The agonies I suffered from stomach trouble made me almost wish I was dead many a time. In all those long years of suffering I haven't known what it was to enjoy a meal, and have gone for days at a time without touching real food, because I was afraid of the pain that I knew it would bring me. Even a piece of dry toast would upset me so that I would be in misery for hours, and when I tried liquid foods it would sour on my stomach. When I would try to eat, my food would feel like a rock in my stomach and would sour and form gas that rose up in my throat and almost cut off my breathing. Pains all through the pit of my stomach sometimes kept me awake at night walking the floor and finally I got to the place where I was so weak and nervous and run down that I couldn't even dress myself. When I would try to dress in the morning, I have fainted away many a time, as I would be so weak that I couldn't stand on my feet. If it had not been for my two daughters I don't know what I would have done, as they had to take care of me and the house too.

"The first bottle of Tanlac didn't seem to make much improvement in my condition, for I had suffered so long that my troubles were hard to reach. I began to feel like eating after the second bottle and as soon as I could eat and digest my food I felt myself getting stronger. I kept on until I have now taken four bottles and it is remarkable how I have improved. The pains through my stomach have disappeared entirely and the gas has quit forming. I have a good healthy appetite and can eat meat, onions, in fact anything I want and it builds me up and I enjoy every meal. My strength has come back until I can get around and do almost as much housework as my daughters can. I have gained ten pounds and am picking up all the time and when night comes I sleep without a pain and wake in the morning feeling like a different person. I really believe Tanlac has saved my life and I am glad to tell everybody about this wonderful medicine."

Tanlac is sold in Newcastle by E. J. Morris and in Red Bank by Wm M. Sullivan.

CANADA'S FUTURE DEPENDS ON LOAN

Steady Employment and Prosperity Hangs on Victory Loan.

Canada's future prosperity depends to a great extent upon the success of the Victory Loan. No country can exist upon trade within its own boundaries. Canada counts on the trade with Great Britain and other allied countries to keep the flood of good times in the country. The surplus products of the farm and the factory find their way across the seas. The revenue of the farmer and the manufacturer is dependent on this trade relationship being sustained. The employment of many hands depends on the orders that come to the firm. The pay envelope only comes with steady employment. Great Britain and overseas countries are still desirous of continuing trade relations, but, overwhelmed with war expenses, they must be given credits for the time being. The farmer and the manufacturer must be paid for their products and manufactured articles in cash. Therefore, Canada must finance the proposition to keep the tide of commerce coming this way. But in order to have the money on hand to do this great thing, Canada must borrow from her people. The Victory Loan offers bonds to subscribers paying 5 1/2 per cent. interest. The guarantee behind the bonds makes them an absolutely safe investment. Victory Bonds are accepted as collateral at any bank, and can easily be turned into money at a profit. It is then to the interests of every Canadian to subscribe for all the Victory Bonds he can, for it is profitable, it is patriotic, and it is necessary for the continued prosperity of the country.

CANADA NEEDS MONEY

War Expenditures Still to Be Met From Proceeds of Victory Loan.

The war is over and won; but Canada's main expenditures for war will not be complete until well on into 1920. The $610,000,000 raised last year has all been spent, $400,000,000 having been largely devoted to soldiers—to maintaining them, bringing them home, providing the necessary medical services, training them. Most of the balance of the loan was lent to Great Britain to enable her to buy our surplus products. And money is still necessary—for soldiers, for providing markets for our surplus products, for the needs of reconstruction. And that is why another Victory Loan is necessary. Canada still needs money, and needs it badly.

A Good Investment.

Speculation is one thing. Investment is another. The majority of citizens want an investment, not a speculation. And they want a safe investment. Victory Bonds fill that requirement as does no other investment. Because behind every bond there is the national wealth of Canada—a wealth so great that it staggers the imagination.

Canadian Bank Clearings.

That Canada is well able to support the Victory Loan is clearly shown by the Canadian bank clearings for the current year. They indicate that the year's total will exceed $15,000,000,000 compared with $13,775,000,000 in 1918. And the year's total clearings should be three times those of 1909.

Must Subscribe More

Dividing the people of Canada into three classes—the comparatively poor, the moderately wealthy, and the very wealthy—it would seem that if contributions to the Victory Loans constitute service to the nation, the moderately wealthy class is hardly doing its share. Of the money subscribed to the Victory Loan 1918, two hundred and seventy-one million dollars were in bonds of $5,000 and under, ninety-four millions in bonds of between $5,000 and $25,000, and three hundred and one million in bonds of $25,000 and over.

Be true to yourself. Buy Victory Bonds.

You did it before. You can do it again. Buy Victory Bonds.

Canada pledged her last man and her last dollar. Redeem that pledge in Victory Bonds.

If the fighting were still raging, you wouldn't hesitate to buy Victory Bonds.

To make the Victory Loan a success is a national obligation. It may be that you are the deciding factor.

If you are concerned about the future welfare of Canada, buy a Victory Bond and make it a sure thing.

Don't forget the future of your children. Lay a good foundation with a Victory Bond.

Would you lend a soldier $50 if you knew it would save his life? Buy Victory Bonds and keep the military hospitals up.

If you appreciate a good investment you will buy a Victory Bond.

You decide no one but yourself when you say you can't afford a Victory Bond.

THIS WEEK, NERVOUS MOTHER

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which added to my weak condition kept me worrying most of the time—and he said if I could not stop that, I could not get well. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I bought it and took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness."—Mrs. J. WORTHLINE, 2842 North Taylor St., Philadelphia Pa.

The majority of mothers nowadays overdo, there are so many demands upon their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down, nervous condition with headaches, back-ache, irritability and depression—and soon more serious ailments develop. It is at such periods in life that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will restore a normal healthy condition, as it did to Mrs. Worthline.

Not A Case For Cheese Paring

When Sir Thomas White, the former Finance Minister of Canada, was testifying before the Parliamentary Committee on Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment recently he dwelt on the importance of the 1919 Victory Loan to the country at large. He pointed out that the great problem today was to furnish credits to European countries that Canada must sell. It will be noted that he used the word "must," not "may." Take the single item of cheese. This country's exportable surplus of cheese for the last two years could not have been sold save that Canada first furnished credits. In 1917 Sir Thomas had to find $90,000,000 for this purpose and since then $75,000,000 was advanced. These advances were covered by the sums raised in the Victory Loans of the past two years. This means that $165,000,000 of one Canadian product alone was disposed of at a large profit, which would have been a drug on the market had Canada not been in a position to finance the necessary credits. The money spent on this one item of cheese came back through the cheese factories to the pockets of the farmers; and again to the merchant and manufacturer through the increased purchasing power of the farmer. Thus the benefits to Canada of the Victory Loans are as clearly demonstrated as the circulation of the blood in the human body. On the success or failure of the 1919 Victory Loan hangs the fate of credit process which brings so much back into the pockets of the Canadian community. This, altogether apart from its sound merits as an investment.

The Spirit of Democracy

We pride ourselves upon the democracy of Canada. There is equality of suffrage, equality of privilege before the law, equality of protection. The nation is self-governing and self-respecting. The great advantage of a square deal to the citizen comes with our form of Government. It carries with it a great responsibility. Each citizen bears a part of the national honor. Each citizen has a personal duty towards the State, all the more pressing because its performance is voluntary.

