DISCUSSION OVER FERRY INQUIRY BIT SPIRITED

Commissioners In Exchanges at Times Heated

TWO PHASES OF SUBJECT

Ferry Matters and Harbor Bridge Retaining Wall Tender $1,737 Below Estimate of The Engineer—General Business of Committee

The need for an investigation into the ferry administration occupied the attention of the city commissioners for the greater part of their time at a committee meeting this morning and at times the discussion became somewhat heated.

The tender of Lewis and Thomas Stephens for the construction of a retaining wall in Main street, at a figure $1,737 less than the engineer's estimate, at the present cost of concrete, which had advanced since the estimates were prepared.

That the street retaining wall in Main street were taken up and the city engineer reported that there were three bids which might be considered, the lowest being $1,737.

The council decided that the lowest tender should be accepted. If Lewis and Thomas Stephens could furnish satisfactory guarantees and Mr. Fisher's motion was accepted, as follows:

Mr. Bullock presented plans and specifications for the reconstruction of the cribwork to the north of the east side ferry boats.

Mr. Jones presented his motion, notice of which had been given, calling for an inquiry into the operation, management and control of the ferry service, and also to take evidence regarding the cost of construction by which cost should be borne, and as to the need for a bridge across the harbor.

MINISTER RESIGNS

Rev. I.W. Williamson Going Into Other Work

The congregation of Victoria street Baptist church were much surprised last evening when their pastor, Rev. I. W. Williamson, announced that he had resigned the pastorate and intended leaving today in connection with the work of the international brotherhood movement.

While in the city Mr. Williamson, in addition to being pastor of the Victoria street Baptist church, has been maritime chairman of the Christian Men's Federation with office in the Royal Bank building.

In talking to a Times reporter this morning he said that the brotherhood movement had assumed the responsibility of the care and education of many thousands of war orphans in the little country of Serbia and that representatives of the movement were in this country to raise $20,000 to help carry on the work.

Mr. Jones said he had no desire to back an inquiry, but if Mr. Jones wanted any information he could get it anytime he wanted it.

Mr. Bullock: It looks as if you thought you or some other member could run a street talk as sufficient grounds for an investigation, but if it would throw any light on the situation, it might be worth while.

Mr. Bullock said that if the resolution was deferred.

U. S. AMBASSADOR LEAVES ROME FOR FRENCH CAPITAL

A New York dispatch to J. M. Robinson and Sons says: "A London despatch says Ambassador Page has left Rome on an urgent mission to Paris. State Department has no confirmation of report that Page intends to resign."

Rome, April 28.—(Havas Agency)—Engagements between France and Italy were broken off last night by Professor Luigi Luzzatti, former premier and minister of the interior, from Premier Clemenceau of France, to whom Professor Luzzatti sent an appeal.

London, April 28.—(Havas Agency)—President Wilson's stand in regard to France was inconsistent with his attitude concerning Danzig.

Berne, April 28.—(By the Associated Press)—Report from Bavaria state that the Communists of Munich threaten that when the city is besieged the citizens will be ordered to leave the city.

THIRTEEN MEN OF U. S. NAVY LOSE LIVES IN HUDSON

New York, April 28.—Thirteen sailors returning in a navy launch to the battleship Nevada were reported by the police to have been drowned when the launch sank in the Hudson River off 188th street early today.

The police said that in the absence of an official statement by the naval authorities they based their report on information from persons who said they witnessed the sinking and heard the cries of drowning sailors.

GATHERING FOR SYNOD SESSION

Large Number of Church of England Clergymen Come to St. John—Bishop of Quebec Coming

A large number of Anglican clergymen came to the city on today's morning train to attend the meeting of the Synod which will convene tomorrow. His Lordship Bishop Richardson, Canon Covie, Venerable Archdeacon Neale, all of Fredericton, were among the number.

The preliminaries to the session will include a Quiet Hour of devotions at eight o'clock this morning in Trinity church at which the Bishop of Quebec will officiate. Tomorrow morning at 9:30 in Trinity the devotional exercises will be continued with corporate communion. In the afternoon at 2:30 the business of the synod will be taken up in Trinity Sunday school room, Bishop Richardson presiding.

A distinguishing feature of this meeting of the Synod will be further discussion and action relating to the great church forward movement.

It is expected that between sixty and seventy clergymen will be present. Among the notable visitors are to be Bishop Williams of Quebec, who will be the guest of Sir J. Douglas and Lady Hazen; Bishop Richardson of Fredericton, guest of Mrs. John V. Ellis, Princess street; Rev. J. Cooper Robinson, general secretary of the Society of Church of England Missions in Canada, both of whom are guests of the house of Canon R. A. Armstrong, Trinity rectory, Charlotte street.

On Thursday evening of this week the synod will be entertained at the home of Sir J. Douglas Hazen.

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

BILLIE REEVES
Famous Motion Picture Comedian and Musical Comedy Star at Opera House Tomorrow

The big feature of the new Opera House vaudeville programme opening tomorrow afternoon will be Billie Reeves, famous motion picture comedian and star of the musical comedy, "A Night in an English Music Hall." Mr. Reeves and supporting company present here an uproariously funny farce comedy in one act, "The Right Key Bu the Wrong Flat," just packed full of hearty laughs and comical situations and a little musical comedy business put in for good measure. Thousands of people have laughed and laughed at Billie Reeves on the screen—here is an opportunity to see him in the flesh. He has been the big comedy sensation of the season in vaudeville. You will like him for you cannot help it.

There will be four other good acts on the programme as well as the serial drama, "The Iron Test." The matinee tomorrow is at 7:30 o'clock—old time—evening as usual, at 7:00 and 9.

Mildred Harris At Imperial Tonight

The splendid Lois Weber feature, "When a Girl Loves," which is the big attraction at the Imperial tonight and tomorrow, shows Mildred Harris (Mrs. Charlie Chaplin), in another of her eminent successes. This time, however, she is not playing a society role or the part of a shop-girl, but the innocent little daughter of a sickly clergyman who is sent to Arizona for his health and to work in an express office. How this girl in the wild surroundings comes in with a swearing, bullying atheist and "bad" man in the western meaning of the word, is a truly wonderful story. The teachings of Ingersoll as against the teachings of the Bible, the unique situation of a band impersonating a clergyman and then being converted by his own masquerading makes a fiction that simply bristles with new ideas and thrills. "When a Girl Loves" is a combination of "The Spoilers," "The Flame of the Yukon," "Carmen of the Klondike" and other great film-plays with all the action and atmosphere such a play demands. British Weekly, Signor Guarino and Mutt and Jeff.

THE ANNA CASE RECITAL
The exchange of advance tickets for the Anna Case song recital in Imperial Theatre Friday evening, May 3, opens at the theatre box office today at 10 o'clock, and as the selection of seats for a musical event of this nature is rather an important matter to many people, it is expected there will be very brisk demand. Advance tickets are still on sale at Gray & Ritchie's book store and at Imperial Theatre, as well as from the female patriotic societies. The recital already gives promise of being a very brilliant event, not only in an artistic sense, but socially. The box parties already arranged include the Military Command, the Governor, the Premier, the Mayor and other officials.

TOO LATE IF YOU DON'T SEE IT TONIGHT

POLICE COURT

Charles Taylor was arrested by Detective Biddiscombe on Saturday night and was in the police court this morning charged with breaking and entering and stealing property from a summer cottage owned by Mrs. Carrie at Morne and also with damaging the house. He was remanded until witnesses could be summoned.

A man charged with wandering around and not giving a satisfactory account of himself. He was sent into jail and his case will come up later.

John J. King, of Kent county, who is working in West St. John as a longshoreman, at No. 1 shed, was in the police court this morning charged with stealing eggs. The policeman said the man admitted that he had taken four eggs. Neil Shea, a checker, testified that there were fifteen eggs missing. Policeman McCusland gave corroborative evidence. Magistrate Ritchie said he would inquire into the character of the accused and the evidence. In the meantime the accused was remanded.

Four men were charged with drunkenness. Two were fined $8 each and two were remanded. Inspector Garnett questioned the men as to where they got liquor and found that they all had their liquor from the same source, the Harmon extract. The inspector said he was going to arrest a woman who, he said, has been selling lemon extract too freely. It is thought that her case will be in the police court tomorrow.

"The City of Comrades."
"The City of Comrades" is the title of a new novel by Basil King, to be published immediately by the Harpers. Mr. King here tells the story of a down-and-outer who pulled himself together and found his soul. The scene is laid in one of the most curious spots in America. The wide and the foolish life here, the high-born and the low, each for all and all for each, helping and hindering along. The down-and-outer is an architect, he drinks and the rest is easy to guess. At the beginning of the story he leaves a certain job, but "The City of Comrades" has never seen. It was meant as a cheering joke, but "The City of Comrades" goes on to tell how this sordid job became a command in the hand of Fate.

What Shall the Future Chemist Be? Of course, men will call themselves whatever they please. We cannot legislate titles. But it seems to me of vital importance that only those students of today should become chemists who are properly equipped to meet the great responsibilities which are there to encounter.

It is the coming profession. It must determine for us in the future what we shall eat and drink and where we shall live. Whether we grow as an industrial nation or sink into decrepitude is in large measure dependent upon our chemists. If we grow, it will be because they are men of vision, of childlike curiosity and unspiced fancy; men of taste, of discrimination, who are familiar with human reactions and with the grace of life. They will be men whose long-range view is glorified by imagination. They will carry the subtle art of the teacher into the work and lead the men and women engaged there into the paths of understanding and delight. Then work in the factory will cease to be drudgery, and good conditions and fair wages will cease to be the maximum of merit demanded of employers—when this enlightenment prevails.

This is one great quality that was enjoyed in medieval days that is lost to us. It was that which made their cathedrals so beautiful, their falcons so keen, their art so perfect, their work so strong and true. Men sang at their work because they found joy in it. Now we have different conditions, different conditions, different problems, but in the very measure that our men and women who constitute parts of great industrial organizations do not find pleasure in their work, we are in danger of losing what we would be great in industry we must make our workers intelligent and ambitious and in understanding. We must make it possible for them not only to produce things, but to see that they are producing. Therefore, if our chemists are to be the men of the future, they must be men of vision and good will. That will be the day—and may God speed its coming!—when ideals of service will rule in our hearts.—Elwood Hendrick in Harper's Magazine for April.

The Flavor of Old Annapolis.
The American flavor of Annapolis is a distinct explanation. For the flavor of the place is still amazingly English. The street names, Duke of Gloucester, Prince George, Hanover, Cornwall (which is Cornwall street, as it never was in London), and Shipwright street are all English. They are intimately and sometimes pathetically reminiscent of the English queen for whom the town was named. Prince George street is for her husband, and Duke of Gloucester for her little son, the only one of her seven children who survived babyhood.

Survived only till he was eleven. Now that the Revolution is so far away and England and America are again allies, there is something very pleasant in these old names which Annapolis never changes. Nowhere in America does one get a stronger sense of the English origin of us, of a family connection which somehow survived the quarrel and has now come right again. Some day Annapolis would be the suitable site for some friendly celebration of the renewed Anglo-American tie, the more so as near by stands the statue of Baron de Kalb, a German who had fled in France and loved her and came across to America to die in our first fight for liberty.

Annapolis might almost be an English county town, if it were not for the half-tropical heat of some of its summer days, for the presence of a large, soft-spoken, easy-going black population, and for the neigns of the great bay of Chesapeake. It is perhaps in the confusion of Market Space at the edge of the little harbor, some summer Saturday morning, or some hot moonlit August Saturday night, when there is a great deal of chatter and a wealth of color in female attire, and a profusion of soft-shell crabs, that England most faithfully re-created in the full of memories of the English colony, planted in a new landscape and by new waters, and in spite of this keeping in America something of old England, her traditions, her merriess and her love of good cheer.—Harrison Rhodes in Harper's Magazine for April.

Cold the Friend of Arctic Explorers.
One of the curious errors about the North that are prevalent among those few who have any ideas about the North at all is that cold is the chief enemy we have to fight beyond the Arctic Circle. I am sure that all those who have travelled extensively on the moving polar ice would agree with me that the cold is our best friend. For that reason February is a better month than March for sledge travel, and January would be as good as February were it not for the fact that it is then too dark for safe

THE EVENING TIMES AND STAR, ST. JOHN, N. B., MONDAY, APRIL 28, 1919

The Evening Times and Star

ST. JOHN, N. B., APRIL 28, 1919

The St. John Evening Times is printed at 27 and 29 Canterbury street, every evening (Sunday excepted) by The St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co., Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

ANXIOUS DAYS

While the covenant of the league of nations is practically ready to be submitted to the peace conference and the German delegates are on the way to Paris to receive the peace terms, the Italian stumbling-block has not been removed. While Italy is included in the final draft of the peace treaty, with the names of Premier Orlando and his colleagues, they have all returned to Italy, where "Flume or death" appears to have become a popular cry.

A BRIGHTER OUTLOOK

Today's cables tell of further success by the all-Russian armies under Gen. Kolchak against the Bolsheviks. His success has encouraged the belief that the Allies will presently recognize the Omsk government. At all events there is less talk about negotiations with Lenin and Trotsky, or of supplying their forces with food, which would merely strengthen them at a time when their power is waning.

A CHALLENGE

The Times commends to others as well as the members of St. George's Society the following paragraph from a sermon by Archdeacon Crowfoot last evening: "It must ever be a blot on the fair escutcheon of this society to know that sport has practically died out of this city. Gone are the days when our crews were famous throughout the whole world. Gone are the days of cricket. One seldom hears of a baseball match, and it is questionable if there was a single hockey match here last winter. Is it true that the boys of our high school have no grounds on which to practice? And why is it that the children of our city have to play baseball on the streets?"

