ACCIDENTAL DEATH OF CAMPBELLTON MAN

John C. Sullivan a Resident of Hubbard, Ohio, Killed by Electric Train

(From the Hubbard, Ohio, Enterprise).
December 11th, 1913.

"John C. Sullivan, one of the well known young men of Hubbard was found at what is known as the Liberty crossing of the Erie railroad, just west of here Sunday morning, Dec. 7th, the supposition being that he had been killed when trying to alight from a train at that point.

All kinds of rumors of having seen the young man in Youngstown at different times and places are heard, and just how he came to his death will probably never be known. That he spent Saturday evening in Youngstown has been established beyond a doubt, but further than that no one seems to know anything definite of his movements, and when found his watch, papers and a return street car ticket was in his clothes but no money.

Mr. Sullivan was born in Campbellton, N. B., Canada, January 8, 1884, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Sullivan, who now reside in Montreal, Can.
He came to Hubbard twelve years ago,
and has resided with his aunt, Mrs.
Catherine Sullivan of North Main street. He was employed as a heater at the Steel Hoop mill in Sharon. He was a member of St. Patrick's church, and was considered a young man of exemplary habits and was very well thought of by every one of his acquaintance.

Besides his parents he is survived by one brother William and one sister, Beatrice, both at home, and a large circle of relatives residing in Hubbard.
The funeral was held this morning from St. Patrick's church, Rev. John F. McInerney officiating with burial in the Catholic cemetery.

Accidental Death
Further than the fact that Sullivan was struck by a passing train, nothing is known as to the details of his death, as apparently there were no eye-witnesses. A suspicion of foul play was hinted at, it being said that he often had considerable money on his person. Coroner John C. Henshaw, who viewed the body, rendered a verdict of accidental death.

Officials of the Erie R. R. Co. are endeavoring to ascertain what train struck the unfortunate man, but have not as yet succeeded.

The late John C. Sullivan was born in Campbellton and received his education at the Campbellton Grammar school, and has many friends here.
He visited his former home in August, 1912. Regarding the accident it was learned from reliable sources that he left Youngstown on the 10:15 electric car which was due to arrive in Hubbard at 10:30. It is also known that he had a considerable amount of money on his person, and it is the general belief that he was the victim of foul play. His watch and signet ring, both of which were engraved were found in his possession. When the body was discovered the skull was fractured but there were no other marks of injury upon him. On receiving the sad news his father, Mr. D. W. Sullivan immediately left Montreal for Hubbard, to attend the funeral. Many expressions of sympathy for the family have been made here, where they were well-known and much respected.

LIQUOR LICENSE

APPLICATIONS IN
Eleven Petitions for Licenses Have Now Been Received by Commissioners

December 28th is the last day according to the Act that applications for liquor license can be received, and so far the commissioners have had eleven applications made them. Of these two are for wholesale licenses, and it is expected that there will yet be one or two more applications made before the date of closing. Up till Tuesday those making applications were:

Amadeo Guimond
John McIntyre
John Doucet
Henry Cormier
J. Sylvester Boudreau, (wholesale).
Ans. Im Francoeur
Isaac Boudreau, (wholesale).
J. Isidore Boudreau
Patrick O'Leary
John Lemieux
Harvey Malcolm.

In an address before the Huntsville
Canadian Club last night, Hon. J. S.
Duff, Tory Minister of Agriculture for Ontario, discussed the cost of living.
He hoped the time would never come when butter and eggs could be bought cheaper than they are to-day.

Premier Borden will find that it is good Anglo-Saxon logic to take the food duties off first and provide the explanation afterwards.

INTERESTING CASE HEARD THURSDAY

Four Men are Convicted of Dynamiting Salmon.—Fined $315.00

A case which came before Judge Matheson last Thursday for trial was of more than ordinary interest. Separate information has been laid by Max M. Mowat against Peter and John Fournier, former of camps, John Silas and Joseph Marcotte, all of Balmoral. The men were charged with destroying salmon in a pool on the Up-perquish river on Sunday, October 19th. The four men were arrested on warrant and the whole case was brought into court as witnesses. H.
A. Carr and A. T. LeBlanc appeared for the prosecution and W. A. Trueman for the defendants.

They all pleaded not guilty, and the case of Peter Fournier was taken first, this taking up all the forenoon. At the court had resumed after lunch, the evidence which had been led was proving fatal to the case, the whole four pleaded guilty and threw themselves on the mercy of the court.

Judge Matheson imposed fines and costs on the accused totalling $315.00.

This dynamiting of fish has been going on now for some considerable time and the wardens have made up their mind to stamp it out, once and for all.
$315 is certainly a steep price to pay for salmon, and the average man would consider it was rather dear fish.

GOOD CONCERT HELD FLATLANDS WEDNESDAY

Entertainment May be Repeated on Some Future Occasion

The concert held at Flat Lands in the Orange Hall on Dec. 11th, was a great success. The hall was packed with perhaps the largest audience that ever held. The opening chorus "O Canada" went well and was well received. The play entitled "More blunders than one" was excellently acted all though, Miss Jean Gillis and Mr.
John Gracey taking the heavier parts in which they played to great advantage. Miss McKenzie, Mrs. Nichol and Wm. Pollock were very well respected.