When war came the young men of military age admitted that duty by enlisting. The other right-thinking people who were detained at home met their duty by supporting heartily the national endeavor. Thus democratic government was justified by results. Canada won a name in the world for patriotic devotion.

For this reason, and considering that the Dominion faces one more crisis, a financial one arising out of the war, we have confidence that the Victory Loan 1919 will be heavily oversubscribed. The patriotic duty of buying Bonds overshadows even the personal advantage of the investment.

It is wise, of course, to consider the guarantee behind the Bonds, and to bear in mind that they yield 5 1/2 per cent. but it is the prevailing sense of personal obligation for the reputation of Canada that will sweep this great Loan to success. Canadians have the name of finishing whatever they undertake. They heartily approved the resolution of Parliament which brought Canada actively into the war. They will remember the responsibility are fulfilled.

Average Cost Of The Family Budget

According to the Dominion Labor Gazette the cost of living has not been worrying very much about the investigations of the Board of Commerce. In retail prices the average cost of the family budget of staple foods in some sixty cities of Canada at the middle of September was $14.33 as compared with $14.45 in the preceding month and $13.31 in September 1918. For small mercies the consumer will doubtless be thankful. In wholesale prices the index number based on the average prices for 272 commodities showed very little change in the general all level, being 301.4 for September as compared with 301.4 in August, 285.3 for September 1918, and 134.4 for September 1913. In wholesale prices there were increases in fruits, dairy products, sugar, hides, leather boots metals, building materials, fuel, furniture and raw furs. There were decreases in grain, live stock, meats and fish.

In retail prices the chief changes for the month were lower prices in meats and potatoes. There were slight advances in eggs, milk, butter, rolled oats, rice, evaporated fruits and sugar. Coal, wood and rents continued upwards.

Bacon was 55 cents in St. John and 50 cents in Fredericton and Moncton. Sirloin steak was quoted at 45 cents in St. John, 40 cents in Moncton and 35 cents in Fredericton. Fresh pork chops were quoted at 40 cents in St. John and 35 cents in Halifax, Moncton and Fredericton. Beef, rib roasts, prime was quoted at 36 cents in St. John, 38 cents in Halifax and 28 cents in Moncton and 25 in Fredericton.

Policy Regarding Pure Bred Rams

The value of the pure bred sire has been frequently demonstrated by experiments conducted at various agricultural colleges and experiment stations. It has been decided that the best way to prove the value of pure bred rams is to encourage every sheep raiser, who has not used a pure bred ram, to use his own flock to demonstrate for himself the value of this practice. Pamphlet No. 19 "Information Concerning the Policy of the Live Stock Branch of the Department of Agriculture Regarding Pure Bred Rams," which may be secured free on application to the Publication Branch, Ottawa, states that the Dominion Department of Agriculture will grant to bona fide applicants who comply with the regulations a sum of $5.00 annually for two years. These premiums totaling $10 will cover a considerable portion of the difference in the cost price of a scrub ram and a pure bred registered ram. Premiums will be paid on not more than four rams to any individual breeder. Regular forms to be used in making application under this policy are contained in Pamphlet No. 19.

Every dollar of the proceeds of the Victory Loan 1919 will be spent in Canada.

C.P.R.'S NEW RECORD

The re-employment of returned soldiers has been carried out by the C.P.R. so wholeheartedly that, according to the official records up to the end of August, actually more returned soldiers have been given employment than left the Company for service overseas. The exact figures are as follows:

Total reported as joining the Army	10,567
Dead	1,200
Wounded	1,572
Re-employed in the service	5,121
Other soldiers given employment	5,343
Total soldiers given employment to date	10,567

In finding employment for returned soldiers, the C.P.R. has found by experience that in most cases it is advisable to re-employ them in the same department as that in which they worked previous to enlistment. The freight handler who has ambitions to become a dining car waiter is not encouraged to change his vocation unless he can prove that he learned something about waiting, for instance, at an Officers' mess during his military life. His military experience has probably made him a better man than before for handling freight but has not qualified him for the skilled trade of a dining car waiter. Baggage men who have served in the Army come back as a rule all the better for their experience, but the Army training has not qualified them to be sleeping car conductors or ticket clerks, and if they prove to be misfits at a new job the only result is friction and discontent. The general experience, however, is that the normal returned man who goes back to his old or a similar job is all right, indeed is often improved by the discipline and teamwork which he has learnt in the Army.

The policy of the C.P.R. has been to find a position at least as good as the position given up, and this policy has been carried out in the higher ranks of the service as well as in the lower ranks. Thus:

- Mr. T. S. Acheson who was employed as General Agricultural Agent at Winnipeg, enlisted in October 1915, was re-employed in the same capacity on January 1st, 1919.
- Mr. G. W. Curtis, who was employed as Industrial Agent at Montreal, enlisted in November 1916, was re-employed January 1st, 1919 in the same capacity.
- Mr. M. L. Duffy, who was Chief Clerk, Freight Department, at London, England, enlisted October 1914, was re-employed March 1st, 1919 as Agent at Glasgow.
- Mr. F. A. L. Gascoigne, who was Superintendent Car Service, Montreal, enlisted July 1915, resumed duty as Secretary Treasurer of the Canadian Pacific Ocean Services Ltd., Montreal, in October 1918.
- Mr. Gerald Hiam, who was District Freight Agent at Fort William, enlisted in June 1915, and returned to duty on March 15th, 1919, as District Freight Agent, at Cleveland.
- Mr. W. M. Kirkpatrick, who was Assistant Freight Traffic Manager, at Montreal, and enlisted in September 1915, resumed duty on February 1st 1919, as Assistant Freight Traffic Manager at Winnipeg.

Decks Cleared for Victory Loan Campaign

Three weeks of active campaigning on behalf of the Victory Loan 1919 commenced on Monday morning. The continuance of Canada's prosperity depends largely upon the success of this Loan. Every person in the Dominion is directly interested. The canvassers who will cover the country from coast to coast are entitled to receive the heartiest co-operation from all classes of the community. Canadians are called upon to lend their money to the nation without restraint of politics or fine distinction of creed or party. They will all benefit by the loan. This National Service is completed with a lucrative business investment in which all who possibly can must participate.

The public is offered $300,000,000 of 5 1/2% gold bonds at par, bearing interest from Nov. 1, 1919 in two maturities, 5 years and 15 years, the choice of which is optional with the subscriber. The interest will be payable half yearly, without charge at any branch in Canada of any chartered bank on May 1, and November 1. The denominations of the bonds are $50, $100, $500 and $1,000.

Subscriptions may be paid in full at the time of application or any of the following instalment dates:—10% on application, 20% Dec. 9, 1919, 20% Jan. 9, 1920, 20% Feb. 10, 1920 and 31.20% March 9, 1920. The latter includes 30% balance of principal and 1.21% representing accrued interest at 5 1/2% from Nov. 1, 1919 to due date of the respective instalments.

A full half year's interest will be paid on May 1, 1920, making the cost of the bonds 100 and interest. Considered from any angle Victory Bonds are an excellent business investment.

