A Damaging Report.

The British Board of Trade has issued a blue book, containing a report upon the wheat production of the Canadian Northwest by Mr. James Mavor professor of political economy in Torento University. Professor Mavor's conclusions will be far from welcome in this country, and their publication in an official document is calculated to injure Canada in the estimation of the British people. He holds out no hope that the Canadian West will ever be able to supply the demands of the British market. He estimates the total area available for wheat production to be 13,750,000 acres and concludes that that may ever be expected in a single country, takes sharp issue with Professor Mayor, and questions his fitness, a a man who is concerned chiefly with theories and has no practical acquaintance with the subject of wheat production, for the task assigned him by the British authorities, . The Canadian western papers are indignant and pronounce the report a slander on the country. For example, Professor Mayor credits Manitoba with only 2,800,000 acres of available wheat land. The Winnipeg Telegram points out that according to the official report issued by the provincial department of agriculture last June, 2,643,588 acres of wheat were actually above soil in Manitoba at that time. The area of the whole province is 50,000,000 acres, and the fat lands of Southwest Manitoba alone comprise 12,500,000 acres. Again, the professor's report includes a colored map of the Northwest "showing approximate areas of land relatively susceptible of wheat cultivation," the portions marked in blue being designated as areas "not suitable for wheat cultivation, but at present timbered and largely suitable only for pasturage even where cleared." Practically the whole district tapped by the Canadian Northern Prince Albert branch from Dauphin north and west to the Pasquia Hills is thus described, as is also the Gilbert Plains districts west of Dauphin, Professor Mavor, says the Telegram, will no doubt be surprised to hear that this latter district promises a record yield, and he will also be interested to read the following ex-Northern crop report, and which refer "not suitable to wheat cultivation":

These facts are sufficient to discredit Professor Mayor's conclusions, which were evidently based upon information obtained at second hand. It is to be pel the damaging impression which his is important the truth about Canada should be known.

Anglo-French Good-Will.

The English mail brings elaborate accounts of the courtesies extended the officers and men of the French squadron which anchored for a week at Portsmouth, in return for the visit of a British squadron to Brest. The French tars were greeted with unfeigned cordiality at every public appearance. Admiral Caillard and his officers were dined by the Lord Mayor of London were given a round of entertainment in the metropolis. They went straight to the core of British affections by saiuting Nelson's monument as they marched to the Guildhall. The Paristan press is effusive in its acknowledgment of the sincerity and warmth of the upon feelings of genuine friendship for France in the heart of the British peo-ful and appropriate than the speeches of Premier Balfour and Mr. John Morley, representing the two great political parties. Mr. Balfour proposed the toast of "The French Navy," calling attention to the fact that the company was assembled in a hall-Westminster ago by a son of that William the Conqueror who came over from French shores to found a dynasty. It was a melancholy reflection to think how much of those 800 years had been spent by both countries in mutual suspicion and distrust, or in active hostilities... but through peace or war the two countries had exercised a mutual influence upon one another, in their modes of thought, their civilization. art, and philosophy, which had been of advantage to both. It was in the union of France and England, with all their great and noble traditions, their interest in great ideas, and in great enterprises, that the progress of the world most depended. Their fraternization meant no ill to any other nation, and there was no dea that any sparks from the illuminations at Brest and Portsmouth should set Europe on fire. The good understanding between the two countries was one of the greatest steps ever taken for he advancement of civilization and the order and peace of the world. ### Great Britain and Japan. The Associated Press claims to have nformation that a new treaty of alliance between Great Britain and Japan has been signed. The report is not officially confirmed, but it is generally believed. Now that peace has been declared, the British foreign office is expected to give the details to the public. The former alliance was a masterstroke of diplomacy. It enabled Japan to measure her strength with Russia's without fear of interference by a third power. But for her bond with Great Britain. France or Germany might have gone to Russia's rescue. It has prevented also a combination of powers to deprive Japan of the fruits of victory, such as ousted her from the Asiatic mainland ten years ago. The treaty has been no less advantageous to Great Britain. The war has demonstrated that, in the words of the late Lord Salisbury, Britain placed her money at the right horse. She has discovered, to her surprise, that her ally is the greatest power in Asia. Her traditional policy of the open door in China, for which she appeared to be waging a losing battle, has been firmly established by Japan's triumph. Her Asiatic possessions are more than ever