HERE IS AN EXAMPLE

Friends of educational reform in New Brunswick will be greatly encouraged by the new legislation recently introduced in Ontario. The Toronto Globe thus summarizes some of the provisions of the measure introduced by Hon. Dr. Cody, minister of education: "A bill will be introduced to provide libraries in rural districts. Teachers will be trained in the use of libraries, and they will be required to pay more attention to household science and to the necessities of social and home life. The training of teachers will be separated from technical and industrial education, the latter being placed in charge of Dr. Merchant, and a new superintendent being appointed for the former. Grammar will be combined with composition, so that the former will be made less abstract than heretofore. More time will be provided for the 'fundamentals,' reading, writing, spelling, ciphering, geography, history, and also in the upper forms for manual training and household science. Home work may be lightened, but it will not be eliminated. Moral and patriotic ideas will be cultivated. For those who do not intend to go into professions there will be provided special secondary agricultural, commercial, and technical schools. An additional grant of $250,000 has been made to assist rural school boards to increase the salaries of teachers. He also wanted to introduce a system of hot lunches in rural schools, and to provide peripatetic teachers where the schools were scattered and poorly attended. Finally, he dwelt upon the value of making rural schools into community centres for social life, and appealed to the members of both sides of the house to plan together with him for the better education of the youth of the province."

ing, writing, spelling, ciphering, geography, history, and also in the upper forms for manual training and household science. Home work may be lightened, but it will not be eliminated. Moral and patriotic ideas will be cultivated. For those who do not intend to go into professions there will be provided special secondary agricultural, commercial, and technical schools. An additional grant of $250,000 has been made to assist rural school boards to increase the salaries of teachers. He also wanted to introduce a system of hot lunches in rural schools, and to provide peripatetic teachers where the schools were scattered and poorly attended. Finally, he dwelt upon the value of making rural schools into community centres for social life, and appealed to the members of both sides of the house to plan together with him for the better education of the youth of the province."

"For those who do not intend to go into professions there will be provided special secondary agricultural, commercial, and technical schools." The Times-Star desires to direct the attention of the city council and school board of St. John to this statement, and to remind them that the vocational training board for St. John has not yet been appointed. The St. John school board will also note that Dr. Cody wants rural schools made into community centres. For the same reason he would approve of a wider use of school buildings in cities, for the need is often greater there than in the rural districts.

Dr. Cody would almost wholly eliminate home work. He also protests against catch questions in examinations, remarking that an examination is to ascertain how much a pupil knows, and not how much he does not know. Will our school examiners please note this remark?

"More time for the fundamentals" is another change sought by Dr. Cody. We need that in St. John schools—more attention to "reading, writing, spelling, ciphering, geography, history, manual training and household science." Given a proper course, with commercial and industrial training for those desiring them, we would be doing something for the real benefit of the ninety per cent of the pupils who at present fail to reach the high school. This means not only a change in the school course but a revision of text books; and it cannot come too soon. Here is one keen observation by Dr. Cody:

"The people of the cities, the towns and the villages are all anxious to get the best education they can and are prepared to pay for it. I have not so much an opinion of the people of this province as to believe that they will improve the breed of hogs or holsteins and not of human beings."

Hon. Dr. Cody referred also to the department's health campaign. Many a boy was dull in school because of adenoids or diseased tonsils. It was proposed to make a thorough medical and dental survey of the entire province. In the days to come, he predicted, the school nurse, doctor and dentist would be factors in education almost as potent as the teachers themselves.

The attention of New Brunswick readers is especially directed to what Dr. Cody said concerning secondary schools and the "old-fashioned high school." He said: "Our secondary schools are being gradually differentiated. We still have the old-fashioned high school with the general lines of a liberal education. We are rapidly developing our industrial, commercial and art schools as well as agricultural schools. Our next great step will be for the differentiation of our specialized high school so that the youth of our land from fourteen to eighteen may obtain the kind of education that will be best for them for the life work of the days to come."

At the same time, as already pointed out, it is proposed to remove part of the heavy burden placed upon children in the elementary courses. In short, the whole system is to be changed and improved.

Mr. Thomas Marshall, leader of the opposition, agreed with the minister that a great change was needed. A report of his remarks says: "The average boy or girl in the schools was not given opportunity to think sufficiently. The curriculum, too, was overloaded. He did not think unsupervised home work was what it should be. Instead he believed there should not be so much time for recitation in the class room, and some time for preparation of work under supervision. Examinations at best, said Mr. Marshall, only show the temporary knowledge of the pupils of unrelated facts. Isolated facts were of no use in themselves. The instructors should lead their pupils and not drive them."

All that is said of conditions in Ontario schools applies with even greater force in New Brunswick. Our legislators should give the subject early and practical consideration.

SAMUEL GOMPERS HURT Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, was seriously injured in New York on Saturday afternoon when a taxi-cab in which he was riding was struck by a street car. Two ribs were fractured, his right hip sprained and other injuries were sustained, but Mr. Gompers, who is sixty-nine years old, is expected to recover.

TWILIGHT AT NAZARETH

Thou, leaf-bound, hill-built Nazareth; So lone, and yet so fair to see! Thy restful, foot-worn, hill-bent path, Thy gray, time-torn pomegranate tree, The fountain in thy heart, thy hallowed hill— Thy pleasant Virgin's fountain, flowing still!

I see the trailing briony Along thy level levels and thy steep; And droop down, droop solemnly, As droop dark vells when women weep. I can but think upon that great third day When women came to roll the stone away.

Thy lilies blossom still the same In lowly places, and thy hills Yet blaze with poppies and the flame Of yellow flax. The cricket trills.

Thy crimson salvias like a sea Still bathe thy levels and thy steep; Bright iris, bright anemone, Bright purple mallows and bright deeps Of dandelions still dash the margined And pile thy flowery glories fold on fold.

The valleys still are fruitful fair, Forsaking naught, forgetting naught Of perfect raiment, nor the rare High walk of holy beauty taught By one most beautiful, by one who spake In speech like flowers.

And this the lesson, this the book That lies wide open now as then. Come, read one syllable, come look How broader than the books of men! Come catch the secret of this harmony Of beautifuls—then all the world is free!

—Joanna Miller.

LIGHTER VEIN.

"Don't talk to me about the wonders of past ages," said Uncle Joe Cannon, "The world today is far more wonderful than ever before. Just think, it took Columbus as many months as it now takes days to cross the ocean, and we talk about flying and travelling a mile a minute as though it were nothing. Why, the other day I dropped into a country school just in time to hear the teacher ask: 'Johnny, into what two great classes is the human race divided?' And Johnny answered promptly: 'Motorists and pedestrians.' That's what I call progress. After a while there won't be any pedestrians."

The Wrong Flock. A merchant in a nearby town has just decided to go out of business since he wrote an "ad." for the local paper in which he expounded upon the vast crowds of customers that visited the store. The printer made the mistake, but as the merchant read his own proof he has no alibi. Anyhow, here is his Advertisement for Dunlop Tires. Features a large illustration of a tire tread and text: 'Making Motoring Popular - Keeping It Economical and Safe'. '1919 finds Dunlop Traction Tread-Cord and Regular - out to surpass all quality records. In 1918 more new friends were made - more "Tractions" were sold - than in any other year. Our own men, motoring in the various portions of Canada on their daily duties, had an excellent opportunity to see countless "Tractions" in service. They saw them on big city streets, in the quiet of the country, over the even, carefully-graded expanses of highways, and on the hilly going of the mountainous districts; but the important point is that they saw them delivering service of a new order - the kind of service that has no "backfire," no "added entries" of cost to the Tire Bankbook. With "Tractions" now obtainable in Cord, as well as in Regular Construction - with each part of the tire made sturdier than ever before, with countless car owners saying "Tractions" Deserve Well Because They Serve Well - the logical choice for tire equipment is the "Master of the Road." The "Two Hands" Line consists of: Dunlop Cord - "Traction" and "Ribbed"; Dunlop Regular - "Traction," "Special," "Ribbed," "Clipper," "Plain." Dunlop "Clipper" and Dunlop "Ribbed" (Regular) - both anti-skids - sell at the price of "Plains," a remarkable opportunity.

When The Boys Come Back

What form will the presentation take? From the inquiries we receive from Village, Town and County Councils, we know it's not so easy to decide.

Many are giving special medals, others watches or signet rings. All strive to give something that will be lasting enough to be prized in the years to come.

One thing we know—if it's a "Birks" Watch, a "Birks" Ring or a "Birks" Medal, neither we, the donor, nor the wearer will ever have cause to be ashamed of it.

That's worth consideration, isn't it? We have recently published an attractive little folder "The Man Who Came Back"—write for a copy as it contains many useful suggestions of just those things he would appreciate.

RUBBISH FIRE IN YARD.
The chemical and a few other pieces of apparatus responded to a still alarm early on Saturday evening to extinguish a rubbish fire which had gotten beyond its bounds in a yard off Middle street, running between Brussels and Waterloo.

MARRIED IN NEW HAVEN.
The marriage of Miss George Hetherington Bain, youngest daughter of Mrs. John Bain of this city, to Leon A. Noyes of New Haven, Conn., took place on Sunday, April 27, in New Haven, Conn. Rev. James McGee officiated.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED.
Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kelly have announced the engagement of their only daughter, Jean, to William Hawkins, of Cleveland, Ohio, now a resident of Montreal. The wedding will take place on Wednesday, April 30, in Montreal, Mrs. Kelly will leave this evening to be present at the ceremony.

TO SPEND SUMMER IN ST. JOHN.
Mrs. Walter Carr and her mother, Mrs. de Lancy Robinson, of Fredericton, have come to St. John, where Mrs. Robinson will spend the summer with her son, Cortlandt Robinson. In the fall Mrs. Robinson will go to New York and spend the winter with Mrs. Carr.

SUNDAY IN THE PARK.
The animals in Rockwood Park held their opening reception on Sunday and thousands of young and old citizens were in attendance. About the improvements under way at the pleasant resort is a concrete wharf foundation for the boating station. Other matters of roadway upkeep and by-paths are receiving attention.

MRS. CHESTER W. DEAN.
The death of Mrs. Chester W. Dean occurred at her home, Robertson's Point, Queens county, on last Saturday after a lingering illness. She is survived by her husband and two sons, Fred W. of St. John and C. Roy of Portland, Me.; also two brothers, Lawrence and Thomas Cromwell, and one sister, Miss Zetta Cromwell, all of St. John. The funeral will take place on Tuesday afternoon from her late residence.

RECEPTION FOR MISS CASE.
A reception at the home of R. H. Anderson, 26 Queen Square, is to be the social recognition given Miss Anna Case of the Metropolitan Opera Co. upon her visit here. Since the singer's songstress is being brought here under military auspices the reception will take on a distinctly military character, especially as regards attendance. The Anderson household is willingly co-operating with the veterans in this graceful tribute.

ONE SISTER IN ST. JOHN.
Mrs. Mary P. Herlihy died on Friday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank E. Kelley, 82 Boutelle road, Bangor, at the age of eighty-two years and fifteen days. Mrs. Herlihy had made her home in Bangor for the last thirty-five years. She leaves two daughters, Mrs. F. E. Kelley of Bangor, and Mrs. A. W. Wing of Winthrop, Mass.; three sons, William M. of Staten Island, N. Y., Arthur E. of Manchester, N. H., and Percy E., of Lewiston; also one sister, Mrs. Annie Melver of St. John. She is also survived by eighteen grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

THE PRICE OF GASOLINE.
Automobiles are greatly interested in the price of gasoline which has not declined much, if any, since the war-time use of it ceased. It is now selling from forty to forty-three cents a gallon retail and about thirty-six cents a gallon wholesale. A prominent dealer was asked this forenoon why the price held up. He said it was due largely to the lack of a reserve supply, such as always existed previous to the war, but which was snapped up greedily by the allied armies, making it necessary to overtake the normally increasing demand with a fresh reserve, which has really not yet been accomplished. The oil market, as quoted today on stock exchanges was very active because of this shortage and there was small hope for cheaper gas this season. The whole industry as far as stock was concerned, would have to be readjusted.

PARTY AND PRESENTATION TO RETURNED SOLDIER.
A very enjoyable party was given in honor of Bdr. Geo. Niles, recently returned from overseas, at the home of his sister, Mrs. James Hunt, 48 Broad street, on last Friday evening. There were about forty guests present and all enjoyed a pleasant evening spent in games and dancing and with songs by Mr. Banbury. During the evening Bdr. Niles was made recipient of a beautiful silver ring, a present from his sister and brother-in-law, Sergeant and Mrs. F. A. Hunt. The presentation was made by G. A. Banks, who handed the ring to Bdr. Niles with a few well chosen words. The recipient replied by thanking all present for their kindness and said he was only sorry that he was leaving such kind friends. Bdr. Niles left for Boston on the following day. A dainty lunch was served by Mrs. Hunt, ably assisted by Mrs. Dalton, Mrs. Banks and Mrs. Lovitte the latter also having seen service in France.

MANY THOUSANDS LANDED HERE.
The immense amount of work done by the C. P. R. during the time that the C. P. O. S. transports docked at St. John can be estimated by the following figures: 10,736 cabin passengers, including 2,348 officers and senior N. C. O.'s, 33,365 steerage passengers, including 20,544 other ranks, were all efficiently handled and dispatched to their respective homes.

CONFUSION OVER TIME MARKED

Most of the churches went on daylight time yesterday, but in some of them there was considerable confusion. In a North End church where daylight time has not been adopted the mix-up was marked, especially with the children who gathered about the locked doors for Sunday school an hour too soon. In a Baptist church as many as a dozen members snaked up the stairs at from ten to five minutes to eight in the evening, thinking it was the old time, another only to hear the "thirty and lastly" of the sermon. In a North End church a pastor was informed by one of his deacons that he would have to count him out of the week-night services as his working hours conflicted with the daylight time as things stood now.

This morning at the Anna Case recital booking sale hundreds gathered on the daylight time when the sale really commenced on the old time.

