WANTS COLONIES TO ACT.

MR. PEASE ASKS WHAT THEY ARE READY TO OFFER.

Over One Hundred South Russian Agriculturists Sail For Canada—Franco-Canadian Trade Increases.

London, Nov. 5.—J. A. Pease, M.P., Liberal, speaking at Darlington last night, said he believed that he was one of the few members who had been elected after advocating reciprocity with the colonies, but he would not pledge himself to any particular method nor till he knew what the colonies were prepared to offer us.

One hundred and twenty South Russian agriculturists sailed yesterday by the steamer Mount Temple for Canada. They will settle in the neighborhood of Winnipeg.

Mr. Kenrick Murray, Secretary of the London Chamber of Commerce, in his report dealing officially with his tour of Canada, speaks enthusiastically of Canada's future, especially of the wheat-producing districts. He also speaks highly of the industrial enterprise exhibited by Canadians, particularly in regard to electrical development.

A correspondent in France writes an interesting note of the Canadian commercial men one meets here in favor of Mr. Chamberlain's plan. He believes that the erection of a British tariff wall will greatly increase Franco-Canadian trade.

CANADIAN LOYALTY.

Comments Following Mr. Aylesworth's Speech.

London, Nov. 5.—The Standard, referring to Mr. A. B. Aylesworth's speech, hopes his assurance that Canadian loyalty will not be shaken by any sense of injustice was not needed. "If the bonds which hold the empire together are so fragile as to be strained by such a cause there is not very much sincerity in the sentiments which have been so freely displayed during the last three years."

The provincial newspapers, other than publishing the cable report of Mr. Aylesworth's speech, made no comment, but the cables are headed in The Birmingham Daily Post "A Patriotic Speech"; in The Liverpool Daily Post "Noble and Patriotic"; and The Manchester Guardian "Temperate Counsel."

The St. James' Gazette says:—It is to be hoped that the excess of some what loose and foolish talk which has been excited on both sides of the Atlantic by the Alaska award will receive a check from the dignified, temperate speech of Mr. Aylesworth.

SERIES OF EARTHQUAKES.

Experienced in Missouri and Other States.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 5.—This city and vicinity experienced a series of earth shocks, beginning at 12.18 o'clock yesterday. There is a difference of opinion as to how many. The earthquake was perceptible all over the city, and was mostly felt in the high business blocks in the downtown section of the city. One occupant of a high building said his chandelier swung three inches. The movement was from east to west.

A long-distance telephone message from Louisiana, Mo., says that a perceptible shock was felt there about the same time. Despatches from various points in Tennessee and Illinois, as well as throughout this State, report slight earthquake shocks.

ARMENIAN TROUBLES.

Two More Victims of Assassin's Bullets.

London, Nov. 5.—An individual, said to resemble the murderer of Sagat Sagouni, President of the Armenian Revolutionary Society, who was assassinated in the suburb of Hounhead on October 26, shot and mortally wounded two Armenians, close to the headquarters of the Hentchakist Society, at Peckham, Ry., yesterday, and then shot himself dead. He is supposed to have been connected with the Sagouni murder. The Armenians were Aral Grigorian and Sigran Samiran, both members of the Armenian Central Committee, which has been in session here. They were walking with a companion named Rouben Graberian when the assassin came up behind and shot them. The murderer wore a hat, but under his arm the police found a cap which corresponds with the cap which the murderer of Sagouni is known to have purchased the night of the tragedy.

UNDER THE PREFERENCE.

Exports of British Leather and Leather Goods Have Increased.

London, Nov. 4.—Statistics just published show that under the Canadian preference British exports of leather and leather goods have risen from seven to fourteen per cent. The total imports of sole leather have jumped from two to twenty-five per cent. The export of boots has increased slightly, but the fault is that British makers do not study fashions as Americans do.

WERE TREATED VERY SHABBILY

"Cheap John" Method Adopted by Windsor Board Towards Their Guests.

Electric Light Bill Staggers Public Library Board—Other Business Transacted.

"I'm saving the peach till the last," remarked Secretary I. L. Davis, as he was reading the accounts at the Library Board meeting last evening. "The net cost of electric lights for the Library for the past two months is just $33.37."

"Whew! Whew!" came in chorus from the other members. "That's awful!"

All agreed that too much light was being used and thought the librarian, by the proper manipulating of the switches, could save a good deal. The bill was ordered paid and the Secretary told to instruct the Librarian as to lights.

The Chairman's verbal report on his trip to the Windsor Library opening, accompanied by Fred Stone and J. W. Humphrey, proved remarkably interesting. Going down at noon they were escorted to the hotel on foot, where they registered themselves and put in the afternoon in the best way they could by themselves. They walked out to the opening of the new building at 7.30, heard Mr. Harcourt speak and returned to the hotel, went to bed, paid their bill next morning and returned home. The Samaritanes were treated the same.

At the Chatham opening all visitors bills were paid, they were driven about in hacks at no expense to themselves, and given a banquet in the evening.

A communication was read from B. A. Franka, secretary to Andrew Carnegie, enclosing the balance of the money $700. The letter stated that Mr. Carnegie had not returned to New York yet, and when he did, the request of the Chatham Board for more money would be referred to him.

F. B. McPherson sent a copy of his audit concerning library.

The Canadian Manufacturers' Association sent a copy of July Industrial Canada and asked to be allowed to send it regularly, gratis. The privilege was granted.

A donation of bound magazines was received and heartily accepted from C. R. Atkinson, K. C.

W. Weir, Ottawa, wrote regarding placing his book, "My Sixty Years in Canada," in the library. He sent it on approval and it had not arrived.

The Finance committee was appointed, with power, to arrange with the city regarding the light in front of the building.

The matter of accepting the building from the contractors was left with the Building committee and architect to go over the building with the architect.

Mr. Sheldrick moved that the privilege of the auditorium be given the Macaulay Club for Saturday nights for $1.50 at a minimum of $25 for the season, payable in advance.

The application blank for privilege of taking books was left in the old system and the Librarian notified that that was the case.

It was decided to put on about $2,000 more insurance on the building.

An order was drawn on the city treasurer for $100.

The following accounts were ordered paid:—

J. W. Humphrey, $1.
Waterworks, $1.
L. Wilson & Son, $16.
Westman Bros., 75c.
Scott Bros. & Co., $12.75.
I. L. Davis, $1.25.
G. T. R., 74c.
Wm. Pressy, 50c.
Gas Co. account, $33.37.

The District and Binner accounts, for $6.25 and $17.55 respectively were referred.

The Librarian's report for October was as follows:—

New borrowers, $2.22.
Books given out, 623.
Cash received for cards, $5.35.
Cash received for fines, 84c.

The members of the Board present were, Chairman Dr. Charteris, Secretary I. L. Davis, W. J. Twohey, J. U. Thibodeau, F. Stone and A. Sheldrick.

TARTE GOING TO ENGLAND.

The Announcement Made by Himself at Montreal.

Montreal, Nov. 5.—Hon. J. Israel Tarte announced last night that he will leave for England a week from tomorrow in the capacity of a working newspaperman to interview the political leaders there and to observe the trend of events. It is understood, however, that the ex-Minister of Public Works will stand on the Canadian platform, and that is the real reason of his coming departure. The matter has already been hinted at editorially in La Patrie, Mr. Tarte's paper, but it was merely dealt with as a reference to a rumor and nothing definite was stated.

AN ADROIT APPEAL.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN'S ADDRESS AT BIRMINGHAM.

Urges British People to Lose No Time in Binding Closer the Ties of Empire.

London, Nov. 5.—Mr. Chamberlain achieved a new triumph at Birmingham last night, when he addressed a great audience in Bingley Hall. The gist of his speech was an appeal to the British people to lose no time in binding closer the units of the empire. He said that if we were out of sympathy with the colonies and refused their offers, if we could not co-operate in sustaining the empire, we would lose our opportunity, and it might never recur. Then we should never have that bond of commercial union which was at one time the ideal of Lord Rosebery, and with no commercial bond we could never secure that Imperial federation for which Lord Rosebery had declared he was willing to die.

A large party in the country still regarded the colonies as costly encumbrances. He was not quite sure that the modern leaders of free trade did not share that antiquated view, and instead of appreciation of Imperial unity, all they thought of was the unity of the Radical party. We revered and gloried in those family ties, and no politician should induce us to do anything to cause us to sacrifice them. "I am not presumptuous enough," he continued, "to predict beforehand exactly what all these great States will do in return. I have confidence that they will do right. Meanwhile some facts are published. We know that a preferential system has been asked for by all the colonies on three separate occasions, and has been asked for at two conferences at which I presided in London. When I remember how all the colonies responded to their allegiance during the South African war, and sent men thousands, and paid money to those men, I believe we could negotiate with them without fear of the result, and that they will show us great generosity and patriotism."