The old treaty required each power to come to the assistance of the other in case either was attacked by two or more powers. It is said the new treaty takes a wider scope by binding the cerpts taken from the last Canadian signatories to assist each other, even though the attack comes from a single to points in a district he ascribes as power, but only in case the attack is lirected against their Asiatic possessions. This would solve the problem of the defense of India. If Japanese armies could be thrown into India, the fear of a Russian invasion, which has always haunted Great Britain, would disappear. It might smooth the approach to a permanent understanding with Russia as to the delimitation of him a position-British and Russian spheres of influence in Asia and Europe, a consummation which would bring universal and find employment for my boy, even if perpetual peace appreciably nearer. RUSS BUREAUCRACY SAD OVER PEACE

Cold Reception to Splendid News From Portsmouth

HOPED FOR FALL OF WITTE

Aussians Win What Is Probably the Last Conflict of the Great

Portsmouth, Aug. 31.-An anomalou ituation exists as to the impression reated by the conclusion of peace. While the outside world applauds, in Japan there evidently is great disappointment over the terms, and in Russia, where it would seem there should be universal rejoicing over the great diplomatic victory M. Witte has won, the Government seems to have received it coldly. With the people, it will make M. Witte a great and popular figure and add to his laurels, but at court, evidently, the very victory Mr. Witte has achieved makes it all the more bitterly resented. It is an open secret that the military party hates and fears Witte, and that, when the Emperor appointed him chief plenipotentiary, they expected him to

They expected him to fail in the negotiations or to make a "bad peace," and either would have spelled politi-

Instead, upon the very terms upon which the Emperor told Mr. Meyer he would decide for peace, and upon which the military party did not believe it possible for peace to be negoti-ated, M. Witte succeeded in securing a treaty honorable and, under the circumstances, favorable to Russia. This evidently has only exasperated his emenies the more, and intrigue i again at work to discredit him.

Since Japan was in a conciliatory mood, they now say, he made a mis take in surrendering half of Sakhalin. Yet he did so by the Czar's orders and himself insists that, personally, he would have stuck to the end to his original declaration not to cede terri-

A Sacrifice for Peace.

Not a word or line about the receipt of the news comes out of Japan. In view of the situation both at Tokio and St. Petersburg, alarmists are inclined to make much of the facts that the minutes of yesterday's fateful meeting have not been signed by the plenipotentiaries of the two powers. It is pointed out that either side still could repudiate the agreement, but both plenipotentiaries refuse to admit record and ability. The pastor then proceeded to speak of Miss McLeod's active work in the church along missionary lines, before she turned her attention directly to actual labor in india. In carrying out the object of the meeting he called on Miss Edna Gillies, who on behalf of the Girls' Mission Band, expressed the young peoples' esteem for their former teacher and their best wishes for her success in her self-sacrificing work as a missionary. Mr. C. W. A. Woodburne addressed Miss Mc-Leod on behalf of the Boys' Mission Band; Miss Moran spoke for the Senior Mission Band, Mrs. Henry Watson re-presented the Young Ladies' Mission Circle, and Mrs. Thomas Woodburne spoke very feelingly on behalf of the Women's Circle, referring to a some-what similar meeting held eleven years ago, when Miss McLeod entered on her work among the Telugus.

