Conduct of the Burghers Has Gratifled the King-Plans of Botha and Reitz.

London. June 18 .- Under date of Pretoria, June 17, Lord Kitchener announces that 700 Boers surrendered at Bloemfontein and that all the surenders in the Transvaal and Orange River Colonies are now complete.

In the Transvaal, 11,225 men have surrendered and 10,813 rifles were given up, while in the Orange River Colony 5,395 men surrendered and 5,280 rifles vere turned in.

The figures for Cape Colony have not been fully received.

Lord Kitchener adds: "I have handed over the South African Constabulary to the civil authorities, as the necessity for further military operations has ceased."

Gen. French reports from Cape Colony that there are only 150 more Boers to come in.

WOUNDED BY HIS OWN MEN. Berlin, June 18.—Gen. von Bockund Pollach, commanding a division of the German army, has been seriously slashed by the lances of his own dragoons. The general's accident was a singular one. During the exercises to-

The general was immediately in the rear of the line of the charging troopers and after they turned he was caught among the lances and wounded. The men did not know the general was following them. He was seriously wounded in the head and neck and was carried to a hospital.

> Ocremony Took Place at Home of Bride's Parents.

A pleasant event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Black, Appin, when their eldest daughter, Kate A., was united in marriage to Mr. Donald Dewar, one of Metcalfe's prosperous young farmers. At 2 p.m. the Wedding March was played by Miss C. E. McKenzie, Bennett's Corners, and the bridal party took their places on the verandah, under a beautiful evergreen arch. The bride was gowned in white crepe-dechene, trimmed with ribbon and lace, and wearing the customary bridal veil with a wreath of lilies of the valley. She carried a beautiful bouquet of white roses. She was attendby Miss M. A. McKenzie, of Strathburn, who was dressed in white crepeline. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Wm. Dewar, of Walkers, and the ceremony was per-formed by Rev. Dr. McDonald.

After the ceremony hearty congratulations were tendered the young couple. At the wedding luncheon which followed there were nearly eighty guests. Accompanied by their young friends, Mr. and Mrs. Dewar drove to Glencoe, and took the 8:20 train for Detroit, amid showers of rice. They then proceeded by boat to Cleveland, where they spent their honeymoon, and after June 12, Mr. and Mrs. Dewar will be at home to welcome their friends to their new home in Metcalf.

DYING KING'S WEDDING DAY. Berlin, June 18 .- King Albert of Saxony, who has been critically ill for some time past, and Queen Karola, will observe the forty-ninth anniversary of their wedding today, June 18, under the certainty that the end of the king is near at hand. King Albert, in anticipation of his death, caused the state ordinances, which regulate mourning in case of his demise, to be changed so that they entail fewer restrictions upon the amusements of the public, and to eliminate a fete of court observances. The imperial telegraph department has given orders to its local offices not ly confirmed.

Free Yourself From the Chains That Hold You Down.

Nature intended you to be a strong man. You have the physique, the constitution, and yet you do not feel the vim, the sand, the ambition one would expect in a man of your age. What is it? Why a lack of vitality—the foundation of manhood? You have lost it, no matter how. Get it back, feel young, look young, act young. Life is beautiful when you have health, I can help you.

Act to-day. Do not delay a matter which is the key to your future happiness; do not allow a disease to destroy all possibility of future pleasure for you. Whatever your condition to-day, you will not improve as you grow older. Age calls for greater vital force, and the older you get the more pronounced and apparent will be your weakness; so cure it now—cure it while you are young. The time is ripe. While the vital spark is still warm it can be easily fanned to flame by Electricity and Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt will make you strong if you try it

My appliances are warranted the strongest in the world, yet they give the current like a soothing, glowing warmth, flowing into the body without the stinging, burning sensation caused by old-style Belts. My special inventions—the cushion elec-

It took me twenty years to perfect my appliance and the way I now use it, but there is no guesswork about it. My appliance cures while you sleep and causes no bother.

If you are broken down from hard work or any other reason; if your nerves are shaky; if you have those "come and go" pains in your back, shoulders and hips; if your stomach is weak, your kidneys and bladder alling, or if you are a man or woman with any trouble which you have tried in vain to cure with drugs, I will core you first and you can pay me afterward.