All the money raised by the Victory Loan 1919 will be spent in Canada. It will be used to pay indebtedness incurred and to meet expenditure to be made in connection with demobilization, (including the authorized war service gratuity to our soldiers, land settlement loans and other purposes connected with their re-establishment into civil life), for capital outlay upon shipbuilding, and other national undertakings forming part of Canada's reconstruction programme, and for the establishment of any necessary credits for the purchase of grain, foodstuffs, timber and other products. On the latter depends the continuance of the present prosperous conditions relating to agricultural and industrial pursuits from one end of the Dominion to the other.

All details in connection with the loan will be cheerfully explained by the canvassers. It would be impossible to name a safer form of investment, or one that is more convenient, as well as paying an attractive rate of interest. Its security consists of Canada's "promise to pay" backed by the whole resources and income of the Dominion.

Forms of application may be obtained from any official canvasser, from any Victory Loan Committee, or from any branch bank. Subscribers will assist materially in the good work by getting their subscriptions in early. It is highly desirable that this Victory Loan should establish a record and it will if the whole people help as they should do.

HARDWOODS CAN BE USED IN PULP MAKING

The Department of Lands and Mines have received from the Laurentide Pulp and Paper Company of Quebec information concerning the results of experiments carried on by it in the use of hardwoods in the manufacture of wood-pulp. Hardwoods such as birch, beech, maple, etc. were experimented with and contrary to the general opinion were found to be suitable for the manufacture of excellent grades of pulp. The process of manufacture of course had to be varied to some extent.

The information has been received with great interest here as hardwoods constitute some thirty percent of the forest growth of New Brunswick. Hon. E. A. Smith, Minister of Lands and Mines is greatly interested in the matter and it will be followed up with a view to having hardwoods utilized in this province for the making of pulp. Hereafter hardwoods have been used chiefly for fuel. If they can be made into pulp the value of hardwood lands will increase greatly.

PRODUCTION

British labor leaders are opposing "direct action" and exposing the fallacy of under-production. Speaking before the Industrial League of Birmingham recently on "Labor in its Relation to Industry," Mr. J. R. Clynes, M.P., urged the employment of constitutional methods in industrial disputes and warned workers that they could make no more grave mistake than to encourage under-production. Scarcity might cause some little inconvenience to the rich, but it could cause real and continued privation to the masses of people whose purchasing power was limited. Some forms of profiteering could be punished by the law, but workmen who deliberately restricted output, or who failed to accept any form of industrial development which could make their labor more productive, were punishing themselves and their class with-out knowing it. If profiteering was conscious pilfering "a canny" was an ignorant act which deprived many people of their real needs. It inflicted no loss upon the favored class, which wherever it was practised, it might be designed to punish. It was a sentence passed upon the innocent by those who might not know they were guilty of a wrong. Lessened production meant the greater prospect of unemployment. It impeded recovery from the industrial dislocation which the war inevitably caused. It kept up prices, and lowered nothing but the workman's standard of existence. It was in the highest degree harmful to the general public interest, but in a special degree under-production was the enemy of the masses whose pressing needs required more abundant supply of all forms of material for house-building, for food production, the manufacture of every kind of house requisite, clothing and the common daily needs of existence.

The folly of lowering production was also emphasized by the British Prime Minister in his recent declaration of government policy. He declared that "there never was a more fatal error, a more fatal fallacy" than labor's belief that "the less you work the more work there will be for others". "You have only got to look at the coal trade," he said. "The reduction in the output of coal is at the present moment depriving people of employment. If it goes on, it will throw hundreds of thousands out of employment in the country. You have only got to work it out to its inevitable consequence and you will find that deliberately to reduce output means in the end all-round unemployment on a gigantic scale. It is important therefore, that fallacy should be exploded, especially by those who speak with authority to labor. It is a very dangerous policy to pursue and encourage, and a disastrous one to labor. The price of food and the cost of material will go up, and, what is still worse, we will not get food for this country, because you cannot live forever on borrowed food. You will not get raw material to the country. There will be no work for those who manipulate and transform and transfigure it into the beautiful thing that British hands can transfigure any material into. It is a disastrous policy for all classes. That is why I appeal to employers and to workmen to get rid of this ruinous fallacy which seems to possess the minds of hundreds of thousands at the present time."

The Application of Ground and Dried Sea Weed

When, on account of war conditions and the consequent scarcity of German potash, efforts were being made to secure potash from other sources, the Experimental Farms made a test of the use of seaweed as a source of potash. To put this material into a portable and commercial form it had to be dried and ground. This work was done in an experimental way on the Nova Scotia coast and some of the product was sent to the Fredericton Station for test.

Both field and plot tests were made with potatoes—

In the field test an area with an application of 1000 lbs. of a 4-10 fertilizer per acre and no seaweed gave 178 bushels per acre. A similar area with the same amount of the same fertilizer and 1500 lbs. of ground seaweed gave 230 bushels per acre. A third area with 18 tons stable manure and 750 lbs. seaweed per acre gave 242 bushels per acre, and a fourth area with 18 tons per acre of stable manure alone gave 232 bushels per acre. Green mountain potatoes were grown and it was noticed that the plants on the seaweed area stood up greener later in the season than where no potash was applied.

Calculating the cost of the seaweed at $15.00 per ton, for which it was stated it could be landed at Fredericton, there was a credit of 52 bushels for the 1500 lbs. of seaweed used where only commercial fertilizer was applied. As the seaweed cost but $11.25 and the extra potatoes were worth at least $1.00 per bushel this test showed a splendid profit from the use of the seaweed.

When stable manure was used however the increase of only ten bushels per acre for 750 lbs. of seaweed showed only a profit of $4.38 indicating that the potash in the stable manure supplied the needs of the crop to a considerable extent, and emphasizing the value of stable manure for the potato crop as against a non-potash commercial fertilizer. The following year on the oat crop there was no practical difference as between the different applications—nor was any difference noticeable in the succeeding clover crop.

In the plot tests of one-tenth acre each with Empire State potatoes, seaweed at the rate of 1000 lbs. per acre gave a yield of 255 bushels per acre and at the rate of 2000 lbs per acre, 257 bushels per acre, while the check plot with no fertilizer whatever gave 192 bushels per acre. The succeeding wheat crop was so badly diseased with Glume spot that the yield was almost negligible and not at all to be relied upon for a satisfactory test. Seaweed at the rate of 1000 lbs. per acre gave 9 bushels and 20 lbs. per acre, at the rate of 2000 lbs., 7 bushels and 40 lbs. while the check plot gave 5 bushels and 30 lbs. per acre.

While the above data are of too limited a scope from which to draw comprehensive conclusions, the evidence, so far as it goes, shows that if seaweed can be dried and ground and transported for $15.00 per ton, it would have a place, and a profitable place among fertilizing materials.

Near the shore where the seaweed can be had for the hauling its almost universal use with satisfactory results confirms its value as a fertilizer.

Conference Splits on Collective Bargaining

Collapse of the Industrial Conference upon the language of a resolution endorsing what is known as collective bargaining "serve to bring the attention of the public to one phase of the long-standing struggle between employers and employed apparently not clearly understood. Out of this lack of understanding has risen criticism of the employers' group in the conference. Effort is made to blame that group for the failure of the conference. What are the facts?

