ST. JOHN, N. B., OCTOBER 30, 1924

THE BRITISH ELECTION RESULTS.

The results of the elections in Great Britain can no longer be in doubt. The Labour Government has been decisively defeated. There is nothing uncertain about the victory, for the Conservatives at this writing, according to the returns available, have greater strength than all the other parties combined.

There was not so much fear as to what Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald and his able associates would do if re-elected as there was of the influence of the radical and Bolshevistic elements of his party.

With the returns incomplete it is not possible to say much about individual victories, but it seems to be certain that Herbert Asquith, who has always filled such a large place among the outstanding men of Great Britain, has gone down to defeat.

PORT OUTLOOK.

The Times-Star published yesterday, on the first birthday of the dry dock, a special message from Mr. F. M. Ross, General Manager of the St. John Dry Dock and Shipbuilding Co., and that message, interesting in itself, carries all the more weight coming, as it does, at the very time St. John has somewhat modified its port charges in the expectation that this year's traffic may be increased.

THE PREMIER ON THE COAST.

The Conservative Victoria Colonist welcomes the Canadian Prime Minister to that city with heartiness and with a commendable non-partisan flavor, recognizing that, although he is the leader of the Liberal force of Canada, he is also the Premier, at the head of the national administration.

Mr. Ross in his message to the public through The Times, gives us the reminder that the expanding success of the great dock enterprise which he directs is very closely bound up with the growth of port traffic here, and in this connection he points out that there is "distinct evidence of an improvement in north Atlantic shipping," which he feels will be favorably reflected in the business done by the dock and which, of course, will also result in a greater traffic for our harbor facilities and our railways.

that too often it has been found that Federal Cabinet Ministers visiting sections distant from the capital are disposed to converse "with too few of their political stripes," which it regards as a mistaken and unfortunate habit.

The Colonist presses upon the Premier some of the needs of British Columbia and says that an outstanding problem in the Dominion is to reconcile economic differences due to topographical diversities, "any rift between East and West because of these must be bridged, and the time has come when the Rocky Mountains should no longer be regarded as constituting a barrier which separates in any way the outlook or the aspirations of the people of British Columbia regarding national development from the outlook and aspirations held throughout the rest of Canada."

Newfoundland, of course, is just a dot on the map when its elections are compared to the similar contests in Great Britain, United States and Germany, but there are a lot of people interested in the fact that the Prime Minister of the ancient colony, Mr. Monro, and his colleague, the Minister of Fisheries, Mr. Winsor, were victorious in the elections at Bonaville yesterday, defeating the opposition candidates very decisively.

Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett lived to the ripe old age of seventy-five years. Her death yesterday will recall to many people the pleasure they derived not only from reading her book "The Secret Garden" but also from the Little Lord Fauntleroy "book" which she played upon the stage and depicted on the screen.

Cuswords and Realism. (Ottawa Citizen.)

Down in New York there is a play called "What Price Glory?" which comes under the disapprobation of army and navy officers because in it the soldiers and marines are caused to swear.

Scarcely the admirals and generals who have condemned the play want the public to believe that conversations among the soldiers in France were something like this: "Dear me, that nasty shell came very close. How annoying. Let us send the Germans a few of our projectiles over in return. This is an unpleasant war."

Of course, they didn't. But the question of whether cuswords should be used in war plays is an interesting one. If truth and realism must come first, says the producers of "What Price Glory?" say, then it is difficult to see how profanity can be excluded from what is an honest effort to show up war in all its grim and hideous reality.

What Will Spirits Wear? What will the well-dressed man wear in the spirit world? Not flowing robes as is commonly supposed, but soft collars and Bond St. flannel suits if the message Mrs. Osborne, famous medium, claims to have received from Lord Northcliffe actually came from the late British publisher.

The message turned over by the medium to Louise Owen, for twenty years Northcliffe's confidential secretary, quotes the publisher as saying: "I had an idea that over here we would foot about wearing flowing robes. How I would have hated that. Yes, I have fingernails. I am wearing a gray flannel suit like those you often saw me wear, with a soft collar and soft shirt."

Met Is Funniest. The funniest thing in the world is the human hat, the British Association for the Advancement of Science discovered. A big man with a little hat and a little man with a big hat appear to everyone's sense of humor. It has been decided. A hat blown off in a windstorm represents the height of comedy.

BOY SENT UP ON FORGERY CHARGE

The little colored boy, charged with forging the name of another colored lad to two checks and obtaining the money from a branch bank on Haymarket Square, was sent up for trial yesterday afternoon in the police court by Magistrate Henderson.

McKINNEY HOLDS PLACE AT TOP

W. H. McKinney still leads the list in the most popular postman contest as a result of polling yesterday. He has 2,610 votes. The standing of others is as follows: R. S. Cooper, 1,901; W. T. Dunlop, 1,700; J. K. McDonald, 1,460; T. B. Brown, 901; James Spencer, 620; Percy Dalton, 400; J. H. Pitt, 310; Fred McIntyre, 300; John Moore, 290; Thomas Killam, 190; George Ring, 140.

PLEADS GUILTY IN CHECK CASE

James Murphy, who was arrested in Fredericton and taken back to Houlton to stand trial for raising a check issued by Houlton Bank of Houlton, pleaded guilty in the Houlton Municipal Court and was committed for the November term for lack of $1,500 sureties.

Keen.

(John Hanlon in New York Times.) All night long the fog fell thick. All night long upon my still weakly gleamed a yellow wick. With the dawn the quiet broke. With the dawn a tumult spread. All day long the curfew cried. All day long beside my door. With the dawn the wild winds wailed. And my little lamp was dead.

IN LIGHTER VEIN.

All set. The prisoner was not professionally represented. Before proceeding with the case, the judge said: "This is a very serious offense you are charged with. If you are convicted it will be a long term of imprisonment. Have you no counsel to look after your defense?"

