Superintendent Hiltz of the Annapolis County Hospital Gives Some Interesting Data Concerning the Care of Paupers and Insane Throughout the Province.—Improved Methods Now Adopted.

Previous to the year 1850, very little if any provision was made for the care of the insane, and paupers of the Province of Nova Scotia.

Insanity previous to this date had not got in its atrocious hold on the population as it has today. At that time cases were so rare, that when one did occur, the unfortunate victim was looked upon by many as being possessed with a demon. It may be hardly fair to state that the victims of insanity were treated as though thus affected, but it is quite evident that such ill-contrived methods were used, in confining the victim, that one cannot help feelings of repugnance and indignation at the barbarous methods which existed at that time. We are told that these victims were chained or fastened in small out-buildings, in the vicinity of their homes, or subjected to some other such crude confinement while the less harmless wanderers about the country unguided and unsheltered.

A NEW ERA

With the inception of Mt. Hope in 1859 (now the N. S. Hospital) a new era dawned upon these people. In that year we find that seventy patients were admitted to this institution. Of that number eleven recovered, or a percentage of recoveries on admissions of 15.7. Following the records of this institution up to the present time we find that some five-thousand patients have been admitted, and over two thousand recovered, or a percentage of recoveries on admissions of 44.5. The above record needs but little comment. Suffice it to say that with this record there is evidence of the vast and important work associated with the N. S. Hospital, preside I cover by an able Superintendent, and admitted to be one of the best in North America.

IN THE BEGINNING

We must again refer back to the year 1859, in order that we may in some feeble manner follow the unfortunate victim, and the provisions made for his welfare up to the present time. In this particular I wish to refer to the municipalities. As I have already intimated, formerly, the victim of insanity was looked upon as one possessed with some evil power, rather than one of God's unfortunate creatures and worthy of sympathetic treatment from the hands of his fellow-men. In this age the enlightenment and civilization of a community is in reality evidenced by the care it bestows upon its afflicted members. By this test our enlightenment and civilization previously was lacking in essential features.

However necessity began to lead the way for thought, and thought to action. True, the way was opened by the erection of Mt. Hope. But this was but a beginning. As time went by difficulties arose. It became more evident that increased accommodation must be provided not only for the insane but for the pauper. This problem was dealt with in the different municipalities in a manner perhaps not consistent with the best interests of civilization. The man or woman who became incapacitated, and was responsible to his or her more fortunate fellow-men for shelter and food, was turned over to the lowest bidder, and there to face his second affliction at the mercy only of his master. This condition I regret still exists in some parts of our fair Dominion.

A FORWARD STEP

But in our Province another step is taken. The people begin to awaken to a deeper sense of duty, and finally one municipality and still another erects an Institution for the Care of her Poor and Insane. (not acute). A Superintendent and matron are put in charge, a physician is appointed to attend to the physical welfare of the patients. The Provincial Government appoints a competent man to inspect these Institutions and everything seems to be fairly satisfactory. But as time goes on it is found that conditions are still not what they should be. Men are put in charge who have had no experience, and have not the best interests of the inmates at heart. The rudiments of cleanliness are unknown or willfully neglected, while on the other hand the municipal authorities give so little thought to the question of efficiency, that the necessary funds are not forthcoming with which to conduct these Institutions properly. We have evidence of this from the report of Dr. Sinclair some fourteen years ago. But happily since that time conditions, though not perfect, have been greatly improved.

TWENTY-NINE COUNTY INSTITUTIONS

There are in our Province today twenty-nine County Asylums, Poor Houses and Poor Farms, and at the end of 1909 there were two hundred and nine inmates confined in these Institutions, and classed as follows: Children 80; sane adults 478; Epileptic and mentally defective, 701.

The need of an Institution for the feeble minded of our Province is becoming more and more apparent and the method now adopted by the various municipalities in caring for the above classed population under one roof, is not commendable. With but few exceptions, there seems to be but little thought granted in the plans of the different buildings of this class even of those built quite recently. Of course there are exceptions. It would seem a good way out of the difficulty to have these Institutions built under the direction of the Inspector of Public Charities, or some other person familiar with conditions that exist.

ANnapolis COUNTY LEADS

Annapolis County seems to have led the way in the care of her Insane and Poor, having two buildings of brick separate and apart. In the Asylum patients from all over the Province are admitted, the authorities not confining the admissions to that of the County.

To those employed in management of our County Institutions I would say as a goal for the best interests of your respective Institutions. Endeavor to make it as pleasant for the inmates as your care as is possible. Make the surroundings such that you would not be ashamed to have any that are near and dear to you placed in such Institutions, or fear for their comfort. Tell the people in your community what you are trying to accomplish. Get them interested, and nine times out of ten they will help. To the powers that be! Help along a good cause and pay the men in charge of these Institutions a decent wage. Stand at their back in all things pertaining to the welfare of their charges. It is a fact that more is expected of these employees, and smaller wages paid than to any employee engaged in public service.

A Big Shoe Merger

MONTRÉAL, February 5.—Ames H. Holden, limited, and the James McCready Co., Ltd., two of the largest boot and shoe manufacturers in the Dominion, have been acquired by J. Lorne McGibbon, who will form a new company which will probably be known as the Ames Holden-McGibbon company. Mr. McGibbon would not give details as to the purchase price, but a report has it as high as four million dollars were paid for the two concerns. The deal has been put through on an absolutely cash basis. There will be a separate factory for each of three grades.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES PAIN

The Fire and Middleton's Future

(The Outlook)

The fire on Friday last was a rough throw down for many of our business men and a cold creek to the town itself. But there are pleasing features as well.

The many telegrams and letters of sympathy from sister towns, organizations and individuals are gratifying indeed. The fair way in which the insurance men have treated the claims against them is another pleasing feature. But the most encouraging feature of all is the manly way in which our business men have faced the situation. To see the results of years of labor swept away in an hour and to be obliged to begin again where one started ten or twenty years ago is discouraging. Yet we hear no suggestion of giving up in despair, nor see any sign of lack of faith in the future of our town. Middleton has good reason to feel proud of the quality of our business men. Such men are the best guarantee of the future progress of our town.

