CHAPTER XIV.
"My Dearest Dian,"—so Peter Cameron wrote—"I do not know what you will think of me when you get this letter; I hardly know how to write it or what to say. My darling Dian, I am married. I married Lady Scarsdale this morning. We had a very quiet wedding at St. George's, Hanover square—no breakfast, no ceremony; and we are now just starting—4 p.m.—for Paris, where we shall remain for a month at least. My darling child, for your own good I have taken this unexpected step. It is the best thing, believe me, for you. You will ask me why I did not tell you, why I have kept it a secret from you—you may even think that I have deceived you; but, in truth, I have acted with the purest intentions. I was convinced that my marriage was the only possible step for your well-being, and, finding you were so bitterly opposed to it, I decided that it would be better for it to take place without your knowledge, and so save you infinite pain. Your own good sense will tell you that what has been done cannot be undone, and that your most dutiful course will be to recognize it in the light in which I put it to you. My dearest Dian, it is for you I have taken this step: bear that in mind. No one can ever take your mother's place. She was my first love, my beloved wife, and your mother. But the lady who is now my wife will be an excellent guide for you, will alter your social position, and will procure for us an entree to those circles from which want of rank now excludes us. In justice to you, Dian, I may tell you that my marriage will make no difference whatever to your position; you will always be heiress of Furness and of my fortune. I shall, of course, provide handsomely for my wife, but this will be done in a manner that will not at all interfere with your prospects. One word in conclusion, my darling Dian; I have done what I conceived to be the best for you, even if I have been mistaken in the method of doing it. In return you will forgive me and be kind and amiable to my wife. You must like her, for she is a most charming woman. I send John Brown's collar, and will write to you from Paris. Lady Cameron joins me in dearest love to you."

Good-bye, faith; good-bye, honor; good-bye to all that was most bright and beautiful in life; good-bye to the father who would never be hers again—never again!
During the reading of this epistle a deadly pallor had settled on her face, while the very light seemed to fade from her eyes. She stood for a moment in silent despairing agony. The blood seemed to freeze in her veins and grow cold round her heart. Then, in a voice that was all unlike her own, she cried out:
"If it be true, I shall die!"
But was it true? Her father had always been the soul of honor and truth, as incapable of treachery or deceit as he was of theft; and to believe that he had been living under the same roof with her, seemingly devoted to her, yet hiding this secret from her, was incredible.
"He talked to me of my own mother the night before he went to marry this woman, whom he knows I hate!" cried poor Dian. "I will go to Sir Royal."
In her bewilderment and distress, it was to him her thoughts flew—not to kindly Lady Colwyn, not to the brilliant genial cousin, but to the handsome man who loved her better than his own life, and who had always been her friend.
"Saddle Black Beauty and tell James to get ready to accompany me," she said to the servant who answered the bell, the quick peal of which had startled the household.
In a few minutes she had donned her riding-habit and hat, and was ready for the journey.

"I am going to Westwater Park," said Dian, as the servant led round the horses.
Never once during that ride did the white, set face relax, as she urged on her horse as though it were a matter of life and death.
Sir Royal was seated in his study when he heard the sound of horses' hoofs coming up the avenue. The next moment Dian entered the room, with a look of blank despair upon her face. He started from his chair.
"Diana," she cried, "what has brought you here?"
"This," she replied, holding out to him the letter that she had been crushing in her hand—"this, Sir Royal. Read it; for, if it be true, it is my death-warrant."
She gave the letter into his hands, but he did not seem to understand.
"Am I to read it? It is from your father. But first tell me what is the matter with you, Diana."
Her white lips opened but to repeat the one word—
"Read!"
Sir Royal said no more, but smoothed the letter and read it carefully. Then he, in his turn, appeared to be baffled and bewildered.
"My poor Diana," he said sadly, looking at the anxious face before him, "how can I comfort you?"
"Do you believe it?" she asked, with flashing eyes. "Do you believe that my father, who has hitherto been one of the most honest of men, has done that? Do you believe that he has behaved so treacherously? He lavished kisses upon me the night before he went away, and talked to me about my dead mother. You know him, Sir Royal, to be the embodiment of all that is honest and straightforward; do you think it is credible that he has done this? I do not. I have brought the letter here for you to read, because it has driven me mad. I am not grieved or angry; I am mad! I want you to tell me that it is a jest—nothing but a foolish jest. Oh, Royal, speak to me quickly! It is a cruel hoax, it is not, of some one who does not know how I love papa? Speak quickly to me."
Her white agonized face was raised to his. He could have wept tears of blood for her; but he had no word that could comfort her. He could only take her hands in his, and say—
"My poor Diana!"
"You believe it is true then?" she cried despairingly.
"I am afraid it is, my dear," he answered slowly.
"I cannot believe it," said Dian; "my mind will not grasp it. Had it been any other man on earth than my father, I might have believed it. Oh, Royal, it shakes all my faith! It seems as though the very religion in which I have been trained has been ruthlessly shattered! I feel I have lost everything in this world if I have lost my father. If he had but prepared me! If I had only guessed! But, you see, the blow has fallen upon me so unexpectedly."
She stretched out her hands to Sir Royal, who forgot everything but her poignant distress. At that moment she was not the beautiful young heiress, the sweet imperious Diana; she was the gay, dancing, happy child who had come home to Furness to be mistress there, the lovely fair-haired child who had taken his heart by storm at once and forever. She was so young then—only just fifteen—that she had been at first a pet and a play-thing. He had teased her, bought her presents, run races with her, called her of others. Thank heaven that her first she grew in years, in grace, and in loveliness, so his love had grown with her growth. He worshipped her, but it was always without any hope or return.

It was the child Diana he drew into his arms now, the lovely, laughing, bright-eyed child who had come into his life so unexpectedly.
"If I only knew how to comfort you, Diana!" he said, smoothing the rippling waves of hair, and kissing the heavy tear-drops from the long lashes. "Do not weep my child. What can I do to comfort you?" he cried, as he bent over the fair head.
But it was a relief to her to sob out her passion of tears and grief on that honest breast.
"My own father!" sobbed the girl. "And I have loved him so! Oh, Royal, it has broken my heart!"
"But Diana, my darling, hundreds of men do the same thing—marry again."
"But not men like my father!" she cried, with ceaseless tears. "He is so different, so unlike other men; he was the soul of honor and truth. Oh, Royal, it seems to me almost worse than if he were dead!"
"Nay, it is not so bad as that, Diana," Sir Royal remonstrated gently.
"He will never be the same again to me. To think that he could kiss me, that he could bid me good-bye, knowing that he was going to marry the woman I detest! Oh, Royal, the bare thought rends my heart! I would rather he had married any woman in the wide world than he. Oh, Royal, comfort me!"
But he could only smooth the fair hair and dry the tears that fell like rain. He knew that there was no comfort for her, that her young life lay in ruins around her.
"I wish to Heaven I could!" he said. "Diana, I would give my life to make you happy, and yet I can do nothing!"
There is always something of consolation in a great love; and Sir Royal had stemmed the torrent of her grief by the fervor of his love. Had Diana been his own child, he could not have soothed and caressed her more gently and more kindly. He considered her the child Diana, whose tears he was kissing away, and whose half-frantic despair he was trying to abate.
After a time he let the rain of tears fall unchecked. He saw that her grief was so violent, so intense, that the overcharged heart must pour forth its bitterness before she could hope for any relief. He allowed her to weep without interruption, only caressing the fair head and keeping it still on his breast.
The child Diana in her first trouble! How long was it since she had sung to him of sunshine and roses, and almost wondered why life was so fair? Let her weep on. There would be heavier trials than this for her, unless her life differed greatly from the lives by every endearing name; and, as great, almost intolerable grief had driven her to him, that her first most bitter tears had been shed on his breast! The child Diana weeping because the idol of her life was broken! How many more idols would be shattered for her?
As his arms unfolded her, his heart ached, and a mighty love for her took possession of him. Not a lover's love; it was even higher and holier than that. It was the love of father, brother, and friend. It filled his heart, and he longed with unutterable longing to carry her away from all her troubles, to transport her to some happy land where he could shield her from every care.