Mrs. A. E. Browne, soprano soloist of Talbot Street Church, sang with great effect, "Abide With Me," and then Capt. J. W. Fuller, on behalf of the church as a whole, voiced the feeling of love and esteem that they all felt for their sister, who was about to again leave them. Miss Winn handed to Miss McLeod a valuable gold watch while little and the works with the second control of the second co gold watch, while little Arthur Woodburne presented her with a bouquet and was rewarded with a hearty kies rewarded with a hearty kiss. Harry Stinson, driver for Miss Wilks, leads the list of winning drivers down the Grand Circuit. If Sadie Mac and Katherine L. keep on edge, he will wind up the season much in advance of the rest of the bunch of

For the first time in eight years Canada won the international cricket And they did it quite handily. The Canucks batted well and fielded better than usual. The bowling was decidedly better than for many years. One thing in connection with the game was the justification of newspaper critics, who insisted on Cameron being on the team. He certainly did fine work. He would not have been on the team if a kick had not been made. In these games, society dudelets are fine as bric-a-brac, but as cricketers-not much. The best players are wanted, and wire-pulling for a place on the team should be left out. A rare thing about the game was the fine work of the regimental "youngsters," Terry and Saunders. Their work was giltedged.

That horse Allerson, in the fast pacing class, is great. He is one of the great sensations of the year. He won a seven-heat race the other day-winning three heats, and being second in the other four. The fastest time was 2:06 3-4. and the slowest 2:12 3-4. It's a game race-horse that can stand a journey like that.

There will be only three teams in the senior O. R. F. U.—the Hamilton Tigers, the Toronto team, and the Londons. These three will furnish some good Rugby, but a line on the abilities of the Torontos or Londons will have to be given before it can be judged what sort of a race it will be. The Tigers will be fast, no doubt of that. The Toronto outfit, with several old 'Varsity men in, should make a run. As for London, keep your eye this way.

The O. R. F. U. executive have organized an intermediate series, and there are twelve teams in it. This series ought to be a great series. The quality of Rugby should be the simon-pure stuff. Dundas has gone up to this

The junior teams are as numerous as sand-lots. The "kids" always play hard, and furnish a good article. London will have a good junior team,

Clark Griffith is champion derrick artist of the American. Over 50 times this year he has ordered some one of the Highlanders to back-pedal, and hie them to the club house, when there was a cloudfest brewing. That is somewhat of a record. Connie Mack, of the Athletics, also uses the sling to Rube Waddell is champton game-saver in baseball. He is called upon more often than any other twirler in the business to stop the slaughter of some other twister. Rube is great at that stunt.

The aftermath of the C. L. A. senior series is coming out now. Brantford is digging deep in their pockets for the change to pay up the back salaries of the tourists. The change is hard to find. That will about hold them.

According to the minutes of the O. R. F. U. executive, they are going to suggest a single home-and-home series with London, and a double home-andhome series between Hamilton and Toronto, London is supposed to like that fine. Now, steady, Hogtown, what do you want? What's the matter with a straight home-and-home series, and if you and Hamilton want to play extra games, get together for a post-season series? It is all right to infer that the London team won't do in senior company, but don't go that way about it. If the team is not fast enough for your senior ranks, back the team into the intermediate series. Don't play the superior team racket at all. The pose does not become you well. If Hamilton and Toronto want to have a senier series among themselves, let them say so. London team is in the senior series, and is in there to stay. As you are from Missouri, we will exhibit for you, and demonstrate that the game can be played outside of Toronto. Likely, if Peterboro had come into the senior ranks, that executive would have placed that team and London in a district by themselves, and allowed Toronto and Hamilton to play together. London asks no favors. A straight schedule, and no hang-overs is the demand from this section. Jockeying for act for the Ontario retailers. Mr. Kingsmill and other local presidents are now in Toronto, conferring with Mr. Trowhern, secretary of the board, and in a few days there will be something doing. If the boards of trade and other associations petition the Ottawa Government, the retailers all over Ontario will send in scores of counter-petitions. There are 48 branches of the Retailers' Association in Ontario. On a day named by the central board they will all send in petitions to Ottawa. If the retailers all over Canada take the same line of action, which of this city, and they say it as if they sincerely mean it.

The resolution passed by the Western Travelers' Association, which appeared in this paper on Wednesday, further roused the retailers into arms. The resolution was to the effect that the Dominion Government should be petitioned to change the day to Monday, as being much more convenient for the business interests of the country, and also giving a longer holiday to those participating. Monday, Oct. 23, is the day the travelers want.