Before Mr. Chamberlain arrived the vast audience kept shouting to Mrs. Chamberlain, who was on the platform, "Where's Joe?" The speech was marked throughout by tumultuous enthusiasm, especially at the end, when, with true dramatic instinct, he drew from a brown paper two enormous, equal-sized loaves of bread, representing a taxed and an untaxed loaf, and holding them at arm's length, laughingly asked, "Which is which?"

The Post says the Free Fooders are quite willing to give a preference to the United States and Germany, but not to Canada, Australia and New Zealand. Mr. Chamberlain's pitiless exposure of their position should be enough.

The Morning Leader says it is noticeable that nothing is said of the schedule of forbidden colonial industries. The colonies have made it evident that they will not dig, delve and plough for us. Like the Americans, they do not conceive that this is their national destiny.

The Times says Mr. Chamberlain demolished the fallacy of the free trade system last night. His fundamental propositions are that our exports to protectionist countries are declining; our trade with neutral countries stationary; and only the growth of our exports to the colonies and dependencies save us. The serious industrial depression is no longer to be denied.

The News styles the speech an ex-kilating music hall turn. It says the empire he would build would stand neither on freedom nor humanity, and the widely scattered community of some 11,000,000 souls would not for the moment accept the fetters Mr. Chamberlain had forged for them. The paper challenges Mr. Chamberlain to publish a list of his financial backers. It says their names would damn the cause. "One eminent millionaire Jew is continually mentioned in club gossip," The News says. "Who are the others?"

A LONG CAMPAIGN.

One Year's Work Ahead for Mr. Chamberlain.

London, Nov. 5.—Mr. Chamberlain, writing to a correspondent, says his crusade is likely to extend until autumn of next year, and if he has time before the general election he will consider the places he cannot visit during his present tour.

The Tariff Reform League has issued an appeal for funds signed by Mr. Chamberlain and the Duke of Sutherland. The manifesto sets forth that Cobden was supplied with £400,000 to pursue his campaign. The league hopes to find at least 100 sympathizers who will contribute £1,000 in four equal annual instalments of £250. Twenty subscribers have already accepted these conditions.

V. Gibbs, M.P., speaking at St. Albans, said that if the empire had possessed the power to retaliate the McKinley tariff would never have been imposed.

Ashore in the Fog.

Detroit, Nov. 4.—The heavy fog that hung over the lower lakes this morning caused two accidents and a general tie-up, all boats lying at anchor several hours. The consort of the Canadian steamer Rosemount, laden with grain, down bound, took a sheer and ran aground in the cut at Grasse Point. The wrecked sailboat has gone to her aid. The steamer Tecumseh, owned by Mr. Arthur Bros. of Detroit, is hard aground at Bar Point up bound.

ARE UNFAIR TO CITY MERCHANTS

Rector of Holy Trinity Church Counsels Against Shop Sales and Solicitations.

Ladies of the Church will Avoid all Schemes to Separate Citizens from Their Cash—A laudable Effort.

The "Willing Workers"—a large and representative ladies' society in connection with Holy Trinity church—was formally organized on Tuesday evening at a meeting held in the lecture hall adjoining the church. Over fifty ladies were present and a hearty spirit of enthusiasm and loyalty was evidenced.

The objects of the society are four-fold, to enter wholeheartedly into the various branches of church work, to develop social intercourse and social helpfulness, to assist in all cases of need and distress, and to aim for an early renovation and improvement of the church building.

Barnstiness, energy and enterprise characterized the gathering and the ladies prepared to inaugurate their efforts immediately.

A novel and unique code of ethics will govern the Willing Workers. There must be no "hold up" in the accumulation of funds for their treasury. Everything must be spontaneous and voluntary.

There will be no ticket-selling, no calls "for small subscriptions," no solicitations for donations, no street store sales. Willingness and work—as the name implies—are the sole ammunition of the Willing Workers. The ladies have dictated the course of action upon the suggestions of the earnest young rector, Rev. T. Beverley Smith, who spoke forcibly against the adoption of the usual methods of raising money.

The public sale, he feared, always brought three distinct dangers. First, large sales descended too frequently into ordinary raffles. Again there was the danger of extorting too high a price on the grounds that it was for the church, thereby not giving value received and doing an injustice to their patrons.

But, perhaps, the greatest danger, and most unfortunate feature in connection with public church sales was the selling for almost nothing, thus entering into an unjust competition with the merchants and citizens who make their livelihood in mercantile pursuits. This was eminently unfair and unjust. The merchants paid their taxes, their rental, their wages and many other necessary expenditures. The church oftentimes had the use of a store generously donated and was put to practically no expense. The competition thus resulting was therefore neither equitable nor honorable.

Mr. Smith earnestly disapproved such methods of raising money for God's work, and the ladies of the society unanimously endorsed his position—and will adopt only such efforts as are imbued with spontaneity and voluntary free-will.

HART AGAIN

If Dr. Hart—the beaten Muskoka candidate—does not soon let up on his remarks on the subject of the Man from Manitoulin, and that dreadful person's influence over the Muskoka electors, he will be getting himself seriously disliked by the Toronto Globe variety of Liberals. Their play is that Gagey had nothing whatever to do with the grand Tory victory in Muskoka, while honest Dr. Hart continues to affirm that it was Gagey who performed the trick. Interviewed by his local Grit paper, the Huntsville Forester, Dr. Hart said:

"Gagey has undoubtedly played a destructive part. Follow me through the vote in the different sub-divisions, and Gageyism has told strongly for Mahaffy wherever he has spoken. I have no hesitation in saying that even in Huntsville my majority was lessened by his appearance. In the southern part of the riding a similar result is apparent. At Bracebridge, Gravenhurst, Stephenson No. 1, Port Carling and McLean increased majorities were given for the Conservative candidate. Contrast this with the result in Morrison, Muskoka and Cardwell, where Gagey was billed, but did not appear. Each of these gave me a large majority. I do not think that the people generally will congratulate themselves upon the fact that Gageyism has played so prominent a part in the conflict."—Hamilton Spectator.

MR. AYLESWORTH

We have fought out fight, we have lost in the struggle. We must bow with as much graceful submission as possible to the inevitable result. It would be sad indeed if in any feeling of childish resentment of what we thought was an injustice we should say, "This is the end, or even this is the weakening of British connection. The ties that bind us to the motherland can stand the strain, if strain there be, of many Alaskan awards."

So said A. B. Aylesworth, K. C., Canadian representative on the Alaskan boundary commission, in a speech made in Toronto the other night—by reason of its loyalty to the empire, its British tone, and its true Canadianism ought to forever close the mouths of those volatile Canadians who have been making Mr. Aylesworth's alleged opinions and remarks the basis of some very foolish talk.

One Toronto paper particularly, has indulged in anti-British hysterics which are not creditable to a Canadian newspaper, comments the Hamilton Spectator. It went to the extreme of suggesting that the emblem of the empire—the British flag—be banished from the banquet hall, to which Mr. Aylesworth had been invited. Mr. Aylesworth's speech, and the manner in which it was received by the Canadian club, must have convinced that rather erratic and somewhat sensational-at-any-price newspaper that the British flag still floated over loyal British subjects in Canada.

In his speech Mr. Aylesworth made it perfectly clear that there had been no friction between himself and the other British commissioners; that he held a high opinion of Lord Alverstone; that, in refusing to sign the award, he and Sir Louis Jettie were actuated, not by irritation, but simply by a sense of duty. He attributed no motives to Lord Alverstone. He declared that the award—wrong as he believed it to be—must be accepted, and he earnestly repudiated the idea that Canada should harbor any resentment toward Great Britain.

Mr. Aylesworth's speech was that of a Canadian in the truest sense—a Canadian who firmly believes that the future greatness of Canada is irrevocably bound up with the greatness of the empire of which the Dominion is the first and greatest colony. And his loyal words will go far towards restoring reason to the unthinking people of this country who have allowed themselves to be unduly annoyed by a slight mishap which could not well have been avoided.

"The ties that bind us to the Motherland can stand the strain, if strain there be, of many Alaskan awards."