Accident.

"I don't see what claim you have for this accident," said the agent. "You were charged with the car, but by your own statement you were not hurt." "Well, wasn't it by the merest accident that I escaped injury?" returned the claimant.

Perfect.

SO MUCH DEPENDS ON THE LIGHTING

WHAT is more comfortable than good light—and what other comfort so cheap in cost?

A 75-watt Edison Mazda Lamp gives two and one-half times as much light as a 40-watt Edison Mazda Lamp, yet the difference in current cost averages only a third of a cent an hour.

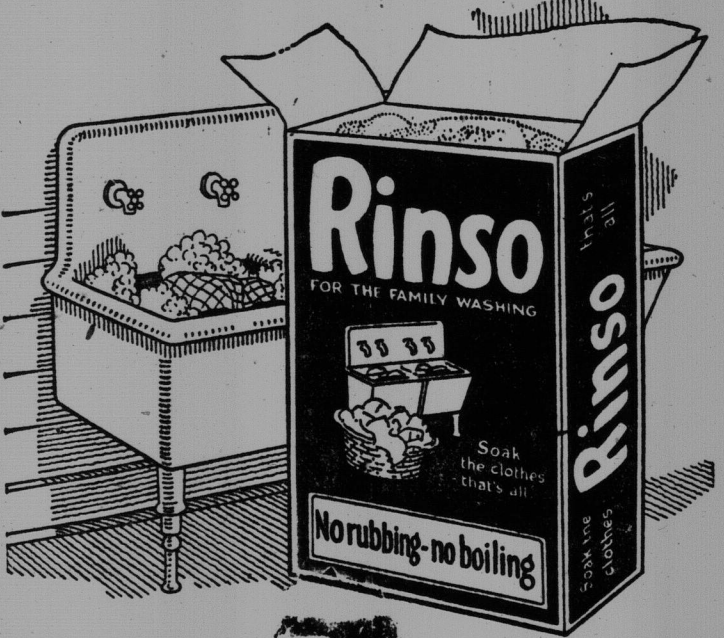

Use light freely—and use it rightly. A living room without a floor or table lamp cannot possess the charm of one containing either or both. Put white or frosted Edison Mazda Lamps in portable floor or table lamps, and clear Edison Mazda Lamps in fixtures that do not permit the eye to see the lamp.

Near you is an Edison Mazda Lamp store, recognizable by the yellow and blue cartons. There you can obtain real information about good lighting.

Soaking takes the place of rubbing

JUST by soaking the clothes in the suds of this new soap, dirt is gently loosened and dissolved.

Even the dirt that is ground in at neckbands and cuff-edges yields to a light rubbing with dry Rinso. Not a thread is weakened. The mild Rinso suds work thoroughly through and through the clothes without injury to a single fabric.

Rinso is made by the makers of Lux. For the family wash it is as wonderful as Lux is for fine things.

All grocers and department stores sell Rinso.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Burton

CUTIE COTTONTAILS SECRET.
"Well," said Mister Snip Snap to the Twins. "Did you find out what it was that was wearing out Cutie Cottontail's shoes so fast?"
"No, Mister Snip Snap," said Nick. "I do declare," said Mister Snip Snap. "It is the greatest mystery I ever heard of. It's as bad as the fairy tale about the seven princesses who danced their shoes to pieces every night and nobody was able to find out where they went. Ho! I have an idea! I have a wonderful idea!"
"What?" cried the Twins just like they were waiting.

"Nerves in Bad State Could Not Sleep"

Mrs. H. N. Tardell, Harrowsmith, Ont., writes:
"My nerves were in a very bad state, and for nearly six months I did not know what it was to have a good night's rest. I could not eat, and never felt well. I heard about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and thought I would try it. After taking it for a few days I began to feel better, and soon was able to sleep well at night. My appetite also returned, and I felt stronger and better, and after taking three boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I was quite well. I have also given the Nerve Food to my little girl, with good results."

Mexican Jewels Are In Belgian Bank
London, Oct. 29.—The fact that the wonderful Imperial Jewels of Mexico have been locked up in a Belgian bank for 57 years is revealed in a statement made by Baron Auguste Goffinet, the Court Chamberlain of the Empress Charlotte. He contradicts a report published in the United States to the effect that the great rubies of the Mexican Imperial Family were lost at sea.
The jewels belonged to the ill-fated Emperor Maximilian and to his wife, Empress Charlotte, who has been living in solitary seclusion for many years. They include rubies, pearls, and diamonds.

Breathe Into Your LUNGS
The Safe Rational Remedy for COUGHS, COLDS & CHILLS
THE speedy and most direct treatment for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, etc., is to breathe the volatile Peps medicine into your lungs. This method is a big advance on dosing with drug-laden mixtures, which act on the stomach, liver and heart, but on the lungs last and least of all.
As Peps tablets dissolve in the mouth, they give off balsamic lung-healing pine fumes. Peps are wonderfully strengthening to weakened tissues. They cut phlegm, soothe and purify the tender, irritated air-passages, and have an invigorating, anti-septic and fortifying action on the entire breathing system.
An immediate sense of chest comfort and breathing-ease is produced by Peps. Soreness, inflammation and irritation is quickly allayed, disease-germs infesting the throat and breathing-tubes are speedily destroyed.
Peps are the ideal and long-sought remedy for coughs, colds and chills, weakness and tightness of chest, sore throat, laryngitis, children's and old folk's chest weaknesses, bronchial catarrh, bronchitis, etc.
A Peps in the mouth safeguards throat and chest against harmful effect of cold, wet changeable weather. In crowded train or street-car, busy store or theatre Peps afford security against infectious colds, sore throat, etc.
The proprietors of Peps are glad to announce substantial price benefits, made possible by greatly increased sales and increased production costs. Peps, of the same high standard of medicinal quality as in every way, are now obtainable at the new

