GERMAN PRESS IS VERY WARLIKE

Berlin Letter Says The Outlook is Ominous

BRITAIN CRITICISED

Lloyds Appears to be Rather Doubtful About the Situation—What the Leading German Newspapers Have to Say About France, England and Morocco

(Canadian Press) London, July 25—The Lloyds underwriters have given notice that they will not accept liability for war risks under marine insurance contracts after August 31st.

Berlin, July 25—Few moments in modern international politics have been fraught with deeper consequences for the peace of Europe than that which tonight unites in the third week of the Franco-German negotiations over the Moroccan situation.

The atmosphere contains a grim suggestion of gunpowder, because the negotiations have reached a point where somebody must give way, unless perilous questions of "national honor and dignity" are not to take the place of the more tangible issues now involved.

There can no longer be any doubt that Germany has proposed a "settlement" of the Moroccan imbroglio which met with a decisive refusal on the part of France. No official details are forthcoming either from Berlin or Paris; but both governments have scrupulously refrained from denying or confirming reports which have been in circulation in the European capitals for the last week.

Germany has offered to declare its "political disinterestedness" in Morocco, and has even offered the sovereignty of the province of Fez on condition that France give in exchange territorial quid pro quo in the shape of a large slice of the French Congo. The "slice" is ten thousand square miles in area and embraces the equatorial harbor of Libreville, which is one of the finest ports on the western coast of Africa.

France has treated these demands as "chimerical" and flatly declined to consider them. It has not actually broken off negotiations, but your papers cannot be renewed if Germany insists upon making them the basis of further discussion. This is the snag at which the situation has arrived.

The German press of all parties, including even a pacific organ like the "Frankfurter Zeitung," which speaks for the great commercial and financial classes, insists that the "Kaiserreich" cannot and will not abandon its rights and hopes in Morocco except for very substantial compensations there or elsewhere. Herr Basson, leader of the National Liberal party, addressing his constituents in central view, yesterday, expressed the same view. The Pan-German press goes further and open advocates war as a means of enforcing "redemptions" or concessions from France; if the republic does not yield, as a result of the negotiations. In the meantime, two of the Kaiser's warships are in Moroccan waters, flying the Hohenzollern battle flag, as visible evidence of Germany's determination.

France's determination not to cover before Berlin's mailed fist will, it is expected here, be immeasurably strengthened by the speech of the British chancellor of the exchequer, Lloyd George, just delivered. This speech is interpreted as an outspoken warning to Germany that the entente cordiale powers will stand shoulder to shoulder in opposition to the German demands. The German press has taken up Lloyd George's challenge with characteristic vigor. The Berliner "Neueste Nachrichten" retorts that German decisions will not be affected in the slightest degree by such an outburst from a "radical agitator." The Hamburger "Nachrichten," the organ of the Bismarckian party, advises England to remember that the world nowadays is not intimidated by the swish of the lion's tail to the extent it formerly was.

The semi-official Cologne Gazette remarks that statistics showing the naval and military risks Germany would incur in trying conclusions with the entente cordiale absolutely fall far short of the facts and of their determination.

PHILA. BANK CLERK SWIMS 22 MILES FOR PRACTICE

New York, July 25—Charles Durbin, a Philadelphia bank clerk, swam for 22 miles in New York bay Sunday. Encouraged by a young woman who stood in a rowboat and exclaimed at intervals: "Don't give it up, the Hook is almost in sight," Durbin held out six hours and 45 minutes.

He was within one mile of Sandy Hook when he climbed into the boat exhausted because the tide had turned, hampering him in the last stage of his swim. He started from the Battery.

Durbin said the swim Sunday was in preparation for an attempt to swim the English channel.

BOBBY LEACH IS DETERMINED TO GO OVER FALLS

But the Authorities on the Canadian Side Prevented the Attempt—High Wind Stopped Him Today

(Canadian Press) Niagara Falls, Ont., July 25—(Canadian Press)—With the police of Canada and the United States both determined to use every effort to prevent the trip over the Horseshoe Falls and a sixty mile gale raging, Bobby Leach abandoned his proposed plunge over the cataract in his steel barrel yesterday afternoon, but said that he would attempt the trip this afternoon if the wind was not so strong. Thousands of spectators were disappointed.