APPEAL SUCCESSFUL.
COPENHAGEN, Oct. 8.—The German Government's appeal to General Von Der Goltz's troops to withdraw from the Baltic Provinces has proved successful, according to Berlin despatch received here to-day. Return of some of the troops began on Saturday, it is declared, and several transports bearing contingents of those troops, homeward bound, will leave shortly.
WRONGLY WARNED.
ROME, Oct. 7.—Newspapers here comment at some length on the warnings to Italy to withdraw from the Baltic Provinces relative to the situation at Fiume. Tribune prints a violent article, maintaining the warnings and saying that British and American warnings should not be addressed to Italy, but to D'Annunzio, as Fiume is not Italy, in fact. Fiume is fighting against the Italian Government, which together with other Allies is unable to solve the Adriatic problem after the disavowal of the pact of London.
WILL HELP RUSSIANS.
PARIS, Oct. 7.—Gen. Mangin, whose recall to France from command of the Eighth Army has just been announced, is to proceed to South Russia and join General D'Amade, the anti-Bolshevik commander there, according to the Leclaire. He will be accompanied by Basil Malakoff, Russian ambassador.

APPEAL SUCCESSFUL.
COPENHAGEN, Oct. 8. The German Government's appeal to General Von Der Goltz's troops to withdraw from the Baltic Province has proved successful, according to a Berlin dispatch received here to-day. Return of some of the troops began on Saturday, it is declared, and several transports bearing contingents of those troops, homeward bound, will leave shortly.

WRONGLY WARNED.
ROME, Oct. 7. Newspapers here comment at some length on the warnings to Italy from Great Britain and the United States relative to the situation at Fiume. The Tribuna prints a violent article, stigmatizing the warnings and saying the British and American warnings should not be addressed to Italy, but to D'Annunzio, as Fiume is not Italy, in fact Fiume is fighting against the Italian Government, which together with the other Allies is unable to solve the Adriatic problem after the disavowal of the pact of London.

PARIS, Oct. 8. Gen. Mangin, whose recall to Paris from command of the Eighth Army has just been announced, is to proceed to South Russia and join General Denikin, the anti-Bolshevik commander there, according to the Leclaire to-day. He will be accompanied by Basil Malakoff, Russian ambassador in Paris, their mission being to co-ordinate the policy of the anti-Bolshevik Government.

BRITISH STEAMER ABANDONED.
HALIFAX, N.S., Oct. 8. The British steamer "Sixergh Castle" has been sunk at sea. Her crew are now on board the American steamer Afel, according to a wireless message received this morning by the local Marine Department from the Afel. The radiogram said that in lat. 45.17, long. 44.10 the Afel had sighted the British steamer in distress with her engine room flooded, pumps choked and fires out. Boats were put off from the Afel. The master of the British steamer abandoned his ship in a sinking condition. A later radiogram said that the Sixergh Castle sunk at 1.50 p.m. Greenwich mean time, yesterday. The Afel is on a voyage to Rotterdam from a United States port.

GERMANY'S ECONOMIC POSITION.
LONDON, Oct. 2. Reports reaching this city from Germany relative to the Leipzig fair throw light on Germany's economic position. According to the Secretary of the exhibition there were 70,000 foreign buyers present. Conversations with exhibitors gave observers the impression that many German industries were near bankruptcy owing to shortage of coal and loss of export trade, their only hope being to trade with neutrals and America. Fear was expressed that continued hostility of Britain would prevent trade in England. Exhibits at the fair seemed to show that manufacturers are not depending upon foreign raw material but rather on novel mechanical devices. Machine tools were formed into a fine exhibit but prices quoted were from twice or four times pre war scale. Exhibitors seemed to be very willing to sell. Foreign patents for special engineering machinery, while devices next in importance to machinery related to toys, which are cheap owing to the fact that there is plenty of wood in Germany. There were also excellent exhibits of mechanical toys. Pleasant neutral designs for porcelain crockery were reported but lack of coal is hampering manufacture.

HANDLEY READY AGAIN.
HALIFAX, N.S., Oct. 8. The Handley Page Airplane "Atlantic" will start from Parrsboro for New York at 8 to-morrow (Thursday) morning. The weather has been good for two days and indications for to-morrow are favourable.

OFF ON COAST TO COAST FLIGHT.
MINEOLA, N.Y., Oct. 8. Lieut. J. B. Machie, in a De Havilland Four machine, equipped with Liberty motor, was the first to get away in the coast to coast air race from Mineola to San Francisco and return at 9.15 a.m. to-day.

VICTORY OVER THE BOLSHEVIKS.
LONDON, Oct. 8. The capture of the city of Voronoz, 275 miles southeast of Moscow, by anti-Bolshevik forces of General Denekine, is admitted in a Russian Soviet wireless message from Moscow, received to-day. General Denekine's cavalry is advancing on Usman, thirty-five miles north of Voronoz, the message adds.

WAIT AND SEE.
BERLIN, Oct. 7. German troops in Courland, which are under command of Von der Goltz, insist they will remain there in a proclamation which has just been issued to the German Fatherland and all civilized people.

WILL THE GERMANS OBEY.
PARIS, Oct. 8. Marshal Foch, who yesterday was instructed to draw up a new note to the German Government relative to the withdrawal of General Von der Goltz's troops from the Baltic provinces, will couch the document very clearly, according to newspapers here. The note, it is said, will state that in case there is further dilatory tactics from Berlin, measures will be announced for dealing with the situation and will be immediately and rigorously applied.

CHICAGO WINS AGAIN.
CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 8. Winning to-day's game against Cincinnati 4 to 1, the recently dejected and all but hopeless White Sox of Chicago took the train to-night jubilant at the manner in which they have snatched a chance of victory from what seemed certain defeat and were determined that the eighth contest played on their own familiar real estate, and cheered by their loyal following, will see the series tied up.

Vegetable Sale.
The Vegetable Sale in aid of St. Joseph's parish, was opened yesterday afternoon by the Rev. Dr. Kitchen. The sale is being conducted in the new hall, on Plymouth Road. A wonderful display of vegetables, filled the stalls, but was quickly disposed of to be again replenished. The sale will be continued this evening and night and will close with a dance. The committee is sparing no effort to make the affair even more successful than that of last year.

At Southside
Friday Night.

The candidates of the Liberal-Progressive Party, Hon. J. R. Bennett, Councillor Mullaly and Mr. J. T. Martin, are holding a meeting on the Southside to-morrow night. Bowring Bros. large store, situated on the upper premises (Mudge's) has been engaged for the occasion. Not only will this accommodate the voters of the Southside, but will give an opportunity to those who live in the extreme West End and find it a hardship to get down to the meetings in the Casino Theatre, to attend. Friday night's meeting will demonstrate to all concerned that the Southside is determined to have nothing to do with Coakerism, Squiresism and Bolshevism.

Newtown En Fete for Progressives.

The crew of the s.s. Susu, which arrived yesterday, say that their steamer was at Newtown when Morine, Winsor and Forbes held their meeting there. The settlement was bedecked with hunting, gun firing, and practically every voter in the place was at the meeting. The enthusiasm of those present was very marked, and equalled anything ever shown to Coaker in Bonavista district in 1913. The men on the Susu express the opinion that Morine, Winsor and Forbes will roll up the biggest vote ever given a trio of candidates at Newtown.

Cashin Will Come Back.
Last Night's Dance.

The C. L. B. Old Comrades held a dance in the C.L.B. Armoury last night, which proved an entire success. It is the intention of the Old Comrades to hold several dances during the coming months, and it is safe to say that they will prove as enjoyable and successful as last night's.

To-Night's Meeting
East End Committee.

The full committee of the Liberal Progressive Party will meet to-night at the C.C.C. Hall at 9.30 to finalize plans for the campaign of "The Fighting Trio," Higgins, Vinnicombe and Fox. It is most important that all who possibly can will make an effort to attend.