The question of "collective bargaining" and closed shop first came before the United States Supreme Court for judicial determination in the case of Coppage vs. Kansas in January, 1915. The Kansas Legislature passed a law prohibiting an employer from making a condition of employment that the employed shall not join a labor union. The court by a vote of 6 to 3 upheld the law. On December 10, 1917, the United States Supreme Court handed down an opinion in the case of Hitchman Coal and Coke Company vs. Mitchell in which the majority of six Justices said:—"Whatever may be the advantages of collective bargaining, it is not bargaining at all, in any just sense, unless it is voluntary on both sides."

On April 8, 1918, President Wilson created the War Labor Board. The first of the "Declarations of Principles" adopted by this Board was:—"The right of workers to organize in trades unions and to bargain collectively through chosen representatives is recognized and affirmed." Former President Taft and Frank P. Walsh were the first and chairman of the board. Every decision of this Board setting out principles between employers and employees conceded to organized labor "during the period of war" the right of collective bargaining. This concession was directly opposed to the decisions of State and federal courts, and was recognized as a war emergency measure. The close of the war brought employers and employees face to face with court decisions on the one hand and War Labor Board decisions on the other. Naturally organized labor demanded "no backward step" from the War Labor Board decisions. Employers stood on the decisions of the courts.

It is unfortunate that the Industrial Conference could not reach a harmonious conclusion on this question. However, it is neither fair nor just to blame any group for the failure. The difficulty lies in the interpretation of "collective bargaining." After the labor group left the conference the employers' group was invited to leave. The final act was the statement issued by the employers' group endorsing "collective bargaining," provided it is defined clearly as to its applicability." This statement of the employers' group calls attention to the fact that "the right of collective bargaining is interpreted by the labor group in one way and one way only."

The effort was to commit the conference to support this brand of bargaining.

The tone and language of the statement of the employers' group to the public is fair and calm. It absolves that group from the responsibility of failure to reach a common ground. At the same time it offers no solution of the problem, which may require additional decisions of the Supreme Court made in the light of existing industrial conditions.

Profit and Loss on The Poultry Plant

The profit or loss on the poultry plant—more than in any other department on the farm—depends on attention to details.

The poultry keeper who does things in the usual way very often makes as fair profit but it is the poultry keeper who carefully attends to the little things that make the greatest success.

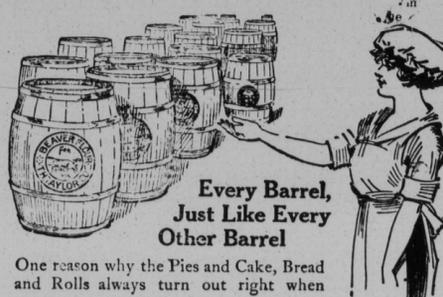

With the ever increasing cost of production every possible source of revenue should be developed. The high class of table egg—infertile—put up in neat packages to command a few cents per dozen over the ordinary new laid; the early hatched chicks to have well matured pullets for winter layers; the early hatched cockerels, other than those required for breeding purposes, properly finished and marketed as broilers; the later hatched chicks held for roasters, crate fatted and sold at a time when the market is not glutted; the hens, culled, fattened and sold early in the season at the time of high prices; besides these usual sources of revenue, attention should be paid to the eggs for hatching, and the day-old chick business. These branches and particularly the latter offer great fields for development.

The best of the hens that are not required for next year's breeding may be sold for breeders at a considerable advance over the price that could be obtained for table poultry.

It is by paying special attention to the putting of the product up in an attractive form that the profit is increased. The extra few cents per dozen for the eggs and the increase in price for stocks is just so much more profit. In crate feeding not only is the weight being increased, but the quality, as well, so that a higher price per pound may be secured.

A little carelessness at any time of the year may prove disastrous to profits, incubator lamp is not properly trimmed or the incubator regulator is knocked out of adjustment—Result—a poor hatch. The brooder stove is overlooked some night—Result—a lot of chilled chicks. The poultry house is not disinfected regularly in hot weather—Result—a house infested with mites—a flock without production. The hens are not culled and half of them are either low or non-producers—Result—the profit produced by the layers used to support the non-layers. There are one hundred and one ways in which the profit may be turned into loss and it is only constant attention to the apparently little things that success is assured.

The Victory Loan 1919 is a straight business proposition which appeals to every person with money to invest.

CANADA TO THE FORE.

The manner in which Canada has come into the limelight as a source of Europe's food supply, in comparison with the days remembered by men still young, was demonstrated the other day in a cable to the Montreal Gazette from its London correspondent. The despatch predicted a prospect for quick disposal of Canada's exportable surplus of wheat this year, and gave some facts as to its ultimate destination. Great Britain for instance in addition to making arrangements through the Royal Wheat Commission for the supply of smaller countries like Greece and Poland will want one million bushels for herself. Belgium alone will be an enormous consumer of Canadian wheat. She has negotiated for no less than two hundred thousand tons, the cash value of which runs into many millions.

It is clear however, that it is up, not merely to the Canadian producer, but to the Canadian with money in his pocket to conserve these markets, on which our present and future prosperity largely depends. This wheat will be bought on credits protected by the Government of Canada, and the investing public of Canada must furnish the cash on which these purchases can be financed. That is one of the main purposes of the Victory Loan of 1919. Canada cannot meet her other pressing obligations and also provide these credits, unless the people of Canada generously over-subscribe the new bond issue. It is just as inevitable as taxes.

SEIZING THE OPPORTUNITY.

Among the British statesmen who have risen to fame during the late war the utterances of few command more respect than those of Sir Auckland Geddes, Minister of National Service and Reconstruction in the Lloyd George cabinet. Speaking of Great Britain's trade problems the other day he said:

"Never have there been greater opportunities for trade, and still greater opportunities will present themselves in future. Nothing is more important for the country than to appreciate the outlook for trade, and to seize the opportunities within the country's grasp. But we must have courage and determination and must summon the necessary unanimity. Every nation is short something that Great Britain can supply."

Change the phrase "Great Britain" to "Canada" and these words apply with equal force to this country. Every nation is short something Canada can supply, and it is not merely important, but imperative for us to appreciate the outlook for trade. Our export trade can only be maintained at its present level and increased by the continuance of the system of international credits which the Victory Loan 1919 will make possible. Canada is to seize her opportunity this Victory Loan must be pressed through to success, by everyone who is interested in the future welfare of this country.

EVERYONE'S INTERESTS

INTERLINKED
There are perhaps some persons who, in reading of what the Victory Loan system is for the farmer, ask where they come in, and assume that our great sales of agricultural interest alone. No conclusion could be more short sighted. Every measure that assures a system of wealth to the producing community means good times for other classes. Canada is able to maintain the fabric of her civilization by the sale of her surplus products. The proceeds of the nation's main industry are ultimately distributed throughout the whole community. The farmer cannot buy from the merchant unless he has got ready money. The merchant cannot do business with other merchants and with manufacturers unless he has profits obtained by sales to others. The professional classes which live by serving the commercial and producing classes, cannot receive remuneration unless money is flowing freely. The financiers who live by monetary transactions are usually obliged to shut up shop when money ceases to flow as it did for a time in the panic conditions that followed the beginning of the great war.