After all arrangements were made by Leach to start from the Canadian side at Chippewa, the provincial police notified Albert Greenwood, who had agreed to tow the intrepid barrel navigator out into the stream above the steel cataract, that he would be arrested for manslaughter if he carried out the agreement and any harm came to Bobby. Greenwood washed his hands of Leach. That did not stop Bobby. He took his barrel to LaSalle, on the American side and there he remained till time to start this afternoon, but such a gale was blowing that it was impossible to tow the strange craft out into the river to start it on its perilous voyage.

Another Step in the March of Aerial Conquest

A Heavier Than Air Machine Successfully Operated at Lake Keoka Yesterday by Army and Navy Men

Hammontport, N. Y., July 25—For the first time in the history of aviation, a heavier than air machine was operated successfully yesterday by two aviators each of whom are actively engaged in the development of the machine. The test was made above Lake Keoka by the Capt. Theodore G. S. Wright, and Captain Paul W. Beck of the army, in the new Hydro-Aeroplane, recently built by the navy. The flight was over a circular course, lasted eight miles at an altitude of 500 feet, and was shifted apparently without indication that the wheel had passed from one aviator to the other. The shift occurred at the invitation of Glenn H. Curtiss.

GREAT DAMAGE TO THE FRUIT CROP NEAR NIAGARA

Yesterday's High Winds Wrought Havoc—Some Say $100,000 Will Not Cover Loss—Many Trees Injured

Niagara Falls, Ont., July 25—Damage that will foot up to the thousands and thousands of dollars was caused in the fruit belt of Niagara by yesterday's high winds. Some say $100,000 will not cover the damage. Fruit and vegetables were uprooted and branches were torn from trees, spoiling many beautiful shade trees. In some places it is estimated that from five to ten per cent of the peach crop was blown from the branches and from ten to twenty per cent of the year crop is now on the ground. Fruit growers along the Niagara River declare the loss to be fully a third of the crop of the early apples, and probably ten to eighteen per cent of the fall and winter varieties.

AGED COUPLE IN SORROW KEEP SUICIDE PACT

Middletown, N. Y., July 25—Edward D. Crans and his wife, a middle-aged couple, well known and respected in the place, where they had lived several years, were found dead in their home Sunday. They had carried out an agreement to commit suicide. After making all the arrangements for the funeral, they drank carbolic acid together. Mrs. Crans was dressed in her wedding clothes, which she had saved more than twenty years.

Man and wife were locked in each other's embrace. It is the coroner's opinion that the double suicide took place at least five days ago. A letter was found containing that poverty had driven them to self-destruction, and bitterly assailing certain people who failed to render them assistance. Neighbors say that they had no idea that the couple was in twenty circumstances, and it seems that the Crans' pride was too great for them to let their real condition be known.

Mr. and Mrs. Crans lost two children by diphtheria several years ago, and it has been said that this misfortune unseparated them. Mr. Crans himself suffered a severe attack of typhoid fever several years ago, which worked injury to his mind. It appears from the letter that the couple were in an ultimatum, demanding a guarantee that the bill will be accepted or the upper house flooded with new peers before the vote occurs.

GREAT RACE IN THE AIR OVER SCOTLAND

Neck and Neck Contest Between Vedrines and Beaumont

BRISTOL THE GOAL

The Other Contestants Are Out of the Race, Only Hamil and Valentine Being Anywhere Near The Leaders—American Has Very Bad Luck

Bristol, Eng., July 25—The aviation race around Great Britain for a prize of $50,000 offered by the London Daily Mail developed today into a neck and neck contest between Vedrines and Beaumont with only G. Hamil and Valentine keeping any hope near the leaders.