Seaman Injured.
A large steamer with a load of hard coal bound from Philadelphia to Rotterdam put into port this morning to land a man who had received severe injuries during a storm. Several of the crew received minor injuries, and the ship received a drubbing. It will require several days to have repairs made.

Thieves at Work.
Some thief or thieves entered the office of Morley & Co. sometime between Monday night and Tuesday morning and successfully landed about forty dollars in cash. So far the police have made no arrests.

At the Majestic.
When two great actors and an equally great actress meet in a picture that picture is bound to be what last evening's one at the Majestic was—a most unusual success. It was a picture that contained more than met the eye, and one that set more than one in the hall thinking. Sessue Hayakawa, Jack Holt and the dainty actress made "The Honor of His House" a picture worth seeing, to say the very least. The double quartette of eight male voices, in the well-known song, "The Dear Little Shamrock," and the almost equally well-known "Men of Harlech," was just as good as on the former occasion, which is as much as could possibly be said for the singers who comprised it. At both shows they were encored. To-night the same show will be given, when Miss Elsie Herder will sing.

The Battery Captured.

Fort Held for the Liberal Progressive Party.

Nestling close under the rugged cliffs of Signal Hill stands that progressive little hamlet known as "The Battery." Ten years ago citizens used to regard it as an eyesore—a blot as it were on the landscape otherwise beautiful and fair. Since then it has been peopled by a rugged, honest class of fishermen from the North Shore of Bay de Verde, and to-day finds it a model community of industrious, prosperous fishermen who form one of the most desirable sections of the community. From shacks and fishing stages it has developed by its industry in this short space of time to a picturesque little township, with electric light and pure water supply, and in the midst of this plot of prosperity and progress stands the spacious Methodist school house, erected only a few years ago by the willing hands of the little settlement.

It was here that the people of "The Battery" met their representative—the Hon. W. J. Higgins—last night, to receive from him an account of his stewardship, and to introduce to his loyal constituents there his colleagues—Councillor Vinnicombe and Mr. Cyril Fox. When the "Fighting Trio" arrived at the Battery Road they were greeted with salutes of musketry from the assemblage, and escorted through the hamlet by a representative committee. Passing through the street illuminated homesteads amid the greetings of the assemblage, they were escorted to the school house where they received another great ovation.

On motion of Mr. John Burt, seconded by Mr. M. Cahill, one of the most respected master fishermen—Mr. Josiah Vatcher—was moved to the chair, and in a neat speech, symbolic of his calling, welcomed the candidates of the Liberal Progressive Party. He then asked the Hon. Mr. Higgins, the leader of the team, to make the opening address. After thanking them for their hearty and whole-souled reception, Mr. Higgins expounded the policy of the new Government under the leadership of Sir Michael Cashin, which means, not only for the Battery but for the whole of Newfoundland, a continuance of the period of progression and prosperity which the Dominion has enjoyed for a number of years past, and which the whole population has shared. He exposed the plots of crooked political aspirants to dominate the country for their own personal advantage, and pointed out the dangers that must accrue from any maladministration during this, the reconstruction period. His speech was plentifully interspersed with genuine applause as he scored point after point against the ring of political grafters who are now making a deperate effort to obtain the reins of Government, and in no uncertain manner did the voters at the Battery give the assurance that the fisherman-premier, Sir Michael Cashin, would come back stronger than ever to carry out his progressive policy and ideals.

When Councillor Vinnicombe stood to his feet the rafters just rang with applause, for the people of the Battery were not unmindful of the efforts which he, their representative City Councillor, had always put forth on their behalf in securing for them those modern comforts and conveniences which, as citizens, they were justly entitled to. After the applause had subsided, Councillor Vinnicombe, in that happy strain for which he is noted, made an address that appealed to all his hearers, coming as it did from one whom they knew so well. As a voter remarked afterwards, "A man of Nix's sincerity of purpose is the one we want, and if he says Cashin's party is all right, then it must be all right." Councillor Vinnicombe further stated that the "Fighting Trio" were out for a clean campaign, as the Progressive Party's object is to appeal to reason rather than the prejudices of the electors.

Mr. Vatcher then introduced to the meeting Mr. Cyril Fox, the young tribune. It was instantly apparent that Mr. Fox's fame had travelled before him, as he was tendered an ovation as has seldom been tendered any candidate for election. His speech was a masterly effort and the logical manner in which he laid before the electors the manifesto of the leader of the Progressive Party was most convincing. The effort was so creditable to Mr. Fox that Mr. Thos. Stamp, one of the oldest residents of the Battery, arose at its conclusion and congratulated the junior member of the trio.

Mr. Thos. Snelgrove also addressed the meeting, and with reference to certain local matters referred to look occasion to endorse all the statements made by Mr. Higgins.

After last night's meeting the voters of the Battery decided that to attempt any change in the present march of progress would be suicidal to the country, and gave their loyal assurance that with the return of Higgins, Vinnicombe and Fox as their representatives that CASHIN WILL COME BACK.

After vociferous cheers for the "Fighting Trio," the singing of the National Anthem wrought to a close the most successful meeting ever held at the Battery whose residents are fully determined to CONTINUE TO PROGRESS WITH CASHIN.

Great Overflow Gathering.

Largest Meeting Ever Held in Wesleyville --- Coaker's Followers Fail in Attempt to Break Up Meeting.

(Special to Evening Telegram.)

WESLEYVILLE, Oct. 8.

The largest meeting ever held in Wesleyville greeted Morine Winsor and Forbes last night, completely filling and overflowing the largest hall and making it necessary to hold an overflow meeting in an adjoining hall. The speakers were all received with acclamation and listened to with great interest. When touching points raised by Coakerites, Mr. Morine was interrupted noisily by certain members of the Union, who had come from outside places with the sole purpose, apparently, of making noisy demonstrations. The men were identified as outsiders and finding that their conduct would not be tolerated in the hall they left in a body, gathered outside and for a while attempted to interrupt the meeting. In this they were not successful. There is great indignation amongst the respectable people of this place over what they fear will be a discredit to them, but for this in fact they are in no wise responsible, and bitterly resent it. From various things which have taken place, it appears that the Coakerites in this part of the district are so amazed and alarmed at the tide which is running against them through the convincing arguments of the Government candidates that, acting upon instructions from headquarters, they have embarked upon a campaign of violence. In no part of this district can people be found to act in that way, if they were not prompted from the outside, and as their conduct is quite in accord with the threats printed in the Advocate newspaper over a series of weeks, it is very evident that these interruptions are organized, and are the only answer the already beaten party can give, and the only thing upon which they rely for votes. They do not attempt to argue in any other way, and no plea that carries any force with intelligent people is being put forth by them. The people of this district are so intelligent and independent that they will not submit to terrorism. Respectable members of the Union are as strong in their denunciations of violence as anybody else. Every exhibition of it turns votes in shoals to the Government side. It is time, however, that the country at large should understand that the Coakerites are determined to grasp power into their own hands by the use of every form of violence they dare resort to. It is safe to prophesy they will fail. This side of the Bay, it is certain, will give a majority for the Government candidates. After the disturbance had ceased, Mr. Morine continued and finished his address. He had been preceded by Dr. Forbes and was followed by Captain William Winsor, who had been speaking at the overflow meeting. Captain Winsor had a good reception and made a fine and forcible address. When he had finished, Mr. Morine spoke a second time upon some points which had been omitted previously. The large hall was completely filled during the speeches and at the close, and when the meeting ended it was found that the disturbers had fled to their homes outside the place.

A Clean Sweep.

The S. S. agona arrived this morning from Labrador and brings the most cheering news regarding the political situation. According to her passengers the fishermen along the Labrador coast are all strong for the Government and the conditions in the northern ports are equally satisfactory. The general impression is that Coaker is going to meet his Waterloo in all the northern districts, and one constituency where it is said he is going to get the fright of his life is Fogo, where, because of dissatisfaction generally and dislike of the candidate imposed on them without their consent, there is a silent but very substantial revolution. Morine is sweeping Bonavista District like a prairie fire, and John Stone and his colleagues will, according to all reports, have a triumphal return in Trinity Bay.

