

Eczema 25 Years Cured by "Cucicura"

Let Like Raw Flesh from Knee Down

I have been treated by doctors for twenty-five years for a bad case of eczema on my leg. They did their best, but failed to cure it. My own doctor has advised me to have my leg cut off, but I said I would try Cucicura first. I do not think I was cured from the knee down, my leg was cured from the hip down and I can walk on crutches.

TEN WEEKS IN BED—Eminent Physicians Failed—Wonderful Recovery

I wish to inform you of the great benefit I have derived from the use of Swamp-Root. I had been a sufferer for more than twenty years from kidney and liver trouble and was almost constantly treated by the most eminent physicians who could only give me temporary relief. I had been in bed ten weeks when I began the use of Swamp-Root. Inside of twenty-four hours I could see that I had been greatly benefited. I continued to use Swamp-Root until I had used several bottles when I really felt that my old trouble was completely cured and I am positive that any person suffering with kidney or liver trouble can be cured by the use of this preparation.

I am now in the best of health, better than I have been for ten years or more. I do not know how to express myself as strongly as I desire in favor of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, as I am sure that it saved my life and that my good health is due entirely to this great remedy. I heartily recommend it to every sufferer and am confident they can be benefited as I have been. It is a pleasure for me, gentlemen, to hand you this recommendation.

MRS. H. J. PRICE, Portsmouth, Ohio. Personally appeared before me this 19th of September, 1909, Mrs. H. J. Price, who subscribed the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact.

R. A. CALVERT, Notary Public. Letter to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Prove What Swamp-Root Will Do For You. Send to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. It will convince anyone. You will also receive a booklet of valuable information, telling all about the kidneys and bladder. When writing be sure and mention the St. John Evening Times, Regular 7c, and $1.25 size bottles for sale at all drug stores in Canada.

Miss Lawley Appointed a Maid of Honor to Queen Mary—Family History of Much Interest

(Copyright, 1912, by the Brentwood Company.)

Although it has been hinted more than once that American women would be less welcome at the court of St. James during the present reign than they were when King Edward was on the throne, Queen Mary is not prejudiced against those women whose antecedents and relationships connect them with this side of the Atlantic. She has just appointed as a maid of honor, Miss Ursula Lawley, who, although not actually an American, can claim good American ancestry on one side of the house. Her father, Sir Arthur Lawley, married Annie Allen, daughter of Sir Edward Courtenay, of New York, while the father of Lord Wenlock, who succeeded his cousin to the peerage, was the son of Abraham Canard, a prominent merchant of Philadelphia.

Miss Ursula Lawley's father, Sir Arthur Lawley, Knight Grand Commander of the Indian Empire, is the brother of Lord Wenlock, who succeeded his cousin to the peerage. As the present Lord Wenlock has no children by his marriage, in 1909 to Rhoda Edith, the daughter of the Rev. Canon William John Knox-Little, and as the next of the by-ethers, the Rev. Algernon George Little, is also a by-ether, she has a prospect of succeeding to the barony, a remote chance it is true, for Lord Wenlock has scarcely married three years, but such a succession is to be reckoned among the possibilities.

If it happens, however, it will probably result in the extinction of the peerage, for Sir Edward's only son died unmarried three years ago. The Lawley family is an ancient one. The "peerage" and other works of reference, commencing the line with Thomas Lawley who succeeded to the estates of his cousin, the Lord Wenlock of his day, who was killed in the Wars of the Roses.

Although the family seat of the Lawleys, Ezerick Park, is situated in Yorkshire, they had originally from Shropshire. The first Lord Wenlock was a Lancastrian, who fought at the battle of Tewkesbury, and was severely wounded. Having given financial assistance to Henry VI, he was created a Knight of the Garter, an unusual honor indeed. He seems to have been a man of a rather changeable disposition, however, for he suddenly transferred his loyalty from the red rose of Lancaster to the white one of York, fighting for the latter at Tewkesbury. With his death, the second was conferred in 1831 upon the eldest son of that member of the Lawley family who died in the battle of Ezerick. He died a year later, without issue, and the peerage again became extinct. His second son, who died, and then the third brother was raised to the Wenlock peerage in 1839. This peer was the grandfather of the late Lord Wenlock who died in January last, and who was succeeded by his cousin the present peer, the uncle of Miss Ursula Lawley.

