The fighting has been of a most sanguinary character. One German soldier relates that 1500 of his comrades were buried in a single field.

BOMBARDMENT IS STEADY.

From Ostend to Nieuport, it is said, the allied fleets are keeping up a steady bombardment of the German land forces that has driven the invaders inland, beyond reach of the heavy naval guns.

It is apparent that the Germans gained ground at La Bassee on Saturday, but the extent of their progress at this point cannot be ascertained. Furious fighting continues in that neighborhood.

At Pont-a-Mousson, the invaders have been thrown back a considerable distance, and French troops have also taken all of the roads leading from Valenciennes to the River Aisne.

Lille is still the goal of the allied armies in northern France, and a big movement of troops in that direction today gives rise to the belief that an assault in great force will be delivered very shortly.

Dutch newspapers declare that behind all of the desperate efforts of the Germans to hack a way thru the allied lines, there is careful preparation under way for a retirement at the first sign of disaster to their forces.

British papers today, which is the anniversary of both the battle of Agincourt and the charge of the Light Brigade, look for an early occupation of Ostend by the forces from the fleet of Admiral Hood, standing off the coast of Flanders.

The French War Office communique of this afternoon said: "In the Argonne region our situation is maintained under the conditions announced yesterday. On the upper Meuse our field artillery has destroyed three new German batteries, one of which was of heavy calibre."

In the east our forces have begun an offensive movement on Austro-Hungarian territory and our troops are fighting jointly with the Austro-Hungarians and have taken 1800 prisoners."

RUSSIANS PRESS GERMANS HARD

Many Rear Guard Actions Fought—Austrians Battle Stubbornly.

hold. Seemingly the Russian tactics in retreating to the Vistula and encouraging the Germans to attempt an assault on that city have met with complete vindication. The invaders' lines are bent out of all semblance to a strong defensive, and both armies are declared reeling from the effects of Russian blows. The rejuvenated Austrian corps on the right wing are exposed to a particularly deadly and victorious rest with Russian arms all along the front.

Favored by Winter. The steady advance of the cold season will greatly improve the position of the Russians. The czar's troops are not only unencumbered by the weight of the worst kind, but actually joy in a temperature that would freeze the members of ordinary men. East Prussia, where it seems the next Russian drive will take shape, is a climate of exceptional hardship, and here the enemy will be called upon to face an advancing well provisioned and well satisfied army, in the rigors of an Arctic-like region.

Austrians Sacrificed. "In the region between Radom and Ivangorod, Russian 'Beland' says a statement issued by the official news bureau Saturday night, "attacks frequently have been made by the Germans. When the Russian troops beat the offensive, however, they meet Austrian army operating in this region supported by big brigades of German infantry, upon whom they imposed most systematically difficult rear guard work. Thanks to the Austrian sacrifices the Germans often succeed in sparing their own troops. The largely of the work has been reserved for the Polish corps and the fifth Hungarian corps.

Loss Property Rights. "It is rumored that the minister of the interior has prepared and is going to submit to the council of ministers a law regarding the liquidation of rural property. He intends, it is said, to deprive German and Austrian subjects of the right of owning real estate outside the cities of the twenty-five governments near the frontier or adjoining the Baltic Sea, the Black Sea or the Sea of Azov."

BRITISH FLOTILLA KEEPS ON SHELLING

Attempts to Torpedo Monitors Are Persistent, But Prove Failure.

NEUPOORT HOLDS OUT

All Attacks Repulsed With Aid of British Ships.

(BRITISH OFFICIAL)

LONDON, Oct. 25.—The admiralty has issued the following announcement: "All of Friday monitors and other vessels of the British bombarding flotilla fired on the German right, which they searched thoroughly and effectively in concert with operations of the Belgian army."

All German attacks on Nieuport were repulsed. "Much damage was done to the enemy by the naval fire, which enfilades the German lines, and prisoners taken testify to the heavy losses the enemy has suffered from this cause."

Torpedoes Missed. "Fire also was opened in the afternoon on the German batteries near Ostend. Admiral Hood now has a fine flotilla of vessels, very suitable for this work, but at the same time not of great value."