Important problems are now before our town for solution which will demand our best wisdom and most united action. The rebuilding of the burned buildings is one. The establishment of a brick district of greater or less extent is another and the lighting question is still with us.

One suggestion regarding rebuilding

A. F. HILTZ
Supt. Annapolis Co. Hospital

It is that possibly the Royal Bank might depart from its usual custom sufficiently to rebuild a larger building containing a couple of stores for leasing. Another is that Sunbeam Lodge now erect the much talked of Oddfellows Hall and make the building large enough to include stores and offices. A third suggestion is that some of our wealthier citizens either singly or in company invest their capital in business blocks. Such investments would prove profitable to the investors and at this juncture would make it easier for our citizens who have sustained losses to recover from them.

Most Canadian towns that have suffered from fire have set out an exclusively brick district. To do otherwise appears to be inviting another disaster and indicates a failure to learn from sad experience. The difficulty is that it may make harder the already hard task of the fire losers. When however it is remembered that the increased cost of lumber has materially lessened the difference in cost between wood and brick and that the difference in insurance rates between brick and wooden buildings and their contents is from 100 to 200 per cent and also the smaller cost for paints and repairs on the brick building the hardship entailed by the brick district is much less than generally supposed. It is a difficult question that cannot be arranged on the "give and take" plan and it is in this spirit that the brick district question should be met.

The electric lighting question which appeared to be a somewhat distant one for Middleton has been brought close at hand again by the destruction of a large number of gas lighting plants in the town. It will be remembered that a few months ago the board of trade realizing that one of the greatest factors in the development of any town is the obtaining of electricity generated from water power for lighting and motive purposes determined to ascertain just what value the water powers near Middleton possess. The cooperation of the town council was obtained and a useful report will shortly be the outcome. This report will prove a timely one.

For the solution of the problems above referred to and many others which will arise in the near future we need the board of trade, which has contributed so much to the development of Middleton in the past, our town council and school board all working in harmony and our citizens animated with the determination to see Middleton arise from its ashes a bigger, better and busier town than it has ever been.

To Sunday School Workers

And this should include all over five years of age. I would like to make a personal appeal to everyone of you to make a special effort to increase your giving for this noblest work this year.

The importance of the work is shown by its expansion each year. A good thing is bound to grow and the more any organization grows the more money is needed to make it a success. Organized Sunday School work in Nova Scotia needs more money and it is the privilege of everyone to help. Four cents per scholar will raise the apportionment. Five cents per scholar would help the organization to expand. It is unfortunate that many will give nothing and that means more for the ones who realize that there is one of the best ways to spend money. Giving for this purpose means much. (1) It broadens the view and enlarges the mind of the giver. (2) It advances Christ's Kingdom. (3) It is in the uplift of man by providing the means for education in virtue and knowledge of right. (4) It helps to lead a right at the age when they are most easily influenced the future men and women of our nation and makes for a better and cleaner national life in the future.

I would like to suggest to superintendents that one Sunday in each month or one Sunday in each quarter be set apart for a collection for organized S. S. work and that notice be specially given of this collection beforehand. I feel sure that the collections and giving would increase if this were done. Will the superintendents and workers who read this appeal have it read before their schools?

Let us have an increase everywhere this year, remembering that it is going into the bank that will give generous interest if not now in Eternity.

Pres. Annapolis Co. S. S. A.

Perished in Home
Mother Was at a Moving Picture Show When Accident Occurred.

MONTRÉAL, Feb. 3.—Mrs. George Marlow went to a moving picture show this evening, leaving her two children Donald and Annie, six and seven years of age, in the flat occupied by the family on Chatham St. Boys playing in the yard in the rear noticed smoke pouring from the windows and summoned the firemen. A few dashes of water extinguished the blaze. The children had taken refuge in a cupboard of the kitchen and were both dead when the firemen managed to gain access to the place.

Chief of Police Campeau stated tonight that it was his intention to see if criminal proceedings could be instituted against the mother for leaving such small children alone. There was too much of that sort of thing going on in the city in his opinion.

Kentville Discusses Permanent Roads

A Meeting of the Citizens of Kentville Addressed by Mr. Bishop, Superintendent of Streets and Waterworks, Dartmouth.—Describes the Necessary Process of Permanent Road-making.

(Kentville Advertiser)

The public meeting to discuss Permanent Roads held at the Court House on Monday night was well attended. It was held under the auspices of the Board of Trade and President R. S. Eaton occupied the chair. The citizens seemed much interested in the discussion and the Town of Wolfville showed that it was fully alive to this great question by sending a delegation composed of three councillors, J. E. Hales, J. D. Chambers and Prof. Haycock and Superintendent of the streets, Arthur Johnson.

Mr. Watson Bishop, Superintendent of Streets and Water works of Dartmouth was called upon and gave an address which was of great interest and value. Mr. Bishop knew the conditions in Kentville because he was long a resident here and superintendent of streets for many years. He believed that the under surface of our streets were excellent for the making of a macadamized road. There would be no need of excavation on account of frost, to give the foundation and he thought it would not be necessary to put the stone the whole width of the street.

Mr. Bishop gave figures for treatment of different streets in Dartmouth showing that 3000 to 3500 tons per mile was about what should be used. They used a stone crusher in Dartmouth which would crush on an average about seven tons per hour including time lost in holdups, breaks etc., and he estimated the cost of crushing and placing where needed on the street at twenty cents per ton. Dartmouth could get plenty of stone delivered at the crusher at twenty-five cents per ton. The probable cost at Kentville would be about fifty cents per ton. He thought a good stone crusher with proper screens and gravity delivery could be erected at Margeson's dam and stone delivered from Canaan side at the top of bank over crusher. The water power could be sold for months not in use for crusher. The rocks from ledge through Highbury and Canaan would be excellent for streets. Mr. Bishop spoke of adobe seal wall of rock at Blomidon which was superior for street construction. This could be delivered at Wolfville, Windsor, etc., but not so easily at Kentville.

