GOT $11,000,000 Equal Amount Yet to Come From Western Wheat Not Marketed.

Montreal, Nov. 22.—Eleven million dollars have yet to be present been received by the farmers of Manitoba and the Northwest for the 20,000,000 bushels of wheat which have passed out of their hands and been marketed. Such is the estimate of the Lake of the Woods Milling Company, who claim that there is still an equal amount yet to be marketed, bringing the value of the grain for its wheat crop alone up to $22,000,000. Added to this the value of the oat, barley and rye crops, which are also bringing high prices, and a very prosperous state of affairs is in store for the farmers of the west.

IN FLAMES OF GAS Twelve Men and Women Have Narrow Escape From Burning and Drowning.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 22.—Swimming through spouting flames of gas was the experience of twelve men and a woman on the sand boat, Vigilant, which was burned to the water's edge in the Monongahela River at Clairton early Wednesday morning.

The boat was moored over a gas main which crosses the river at that point. A break in the main caused gas to bubble up through the water and ignite from the fires under the steamer's boiler. There was an explosion and the boat was enveloped in flames.

The members of the crew and the woman jumped into the river and swam through the geysers of fire. All reached shore in safety, badly scorched or burned.

BRAKEMAN'S GRIT!

Ran a Mile Between Moving Cars With His Hand Caught in a Coupler.

Philadelphia, Nov. 22.—Joseph E. Howard, of Bridgeport, Montgomery county, a brakeman on the Reading Railway, while at work coupling cars at West Manayunk, got his hand caught in the patent coupler. He could not release himself, and the train began to back. Howard was forced to run between the cars until Pencoyd, a mile away, was reached, and the car stopped. Then he walked to St. Timothy's Hospital, nearly two miles, and had three fingers amputated without taking an anesthetic. When his hand was caught, Howard instantly let go his left arm in pain. The engineer thought it was the signal to go ahead, and he started the engine. After the first shock, Howard said he felt no pain in the crushed hand for a few seconds, but when the cars began to move he tried to pull his hand away and could not. He could not reach the step to get on the car and was forced to run between the bumpers until the train stopped at Pencoyd.

DECISION OF PRIVY COUNCIL!

In the Appeal Case of the Manitoba License-Holders Association.

The Province Had the Power to Enact a Prohibitory Liquor Law—Galway Elects a Pro-Boer to Parliament—Death of the Late German Ambassador to Great Britain.

London, Nov. 22.—In the appeal case of the Attorney-General of Manitoba vs. the Manitoba License-Holders' Association, the privy council has decided that the Legislature of Manitoba had jurisdiction to enact a liquor law.

WON THE PRIZE FOR VIRTUE. The French Academy, says a dispatch from Paris, has awarded the "prize for virtue" of 1,000 francs to Cecile Morand, a seamstress, who is a dwarf and lame, and who from the age of 13 years has supported a paralytic father, a sick mother, and ten brothers and sisters.

THE MAN FROM GALWAY. The London correspondent of the Tribune cables concerning the Galway elections as follows: "A victory for Col. Lynch was generally anticipated, but the plurality is greater than his supporters had expected. Not much sympathy is expressed for Mr. Plunkett, the defeated candidate, in this morning's papers. His attitude in the Chamber of Deputies, and his attitude in the House of Commons, have not sufficiently antagonized the water of war. The Unionist vote. The government may not have sufficient evidence to show that Col. Lynch fought for the Boers, so that if he decides to disavow the testimony of his backers, he may after all be able to act as a member of parliament."

Dublin, Nov. 22.—The voting today in the parliamentary contest in Galway between Col. Arthur Lynch, who fought in the Boer army, and Horace Plunkett, Liberal Unionist, was very brisk. The result was as follows: Lynch, 1,247; Plunkett, 473.

On the whole the polling was conducted with comparative orderliness. A large additional force of police prevented numerous street scurrilities, which were the outcome of drunkenness from developing seriously. Women were conspicuous in these affairs, and many of them were arrested. In the advent of Lynch's election being quashed, the ground that he is a traitor, Plunkett says he will decline to take the seat thus reverting to him. He will be returned straight or not at all. Lynch's friends, however, are satisfied that he will attempt to take the seat.