During the day our ships were persistently attacked by an enemy submarine, and torpedoes were fired without success at the Vylfire and the destroyer Myrindon.

Other British vessels again attacked the submarine. Naval aeroplanes and balloons aided in directing the fire. The weather conditions were fine and favorable. No loss was sustained by the flotilla yesterday."

NEWS OF SPECIAL INTEREST TO WOMEN

"Little Boy" Faces the Spider Problem

By WINIFRED BLACK

(Copyright, 1914, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.)

"COME," said the Little Girl; "come, there is something new and beautiful in the garden. I want you all to look at it."

And because the Little Girl is always finding something new and beautiful and because the day was just beginning and the sun was shining, and the blue morning glories were festooned like a gay garland, across the top of the garden and the pink rose bushes at the foot, and because the blue sea laughed in the sunshine and all the world was fair in the warm hush of September, we followed her.

What a day; a day of gold. The whole world cradled to sleep in the arms of the softly singing wind; a day of amber and amethyst; a day to drink deep of the wonderful beauties of life.

Winifred Black

"Look," said the Little Girl, "there, between the calla lily and the Shasta daisy! Just look! Isn't it perfect?"

And it was perfect—a wheel, a great round wheel of finest lace; a sparkled with the gems of dew.

"Oh," cried the Little Boy, "a lace collar. Who hung it out there to dry?"

And we all laughed, and then we had to tell the Little Boy that it was not a collar at all, but a house, and that a spider lived in it—an ugly black spider.

"Who built the house?" said the Little Boy, dubiously. "And why did they build such a beautiful home for the ugly old black spider, who will bite me if he gets a chance?"

"And when we told the Little Boy that the ugly black spider built the home for himself with no one at all to help him or to tell him how, the Little how to make a beautiful lace house like that?"

And later in the golden morning he came and told the one he knew would not laugh that he had found the spider sitting in his web and that he had leaped over very carefully and looked at him very closely.

"And," said the Little Boy, "isn't it funny he isn't ugly at all—when you look right at him? His eyes shine and shine and he has six perfectly beautiful legs with such nice twidy toes. I'm going to get up early and early in the morning and maybe I can see how he makes the web. And if I gave him always a piece of chocolate or a crumb of crumbly cake, do you think—"

"By Their Works."

And the one who did not laugh did think rather hopefully, for the Little Boy's eyes were very wistful.

And it was all very pleasant and quite amusing and not a little entertaining; and yet I don't believe I want to see the Little Boy when he gets up early in the morning and creeps out to the garden and kneels down and watches the ugly black spider and tries to find out how he spins his wondrous web.

For so have I sat sometimes in the presence of one who spins a delicate web of delightful texture fine drawn from the thread of genius, and somehow, tho' I watch with earnest eyes and with eager heart, I can never quite see just exactly how to spin.

And it is always sad when one who is very young, like the Little Boy, is disappointed.

But still I think it is rather nice of the Little Boy to think that the spider is beautiful, just because he knows how to spin.

Secrets of Health and Happiness

Many Ills Vanish When Soft Tonsils Are Removed

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG
A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins)

LIKE the genie who was summoned by Aladdin's lamp, the tonsil is sometimes a life-saving magician and again a veritable demon of destruction. The tonsil, too, helps some voices and does direful damage to others. Like the Irishman's flea, the tonsil can always be expected "to be where it isn't, to do what it doesn't."

The tongue, the throat and the palate are intimately associated with the little sugar-loaf sponges which project upon each side of the throat. All of these cavernous structures have much to do with the voice.

If you consider the palate an upper tongue and the throat the posterior link of the two, you will have a mental picture of the vocal apparatus affected by your tonsils.

A few medical men still remain active who hold that the tonsils serve a distinct and physiological purpose in the human economy. Most physicians, however, are convinced from a long series of running ears, deafness, heart infections, joint diseases, coughs, "colds," and sore throats that most tonsils are pests and obstructions. Soft Tonsils Harmful.