Today's schedule called for a flight from Edinburgh to Glasgow by way of Stirling, Glasgow and Manchester, a total distance of 283 miles. G. T. Weyman, the only American competitor who has had hard luck from the start had further trouble with his engine today and abandoned the contest.

Vedrines and Beaumont made the circuit of Scotland, starting from Edinburgh, stopping at Stirling and Glasgow and proceeding to Carlisle during the forenoon. They left the Scottish capital at 5 o'clock this morning to be delayed later at Stirling by heavy rain. In the early flying Beaumont made up some lost time on Saturday and Monday, but Vedrines overcame this advantage in the flight from Glasgow to Carlisle, covering that leg of the 80 miles in one hour and 20 minutes against Beaumont's time of two hours and 15 minutes.

Valentine, the Englishman, left Edinburgh when after the Frenchmen started, but was forced to land at Glasgow and was unable to resume the race at Leamington. He was competing in the other competitors were still struggling on the second stage of the race. Harrogate was the scene of a crash today. Harrogate was the scene of a crash today. CUP AND PRIZES FOR THIS YEAR'S FRUIT FAIR

It is expected that the exhibition to be given in the fall by the New Brunswick Fruit Growers' Association, will eclipse all other affairs of the nature ever attempted in St. John, and arrangements for the fair are now under way.

A handsome cup has been donated by the board of trade as a means of encouraging the displays to be made, and as evidence of sympathy with the fruit growing industry in New Brunswick, which it is believed by authorities on the matter has a brilliant future. It has not yet been decided how the cup will be awarded, as regards the nature of the exhibit, for which the cup will especially be given.

In addition to the trophy, fifteen business houses of the city have subscribed $10 each, as evidence of the interest taken by leading merchants in the establishment of the fruit industry in this province. It is probable that these prize lists will be increased in the near future, but a substantial start in this direction has already been made.

EARL OF HALSBURY

Whose threat to throw out the veto measure when it appears before the lords a second time, has had Premier Asquith to issue an ultimatum, demanding a guarantee that the bill will be accepted or the upper house flooded with new peers before the vote occurs.

SERIOUS CHARGE AGAINST WOLGAST THE PUGILIST

He Says it is Hold-up Game—Great Pugilistic Trust to Include Johnson, Lang, McVey, Langford and Others

(Canadian Press) Cadillac, Mich., July 25—Suit for $10,000 was yesterday started against Ad Wolgast, the lightweight pugilist champion, by the father of Florence Barob, a 16 year-old farmer girl. A serious criminal allegation is made against Wolgast. After the summons was served on the pugilist, he characterized the action as a hold-up game, and claimed the charge unfounded.

London, July 25—High Melmoth, the Australian pugilist, has formed what is probably the greatest pugilistic trust that the world has ever known. The entire organization revolves about the person of John Arthur Johnson, the heavy-weight champion, who is now here, and who is under contract to fight some of the most conspicuous of the big sluggers. Besides Johnson, the newest fighting trust includes Bill Lang, Sam McVey, Sam Langford, Al Kaufman and Porky Flynn.

DIG ELECTRICAL MERGER PLANNED

Toronto, Ont., July 25—Toronto is the scene of one of the biggest electrical mergers that the continent has ever witnessed. The brains of Sir William Mackenzie and R. J. Fleming are behind the various deals, and when they are all consummated, three men, the one as financier and the other as manager, will be in control of this group of companies—The Toronto Railway Company, The Toronto Development Company, The Toronto Electric Light Company, The Metropolitan Railway Company, The Toronto and Scarborough Railway Company, The Alimco Electric Railway and The Toronto and Suburban Railway.

ROYAL HOTEL CASE BEFORE JUDGE FORBES

Before Judge Forbes in chambers this morning the case of Harry A. Doherty, of the Royal Hotel, was heard on appeal. On March 22 last a complaint was laid by the Rev. W. R. Robinson against Mr. Doherty for unlawfully having a screen, blind, or other device, obstructing the view into his bar. The case was tried before Judge Ritchie on April 12 last, and his Honor found the defendant guilty, and imposed a fine of $8 or one month in jail. On July 24 the papers were filed with the clerk of the county court on appeal. The case was argued this morning. A. A. Wilson, K.C., for the prosecution, and Daniel Mullin, K.C., and J. B. M. Baxter for the defendant. The contention was that the finding was bad in law. His Honor reserved judgment.