After Mr. Bishop had finished his address a general discussion followed, in which the representatives from Wolfville were invited and took part freely. Messrs Hales and Charr showed that they had made a study of road making and understood well the cost of machinery and the necessary process of permanent road making. Councillor Hales stated what Wolfville had done in purchasing machinery consisting of a crusher, steam roller, etc. and suggested that if Kentville only desired to do a limited amount of permanent road construction that Wolfville would no doubt sell the crushed stone at a reasonable rate.

THE HOME

MAKING A MAN OF THE BOY.

"Now, now, now, now," spluttered the Colonel, as he came in and found the baby crying; "what's the matter with the boy?"

"I don't know," answered Mrs. Rollins, wearily. "I'm afraid he's sick. He isn't hungry, and I'm sure there are no pins scratching him. I wish mother had come over with you."

"Yes," said the Colonel, "she could have told you—in a second. But let his grand-daddy have him. Maybe he just wants a change."

The old gentleman set the baby down upon the floor and in a few minutes had him chasing a ball around the room with gurgles of joy. "You see," observed the Colonel, after awhile, he laid the tired but contented youngster in his mother's arms. "All he wanted was something to do. He was just bored. Life gets monotonous even to a baby if he has to lie and look at the furniture all day long. It wants to do something something physical, and it oughtn't to be all play, either."

"Why, father," cried Mrs. Rollins, "you wouldn't put a child like this to work, would you?"

"Well, I wouldn't set it to hoist corn or splittin' stove wood," chuckled the Colonel. "I don't claim a little mite like him can do a thing useful, but work doesn't have to be all the time. Most people can see the difference between work and play a mile off, but sometimes they are so much alike it's hard to tell which from t'other. Down South when an old colored mammy wants to keep her pickaninny out of mischief she rubs molasses on his palms. Then she gives it a feather. The feather sticks to the hand that takes it. The kid pulls it away with the other hand and it sticks there. And so it goes from hand to hand for hours, the youngster being so interested he doesn't know how time is flyin'. But that is not play, it's work. The pickaninny don't find any fun in the job o' pullin' that feather away from his hand. He's just busy. He's got something to do that keeps his mind concentrated and he's perfectly satisfied."

"And that's what I mean when I say even a baby ought to have something to do and that something shouldn't be all play. I believe in play for boys. Lord love you, rest lots o' it. But the mainbusiness of a man is work, and a boy ought to begin trainin' for it mighty early in life. The earlier he begins the easier it is for him to get the habit of industry. Let a boy run loose—do nothing but play until he's fifteen or sixteen, and it's pretty hard for him to begin to knock-down to labor of any kind. He thinks he's been imposed on gets sour and sulky, and apt as not he keeps that attitude toward work all his life. Men like that never amount to much. No man ever got to the top, or even half way up the slope of success who didn't find pleasure in his work. And the idea that work is a pleasure and not a hardship ought to be bred into a boy right from the start."

"This little rascal will soon be toddlin' all around the house. He'll be brimful and rarin' over with energy. If you don't give him something to do he'll get peevish and fretful and that'll put the spool germs into his disposition. Let him play and let him have plenty of simple playthings that'll give his imagination a choice. I don't take any stock in these toys that are so doggone complete they leave nothin' to do for the child to think about. But in with his play give him something to do that'll be the beginning of labor. Teach him to pick up his playthings and put them away when he gets tired of them. Give him to understand that is part of the game. Let him help you with your housework. For some years his help will be a hindrance, but you mustn't mind that. Assure him that he is helpin' you, that you wouldn't know how in the world you could get along if it wasn't for his aid, and that it makes you mighty proud to have a boy who can do so much for his mother. Then you'll see his eyes sparkle and his little chest puff out. Then he'll begin to understand the joy of labor for somebody he loves, and that, my dear, is the essence of manhood.

"As he gets older he can learn to do many things and in time his help will become real. When he gets to the dignity of a room to himself he should be taught it is his duty to keep it in order and if you imbue him with the pride of ownership he'll enjoy doin' it. It always seemed to me to be wrong to bring up a boy with the idea that housework is unmanly."

"It's a sort of a relic of the times when women did all the work and the men loafed in the shade. I haven't got much use for the man who is too ignorant or too lazy or too ashamed to help his wife when she needs help and I think every boy ought to learn some of the essentials of housekeeping, partly because he ought to know 'em on general principles, but mainly because he's got to get his first lessons in cheerful labor where he spends his first years in the home."

"And you never should forget, my dear, that cheerfulness is the main point to be considered. It's not so much that he should learn to work as it is that he should learn to work willingly. You can spoil him mighty early in the game by holdin' out work as a punishment, somethin' terrible to be inflicted when he's bad. That'll make him afraid of it right at the start, and the older he gets the worse scared he'll be of it. There are lots o' grown people in this country now who are afraid to look an honest job in the face and I kind o' think early fright is responsible for most of it. That isn't the right way to go at it. Let him see that everythin' worth havin' in this world has to be paid for one way or another, and that there's no currency so honest nor so universal as labor. "But I don't want you to get the notion in your pretty head that we ought to break this kid to harness right off and keep him there. Not a bit of it, my dear. He must have somethin' to do from now on, but the most of it must be just play. The work must come in like shortenin' in the pie crust; he won't be much good without it, but a little of it will go a long way."

HOW TO BE GRACEFUL AND BEAUTIFUL.

Always rest the entire weight on one foot, to avoid a military gait. Always turn the head slightly to arch the throat.

Always turn the body away a little from the person to whom one is talking.