Just how Captain Davidson, the Bay City millionaire, owner of the Dresden Sugar Factory, made his fifteen millions, is well illustrated by the following story. The Captain was a Dresden visitor recently and, as usual, rode up from the station in one of the local busses. At the Clifford House he alighted from the bus and offered the driver ten cents as his fare. Now, quite lately the fare has been advanced to fifteen cents, and the millionaire ship-owner was positively informed of this fact by the bus-owner. He hesitated not a minute, but retorted, "Ten cents is all it's worth to bring a man up town, and ten cents is all I will give you." The charitable bus man thought he would not be too hard on the poor man, so he did not try to stop him; he made a hurried entrance into the hotel. Young men anxious to get on in the world would do well (?) to copy the saving methods of this Yankee millionaire.

Just how Captain Davidson, the Bay City millionaire, owner of the Dresden Sugar Factory, made his fifteen millions, is well illustrated by the following story. The Captain was a Dresden visitor recently and, as usual, rode up from the station in one of the local busses. At the Clifford House he alighted from the bus and offered the driver ten cents as his fare. Now, quite lately the fare has been advanced to fifteen cents, and the millionaire ship-owner was positively informed of this fact by the bus-owner. He hesitated not a minute, but retorted, "Ten cents is all it's worth to bring a man up town, and ten cents is all I will give you." The charitable bus man thought he would not be too hard on the poor man, so he did not try to stop him; he made a hurried entrance into the hotel. Young men anxious to get on in the world would do well (?) to copy the saving methods of this Yankee millionaire.

She has been restored to perfect health.

She writes: "About seven months ago I was badly run down in health and became very weak. I was troubled with fluttering of the heart and shortness of breath. When lying down at night I was almost afraid to go to sleep for fear I would never wake up. When I arose in the morning I would feel a little better, but as soon as I started to work my heart would start fluttering, my head would become dizzy, faint weak spells would come over me and it seemed as if black objects were floating before my eyes. I was growing worse every day until I got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. When the box was half gone I could feel that they had done me good and by the time it was finished I was in excellent health and would advise all sufferers from heart and nerve troubles to try them."

VILLAGE OF ATRADNOE.

The Home of Peter Verigin, the Wise Doukhobor—Description of the Place—Other Villages Are Similar.

Job S. Gidley of Dartmouth, Mass., who has just returned from a conference with the Doukhobors in the Canadian Northwest concerning the expenditure of $15,000 left by a woman Friend of Philadelphia to be devoted to the educational needs of these people, thus describes the Village of Atradnoe, the home of Peter Verigin.

"Here we met once more Evan Machortoff, the patriarch of the Doukhobors, who though 90 years of age, appears as well preserved and sprightly as the average man of 40 years."

"It may be of interest to have a description of this village, which would give a general idea of the other Doukhobor villages; for nearly all of them are laid out in a similar manner. This village is situated in Assiniboia, on the northeastern side of White Sand River, and about a half mile distant therefrom. It contains 22 log houses neatly calmsomined with clay inside and out, located about 100 feet distant from each other on either side of a street about 75 feet in width, passing through the village in an easterly and westerly direction. The settlement has a commanding view of the surrounding country."

"There are several stables used by the Doukhobors in common for their stock, and buildings where 8,000 bushels of wheat, oats and barley are stored, representing the grain crop raised by the Doukhobors of this village the present year. There is also a flour mill near a small stream on the southerly side of the village which furnishes water for the engine used for the motive power. The Doukhobors have improved their condition very much in four years. At that time they sowed mowed their grass and cut their grain by hand, threshing it with a flail. Now the seed is drilled in by horse power, the grass is cut with mowing machines, the grain is harvested with binders and threshed by steam. While we were in Atradnoe one of these steam threshers was in operation, and we were told that the Doukhobors with it in nine hours threshed 2,600 bushels of oats. The Doukhobors have eight of these steam threshers. Two of them, with traction engines, cost $3,000 each, and the six with portable engines $2,250 each. When the grain is threshed in one village the threshing is moved to another. The engines used by the Doukhobors to furnish the motive power for threshing when not in use that way are used as the motive power for grinding grain. There is one windmill for grinding in one of the villages through which we passed that was built this year."

"The Doukhobors are now self-supporting. Their fertile lands yield them a bountiful harvest and their vegetable diet makes their living expenses as far as food is concerned but a mere trifle. They still continue to make a large portion of their boots and shoes. They also spin and weave some of the cloth for their garments. The women and children have gathered and sold more than $10,000 worth of seneca root the present year. When we left Atradnoe to go to Yorkton, 45 miles distant, Peter Verigin, Evan Machortoff and several other Doukhobors (three carriages in all) went with us to the bridge over White Sand River, about ten miles distant, to show us a herd of 320 horses which were grazing on the prairie near by. Peter Verigin had recently purchased these horses for the different villages of the Doukhobors, obtaining them from a trader living 150 miles from Regina, Assiniboia, taking his choice out of a herd of 2,000 horses, at a cost of $24,000. These horses were raised in the State of Montana."

"When Verigin found it would cost him about seven dollars per head to have them shipped by rail from Regina to Yorkton, he concluded to have them driven overland. By doing this he saved about six dollars per head. They were four weeks on the journey, and though they had been on the prairie only two or three days, they looked none the worse for their journey. The herd was guarded by two mounted Doukhobors. As the grain fields of the Doukhobors are for the most part without fences, their herds of cattle and horses must be looked after by herds men. We left the trail and drove over the prairie through the herd of horses, which are in a wild state, but looked as though they would make fine workers."

"The Doukhobors in the different villages visited gave us a hearty welcome, and expressed great thankfulness that we had come to visit them. Once more, and appeared glad to learn that there was a prospect of having schools established in the different villages in which their children could learn to speak, read and write the English language."

What Peter Thinks.
"Peter Verigin thought that the Doukhobors would probably cut the lumber this winter, build the school-houses next year, and have them ready for the schools in the fall."

"Some people seem to think that the Doukhobors are not very intelligent, but we met with two who were able to speak, read and write three different languages. One of them, a young man about 21 years of age, is able to read, write and speak English, Russian and Georgian. His ability to do this was acquired without the aid of a teacher."

"The Doukhobors have great enjoyment in playing ball. One afternoon just before sunset, we saw quite a number of boys and girls whose ages ranged from 15 to 20 years, engaged in this pastime, and they kept it up even after sunset, in fact, just as long as they could keep track of the ball. It did not seem to matter much whether a girl or a boy was at the bat, for the ball, when hit, went flying through the air about the same distance in either case."

THE FIRST STEP

"If the child is an event in the mother's life. How proud she feels when the attempt to walk is begun so early as to evidence childish courage and sturdy strength. Such pride should be enjoyed by every mother. But it often happens that the child is timid, weak and deficient in vitality, and clings to the mother's arms with no desire to walk or play."

Mothers should learn that to have strong children they must themselves be strong, for the child's strength is the gift of the mother.

The use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription by expectant mothers gives them health and strength to give their children. It nourishes the nerves, strengthens the body and gives great muscular strength and elasticity, so that the baby's advent is practically painless.

"I have been using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and can say it is just what you advertise it to be, and can cheerfully recommend it," writes Mrs. Victor J. Hadin, of Leonsville, Riley Co., Kansas. "I began taking it just two months before baby came and was greatly benefited by its use. The doctor who attended me said I did about as well as any one he had seen."

"We now have a darling baby, big and healthy, who weighed nine pounds when born (July 28th). During this month he has gained three and one-half pounds."

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

HAGGARD IS OPPOSED.

FAMOUS AUTHOR CONDEMNS THE NEW POLICY.

Arranging a Consolation Banquet For Lord Goschen—Praise For Mr. Ian Malcolm, M.P.

London, Nov. 3.—Rider Haggard, speaking before the Chamber of Agriculture at London yesterday, said the Government programme of retaliatory tariffs against the countries which taxed our foods, and disallowing the idea of colonial preference, meant ruin to agriculture. He would resist this programme to the last. The meeting did not have time to finish consideration of the amendments, and broke up with much cheering and cries of "Good old Chamberlain!"

The Chamber of Commerce will give a consolation luncheon to Lord Goschen in return for the abandonment of the banquet of the Liverpool Conservative Club.

The Irish Times, speaking of Mr. Ian Malcolm, M.P., who is a Canadian by birth, and who lately succeeded from the Free Fooders, says that foreigners like him because he is not insular and British, and for his genial wit. He is reckoned one of the Apostles of the House of Commons, is the heir to vast wealth, and has the distinction of having a party known as the Malcolmites named after him.