The Sagona was in St. George's last night, and Dr. Barnes, the head of the Bolshevik ticket, for that District held a meeting there. It was well attended but there was little or no enthusiasm and the opinion of those present, after the meeting, was that the idea the Squires-Coaker party appear to have that Barnes is going to sweep all before him, is doomed to bitter disappointment.

Some Reasons

WHY SQUIRES CAN'T BE TRUSTED

Because his ambition is unbounded and he is prepared to sacrifice every other interest to attain his own ends.

Because in order to attain power in this country he has gone to the extent of amalgamating with his most bitter enemy—W. F. Coaker.

Because any Government in which Coaker is the predominant figure is inimical to the true interests of the Colony.

Because Squires has been false to his own ideals and principles, and he cannot be expected to remain true to those of the public.

Because Squires, according to his ally Coaker, obtained $5,000 in Bank of Montreal Notes from the Reid Nfld. Co., and he has never denied this fact, although charged with it repeatedly.

Because a man who does not satisfactorily explain such a transaction as the receipt of $5,000 from a large corporation like the Reid Newfoundland Company is not the proper kind of person to have control of public affairs.

Because, according to Coaker, this money was obtained by Squires from the time when he was Chairman of a sub-committee of the Executive Council enquiring into certain claims for money made by that Company against the Government.

Victory Messages.

ST. GEORGE'S FOR DOWNEY AND PROGRESSIVE GOVERNMENT.

Special to Evening Telegram.

ST. GEORGE'S, Oct. 7.

The political meeting held in the Star Hall last night was largely attended; both candidates spoke and got a good hearing. All Mr. Downey's friends were glad to see him amongst them once more. The district is safe for the Liberal Progressive Party, and Mr. Downey's friends can safely promise him a big vote which will bring him out at the top of the poll. We have every confidence in the Party and with our old and energetic member we expect to be progressive in deed as well as in name the coming term. Come on, St. George's District. Let us prove our confidence in Mr. Downey and the Liberal Progressive Party led by Sir M. P. Cashin, who has never been defeated in his district yet. Let us give him another victory by making him Premier, for we can safely place the welfare of the country in his hands.

BUMPER MEETING AT NEW MELBOURNE.

Special to Evening Telegram.

NEW MELBOURNE, Oct. 8.

Government candidates visited Whales' Brook and were splendidly received. Held bumper meeting at New Melbourne last night. Hall was packed. Meeting opened by Carnell, followed by Matthews in a telling speech. Stone spoke last and vindicated his position satisfactorily to all. Great enthusiasm prevailed. New Melbourne solid.

Another Lie Nailed.

REAL TRUTH OF BRYANT'S COVE MEETING.

Several people from Harbor Grace arrived by the Sagona this morning, and were shown the "Advocate" and "Star" reports of the meeting at Bryant's Cove on Monday night addressed by Mr. Edward Parsons, denounced these as absolute fabrications, without a word of truth in them. The party who signed them, Abram Morgan, was at one time manager of a Coaker store at Bryant's Cove, which has since had to be shut down because it was unable to pay its way, and this in itself is a proof that the people of Bryant's Cove are no great enthusiasts for Coaker or Coakerism. Morgan has been out of his job as a consequence and he and his brother were the ringleaders in making a little trouble at the meeting. Morgan asked some few questions about a telephone and tried to interrupt Mr. Parsons once or twice, but these efforts came to nothing and the meeting proceeded as per programme. The statements that Mr. Parsons tried to close the meeting or that there was any division of the people 95 on one side and 5 on the other, or that anything happened apart from the mere fact that Morgan and his brother tried to make a little trouble is an absolute misstatement, and this flatfooted contradiction given by the people present at the meeting and who saw what occurred will not alone explode this bubble, but it will also make people think two or three times before they accept anything that is now printed in the Squires-Coaker papers.

Every Saturday evening after Matten Lamb, Park will be sold 7 o'clock. Choice Ends of Beef, at cost. ELLIS & CO., LTD., 283 Water Street.—Nov 29.

PEDIGREE CATTLE ACTIONED.

The auction sale of pedigree cattle held to-day in Cliffts Coes attracted quite a number of people. The animals fetched good prices.

These are only a few reasons why the public should beware of Squires. It is, however, hardly necessary to warn electors against him. They have missed him up fully long ago and are unanimous in the decision that SQUIRES CAN'T BE TRUSTED ANYHOW.

Side by Side

WHEN YOU are "Well, the one thing," says the Authorman, he laid down a paper in which he had been reading the union discussion, deciding to strike which was evidently to his short his supply of cigars. "We all of us, h and low, rich a poor, forced learning more these three years about economic than we'd learned in two times of ordinary life." "It's true, isn't it? And in many other ways there is more than would be crowded into me a cycle of Cathay."

How Much Geography We Have Forthly Learned.
Think how much we've all probably learned about the geography of Europe. Think of how many hundreds of thousands of people have never before looked at a map of the schoolroom; have had hung upon their walls these few years and have looked at them almost as regularly as they look at their daily papers. True, they would rather learn geography in a way in the world than by those little colored pins that stood for such dreadful things, but it is interesting to think how much we unintentionally learned.
And then think of the first thing we've seen.

Side Talks by Ruth Cameron

WHEN YOU ARE A GRANDMOTHER

RUTH CAMERON

"Well, there's one thing," said the Authorman as he laid down the paper in which he had been reading the trade union discussion, deciding that he strike which was evidently to cut short his supply of cigars. "We're all of us, high and low, rich and poor, forcibly learning more in these three years about economics than we'd have learned in two lifetimes of ordinary life."

It's true, isn't it? And in how many other ways there is more being crowded into these few years than would be crowded into many "a cycle of Cathay."

How Much Geography We Have Forcibly Learned.

Think how much we've all forcibly learned about the geography of Europe. Think of how many hundreds of thousands of people who never before looked at a map outside the schoolroom, have had maps hung upon their walls these last few years and have looked at them almost as regularly as they looked at their daily papers. True, one would rather learn geography in any way in the world than by those little colored pins that stood for such dreadful things, but it is interesting to think how much we unintentionally learned.

And then think of the first things we've seen.

Take a woman born, say four decades ago, and in your mind go forward to the day when she will be a grandmother. Think of the things she can tell her grand children.

She Can Actually Remember When There Were No Aeroplanes.

"Yes, my dears," she will say, "I can remember perfectly when there weren't any aeroplanes. Why, I remember the first one I saw. We heard a great big humming noise, etc., etc."

"How did people get across the ocean? Why, in steamers just as some of them do now."

"How long before I was born had they had automobiles? Why my dear child, I was 20 before I had ever seen an automobile. It went with steam and it stopped to take water at a watering trough in front of the house."

And then they will ask her about the Great War—with we dare at least to hope, the curiosity of children to whom war is something definitely archaic. And she will tell of the dreadful thrill of those first days when we heard that England had gone in, and of the latter days when our own (and perhaps her own) boys marched off to war. When I was a child I used to read on the fire card the call 7-7 and wished that some day I might hear that call. I've heard it, and I'm cured of that wish.

She Will Tell of the Days When Men Voted.

And of course when her granddaughters come back from the polls some day they will say curiously to her, "It doesn't really seem possible that men did all the voting once," and she will tell them of those days, and of the bitter feeling against "short haired" women who had this strange desire to help make the laws they lived under, and of her own first vote.

These are just a few of the things that mythical grandmothers will be able to tell her grandchildren. These be crowded times—she has 20 years more to live before her grandchildren will be of the age to talk much about such things. Who knows but in those 20 years there may be other changes even greater! No, it does not seem possible. But neither did all the things that have happened in the last 20 years.

Cashin Will Come Back. Winter is Coming.

Already the chilly days of Autumn are here, and you should not risk the chance of catching cold in a house where the fires die out, or where a great delay of time is necessary to start them on a frosty morning. A little Gas Heater, Gas Grate, or steam radiator will furnish you with just as much heat as you require, and just as little, by simply turning a tap.

