SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION TO OPEN IN BOSTON TODAY

Delegates Will Represent 14,000,000 Members of 155,000 Sunday Schools in North America—Improvement of Lessons Will Be the Chief Topic Discussed.

BOSTON, Jan. 2.—Men representing all phases of Sunday school work in North America were in Boston today having come here to attend a conference called by W. N. Hartshorn, chairman of the executive committee of the International Sunday School Association. The executive committee of the International Sunday School Association, the Sunday school editorial association and the denominational publishing concerns of the country were represented in the assembly. The conference is expected to last for several days and will be held in the city of Boston. The chief topic for discussion is "How can we improve the Lesson System?" The subject being presented by an increasing demand for more systematic and better graded general instruction. The international lesson committee which is responsible for the uniform system now used throughout North America and in many sections of Europe, prompted by action taken at the last convention at Rome in the spring of 1907, has had the question of changing the system to meet advancing conditions under consideration and there has been much discussion of plans by members of the editorial association and the publishers of the lesson books of the various denominations. In view of this, the conference which is scheduled for today and tomorrow is expected to result in important action on the part of the leaders. While various conferences have been held by branches of the international association, this is the first time in the history of the organization which was founded in 1875, that the four great branches of the work have been represented at such a meeting.

ENGINEER KILLED AND FIREMAN HURT

ST. THOMAS, Ont., Jan. 2.—(Special).—Two Waukegan engines running light returning to Tilsonburg for half of a train, collided with a Grand Trunk Railway freight train just west of Tilsonburg at 3:30 this morning, overturning the Grand Trunk R. R. engine and killing Engineer J. J. Walker, a young married man of St. Thomas, Brakenham J. McCroin of Windsor had one leg amputated and is now in Tilsonburg hospital. The rest of the crews escaped unhurt.

POLICE COURT

Seven unfortunate began the new year by figuring in police circles, and all appear to be before Judge Ritchie this morning. Peter Senawles, who falls from the Land of the Midnight Sun, was arrested by Patrolman Joseph Scott, between York and three o'clock on New Year's morning. The official stated that he found Samuel crying and shivering and apparently "freezing to death." He had learned later that the prisoner boarded with a Miss Doherty on Charlotte street and had been locked out. The man had evidently been drinking. Samuelson was remanded. Charles Darracott, another wanderer, who was arrested by Sgt. Caples and Patrolman Scott, was not inclined to think there was any justification for his arrest. Patrolman Scott testified that he found Darracott on Carmarthen street, between ten and eleven o'clock last night and asked him where he was going. Darracott replied that he was going home, and when he was asked where he lived, told Patrolman Scott it was none of his business. Said he, "What did I pay seven dollars and a half for?" Scott stated further that the man became saucy and was arrested. Darracott, who denied answering Barge, was remanded. Alfred Barg and David Hennessy were charged with fighting together on St. John street. Barg explained that he had acted in self defence and was allowed to go. Hennessy pleaded guilty and was fined $20 on two months in jail. Charles McDonald, David Cameron and William Spencer were fined $8 or twenty days each for drunkenness.

THE CITY COURT.

Today's city court docket was numbered by but few cases, the entire session lasting only about half an hour. In the matter of Carnelly vs. White a suit for one month's rent, amounting to $5.50 judgment was given in the plaintiff's favor, with fifty cents costs. The plaintiff, it appears had rented a house to the defendant who vacated the premises during November last for which the plaintiff claimed rent. White thought that since he was a poor man he had received very bad treatment.

MARTIN DOLAN AND CHILDREN NARROWLY ESCAPE DROWING

They Had Strenuous Experience on Loch Lomond on Tuesday—Children, While Skating, Broke Through Ice and Mr. Dolan Went After Them.

A triple drowning accident was narrowly averted Tuesday at Golden Grove, when Martin Dolan and his daughter and son, aged respectively 13 and 10 years old, came very near meeting a watery grave, as a result of going through the ice on the lake. Mr. Dolan lives close to Lake Lomond and on Tuesday his daughter, Maria, aged 13, and son Arthur, aged 10, went for a skate on the big pond. After skating about for some time, when near the middle of the lake they broke through the ice and were precipitated into the cold water. The father, who was watching them, rushed to their assistance. Nearing the opening Mr. Dolan crawled out on the edge of the ice and in an endeavor to reach his struggling children he, too, was thrown into the opening. Mr. Dolan at length was enabled to lift his son, Arthur, on the ice, but he was not successful in getting his daughter in a place of safety. Holding her in his arms he kept himself afloat and held onto the ice, at the same time calling loudly for help. John McGuire, passing, heard him and with the aid of plank and rope succeeded in getting father and daughter to safety. Both were badly chilled, and Mr. Dolan was nearly exhausted, as he had been in the water for about twenty minutes. No thing serious, however, is expected to result from the dreadful experience.

THE MAYOR'S SMILE

The beaming smile with which the mayor illuminated his surroundings yesterday was brighter than the gleam of the ice on Lily Lake, or an electric arc in the fog. For if there is any meaning in Sir Wilfrid's New Year greeting, the mayor's ways are to be ways of pleasantness and all his paths are peace. In short, he was under the influence yesterday of the "sun-shiny ways" we read so much about. "What," asks Mr. Peter Binns, "would life be without sunshine?" What, indeed?