What more can you ask? I am willing to take all the chances of curing your case, and if I fail you will have the satisfaction of knowing that one of the best and strongest Electric appliances in the world has failed.

All you lose is your time. My confidence in my method enables me to offer any man or woman who will secure me the use of my Belt at my risk and

Beware of concerns offering a thin piece of felt as a substitute for my cushion electrode. They have to be soaked in water, which quickly dries and leaves them without current. Reports to the navy department show that there is barely if "she was always tying her shoe" in enough coal on hand on the home station for present needs. Not only is the success of the war game threatened, but there is danger that many struggle, and then horror mutual and of the naval vesgels now in commis- general. The two were fastened, not sion will be unable to attend to their cruising duties. This is particularly true of the torpedo boat flotilla, which is assembling at Norfolk in preparation for a series of important maneuvers, planned by the general board of the navy, which is just now engaged in putting into practical operation its scheme for perfecting defense of the coasts. Most of the torpedo boats in the flotilla left Port Royal, S. C., with just enough coal to take them to Norfolk, where they expected to find enough fuel to fill their bunkers. Owing to non-deliveries on account of the strike, there was not enough coal left at Norfolk to accommodate these little vessels, lanited as their bunker capacity is, and the flotilla is practically unable to move. There is enough coal at some other stations to supply the wants of the torpedo craft, but the navy department has not determined whether to use this now or keep it for some unexpected emergency. Not only is there a scarcity of anthracite coal, but the strike has affected apparently the bituminous fields, as soft coal contractors have notified the navy department that they are unable to make deliveries. From Norfolk southward the navy has scarcely enough fuel for present requirements. Fortunately, all the big armorelads on the North Atlantic stations are laid up for temporary repairs, and the amount of coal required to run ships is much smaller than was the case a few weeks ago and will be again a month hence. Every effort will be made by the department to overcome the difficulty in time to permit the big squadron on the home station to take part in the Lond Island Sound war game. It may be necessary, however, to concentrate present supplies that the ships whose duties are regarded as most important may be kept busy without interruption. It is the un-derstanding, however, that even if enough coal is available, the navy department will refuse to buy if extravagant prices are asked. A number of contracts made by the equipment oureau months ago, at reasonable rates, are still running, but the contractors, it is feared; will be unable to comply with the terms of their agreements.

HE STOLE A SKULL AND FREED CLIENT

ple Creek Lawyer.

He Outwitted a Corps of District Defends the Confederacy and Ad-Attorneys and Secured a Murderer's Acquittal.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 18 .- The Cripple Creek, Col., correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer tells this story of J. Maurice Finn's cleverness in a murder trial which will be of special interest to Detroit and Michigan people from the fact that Finn once ran for congress and conducted a newspaper in the upper peninsula of Michigan, once lived in Royal Oak, where his father and mother are buried, and is a brother of Albert H. Finn, who has been connected with various newspaper enterprises in the state and is conducting a Baptist weekly in

By sawing off a dead man's skull and using it in defending his client, charged with murder, J. Maurice Finn, a Cripple Creek lawyer, outwitted a corps of district attorneys and even fooled himself by securing an absolute acquittal for the man he represented. It was on Christmas eve, 1901, that William Brooks killed James Roberts after a drunken brawl in the Dawson Club, at that time one of the most frequented resorts in Cripple Creek. Brooks struck Roberts over the head with a heavy Colt revolver, and the latter fell to the floor dead.

While viewing Roberts' body at the morgue, Finn noticed that the bony covering of the skull was of a thin, porous nature, an unusual condition among human beings, and he immediately made up his mind that the one single thread which might be relied on ment of the case: to save his client from the gallows rested in possession of the skull. Finn hurried to the office of Dr. J. W. Sanders and explained the case sufficiently to excite the professional curiosity of the surgeon. Then the two set out together, the doctor with his scalpel knife and oper-ating saw concealed under his coat. They went at once to the morgue, where the body of Roberts was held, and found the place in charge of a boy, who was easily persuaded to busy himwho was easily persuaded to busy him self away from the death chamber. Finn mother, who is an unreconstructed rebel. I took no notice of the letter. pointed to the body and stepped out-

Soon the surgeon called him, and going back to the morgue he beheld a sight that shook his iron nerve. Standing before him was the doctor with the skull of the dead man resting in his hands.