A Fine Estate. The Ezerick property is a magnificent heritage, extending over an area of 20,000 acres. The mansion is a stately, square-built house, with a wing, partly of Elizabethan date, but with modifications that were introduced by the present peer, while an artistic touch was added by the late Lord Wenlock and his consort, who both manifested their taste for the antique as well as their fondness for oak and cedar paneling. Altogether, Ezerick House is considered as one of the finest in Yorkshire for entertaining guests. The winter garden, which is a masterpiece of landscape gardening, contains rare plants, while the collection of rare china there is famous, in which the late peer made a great interest to the sportsman, the artist, the bibliophile, the art lover, the collector and the billiard room were filled with trophies of his big game expeditions, while the tower of Madras, the library, a delightful apartment, contained rare books, and the works of art included paintings by Rembrandt, Van Dyck, Gainsborough, and Hopper.

On the outskirts of the park is Ezerick, the most picturesque and peaceful of villages, with its pretty red brick cottages, each having an ample garden, and every one of Madras, the library, a delightful apartment, contained rare books, and the works of art included paintings by Rembrandt, Van Dyck, Gainsborough, and Hopper.

The late Lord Wenlock was, moreover, a great lover of horse racing. He was wont to relate an amusing story of the way in which he and his school-mate, Lord Rose, when they were boys at Eton, "played hooky," in order to attend their first Ascot meeting without the permission of the school authorities. They made elaborate arrangements for their trip, including the hiring of a carriage, and a disguise, involving false whiskers and moustaches, white high hats, and dust veils. But the conveyance did not turn up, and they had to run the whole eight miles, witnessed one race, had a good long drink, and ran all the way back to school again without their escape being discovered by the masters.

In later years, when Lord Rosebery had become prime minister, and still retained his love for horse-racing, he made that remark which drew upon him the wrath of the National Anti-Gambling League.

"My position was and is simply this," said Lord Rosebery, "like Oliver Cromwell, whose official position was far greater than mine, and the strictness of whose principles can scarcely be questioned, I possess a few race-horses, and an agent whom one of them happens to be a good one."

Miss Ursula Lawley's father, Sir Arthur Lawley, leaving the Tenth Hussars, with whom he held the rank of captain, and with whom he saw active service at Suakin, served from 1892 to 1896 as private secretary to the late Duke of Westminster. In 1898 he was appointed secretary of the Matabeleland and Mashonaland territories, was appointed governor of Western Australia in 1901, in 1902 he became governor of the Transvaal, while in 1909 he was made governor of Madras.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

WE WERE talking about the boy scout movement the other day, and three of us had most enthusiastic tales to tell of the improvement it had worked in some of the youngsters of our acquaintance, but—of and of course, the best consisted of a discourse on the weakness and evils which she saw in this great organization of America's "boyish energy." And, of course, she pointed these things out with an air of pathos and conscious virtue. Was she not correcting our foolish and mistaken enthusiasm? Was she not opening our eyes to the real truth?

There is a certain class of people in this world who ought to be called the "but" folks, because, like the woman they are always meeting, "but—wherever you are, you are to qualify whatever praise they may be obliged to give by a "but."

It is really remarkable how often these people are to be discovered in the "but" class. They show in one direction a keen insight into the "but" class. They show in one direction a keen insight into the "but" class. They show in one direction a keen insight into the "but" class.

Suppose you admire some person with an admirable and a vicious pride in his good looks, and you are "but" in his success, and a vicious pride in his good looks, and you are "but" in his success, and a vicious pride in his good looks, and you are "but" in his success.

It seems as if it really hurts this kind of people, by the others enthusiastic thing in the world. The more hearty admirations a man has the more he is apt to be worth to himself and to others. The true value of such "but" folks is to be worth to himself and to others. The true value of such "but" folks is to be worth to himself and to others.