THIS MAN WON AND LOST FORTUNE IN ALASKA

Having made and spent two or three fortunes in the gold regions of Alaska during many years residence in that cold territory, Charles McLeod passed through the city yesterday en route to Sydney, N. S., to visit his brother. He came here from Fairbanks and was "dead broke." One of the promoters of Alaska when the yellow metal was more plentiful than it is today, he made some big clean ups on and more than one occasion he could have come out of the place with a snug roll. He was, however, a "good spender" and was perhaps his own worst enemy. Fortune seemed to smile on him, and as he spent he regained his fortunes till at last he struck rock hard luck and was taken in hand by the Pioneer's Association of Alaska, who undertook to send him east to visit his brother in Sydney.

The Halsbury Dinner Will Be Well Attended—Society is Disorganized and King George Even Postponed Visit to Theatre Last Evening—Lansdowne's Appeal

(Canadian Press) London, July 25—Lord Lansdowne has sent a circular to all the Unionist peers, asking whether they are prepared to support him. One hundred and nine have already replied in the affirmative.

The Marquis of Londonderry, in a letter to a paper, urges his party to support Lord Lansdowne on the ground that the expense of the parliamentary bill would still leave the house of lords power to delay the home rule bill two years, while if the peers were created wholesale an Irish parliament might be established in Dublin next year, and once established it could not be abolished without difficulty and danger.

The Daily Telegraph, which supports Lord Lansdowne, in an editorial this morning, severely denounces the insult offered to the premier yesterday by insignificant Unionists, "as a disgusting exhibition of bad temper and worse manners."

The Morning Post, The Standard and other Unionist organs representing the insurgent side, however, exhibit the slightest compunction, instead they attack Mr. Asquith in the most bitter terms as "An unscrupulous political adventurer" for what they describe as his shameful abuse of his powers in obtaining the King's consent to create peers.

Evidence accumulated of the strength of the insurgent movement. Many letters from peers, members of the House of Commons and others, advocating the "No Surrender" policy, appear in the papers this morning, and it is learned that Mr. Balfour's meeting for today has been postponed because the committee in charge has been unable to agree on the terms of a motion to be submitted at the meeting.

On the other hand, the organizers of the banquet to Lord Halsbury are so overwhelmed with applications for tickets that they have been compelled to engage a large hall, capable of seating 700 guests. Austin Chamberlain's decision to attend the dinner has greatly strengthened the insurgent movement.

The crisis is causing a general disorganization of political and social engagements. Even the king postponed his intended visit to the theatre last night.

ARE GETTING READY FOR RECIPROcity

Washington, July 25—Treasury officials are preparing for the changes which the Canadian reciprocity act will work upon the administration of the customs house following ratification by the Canadian parliament. Assistant Secretary Curtis, in charge of customs, held conferences yesterday with state department officials regarding the operation of the new law.

The changes in such rates of duty as will effect the present tariff on articles passing between Canada and the United States are being worked out so as to make the administration of the new agreement as simple as possible for collectors of customs.

NEW BRUNSWICK ROADS PRACTICALLY IMPASSABLE, DR. A. P. CROCKETT DECLARES

Says They Are in Terrible Condition and Something Must Be Done—Strong Feeling Against Government's Road Policy, and Old Friends of the Administration Are Up in Arms—Culverts and Bridges Need Attention—How Mud is Dumped into the Roads.

"You can say for me that the roads of this province at the present time would make good bulwarks for an army," said Dr. A. P. Crockett, Conservative M. P. for York county, to the Telegraph last night. "The roads at the present time," he added, "are practically impassable, and if the local government goes on with its present system of road making, that is, digging out the gutters and throwing the mud, etc., into the middle of the road, autoing will have to become a forsaken pastime."