REV. JOHN McDUGALL.

Pen Picture of the Northwest Missionary Who Delighted Toronto Church Circle During Recent Visit.

There are some men who absorb the West. There are others whom it absorbs. Most of the transplanted Easterners rave about space and ozone. Here and there you find a man on the prairie who, in a sense, is space—is ozone. To him there is no East; the sun rises in the West. He has known three kinds of penmanship and the unreadable soul of the red man; can himself be a red man, if he chooses; for with the Indian he is eloquent, before an audience of his fellow white men somewhat tame and ordinary. Yet he carries that unaccustomed breeze, as though you heard it in the spruces up the banks of the Saskatchewan, or saw it blow the smoke of tepees.

Such a man is the Rev. John McDougall, Superintendent of Indian Missions under the Methodist General Board, one of the full-time of living white men that have hunted the prairie buffalo.

Now the writings of most missionaries on the West, are about as active to the prairie as patent medicine pamphlets are to a pipe-organ solo by Guilman. They usually estimate the population-hungry basin of the two Saskatchewan, reaching from the Rockies to Hudson's Bay, by the number of Indians who take sacrament. To read such literature engenders the "tired feeling." To hear McDougall describe a buffalo hunt is a tonic. No—I should not care to read it. Like most greenhorns, I expected word-painting and weird half-tones. McDougall's story was sheer outline, as matter-of-fact as a cloth upon your nose. There was no analysis, no lurid portraiture of blood, smoke and blazing eyes, simply rollicking masses of exuberant life, the rampant jolting of almost cosmic hunger against boundless beef—outlined by one who was in it. The story was about fifteen minutes long. It contained half a million acres of primeval prairie, a few thousand buffaloes, a hundred Indians on ponies and a huge red death on the grass under the smoke, with a huge red feast in the camp after it. Most of the words in it might have been found in a tale as simple as that in one of our school books, "I See An Ox." Which makes you wonder how such a picture would look painted in the words of Cut-life Hyne or Frank Morris.

What the swamps and karroos of Africa were to Livingstone, the unwritable sky-spaces of the prairie are to McDougall—a life-experience. In a pipe-organ solo he might not be able to tell you the pedal notes from the wax tablets in the echo. On a prairie hill at five miles you will see a blur of dots where he will pick out the horses from the cattle. The father was frozen on the prairie with his gun across his breast in the snow. The old-timer on the train between Calgary and Edmonton will point you out almost the exact spot of that tragedy in a coulee where the roses bloomed this summer among the bunch-grass. The prairie of today is as deeply real to the son. From Fort Macleod to Hudson's Bay and from Rat Portage to the Peace River is the parish of McDougall, just as it is of Father Lacombe, and as most of it was to Evans and the late Presbyterian, Robertson. And if you have never traveled that country off the railroad, and would know now it felt in the blood during the decade after the McDougalls went there, read "The Great Land," by Col. Butler—Kodak in Toronto News.

Students' Vacation Experiences.

One could write a book on the vacation experiences of Toronto students, says the News. A good 90 per cent. of the men have earned part or all of the money required for their courses, and they earn it in very many ways indeed. The Knox and Wycliffe men have their mission stations, and come back with tales of life in the scattered settlements of New Ontario or the far West. The School of Science men have their trips with surveying parties, or their four months of draughting or of work as mechanics in the great foundries of Pittsburgh or Cleveland. The senior medics have been assistants to surgeons, or have even served as local tenentes, while the junior medical and the arts students have engaged in so many callings that one cannot be sure of accounting for them all. A few have crossed the Atlantic in the humble guise of cattle-tenders, and can now spin fore-castle yarns like any Jack Tar. Others have worked on farms or as mechanics; perhaps a dozen have gone back to an earlier love, and have taught summer school. Agencies of one kind or another have employed a great many more, while the departmental stores have profited by the labors of scores. Even the dangerous employment of the river driver has fallen to one or two, the lot of a newspaper reporter to certain others, and no one knows how many have been waiters or pantry-men on the lake steamers, or butlers and clerks in summer hotels. To the majority the vacation has been long enough, but the holidays very few, so that the work habit still rules to the gratification of the teachers.

Silver Lead Industry.

There seems to be hope of the extension of the silver lead industries in Ontario as a result of the bounties bestowed some time ago by the Federal Government on its production. Galena and its kindred ores has never been regarded as a staple mineral product of this Province, but there is one silver lead enterprise at Bannockburn which has been working for some time. The appeal for bounties came from British Columbia, where the industry is a very important one, but the effect on Ontario has been to stimulate existing enterprises. A party of Americans is now looking into similar propositions at Echo Lake, near Sault Ste. Marie, with a view to establishing a smelter.—Toronto News.

THE PALACE POSTMASTER.

Never Absent From His Post in a Quarter of a Century.

Mr. Pike, the postmaster of the Palace of Westminster, who will retire shortly under the age limit, after holding that responsible position for more than a quarter of a century, has never been absent for a single hour from his duties on account of sickness, according to The Chronicle, and this in spite of the fact that for many years he was always at his post at 11 o'clock in the morning and did not leave it until an hour or so after the adjournment of the Commons. He has served during nine Administrations, and during that length of time has been on the best of terms with members as well as his own staff. During the quarter of a century which Mr. Pike has been watching over the correspondence of members he has seen many changes. Letters and telegrams, he thinks, have increased quite fourfold since he took charge, and though a great deal of this increase may be set down to the greater activity of the press, it is accounted for in no small degree by the change in the habits of members of the House of Commons, who now transact the bulk of their correspondence at the House, instead of doing it at home. There was only one postoffice within the precincts of the Palace in 1878, now there are four fully equipped in various parts of the building, besides numerous postal boxes and four telephone installations. There are occasions of great pressure in the telegraph department, generally on budget nights, when members are anxious to let their constituents know what taxes have been put on or taken off. These may be foreseen, but a certain night in 1880 when the dissolution of Parliament was suddenly announced without warning still lives in Mr. Pike's memory as the liveliest experience which the Parliamentary postoffice has ever had.

Let That Thought Stick.

PEOPLE GENERALLY know very little about FURS. They know that this or that garment looks good, but they don't know whether its really good or not. There's room for lots of trickery in furs. You must buy where you have confidence, or expect to be deceived into paying for something you don't get.

Erieau is fast assuming quite a different aspect. The work of moving the Bungalow and other buildings from their accustomed site to the new location near Crawford's property is fast being accomplished. In future the band concerts will be given at Crawford's instead of at the piers. Some of the Erieau property owners have petitioned for a train to the Eau every Thursday, and it looks as if their prayer would be granted.

Geo. McKay, of Windsor, one of the committee of the order of Railway Telegraphers, passed through the city to-day on his way to Toronto. Mr. McKay and other representatives will meet with F. H. Mc-Gaugan, of Trunk, and important matters in the interests of the order will be discussed. The Grand Trunk telegraphers think they should receive equally as good wages as their brothers on the Canadian Pacific. Wages will be one of the chief objects of discussion at the meeting.

MACCABEE BANQUET

The annual banquet, which is always held by the local wideawake tent of the Knights of the Maccabees was held in the I. O. O. F. auditorium last evening and, as usual, it was a grand success. There were over 400 Maccabees present and they had a most enjoyable time until early this morning.

Delegates were present to join in the festivities from Leamington, Merlin, Tilbury, Blenheim and Rodney.
N. H. Smith was the Tilbury delegate and he was very well received by the Maccabees. The Maccabees were pleased to have him with them. Messages of regret were received from the Brantford Tent, in their inability to be present.

Before the banquet a meeting of the Tent was held in the Temple, when 100 candidates were initiated.
This is the largest class of candidates which have been initiated in one night into any one Tent in the province. Brantford a short time ago initiated over 70, and this is the next largest. The local Tent are to be congratulated upon their success.

John Milton Pike acted as chairman over the banquet and toast list.
Among the many speakers were: S.
W. Trussler, of Camlachie District, Deputy Supreme Commander of the Ontario Maccabees; Mr. Baughman,
Ald. Eggett, G. W. Sulman, Geo. W.
Cowan, E. A. Smith, Dr. T. J. and
L. L. Burke. During the evening Bro.
Weldon put on a number of spectacles and Jasper Wilson sang a song. DeCov's orchestra furnished good music.

The Maccabees are one of the strongest in the city. They now have over 400 members in the order and the Tent is in a good flourishing condition. Much credit is due to Mr.
Baughman, organizer, for his excellent work in getting the large class of candidates together.