DECISION FILED IN CASE OF MOUNT TEMPLE WRECK

NORMAN IS NOT COMING HERE Moncton Despatch Says Family Hockey Player Will Not Wear Marathon Uniform

MONCTON, Jan. 2 (Special).—That Frederick is sparing no efforts to gather up a championship team is evidenced by the fact that Jack D. McDonald, the famous Nova Scotia hockey player, who captained the New Glasgow team which went to Montreal for the Stanley cup, will join the capital team. A railway ticket was forwarded him a few days ago, and with Dunphy, the crack Cape Breton forward, he is expected in the capital this week. Frederick's team will bear quite a resemblance to the former maritime champion New Glasgow team with Morrison, Music, Murphy, and Jack D. McDonald on its line. There is nothing in the story that Rolfe Norman, the former Sackville player, now in Moncton, is going to St. John.

Sole Blame for the Disaster Is Placed On Second Officer He is Pronounced "Grossly Culpable"—Captain Boothby Mildly Censured, and Then Praised.

HALIFAX, Jan. 2 (Special).—Commissioner Wallace has filed his decision in the case of the steamship Mount Temple, stranded on Iron Bound Rock. He held the investigation on instructions from Ottawa. The second officer is pronounced "grossly culpable" for his conduct and on him is placed the responsibility for the loss of the steamer in not having called Captain Boothby, as he should have done, and for other reasons. Captain Boothby is mildly censured for not having taken more soundings, though they may not have been obligatory, but he is praised for the discipline on board his ship after the casualty. The commission generally expressed regret that they had not the power to suspend the second officer's certificate. In the case of the steamship Kildona, lost at Broad Rock, Cape Sable, the decision of the commissioner and nautical assessors, completely exonerated the captain and officers of the Kildona of all blame.

EARLY MORNING FIRE IN SUSSEX F. W. Wallace's House Damaged This Morning—New Fire Alarm A Success.

SUSSEX, Jan. 2.—(Special).—A fire occurred in the house of F. W. Wallace, this morning shortly before five o'clock. An alarm was immediately rung in on its discovery but by the time the firemen were on hand it had gained considerable headway. It was necessary to do considerable cutting in order to stop its progress. The fire is supposed to have started from the fire on the second story. The loss will be in the vicinity of $600 and a great part of the damage is due to water. The insurance is $1700. This was the first practical test of the new fire alarm and Chief Daley said it gave entire satisfaction.

SALARY INCREASES IN THE WATER DEPARTMENT

Schedule To Be Considered By Water and Sewerage Board Tonight.

The regular monthly meeting of the water and sewerage board will be held this evening when a number of matters connected with the department will be dealt with. One of the principal matters to be considered is the proposed schedule of the permanent employees which was brought up at the last meeting and was withdrawn to be reported on at tonight's meeting. Director Murdoch has recommended the following increases:— Alfred Ring, from $12.20 to $15 per week; Fred Ring, from $10.00 to $12.00 per week; Robert Hunter, from $10.50 to $12.00 per week; Thos. Kilroy, $10.00 to $12.00 per week; Peter Mahoney, $10.00 to $12.00 per week; Patrick McEgan, from $10.00 to $12.00 per week; Andrew Martin, from $11 to $12 per week; Wm. Pys, from $10 to $11 per week; Thos. Lydon, from $9 to $10 per week; Sam. Ouilard, from $9 to $10 per week. Other matters to be brought to the attention of the board by the director are: Request from the Board of Health for a sewer in Mill street; repairs to the Marsh bridge, estimated cost, $5,000; appeals from water assessment, etc.

THE EARLY CLOSING

Movement Will Be Incepted in North End Tonight.

There seems to be some difference of opinion among the north end merchants with reference to the early closing movement, which is to be inaugurated this evening, when a large number have agreed to close at 7 o'clock. Those standing off are the shoe men, but two, Messrs. Patterson and Pidgeon, who are in agreement. From enquiries, however, it is learned that the shoe people are beginning early closing on January 10th. There seems to be different reasons for this action. Some favor 8 o'clock, while others are stock-taking. There are, of course, those who are not favorable to the early closing movement, but they are compelled, on account of the general feeling in the matter to close. Two dealers, however, have decided to continue open as usual.

MARCHED THROUGH THE TOWN NAKED

Doukhor Pilgrims Make Things Interesting at Fort William Before Police Round Them Up.

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., Jan. 2 (Special).—Twelve of the Doukhor pilgrims, who are stopping here for the winter, started on another march yesterday, naked, despite the fact that the thermometer registered ten below zero. Seven men and five women were in the party, and for over half a mile they marched, chanting their mournful dirge. The line of march was right through the centre of the town. The police were soon on hand and the pilgrims were rounded up, hustled into the cells, and taken back to their houses.