Always curve the arm slightly and let the wrist continue the general curving line of the arm.

Never draw the chin in, but thrust it forward and slightly upward.

Never make the arm straight. Such a line is positively ugly.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1911.

The communication of Mr. A. F. Hiltz, published on the first page of this issue of the Monitor-Sentinel will be of interest to many of our readers, especially those who have friends or relatives afflicted with the terrible disease of insanity. Though the methods of treatment have changed for the better within past years, in many cases greatly improved methods of dealing with these afflicted people still have to be learned.

It is when we compare the more advanced methods of these days in caring for the poor and afflicted with those practised in the past that we realize how the world is progressing, and how Christian charity and the higher instincts of humanity are advancing.

It is appalling to think that in this enlightened age there are still sections of our province where the practice of selling these unfortunate to the lowest bidder still prevails. It is a crying disgrace and shame to any Municipality guilty of this inhuman practice.

Annapolis County is proud of her Municipal Institutions and the efficient and humane manner in which they are conducted. The responsibility and labor devolving on those in charge is very onerous, and undoubtedly merits more substantial remuneration as well as the strongest practical encouragement.

SMALL-POX IN MONCTON IS MOST ALARMING.

MONCTON, February 5.—The small-pox situation in this city and the neighboring counties is alarming. Two new cases in Moncton were discovered today, and in St. Paul, Kent county, fourteen houses are quarantined and all churches and schools closed.

ANNAPOLIS SCHOONER MISSING.
New York, Feb. 2.—Among the vessels near the scene of last night's dynamite explosion was the Barque Ingrid. The Ingrid is one of the few remaining clipper ships, and hails from L'Espérance, in Norway. Just ahead of the Ingrid was the two-masted schooner, E. B. Hardwick, Annapolis, Nova Scotia. Aboard the Hardwick was Captain Herbert Sanders. He had been congratulating himself all day on having finally reached port in safety after one of the roughest mid-winter passages ever made down the Eastern coast from Nova Scotia. With the Captain was his son, Murray Sanders, and a crew of six.

No news as to the fate of Captain Sanders and his crew is available. Several members of the crew of the Ingrid were blown to atoms.

WIRELESS FOR D.A.R. STEAMERS
(Yarmouth Times)

The D.A.R. Steamers Prince George, Prince Arthur and Boston will shortly be equipped with the wireless system of telegraphy. The apparatus for the Boston is now in Halifax and will be placed on the ship at once. A wireless station will, it is presumed, be opened, but for the present it is said that messages sent from Boston will be received on board of one of the Princesses. It is needless to point out how useful the wireless system will be on the steamers plying between Boston and Yarmouth.

THE SENATOR'S ITALIAN

A prominent United States senator, who claims to be rather more cultivated than some of his colleagues, prides himself on his knowledge of Italian. During a recent visit to New York he patronized a street boot-black stand, and as he got into the seat directed the boot-black in his best Italian, to make haste, as he was trying to catch a t. n. The boot-black stared at the senator for a moment in apparent perplexity, then answered, briefly: "Me no speak English."

A newshy standing on the corner had witnessed the incident with interest.

"He ain't no Frenchman," he observed, confidentially, as the senator got down from the stand; "he's a bloomin' Dago. Talk Italian."

The driver of the Wedgeport mails who abstracted from the mail bags several ledgers containing cheques, forging and having them cashed has refunded the money. The prisoner pleaded guilty and was sentenced by Stipendiary Pelton to five years in Dorchester Penitentiary.

The coming summer promises to be a busy one in Wolfville, says the Acadia. Street improvement, the building of the new Baptist church, government building, opera house and a number of residences now contemplated, with other work, are among the things planned on.

The Rev. E. Underwood left for Halifax yesterday and expects to be away about a week or ten days, in consequence of which there will be no services either in St. James' church, Bridgetown, or in St. Mary's, Belleisle, on Sunday next. Mrs. Underwood is visiting friends in Digby.

The Rev. Mr. Mingle, Secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance of Canada, will address a public meeting in the interests of the Alliance, in the lecture room of the Methodist church on Thursday evening, the 8th inst., at 7.30 o'clock. A collection in aid of the Alliance will be taken at the meeting.

Early Sunday morning, the boarding house and large barn of S. S. Stevens, at Kingston station was burned. A quantity of hay, 1,200 bushels of oats, 75,000 hoops, and a cow were burned and other personal property. The loss is $5,700 and the insurance $2,600. The origin of the fire is unknown.

The blizzard which swept Upper Canada last week reached us on Wednesday. Quite a quantity of snow fell but it was carried away by wind and rain. On Friday night the mercury dropped to ten below zero, and it continued cold until Saturday afternoon when rain set in. The temperature again dropped on Sunday and still continues around the zero mark.

Western Chronicle—Messrs. Payne and FitzRandolph have carefully examined all the largest orchards between Windsor and Kentville and so far have not found any nests, but the finding of three nests last spring has been reported to them from Bridgetown to Digby, especially Bear River, seems to be the district most seriously affected and to which they will devote special attention.

Middleton Outlook—Mr. E. L. Thorne, supervisor of agencies in the Maritime Provinces for the Royal Bank of Canada, arrived in town on Saturday and remained until Monday. He was present when the vault was opened and he and Manager John were greatly pleased to find all papers and books in perfect condition. Mr. Thorne says the Royal will erect a brick building in the spring to replace that destroyed.

The lecture delivered in the basement of the Methodist church on Friday evening, Jan. 27th by John Irvin, K.C., was well attended and much enjoyed by all present. Indeed the evening was spoken of as one of the most pleasant and profitable of the many excellent exercises held under the direction of the Epworth League. The subject "Agricola" or an account of the life of the late Hon. John Young, has been presented by Mr. Irvin before the Historical Society of Nova Scotia.