Dr. Crockett, in company with Mrs. Crockett and Mr. and Mrs. George W. Fleming, left here on Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in his 30 horse power White car and proceeded to the capital via what is called the Garry road. Ordinarily they should easily have reached their destination in about four hours' time, but as it was, they did not arrive until 7:30 o'clock. The car did not break down, but it took them all their time crawling over the road. They left Fredericton early Sunday afternoon and arrived home Sunday night.

To a Telegraph reporter yesterday afternoon Dr. Crockett had few good words for the Hazen government's road policy. "It is only wasting the public money repairing the roads under the present system, and if it intends doing anything at all to better conditions it will have to spend now from three-quarters of a million to one million dollars. This, at least, would be the amount necessary, for instead of making the roads better it is making them worse by making repairs under the present system. If it would start in and macadamize all the main roads at least then it would accomplish something, and I believe that the government could do this at very little expense. There are enough stones lying on the road to pass over on Saturday to macadamize it, and even if there were not, let it take all the old stones of the farms and do the work. The farmers would all be agreeable to this and it could be done with very little expense.

"Things have reached such a stage that something must be done. If not, I think that all the auto owners in the province, and there are about 400, will unite and take up arms against the government in an effort to secure better roads. I know many staunch friends of the Hazen party for years and years, who if anything is not done, and done very soon, will go to the polls at the next election and work against the government. Not only are the roads in great need of repair, but the culverts and bridges also require attention. Mostly at the foot of hills will you find bad ditches and broken bridges, and it is impossible to make any kind of time."

"The autoists in the province are doing all they can to better conditions, but I do not think it is their place to do the work. The government derives quite a revenue from the autoists in license, etc., and the latter ought to be getting but little credit from the government. Not only are the roads in a worse condition now than they have been for many years, and instead of getting better they are getting worse. The present government has been in power long enough to have made things better, but it seems to have done but little in that respect. I know of a case where a man took a long auto trip through the States and did not have one punctured tire until he struck the New Brunswick roads, and then he did not have one, but ten punctures, and that does not say very much for the roads.

La MARQUISE de FONTENAY Lord Minto's Son-in-Law Goes into Banking—The Scandal of King Leopold's Life Revived by Recent Publication

(Copyright, 1911, by the Brentwood Co.) Another chapter has been added to the scandal in connection with the late King Leopold of Belgium, through the publication at Brussels, in book form, of the reminiscences of Henri Beaulieu, who spent many years in the monarch's service as valet. The work is full of all sorts of intimate details, which cannot be said to either improve or damage the memory of his late master, since the latter's reputation, as far as his private life is concerned, was of too questionable a character to be susceptible of injury.

The book also declares that just a few hours before his death, Leopold had called his secretary, Baron Goffinet, to him, and had given him not only his watch and chain, but also a medalion which he had worn around his neck from his boyhood, that had been blessed and presented to him by the then Nuncio at Brussels, who afterwards became Pope, as Leo XIII. Baron Goffinet, by the directions of the King, handed both the medalion and the watch and chain to the woman known as Baroness Vaughan, who, according to stories current in Paris, is about to marry the diminutive Duc Dezaes, whose first wife was the late Isabella Singer, one of the daughters and heiresses of the sewing machine manufacturer.

Colo has been lent to these stories, by the fact that the Duc Dezaes has followed the suit of the late King of the Belgians to Arches-Bains, where he is in constant attendance upon her. She is colloquially rich. In fact, no one knows how great is her wealth, since there is no means of tracing, with any degree of certainty, all the vast sums lavished upon her during the last four years of his life, by her royal lover.