So it goes, all along the line, whatever a man's calling in life may be. He cannot live save by the circulation of money; and the flow of money can only be continued by the maintenance of trade, and the sale of surplus products. It is these great essential economic processes which the Victory Loan of 1919 will stimulate; and which will begin to fail if it is not an immense success.

11th Hour 11th Day
11th Month

he would be pleased to give it his consideration.

His Worship Mayor D. P. Doyle thought a good plan would be to have two prominent gentlemen make speeches at the Opera House each night for the rest of the campaign, the said speakers to fully explain to the audience the advisability of placing the money now in the Saving's Bank drawing 3% interest, into Victory Bonds, from which they would derive 5 1/2% interest. He felt that good results would be obtained if this were done, and if meetings were held in the outlying districts, explaining this feature, he had no doubt but that much better results would be obtained. It was moved seconded and carried that Hon. J. P. Burchill be invited to speak at the Opera House on Saturday evening. Mr Burchill accepted the invitation.

Mr. Howard Williston thought the idea of speaking at the Opera House each night during the rest of the campaign a good one. He said this had been done throughout the United States during the war, along educational lines, and it had proved a good success. He was surprised to hear that the North and South west districts had contributed so small an amount, but felt positive, if the matter was more fully explained to the people of these districts, much better results would be forth coming.

"Mr. D. A. Jackson, the secretary stated that only one return as yet had been received from the canvasser of the north and south west districts who had informed him that he expected to have good returns when he returned on Saturday.

It was moved by Mr. J. A. Creaghan seconded by Mr. D. J. Buckley and carried, that a committee of ten be chosen to go over the lists and assist the canvassers, the same as a like committee had done last year.

It was moved seconded and carried that the selection of the members of the above committee be left in the hands of the chairman Mr. G. P. Burchill.

On motion the meeting adjourned.

King George's View of William

London, Nov. 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—King George gave his view of the former German Emperor in the course of an audience with a missionary from Armenia, Archibald Forder. When the missionary told the story of his captivity of four years, saying that the troubles had all been instigated by the Germans, the King replied:

"Well, they are finished now. The Kaiser has had to run away from his own country. He is well punished for all he did."

Health For The Baby

The baby of today is the man or woman of tomorrow. Thus the success of the future man or woman depends upon the baby's present welfare. If the baby is sickly and ill nourished it is not to be expected that he will grow into a strong, active man who will hold his own in the business world a few years hence. Mothers it is a duty you owe the future to keep your little ones well now. This can be easily done if Baby's Own Tablets are kept in the house. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach and thus make healthy and strong. Concerning them Mrs. W. Orser, Elginburg, Ont. writes:—"I have a fine healthy boy three years old and have used Baby's Own Tablets for him ever since he was a small baby. I certainly think them a splendid medicine." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Nazimova Production At Happy Hour

Nazimova, conceded to be the most fascinating and talented actress on the screen will be seen in a thrilling production "Eye for Eye," at the Happy Hour Theatre Wednesday night. This play is a vivid drama of the Orient and the great star will be seen in the role of Hassouna, a girl of the desert.

The picture was taken from the famous play "L'Occident," written by the noted Belgian dramatist, Henry Kistemaecker, and adapted for the use of the screen by June Mathis and Albert Capellani. Mr. Capellani, who is a distinguished French Director, made the production under the personal supervision of Maxwell Karger.

The story is that of an Arabian girl, fiery and beautiful, who lives with her tribe in a city of tents on the edge of the desert. Duty calls a young French naval officer in their encampment and here he is made prisoner. Hassouna falls in love with him and releases him—later aiding in his escape. When the loss of the prisoner is discovered she confesses her help in his escape and for this act is condemned to death, the Arabs abandoning her to the desert to perish from thirst and starvation.

The beautiful girl is rescued but faces a fate worse than death—she is sold to a travelling circus as a dancing girl, and finds herself in the hands of a brutal master.

The story is vital and absorbing—following the life of this passionate and untamed girl of the desert. Later she becomes a member of the family of the man whose life she saved and becomes involved in the intrigue which is rife in his family. All the passions of human nature are displayed in this stirring drama of Oriental and Occidental life—love, hate, jealousy, deceit, treachery and revenge—all have their turn in this gripping and amazing play. Nazimova rises to the heights of her superb emotional art in this glowing drama of the Far East.

The cast which surrounds the distinguished actress was carefully chosen by Mr. Capellani with a view to their real fitness for the several parts they were called upon to portray. Charles Bryant, the noted English actor, is the leading man of the production and will be seen in the role of Captain Cadriere, the French Officer who falls in love with Hassouna. Donald Gallagher plays Ensign Arnault and others of the cast are Sally Crute, E. H. Fernandes, John Richard and Miriam Battista, who plays the tiny sister of the star.

The play was translated from the original French by Mrs. Nina Lewton, a sister of Madam Nazimova.

Suggestion From Inspector Wilson

In order to do away with a great deal of overlapping in the administration of the Prohibition Act in the province and to make the Act more easily and more satisfactorily carried out, Rev. W. D. Wilson, chief inspector, has suggested to the Provincial Government that the province be divided into sub-districts, each under an assistant chief inspector who would be directly responsible to the chief inspector. Each of these assistants would look after the various inspectors in his own district, allotting to each area in which he would function and generally supervise the work.

At the present time all the inspectors even in the most outlying and inaccessible districts, are directly responsible to the chief and he is called upon at times to visit these places when necessity demands. The new plan suggested is intended to have the assistant carry out this work, except where the presence of the chief inspector is desirable.

A few years from now you will be mighty glad you bought Victory Bonds.

Save your Hair! Get a small bottle of Danderine right now—Also stops itching scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scourge. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store. You surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine. Save your hair! Buy it!

Amended Claim Against Tennant Is For $200,000

In the case of the King against William B. Tennant, owing to disclosures made in patriotic potato investigation, the plaintiff, in this case is seeking to amend a statement of claim by alleging that the defendant, in order to induce the late Hon. George J. Clarke then premier of the province, who was acting as agent for his majesty in connection with the Valley railway matter, to give a contract for the construction of a portion of the road to the Nova Scotia Construction Company in which Mr. Tennant is interested, promised to pay on Mr. Clarke's order a large sum of money; that the contract was given and that the money was paid; something over $30,000 to Mr. Cumer, then president of the railway company; $10,000 to the Frederickian Cleaner; $6,000 for an election in Carleton county and other amounts to various persons; that in consequence of this the railway company lost the difference between the amount which the Nova Scotia Construction Company was to receive and the amount which could have been obtained if the work were done by other contractors then ready to do it and the plaintiff claims $200,000 as total loss. The application for amendment was delayed owing to an appeal to the supreme court of the case against Mr. Fleming in which certain legal questions were involved, similar to some which arise in this case. The argument along these proposed amendments was heard some time ago by Mr. Justice White who has the matter now under consideration. This case may be tried in December. King vs J. K. Fleming.