It is a pity that the "but" folks are so common. They are a nuisance to the world. They are a nuisance to the world. They are a nuisance to the world.

CALL FOR ACTION TO CLEAR UP P. E. I. MYSTERY

(P. E. I. Exchange) The people of this province will be shocked today to learn of the death of the last child of the McGee family, at St. Mary's Road. Two years ago the first death occurred in the family. In January last, two more children died, within eight days of each other, and last week five children were taken away, as it were with one fell blow, and this morning Johnnie, aged ten, the ninth and last child connected with the same mysterious illness which carried off the five children last week.

Certainly a tragedy by which a whole family has been wiped out is surrounded with mystery. It would appear reasonable to suppose that a thorough examination of the premises and particularly of the cooling utensils would have been made, but we have no word of such being done. Naturally people will talk, suspicion will be aroused and for the reputation of the parents and the fair fame of Prince Edward Island the deaths of these children should be thoroughly looked into. Never in our recollection of island journalism has a tragedy of this kind been recorded. Nine children dying within two years and five of them practically at the same time, with one about a week later, is something unparalleled in Prince Edward Island. The people are filled with horror at the event and nothing but prompt action on the part of the authorities will allay suspicions that may have been aroused in the public mind.

A jury empaneled to enquire into the cause of the deaths in the McGee family last night brought in a verdict that poisoning in some form. The bodies of the other children are to be examined and autopsy made. It is thought that phosphorus poisoning may have resulted in the handling of matches.

MONEY IN POTATOES

T. Collins, After, North Shore Trip, Speaks of Situation There

The scarcity of potatoes on the Upper Canadian market has not only been a decided benefit to the farmer, but to the John river, but through the North Shore districts of the province as well. The trade during the last few weeks has grown to a surprising and encouraging extent. T. Collins, who returned to the city yesterday afternoon after a visit to several parts of the northern counties, said that in the course of his business he had acquired considerable quantities of potatoes and that he had been exceptionally good this year. "Formerly," said Mr. Collins this morning, "from seventy-five cents to $1.20 was considered a very good price for potatoes with the farmer. Now, however, they are getting from $2.20 to $2.60, after having received an average price of $2.25 for some weeks previous. They are having no difficulty in getting their stock to the railways as the roads are still heavily covered with snow, and slipping is good. Already there is much talk of selling, and the general belief is that the present year will be about the largest ever sown."

LAWYERS PRESENT THEIR ARGUMENTS

Referring to the certified check, Mr. Nesbitt said that there was no pretense that Clark had authority to certify the check for $10,000. And this was a check account of $13,000, with an over drawn account of $3,000. And to cover his own indebtedness, asked Kessen to give the power to certify the check.

Mr. Powell, commencing his argument for the plaintiff, said that the argument for the defendant was a narrow compass. It was this: Did Smith know that Clark himself was giving the check to the plaintiff? If he did, would that knowledge bind him? If so, was there a ratification by the general manager, and the ordinary question did the general manager have the power to ratify.

Mr. Smith and Mr. Kessen gave their reason on the stand. Smith said that he told Mr. Kessen on June 8th of the new account, and Kessen repudiated that on the stand.

Mr. Powell then referred to the letter written afterwards, while Mr. Kessen was on the stand. Smith said that he told Mr. Kessen on June 8th of the new account, and Kessen repudiated that on the stand.

COTTON WAREHOUSE FIRE

Fire which is thought to have been the work of an incendiary, was discovered last night about seven o'clock in a warehouse attached to the York Cotton mill, Courtenay Bay, and considerable damage was done. There have been several fires of late in the same warehouse, and the suspicion is uppermost with the management that a fire-bug is at work. The building and contents are covered by insurance. About 125 bales of cotton were damaged last night in addition to the damage to the building. The loss is said to be in the vicinity of $1,000.

THE COMMISSION

The commission plan of government in St. John will be inaugurated by its friends. At least four of the five members of the first council are strong supporters of the plan.