Yesterday forenoon in connection with the military church parade the Catholic soldiers were unable to make their parade hour coincide with the hour of service at the Cathedral, where old time prevailed. Consequently the march to St. John the Baptist church, Broad street.

The clock on the meteorological observatory, Douglas avenue, was changed to daylight time on Sunday, but the time ball on the Customs House still will fall at one o'clock, standard time of the 60th meridian.

As you go the merry mixup with St. John getting more befuddled every day.

CAN'T GET IN TILL THE OTHER GETS OUT

An Instance of One of the Cheerful Prospects for Moving Day

"Do you know you're stopping the procession?" telephoned a householder to his business friend today.

"How's that?" queried the puzzled man at the other end of the wire.

"Well, its just this way," was the explanation. "A family in Paradise row who are going to move into a house in Waterloo street being created by a family moving to King street east and into which I am going to locate, say that as soon as you let the incoming tenant in to your place the procession will start."

"G'long with you," came back the somewhat plaintive reply, "the real trouble is the head of the procession. The woman into whose house I'm going to move is delayed because the family ahead of her are forced to stand pat because the person in whose flat they are going to set up is sick in bed from having her teeth extracted under gas."

This is only one of scores of similar cases all over town. The big drive is on but parts of the line are being held back through local circumstances.

VERY PATHETIC CASE

Circumstances Surrounding Death of Mrs. Ethel May Lean

Pathetic circumstances surrounded the sudden death of Mrs. Ethel May Lean, which occurred at her home in the rear of 96 St. Patrick street on Friday night or early Saturday morning. Mrs. Lean kept up her home for her son, aged sixteen, and her daughter, aged fourteen, both of whom were working to support themselves and their mother.

On Friday night she retired as usual and the children had no indication of the impending tragedy until her son entered Mrs. Lean's room on Saturday morning and found her lying dead on the floor. A little later the daughter made the same discovery for herself. Apparently unable to cope with the terrible situation the young people prepared their breakfast and went to their work as usual.

After turning the matter over in his mind during the morning the Cad decided that some one must be informed and so when he went home at noon he told one of the neighbors. The latter immediately took steps to do what the situation called for, and then notified the coroner, F. L. Kenney, who gave permission for the removal of the body to Chamberlain's rooms.

The little family had been making their home in a flat of three rooms consisting of kitchen and two bedrooms, one of them without a window.

WN. STILES OF C.G.R. KILLED; WM. COOK SERIOUSLY INJURED

Moncton, N. B., April 28—William Stiles was killed and William Cook injured this morning while two trains were crossing at Evan's Siding. The men were in the employ of the track department of the C. G. R. Cook as foreman. A way freight, east-bound, had taken the siding to let a west-bound train pass. The men stepped over to the siding to get out of the way of the passing train and before they noticed what was happening the way freight backed up, running over Stiles and killing him instantly and seriously injuring Cook. The men lived in Dorchester, each about sixty years of age and in the service of the railway many years.

KING'S COLORS TO THREE BATTALIONS OF CANADIANS

Duke of Connaught Makes Presentation to 18th, 20th and 24th at Whitley Camp

London, April 26.—(Canadian Associated Press)—The Duke of Connaught in the presence of several thousand Canadian soldiers presented at Whitley Camp today the king's colors to the 18th, 20th and 24th Battalions. The 20th also received regimental colors. The duke was accompanied by Prince Arthur and was received by Generals Currie and Bursall. The religious ceremony was performed by Colonel Almond. Addressing the parade the duke said: "These colors are the symbol of loyalty to king and country. May you ever carry them to the honor and glory of Canada. You three battalions represent three units of the great second division that fought so splendidly in France. I should weary you were I to attempt to repeat the names of the different engagements in which you took so prominent a part, but perhaps the great attack on Vimy Ridge, where the second division fought with such bravery, will recall to you the names of the many who fell on that bloody field. My son who is here today saw the second division go into action at Vimy and says he will never forget it as long as he lives. I do not suppose I will have an opportunity of seeing you again; certainly not in the old country, but I am proud to think of the splendid way you have maintained the good name of Canada in France and Belgium. You carry back to the dominion the gratitude and respect of us, your fellow countrymen. You leave England with the respect and affection of the whole British empire and nation."

TROUBLES IN THE WEST OVER ALIENS

Prince George, B. C., April 28.—Returned soldiers on Friday night wrecked the real estate offices of Max Schenk and Conrad Reinhard, Germans, also the Arcade restaurant owned by J. Tedin, a foreigner, accused by the soldiers of making seditious remarks. Resentment against Germans here is still strong and further trouble was feared. Eight or ten alien enemies had been given notice to leave the district at a few hours' warning. Victoria, B. C., April 28.—A telegram from Alex. Manson, Liberal member for Ormeau, received by Attorney-General Ferris on Saturday, paints a gloomy picture of the situation which has developed among a gang of enemy aliens there. Destruction of property was commenced there on last Friday night and the storekeepers and business men in general appeal for police protection. No definite details of the cause of the outbreak have been received today.

SIR SAM'S BROTHER MADE SUPERINTENDENT OF THE PENITENTIARIES

Ottawa, April 28.—The civil service commission has appointed Major-General St. Pierre Hughes, brother of Sir Sam Hughes, to the position of superintendent of dominion penitentiaries created by legislation passed at the 1917 session of parliament.

BETH IN ENGLAND. A letter from England, dated April 8, reported that the 26th Battalion had arrived from France.

Returned Soldiers Welcome

To the Citizens of St. John:—

Your hearty co-operation is invited to give the returning soldier units the cordial Welcome Home, which they deserve and which is due to all the soldiers who have come back.

Business men and householders in all parts of the city are asked to display flags and bunting on the day of arrival and to illuminate their premises at night. The day to be observed as a holiday.

Shipping in the harbor is requested to decorate.

Motor owners are asked to trim up their cars.

Notice having been given of the approach of the returning units, patriotic citizens are asked to prepare to meet and greet the soldiers, bringing flags and banners and making a joyful noise.

The churches are requested to ring their joy-bells, the factories and steamers to blow their whistles, the boy scouts to fill the air with music of their horns.

EVERYBODY TO CHEER as the boys go marching by.

To prevent accidents, autos are requested to keep off the route of parade.

The G. W. V. A. are cordially invited to assist in welcoming their comrades.

The civilian bands, patriotic societies and other community organizations are asked to co-operate.

At a later date this summer it is proposed to hold a Grand Field Day for all New Brunswick soldiers who have come back.

CITIZENS' RECEPTION COMMITTEE,

R. T. Hayes, Mayor, Honorary Chairman. S. H. Hayes, Chairman.

KOLCHAK'S MEN ARE ADVANCING

More Rapid Movement as Spring Advances, and Bolsheviki May be Forced From Archangel Section

Paris, April 28.—(By the Associated Press)—Admiral Kolchak's troops have advanced along the southern branch of the trans-Siberian Railway in Eastern European Russia to Kinet, only forty miles east of Samara, according to dispatches received by the Russian commissioners in Paris from Omsk, the capital of Admiral Kolchak's government. A slower advance is also being made being made along the northern branch of the Trans-Siberian where the anti-Bolshevik forces have taken Glazov, east of Viatka. A third column is moving westward midway between these two forces and has reached Sarapul, on the Kama River. This stream is navigable and flows into the Volga, and with the disappearance of the ice, which is now breaking up, will afford easy transportation to Simbirsk, which is apparently the destination of the central column.

Prince Lvoff and other members of the Russian commission here believe that the movement westward will be rapid as spring advances and they expect that the lower Volga Valley will soon be under the control of the Kolchak government. It also hoped the Omsk forces will soon capture Viatka thus making it imperative that the Bolsheviki withdraw from the Archangel section, as the railway running north from Viatka connects the Prine at Kollas and would make communication easy between the Allied forces in Northern Russia and those of the Omsk government.

ARRIVAL OF PREMIER ORLANDO IN ROME

Great Reception With Popular Acclaim for Cause Pursued in Paris

Rome, April 28.—(By the Associated Press)—Vittorio Orlando, Italian premier, arrived in Rome on Saturday from Paris. Rome was thronged in greeting. The offices and shops were closed and the members of some 200 associations, clubs and patriotic leagues, bearing banners with the legend "Italy, Flame, Dalmatia," went to the railway station to lined themselves along the thoroughfares through which Premier Orlando would pass on his way to the ministry of the interior. All the cabinet ministers in Rome, high officials of state, the prefects, Prince Colonna, the mayor of Rome, and 800 senators and deputies gathered inside the station to receive the prime minister.

Banners were displayed bearing the inscription: "Flame, Dalmatia, or death." Airplanes hovered above, among them a giant bombing machine. For more than an hour the automobile containing Premier Orlando, General Diaz and Signor Barzilai was so surrounded by the immense crowd outside the station that it could not move.

The premier addressing the crowd, which greeted him, said: "It is not time for language. In the face of the danger which hangs over us, we must have firmness and a calm, serene conscience."

"There are two questions. The first is whether the party joined the king, queen and crown prince on the balcony, and the entire group was acclaimed with enthusiasm by the assemblage below."

"After four years of unspeakable privations and sacrifices," said Premier Orlando, "we may find ourselves faced with fresh sacrifices and privations. At this moment Italy is ready, and greater than ever—greater than in May, 1915."

"The decision must be a well-considered one. Food supplies are failing, but Italy, which has known hunger, has never known dishonor. I do not conceal from you the danger of a very critical hour. (Cries of "we will face anything.")

"I am with you," continued the premier, "a brother among brothers, and also a chief who asks to obey and follow the will of the people. It may be that we shall find ourselves alone, but Italy will not perish."

At the conclusion of his address, the premier was given an ovation. General Diaz and Signor Barzilai then spoke and were cheered by the soldiers and sailors.

Prince Colonna asserted that there was complete solidarity of the people of Rome and of Italy with the government.

Premier Orlando, General Diaz, Prince Colonna and Signor Barzilai entered motor cars and a procession was formed which proceeded to the royal palace in Quirinal square.

BELAND AND GRAHAM AT ONTARIO MEETING

Latter Calls on Liberals to Break Away From the Unionists

Toronto, April 28.—Hon. Dr. Henri Beland, M. P. for Beauce, Que., was a guest of the Toronto Liberals at a dinner at the Ontario Club here on Saturday night. Outstanding features of his address were: An earnest appeal for unity between the French and English-speaking races of Canada; a demand that governmental action be taken immediately to lower the tariff so as to meet the request of the farmers and to relieve the workmen from the burden under which they are suffering; a warning to the dominion government not to tamper with the franchise which Canadians enjoy, and a note of caution advising the government to preserve Canadian autonomy.

BOY SCOUT CHIEF HERE ON MAY 9

Sir Robert and Lady Baden-Powell Will Arrive in Early Morning

Sir Robert and Lady Baden-Powell will arrive in St. John on Friday, May 9, at 6:15 o'clock in the morning. The news was received today from Ottawa by A. C. Skelton, provincial commissioner of the Boy Scouts. According to plans first made when their prospective visit was announced, the visitors were to be in St. John a week earlier, but their sailing and subsequent plans were delayed by a dock strike in the old country. It is now definitely known that they will arrive in Halifax a week later than they had anticipated, but with this change in dates all other arrangements will be carried out as planned and in St. John the various features which had been prepared in their honor will take place as already announced.

TWO STEAMERS GONE; FEARED THAT MANY LOST LIVES

Valparaiso, Chile, April 26.—Heavy loss of life is reported in the sinking of the steamers Magdalena (Chilean) and Alfonso. The Magdalena went down in a storm five miles off Corral. The Alfonso was sunk in collision with the steamer Fortuna.

PETER WRIGHT URGES CLASSES AND MASSES TO WORK TOGETHER

Peter Wright, President of the British Union of Seamen and Firemen, friend of the laboring classes, brought to the members of the Commercial Club in Halifax last week, says the Chronicle, at their weekly luncheon, a passionate appeal for co-operation between the classes and the masses, and the creation of a new world in which all men should have equal opportunities, no matter what their rank or station. So eloquent was the address that its climax called forth an ovation, unusual in its enthusiasm even for the members of the Commercial Club.

MONTREAL STRIKES END

Montreal, April 28.—The carters' and freight handlers' strikes which held more than 6,000 workers idle and brought general business to a low ebb during the week of its duration, was settled on Saturday. The carters got from $2 to $5 weekly increase, with other improved conditions. The freight handlers went back upon reinstatement of their president and with their points of dispute to go before the railway board of arbitration.

FINNS DRIVE OUT THE BOLSHEVIK TROOPS

Helsinki, April 28.—A national assembly has been formed at Olonets, 110 miles northeast of Petrograd, where the Finns have driven out the Bolsheviki. The town was captured, according to reports, by volunteer troops.

BOSTON TELEGRAPHERS ARE FOR A STRIKE

Boston, April 28.—That members of the local Commercial Telegraphers' Union voted overwhelmingly in favor of a nation-wide strike next month was announced at a meeting last night when the referendum vote was tabulated.

Dalhousie College students attended St. Mary's Catholic Cathedral, Halifax, last night for the annual baccalaureate sermon preached by Rev. Father Gerald B. Phelan, whose subject was "Ideals, Philosophy and Responsibility of Higher Education."

THREE LIKELY LOST LIVES

Parts of Missing Seaplane Found on Beach at Provincetown, Mass.

Chatham, Mass., April 28.—The probable loss of a crew of three men who started on a return trip in a naval seaplane from Boston to the naval station here was indicated yesterday by the finding of part of the propeller and one float of the plane on the beach at Provincetown. The men were Lieutenant J. S. Buchanan, Ensign John C. Howard and Electrician Bernard Toney.