QUARANTINE

Hog cholera has again taken a severe hold in the county and, as a result, live hogs cannot be shipped from or moved about in West Kent. The quarantine was placed on the market here on the first of the month, and no shipping has occurred since. Dressed hogs can be sold and shipped if in first-class condition. Of course all shipments will be examined. The quarantine will likely last six months unless raised at the end of three months.

MUTILATED THEIR HORSES.

Stables of Two Huron County Ministers Visited on Halloween.

Clinton, Nov. 5.—On Halloween
some one entered the stable of Rev.
J. Kennedy, Methodist minister at Londonderry, and also that of Rev. J.
A. Hamilton, Presbyterian minister at the same place, and mutilated their horses by docking their tails and almost stripping them of their hair. No reason is known for this dastardly trick, except it be that these gentlemen have been active in circulating a petition asking for local option adoption in the township.

Miss McKenna is Improving.

London, Ont., Nov. 5.—Miss Jennie Mc-Kenna, who was hurt by the elevator in D. S. Perrin & Co.'s factory, Tuesday is improving to-day, and there are well-grounded hopes for her recovery. Her skull is not fractured, while the injuries to the neck and chest are not as serious as first reported.

WHERE BRIBERY THRIVES.

Corruption in the Legislature of Missouri.

Jefferson City, Mo., Nov. 5.—In the trial of Senator Farris, charged with bribery, former Lieutenant-Governor Lee testified that he asked Farris to help defeat the bill to repeal the law prohibiting the use of alum in baking powder. Farris, witness testified, said "the boys" of the Legislative Committee holding the bill needed money. He wanted $2,000.
Lee arranged with Daniel Kelley to get the money. The bill was defeated, and he drew out $2,000, and gave it to Farris. Farris divided the money into packages of $1,000 each. Lee got $1,500.

TORONTO WEDDING.

The marriage of Miss Olive Pemberton Page, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pemberton Page, of Walmer road, and the Rev. S. T. Martin, of the Manse, Streetsville, took place yesterday afternoon at the beautiful home of the bride. The Rev. Dr.
Tovell, of Queen Street Methodist Church, officiated. The bride was given away by her father, and entered the drawing-room to the music of the Wedding March, played by Miss Addison, and the singing of the hymn,
"The Voice that Breathed o'er Eden."
The wedding dress was an exquisite one of crepe de panne, ivory white, with lovely lace on the corsage; a long tulle veil was arranged becomingly over a coronet of orange blossoms, and a large shower bouquet of lilies of the valley was carried. The drawing-room was a bower of white roses and chrysanthemums, with ferns and smilax as the background, and a large wedding bell of white flowers hung over the bride and groom during the ceremony. The bridesmaids were Miss Grace Hogaboom and Miss May Clarke, who wore lovely dresses of cream, white lace and silk, their bouquets of delicate pink chrysanthemums making a pretty touch of color.
The large verandahs were enclosed and an orchestra played delightfully during the reception. All the decorations on the artistically-arranged table and about the room were of the deep, rich crimson roses, which make such a lovely effect amongst delicate ferns.

The presents received by the bride were unusually beautiful and varied. Before her wedding several friends of the bride appeared with a famous "kitchen shower," when a splendid batterie de cuisine was the result; this was followed by a duster shower, some hand-made dusters being put into a dainty silk bag, embroided with name, and a recipe shower, a large number of tried recipes being put into an attractive box. Mr. and Mrs. Martin left for a trip in the eastern States before settling down in Streetsville. The going-away gown of the bride was of dark blue rough-faced cloth, with Persian embroidery on the pretty coat, and a becoming toque of blue silk and white. There were several friends and relatives from out of town; amongst them Mr. and Mrs. Martin, of Chatham, parents of the groom, and a number of telegrams were received from abroad of good wishes.—Toronto Globe.

A Hot Water Cure.

We all know what pain is—and yet we don't. We know what its sensations are, and that it can be cured by two agents—drugs and heat. If heat will answer it is the better, of course. Drugging pain may be temporary relief only. If heat helps at all it is also curing.

HOT WATER BAGS

Are a potent aid in a hundred ills. Emergencies and pain will come where nothing will answer so well. Can be applied anywhere. We have all sizes of the best kinds at prices just as comfortable as the bags.

INTELLIGENT DOG

P. C. James Dodson and his celebrated quail dog Collie are out chasing the quail to-day. James thinks a lot of his dog and it is a very intelligent canine. Collie saved a man's life once. A late drunk went to sleep on the C. P. R. track early one morning. Mr. Dodson went to the C. P. R. station about the time the 2.32 a. m. train was due. (The dog was nosing around. Suddenly Collie came rushing up to the policeman barking and trying to attract his attention. Mr. Dodson followed the dog and was taken to the sleeping drunk. The man was lying right across the rails, and had it not been for the dog the man would have been killed.

GUY FAWKES' DAY

"The fifth of November is always a rough day," remarked Chief Holmes this morning as he sat in the police station and listened to the wind whistling outside and watched the rain beating against the window.

"I remember when I was in Port Hope a very rough fifth of November. They always burned Guy Fawkes effigy in that town on the market square. You know to-day is the anniversary on which that event was always celebrated. That night in Port Hope was a fierce one and the fifth of November kept up its record for bad weather. The band and the Orangemen were out in full force. It snowed and blew like everything, but this didn't dampen the ardor of the enthusiasts or stop their celebration."

SANDWICH WON.

The championship of the western district of the Peninsular League goes to Sandwich again, the lads from down the river defeating the Windsor team on Saturday afternoon by 2 to 0.

The game was good and bad in spots. Many an opportunity was lost by both teams and dummy plays spoiled the game in stages where it waxed most interesting. Neither of the goals scored against Windsor were the result of straight football. Notwithstanding these features, the game was as good in places as has been seen on a local field since the palmy days of the old Peninsular organization in which Detroit was represented. Sandwich will now play the winners of the eastern district and Darrell has the call over all the other teams. On form Darrell is about a 3 to 2 favorite over Sandwich.—Windsor Record.

FELL THROUGH BRIDGE

The traction engine of Robert Weaver, Chatham Township, went through the bridge in front of Paxton's on the Dover-Chatham town-line between the 2nd and 3rd concessions. Mr. Weaver, who was driving the engine, had a very narrow escape from death. A little agility on his part saved him from being crushed to death. As it was he was badly scalded on the arm and leg. The engine lies a wreck at the bottom of the ditch and the bridge is down. The span here is about 20 feet. The road is blocked and teams have to go around by Victoria avenue. Mr. Weaver had just purchased a new corn shredder and was on his way to George Jordan's, 8th concession, Raleigh Township, to shred the latter's corn.

RACE AT RIDGETOWN

There was quite a little excitement at Ridgeway yesterday over the special race run there. There has been a good deal of rivalry all fall between four horses owned in Western Ontario. There was some dissatisfaction over the result of the races at Ridgeway, so the people of that village gave a race yesterday to decide all differences. The four horses entered were Maggie L., owned by Thomas Brady, and Jean C., owned by D. Molachlen, Chatham, Dophy W., owned in St. Thomas, and the stallion Tom Wood. The unexpected always happens in a horse race. At the Chatham races the stallion Tom Woods was last. Yesterday he showed a reversal of form and won the race and first money. Maggie L. got second money, Jean C. third and Dophy W. fourth.

Detroit Specialist Discovers Something Entirely New For The Cure of Men's Diseases in Their Own Homes.

YOU PAY ONLY IF CURED

Expects No Money Unless He Cures You. Method and Full Particulars Sent Free. Write for it This Very Day.

A Detroit specialist who has 14 certificates and diplomas from colleges and medical boards, has perfected a startling method of curing the diseases of men in their own homes, and so that there may be no doubt in the mind of any man that he has both the method and the ability to do as he says, Dr. Goldberg, the discoverer, will send the method entirely free to all men who send him their names and address. He wants to hear from men who have stricture that they have been unable to get cured, prostatic trouble, sexual weakness, varicocele, test manhood blood poison, hydrocele, inflammation of the prostate, etc. This wonderful method not only cures the condition itself, but likewise all the complications, such as rheumatism, bladder or kidney trouble, heart disease, etc.