There is a rumor that the concert may be repeated, and if so we feel that we can assure the participants a good hearing.

NEW OPERA HOUSE

AT ATHOL OPENED

Good Audience at the Initial Performance of Moving Pictures

The new Opera house and moving picture theatre at Athol was opened on Monday evening before a good gathering of patrons. Mr. S. W.
Dimock provided a special treat for theatre goers, taking up an orchestra from Campbellton, and the show was much enjoyed.

The new theatre although not yet finished inside, is in splendid shape, and 40 feet broad by 85 feet long.
The stage measures 20x40 and has a high well for raising the scenery without rolling. Mr. Dimock has installed an electric lighting plant of his own, which has given great satisfaction, and besides supplying light for the pictures is capable of carrying more than the light load required for the house lights.

The theatre will be open on Christmas night, Monday the 29th. December and on New Year's night. Further particulars regarding opening nights will be published later.

ABOLITION OF BAR IN ALBERTA

The Movement Has Taken Definite Shape

Edmonton, Alta., Dec. 19.—The movement to abolish the bar in Alberta is taking definite shape, according to information from the Alberta Moral Reform League and a great convention will be held in Calgary on February 18th, next to discuss the entire matter. The campaign as planned is not to abolish the manufacture or sale of liquor, but simply aims at the abolition of the bar and to restrict the sale to wholesalers, clubs and possibly with meals at hotels.

Temperance leaders are already in communication with the Alberta government about the matter, but nothing definite will be known until the convention.

Makes Hair Grow

All drug stores sell SALVIA, and it is guaranteed to grow hair or money back.

The time to take care of your hair is when you have hair to take care of. If your hair is getting thin, gradually falling out, it cannot be long before the spot appears.

The greatest remedy to stop the hair from falling is SALVIA, the Great American Hair Grower, first discovered in England. SALVIA furnishes nourishment to the hair roots and acts so quickly that people are amazed.

And remember, it destroys the Dandruff germ, the little pest that saps the life that should go to the hair from the roots.

SALVIA is sold by first-class druggists under a positive guarantee to cure Dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in ten days, or money back. A large bottle costs 50c. The word "SALVIA" on every bottle. Sold at Whites Drug Store.

Proud of Him

Sandy McPherson started to build a small out house of bricks. After the usual fashion of bricklayers, he worked from the inside, and having the materials close behind him, the walls were rising fast when dinner time arrived, and with it his son Jack, who brought his father's dinner.

With honest pride in his eye Sandy looked at Jack over the wall on which he was engaged, and asked:

"How d'ye think I'm gettin' on, Jack, Mon?"

"Famous, feyther; but hoo dee ye get out? You've forgot the door!"

One glance around him showed Sandy that his son was right; but, looking kindly at him, he said:

"Mon Jack, you've got a grand head on ye! You'll be an architect yet, as sure as yer father's a builder."

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out of this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send testimonials, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

ORGANIZATION OF N. B. HOCKEY LEAGUE

Campbellton's First Entry Into Semi-Pro Hockey—Prospects For the Season

The Gleaner of Thursday contains the following account of the Provincial Hockey meeting held in Fredericton Wednesday.

The New Brunswick Hockey League was formed yesterday afternoon with four teams, Chatham, Campbellton, Fredericton and Marysville.

The meeting of the representatives from these places met in the Arctic Rink yesterday afternoon, and the four team league was decided upon.

There were several lively tilts between the two Chatham factions, and the one led by Frank Synott was returned a winner. "Wally" Watling appeared at the meeting and was desirous of placing a team in the league.

Mr. Synott's team in the league and the other teams preferring to play their games in the large rink in Chatham in connection with the St. Thomas College. It is in this rink that the team represented by Mr. Watling will play their games, while Watling's team was to enter the rink in the old rink in the Exhibition Building. This latter place has always been a poor place for hockey, the ice surface being small. The other teams objected to playing in the old rink and naturally voted to have Mr. Synott's team in the league and exclude Mr. Watling's. Their action brought forth some very pointed remarks from Mr. Watling who claimed the other teams were prejudiced.

After the meeting Mr. Watling stated that he would have a team in Chatham, and would endeavor to enter a team composed of Chatham, Amherst, Campbellton and Sussex.

After it had been decided to allow the team represented by Mr. Synott to enter, the officers of the league were elected as follows:

President—A. McN. Staples, Fredericton.

Vice-President—G. T. O'Brien, Chatham.

Secretary—D. L. Dolan, Fredericton.

The representatives passed a resolution that any player who becomes the property of any club must have his release from that club before he can play with any other club in the league.

The league opening has not been definitely decided upon yet but it is expected that the first game will be played during the week of January 12th. The schedule will be drawn up in a few days and submitted to the other clubs by the secretary of the league.

A trophy has been offered by a skating manufacturing firm through their agents, James S. Neil and Sons, in this city.

With the league a semi-pro one, the fans can expect a far better class of hockey than they have been witnessing during the past few years.

Chatham is starting with a purely local team, but should they not be able to stand the pace of the other teams, they will take every means to strengthen up, in the North Shore town, was the way the situation was expressed by The Gleaner yesterday afternoon by Frank Synott.