The travelers forwarded a copy of their resolution to the local board of trade, and the council of the latter have agreed to consider that the portions and take the same line of action, which ada take the same line of action, which it is more than probable that they will the Secretary of State's desk will be piled high with papers demanding that Thanksgiving Day be celebrated on Thursday, as usual. The retailers are fective, as they will far outnumber those of their opponents.

In a nutshell, the claim of the retailers is this: Those who want the day changed are actuated only by motives of pleasure actuated by business motives.

The travelers forwarded a copy of their resolution to the local board of trade, and the council of the latter have agreed to act hand-in-glove with them in the matter.

If the board, as is probable, indorses the action of its council, it will draw up a resolution similar to that of the travelers and forward copies to the Secretary of State, to the Premier, and to Hon. Chas. S. Hyman. If other boards of trade, other travelers' associations and other societies take the matter up in the same way, there will be an organized movement all over Canada to change the day.

"What do you think of it?" The Advertiser asked Mr. T. F. Kingsmill, jun, president of the Retail Traders' Association of this city.

"We will oppose it tooth and nail," was the emphatic reply. "We have not objected to the Civic Holiday and Labor Day being held on Monday. When the 24th of May falls on a Monday we do not change the holiday to the middle of the week; but we are not going to allow Thanksgiving Day to be changed to a Monday if we can help it."

In fact, the central board of the Ontario Retailers' Association, situated in Toronto, is going to take quick and strong and includes a number of the cracks who have been playing at Newport in the national tournament. The men's open singles and ladies' singles will be started tomorrow, the handicap and the all-Canadian championship on the following day, and the Buffalo-Toronto event on Friday. The scores yesterday were: International singles—Irving Wright beat E. Field, 6-4, 4-2; D. M. Stewart beat B. Rumsey, 6-2, 6-4; W. A. Boys beat W. C. Grant 3-6, 6-4, 7-5.

WRIGHT DEFEATS HOBART. Newport, R. I., Aug. 30. — Beals C. Wright, of Boston, won the all-comers' tennis tournament today, defeating Clarence Hobart, of New York, in straight sets. 6-4, 6-1, 6-3. Wright will meet Holcombe Ward tomorrow for the championship of the United States.

THE RING.

WANTS TO FIGHT AGAIN. New York, Aug. 31. — "Terrible Terry" McGovern, completely recovered from the physical and mental breakdown that put him out of the fighting game a few months ago, is now about to ge, into harness again. First of all Terry wants to make a match with the winner of the Britt-Nelson fight on th coast. Failing to get this bout, he will do business with Abe Attell or Jabez White, the Britisher. McGovern will be able to fight at 127 or 128 pounds. Joe Humphreys, who is to manage Terry hereafter, took Terry to Dr. E. H. Quinn, of this city. After the physician had decided that no harm could come to Terry from fighting, and that he was not "off his nut." Humphreys began to issue challenges. Humphreys says McGovern will soon fight his way to the top again. He is after the light weight champion. While a lot under he proper weight now, it is figured that training scientifically will build him up, and that soon 133 pounds will be his natural weight.

A San Francisco dispatch says: After three hours' talk between Managers Willie Britt and Billy Nolan, it was decided that Jim Jeffries should referre the Britt-Nelson bout on Sept. 9. For nearly two hours the men cis cussed the respective merits of Jeffrie and Siler. Nelson held out for Siles who, he said, was the best referee i the country. Britt came back with eulogy of Jeff's honesty, squareness and knowledge of the game. went on, with occasional interruptions from James W. Coffroth, manager of the Colma Club, who called attention to the fact that nothing was being Finally the matter was referred to the newspaper men present, and they were asked to ballot for the referee. Britt and Nolan agreeing to abide by their decision. When the ballots were cast it was found that the journalists had settled on Eddie Graney, and Britt angrily declared he could not accept Graney for personal reasons, and that he supposed it was understood Grane was eliminated before the ballot was taken. So at last Coffroth suggested tossing a coin for Jeffries or Siler. Britt took heads for Jeffries and Noian took tails for Siler, and heads won. So Jeffries will serve as referee. WRESTLING. CARED DOWNED FILLMORE.