UNITED STATES IS RUSHING ARMS TO THE PHILIPPINES

Stmr. Manchuria, Sailing on Thursday Will Take a Big Supply—12,000,000 Rounds of Ammunition To Go Forward In A...-intended for the Army.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—The Pacific mail steamship Manchuria, sailing from San Francisco January 7, will carry six million rounds of ammunition consigned to the army in the Philippines. The transports Sherman, Thomas and Dix, now in commission on the Pacific coast, will, within the next three months, carry an equal amount of ammunition to the Far East. Several points in connection with the matter cause it to be regarded with grave apprehension. The normal supply for the Philippines for a year is about two million rounds. This ammunition now in the Philippines has not been depleted, rather it has piled up, because there has been no warfare, and yet the government is rushing an auxiliary supply equivalent to the needs of six months. Never since the transport service was inaugurated has the government found it necessary to use a commercial vessel for the shipment of arms and ammunition, and yet in this instance the fastest vessel on the Pacific is being utilized, against all precedents, to rush ammunition to the Philippines. Nearly one million dollars' worth of mines, torpedoes and explosive submarine bombs are in the shipment. This shipment, the largest ever made by the government, is being assembled as rapidly and secretly as possible. Within ninety days this enormous ordnance consignment will be on its way to the Far East. Several points in connection with the matter cause it to be regarded with grave apprehension. COCKFIGHT AT PARTY OF CHRISTMAS DEBUTANTE

Gloves Replace Spurs at Social Function Outdoor Monkey Dinner.

DETROIT, Jan. 1.—Two weeks ago, Detroit's aristocracy was trimmed from 1,000 to 250, and now one of the real bluebloods has outdoor Newport's monkey dinners and other socially uplifting social functions by giving a cock fight in a Christmas dinner for debutantes. Burns Henry, of No. 108 Fort street, west, is the originator of this new diversion for the bird just breaking into the ranks of social excellence, but no game was spilled, for the cocks, instead of the cruel shaming spurs of steel, wore dainty boxing gloves made especially for the occasion by an eastern sporting house. The birds, west at 10 and heavy, jumping, springing, lunging and digging with their spurs, but no game was spilled, for the cocks, instead of the cruel shaming spurs of steel, wore dainty boxing gloves made especially for the occasion by an eastern sporting house. SHE OPENS TOMB TO SNAPSHOT HUSBAND

Grieving Widow Forgot She Had No Picture of Him Until After Funeral.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—Because she possessed no picture of her dead husband, Mrs. Elizabeth Brown, of No. 445 East One Hundred and Thirty-seventh street, widow of Henry Brown, a train starter on the elevated railroad, who was buried in Woodlawn cemetery on December 6, obtained permission from the Bronx Health department to exhume the body and yesterday had it photographed. The fact that there was no picture extant of her husband did not occur to Mrs. Brown until after the funeral. It occurred on her mind that she could not rest. The health department officials were notified by her husband's application, but yielded to her wish on seeing a grief. An undertaker and a photographer were taken to the cemetery yesterday afternoon. The coffin was opened and a small tent erected for the purpose several negatives were taken of the remains.

A VIGOROUS FIGHT ON Choice of Coadjutor Archbishop of San Francisco Results in Lively Disagreement.

ROME, Jan. 1.—Accusations of modernism against arguments in defence of the Rev. Dr. Edward J. Hanna, of Rochester, over his candidature for the position of coadjutor archbishop of San Francisco are increasing as the day draws near for the meeting of the congregation of the propaganda, in whose hands lies the power of appointment. Cardinal Goti, prefect of the congregation of the Propaganda, has received from Dr. Hanna a long letter explaining his writings which caused the accusations of modernism to be made against him and also stating the orthodoxy of his opinions. Archbishop Riordan, of San Francisco, also has sent to the cardinals composing the congregation of the propaganda, copies of the New York Review, published by I. F. Brady, and containing articles by Dr. Hanna, entitled "The Human Knowledge of Christ," which were brought forward as being tainted with modernism and emphasizing the fact that the Jesuit priest, Tyrrol, also contributes to the same review. Defenders of Dr. Hanna say that the alleged incriminating passages are only the exposition of thoughts of other writers. Dr. Hanna believing that the time had not yet come for the construction of a perfect theological treatise on the human knowledge of Christ.

STREET CARS COLLIDE

Five Passengers Hurt in Collision on a Lewiston Road.

LEWISTON, Me., Jan. 1.—Five passengers of a freight street car, between Augusta and Waterville Street, were injured in a rear-end collision late this afternoon on Main street, caused by the brakes not working properly. The car was being controlled three blocks above the car station and came down the street at a fast rate of speed. It struck the Mechanic Falls line car just across the Canal bridge. The motorman and conductor both jumped from the car room after it got beyond control. None of the injuries are considered serious.

BOMB THROWERS BUSY IN BARCELONA

Barcelona, Jan. 1.—In consequence of the renewal of the campaign of bomb outrages by local anarchists, King Alfonso has ordered a decree provisionally suspending a portion of the constitutional guarantees in this city. In the last few days five infernal machines deposited in various parts of the city exploded without causing material damage. Last night, however, a policeman found a large one of the doomsday of a mansion. In carrying it away, the machine exploded, frightfully mutilating the officer, injuring several bystanders, and partially wrecking surrounding buildings. The policeman died tonight of the injuries he sustained.

BIRDIE'S YEAR.