They are the abiding place of pus germs, malignant microbes, polluted particles of potatoes, decayed food and field victuals which give rise to a breath and malarious emanations. The tonsil is a small, yielding body much shrunken in grown people, soft, mushy and a nuisance in children. The voice is rarely, if ever, changed when these spongy plaques are dissected away, and it is the better part of wisdom always, and as early as possible, to be rid of them.

Enlarged tonsils are wickedly prejudicial to the acuteness and health of the ears as well as to the power, soundness and stamina of the heart. Bacteria of boils, often harmless on the skin and elsewhere, once they lodge in the loose, moss-like tissue of the tonsils, have an unpleasant way of jumping thence into the middle ear, upon the heart valves, or into the knee, elbow, ankle and other joints.

The mouth-breathing which often shows itself as the tonsils enlarge and become inflamed, causes all sorts of unhappy and dangerous deformities. The voice becomes hoarse and coarse, the teeth become large and gross; they protrude and overlap the lower jaw and the lips, and they bulge so that almost an imbecile look develops.

Nor is this all. Even the thyroid gland becomes stirred up, the eyes pop out in a true frog-face appearance, the glands of the front and back of the neck become tender, and the back of the throat begins to show the effects of an extension of the affliction with a chronic "pharyngitis."

Causes Many Ills.

While it is true that had small, invisible—but tonsils are in no way harmful to health, large or even small tonsils which are soft and full of abscess or shreds to trap food are a menace to a good physique no less than to vocal power.

These last interfere with the muscles and elasticity of the throat; they block a clear exit of foul breath and the entry of clean air, and they break up the clear passage of sound waves.

The irritation of microbes in most tonsils spreads the swelling to the ear tube, the nasal cavity, the palate, the throat, and may even set up a long-standing and mysterious non-tuberculous cough.

Since there is no such thing as a "stomach cough" or a "smoker's cough," it behooves those who have excluded tuberculosis to have their tonsils removed by a competent person. Never permit the tonsils to be galled, choked off or burned out. Such makeshift operations must in the nature of things be both loss, inevitably worse than nothing.

Answers to Health Questions

B.H.S.—What's to be done for knock-knees?

A slight operation by a skillful surgeon will correct this deformity.

L.R.—Will you kindly give some information about hives?

Hives are usually cured by a two-day fast and a milk and barley diet afterward. They are caused by a hypersensibility to fruits, fish or vegetables.

F.S.—Am 19, and am troubled with hair that has grown on the face. What will remove it?

A shaving powder which is made in the south will remove it. It is rubbed on the skin for one minute only, once a week.

Mrs. J.B.—I have a baby 2 months old. I feed him 1½ ounces of milk in the day. Would the yolk of one egg be enough for this amount of milk balled?

You may, in addition to your milk feedings, add the yolk of an egg. But you should nurse him from the breast. There is no substitute for mother's milk, and I have seen it brought back three months after it had gone.

Miss M.C.P.—Am unnaturally pale and sallow. Wind and sun do no good. Also have spells of dizziness after getting up. Is this due to biliousness?

Eat plenty of eggs, milk, vegetables and fruits. To your present diet add a wineglassful of olive oil before every meal also.

All your surfaces must be non-absorbent. Then neither grease nor dust will stain or corrupt. Have your table tops of enamel or if you want something less expensive in one piece, and there isn't a crack or crevice to catch dust or germs, and your kitchen is insect-proof.

"Personally, I prefer the white enameled kitchen—white kitchen cabinet, white tables and chairs, because they're easy to keep clean and help make the kitchen look sparkling white." Still some people think too much white in the kitchen makes it look like an operating room. Light buff, apple-green, or even a good blue are almost as good if you don't want white. But think of keeping the kitchen sanitary and bright, and it will be a really beautiful kitchen.

SHOULD A KITCHEN BE BEAUTIFUL?

DON'T you think, Aunt Juliette, that if a kitchen were decorated as attractively as a living room, for example, that a woman wouldn't mind having to spend half a day or even a whole day in it?"

