GREETING

To the students of McGill, new and old, the Y. M. C. A. extends greeting:

We sincerely hope that this little hand-book may be of some use to you during the days of the Session upon which we are now entering. Within its covers, attention is called to the other privileges which the Association as a band of College men extends to the students of our University.

We trust that full advantage will be taken of these privileges by you.

GUIDE TO UNIVERSITY GROUNDS.

On entering the Sherbrooke Street Gates and walking up the avenue leading to the Buildings, we have, on our left the Keeper's Lodge, the College Campus and the Tennis Courts of the Donalda Department.

On the right, we have the Courts of the McGill University Lawn Tennis Club and the Botanical Garden.

Taking the turn to the left we come to the Redpath Museum, beyond which is the David Morrice Hall and Presbyterian College, while opposite, on McTavish Street, is the Congregational College of North America.

At the head of the Avenue is the Main Building containing the Lecture Rooms of the Arts and Science Faculty and the Donalda Department.

At the western end is the William Molson Hall, while west of this is seen the Observatory.

At the eastern end is the Principal's residence.

Opposite the main entrance is the monument erected over the remains of the Honorable James McGill, founder of the University, who died in 1813.

Turning to the right one sees the Science Workshop in course of erection.

Still further, on the left hand, is the building of the Medical Faculty, while close to the University Street Gate is the Wesleyan Methodist College.

At the western corner of Sherbrooke and University Streets is the large stone house, recently purchased from Estate Late Thomas Workman, for the Donalda Department.

A BRIEF HISTORICAL SKETCH OF MCGILL UNIVERSITY Y. M. C. A.

Previous to 1884, there had been several attempts to organize the Christian men in the University, but without success.

During the Session of 1883-84, at the request of Mr. D. A. Budge, Secretary of the City Y. M. C. A., a McGill Student attended the Annual Convention of the Y. M. C. A. of Ontario and Quebec, held at Peterboro, Ont.

On the return of Mr. James K. Unsworth, the McGill delegate, from the Convention, an Association was organized in McGill with fifteen members, and Mr. Unsworth, elected the 1st President.

Through the kindness of the City Association the McGill men met every Sunday afternoon in one of the small rooms in the Y. M. C. A. building on the corner of Victoria Square.

The men were much blessed by their meetings together, and on the Session coming to an end, it was resolved that they should pray earnestly during the Summer that the usefulness of the Association might be extended the following Session.

The next Session, the Association more than doubled its members and besides the usual Sunday afternoon meetings, the prayer meetings on Tuesday evenings, in No. 1 class room Arts building, was started.

The membership at this time was confined chiefly to Arts men.

In the Spring of 1885, Mr. Kendal then in 2nd. year Medicine, was elected President for the ensuing year.

The Session 1885-'86, was opened by a very successful Reception tendered by the Association to the incoming Freshmen. It was held in the parlours of the City Association building and was the 1st of these Annual Receptions which have now become a part of our College life.

The Session 1885-'86, was marked by a great increase of membership. The Association then numbered about 100 men from every department of the University.

Mr. Jas. K. Unsworth, was elected President for the following Session.

In the Fall of 1886, a most successful Reception, was held in the Peter Redpath Museum, to which, as now, all the Governors, Professors and their families, as well as all students in the University, were invited.

Two very successful Bible Training Classes, were carried on throughout the Session. The attendance and interest of the meetings, as well as the membership of the Association steadily increased.

In 1887 the Building Fund was started, and the students of that time subscribed over $1000.

The power and influence of the Association has continued steadily to advance.

Many men now filling important positions out in the world, are grateful for the Christian fellowship, and strength giving influence which the McGill Y. M. C. A. exerted on their lives and characters while they were Undergraduates.

Such is the history of our Association. She now looks eagerly forward to the time when occupying a building of her own on the College grounds, she shall be fully equipped to carry on her work of caring for and developing the spiritual life, in the Undergraduates of our beloved Alma Mater.

HISTORY OF MCGILL UNIVERSITY.

In the year 1814, the Hon. James McGill, an opulent merchant of this city, bequeathed in trust to The Royal Institution for the Advancement of Learning in Lower Canada, the valuable Estate of Burnside, at the mountain, together with the sum of £10,000, for the endowment of a College which should bear his name.

The will was for several years contested but was at length decided in favor of the Institution.

In 1821, the College was incorporated in conformity with the intention of the founder; and the Governor and Lieutenant-Governor of Lower Canada, the Lieutenant-Governor of Upper Canada, the Chief Justices of Montreal and Upper Canada, and the Lord Bishop of Quebec, were by Charter of Incorporation, appointed Governors of the Institution. In 1823, Professors in the following subjects were appointed: Divinity, the Professor of which was also Principal, Moral Philosophy and Learned Languages, History and Civil Law, Mathematics and Natural Philosophy, and Medicine.

It was not, however, till 1829, that the Corporation of McGill College obtained full possession of the property bequeathed to it.