APPOINTED TO THE MONTREAL BRANCH

E. Roy Fenwick Has Been Appointed Manager of the Dunlop Tire and Rubber Co., Montreal Branch—Has Been Popular St. John Manager

E. Roy Fenwick, manager of the New Brunswick branch of the Dunlop Tire and Rubber Co., is being congratulated on his appointment to the management of the Montreal branch, the largest office of the company in Canada, and, while many friends throughout this province will regret that his promotion means his transfer from St. John, they will be pleased with the success which has come to him in his work. Mr. Fenwick is a native of Kings county, and has been with the Dunlop company for the past twelve years, of which the first four years were spent on the road and the remaining time as manager in St. John. During this period he has seen what was a comparatively small business become an important branch of the company's work, much of this success being due to his personal effort. The transfer to Montreal is an appreciation of his ability as displayed here, for the position to which he now goes is the most important of its kind in the gift of the company. Mr. Fenwick will leave for Montreal in a couple of weeks, but Mrs. Fenwick will remain in St. John until the autumn.

COUNTESS LEAVY DEAD

New York, April 28.—Miss Annie Leary, Papal countess, widely known for her philanthropy, especially among the Italians, died at her home in Fifth avenue here on Saturday. She was eighty-seven years old, and death was due to heart disease.

Countess Leary brought from Canada a chapter of the Order of the Fathers of the Blessed Sacrament and the Sisters of the Order of the Reparation.

AGAINST PLAN TO FEED RUSSIANS

Armies Fighting Bolsheviki do Not Want Enemy Succored Under Nansen's Scheme

Paris, April 28.—(By the Associated Press)—Dr. Fridtjof Hansen's plan for the neutrals to supply food to Moscow and Petrograd is apparently making little headway. As yet he has been unable to communicate with Nikolai Lenin, Bolsheviki premier of Russia, and the opposition to the plan among the Russians here as representatives of the anti-Bolsheviki governments, and in the French press is becoming more pronounced. The Russian representatives insist that the armies which are now making an excellent showing against the Bolsheviki should not be handicapped by movements which tend to encourage the Lenin troops.

FINDS ITS TRUE THAT CHRIS' NS 11 KOREAN VILLAGE WERE MASSACRED

Seoul, Korea, April 28.—(By the Associated Press)—Governor-General Hasagawa yesterday received a delegation of missionaries who had visited the burned villages in Korea, including a hamlet forty-five miles southeast of Seoul where it was said that the male Christians of the village were shot or bayoneted. Governor Hasagawa said he regretted that the facts of the massacre were as stated. Those responsible for them would be punished. He added that foreigners might be assured there would be no repetition of such incidents.

"STRANGLER" AND POLE ON THE MAT TONIGHT

Chicago, April 28.—"Strangler" Lewis of Kentucky and Wladek Zbyszko, a Pole, said today they were in prime condition for their finish wrestling match catch-as-catch-can style, at the Coliseum tonight. The winner, it was said, will be matched with Sergeant Earl Caddock, who is still in the army, for the world's heavy-weight championship. The men have met several times in the past two years without a decision, but recently in New York Zbyszko defeated Lewis in a one fall match.

The agreement provides that if there is a fall inside two hours, two of three falls shall decide the match. If there is no fall in two hours, the man winning one fall is to be declared the victor.

Complete Covenant of League of Nations; Changed Considerably

Washington, April 27—The State Department made public tonight the text of the revised covenant of the League of Nations, as it will be presented tomorrow to the plenary session of the peace conference at Paris.

THE COVENANT OF THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

In order to promote international cooperation and to achieve international peace and security by the acceptance of obligations not to resort to war, by the prescription of open, just and honorable relations between nations, by the firm establishment of understandings of international law as actual rule of conduct among governments, and by the maintenance of justice and scrupulous respect for all treaty obligations in the dealings of organized peoples with one another, the high contracting parties agree to this covenant of the league of nations.

ARTICLE ONE.

The original members of the league of nations shall be those of the signatories which are named in the annex of this covenant and also such of those other states named in the annex as shall accede without reservation to this covenant. Such accessions shall be effected by a declaration deposited with the secretary within two months of the coming into force of the covenant.

ARTICLE TWO.

The action of the league under this covenant shall be effected through the instrumentality of an assembly and of a council, with a permanent secretariat.

ARTICLE THREE.

The assembly shall consist of representatives of the members of the league. The assembly shall meet at stated intervals and from time to time as occasion may require, at the seat of the league, or at such other place as may be decided upon.

ARTICLE FOUR.

The council shall consist of representatives of the United States of America, of the British Empire, of France, of Italy, and of Japan, together with representatives of four other members of the league.

ARTICLE FIVE.

The members of the league recognize that the maintenance of a peace requires the reduction of national armaments to the lowest point consistent with national safety and the enforcement by common action of international obligations.

ARTICLE SIX.

The council, taking account of the geographical situation and circumstances of each state, shall formulate plans for such reduction, for the consideration and action of the several governments.

ARTICLE SEVEN.

The members of the league undertake to interchange full and frank information as to the scale of their armaments, their military and naval programmes, and the condition of such of their industries as are adaptable to warlike purposes.

ARTICLE EIGHT.

The members of the league recognize that the maintenance of a peace requires the reduction of national armaments to the lowest point consistent with national safety and the enforcement by common action of international obligations.

ARTICLE NINE.

A permanent commission shall be constituted to advise the council on the execution of the provisions of articles 10 and 11 on military and naval questions generally.

ARTICLE TEN.

The members of the league undertake to respect and preserve against external aggression the territorial integrity and existing political independence of all members of the league.

ARTICLE ELEVEN.

Any war or threat of war whether immediately affecting any of the members of the league or not, is hereby declared to be a matter of concern to the whole league, and the league shall take any action that may be deemed wise and effectual to safeguard the peace of nations.

ARTICLE TWELVE.

The members of the league agree that if any state should be the aggressor in starting a war, the council shall have authority to take such action as may be deemed wise and effectual to safeguard the peace of nations.

ARTICLE THIRTEEN.

The members of the league agree that if any state should be the aggressor in starting a war, the council shall have authority to take such action as may be deemed wise and effectual to safeguard the peace of nations.

ARTICLE FOURTEEN.

The council shall formulate and submit to the members of the league a permanent court of international justice. The court shall be competent to hear and determine any dispute of an international character which the parties thereto submit to it.

ARTICLE FIFTEEN.

If there should arise between members of the league any dispute likely to lead to a rupture, which is not submitted to arbitration or referred to the council, the parties to the dispute shall refer the matter to the council.

ARTICLE SIXTEEN.

The council shall have authority to take such action as may be deemed wise and effectual to safeguard the peace of nations.

ARTICLE SEVENTEEN.

The members of the league agree that if any state should be the aggressor in starting a war, the council shall have authority to take such action as may be deemed wise and effectual to safeguard the peace of nations.

ARTICLE EIGHTEEN.

The members of the league agree that if any state should be the aggressor in starting a war, the council shall have authority to take such action as may be deemed wise and effectual to safeguard the peace of nations.

ARTICLE NINETEEN.

The members of the league agree that if any state should be the aggressor in starting a war, the council shall have authority to take such action as may be deemed wise and effectual to safeguard the peace of nations.

ARTICLE TWENTY.

The members of the league agree that if any state should be the aggressor in starting a war, the council shall have authority to take such action as may be deemed wise and effectual to safeguard the peace of nations.

ARTICLE TWENTY-ONE.

The members of the league agree that if any state should be the aggressor in starting a war, the council shall have authority to take such action as may be deemed wise and effectual to safeguard the peace of nations.

ARTICLE TWENTY-TWO.

The members of the league agree that if any state should be the aggressor in starting a war, the council shall have authority to take such action as may be deemed wise and effectual to safeguard the peace of nations.

ARTICLE TWENTY-THREE.

The members of the league agree that if any state should be the aggressor in starting a war, the council shall have authority to take such action as may be deemed wise and effectual to safeguard the peace of nations.

ARTICLE TWENTY-FOUR.

The members of the league agree that if any state should be the aggressor in starting a war, the council shall have authority to take such action as may be deemed wise and effectual to safeguard the peace of nations.

ARTICLE TWENTY-FIVE.

The members of the league agree that if any state should be the aggressor in starting a war, the council shall have authority to take such action as may be deemed wise and effectual to safeguard the peace of nations.

ARTICLE TWENTY-SIX.

The members of the league agree that if any state should be the aggressor in starting a war, the council shall have authority to take such action as may be deemed wise and effectual to safeguard the peace of nations.

ARTICLE TWENTY-SEVEN.

The members of the league agree that if any state should be the aggressor in starting a war, the council shall have authority to take such action as may be deemed wise and effectual to safeguard the peace of nations.

ARTICLE TWENTY-EIGHT.

The members of the league agree that if any state should be the aggressor in starting a war, the council shall have authority to take such action as may be deemed wise and effectual to safeguard the peace of nations.

ARTICLE TWENTY-NINE.

The members of the league agree that if any state should be the aggressor in starting a war, the council shall have authority to take such action as may be deemed wise and effectual to safeguard the peace of nations.

ARTICLE THIRTY.

The members of the league agree that if any state should be the aggressor in starting a war, the council shall have authority to take such action as may be deemed wise and effectual to safeguard the peace of nations.

ARTICLE THIRTY-ONE.

The members of the league agree that if any state should be the aggressor in starting a war, the council shall have authority to take such action as may be deemed wise and effectual to safeguard the peace of nations.

ARTICLE THIRTY-TWO.

The members of the league agree that if any state should be the aggressor in starting a war, the council shall have authority to take such action as may be deemed wise and effectual to safeguard the peace of nations.

THOUGHT IT WAS A BOIL

Doctor Said Abscess Mr. Gleason R. Young, Kingscreek, N. B., under date of Feb. 9th, 1919, writes as follows: "About five months ago a lump came on my jaw-bone. I thought it was a boil, and after it had been there quite a while it began to get larger."

Burdock Blood Bitters will heal and dry up sores, ulcers, and abscesses, no matter how large or of how long standing. If you have a sore, just try it and see what soothing, healing, cleansing power it possesses.

ARTICLE SEVENTEEN. In the advent of a dispute between a member of the league and a state which is not a member of the league, or between states not members of the league, the state or states not members of the league shall be invited to accept the obligations of membership in the league for the purpose of such dispute.

ARTICLE EIGHTEEN. Every convention or international engagement entered into hereafter by any member of the league shall be registered with the secretary and shall be published by it.

ARTICLE NINETEEN. The assembly may from time to time advise the reconsideration by members of the league of a treaty or other international engagement which has become inapplicable, and the consideration of international conditions whose continuance might endanger the peace of the world.

ARTICLE TWENTY. The members of the league severally agree that this covenant is accepted as a whole and that they will not undertake that they will not hereafter enter into any engagements inconsistent with the terms thereof.

ARTICLE TWENTY-ONE. Nothing in this covenant shall be deemed to affect the validity of international engagements such as treaties of arbitration or special agreements expressly entered into by the Monroe doctrine for securing the maintenance of peace.

ARTICLE TWENTY-TWO. To those colonies and territories which as a consequence of the late war have become subject to the sovereignty of the states which formerly governed them and which are inhabited by peoples not yet able to stand by themselves under the strenuous conditions of the modern world, there should be applied the principle that the well-being and development of such peoples form a sacred trust of civilization and that securities for the performance of this trust should be conditioned in the covenant in such a manner as to be practicable.

ARTICLE TWENTY-THREE. The character of the mandate must differ according to the stage of the development of the people, the geographical situation of the territory, its economic condition and other similar circumstances.

ARTICLE TWENTY-FOUR. Certain communities formerly belonging to the Turkish empire have reached a state of development where their existence as independent nations can be provisionally recognized subject to the rendering of administrative advice and assistance by a mandatory until such time as they are able to stand alone.

ARTICLE TWENTY-FIVE. The character of the mandate must differ according to the stage of the development of the people, the geographical situation of the territory, its economic condition and other similar circumstances.

mentioned in the interests of the indigenous populations. In every case of the mandate, the mandatory shall render to the council an annual report in reference to the territory committed to its charge.

ARTICLE TWENTY-FOUR. There shall be placed under the direction of the league all international bureaux already established by general treaties if the parties to such treaties consent. All such international bureaux and all commissions for the regulation of matters of international interest hereafter constituted shall be placed under the direction of the league.

ARTICLE TWENTY-FIVE. The members of the league agree to encourage and promote the establishment and co-operation of all authorized voluntary national red cross organizations having as purposes improvement of health, the prevention of disease and the mitigation of suffering throughout the world.

ANNEX TO THE COVENANT. One—Original members of the league of nations. MRS. SMITH AGAIN HEADS THE LOCAL COUNCIL OF WOMEN

Annual Meeting Concluded On Saturday Afternoon

Many Reports Received

Review of Year's Work Shows Great Activity by Ladies of St. John in Many Branches of Public, Patriotic and Philanthropic Work

The annual meeting of the Women's Council was continued on Saturday afternoon when the balance reports were received and officers elected for the coming year.

Mrs. A. W. Estey, the secretary, reported that eighteen meetings had been held during the year and that twenty-eight societies were now in federation with the council.

Miss Alice Estey, treasurer, reported total receipts, $2,599.68, expenditures, $2,570.99 and a balance of $28.64.

Good Work Done. Miss Amelia J. Haley read her report as corresponding secretary as follows:

The activities of the St. John Local Council of Women for the year 1918-19, show an ever increasing progress in the far reaching and extensive work of an organization which for twenty-five years has been associated with the most prominent philanthropic and educational efforts of our city.

After our annual meeting last March the St. John Local Council of Women organized a ward campaign with the cooperation of Mrs. H. B. Peck in the interests of the War Garden Association.

In October the council had the pleasure and privilege of a visit from Mrs. W. E. Sanford, president of the Local Council of Women of Canada.

The council felt deeply indebted to Miss Grace Leavitt, first vice-president and Mrs. D. MacLellan, provincial vice-president, for the efficient manner in which the arrangements for Mrs. Sanford's visit were carried out.