We have Radiant Fires, Chili-Chasers, Set-In-Grates, Steam Radiators, and appliances to suit all requirements of the Home.

A PLEA.

Grant to me this: The strength to do my duty, And smiles of love to welcome my return, Open my eyes to all the world's bright beauty, Teach me to make the most of what I earn.

What though I toil, let me be brave and cheerful, Glad there are tasks that I am called to do; Let love of life keep me from being tearful, And love of truth keep me from deeds untrue.

I would not dwell too much on cares that fret me, Nor magnify through selfish eyes my woes; When failures come and trivial wrongs upset me, Let me rejoice that I can bear such blows.

Keep me from envy and the jealous madness, What blinds men's eyes to joy that they possess, And makes them think another's hour of gladness, Is robbing them of fortune and success.

Through every day and every hour that passes, Let me press forward, glad to take Looking at life through clear not murky glasses, And, come what may, finding it good to live.

What is Phoratone?

Phoratone is a preparation manufactured by Dr. F. Stafford & Son for all kinds of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma and various Lung Troubles. It is the result of 25 years' experience and thousands of bottles are being sold every year. At the present time quite a large number of people are suffering from Sore Throats, Coughs and Colds, etc., and if you will only try a bottle of this Phoratone you will be surprised with results. You can purchase same at Stafford's Drug Store, Theatre Hill, for 30c. a bottle. Postage 10c. extra.

LONG AGO.

WILLY MASCO

The dear old times of long ago seem far away and hazy, the good old times we used to know, before the world went crazy. We trotted to our divers tasks, contented early risers, and put our savings down in casks, nor fretted over Kaisers. We trotted to the baseball games, and thrashed them over nightly, and to the movies took our dames, when lights were glowing brightly. Ah, life was then serene and sweet, a pleasant, cheerful cycle; and no one had it in for Pete, or cursed the name of Michael. But now our rages never stop, we're hot beneath our collars; if for an hour I cease to yawn, some other fellow hollers. Each voter packs around a brick, and brazen knucks we carry, we take a fall from Tom to Dick, and throw some rocks at Harry. We don't know why our heads are sore, we don't know why we're rattled, but still we rant and walk the floor, as when the nations battled. Oh, for the happy golden days, when we sat round and twittered, and talked of whiskers, we could raise, and not a heart embittered. Oh, for the by-gone peaceful nights, when, done with daily labors, we smoked our pipes and flew our kites, like sane and kindly neighbors.

Who's Who

AND WHY IN NEWFOUNDLAND AND CANADA—1919-20.

"Who's Who and Why" is designed to provide a record of the men and women who in one capacity or another are contributing to the building up of Canada and Newfoundland.

In the brief account of their career in these pages their relation is shown to the outstanding events of the history of the sister dominions, and the book, therefore, has a value for the historian quite beyond its use as a current work of reference. Included also are portraits of persons dealt with in the biographical sketches, thus adding to the permanent value of the book. Only a few copies on sale.

That Terrible Deal.

For weeks now the Opposition has been harping on the proposed "Reid Deal" or the terrible deal, as it is pictured. So great was the amount of trash that the Opposition published over this deal that it seems almost a pity that the bubble has burst. When Hon. W. J. Higgins told the whole truth about the proposed measure on Monday night, the voters answered by their vociferous cheers that they realized how the Opposition press and politicians on the matter, and these cheers were convincing to the most ardent liberal reformer (?) that it was of no use to rant on the subject further. Of course the Opposition press does not know how to take such a disillusion of their cherished political catch-cries, and so a doleful whine is still emanating from the organs of the twin leaders. But no one is disturbed even, by such whines. The "terrible Reid Deal," like other things prated by the Opposition, is actually for the betterment of the country, and the "outs" are very sore by reason of their knowledge of the truth.

The Act in question provides for the extension of the Street Railway System. Everybody who has a knowledge of this city, knows that an extension of the street car line is absolutely necessary for its progress and growth. The property available for building sites for houses is away from the present street car lines, and so one of the greatest forces that can aid in the erection of more suburban homes is the extension of the street railway to within reasonable access of these suitable building localities. The "terrible Reid Deal" proposed to grant to the Reid Nfld. Co. the use of the waters of Tor's Cove River and Pierre's River in the electoral district of Ferryland for the purpose of generating electricity for the aforesaid extension, and also for the purpose of providing electric lighting within settlements between Tor's Cove and wherever required by the Government. Surely, the Opposition, despite its whining and wailing can see the shallowness of its long articles in the new deal, and will have the honesty to admit its publication of ungrounded reasoning. (Wait and see.)

The Opposition press speaks quite glibly over the housing conditions of this city and how they may be bettered by the Government, and yet at the first move by the latter, the "outs" retract all they have formerly said in favor of it. The Opposition doesn't want this Reid deal, simply because such a measure granted means added popularity for the Liberal Progressive Party. The Opposition doesn't care a rap about the concessions that Reid or anyone else gets, if (oh! that if) its own ends are served. Has not Coaker been very friendly with the Reids during the past few years, and was there absolutely no foundation for the reports about that trip Coaker made to Ottawa, at the expense of W. D. Reid? When it was so pleasant to travel in Reid's private car, did Coaker then worry about what was given to Reid in return? And then, Hon. R. A., was he always so virtuous, and so strongly opposed to the making of Reid deals? Was it not Mr. Squires who secured $5,000 from Reid, and then wanted a note from Reid, stating that he (Reid) had not paid him such a sum? Again, is there nothing whatever in the report that W. D. Reid is backing Squires now, merely for the purpose of trebling the amount of the barrel, financing the Opposition campaign?

The twin leaders lift up their hands against the concession of the use of the waters of two rivers to the Reid Nfld. Co., for the convenience of the public, and especially the workmen of this town, and yet both leaders are in league to-day, not to guard the country against grafters, but if report is true, to make a deal with foreign corporations that will tie up Newfoundland's resources, and repay the Opposition leaders tenfold for their planned duplicity. But the country is awake. The dangers of Squireism and Coakerism and its attendant isms will be defeated on Nov. 3rd. The country wants progress and not stagnation resulting from Squires deals with foreign capitalists, and the country's voters will give them answer for CASHIN WILL COME BACK!

Behold! The Reformers.

The Star states that the Liberal Reform (?) Party will make a thorough investigation into the expenses connected with the different Government departments, and will considerably decrease the expenditure. The Star has also said much about the expenditure of the huge sum of fifty million dollars during the last six years, and of the taxation placed upon the people, but the Star says nothing about the little tit-bits that Hon. R. A. S. received during that part of the six years he held office in the Government. Not a word does the Star say about the $9,516.00 that Squires received in the matter of the Bay de Verde Branch

Railway. Not a word does the Star say about the other little sums that came to Squires out of the people's pockets. The Star is most open-minded about the doings of those now in the Government, but it knows nothing of the grafting of Mr. Squires. Had Mr. Squires been taken into the Executive at the formation of the National Government, there is no doubt at all but that Squires would have tried to pick a little more out of the people's purse without worrying in the least about the taxation. (Not that it worries him now; no furrows on Mr. Squires' face betoken the concern he feels over the awful taxation, which the Opposition says, we bear.) The only trace of worry discernible on the face of the Hon. R. A., is the fear of losing the chance of reforming the present high expenditure, and incidentally, getting a few more thousand for his valuable services of reformation (?)

The public know just how well the word reformer can be applied to Hon. R. A. He is a stickler for everything that's good, as beheld how he spoke on the observance of the Lord's Day and how well he observed it by going political campaigning on the Sabbath. A modern Wycliffe, indeed! And then take the second of the twin leaders. Mr. Coaker is a noted reformer. Didn't he reform his intentions of living on a small salary per year, in order to have a palatial mansion, motor car, etc.? Didn't he reform the railway system? Surely he did it for himself by riding in Reid's private car. A very ardent follower indeed of the modern Wycliffe is the Wordy President. As the leaders are, so are the followers, reformers, as long as the reform is good for themselves; but in its full significance, the term reform is just as applicable to the Squires-Coaker party as is the term liberal. The dual leaders have suddenly dropped their past hatred of each other, and have reformed (?) "Liberalism," cries Coaker, and yet he was instrumental in driving the Liberal Leader, Sir Robert Bond out of political life. "Reform," says Squires, and yet during his tenure of office in the Government, figures show that he was not particular of reform, but merely about the sum of $9,516.00 and a few other trifles. Liberal Reformers, indeed!