This is leap year. The lovely Miss Birdie McWhat has rejected many offers of marriage, including a six-pointed star from Peter Binns, jr., and is still uncertain as to her future. She realizes that the current year offers opportunities for a young lady of great personal charm and compliments, and the young men of St. John may have a busy time. Birdie said as much when the Times new reporter called yesterday.

MORE COMING

OTTAWA, Dec. 2.—(Special).—Dr. Pugsley will come to St. John as soon as his New Year wish message has had time to soak in. On arrival he will open a new Pandora's box and hand out some more. It is an open secret that when Santa Claus was passing through Ottawa on his way north again he spent some time with Dr. Pugsley, and went away with a very discontented expression. He is afraid he will lose his job. In justice to Dr. Pugsley it should be said that he can't help it. He will endeavor to retain Santa Claus in some minor position, in view of his long and valued services to the country. But he is old, and the country clamors for a younger and more modern giver of gifts to an expectant people.

Every other person on the ship held the opinion that the Alencos would attack by night, if they were not afraid to attempt the enterprise at all. So Suarez slept soundly, while his companions were on the qui vive for a call to rebel orders. When it was not for the strain induced by the silent menace of their savage neighbors from their prolonged stay in this peaceful anchorage. There was work in plenty for all hands. Walker was reformed by a trio of firemen, whose technical knowledge, slight as it was, proved useful when he began to fit and connect the disabled machinery. For the rest, the promenade deck was walked with strong canvas, while Courtenay and Tollemache gave undivided attention to the fashioning of several oil-secured footings which could be exploded from the ship. They also provided flexible steam pipes in places where a rush might be made if the Indians once secured a footing on the deck, fore or aft. Steam was kept up constantly in the electric donkey-boiler, not alone for the electric lights and the daily working of the pumps, but the Kansas had not blundered over the shoal without straining some of her plates—but for use against the make bodies of their possible assailants. When day followed day without any sign of hostility, not a man on board, save Suarez and Tollemache, paid much real head to the showpiece party. Walker with his hammers and coil chisels, his screw-jacks and wrenches, his various vices were a permanent grin, which presaged well for the fulfillment of his promise to the hospital. She was thus brought more in contact with Christobal than with any of the others. Nor did he make a mistake. As he grew intimate to her. Always suave and charming in manner, he exerted himself to be pleasant to her. Through his own full and entertaining. Though she knew full well that if the Kansas reached the open sea, he again he would seek her to marry him, he was evidently content to deny himself the privileges of courtship until a proper time and season. She was far too wise to appear to avoid Courtenay. Indeed, she was studiously castigation him when they met. She adopted the safe role of good-fellowship, flattered herself that her own full and entertaining to nothingness under the hourly castigation thus inflicted. During this period Mr. Boyle's changeable characteristics puzzled and amused her. As he grew stronger, and took part in the active life of the ship, so did his sudden excesses of talkativeness disappear. Once she was permitted to overhear his remarks to a couple of Chileans who were told to swap off the decks. Obviously, they had scamped their work, and Boyle expostulated. Then he grasped the essential element in Boyle's composition. He was capable only of a single idea. When he was chief of the floor he ceased to be an ordinary man; he was, of course, that he ceased to use ordinary language. She was in her cabin, and dared not come out while the tempest raged. She did not know that Tollemache was listening, too, until she heard him ask: "Did you ever meet any fellow who could swear harder than you, Boyle?" "Yes, once," was the curt answer. "He must have been a rotter. What did he say?" "Hah! just the regulation patter, but he used a megaphone, so I gave him best."

SEEK TEMPERANCE IN GOTTENBURG WAY

An Anti-Alcoholic League Auspiciously Inaugurated in Montreal. (Montreal Star, Monday.) With the avowed intention of fighting the liquor evil on scientific lines, the Anti-Alcoholic League last night made its debut in Montreal. The Monument National was crowded on the occasion, and complimented to the efforts of Mr. Justice Lafontaine.

It was a good plan and might have kept at bay an enemy of higher valor than the Alencos, provided they were not armed with rifles. Against modern weapons of long range nothing could be done. If Suarez did not exaggerate, therein lay the danger. The number of men who were distributed on the shore was one or two each. If the latter, he would give those warriors his special attention. His binocular glasses were not strong enough to be walked back towards the shore to procure a telescope. (Catching Joe under his left arm, he climbed the short ladder leading to the spar deck, and pulled it up after him, the bolts having been already removed.)

Walker was serving with a gun. The door of the engine-room, in order to safeguard the man in attendance on the donkey-boiler. Now that the screw was actually in operation, it very unpleasantly reminded Courtenay of the fastening of a coffin lid. Neither Walker nor the man inside could guess the gruesome notion which held the captain in its grip. "If you see those canoes yonder?" he said. "There were three under the trees before Suarez discovered the smoke on Guanaco. Now I fancy I can make out nearly a dozen. Though they are not launched, they have been put there for some purpose. Would you mind going forward and asking Mr. Boyle to summon all hands on deck? He knows exactly what to do. Remember that I regard you and Miss Maxwell as non-combatants, and expect you both to remain in the saloon. If Elsie devolved the duty on me, I should like that there was no gaining him. Even Christobal, whose jealous suspicions were roused to enthusiasm by his cool gallantry. But, ere the Spaniard turned to go, a disturbing thought forced its way to his lips.

