A fire was discovered yesterday afternoon in the cellar of a tenement, 848 One Hundred and Tenth avenue. It was near some ash barrels and doubtless incendiary. A tenant located the fire in time to save the

The "Lost Chord."

New Milford, Com., March 24.—The choral service at All-Saints' Church was brought to a sudden close Sunday morning and the audience was treated to a most unusual spectacle. The organist, Mr. A. L. Conkey, was throwing all his soul into an improvization, to which the audience was listening with rapt attention, when and denly the music cased—broke right off in the midst of a solema strain—and from out the depths of the labyrinth of musical machinery and pipes came a most agonizing wail. Mr. Conkey was dumbfounded, the rector, in his robes, stood with a half-scared look of wonderment upon his features and the congregation sat transfixed. I am instant Mr. Conkey was dumbfounded, the side of the organ. Then came a sound of spitting and anarling, a me-e-o-w that set he audience in a sitter of amusement, and he organ for a nap. In some way he had become caught in the bellows valve, and not a breath of wind entered the pipes. He was dropped from the rear door, the bump was set to work and the diagusted function resumed the service; but that coantiful improvization has been lost to posterity. Mr. Conkey's nerves were sometrung tast he cannot recall the theme.

New AND A FOURTH.

The Brooklyn incendiaries are still at work. Last night a fire was found to have been kindled under the stainway in the basement of the tenement 929 Myrtle avenue, occupied by several families. It was in a storeroom which is generally kept locked. The lock had been broken. The people in the house were panic-stricken, but all got out safely, and the fire was extinguished without doing much damage. Several arrests have been made. THE FIREBOGS SUCCESSPUL.

NEWARK, N. J., March 23.—Late last night fire was discovered on the second floor of the tenement, 3l Boyd street. The flames rapidly communicated to two adjoining tenements. There were about a door. Polishfamilies in the three tenements. There were many narrow escapes, and two persons who are missing are supposed to have perished. The buildings were burned out. The floor on which the fire was discovered was occupied by Solomon Episten. His partments, it is said, had been saturated with oil. The police are making an investition.

THE KNIFE!

Tragic Finale of a Family

A Belleville Man Plunges a Knife Into

The Grime Due to Drink—Arrest of the Assassin.

Belleville, March 23.—A horrible murder was committed here to-day. James Kane, hostler at the Queen's Hotel, went to his home on Church street at 5:20 and without any known reason grabbed a carrying knife and rushing up to his wife stabbed her to the heart. The victim gave one heartrending shriefs for merey and sank boack on the floor dead. The unfortunate woman did not live two seconds after being stabbed. So true had been the assassin's sint that the knife was sunk almost to the hilt.

The murdered woman's wild shriek at tracted two passing men to the house. As they pushed oppan the door they were horrified to see the man standing over his victim as he coolly withdraw the weapon from her breast. The men disarmed and help in the arrival of Sergeant McCrud deen, when he accouptable to the police station without offering any resistance. Kane was covered from head to foot with his wife's blood.

ANDIMAPY LIPE.

Kane and his wife were both over 50 and the breast have characterized that about non he noticed Kane was covered from head to foot with his wife's blood.

Kane and his wife were both over 50 and 60 years of a gad. Another dispatch says: When saked if the efficia, as he would be sugaired to look after the first on harber shop on Pront street. He left soon after and walked rapidly to his nouse on South Church at the coule, where dispatch says: When saked if he was not sorry for what he had done he said, "not every for what he had done he said, "not every for what he had done he said, "not every for what he had done he said, "not were of he was not sorry for what he had done he said, "not were of he was not sorry for what he had done he said, "not were of he was not sorry for what he had done he said, "not were of he was not sorry for what he had done he said, "not were of he was not sorry for what he had done he said, "not were of he was not sorry for what he had done he said, "not were sorted for about tan years, the murder of his office, as he was drowned here two years before her second marriage.

DUE TO DRINK.

Kane and his wife had for some time lived unhappily together, owing to the man's drinking habits, which doubtless caused the tragedy. No details are known, as the murderer and his victim were alone, but it is probable that they had quarreled on that account. Kane was not drunk when he struck the fatal blow, as he was seen up street half an hour before, but that he had been drinking there is no doubt. He maintains a stolid demeanor and refuses to talk. An inquest is being held.

Viestms of Drink.