The election which endorsed the action of the Citizens' Committee a year ago, by adopting the new system of city government by an overwhelming majority, have seen fit to reject three of the men whom the Citizens' Committee nominated.

strong commission to set it in operation, the Citizens' Committee should not withdraw from the field, but continue to take an active interest in public affairs.

Indeed, on this point we have so excellent an authority as the St. John Globe, which on March 9 said: "The new system is deserving of a fair trial, and it will have a better chance for a fair trial if its promoters take up the burden of directing its operations."

The Fredericton correspondent of the Telegraph intimates that Mr. Gould has not manifested sufficient eagerness to make a large contribution to the fund with which the government will purify politics in the coming elections.

WAR IN THE CAMP

The Fredericton Gleaser, in an editorial, nearly a column in length, attacks Mr. A. R. Gould, president of the company which has the contract to build the Valley Railway.

The Fredericton correspondent of the Telegraph intimates that Mr. Gould has not manifested sufficient eagerness to make a large contribution to the fund with which the government will purify politics in the coming elections.

The contest between Mr. Frink and Mr. Bullock for the mayoralty was extremely close, and it is evident that if Mr. Bullock had been an advocate and supporter of the commission plan he would have won.

The Standard says—"The people of St. John demonstrated yesterday that they accept no dictation in the affairs of civic government."

There is no comfort in the result of yesterday's election for the opponents of the commission plan. They were unable to prevent the election of four of its friends out of the five chosen.

The campaign being over, all right-minded citizens will be disposed to give the men who have been elected a fair field and their good wishes.

The citizens of St. John have discarded the old form of government because they were convinced that the administration of the various departments did not give anything like the best possible results.

The Globe and other opponents of commission were horrified at the audacity of Mr. W. H. Barnaby, chairman of the Citizens' Committee, when he expressed the view that the committee should continue in existence after the elections, to administer or encourage the commissioners from time to time as occasion might suggest.

This remark was seized upon to arouse prejudice and to be the basis of dark hints about a clique in the board of trade that wanted to control the city.

The Times hopes that the Citizens' Committee will not be dissolved, but that its influence will be felt in civic affairs. It would both stimulate and encourage the commissioners, and an occasional meeting and public discussion of important matters affecting the city's welfare would do good.

In the past there has been entirely too little public interest in civic affairs. Having secured the new system of government, and a

DOOMED. Midnight, and in the smoking-room of the club sat a young man huddled in a chair.

A friend entered. "Hallo, Smith," he asked cheerily, "not going home yet?"

"No," muttered the despairing one. "I dare not!"

"Why, what's the matter?" "Matter? It's the end of everything. It means ruin, grief and a spoiled life!"

The friend looked frightened. "Here, Smith, tell me what's up. Perhaps I can help you."

Smith clenched his fists till the knuckles showed white. "No one can help me," he cried, in agony. "I have come to the end of all things. At eight o'clock I telephoned my wife and gave her a perfectly good excuse for not coming straight home, and his voice sank to a whisper—"I've forgotten what I said!"—Answers.

A CHILD OF PARTS. Ten months old, large and lusty, the Smith's first baby was the apple of their eye.

"He is a genius!" cried Mrs. Smith. "I feel it!"

"He will become an inventor," said Mr. Smith, "for he is so original."

"Or a soldier," suggested Mrs. Smith, "for he is so beautiful!"

"Or a musician," guessed Mr. Smith, "for his voice reminds me of the music of Mendelssohn!"

"Or a great politician," exclaimed Mr. Smith, "for he is so original!"

"But why a politician?" queried the wife, in rather disappointed tones.

"Because, my dear," came his reply, "he crawls out of everything so easily!"

RECENT DEATHS

George Woods, railroad engineer, died at his home in California, on the 22nd inst., after a short illness. He was the third son of the late Hon. Frank Woods, of Weyford, and was fifty-four years old. His wife, who was Miss Emma Scholtenberger, of Wichita, Kansas, and one son, George, survive, also two sisters, Mrs. Wm. Howe of Weyford, and Mrs. F. C. Taylor, of Fort Station and two brothers, Wm. F. and H. W. Woods, M. P. P., of Weyford.