LIVERPOOL BANK BADLY VIC-TIMIZED. Great excitement was caused today by the announcement that the Bank of Liverpool had been victimized by a trusted book-keeper to the extent of hundreds of thousands of dollars. What the losses amount to is not yet known, but an official statement issued by the bank says that through the dishonesty and betting transactions of a book-keeper they may lose £170,000 ($260,000). The bank of Liverpool's shares fell £1 on the stock exchange today. The defaulter has not yet been arrested.

TROUBLE IN VENEZUELA. Caracas, Venezuela, Thursday, Nov. 21.—(By cable.)—President Castro, believing that a conspiracy to overthrow him existed, caused the arrest today at Puerto Cabello of Ramon Guerra, the minister of war. The president also brought about the arrest at Caracas of a number of partisans of Ramon Guerra, among them being his friends, who claim to be a French citizen. The arrests have caused a great sensation. Joachim Garido succeeds Ramon Guerra as minister of war.

DEATH OF BARON VON HATZEN-FELDT. London, Nov. 22.—Count Von Hatzenfeldt-Wienhausen, who a few days ago retired from the post of German ambassador to Great Britain, died at the embassy this morning. Count Von Hatzenfeldt returned from a holiday six weeks ago, but since that time had been able only once or twice to leave his house, and then in a bath chair. He suffered greatly from asthma. On Saturday his malady developed into congestion of the lungs, and he died peacefully this morning in the presence of his wife and son. Last night he received the last rites of the church, and then passed away.

children of slaves might be practicable in Togoland and the Cameroons, the time had not arrived to declare them free in German East Africa.

THE GALWAY ELECTION. John Redmond, M.P., was shown a dispatch this morning announcing the election of Col. Lynch in Galway. Col. Lynch was Redmond's candidate and defeated the government candidate by 800 of a majority. The colonel fought on the Boer side in the war. Mr. Redmond does not see any reason why he should not take his seat.

THE EMBARGO ON GRAIN. Those engaged in the grain trade in Manitoba and the Northwest have been applying to the government to permit the export of grain to permit locomotives from the Intercolonial Railway to assist in the export of grain from the west. Mr. Sifton laid the matter before Mr. Blair, who in turn consulted with Mr. Pottinger, general manager of the government road. Mr. Pottinger replied that the Intercolonial had no motives to spare, indeed they had not sufficient to carry the large business which was now being done by the Intercolonial.

FORMER LONDONER'S DEATH IN DETROIT!

The Late Robert Piddie Was Brought Up in This City and Was a General Favorite.

The late Robert L. Piddie, who was drowned in the Detroit River yesterday, details of whose death will be found in another column, will be well remembered by many Londoners. He was brought up in this city. As a boy he was a general favorite, kind-hearted, genial and possessed of more than average ability. After leaving the old mission school, he entered the employment of Messrs. John Birrell & Co., continuing with them until some years after the death of the head of the firm, and during several years was one of their most trusted and successful travelers. He removed from London to Detroit, and while there was always pleased to meet anyone he knew from London. He suffered a sunstroke many years ago, which was doubtless the indirect cause of his death. Bob Piddie was fond of a game of cricket and could sing a good song. We make special mention of him, as he was a member of our club, and we sympathize with his widow and family.

PRINCIPAL GRANT RECOVERING. Kingston, Nov. 21.—Principal Grant was well enough to take a walk through the college grounds yesterday, and to spend a short time in the senate rooms. The officials, professors and students were exceedingly glad to see him out.

THE HAVRE STEAMSHIP RECORD BEATEN.

New York, Nov. 21.—A cablegram was received from Havre, France, stating that the Havre steamship record had been beaten by the French liner "Le Havre," which arrived in New York on November 20th, having made the voyage in 10 days, 18 hours and 15 minutes.

The company's works are now lighted by electric light, the company having installed a plant of their own.

From the year 1870 to 1875, the province had been a debt of $1,000,000. In order to defray which the government had imposed direct taxation on banks and insurance companies.

Speaking of the public schools, Mr. Whitney said the province should be proud of the high schools and universities. He thought the high schools were not doing the work originally intended. The public school system had been a question. Ninety-five out of every 100 children began and ended their education in the public school. Greater stress should in his

Ola Cream...

A Popular Cure for Chapped Hands, Chafing, Sunburn, Frosted Face, Salt Rheum and Tender Face After Shaving.

OLA CREAM is a scientific skin food and a most agreeable preparation for the prompt cure of any roughness of the skin.

Unlike Glycerine, Cold Cream, etc., it does not irritate the skin, but soothes, softens and heals.