New York, March 23.—In a tenement house at No. 691 First avanue the police found two little gigls, Maggie McNally 10 years old, and Mary Moffenna, 8 years, lying on the floor cead drunk, and in an adjoining room were Mary McKenna's father and four women in the same condition. On a rickety bed was the McNally girl's father in the last stage of consumption and starvation.

Very Favorable Comment— erend Gentleman Indorses Premier's Utterances.

 $\mathbb{R}$

The Sweetest of the Sweet,

The Purest of the Pure, The Finest of the Fine,

"Oliver Mowat as a Christian Apologist" was the subject of a thoughtful discourse Sunday evening by Rev. R. Aylward, of the First Congregational Church. The reverend gentleman's text was taken from I. Peter iii., 15: "But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts, and be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you."

"A short time ago," said he, "Hon Oliver Mowat, Premier of Ontario, gave a lecture before a society of young people convened at Woodstock. The lecture was listened towith much pleasure and profit; moreover it was extensively reported next dayln the Ontario press, and I was among those fortunate enough to read it. It occurred to me that it contained much that might be brought before an ordinary Sunday evening congregation with a great measure of satisfaction and result. Mr. Mowat as a Christian apologist or in other words as an exponent of the evidences of the Christian religion, is what I shall consider. This much at any rate is true: Mr. Mowat enters upon his subject with a profound sense of its importance. With him it is not Christ or some other; it is Christ or no other. Expressed differently, if the religion of Christ be true, it is more than true—it is magnificently true; but if it be false it is unspeakably false, the greatest delusion that the world has ever had. It Christianity be true, the importance of accepting it is unterested the said of the colored and the colored and the colored and the colored and the world has ever had. inficently true; but if it be false it is unspeakably false, the greatest delusion that the world has ever had. If Christianity be true, the importance of accepting it is unuterably great, and not to accept it is clearly rebellion against the Almighty, and the saddest of all mistakes a man can make." The speaker characterized Mr. Mowat as one who was not without hope in the world, but on the contrary one who believed there never was a time in the church's history when there were so many churches, Christian worshipers, ministers, and so much activity and liberality in the ranks. The Premier had divided his subject into two parts: First, facts which unbelievers now cheerfully admit to be true; second, some in support of Christianity which unbelievers do not admit to be true; second, some in support of Christianity which unbelievers on of whom we read; that he was a Jew; that his mother Mary and reputed father Joseph were Jews; that Joseph was a workingman; that Jesus was brought up in the home and at the bench of this carpenter; that so far as his educational advantages were concerned they were precisely the same as others living at Nazareth at that day; that this boy at a certain age conceived the idea that he was called upon to perform a mission as mysterious to his own family as to others who had never before heard it; that in the prosecution of this mission he cheerfully left his home and became the child of hunger and want; that his ministry lasted about three years, during which he taught in the synagogues, preached the Gospel of the kingdom of God and healed all manner of diseases; that at the end of three years he did in reality pass through the agonies of Gethsemane and suffered death by crucifixion; that whether in life or death he was the world's perfect model of industry, patience, self-sacrifice, gentleness and love, No one ever doubted his carnestness. though many thought he was miserably mistaken. Christ after his resurrection. In concluding the reverend gentleman said: "I know nothing of the politics of Mr. Mowat; I have nothing mere to do with him than I have with Mr. Mowat as a family doctor; but he has taken upon himself to expound the popular evidences of the Christian religion. The Dangers of Spring.

Poets and novelists go into ecstasies over what they romantically call "beautiful pring," and "gentle spring," and while, to doubt, everyone is glad to see winter elease its icy grasp, "beautiful spring" is, fiter all, one of the most deadly seasons of the year. Sudden transitions from warmth to extreme cold, with piercing, chilling wind; from dry to sloppy, "muggy" weather, all combine to make the season a most trying one, even to the hardiest constitution, while to those with weak constitutions the season is one of positive danger. stitution, while to those with weak constiutions the season is one of positive danger.
Undoubtedly the greatest danger at this season of the year is from cold in the head, which very few escape, and which, if not promptly and thoroughly treated,
develops into catarrh, with all it disagreeable and loathsome effects Catarrh, neglected, almost as certainly develops into consumption, annually destroying thousands of lives. At this trying season no household should be with

Where e latter disease has already secured a hold the latter disease has already secured a note it is equally efficacious, and with persistent use will oure the worst case. From the outset it sweetens the breath, stops the nauseous droppings into the throat and lungs, dispets those dull head-aches that afflict the sufferer from catarrh. Nasal Balm is not advertised as a carsellatit is an hopest remedy tised as a cure-all—it is an honest remedy which never fails to cure cold in the head, or catarrh when the directions are faithfully followed, and thousands throughout the country have reason to bless its discovery. Nasal Balm may be had from all dealers, or will be sent post-paid on receip of price (50 cents, small, or $1, large size bottle), by addressing Fulford & Co., Brock ville, Ont.