"We have every confidence in you," he said, "and I admit that it is not the wisest thing to prevent the savages from gaining the upper hand. Yet, accidents happen. Suppose they manage to rush your defenses?" "They will not do that while I and every other man on deck are alive. If the worst comes to the worst, you have a revolver," said Christobal.

"It will suffice for two, but not for a hundred." The two men, united by the very bond which threatened to bring them into antagonism, looked into each other's eyes. "Is that your last word?" asked Christobal. "It is."

"I feel sure that you are right. Good-bye!" They shook hands. They were nearer a real friendship than either of them thought possible, and the bond which held them was love for the same woman.

Courtenay, using his glasses again, saw that a number of Indians were launching the canoes simultaneously. He counted nine small craft, each holding five or six men, or men and women—the distance, nearly three miles, he could not be certain whether or not they all wore the distinguishing head-dress of feathers. Against wind and current they could not possibly reach the ship under half an hour, and the smallness of the fleet surprised him.

He stooped and passed Joey, who was at peace with the world after a good dinner. "We are in luck's way, pop," he said. "These rascals might get the better of us by sheer force of numbers, but there are not fifty of them, all told. Poor devils! They are coming to the Indians by advancing rank through the ship like wild-fire. Including Mr. Boyle, Frasnucio, and those among the Chileans whose wounds were not serious, there were fourteen men available for the defense. Unfortunately, the supply of firearms was inadequate. A shotgun and five revolvers constituted the armory, and one of the pistols was in Christobal's pocket. The supply of ammunition was so small that the revolvers could not be reloaded more than three times; but Courtenay had two hundred shot cartridges, and against naked men a canoe of shot is far more effective than a bullet. The captain hoped to terrify the Indians before they attempted to scale the ship's sides. If various ruses failed, and the attack was pressed, he had decided not to split up his small force in the effort to repel boarders. A scattered resistance would surely break down at one point or another; there would be a rush of savages along the decks, a panic among the Chileans, and all would be ended. On the other hand, when fighting collectively under European leadership, and well aware that the Indians would kill and spare not, the half-breeds might be trusted to acquit themselves like men. The canvas awning constituted a flimsy shield in the centre of the vessel. Six men were stationed on the starboard side of the promenade deck, and six on the port side. Tollemache and a Chilean, who said he could shoot well, were told to frustrate any attempt to climb the after part of the ship, while Courtenay, with his fowling-piece, would have the lion's share of the work from the spar deck, as he undertook to keep the rails clear forward and help the revolver parties if necessary. With him was Suarez, who knew what was expected of him, and the crewman who offered no apparent hindrance once the fight began. Finally, if the Indians made good their footing, the defenders were to rally towards the saloon to spurt withering blasts into the cowardly canoes. It was a good plan and might have kept at bay an enemy of higher valor than the Alencos, provided they were not armed with rifles. Against modern weapons of long range nothing could be done. If Suarez did not exaggerate, therein lay the danger. The number of men who were distributed on the shore was one or two each. If the latter, he would give those warriors his special attention. His binocular glasses were not strong enough to be walked back towards the shore to procure a telescope. (Catching Joe under his left arm, he climbed the short ladder leading to the spar deck, and pulled it up after him, the bolts having been already removed.) Walker was serving with a gun. The door of the engine-room, in order to safeguard the man in attendance on the donkey-boiler. Now that the screw was actually in operation, it very unpleasantly reminded Courtenay of the fastening of a coffin lid. Neither Walker nor the man inside could guess the gruesome notion which held the captain in its grip. "If you see those canoes yonder?" he said. "There were three under the trees before Suarez discovered the smoke on Guanaco. Now I fancy I can make out nearly a dozen. Though they are not launched, they have been put there for some purpose. Would you mind going forward and asking Mr. Boyle to summon all hands on deck? He knows exactly what to do. Remember that I regard you and Miss Maxwell as non-combatants, and expect you both to remain in the saloon. If Elsie devolved the duty on me, I should like that there was no gaining him. Even Christobal, whose jealous suspicions were roused to enthusiasm by his cool gallantry. But, ere the Spaniard turned to go, a disturbing thought forced its way to his lips. "We have every confidence in you," he said, "and I admit that it is not the wisest thing to prevent the savages from gaining the upper hand. Yet, accidents happen. Suppose they manage to rush your defenses?" "They will not do that while I and every other man on deck are alive. If the worst comes to the worst, you have a revolver," said Christobal. "It will suffice for two, but not for a hundred." The two men, united by the very bond which threatened to bring them into antagonism, looked into each other's eyes. SHOT HERSELF THROUGH HEAD

Mrs. Eliza Faurote, of New York, Committed Suicide New Year's Eve.

She Lived With Her Sister On Manawagonish Road, and Had Been Melancholy for Some Time.

Mrs. Eliza Faurote, of New York, formerly of St. John, took her life during Tuesday night at the home of her sister, Mrs. Lebaron Jewelling, Manawagonish road. She had been in a melancholy condition for some little time, but on New Year's evening seemed to enjoy a pleasant evening with the family. She had been seen, however, reading of a recent case of suicide of a man in St. John while in a fit of temporary insanity and, though nothing was thought of the matter at the time, it was recalled when the fearful discovery that she had put a bullet into her brain was made yesterday morning.