The peculiar advantages of OLA CREAM consist of its being entirely absorbed at once, leaving no external evidence of its having been used.

It is entirely harmless, and safe to use on the youngest babe or the most delicate skin.

Its power of healing is due to the fact that it becomes absorbed and is assimilated with the fatty layers, fibres and tissues, absorbing them up and giving action to the muscles and tone to the nerves.

BETTER NEWS COMES FROM SOUTH AFRICA

Increasing Number of Boers Join British Forces.

London, Nov. 22.—The Standard today publishes some satisfactory news from South Africa. It appears that an increasing number of Boers have expressed a desire to bear arms against their countrymen, and are seeking admission to the British field force. Several contingents of burghers have already been enrolled, and the latest corps is commanded by no less a personage than Gen. Andries Cronje, brother of the famous Boer leader now a prisoner in St. Helena.

CAPE COLONY WILL PAY.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 22.—Conductor R. R. Higgins, the eighth victim of the Santa Fe wreck in Arizona, is dead at a hospital. Those injured in the accident are progressing favorably, and no more fatalities among them are expected.

TUNNEL SIX MILES LONG.

Truckee, Cal., Nov. 22.—That the Southern Pacific is determined to reduce the elevations of the present high line over the Sierras from Truckee to Colfax is evidenced by the fact that a party of engineers has taken the field to run preliminaries for a cut off, including a tunnel. They are now at work on the line to begin at Donner Lake, with the intention of coming out on the Yuba River, near Cisco.

By the new tunnel the line will be reduced eight miles and the elevation of the road reduced 1,000 feet. The tunnel will have to be six miles in length.

Convalescence.

Convalescence is sometimes merely apparent, not real, and especially is this true after such diseases as pneumonia, typhoid fever and the grip. To make it real and rapid, there is no other tonic so highly to be recommended as Hood's Sarsaparilla.

This great medicine cleanses and renews the blood, strengthens all the organs and functions, and restores health. Take Hood's.

Any one troubled with boils, pimples, rashes, festering sores, or any chronic or malignant skin disease, should use Burdock Blood Bitters externally and take internally. It will cure where others fail.

ONTARIO AS OTHERS SEE IT

The Province Looks Like Home to an Englishman.

The Climate is Good and the People Happy, Contented and Prosperous.

It is a familiar remark that all cities are alike; it is the speech of the respondent of The London Standard, who accompanied the royal party during their tour, in the issue of Nov. 7. In Canada, however, they are entirely different. Quebec, for example, is a beautiful and ancient dame, with the manners of a past age. Winnipeg is a hoyden. Victoria is a daintily made en, Ottawa a lady of fashion, Montreal a solid business man, and Toronto a well-to-do citizen with a place in the country. It was with a feeling of repose that we approached the capital of Ontario. Night and day we had sped across bare heaths and through great stretches of forest, beautiful in their scarlet and purple vastness. Never have I seen such masses of color—the deep purple of the blue birch, the trembling orange and gold of birch and aspen, wreathed with the dark green of pines, a carpet of flaming sumach—all fading into a dream of pink and purple and green and gold against the cold blue of a autumn sky. As we drew near to Toronto a new and quiet sense of home came over us. From the windows of the train we look on a landscape of meadows and gardens and hedgerows, right away to a blue line of hills and a dull gray sky. Smiling homesteads, pleasant villages, busy towns, glided past us, leaving an impression of industry, content and settled prosperity. The people, too, reminded us strongly of home, or at least of the heart of a British and Protestant community. Everywhere the duke and duchess had been welcomed warmly and heartily. In the streets of the Catholic Quebec, but in my ears the cheers of Toronto seemed more stirring—more British in force and volume.

CLIMATE ALL RIGHT.