Among the pains and aches cured with marvelous rapidity with Dr. Thomas Eclectric Oil, is ear-ache. The young are especially subject to it, and the desirability of this Oil as a family remedy is enhanced by the fact that it is admirably adapted not only to the above allment, but also to the hurts, disorders of the bowels, and affections of the throat, to which the young are specially subject.

Fogg—What things women are to take a fellow in earnest. Brown—As for instance? Fogg—When my wife started for New York, I said in a perfunctory way, "By-by, my dear," and from the bills that have been sent to me, I suspect she's been doing but little else since she went away.

Mr. J. R. Allen, upnolsterer, Teronto, sends us the following: "For six or seven years my wife suffered with Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Inward Piles and Kidney Complaint. We tried two physicians and any number of medicines without getting any relief, until we got a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. This was the first relief she got, and before one bottle was used the benefit she derived from it was beyond our expectation."

value you wifully depreciate it, you have falsified. In the name of the Eord Almighty I areaign commercial falsehoods as one of the greatest plagues in city and town.

In the next place I notice mechanical lies. There is no class of men who administer more to the welfare of the city than actisans. Many of them answer all our expectations, and stand at the front of religious and philantropic enterprises. But this class, like the others that I have named, has in it those who lack in the element of veracity. They cannot all be trusted. In times when the demand for labor is great, it is impossible to meet the demands of the public, or do work with that promptness and perfection that would at other times be possible. But there are mechanics whose word cannot be trusted at any time. No man has a right to promise more work than he can do. There are mechanics whose word cannot be trusted at any time. No man has a right to promise more work than he can do. There are mechanics who say they will come on Monday, but they do not come until Wednesday. You put work in their hands that they tell you shall be completed in ten days, but it is 30. London, Tuesday, March 24.

God's in His heaven, All's right with the world. -[BROWNING.

THE SUBSIDIZED SWAGGERER. Tupper and his London office cost the people of Canada $25,970 last year. The taxpayers will have a much bigger bill to pay for the sustenance of this political adventurer this year. Not only will the country bave to pay for the upkeeping of his palace, income tax and all, but it will have to foot a fine bill for his racing up and down the country, endeavoring to make himself solid in the Conservative leader-ship, on fully controlling which at an early Bir John Macdonald lies ill, Tupper hangs sir John Macdonald lies ill, Tupper hangs around, vulture-like, waiting for what he believes will, at an early date, be inevitable. This is made apparent in every recent utterance of this bullying fellow. In speaking of the future, Tupper no longer talks of what his party means to do but what "I" intend shall be done. "I will see that the Maritime Provinces are liber-like corrected for stradium to Maritime. elly compensated for standing by ME:"
"I will see that the Grand Trunk Railway is punished for going against the Government."
And so forth. Tupper, it is evident, means to be Dictator of his party and Dictator of Canada and that speedily. Wee betide the sountry if he is not soon checked.

TUPPER AND THE TRUNK.

Many thousands of Canadians who as sterested either directly or indirectly in the welfare of the Grand Trunk Railway lowed the assault on the credit of the company made by the loose-tongued aspirant to the Canadian premiership. That his attack should have a passing prejudicial effect is not to be wondered at, when the position that Tupper assumes in the British metropolis is remembered. To see him swagger and hear him talk at an after-dinner gathering of lords, dukes and other swells, in which he is able to participate through drawing liberally on the Canadian taxpayers, anyone who does not know his antecedents would be led to believe that Tupper was the controlling power in the Dominion, and that Sir John Macdonald and his associates had to jump just as he pulled the strings. But the friends of Canada in Britain are now showing the man up in his true colors, and the animus of his attack on the Grand Trunk people is pretty fully understood. Sir Henry Tyler, president of the G. T. R., has already been heard from, and Mr. Renton, secretary of the company, has also spoken in no uncertain terms. Mr. Renton, in answer to a cable correspondent, said that the "directors still teel very strongly the unwisdom of any other than a friendly policy towards the United States. They claim that the interests of the Grand Trunk depend far more upon the United States than upon the Dominion of Canada. The natural policy of the great Canadian roads would be to foster the freest possible interchange of trade with the United States. Whether the victory of Sir John Macdonald will encourage a hope of the cessa-tion of the bonding and other privileges it would be impossible to say at the present time; but," continued Mr. Renton, "the Grand Trunk undoubtedly feared this, and should such an untoward step result, it is hoped that the attitude of the company during the crisis will not be forgotten."