It is a well known maxim that "The Truth is often the best to be told," and therefore the Star will understand when we say that the voters of this town and of Newfoundland doubt the sincerity of its assertions on the reformation policy promised by the L.R. (?) P. candidates. The voters of this country remember distinctly how, not very long ago, Mr. Squires, the champion reformer (?), just now, said nothing about a reform policy while he held a departmental office in the Government, (true he was not an elected representative). The voters do remember how the Star vilified the doings and speeches of Mr. Coaker, and how completely it swallowed all its vilifications—but made no apology—when Coaker gave Squires the opportunity he craved, of trying to secure control of the country's destiny. The voters still remember how sincere the Star apparently was then, in warning the fishermen against the dangers of Coakerism. The amalgamation of Squires and Coaker for political purposes, convinced even those who believed in the sincerity of the Star writers that their editorials and sentiment so volubly expressed, were insincere and worthless.

Having then proved its insincerity on other subjects, the voters realize the game the Opposition is playing. The voters understand that this policy (assumed), of promising to lower taxation, and to reform (save the mark) Government expenditures, is but another attempt to satisfy the grafting tendencies of the Opposition leaders, by first securing the electoral votes necessary to put them in control. One thing the Star has overlooked. It did not take into consideration its own vacillation, and the intelligence of the voters who can readily discern sham sincerity from the real thing.

A couple of days ago a party of thirty Jewish gentlemen of the city sailed out to Portugal Cove and from there proceeded by boat to Bell Island, where a ceremony in which they were interested, was to take place. This was the christening of the boy son of Mr. Nathan Cohen, a business man of the Iron Isle. Rev. Jacobson, of Sydney, who was in the country on a trip, performed the rite, and the sum of $100 was raised. This will be donated to the Jewish Relief Fund for countries stricken by the war.

Cashin Will Come Back.

Political Pars.

"Away with the grafters," says Farrell to Meaney John Tee. Then into the barrel get Meaney and Farrell and out they both come in great glee.

Cashin Will Come Back.

When polling day approaches many voters do not fear to defeat the bold pretensions of the Coaker-Squires pair.

Mr. John T. Meany who regaled the Star readers with an account of his own cleverness has become blue in the face already endeavoring to persuade people who know differently that "meself and Coaker" will win.

A well known Squires heeler on reading in the Star that Mr. John M. Devine permitted Squires to "call" him out for Placentia, remarked that skipper John knew two men in Placentia district but that one of them died this spring and he thinks the other is away pigie fishing.

St. John's sets a great example to the whole of Newfoundland by ungrudgingly pronouncing that it will turn down the whole six of the Coaker-Squires candidates. This splendid news will spread all over the country and will lead to a wonderful victory for the Liberal-Progressive Party.

The long and mournful looking features of the Opposition shouters are loud and convincing evidence of the hopelessness of their cause.

Mr. Main voters will take the starch out of Meaney before polling day arrives.

The unprincipled politician who would refer to the laborers of St. John's as a set of loafers and drunkards, deserves to have his candidates get a severe trouncing at the polls. The laborers will not forget that most insulting language and that is why the "reformers" will have no show in St. John's.

Raids of great magnitude are being made on the Squires barrel nowadays, one vying with the other to get as much as possible fearing it will be all gone in a hurry. Healers are advised to grab all they can before the bottom is reached which it is feared may happen very soon.

Keep Your Money at Home

The time for more serious consideration of our natural resources was never more ripe.

Some twenty odd years ago, Bell Island, in Conception Bay, was only looked upon as a ballast pit for sailing vessels, to-day it is one of the very richest ore mines in the whole world.

It was never taken seriously by Newfoundlanders, until someone came in and discovered it was really a valuable iron ore field.

To-day the mineral deposits that surround Bell Island are valued at ONE BILLION DOLLARS.

COAL AREAS that promise to surpass even Bell Island have been opened up during the past year, and are now being developed with the aid of Newfoundland capital.

Development work to date has uncovered EIGHT SEAMS OF COAL, three of which are giving over six feet of coal, one over three feet and the balance from eighteen inches to two feet in thickness.

Should we not as Newfoundlanders aid in every way possible the full and complete development of such a magnificent showing?

It means much to the future economic independence of the Dominion.

Your financial support is solicited with the full confidence that ample returns will be received by each and every investor.

The shares are only one dollar, and we want to see every Newfoundland interested in the welfare of this country the owner of at least one share in this enterprise.

To-day's Messages.

PROMINENT HALIFAXIAN DROWNED.

HALIFAX, N.S., Oct. 8. P. J. A. Doughtas, prominent Dartmouth man, drowned yesterday while sailing in the harbour in his yacht. Mr. Doughtas, being forward at the time, is supposed to have tripped over a rope, falling overboard. A lifebuoy was thrown close to him but he could not grasp it. By the time a boat had put out he had disappeared. Mr. Doughtas was a munition inspector during the war, having been stationed in Dartmouth and New Glasgow.

MAY EXPELL ITALY FROM CONFERENCE.

ROME, Oct. 7. Much excitement in political circles and extended comment in the press have been caused by report of warnings from Great Britain and United States with regard to the situation at Fiume. It is declared that the British warning stated, in effect, that if "The present illegal situation" at Fiume should continue, Italy would "run the risk of being put out of the Alliance and the Peace Conference," and that it was received a few days after a similar warning from the United States.

WILL DEFEND FIUME WITH MILITARY POWER.

FIUME, Oct. 5. (By the A.P.)—The Dannaucia administration to-day issued a manifesto, addressed to the Croats, and appealing to them to stand together with the Italians against designing powers seeking to establish themselves upon the Adriatic. "The Adriatic is a Latin Sea to which the slaves have full right of free access to their commerce," it is declared in the manifesto, which goes on to assure the Croats and other slaves that Italy will protect such rights with military and civil powers.

PROHIBITION FOR NORWAY.

CHRISTIANIA, Oct. 8. The vote by which Norway adopted prohibition of whiskey and of other strong liquors in the referendum was 428,465 in favor of prohibition to 284,137 against it. Christiania was strongly against prohibition, only 18,500 voting for it as compared with 20,000 in opposition. The measure does not affect wines and beers.

PRESENTING EXCESSIVE SPECULATION.

MADRID, Oct. 8. The Spanish Government is considering measures which will prevent excessive speculation in foreign exchange. This is especially true in the case of German marks, nearly two billions of which have been bought in Spain.

SEEK SOLUTION TO FIUME PROBLEM.

ROME, Oct. 8. According to the newspapers, the Council of Ministers, at its session to-day, will seek to find means to solve the Fiume problem. Minister of Foreign Affairs Tittoni will leave very soon for Paris to consult the inter-Allied representatives regarding this question.

On the Firing Line.

Higgins, Bennett, Vinnicombe, Mullaly, Fox, Martin. All six are progressive candidates, and are St. John's favourites.

With the soldiers John R. Bennett is weak—like Samson.

And don't forget Mullaly!

James T. Martin—ever the workman's friend.

How are the two dollar scrips to-day, Doc?

If another Prince should come, Brownrigg will probably resign from the Squires-Cooker ticket as he did from the Council.

He might just as well resign immediately; otherwise, he resigned to his de-fate when the ballots are polled on November 8th.

He who slacks and runs away, Will meet defeat on polling day.

There's weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth in the cock-loft. Toronto's porkbarrel has gone dry. Why not try "yeast-cakes" to "rise" some more.

10 years of unappreciated prosperity and a two million dollar surplus. And still some people want to change! No wonder it has been found necessary to enlarge the Asylum for the Insane.

Enjoyable Dance.