I am not sure that the feeling of home was not due in part to another cause. It was raining. The climate of Canada has been woefully misrepresented. Most people remember the words "Our Lady of the Snows" and forget the license of the poet. There is a popular belief that in the Dominion they leap from "winter to summer without warning." Now, this journey of nearly 6,000 miles, we have had almost perfect weather. Though on the edge of winter, only on one fleeting day have we had snow, three or four showers of rain, and all the rest warm, bright and sunny. Even the winter, as everyone will tell you, is less trying than that of England, for the air is clear and dry, and still, though the thermometer may be many degrees below zero. Only when the wind blows, and it rarely does, do you need to wrap yourself in furs and avoid exposure. Well, it was rain in Toronto, and the sky was leaden, and the wind was giving it a thought. The children—their 6,000 healthy youngsters at the railway station—sang their national songs, waved their Union Jacks and cheered as the train sped on. As if the sun had been shining on them and they were not soaked to the skin. The streets were densely crowded, and the enthusiasm was a thing to be remembered. Their royal highnesses drove through miles of suburbs, in which are many beautiful residences, gardens radiant with blossom, and leafy avenues. In the city are many handsome churches and public buildings, with well-ordered streets, traversed in every direction by electric trams. Canada is a land of public buildings and tramways. Every provincial capital has a pile of government buildings, and the credit of an European capital; and the wealthy merchants and citizens display admirable taste in the construction of their homes, with their lawns and gardens, and their fine carriages. The effect is pleasing and surprising, especially in towns not a quarter of a century old.

MARTIAL SPIRIT NOT SO EVIDENT

Their royal highnesses spent two busy days in Toronto. I have given by cable a brief description of the summer incidents. The review was the principal event. In numbers it surpassed any that we had seen in Canada. Nearly 12,000 men were drawn up on the shore of the lake, in front of 40,000 people, who watched with manifest interest every evolution on the plain. I have said before that the Canadians appear to take less interest in the war than do the Australians. Martial spirit is not so manifest, and the cadet system, strong and widespread in Australia, is here in its infancy. Yet the Canadians have proved themselves excellent soldiers. Those paraded before the duke were for the most part men of the physique, well trained and equipped for service. The mounted infantry were especially good and made a fine showing as they passed the saluting base. Three companies of Indians in full dress, and a mounted regiment, attracted particular notice. No greater contrast could be imagined than the warriors we had seen at Calgary—their naked bodies, their cavalry regalia, and the uniformed and disciplined body of infantry. With set, immobile faces, and eyes looking straight before them, they marched along as though unconscious of the cheers that followed them.

From Toronto the duke and duchess made a short and rapid tour among the western towns of Ontario, stopping for a few hours at London, on the Thames in the county of Middlesex, the center of a rich agricultural district, and the result must have enabled them to form some opinion of the wonderful natural resources of the country. On every side were evidences of industry and thrift, and of a soil that yields abundant harvests. London is but one of a group of townships that give to Ontario its pre-eminence as the wealthiest and most populous province in the Dominion. In 1906 it was the administrative center, and today it is the boast of London that more trains arrive and depart daily there than at any other point in Canada. The most fertile area of Ontario is its tributary, and sends to its busy markets every kind of agricultural product. And London and London are famous throughout the continent. At Hamilton, which the duke and duchess visited later, they saw another flourishing city, a canopy of smoke rising from the foot of the mountain at the head of Lake Ontario recalled Sheffield or Birmingham. And on near approach we found a small capital of the Midlands, for Hamilton claims that distinction. The outskirts are mean and dingy, and it is only when you come to the heart of the city that you are reconciled to such meanness and dinginess in a land of air and light and space. Hamilton can plead in extenuation an industrial and thriving population.

UNITED STATES PUBLICATIONS.

The merchants of Toronto were anxious to lose no opportunity of making known the resources of the province. After the manner of Englishmen, in whatever part of the world fortune may have led them, they invited the correspondents to dinner and speeches. We were taken to the world of statistics, for which I must refer you to other sources. There was one subject, however, that has no place in year books and trade returns, and it is a subject of far-reaching importance. No one can travel in any part of Canada without being struck by the vast number of United States newspapers, magazines and books that find their way into shops, clubs and private houses. In Australia, where the people are great readers, you see little literature that is not English. Canadians, I would judge, are not such great readers as what they do read is to a very large extent from the republic. This influence is apparent in their press, in their speech, and even in their habits of thought. There are journals, like the Toronto Globe, that maintain the character and traditions of the best class of journalism, but the majority are decidedly American in tone and appearance. Not content with the copy, they must have American journals, too. It is a very rare thing to find an English newspaper in any club, hotel or private house in Canada, whereas everywhere you will see American papers. This is not to be explained by any particular interest in the affairs of the republic or by any want of interest in the affairs of England. Those who pretend to knowledge on the subject of journalism in London, and plead for some modification of the book-post rate that they may endeavor to realize this growing current of American journalism and literature.

GUILTY OF MURDER.