FABLES ON HEALTH
In Your Office
Taking mid-day rests and simple exercises was a thing that stumped Mr. Mann and his most other people.
But a few minutes should be stolen from every workday for relaxation or relaxing exercises.
Thus, though a man be sitting at his office desk or office table, he still can take a few minutes off and perform his relaxing stunts right there and then.
Rise from your office chair, and take a leisurely pose. Droop limply, relaxing at the waist, then at the knees, then drooping the head. Drop limply as possible to the floor—better get a rug for this one.
Lie quiet for a few seconds and then rise to your feet, remaining as limp as possible. Swing arms back and forth at the side, keeping them loose.
Try this half a dozen times.
People who do a great deal of walking or standing might try sitting down or lying down for several minutes, with eyes closed and body relaxed.
Folly to Suffer With Piles
Step into any drug store, get a 60-cent pkg. of Pyramid Pile Supp. and stop the hemorrhoids, pain, itching and bleeding. Thousands declare it a wonder, many saved from operations. Entire family use with Peps and recommend them to their friends.
Buying The Evidence.
A man in a tweed suit and leggings walked into a putter's and asked for a couple of rabbits. "Sorry, sir," said the shopkeeper, "but I'm completely sold out of rabbits. I could let you have a nice veal and ham pie, though."
"Don't be ridiculous," snapped the customer angrily, "how the dickens could I go home and say I'd not a veal and ham pie?"

ST. JOHN BAPTIST WOMEN ENTERTAIN

St. John the Baptist church hall, Broad street, was an animated centre for the successful bridge of 62 tables played last evening, under the auspices of the Ladies' Association of the church. Miss Nellie McCarthy, assisted by Miss Stella McDermott, convoked the event, which was greatly enjoyed. The ladies of the society served delicious refreshments, superintended by Mrs. James H. Doody, president. Rev. J. J. McDermott, rector of the church, received the guests and made the announcements for closing the game; the call to supper and the names of the prize winners.

The decorations were particularly well carried out with the Halloween idea pronounced, with yellow curtains on the windows, with black cats, witches and other symbols of the season. The serving table, set on the platform at the head of the assembly room, was attractive, with a large pumpkin, grinning at the company and having for company golden candles, which displayed many and delicious kinds of sandwiches, cake and dainty biscuits. The prizes were prompt and attractive in their semi-formal gowns.

There were present as special

I. O. D. E. BRIDGE IS GREATLY ENJOYED

A most successful and enjoyable bridge of more than sixty tables was Vaicartier Chapter, I. O. D. E., at the Pythian Castle. At a few of the tables Mah Jongg was played.

Mrs. Hugh McLean, regent of the chapter, wearing a navy blue plaid crepe frock and tan derby hat, received the guests. She was assisted by Mrs. R. J. Campbell, first vice-regent, who wore rust crepe heavily embroidered in copper beads with a paisley and fur hat.

Mrs. Arthur Carter was in charge of the tickets. Mrs. Frank Miller and Mrs. Thomas McAvity had charge of the home made candy, which was sold in dainty little Halloween boxes. Bridge was played until five o'clock when tea was served. The tea table which was presided over by Mrs. Heber Vroom, Mrs. Sherwood Skinner, Mrs. T. E. G. Armstrong and Mrs. Royden Thomson, was aglow with many candles and a huge grinning pumpkin in the centre—black cats and witches or broomsticks added the weird touch of Halloween.

Mrs. Fred R. Taylor was at the head of the refreshment committee and the credit of the decorations goes to Miss Barbara Jack and Miss Audrey McLean. All the members of the chapter assisted at tea. The first prize, a handsome hand made bridge cloth, was won by Mrs. Helen Hien, and the fourth, handkerchief, won by Mrs. Mortimer. The special Mah Jongg prize was won by Mrs. Allan McAvity.

Canada's Trade Balance Makes Remarkable Gain In Year

EXPORTS INCREASE $76,265,000; IMPORTS $76,797,000 LESS

Indications are Believed to Point to Still Better Results.

MORE MARKETS

Steps to Open Up New Trade Areas are Having Good Effect.

Ottawa, Oct. 29.—In the 12 months ended with Sept. 30 Canada's trade balance with other countries by the remarkable sum of more than $183,000,000, when the year's trade is compared with the previous year. There was a large decrease in imports and almost the same increase in exports.

During the year ended with September last the Dominion's imports amounted to $826,196,072, as compared with $929,999,825, or an increase of $79,797,823; while the exports in the 12 months ending with September last totalled $1,010,463,072, as against $927,197,857 in the previous year, or an increase of $76,265,215.

It is a notable fact that in the year ended September last the only three important countries with whom Canada was not trading on a satisfactory basis were Australia, British South Africa and the Netherlands—countries with whom Canada this year has taken steps to effect better trade relations. It is hoped by Federal Government officials here that these steps will soon serve to adjust the adverse commercial position with those countries.

Canada's imports from the various parts of the British Empire decreased from $196,462,180 to $181,611,556, and her exports to the British Empire increased from $97,636,390 to $109,198,298, or an increase of $11,561,908. Exports to the United Kingdom decreased from $154,359,806 to $149,280,697.

Exports to China nearly doubled; those to Germany jumped from 77,435 to 120,451; those to Italy increased by nearly $8,000,000; those to Japan increased by more than $8,000,000; exports to Belgium advanced by more than $8,000,000, and those to Australia dropped nearly $8,000,000.

CHILD BY FATHER, GIRL SHOTS SELF Leaves Note Accusing Him of Prompting Act—Had Been Chastised.