A very enjoyable time was spent at Smithville last night when Miss Mary Ryan gave a dance to a number of her friends. The Ballroom was beautifully decorated and the Dining Hall presented a striking appearance in green and white. The C. C. C. Band furnished the music. Dancing was kept up till the small hours of the morning. Those present voted it the most enjoyable one yet.

WEST END SOLID Neyle's

The Three Liberal Progressive Candidates Had a Record Reception Last Night on the Topsail Road.

The most enthusiastic and successful meeting ever held in the Topsail Road section of St. John's West, was that conducted last night by the representatives of the Liberal Progressive Party, Messrs. J. R. Bennett, J. J. Mullaly and J. T. Martin. Mr. John Holden acted as chairman, being proposed by Mr. Henry Cowan and seconded by Mr. Peter Murphy, both prominent farmers of the Topsail Road. The candidates were introduced by Mr. Holden, who in an effective speech, referred to the policy of Sir M. P. Cashin, and stated the gentlemen named were coming as the representatives of the Liberal Progressive Party to solicit the support of the Topsail Road voters in the coming election. Hon. J. R. Bennett, who was the first speaker, explained fully his efforts since last election to represent the district, and showed in a manner which won heartfelt applause from all present that when in the dark hours following the opening of the war, confederation threatened he had rallied his colors to the mast and stood firm. After drawing a striking comparison between Sir M. P. Cashin and the leaders opposed to him, and whose only claim to the suffrages of the people lay in catch cries, asked for a strong party vote and the same loyal support as he had received in the past. That he and his colleagues would be accorded such was clearly shown by the applause which followed. The chairman then then called upon Mr. Mullaly, who received an ovation that any candidate might feel proud of. In a convincing and impressive address he pointed out that it was only through conviction he had associated himself with the Liberal Progressive Party, because it stood for the prosperity of Newfoundland, and was the only party that really meant progress. He detailed his experience as a Municipal Councillor, showing that he had always stood up for the people against combines or corporations, and promised, if elected in the coming contest, to act up to the same principles and never be swayed by party prejudices. He referred to the unprecedented expenditure of money by political opponents in the district of St. John's West, and showed that the people would have to foot the bills if the opponents of the Government were returned to power. He referred to Hon. J. R. Bennett as the natural successor on the West End ticket of Lord Morris, with whom he had been associated so long and trusted the same staunch support would be given him as in years gone by. Mr. J. T. Martin, at the call of the chairman, addressed the meeting, being received on arising with thunderous applause. Briefly, but strikingly, he declared his determination to act as heretofore, as the friend of the farmer, tradesmen and laborer. He had always been proud to be of service to the workmen, and if elected would be willing to give an account of his stewardship to them whenever called upon. The meeting was undoubtedly the best ever held in this section and closed with cheers for Sir M. P. Cashin, the representatives for St. John's West and the Liberal Progressive Party, with the National Anthem.

Cashin Will Come Back.

"Art—the Giant Killer."

Mr. Arthur English who desires to be styled "Art—the giant killer" is (see Monday's "Star") a young man, yet, in his biography which they publish, he has been all of the following during his short life time:—

- Farmer.
 - Geologist.
 - Civil Engineer.
 - Seaman.
 - Guide.
 - Life-guard.
 - Author (?)
 - Orator (?)
 - Politician (?????)
- To sum it all up he is a veritable "Jack of all Trades and master of none."
- "The Star" very conveniently forgot to state that he was testotally rejected by the people of St. George's in the 1913 election.

52nd Anniversary Great Lab

(H. F. SHORT) The news received from Labrador of the great storm which occurred at Indian Tickle on Monday last brings to my mind the terrible hurricane of the 9th October, 1867. I remember the day the news arrived, and the great anxiety that existed among the people before the full report was received. In those days we had not that most important medium of communication—the wireless telegraph, which flashes along the news through space in the twinkling of an eye, and is undoubtedly the greatest blessing ever conferred upon humanity in the history of the world. Thousands of lives have been saved by this great modern invention, and the name of Marconi will be handed down for all times, as one of the greatest benefactors of the human race that ever was born. In the sixties we had to await the arrival of some home-coming schooner or some chartered vessel before we could receive any news from our hardy countrymen who presented our great industry on the coast of Labrador. It is true we had a mail boat plying between Labrador and the Coast of Newfoundland, but she was not noted for her quick passages, and it was only in recent years that arrangements were made to meet the requirements of our people who fish for cod and herring in that northern latitude. Slowly but surely the evolution in the service took place, and the first to give it an impetus was the great chieftain, Sir W. V. Whiteaway. Other Governments have done much since then, but there still remains much to be accomplished. As I said before the gale occurred on 9th October, 1867, and our people suffered greatly at Indian Tickle (where the storm raged on Monday last) and much destruction was done. The great planter, Capt. Richard Henebury, suffered heavy loss, and I think (but am not sure) that his splendid brig Estelle was wrecked upon that occasion. However, the clipper brig Terra Nova, (originally the Rothesay), Capt. John Kehoe, was lost, as were several others. The Rothesay was a barque, the great builder Kearney's chiefoeuvre, and was undoubtedly one of the fastest sailers, not alone in Newfoundland, but on this side of the Atlantic. I have heard masters and sailors repeatedly state that it was never known for any vessel to pass her. She was built by Kearney in Harbor Grace at the junction of Victoria and Water Streets (where

The Colon Is the Home of Health—Keep It Clean!

FULL HOUSE CLEANING is at hand. It's a hard job, at best. But consider what an impossible task it would be if the house hadn't been getting its regular daily cleaning all these months! Long before this no one could have lived in it. The accumulated dust and dirt, which is fairly easy to down by day, would have to clogged the quarters that they would be uninhabitable. Your Colon is the house where your health lives. It has different "rooms" in which your daily physical welfare "lives". These "rooms" are long and narrow. So they are easily clogged. And when constipation clogs them, your health has to get along the best it can in a home that isn't fit to live in, any more than a house clogged up with dust and dirt is fit for you and your family to live in. Nujol is the broom that will keep this "home of health" in order all the time. Nujol is the only helper that will do this without turning things topsy-turvy and upsetting all the "rooms"—just as house-cleaning does. By daily use of Nujol you can free yourself from all the disease-causing, discomfort and inefficiency that come from a clogged colon. Nujol is not a medicine. Not the least particle of it is absorbed into the system. It is a clear, tasteless, odorless, absolutely HARMLESS softener and lubricant. A baby can take it with perfect safety. It doesn't upset the stomach or anything else. It simply keeps the home of your health CLEAN and COMFORTABLE. Get a bottle of Nujol from your druggist to-day, and read for free booklet—"Thirty Feet of Danger."

52nd Anniversary of Great Labrador Gale.

(H. F. SHORTIS.) The news received from Labrador of the great storm which occurred at Indian Tickle on Monday last brings to my mind the terrible hurricane of the 9th October, 1867. I remember the day the news arrived, and the great anxiety that existed among the people, before the full report was received. In those days we had not the most important medium of communication—the wireless telegraph, which flashes along the news through space in the twinkling of an eye, and is undoubtedly the greatest blessing ever conferred upon humanity in the history of the world. Thousands of lives have been saved by this great modern invention, and the name of Marconi will be handed down for all times, as one of the greatest benefactors of the human race that ever was born. In the sixties we had to await the arrival of some home-coming schooner or some chartered vessel before we could receive any news from our hardy countrymen who prosecuted our great industry on the coast of Labrador. It is true we had a mail boat plying between Labrador and the Coast of Newfoundland, but she was not noted for her quick passages, and it was only in recent years that arrangements were made to meet the requirements of our people who fish for cod and herring in that northern latitude. Slowly but surely the evolution in the service took place, and the first to give it an impetus was the great chief, Sir W. V. Whiteaway. Other Governments have done much since then, but there still remains much to be accomplished. As I said before the gale occurred on 9th October, 1867, and our people suffered greatly as Indian Tickle (where the storm raged on Monday last), and much destruction was done. The great planter, Capt. Richard Heaney, suffered heavy loss, and I think (but am not sure), that his splendid brig Estelle was wrecked upon that occasion. However, the clipper brig Terra Nova, (originally the Rothesay), Capt. John Kehoe, was lost, as were several others. The Rothesay was a barque, the great builder Kearney's chief discovery, and was undoubtedly one of the fastest sailers, not alone in Newfoundland, but on this side of the Atlantic. I have heard masters and sailors repeatedly state that it was never known for any vessel to pass her. She was built by Kearney in Harbor Grace at the junction of Victoria and Water Streets (where she was repaired,—from a barque she was rigged a brig, and called the Terra Nova.