The St. John papers report that a Mrs. Weasel of Bridgetown, who was going to Maine to visit her sister, was turned back by the U. S. government officials because she had hit one dollar in her purse outside of her ticket, and returned to St. John. A pitiable story is told of her walking the streets in a snow-storm unable to obtain shelter, until she was taken in charge by the police and placed in a Salvation Army home. So far as the Monitor can learn no woman of that name lives in Bridgetown.

The choruses and other items upon the program have been faithfully studied and the result, it is anticipated, will be the rendering of a splendid program. Professor Williams writes that he is looking forward with pleasure to the privilege of once more playing upon the organ, to which he became so thoroughly attached when it was in Wesley church, Yarmouth.

A system of pilfering has been going on for some time at the school house, such articles as mittens, caps money and numerous small articles disappearing from school-rooms and cloak-rooms. On Thursday last as the schools were closing, while one of the teachers, Miss Palfrey, was temporarily absent from the room her watch was taken from her desk. The pupil upon whom suspicion falls would do well to immediately return the lost article or trouble is likely to follow. The authorities should act promptly to stop the practise, and apprehend the guilty pupil or pupils.

A case of diphtheria in the family of Mr. Gordon Goldsmith was reported in the last issue of the Monitor. The following day two new cases developed in the same neighborhood, the south side of the river, the other two children being Mr. Wm. Howe's little girl, Mary, and Mr. Thos. Marshall's little girl, Marion. These children were playmates and probably contracted the disease in some unknown manner at the same time as the three cases are confined to one locality. It was ordered by the town authorities that the schools be closed at once, excepting the High School, Department, and all the Sunday-Schools were also closed. No other cases have developed and two of the children are recovering, but the little daughter of Mr. Goldsmith has since died. The Monitor chronicles the sad event with deep regret, and with sympathy for the bereaved parents. Interment took place at Perotte, where Mr. Goldsmith formerly resided.

From Manager to Prison Cell

The Tragic Descent of W. R. Travers, Manager of the Farmers' Bank.

W. R. Travers, general manager of the Farmers' Bank! No more the high-sounding title, the honorable position in the world of finance. That name is stricken from the rolls—may more—it is officially obliterated. The crop-haired, haggard, dull-eyed man in ugly striped clothes has even lost his individuality. He is to be known on the prison rolls as number such and such. A turnkey will lock him in or release him as though he were a irresponsible animal, another prison officer will direct him at his enforced toil—and yet others armed with rifles will stand ready to shoot him down like a dog should he in a moment of madness, endeavor to escape.

Travers! Once the head of a financial institution, occupying a post whose conduct called for business acumen, keen insight and mental powers of the highest order—now a convict, scorned by the humble office cleaners and lower in the eyes of the world than the veriest roustabout, who hunts odd jobs a free man. Several years ago a gentleman purchased the corner of Roxborough avenue and Chestnut Park road, Toronto, but lately apportioned out from the old Macpherson estate, and built thereon a handsome house. A garage occupied one corner of the spacious lot, leaving an ample lawn space. The owner had this sodded and then turned his attention to the boulevard. It needed sodding; it also required an addition of shade trees. What was a house without the cool, green foliage of trees to close about it to offset the hot suns of July and August. How they would relieve the bareness and take away from the garishness of the new dwelling!

As to the establishment, an expert and high-priced chauffeur attended to the fine car housed in the garage nearby. But it was the interior economy (save the name) of the house that really gave rise to remark. Within those walls there lived and moved, so it is said, a creature exotic to this crude Canada of ours—a liveried flunkey—a butler gorgeous in striped waist coat and red plush breeches. This resplendent menial moved swiftly to and fro between dining room and kitchen, during intervals having an eye to see that the wine glasses of host or guests should not remain empty. But Travers was a housewife rather than a glutton. The bank manager was not the good gourmand but the gourmet, the epurée who insists that his fare, though often temperate in amount, be of the choicest. Snowy napery must grace the table, while choice vintages need to be delicately decanted into glasses of sparkling crystal.

Polished cutlery, fine linen, glasses, solid silver, cut flowers, all belokened the man of taste. Good things in and out of season tempted the fickle appetite of the worried brain worker.

And now—disallowed knife and fork forced to eat the plainest of fare with a pewter spoon! No pictured walls of a pretty dining room to greet his eyes, but the grey stone walls, the iron bars of a prison cell.

VICTIMS OF CONSUMPTION.

MOTHER AND TWO CHILDREN AT MUSKOKA FREE HOSPITAL.

Are Now Under Treatment—Husband, Too, Had Been a Patient—A Tragedy in Real Life—Heavy Debt on Institution.

A story from the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives tells of a mother who, with her two children, is now under treatment in that institution. The husband had been a patient, but the case was an advanced one when the patient entered, and he has since passed away. There is little doubt but that the wife was infected as a result of caring for her husband, and now she is in the Muskoka Hospital. Her little girl, about five years of age, and a boy of ten are with her, both being afflicted with this dread disease.

The words of the mother are pathetic. She writes: "I went to a doctor and got him to examine my lungs to see whether there was anything wrong with them; and he said that the right lung was affected. A little rest, he hoped, would build me up. I have a little girl, about five years old, and the doctor says that if I could take her up with me it would do her ever so much good, as she is not very strong. I have three more children, and one of these, a boy of ten, seems also to be afflicted, and it is advisable that he should enter the hospital."

These three are of the 104 patients who are residents in this deserving institution and being cared for without money and without price. The sorry part of it is that the trustees are carrying a debt of something like $40,000, incurred largely through the additions that have been made within the past year, and that have more than doubled the accommodation of the institution, together with the heavy cost of maintaining so large a number of free patients. Readers who desire to help this great charity may send their contributions to Mr. W. J. Gage, Chairman Executive Committee, 84 Spadina avenue, or the Secretary-Treasurer, 247 King street west, Toronto.

The Muskoka Free Hospital has ever lived up to its claims of never having refused a single patient because of his or her poverty.