Mrs. Letitia O'Brien, widow of James O'Brien, died at her residence, East Abington, Mass., on Friday. She is survived by two daughters, two sons, and six sisters, Mrs. P. McCarroll, St. John's; and Misses Teresa and Clara Keenan of Boston. Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien resided in the North End in their younger days.

Sussex, N. B., April 23.—(Special)—Mrs. A. L. Adair, a highly respected resident of Apolonia died very suddenly this evening at her home at 6 o'clock. Paralysis was the cause of death. Mrs. Adair was in good health up to within a few minutes of the attack when she complained of being dizzy.

WHEN THE FOOD FERMENTS

Chronic dyspepsia is essentially a disease of the intestines rather than of the stomach. The trouble is caused by the food passing too slowly along the alimentary canal and fermenting instead of being digested.

It will be found that the liver is sluggish and the bowels constipated. The stomach gets sour, the food gives rise to gas, which attacks the lungs and heart, gives rise to itching wind and to smothering sensations. John Webster, who was here with the Valentine Stock Co. some years ago, is now playing in one of the "Get Rich Quick Wallingford" companies in the western states.

Added to the repertoire of the Chicago Stock since their last appearance here and which they will probably present in St. John when they come again are: "The Genius and the Maid," "In Missouri," "The Governor and the Boss," and "The Fatal Prisoner." They are now touring in the New England states.

May Wirth and her escort of twenty business from the circus rode up Fifth Avenue, New York, as part of the Easter Sunday parade. On the same day the Suffragettes of the circus were guests of the Women's Political Union. The Barnum and Bailey equal rights advocates have adopted the "bunny hug" and "the grizzly bear" have been barred by the French Superior Council of Dressing.

Paris has been shocked by Pierre Beron's new play, Micoche, in which Mile Polaire portrays an opera singer who dies of consumption on shipboard while returning from India and is buried at sea. The manager refused to cut out the gruesome burial scene, but the author threatened in junction if this were done.

When Helen Eric returned from England recently the customs men passed her stage dresses, believing them to be stree gowns. An official's wife, who saw Miss Eric perform at Union Hill, N. J., later described the gowns worn, the description was recognized and the duty had to be paid after all.

Arabs appearing in the "Garden of Allah" at the Century Theatre, New York gave themselves a dinner the other evening. The first course was lamb, the second course rice, the third course lamb and rice, the fourth course rice and lamb. They squatted on sheepskins and drank undermentered rice wine and had an Algerian time generally.

Not since the days of "The Christian the York Alien had so successful a play as "The Herford" in which the Lieble Co. is this year touring her. "The Herford" is said to have the strongest "back scene" ever written.

Papers in a suit for divorce were set of last week in New York by Miss Ann Held, the actress upon her husband, Florenz Ziegfeld, Jr., theatrical manager and producer. Mr. Ziegfeld immediately turned the papers over to his counsel Leon Laik, 160 Broadway, who is preparing an answer, which it is said will be made public this week. Rumors of an action for divorce on the part of Miss Held have been rife for some time, but neither she nor Mr. Ziegfeld has affirmed or denied them. Miss Held and Mr. Ziegfeld were married in Paris in 1897.

Chicago is tempering its prejudices against innamable scenery. A scene in "When It Comes Home," a new drama by Augustus Thomas, is to be used without the use of frequent chemicals, because they would destroy the effect aimed at. This is the first scenery of the sort mentioned by the police since the "Inco" Theatre fire.

William Morris has signed Harry Lauder for five years beginning at Christmas at a salary to be $2,000 a week. Mr. Lauder has presented a silver cup to the Forty-eight Highland stations in London.

Gene Gauntier writes from Cairo, Egypt, that the Kalen players of whom she is the leading lady finished their most strenuous experience up the Nile late in March and are expected to spend Easter in Jerusalem.

Howard Mitchell, of the Lubin players, an unexpected experience occurred when he visited a Philadelphia police station for local color. He got mixed up with the "bums" and was locked up some hours, gaining his liberty only after the most exasperating delays—all indeed it might be added, by his being associated with the Lubin company.