Hackensack, N. J., Oct. 30.—Valentine M. Suter, 14 years old, living with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Suter, Wallington, shot herself to death in her home just as her father was leaving the house on his way to work. Her mother heard the shots, called her husband back and they found a child in the front room window. The father burst in open and their daughter's dead body fell toward them.

A note on her bed told why Valentine had defied to end her life. It was as follows: "Now I hope he is satisfied. Nothing could have been sweeter to him. By the words he said to me, I mean the man who was supposed to be my father. Father I would not call him because he did not act like one. I hope the marks on my body will show you the cause for all this. He will not anything else. They can do with me as they please and this is my greatest wish of all, that he may croak under a fence like a dog, for it was he who has taken my life."

Centre of Stirring Election Scenes In London

Travellers Square, where nearly half a million Londoners awaited election results. A large screen was hung over the wall of the building which is exposed to the extreme right of the photograph and as the results were received they were flashed on to it from one of the side windows of the Canadian Pacific Railway and Steamship offices which are seen toward the right front. In addition to the election results a series of slides and films illustrating scenes in Canada were shown, while at the same time, through the largest loud speaker, a lecture was delivered on Canada interspersed with the Maple Leaf and other Canadian songs.

Reykjavik, Iceland, Sept. 25.—(By mail)—American naval officers who last month visited Iceland in connection with the globe-circling flight of the American aviators, were greatly interested in the navigational methods of the old Vikings, who, more than 1,000 years ago, sailed their little vessels, without compass or other instruments, across the storm-beaten north Atlantic to Iceland, Greenland and even the shores of North America.

London Hatter Sizes Up a Customer by the Position of His Hat.

ST. JOHN MAN IS DEAD IN VENEZUELA

J. Harold Manning Passes Away—Was Brilliant Student.

At the age of 27 years James Harold Manning, B. A., second son of Dr. and Mrs. James Manning of this city, has died in Maturin, Venezuela. In his death a brilliant career has been cut short untimely and a noble and courageous soul has passed to its reward. Death came suddenly on Oct. 27 and was caused by cerebral hemorrhage. The tragic news received in the city yesterday was a crushing blow to the members of his family and a great shock to his very many friends. No one can say to what heights he might have attained had his years been lengthened out to life's allotted span but within the few years since he had grown to manhood Harold Manning had greatly achieved. At the time of his death he was a member of the engineering staff of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, holding a position of considerable importance and responsibility. He was born in St. John and graduated from the High School in 1912, at fifteen years of age, capturing the gold medal. During 1918 and 1919, he was working with the engineers of the public works department of Canada constructing the last two of the new wharves built on the West Side of the harbor. He decided to take up dentistry as a profession, following his father's footsteps, and he spent 1914 and 1915 taking the dental course at the University of Pennsylvania.

Becomes Soldier.
With the outbreak of the war he desired keenly to enter the service of his country and as soon as he was 18 years of age he returned to St. John to enlist. It was in December of 1915 that he was enrolled as a member of the 164th battalion and began his training as a soldier. He was transferred to the 149th battalion and appointed lieutenant. In overseas service he was transferred to the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry battalion and later to the 62nd Port Arthur battalion, C. E. F. with which unit he went to the front. He was through some of the fiercest of the fighting in which the Canadians took part and was severely wounded at Vimy. He rejoined his battalion and went into the thick of it at Lens. He was badly wounded once more, barely escaping from being buried alive. He returned to Canada and was finally discharged from the service in 1918 with a pension.

He entered Acadia University in 1918 and graduated from the university in the following year with the degree of B. A. He had taken the full course in one year. As a scholar he was exceptionally brilliant, finding himself equally at home in scientific, engineering and literary studies. He had a nice taste in literature and was the author of a poem, a reply to Colonel John Mac-Cree's famous "In Flanders Fields." Many other of his writings in prose and verse have received recognition of exceptional merit. Harold Manning

If it is worth writing use a Fountain Pen

Like other people of action nowadays you carry a note book. It contains notes on personal and business matters, many of them are extremely important. Their loss would mean much to you—to replace them would entail time and worry—if they proved irreplaceable, it might mean a financial loss.

Pencilled memoranda are out of date—they are unsafe—they will get blurred and illegible in the best of note books.

Be modern. Buy a good fountain pen. It is an everyday necessity. It will make all your notes easy to write and easy to read.

120 highly skilled engineers. In 1923 he was offered and accepted a position on the engineering staff of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey. For this firm he went to Maracaibo in Venezuela, and in the spring of this year he was transferred to Maturin in Venezuela, where he was at the time of his sudden death on Monday.

Besides his father and mother, he is survived by two brothers and one sister, Marjorie, whose marriage to Kenneth M. Willet took place only last week in St. John's (Stone) church. Mrs. Willet's home is now in Princeton, West Virginia.