Marysville will have a stronger team than last year in the game, according to all reports, and will bring out a lot of new blood.

Campbellton is having its first whirl at league hockey, and Jack Fraser, their representative at the meeting yesterday, is the authority for the statement that they will make their first season a brilliant one. They have one or two players there now who have played in fast company, and will give every team in the league a merry race.

The local management is not saying much at present, but will be there when the time comes. It is now a well known fact that Mike Murphy, who has reconsidered his decision about playing with Ottawa in the N. B. A. will turn out with the N. B. H. L. this style, will be the ancient seven men game, Mike will probably play cover point.

St. John was not represented at the meeting yesterday, but sent word to the effect that the long trip to Chatham and Campbellton did not appeal to them and they would not enter a league with the North Shore towns.

The representatives at the meeting were: Fredericton, Thomas Lynch; Marysville, Roy Robertson and Geo. Brogan; Campbellton, Jack Fraser; Chatham, Rev. W. J. Roach, F. Synott, A. W. Mahar and W. Watling.

It would seem at present as though the N. B. H. L. were in for a good season of fast hockey. All the towns have good rinks with large ice surfaces for the first time in the history of hockey in New Brunswick.

NO ICE YET IN GASPE HARBOR

The Montmagny Calls There En Route to Halifax for the Winter Service

Gaspe, Dec. 18.—The C. G. S. Montmagny arrived here today en route to Halifax, where she will take up her course, and at Ellis Bay, Anticosti work for the winter. This steamer left Quebec on Saturday last with freight and mails for Clarke City and Anticosti. These were landed in due course, and at Ellis Bay, Anticosti, several beautiful foxes were put on board to be brought to buyers in this town. Two especially, one a black silver and the other a silver gray, were beautiful specimens.

On her way from Anticosti the Montmagny called at Fame Point and took on board the large submarine bell buoy which is anchored off that point during the summer. This buoy is about eight feet in diameter and twenty-five feet long, and weighs seven tons. It was left on A. T. Carter's wharf here to be called for next spring.

Although the ice has not yet begun to rival for this port, in former days large sailing vessels used to leave here as late as Christmas eve, and today, when the Montmagny came in, the harbor was practically as clear of ice as in July. Any ordinary tugboat would experience no difficulty in keeping the harbor open until the end of January. The Montmagny left at 7 o'clock this evening.

CHRISTMAS

Today we celebrate the anniversary of a birthday. A thousand spruce trees gleam with tinsel and candles, and hear on their branches all manner of gifts. Homes, shop windows and places of business are wreathed in green and gaily bedecked with bright red berries, and streamers of gaudiest hue. The morning brings to us a different feeling, our salutation to our fellow man is a new and warmer greeting. No longer are we cold, hard and practical, we give and receive gifts in a new and unwonted fashion, the feeling of brotherhood is in the air, and if we have any one to forgive, surely we forgive them now.

Many birthdays have we celebrated, but surely never one like this. None have ever brought to us such a change in our daily life, never have we felt such warm gladness. We recognize this, the Christmas as the greatest of all holy days. We are told that the first Christmas marked the birth of the soul of humanity. Before it, there were many states and many religions, but never a conception of the essential unity and brotherhood of mankind. That first Christmas marked the dawn of a day which hath not yet reached its noon.

And what of the birthday we celebrate? Who was the Great King? Stay, His birth was of the most humble. Of all the thousand races who paid tribute to Caesar, His was the least considered. Of all His race, His station was of the lowest. He was born in obscurity and cradled in a manger. "Wise men" they say, and offered Him gifts, but never any of the Jewish priests or the Roman captains think of their wisdom? He was brought up to be a carpenter, and as a toiler for His daily bread was looked down upon. When He spoke, the lowly listened were the least respected and lowest in station, poor tradespeople, fishermen, outcasts, publicans, and sinners, perhaps a few with some little or much education, but never any of the powerful, fortunate, of influential, none of the Scribes or the Pharisees.

And His doctrine! What strange new philosophy, what great new scheme of things. The Hebrew God was a jealous God, visiting the sins of the father unto the third and fourth generation to them that hate Him. The gods of the Romans were mere abstractions, with a religion dead in the dry rot of an easy formalism, while they themselves were enlightened materialists, wise, selfish and mercenary. In all that great empire physical force was the real god, barbarian and slave were of one flesh, the Roman of another, the sword was greater than all philosophies, and the Roman legions gleaming front was the strongest of all arguments. Into this hardened world came the obscure, the unknown, the unfriended founder of Christianity. He urged the forgiveness of sins. He held up to all His listeners the sweet virtue of tolerance, and gave a bright vision of morality and kindness, far above the power of any law to enforce. He raised up before the people an ideal such as never before had the heart conceived. The revolution He preached was a spiritual, while many who heard of Him looked for the physical. For this He suffered the pangs of an ignominious and cruel death, and was buried by a friend whom He never knew in life. He died and no one in Imperial Rome knew He had lived. The books that have been written about Him and His teaching would fill vast libraries, yet the simple record of His brief life and what He said and did, is soon read, but it has proved itself to be not easily forgotten. From it has come all of our happier more beautiful civilization, all our sweet thoughts of kindness, all our finest and most unselfish aspirations. All that was great on that first Christmas Day, is now forgotten and passed into the shades of oblivion, and what was then considered least is now become the highest.