Mrs. Faurote was forty-seven years of age and a daughter of the late William Oliver Carleton. She had been living twenty-seven years in New York, but for the last twelve or fourteen years had been apart from her husband and St. John relative of Mrs. Faurote do not know where her husband is now. She came to St. John about six weeks ago for the benefit of her health. She had been employed as draper in a dress making establishment in New York, but the financial depression had interfered with her work and she became melancholy. She consulted Dr. J. H. Grey who says he found her in a nervous condition.

It was Mrs. Faurote's intention to spend the winter here with her sister, Mrs. Jewelling. On Tuesday evening all three and the Jewelling children were gathered together and passed the time very cheerfully. Nothing in Mrs. Faurote's deportment gave any one any idea that a tragedy was imminent, though it was noticed that she was interested in reading of a recent suicide case in this city.

All retired to bed in good spirits. Mrs. Jewelling's room was on the same floor as Faurote's room and on the same door as those of the other members of the family, but some distance removed. On Wednesday morning, about 8.30 o'clock, as Mrs. Faurote had not come from her room, and as no sound was heard from there, Mrs. Jewelling went to call her. She found her in bed, but the unfortunate woman was dead, having turned down the quilt she was horrified to find her sister dead with a bullet wound in the temple, blood marking everything. The woman's right hand had fallen to her shoulder and lay lightly over a small revolver which had been fired. It was found later that there had been a hole in the wall and it is thought was fired as a trial of the revolver, and it is believed the woman shot into her brain. Neither shot nor hand were covered by any member of the family. Another strange feature is that a second and larger revolver was found in the bed. For her protection, Mrs. Faurote was known to have been in the habit of carrying a revolver while she lived in New York.

After Mrs. Jewelling had alarmed the household, Dr. J. H. Grey was called, but the unfortunate woman was beyond his aid. Coroner M. L. Macfarland was notified and he went to the house and learned the circumstances. His investigation determined him in the opinion that it was a case of suicide and he did not consider an inquest necessary. The funeral will likely be held Friday afternoon. For Mr. and Mrs. Jewelling there will be general sympathy because of the sad circumstances. THERE ARE SIGNS OF INDUSTRIAL REVIVAL IN UNITED STATES

Many Factories Which Were Closed Will Resume Operations in a Few Days. NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—With the New Year, reports continue to come in from all over the country in increasing number of a general revival of all industries. Mills of all kinds, steel, iron, cotton and woolen, are taking on their old forces to meet the contracts that are piling up every day. Merchants everywhere seem to have all but forgotten that there was such a thing as the October panic and "hard times" and talk from pessimists is laughed at.

The new division of information of the bureau of immigration at Washington has received requests for 20,000 men during the last few days. This department was created by a recent act of congress to assist immigrants in finding work. Mr. V. Powderly, who was placed in charge received up to October last requests for help, aggregating 300,000 men. After that date a few of the requests were cancelled, but now many of these have been renewed, and 20,000 more men have been asked for. A majority of the requests from the agricultural districts have been filed and new demands are coming from different mills that are resuming business.

NEW YEAR'S GREETINGS

His Worship Mayor Sears and Sir Wilfrid Laurier exchanged New Year's greetings yesterday in the following telegram: St. John, N. B. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, C. M. G., Premier, Ottawa: Ottawa: "I wish you and your family every day of the new year full of pleasantness, and its pathway leading to your happiest realizations. EDWARD SEARS, Mayor. Ottawa. Edward Sears, St. John: Mrs. Thanks. Same to you. WILFRID LAURIER.

DON'T NEGLECT YOUR SKIN

Zam-Buk Unequaled as a Skin Cure. About 80 per cent of prevalent skin disease is due to neglect and the remaining 20 per cent to some weakness or infection. The skin, in fact, rules the health. In proportion as the skin acts well or ill, we are well or sick, for every square inch of skin has no fewer than 2,800 pores through which all waste matter, which would be injurious to health if allowed to remain, is expelled from the body.