The fact is that the interests not only of the Grand Trunk, but of every legitimate commercial enterprise in the Dominion, are neighborhood with the people of the United States and in securing the freest ossible trade with them.

No amount of fuming and fretting by Tupper, or any other apologist for the re-strictionist system can disguise this fact. Tupper knew this when he went to General Manager Seargeant, of the Grand Trunk Railway, and attempted to bribe him into giving the support of his company to the restrictionists. But he hoped, by hints of subsidies and other privileges, to be taken from the whole people and given to the railway, to obtain Mr. Seargeant's assistance. He failed. Mr. Seargeant refused to work for a system that could only bring injury to the shareholders of the Grand Trunk—an injury, by the way, that would correspondingly react on the thousands of men employed by the company and also on the customers of the line. Then came Tupper's squeal and wholesale misrepresentation of the company and its officers. Mr. Seargeant's reply, published to-day, shows how Tupper can twist facts to suit his own convenienc Again it is proved that this man is so consumed with ambition that he is prepared not only to intrigue to gain his ends but to misrepresent and bulldoze where intrigue fails.

Tupper is hanging around Ottawa trying to establish himself in the leadership of his party. He may capture a majority of the Conservatives in the new House, but he an never gain the confidence of the people by tactics such as he has recently been

DELAY OUT OF THE QUESTION. But little reliance need be placed upon the reports that are being sent out from therefore.

It had engaged in no negotiations; it is from the negaged in negotiations; it may never be so engaged.

We have the best of reasons for believing that the pretense at negotiations is but a dodge to tide over the first session of the new Parliament, if that can by any means be accomplished.

The restrictionist managers will meet Parliament with the assurance that negotiations are about to begin. They will crave that the trade question be not discussed while Tupper and his associates are hovering around Washington; and they will try to stifle the discussion of the commercial condition of the country by the members of Parliament.

But the Newfoundlanders are restive For many years, under one excuse or another, the imperial authorities have been potyponing the settlement of these questions, so vitally important to the welfare of the islanders; and in recent months, while thus drifting along, the Salisbury Government has interposed every agency possible

Where crossings are recently made on the railway has not had established in full view of the line on both its apparently intended effect in the sides, it seems comparatively easy for a British markets. A recent cablegram in- person to keep out of danger. It is, howforms us that the Grand Trunk stocks are ever, different where the nearer a person recovering from the depression that fol. gets to the railway the more is the view been made whereby an approaching train is announced at a level crossing by the ringing of a bell, which is automatically set in motion the moment the train gets within a certain distance from the spot. If such a provision could be made at all crossings of safety would, in a measure, be insured.

In Britain the growing tendency is to abolish level crossings, and to provide that the highway shall either go over or under

LOBSTERS AND TREATY RIGHTS. The Newfoundland troubles arise, like nany other international disputes, from the sacrifice of colonial interests in order that the Imperial managers of the day might get out of present trouble. By the treaty of Utrecht, arrived at in 1713, the entire island of Newfoundland was placed under British sovereignty, but to conciliate the French a paramount right to catch fish and dry them along a stretch of several hundred miles of the western and northern coasts was conceded. Seventy years later the treaty of Versailles reterated that the fishing rights from Cape St. Johns on the east along the northern coast of the island to Cape Ray on the west should be assigned to the subjects of France, who should not be interrupted in the exercise of those rights by the subjects of Great Britain. These fishing privileges, valuable in themselves, were perhaps also prized by France as the relic of her once splendid posssions in North America. Under her system the merchant marine is allied to the navy as its feeder in crews, and is supervised and supported by the Government with subsidies, hospitals, pensions, and so on. The Newfoundland fisheries are looked upon as a useful training school for sailors, and have been kept up by bounties so liberal as to form a large part of the profits of the fishermen. This system enabled the latter to offer their catch at lower prices than could be afforded by the Newfoundland fishermen, who have no bounties, and have of late been almost driven out of the markets of southern Europe by their French competitors.