FIRE AT TRURO CAUSED A LOSS OF PROBABLY $20,000.

Truro, Jan. 21.—Crews Bros' Drug and Book store on Inglis Street was discovered on fire this morning at two-thirty. The firemen succeeded in getting the fire under control at half-past three o'clock. The building is gutted, and the stock totally destroyed. Both are insured. The loss is large, and may approach twenty thousand dollars.

Castles in Spain.

A few weeks ago were chronicled the claims of one Mrs. C. Campbell, who calmly informed Canadians that the Ottawa authorities owed her a billion dollars' worth of land—the Plains of Abraham among other slices. Now we have a little national recreation to record. C. W. Heise, a 28-year-old Toronto chap, clerking in the G.T.R. freight department for a living, says that one hundred and thirty million dollars' worth of Philadelphia legally belongs to him, his cousin Edward Quance and eleven other heirs. One hundred and two years ago, these gentlemen's grandfather, Col. Baker, possessed an estate as large as an Ontario farm right in the heart of the town. An enterprising man was the colonel, possibly liking his native Hamburg better than America. And so he leased his acres for ninety-nine years; happy in his ignorance the boulevards and street cars sometimes boost real estate values as high as diamonds. The lease expired three years ago. Messrs. Heise and Quance were on the job at once. They have been knocking the evidence into shape. Lawyers have helped them scale the colonel's genealogical tree. They have traced the warrior back to the hour that he set sail on the billows from Hamburg for the New World. Their castles in Spain for some time have looked bright. But a little maddening "If" has cropped up.

Get His Whole Job. A constable died two years ago at Worcester, Eng. and not only did his successor take his clothes and number, but also his head. He went to lodge with the widow, and now has married her.

Marriage Unnecessary. When a drunkard among the Nascapue Indians was found frozen to death recently on their Canadian reservation, the other members of the tribe made up a jury for an inquest. As they had seen their white neighbors do, and brought in this verdict: "The deceased came to his death from the freezing of a great quantity of water inside him, which, they were of the opinion, he had drunk for rum."

These Indians are the most primitive tribe now in existence and live as their fathers did for untold generations. When conversing they either shout or adopt a pectant, whining tone which would lead one to imagine that they are quarreling violently, where they are merely discussing some trivial topic in the most peaceful way.

Marriage with them is simply a consent to live together. If the girl is willing, so much the better; if not—provided her parents agree—she is dragged off forcibly to the wigwam of her future husband. Doing most of the hard work, they soon grow hideously ugly.

Young Nova Scotia Aviator Lost Victory Within Sight of Home

Havana, Jan. 30.—J. A. D. McCurdy, a Nova Scotian by birth, but now affiliated with American aviators, set a new record today in over-water flights, covering a distance of close to a hundred miles, from Key West to within ten miles of Havana, when, from a slight accident he was compelled to drop into the sea. There he remained, his biplane floating by pontoons, until the lifeboat of the torpedo boat destroyer Terry picked him up.

VICTORY WITHIN GRASP.

With victory within grasp, his goal in plain view, an accident trivial in itself, for which no provision was possible, robbed McCurdy of his almost won title of conqueror of the Florida Straits. With Morro Castle scarcely a dozen miles away, his aeroplane rushing at the rate of fifty miles an hour at an altitude of 1,000 feet, a break in a small part of the engine, a ruptured crank case, permitting of the escape of all the lubricating oil, necessitated McCurdy's immediate descent. Havana was then in plain view, and Camp Columbia, where the landing was to be made was only a short distance beyond.

ALIGHTED LIKE BIRD.

At the time of the descent the aeroplane was about an equal distance from the Pauding and Terry, the leading ships which were about ten miles apart. The intrepid operator, when the sound of the engine told him something was wrong, instantly shut off the power. He descended rapidly, swinging steadily to the water and alighting as gracefully as a gull with outspread wings. The pontoons proved abundantly buoyant, McCurdy not even wetting his feet.

THE STORY TOLD BY THE AVIATOR.

"Never have I experienced so wonderful a sensation as when I rose a thousand feet and took the course. Ahead of me was a wondrous mirage, the sea, instead of a horizontal plain below, having the appearance of a huge vertical picture, on which the funnel tops of the destroyers appeared like black spots. Soon I became accustomed to this, and the sensation was glorious as I rushed forward at fifty miles an hour toward this wonderful panorama, which then appeared to recede from me. It seemed no time before Morro and Havana were in plain view and I could almost see the waiting crowds. Then something went wrong with the engine. I saw oil my oil running out and there was nothing to do but to descend. This I accomplished with perfect ease.

"The accident only increases my earnest desire to effect the conquest of the Florida straits, and I have the fullest confidence that I can."

From Your Druggist: Psychine, the great Vitality-Builder

(PRONOUNCED SI-KEEN)

You know what it would mean to us were Psychine a preparation without a definite, beneficial relation. After the first bottle which we would buy, no more would be purchased. And we would go out of business. But we're not going out of business, and our confidence that we're not is based upon our third of a century's experience with Psychine.

Ten years after Confederation we commenced compounding Psychine. Since that time, we have sold many millions of bottles.

We have cured many hundreds of thousands of virulent and oftentimes fatal cases of disease.

We have in our files many hundreds of thousands of uncollected testimonials.

And we have grown from a small beginning to be one of the largest proprietary manufacturers in this country.

Here then is proof that we have in Psychine a preparation with abundant and demonstrated effectiveness, more so than any other preparation we, or anyone else, ever heard of.

Here then is the reason of our unalterable confidence in Psychine, that it is in fact the greatest preparation of its kind in the world.

Here then is why we have inaugurated a policy of actually buying hundreds of thousands of bottles of Psychine to give to those who should use. To those who are blindly groping in the dark for relief from their misery, who may perhaps be using wrong methods to recover their health and their strength.

LAGRIFFE

The greatest and most effective agents for the bodily health are the white corpuscles, phagocytes.