In the case of the King against J. K. Fleming, application will be made before His Honor Chief Justice McKeown by counsel for the government for an order that a commission be issued to take evidence of A. R. Gould at Presque Isle and certain officials of the Prudential Trust Company in Montreal. The chief justice has now under consideration the question as to what interrogation the plaintiff shall have a right to administer, to be answered on oath by the defendant. An effort is being made to have the case ready for trial on December 16. —Telegraph.

E.G. Drury Next Ontario Premier

Toronto, Oct. 29.—E. C. Drury is to be the next Premier of Ontario, succeeding Sir William Hearst, Mr. Drury was the unanimous choice of the United Farmers of Ontario and the Labor representatives in the new legislature at their joint conference at the U. F. O headquarters here this afternoon. It is understood that the meeting was very harmonious and that there was an indication of the two groups pulling well together in the House, though both the U. F. O and Labor will retain their group feature to a considerable extent.

Premier-elect Drury said to-night that the new government was practically composed, that all the portfolios had been allocated, and that the government would be ready on short notice to take over the reins from Sir William Hearst and his cabinet. Mr. Drury said he was going home to-morrow, to await the call to return to Toronto to accept from the Lieutenant-Governor the responsibilities of the premiership. He intimated that this would probably take place in a very short time, as he understood Sir William Hearst had been merely waiting for information as to whom he should suggest to the Lieutenant Governor as his successor before vacating.

Ten other names of United Farmers were mentioned at the conference this afternoon as candidates for the U. F. O leadership and premiership including that of J. J. Morrison, secretary of the U. F. O and one of its founders.

It is understood that no vote was taken and that all the gentlemen named retired in favor of Mr. Drury. As an evidence of the unanimity in the choice of Mr. Drury as leader, the Canadian Press was handed a resolution that was moved by P. Hennaan, U. F. O member-elect for Kenora, and seconded by R. A. Hughes, Toronto treasurer of the Independent Labor Party, the resolution being expressive of hearty endorsement of Mr. Drury as "leader of the Farmer-Labor party."

Deposits Grow For New Loan

There is stimulus for Victory Loan workers in the statement of the Canadian chartered banks for September. It shows another substantial increase in savings bank deposits, amounting to $30,000,000. This makes a total now of $1,227,000,000 or a gain of no less than $189,000,000 in the course of the year, and a gain of $30,000,000 over the month of August 1919.

Taking into consideration the fact that the banks are encouraging the withdrawal of deposits to buy Victory Bonds, canvassers have in this official report good material upon which to work.

With Savings amounting to $1,227,000,000 to their credit in the banks or more than four times the amount aimed at by the new Victory Loan and a whole-hearted appreciation of the patriotic and useful purposes to which the money is to be put Canadians may be relied upon to take the objective of the Loan with the greatest enthusiasm.

Sensation In Diamond Case

Moncton, N. B., Nov. 4.—Something of a sensation has been created in court circles on account of the mysterious disappearance of the jewel box in connection with the Moncton diamond robbery case to come before the Supreme Court at Dorchester this week. In August last, three thousand dollars' worth of diamonds were stolen from Melanson & Company's jewelry store at Moncton, and a little later a Chinaman named San Toi, alias Brown, and his white woman companion were arrested at Sydney charged with the robbery. Suspicion was attached to the pair on account of the finding of the stolen jewel box in a Moncton boarding house from which San Toi and his alleged white wife had made a hasty departure shortly after the robbery. The jewel box was regarded as the main link in the chain of circumstantial evidence against the accused. The jewel box was taken to Dorchester at the opening of the court at Dorchester last week and placed among other documentary evidence for the use of the crown in other cases, in the barristers' room in the court house. Recently it was missing, and a diligent search has failed to reveal its whereabouts. The result is that the crown, when the Chinaman's case comes up will likely be minus its piece of evidence. Meantime the disappearance of the jewel case created a stir among the Crown officials which will develop into the sensation of a diamond robbery trial.

EX-KAISER TO SHOOT HIMSELF.

Make Your Dreams Come True

Fond parents dream of a bright future for their children.

—or even partly true—requires foresight, planning and money.

They dream of the literary and musical education they are going to give their daughter, and of the high position she will take in her sphere of womanhood.

To provide the money what plan so wise as to buy Victory Bonds for each child?

They dream of the education they are going to give their son and vision him some day as a clergyman, a famous lawyer, an eminent physician, a prominent financier, or a captain of industry.

Thousands of parents bought Victory Bonds for their children in 1917 and 1918.

Surely you will be among the thousands of loving parents who will buy Victory Bonds for their children—this year?

But to make these dreams come true

Victory Bonds may be bought on instalments at such easy terms that every parent who so wishes, may buy.

Buy Victory Bonds For Your Children

Issued by Canada's Victory Loan Committee in co-operation with the Minister of Finance of the Dominion of Canada.

Get on a train and SEE YOUR SECURITY

If you were to board a train at Halifax or Vancouver and ride for 3,500 miles across this broad country—you would see something of the security behind the Victory Bonds. You would ride for a week—but even then you would only see a narrow strip of Canada's hundreds of millions of acres—a country nearly twice as large as all Europe.

Protect Fruit Trees From Mice

Thousands of trees are injured in Canada every year by mice, and in the newer districts a large number by rabbits also. All this could be prevented if the farmer or fruit grower would use the information available and protect his trees from mice. Some years there is less injury than others, and this fact leads to carelessness and when a bad year comes the trees are unprotected.

While the depredations from mice and rabbits in winter vary from one year to another, depending on the scarcity or abundance of food, the number of mice which are in the vicinity, and the character is in sod, and when there is rubbish lying about; hence the latter should be removed before the winter sets in. As mice may be expected in greater or less numbers every winter, young trees should be regularly protected against their ravages. Mice usually begin working on the ground under the snow, and when they come to a tree they will begin to gnaw it if it is not protected. A small mound of soil from eight to twelve inches in height raised about the base of the tree will often prevent their injuring the tree, and even snow tramped about the tree has been quite effective, but the cheapest and surest practice is to wrap the tree with ordinary building paper, the price of which is small. Tar paper is also effective, but trees have been injured by using it, and it is well to guard against this when building paper will do as well. After the paper is wrapped around the tree and tied, a little earth should be put about the lower end to prevent the mice from beginning to work there, as, if they get a start, the paper will not stand in their way. It may be stated, however, that among several thousand young trees which have been wrapped with building paper for years at the Experimental Farm, Ottawa, there have been practically no instances where the mice have gnawed through the paper to get to the tree. The use of a wire protector, or one made of tin or galvanized iron, is economical in the end, as they are durable.

There are a number of washes and poisons recommended for the protection of fruit trees and the destruction of the mice and rabbits, but none of these is very satisfactory, as, if the mice or rabbits are numerous, the poison has not sufficient effect upon them to prevent injury altogether. The following method of poisoning has been found fairly successful for mice, but rabbits are very difficult to deal with.

Make a mixture of one part, by weight, of arsenic with three parts of corn meal. Nail two pieces of board, each six feet long and six inches wide, together so as to make a trough. Invert this near the trees to

German Big Gun the Prize

A German field gun, brought to Canada by the boys who chased the Hun across the Rhine, will be given the county in New Brunswick making the greatest percentage of increase over its objective in the Victory Loan drive.