Irrespective of religion, race, or creed, do we not, most of us join the "Wise Men" today and with some spirit offering go once more to Bethlehem? for we have seen the star in the East. We know from what small beginnings the greatest thing of all has grown, and with an impulse of gratitude we remember once more on this another Christmas Day, the Greatest of all Heroes.

EDUCATIONAL

It has been often stated and statistics have been quoted to prove the contention that the proportion of illiterates is greater in New Brunswick than any of the other provinces. Speaking at an educational gathering lately, Chief Superintendent Carter took exception to this opinion, stating that while in the Western Provinces the school age for children entering school was five years, here in New Brunswick it was six years, hence all children under six years of age were classified as illiterates. In Dr. Carter's opinion and we are inclined to agree with him, the people of New Brunswick are as far advanced in educational matters as their brethren in the other provinces.

HAVE INSPECTION

In place of an embargo against Canadian potatoes the Americans have set up an inspection. If the inspection be impartial, Canadian exporters will have little difficulty with it, unless it should involve delay and expense. It would, of course, be possible to convert an inspection into an embargo to all intents and purposes. The test will come when the inspection is begun. The need for shipping only such potatoes as are beyond suspicion is clear in these circumstances, and farmers who are paid at their own railroad station will be the men who will experience the least uncertainty. Telegraph.

TAKING IT ALL BACK

Minister of Labor Crothers, finding himself ridiculed from the Atlantic to the Pacific, because of the crumbs he offered to a starving people, by telling them at Halifax that hard times would reduce the high cost of living, now desires to climb down by denying that he ever said so. Mr. Crothers' denial recalls the incident of Sir Chas. Tupper making a reckless statement in the City of Winnipeg, which he found convenient to afterwards deny, by declaring that the reporters could not hear distinctly what he was saying, because the rain was pattering on the roof of the rink. Now, was it raining in Halifax when Mr. Crothers was there?—Quebec Telegraph.

THE DIFFERENCE

American train service does not arouse the enthusiasm of Theodore Dreiser. "I can prove in a moment to any traveller," he said in his "A Traveler at Forty" that our trains are infinitely more luxurious than the trains in England. I can see where there is no heat enough, and where one lady's trolley for men and women on any train, let alone a first class one, is an abomination; and so on and so forth. But still, and notwithstanding, I say the English railway service is better. Why? BECAUSE IT'S MORE HUMAN; IT'S MORE CONSIDERATE. YOU AREN'T DRIVEN AND URGED TO STEP LIVELY AND CALLED AT IN LOUD, HARSH VOICES AND MADE TO FEEL THAT YOU ARE BEING TOLERATED ABOARD SOMETHING THAT WAS NEVER MADE FOR YOU AT ALL. BUT FOR THE EMPLOYEES OF THE COMPANY. IN ENGLAND THE TRAINS ARE RUN FOR THE PEOPLE, NOT THE PEOPLE FOR THE TRAINS."

A Discredited Witness

Dan O'Connell once defended a man named Hogan, charged with murder, says A. H. Engellach in his "Anecdotes of Bench and Bar". "A hat, believed to be the prisoner's was found close to the body of the murdered man, and this was the principal ground for supposing Hogan was the perpetrator of the foul deed. That the deceased came by his death by violence the state of the body clearly showed, and O'Connell felt the case for the prisoner required the exercise of his utmost powers. The Crown counsel made a strong point of the hat, which was produced in court. O'Connell cross examined the neighbor who identified it.

"It is not different from other hats," said O'Connell.
"Well, seemingly, but I know the hat."
"Are you perfectly sure that this was the hat found near the body?"
"Sartin sure."
"O'Connell proceeded to inspect the caubeen, and turned up the lining as he peered into the interior.
"Was the prisoner's name, I-a-t-H-o-g-a-n?" he spelt each letter slowly—"in it at the time you found it?"
"Was of course."
"You could not be mistaken?"
"No, sir."
"And all you swore is as true as that?"
"Quite."
"Then go off the table this minute," cried O'Connell, triumphantly. Addressing the judge, he said: "My Lord, there can be no conviction here. There is no name in the hat!"
"The prisoner was at once acquitted."

IS APPOINTED TO BE CHIEF OF POLICE

Constable Wm. Chamberlain of This Town Now Head of Newcastle Force

At the meeting of Newcastle Town Council held on Thursday evening last, Mr. Wm. O. Chamberlain, constable of this town, was appointed Chief of Police and Scott Act Inspector in Newcastle.

Mr. Chamberlain went on the force here last September, but previous to the fire, he served as constable for three or four years, leaving to take up the post of police officer on the I.C.R. at Campbellton.

Mr. Chamberlain proved himself always an obliging and efficient officer, and filled his post very quietly, and was always attentive to his duties. His friends in town here are greatly elated at his promotion to this responsible position, and wish him well in his new sphere.

This will now cause a vacancy on the police force here, which at this time of year is rather awkward, the constables usually having their hands full at this busy season.

What do the farmers expect from their visit to Ottawa? Do they think they will make a convert of the Premier?