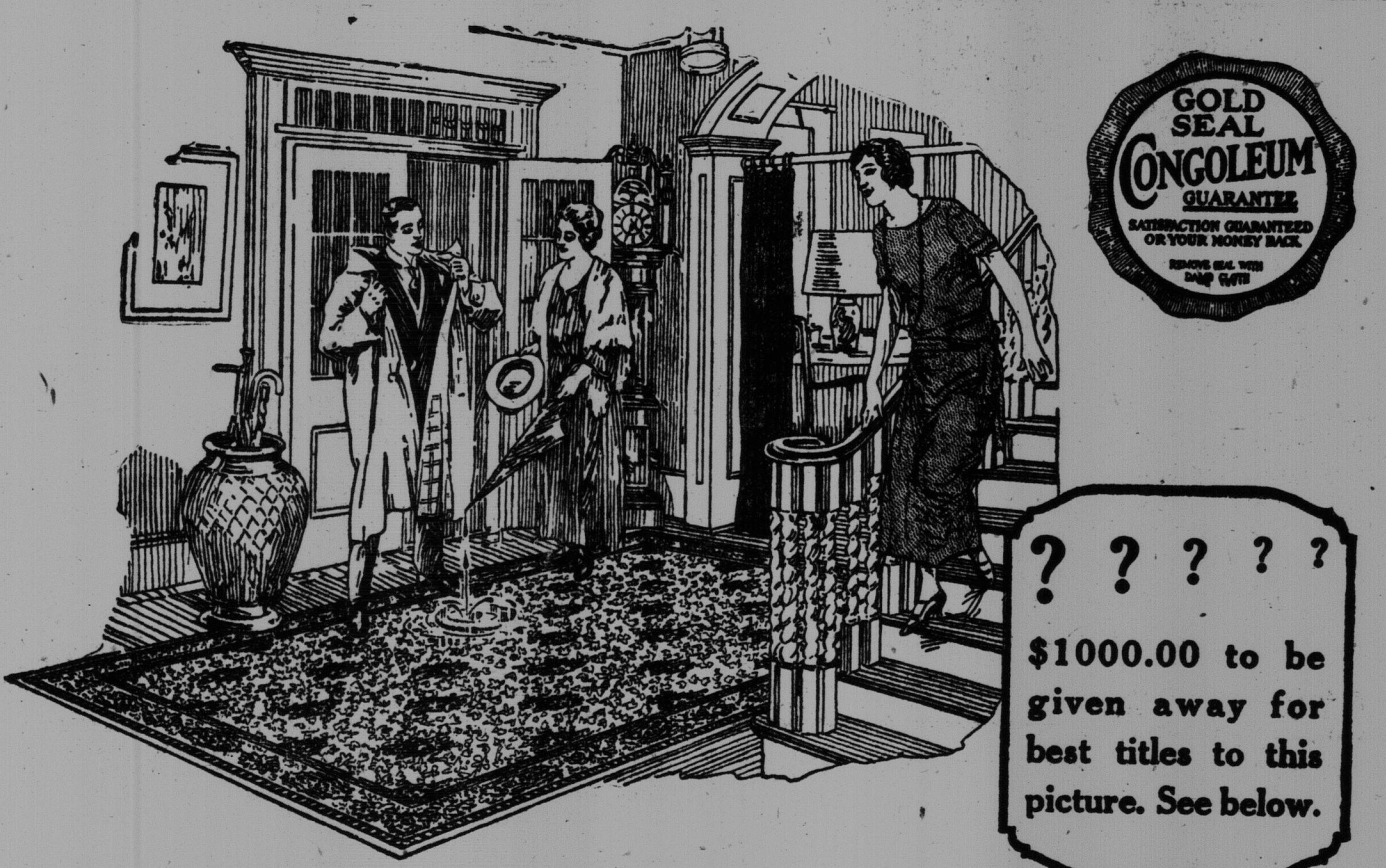

The two brothers who survive are Lawrence E. Manning, of New York, and Thomas G. Manning, now attending Tufts University in Boston. An elder brother, Fred, was killed during the war.

DIES AFTER FALL FROM A SCAFFOLD

St. George, Oct. 29—Chester Green, farmer and weir owner, of this town, was almost instantly killed this afternoon when he fell from a staging about 20 feet high to the ground, fracturing his skull. He had been engaged at Lower L'Etang with a neighbor, William Heints, in erecting a scaffolding preparatory to painting the school house. The scaffold slipped and he fell to the ground. Dr. Alexander was called but the man was dead before he arrived. Mr. Green was well known and highly respected here. He leaves a wife and four small children to mourn his death. The funeral arrangements will be made after the arrival of relatives from Grand Manan.

HAVE NOVELTY SHOWER.
Mr. and Mrs. George Miller, 254 Britain street, were "At Home" last evening for the purpose of giving Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Miller a novelty shower. Mr. and Mrs. Miller, who were married a few weeks ago were graciously surprised when their friends dropped in during the evening. Halloween trimmings were everywhere in the house and streamers of yellow and black fell from the chandelier to the receptacle in which a fine array of gifts was discovered by the bride and groom. The bride also was presented with a bouquet of freshly plucked flowers from a garden on Manawagonish Road. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by a committee of the guests.

HAVE STAFF DANCE.
The office staff of G. E. Barbour Co., Ltd., held a successful dance at the Venetian Gardens last evening, having reserved for them the mezzanine floor. This was the first of their social events for the season. Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Sullivan chaperoned the young people, who were convened by the Misses Eileen W. Robinson and Ethel Murray. Several special friends were included in the party, which numbered 80.

Tells How Hydrogen is Protected From Static and Sparks.

MANY VISIT BLIMP

Members of Crew Describe Their Trip Across the Atlantic.

New York, Oct. 30.—Since the landing of the ZR-3 thousands of visitors have gone to Lakehurst to view the big Zeppelin in its hangar. Last Sunday more than 80,000 motorists jammed the highways leading from Lakehurst to New York and Philadelphia, and many of them were broadcast listeners who had hoped to see the German radio apparatus which helped to guide the dirigible across the Atlantic. A marine guard kept the crowds at a distance of fifty yards from the hangar. The German crew mingled with the crowd and told about their trip. The few who talked to Leo Freund, the radio operator, enjoyed his interesting description of the radio installation. He came to New York during the last week and broadcast a story of the flight from the Wanamaker studio of WJZ. After he finished describing the trip from Friedrichshafen to Lakehurst he was asked about the radio.

How is the big Zeppelin protected from heavy static discharges or lightning? Where is the radio station located on the ZR-3? How can a transmitter be used without having sparks ignite the hydrogen gas in the big bag? Where is the antenna stretched and how long is it?

clouds around the instruments directly to the ocean beneath by a direct contact cable dropped from the ship during a storm.