The skin, because it has important work to do, and is so exposed to injury and disease, deserves far more attention than most people give it. Often the timely use of Zam-Buk, the well-known healing balm, will avert a nasty attack of eczema, prevent festering, ally pain and inflammation and prevent other skin troubles which, if neglected, would only upset the general health. A sudden chill, dirt in a cold-crack, or sudden contact with disease-germs, are all dangerous to your skin health, and neglected cuts, sores, chafings or chaps, may lead to festering or blood-poisoning. Neglected scald caused months of agony—spent dollars seeking a cure—One box of Zam-Buk cured. Below we give the testimony of a lady who, if she had known of Zam-Buk earlier, might have saved nine weeks of painful agony. Mrs. Frederick Bryant of 169 Railway Ave., Stratford (Ont.), says: "I scalded my foot while preparing supper. Next day the skin came off and my foot was in a serious condition. I could not wear my shoe and had to lay up for nine weeks. During this time I used dozens of salves, but none did any good, in fact the wound developed into a running sore. I got no rest day or night from the cruel pain. At this point a sample of Zam-Buk was left at my house and I tried it. Several applications of Zam-Buk had immediate effect in soothing the pain and irritation and I was encouraged by a box. One box of Zam-Buk was sufficient to heal the scald, although I had spent dollars in other remedies. New skin has formed nicely over the whole open sore. Zam-Buk is the great and effective remedy I have used, and I advise others to use it." Zam-Buk is so refined that it works easily through the skin to the seat of disease and exerts a wholesome influence upon the rest of the body. Absolutely pure, it is free from creosote, salicylic acid, benzol, turpentine, and other poisonous ingredients. It is just as invaluable for cuts, bruises, burns and sprains, pimples, rashes, chafings, chaps, inflamed and irritable patches, and all diseases of the skin. Every family needs a box of Zam-Buk. Zam-Buk is sold by all druggists and medicine vendors at 50 cents a box, or will be sent postpaid on receipt of price by the Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, Canada. Boxes for $1.00. Send for free trial box. See special offer.

BURIED GOLD AND NEARLY LOSES IT

Old Man Who Feared Banks Awakes To See Robbers At His Cache.

LONG BEACH, Mo., Jan. 1.—Because he was afraid of the banks and preferred to bury his money, Josiah Merritt, an elderly man living alone in the northeastern part of the town, came near losing what little he had last night.

He dug a hole under the corner of an outbuilding not far from his bedroom window, and placed the box of money in it, down, and placed it again and laying a heavy stick of timber on it.

He was awakened, and, on looking out of the window, saw two men just commencing to dig where the money was hidden.

The old man immediately jumped out of bed and ran out of doors, seizing the men away so that they were seen to more.

Merritt thereupon dug up his gold and took it to the house, watching it carefully the rest of the night, and early this morning taking it to a trusted neighbor to care for until Monday, when he will deposit it in a bank.

He claims that he got a good look at one of the men's faces and is sure that he saw him in Los Angeles the day he got his money.

DREAMS AND REALITIES Premier Robinson has a fine opportunity offered him to meet and overcome an enemy—if he is able for the task. The premier has declared one of Mr. Fleming's statements concerning provincial finances to be grossly incorrect, unparalleled misrepresentation, and an insult to intelligent people.

WHAT MONOPOLY DOES Reference was made yesterday to the Montreal Light, Heat and Power Company, and its methods of dealing with the public. The Shareholder quotes one or two interesting illustrations. Here is one: "A man went into the office of the Light, Heat & Power Company to ask them to put a metre in his flat, as he intended to 'cook with gas.' A paper was placed before him purporting to be a contract. As he started to read it the clerk said with some impudence, 'It's no use wasting my time and yours reading that contract; unless you sign it, you won't get any gas.' The man signed at once. It was a condition and not a theory which confronted him. As he was leaving the clerk said, 'Don't you want electricity also?' and then the worm turned. Facing the clerk the man said: 'Yes, I do want electric light, but not from you; my flat is in Westmount and I shall take the municipal light.' The clerk said: 'But we can quote you a cheaper rate.' The man said: 'Yes, till you have crushed out competition in the town, and then you will hold me up as you did a moment ago with that gas contract.' Here is another instance:—"A certain small manufacturer was paying $700 a year to the Light, Heat & Power Company for the supply of power to run his factory; he considered this charge excessive and exorbitant, so decided to manufacture his own power, which he successfully did for a year at a cost of some $850. Then the Power people came to him and he is now getting the same quantity of power from them at the price he learned to make it for himself."

CHEERING STATEMENTS The New York World prints the following statements of leading financiers in the United States relative to business affairs and the outlook for 1908:— Jacob H. Schiff—"With the period of quietness through which we are likely to pass for some time we shall emerge before long stronger and better equipped than ever before."

OTTO T. BARNARD, president of the New York Trust Company—"I predict that in six months money will be so plentiful that, instead of commanding a premium, we will not know what to do with it."

HENRY L. DOHERTY, banker—"It is now simply a question of speed of recovery."

DR. BEATTIE NESBITT, who seemed to have a good chance of becoming mayor of Toronto, was third in the race. There seems little doubt that charges made against Dr. Nesbitt, reflecting upon his personal conduct and habits, weighed in the scale against him.

EARL GREY'S LEVEE Ottawa, Jan. 1.—The New Year was inaugurated without unusual incident. The function of the day was the governor general's levee at the vice regal offices in the east block. WRECK THREATENS INDIAN CONGRESS
 Moderate Reformers and Extremists Clash—Acclaimed a Secessionist.

SURAT, Bombay, Jan. 1.—After 23 years of increasingly successful work the Indian National Congress, now in annual session here, is threatened with wreck. Trouble has arisen from the divergence of opinion between the moderate reformers, who rely upon the aid of the British government in carrying out schemes for the betterment of the natives, and the extremists, of the type who caused the recent alarm in Bengal.

The crisis came at today's meeting, at which there were nearly two thousand delegates from all parts of India and some thousands of spectators. The extremists who are in a large majority, demanded that the resolution passed last year in favor of self-government, national boycott of British goods, etc., be included in the agenda for this year. The moderates would not give guarantees, and the extremists determined to oppose the election of Dr. Ghose as president.