During the great gale, of which to-day is the 52nd anniversary, thirty-seven lives and twenty-seven vessels were lost, and at Spotted Islands the famous seal-killer, Capt. William Jackman, proved himself a hero by rescuing 27 persons, mostly females, from watery graves. Again and again did the Newfoundland hero rush into the water to the scene of the disaster, and swim back again with his living freight. One can imagine the temperature of the water at that season of the year, and not alone did he repeatedly risk his own life to save others, but look off his own clothing and wrapped it around those who were in the weakest state. The name of such a hero, and the heroic task that he performed, will live in the annals of our country for all time. The act of one man saving 27 persons, by bringing them on his back through the raging surf and ice-cold waters, to my mind, has never been excelled among the heroic deeds of ancient and modern times. It was a pitiful sight to see members of our fellow countrymen, the vessels, in many instances, being overcrowded, and the sufferings must have been extreme. None but Newfoundlanders could stand such hardship. Our great sailing fleet received a big set-back by that terrible gale, because some of the most substantially built and largest vessels were lost, and as steamers were beginning to play a prominent part in the prosecution of our seal-fishing, they were never replaced, but gradually fell away one after the other, until in the early nineties, none but one square-rigged vessel prosecuting our great industry, the seal-fishery. The sailing vessels had to give way to steamers and modern science was victorious, whether for good or evil is a moot question.

Halifax Man Has Gained 15 Pounds Taking Tanlac

Walked the Floor Many a Night—'It's Different With Me Now,' He Says.

"Talking about stomach trouble and indigestion," said Charles John Shaw, a well known resident of 48 Birmingham Street, Halifax, recently. "I don't believe anybody ever suffered with it worse than I did before I got this Tanlac. But this medicine has fixed me up so I can eat just anything I want without a pain or a sign of indigestion afterwards and I have actually gained fifteen pounds in weight, besides. "I could not eat a mouthful in two solid years but what disagreed with me and have such awful pains in my stomach that I simply dreaded to eat. In a few minutes after meals my stomach would swell up with that sour gas as tight as a drum and my breath would almost stop. I suffered with heartburn nearly all the time and my stomach would burn inside like it was on fire. It was impossible for me to get a good night's sleep, for I would blast up so with that gas and have such cramping pains in my stomach that I would just have to get out of bed and walk the floor. Many a night I don't believe I slept an hour. I was badly constipated, had raging headaches, severe dizzy spells, and some days my stomach hurt me so I just had to knock off from my work and go home. I felt so miserable at times I thought sure I was going to die. "But things are altogether different with me now, and I just want to tell the people that Tanlac is what has made the change. I couldn't ask for a better appetite. In fact, I can hardly get enough to eat and my stomach simply feels like a new one. The gas, bloating and pain is all gone and there's nothing but what I can eat and digest perfectly. The headache, dizziness and nervousness has all left me, too, and now I can lie down at night and sleep like a log. When it comes to medicines Tanlac has done all I could expect. It's a real pleasure for me to recommend it." Tanlac is sold in St. John's by M. Connors, under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative. —adv.

Cashin Will Come Back. Voters of St. John's.

DON'T FALL FOR THE LATEST TRICK OF THE SQUIRES HEELERS. Voters of St. John's watch out for those Squires heelers who are around whispering on the quiet that if you split your vote for one of their candidates, East or West, as the case may be and if such are elected they will throw Coaker overboard and join the Liberal-Progressive side. Don't be caught in this stick way but tell the Squires gang straight out that you will not give one of their candidates a vote. They know right well that no intelligent voter of St. John's will have anything to do with a Coaker ticket on his tail, so the only way they hope to squeeze a few split votes is by getting off this dope about casting Coaker aside. Tell the Squires tooters you have no use for either Coaker or Squires and that you would not touch one of them, except to flip them out on polling day along with their candidates.

Glimmerings.

The Advocate retaliates to Cashin's challenge to Cooker by issuing a counter challenge. Proof positive that Cashin was right.

The assertions of the Telegram that Cashin will come back, rile the Advocate writers, and they try to offset the conviction of Cashin's return by joking. The electorate merely laugh!

Reports from the District of Burgess and LaPelle say Small will be smaller by Nov. 4th, the day after election.

The Star says "Stone is wise." You said it, Bo! That's why he will be elected.

Halfyard's appeal to Trinity electors is an attack upon Stone, but Stone's vote on Nov. 3rd will be a Target for Guppy.

"Newtown solid for Unionism!" says the Advocate. Query: When was the Advocate Editor last there?

R. G. Winsor not wanted on the north side of Bonavista Bay. Capt. Bill is better, say the voters, a sure sign that the Government team will win.

Cashin is so sure of his district that he can also work for a colleague. Progress equals Prosperity. Liberal Reform means Squiritish Craft. The People say Progress. Cashin will come back.

The Wonderful [?] Dr. Barnes.

One of the geniuses from which the Bolsheviks suffer at the present time is that because they have secured Dr. Arthur Barnes for Harbor Grace, that the Government's prospects of success are rendered hopeless. Dr. Barnes is one of those political mystery men that, by saying little and looking wise, have induced this country more than once in the past to take them for a time at their face value, but when they are confronted with trouble it is seen that they are mere men of straw, and their collapse comes so suddenly that they are rarely ever heard of again.

To read the Star and Advocate, one would imagine that Dr. Barnes had held the District of Harbor Grace in the hollow of his hand for many years past, but the simple fact is that he was never elected but once, and then only when he ran for a party headed by Sir Robert Bond and Sir Edward Morris, in 1904, when, as a result of popular discontent with the elements opposing the Government, the outcome was 30 seats for the Bond-Morris Party, and six for the others. The figures that year were as follows:

Hon. Eli Dawe (Lib.) 1158
W. A. Oke (Lib.) 1141
A. Barnes (Lib.) 1132

C. Dawe (Con.) 1060
E. Parsons (Con.) 976
Sir W. Whiteaway (Con.) 884

Four years later, however, Dr. Barnes was facing the People's Party team under Sir Edward Morris, and it will be interesting to see where he ended up in this contest—namely, at the foot of the poll:

The figures were:—
A. W. Piccott 1206
Edward Parsons 1200
Eli Dawe 1163

A. H. Seymour 1150
W. A. Oke 1139
Arthur Barnes 1129

That year Hon. Eli Dawe, a Bondite, carried the third seat. This was the fall of the deadlock election, 18 on each side, and as everybody knows a second election became necessary the following spring. The figures for May, 1909, were:

A. W. Piccott 1444
A. H. Seymour 1404
Edward Parsons 1403

John Parsons 1223
Arthur Barnes 1210
Eli Dawe 1195

In that election Dr. Barnes moved up from last place to second last place, and that is his latest record in Harbor Grace!

Six years ago, in the election of 1913, though Sir Robert Bond was then leading, Dr. Barnes lacked the courage to face the District, and we understand he is only going there now because, as with most of the other Squires candidates, inducements have been offered him which he did not feel like refusing. During the past five or six years he has been connected with educational work under the Church of England school department, and incidentally, as our young lady clerk pointed out in our issue of two days ago, he contrived to get $250 for his "very laborious" services in starting a school for soldiers which ran for a few weeks in the Spring of 1917.

And this is the man we are told is going to sweep everything before him in Harbor Grace. Evidently the Squires-Cooker papers appear to think that the people of the country are gullible enough to swallow anything just now. These papers and the crowd who write for them will remain under this impression for a few weeks longer, and then on polling day their "awakening" will come and they will see their political finish for all time.