The Duc Dezaes is the grandson of that Elie Dezaes, who though of humble origin, became the confidant and favorite of Louis XVIII., during the period of the latter's exile, and was created Count by him on the restoration, although it was insisted that his earliest services to the King had been of a menial character. Few men were more execrated in their day than this Elie Dezaes. So much so, that Louis XVIII. did not dare bestow upon him the dukedom of Dezaes, until two years after he had incurred the displeasure of the King by the murder of the Duke de Berry, heir to the throne, and who made no concealment of his ambition to lay waste the provinces of the north of France, and to displace the Duke of Orleans, as the King's minister.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER SERVES NOTICE ON CONSERVATIVES

The Reciprocity Bill Must Pass or the House Will Be Dissolved—Hon. Mr. Fielding Issues Challenge to the Obstructionists—Hon. Dr. Pugsley Suggests Closure as Means of Getting Business of House Transacted More Promptly

Ottawa, July 24.—Parliament's proceedings today were fraught with deep significance. They spell an early crisis in the existing impasse. Both Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. Mr. Fielding spoke with candor, clarity and emphasis, and their utterances were taken as a sign of a new era of confidence and of the re-opening of the Liberal party in every province. For a week past its members have held the progress of the country's legislation at bay while they talked. Not a single item of the public business has been advanced. And the people have grasped the situation. With the week-end many members visited their constituencies, came in contact with their constituents and learned something of the mind of the public. When the minister of finance, immediately following the preliminaries today, moved the house into committee for the further consideration of reciprocity, there was a change in opposition procedure. Instead of the customary launching of time-wearing garrulosity, the member for the North Grey rose in a new form of complaint. The opposition, he complained, were being branded as obstructionists and all the time the government was preparing for an election. He proposed that instructions be given to prepare the lists, to issue instructions to returning officers and to provide for the preparation of electoral regulations in the unorganized districts. What did the government mean by this? But the position was not maintained long. Met with the reminder that an election is what they had been themselves claiming they desired, the wreathecock of opinion swung completely around, and the opposition was left in a state of confusion and embarrassment.

The premier brushed the cobwebs of misunderstanding and doubt away. Objection must inevitably mean dissolution and an immediate appeal to the people. If reciprocity, redistribution and other public business is to be held up by the minority and government must do otherwise, as Sir Wilfrid himself put it, "there are judges over us to judge between the government and the opposition."

And Hon. Mr. Fielding, dealing with the situation in detail, it was the desire of the government to proceed with both reciprocity and redistribution. Redistribution was paramount. Redistribution could not be consummated until the census was completed. It was, moreover, legislation which was within the control of parliament at any time. Not so with reciprocity. It had required what no other tariff legislation in the United States had yet been able to secure, a combined approval of house of representatives, senate and president, in legislative machinery comprising at present both political parties in the republic. The minister of finance emphasized the fact that there was nothing binding about the agreement, that the Canadian parliament had the right at any time to terminate it, should such a course be desired. The United States had spoken. Canada was confronted with the opportunity she had waited forty years to obtain. By adopting the agreement now, parliament would give the farmers and producers of natural products the great new market for this season's crops, and thereby permit the benefits and advantages of the arrangement.

Under these circumstances, the government maintained it to be its duty to give tariff relief the paramount position in the progress of legislation. The President of the United States had kept faith loyally with the Canadian government, and the government was prepared to do its part. The obstruction of the passage of the agreement could only result in one outcome, the denying of the new markets to the agricultural producers of Canada for this year's crop, and an appeal to the people. "Let me put the good faith of my honorable friends opposite to the test," concluded the minister of finance. "I challenge them to pass it now, give the people of Canada its benefits this year, proceed with redistribution and follow in due course with the elections. Then, a year or less hence, when the people have tried it, meet them for their verdict. Then if my honorable friends are sincere, if their position has been warranted in any way, they will have the opportunity of wiping this government out of repeating the measure, and putting back again the people which we hope to take off."

Both Hon. Mr. Fielding and Hon. Dr. Pugsley gave hints as to the necessity for reciprocity in their remarks. Then, if my honorable friends are sincere, if their position has been warranted in any way, they will have the opportunity of wiping this government out of repeating the measure, and putting back again the people which we hope to take off. Mr. Fielding's challenge was greeted by long-continued applause from the Liberal benches. Hon. Mr. Fielding and Hon. Dr. Pugsley gave hints as to the necessity for reciprocity in their remarks. Then, if my honorable friends are sincere, if their position has been warranted in any way, they will have the opportunity of wiping this government out of repeating the measure, and putting back again the people which we hope to take off.