In retaliation the Newfoundland Legislature was prevailed upon to pass a law imposing on foreign fishermen a license fee for bait, and allowing only small quantities to be bought. When the French resorted to the portion of the Newfoundland coast crowded in and exercised joint rights of fishing. A French man-of-war compelled them to take up their nots last spring, and though a British naval commander was resent he declined to interfere, holding that the French officer was acting within the provisions of the treaty.

The great trouble was but an incident in the disputes, however. A far more difficult question relates to the lobster canning ess. For a century after the treaty of Utrecht, for almost a century even after the treaty of Versailles, such a thing as canning lobsters was not heard of along the French shore. But of late years an import-ant business enterprise has arisen from the ning factories there, which buy the lobster caught by the natives. The Newfound landers declare that the treaty con cession to take, land and dry fish, and purpose, must be strictly construed, and cannot include lobsters, the taking and canning of which there is a recent industry. They argue that the very words of the the reports that are being sent out from Ottawa with regard to the alleged contemplated reciprocity negotiations.

The Canadian public are not at this juncture in a mood to be imposed upon. juncture in a mood to be imposed upon.

The Macdonald Government was guilty of a gross falsehood when it told the Governor-General and through him the country that it asked for dissolution because it was engaged in reciprocity negotiations and desired popular indorsement therefore.

It had engaged in no negotiations; it is fishes. France and Britain have now remitted this question to arbitrators, who will sit at Brussels and decide it. Meanwhile, the modus vivendi will be enforced, and further modus vivendi will be enforced, and further conflicts may be prevented. The arbitrat-ors may also be empowered to deal with the question of bait.

But the Newfoundlanders are restive to be Dictator of his party and Dictator of Canada and that speedily. Woe betide the sountry if he is not soon checked.

THE MAJORITY VERDICT.
The Detroit Free Press agrees with us that if juries were permitted to render a verdict by a majerity—say of two-thirds—the system would be much purified. There would certainly be far less temptation to bribe. The jury fixer's task becomes difficult when he has to "see" more than one man, be he crank or be he influenced by a bribe or purely personal consideration, can tender nugatory the verdict of any jury.

William Brotherton has left Napa, Cal., for New York, trundling a wheelbarrow. The trip is the result of a wager of $2,000 on his ability to accomplish it within six months. Two years ago he made a similar trip from Los Angeles to Cincinnati in five months and two days.

A sensational hurdle performance was recently achieved at the Emmanuel College sports, Cambridge, by H. Le Fleming. He was penalized ten yards behind the sorratch, and was only beaten one yard for first place in the fast time of 17 3-5 seconds; he showed form equal to about 16 1-5 seconds for the regular 120 yards.

The British steamer Queen Elizabeth, from Japan for Manilla, has been wrecked at Itism. All on board were saved.

Timothy Hoaly was mobbed by Parnellites the Cork yesterday, and may lose his sight as the result of a blow which shattered his eyeglasses.

A court martial in the matter of the sinking of the steamer Utopia was opened at Gibraltar yesterday. The bodies of 50 cousins also have deaf mute children born in several generations. The oral system is no new thing. It was practiced in England 50 years ago and found useless, and it has started again. A sermon or lecture can never be read from the lips, but only a few home words. The deaf mutes themselves find their voices are unpleasant, and that strangers can hardly understand them. If any deaf mute can hear a little by use of a instruments, he may learn to speak better than a totally deaf one. I find signs are so useful. They are the deaf mutes natural speech and they can tell a long story in a short time with lightning speed, even faster than shorthand or speech. I myself have talked to the Northwest Indians by signs and they could also tell me stories of hunting for game, etc., by signs also, when not one could understand a few words I uttered which I learnt at school.

I hope the Government will do something for those deaf mutes of weak intellect. Several have been sent home from the schools and their parents could do nothing and only allow them to ream about the streets and grow up in ignorance which put bad impressions in the public's heads to think all other deaf mutes are like them. Some other deaf mutes are like them. Some other deaf mutes of good intellect have also been expelled from the schools for little faults and they also have grown up in ignorance. I have seen hundreds of dea mutes from Quebec to Toronte, and I finather eduction is not good and they also have have struggle to get on in the world. Soveral had their homes seized for rent and taxes through lack of work, and some have lost their properties of houses and lands by unfair means, as several could not read the deed when signing it. There is above two dozen deaf mutes in London, and I hope to get a Sunday Bible class formed and I hope to find a Sunday school teacher who will kindly spend one hour and a half every. Sunday in instructing them. I also hope the Ontario Legislature will find it useful for the Belleville pupits to learn some higher trades, 432 Park avenue, Loudon

Mighty Words of Truth.