T. H. Estabrooks, chairman of the provincial committee, also promises the sum of one hundred dollars towards a suitable foundation for the gun. In addition, there will be presented a brass tablet on which will be engraved the names of the officers and canvassers of the winning county organization—a record for posterity.

It is the intention of the War Trophies Commission, which is making the gift, that the gun shall be mounted in the shire town of the county, as a fitting memorial of the heroic work of the boys overseas, and the support given by the workers at home.

The prize is one worth striving for and worth assisting the home team to win.

EXPORT OF WHEAT DEPENDS ON LOAN

The bountiful harvests of Canada's farms would lose their surplus market without the working capital supplied by the Victory Loan.

This is emphasized by an interesting estimate of the wheat crop for this year. The Government figures are 193,000,000 bushels or about 4,000,000 more than last year. According to economic experts Canada requires for home consumptive purposes approximately 40,000,000 bushels of wheat and for seeding purposes about 35,000,000 making a total of 75,000,000 bushels.

Allowing for the carry-over of a few million bushels, it will be possible for Canada to export about 118,000,000 bushels in 1919-20, compared with 103,611,000 in the last twelve months.

This is good news for Canadians who realize how dependent all classes in the community are upon the country's exportable produce. Canada's surplus wheat will find a ready market in Europe where the production of wheat is down. Great Britain and Ireland will require at least 180,000,000 bushels or about 70,000,000 more than Canada has to export.

As Sir Thomas White, ex-Finance Minister of the Dominion, pointed out some weeks ago Great Britain is Canada's greatest market for her surplus wheat. But the pressure of war upon the finances of the Mother Country has been so heavy that unfortunately she is not in a position to pay ready cash for the supplies which she needs; Canada can only sell her surplus wheat at high prices in the British market if the Victory Loan 1919 is over-subscribed. At least $200,000,000 will be required by Canada for credits to Great Britain for the purchase of her surplus wheat. The circulation of this big sum will mean prosperity for a vast number of Canadians, if they will lend their profits and their savings with enthusiasm and unity.

EXPORT OF SUGAR HAS BEEN STOPPED

Ottawa, Oct. 31.—The sugar shortage in Canada promises to become more acute, owing to non-arrival of raw sugar, consequent upon the longshoremen's strike at New York.

The Canadian Trade Commission has taken a firm stand against further export of sugar and also advise that as a temporary measure the demand for sugar for domestic use should be met by the refiners before manufacturers of products containing sugar are supplied.

Beaverbrook Attacks Sir Eric Geddes

By Lord Beaverbrook.

The end of the railway strike will naturally turn the public mind in the direction of drawing conclusions from its result. What are the lessons which the strike has taught all who were willing or unwilling parties to it?

As far as the railwaymen are concerned the lesson is that the "lightning strike" is a failure in so far as it is intended to hold up the entire nation by a few days' abstention from work. The people have suffered inconvenience but not privation, much less starvation, and the counter-measures for using supplies have worked smoothly and effectively. In this sense the terror of a lightning railway strike has departed, and the threat has lost much of its old validity. In future the men will be more inclined to trust to negotiation and to public opinion.

On the other side the nation has also had a valuable experience, and one which will not be to the disadvantage of the railway workers in the future. It has learned that the members of the National Union of Railwaymen will obey their leaders in coming to a decision on an issue, which they hardly understand with a discipline not to be surpassed by the Brigade of Guards.

Sober Moderation.

In the second place, it has shown that the railwaymen are not Bolsheviks or incendiaries, but, with very few exceptions, ordinary well-conducted citizens who will fight out an economic issue without attempting to resort to violence. It appears that if the inception of the strike was partly due to the "direct actionists" and revolutionaries, its conduct and its conclusion alike were carried out with all that sober moderation which is the hall-mark of historic trade unionism in Great Britain.

There remains a third party to the dispute—the Government itself. The Prime Minister, too, might draw a moral from the whole episode, and if he draws the right moral he will greatly facilitate his task in facing similar issues in the future. The first conclusion would appear to be that though business men in the high places of Government were of great value during the war, and may be recognized that they require political training before they can handle industrial disputes, not as employers, but as Ministers of the Crown.

There is no reason to suppose that Sir Eric Geddes took any part in these negotiations for which the responsibility was not fully shared by his colleagues. But something in his method of handling matters succeeded in conveying a totally different impression. This impression was probably due to nothing but inexperience on the part of the Transport Minister of a new role he is expected to play.

BILIOUS headache spoils many an expected enjoyment.

When the condition of the liver is neglected, biliousness seems to become chronic and recurs every two or three weeks, with severe sick headaches.

Why not get "right" after this trouble and end it by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to restore the health and activity of the liver.

Constipation, indigestion, backache, headache, biliousness and kidney derangements soon disappear with the use of this well-known medicine.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills

But the Prime Minister should note the difficulty if he does not wish to have organized Labor declaring a vendetta against the new Ministry and the present holder of the office.

The other point which Ministers should consider carefully is the intention and effect of their own propaganda conducted from Downing St. The general plan adopted by both parties of stating their case in the public Press is an excellent innovation which can only produce good results. But official advertisements or statements of this kind are as responsible as a speech in the House of Commons.

Was the Prime Minister well advised in using this medium to declare that the strike of N. U. R. was the result of an Anarchist conspiracy.

No doubt in making that statement he rallied the nation to the assistance of the Government and so strengthened the public cause against the "hold up." But publicity in industrial disputes is only valuable in the long run when the statements made, prove accurate, and it is unfortunate that the Prime Minister should have committed himself to a misreading of the situation. Now if the strike had been the result of a real Anarchist conspiracy it would have been followed at once by a sympathetic strike on the part of other trade unions, and certainly of the other members of the Triple Alliance.

As a matter of fact the very reverse proved to be the case. It was the powerful intervention of the leaders of the other trade unions in the interests of peace which procured a settlement and averted a general strike. That the direct actionists and the revolutionaries played a part in the precipitate declaration of the railway strike is probable, if not certain. What was clear is that they were miserably ineffective conspirators, for they never took Labor as a whole into their confidence, because Labor as a whole had no confidence in them or their methods.

The trade union movement comes well out of this controversy and it was therefore unwise to brand the railway movement in advance as part of a conspiracy and to invite an equally unretreat to the Government were attacking trade unionism and trying to break it.

Experiment at Cape Rouge—All feed given to four different horses, whose average weight was 1,330 pounds, was recorded for each animal during twelve months. The quantities eaten were 6,059 pounds of hay, 5,447 of oats, 1,080 of bran, 92 of black molasses, which amounted to 1.25 pound of hay and 1.36 pound of concentrates per 100 pounds of horse per day. Valuing hay at $20 and bran at $30 per ton, oats at 3 cents and black molasses at 3.5 cents per pound, the average cost of feed per horse, per year, was $248.91 As each of them worked, on an average, 2,130 hours, the cost was 8.7 cents per hour. Feed is only part of Total Cost—However, it should not be forgotten in calculating cost of horse labour that bedding, care, doctoring, shoeing, harness, blanketing, interest, depreciation must all be reckoned in, and that the two last items apply not only to the animals themselves, but to stable room, harnesses, blankets, and all other equipment used for teams.