Twelve years ago in Ottawa the price of milk was a dollar for twenty-two quarts. To-day, it is just twice that sum.

Moisture with a little water if the apples are not sufficiently juicy. Serve hot with following sauce.

GRAHAM PUDDING

Two cups of Graham flour, one cup molasses, one cup milk, one cup raisins, one teaspoon soda, one-quarter teaspoon salt. Put the molasses and soda into a mixing dish, add other ingredients, mix well. ### BEFORE IT'S TOO LATE

Many prosperous citizens have lost their valued possessions overnight. Then they kicked themselves because an outlay of a few dollars on every thousand of valuation every few years would have left them protected and prosperous. Don't be foolhardy. Few things are as cheap as fire insurance in the beginning, and nothing may prove more costly in the end than its lack.

ENTERTAINMENT

The children of the primary and junior classes of St. Andrew's Sunday school held their Christmas treat on Monday night in the church hall. There was a large turnout of young people and many of the parents were present. After an interesting program of songs and recitations the young folks got each a box of candy and refreshments were served.

RUNOFF

The International Railway was unfortunate in having a runoff at Five Fingers this week. No. 6 engine went over the points at the switch but no one was hurt. The accident was most unfortunate coming at this busy season as the company have all they can do at the present to move the increasing traffic over this line.

PHYSICIANS' DAUGHTERS

McGill University evidently is popular with physicians' daughters, four of whom left Montreal this week to spend the Christmas season in the east. These young ladies are: Miss Alice, daughter of Dr. G. G. Melvin, of St. John (N.B.), Miss Roseline, daughter of Dr. A. G. Ferguson, of Dalhousie, (N.B.), Miss Alice, daughter of Dr. B. A. Marven, of Chatham, (N.B.), and Miss Helen, daughter of Dr. N. S. Fraser, of St. John's (Nfld.).

The funeral of the late Rev. C. A. Hardy, B.A., B.D., pastor of St. Andrew's church, Exton, took place from the David Morrice Hall, Presbyterian College, Montreal, Friday afternoon, and was largely attended. In the absence of Principal Springer, Prof. Fraser officiated, assisted by Rev. A. D. McKenzie, Rev. Dr. Manson, Prof. Bieler, and Rev. Ed. Mowat. Dr. Fraser said he had known Mr. Hardy for many years, and as a scholar, a student, a pastor, and a friend, there were few men like him, and he could be truly called one of God's Gentlemen. Rev. Mr. Mowat, representing the Miramichi Presbytery, spoke of Mr. Hardy's sterling worth as a Presbyterian pastor, and conveyed the sympathy of the Presbytery to his young widow and little son.

During the service Miss Manson sang very beautifully "Face to Face." Rev. Mr. Hardy graduated in arts from McGill in 1900. Three years later he graduated from the Presbyterian College having won the silver medal, and the McCorkill Travelling Fellowship. He later attended New College, Edinburgh, and United Free College, Glasgow. In 1904 he was ordained to the ministry. Three years ago he married Miss M. Florence Lee, daughter of Rev. A. Lee, and sister of Rev. H. S. Lee pastor of Fairmount Presbyterian Church, Montreal.

ECHOES FROM THE #### ANGLICAN MISSION

A general organized Evangelistic Mission, which proved a great success and spiritual blessing to the people of the Diocese of Nova Scotia, was recently brought to a close in the city of Halifax. Missions were held throughout Sydney and other parts of the Diocese. For three months previous the work of preparation had been in progress. The Parishes of the City of Halifax were divided and visited by workers going from house to house, leaving cards and talking with people about the coming mission. The Bible Class of All Saints' Cathedral, numbering 150, gathered on Wednesday evening for special prayer and intercession for the mission. The Mission preacher for the evening services in the Cathedral was the Right Rev. Dr. Richardson, Bishop of Fredericton. The Rev. C. V. Foster Bliss, of Smith's Falls, Ont., gave addresses in the mornings on the Spiritual Life. Rev. R. P. McKim of St. John, had charge of the open-air department of the Mission. He, with others, stood every day at noon hour and proclaimed the old-fashioned Gospel on the public street to the scores that were passing by. The Rev. J. J. Robinson of Winnipeg was the Chief Missioner in St. Paul's Church. In days gone by Dr. Robinson held scores of Missions throughout Ireland, attended with great spiritual results. Every Anglican Church in the city of Halifax has had one of three special Mission preachers. They all came from various parts of Canada and are busy clergymen in charge of Parishes of their own. The Rev. Canon Howitt, of Hamilton, Ontario, a strong Evangelistic preacher was the Chief Missioner in Christ Church, Dartmouth. Dr. Paterson Smyth of Montreal was the Chief Mission preacher at St. George's, Halifax. The most important work of all is to prayerfully and carefully follow up the results in the various parishes.

A prominent Presbyterian Divine of Halifax, said the other day that "the city, as a whole, has felt the benefit of a new vision and inspiration as a result of the Anglican Mission."

The Sable Lorcha

By Horace Hazelton.