The council enjoyed an address from Senator Everett Colby, United States, and Mr. Jones of the food board, Ottawa, Miss Helen Reed of Boston addressed the council on the Americanization of the immigrant.

The outbreak of the influenza in the fall made it necessary for the board of public health to prohibit public meetings and therefore the meetings of the council were delayed until early in December.

Particular mention is due many of our federated societies for the excellent work accomplished during this fearful epidemic. Their co-operation in the way of generous donations of food and personal service rendered in the delivery of nourishment to the stricken families, helped the sufferers and also aided those who had assumed the responsibility for the noble work of the public diet kitchen.

On December 15 the St. John council held a "Rosebud Day," for the benefit of the Children's Aid Society. The proceeds of the previous effort in 1917 formed a nucleus for the purchase of the new home for the children in Garden street. This year the proceeds were devoted to the furnishing of this home.

Despite the unfortunate calamity of the weather the societies which had assumed the responsibility for the various wards worked assiduously and their energetic efforts realized for the council the sum of $2,297.68. It was a matter of public comment that the expenses for an undertaking of this kind amounted to only $98.99, so that we were able to hand the president of the Children's Aid Society on Christmas Eve a check for $2,298.69.

To increase the council fund our president volunteered in December to give an illustrated lecture on a trip to California through the Yosemite Valley. This lecture delivered in the Art Club room delighted the large audience and was deeply appreciated by the council.

Just before Christmas the president kindly conferred life memberships in the St. John council on Mrs. A. W. Estey, recording secretary, the treasurer, Miss Alice Estey as well as the corresponding secretary, Miss Amelia Haley, in recognition of faithful services rendered.

At Christmas forty pairs of socks were given to the sailors' home by a committee in the council.

The Thrift Stamps campaign has been constantly brought to the attention of the federated societies, the council urging the formation of War Savings Societies.

In response to an appeal made by Mrs. Pugsley, honorary vice-president, a circular letter was issued to all federated societies, asking for a contribution to the Princess Patricia's wedding gift fund. The following societies responded: Field Comforts Association, $10; St. Vincent's Catholic Ladies' Society, $10; High School Alumnae, $5; St. Vincent's Alumnae, $5; Daughters of Israel, $5; total, $40.

Resolutions forwarded to the provincial government during the past year respecting the appointment of women on boards governing matters of health and morals were as follows:

1. A petition asking for the appointment of a woman on the board of health, and endorsing the nomination for this position of Mrs. R. Hooper, made by the suffrage associates Mrs. R. Hooper now has the distinction of holding office in this board.

2. The council petitioned the New Brunswick Legislature to appoint women on the board of censors for moving pictures and recommended Mrs. A. C. D. Wilson and Miss Sinclair. Later a committee of ladies from the council waited on the premier in the interests of this matter and were most courteously received and consideration was promised.

3. This council further asked the provincial government to appoint an assistant factory inspector, recommending Mrs. E. Flewelling for this position.

4. The council further asked for the appointment of women on the board of hospital commissioners.

Resolutions for the appointment of a superintendent of neglected and dependent children as well as for the establishment of a juvenile court with an appointed judge, were drawn up and forwarded to the National Council of Women and appear on the agenda for the annual meeting to be held at Regina.

The St. John council further asked the national council to use its influence possible for the establishment of pensions for widowed mothers in order to conserve family life.

This council has had under consideration the purchase of a building suitable to the needs of the various women's organizations in our city, as well as adaptable for community welfare work.

One or two prospects were in view about the time the old court house building was destroyed by fire.

For the Vinny day appeal made by the G. W. V. A., five of our societies promised to furnish a luncheon for the workers and four other societies collected in the various wards of the city.

Our president's efforts to assist Mrs. Patterson, of the educational and humane society, in the erection in Union square of a thoroughly up-to-date sanitary drinking fountain for pedestrians and animals, have been highly commended by the press. The council's co-operation has been asked to secure the necessary amount, $450, to purchase this fountain in memory of the splendid part played by the dumb brute in the world's greatest conflict. The city commissioners have been interviewed, and the city has promised to bear the expense of installing this fountain after its delivery in St. John.

It is with regret that we record the resignation of Miss Grace Leavitt, first vice-president. Miss Leavitt's faithful services of twenty-two years in the council, ten of them in the executive, leave a memory of conscientious and capable work always well and willingly accomplished and if now her time will not permit of further active participation we are at least hoping that she will accord to the council's unanimous wish to have her an honorary vice-president for life.

In conclusion of this report, may I add that in no period of history has the world faced so many serious and complicated problems as confront us today. The solution of these gigantic world problems seems at times to be beyond human ingenuity. Four long years of war have proved to us conclusively that education and intellectual culture are poor safeguards unless based on higher motives and directed towards lawful ends. The thoughtful woman's mind is driven to seek a solution of the world's problem in a different direction and to emphasize principles which lie at the root of human progress and well being. Peace to be enduring in the individual as well as in the national life, must come from the supernatural order. Without obedience to divine laws man is incapable of acting rightly to himself, to others. In this reconstruction period woman's influence can lend itself directly and indirectly to a recognition of a Divine authority and to a clear sense of higher responsibility. Questions must be studied today from every standpoint and no organization gives women a better opportunity to study the country's needs and problems than the National Council of Women of Canada. Women of St. John uphold your council's ideals and your competent delegates to the meetings when vital interests are being discussed. The social welfare work of our city and province depends almost entirely on woman's individual knowledge of conditions, her individual interest in public affairs, and her willingness to lend her ability to worthy objects.

Election of Officers. The election of officers resulted as follows: president, Mrs. E. Atherton Smith; honorary vice-president, by appointment, Miss Grace Leavitt; vice-president, Mrs. Richard Hooper; 2nd vice, Mrs. James H. Doody; 3rd vice, Mrs. W. Edmund Raymond; 4th vice, Mrs. T. N. Vincent; 5th vice, Mrs. H. Pieling Harte; 6th vice, Mrs. A. J. Mulcahy; recording secretary, Mrs. A. W. Estey; treasurer, Miss Alice Estey; corresponding secretary, Miss Amelia Haley.

Among the standing committees which submitted reports of the year's work were the following: care of the mentally deficient, read by Mrs. David McLellan; suppression of objectionable literature, Mrs. W. Edmund Raymond; professions and employment of women, Mrs. E. Flewelling; immigration, Mrs. John F. Bullock; household economics, Mrs. J. W. V. Lawlor.

Among the affiliated societies which reported on individual work were the following: Housewives League, by Mrs. E. Flewelling; Women's Institutes, Mrs. W. V. Lawlor; Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A., Mrs. F. Z. Fowler; Young Ladies' League of the Y. M. C. A., Mrs. S. K. Smith; The King's Daughters' Guild, Mrs. W. Nice; Associated Charities, Miss Grace L. Roberts; Women's Canadian Club, Miss Ethel Jarvis; Church of England Institute, ladies' auxiliary, Mrs. J. J. Gordon; St. Monica's Catholic Ladies' Society, Miss Amelia Haley; Protestant Orphan Asylum, Mrs. David McLellan; St. John High School Alumnae, Miss Mabel T. Rogers; Victorian Order of Nurses, Mrs. H. A. Powell; West St. John Field Comforts Association, Mrs. E. A. Young; St. Vincent's Alumnae, Miss Anne Gosnell; F. S. Kindergarten Association, Mrs. T. N. Vincent; New Brunswick Auxiliary of the Maritime School for the Blind, Mrs. W. Edmund Raymond; Children's Aid Society, Miss Frait; Women's Hospital Aid Association, Mrs. J. B. Mrs. Smith made feeling reference to the resignation of Miss Grace Leavitt as first vice-president after twenty-two years as a member of the council, and ten years of which she had been a member of the executive. Mrs. Smith voiced the appreciation of all of the great work done by Miss Leavitt and of her able assistance rendered at all times with the utmost willingness and on behalf of the council presented Miss Leavitt with a handsome bouquet of twenty-two roses tied with dark and light blue ribbons, the colors of the council. She also asked Miss Leavitt to accept the appointment on honorary vice-president. Miss Leavitt in gratefully accepting a well-merited tribute, thanked the council for sentiments and feelings expressed and hoped in a very short time again to be able to take an active part in the affairs of the council which hadway seen one of her greatest life interests.

Arrangements were made for holding a pantry sale in aid of the funds and the following were appointed a committee in charge: Mrs. A. J. Mulcahy, convener; Mrs. David McLellan, Mrs. W. E. Raymond, Mrs. H. C. Groat, Mrs. E. Flewelling, Mrs. John F. Bullock, Mrs. Macnell, Mrs. H. O. Adridge who had worked for four years among the war sufferers in Serbia, made an eloquent appeal for support for the Canadian hospitals already established in Serbia. She told of the terrible sufferings of the Serbians saying that the sacrifice of life for country was not so hard when ultimate victory was assured, but that the Serbians had sacrificed and fought without hope of any prospects of relief. She paid a splendid tribute to the work of the Serbian women.

A very pleasing feature of the close of the meeting was the presentation to Miss Estey, treasurer; Mrs. A. W. Estey, recording secretary, and Miss Amelia Haley of a beautiful bunch of pink carnations, the gift of a member of the council made in appreciation of official duties unflinchingly performed with efficiency and willingness.

FOUR WERE KILLED. Camp Merritt, N. J., April 28—Four persons were killed and ten others seriously injured in a collision between two government transport trains last night, according to revised official information given out by the army authorities here today. Reports last night said seven were killed and four injured.

Social Service Work in New Brunswick

Speaker Says Percentage of Illiterates Here Greatest in Canada—Work to Be Done

New Brunswick is the most illiterate province in Canada, declared Rev. E. F. Mel. Smith, London (Ont.), secretary of the Social Service Council for New Brunswick and P. E. Island, in an address at the Germain street Baptist church yesterday. Rev. Mr. Smith, in his opening remarks, referred to the fact that people are living in what is practically a new world, brought about by the war, which had changed conditions. We were passing through a critical time and it was absolutely necessary to make the most of our opportunities if we are to make the world what we want it to be.

He urged increased attention to the matters of child welfare, temperance and education. The statistics of the last census show that New Brunswick is the most illiterate of all the provinces, fourteen per cent of the people over five years of age not being able to read or write. In Quebec the percentage was twelve per cent; Prince Edward Island, ten per cent, and Nova Scotia, ten per cent. The Social Service Council is endeavoring to change these conditions by urging a better enforcement of the temperance act, attempting to provide homes for orphan children and advocating mothers' pensions given by the province.

The speaker urged upon all Christians and members of all organizations working for the improvement of social conditions to unite their efforts in combating the evil of strong drink and plead with Almighty God for His support and help, for as we recognize the part that prayer played in the great victories that crowned our struggles of the past four years, so we must realize that in this great conflict prayer must also be resorted to. During the present week, Rev. Mr. Smith will speak in Charlotte county towns.

One of the most immediate problems with which the social service in the province will concern itself is the temperance issue. Work has already been begun with the view of uniting the temperance forces in the province to prepare for a referendum.

At Centenary church last evening Rev. Mr. Smith spoke of the place of prayer in the church. He drew attention to the fact that the church today seems to have lost considerable of the power it once possessed through prayer. One of the greatest needs of the world today, the speaker said, is a revival of devotion on the part of church members themselves. The world will never be touched by a cold, indifferent church that recognizes class distinction and that depends on material resources instead of spiritual power. We today have lost in the Methodist church much of the old-time Methodist fire and power which characterized the early days of Methodism, and the Presbyterians of today regret the loss of the enthusiasm and spiritual power that characterized the days of the Covenanters. It has been said that once the church was poor, but powerful, but today it is rich and powerless. It is a significant fact that God never called anyone to perform a signal service for Him without first of all bringing him to his knees. He has strikingly used the weak things to bring to nought the mighty.

Luther, the leading spirit of the Reformation, and the Wesley of the great revival in England, owed their power and influence not to any material support or influence, but solely to their power in prayer. We are entering upon what will perhaps be the fiercest fight the temperance people have had to face. Already the opponents of prohibition have done much in the way of preparation.

The speaker urged upon all Christians and members of all organizations working for the improvement of social conditions to unite their efforts in combating the evil of strong drink and plead with Almighty God for His support and help, for as we recognize the part that prayer played in the great victories that crowned our struggles of the past four years, so we must realize that in this great conflict prayer must also be resorted to. During the present week, Rev. Mr. Smith will speak in Charlotte county towns.

YOUNG WOMAN SAW McCULLOUGH; DENIES AIDING HIS ESCAPE

Kingston, April 27—(Dear Editor.) Just passing through your large city. Fine place but a little too near Toronto, to suit me.

The above signed "Frank McCullough," was received by the editor of the Standard today. It was posted in Kingston last night and was written on a postcard enclosed in a letter.

Young Woman's Evidence. Toronto, April 27—Vera Lavelle, the young woman who is in jail here awaiting trial on the charge of having aided and abetted the escape from the jail of Frank McCullough, condemned murderer, in an interview stated that though she had no part in McCullough's jail breaking, she had received a note from him informing her in advance of the time he would get away. She met him at midnight, a short distance from the jail, and he clasped her in his arms and was with her on the street about ten minutes.

Miss Lavelle asserted that she had not heard from McCullough since, and that she did not know where he was.

SOLDIERS IN PARADE TO STONE CHURCH AND ST. JOHN BAPTIST SERVICE

In commemoration of the second battle of Ypres where the Canadian soldiers won undying fame and everlasting glory, almost all the khaki clad men at present on duty in the city and the returned veterans heard the "fall in" order in King street east yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock and attended church together—the Protestants going to St. John's (Stone) church and the Catholics to St. John the Baptist church in Broad street.