A Persian poet has said: "There is not a single dispensation of Providence which, if properly viewed, will not afford an excellent lesson. Never repine at the good fortune of others, for many are there who wish to be raised to your station."

You may not possess fame, wealth, position or honor in the world, but Providence may have bestowed upon you health, happiness and contentment, which the wealthy and those of high position, wealth and fame generally have themselves to blame for any lack of health and contentment. In the hurry and worry after gold, fame and honor, their health is neglected, and aliments and troubles brought on which endanger and shorten life. They are victims of nervousness, its somia, irritability, headache, morbid ses, bad circulation and dyspepsia in its worst forms. For them there is no royal pathway to health; they must take no same simple, yet effectual emedy which their less favored fellows use—Paile's Celery Compound. It is a universal and infallible remedy, and will benefit all who use it. FOR CONSUMPTION.—Use a teaspoonful in half a tumbler of water for a gargle, and gargle frequently. Bathe externally with the gargle frequently. Bathe externally with the "absorbent" the throat and chest. Within five days the cough will cease to the extent that the patient can sleep all night. Take half a teaspoonful in water four times a day.

FOR CATARES.—Use the gargle as above; also use the same as a douche or spray, taking half a teaspoonful four times a day in a wine gloss of water. In two weeks the worst case of Catarrh will cease. Bathe externally the throat.

FOR INDIGESTION.—Use from a half to one tesspoonful in from one to two wine glasses of water three or four times a day. In cases of great pain use every hour or two.

FOR KINNEY DISEASES.—Use as above until the urine is normal.

W. Y. BRUNTON, LONDON. C- CANADA.

All the above: in fact, all disease is caused by inflammation (which is chemically an excess of acid). Subdue that and nature works her cure. The "Curative Fluid" neutralizes all acids.

BOTTOM KNOCKED OUT OF THE GOLD MINE.

Life is the best thing we have got. It may be dark with sorrow; but the reasoning mind is worth a million worlds.

Your stock may be so far below par that you can't see it. The bottom may have dropped out of your gold mine. Your brilliant scheme, which was to have knocked the Keeley motor into the middle of next week, and make your fortune, may have been received with scoffs and jeers. Your mother-in-law may have been called to her reward at the moment she was most exasp——exuberant in the display of her love for you. And yet life is better than an undisputed title to the stellar universe! Life means health; without health life has no meaning. We play with health with appalling levity. In a climate like ours we easily contract colds. We don't dread them, because we are familiar with them. The consumption that ends in death has its beginning very generally in a simple cold.

To Jall for a Month.

The Murtagh assault case, which took place on March 7, came up for final disposal at the Police Court yesterday. Bridget Murray, a boarder at Pat Murtagh's house, testified to seeing the prisoner hit his wife in the head with a plate of beginned afterwards punch her and catch her by the hair. She ran for a policeman, and on returning found them both covered with blood. P. C. Egelton corroborated the latter part of this evidence. Mrs. Murtagh seemed to have forgiven her husband and shook her fist at Mrs. Murray, whom she said was swearing falsely. She claimed to remember nothing of the affair except falling against the door. Murtagh was sent to jail for a month by the magistrate.

The Assessor's returns for wards No. 3 and 4 have been completed. The population of No. 3 is entered as 6,142, as against 6,263 last year. There are 322 jurors, 103 non-residents, 2,067 children between the ages of 5 and 21 years, and 957 between the ages of 7 and 13. Realty is entered at $1,735,397, and the total value of realty, personal and taxable income amounts to $1,978,242—an increase of about $100,000 over last year. The fourth ward is credited with a gain of 142 in population, the total being 6,197, of which 374 are jurors and 63 non-resident. The children between the ages of 5 and 21 number 2,086, while 879 are between the ages of 7 and 13. We beg to notify the trade, and more paricularly to those customers whom we have kept waiting for several months for our La Cadena and La Flora brands of cigars (owing to the Havana crops not having been at that time in fit condition to use), that we are now commencing to manufacture the above-mentioned brands, our buyer, who has just returned from Havana, having purchased several lots of tobacco, which were picked from the cream of the crops regardless of price. We make no idle boast when we state that our clear Havana cigars are equal in every respect to the highest class of imported Havana cigars and at much less figures. We wish particularly to impress upon smokers the fact that these brands are not made in competition with the great majority of rank, cheap Havana cigars that are offered to the public as fine goods.