The Halifax Columbus Club, who are making a brilliant success in presenting The Runaway Girl in this city this week, was staged under the direction of J. J. O'Connell. The music was under the direction of Ira D. Bailey, accompanist, Mrs. W. A. Affleck, assistant stage manager, J. W. MacDonald, master of mechanics, G. G. Thomas, master of properties, John Kane, special scenery manager, and painted by Gregory Thomas, of Academy of Music staff. Following the show, many of whom pleased local audiences a short time ago:

Lyn Harding, the big fellow who played here in support of Grace George, is to be taken on tour in the revival of "Oliver Twist," which has been a great success in New York. Mr. Harding plays Bill Sikes most acceptably, Marie Dore is seen as Oliver, while Nat. Goodwin has the role of Fagin. A critically inclined gentleman recently wrote to Mr. Harding complaining that Sikes was invariably surrounded by a stubbly growth of beard, whereas Mr. Harding's face sometimes appears clean. The actor replies that even burglars sometimes shave and, besides, the chopped horse-hair which he sticks to his face through one act is so painful he would be unable to wear it through an entire performance.

Florence Roberts, favorably recalled in this city through many performances with her husband, Lewis Morrison, will appear in vaudeville in a one-act play, "The Miracle."

What was probably the last letter written by one who occupied a foremost position in the theatrical world is produced here with the following by Henry B. Henry Harris, who was lost on the steamer Titanic while returning from Europe and Africa.

"We have forged ahead of Europe in play production and in acting. The big European successes are those which are inspired by the sociological and political conditions of Europe. The big notes in these plays reflect the unrest of the people, the agitation for disarmament, and the protest against the heavy burden of taxes, due to the tremendous budget required to preserve the peace of Europe. Such being the case, these plays offer forty-fifth of interest to American audiences.

"I think that from now on we will be very seldom on our stage, the big successes of England and France. Now and then a play will be produced that will have an appeal that is general and such plays have a chance to come on this side of the pond."

"I noticed this time, more than ever before, the tendency in the matter of scenic investiture toward simplicity. This is due to the fact that the principal characters in these plays are drafted from the middle class. The drawing-room play, the society drama, the production play, have been thrown into discard. European managers seem to be greatly interested in our plays and it looks as if our managers will go to the exporting business, instead of importing, as was formerly the wont."

Rehearsals are finished for the "allday" performance of "Darsah," which the Lieble Theatre, New York, on Thursday next, in charge of George Arliss, star of the grown-up "Darsah," is coaching little George Tobin, who enacts the miniature "Darsah."

The Irish Players, who share in the profits of their organization, divided $27,000 upon their return to Ireland—this in addition to their fixed salaries, almost as good as a world's series in baseball, this.

The following from the New York Dramatic Mirror is self-explanatory:—"A practically unexploited field for theatrical endeavor is said to be the maritime provinces of Canada. Western Canada is now well known to every live theatrical manager, but comparatively few have delved into the easternmost extremity of that country. An advertisement in this issue gives interesting particulars concerning the territory. The Aaron's Associated Theatres, with offices in the New Amsterdam Theatre building, have the exclusive booking of this territory and report lively interest on the part of managers. The coming autumn, owing to the elections, may be a dull one, theatrically, in the United States, which accounts possibly for more than ordinary interest now shown in foreign fields, particularly when they look so green as those of eastern and western Canada."

As a result of the advertisement some book companies may be induced to include the maritime provinces in their time. The advertisement gave the towns and the population of each.

The total advance sale for the two weeks' engagement of Robert Mantell at the Garrick, Chicago, exceeded $7,700, more than half of this amount having been subscribed by educational institutions.

New York Suffragettes have organized a theatrical company to present Suffrage plays there and in nearby towns, under direction of Mrs. Helen Graham Griffith.