With an effort the physician commanded himself. When he spoke again he was comparatively composed. "Mr. Clyde," he said apologetically, "I am not given to discussing personal matters with my patients, but the fact that you and Cameron are friends, and the fact that this subject has come up, make it almost imperative, I suppose, that I should explain briefly the feeling I have just exhibited. Five years ago Rob Cameron and I were about as near counterparts of Damon and Pythias as ever existed. While Cameron was in Europe, I had an opportunity to go around the world with a patient. We dived a good deal, and, you understand how uncertain correspondence is under those circumstances, I never knew just where I should be at any given time. Consequently, a number of letters were missed by both of us. I was still thinking of Cameron as in England or on the European continent, when I one day beheld, I saw him one morning, hurrying along the principal street of the inner city of Peking. I don't know whether you have ever been there or not, but if you have, you know what that thoroughfare is. It was all bustle and activity that day, and about as crowded as Broadway at the noon hour, but with much more picturesque and contrasting currents of individuals and vehicles. I was in a carriage, myself, and Cameron was afoot, walking in the opposite direction. As we passed each other, he did not seem to see me, though I called to him loudly. This, however, did not surprise me, for there was an ungainly racket in progress. Instantly, I had the carriage turned about, but before I could overtake him, he was lost in the crowd. I was leaving Peking that afternoon, and so had no chance to look him up. I wrote him afterwards and told him of the incident, and how I regretted having to go away without exchanging at least a word with him. To my amazement he not only denied having been in Peking, but in the Chinese empire at all. When we met in London, the following spring, and I recalled the matter, asking why he had refused to admit what I knew to be the truth, he became icily indignant; and that was the beginning of the end. If I had conceded the possibility of mistake on my part, all might have been well, I suppose; but there was no such possibility. I had known Cameron for twenty odd years, and I could not have made an error. I had seen him distinctly, clearly, at midday in the open. It was he beyond all peradventure, and from that time to this I have been unable to conceive why he lied to me, and why he chose to do so, and our friendship rather than admit what was indisputable fact.

His explanation finished, he reached for a pen and, as he dipped it in the ink, he added:

"I trust you will pardon me, Mr. Clyde. I have detained you."

"You have interested me," I assured him. "And that more than I can tell you." Which was quite true; yet I was even more perplexed than before. To the maze of circumstances there was now added another baffling feature.

Dr. Addison handed me the prescription he had written.

"After meals, and at bedtime," he directed, with a return to his professional manner. "If you do not find yourself much better at the end of a week, come in again."

On the sidewalk I tore the little square of paper into bits which the wind carried in a thin flurry across Madison avenue.

CHAPTER XIV.

The Dark of Doyers Street.

At one o'clock that day, Evelyn Grayson came at luncheon at Sherry's. She had been in no mood to wait any longer than was absolutely necessary for tidings of my visit to Dr. Addison; and, moreover, she had news of her own which she was anxious to convey to me.

I have often wondered why it is that the kind-you-so passion is inherent in all women. There are those who manage to control it with admirable success under average circumstances, but sooner or later, even the most courageous battlers against this maternal heritage succumb, and indulge in a sort of disguised orgy of reproach.

Evelyn might have told me, for instance, that Captain MacLeod, after careful investigation, had been unable to discover either hair or hide of Peter Johnston in Gloucester or elsewhere, and stopped there. That is what a man would have done. But, altogether admirable though she was, the eternal feminine was strong within her. Therefore it was incumbent upon her to add:

"It doesn't surprise me, Philip. When you told me how you pleased that man up, I was confident that he was floating out there in your path for that very purpose."

"I had no intention to discuss the point with her." That was the most painful part of it. I knew that she was right—that in putting Peter Johnston ashore, instead of in front, I had committed an error that might prove costly. But why couldn't she see that I meant to do as I saw fit?

not know. Probably any one so dominated by the general scene as I was, would have noted as closely its individual elements, I am not sure. But the truth is that in a very few moments I had acquired a mental paragraph of the opposite side of the street, in so far as it came within my direct vision. In other words every detail of the background of the moving picture before me was indelibly printed upon my mind's retina. There was the playhouse, with its plain, rectangular doorway, unadorned, save by a quartette of rude signs; two above, slanting outward, and one on either side, all announcing "Chinese Theatre," and one giving the current attraction in Chinese characters, with the added notice, "Seats reserved for Americans." To the left of this had been. Evidently he had retraced his steps up the rude ladder to the street, closing the doors after him to check any further pursuit.

The place into which I had followed him was evidently a Chinese candy manufactory and cake bakery. To the right of the entrance were rows of shelves containing jars of what I recognized as sweetmeats peculiar to the celestial. In a large bowl on a rough table or counter was the granulated flour with which these confections are invariably powdered; and here, too, were boxes of round, jumble-like cakes. I saw now that the space upon which I had fallen was so restricted that I wondered how it was possible for my quarry to have reached the steps and descended without touching me or at least acquainting me with his presence. And I marvelled, too, that twisting my ankle as I did, I had not plunged at a slant and struck my head upon one or another of the crowding tables and boxes with which the cramped basement was furnished.

My third match disclosed a narrow door in the broad partition at the rear, and fancying that perhaps the elusive Peter Johnston had escaped by that means while I was getting to my feet, I lost no time in seeking to investigate what was beyond. I was somewhat surprised to find the door unfastened. Once open, it revealed a smaller and more crowded room, warm and fetid, into which were packed no less than half a dozen barrels of raw and cooked peanuts, arranged about a low stove on which a peanut-filled cauldron was slowly steaming.