The scalp was pulled over cloth and shaped as a normal head after sewing The children thought not. The Galt up the incisions. Then Dr. Sanders put the skull under his coat, and the two men hurried back to his office. The trial was of a tragic character, and the testimeny gangetienal, b'or eight hours, Finn pleaded with the jury. He exhibited the thinness of the skull and dwelt on this point with such convincing finess that the lawyers LEE KEE, CHINESE LAUNDRY, 469 tend to necrosis. The jury was out two days and two nights, ten for acquittal and two for first degree murder. Late in the night of the second day a verdict of acquittal was brought in. Medical annals do not furnish a parallel to Roberts' case. Several authorities on the diseases of the bones agree that Roberts' case was one of necrosis.

Very little was known of Roberts' previous life. It is not known nor believed that he was the victim of any former accidents or blow which would cause the skull to develop necrosis. Neither can it be established that he had ever been sick for any length of time, or contracted a dangerous fever. mony of the fact that Roberts was the victim of some peculiar form of disease akin to if not really necrosis. In thickness the bones do not exceed those of a child of 10, while their structure, instead of being smooth and hard, is porous and brittle.

Some doctors have expressed it their opinion that Roberts was suffering from a peculiar blood disease which made the skull the object of its attack. However, that may be, it is certain that no precisely similar case has ever appeared in medical reports.

Col. Denison, the imperial utopist, has been carrying on his propaganda In Old London with his usual zeal. The colonel feels that he has got hold of a great idea, and he certainly deserves tredit for the energy and persistence with which he has pressed it on the public. If he has not made converts In high places he has at least attractattention. It is something to have Mrawn the fire of Sir Aupert Giffen, the great financial expert of the Brit-Ash Board of Trade. Sir Robert, in a letter to the Times, attacks the coldays. onel's scheme to provide an imperial defense fund by a tax of 5 to 10 per cent on all foreign imports entering any part of the British Empire. An to Delarey, Dewet and Botha has the Impost of 10 per cent, Sir Robert says, would oblige Great Britain to pay £41,-000,000 in taxation and £11,000,000 in Increased prices for colonial goods, whereas the colonies would only pay $23,500,000 and get the enhanced price of the £11.000,000 for their goods. He declares that while the arrangement would be popular in the colonies it would be disastrous to British trade.

It is now "up" to Col. Denison to make a counter-stroke on a foeman who is truly worthy of his steel. Giffen is a great authority in England, and opposition from such a quarter is one of the signs pointing to the apparentby insuperable difficulties in the way of imperial preferential trade. There are obstacles in Canada as well as in the mother country. Canadian manu-Yacturers will protest against any reduction of duty on British goods, and the British people will assuredly demand easier access to colonial markets before they will concede a preference to colonial products in their own. the men. Score another for arbitra-The two positions are irreconcilable. Unless each party will give and take there is no hope for improving trade relations within the Empire by means of the tariff.

A Change of Air.

It may be news to many people to points in Ontario not many miles apart. For instance, Stratford is 1,191 feet above the sea level, Toronto only 250 feet and Hamilton only 330 feet also thrown out. For instance, the monthly mean of barometric pressure, in the last year officially reported, was 29.14 in London, and only 28.75 in Stratford. In Toronto, which is 450 feet lower than London, the pressure was 29.65. The higher above the sea level, of course, the higher the pressure. In Banff, 4,542 feet above, the pressure is 25.27. In the United States there are 40 beet sugar factories and 250,000 acres of land devoted to the beet erop, representing altogether an investment of about $55,000,000. Careful experiments In different localities show that the soil of Ontario is admirably adapted to the cultivation of the beet root, the average yield being 161/2 tons to the oxide of the air. But the tissue of the beet contains considerable potash, magnesia, phosphoric acid and nitrogen, and all these are removed to a greater extent by the leaves than by the roots. If the leaves are left on the ground or are plowed under, the soil is much less exhausted than if substitute is provided. they are taken away. For beet-raising the cultivation of the soil must be very carefully attended to. This cultivation has a very beneficial effect on other crops grown in rotation with the beet, hence the advantages of beetgrowing are indirect as well as direct. #### GREED OF SPECULATORS

Threatens to Make a Failure of the Coronation Show.