Newbro's Herpicoide is a discovery. It was the first remedy ever given to science to kill the dandruff germ. TYPICAL TORISMS—OTTAWA AND LONDON
The Tories, in Ottawa and in London, gave characteristic exhibitions yesterday.

In Ottawa and in London, in Canada as in Great Britain, the Tory tactics will end in defeat and humiliation for the opposition.

Very similar is the Tory exhibition at Ottawa. Sir Wilfrid Laurier in his speech of yesterday made it exceedingly plain that the government will take the verdict of the people at once if the Conservatives persist in sheer obstruction.

The Prime Minister's words were greeted by prolonged Liberal cheering, the cheering of a majority wholly confident of the result when an appeal is made to the country.

Hon. Mr. Fielding, who followed, made use of a sentence or two, the cutting of which must have been highly disagreeable to the minority.

Harold MacGrath's "The Carpet From Bagdad!" Francisco I. Madero, Jr., leader of the Mexican Revolution and, unless all signs fail, the next President of Mexico, in a signed statement on Mexico's relations with the United States, etc.; his brother, Gustavo Madero, in a special interview with Edward Marshall, on the causes of the Revolution; Albert Elley Bergh, on "This"—one of the best reviews Mr. Bergh has written, brimful of human interest and fascinating charm; P. Harvey Middleton on "The Real Champ Clark," his former boyhood and his stalwart youth; Augustus Post on "Wireless and the Aeroplane," Charles E. Courtney, Cornell's famous coach, on "Rowing," Edward Lloyd Fox in a vivid pen-picture of a "various boat-race, with a story to it; the conclusion of McConaughy's heart-stirring novella of "The Gamblers"; Henry Mann's editorial review of notable events—features of the July Columbian.

The census would be much larger if all the men who are leading double lives could be found out.

GOVERNMENT FIRM

Yesterday's Disgraceful Conduct by a Few Disturbers Has Embittered The Feelings of The Parties—New Peers May Be Created—The King Deeply Interested

London, July 25.—The last act of the parliamentary revolution was ushered in yesterday with a revolutionary scene. For the first time in the history of the house of commons refused to listen to a speech by the prime minister.

The unexpected turn political events have taken in the last few days— even hours—has thrown upon us a special burden of work which makes it scarcely possible for me to undertake the additional exertions involved in a great meeting in the city.

While the "Last Ditchers" are making the most noise, the real influential members of the Conservative party stand with Lord Lansdowne and Mr. Balfour for a peaceful solution of the Government's bill.

Mr. Balfour did not as was expected, declare himself today as to the party's course, but he set forth his views plainly at recent conferences. The King also is using his influence to bring about a settlement.

MANCHESTER ROBERTSON ALLISON, LTD.

VIGOROUS ADDRESS BY HON. DR. PUGSLEY IN HOUSE YESTERDAY

Points Out the Benefits to Be Gained From Reciprocity and Warns Obstructionists of the Folly of Their Course

Hon. Dr. Pugsley took part in the debate in the house yesterday, and discussed both reciprocity and the conduct of the obstructionists.

Mr. Pugsley quoted utterances of Sir John Thompson and Sir Charles Tupper in favor of reciprocity, and a speech by Premier D. Hazen, when a member for St. John, expressing his satisfaction at the announcement that the government had made that negotiations were about to be commenced with the United States.

Mr. Hazen said he was sure Canada would welcome that announcement, and that such an agreement would be greatly for the benefit of Canada. Such views by Canadian statesmen were not disloyal twenty years ago and were not disloyal when held by the government today.

Reciprocity would greatly benefit the lumbering and fishing interests of the maritime provinces. The government has been in favor of reciprocity since the time of Sir John Thompson, and that such an agreement would be greatly for the benefit of Canada.