Sharply at 10:30 o'clock Brigadier-General Macdonell, G. O. C., M. D. No. 7, appeared with his staff from headquarters consisting of Major S. S. Moore, assistant A. A. G., Captain Gale, and Lieutenant Groves. The order was given and the men stood at attention. The bright sun shone radiantly down on the khaki suits of the veterans, crowds lined the square and other points of vantage, the garrison regiment band played a martial air and the men were away. As they marched along the south side of King Square the eager citizens anxious to see the men who had beaten the Hun crowded forward. The veterans moved with the snap and swing of war days and the sight was an inspiring one.

From King Square the line of march was along Charlotte street, up Coburg into Carleton street and down to Stone church. Here, General Macdonell with Major C. J. Morgan, Major George Keffe and Lieutenant Groves took charge of the Catholic section and proceeded to Lower Cove, Lieutenant Colonel McAvity then taking over command of the Protestant section.

In Stone church a very impressive service was held. Among those specially invited and who were present were Premier Foster, L. P. D. Tilley, M. P. F., Mayor Hayes and the commissioners, Captain G. Earle Logan, president of the Great War Veterans, the directors of the G. W. V. A. building, the Citizens' Soldiers' Reception Committee, returned nursing sisters, V. A. D's and Lieutenant John Kimball of the navy. The auditorium and galleries of the church were completely filled.

The music was of a high order and special mention should be made of the organ prelude, Gullman's "Lamentation," written in memory of the French troops who fell in the war of 1870, the Dead March, followed by "The Last Post" and the postlude, Beethoven's 12th sonata, "On the Death of a Hero." These were beautifully rendered by D. Arnold Fox.

The musical part of the service also included: "Onward Christian Soldiers," "For All the Saints," "Unto the Hills Around," "Glorious is Thy Name," the National Anthem and "God of Our Fathers."

The order of service included scriptural sentences, referring to the faithful departed, the usual exhortation from the Book of Common Prayer, the confession, absolution, Lord's prayer, glorias, an Easter anthem, special psalms, the creed, prayers for the dead, war mourners, the King, Empire, congregation and for peace.

It was a splendid demonstration on the part of the veterans of St. John and the men made a fine appearance. All along the line of march the citizens crowded the streets to see the soldiers and the numerous people who came out to see the veterans made the occasion a memorial one in the city's military commemorations of battles that have been fought and won by our troops.

ST. GEORGE'S SOCIETY AT CHURCH

The members of St. George's Society paraded last evening to St. Paul's church where divine service was conducted by their chaplain, Rev. Archdeacon Crowfoot, assisted by Rev. James Millidge. The service, which was fully choral, was rendered under the direction of A. C. Ritchie, with T. Percy Bourne at the organ.

"It must ever be a blot on the fair escutcheon of this society to know that sport has practically died out of this city. Gone are the days when our crews were famous throughout the whole world, gone are the days of cricket. One seldom hears of a baseball match, and it is questionable if there was a single hockey match here last winter. Is it true that the boys of our high school have no grounds on which to practice? And why is it that the children of our city have to play baseball on the streets?"

"Surely, gentlemen of St. George, here is scope for your activities. Here is a challenge to that spirit of St. George that is in you. See to it that this disgrace is rolled away. Do not allow pure and healthy sport to die out of our city."

In the course of his sermon on St. George, Archdeacon Crowfoot said: "The feature of the service was the solemn commemoration of the following members of the society who gave up their lives during the war: Frank R. Fairweather, Ralph A. Markham, Harold G. Raymond, Arthur W. Whitehead.

The red and white flowers that decorated the altar were the gifts of the society in memory of their fallen brothers, and were sent to the military hospital after the conclusion of the service. Archdeacon Crowfoot took as his text: Ps. 89.16. "Blessed is the people O Lord, that can rejoice in Thee."

After a hard pull, L. B. Smith's big drive of 4,000,000 feet on the Nerepis stream reached its destination Saturday, all in safe water at Sagwa. The entire drive has been purchased by the Nerepis Lumber Co. Ltd., and will be sawn in their mill at Sagwa. Mr. Smith reports driving conditions very hard this spring, and unless heavy rains come soon he fears there will be a good deal of lumber hung up in the streams.

St. Paul's Sunday school was yesterday afternoon the scene of two presentations to Mrs. E. Duval Whelpley, who has been a teacher in the school for the last eighteen months. Walter Edwards, on behalf of the members of his class, presented her a beautiful picture of the interior of the church, while the rector, Archdeacon Crowfoot, on behalf of the teachers, presented her a book as a token of appreciation for the work that she has done during the time that she was connected with the school. Mrs. Whelpley, in a few words, suitably replied, thanking both the teachers and scholars for their gifts. Mrs. Whelpley is leaving soon for her old home at Greenwich.

Friends will sympathize with Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Seelye, 270 Douglas avenue, in the death of their infant child, Florence May. The funeral is to be private.

GOODYEAR CORD TIRES

MADE IN CANADA

Tires That Make Friends

The Goodyear Cord Tire is the supreme product of this institution. It is the fine result of the mightiest efforts of a world-wide organization unlimited in means and old in experience. Into it goes every worth-while idea, every extra-quality material, we have developed.

Naturally this tire serves supremely well—in economy and in satisfaction. Through extraordinarily long mileage it overshadows its extra price. By lively and muscular action it makes riding and driving easy—saves car and gasoline.

You would expect Goodyear to produce this tire. Our entire history is but the story of tire development. We have sought the friendship of the world's motorists by building tires ever better, by discovering the many things that make the automobile tire of to-day a willing and efficient servant. It is noteworthy that while higher in price, tire-cost-per-mile is lower to-day than before the Goodyear Cord entered the field.

Only on that one basis—quality and service—do we wish the Goodyear Service Station to sell you Goodyear Tires. Your part in the bargain is to call there and talk it over.

Ask, also, about the Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes. You'll find them extra thick and extra good—giving greater service in any tire and especially suited to the Goodyear Cord Tire.

Literary Lore In Constantinople

Historians at Last Have Access To The Ancient Manuscripts

Many Lost Treasures—Sir Edwin Pears to Deliver Among Long-Hidden Documents

London, April 26.—Antiquarians and historians are now to have for the first time since the Turks took possession of Constantinople the opportunity for making a thorough investigation of the literary treasures stored away in the great libraries there.

The contents of the bookshelves of the St. Sophia and Palace libraries are known, but in the cellars under the Palace library there are many manuscripts in Arabic, Greek, Latin and Eastern languages.

Among celebrated British scholars who are planning to go to Constantinople to delve among the long-hidden manuscripts is Sir Edwin Pears, the historian, who has spent many years in Constantinople. Sir Edwin told the Associated Press correspondent that at least six months would be required for the investigation.

The fine libraries of the Byzantine Empire were taken by the Turks in 1453. The greatest number of books are deposited, not in St. Sophia, as popularly believed, but in the Imperial Palace, about a quarter of a mile from the church.

"The shelves of the Palace library," said Sir Edwin, "have been constantly picked over and the most important manuscripts probably have been stolen or destroyed. At present, what is known to visitors is a room about 80 feet long and 15 feet wide, nicely fitted up with glass cases containing books with well-polished bindings."

"The library in St. Sophia also contains many unclassified works, and it may be that they include manuscripts of importance."

"The greatest finds of manuscripts made in the vicinity of Constantinople during the last half century were not in the Palace or St. Sophia libraries but in local libraries belonging to the Greek church. One of these, which Sir Edwin terms the most important theological find of the century, was a book containing the teachings of the Twelve Apostles, a document frequently quoted in the early centuries of Christian literature."

"At that time," Sir Edwin said, "the grand old scholar, Bishop Eusebius, of Nicomedia, the modern Ismid, one of the few Greek scholars who not only knows Greek well, but is a true authority on palaeography, was looking for the epistles of St. Clement."

"In the library of the Church of the Holy Sepulchre in Constantinople, he came across a small volume entitled simply 'Saint Clement.' It contained not only the epistles of St. Clement, but the teachings of the Twelve Apostles, lost since about 1050. Some authorities date the book as early as 70, some as late as 120."

"Another book of equal value was discovered in the library of St. Sophia in about 1875, called 'The Manuscripts of Critobolus.' This is the only record we possess containing an account, from the Greek side, of the siege of Constantinople. I was the first to take advantage of this find in my writings of the book unearthed by Critobolus was a life of Mahomed. It revealed how the Greek turned Romans to save their skins."

"Another library which Sir Edwin plans to explore is at Mt. Athos, a peninsula devoted to the Greek Church since 1100. It is situated between Constantinople and Salonica. About fifteen years ago a Greek made some interesting discoveries there. Sir Edwin visited it shortly after the discovery of the teachings of the Apostles, and learned from the librarian that none of the books were properly classified."

St. Athos escaped molestation by the Turks. The only time the library was violated was in 1624, when a large number of manuscripts were cut up for handicrafts for Turkish soldiers. Monks only live there, nothing feminine being allowed on the place, not even hens, cows or mares.

Heart Palpitated Could Count Every Beat

When the heart begins to palpitate, it will beat fast for several seconds, then slow, then start to flutter, and a feeling of utter depression will come over your whole system, accompanied by weak, fainting and dizzy spells.

When the heart gets into this condition, you become weak, worn and miserable, and are unable to attend to either social, business or household duties.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will give prompt and permanent relief to all sufferers from any heart weakness or nerve derangements.

Mrs. Walter Greives, Apsley, Ont., writes: "I had been run down, and doctors told me I was anemic, but did not help me with their medicines. I could not sleep nights, my heart palpitated so, and I could count every beat."

I used to have such dizzy spells I would have to go to bed. I was not able to do any work for eight months. A cousin of mine had taken Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and told me what they had done for her. I took eight boxes of them, and now I am able to help every day with the work. I am so thankful to tell others what they have done for me, so that they may try this great and wonderful remedy. I hope this may prove good to some one who is suffering the way I did."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c a box at all dealers, or mailed direct to you for $2.00 by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

NATURE'S BIG DIVIDEND. Oregon Gains 4,000 Per cent Through Investment in Salmon Eggs.

When nature endowed the salmon with such yearning for the stream of its percentage that the various species turn infallibly back to the uncharted ocean depths to seek the spawning riffles that knew them as fingerlings, the mysterious mother of all the world incidentally paved the way for an investment that, in a single conspicuous instance, has paid 4,000 per cent to Oregon in one season.

In 1914 the State Game and Fish Commission, alarmed by the almost total cessation of the blueback salmon run in the Columbia, sent to Alaska for eggs of this species, one of the most dependable and finest of the several that through the cold northern waters.

Blueback salmon, in common with others of the Pacific salmon group, mature in four years, when they answer the urge of instinct and return to their parent stream. Thus, in the fourth year, or 1918, the Game and Fish Commission saw it without surprise the dividends that fishermen drew from the Columbia in the form of thousands of eight and ten pound adult bluebacks.

The total value of the season's catch to the fishermen was $100,000, or a direct return of 4,000 per cent.

Scoffers may say that the salmon, having chummed the river for several years, at some submarine whim or caprice had but turned toward it again. Such a contention would have no scientific basis, for the habits of salmon have been definitely catalogued through long years of patient study.

But the State Game and Fish Commission does not work in the gloom of guesswork. When the fingerlings from Alaskan purchase of blueback eggs were released at the state hatchery, several thousand were marked. By this method the periodicity of return is calculated, and the exact degree of success determined. More than 200 adult blueback salmon were recaptured in the 1918 run bearing the distinguishing marks.

Of this strange homing instinct, which makes possible the successful propagation of salmon, and the writing of the sockeye, generally held to be of the same species as the blueback, Charles H. Gilbert, professor of zoology, Stanford University, says in his 1918 contribution to the report of the British Columbia commissioner of fisheries:

In order to maintain the supply of salmon in a given district, it will not be adequate to install a hatchery on any convenient stream into which the entire output of the hatchery will be turned. On the contrary, each stream must be given separate consideration, and must receive its own quota of fry to feed and grow within its boundaries. The original source of the eggs is seemingly a matter of no importance. The destination of the adult salmon is determined by the locality in which the young were reared.

The native blueback run found its spawning grounds in Wallowa Lake. Then came dams and other obstructions incident to settlement and industry, and the fish were barred from the waters of their nativity. In direct consequence, says the Game and Fish Commission, the run dwindled and died out. Its sole survivors are stunted little twelve-inch salmon, locked in the lake. They are locally known as "yanks," and are angled for as trout.

By artificial propagation, supplementing the egg-take from specimens of the revived run with shipments of eggs from Alaska, the Columbia is to retain this choice salmon for the edification of anglers and the enrichment of the fishing industry. In time it is believed that the local egg-take will prove adequate for continued restocking.

LET THERE BE THRIFT.

Editor of the Times:— Sir:—I wonder if "Thrift," who is posing as an economist in the evening press of late, is moved solely by disinterested motives when he appeals for the demobilization of the Depot Battalion Band on the ground of economy? If he is, I can assure him that he can find in the larger military field—and not very far from St. John, either—a much wider scope for his thrifty endeavors than in connection with the Depot Band.

While I would not care to keep its members out of civil life an hour longer than is absolutely necessary, I feel that there is no branch of the service that is doing better work for the boys in khaki, and for the country at large, than this name little band.

Attend, if you will, one of the steamers or trains which bring the soldier boys home, and next to the sight of their loved ones, what is it that delights them the most? It is the "good old band." Its thrilling soulful, patriotic music comforts, cheers, inspires them and their dependents; it soothes their racked nerves; it softens and removes the grouches which many of these cherubs after a weary ocean voyage or a tiresome train trip; it fills them with the true home spirit. No civilian band, no matter how excellent, could exert the same charm on the returned soldier.

To my mind the khaki band is one of the most potent factors in the welcome reception of the returning soldiers and plays a very important part in the general scheme of repatriation, as it serves to emphasize upon the civilian population that peace has not yet been proclaimed and that there are war obligations and obligations to the returning soldiers which must not be forgotten. Some people have forgotten those obligations, others would like to forget, but they must be emphasized until every last man, woman and child re-established in civil life.