"The generator is outside of the cabin and can be swung outwardly. The angle depends upon the speed of the ship. The maximum power is derived when the generator is at a 90 degree angle. Attached to the generator is a propeller which revolves by the motion of the ship and furnishes the power for the generator.

"The faster the ship is going the nearer must the generator be kept to the side of the ship. This prevents the propeller from generating excessive power. The generator also supplies the power for the operation of a system of thirty-five electric lights. There is also an emergency outfit which can be called upon at any time by simply stretching the antenna from the point of the ship to the cabin."

Importance of Radio.

Freund pointed out that radio is one of the most essential parts of all equipment on a transoceanic flight, because it permits communication with vessels and stations throughout the voyage. Without radio the ship would be isolated from the rest of the world, and would not be able to be sure of its bearings under conditions of storm and fog. Radio also makes it possible for the aviators to answer all questions regarding weather conditions on the water and make forecasts, which is a very valuable service to ships then at sea and those in port ready to sail.

"Picture yourself," continued Freund, "in an airship for three days, sailing over the ocean, and the navigator is unable to make use of his sextant to determine their position, not being able to see stars, moon or sun. It would therefore be dangerous to make a trip of this length without a radio apparatus. With a radio you can determine the exact point of the ocean above which you are located by establishing communication with a sending station either on land or on a ship at sea."

Radio Compass Helpful.

"By means of a new type of radio direction finder the Zeppelin can determine its exact position by obtaining a bearing from a station on a line with its progress forward, whereas in the past it was necessary to communicate with two different points whose position is known and applying the principle of triangulation to this data to figure out the airship's own position."

The batteries of the ZR-3 are placed on the floor outside of the after cabin. They receive power automatically from the generator. They are 24 volt, 18 cells, about 75 pounds, plates of lead, built along the same lines as American batteries. There are additional batteries for the receiving set. If anything happens to the batteries, arrangement is made to hook up the generator direct. If the propeller of the generator is working too fast and producing too much current, an automatic cut-off prevents overcharging of the battery.

The transmitter key is covered with a fine mesh to prevent escape of sparks, which might ignite any gas escaping from the huge gas bag, as it does at high altitudes. The commander of the airship instructs the radio operator not to send messages for three or four minutes when the airship ascends to a higher level. The operator cannot start transmitting until the commander sends word for him to do so.

Frame Protected.

Explosions that might otherwise be caused by spreading of steel struts when the ship is under way are prevented by building the fragile frame of a great flexible meshwork, which under the greatest strains of the airship's twisting motion has no break. The antenna is constructed of three strands of wire hung from the bottom of the ship, which can be used singly or in any combination of two or three as desired by unrolling from the antenna reel, which is located under the table and can be unrolled to 360 feet. On the end of each wire is a weight which is heavy enough to keep the wire taut.

There is a new addition to the regular transmitter, which is used to telephone when landing. It has a reaching radius of 800 kilometres. It was used to great advantage on the trial flight, prior to leaving Friedrichshafen, but was not needed on the transatlantic flight.

Everybody's Friend

Life Insurance has taken on a new importance. Everybody needs it, most people want it,—it is everybody's friend. As a result, people are asking themselves today:

"Am I insurable?"

"How can I get sufficient life insurance?" and the answer is found in the ever-increasing number of policies now being applied for.

There is a foundation for this success: The general public is rapidly coming to realize the solid basis upon which life insurance rests; that the business is subject to a rigid system of Government inspection; and that while Life Insurance is a form of organized sharing of each other's burdens, it is managed on a sound business basis.

DAVID MCKAY, driver of a White's Express Co. truck, said that when he was driving the car from East St. John he had the request of two men to give them a ride. One of the men asked that the car slow down at the corner of Thorne avenue and Egebert street where they wished to get out. This was done, and just as the car was started again, witness saw a Ford truck passing him and his companion. William Carlin, remarked that the truck had struck a man. Witness stated that he had helped to pick Mr. McLean from between the wheels of the Ford truck, had him placed in his truck and conveyed to the injured man to the General Public Hospital. Witness said the Ford truck was traveling at a moderate rate of speed when it passed him.

A WONDERFUL N. B. APPLE.

If there was any doubt among the members of the staff of The Telegraph-Journal or Times-Star as to the deliciousness of the Macintosh red apple, they were thoroughly dispelled yesterday when a box of this attractive, luscious fruit was received from the farm of H. D. W. Hubbard, of Ontario. Packed in an attractive box, each apple had a certain individuality with its covering of tissue paper. If such preparation for shipment does not impress the fruit dealers of the City of St. John and other places in Nova Brunswick where apples are likely to be sold, it cannot be imagined what would rivet their attention. The campaign of persuading Maritime Province people to buy the goods manufactured within their confines should be extended vigorously to including everybody to eat only those apples grown in New Brunswick that that of displaying them attractively in shop windows with the name of the fruit to enjoy this wonderfully flavoured Macintosh Red Apple.

SEEKING TRADE WITH BRITAIN

German Move Subject of Report to U. S. Department.

(United Press.) Washington, Oct. 30.—The concerted effort of German traders to revive trade relations with Great Britain and Germany is under close scrutiny of U. S. Department of Commerce economists.

Records transmitted to the department from its London trade commission's office show that 15,000 German visitors visited the United Kingdom in the last six months. They may be called "ground floor" Germans, as they were making plans to enjoy any trade revival resulting from the Dawes plan application and the lapsing of the McKenna duties and the anti-dumping provisions of the British Safeguarding of Industries Act.

NO CHANGES IN MANAGERS FOR 1925

Pilots of Major Leagues are Expected to be Retained.