Detroit, Mich., 22.—A special to the Free Press from Chicago, Mich., says: Elmer Quinby, who was charged jointly with his wife of the murder of Mrs. Quinby's children on the night of May 1st last, was found guilty of murder in the first degree by the jury last night. Mrs. Quinby's trial is now in progress.

VANDERBILT INHERITANCE TAX AND COSTS $1,000,000.

New York, Nov. 22.—According to the N.Y. World, the late Cornelius Vanderbilt must pay $1,000,000 into the coffers of the United States. This is the total of the inheritance tax fixed by the federal government against the estate. The heirs have already been compelled to pay a state tax of $29,998. The legal expenses of fighting the tax, which has been carried into the highest court of the state, and nation will bring the grand total up to $1,000,000.

Out of Plumb.

When the wall is out of plumb the building is more or less unsafe, and the higher the wall is carried out of the perpendicular the greater the danger of collapse. It's about so with the health; it is out of plumb when the digestion is impaired, when the blood is impure, when the nerves are sluggish, when the system is full of poisons, when the body is full of disease, when the mind is full of worry, when the heart is full of passion, when the soul is full of sin.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures all diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It purifies the blood and cures nervousness, indigestion, and all the diseases that are caused by impure blood. It is the only medicine that cures the diseases in which they originate.

"For three years I suffered untold agony," writes Mrs. H. R. White, of Stansfeld, Stansfeld, Co. Quebec, "I would have died, and being sick at my stomach, pain in right side all the time; then it would work up into my stomach and such distress as I cannot describe. I wrote to the World's Dispensary and they very promptly sent me a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Thanks to Dr. Pierce and his medicine I am a well woman today. Dr. Pierce's medicine also cured my mother of liver complaint from which she has been a sufferer for fifteen years. We highly recommend these medicines to all suffering people."

The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, containing 1003 pages, is given away. Send 3c or 10c for a copy, or for the book in paper covers, or 50c stamps for the volume bound in cloth. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Severe colds are easily cured by the use of Eick's Anti-Consumptive Syrup a medicine of extraordinary penetrating and healing properties. It is acknowledged by those who have used it as being the best medicine sold for coughs, colds, inflammation of the lungs, and all affections of the throat and chest. Its agreeableness to the taste makes it a favorite with children.

NATURE'S FOUR LINK CHAIN OF SUCCESS,
Pure Air, Pure Water, Pure Homes, and Pure Food.

Medical scientists tell us that fully 75 per cent of the ill-health of the nation could be banished if people were properly fed from youth up. Granose and Granola are evolutions of the Battle Creek Sanitarium. They are the proper foods for children to begin on, for people to continue on, and for the old folks, too.

They are nature's best foods, put through natural processes, surrounded by superlative cleanliness, purified and sterilized so that they can be presented to the eater not only in the strength of nutriment, but in the quality of absolute purity.

[Testimonial.]
Medical Superintendent's Office, Insane Asylum, London, Ont.
I have examined and tested the foods of the Battle Creek Sanitarium, Granose Biscuits and Granose Flakes, and I have no hesitation in saying that in many cases of dyspepsia or of weak digestion they are most valuable. For healthy persons they are a most delicious food. (Signed) R. M. BUCKE

ESTEEMED PIONEER DEAD.
Last week the death occurred, at St. Joseph's Hospital, of Mr. John Davidson, after only a few days' illness. The deceased had for 43 years been a resident of Denfield and neighborhood, where he followed the occupation of farmer. He was a native of Cumberland, England, and had reached the advanced age of 79 years.

For a quiet and kind life, he made and retained many friends, who will regret to learn of his death. Mr. Davidson had never married. About a year ago he came to London to make his home with his brother, Mr. George Davidson, at 191 St. James street, from whence the funeral took place on Saturday. He had been a member of the St. John's Church, conducted the services.

MR. JONES TO RETIRE.
A Toronto dispatch dated yesterday says: A surprise was given the local railway world today when a rumor was circulated that G. C. Jones, superintendent of the Midland division of the Grand Trunk Railway, formerly assistant superintendent at London, was about to sever his connection with the management on account of ill-health.

Mr. Jones has been ill for some time, and only when forced accepted a six months' leave of absence, and spent it in his old home in Missouri. Since arriving here, Mr. Jones has had several friends that his medical advisers there say that the climate in Canada is too strong for him, and that his lungs cannot stand it. Circumstances, however, have been such that Mr. Jones has been unable to leave his home in London, and only when forced accepted a six months' leave of absence, and spent it in his old home in Missouri.
