In the last budget the estimate of expenditure was £99,264,000. The actual expenditures were £98,928,000, leaving a surplus of £336,000. This was a remarkably small difference between the estimates and actual expenditures.

Analyzing the revenue Mr. Goschen said that the customs produced £19.736. Analyzing the revenue Mr. Goschen said that the customs produced £19,736,000, being £36,000 above the sum calculated upon. It was not alcohol that caused the increase this year, but tokacco. That revenue tax from tea was exceedingly satisfactory, yielding £34.000 over the astimate.

Analysing the revenue Ar. Cooking said that the customs produced £19,736,000, being £36,000 above the sum calculated upon. It was not alcohol that caused the increase this year, but tobacco. The revenue tax from tea was exceedingly satisfactory, yielding £34,000 over the estimate. Tobacco produced £9,953,000, being £418,000 above the previous year. All this, Mr. Goschen declared, proved that wages had not fallen and that there was still widely diffused prosperity among werkingmen.

The exise revenue showed £543,000 over the estimate. The increase in the consumption of home spirits was greater in England than in Ireland or Scotland.

Mr. Goschen estimated the revenue for the current financial year at £90,253,000, leaving a small margin of £224,000. This will not allew of a remission of taxation, with the exception of a minor reduction in patent fees absorbing £50,000 and the fixing of the duty on sparkling wines from 2s 6d and is per gallon to a uniform rate of 2s.

Mr. Goschen said he held himself responsible for the prudence of the estimate. The mighty river of national prosperity still remained broad, and he trusted the various water sheds of national prosperity still remained broad, and he trusted the various water sheds of national wealth would continue the stream undiminished in volume. [Cheers.]

the inserting a clause in the said act as to the city's allowing the Street Railway Company to continue in possession of the railway after the 30 years expired if the council had not then determined to take over the assets of the company;
it was done with no desire to find fault with Mr.

In order to get over the difficulty the exhibition people have agreed to pay one-half of the amount over the 15c rate on condition that the city pay the other half, which will amount to about $250 each per year. The committee recommend that this be done until a cheaper mode of transit can be secured.

Detroit, April 11.—Cordelia Clarke is at St. Mary's Hospital afflicted with insanity. Her home is at Madoc, near Belleville, Ont., which she left some months ago to come to Detroit, leing cranky on religion. She naturally fell in with the Michaelites and took up her abode with Sister Relle. She appeared at the Poor Commissioner's office and applied for a ticket for Tonawanda, N.Y., saying she had a brother there to whom she wanted to go. As her mind seemed to be wandering go. As her mind seemed to be wandering she was sent to the hospital.

In an establishment of this kind, where so inuch meat and butter is kept on hand, it is necessary that everything be clean, and the filed walls present the same appearance. Ward-Business Meeting. The Temperance League Coffee House Company is an offshoot of the Canadian Temperance League, and its object is to establish and operate coffee houses in places frequented by workingmen. The first annual meeting of the company was held last night at its headquarters, Elm and Teraulay-streets. This coffee house, the first to be operated by the company, is in a very con-venient situation for the purpose of its pro-

The reports of the secretary and treasurer showed that since the erection of the new building, three months ago, the concern has been fairly successful and promises well for the future. The shareholders were addressed by H. A. Massey, William Blackley and others. It was decided to call on the shareholders to pay up their shares in full in order that all liabilities might be paid off and new branches estabilished.

The following gentlemen were chosen as directors for the ensuing year: J. N. McKendry, W.-T. Oliver, W. Blackley, J. B. Hay, J. T. Dyson, W. H. Meredith, G. B. Sweetnam, J. E. Murray and H. A. How She Became a Missionary. "I'm doing missionary work a good deal of th time," was the reply of one of the most charmwonder while years ago life was a burden to me. I had been a victim to female weakness of the most aggravated character for a long time, and the aggravated character for a long time, and the doctors failed to help me. Existence was a long, doctors failed to help me. Existence was a long, and the state of the long time and tim doctors failed to help me. Existence was a long, steady, terrible torture—alingering, living death. One day I saw Dr. Fierce's Favorite Prescription advertised in the newspaper. Something in the advertisement impressed me favorably I caught At the glimmer of hope it held out as the drowning man is said to catch at a straw. Still I did not dare to hope. But I got the medicine, and behold the result: I feel so well, so strong, and O, so thankful, that I go about telling other women what sayed me. In no other way can I so well show my gratitude to God, and to the man who has proved such a benefactor of women, and my love for my suffering sisterhood."