These white corpuscles eat any germ of disease that gains an entrance to the body, when they're in large enough numbers and sufficiently strong. When they're not sufficiently strong, the disease germs devour them and disease holds the body.

For centuries almost, herbs, nature's own remedies, have been the most efficient foe to disease.

We have not known very definitely just how.

But now science tells us that certain of these herbs increase the number of the white corpuscles and their strength.

These certain herbs are incorporated in Psychine.

We go to the ends of the earth for these herbs—to Arabia, to South America, to China and to Japan.

They are compounded in the most costly chemical appliances in this country.

And the result is Psychine—for a third of a century the most effective vitality-builder the world has known.

The one preparation that has cured many thousands of the following diseases:

Lo Grippe	Bronchial Coughs
Bronchitis	Weak Lungs
Hemorrhages	Weak Voice
Sore Throat	Spring Weakness
Anemia	Early Decline
Female Weakness	Catarrhal Affections
Indigestion	Catarrh of Stomach
Poor Appetite	Night Sweats
Chills and Fevers	Obstinate Coughs
Sleeplessness and Nervous Troubles	Laryngitis and Dyspepsia
After-effects of Pleurisy, Pneumonia and La Grippe

Nervous Prostration For Three Years

"Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve-cure cured me of a period of nervous prostration of over three years duration, and the Anti-Pain Pills are as necessary to us as the roof of our house. They have been household remedies with us for many years."

WM. J. LOUGHRAN,
1214 Catherine St., Philadelphia, Penna.

Much sickness is due to nervous troubles. Headache, dizziness, epilepsy and insanity are nervous troubles. Then there is a large class of disorders which arise from a weakness of the nerves of an organ or part, as weak lungs, heart, stomach, kidney, bladder, eyes, etc. Dyspepsia and indigestion are usually the result of nervous disorders.

Restorative Nerve

soothes the irritated nerves, and assists the nerve cells to generate nerve force.

CANADA'S LUMBER PRODUCTION FOR 1909.

Ottawa, Jan. 30.—An illuminating return on the lumber production of Canada was issued today by the Dominion Forestry Department. The figures are for 1909, the latest year for which complete returns are available. The total increase of production was 13.9 per cent and among other interesting features brought to light are that Ontario alone produces two-fifths of the Canadian lumber, that spruce is the leading Canadian species, that only six per cent of the wood produced in Canada is hardwood and that the production of square timber for export has declined to such an extent that only one-twelfth as much is produced as formerly.

The total production was 3,914,942,000 feet, board measure and its total value $62,819,477.

Large as this may appear it is a little less than one-ninth of lumber cut in the United States for 1908 and a little less than that cut in Washington State in 1907. Of the whole amount Ontario alone produced two-fifths an increase of 17.3 per cent. In spite of this fact, however, the average value of lumber in Ontario was $19.80 per thousand, whereas a Nova Scotia it was only $11.6. A higher price is charged in Ontario for nearly every species of lumber than is secured in other provinces. So woods comprise 94.3 per cent of the total lumber cut in Canada.

HELPLESS CRIPPLE FROM RHEUMATISM

Five Boxes of "Fruit-a-tives" Cured Her

4 HOME PLACE, TORONTO, DEC. 15th, 1909.

"I was a terrible sufferer from Rheumatism for nearly a year, and my right arm was swollen and the pain was fearful. All down the right side, the pain was dreadful, and I could hardly move for the agony. I was treated by two physicians but their medicine did me no good, and I tried numerous other remedies but received no benefit. I was simply a helpless cripple and suffered from Rheumatism all during last winter.

I saw "Fruit-a-tives" advertised in "The Telegram" and decided to try this remedy. After I had taken one box, I was much better and the pain less, and I continued the treatment with good hopes. When I had taken three boxes, I was so well that I could use my arm again and the pain was practically gone. After I had taken five boxes, I was entirely well again—no pain—no suffering—and now I am as WELL as I ever was.

The cure of my case by "Fruit-a-tives" was indeed splendid because all the doctors failed to even relieve me of my sufferings.

For the sake of others who may suffer from this terrible disease, Rheumatism, I give you permission to publish this statement.

Mrs. LIZZIE BAXTER.

"Fruit-a-tives" is the only remedy that actually cures Rheumatism, and Sciatica because "Fruit-a-tives" is the only medicine that actually prevents Uric Acid being formed in any quantity in the body. If there is no excess of uric acid in the blood, there can be no Rheumatism.

"Fruit-a-tives" keeps the stomach clean—the liver active—the bowels regular—the kidney strong and the skin healthy. These are the organs that rid the body of all waste. When "Fruit-a-tives" so regulates the system that all waste is eliminated, then there can be no waste or "urea" to be changed into uric acid. Thus, there can be no uric acid in the blood, to inflame nerves and cause the pain which we know by the names of Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago, Neuralgia.

"Fruit-a-tives" will cure every trace of Rheumatism. Pain In The Back, Swollen Hands and Feet, and other troubles due to the blood being poisoned by uric acid.

If you are subject to Rheumatism, cure yourself now with "Fruit-a-tives" and be free of pain this winter.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At all dealers, or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa, Ont.

The Sectional Tax for Support of the School

Cameron Thinks It Would Be Better to Remove It as Ontario and He Disapproves of Young Girls in Charge of Country Schools.

To the Editor of The Halifax Herald:—

Sir,—While addressing the committee on technical education last Saturday in Toronto, Principal Scott, of the Normal and model schools, said "that Ontario's schools especially in the country districts are not efficient and never will be until they are in charge of male teachers."

Professionalism ruined the common schools of Ontario as well as of Nova Scotia, "especially in country districts." Educationists in Nova Scotia seem to believe it is a question of money. But Inspector McNeil, of Richmond says:—"Even money sometimes will fail to do it. I have a case in point of recent occurrence. A few years ago I induced a young lady to go to one of these 'vacant' sections. She stayed eight or ten days and came home. She got homesick and could not remain."