When the facts that farms in Maine were worth twice what they were across the border in New Brunswick the advantage of the American market could be estimated.

Mr. Crockett of York had done to meetings of his electors recently and told them that the reciprocity agreement was disloyal. Yet Mr. Crockett, when reciprocity negotiations were in progress, wrote Mr. Fielding that the Scott Lumber Company of his constituency desired the American duty on shingles reduced from 50 cents to the old figure of 30 cents, and trusted that this request would be considered when the negotiations would be under way.

Reciprocity would benefit the city of St. John, for without it the American mills in St. John, which cut logs floated down from the upper waters in Maine, would no longer be able to ship their products to the United States free of duty. They would have to close down, as the Lyle mill, which had existed for sixty years would expire on August 5. If the reciprocity agreement was ratified the lumber of those, as well as of Canadian mills, would go into the United States duty free.

MAKING HEADWAY AGAINST LEPROSY.

Treating Cases by Vaccine Methods and Excellent Results Appear to Have Been Obtained - Report by Capt. Williams

London, July 25 - The "Indian Medical Gazette" contains a report by Captain I. S. Beetham, Williams on his investigations into leprosy. Some of the Indian journals hailed Captain Williams's discovery as a "cure" for the disease, and the close of his report the bacteriologist refers to this. He says: "We have been treating a certain number of cases during the last eight months by vaccine methods. Our results are still in an experimental stage, and I am not by any means prepared to abide by our present vaccine as the best means of utilizing the organism. Still, by using our present vaccine, we have achieved, in the few cases treated, most interesting results. I do not put in photographs, as although two or three are very striking, I wish to lay stress at present, not on striking amelioration of symptoms, but on its probable power of immunizing the patient against further spread of the disease.

This brings me to the question of the results to be aimed at. Many people are disappointed when told that we claim no cases as cured. This point of view is very natural, but on consideration it will be seen that it is not a very helpful point of view in the treatment of such a chronic disease as leprosy. How can we expect very rapid and startling changes in lesions which have often taken years to reach their present size. At the same time, I will say that, given the co-operation of the patient, our actual positive results justify us in hoping that we can now effect a cure in early cases."

VACATION HINT.

I got two weeks to go away. And rest from labor! It is a happy scheme, I say. "So goes my vacation." We go each year in Skeeterhead, Beside-the-Ocean; But there's something not quite to suit my notion.

We're up at dawn and off we go. Perchance, canoeing, The sun beats down and lets me know The things it's doing.

My face is burned, my back is lame, My arms are aching, But there's nothing there that I don't mind. I'm taking a vacation.

So now I've schemed a little scheme To show the bossies; It is a trolley's chortle dream Which brings no losses, I think it is the very best In all creation. I'll ask a week or two to rest From my vacation.

DESPATCHING C.P.R. TRAINS BY TELEPHONE

System installed on The Atlantic Division And In Use Today

OF GREAT SERVICE

Train in Distress Can Telephone Headquarters From Any Point—C. P. R. Has More Miles Under This Service Than Any Other Railway

The Atlantic division of the C. P. R., from St. John to Vancouver, is now equipped with the appliances used for telephone train despatching.

The new service of train despatching marks a further step in the development of railroading in Canada for the C. P. R., and in the opinion of the division it will be used by the operators at either end of the control of Frank Mahon, Atlantic superintendent for the C. P. R. Telegraph.

Yesterday the system was given a trial, and the operators at either end of the line worked very satisfactorily.

The operator in the local controlling station will have charge of a switchboard and can at any time open connection with the main station, by attaching to the wire running by the track, a pole-like instrument which immediately makes its presence known in the transmitting station.

On the first trial today the new system of despatching resulted satisfactorily, and as time goes on it is expected that a change to the old system of telegraph would not be desired.

The C. P. R. now leads all other railroads in America in the number of miles covered in this telephone despatching service, and in some districts the system is not of recent installation, but has been in commission for some time.