Miss Horman, a visiting English actress, was not entirely satisfied with her Canadian trip, and like most persons sending wires that have found complaint buyers elsewhere, she attributes the failure to the audience she encountered on this side of the Atlantic. Her sentiments were expressed as follows:

"I think in Montreal by the end of our visit we really made them understand

"BUD" FISHER JOINS BENEDICTS

He's The Man Who Has Entertained Hundreds of Thousands With His Mutt and Jeff Pictures

"Bud" Fisher had drawn his last cartoon depicting the marital woes of A. Mutt. His cartoons will go on just the same but no more slamming the spouses. Someone asked why?

"My wife won't let me!" said Bud. "Sure enough, it became known in New York this week that 'Bud' had become a benedict. He deliberately embarked on the sea of matrimony via the elopement route.

The young woman with whom Mr. Fisher booked passage for the life trip was Miss Pauline Welch, a pretty little blonde vaudeville actress. The wedding took place on last Friday night, and while neither of the elopers told anybody where they were going on their honeymoon, it is believed that they are well on their way to San Francisco now.

Messrs Mutt and Jeff were perplexed when they heard the news.

"Hoped, did he?" came from Jeff. "Well, that's what my friend Mutt did when he got married."

"Huh!" came from Mutt. "I did not. He eloped and I merely obeyed orders."

"I believe it," said Jeff. "I've seen 'em."

A very successful concert was given in the Portland Methodist church last night. Among those taking part were Misses Helen Miller, Eva Gallup, Laura Spence, Kathleen Blizard, D. Myles, K. Hersey, Don Corbett, Lizzie Holder, and Messrs. H. Heans, A. W. McInnis, J. Steen, and H. Cunningham.

Charles Rann Kennedy denies that The Terrible Meek represents the actual events of the Crucifixion. "My real purpose," he declares, "is, perhaps, rather more startling; it is to awaken people to the realities of the religion they profess, especially bringing them to bear upon actual problems of the day."

Willette Kershaw, who was well known in St. John some years ago, when here with Harkins, is recuperating in Atlantic City after an operation for appendicitis.

The betrothal of Mrs. Jack Gallatin, one time a New York chorus girl, and Francis B. Anderson, a Cincinnati millionaire, is announced.

The roof of the Century Theatre in New York is being remodelled into a separate playhouse to be known as The Children's Theatre. It will be opened in October and will be the first exclusively children's theatre in the United States.

Next season's attraction at the Century Theatre, New York, will be "The Daughter of Heaven," a Chinese play by Pierre Loti and Judith Gautier, a granddaughter of Theophile Gautier. The Lieble Theatre has sent Heywood Brown, a representative to China to get local color for the production.

Charles Frohman has arranged for an annual revival of Peter Pan with Maude (Continued on page 9, fifth column)

Johnson and Flynn. (Boston American) San Francisco, April 22-They used to tell years ago of a fellow who found a bung and had a barrel made to fit it.

Curley seems to have made a double play of the kind described. At least so much is to be inferred from the fact that 'the longer' is assisting at Saratoga.

The opinion that Flynn is not the most suitable opponent for Johnson still exists but the chances are the sports will think better of the former's chances when the date of the match is nearer.

A large boarding house caught fire during dinner and much confusion resulted. Jim Corbett a chance against John L. Sullivan.

Anyhow, the Flynn-Johnson match is on with a vengeance and for the next couple of months there will be something big for the critics to tilt at.

There are few who feel that Flynn will be able to make any headway against the world's champion there are sure to be many changes of opinion after the main event into their training.

There are quite a number even now who are arguing that Johnson's two years of inexperience and long living must have affected his fighting talents in some measure.

For that matter there was no suspicion that Johnson had retrograded they would be small prospects of the match taking a grip on public interest.

TO OPEN ANOTHER MINE. Announcement of importance to Springfield is Made (Gloucester Gazette)

James D. Maxwell, resident superintendent of the D. C. Co's collieries at Springfield, arrived in town this morning on a short business trip.

One of the most interesting bits of information secured from Mr. Maxwell, and one that will mean much for the future of the town of Springfield is that the coal company will soon commence the opening of an additional mine.

Anyhow, the Flynn-Johnson match is on with a vengeance and for the next couple of months there will be something big for the critics to tilt at.