Altho a provisionally licensed little girl, the trustee of the section with a number of pupils, offered her the minimum salary required for class C teachers, yet she would not stay. And Mr. McNeil further says:—"Under the present system of sectional taxation the burden is too heavy for many of the country sections, even for some of those that manage to keep their schools open the most of the time."

This is outrageously unjust. The government should make special provision for such sections, to ensure school for at least part of the year.

Professionalism has placed a large number of our country schools in the hands of provisionally licensed little girls in their teens, who, as Inspector McDonald, of Antigonish, observes, "lower and vulgarize the status of the profession," and probably of themselves. Inspectors should not allow little girls in their teens to teach school, until professionally qualified at maturity, unless in graded schools.

There were 250 boys in school, in 1909, in grades 9 and 10. At least 1,000 are qualified to teach a common school in rural districts for one year, which is more advantageous to them than a year in the school, who would gladly engage if properly treated.

Such conditions demand the abolition of sectional taxation in aid of the teacher's salary. It bears too heavily on all sparsely settled country districts. Teachers should be paid by reasonable government grants and by direct tax equitably assessed, with special provisions to induce mainly boys to teach school in country districts.

There is no sectional tax in aid of teachers in Ontario or the western provinces as far as I know. There is no sectional tax for the maintenance of teachers, for 167 teachers, in the city of Halifax, and no vacant school. Why not apply the same principle to country schools?

THE SOUTHERN SEAS.

Readers of old records of exploration in the South Seas will recall frequent references to the heavy swells that beat upon the coast of the navigators with the idea of their remoteness from land. Doctor Vaughan has been the first to measure the sea waves in high southern latitudes by the fact that south of the Cape of Good Hope the prevailing wind in all longitudes is westerly. Thus when a west wind springs up it finds a long swell, the crest of a previous storm wind, still running. The new born wind increases the steepness of this swell, and so forms majestic storm waves, which sometimes obtain a length of 1,200 feet from crest to crest. The average height attained by sea wave in fact is about half the velocity of the wind in miles per hour.

Sir George's Future in Dan...

When Sir George W. Ross was recently created a knight he received a characteristic telegram from his friend, T. C. Irving, general manager of Bradstreet's, from Winnipeg, where Mr. Irving was visiting. Mr. Irving's telegram read:—"Sir George W. Ross, June 27, 1910. "Toronto, Ont. "Congratulations upon your being created a knight by His Majesty. Have a care, however, for it is not clearly stated in Holy Writ (and subsequently confirmed and approved of by the author of the Ross Bible) when referring to the Kingdom of Heaven, there shall be no (knight) there?"

Sir George replied:—"Dear Mr. Irving:—"Your telegram received and congratulations duly appreciated. I do not see why you should quote the Bible for my embarrassment at this time. I think I shall have to refer the matter to Dr. Milligan for explanation. "Geo. W. Ross."

Call Them "Murphies."

A Toronto journalist was spending some days in Northern Quebec where he desired to stir his knowledge of French. He arrived at a small inn where the occasional tourist found a resting-place. There was a waitress of the heavy-footed order, who attended sullenly upon a table of hungry sportsmen.

"Avez-vous des pommes de terre?" asked the Toronto man in such French as he could muster, there was no response. Once again he said pompously, "Avez-vous des pommes de terre?"

The girl looked with impatience upon the would-be Gaul and said angrily, "Aw, eh, on—that's de matter wid the potatoes!"

SAVED BY A SNUFF BOX.

Fit of Sneezing Kept Tiger From Eating English Officer.

Perhaps no man's life was ever saved to him by a more curious circumstance than that attending the escape of a captain of the Bengal Lancers. He had been on a visit to a friend in Rajputana, and went out for a walk in the country about sunset.

After going four or five miles he found himself in a narrow path on the side of a steep hill. The path was a mere ledge in the rock, with a deep chasm on one side and a wall of solid rock on the other. It was not a pleasant place in which to come face to face with a big tiger; but that was just what happened to the captain.

It was too late to withdraw, so he determined to brave it out. The animal had evidently been asleep; for it continued for a few moments to lick itself into full wakefulness. The captain stood still. Presently the tiger dashed at him. Luckily his teeth seized him by the breast, so that he was not hurt by the blow.

Then the captain had a chance to appreciate the feelings of a mouse when it is shaken by a cat. The tiger shook his feet violently as he went, his face distorted by most piteous grimaces.

The truth then dawned upon the soldier. In shaking him the tiger had caused his snuffbox to fly open and the contents fall in the face.

Women and Feathers.

James Buckland, who is fighting for a law in England to prevent the traffic in plumes for hats, calls women who wear feathers on their hats "scattered barbarians." He is caustic in his arraignment of women who would have birds killed to supply them with vanity decorations. "The befuddled Herodias," says he, "cannot please herself in ignorance. The truth is that, for all their boasted refinement, some women remain their native selves. They are in such utter bondage to vanity as to be able to wear feathers on their hats, and when fashion decrees that feathers shall be worn they are absolutely without conscience or feeling, so far as the treatment of their victims is concerned."

Stacks woman's ideas of art in clinging to feathers as an artistic adornment. He says: "A woman who exhibits such raw perception of the beautiful excites no other feeling than one of pity and contempt."

Dust Laden Records.

Searching for important old manuscripts at the British public record office, whether by Shakespearean students or others, is disagreeable work. Nine-tenths of the manuscripts are covered with the dust of ages and an hour among them makes the searcher as black as a sweep. Some of the documents are so fragile that they can scarcely be touched without their falling to pieces, such as those rescued from the House of Lords fire in 1834, which were so hopelessly saturated with water that bundles of them had to be squeezed dry in powerful presses. It has been estimated that it would take fifty housemaids fifty years to spring clean the contents of the record office.
