FOREWORD.

The privilege has been granted me of seeing some advance sheets of the forthcoming "Records of the Graduates of Acadia," edited by Rev. R. O. Morse, M. A., and it is with pleasure that I write this introductory note. The need of such a compilation as this has long been felt, and it is a matter for congratulation that one of Acadia's sons has taken the time and exercised the patience necessary to bring the work, well performed by others to a certain point, to so worthy a finish. Mr. Morse has made the Senate of the University, the graduates, and all the friends of our schools at Wolfville, his debtors by virtue of a well-executed task. Any interested person who looks into those "Records" and finds inaccuracies, due to the failure of the editor to secure the information which was sought, should take pains to inform him of any mistakes or deficiencies discovered that such may not appear in later editions. We not only owe Mr. Morse a debt of gratitude for what he has done, but also our co-operation with a view to subsequent improvement.

Every graduate and friend of Acadia should get a copy of the "Records" for the answering of questions such as have been continually arising hitherto concerning our widely-scattered and honorable Alumni without having the means at hand for acquiring the coveted information.

EDITOR'S NOTE.

The collection of data for these Records was commenced some years ago by a committee consisting of Maynard Parker Freeman, of the class of 1862, and William Frederick Parker, of the class of 1881, working under the direction of the Senate of Acadia University. These gentlemen collected the data concerning the graduates from 1843 to 1886 inclusive. Later, Rupert Osgood Morse, of the class of 1891, was added to this committee. It fell to him to collect the data for all graduates since 1887. The older members of the committee passed their data over to Mr. Morse to tabulate and put into form corresponding to that in which the records of the younger graduates were written. Mr. Morse thus becomes the editor of the entire "Records." It has been the aim to bring these Records as nearly as possible down to date. In some instances, the Record is very incomplete because data was impossible to obtain. In some cases, an undue modesty has prevented some, who have achieved creditable records, from giving sufficient data from which to write a really good record of their work. The Records, as written, represent the latest available data, and give the latest known addresses. Several of the addresses have, doubtless, changed since the data was received. This is especially true of the most recent graduates, many of whom are still engaged in temporary pursuits and have as yet no permanent employment and address.

The task of gathering the records of eight hundred men and women, the dates of whose graduation range from 1843 to 1908, can best be estimated by those who have attempted such work. In such a work, inaccuracies are inevitable. The editor craves the indulgence of any whose Records are inaccurate or incomplete. He will also be greatly obliged for any information which will make possible more correct and more complete Records in any future work of this kind that may be issued.

All graduates will confer a favor upon their Alma Mater by keeping the Registrar of Acadia University informed as to changes of address.

RUPERT OSGOOD MORSE.

Morang & Co.

Mr. Longley is author of much legislation passed by the Legislative Assembly of Nova Scotia. His most ambitious work as a judge is his judgment in the important case between the Dominion Coal Company and the Dominion Iron and Steel Company, tried by him as Trial Judge in 1907. This judgment contains some 15,000 words and has been upheld in every point by the full bench of the province. He is also at work upon a History of Canada since Confederation. This work is to embrace some five or six volumes.