Not Half the Soats Sold-Where Will the Spectators Sleep?

London, June 18. - The coronation, as a public spectacle, threatens to be a fiasco. So serious has this possibility become that the London Times and other papers are printing alarming letters, urging the authorities to the hotelkeepers and greed of the seat speculators are the reasons.
With scarcely more than a week scarcely more than a week the coronation, not 50 per cent of the seats on the huge stands have been sold. Frightened by the exorbitant demands, thousands of people residing in the suburbs and country who had planned to come and see the King crowned have now

DECIDED TO STAY AWAY, while a large proportion of Londoners will avail themselves of the opportunity to enjoy a holiday at the seaside or elsewhere, in preference to submit-ting to the inconvenience of the extraordinary police regulations which will be enforced on coronation days.

The hotels and health resorts on the south coast and rooms in quiet clubs throughout the United Kingdom, which are generally empty at the height of the season, are all booked for coronation week. It is freely said that unless the stand purifying proper-ties of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery have been proved over and over again in cases of scrofula, eczema, eruptions and other diseases which are caused by an impure condition of the blood. It entirely eradicates the poisons which feed disease, and builds up the body with sound, healthy flesh.

"My little daughter became afflicted with scrofula, which affected her eyes," writes Mrs. Agues L. Duncan, of Mansfield, Sebastian Co., Ark. "She could not bear the light for over a year. We tried to cure,her eyes, but nothing did any good. We had our home physician and he advised us to take her to an oculist, as her eyelids would have to be 'scraped.' They had become so thick he thought she would never recover her sight. As there was no one else to whom we could apply my heart sank withIn me. I went to your 'Common Sense Medical Adviser,' read your treatment on scrofula, getting the properties of medicines there advised. With five bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' I have entirely cured my child.

"Hoping this will be of some use to you and a blessing to other sufferers, with heartfelt thanks, I remain."

Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are an excellent laxative for children. They are easy to take and thorough procession to Westminster Abbey one which ticket-holders only can witness, except in the case of St. James' Park, where but a few thousands will be able to see the royal party. The published regulations, whereby all traffic within about a mile of the first day's route, is to be stopped at 3 o'clock in the morning, and pedestrians are to be stopped at 8 a.m., are terrifying

BARRICADES AND BARRIERS. Solid timber barricades 20 to 30 feet high rise ominously at the entrance of all streets and alleys leading anywhere near the route, and barrier entrances for foot passengers and archways for vehicles await the gates which are to be swung on them. By the eve of the coronation these will be in place. The loyal British crowds will be huddled together by thousands, and be unable to see anything but the bare sides of these barriers.

points out, the police have framed rules calculated, in effect, if not in design, to keep hundreds from taking their places, owing to the probability of being unable to get to their destinations, and this applies to the seatholders who, having, perhaps, paid several guineas for places on stands, will be unable to occupy them.

WHERE WILL THEY SLEEP What will happen to the unfortunate general public is a problem which has caused many of the these protests in the papers. In the first place, even ticket-holders must all sleep in London on coronation heve, and then get out in the streets at about 5 a.m. According to the present arrangements, only ticket-holders will be allowed through the barrier wickets, so the streets within these are likely to be the scenes of camps of patient enthusiasts who will take up their places June 25. Even these may be driven out by the police, should they think the route too thickly lined. As these conditions are becoming known, thou-sands are relinquishing all idea of trying to see the show.

TORONTO.

Toronto, June 17.—There is no diminution in the demand for cattle, and trade at the western yards today showed even greater activity that has characterized the market for some time past. Export cattle were particularly brisk, and prices advanced again, sales being reported up to 7c per lb, the highest prices paid in over twenty years. This price, however, was paid only for exceptionally good cattle, 6%c being about the top price for the average run. Butchers, too, were the average run. Butchers, too, were strong at last week's quotations. Stockers are still scarce and in good demand, at unchanged prices. The offerings today were really light, as a large number of cattle were being shipped through to the old country and were not placed on sale here. Trade was somewhat slower in the old country and were not placed on sale here. Trade was somewhat slower in the small meats section, heavy receipts of spring lambs and calves giving the market a draggy tendency. Sheep were in good demand at unchanged prices, but lambs are off 25c per cwt, and calves are 14c per 1b lower. Hogs are unchanged and the market is in a very uncertain condition. Receipts were 102 loads, comprising 1,730 cattle, 1,056 sheep and lambs, 446 hogs and 103 calves.