On the 29th June of that year, the University was formally opened in the old residence of the founder, Burnside House. The Montreal Medical Institute, which had already been in existence for some years, was incorporated with it as its Faculty of Medicine, and a little later its Faculty of Arts was constituted with a Principal and three Professors.

The first degree conferred by the College was that of M. D. on Mr. W. L. Logie, 29th May, 1833.

As already stated, Royal Charter was granted in 1821, and under it were carried on for thirty years the early operations of the University—embarrassed by pecuniary difficulty, owing to the failure of the Government to give the promised public aid, and by the structure of the Charter itself which was cumbrous and unweildy, and insuited to a small College in the circumstances of this country. The result was that, after nearly thirty years of struggle, the University, with the exception of the Medical Faculty, was about extinct, and that it was without sufficient income even to sustain the scanty staff which it then possessed in the Faculty of Arts.

It was then, in 1852, that several gentlemen, citizens of Montreal, assumed the responsibility of its renovation, and secured an amended Charter under which its later work has been carried on.

As examples of the rapid strides which the University has taken since that time, we may mention, the Library, which in 1855 consisted of a small collection of historical and literary works and the Museum, which has since grown to be one of the finest University Museums in America, boasted of one specimen of common fossil coral.

The first degree in Law was conferred in 1850, while in Science the first degree was granted in 1858.

It was not, however, until 1878, that the Department of Applied Science was created a Faculty, it having previously been merely a Department of the Faculty of Arts.

In 1884, was founded the Donalda Department for the Higher Education of Women.

In 1890, the College of Comparative Medicine and Veterinary Science became a Faculty of the University.

After many reverses, McGill University has, thanks to the energy and zeal of the Principal, Sir William Dawson, and to the benevolence of numerous friends, attained that eminence which places it second to no educational institution in America. The supreme authority of the University remains in the hands of the Crown, and is exercised by His Excellency the Governor-General as visitor.

In authority under him are :

The Board of Governors, which has under the Royal Charter, the power to frame Statutes, to make Appointments and to administer the Finances of the University.

The Principal, who, under the Statutes, has the General Superintendence of all affairs of the College and University under such regulations as may be in force.

THE CORPORATION.

The Governors, Principal and Fellows constitute, under the Charter, the Corporation of the University which has the power, under the Statutes, to frame regulations touching Courses of Study, Matriculation, Graduation, and other educational matters, and to grant Degrees.

UNIVERSITY SOCIETIES.

RELIGIOUS.

The University Young Men's Christian Association. The objects and organization of this society are discussed elsewhere in this book and it only needs mention here.

The "Theodora Society" is open for membership to the students of the Donalda Department, and its object is the propagation of a Missionary and Christian spirit among its members. With this in view, essays and readings are prepared by the members, and returned missionaries and others are frequently invited to address the society.

EDUCATIONAL AND SOCIAL.

The Undergraduates' Literary Society meets weekly in the Arts Building. The usual programme is an essay, a reading, and a debate. Undergraduates of all faculties are eligible for membership.

The "Delta Sigma" is the literary society of the Donalda Department. Its programme consists usually of essay reading and debating. Some of the debates are prepared beforehand and some are impromptu.

The Undergraduates' Medical Society meets fortnightly through the winter session and weekly through the summer session. The members of this society read and discuss papers relating to medical science and reports of cases under their observation at the hospital. The programme is occasionally varied by lectures, delivered by physicians or other friends of the society.

The Veterinary Medical Association performs a very similar work to the medical society. Papers relating to veterinary science are read and discussed, and reports are read of cases observed by the members.

The society for the study of comparative Psychology has for its object the investigation and discussion of mental phenomena in animals. Its headquarters are in the building of the Veterinary Faculty but other students are welcomed at its meetings.

The Musical Association is a new and welcome element in the life of the University, having been founded only in the fall of 1889. The services of one of the best musicians in the city have been obtained as instructor. From him the members receive lectures on the theory of music, and by him have their voices trained. A few of the best voices are chosen to receive special instruction to enable them to act as leaders.

ATHLETIC.

McGill University Athletic Association exercises a general supervision over athletics in the college and also holds a yearly field day about the middle of October. In affiliation with the Athletic Association are:—

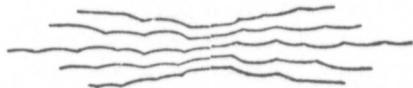

The McGill University Football Club.

The McGill University Hockey Club.

The Football Club practices every fine day during the season on the college grounds, and the Hockey Club engages the Dominion Rink for certain hours which are advertised on the various bulletins.

The McGill Cricket Club is open to Graduates as well as to Undergraduates, and practices every afternoon through the summer when weather permits.

The McGill Tennis Club has four courts on the college grounds. Outsiders are allowed to join this club as associate members, but the management is in the hands of the Undergraduates and Graduates. There is a pavilion on the Tennis Ground, with lockers and a shower bath.

USEFUL HINTS FOR NEW STUDENTS.

Information about rooms and board may be had from the University Registrar or from the Janitor of the Medical building.

If you are a stranger in the city get some senior student to help you choose a room, as his experience will be useful.