The doctor realizes that it is one to make claims and another thing to back them up, so he has made a rule not to ask for money unless he cures you and when you are cured he feels sure that you will willingly pay him a small fee. It would seem, therefore, that it is to the benefit of every man who suffers in this way to write the doctor confidentially and lay your case before him. He sends the method as well as many booklets on the subject, including the one that contains the 14 diplomas and certificates, entirely free. Address him simply Dr. S. Goldberg, 298 Woodward avenue, room P, Detroit, Mich., and it will all immediately be sent you free.

This is something entirely new and well worth knowing more about. Write at once to Dr. S. Goldberg.

A SANITARY OASIS.

Housing at Battersea One of the Ideals of John Burns's Childhood—Description of the Latchmere Dwellings.

The ceremony of opening the Latchmere estate in Battersea, which consists of two, three, four, and five-roomed tenements, erected by the local borough council for the housing of the working classes, was performed recently by Mr. John Burns, M.P. The inauguration proceedings were presided over by Mr. A. W. Raynor (the Mayor of Battersea), and among others present were Lord Monkswell (chairman of the London County Council), the Earl of Carrington, and the members of the borough council. Mr. Burns said he had the proud satisfaction of seeing realized in bricks and mortar one of the ideals of his early days. In his salad days he had had the temerity to declare that if only this Latchmere estate were covered with healthy dwellings it would be converted into a sanitary oasis in a desert of jerry-built houses. Here to-day, in these handsome tenements, with their baths, their gymnasiums, and their recreation-ground, which he now declared ready for occupation, was the oasis, and there (pointing in the direction of Battersea Park road) was the desert of jerry-built houses. By supplying each of these tenements with a bath, the Borough Council, the first London municipality to create such a colony, had done their best to remove the taint which described the working-classes as the unwashed, and by refusing to allow either beer-shop or off-license on the estate they were determined to nullify that other taint that they were more drunken than they ought to be. Mr. Burns then formally declared the new houses open.

There are three types of houses, with three, four, and five rooms, respectively. The height of all rooms is 8 ft. 9 in. Each tenement has its separate entrance and back garden. The living rooms are fitted with combined food cupboard and dresser, and a special feature in the kitchen, or living room, and the scullery bath-room is a combined kitchen range, cooper, and bath. Electricity is everywhere available on the penny-in-the-slot system. When finished there will be 173 houses for 315 families. Their total cost will be £105,000, and the rents range from 7s. 6d. to 11s. 6d. a week.

The first map shows the boundary between Canada and Alaska, as decided by the Treaty Commissioners. The United States claimed rights over the Portland Canal, but this contention the Commission has set aside and puts that channel entirely under British control. The Canadian claim interpreted the treaty as meaning the line from headland to headland of the coast, thus including in Canadian territory not only Dyea and Skagway, but almost the entire length of Lynn Canal; also Glacier Bay, in which the famous Muir glacier is situated, and other important points along the coast. Under the finding all this territory will remain under control of the United States. The United States boundary, as defined by the decision of the Commission, now ascends slightly west of Portland Channel, and the claim of the Canadians, that their boundary should start up the northern arm of the Behm Canal, is declared to be untenable.

FATAL ELECTION FIGHTS.

Two Men Killed and Several Wounded in Virginia and Kentucky.

Bristol, Tenn., Nov. 4.—A fatal election row occurred in an election booth at Fairview, in Scott county, Va. Two men were killed, one other fatally injured, and one seriously. The dead are John Osborne and Ezekiel Nickels. Wounded—J. H. Catron, shot through the neck, will die; Alexander Keys, shot in the right hip. The trouble arose over objections being made to C. P. Roller serving as a Republican judge. Roller is claimed, had been selected by the Democratic election commissioners for this service. Osborne and Nickels, the two dead men, were Democratic judges, and were brought into the quarrel on account of their official connection with the election. It is believed that Catron fired the shots that killed Osborne and Nickels. The two men who were killed shot Catron and Keys.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 4.—In a pistol duel in the voting place of the 39th precinct of the eleventh ward at Thirteenth and Green streets, Tom Kieley, the Democratic judge, was this afternoon shot through the head and probably fatally wounded by Jacob Krieger, the Republican sheriff. Wm. Stevens, the Republican judge, was crossing the street to enter the polls when Kieley fired on him. Jacob Krieger, the Republican sheriff, who was inside the voting place, says that he believed Stevens' life was about to be taken, and he opened fire on Kieley. Krieger was subsequently released on $500 bail.

Danville, Ky., Nov. 4.—While in a election discussion this afternoon William Middleton, aged 20, struck football H. Hasty with the butt of a gun, crushing his skull. Hasty will die. Troy, N.Y., Nov. 4.—Philip J. Riley, a regular Democrat, was shot in the fleshy part of the left side during a dispute at the polling place of the Third District of the Ninth Ward this morning by Wm. J. Myers, ex-Deputy Charity Commissioner. Dr. Cravott says Mr. Riley is not dangerously injured. Myers was arrested.

Julius Pfau, a Republican worker in the third district of the first ward, was stabbed in the back by an Italian at 11.40 o'clock. John Duffy was stabbed by the same knife which inflicted the wound on Pfau. Two Italians are under arrest. The injured men are not in a serious condition.

Fiskeville, R.I., Nov. 4.—Just before he had entered the town hall to cast his ballot, Horace Baker, about 60 years old, dropped dead, to-day. Mr. Baker was well known throughout the Pawtuxet Valley as an extensive mill-owner.

POLO IN CANADA.

A Fascinating Pony Sport That Takes Money to Keep it Moving—Where It is Played in the Dominion.

Canada's prosperity has made the people's sporting tastes more expensive. Anybody can see that, writes Day by Day in Toronto News. Witness the hundreds of thousands of dollars spent in automobiles within the past two years, while the manufacturers are unable to keep up with the demand. In the same way the increasing popularity of polo is due to the fact that the men who follow the fascinating sport are able to pay the piper, and the polo rider is an expensive musician. No player can get along with fewer than three ponies, and a good mount is worth anywhere from one hundred to two hundred dollars. The animals must have speed, stamina, and, if possible, some blood. Possessing all three, the pony is absolutely useless unless he is intelligent. He must know the game, almost as well as his master, and it takes at least two years to train him. He must be good-tempered also, and game, for he encounters hard knocks once in a way. His owner's expenses for a season will run well into the hundreds of dollars. Saddles, horse furniture, mallets and his own personal account must leave little left of a thousand dollars at the close of a season, for the polo player pays his own expenses. Like the golfer, he is a genuine amateur. He does not need to be anything else.

With the sole exception of yachting—when one owns his yacht—polo is the most expensive of field sports. Of course, when it comes to sports of all kinds, the noble game of draw poker has the others beaten a block. But poker does not give employment to half a dozen trades, as does polo. The saddlemaker, the bookmaker, the tailor, the dealer in ponies and the farrier all owe a debt to polo. Its introduction to Toronto will doubtless be followed by the formation of a club at London, which, next to this city, possesses the most enthusiastic lot of horsemen in the Province. For years, at considerable expense, the lovers of the saddle horse in that little town of not more than forty thousand maintained a pack of hounds, the nucleus being drafted from the kennels of the Toronto Hunt. It is certain that next year will see a polo club in London, in fact, Mr. Adam Beck, M.P.P., and M.F.M., is already taking steps towards its formation. In Hamilton Robert B. Harris, the city's most enthusiastic patron of all kinds of sports, is engaged in booming a polo club. An ideal ground could be laid out on the infield of the race course, and there is already a well appointed clubhouse in the neighborhood. Ottawa had a polo club ten years ago, but of late the game has not been played at the Capital. The club had the free use of Cartier Square, which furnished an ideal ground. It is in the centre of the town, and the members had many a good game until the removal of several players brought about the disbandment of the club. As everybody knows, the game has been played for decades in Montreal. Down in the metropolis they have all kinds of money, and the victory of yesterday was due to this very fact. Money buys ponies, and the better ponies won the day for the Eastern players.

Now that the public have had a taste of the game, there is not the slightest doubt that a match every fortnight throughout the autumn would draw as large crowds as lacrosse. Most Canadians love a good horse, even though they may never have crossed one. At Sunlight Park yesterday and on Monday they saw what training of the hunt ecote order will make of one of these sturdy, well-buckled-up little beasts. The statement that the game is rough was amply disproved, for there was only one severe toss, and it was not more jarring than the lacrosse or football player receives. The visiting players were somewhat handicapped by the shortness of the grounds. The rules specify that the field shall be two hundred and fifty yards in length. The Sunlight Park is full forty yards short of this, but as the Toronto men were almost unacquainted with it, so far as match play goes, there was only a slight disparity in their favor.