The largest buyers were: Wm. Levack.

A MAGIC PILL.-Dyspepsia is a foe with which men are constantly grappling but cannot exterminate. Subdued and to all appearances vanquished in one, it makes its appearance in another direction. In many the digestive apparatus is as delimany the digestive apparatus is as deli-cate as the mechanism of a watch or scientific instrument, in which even a breath of air will make a variation. With such persons disorders of the stomach ensue from the most trivial causes and cause much suffering. To these Parme-lee's Vegetable Pills are recommended as mild and sure.

THRIVING SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Interesting Studies of Association of Lobo.

Practical Suggestions Made by Mr. D. A. McDermid.

At the eleventh annual convention of the Lobo Township Sunday School Association, held at the Methodist Church, Melrose, a large number of earnest workers from all of the denominations throughout the township were present and entered freely into discussion of the various subjects introduced. The president, Mr. J. R. Sinclair, being absent, the chair was occupied by Mr. McKellar, vice-president, and devotional exercises opening the afternoon session were conducted by Rev. Mr. Tuckey.

The secretary-treasurer, Mrs. E. M. Zavitz, gave an admirable report, evincing her ability of performing in excellent style the important duties intrusted to her care.

The report given by the visitor of schools, Mr. D. D. Campbell, showed that 560 pupils were enrolled in the of 319. There are eight schools in the township, all working together harmoniously in the union.

A class of the whole convention was conducted by the Rev. W. M. Walk- be employed as home missionary.

passed around among the audience. Those receiving them were to read and answer as called by number. This proved very successful as it brought more into the discussion, while many useful and practical lessons were learned.

The time of teaching it was considered should never be less than thirty minutes. The superintendency should not be considered an honor to be changed yearly and passed around to different members, but should be permanent till a change would be better for the school. The good of the school should be considered rather than the honor of the position. Lesson helps should not be used in class by either pupils or teacher. The most difficult class to maintain were the young men or older boys. The teachers were urged or release effort to make the lesson interesting, give specific work to be done. have the social conditions satisfactory, visit the pupils in their homes and but other moral reforms as well, such as purity, peace and arbitration, and should impress upon the minds of the youth the evils of tobacco and all its preparations, gambling in all its forms, swearing and other common vices. After singing by the local choir, the association dispersed to partake of refreshments and enjoy a social time on the lawn at Mr. Ferguson's home. The evening session opened with devotional exercises conducted by Rev. E. J. Stobo, after which, on the recommendation of the nominating committee, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Wm. A. Caverhill; Vanneck; vice-presidents, John Alder, jun., Melrose, and John McVicar, Ivan; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Eugene M. Zavitz, Coldstream (re-elected); visitors of schools, Mr. Hoover and Mrs. Wm. McIvor; auditors, M. K. Muma and Peter Mitchell,

Coldstream. Rev. Dr. McCrae. of Westminster. then delivered a strong and timely address upon the duty of the church to the Sunday school. He pointed out that the church is not a mere human organization, nor a club, but a divine in-stitution; that the Sunday school is not, as so ne say, the children's church, but is for people of all ages; that it from the church, nor the usurper of parental teaching and virtue. The true the church—the church at work, teaching and studying the Word of God. The duty of the church towards the school was shown to be to provide a place of meeting, to provide teachers, to teach the people the true place of the school, to help the teachers with sympathy and interest, and to pray without ceasing for the success of the work. These points were enforced by many telling illustrations, and the deep attention of the audience showed that his mes- | God: sage found a response in many hearts. Rev. Mr. Craw, of Vanneck, then spoke of the study of the Bible, giving reasons for such a pursuit, and showing how it should be pursued. Under the former head he showed that the Scriptures are worthy of earnest study because they are God's Word, because of the kind of knowledge they bring to men, and because of the beneficent ends they propose. The Bible, he de-clared, should be studied intelligently, systematically and prayerfully. It was a good, earnest and manly plea to the old Book.

Votes of thanks were tender to the speakers, the entertaining anday school and the choir, and the association adjourned to meet at the ell of the executive. Rev. Mr. Hoste, divan, pronounced the benediction.