THREE MONTHS OF COLD WEATHER YET!

We are well aware of the fact that although the winter is not half over, you expect us to give you a pretty close price on an overcoat. If you knew how low close a price we are prepared to quote you, you would drop in today and pick up what are commonly called "bargains." We don't like the word "bargains." They are generally anything but "bargains." Good goods at a low price are the only bargains we have to offer, and another thing—it's nobody's business how little we charge you for an overcoat, that's a business transaction between you and us. Even the best clothing we have in stock—

The Celebrated 20th Century Brand Garments will be sold to you at big discounts. If you buy now, the overcoat will be practically new for next year.

Ready-tailored Overcoat Prices, $10.00 to $25.00—January Sale Discount 20 per cent.—in some cases much larger.

SHE NEVER WEARIES SAYING IT: COLUMBUS, O., Sunday—"Jim" will never fight again. He has promised me and he'll keep his word. With these words, spoken here today while she was visiting a niece, Mrs. W. F. Leonard, Mrs. Lex Jeffries, mother of the undefeated heavyweight, explained why "Jim" Jeffries will not re-enter the ring arena though so many alluring offers have reached him.

Mrs. Jeffries, though seventy-two years old, is active and says she is in the best of health. It was just before she left Mrs. Leonard's home with her daughter, who accompanied her from her Los Angeles home that Mrs. Jeffries talked of her son.

"I have been against prize fighting and didn't want 'Jim' to go into the business," she said. "But I guess I am like every other mother. It is pretty hard for me to conceal the pride in a son who is the best man in the world. But 'Jim' never will fight again. He has promised me that and will keep his word."

Mrs. Jeffries told of her home near Los Angeles, and said she had just seventy acres of the place on the outskirts to a real estate agency for $200,000 and need not fear war, even if her son should be unable to care for her.

TORONTO VOTES FOR CHEAP POWER: Toronto, Jan. 1.—After one of the liveliest campaigns in the history of Toronto, Joseph Oliver, Liberal, was elected mayor today by 5,600 majority. G. R. Geary, a young and able Conservative, was second, and Beattie Nesbitt, third. Votes, also a Conservative, and Simpson, a Socialist, polled comparatively small votes.

Dr. Nesbitt, as organizer and M. L. A., has had a wonderful career in Toronto, and his election was looked on as certain for several years. Towards the last, however, Geary developed strength and his run was very creditable. With the Conservative vote split up among three candidates, Oliver's big majority is easily accounted for.

On the board of control H. C. Hooker, J. J. Ward, W. S. Harrison and F. S. Spence were elected, Hubbard, the colored man, who has held municipal office in the city for several years, being defeated.

The power by-law was carried also by a large majority, in round numbers something like 12,000 to 13,000.

The old council is re-elected with only three changes: W. T. Stewart defeated Hales in the first ward, Mark Bredin will take the place of Geary in the second, and J. A. McQuinnland defeated Adams in the sixth.

RAPID PROGRESS (Winnipeg Tribune): A bride for the fourth time at the age of eighteen years is the remarkable record of a young woman living near Winnipeg. She is the daughter of a former Nebraska rancher and was married the first time when scarcely fifteen years of age. Her first husband died, and she died again, and the second deserted her. Her present husband is Robert J. Horton, a young farmer. Mrs. Horton is a pretty and attractive woman. She has no children.

A PAIR OF THEM: "Jimmie," said the merchant solemnly, at the eleventh hour, "we have forgotten to get a fresh supply of stamps."

And the office boy, in his excitement, responded with: "Gee, yes, sir, so we have! If we ain't a couple of blunder-headed idiots!"—Tit Bits.

SOME THOUGHTS FOR ST. JOHN PEOPLE NUMBER SIX.

The reference in the previous article to the lack of local recognition of the justice being done this city, its people and its business interests, by the mail contract, which requires the C. P. R. mail steamer to call at Halifax, has been somewhat emphasized by a very recent occurrence.

As has been said, this is no "political party" question. It is quite more important than anything of that character. It is away beyond what are known as "party lines."

The situation is of paramount concern to all of us, and the question presents itself: Are we doing or going to do anything to secure our rights? Is anything even intended in order to prevent a repetition of this unfair treatment on the expiry of the existing contract?

The facilities of the port of St. John are being steadily added to and in the near future it will be impossible to supply anything in the way of shipping facilities that St. John cannot better supply.

Only so recently as the occasion of the arrival of the last "Empress" boat, she was at her dock here when the mails she put ashore at Halifax the previous day, reached the city by rail.

Now it is for our civic managers and our Board of Trade to get busy.

RECEPTION AT EVERY DAY CLUB

Refreshments and Fine Entertainment Make New Year's Day Happy for Many Men.

The New Year's reception by the Every Day Club was one of the features of yesterday. From 1 o'clock in the afternoon until nearly 11 last night coffee and sandwiches were served to all comers, and hundreds of men enjoyed the hospitality of the club.

The greatest amount of credit for yesterday's event is due to William McAuley, who did much more than for several days to preparation, and spent the whole day yesterday, from early morning, at the club.