"You mean having a rug on the floor, and plenty of comfortable armchairs, perhaps a bookcase or so? Yes, you could make the kitchen so lovely that you wouldn't want to leave it at all, and that would convert it into a living room instead of what it's meant to be—a cooking room. Don't ever attempt to parlorize your kitchen. But you must take pains to have it an absolutely sanitary, pleasant room, with a color scheme that is cheerful, and sensible, good-looking equipment."

"If you can't decorate, how can you make the kitchen attractive?" I asked her.

"Just form this picture in your mind. Instead of having your kitchen with dull brown walls, with black and grey pots and pans on shelves, don't you think a white walled kitchen, with apple-green woodwork and sparkling aluminum utensils, would look absolutely attractive?"

"Yes, indeed. I never realized that your own kitchen is so pleasant because of your color scheme for walls and equipment. Your lovely stenciled window curtains and the pos of geraniums seem to catch the eye first."

"There's no objection to having a pot of flowers or these simple muslin window hangings. But the pleasantest kitchen I ever saw was one without even these decorative touches. The walls were covered with a cream-colored oil cloth fabric that is washable. The floor had a blue-checked linoleum. There was a white enameled sink, white table tops and shining brown caseroles and aluminum cooking utensils on the open shelves. It looked clean and charming, and honestly said, 'I'm just the kitchen—the home workshop, and these are my neat working clothes.'"

"If a kitchen is absolutely sanitary, you can be sure it's attractive. Don't have any rough wooden surfaces exposed or anything that can't be readily washed. Walls should be either painted or covered with a washable material—never have paper.

"Floors should be covered either with good linoleum or some of the new composition materials that wear as long as tile or cement, but are soft to the feet. Some of these materials are laid so that floor and baseboard are in one piece, and there isn't a crack or crevice to catch dust or germs, and your kitchen is insect-proof."

BELGIAN REFUGEES GET LARGE WASHINGTON SUM

The War and its End If war correspondents deserve credence they are bursting with news which the rigid censorship will not permit to be released.

The world has had no previous experience of a war such as this, even if it be limited to the actual field operations. Not armies but nations are engaged at the front and with three hundred miles of entrenched positions on both sides—strategical and tactical conditions have been radically changed.

Were Britain to lose command of the sea by any chance, that would certainly, entirely and vitally alter the whole situation, but the contingency is remote and improbable. Unless that happens the longer the conflict the more will fortune lean to the allies with their greater financial resources and will be to a finish.

The author of this review practically acknowledges that these negotiations were wrecked by Germany's precipitation. He says: "The time—the precious time—for negotiation might have been obtained if Germany had limited herself to ordering a mobilization corresponding to the Russian mobilization and had not served a veive-hour ultimatum on Russia."

Athletic Union Will Not Recognize Soccer Reinstatements

REINSTATEMENT OF THOSE SOCCER PROS

Will Not Be Recognized by Amateur Athletic Union—Officers Elected.

President Brownlee was re-elected to office at the annual meeting on Saturday night of the Ontario Branch of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, held at the Union offices, 22 College street, in spite of the generally unsettled conditions prevailing for the last three months. Reports presented showed steady progress and sound growth in all fields of the Union's activities. Many matters of importance to which attention was called in the reports of the standing committees were dealt with, and the governing body is prepared for another active and useful season.

Besides President Brownlee, Treasurer Murdoch Macdonald and Secretary W. F. Trivett, the meeting was attended by: Inspector Dickson, Toronto Police A. A. W. J. Smith, P. M. Kennedy, Bert M. Brown, Toronto Amateur Baseball Association; Francis Nelson, Ontario Hockey Association; G. H. Lester, N. H. Crow, Toronto Central Y. M. C. A.; J. J. Peacock, Ontario Basketball Association; C. E. Bing, Toronto Rowing Club; W. A. Moore, Martin A. C. St. Catharines; E. Gard, Riverdale A. C.; F. Sawyer, St. Charles A. C.; Sid Phillips, Judean A. C.; A. J. Pettie, British United A. C.; L. J. Wooley, St. Nicholas, Toronto Amateur Boxing Association.