Curiously interesting as all this would have been under ordinary circumstances, I experienced only a surprised relief, for with my injured ankle I was in no fettle to cope with even the weakest adversary. Indeed, now that this easement was afforded me, my sprain suddenly asserted itself with a new vehemence, sharp and twinging of pain shooting to my knee and demanding instant relief.

In front of the low stove I had noticed a stool, and for this I groped with the eagerness of the drowning man after a straw. To my joy I laid hands upon it, and drawing it nearer sank down with a sigh of gratification comparable only to that with which a Marathon victor drops to earth after a hotly-contested race.

Gradually now that my weight was removed, the pain lessened, and a sense of comfort ensued. Contentment enfolded me, which, I thought of it at all, I attributed, I suppose, to the reaction from the agony which I had just been suffering. I remember thinking that I would rest a few minutes and then take my departure as I had entered, for I realized that cellar doors are fastened only from within, and that there could, therefore, be no impediment to my going when I chose.

I distinctly recall that I was conscious of a certain strange incongruity of situation, but could hardly comprehend in just what the incongruity consisted. I knew only that I felt pleasantly warm and drowsy; and my sprained ankle had ceased altogether to pain or annoy.

And then, I was sitting in an open boat in midocean, and Peter Johnston, in dinkies, sat at the helm, with a returning leer on his face, and tugged at brief intervals, always longer and stronger, upon what seemed to be the sheet, which had become wrapped around my throat and chest and which, by degrees, was crushing my windpipe and, hence, my breath came only in sharp, shuddering, aching gasps.

OUR PROVINCES ARE BEST IN CANADA
Opinions of British Writer After A Tour of The Dominion

Sydney, N.S., Dec. 17.—"The Maritime Provinces are the best part of Canada, only the people don't know it," said V. Halford, a representative of Canada, a London, England illustrated weekly, who has just completed an eight months' trip through the Dominion, which included a visit to Sydney.

"If you had the spirit of the west here, you would not know the country in a few years. Most of the people in Eastern Canada admit their part of Dominion has a great future before it, and generally they let it go at that. More, the people seem to be content to wait for things to come along; in the west they go after things. Here the people pray for things; in the west they do things."

"It is mainly the people who make a country, of course, you have got to have the natural resources and possibilities. Here you have a better country than they have in the west, and you can deliver the goods, if you make up your minds to."

I. C. R. FIREMAN HAD NARROW ESCAPE

Locomotive Broke Away From Tender of Northern Division

While running down from Campbellton a day or so ago, the locomotive of a heavy freight train broke away from its tender, allowing the fireman, who was standing on the "apron" between the engine and tender to fall through the gap. Fortunately the distance between the engine and tender was somewhat less than the length of the engine, so that the fireman was able to pull him back to the deck, safe and sound although somewhat bruised by his fall. It is rather unusual for a big engine to "break" in the days of the little engines it was a common occurrence, and many a local fireman can tell of narrow escapes from being crushed to death. Sometimes, too, they did not escape—Transcript.

THE "HEAVENLY PLANT"

Talking of mistletoe reminds us of the "ancestries" of the plant. It is a sprig from "the gods, a plant not born of this earth but springing from some divine source. Thus the ancient thought it, and called it the Heavenly Plant, or the Sprig that Heals. Probably the Druids were the first to accord to it divinity, for they used worship it, and perform ceremonies with it and give it to the people to hang in their houses as a protection from evil, and a charm to bring good-luck. It was this, no doubt, which led to the adoption of the mistletoe as the "lucky plant" of Christmas time, and later as "The Kissing Sprig." It was thought in by-gone times that if a branch was held in the hand with certain ceremonies, a spectre would appear to the watcher and hence the plant was called "the spectre's wand." The "Fairies' wand" we of old Erin called it, and many a time when the big Christmas hamper arrived have we gone to secret places upon Fairy Hill where the Good People dance, and wave the "fairies' wand" and demand the fulfilment of our three wishes. Mine, I remember, used to be—To be grown up and wear a gown with a train like my mother's; to be able to play all the jigs and reels in the world on the bag-pipes; and to be Queen of the Fairies. And the only one I ever got was a train to my gown when I didn't care whether I had one or not! From Christmas to Christmas the fairies' wand hung from the rail of every bed. Many and many were the incantations we performed with it—but the only luck it ever brought the writer was to set her one day on a big ship that carried her to Canada.

JACQUET RIVER

The closing exercises of Jacquet River school, were held on Thursday afternoon, Dec. 18th. During the past year the Advanced Department has been conducted by Miss K. For the first hour the children were reviewed on the work of the year, after which all assembled in the Primary room, and an interesting program was carried out.

At the close of the entertainment, addresses were given by Mr. McAlister, a trustee, and Mr. Foley, a ratepayer of the district. They spoke very encouragingly to teachers and pupils. ## DALHOUSIE

Dalhousie, N. B., Dec. 23rd.—The concert given by the pupils in the Convent hall on Wednesday evening last was a great success. The handsome sum of $85 was realized. The proceeds will go towards making improvements for the greater comfort of the convent scholars.