New Froggie Sheds His Coat.

Frogs change their skins after the winter is well over and there is no more danger of sharp winds and nipping frosts. And this is the way they do it: A froggie whose skin is "ripe" will go off all by himself and sit under a big, broad plantain or burdock leaf in the shade, just blinking his eyes for an hour or more. Sometimes he will shiver, and his skin will seem to creep, and presently he will "hunch" his back and sit in the funniest round shoulder fashion. Then a big crack will appear in the thin, dry outermost covering of his skin, often from the middle of his flat head to the tip end of his broad body. As soon as he feels this he begins to wriggle, and the dry, husky skin splits wider and wider and rolls back further until he can reach the ragged edge of it with one of his feet. Then he begins to scratch and at last peels it off his legs and over his head just as little people peel off their tight fitting flannels sometimes. And then—dreadful to relate, though Mr. Froggie enjoys it hugely—he rolls it all up in a little bunch and eats it!

Kept His Eye on Him.

A gentleman took his little boy to church with him for the first time. Instructing the lad about the boy to keep an eye on him and do just as he did. When the contribution box was passed, papa dropped in a coin. Tommy saw his father's hand go into the box, and remembering the advice, put his hand in also. When the box was passed by the lad whispered out loud enough to be heard all round: "Say, papa, I got a quarter, how much did you get?"

WOMEN IN MAJORITY

STRONGER SEX IN ENGLAND GRADUALLY BECOMING THE WEAKER.

Recent Census Tables Show 106 Females to Every 100 Males—Seven Women in Every Hundred Doomed to Old Maidship—Causes for the Discrepancy in Numbers—Where Women Lead.

At least seven women out of every hundred are doomed to be old maids, for the sufficient reason that there are not enough husbands to go round. Of the 32,527,848 persons in England and Wales, 16,799,230 are females and 15,728,618 are males, which gives a proportion of 106.9 females to every 100 males.

And the proportion of females is steadily increasing. It has gone up to nearly 3 per cent. in the last forty years. Why is this? It is not that more girls are born than boys, although isolated reports sometimes convey that impression. During the last ten years, for the whole of the United Kingdom, the natural increase on the male side of the house—that is, the excess of births over deaths—was 12.8 per cent. The corresponding increase for females was 12 per cent. Yet in the same period the actual increases—that is, the number of people who were there to be counted on census night—were 12.4 per cent. for females and only 11.9 per cent. for males.

The excess," says the Register General, "is partly attributable to the fact that men serving in the army, navy, and mercantile services abroad are excluded from the reckoning."

Women's Minor Worries. Partly, but not wholly. Men go to war and men go to sea, but men also emigrate and engage in exhausting and dangerous occupations. While women stay at home, and live a quiet life, troubled by nothing more serious than domestic worries, men subject their systems, both mental and physical, to severe strains, and many of them fall out by the way.

Of the 146 centenarians on census night, for instance, no fewer than 99 were women. All the life tables show that the age of maturity a woman has a natural expectation of living some four years longer than a man.

If the women continue to gain at the present rate they need not trouble very much about their rights and their votes. They will get them by the more weight of numbers. Unless men are to be regarded, by virtue of their sex, as a small privileged aristocracy, with powers of life and death and legislation, women will have to serve in Parliament and on local boards, because the will not be enough men to do the work.

In a period of forty years the women of England have increased their preponderance over the men by nearly 3 per cent. To use a billiard phrase, they are now "seven up" in the second hundred. Let them score another ninety-three and they will be two to one.

At the present rate of progress that will take them about 1,240 years, which seems a long time to the individual woman, but is a mere breathing space in the history of the world. In 2,500 years they will be three to one—from which it follows that in the long run there will be no men left, except a few treasured specimens in a select compartment of the Zoo. Statistics, as Mark Twain said, are a beautiful science.

Leaving out of account these higher speculations, it is interesting to see how the game has advanced up to the present—in which fields the women have forged ahead and in which the men have held their own.

Ask any average person where the women are making the largest strides forward, and he will probably reply, without a moment's hesitation, "In the towns which offer peculiar advantages for the employment of women." He will instance Nottingham and Leicester and Luton and Dundee and the cotton districts of Lancashire.

He knows that they make lace in Nottingham, and he knows that lace is made by women. If he has ever been to the town, and has seen the streets swarming with young women of an evening, he will be quite certain that the women must outnumber the men by two to one.

He is wrong—grossly so. The surprising difference are to be seen, not in places where women work, but in places where women enjoy themselves. In the following table the males are taken in each case as a fixed quantity of 100, and the females are worked out in arithmetical proportion:

Cures COUGHS, COLDS, BRONCHITIS, HOARSENESS and ALL THROAT AND LUNG TROUBLES. Miss Florence E. Mailman, New Germany, N.S., writes: "I had a cold which left me with a very bad cough. I was afraid I was going into consumption. I was advised to try DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP. I had little faith in it, but before I had taken one bottle I began to feel better, and after the second I felt as well as ever. My cough has completely disappeared."

than women. In the hosiers and lace towns there are more women than men. But, even in this restricted field, the balance of advantage is steadily with the women, for wherever these are to be found, and women to look after their homes, while a woman who is at work can look after her home for herself. It might be supposed that Oxford and Cambridge, by reason of the universities, would show a preponderance of men. On the contrary, they are high up in the list of places where women scores.

It may, indeed, be laid down as an axiom that wherever the money is there will the women be gathered together. Money means comfort and luxurious living. Well-to-do women, having no particular work to do, go where those are to be found, and less wealthy women—milliners, maid-servants, and the like—go there to minister to their needs. That is why there are three women to two men in Kensington, Hampstead, Bournemouth, Hastings, and Bath. That, by an inverse process of reasoning, is why the sexes are equal at Southwark and the females in an absolute minority at Stepney and Poplar.

The larger the town the more nearly the proportions of the sexes approximate to the general average. Kensington and Hampstead do not count as exceptions, as they are parts of London, and London, taken as a whole, has only 110 women to every 100 men.

It is inevitable that there should be this balancing-up in the great cities. The larger a town the less it relies upon special industries and the more self-dependent it becomes.—W. R. Holt in London Express.

YOU MUST HAVE GOOD DIGESTION

To be a Business Success—Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will give it to You—That they have done for Others.

Good health is better than great riches, for good health means energy, force, cheerfulness, and all those other essentials of the successful business man.

And the first essential of good health is good digestion. Without good digestion the different parts of the body must be weak and starved. And with a weak, starved body good health and good spirits are out of the question.

In these days indigestion is everywhere. The hurried methods of living are to blame for this. Scarcely a stomach but needs help. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are the help they need. They help others; they will help you. Edward Rousseau, of Bruce Mines, Ont., says:

"I have taken two boxes of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, and words cannot express the great good they have done me. I now feel like a new man, and this after suffering for two years from Dyspepsia, for which I tried in vain to find a cure."

When a woman goes to church she feels she has set a commendable example.

A SCOUT'S HARD LIFE.

Some of the Hardships and Dangers That Must Be Faced.

An unfortunate, says Leslie's Monthly, was sent with a dispatch to one of the smaller outposts in the far northwest. It was toward spring, when the midday sun thaws the surface of the snow and the light frosts harden the melted crusts to a glaze of ice as dazzlingly bright as the blinding flashes of sunlight from polished steel. The thaw had crusted over the trail, and the scout had to keep a sharp eye on the way not to lose the path altogether. Suddenly the midday sun developed extraordinary hues. Magenta, purple and black patches began to dance on the snow, alternately with wheels and rockets of cheese colored fire. Then the light went out altogether, though the man knew that it was broad day. He had become snow blind. The only thing was to give his horse the bit.

The horse stood stock still. By that time he knew that he had lost the trail altogether or the broncho would have followed any visible path. He wheeled the horse about. It still refused to go on, and then the man inferred that the crust of ice had been so hard that the horse could not follow back the way it had come. That night the trooper slept under saddle blankets, with the faithful horse standing sentry.

For five days the trooper wandered blindly over the prairies, losing all count of time, eating snow to quench his thirst and sleeping in the holes that the broncho had pawed through the ice crust to the under grass. The trooper was now too weak to mount and keep the saddle. As a last hope the thought struck him that if he unsaddled his horse and turned it loose it might find its way back to the fort, and so notify his friends that he was lost. He did this, but the faithful creature refused to leave the man lying on the snow and stood over him in spite of all his efforts to drive it off. On the sixth day the mail carrier found the pair. The trooper was severely frozen, but the rider and horse lived to see many another day's service.