New York, Oct. 30.—(United Press)—While there was a number of disappointing entries in the 1924 pennant races, there will be no penalties of demerit passed out on managerial necks. The pilots of all the major leagues clubs are set for another year, with the exception of Branch Rickey, and if he gives up the leadership of the St. Louis Cardinals, it will be voluntary.

The most set of managers, who are not in the part-owner class, is young Buck Harris, the 28-year-old Washington manager, who made baseball history by winning a pennant and a world's championship in his first year as a manager. His success was sensational, not only because he was the youngest manager to win a pennant and a series, but because the club he handled was rated as the best in the first division possibility before the season started.

Washington's victory was due to the magnetic personality of its young manager, to his leadership and certainly to his possession of a lot of smart baseball. There was no element of luck in getting the Senators first under the wire in the American League, even if there might be said to have been some fate in the two hits that took crazy bounds over the third baseman's head and won the deciding game of the series.

Harris was an experiment when he started last spring and now he certainly should be classed as a future. John McGraw will be the manager of the New York Giants, not only because he is vice-president and big stockholder in the club, but because he is the most successful manager in the business. He has won more pennants than any other manager in the business and it is natural that with so many successful teams he has become the greatest business asset in the game. The Giants have made barrels of dough since McGraw took hold of the club.

Miller Huggins has a contract to manage the Yankees that runs another year, and it is probable that he will handle the club long as he wishes, because his boss, Jake Ruppert, is one of his greatest admirers. Huggins, however, is not in the best of health and he has intimated frequently that he would like to get out of the pressure of handling a major league pennant contender and buy into a minor league club.

Wilbert Robinson, manager of the Brooklyn Robins, is another fixture on the job. Robby can have his job as long as he wants it, because he is the biggest asset of the Brooklyn club, not only because of a large personal following among the Brooklyn fans, but because he is one of the most capable managers in the big leagues. Robby has the ability to get the most out of cheap ball clubs and he doesn't mind to spend a fortune for material to get successful teams.

Robby and Buck Harris were the outstanding managers of the 1924 season. When Robby finished in second place with a club that looked up on as a fallender in the spring, he pulled a stunt almost as sensational as Harris did.

PECKINPAUGH MAY RETIRE TO MINORS

Believes His Days as a Major Leaguer are Over.

New York, Oct. 30.—When Roger Peckinpaugh, veteran shortstop, broke down completely after making a vitally important stop in the sixth game of the late world series, it was believed that he had ended his career with the victorious Senators.

Peckinpaugh, who, next to Walter Johnson, is the oldest member of the world champions, may decide to accept a proposition to manage a team in the American Association, within reach of his home in Cleveland. In a recent interview he stated that he believed his days as a big leaguer were over.

"We have used Zam-Buk with remarkable success"

WHEN I happened an injury to my left foot," says Mr. Edward Whiteman, of 463, Notre Dame St., Lachine, Que., "it was painful enough, but didn't seem to call for special attention. A few days later, however, trouble began which I tried to check with poultices. But the sore got worse, the tendons became affected, and I could scarcely move about.

"PAIN & INFLAMMATION WAS DREADFUL until I was persuaded to put Zam-Buk on to the foot. I renewed the dressings at regular intervals, and gave the treatment every chance by resting the foot as much as I could. Zam-Buk drew soreness and impurity out of the wound in a surprising way and caused inflammation to quickly disappear. As a result, the foot went on steadily mending until perfectly healed.

"IN MY WIFE'S CASE poison and lancing combined had caused a painful wound that wouldn't heal. So without telling the doctor she set her mind upon Zam-Buk. Sure enough, healing commenced soon after the balm was applied. Within a few days my wife could wear a shoe and the foot was soon made sound and strong again. In future we shall always keep Zam-Buk in the house. It really is wonderful."

ZAM-BUK, the favorite home skin-remedy, is made from pure and costly medicinal herbs, its soothing, healing and antiseptic uses are never found in ordinary ointments. Zam-Buk is 50c. box, 3 for $1.25. Zam-Buk Medicinal Soap, 25c. the cake. Of dealers everywhere.

USEFUL SAMPLE BOX. Sent Free and Post Paid. Write for it to: Zam-Buk Mfg. Co., Dupont St., Toronto.

TWO SOCIETIES UNITE FOR PARTY. The Halloween party at the Y. M. C. A. last night was a splendid success. There were about 120 of the members of the senior classes of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. present, all in masquerade costumes, the men being all dressed as ghosts and the ladies wearing appropriate Halloween costumes of many kinds, some of them strikingly novel. The hallways were elaborately and artistically decorated and the decorations added much to the success of the entertainment.

HAVE FAREWELL PARTY. A farewell party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Duff, Main street, Fairville, on Tuesday night in honor of Mrs. Duff's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. George Capson of Moncton, who are retiring. About 20 guests were present. Mr. Capson has been 88 years in the employ of the C. N. R. in Moncton and is now on the retired list. Mr. and Mrs. Capson are leaving shortly for Mulden street, to spend the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Robert Capson, and Mr. Capson. At the party Tuesday night Mr. Capson was made the recipient of a loving robe and a beautiful string of beads was presented by Mrs. Capson. The party was extended when the presentations were made and Mr. and Mrs. Capson thanked their friends. The evening was pleasantly spent with games and music and refreshments were served. Friends in Moncton had presented to Mr. Capson a handsome club bag.

PASTOR REMAINS FOR THIRD YEAR. At a recent meeting of the quarterly board of the Methodist church an invitation was extended to the pastor, Rev. H. A. Goodwin, to remain for a third year and Mr. Goodwin accepted the invitation. The evangelistic services being conducted in the church attracted a large congregation last night when Dr. Crossley spoke on "Seven Royal Messages," and Mr. Leonard led the song service. Mr. Goodwin offered prayer. At the close of the service Dr. Crossley called on all officers of any church to come forward and a large number responded. Prayer was offered by those who had come forward.