A second concert was held in this parish last week, Miss Eliza Miller, who has charge of the Eel River Crossing school gave a very enjoyable entertainment with her pupils on Friday evening. There was a good attendance. The proceeds will be for adding requirements to the school room.

The news of the death of Rev. Edmund A. Neville, was a surprise to his Dalhousie friends. It will be remembered that he had charge of St. Mary's Episcopal church here the summer of the Campbellton fire. He had been here on a previous occasion, and on each visit he made a splendid impression. The Christian Herald of New York, dated Nov. 26th, publishes the following item under the heading "The death of a Famous Missionary,"—While travelling in Mexico, the Rev. Edmund A. Neville, one of the most widely known missionaries in the world, died on November 2nd at Saltillo, the capital of the State of Coahuila. Mr. Neville had circled the globe many times in the interests of the Episcopal Missionary Board. It is probable that no missionary was ever subjected to a more startling experience than that of Mr. Neville in 1892, when, as a member of a party of six English Missionaries, he saw his five companions eaten by Cannibals and was himself held captive for fifteen months on a small island off the Coast of New Guinea. The incident attracted the world wide attention at the time, and until Mr. Neville was rescued, warships of many nations touched at port towns in New Guinea and sought information regarding the party. He finally managed to attract the attention of a party of sailors from a Dutch Gunboat which passed the shore off the island upon which he was detained and he was returned to the United States.

After the experience in New Guinea, Mr. Neville went to Oxford and completed his studies, and for several years devoted himself to missionary work in China, Japan, Singapore and nearly two thousand words, which he gathered in New Guinea while among the Cannibals, has been of great service to religious workers who have since worked among the natives.

The Dalhousie skating rink was opened for the first time this season on Saturday evening. The addition of the electric lights to the rink is a great improvement. There was a good attendance of skaters.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Lennox, are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a baby girl on Friday. Mrs. Lennox is a guest of her parents, Hon. C. H. and Mrs. LaBilloy.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph LeBel of New

Carlisle, P. Q. celebrated their golden wedding recently. They were the recipients of a handsome sum of gold from Deputy Sheriff for the County of Bonaventure, for a great many years is a brother-in-law of Mr. W. H. Clapperton, Ex. M.P.P. of Maria, P.Q. and is an uncle of Mrs. Henry McIntyre of Campbellton.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vermette are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a daughter at their home on Friday last.

A meeting of French Acadian Citizens was held at the Queen Hotel this week, to consider the request made by his Honor Judge Landry, towards raising funds to present a New Year's gift to Mr. Urban Johnson, Ex. M.P.P., for Kent Co., N.B. Mr. Johnson being now over ninety years of age and in reduced circumstances. Hon. C. H. LaBilloy, who sat in the Legislature with Mr. Johnson, and who on several occasions stamped Kent Co. with him spoke very highly of his patriotism. Mr. E. Rene Richard briefly referred to the services rendered by Mr. Johnson as a public man. Mr. Richard was appointed treasurer to receive contributions.

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Magee and children of Moncton, arrived here on Saturday to spend the Christmas season with Mrs. Magee's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Mercier.

Miss Annie McInerney of the Dalhousie Superior School staff, left here on Friday for her home in Rexton, N. B. She was to be joined by her two sisters, Miss Cauley and Miss Vera McInerney, teachers of the Sussex Public School, to spend the Xmas holidays with her friends in Kent Co., N.B.

Miss Rosalind Ferguson, who is attending the McGill University, Montreal, is home spending the Xmas holidays with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. A. G. Ferguson.

Mr. Beverly Scott of the University of New Brunswick, Fredericton, is spending the Xmas vacation here, the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Scott.

Miss Mollie Doherty of the Private Western Hospital, Montreal, arrived here Saturday, having been called by the serious illness of her aunt, Mrs. David Ritchie.

Mrs. W. A. R. Cragg spent Friday in Bathurst, the guest of her mother, Mrs. McLean. She is accompanied by her little son, William.

CHANDLER

Mr. H. W. Racey, General Manager of the St. Lawrence Pulp & Lumber Corporation, is at present away, but is expected to return in the course of a week.

We are enjoying nice weather at present, and the roads are in good condition for sleighing, which is much appreciated by the young folks.

Mr. Percy LeGallais spent a couple of days in town last week, returning to Paspébeas Saturday morning.

Mr. Al. Bright, head Engineer of the Railroad Construction gave a very interesting treat to the employees of both the St. Lawrence Corporation and the Abernethy Construction Co., in the shape of a trip five miles back in the woods on the Company's new railroad, ending at Campion's Camp, where a hot luncheon was served in great style, at the completion of which Mr. Wade made a speech.

Miss Rebecca Nadler has returned to Chandler after spending a few days at her home in New Richmond.

A party of eight drove to Newport Saturday evening to attend the opening of the Newport rink for the season. The ice was in excellent condition, and it was well worth the long drive to Newport.

Miss Lu Miller of Port Daniel is now at Chandler, and up to now has been kept busy at her work in the new hospital which was opened last week.

A meeting was held Thursday evening last to organize a club which will be called the "CHANDLER ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION". The club is for all the people of Chandler and it is expected that a great time will be derived through it.