There are still in Great Britain and France over 175,000 Canadian soldiers, and between 80,000 and 40,000 dependents and these must be properly welcomed. Personally, I would be very sorry if through a false conception of economy the many thousands of soldiers who are yet to come through St. John should be deprived of the pleasure which the khaki band can give them. I thank you.

PUBLIC HEALTH NOTES

It has been, for some time past, well known that the common house fly is only a useless insect, and when in the house in any number, a sign of poor housekeeping, but also a most positive danger to the health of the inmates.

It is often supposed that the fly is a purely domestic creature, that it lives exclusively in the rooms or houses where it makes its appearance. This, really, is not the fact. It has been proven beyond dispute, that the fly is capable and is in the habit of, making quite extended excursions and journeys.

An individual fly, properly marked so as to be recognized, has frequently been found at a distance of half a mile from the place where it was first captured, marked and released. This, it will be seen, gives it every chance to come into contact with all sorts of substances, infected and otherwise, and it is known beyond all doubt that it is capable of carrying infection upon its feet and within its body, and depositing it upon anything it chooses to light upon.

It breeds, by choice, in horse manure, from eggs deposited there by the adult fly, and first assumes the form of a maggot, and afterwards develops into its well known shape. Cold weather, that is, the first frosty nights, render them torpid, but they revive during the day, if the place or house in which they are, becomes warm. Repeated frosts and continued cold weather, however, destroy the vast majority of them, but not all. A few manage to survive every winter, en-scensed in some secluded and dark place, in a sort of suspended animation, ready to revive with the oncoming spring. In fact, a few only, is necessary, thus to survive, for when warm weather comes, they breed at such a tremendous rate, that, during one season, very many thousands of them are capable of being propagated by a single pair which has survived the winter.

In order, therefore, to keep them in check, it is plain that the most favorable time to destroy them is in the spring at the moment they make their first appearance. The destruction of a single fly at that time may prevent the production of some hundreds or thousands later on. It is also of the utmost importance that the favorite breeding-ground of flies, namely, horse-manure collections, being made inaccessible to the flies. If this is done, it is evident that no flies can deposit their eggs there, and hence, no flies can be produced from these deposits of manure. All manure accumulations, therefore, in cities, towns and villages, and in other places where the stables are close to the house, should be kept at all times so covered that flies can not have access to them.

If these manure heaps are exposed, the local health authorities should be notified, so that measures can be taken to have them properly covered. Much can also be done by the householder to protect the house against the entrance of flies. During the warm weather, suitable screens should be fitted to all doors and windows which are frequently open. No slops or other offensive matter from house or elsewhere should be thrown out anywhere near a house. In the country where no regular system of drainage exists, slops and such like should not be thrown continuously in one place, but a new spot should be selected every few days, so that the grass and other vegetation may not be killed out in these places. If these changes are made the grass will grow luxuriantly over such spots and do very much to prevent these spots from becoming a breeding and feeding place for flies.

Fly-traps and sticky fly papers are useful, but only moderately so, as the number of flies they capture, while, perhaps, apparently large, is really, only a small proportion of the number present. Fly-poisons are scarcely to be advised. Accidents sometimes happen in connection with them, to children, and, besides, the flies so poisoned do not die immediately, but are apt to drop, disgustingly, about the house, upon the table, or food, and more particularly into milk, if the latter be left exposed.

Good Tires and Tire Service Keep Trucks In Action

THE only valuable truck is the truck ready for the road. The truck with faulty tires—the truck laid up for delayed service—is costing you real money.

These are reasons why you, as a truck owner, should do some thinking on the truck tire question.

Good truck tires and good truck tire service form the basis on which the Goodyear Truck Tire Business is built.

Truck tires so good that they materially reduce your tire-cost-per-mile. Tires of different types for different kinds of service.

And a truck tire service that matches. A complete Canadian service. In Canadian cities from coast to coast Goodyear has branches to supervise truck tire service—on Goodyear Solid Truck Tires or Goodyear Pneumatic Cord Truck Tires.

Cost You Less. Goodyear Solid Truck Tires are made in Canada—and because duty is paid on raw materials only, sell at fair prices.

You can see by this table the saving to you because Goodyear Solid Truck Tires are not imported.

Table with 4 columns: Size, Imported Price, Made-in-Canada Price, Saving. Rows include 32 x 3 1/2, 32 x 4, 34 x 4, 36 x 5, 36 x 6.

For instance: The saving to Canadian users on a truck of 3 ton capacity, fitted with 34 x 4 single fronts and 36 x 5 dual rears is $197.26.

Canadian truck manufacturers can get truck tires from our Canadian factories. New trucks imported into Canada can be equipped with Goodyear Truck Tires by the manufacturer in the United States.

WHITLEY COUNCILS PLAN OUTLINED BY THE AUTHOR

Object is Stimulation of Workers—A New Status Given to Trade Unions and Scope Provided For Young Men of Ideas

(Financial Post)

The National Joint Industrial Councils, over whose inspection I had the honor to preside, have now been established in twenty-five trades. Interim Industrial Reconstruction Committees, which fulfill the same function in industries whose progress towards Joint Standing Industrial Councils has been through various reasons delayed, have been set up in twenty-five other industries.

The municipal corporations Association have agreed to apply the scheme not only to trading departments such as gas and tramways but also to their non-trading administrative departments. Already some three and half million workers are organized under the scheme. Its extension to other industries is proceeding rapidly. When all have been organized, we may hope to form a real industrial council which will permanently fulfill the functions now being temporarily attempted by the Industrial Peace Conference summoned by the premier.

Such a council would have a very great advantage over any provisional body appointed to deal with a special emergency, because its members would be accustomed to deal with industrial problems. They would be experts who had spent their lives in industry. They would be skilled in technical negotiation. They would know each other. Their conference as old partners in council would obviously be less subject to friction than the conference of two bodies specially formed to represent conflicting class interests. I look forward with great hopefulness to the ultimate influence of the Joint Standing Industrial Councils in solving the constructive problems of industry.

Unrest Means Progress

Already the scheme is producing excellent results, not only through the National Councils but also through the District Councils and Works Committees. They are giving a new status to trade unions and to the workers. They are stimulating the workers' pride and interest in their calling. They are providing scope for the young men who are causing what is called "industrial unrest." Unrest is a sign of health. Unrest is an essential condition of progress, if only it is frankly given a constructive outlet. Unrest convoked the committee which has come to be associated with my name and inspired its efforts to evolve a new and better industrial order.

The committee were asked to advise the government on two points:

- 1.—To make and consider suggestions for securing a permanent improvement in the relations between employers and workmen.
- 2.—To recommend means for securing that industrial conditions affecting the relations between employers and workmen shall be systematically reviewed by those concerned, with a view to improving conditions in the future.

The committee unanimously decided that the best way to secure the desired improvement in relations between employers and workpeople was to establish the machinery for systematic review of industrial conditions "by those concerned." We came to the conclusion that the people who spend their lives in an industry are the best qualified to solve its problems, and we therefore devised a scheme whose purpose was to encourage the application of the workpeople's minds to the business of self-government.

The scheme recommended by the committee is not rigid; each trade is asked to adapt the general principles to its own needs. Joint Standing Industrial Councils are recommended to bring employers and workpeople together in regular meetings for discussion of matters of common interest. These meetings, we thought, would "produce an atmosphere in which disputes when they arose could be settled by an appeal to reason." They would tend, we believed, to reduce to a minimum the suspicion which the prime minister rightly described the other day as the chief cause of misunderstanding and antagonism.

Workers' Control of Conditions.

The problems with which the Industrial Councils are invited to grapple are the regularization of employment, industrial training, utilization of inventions, industrial research, the improvement of design and quality, and legislation affecting workshop conditions.

These matters in the past have been left in the main to the employers, and we felt that the knowledge and experience of the people actually engaged in industry constituted an asset of immense value and practical usefulness which ought no longer to be wasted. Furthermore, we thought that the work-people were rightly entitled to some share of control over the conditions of their work and that such share of control must inevitably induce a wider interest in their work, a greater sense of responsibility, and a more active co-operation between managers and manual workers, in the promotion of industry.

The scheme accordingly recommended is to form a triple joint organization in the workshops, the districts, and nationally. The function of the works committee is to issue and revise working rules, arrange the distribution of working hours, regulate piece prices, settle methods of wage payments, adjust shop grievances, and deal with such other matters as holidays, physical welfare, questions of discipline, terms of engagement, training of apprentices, technical library, suggestions for improvement in methods, investigations of causes tending to reduce efficiency, collections for clubs and charities, entertainment and sport. The District Councils are to consider matters of interest to their district and to take executive action with regard to them, to co-ordinate local workshop prac-

PRIVATE CARS FOR THE FEW; STANDING ROOM FOR OTHERS

Archie McCoig's Remarks in House of Commons Regarding Special Privileges on the Government Road

(Staff Correspondence of Toronto Globe)

Ottawa, April 22.—Are the plain people to sit up all night in a day coach while cabinet ministers jaunt about the country in luxurious private cars? The question was asked in the House of Commons by Archie McCoig, the Liberal member for Kent, who vigorously protested against the arrangement that loaded down the Toronto-Ottawa train on the government railway with the private cars of ministers and government officials while mere members of parliament and business men, hurrying to the capital to attend to their duties, were denied accommodation or at best given standing room in a third-class car.

Laden With Private Cars.

Sir Thomas White, the acting prime minister, had a private car all to himself; General Meuburn, the minister of militia, had a special car for himself and party, and D. B. Hanna, president of the C. N. R., had a private car. Sir Henry Drayton, chairman of the Dominion Railway Commission, also would have had a special car, but the train of eleven coaches was all that the locomotive could haul, and Sir Henry had to share Mr. Hanna's car. This all happened last night on the Canadian National train from Toronto to Ottawa. Nor was public ownership aided when the straining locomotive ran into an improperly packed switch near Smith's Falls, derailing seven or eight of the coaches and doing much damage, but fortunately injuring no one. The passengers were roused from their berths at 6 a. m., and as they drank in the frosty air and de-voiced the beautiful scenery of the Rideau Lake district with their eyes they sniffed the odor of fresh coffee coming from the direction of the ministers' cars and had the pleasure of looking in from the outside while the privileged few in the private cars smacked their lips over ham and eggs. Was this the way to

OFFICER'S WORD AGAINST PRIVATE'S IN KINMEL TRIAL

Lieut. Gauthier Incriminates Ninth Man Before Court—Application to Re-open Aliens Case.

Liverpool, April 25.—(Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency)—The ninth man accused on resumption of the Kinmel Park court-martial was Sapper M. English, of the Canadian Railway Corps. He pleaded not guilty to the charge of mutiny and not endeavoring to suppress mutiny. Lieutenant Gauthier testified along the same lines as adduced in previous cases, but incriminating the accused. He said that English encouraged others to advance. The latter had cursed the picket defending the camp and begged them to come out to meet them. Witness advanced towards the men, who met him with curses and threw stones. Witness estimated that the rioters numbered from 250 to 300. Eventually the picket rushed the rioters and he arrested English. Replying to Captain

Black, defending, he said that he had offered to let another arrested man go free if he identified the man who shot at him. Gauthier's version of this incident was that he told the prisoner: "You know the man who shot Private Gillen, and if I don't get it out of you, someone else will." The man cried and said he knew nothing about it.

Gauthier said he had not taken any steps to arrest the man, as it would have been useless. Other officers had made the attempt and he knew what they had got. He said he had more sense than to go among "that mob" alone.

Captain Black, addressing the court for the defence, said wholesale arrests were made during the riots and the prosecution now sought to prove that all were guilty. The accused, on oath, denied that he had been among the rioters, stating that he had just returned from Abercrombie when he was arrested while watching the disturbance. While he was in custody Gauthier had twice told him that he had nothing against him.

Captain Walker and Sapper Murdoch called by the defence, swore that they had heard Gauthier tell English that he had nothing to do with his arrest.

Gauthier recalled, said that when he entered the guard room to take the names of the prisoners three or four men rushed towards him, asking what they were in for. He replied that he had nothing to do with them, somebody else would deal with them.

Captain Black asked the court not to give the officer's word undue weight against that of the private. Gauthier had stated that English was among the rioters carrying the banner and that he had laughed and jeered at the warnings, but the accused denied these statements. Decision of the court will be promulgated later. The members are visiting Kinmel for the week-end.

Application for a new trial for the soldier, W. Allen has been made on the ground of new evidence.

CANADIAN TRADE MISSION'S GOOD WORK.

Excellent work is being done for Canada by the Canadian trade mission in London. Credits already established include $25,000,000 with Roumania, $25,000,000 with Greece and $25,000,000 with Belgium. The $50,000,000 credit with the British government for Canadian lumber has also been concluded and first payments have been made. Negotiations are proceeding with France, Italy and Serbia. With France it is hoped to establish a credit of $10,000,000. While such foreign credits provide an exceptional opportunity for Canadian producers, they do not constitute an obligation to buy upon the foreign governments. It rests with the Canadian manufacturers, to supply goods of the character and standard required, and it is imperative in the interests of foreign trade development that such products should be of the highest possible quality.

Leonard and Ritchie Tonight

Newark, N. J., April 28.—Although no title is involved, an eight round boxing match between Benny Leonard, light-weight champion, and Willie Ritchie at catch weights in San Francisco two months ago. The contest tonight will be at 142 pounds, which is above the light-weight limit. It was arranged to satisfy the demand of fight fans that the men meet again in a longer bout than four rounds.

Leonard, present champion, and Ritchie, who held the title five years ago are regarded as clever boxers, but the champion, who is favorite, has announced that he will not be content with out-boxing his opponent, and will try to make the bout as short and decisive as possible. Ritchie, however, declares he has the "Indian sign" on the champion. Early wagers favored Leonard by four and three to one.