Dr. Forrest moved a resolution "that whereas the use of the individual cup is contrary to the law of the church for ages past, the assembly sees no cause for its introduction, and also deprecates the action of some congrega-tions in introducing such important changes without the consent of the supreme court of the church."

Why men buy Oak Hall Clothing in preference to ordered clothing--

Because it is the equal of ordered clothing for a much less price. Take for instance our $10 suit, and compare it with the tailor's $16 suit to order. We beat them on the finish, and we match them on the fit. Apply the same conclusions to our $12, $14 and $16 suits-Can the merchant tailor do as well for you for $18, $20 or $24? This is the age of specialists, and we employ the specialist coat-cutter, the vestcutter, the pant-cutter, the spe alist coat-maker, vest-maker, pant-maker, and we use the best of trimmings. That is why our suits turn out superior to all other makes, and equal to custom work. Then again, where the merchant tailor buys a few yards of one piece of cloth, we buy the mill's output. The same applies to trimmings—so you can readily see how we can save you 40 to 50 per cent.

> Brief But Amusing Discussions on Live Topics.

The Girls' Mission Band of Dundas Center Church gave a closing social Tuesday evening, at which an excellent programme was rendered. After the opening hymn and prayer the Rev. C. T. Scott, pastor of the church, gave an interesting ten minutes' talk-Subject, "Young People of Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow." The younger portion of the audience listened with wonder, as Mr. Scott described the beautiful customs of a century ago, especially those regarding respect to Mr. J. H. The wedding march was played by the organist of the church, and the bride was led to the altar by her father. Followand social advantages of the present time and their attendant responsibilities were dwelt upon also. An instru-mental duet by Miss D. Yates and Mr. Hewlett, was followed by a clever recitation, entitled "When the Cat's Away the Mice Will Play," by Miss Alma Fax. Miss William contributed a pleasing vocal solo. Five-minute hat talks were conducted by Mr. McDermid as time-keeper and the following gentlemen as speakers: Mr. Winnett, subject, "Were women to use tobacco as men do, what arguments would you advance against the habit?" Mr. Althouse, "What objection could be brought against woman suffrage?" Mr. Yates, "In what way are men responsible for extravagance in the dress women?" Mr. German, "Is higher

NRS. LATIMER'S LOVE

The singer in mourning seems very busy with her score, and the admiring tenor has not yet been able to obtain a glimpse of her face, still shaded by her thick hair, worn deep and low over her temples, a fashion which she is probably well aware is exceedingly becoming to a wide, fair forehead and a pair of arched brows, such as gives softness and feminine dignity to a woman's face. His attention, however, is almost entirely taken up by two very smart and lively ladies, who seem to despise the idea of reserving their vocal powers for a musical triumph, but are expending a liberal amount of breath in lively conversation with each other, with the tenor, with the leader of the band, with any of the gentlemen who are disposed to bandy good-humored are disposed to bandy good-humored lokes and lively repartee.

The bass alone sits apart from the rest.

The bass alone sits apart from the rest. He looks very pale and weary, leaning his head upon his hands, and coughs more than once. There is a hard-working careworn woman at Brompton, now clearing away the remains of the children's dinner, whose heart would ache to hear that cough, who would bless the lady in mourning for looking up from her task and crossing the room so quietly, and laying her hand, with such gentle sympathy, on the sufferer's shoulder. "You are worse today," she says, in a low tone of peculiar sweetness; "I did not forget you, and I have brought the lozenges, but I am sorry you require them."

He looks up quickly, and grasps her cordially by the hand.
"Good bless you!" he says, in his deep, full voice; "you never forget anyone but yourself. My little girls call you the good angel, and, indeed, I think you are angel."

She shakes her head and smiles. Such smile as brightens only a countenance where they are rare, as decks it with a wild, painful, melancholy beauty, and leaves a sadder and more hopeles expres-

net. "Is is not so, Mr. Gordon?"

Mr. Gordon answers not much to the purpose; he is thinking of something else. He is a student of human nature, this gentleman, during his play-hours, and he takes a good deal of relaxation out of Lady Gertrude and her inexplicable ways. He is speculating now inways: He is speculating now in-tensely on why she should have secured him so long ago for the back seat of the barouche, and why she should have been so fidgetty all the way along Piccadilly, and why she was so good-humored now during the painful process of waiting for Glibert; above all, why there should be today, of all days, a scarce perceptible pity and compunction cast over that usually thoughtless and buoyant nature. Topics of reflection, Mr. Gordon, which may well make you ponder, and which, all your keen-sightedness, you will find it no easy task to understand.