There are few who feel that Flynn will be able to make any headway against the world's champion there are sure to be many changes of opinion after the main event into their training.

There are quite a number even now who are arguing that Johnson's two years of inexperience and long living must have affected his fighting talents in some measure.

For that matter there was no suspicion that Johnson had retrograded they would be small prospects of the match taking a grip on public interest.

The examination of R. B. Kessen, general manager of the Bank of New Brunswick was continued yesterday afternoon in the examination of the case of J. C. Mackintosh & Co. vs. the bank.

Mr. Kessen said he had advised the sale of stocks held in the McBeth and Clark account, but did not give instructions to the Halifax office of Mackintosh & Co. saying that he would assume responsibility for the matter, despite a letter which was produced in which he had written the Halifax office of Mackintosh & Co. saying that he would assume responsibility.

He said that he had never asked for delay in the presentation of the $10,000 check. Clark had left St. John in the hope of effecting some settlement of the Collins and Wardle account, but the witness did not think that he had made inquiries regarding the Elko and Vandenberg Realty bonds, and found them worth eighty and when shown a copy of his evidence to this effect at the Clark trial said he did not remember it.

APRIL WEDDINGS

The home of Mr. and Mrs. David Love, North Side of King Square, was the scene of a very pretty wedding this afternoon, when their second daughter, Miss Sarah Jennie Love, was united in marriage to Charles M. D. Macfarland, son of Doctor M. L. Macfarland, of Fairville. The wedding took place at half-past three o'clock and was solemnized by Rev. W. W. Brewer. The bride wore a wedding dress of white satin and a veil and orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of roses. The ceremony was performed in the parlor which has been very prettily decorated for the occasion. The only attendant was little Miss Gretta Love, sister of the bride, who was flower girl. The wedding march was played by Miss Nellie Myles.
After the ceremony supper was served and Mr. and Mrs. Macfarland will leave on the Montreal express for Montreal, where they will reside and where the groom has an important position with the C. P. R. The bride's going-away dress is navy blue with hat to match. The groom's present to the bride was a handsome pearl necklace. Many presents were received by both the bride and groom. RE-UNITED, BY TIMES
The power of the press is mighty. Yesterday afternoon a story appeared in the Times regarding Mrs. Weeds and her family, who had come out from England on the S.S. Lake Erie, which arrived here on Monday, and who were to have been met here by Mr. Weeds. Unfortunately the husband was not at the wharf when the steamer arrived, and the family were in a quandary to know what to do. The immigration authorities were appealed to but could find no trace of the husband. Yesterday afternoon Mr. Weeds, who was expecting his family on a later steamer, purchased a copy of the Times from a newsboy in the street and, much to his surprise, read the story of the arrival of his family. He hastened to the immigration office and thence to the Elliott Hotel in Germain street, where he was united with his family. Mr. Weeds has secured employment in the city and will locate here. He comes from Norfolk, England.

FREIGHT CARS WERE OFF TRACK NEAR WELSFORD

Mails and Passengers Detained by Blockage of Track—Two Other Slight Derailments

There has been trouble on the C. P. R. local division since last night, and this morning the service was temporarily tied up because of an accident about four miles west of Welsford, in which eight cars of a freight train were derailed, and several yards of track torn up. This accident was the most serious of three since last night and prevented the early Boston train from leaving, as well as the incoming Boston, Montreal and Fredericton train reaching St. John for a few hours.
No western mails were taken out this morning, and no mail can be received from the incoming Boston or Atlantic until a transfer has been made to cars which were to have gone out this morning on the train leaving about seven o'clock. This train left about noon, for the sake of the accident, and the passengers on both the Atlantic and Boston will be transferred. There was a slight derailment on the Fredericton branch this morning which delayed traffic for a time, but the track was cleared in a short time. Last night at Welsford switch the incoming Boston train was delayed for about an hour owing to a derailment at that place. The accident this morning occurred about seven o'clock and a wrecking crew with auxiliary cars was at once rushed to the scene, but it was thought that it would be four o'clock before the line would again be clear.