How to Cut Down Cost of Horse Labour—Though the question of proper kinds and quantities of feed should receive careful attention, it must be admitted that only a minor saving can thus be effected. The two main points are to plan the work in such a manner that each animal will be employed as many hours as possible during the year, and to keep only the minimum number of horses required outside of busy seasons. The first question must be attended to by each man, according to his local conditions, whilst the second one can be settled either by buying a tractor, when the size and topography of the farm justify this expenditure, or by hiring extra horses during the busy spells of seeding, haying and harvesting.

How strange the old-time pictures of sport would look today—baseball teams boasting at least half-a-dozen sets of whiskers—full-bearded cricketers—champions of the scull with their chins concealed.

Today the athlete knows the importance of the well-shaven chin. He is conscious that he is most keen when he is well-groomed—just as is the business man and the soldier.

For men who love outdoor life and sports, men of virile minds and active bodies, we have designed a Gillette Safety Razor with an extra stocky handle—the "Bulldog" Gillette, shown to the left.

Not that the Gillette needs a sturdy grasp. A light touch, with the angle stroke, removes the most stubborn beard with surprising comfort.

But there is a certain appeal in the thicker handle of the "Bulldog". Ask to see this special set and appreciate the point for yourself.

The case, you will notice, is almost as compact as the famous Pocket Edition Gillette, and the price is the same, $5.00.

COPENHAGEN CHEWING TOBACCO.

Copenhagen is used differently from ordinary chewing tobacco. Take a small pinch, for a start, and put it between the lower lip and gum, in the centre. Afterwards you can increase the size of the pinch to suit the strength of the chew you desire. Copenhagen is strong, because the tobacco of which it is made is cut into fine grains, which makes it impart its strength thoroughly and quickly. Hence, a little "pinch" goes a long way, showing that Copenhagen is not only an unusually economical chew, but also one of the finest quality, being made of the best, old, rich, high-flavored tobacco.

Warns Canada Against Buying German Goods

(Canadian Press)
Halifax, N. S. Nov 4—F. W. Wile, formerly Berlin correspondent of the London Daily Mail, who is a passenger on the Mauretania, sailing to-night for Southampton, addressed the Halifax Rotary Club at noon today. He said he was preaching the doctrine of an Anglo-Saxon entente and he did it strongly, but in the course of his speech, he alienated the regard of two British seamen who were in the company by saying that the financial supremacy was passing from London to New York and the supremacy of Great Britain in the merchant marine was moving in the same direction. The captain of the steamer Wabana cried out "no" to the first assertion and to the second he shouted "not on your life," the same thing. The crowd then took up the protest in regard to the shipping chief officer of the Sackem all over the dining room, more than half the company joining in the protest. Mr. Wile did not persist in his assertion but turned it off with a laugh by saying that the objectors to what he had stated must have "inside information." Later Mr. Wile said he wanted to warn Halifax against seeking to get rich by selling German goods. The German military machine has been beaten, he said, but the German worker, with his patience, skill and persistence, is not beaten and he is preparing to win in the commercial war that is to come and he wanted to say that the German is insidiously seeking to create international discord. The German, he added, is unregenerate and unrepentant and that until he becomes sorry for his barbarities in the war, and his horrid cruelty, every citizen in the United States and in Canada should consider it a felony to buy a single dollar's worth of goods from a German. This fully conciliated the company and they wound up by giving three cheers for Mr. Wile.

"I am a blacksmith. I contracted a sore finger, which led to blood-poisoning. After three months of doctoring, the finger had to be cut off. It was too late. The poison had spread to my hand and arm. My hand was opened and the bone scraped. No use! Doctors said hand would have to be taken off. I refused, and began to use Zam-Buk. I used it regularly and freely

Gov't may Soon Allow Trapping of Beavers

On account of the enormous increase in the price of beaver pelts and an increase in the numbers of the beaver in New Brunswick there has been a rush of applications to the Department of Lands and Mines for special permits to trap the animals. For several years there has been a close season on beaver which at one time were in danger of extermination but the Minister has the right to issue special permits. It is probable that the Provincial Government at its November meeting which will be held next week will take the matter of beaver-trapping into consideration. —Fredericton Mail.

On such a night the coziness of the living-room with its open fire especially appealed to young ladies of fifty or upwards. Music was the feature of the evening, many beautiful selections being on the programme. When the teacups appeared nothing was lacking to make the evening's hospitality and sociability complete. Owing to a number of coming events the club adjourned for two weeks, when Mrs. George Vanderbeck will entertain.

GIVEN 3 MONTHS SENTENCE
A young man, who appeared to have accepted the role of "the goat," in the case of the recent arrest of an express messenger for stealing liquor while in transit on the Canada Eastern Railway was brought before Police Magistrate Limerick in Fredericton last Wednesday. When the case was tried at Newcastle this young man swore that the liquor the express messenger had was a bottle he had given him at McGivney Junction, which is in the county of York. The court disregarded the evidence and convicted the express messenger, who drew a suspended sentence of three months and incidentally his job. The sequel was the arrest of the witness, who was brought to Fredericton and charged with having supplied liquor in York Co. to the express messenger. In accordance with his own evidence at Newcastle, the prisoner's only alternative was to plead guilty, which he did. He was then sent to jail for three months, upon failure to pay a fine of $100.

Special Victory Loan Canvassing Committee
Mr. G. P. Burchill, chairman of West Northumberland 1919 Victory Loan Campaign, Committee having been authorized, at a special public meeting, held last Friday night, in the Town Hall, to appoint a special canvassing committee for the Town of Newcastle has chosen the following gentlemen to act on this committee:—G. G. Stothart, Chairman, E. H. Sinclair, H. W. Histon, Wm. Ferguson, J. A. Creaghan, D. Ritchie, C. C. Hayward, James Stobles, Wm. Maloney, and Waldo Crocker.

A meeting of this committee was held at the Victory Loan Headquarters, and the committee members were formed up in pairs to do the special canvassing. The lists containing the names of the citizens, were carefully gone over, and each group of canvassers given, the names of those whom they are expected to call upon. Newcastle is far behind her objective in this year's campaign, and it is hoped, by the method of special canvassing, that Newcastle will retrieve herself, and prove herself capable of doing that, which is expected of her. This is the last week of the campaign, and it is urgently hoped that everyone will be prepared to do their share. Those who will be called upon, are specially requested to give to the canvassers a definite answer, if possible, and in this way greatly assist the canvassers, who have a large amount of work to do. It is impossible for the canvassers to call on everyone, as the time is short, but those who are not favored with a call, are requested to get in touch with any of the canvassers, who will be pleased to look after them and see that their wants are attended to. The regular canvassers are still hard at work, and the special committee's work will in no way conflict with the work of the regular canvassers. As a last word, "Wake up Newcastle," and do your bit. It is expected of us, and surely we are equal to the occasion. The canvassers are busy. Let everyone "Get Busy" and buy Victory Bonds, and those who purchase will never regret it.