Lady Olivia will wait no longer; regardless of a suppliant look from her gardless of a suppliant look from her niece, she is in the act of giving orders to drive on, when the truant appears with his mouth full of chicken sandwich, and in his usual good-humored, bantering way, carries the way at once into the enemy's country by accusing them of keeping him waiting.

"I have a bouquet for each of you, too," he says, handing them with a good deal of mock dignity to the ladies, "and a cauliflower coming later from Covent Garden of John, who is a practical man."

The gentleman alluded to looks practical enough as he turns a sharp, keen eye upon the cousins. His exterior presents a marked contrast to that of his friend. Power is the prevailing characteristic of John Gordon's physiognomy and figure. The bold, well-cut features, the clear, sallow complexion, the deep-set, glittering eye, and close raven hair, are types of an iron physique and an iron will. His tones are short, sharp and imperious; they seem to be propelled, so to speak, from the thin lips that close again as with a steel spring when they have gone forth. That mouth belongs to a man from whom you could never coax anything by persuasion, or wrest it from him by force. His very dress, plain to simplicity and unpretending though it be, has a character and peculiarity of its own; while the muscular figure combines in a rare degree. own; while the muscular figure combines in a rare degree great physical power, with activity and insensibility to fatigue. No woman ever thought John Gordon No woman ever thought John Gordon good-looking; at least none could ever be brought to say so. Quiet and unassuming as he was, they always affirmed that they were "a little afraid of him"; and perhaps they like being frightened, for they were always ready enough to sit by him, or dance with him again. I do not know whether Lady Gertrude admired his face, but she must have looked at it pretty often; and even now, though she buries her head in her cousin's bouquet, her eyes pass over it once though she buries her head in her cou-sin's bouquet, her eyes pass over it once with a strange, half-angry, half-pleading glance that does not escape him, as, in-deed, nothing does, but that he cannot for the life of him fathom or under-stand. The next instant, however she is talking so gayly and playfully that even Lady Olivia thaws to the influence of the girl's merry, sunshiny manner; while Gibert sits back at his ease among the cushions, submitting to be amused with the good-humored, grand-seigneur indol-ence habitual to him, and that is not habitual to him, and that is not out its attractions to his companions

A PROTEST AGAINST SLUGGING

Critics of C. L. A. Think Rough Work Will Not Help the Game-Notes of Other Sports.

Horsemen throughout America are still talking of the great Suburban handicap, won by Gold Heels with Otto Wonderly, the clever local jockey, in the saddle.

"From a horseman's standpoint," says W. H. Powe, a well-known turf writer, "the Suburban of 1902 was exceedingly interesting and comparatively satisfactory, without being positively brilliant. It is doubtful if any really simon pure, first class racehorse took part in the contest. By this I mean such a distinctive 'smasher' as Salvator was in 1890, or as Commando would have been yesterday-or, to go back to the beginning of things, as George Kinney and Barnes were in the inaugural running of 1884. From a handicap standpoint, however, the race was completely successful, and, if there is anything in the time test, the creation of a new record for the event means that we are by no means degenerating in the quality of our general breed of racehorses."

"I had the best horse and felt confident all the time that I would win," said Otto Wonderly, after the race. no interference, and was third in a The meeting promises excellent sport, nice position. When the eleven glossy thoroughbreds, fairer and fleeter than the sculptured steeds on the Parthenon frieze, defiled to the post with dainty steps as though treading a polonaise, a tremor of expectancy rippled through the crowd, and when the cry "They're off!" tore the air, not many in that fifty thousand stood unmoved. Days like the Suburban go far to make the sport universally beloved. Man and horse may be proud of yesterday."