LACROSSE
Revival in Montreal

Montreal, April 28.—A general revival of lacrosse for this season was decided on at a meeting of the National Lacrosse Union on Saturday night. Six clubs were represented, and five will figure in the schedule, the Shamrocks, Nationals, Ottawa, Cornwall and Caughnawaga. The schedule will start the first week in June and the season will continue until September.

WALT WHITMAN ANNIVERSARY

Plans are being made for the celebration of the centenary of the birth of Walt Whitman, which will occur on May 31. The meetings will probably be held at the Brooklyn Academy of Arts and Sciences, since Whitman lived in Brooklyn for many years and was for a time one of the editors of the Brooklyn Daily Eagle. The Eagle will issue a special Whitman number and will be represented at the commemorative meetings which the institute will hold. Among those who have been invited to attend the celebration, or to send addresses and messages, if they cannot attend, are from Britain, Kipling, Galsworthy, Shaw, Wells, Masfield, Arnold, Bennett, Alfred Noyes, and George Butler Yeats, and among Americans, Prof. Bliss Perry of Harvard and Horace Traubel, both of whom have written biographies of Whitman; Barrett Wendell, Amy Lowell, Brand Whitlock, William Lyon Phelps, Edwin Arlington Robinson, and Louis Untermeyer. The institute will conduct a pilgrimage, as part of the celebration, to Whitman's birthplace at West Hills, L. I.

INVALID SOLDIERS WELCOME

A party of sixty invalid soldiers who arrived in Portland, Me., on the Araguaya, passed through St. John on Saturday afternoon on their way to their destinations in Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island. They were greeted at the station by the citizens reception committee, V. A. Ds, the depot battalion band and a crowd of citizens. Those who were able to walk were taken to the dining room for dinner and the V. A. D. girls served meals to the others. Cigarettes and apples were supplied for the rest of the journey by the committee. Most of the New Brunswick men went direct to Fredericton.

Private William Gould, son of Mr. and Mrs. Angus Gould of Main street, Fairville, arrived home Saturday night, having returned on the Araguaya. He has lost an arm in the war but was very cheerful. A big bonfire was lit and the fire bell was rung in his honor.

MUTT AND JEFF—LITTLE JEFF CERTAINLY HAS A WELL DEVELOPED SENSE OF HUMOR
By "BUD" FISHER

I'M SORRY, MUTT, BUT I CAN'T PLAY CARDS WITH YOU TO-DAY. THE SERGEANT-MAJOR IS GONNA PUT ME IN CHARGE OF A GANG OF GERMAN PRISONERS-OF-WAR!

OH, FINE! THEY MUST BE TRYING TO START ON RECONSTRUCTION WORK! I'LL SEE YOU LATER!

PRIVATE JEFF, I'M GOING TO PUT YOU IN CHARGE OF ONLY ONE GERMAN PRISONER-OF-WAR TO-DAY, BUT GUARD HIM CAREFULLY, AS HE USED TO BE A COUNT. SEE THAT HE DOES A FAIR DAY'S WORK!

HEY, FRITZ, DROP THAT SHOVEL AND COME ALONG WITH ME!

YAH!

I WONDER WHAT KIND OF WORK LEFF'S GOT THE PRISONERS ON TO-DAY—PROBABLY CLEARING AWAY DEBRIS. I'M GOING UP TO OUR ROOM AND READ!

IT WILL TICKLE MOTHER WHEN I WRITE AND TELL HER THAT AN EX-GERMAN-COUNT POLISHED MY SHOES. TEE HEE!

LIPTON MIGHT BE DRIVEN TO MARRY BY BAGHELORS TAX

If British Government so Decided it Would Frighten Him, He Remarks

Appalled by Fashions—Women's Dress Bill Deters Young Men Thinking of Marriage—Look-in For Old Chaps

New York, April 24—Apparently there is nothing more foreign to the mind of Sir Thomas Lipton, Great Britain's most distinguished bachelor, on his visit to this country than the thought of matrimony.

However, when the subject was mentioned to him in relation to the English government's recent threat to place a sort of post-war tax upon her wealthy bachelors, Sir Thomas smiled as he parried the question, as did some of his friends who were present in his apartments at the Hotel Commodore. "They were married men, and they said it was clearly a problem that Sir Thomas himself would have to face, and alone, if he possessed the courage, and they were sure that he did."

"Well," said Sir Thomas, "I believe if the British government were to place that tax on bachelors it might frighten me into matrimony. I think most bachelors today, though, are frightened enough at the prospect of matrimony."

"The great extravagance of women today in their dress appals the average modern man. This represents one of the wonders of the earth—this wonderful habit of dress that our women today have. I am told that many women wear two or three new hats a day to keep up with the fashion. Isn't that so?" he inquired of his married friends.

"They murmured something about it being so, and their depressed manner for the moment seemed to indicate that Sir Thomas's diagnosis of the fashion situation might be a correct one."

"Of course, today, with England's vast number of women exceeding the male population, there may be a look-in for some old chaps like myself now," Sir Thomas chuckled.

"But about that tax," he resumed, "I haven't quite made up my mind how I would meet it, but if the British government places such a tax on us I might, if I should find the right article, marry in this country and remain here and escape the tax."

"But, seriously, if the tax became a reality I believe it might have the effect of marrying off a lot of bachelors at home. It would bring the question of matrimony home to these men in a way it had never been brought before. And if they got to turning the question over in their minds it might be that many confirmed bachelors might become convinced that matrimony was something they should undertake. But of course I cannot speak for the lot of them. One can never tell what a bachelor may do in regard to the question of matrimony."

"Not a Woman Hater?"

But Sir Thomas is not in the class of bachelors who are known as women haters, for he extolled the service women had rendered during the war, both British women and American women living in England.

"There is no more popular woman in England than the Duchess of Marlborough," he said. "She is liked by everybody, by rich and poor alike, because of the great work she has done for humanity."

At his Lindin home Sir Thomas entertained at special luncheons and teas and dinners many American nursing units that passed through London on their way to France. One of these was the Chicago girls' unit, which Sir Thomas has great admiration for. "They were a splendid lot of women," he said. "I made my home in Chicago for some time when, a boy, I came to this country."

Here he exhibited a silver key—the key of the city—which Mayor Thompson had given him on a visit to Chicago prior to the war, with a great gold enameled star, which was presented to him at the same time, representing a police superintendent's badge.

"I came to this country when I was seventeen years of age," he said. "I worked for some time in New Orleans and lived in a boarding-house. After many years, when good fortune came my way, I visited New Orleans. I then stopped at the fashionable St. Charles Hotel. I shall never forget that visit, for what impressed me greatly was a visit from my former boarding-house keeper."

"She called at my hotel one day to pay her respects. She said, 'You know you always told me I made griddle cakes like your mother used to make them.' She hadn't forgotten that, either."

During the war Sir Thomas ran a hospital ship from Marseilles to Saloniki, and he praised the bravery and service of the young nurses who went out there to do their bit. He also praised the 5,000 women employees of his shops during the war period.

"Before the war," he said, "scarcely any women were employed in these shops. But they came in as the men went out to fight, and the way they took hold of the work and managed it was something splendid."

London bus girls and some of their wartime experiences.

"They were a great success," he said, "but, leading such a public life, they were the subject of humorous stories. One of these I heard was told by a passenger, who stopped the bus before a candy shop while he went in and bought some for the conductor and the driver."

"But altogether, the women won a great name for themselves in this war. No one can deny that. They surprised us all by their initiative in the great organization work they did, by their great vitality under strain, for they seemed to be always working, and never a complaint did you hear. Wherever they served the government, whether it was in hospitals or factories or with the army in Flanders, they showed the same spirit the 'never say die' spirit."

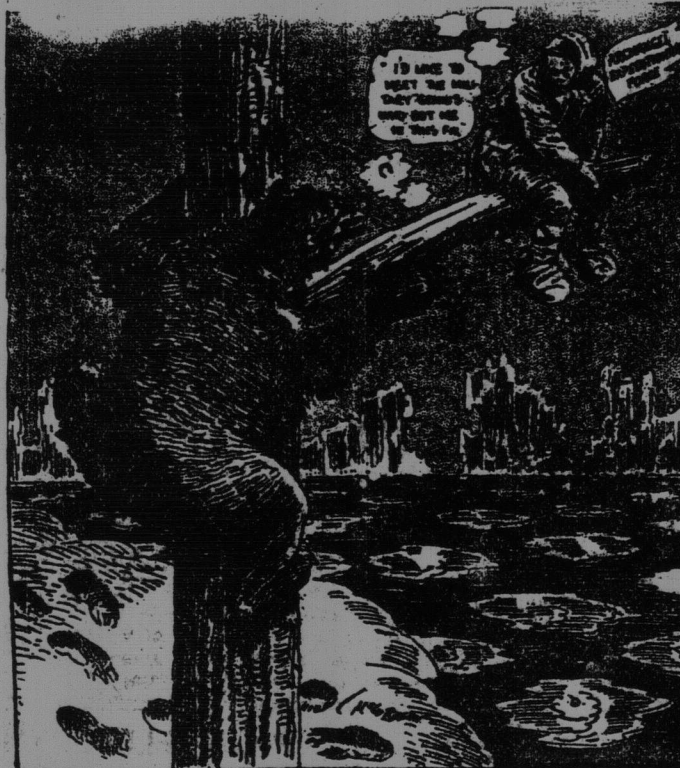

THREE COMPANIES OF R. C. R. ARE TO BE AT HALIFAX

Recruiting Now Going on to Replace War Service Men Anxious for Discharge—Commodious Barracks to be Erected

(Halifax Echo.)

Many important changes in military matters in Halifax fortress may be looked for in the next few years and operation of some of these changes may begin at early dates. In the first place it is now known definitely that the two national infantry regiments of Canada are to be the R. C. R. and the Princess Pats, both with great war records, and it is almost a certainty that the R. C. R. will be the maritime provinces and eastern Canadian corps and Princess Pats the western as a matter of fact recruiting for the R. C. R. is—and presumably the P. P.'s—is going on actively now. Halifax is to be the depot of the R. C. R. and three companies of 250 men each are to be stationed here permanently. The full strength of the corps will depend on the number of stations the regiment will have to cover and these places have not yet been announced, but it is a fact that recruiting for the corps has been opened at Montreal as well as Halifax, so that the maritime provinces are not expected to furnish the whole corps. Montreal is evidently going to be the western station point of the regiment.

Active Recruiting.

At present recruiting is being pushed with a view of allowing of the discharge of the R. C. R. men who served overseas and who are anxious to get back to their farms, trades or stores. The senior men in the corps wishing discharges will be the earliest to get them. The Garrison

Dominion Friction Surface Belting Gives Long and Continuous Service

Here is an instance where one Dominion Friction Surface Belt outlasted four other belts.

The St. Maurice Paper Co., Limited, Three Rivers, Quebec, has a particularly heavy drive with constantly changing load. During the first 21 months after its installation the belts of four different manufacturers failed completely.

Our engineers made a careful study of this drive and recommended a Dominion Friction Surface belt of a special type that has more than made good our claims of superiority.

Last August The St. Maurice Co., wrote us that our belt had "operated the drive without the slightest trouble or the loss of one minute" and that "it looks good for many more months of service."

Our belting experts will be glad to study your belting equipment with a view to making only such recommendations as will cut belting costs or increase the output of your plant.

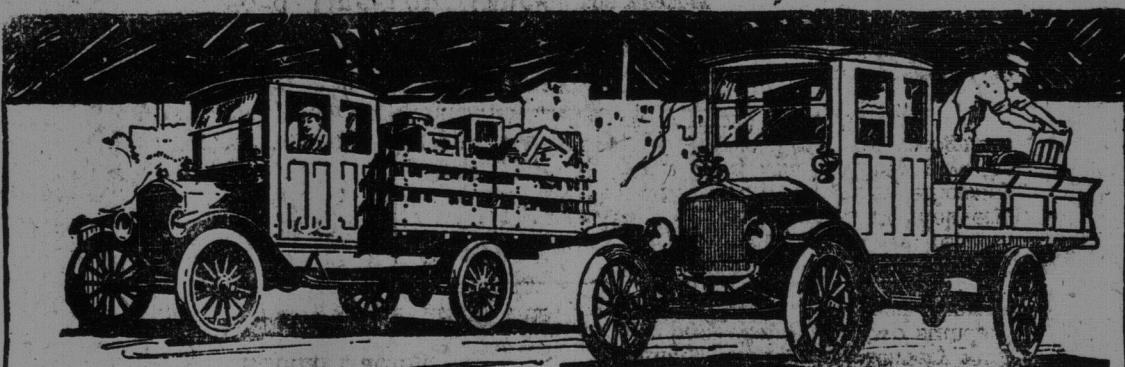

This service is within your reach, by phone, wire or letter to our nearest service branch and is free of cost to all users of belting.

Opportunity for Retail Merchants

The next few years will mark a tremendous change in the business of retailing.

Motor Transportation, now reduced to a low-cost basis must revolutionize local trading just as Railroad Transportation revolutionized national trading.

As men everywhere grasp this idea, as they seize the opportunity for business growth that now presents itself, the retail business will be operated on a higher, more efficient plane. The public will be better served. Larger and more varied stocks will be offered for sale. Better and bigger stores will appear.

The Ford One-Ton Truck makes available this opportunity. It is Motor Transportation at low cost—low first cost, low maintenance cost, low operating cost.

A small outlay will make your deliveries and open to you the opportunity for business expansion.

Complete Trucks—Two Standard Bodies

Ordinary hauling and delivery work can be best adapted to two standard types—the Stake Body and Express Body.

These two body types are kept in stock ready for immediate delivery. They insure the maximum efficiency from the Ford Truck. They give the buyer of a Ford Truck the recognized benefits of Ford production.

Both types have the Enclosed Cab with the two-way windshield which gives the driver proper protection from the weather.

See these complete trucks. Seize the opportunity to enlarge your field of business. Let us solve your delivery problem.