The Way to Identify Her.

Agnes and Ethel are the kind of twins it is difficult for intimates of the family to distinguish apart. They are four years old and a source of despair to mere acquaintances.

A friend of the family met one of the twins on the street the other day and asked:

"Now, which are you, Agnes or Ethel? I simply can't tell you apart."

"I'm Agnes," gurgled the small maiden, and then she put one of her chubby little fingers in her mouth and mumbled: "You can tell me easy. I'm the one with the loose tooth."

The Turk and the Grave.

In Russia many of the peasantry still bury their dead in grottoes and caves, just as their princes and noble men were accustomed to do centuries ago. In Constantinople, as in other Turkish cities, bodies are placed in the ground as soon as the last spark of life has fled. The Mussulman believes that as long as the body is unburied the spirit is in torment and that it is a crime akin to murder to molest a grave. Accordingly, the cemeteries around many oriental cities far exceed in extent the abodes of the living.

Here the grave professor of psychology looked up with an air of interest. "Hugged yourself?" he asked. "Indeed, you must have been quite beside yourself to have done that."—Judge.

THE SOO WORKS.

Mr. Clergue and Senator Dandurand in London.

London, Nov. 4.—Mr. F. H. Clergue, the well-known promoter of the Soo industries, and Senator Dandurand of Montreal are stopping at the Grand Hotel, London. They were surrounded by callers. When interviewed by a representative of the Canadian Associated Press Senator Dandurand said he could not speak at present of the object of their visit, which is reported to be negotiations with the Vickers-Maxim and other English firms for the sale of the Soo plants. Mr. Clergue, coming forward, remarked: There need be no fear for the future of the Soo industries. Plenty of money has been subscribed, and when a definite arrangement is made, Canada shall have the first news. Before returning to Canada Mr. Clergue will visit Germany and France. He laughed at the varied American reports regarding the works.

SIX MEN KILLED.

Disastrous Explosion on Iona Island, N. Y.

Peekskill, N. Y., Nov. 5.—Six men were killed and six injured in an explosion on Iona Island, in the Hudson, used by the United States Government for storing explosives. Two of the bodies of the dead men have been found, but the others are believed to be in the mass of debris, which caught fire and is burning furiously. Three of the shell houses were destroyed, but the other magazines did not explode, although considerably damaged. It is supposed that one of the workmen in No. 1 house rammed a shell too hard, causing the first explosion, which was followed at frequent intervals by other explosions of the fixed ammunition.

Physicians were taken in a steam launch from Peekskill, and cared for the injured men, who were brought here.

He had been previously warned to keep away, but, being a venturesome lad, went into the stall when left alone in the stable. His skull was frightfully smashed.

MORE RUSSIAN THREATS.

Demands Regarding Officials in Manchuria.

Tokio, Nov. 5.—Reports from Peking say that Russia now threatens to assume sole charge of the Government of Manchuria unless China promptly dismisses Yuen, the Taotai of Mukden, and decapitates the Mandarin who recently punished disorderly Chinese bandits in Russian employ. This causes intense indignation here. Peking, Nov. 4.—The dowager Empress has despatched Yuanshikai, Viceroy of Chihli Province, to Mukden, with instructions to investigate affairs there and arrange a settlement if possible. Yuanshikai was not willing to go, and doubts the success of his mission.

London, Nov. 5.—The London Daily Mail's Tientsin correspondent cables that 10,000 Russian troops have occupied Mukden.

A LUCKY ACCIDENT.

Train Stopped on Edge of Bridge—Engine Went Through.

Nelson, B.C., Nov. 4.—Passengers arriving last night from the coast give details of the marvellous escape of their train from destruction Sunday night last. Shortly after leaving North Bend the train, which was crowded with passengers, ran into a big log which had rolled down from the mountain. The engineer stopped the train to ascertain if the engine had been injured by the shock. When stopped the engine and tender were out on a high trestle over a canyon a few feet from the Fraser River. The trainmen had got off when the bridge collapsed, taking with it the engine into the Fraser River. If it had not been for the log the train would have gone with the engine. The passengers presented an address and diamond lockets to the engineer and fireman for their prompt action.

COLOMBIAN REVOLUTION.

RECOGNITION BY UNITED STATES HAS BEEN ASKED.

Bombardment of Panama Causes Death of One Chinaman—Colombian Warship Former Vancouver Vessel.

Panama, Colombia, Nov. 5.—The flag of the Republic of Panama was formally hoisted by the Colombian revolutionists, whose forces are now in complete control of the city. A provisional Cabinet, headed by Eusebio Morales, has been appointed, and a determined effort will be made to maintain this city as headquarters of the new republic, whose territory will consist of the Isthmian Province of Panama. The leaders are to a man strong supporters of the Panama Canal project, and if the uprising is successful they will make a treaty with the United States.

Washington, Nov. 4.—United States Vice-Consul Ehrman, at Panama, cables the State Department under today's date that the Colombian Government warship Bogota is shelling the city. One Chinaman has been killed. Mr. Ehrman has been instructed to protest against the bombardment.

The United States Government this morning received a cablegram from Panama requesting that it recognize the new government. The officials here are as yet in ignorance as to what the new government consists of, and have taken no action on the request. Three United States gunboats are on the scene.

UNION WITH CANADA.

Party in Newfoundland With That Object in View.

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 5.—A sensation has been created here by the formation by former Premier Sir William Whiteway and former Attorney-General Donald Morrison of a political party which will appeal to the country next year on a policy having in view union with Canada. The new party will also oppose the present Bond Ministry and the regular Opposition led by Alired Morine.

THE DREYFUS VERDICT.

General Andre Says it Should be Reversed.

Paris, Nov. 5.—The Presse says that the Minister of War, General Andre, as a result of the inquiry which he has made into the Dreyfus affair, has informed the Cabinet that in his opinion the sentence of the Rennes court-martial (at which Dreyfus was convicted and sentenced to Devil's Island) should be revised. The War Minister is also said to have asked for the views of his colleagues on the subject, but they were unable to come to an agreement.

RESUMING WORK.

Trouble at the Falls Appears to be Ended.

Niagara Falls, Nov. 5.—At 7 o'clock yesterday all of the contractors on the river, two small detachments of militia and the entire local police force met near the scene of yesterday's trouble and prepared to protect all the men who wished to return to work. The mechanics, who had no grievance against the contractors, but who had been driven from their work by the laborers, came back, and with them, a hundred or more "muckers" of shovel men. The other laborers held out, but made no serious attempt to interfere with those who reported for work. All of the construction plants resumed operations, and there is a sufficient force at work to prevent much further loss to the contractors. The men arrested for rioting were remanded to Welland jail for five days.

NEW YORK CANAL VOTE.

A Splendid Majority For the Proposition.

New York, Nov. 5.—New York has given a majority of nearly 250,000 in favor of the proposition that the State shall spend $100,000,000 for improving its canals. The plan is to widen and deepen the Erie Canal so that it will accommodate barges of 1,000 tons carrying capacity and to improve the Oswego and Champlain canals.

Under the law the State will be allowed to issue not more than $10,000,000 of canal bonds at any time, and the first issue must cover the work for two years. The bonds are to run for not more than eighteen years. The advocates of the proposition declared that canal improvement was necessary for the rehabilitation of the commercial supremacy of the State. Unless the State canals are widened and deepened they asserted, it would be but a short time before the railroads would be able to make such transportation rates as they might see fit, and that New York City would be discriminated against.

The Use of Gas Coke for Fuel

A great many people do not know the advantage of using gas coke as fuel in furnaces, ranges, coal stoves, or, in fact, in any apparatus that will use coal as fuel. The following letter will give the experience of one of Chatham's prominent business men, who has made a test of the value of Coke as compared with Coal. This letter will explain itself and will be followed by others of a similar nature from other customers. Coke will be delivered by the Gas Company in any quantity, promptly. Let us have your order for a trial load.

Chatham, Oct. 31, 1903.
The Chatham Gas Company, Limited.
City:

Gentlemen,—I have much pleasure in testifying to the advantages of using Gas Coke as a heating fuel. I have used it for the past two seasons in my hot water furnace at the house, and find it very economical, and at the same time easy to regulate. I may say that last winter I made a test of one ton of coal at $7.00 per ton and the same money's worth of coke lasted fully one-third longer. May say that the weather conditions were fully as severe, if not more so, during the time I used the coke.

Yours sincerely,
C. AUSTIN.