Miller, who was Miss Florence Craig before marriage, tendered her a novelty shower last evening at the residence of Mrs. George Miller, 254 Brittain street. HON. FRED MAGEE'S AUTO IS STOLEN

Taken From Garage at Port Elgin—Reward is Offered.

Some one who has no right to do so is driving a Studebaker automobile owned by Hon. Fred Magee of Port Elgin, minister without portfolio in the New Brunswick Government. The car was stolen from Mr. Magee's garage at his home, Port Elgin, during last night. It should be traced before long as the news of the robbery and a description of the car have been sent broadcast to the police of the maritime provinces.

When a man who works at the house went to the garage this morning he noticed that the car was not in its place and thought that Mr. Magee had taken it out. About 9 o'clock Mr. Magee, on going to the garage, was astonished to find that the auto was not in its place and soon he was convinced that it had been stolen. He quickly sent the word out over the long distant telephone.

The stolen car is a Studebaker special six roadster of 1922 model. The license tag is N. B. 5075. On each of the wheels is a semi-hollow tire of 1924 make. The spare tire is a Good-year, Diamond tread. The serial number is 8106228 and the motor number 880,001—8.

There was also in the garage Mr. Magee's Packard car, but this was not disturbed.

Mr. Magee has offered a reward of $50 for return of the auto and a reward of $100 for the car and the thief.

Tomorrow Recalls Childhood Pranks

The first cousin of April Fool's Day on the calendar is here again, and the youthful spirits, as they rejoice tomorrow night at Hallowe'en when, disguised in big brother's clothes and wearing facepans and dreadful masks, they will invade homes and the friendly corner-store man and demand heavy tribute from terrified citizens in apples, doughnuts and other delicacies that delight the merry little hearts.

Who does not recall the kindly heart that dispenses with liberal hand the wicked-looking goodger gathered about his door? Who does not remember manufacturing saw-toothed spoons and with the aid of strings disturbing the slumbers of peaceful residents with these ear-piercing raps? Or pranking a pig in the front-door button? Or upsetting a neighbor's fence? Or dressing for a spree?

April Fool's Day is supposed to be set aside for the purpose of allowing people to perpetrate practical jokes and deception, but custom has peculiarly transferred that definition to Hallowe'en with about ten times more force. Its real name is All Hallow's Eve—the evening before All Saints' Day, Nov. 1.

POSTAL SERVICE IS FURTHER CRIPPLED

No Sub-station Now at Indian-town—Union Street Unsettled.

The Indian-town post office, which has been conducted by Mrs. Mary E. Brown, of 79 Main street, is no longer available to the public as Mrs. Brown has resigned the duties of operating a sub-post office. She notified Alexander Thompson, acting postmaster, a few days ago and he had sent her resignation to the Post Master, General at Ottawa. Mr. Thompson said this morning that he had not received the resignation but expected it soon. Already, Mr. Thompson said, they had received several applications for this office but he added that they could not do anything until word was received from Ottawa. Since the Union street post office was still not located, Mr. Thompson said, the service in the city was somewhat handicapped. The public are suffering considerable inconvenience.

At a meeting last evening in the Little River community church appreciation of the services of Rev. William Lawson, who is retiring from the pastorate, was voiced by the members of the board. GETS MORE WORD OF WEALTH IN ENGLAND

Benjamin Collington Tells of Fortune for Him Estimated at £80,000.

Benjamin Collington of Magazine street, who was informed nearly a year ago that he was one of the heirs of a large estate left by his uncle, Benjamin Collington, who died four years ago in Lancashire, England, has been notified to proceed to Montreal in December to secure his portion of the estate.

Mr. Collington said today that he had a visit from a lawyer named Rockland of Montreal, who instructed him to go to Montreal in December and to have a lawyer with him. He said his portion of the estate is $260,000 in addition to a valuable race horse. His uncle, he said, died four years ago, and for three years a secretary made for the St. John man before he was finally located here last summer. The estate included a large pottery, which was owned and operated by his uncle. Mr. Collington is making preparations for his trip to Montreal, and in the meanwhile will continue working.

CASH PRIZES FOR HALLOWE'EN RIGS

Imperial and Times-Star Have Plan to Make Kiddies Happier.

Tomorrow night will be All Hallow's. Of late years the youngsters of St. John have been making it a grand occasion for masquerading. Instead of doing the unkind pranking thing, such as toppling fences, smoking up hallways and other deceptions for which they may be arrested, they have been dressing up grotesquely, impersonating boys and girls and parading about town.

So tomorrow night—Friday, when there are no lessons to study—it is altogether likely the juveniles will be in high glee. In fact all indications point to a record turnout. This has suggested to the manager of the Imperial Theatre and the news staff of The Times-Star that the Hallowe'en fun of the children might be organized a little and an opportunity given to show off the funny costumes etc.

Therefore the Imperial is offering four cash prizes for the best get-up that appear at the theatre tomorrow night between seven and eight o'clock. The Times is going to publish a picture of the winners. Here is how the prize money is to be divided:

$2.00 for the best female impersonation.
$2.00 for the funniest get-up worn by boy.
$2.00 for the funniest get-up worn by girl.
The Hallowe'en masqueraders will be marshalled by the theatre by the theatre staff and between shows, in the vicinity of 8.50, they will be displayed to the audience from the stage with full lighting. The whole idea is nothing more than a festival for the children, the theatre and the newspaper. Let the kiddies have their innocent little fling, keep the oldtime gentilities alive.

If he is entered in the marathon race he will be pitted against Cathbert, a Hamilton youth who finished in 18th position in the Olympic race. MacAulay finished a short distance behind Cathbert. If these two stars meet the outcome will be awaited with interest by fans throughout the Dominion.