Vice-Presidents F. R. Sinkins of Toronto and R. Tasker Steele of Hamilton were both prevented by indisposition from being present.

The report of the Board of Governors of the Dominion of Canada Football Association, which declared that what they thought was not the right to play professionals and amateurs together, and that they would permit professionals to take part in amateur competitions. They got the Canada Cup on the condition that it was to be for a strictly amateur competition, and now they have altered their regulations to allow men who have made a living at playing the game to compete with amateurs in the cup.

In this neighborhood they have taken some 50 men who were paid for playing football, and declared them amateurs in violation of the universal principle that a professional is always such.

The course of the Toronto Amateur Boxing Association in refusing to send representatives to the Canadian championships because they were not allowed playing expenses was referred to the new committee.

The boxing rules, it was suggested, are in need of revision to bring them up to present-day conditions.

The reciprocal arrangement with the A. U. of the United States for the recognition of disciplinary measures was also referred to as a distinct advantage for both bodies. The board pointed out with pride that so many athletes had offered themselves for their country's service, and laid emphasis on the fact that none had been rejected as physically unfit, proving that the Empire as well as the individual, benefited by the spread of sport for sport's sake.

The financial statement presented by Treasurer Murdoch Macdonald, showed receipts amounting to $1238.05, and the disbursements have left a balance on hand of $309.96.

Inspector Dickson, chairman of the championships committee, reported that every championship of the sport of the union during the past year had been applied for and awarded.

Chairman W. J. Smith of the baseball commission reported great progress in the matter of establishing the same throughout the province on a basis of amateurism, the work was necessarily slow in Toronto such success had been attained that of the twenty-seven leagues in the city, only two were outside the pale of amateur authority as represented by the Toronto Amateur Baseball Association.

The registration committee, in the report presented by Chairman Francis Nelson, detailed all he measures taken during the season, and the necessity of order and responsibility which lies on clubs and

TOOK CENTRAL WALKERS JUST OVER SIX HOURS FOR JAUNT

George Goulding Finished the Hamilton to Toronto Walk Just After Five O'clock—How They Picked up the Relays Along the Road.

It just required 6 hours 4 mins. 33.5 secs, for eight men of the Central Y.M.C.A. to walk 45 miles Saturday. They did it in relay. The first man left Hamilton Central Y. just as the clock in the city hall tower was striking 11. There was a large and enthusiastic crowd in attendance and he was given a great send-off. Carl Mertens made the first lap of the stretch, after having been given a message by E. J. Sovering, physical director of the Hamilton Y. M. C. A. Up to 15 minutes before the start the boys were fully time commenced, Jupiter Pluvius did his best to lay the dust. And then a high wind came up which took at least 10 per cent. of the walker's speed away.

However, Mertens made the distance from Central Y. to the farm in 40 minutes, then he had to contend with a heavy wind, he stuck it out in splendid shape until a point a mile and a half beyond Burlington Junction station was reached. His time was from 11:40 to 12:15. From this point until the blacksmith shop on the top of the hill at Bronte was reached Charles Kelly was the centre of interest. He held it down for just an hour exactly, surrendering the scrap of paper at precisely 1:15.

By this time the Ford car, which was carrying the officials, had three beside its regular occupants. But it was destined for even greater service. From Bronte to the farm at Bronte, the car was driven by Lorne Park. It, Hill took up the pace. He finished his share at 1:51. The wind had ceased to a considerable degree and the walking was much better than at the start.

The distance between the bridge and the Methodist Church at Lorne Park was made by H. Leak in 50 1/2 minutes. There were no hitches. Each man was doing his best and that was better than has ever been done before. Jake Freeman commenced at the church and held out until the gate at the Ranges was reached, having started at 2:43 1/2 and ended at 3:28. Then E. P. Macdonald stepped into line and continued the record breaking speed as far as the Mimico Creek. This point was reached at 4:14.

It remained only for the home run. Possibly a little more excitement was noticed when the last lap was started. Already previous records had been left behind. Now it was a case of pushing ahead with all possible vigor, and the man chosen to make the final dash was George Goulding. He paced it off block after block, the enthusiasm be-