The procession was the first full state parade of that descrip-tion since the death of the prince consort, and consisted of eight carriages, each drawn by four horses. The mounted equerries and gaily-liveried postillions and outriders formed an imposing cavalcade. In spite of the inclemency of the weather, immense crowds assembled about the course. and the royal party was everywhere warmly welcomed. the engineers. This brought out the air brake, it the beginning of last century no bis-being the first of the special appliances hop even would entertain favorably which have during recent years become so generally used, and attached to the locomotives. Although acceler-ated speed and long trains are now the common practice on all our great railway systems, in both passenger application of the air brake equipment renders the practice an accomplished success, as is very evident by the degree of regularity with which trains cipal feature of the evening was the are handled from day to day on all the railway systems.

Notwithstanding the fact that the locomotives have become larger and a great amount of additional appliances have been added to the same, the conditions prevailing during recent years very much less arduous, and the work is attended with a greater degree of safety than was the experience in former years prior to the inception of the modern safety methods and appliances, and in other respects the engineer of the modern locomotive has the advantage, as the machinery and parts of the early locomotive were, on account of weakness, susceptible of constant trouble and risk to the engin-

Bishop of Huron Speaks in an Optimistic Tone.

Mr. T. McHattie Speaks of the THE PROBLEM BEING SOLVED

Finances of the Diocese Are in a Healthy Condition-Other Business of Synod.

There was a good attendance at the meeting of the synod in Cronyn Hall yesterday afternoon. The Bishop of Huron occupied the chair and with

Rev. Canon Richardson and Mr. Edwin Paull were reappointed honorary respectively. Mr. Geo. F. Jewell, F. C. A., was reappointed auditor for the ensuing year, and Mr. A. Booker was newly appointed at a salary of $100.

THE BISHOP'S ADDRESS. The event of the afternoon was the bishop's address. Bishop Baldwin is time, and whatever he has to say compractically the same methods are now mands the respect and attention that years ago. Johnston, of Toronto. He was pleased to notice that the great missionary problem of the church was being solved slowly, but with startling earnestness. The church was casting off its criminal supineness. At the idea of a person going abroad as a missionary. Such an idea could not be suggested without provoking ridicule, so averse were the men of the times to missionary work. One hundred years has been productive of a seated and growing conviction that the missionary work of the church is its most important work. The cause of foreign missions was, continued the speaker, the cause of the Lord Jesus Christ himself. No man could love the Lord and be indifferent to the extension of God's kingdom. Our great need was for a keener spiritual conception of our Lord's spiritual command. The bishop dwelt upon the render the vocation of the engineers frightful decadence of Christianity in the far east. In the Holy City Jerusalem, where Christianity had its birth the bells ring out that Allah is the one God and Mohamet is his prophet. While the Christian Church slept, Mohamet had taken the field and sown it with tares. It had been estimated that the world contained a population of over one billion five hundred thousand souls. Of this number $74,000,000 were heathen and 173,000,000 Mohametans. The Mohametans were the most active and formidable opponents of Christianity. Reference was also made to the material advantages possessed by the church today compared with that of a few years ago in the shape of railways, postal, cable and telegraph systems. The printing press was now the wonder of the world. The Bible had been translated into 406 languages and dialects. The finances of the diocese were in favorable condition, for which there Dermid, of this city, acted as secrewas abundant cause for thankfulness tary. to God. In 1899 the total funds raised by this diocese amounted to $205,575; in 1900 to $225,172; in 1901 to $241,492; in 1902 the sum of $255,247 97 was realized, which amount alone showed an increase of $13,755 40 over that of the previous year. The address contained near its conclusion the following timely reference to Mr. McWhinney, who for the past twelve years held the position of secretary-treasurer of the diocese: "You will all deeply regret to hear that the esteemed secretary-treasuer governing the board and the hospital. of the diocese, Mr. John Mercer Mc-The appointing of the hospital staff Whinney, is about to retire. Most ing in his new sphere of duties, and trust that ever over him and his may be outspread the wings of our Covenant Keeping God. We can assure him that whatever new friends he may gather in Toronto, they will not be more true and loving than those he has left behind.' Mr. Matthew Wilson, K.C., of Chatham, gave notice that he would move for the merging of the D. and F. missionary society.

EVENING SESSION.

The synod met again in the evening, when the proceedings took on the na-ture of a discussion of various points in connection with reports and recomappointed missionary agent, and furthermore $100 was placed at his dis-posal for the consummation of his holidays. This was done in recogni-tion of the zeal and ability he had displayed in the discharge of his duties.