Do not buy books until you are sure you will need them, and are ready to use them.

Advertisements of second hand books for sale will be found on the bulletin boards.

First year men in Medicine should find out when dissecting material is to be given out and be on hand as they will thus get to work earlier.

The University Athletic meeting comes off about the middle of October. Intending competitors should start training as soon as possible.

Watch the various bulletins, as notices of importance are constantly being put there.

There are large libraries in both the Arts and Medical buildings, from which students may get out books. From those wishing to take books away, a deposit of five dollars is required, which is refunded when the books are returned.

The Fraser Institute Free Public Library and Reading Room, is on the corner of University and Dorchester Streets. Books may be taken out by depositing three dollars.

Students in Arts and Science are required to wear gowns at all lectures, and also, whenever they wish to speak to Deans or Professors about any college matters.

New students are urged to connect themselves with the college societies. By doing this, they will not only derive the benefits which the different societies aim to confer, but will get to know students of other years, and other Faculties.

If you are in doubt about any matter, do not be afraid to ask a Professor or Senior Student; they will always be glad to give you any advice or assistance, and it may save you much trouble and annoyance later on, to be set right at the beginning of the Session.

Before making purchases refer to our advertisements as you will there find where to get anything you need.

For information regarding classes, etc., refer to the University Calendar. *

The complete Calendar, with information respecting all the Faculties, etc., may be obtained from J. W. Brackenridge, Esq., McGill College.

Students should remember that "cramming" is not the way to prepare for examination. Do your work well during the Session and as examinations draw near, relax your work, take plenty of exercise and rest, and you will find that you will go up for your examination, fresh and clear headed, and not confused and muddled, as you will be if you sit up half the night cramming.

Take every opportunity of improving yourself socially, you will never miss from your studies one evening spent in social intercourse.

THE CITY OF MONTREAL.

The City of Montreal, the commercial metropolis of Canada, is built on an island of the same name, situated at the junction of the rivers, Ottawa and St. Lawrence.

The waters of the Ottawa river strike the head of the Island in such a manner as to divide and surround the Island, so that what is known as the St. Lawrence River opposite the City is really divided into two streams; that on the City side being Ottawa water while that on the south side is St. Lawrence.

Of course the waters mingle somewhat in the lower part of their course, but, on crossing Lake St. Louis near the head of the Island, one can see distinctly the line of division between the two streams, the water of the St. Lawrence being green while that of the Ottawa is brown.

The Island is about 30 miles long and 10 miles broad.

Montreal was founded on the 8th May, 1642, by Maisonneuve, who gave it the name of Ville-Marie de Montréal.

The old Indian village of Hochelaga, described by Jacques Cartier, was situated near the present site of the English Cathedral. On the 8th September, 1760, Montreal was surrendered by the French to the British.

During the American War of Independence, Montreal was taken by the Americans under Montgomery, 12th November, 1775, but was retaken by the British on the 15th June, 1776.

Montreal was the seat of government, till in 1849, during the governorship of Lord Elgin, Parliament removed to Ottawa, then called Bytown. This removal was the result of, among other things, political riots, incited by the signing of "The Dominion Losses Bill," during which the Parliament Buildings were burned and the Governor-General mobbed. British troops were stationed in Montreal till 1870. From 1685 to 1801, Montreal was surrounded by a wall, extending along the site of Fortification Lane from Victoria Square to Dalhousie Square where the Canadian Pacific depot now is, from Victoria Square the walls extended down to the river, about the line of McGill Street.

The City then was of triangular shape, the small angle pointing towards the east. At present the City is of triangular shape but the small angle points towards the west.

Behind the city, rising over 700 feet above the level of the St. Lawrence, is Mount Royal, so called by Jacques Cartier in 1535 in honor of the King of France, Francis I.

It is under control of the City, being laid out as a beautiful park, covering 430 acres of land.

Opposite the City is the beautiful St. Helen's Island, so called by Champlain in 1611 after his wife.

It is laid out as a beautiful park and is under the control of the City.

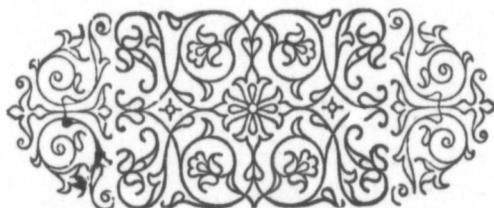

The Government own a piece of land at the lower end of the Island where there is a fort.

The Protestant, Catholic and Hebrew Cemeteries are situated behind the mountain.

The City proper is about $3\frac{1}{2}$ miles long by 2 broad and has with its suburbs, a population of about 277,000, over one-half of whom are French. As for situation, both from the side of the beautiful, and from that of the practical, as regards water supply and distribution of sewage Montreal can vie with any city in the world.

About seven miles above the city are the Lachine Rapids, noted for the tumult of waters and the danger of navigating them.

The Victoria tubular bridge spans the St. Lawrence at Montreal, and below Lachine the river is spanned by the beautiful cantilever bridge belonging to the Canadian Pacific Railway.
